West Asks Prompt Ban On Surface Tests

Soviet Reaction 'Negative'

By TOM OCHILTREE

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and Britain asked the Soviet Union today to agree to a prompt controlled suspension of nuclear weapons tests on or near the surface of the earth—leaving the problem of other types of blasts for later negotiations.

Informants said the proposal provided for splitting up the test suspension problem. It was advanced as the three-power talks resumed after an Easter recess.

First Soviet reaction was reported to be negative.

Under the new Western plan, agreement would be reached at once on banning surface and atomic nuclear tests — the ones which cause dangerous radioactive fallout.

Such an agreement would not cover very high altitude and underground atomic and hydrogen weapons blasts. Such explosions—difficult to police in any event—could be covered in some subsequent agreement reached after the first problem had been solved.

U. S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth and British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore proposed dividing the nuclear problem into two parts with the idea of getting quick agreement on the types of tests easiest to detect. The ending of such tests also would avoid any health hazards to the world's population.

The sources pointed out that the United States and Britain would prefer an agreement covering the entire range of tests. But the Western powers recognized that this conference, which began its deliberations on Oct. 31, now was bogged down on East-West differences about controls.

Presumably the limited agreement now suggested as a first step would require less elaborate policing arrangements than a total ban. The Western powers, however, want foolproof controls built into any type of agreement they sign.

The plan would ban all tests at or near ground level, which cause high altitude and [illegible] dangerous fallout. It would permit ground blasts, which Western experts contend produce no harmful results.

Western officials were hopeful their new formula might help soften the Soviet Union's adamant stand against a veto-free inspection system to police the proposed agreement banning nuclear tests.

Judging from the line taken in a Soviet Foreign Ministry statement Sunday, the Soviet position has not changed since the conference recessed March 19 for Easter after five futile months of talking.

Since the conference first convened Oct. 31, the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union have agreed on seven articles of a draft treaty. But there has been no progress toward a solution to the East-West squabble on manning control posts and inspection teams and the voting procedures to be followed by the control commission have remained in dispute.

The Soviets clearly still want a veto over any inspection and control machinery established to enforce a test ban.

Late Freeze Nips Area Fruit Crop

Fruit trees in the Snyder area probably will not have much of a crop this year.

Temperatures dipped to a low of 27 degrees here last night, apparently staying below the freezing mark for some time, leaving ice this morning and a kill on most of the fruit trees which were in the blooming stage or had put on small fruit.

The peach crop was the hardest hit, since peaches are the main fruits grown in this area. There was damage to apple, apricot, and possibly pear trees, also.

The largest commercial peach grower in this area, Von Roeder Seed Farms, apparently suffered heavy damages. The Von Roeder farm has two orchards, one of about 300 trees near Lake J. B. Thomas in Borden County and one of between 2,000 and 3,000 trees about 15 miles east of Snyder.

Nolan von Roeder said this morning there was probably heavy kill on all the trees. At the Borden County orchard, Clifford James said he had tested a number of peaches and found all of them ruined.

This is one of the latest killing freezes in history in this area. Von Roeder said a freeze killed fruit on April 12, the same night, about 12 years ago, and that had been the latest on the farm's record.

Most peaches in this area were past the blooming stage, and the trees had tiny peaches on them. Many apple trees were blooming and suffered a kill in the freeze. Apricots, Von Roeder said, cannot take as much freezing temperature as can the peach. Some pear trees may not have been as far developed as peaches.

Last year was a good year for fruit, with trees throughout the county and area producing peaches, apples, pears and other fruit.

Winter tarried for another day Monday in Texas as forecasters predicted continued cold weather for the week after a brief warmup.

For the second straight day, the frost line at dawn Monday extended deep into the state.

At 5 a.m., temperatures were at freezing or below over the Panhandle and South Plains and southward to Wink and Abilene. Both Fort Worth and Dallas at that time recorded 36-degree readings with the temperature continuing an all-night fall.

Elsewhere in the state, temperatures ranged upward to the middle 40s over the upper coast and into the lower and middle 50s along the middle and lower coast. Low readings ranged from 24 at Dalhart to 56 at Brownsville. It was uncomfortably chilly all over Texas.

Frost damage to fruit crops was feared over a wide area.

Most of the state was clear with clouds following the winding route of the Rio Grande from El Paso to Brownsville. No rain had been reported.

Forecasts called for another cold night with temperatures as low as 30 degrees with scattered light frost again in the Panhandle and South Plains, 35-48 in North Central Texas, 38-48 in the north portion of South Central Texas, and 38-48 in the interior of East Texas.

After a brief warmup beginning Tuesday afternoon, an extended forecast issued Monday said temperatures would drop again. They were expected to range from 2 to 5 degrees below normal in West Texas and from 4 to 8 degrees below normal in East Texas.

Precipitation for the next five days, the extended forecast said, would be generally light in scattered showers about Thursday in eastern and central portions and light or none in West Texas.

At Stonewall, in the Hill Country, temperatures dropped to 34 degrees, but no great damage was believed done to the peach crop.

Simon Berg of Stonewall, president of the Gillespie County Fruit Growers Assn., said the only damage appeared to have been to trees in low-lying areas where there was some frost.

Mrs. Nicholas Ends Testimony In Trial

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Connie Nicholas completed her murder trial testimony in tears today, telling the jury her playboy lover was killed as she drew her small revolver to shoot herself.

After the state wound up its cross-examination in only 16 minutes, defense attorney Charles W. Symmes got the divorcee to pin down the motion she said she made with her gun in Forrest Teel's white car.

"Toward myself," she replied. "I told him I wouldn't be around to bother him any more. I wanted to scare him—the fact that I was going to kill myself in his car."

"Were you afraid of further beatings?" Symmes asked.

"I was afraid because he had struck me and had thrown me across the seat of the car."

Dep. Prosecutor Francis E. Thomason came back for one last question on cross-examination:

"Was this the first time he had beaten you?"

"Yes."

Mrs. Nicholas wept as the jury filed out for a recess at the end of her testimony.

"It's been an ordeal," she said as she returned to the defense counsel's table.

"I've got a cold, she explained, "something I seldom have. My throat is very sore."

She appeared in a yellow suit and the black velvet hat which she had worn at the start of the trial four weeks ago.

Mrs. Nicholas, who turned 45 Sunday, testified she weighs 105 pounds and measures 5 feet 1 "if I stretch a little."

Mrs. Nicholas refused to see anyone except her brother, sister and brother-in-law. Hospital authorities said she was bothered by a sore throat and sinus condition and seemed rather nervous.

The shapely defendant broke down and cried several times under questioning by Thomason. She left the courtroom in tears.

Mrs. Nicholas maintains her married lover beat her and that her small French pistol fired accidentally during a struggle in Teel's parked car last July 31. During cross-examination she held firm to her claim she didn't even know Teel was wounded when she left his car.

The state contends she purchased the gun to kill Teel because he was leaving her for a younger woman, Laura Mowrer, a beautiful secretary at the Eli Lilly & Co. drug firm. Teel was an executive vice president at Lilly.

The prosecution has devoted most of its cross-examination to an effort to discredit Mrs. Nicholas' reliability. Thomason several times forced her to admit she continued her romance with Teel through two marriages.

TB Unit To Reorganize Here Tuesday

A reorganizational meeting for the Scurry County Tuberculosis Association has been scheduled for 3 p.m. tomorrow in the banquet room of the Village Restaurant.

The meeting was called by the health and sanitation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which has been studying the need for a tuberculosis association here in three recent meetings.

At the last such meeting, about 25 representing 15 civic, women's, and welfare organizations attended to hear a report by B. C. Loveless, educational director of the Dallas Tuberculosis Association on that association's work and on the need for such an organization here.

Men's and women's organizations here have all been urged to send representatives to tomorrow's meeting. The meeting will not be one for fund raising, since a TB association raises its funds through Christmas seal drives.

Mrs. Marie C. Peik, field representative of the Texas Tuberculosis Association, will be at the meeting to help in organization of the local unit.

TB associations work with medical officials in helping to detect tuberculosis, help to educate the public concerning the disease, and help families and contacts of those with tuberculosis.

Higher Demand For Crude Oil Forecast

AUSTIN (AP)—The U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast today a May market demand for Texas crude oil at 150,000 barrels daily over the April estimate.

The forecast was disclosed by Chairman Ernest O. Thompson of the Railroad commission set the predicted figure at 2,780,000 barrels daily.

Extra Deputy Added To Curb Vandalism

The sheriff's department here was authorized an additional deputy for a period of 60 days this morning in action by the county commissioners court.

The court voted to authorize the deputy to give the department sufficient personnel to investigate vandalism to county property, particularly that in Towle Memorial Park.

A recent report by Jay Ramsey, county park superintendent, showed broken commodes and lavatories in restrooms, broken benches, broken lights, and other damage in the park. Ramsey had asked for more protection.

In other action this morning, the court awarded a contract to T. E. Shelburne & Son, Inc., of Snyder to build a concession stand and pressbox at the new county park in north Snyder. Shelburne was low bidder with $1,440. Other bids were $1,784 by Amon Weaver and $1,850 by E. L. Fikes, Jr.

The court authorized Ramsey to take estimates for building a chain link fence along the west side of that park.

It was also decided to take bids to sell a five-room frame house on that park site. The house is to be moved.

Ramsey reported this morning that so far, after the awarding of the contract this morning for the concession stand and pressbox, $26,785.42 of the budgeted $30,000 for the north park had been expended or committed.

The court voted to accept a proposal of school officials that the school district build two tennis courts in Winston Park and turn them over to the county for maintenance. The schools had set aside money to build tennis courts at the Lincoln School, but no room was available on that campus for the courts. Winston Park is nearby. The court also voted to send the school district a letter of appreciation for the tennis courts.

Ramsey reported to the court that Texas Electric Service Co. had said it would install street lighting on the streets in Winston Park at no cost to the county, with the county to pay two cents per killowatt for electricity. The court accepted the proposal.

New Medical Checkup Due For Dulles

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Foster Dulles, returning unexpectedly from a Florida rest to a hospital room, undergoes intensive new medical checks today in his battle against cancer.

An expected visit from President Eisenhower during the day could bring a decision on how long Dulles remains as secretary of State.

Eisenhower was reported deeply concerned about Dulles' continuing illness. A high Republican official said the President was informed several days ago that Dulles had not responded to treatment as well as had been hoped.

Eisenhower had arranged his 24-hour return to the capital to keep a series of engagements made before he went to Augusta, Ga., for a golfing vacation. Press secretary James C. Hagerty said he assumed Eisenhower would add a visit to his schedule.

The 71-year-old secretary, a world-renowned figure in diplomatic battles against the Soviet Union for six years, re-entered the hospital Sunday afternoon.

Looking haggard and considerably underweight, Dulles cut short his Florida rest stay to undergo a new head to toe check-up to determine what could be done to arrest the cancer.

Dulles returned to Washington only a few hours after the State Department said "it is now desirable he have a period of further medical observation."

Many of his worried aides glumly reported that barring a medical miracle Dulles probably would have to lay aside the foreign policy chores he loves so dearly.

Eisenhower was understood to be holding off any decision until Dulles' doctors complete a new series of tests.

The President was reported still hopeful that Dulles could serve as special adviser, at least, during the Big Four foreign ministers conference on Germany. This is to open in Geneva May 11.

"I feel pretty good," Dulles told newsmen at the airport as he walked slowly down the ramp from the President's plane.

He even managed to joke about the weather, a windy mixture of sleet and rain. In appearance, however, Dulles was a far cry from the rugged 185-pound New Yorker who broke all travel records during his six years as secretary of state.

Double Guard For Governor

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Police today maintained an unprecedented security vigil about Virginia's governor after a reported attempt on his life.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. was shot at Friday, officers said, as he walked near the executive mansion en route to the Capitol.

Capitol police doubled their guard at the mansion. State and Richmond city police promised closer surveillance of the Capitol grounds.

"I hate to see more security around here, but I guess I should take the advice of the police authorities," Almond said.

Backers Recruited For Rockefeller

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The same off-beat campaigning that landed the 1940 Republican presidential nomination for Wendell L. Willkie apparently is under way for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

Responsible Republicans brought to last week's meeting of the GOP National Committee here reports that supporters of Rockefeller are seeking to enlist businessmen, professional men and other political amateurs as Rockefeller backers.

A GOP national committeeman who has participated in several presidential campaigns described the tactics as similar to those which helped put Willkie over. He said he has personal knowledge that bankers, lawyers, doctors, insurance men and others with influence in their communities are being urged to line up behind Rockefeller.

The first outward sign of this cropped up recently with the formation of "Californians for Rockefeller." This self-styled group of "political greenhorns," is headed by Charles Lewsadder, Los Angeles businessman.

A state chairman who supports Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the nomination said he knew of similar activities elsewhere in behalf of Rockefeller. He predicted Nixon's backers soon will be doing the same kind of campaigning.

It was explained that Rockefeller himself is standing aloof from these activities. He is holding to the line that his only ambition is to make a good chief executive for his state.

It was noticeable, however, that the governor lost no time in moving one of his closet advisors, George L. Hinman, into a seat as Republican national committeeman from New York. Hinman will be in a position there to keep close tab on an organization in which a majority of members obviously favor Nixon for the party's 1960 presidential nomination.

The Rockefeller forces appear fully satisfied that the committee's new chairman, Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, will carry out his pledge to remain neutral in any Nixon-Rockefeller contest.

Morton was chosen unanimously to succeed retiring chairman Meade Alcorn at a weekend session in which the committee also voted solidly to hold its 1960 convention in Chicago, the week beginning July 25.

Morton conceded at a news conference that he had said some months ago he was inclined to support Nixon for the nomination. While he declined to withdraw that, he said he is going to be "absolutely fair" to both the vice president and Rockefeller.

The national chairman's position has been used at times in the past to favor one candidate over another.

ARMY OFFERS PROOF

It Costs More To Clothe Woman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just in case anybody has any doubts about it, the Army has proved with elaborate figures that it costs more to clothe a woman than a man.

The current initial allowance for an enlisted man totals $166.20. For an enlisted woman, the figure is $232.36. The figures, with hundreds of others, were given a House Appropriations subcommittee in testimony made public today.

It's the little extras that count. There's not a thing issued to a GI, for example, that's equivalent to the brown oblong leather handbag the taxpayers provide for Wacs, at $8 each.

True, the girls don't get combat boots (two pairs to a man, $13.40 total). But neither do the men get pumps ($12). Aside from these items, each Wac gets four other pairs of shoes, each GI, one. Lest these get muddy, the Army provides overshoes — for women only.

It must be noted the girls' nylons don't cost a cent more than the men's wool socks—60 cents a pair.

The Army budgets $5.40 for what it starkly describes as "drawers, men's, thigh length, cotton, white, 6 each" and "undershirts, men's, cotton, quarter length sleeves, white, 6 each."

On the distaff side, there's a single item with no elaboration: undergarments $30.

Panel Okays Spending Bill

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP) — A slightly amended version of the state's general spending bill was approved today by the Senate Finance Committee. It was sent to the floor for debate.

The committee called for a budget of $2,385,035,751 from all sources including $302,133,593 from the general revenue fund.

Sen. William Fly, chairman, said "I just don't know" when asked whether he would try to get the bill passed late this week or wait until next week.

Sen. Charles Herring of Austin engineered amendments raising the salaries of state employes earning $4,800 a year or less in several branches of government. This included the judiciary, hospitals and special schools and colleges. The committee refused to allow the pay increase amendments to apply to all state departments, which included some which are financed from special funds. Herring's amendment would take all the increase from the general revenue.

It would give employes earning up to $2,400 a 20 per cent increase and proportionate smaller increases for employes making up to $4,800.

The House version of the state spending bill passed by a 107-37 vote last week. It would take $333,482,503 from the general revenue. The over-all House total was $2,411,197,895. The final legislative bill will be worked out in a joint conference following Senate passage.

With a month left in the regular session, lawmakers were faced with crucial issues, including finances, loan shark regulation and college expansion problems.

Bills to make Arlington State, and Tarleton State at Stephenville full four-year colleges were high on the Senate calendar after advancement to final consideration last week. A loan shark regulatory constitutional amendment that survived a Senate filibuster last week had the same high-priority status.

Some controversial issues were still in committee, including taxation, but a subcommittee report expected this afternoon promised to produce what might be the answer to the state's financial distress.

A proposal to legalize betting at horse race tracks was another redhot issue before a House committee. Debate on it was expected to draw a big crowd of churchmen opposing the proposal. It was set for public hearing before the House Committee on Constitutional Amendments Tuesday after postponement last week.

Elephant Given Another Chance

HUGO, Okla. (AP) — Zoo officials will bring Dorothy, the once doomed circus elephant, back alive to Tulsa this month.

Director Hugh Davis of Tulsa's Mohawk Zoo said the man-killing elephant will be taken from here to her new home April 22.

Davis said Dorothy will be used strictly for exhibition, although she is an expert performer.

It was two fatal performances which caused [illegible] circus owner Jack Moore, to order her execution.

Moore purchased Dorothy from another circus after she performed a headstand on her trainer, killing him.

He thought he could rehabilitate the elephant, but two weeks ago she repeated her stunt on another trainer. He was injured.

Moore set the execution date for Sunday. A storm of protest followed. So did Davis, who came to Hugo to find out if he could have Dorothy for the zoo. Moore agreed.

Davis said his elephant trainer says she might straighten up and become a perfect lady.

But they'll take no chances. After her first 60 days in Tulsa, Davis said, the elephant would be shackled inside the elephant building. With the completion of a moat around the building she'll be unchained.

"We've saved Dorothy's life at no cost to the city," Davis said. "She's a beautiful elephant and will be used only for exhibit."

The cost of shipping Dorothy to Tulsa will be paid by Tulsa radio station manager Bob Horn, who suggested to Davis the zoo might obtain the doomed elephant.

"Everybody is [illegible] happy about the ending to this," said Horn.

Space Age Forum Opens Tomorrow

By CLAYTON HICKERSON

DALLAS (AP) — Effects of the Space Age on civilian life will be predicted here tomorrow when six of the nation's leading authorities on space problems take part in the Space Age Forum of the Southwest.

Dr. Hubertus Strughold, however, will kick off the forum today with a 10 a.m. press conference in the new Sheraton-Dallas Hotel being opened this week, and Andrew G. Haley will hold another at 2 p.m.

Strughold is advisor on research at the U.S. Air Force's School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Air Force Base in San Antonio. Haley is president of the International Astronautical Federation.

The forum itself is sponsored by the University of Texas. The university's president, Dr. Logan Wilson, will act as moderator.

Wilson today expressed pleasure that four aviation leaders in the Dallas-Fort Worth area had endorsed the forum.

They are Fred Detweiler, president of Chance Vought; Robert McCulloch, president and general manager of Temco Aircraft Corp.; Erick Jonsson, board chairman of Texas Instruments, and Frank W. Davis, vice president, Convair division of General Dynamics Corp. and general manager of the Fort Worth plant.

The aviation leaders will join about 2,500 others at the forum tomorrow.

"This endeavor to define the space age in terms of civilian effects," Detweiler said, "should make clear to all the tremendous potentialities involved. Certainly the future will produce, among other things, amazing developments in the field of communication.

"It will lead to unprecedented accuracy in the area of long-range weather forecasting, with resultant economic benefits in the realm of agriculture. It will extend immeasurably the scope of our knowledge."

Jonsson said the forum's "importance to the public can hardly be over-emphasized."

Declaring many advancements in the military field will foster similar progress for civilians, McCulloch said, "The Space Age Forum panel will be able to tell us just what these effects will be."

Davis voiced similar views.

Besides Strughold and Haley, other space experts participating will be Dr. Harry Waxler, chief of meteorological research, U.S. Weather Bureau; Arnig Kandoian, vice president of communications research, International Telephone and Telegraph Laboratories, Nutley, N.J.; Robert L. Halfman, executive officer, department of astronautics and aeronautics, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, and Dr. Robert Jastrow, chief of theoretical division, office of space flight development, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Washington.

Two Women Still Missing

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Exhaustive probing of the muddy waters of the West Fork River has failed to turn up any trace of two Clarksburg women, missing five days.

Defying an unseasonable snowstorm Sunday, police and volunteers dragged and poled in the water on the chance the women's car might have plunged off U.S. 119, where it parallels the river south of here.

Juanita Ferguson, 50, and Virginia Conley, 54, disappeared last Wednesday while driving home from Beckley where they attended a garden club meeting.

Police say there may possibly be a connection between their disappearance and the murder of the Carroll Jackson family of Apple Grove, Va. Jackson, his wife, and two daughters were abducted while driving home Jan. 11. Their bodies were found two months later.

U. S. Yachtsman Lost Overboard

HARWICH, England (AP) — An American woman passed a fairly comfortable night in the hospital after a yachting ordeal during which her husband was lost overboard in heavy seas.

Mary Longyear, 32, had both her collarbones broken. Her husband Peter, 32, was lost in the towering seas while trying to mend a split mainsail. A native of New Rochelle, N.Y., he managed a subsidiary of the McCann-Erickson advertising agency in Brussels, Belgium.

Surviving with Mrs. Longyear were William Buell of Newport, R.I., second secretary of the American Embassy in Brussels, and Andrew Kemp, 20, English university student.

The quartet set out Saturday to sail from Holland to the English coast in the 60-foot yawl Rose, in which Longyear hoped to cross the Atlantic later this year.

"The trip went normally until the yacht was just off the coast," Buell told newsmen. "The mainsail split and the head of the sail jammed.

"It was while trying to get it down to repair it that Peter was thrown overboard. He was hanging on to the gaff trying to bring it down with his weight when he lost his balance.

"We did everything we could to get him, but the mainsail was too heavy for me to manage and we could not make much to windward as the yacht would not answer to her helm.

"We had thrown him a ring lifebelt and the last we saw of him was when he floated away on the belt in heavy seas.

"His wife did everything she could to help. She is the bravest girl I have ever seen."

A Norwegian whaler came to the aid of the yacht, took her in town and landed the three survivors on the Galloper lightship some 25 miles offshore.

Mrs. Longyear slipped between the yacht and the lightship during the rescue operation and broke her collarbones.

First Aid Meet Slated

A first aid meet has been scheduled here for tomorrow night by the Lone Buffalo Boy Scout District.

The annual meet will be at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the exhibit barn in Towle Memorial Park.

Bill Zimmerman, chairman of the district health and safety committee, which scheduled the meet, said Durward Porter, Snyder fire chief, will conduct the meet.

There are 8 Boy Scout troops in the district, and all have been invited to have teams entered. Those who do not enter teams have been asked to have boys on hand to observe the meet, since watching the competition is educational. A first aid team is usually an outstanding patrol of eight to 10 boys from a troop.

First class scout requirements will be covered in the meet. Each troop will be given three problems and must make a decision on the type first aid to render, and then demonstrate the method on the victims.

The meet will be judged on a point basis. Units will compete against a standard, not against each other.

Blue ribbons will be awarded to units with top ratings, red ribbons to those with next highest ratings, and yellow ribbons to all other participants.

Prince Improves Grades In Math

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles is losing his reputation as a duffer at mathematics.

The 10-year-old heir to the British throne headed his class in math and geography last term at Cheam School.

"Charles has always been good at geography but math was never his strong point, to put it mildly," said a member of the school staff.

The term report is being sent to Queen Elizabeth II at Windsor Castle, where Charles is recovering from the chicken pox.

Atomic Sub Performs For Solons

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — The atomic submarine Skipjack with seven congressmen aboard plunged effortlessly to new ocean depths at record speeds over the weekend.

The whale-shaped Skipjack, to be commissioned Wednesday, ploughed deeper and reached speeds greater than any known submarine in history. It returned to its berth here Sunday. Members of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy who made the trial run and took turns at the controls were visibly impressed.

The Navy would give no details but Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the committee, said in a statement: "For security reasons I can only say that we were deeper than 400 feet and moving faster than 20 knots."

The Navy, as early as four years ago, listed such speeds and depths for their first atomic submarines. Exact figures have always been classified.

The committee took a similar trial run in 1955 on the atomic undersea craft Nautilus. Anderson said the speed of the Skipjack was "substantially above the speed achieved in the Nautilus."

The Real Road To Glamor Seldom Ever Runs Smooth

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

What's with your reducing goal? If you are like most women, you aren't happy with whatever is happening along those lines. Either you starve and don't show a loss, or lose quickly and gain it all back a few days after you give up your imbalanced diet. As one girl writes:

"I have been trying for years to lose four pounds. I need to lose 15, but I have tried the short-term goal, hoping that once I lose a few pounds, the rest will come easy. I manage to lose two or three pounds, and then before I can go on, I have gained it all back. The whole idea of reducing is a great mystery to me. Is there any sure method of losing weight and keeping it off?"

Diet Blues

The reason most Americans are overweight is that they eat too much and exercise too little. When you reach the point where you have lost two or three pounds, you probably have established your calorie requirements, and just eating a little less than your norm results in the weight loss. Eat slowly, chew your food well, and continue to eat the minimal food intake for good health, and you should lose. You should not skip meals or give up one food completely, however. Eat a wide variety of foods, and you will probably not overeat of one calorie-high food such as carbohydrates. There are some people who eat a great deal more than they need because of boredom and frustrations. Develop a hobby and you may forget about the dinner table.

Foot Woes

Are you foot-happy? Most people fall into the other category suffering from corns, bunions and callouses, as this letter indicates:

"I am a real foot-sufferer. My feet are very attractive, but minor problems — callous and a shrunken tendon in my small toe make me feel miserable a great deal of the time. My feet ache just from walking through a department store or taking a stroll. By the end of the work day, I am ready for bed. How do average people keep their feet healthy so that they do not have these complaints?"

Feet need constant care as you grow older. A hot foot bath at night, using a foot soap or a specially prepared foot therapy, may help your feet to feel lighter all the time. The bottled preparations have minerals formulated especially for foot relaxation. The important thing with foot care is to be consistent. You can't wait until your feet hurt, and then expect miracles when you give yourself a treatment. Keep the callouses off with pumice and the nightly foot soakings. Use little pads at the first sign of toughness on a toe that may turn into a corn, and you may ease your entire problem considerable. If your feet have a tendency to perspire, shake foot powder into your shoes before putting them on.

Always dry the inside of celery branches well when you plan to stuff them with a cheese mixture so the stuffing will adhere. Or instead of the cheese combination, mix peanut butter with a little mayonnaise and some hot sauce and use this mixture for the celery stuffing.

Mrs. S. Cox, Jr. Hostess To Ira H-D Club

The Ira Home Demonstration Club met Friday April 10 at 2:00 p.m. in the Ira Community Center building. Mrs. Steve Cox, Jr. was hostess to eleven members and 14 children, 1 visitor, Mrs. Cecil Erwin.

Roll call was answered and recorded by secretary, Mrs. R. C. Taylor. Answer was "My Favorite Bible Verse."

The club voted to have a demonstration on plastic flower making at the next meeting which will be April ?

The program, given by Mrs. Bill McMeans and Mrs. Clarence Payne was on informal parties and serving.

Games of "Numbers change" and "Balloon Race" were directed by recreation chairman, Mrs. Roy Sallee.

A demonstration on preparing deviled eggs was given by 4H girls Jean Byars and Onieta Rogers.

Another demonstration on a cheese dip was given by 4H girls Nita Erwin and Wanda Payne.

Mrs. Floyd House was winner of door prize.

Political 'Stars' Change

The Republican party has named itself a new chairman. Who was the chairman who resigned recently?

Ask any group that question and we doubt that the percentage of correct answers would be any higher than the batting average of the weakest hitting pitcher in professional baseball, which, incidentally, was getting a new season started at about the same time the Republicans were taking action.

[illegible] name was Meade Alcorn, in case you are among those who don't remember.

This serves as a reminder that politics has undergone a change despite the fact that both major parties are still doing business in much the same fashion that existed in earlier days.

The methods have changed, and the "stars" on the team have assumed different roles.

Back in the early thirties there were very few voters indeed who were not aware of the fact that Jim Farley was the big wheel in the Democratic party. Today Paul Butler has the same job, but he has not been able to make as much out of it from the standpoint of popularity or notoriety, as Jim Farley did.

In those earlier days the national chairman of each party was something like the director of the show, and people knew he was there and what he was doing. Today it seems that national chairmen of the parties have been relegated to sort of behind-the-scenes organizers and money raisers, with little parading before the public.

And Jim Farley probably could have given some of today's boys a few lessons in organizing and money-raising, too.

Tax Return Get A Thorough Check

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just how much of a looking over will the Internal Revenue Service give my income tax return for 1958?

A lot of people may be wondering that, since the deadline for filing returns is Wednesday.

This year, IRS says, there will be returns from around 60 million individuals, 975,000 corporations, and a million partnerships, plus 30 million employment tax returns, and 3 million returns on federal excise, alcohol and tobacco taxes. There will be 260 million documents involving those returns.

That's a lot of looking over for the 50,000 people employed by IRS in its nine regional, 64 district, and 900 branch offices. Of the 50,000, about 15,500 are auditors but a lot of the others are used in checking returns.

In the case of some of the biggest corporations, IRS assigns three to five agents all year around because they have complexities never dreamed of by an individual taxpayer.

Last year 2,841,000 returns—including 159,000 from corporations—were completely checked. This means more than just checking the arithmetic. A complete check means auditors went over the books of corporations or the records of individuals.

This year about 30 million people will have used the short-form 1040 because they made less than $10,000 in salary and fitted other requirements for using this simple return. These get looked over to see that the exemptions tally.

But they can be run through electronic computer machines which not only can determine the tax but can figure out whether you overpaid or still owe some tax.

All those reporting income over $10,000 not only get their arithmetic checked but also get a going over by an experienced agent to see whether the return should be accepted or turned over to an auditor for deeper examination.

The auditing can be done by calling in the taxpayer for a conference or sending an agent to his home or office to examine his records. The 2,841,000 returns audited last year brought the government an extra 1½ billion dollars.

Last year IRS found 1,905,000 errors in making the simple arithmetical check. Of that total, 1,245,000 taxpayers had made errors in their own favor. IRS usually tries to get a delinquent taxpayer to file a return. If he doesn't, IRS can file it for him and then set out to collect.

What happens if IRS audits your return and then decides you owe more tax?

You are notified but you can appeal to IRS.

First, through a conference with the agent who examined your return and with his supervisor. Then if you are still not convinced, with special technical advisers who work in IRS separately from the agents.

If after all this you and the service still don't agree, IRS will issue what is called a statutory notice: this means within those 90 days you must appeal to the U.S. tax court or pay up.

Suppose you ignore the 90-day notice, don't appeal and don't pay up. IRS presents you with a bill. Then either you pay or IRS will try to collect by seizing your salary, your car, or other possessions.

Last year IRS issued 73,000 statutory notices. But 66,000 people who got them paid up within the 90-day limit. That left 7,000 to fight it out in court.

In case of a downright evasion of tax a criminal charge can be made. But out of 60 million taxpayers, IRS says, only about 1,000 face criminal action each year.

New SS Proposal Would Hike Cost

By R. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Addition of old-age hospitalization protection to federal social security benefits would cost at least a billion dollars a year to start, the government estimated today.

The added costs would require at least a one-half per cent increase in the social security payroll tax. This is now 2½ per cent of the first $4,800 of earnings for both workers and employers, and will rise automatically to 4½ per cent by 1969.

The estimates were contained in a lengthy report by the Social Security Administration filed with the House Ways and Means Committee by Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming.

The report contained no recommendations or conclusions. It was requested by the committee last year after Congress voted a 7 per cent increase in social security benefits and an increase in the tax rate.

Proposals to add federal hospital, nursing home and surgical care to old-age retirement benefits are now pending before the committee, but House leaders have ruled out any action on them before next year.

The 117-page study of old age health benefits was limited to factual information, with these highlights:

1. There are about 15 million persons in the United States 65 or over, and their number is increasing because of medical advances.

2. About 43 per cent, or two out of every five persons on social security retired rolls now have voluntary health protection.

3. Most social security pensioners have a low or limited income, increasing the problem of financing adequate medical care.

4. Hospital and medical costs are rising. Of social security pensioners hospitalized in 1957, the largest group—about 85 per cent—had medical bills of $1,000 or more.

5. Numerous alternatives to social security health insurance are available — subsidies to private health insurance carriers, government reinsurance of private carriers, direct federal assistance to persons unable to finance their own medical costs, and stimulation of voluntary insurance plans.

Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-RI), chief sponsor of legislative proposals for social security health benefits, said the report confirms the need for federal action.

The Flemming report's estimates of first-year health costs varied according to types of benefits. In round figures, however, a 1960 initial cost of a billion dollars was indicated as a probable minimum. Cost estimates by others than the Social Security Administration were higher.

The Health Insurance Assn. of America estimated costs of hospital benefits for social security pensioners at $1,319,000,000 based on 1959 costs, requiring an increase in the social security tax of around .65 per cent.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The American grandma seems to be getting younger. The average woman in this country now has her last child at the age of 26, becomes a grandmother at 44.

In the Soviet Union 80 per cent of the college students are paid by the government to go to school. Soviet professors get up to $60,000 a year plus, in some cases, a summer home and a chauffeured car. But their freedom isn't even academic.

What do you pay for medicine? The average prescription now costs $2.90. And more and more women are getting notions of a career amid the lotions. Some 12.1 per cent of students in pharmacy schools are women.

There is a lot of blue-sky speculation about space today. We actually may have worldwide television in another decade but it is highly unlikely you or your neighbor will make a tourist trip to the moon.

There is no greater assurance of success than superb self-assurance. Andrew Maurois once wrote: "Bernard Shaw thinks himself greater than Shakespeare," to which Shaw modestly replied: "I don't just think it—I am!" (Well, he did leave a larger estate than Shakespeare.)

Even veteran New Yorkers are amazed at the speed with which skyscrapers are rising in mid-Manhattan today. But the Empire State Building, which required 7 million man hours to build, remains the champ. It was put up in 1 year and 45 days.

The United States spends 160 million dollars a year on toothbrushes and dentifrices, yet dental disease remains the nation's most chronic and expensive health problem.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

CONGRATULATIONS ARE IN order to Coach Jim Stehley and his Tiger track team upon annexing their third straight District 3-AAA cinder title. Also to the SHS girls doubles team of Helen Ivison and Joyce Skains for winning the 3-AAA tennis title.

As in the past two years the Bengal trackmen made no bones about it enroute to the 3-AAA title. Saturday's smashing victory, however, was only the second high in the three-year string of cinder titles for the Tigers.

Last year the Tigers rolled up 74 points as compared to the 70¼ points this year. The Tigermen chalked up 66 points to win in 1957.

Last year's 3-AAA victory for the Tigers in the 3-AAA meet was the most convincing to date. The Bengals, in scoring 74 points to win the title last year, outdistanced second place Sweetwater by 41 points, the Mustangs scoring 33 points.

The 1957 spread between first and second was 26 points and it amounted to 32¼ points this year.

Standings each year in the 3-AAA meet have been as follows:

1957 — 1. Snyder 66; 2. Colorado City 40; 3. Lamesa 25; 4. Lake View 11; 5. Sweetwater 10.

1958 — 1. Snyder 74; 2. Sweetwater 33; 3. Colorado City 19; 4. Lamesa 17; 5. Lake View 11.

1959 — 1. Snyder 70¼; 2. Sweetwater 38; 3. Lake View 17½; 4. Lamesa 15; 5. Colorado City 13¼.

Combined point totals shows Snyder with 200¼ points, followed by Sweetwater with 81, Colorado City with 72¼, Lamesa with 57 and Lake View with 19½.

Pickin' Percentage .500

We batted an even .500 in "picking the winners" in Saturday's 3-AAA show, getting seven right and seven wrong.

Our apologies to three of the Tigers who won despite our predictions, Jesse Crawford, Bill Dubose and Tommy Minton.

Crawford captured the 100-yard dash and 180-yard low hurdles to make "mince-meat" out of our predictions in these two races and Dubose won the high jump of which we had picked William Keel of Lake View. Our picks in the 100 and low hurdles were Jimmy Watson of Sweetwater and Stan Woolever of the Tigers respectively.

Still another Tiger outran Watson in the century, Jimmy Maroney, who placed second. Watson ran third.

Three of our predicted winners placed second and another tied for second. They were Jimmy Maroney of the Tigers in the 220 won by Watson of Sweetwater; Woolever in the lows won by Crawford; and Ronnie Giles of the Tigers in the discus won by Minton.

Keel, our high jump pick, tied for second.

Well, anyway, we picked the Tigers to win the team title of which they did handsomely.

Net Drouth Broken

The doubles championship in the girls division of District 3-AAA tennis was the first net title for Snyder High School in several years.

Misses Ivison and Skains, the champions, are also members of the 3-AAA champion Tigerette volleyball team. The Tigerette duo, we feel sure, hasn't put in much time on the tennis court what with their duties with the volleyballers, making their racquet title even more remarkable.

Something's got to give, though, in the regional meet. Both the volleyball and tennis regional play comes off on the same weekend, April 24-25, in Odessa.

Colorado City is seeking the services of White Deer's Otis Holladay as her new head football coach. Holladay, you'll recall, brought his White Deer team here last December for the state semifinals game in Class A against Mason.

White Deer won the game here and went on to the state title.

FINSTERWALD GREENSBORO CHAMP

Houston Next On Pro Links Tour

By KEN ALYTA

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Golf's gypsies were on the 1,200-mile hike to Houston, Tex., today hoping to find some sunshine after a water-logged finish to the $15,000 Greensboro open tournament Sunday.

Dow Finsterwald battled through the biting cold wind and rain with a finishing six-over-par 77 but good enough to clinch first money with a 278 total, six under par.

Finsterwald, 29-year-old PGA champion from Tequesta, Fla., had a four-stroke cushion starting the final round, thanks to earlier rounds of 68-68-65.

Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., riding the year's hottest streak, closed with a 74 to finish second at 280.

Finsterwald won $2,000 and Wall, who won the Wilmington, N.C., Azalea Open and the masters at Augusta, Ga., the two previous weeks, picked up $1,500. It brought to more than $35,000 his earnings this year.

Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., gunning for his seventh Greensboro victory since 1938, finished with 70, the day's lowest score, for a 281 total and a third place tie with Bill Casper of Apple Valley, Calif. each won $1,100.

Sharing fifth place on 283 scores, worth $816 each, were Tom Nieporte of Bronxville, N.Y., Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex.

Locked in an eighth place tie at 284 were Mike Fetchick of Yonkers, N.Y., leader through the first two rounds; Frank Stranahan and Doug Ford, both playing from Paradise, Fla. Each won $650.

Larry Beck, 1957 national junior champion from Kinston, N.C., was low amateur with 292.

The weather was the real story of the closing round. The temperature hovered about the mid-forties all day, the rain never stopped and it was windy.

Finsterwald sounded a harsh note. He complained of what he termed gallery cheering when he made a bad shot or missed a putt. And he missed a few, taking three from the edge of the green seven times.

Dow, a PGA tournament committee member, declared he didn't mind the crowd rooting for Wall, a North Carolina favorite who went to Duke University, but he resented their cheering his own misfortunes.

Breadon Field in Allentown, Pa., has been renamed Max Hess Stadium.

Tiger 9 Meets Midland Here

The Tiger baseballers, idled throughout last week by inclement weather, will return to action tomorrow afternoon against the Midland Bulldogs at Towle Park.

Tomorrow's game will be the first of four outings for the Tigers this week. The Bengals will go to San Angelo Wednesday for a single game as a partial make-up of last Saturday's postponed doubleheader and will then wind up the week's play with a doubleheader against the Abilene Eagles here Saturday.

The Tigers, possessors of a 6-6 record, had three games wiped out last week by the weather including Saturday's doubleheader at San Angelo that was postponed because of rain.

Earlier in the week, rain and cold postponed the Tigers' scheduled tilt with Odessa here Tuesday.

After this week's games, the Tigers will swing into District 3-AAA play next week, meeting Colorado City there on April 21st and Lamesa here the following Saturday, April 25.

Colorado City owns a 1-4 record to date and Lamesa is a notch back at 1-5. Colorado City has split a pair with Merkel, lost twice to Big Spring and once to Robert Lee.

Lamesa has split two games with Tom S. Lubbock, lost twice to Big Spring and once each to Odessa and Lubbock Monterey.

Tomorrow's Tiger-Midland game here will start at 4 p.m.

Texas 9 Holds Lead In SWC

By The Associated Press

The Southwest Conference baseball race has pushed past the one-third mark with Texas clinging to first place but not at all certain it can hold it.

The last two games have been tough ones for the Longhorns, who managed to win each by a single run.

Last week, Texas beat Rice 1-0 and Texas Christian 5-4 to stay a half-game in front of Texas A&M, the team that downed the Longhorns in the conference opener by one run.

Texas A&M was beating Texas Christian 14-7 and Baylor 2-1.

A 3-game Saturday schedule was washed out.

Next Friday and Saturday, Texas plays Southern Methodist at Austin while Baylor and Texas Christian clash at Fort Worth and Texas A&M and Rice play at Houston Friday and at College Station Saturday.

Rice, which started last week on top of the field, took two drubbings and fell down to third. Besides the loss to Texas the Owls were edged by Southern Methodist 7-6.

Bad Weather Cuts Majors' Attendance

By The Associated Press

The weatherman didn't win friends, influence people or make any money on attendance for major league baseball's early weekend start this season.

The major's scheme to begin the 1959 season five days early to get the attendance gravy from an extra weekend ran afoul because of cold and rainy weather in most major league cities.

The American League attracted 108,459 and the National 132,191 for a combined total of 240,650 for Friday through Sunday. This was far off the 535,476 combined total for the first 1958 weekend.

Los Angeles' baseball opening beefed the 1958 total. The Dodgers, playing in the mammoth coliseum, drew 167,209 fans for a three game series with San Francisco.

There were 12 games postponed over the weekend by rain, snow or cold including doubleheaders in Baltimore and Philadelphia. Only two single games were washed out in 1958.

Betsy Rawls Winner Of Zaharias Open

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Betsy Rawls, the husky former Texan with the talented golf swing, led the women's tour in tournament victories today as the caravan headed toward Dallas and the $10,000 Civitan Open.

Miss Rawls won the $6,000 Babe Zaharias Open yesterday by overtaking Louise Suggs, another golfer seeking her third tournament victory.

Miss Rawls, who plays out of Spartanburg, S.C., and won the Lake Worth, Fla., and Columbus, Ga., opens on the winter tour, wound up with 215 for 54 holes to bag first money of $997.50. She is the only player winning more than two tournaments.

Miss Suggs, the veteran from Sea Island, Ga., led the tournament through its first round with a 4-under-par 69. But yesterday she faltered to a 74 on the first 18 to allow Miss Rawls to overtake her with a 71. Then she soared to 75 on the final 18 while Miss Rawls was posting an easy par 73.

Miss Suggs won second money with 218 and was two strokes better than Marlene Bauer Hagge of Pittsburgh, who wound up third with 220.

Mickey Wright had 224 for a tie for fourth place with Jo Ann Prentice of Birmingham and Joyce Ziske of Milwaukee and it kept the blonde from Bonita, Calif., in the lead in money winnings for the year. Miss Wright has now taken down $4,273.87.

Thirteen of the women on the tour stopped off at San Augustine, Tex., today for an 18-hole stroke test at the Fairway Farm and Hunt Club. But the others, including Miss Rawls, journeyed on to Dallas to start tuning up on the Glen Lakes Country Club course where the Civitan Open starts Thursday.

Miss Rawls was deadly with her short irons in making that garrison finish that pulled her from 2 strokes back to a 3-stroke victory. She fired 3 birdies and a single bogey in actually wrapping up first money on the second 18 holes.

The tournament started Friday but the Saturday round was postponed because of rain. Bright sunshine and most favorable conditions on the 6,219-yard Beaumont Country Club course greeted the women in the double-up rounds yesterday.

Grade Schools Eye Little Olympic Meet

The annual Snyder Little Olympics will be unreeled here late this afternoon in Tiger Stadium, starting at 4:30 p.m. with the "grand march."

Track festivities will get underway at 5 p.m.

The Boys and Girls Divisions will be divided into two age groups, 11 years and under in one group and 12-13 years in another. All contestants must be enrolled in one of the five elementary schools in Snyder.

Some 300-350 boys and girls are expected to compete in the show. First, second and third place winners in each event will receive ribbons. There will be no team points kept.

Each of the contestants will be outfitted in Little Olympic "T" shirts furnished by Walter Hales, owner of Hale's Lumber Co. and Caprock Materials.

John Conley, athletic director of Snyder schools, is the director of the meet.

Ace Amos, junior high athletic director, will serve as the starter.

Admission to the Little Olympics is free.

Lake Charles Title To Royer

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — Professional golf's increasing brigade of talented youngsters got a new member today in Hugh Royer of Columbus, Ga., and his credentials included a victory in the annual $5,000 Lake Charles Invitational Tournament.

The 22-year-old product of the University of Georgia came home in front by three strokes Sunday with a 72-hole total of 278.

Although Royer faltered somewhat in the closing round, he withstood the charge of old pro Dick Metz, the defending champion, who tied another newcomer, Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., at 281.

Ivan Sicks of Lake Charles took fourth place with 283. Charlie Harper of Columbus, Royer's tutor for the last four years, finished fifth at 285.

Royer's par-matching 72 in the final round was his only journey out of the 60s in the tourney. His winning 278 set a tournament record, knocking one stroke off the performance by host pro Gray Little in the 1954 renewal.

Actor Places Third In Family Argument

But she didn't call anyone. She socked him with it.

Then, officers said, LaRue's sister-in-law, Mrs. J. M. Osborn, clobbered him with a mop.

After five stitches were taken in his scalp, LaRue was booked on suspicion of assault, battery and disturbing the peace Sunday. The complaint was signed by his wife, Paddie, and Mrs. Osborn.

What started the argument at the home of friends was not disclosed.

White Sox Off To Sizzling Start With 3 Wins In Row

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three days don't make a week, let alone a season but it sure looks today as if the Chicago White Sox have the two ingredients they lacked most last season. That would be home run punch and strong relief pitching.

It was this combination that helped them win their third straight Sunday, a 5-3 decision over Detroit. The home run punch was provided by rookie Norm Cash. The relief pitching was furnished by rookie Rudolfo Arias and sophomore Bob Shaw. Each came in to stifle a Tiger threat with the bases loaded.

Chicago's three in a row [illegible] the club alone at the top of the American League heap. Three other teams still are undefeated. Cleveland has won two and Wash- The defending champion Yan- ington and New York one each. kees finally were able to open their season at Yankee Stadium. They just did get the game in, too. It began to snow almost immediately after they had nipped the Boston Red Sox 3-2.

None of the other teams was as fortunate. Rain forced the postponement of the scheduled doubleheader between Baltimore and the Senators at Washington and the single contest at Kansas City between Cleveland and the Athletics.

Veteran catcher Sherm Lollar shared the hitting honors with first baseman Cash for the White Sox. Each drove in two runs. Cash's homer gave the White Sox six in three games. The 1958 Chicago team hit only 101 all year.

It took fine relief pitching by Arias and Shaw to keep the White Sox undefeated. Detroit loaded the bases with only one out in the seventh against starter Dick Donovan. Arias, a Cuban left-hander, came in to get cleanup batter Gail Harris on a called third strike and pinch hitter Gus Zernial on a fly to right field.

Detroit loaded the bases again in the eighth with only one out. This time Shaw took over and got Eddie Yost to ground into a double play.

Bob Turley didn't need any help from the bull pen as he spun a two-hitter to get the Yankees away winging. Pete Runnels' double in the seventh and Vic Wertz' ninth inning single were the only hits Boston was able to get as Tom Brewer lost on an eight-hitter. Norm Siebern, sporting glasses for the first time, led the Yankee attack with three hits. His home run in the eighth snapped a 2-2 tie.

Giants Again Are Winning 'Em Late

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The ninth inning wonders are back in business.

It was a year ago that the San Francisco Giants began an intriguing habit pulling out games in the final inning. Nearly a third of their victories were achieved thus.

The 1959 season is only in its infancy and already the Giants have won two of their three games in the closing frame.

They did it for the second time Sunday, scoring three in the ninth to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals for the third consecutive day. The score was 6-3.

Sunday's triumph moved the Giants into fifth place, a half game in front of the Milwaukee Braves, who won the only two games they have played. Snow prevented the Braves from playing their scheduled game in Pittsburgh.

In the only other league action, Los Angeles defeated Chicago 5-3. The scheduled doubleheader between the Cincinnati Reds and Phillies in Philadelphia was postponed because of rain.

For one inning it looked like the Cardinals might finally win their first game of the season. They scored three runs in the first against left-hander Mike McCormick on hits by Don Blasingame, Gino Cimoli and Ken Boyer plus three Giant errors.

The Giants tied the score with two in the fifth after scoring one in the third. Then, in the ninth with two out, Orlando Cepeda's triple drove in Jim Davenport, who had beat out a bunt to Cardinal pitcher Vinegar Bend Mizell. Felipe Alou iced the game with a home run.

Al (Red) Worthington, with two hitless relief innings, was credited with the victory. The Giants now have made 13 extra-base hits in three games.

The Dodgers, like the Giants, also overcame a 3-0 deficit. The Cubs got to starter Sandy Koufax for four of their eight hits in the third to score all their runs.

Los Angeles got two runs back in the fourth on rookie catcher Norm Sherry's two-run single. In the seventh, outfielder Don Demeter slammed a home run with Charley Neal on base to put the Dodgers in front 4-3. They added another run in the eighth on a double by Gil Hodges and Ron Fairly's single.

Johnny Klippstein, who permitted only one hit in three relief innings, was the winner although Clem Labine helped him with three scoreless innings.

Pigeons May Help Battle Heart Disease

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Pigeons may provide new and valuable aid in the quest to solve the riddle of a major cause of heart disease, a group of North Carolina scientists reported today.

Dr. T. B. Clarkson and three associates of Bowman Gray School of Medicine, Winston-Salem, reported they had discovered at least one variety of pigeons fulfilling a long and hitherto fruitless search by science for "an inexpensive and readily available animal with spontaneous atherosclerosis."

Atherosclerosis, which gets part of its name from the Greek word athere, meaning porridge, is a condition in which a mush material accumulates on the inner lining of blood vessels, thus narrowing the passageways for blood.

The condition is the cause of coronary heart attacks and cerebral strokes in man. The search for its specific origin and for means to prevent it constitutes one of the great efforts of medical science.

In laboratory research, scientists have reproduced it artificially in a number of animal species. But the ideal laboratory subject is an animal which gets the disease naturally. The few animals that do so have been expensive or difficult to procure, thus hindering research, the North Carolina doctors said.

They told about the pigeon find in a scientific exhibit prepared for the opening of the 43rd annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Researchers H. B. Lofland, R. W. Prichard and M. G. Netsky were the other three authors of the report.

They said they examined two breeds of pigeons—one called the "White Carneau," the other called "Show Racer."

Both breeds were kept under identical conditions of diet, physical activity and housing and after a period of time were sacrificed and studied for evidence of atherosclerosis.

The "White Carneaus" had it, and the abnormalities disclosed in the blood vessels were strikingly similar to those of human beings. None of the other breed had it.

The difference between the two breeds appears unrelated to sex, diet, age or physical activity, the doctors reported, adding that it is possible the development of the condition in the "White Carneaus" may be related in part to genetic factors.

Biochemical studies of the pigeon disease—including its mode and rate of development, the effects of diet and interbreeding and a search for means of prevention—are now under way.

Tinkle Book Wins Award

DALLAS (AP) —The annual book prize of the Sons of the Republic of Texas went yesterday to "13 Days To Glory," in which Lon Tinkle tells about the defense of the Alamo.

The book, whose author is book critic of the Dallas Morning News, previously won the $1,000 Best Texas Book of 1958 Award of the Texas Institution of Letters on March 13.

The Summerfield G. Roberts Award made by the Sons of the Republic also carries a $1,000 prize. Roberts, a Dallas art patron, donates the prize annually for the best book of the year about early Texas.

Tinkle is a former president of the Texas Institute of Letters and professor of French and comparative literature at Southern Methodist University.

His book resulted from three years of research into the historic defense of the old mission-fortress at San Antonio where all 182 men died at the hands of Mexican forces.

The Sons of the Republic award last year went to Tom Lea for his book on the King Ranch.

Escaped Sailors Surrender Sunday

KIRBYVILLE (AP)—Two sailors who escaped Thursday from the stockade at the Orange Naval Station surrendered voluntarily here yesterday.

Constable Wesley Young said Ezra J. Coutee, 19, of Buna and Harold F. Sutton, 21, of Orange were jailed at Jasper. He said a third man, Henry A. McDonald, 25, of Bastrop, La., still is at large.

Pilot Taken From Sea

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — A Texas pilot was rescued from the storm - swept Mediterranean Saturday after being ejected into the sea from his disabled F100 jet.

An amphibious plane picked 1st Lt. Thomas Z. Fraga, 26, of Houston out of the water just before the arrival of six British soldiers who rowed several miles into the ocean on a mission to save him.

The soldiers alerted Wheelus Air Force Base in Libya after they spotted the parachuting pilot from a place near Tripoli harbor, the Air Force reported. Then the six Britons commandeered a row boat and set out to sea.

High winds and strong currents made their return trip difficult. A helicopter was sent to their rescue but the soldiers managed to get back under their own power, the Air Force said.

Lt. Fraga was sent to Wheelus base hospital for observation.

QUESTION: If you were standing on the South Pole, how many directions would there be?

• • •

ANSWER: The South Pole is the southernmost point on the earth's surface. Therefore, a person standing on the South Pole could not take a step in any direction without moving north.

Strangely, if you had a compass at the South Pole, it would point south as well as north. This is because the geographical South Pole and the magnetic South Pole, which affects a compass, are located several hundred miles apart.

Similarly, if you were standing on the North Pole and took a step in any direction, you would be moving south. A compass would act the same way at the North Pole because its magnetic pole is a few hundred miles away.

• • •

Solon Raps Labor Dept. Regulations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department's proposed regulations for employment of migratory farm labor drew the fire yesterday of Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Sen. Ellender said they are an out-and-out attempt to invoke federal jurisdiction over a large area in which Congress has consistently refused to act.

His recorded address was carried by New Orleans Radio Station WWL.

Employers of temporary farm labor would be compelled to meet certain housing, transportation and wage standards as a condition to using the U.S. Employment Service.

The Senator called the housing standards "completely impractical." He added that he knew of few, if any, houses in South Louisiana that have screened air spaces below the floor.

"The section dealing with wages is a barefaced attempt to levy and enforce a minimum agricultural wage despite consistent congressional rejection of this concept," Ellender declared.

He said the proposed regulation covering transportation arrangements would leave too much to beaucratic determination.

The proposed prohibition of discriminatory practices was termed "a blatant attempt to impose a Fair Employment Practices Commission program—a so-called FEPC on Agriculture."

Fair wages and good housing should be provided for migratory farm workers, Ellender said.

He continued:

"However, I do object most vehemently to an attempt by the Secretary of Labor to promulgate regulations which would bring federal control over areas in which the Congress has specifically refused to allow federal direction.

"I suggest to the secretary of labor that if he would like to extend federal control over these fields, he should come to the congress and ask for permission to do so."

50-Pound Satellite Is Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States plans to launch a 50-pound satellite next month as a preliminary step toward exploring the planet Venus.

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said Sunday night the launching will be attempted from Cape Canaveral, Fla., under NASA supervision. He said a follow-up attempt probably will be made in June to send a satellite into the vicinity of Venus.

Next month's satellite, equipped with four rectangular fins, will have a solar battery much more powerful than the one contained in Vanguard I. The first Vanguard, launched almost 13 months ago, still is orbiting and its solar-powered transmitter is still sending signals. The fins on the planned satellite will provide more area for gathering solar energy.

NASA hopes the new satellite will orbit at a peak altitude of 20,000 to 30,000 miles, dipping to a low altitude of 200 miles. It will contain devices to measure cosmic rays and check magnetic fields.

Ping-Pong Marathon Ended For Classes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Has a University of Southern California freshman ended or just begun the latest in silly season rages?

Thayer Holbrook, 19, halted a 50-hour ping-pong endurance contest Sunday night because "I have classes in the morning."

His fraternity house kept him supplied with soup and gallons of orange juice while he played in his bare feet.

During the marathon Holbrook won 165 games and lost 138 against a dozen opponents.

Nye Wants To Forget Cuba

CHICAGO (AP) — Alan Robert Nye is back home with his family in nearby Whiting, Ind., and says he wants to forget quickly his imprisonment in Cuba and suspended death sentence for the alleged plot to kill Premier Fidel Castro.

The 31-year-old former U.S. Navy flier landed at Midway Airport Sunday night on a flight from Havana less than 20 hours after a Cuban military tribunal pronounced a death sentence. The tribunal suspended the sentence on condition Nye leave Cuba within 48 hours.

Nye, who steadfastly maintained his innocence during his 106 days in jail and at the trial, was greeted at the airport by his mother, Mrs. Joseph Lynch, 51.

"We're all right now, mom, aren't we?" Nye asked, embracing his mother. "Don't cry. We're safe now."

Then the gangling Nye, appearing jubilant, turned and kissed his stepfather, Daniel Lynch, who had attended Nye's trial in Havana and flew back with him and his attorney Joseph P. Sullivan.

Both Nye and Sullivan declined to comment on Nye's conviction on charges of conspiring to kill Castro while Castro was fighting to overthrow the Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista. Nye was arrested last December and had been a prisoner in grim La Cabana fortress overlooking Havana since January.

Dressed in khaki trousers, a tan cloth jacket, blue sports shirt and black combat boots, Nye told reporters: "I'm just glad to be home. I'm going to Whiting and get a good rest."

Asked about his imprisonment and trial, he said: "I can't discuss Cuban politics and I don't want to say anything about my trial.

"Cuban politics don't concern me anymore and never will again. I'll never go back there again."

The military tribunal said Nye will face a firing squad if he ever returns to Cuba.

At New Orleans earlier, Nye said he had about as much chance of getting a fair trial in Havana "as a snowball in that place made famous by Dante."

QUESTION: How did basketball originate?

• • •

ANSWER: Back in the early 1890s, there were very few games that could be played indoors during the winter. Men who wanted to exercise could do only gymnastics, which were unexciting.

Dr. James Naismith, a Y. M. C. A. instructor in Springfield, Mass., decided that these men needed an indoor game. He hung two peach baskets at the ends of a hall in the Y. M. C. A. and, using a soccer ball, laid out the rules of basketball much as we know them today.

As in the case of almost every game played today, a similar game was played by ancient peoples. From temple carvings found in Mexico, we know that the ancient Mayans played a game like basketball long before the discovery of America by Columbus.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is a drawing of a boy shooting a basket. If you have not tried the game yourself, see if you cannot arrange to at school or at a club.

Dictatorships Are Tough On Newsmen

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—A journalist may risk his life today by reporting the news factually in a totalitarian nation.

A cartoonist may be jailed for his caricature of a government official.

These are some of the "facts of life" newspapermen face in dictatorial regimes, says a study on "The Press in Authoritarian Countries," issued today by the International Press Institute. This organization of editors representing 500 newspapers in 38 nations compiled the survey from reports of journalists who have lived or visited countries—Communist or non-Communist—where the press is subjected to government control.

The study reports a "spirit of revolt against the complete tutelage of the press by the state" is making itself felt in totalitarian nations where some journalists are prepared to run grave risks in defying government authority for the sake of their aspirations.

After the 1956 Hungarian revolution was suppressed by Soviet might, journalist Joszef Gali and a colleague, Gyula Obersovsky, continued to publish a clandestine newspaper.

According to charges subsequently filed, their paper contained "articles against the government and the U.S.S.R."

The men were sentenced to death, but this was later commuted to life imprisonment for Gali and 15 years for Obersovsky.

Attempts to defy Franco's censorship in Spain have become more frequent and increasingly bolder.

Last year, a cartoonist for the satirical publication "La Codorniz" was sentenced to two months' imprisonment and fined.

Other examples for 1956-1958 are reported from the Soviet Union, Poland, Communist China, Romania, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Yugoslavia, Portugal, Latin America, Egypt and the Far East.

Most of the countries whose government are Marxist-inspired deny the existence of censorship, but their conception of the press and methods for controlling it are similar, the study reports.

The study concludes with the affirmation that only in countries where information is controlled and newspapers held in bondage is freedom of the press appreciated — by contrast — for its true value.

New Use Seen For Mistletoe

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A plant with joyous yuletide connotations—the mistletoe—is under investigation in the ever-widening search for new chemicals to fight cancer.

A team of Buffalo, N.Y., researchers reported Sunday they had confirmed earlier findings that there is antitumor activity against certain animal cancers in plants of the loranthus (mistletoe) family.

Researcher Oleg S. Selawry and two colleagues of Roswell Park Memorial Institute told the closing session of the 50th annual meeting of the American Assn. for Cancer Research that they had tested a number of preparations derived from such plants.

Some of them showed strong tumor-inhibiting action, especially against one form of mouse leukemia, they said.

The scientists said attempts are now under way to isolate and purify the active principle.

Retired Operator Takes Lathe Home

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Many retiring employes go home with a wrist watch as a token of "well done" after their last day on the job.

Edwin W. Niedzielski, who retired after 41 years with Buick, went home with the two-ton lathe he had used for nearly 30 years.

Niedzielski bought the lathe from Buick for $62. The auto firm paid $3,414.79 for it back in 1929.

The retired auto worker plans to put the lathe in his garage.

"I just want the pleasure of owning it and looking at it," he said.

Rich Woman Remembers Her Friends

DOUGLAS, Ariz. (AP)—Grace Mackey was a stern mannered woman who put great faith in the devotion of friends.

Although wealthy, she never allowed financial standards to interfere with friendship.

She was fond of Ed Fox, 76, a taxicab driver who often provided transportation on her trips around this southern Arizona community.

She liked Ruby Hall, 46, a dining room hostess, who dropped by for a nightly visit.

Chief of Police Percy Bowden was her advisor. She called Ernie Beyer, 69, a bank cashier at nearby Bisbee, a close friend, and the same for Helen Ellis, a Colorado Springs, Colo., widow.

Mrs. Mackey, whose late husband founded the famed Gadsden Hotel of Douglas, died last August at 84. The division of her estate was announced recently.

Mrs. Hall received a check for $78,933. So did Bowden.

Fox, who has been worried about security for his old age, was willed $22,522. So were Beyer and Mrs. Ellis.

She divided the rest of her estate—which totaled $285,500 after taxes—among friends around the nation.

Left without a dime was Mrs. Mackey's only relative — Evelyn Letts, a niece now living in England. The two women had an argument back in 1945.

But after an attorney threatened to contest the will for Mrs. Letts, she was granted $15,000 from the estate.

Celebrities Are In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Phil Harris assured everybody that he never drank before cocktail time—even in Texas.

Faye Emerson said it was "great to be back home again" and reminded anybody who wanted to hear that she was a native of Beaumont and had a "lot of Dallas relatives."

James Garner, the television "Maverick," was the most sought after autographer and opined: "If I ever get tired of this, I'm in real trouble."

Lindsey, the youngest of Bing Crosby's oldest batch of boys at 21, said it was true he and his three oldest brothers were planning a song and comedy team, but "It'll still be tough to outpull Dad."

Character Actor Jimmy Gleason Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Jimmy Gleason—the dour, long-faced actor who played character roles in scores of Hollywood films—died late Sunday night.

Gleason, 72, had been in ill health for a year. Death came at the motion picture country house hospital in nearby Woodland Hills. His last part was a minor role in "The Last Hurrah."

SNYDER BUSINESS NEWS

WALL DECORATION—Mrs. Helen Wadleigh, an artist who has done many decoration jobs in and around Snyder is pictured above with a cameo-like painting on the wall of her daughter's bedroom. The cameo is actually a silhouette of her daughter. On the other walls of the room she painted a floral design which gives the room an effect of individualized wall paper. (Lee Watson photograph)

Mrs. Wadleigh Offers New Art Work

On a new room recently added to their home, Mrs. Helen Wadleigh has done a wall design in her daughter's bedroom which is highly individualistic — it uses a cameo-like picture which is actually a silhouette of her daughter Polly.

On other walls of the room she painted a floral design which gives the effect of a completely individual wallpaper on a Textoned background.

Four years ago when the Wadleighs planned to build their home, Mrs. Wadleigh wanted to use wall paper, yet she didn't like wall paper in that it had to be removed from the wall when it needed to be redone. Also wallpaper has a tendency to soil easily.

It was then that she decided to try her idea of hand painted wallpaper designs.

In her son's room and in the living room she painted the ceilings in a wallpaper design. In this idea of ceiling painting it left her walls plain to accomodate the pictures she had painted and wanted to display.

She hand-painted the draperies to match the children's room wall which were in circus animals. In the bathroom she used a polka dot design on a dark green background.

This left the walls much easier to clean than wall paper as these were designs painted right on the Textoned wall and are completely washable.

Mrs. Wadleigh received so many compliments on her hand-painted work that she has done a number of homes for Snyder residents, as well as cafes, schools and offices.

This hand-painted work is not very expensive and the colors are more beautiful, can be matched to any color wanted, and are far more practical.

In wallpaper patterns, Mrs. Wadleigh also does cowboy scenes, or any scene in boy's bedrooms. Ballerenas, flowers, profiles in girl's bedrooms, trees and tree limbs in hallways, entrances living and dining rooms.

Mrs. Wadleigh says magazines are full of ideas for this type work and nearly anything anyone would wish painted for home, school, or business building is easily available.

In addition to painting decorative walls in homes, Mrs. Wadleigh who has learned to draw house plans from her construction contractor husband, has helped several other women with designs for their new homes.

Mrs. Wadleigh worked several weeks on her own house plans, scaling in every detail, taking out every fault she could think of, adding many ideas as she thought of them, and even scaling in each piece of furniture to make sure that there would be a place for everything the family needed and that everything fitted into its alloted space.

Mrs. Wadleigh says that as construction costs are so very expensive, it is most important that a home be what a family needs in the space that can be afforded, and also that the home design is of the type that is practical for any family.

"A home that is designed in a manner so that it is easy to walk through without making a path through much used parts of the house shows good planning," she said.

However, if the dining room is used only a few times each year because it is inaccesible or difficult to use, or a living room through which a path to bath rooms will be worn by children, displays poor designing, she added.

Since designing her own home, she has taught several of her friends to design their own homes, so that they could have a floorplan like they wanted ready to present to their architect — thereby saving much time and money in design, and yet get exactly what the family needed in their new home.

She now will hold classes in home design by appointment for a $3 fee for persons who are planning to build a new home.

For her art work in wall decoration, Mrs. Wadleigh can be reached at HI 3-4394.

Safe Fur Storage Featured At Highland Park Cleaners

It's almost time to put winter clothing away, and in many homes it has been a problem for those who want to store furs and woolens to keep them well-protected for future use.

It need not be a problem, however, since Highland Park Cleaners, 3803 Big Spring Highway, has safe protection in its cold storage vault.

The vault, which is the only one in Snyder for clothing, is used for both furs and woolens and is fully-protected against heat, moths, fire and theft.

The refrigerated vault is 18 feet wide and 25 feet long, giving ample room for several thousands of garments for summer storage in a safe, odorless and pest-free place.

Shelby Coker, manager of Highland Park Cleaners, invited residents to inquire about the storage facilities and other outstanding services at the plant.

The storage for clothing during summer is only one of numerous services for which the firm is known.

The average customer of Highland Park Cleaners can easily notice the quality of cleaning, but he does not know that the plant's employes keep a constant check on all solvents used and of all the facilities in the cleaning department to assure they are kept at peak efficiency.

The personnel at Highland Park Cleaners, experienced in quality cleaning, perform the best possible cleaning job on each garment. One service offered by the firm is hand cleaning of the finer garments.

Hand spotting is done on each garment at the shop to get any spots which might not be cleaned by the regular cleaning processes.

Exercising the best care possible, employes place all cleaning orders in plastic bags after the cleaning until they are delivered or picked up to make sure they are protected.

Plenty of parking is available at the shop. While it has pickup and delivery service, it provides the parking for those who desire to take their cleaning to the shop and has a night depository for those who stop by after closing hours.

The building, incidentally, is completely fireproof for further protection of the customer's clothing. Besides the building being of masonry construction with roof supports and roof of metal, it has its boiler plant for the cleaning equipment located in a separate masonry building 35 feet behind the main building.

THE ONLY cold storage vault in Snyder for furs and woolens is at Highland Park Cleaners. Here Mrs. Shelby Coker places furs in the vault, which gives protection throughout the summer. (Lee Watson photograph)
