Texas jobless dips to 5.7%

DALLAS (AP) — Texas unemployment rate in September dipped to 5.7 percent last month, compared with 6.5 percent for the same period last year, a government economist said today.

The drop came despite pending layoffs in some defense-related industries as a result of lessening East-West tensions and a slump in some other manufacturing sectors.

Nationwide, the jobless rate held at 5.7 percent in October in the face of a continued slump in the country's manufacturing and construction industries.

In Texas, 482,000 people were unemployed last month out of a labor force totaling 8,398,000, said Jessie Marcus, an economist with the U.S. Labor Department.

The figures followed a 6.3 percent Texas unemployment rate in September.

She said 7,916,000 Texans had jobs in October. That compares with unemployment of 552,000 for the same period last year in a labor force of 8,460,000 and employment of 7,908,000.

The department said that, although last month's nationwide civilian jobless rate was unchanged from September's 5.7 percent, the U.S. job market continued to show weakness and widespread job losses.

Tension in the Persian Gulf, which has taken its toll on the U.S. economy by sending oil prices skyward, now threatens to worsen the nation's unemployment problems, analysts said.

Three unexploded bombs were found and a firebomb was hurled at a police station today, after the blasts at the dormitory early this morning and late Thursday night.

The violence occurred as 26,000 police officers were mounting a massive security operation for the Tuesday coronation.

City studies water problem, 911 system during workshop

Members of Snyder city council and city staff participated in an informal work session Thursday night at city hall.

No action was taken during the 1 1/2-hour meeting in which the council previewed the agenda for its November meeting, scheduled for 6:30 Monday.

Dominating discussion was the city's water line problem. Vick Chambers of the city's engineering department presented the council with maps of the city outlining priority areas concerning city water lines.

One map detailed city water lines which are candidates for rehabilitation and another map showed lines that need to be replaced for which rehabilitation is not a viable option. Both maps were color-coded by priority levels and both profiled improvements for the next three years.

The city is currently considering leasing equipment from In-Place Linings Inc. of Fort Worth that would rehabilitate city water lines by applying an interior cement lining.

Chambers told the council that rehabilitation would cost approximately $4 per foot of pipe and replacement would cost $25 per foot.

The council has budgeted $304,000 this year for general water system improvements.

A combination replacement and rehabilitation project is expected to be discussed by the council on Monday.

Fire Chief Terry Don McDowell attended the meeting to update the council on the city's progress in the planned 911 system.

McDowell assured the group that work was progressing — although slowly — on the emergency system. The equipment will be housed at Snyder police station and is expected to be operational in January of 1992.

The mayor is expected to sign an interlocal agreement during the meeting Monday. Last month, Judge Bobby Goodwin signed the agreement during a meeting of Scurry County Commissioners.

Chamber Manager Bill Moss will request $1,400 Monday night from the city's hotel-motel tax fund for the upcoming Western Texas College McDonald's Classic Basketball Tournament, Nov. 15-17. An estimated 1,000 people are expected to attend the three-day event.

Monday's meeting will also see the council consider on second reading an ordinance regarding the city's participation in the Texas Municipal Retirement System. The council will also hear a request for a zone change in the Blakenship Addition.

Present at the meeting were council members Ernest Tippens and Paul Zeck, City Manager John Gayle and Mayor Troy Williamson. Absent were council members Jack Denman, Jackie Greene Jr., Joe Coronado and Mike Thornton.

McKanna among four elected to Petroleum Hall of Fame, Midland

The late Edith Whatley McKanna, longtime Scurry County resident, was elected to the Petroleum Hall of Fame this week by the board of trustees and board of executors of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum.

Scurry County has long been a leader in Texas oil and gas production, and the county pioneered CO2 injection and recovery. Mrs. McKanna, who died in 1986, made a unique contribution.

She was a member of a pioneer Scurry County family. Her uncle, Dougal McGregor, was instrumental in the development of Fluvanna and had its first post office.

Mrs. McKanna was born July 19, 1889 near Waco to Daniel and Courtney Whatley. Her father discovered the Rock Crossing Field in the Waggoner Ranch. Later, her husband discovered the Fry Field in Brown County.

She attended school at Fluvanna, then attended the Sacred Heart Academy in Waco, the Academy of Mary Immaculate in Wichita Falls and Columbia University.

She married James McKanna in 1920. From her father, and her husband, she learned about the oil business. She also took up her husband's interest in flying.

When she soloed in 1929, her husband bought her an airplane. She was the first woman pilot in Texas to own her plane. She became a charter member of The Ninety-Nine Club, composed of the first 99 women pilots in American.

During World War II, she served as liaison officer for the Civil Air Patrol and Army Air Force. Serving as captain, she took those years to firm up her plans concerning West Texas oil. Upon her return to West Texas, she organized the Imperial Oil Company. She took an active role in management, securing leases and visiting drilling sites.

Gulf crisis enters 4th month

by The Associated Press

Four more Americans in Iraq will likely be freed this weekend, diplomats said today. Baghdad reacted angrily to U.S. and British efforts to discourage hostage relatives from traveling to Iraq for the holidays.

President Bush, meanwhile, denounced Saddam Hussein's claims that the hostages are well-treated.

Bush suggested Thursday that in some forms of brutality, the Iraqi president had surpassed even Hitler — raising some eyebrows by comparing Saddam to the man who ordered the extermination of millions of people in World War II.

Also today, Kuwait's exiled crown prince and prime minister said economic sanctions had failed, and efforts to find an Arab solution to the gulf crisis are "a waste of time" as long as Saddam won't listen.

The Kuwaiti News Agency, which is operating in exile, carried a statement by Sheik Saad al-Abdullah al-Sabah reiterating Kuwaiti calls for a military assault to drive the Iraqis out of the conquered emirate.

And Saudi sources said Syria is to send more land troops to Saudi Arabia, bringing its contribution to 15,000 soldiers and 300 tanks. There had been fears that Syria might withdraw from the multinational force against Iraq over U.S. arms shipments to Israel.

Today marked the beginning of the fourth month of the Persian Gulf crisis, which started when Iraq invaded Kuwait on Aug. 2.

Saddam refused to let foreigners leave both nations when the United Nations retaliated by imposing a trade embargo on Iraq and the United States began sending more than 200,000 troops to the region.

In announcing plans to free four sick and elderly Americans, Iraqi Information Minister Latif Jassim denied the captives were being treated badly.

A U.S. official in Baghdad today identified the four to be freed as Randall Trinh, 49, of Hacienda Heights, Calif.; Dr. Abdul Kangi, 50, of Glencoe, a Chicago suburb; Raymond Gales, a diplomat stationed in Kuwait and now in Baghdad; and Michael Barnes.

Keeping tabs on our neighbors: Kim Pease, writing in the Rotan Advance, says juvenile delinquency is really no mystery. "Mama is so busy keeping up with the Joneses and Papa is so busy keeping up with Mama that neither of 'em have any time for keeping up with the kids."

Roger Enlow, editor of the Hood County News in Granbury, says making required decisions is, wearing him out.

He recently went to a movie theatre to relax. After choosing a soft drink, he had to decide not only on the size but the type of cup. It wasn't much simpler in ordering popcorn as the attendant made him pick between buttered and plain.

He recalled that buying potato chips in the grocery store isn't any easier. The chip choices include sour cream and onion, wild n' mild, nacho cheese, butter pretezel, ranch, baked potato, mesquite barbecue, crunchy, dirty, restaurant style, dip style, cantina style, original, extra crunchy, super hot and spicy.

Walking up and down the aisle trying to make a decision won't burn enough calories to eat the whole sack.

Larry Crabtree, in the Vernon Daily Record, recently was having a conversation with one of his town's most successful businessmen.

Asked the secret of his success, the man told him two words, "Right decisions."

Crabtree asked how he always made the right decision.

"Experience."

The millionaire then answered the next obvious question about how he obtained experience.

"Wrong decisions," he answered.

Henry Hill praises mobster movie

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Hill, the mobster-turned-informant whose book "Wiseguy" inspired the movie "GoodFellas," has emerged from the federal witness protection program to review the movie recounting his Mafia life.

"Martin Scorsese captures everything — good and bad — with almost total accuracy," Hill writes in the December issue of Premiere magazine. "Had I the opportunity to direct the film myself — if I knew anything about directing — I don't think I could have done a better job."

Hill also offers his views on the portrayals by the film's stars.

—Robert De Niro: "Plays (mobster 'Jimmy the Gent') Burke as well as Burke could play himself."

—Joe Pesci: "As for Tommy DeSimone, played by Joe Pesci, the movie actually lets him off easy, because in real life he was a whole lot worse."

—Ray Liotta: "When I finally saw the movie, I was overjoyed. I could not believe the job that Ray had done. He played me perfectly throughout the movie."

County attorney complains about lack of information

AUSTIN (AP) — The head of the ClayDesta National Bank says it is cooperating with investigators, despite a complaint to the contrary from the Travis County attorney.

County Attorney Ken Oden said the bank controlled by GOP gubernatorial candidate Clayton Williams is withholding information for an investigation into the institution's car loan program, The Dallas Morning News reported Thursday.

"Some of the material has been produced, but most of the documents we have asked for are being withheld by the bank," Oden said.

ClayDesta officials say they have provided all the information permitted by banking laws and have denied any wrongdoing.

The State Board of Insurance

also is investigating ClayDesta National Bank of Midland over allegations that some car buyers were required to purchase credit insurance as a condition of obtaining loans.

Oden and the insurance board are investigating connections between the bank and one of its loan brokers, Lloyd Williams Jr. of Houston, and Service Life & Casualty Insurance Co. Lloyd Williams is no relation to the GOP candidate.

Oden said the bank had failed to provide complete minutes of its board meetings at which the car loan and insurance program was discussed.

Instead, he said, bank officials provided his office heavily edited copies of the minutes for a 12-month period in which large portions of the discussions were deleted. The bank declined to provide even that information to insurance board investigators, he said.

"We are continuing our attempts to persuade the bank and its officials to fully disclose the information," Oden said.

ClayDesta Chairman Paul Latham said bank lawyers are uncertain whether they legally may release the minutes to the insurance board, which also requested the information.

But he said the bank is cooperating with investigators' requests for information.

Latham said federal banking laws prohibited ClayDesta from releasing any more information without getting clearance from the U.S. comptroller of the currency, which oversees federally chartered banks.

He said the bank's lawyers were preparing a formal request to federal regulators to see what additional information could be turned over.

"There is nothing in those minutes that implies" any wrongdoing, Latham said.

"The portion that was blacked out does not deal with the car program ... Anything they (regulators) will let us release, we will release. There is nothing to hide in these minutes," he said.

Cleveland, Ohio, was founded in 1796.

Poster is shelved over controversy

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Texas A&M's Opera and Performing Arts Society doesn't have a poster to commemorate the season's events for the first time in five years because the flutist depicted in this year's poster appeared to be making a "Hook 'em Horns" sign with one hand and an obscene finger gesture with the other.

OPAS officials said Thursday that the poster to be used this season was commissioned last year from College Station native Scott McDermott, then a student at the University of Texas, at Austin.

After the poster was printed, OPAS officials asked to have it changed, McDermott said.

"I could see what they were seeing, but I didn't think it was as big a deal as they did," McDermott told the Bryan-College Station Eagle. "I had no idea until it was pointed out to me that that was a problem."

McDermott said he used photographs of flutists as a guide while he painted the poster.

"In the photos, the hand positions were that way," he said.

OPAS Executive Director Anne Black said of the poster, "It's nonexistent as far as anybody's concerned."

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Texas A&M's Opera and Performing Arts Society doesn't have a poster to commemorate the season's events for the first time in five years because the flutist depicted in this year's poster appeared to be making a "Hook 'em Horns" sign with one hand and an obscene finger gesture with the other.

OPAS officials said Thursday that the poster to be used this season was commissioned last year from College Station native Scott McDermott, then a student at the University of Texas at Austin.

After the poster was printed, OPAS officials asked to have it changed, McDermott said.

"I could see what they were seeing, but I didn't think it was as big a deal as they did," McDermott told the Bryan-College Station Eagle. "I had no idea until it was pointed out to me that that was a problem."

McDermott said he used photographs of flutists as a guide while he painted the poster.

"In the photos, the hand positions were that way," he said.

OPAS Executive Director Anne Black said of the poster, "It's nonexistent as far as anybody's concerned."

County attorney complains about lack of information

AUSTIN (AP) — The head of the ClayDesta National Bank says it is cooperating with investigators, despite a complaint to the contrary from the Travis County attorney.

County Attorney Ken Oden said the bank controlled by GOP gubernatorial candidate Clayton Williams is withholding information for an investigation into the institution's car loan program. The Dallas Morning News reported Thursday.

"Some of the material has been produced, but most of the documents we have asked for are being withheld by the bank," Oden said.

ClayDesta officials say they have provided all the information permitted by banking laws and have denied any wrongdoing.

The State Board of Insurance

also is investigating ClayDesta National Bank of Midland over allegations that some car buyers were required to purchase credit insurance as a condition of obtaining loans.

Oden and the insurance board are investigating connections between the bank and one of its loan brokers, Lloyd Williams Jr. of Houston, and Service Life & Casualty Insurance Co. Lloyd Williams is no relation to the GOP candidate.

Oden said the bank had failed to provide complete minutes of its board meetings at which the car loan and insurance program was discussed.

Instead, he said, bank officials provided his office heavily edited copies of the minutes for a 12-month period in which large portions of the discussions were deleted. The bank declined to provide even that information to insurance board investigators, he said.

"We are continuing our attempts to persuade the bank and its officials to fully disclose the information," Oden said.

ClayDesta Chairman Paul Latham said bank lawyers are uncertain whether they legally may release the minutes to the insurance board, which also requested the information.

But he said the bank is cooperating with investigators' requests for information.

Latham said federal banking laws prohibited ClayDesta from releasing any more information without getting clearance from the U.S. comptroller of the currency, which oversees federally chartered banks.

He said the bank's lawyers were preparing a formal request to federal regulators to see what additional information could be turned over.

"There is nothing in those minutes that implies" any wrongdoing, Latham said.

"The portion that was blacked out does not deal with the car program ... Anything they (regulators) will let us release, we will release. There is nothing to hide in these minutes," he said.

Jury says parents are to get $500,000

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — A federal court jury has ordered a school district found to have tolerated sexual abuse to pay $500,000 to the parents of a child molested by a teacher in 1987.

The Ysleta Independent-School District, by only transferring teacher Andres Mares to another school after the accusations, seemed to accept the sexual abuse of students, the U.S. District Court jury ruled.

Mares, in his late 50s, was convicted of indecency with a child and sentenced to seven years of probation. He resigned after the conviction.

"What it amounted to is that the district tolerated sexual abuse," Enrique Moreno, lawyer for the parents, told the El Paso Times.

The district contends it deals "firmly and decisively" with teachers accused of sexual molestation.

Mares was suspended during the investigation that led to an indictment, trial and conviction.

Luis Villalobos, a spokesman for the Ysleta district, said he wasn't familiar with the lawsuit. He said the district investigates child-abuse allegations.

"We proceed on them very cautiously because it's a very sensitive issue," he said. "The procedures are being followed when the situation calls for it. The district does make a very firm commitment when investigating situations like this."

The couple and their daughter's identity are being withheld to prevent embarrassment to the child.

Moreno filed the civil rights lawsuit on behalf of the couple in March 1989. The jury issued its verdict Wednesday in District Judge Lucius Bunton's court.

The lawsuit said that Mares was accused of similar actions in 1981 and told to end the behavior, but the allegations were never reported to police or the state Department of Human Services.

House Speaker Lewis denies accusations by newspaper

FORT WORTH (AP) — A San Antonio law firm that has a corner on government contracts for collecting delinquent property taxes has given $31,000 to five Texas politicians, with a third going to House Speaker Gib Lewis.

Lewis denies any conflict of interest.

And partners with the law firm of Heard Goggan Blair & Williams say they only want "good government," not favoritism.

According to a Fort Worth Star Telegram copyright story, the law firm has given about $31,000 to five state politicians, with about a third going to Lewis.

Oliver Heard Jr., one of the firm's partners, says claims of political favoritism are "unfounded rumor."

But Lewis has benefited from his relationship with the firm, the newspaper reports.

Recently, Lewis was able to get an extended deadline for taxes owed by a Fort Worth shooting range. The speaker owns about 50 percent of the business.

Heard Goggan, which has a reputation for tenacious collec-as required by law.

In 1985, another accusation preceded the 1987 incident with the 7-year-old whose parents were in court this week. Mares was reprimanded and transferred but the allegations were again never reported to police or DHS, court records show.

The child told her parents about the molestations in March 1989.

Court documents showed another teacher accused of molesting a child was forced into retirement in 1982. Faced with similar allegations, two teachers were fired in 1985 and two others resigned, including one who was involved with a student off campus and another who was accused of physical and mental abuse of his students.

In court documents, the district denied that its decision in the Mares incident constituted acceptance of child abuse.

ting, pulled back from a lawsuit filed against the business, when asked to do so by the speaker.

The business owes about $11,000 in back taxes and penalties. Heard Goggan, which makes about $20 million annually for suing late taxpayers also paid more than $5,000 of the business' late tax bill.

In a statement issued to The Associated Press Thursday Lewis' press secretary Tim Conger said the story was "filled with inaccuracies and false assumptions."

"... the taxes in question have been paid by the Speaker, not Heard Goggan Blair and Williams," Conger said. "The law firm did not pay taxes owed by Shooter's Palace (the shooting range)."

Conger said Lewis paid the taxes even though he, as merely an investor in the company, was not liable for the taxes.

The Lewis release also refutes the newspaper's statement that the Speaker contacted Heard Goggan asking why the business had been sued and demanding that the law firm pick up the penalties, interest and legal fees.

"(Lewis) questioned why he should be held responsible for late penalties and interest when the company had not received notification that the taxes were due," Conger said. "After consulting with Heard Goggan, the law firm confirmed that the initial notice had been sent to an incorrect party and address. Upon confirmation of the mistake, the law firm agreed to waive the penalties and interest on the taxes owed."

The release calls suggestions that Lewis used his office's influence to avoid the penalties "unfair and (a) false assumption."

The firm has offices in Austin, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Fort Bend, Denton, Angleton, Harlingen, Laredo, Brownsville, Conroe and Beaumont.

Heard Goggan Blair & Williams has received 120 contracts from city and county governments to recover more than half of the $1 billion owed in delinquent property taxes.

At least 15 bills have been introduced since Lewis became speaker in 1983 that would have changed the tax collection law and placed millions of dollars in collections fees back into the coffers of government agencies.

Lewis assigned all the bills to the House Ways and Means Committee. None of them made it to a House vote.

Actor gets restless

NEW YORK (AP) — Kadeem Hardison, who plays college geek Dwayne Wayne on the NBC sitcom "A Different World," says he took the part only because he was sure the show would die quickly.

"I get restless," he says in this weekend's issue of USA Weekend.

Hardison, 25, says he figured the show would get him to Hollywood with a little money to tide him over until he could make it into movies.

Now the highly rated show is in its fourth year and Hardison's contract extends through 1993.

Rape Victim Suffers Continued Pain of In-Laws' Accusations

DEAR ABBY: I was raped two years ago, and since then, my husband's parents have subjected me to some mean, thoughtless and outright vicious remarks. ("You must have said something or been dressed in a provocative way; women who get raped are usually asking for it.") As I write this, I am a nervous wreck, as my in-laws will be visiting soon and I am expected to join them for dinner. Abby, I simply cannot do this. I become physically ill at the mere thought of having to face these people.

My husband thinks I am being childish — that just having dinner with them is not a great sacrifice. Abby, I am 31 years old and, normally, a fairly rational person. I have experienced insomnia for almost two weeks worrying about this. I have considered taking a tranquilizer (I've never taken one in my life), or even smoking a marijuana cigarette (it's been years since I've done that), or having a few stiff drinks, but my in-laws are medical professionals and would know something was wrong.

I have considered running away to visit my brother over that weekend, but he lives 800 miles away.

I would rather shave my head than face these people. My husband is usually very supportive of me. He insists that he loves me and that's all that matters. But if he loves me, how can he ask me to do this?

A NERVOUS WRECK

DEAR WRECK: First, you and your husband need more help than I can give you in a letter. There is a rape crisis center in your area, and it offers counseling. Please go there immediately. Both you and your husband should go.

Your in-laws are shockingly ignorant about the realities of rape, especially in view of the fact that they are medical professionals. Tell your husband that you are unable to deal with his parents' lack of compassion and, therefore, he cannot count on you for dinner that evening or any other evening that includes them, until you feel confident enough to be in their company.

DEAR ABBY: A good friend of mine asked me to be her daughter's godmother. I told her I would love to do it for her and felt very honored to be asked.

Is there any financial obligation attached to this, Abby? I am not exactly sure what the responsibilities of a godmother are. Any information you might have covering this subject would be greatly appreciated. I need to know exactly what is expected of me.

WANTS TO DO RIGHT

DEAR WANTS: The responsibilities of godparents are essentially spiritual — so ideally, the godparents should be of the same religious faith as the parents. It is the responsibility of the godparent to see that the child is given religious training and is confirmed at the proper time. Additionally, the godparent should take a special interest in the child (as a near relative would). You should remember the godchild with a gift on birthdays and at Christmas, until the child is grown.

Godparents are not (as is sometimes assumed) obligated to give the child financial assistance, or to become adoptive parents should anything happen to the birth parents. The actual obligation is spiritual only.

What teen-agers need to know about sex, drugs, AIDS, getting along with their peers and parents is now in Abby's updated, expanded booklet, "What Every Teen Should Know." To order, send a long, business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61064. GOP's biggest guns said helping Williams

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — With Democrat Ann Richards closing the gap in opinion polls and election day nearing, Republican gubernatorial hopeful Clayton Williams is getting help from the GOP's biggest guns.

Having already received an in-person endorsement from former President Ronald Reagan, Williams is scheduled to spend his final day on the campaign Monday stumping with President Bush.

He's also campaigned alongside U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm and began airing a TV commercial this week featuring first lady Barbara Bush and former Dallas Cowboys Tom Landry.

Williams says he appreciates the assistance.

"I need all the help I can get," he said Thursday. "I'm very proud to tie to the administration. While George Bush may have been attacked, well, Lord, not me. I support his Desert Shield. He's my friend."

But Richards, campaigning in Texarkana, said Williams needs more than help from big-name Republicans. Williams has made Texas a "laughingstock" with his blunders, she charged.

"It's not just what's happening in Texas. Everybody is looking here and saying, 'What in the world is going on?'" Richards said.

Williams this week expressed ignorance of a proposed constitutional amendment he already had voted on affecting gubernatorial appointments. He later said he temporarily forgot the proposal. Other campaign gaffes have included Williams making a joke about rape, for which he apologized.

"It's just one sort of misstep after another," Richards said. She said the gaffes have helped her gain on Williams in polls.

"The one thing they (polls) are consistent on is showing that we are gaining. And as long as we're doing that, I feel very, very good about our possibility to win this race on Tuesday," Richards said.

Williams attended a campaign rally at the Austin Opera House on Thursday night, two-stepping with wife Modesta and picking up the support of yet another name, former University of Texas football star Earl Campbell.

"I've been like a person in a closet and I don't say a lot about politics," Campbell told the rally.

"I don't do a lot about politics. There's going to be a lot of people disappointed with what I've decided to do as far as politics are concerned, but that's their business. I think it's time I chose a side. I think Clayton Williams will be great governor, and I wish him and Modesta good luck," he said.

At an earlier rally at the University of North Texas in Denton, Richards took after Williams' proposal to put young drug offenders to work "bustin' rocks."

Woman on trial in restroom incident

HOUSTON (AP) — The lawyer for a woman charged with illegally using a men's room at a concert says the case has generated so much attention because the issue "is something that's touched all our lives."

"It's not a gender-based thing. It's common fairness," attorney Valerie Wells Davenport said.

Attorneys seated a jury Thursday and began testimony in the trial of Denise Wells, a 33-year-old legal secretary who allegedly violated a city ordinance by using the men's room.

Ms. Wells has said she used the men's room at the concert out of desperation because the line at the ladies' restroom was too long.

The case has made Ms. Wells a celebrity of sorts. Her bathroom trip has been the subject of national news coverage and she has made appearances on talk shows hosted by Johnny Carson, Geraldo Rivera and Joan Rivers.

The media interest continued Thursday. At one point, Ms. Wells went to the women's restroom and emerged smiling while nearly a dozen photographers clicked away.

Ms. Davenport, who also is Ms. Wells' sister, said the city's insistence on prosecuting Ms. Wells is "a silly waste of taxpayer money."

"Quite frankly, I always thought Texas was big enough to come to a lady in distress and dismiss charges like these," she said.

"We have four brothers. Denise grew up using the men's room," added Ms. Davenport, who has barred her sister from talking to reporters.

Attorneys selected a four-woman, two-man jury Thursday afternoon and began the trial with testimony from the off-duty Houston police officer who cited Ms. Wells.

Ms. Davenport said today's testimony would be "very entertaining." Witnesses would include an architect to testify on the need for adequate restrooms.

Assistant City Attorney Karl Rosette said he would have two more witnesses today, and Ms. Davenport said the defense then would present eight to 10 witnesses. The case was expected to go to the jury late today.

Ms. Wells faces up to a $200 fine if convicted of the Class C misde-

On Thursday, officer Daniel B. Ramsey said he was working as a security guard July 7 at a concert by country-western superstar George Strait at The Summit in Houston when he found Ms. Wells using the men's restroom.

Ramsey testified he removed three women from a line to a men's room after receiving two complaints from men about women using their facilities. He said when he returned to the restroom, he saw Ms. Wells coming out of a stall.

As she was coming out, Ramsey testified, "She said in a voice that could be heard to the front of the restroom, 'There — I left the lid up, just like y'all like it.'"

Ramsey said he escorted Ms.

Wells out of the bathroom and cited her for violating a city ordinance that bars members of one sex from using a public restroom designed for members of the opposite sex in a manner calculated to cause a disturbance.

Under cross-examination, Ramsey said there were 20 women in a line stretching into the hallway waiting to enter the women's room, while the line of people waiting to use the men's room did not reach past the door.

"I think she was extremely embarrassed when she made that remark (about the toilet lid)," Ms. Davenport said during a recess.

Ms. Davenport said her client's defense in the trial would be based on a clause in the law saying the person intended to cause a disturbance.

"She was just trying to go to the bathroom, not cause a disturbance," Ms. Davenport said.

Cost-price squeeze is hitting farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department's latest monthly indicators of prices paid and received by farmers shows a classic pattern of cost-price squeeze.

In July, the index of prices farmers receive for what they produce averaged 152 percent of a base period used for comparison.

During August, as seasonal harvests and other factors came to bear, the "prices received" index dropped to 151 percent. In September, the index declined to 148 percent.

This week, the department's Agricultural Statistics Board reported a preliminary reading of 147 percent for October, the lowest monthly reading of 1990 so far. Last year's low mark of 143 percent came in September.

Meanwhile, the other half of the equation involves prices farmer pay out to meet expenses, including commodities — livestock feed, for example — used in production, services, interest, taxes and wages for hired labor.

This "prices paid" index is measured only four times a year because budget cutbacks forced USDA to abandon the old monthly review.

In July, when the previous cost index was announced, these prices paid by farmers averaged 184 percent of the base year. This week's report showed the index at 188 — an increase of 2.2 percent in the quarter. Compared with October 1989, the index was up 5.6 percent.

The statistics board said it was the largest quarterly prices-paid index increase since January 1982. A sharp rise in fuel prices since July was blamed on the sharp upturn — a result of the Mideast crisis and the global oil crunch.

A separate index for fuels and energy bought by farmers jumped 29 percent from July to October. It was up 30 percent from a year ago.

"Prices for diesel fuel increased 48 cents per gallon; bulk delivered regular gasoline, 31 cents; and service station unleaded gasoline, 30 cents per gallon during the quarter," the report said.

Although energy costs were the heavyweight factors, farmers were hit by other punches, too.

Fertilizer prices generally were up 1.5 percent since last April, when those items were last surveyed, and 0.8 percent higher than in October 1989.

Tractors and other self-propelled machinery prices were reported 3.5 percent higher than in July and 4.5 percent above a year earlier. All items were higher except cotton pickers.

Price rises were also reported for feeder livestock, building and fencing materials, farm services and cash rents.

Some good news included lower feed prices for livestock producers. But that came at the expense of grain and soybean farmers, who grow the basic feed ingredients for cattle, hogs and poultry.

Prices generally held steady from July to October for a number of production items used by farmers, including agricultural chemicals other than fertilizer, automobiles and trucks, interest, taxes and wage rates.

Snyder gridders battle FHS

SHS defense will attempt to halt Frenship QB Brad Cade

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor.

Snyder's Tigers and Frenship's Tigers clash tonight in a crucial District 2-4A football battle in Wolfthor.

At stake is second place in the loop and the inside track on a possible post-season berth.

Snyder brings in the fifth rated defensive team in the state to tangle with the high-powered Frenship offensive unit led by the district's top quarterback, senior Brad Cade.

Cade, ranked sixth in Texas among Class 4A signal-callers, has accumulated a whopping 1139 yards through the air.

He has thrown for 12 touchdowns in the process, completing 72 of 169 attempts and has been picked off just seven times.

"We're going to have to put Starting lineups some pressure on him," said SHS defensive co-ordinator Jack Dorsett.

"He's good. He's ranked sixth in the state in passing. He's got a real quick 3-step drop and a real quick release.

"Our corners will have to have a good game and when we go to cover-two defense our safeties will have to stretch."

Besides his duties behind center, Cade is the Frenship punter, place-kicker and a safety in the Tigers' defensive backfield.

Cade's favorite target is junior split end Chris Matthews, who has wound up on the receiving end of 36 passes this year, gathering 655 yards and eight TDs while averaging 18.2 yards per catch.

While not as visible as the Frenship air attack, the Tigers' I-formation rushing game can be dangerous as well. Senior fullback Brandon Bennett, also a defensive standout at middle linebacker, has rushed the ball for 704 yards and a 5.7 average for 1990.

He ran the ball for 160 yards in the Tigers' 43-22 win over Lamesa three weeks ago.

"Bennett is a good football player and Matthews is outstanding," said SHS assistant coach Joe Granato.

Granato also praised the play of tackle Adolpho Pompa, a 5-10, 210-pound senior who returns as a starter from last season.

The Frenship offensive unit, led by Cade, Matthews and Bennett, is pounding out an average of 316 yards per game.

"They will convert a lot of third-down plays on little quick passes," Granato pointed out. "They have so much speed."

Quarterback Ed Rios was forced to the air just five times last week in the SHS 35-12 win over Dunbar.

On the season, Rios, currently second in the district behind Cade, is 34 of 91 for 532 yards and three touchdowns passing.

The SHS Tigers are led on the ground by senior backfield mates Paul Anderson and Bryan Brunson.

Fullback Brunson leads the Tigers with 559 yard rushing on the campaign while tailback Anderson has bolted for 555.

While passing, Rios looks in the direction of wingback Mark King more often than not.

King has nine catches on the year, including a 26-yard TD effort against Levelland two games ago, for a total of 118 yards.

King also leads the Snyder defense in interceptions.

The SHS senior has picked off four enemy aerials for 1990, including an oskie returned 99 yards for a score against Seminole. Snyder's defensive backfield has swiped 11 passes for the season, setting a new record for the Tigers.

Snyder's special teams have done their part to keep the Tigers winning, also.

Kick returner Shelby Bufkin has brought back two game-opening kicks for touchdowns in 1990, one for 89 yards against Clyde and the other an 87-yard effort versus Seminole.

Bufkin also blocked a Dunbar punt last week that was recovered by linebacker Blair Williams for six points.

"To beat Frenship, we have got to stop Cade and Bennett defensively, and stay with our blocks on offense so we can move the ball," coach Granato stated.

In other league action today, Estacado (7-0-1 and 2-0-1) is at Levelland (5-3 and 2-1) and Dunbar (3-5 and 0-3) visits Lamesa (3-3-2 and 0-2-1).

Snyder head coach David Baugh has missed some workouts this week due to the death of his mother.

The third-year Tiger coach plans to be on the sidelines for the Frenship game tonight.

Borden Co. leaps into 6-A top spot

The new force in District 6-A (6), the Borden County Coyotes, will put their 3-0 loop record on the line Friday against the 2-1 Loraine Bulldogs in a 7:30 p.m. matchup.

In another 7:30 p.m. Friday game featuring an area squad, Ira, 2-1 in district competition, faces defending league champion Trent, also 2-1, at Bulldog Stadium in Ira.

Loraine at Borden County
The Coyotes traveled to Trent last Friday and behind the running of Jimmy Rios knocked off the Gorillas at home, 45-20.

The loss by Trent was the first home defeat suffered since 1986. Rios accumulated 143 yards on the ground and scored four touchdowns including a 56-yarder on an attempted on-side kick by the Gorillas.

Loraine trounced hapless Highland, 54-6, in its last outing. The Bulldogs' only other win on the season was a forfeit from Hermleigh two weeks ago when the Cardinals cancelled the remainder of their season due to injuries.

Trent at Ira
Preseason balloting saw this as the contest to decide the district champion. The game now is as much as far as either squad's playoff hopes are concerned.

With Borden County at 3-0 in the loop and the tough part of its schedule already played, Trent and Ira are fighting each other and Loraine for the second place post-season spot.

Ira was enjoying a layoff last week in the slot they were to have played Hermleigh and Loraine, who gave Trent a hard time in the 'Rillas' 21-14 win a couple of games ago, was plastering Highland, 54-6.

Trent is 5-3 overall while Ira rests at 2-6.

SHS netters battle C-City

The District 2-4A champion Snyder Tigers will battle Colorado City on the Wolves home court in tennis action beginning Saturday at 10 a.m.

Westerners to host WJCAC golf event

Western Texas College golfers will host this weekend's Western Junior College Athletic Conference match on the WTC golf course.

Teams from Midland College, Odessa College, New Mexico Military Institute and New Mexico Junior College are expected in town today for a practice round.

Western Texas is fresh off a seventh place finish in the Texarkana Fall Intercollegiate where the Westerners hammered out a 36-hole 635 with a team made up strictly of freshmen.

Austin talent Clint Winn led WTC with his 76-74-150 total in Texarkana which also netted him a spot on the all-tournament roster.

Saturday's 27-hole tournament is expected to get under way at

G-P coach is reprimanded

AUSTIN (AP) — Football coach Bruce Bush of Gregory-Portland told the University Interscholastic League to punish him, not his team, and the UIL did basically what he asked.

The governing body of schoolboy athletics on Thursday publicly reprimanded Bush, suspended him for two games and placed him on probation for one year because meals were provided for his team.

But Gregory-Portland, which had been disqualified from the Class 4A football playoffs by its district committee, will be allowed to compete for state honors under a motion adopted by the UIL State Executive Committee.

The team is undefeated in district with two games remaining, which Bush will miss.

The UIL state committee did issue a public reprimand against the Gregory-Portland football program and extended for one year, to February 1992, probation that already was in effect for another incident.

It was reported that pizzas and breakfasts were paid for by the school from an account used to pay for such things as athletic trips in the playoffs.

Pizzas also were bought for the team by school principal Dottie Childs, according to UIL records.

Bush said the meals were bought to show support for players who had reached the playoffs, and he did not think about it being a possible rule violation.

He said, however, "Any violation we have in our program is my fault, and I'm the one who should be punished, not the kids."

"Everybody was trying to do so much for the kids," Bush added. "I'm not a cheater, and we don't cheat at Gregory-Portland High School."

Gregory-Portland Superintendent Bob Jameson said the food totaled $10.96 per player, and players have reimbursed the school for the expense.

In other cases of alleged violations, the UIL's State Executive Committee:

— Publicly reprimanded Sanderson football coach Gary Shackelford and placed him on probation for one year as a result of his pulling his team from the field with six minutes to go in a losing game at Van Horn on Oct. 12.

— Refused to add its own penalty to a junior high school coach accused of recruiting a running back for the Judson Independent School District.

Converse Judson High School, in the San Antonio area, currently is ranked No. 6 in 5A schoolboy football.

On Oct. 2, the District 26-5A executive committee issued a public reprimand and probation for one year to the Judson football program and suspended running back Jerod Douglas from varsity athletics for two years.

approximately 8:30 a.m.

Midland College led by sophomore Dean Robertson is currently in the conference lead followed by Odessa College, New Mexico Military and defending champion NMJC tied with WTC in fourth position.

The Westerners' final tournament on the fall schedule is slated for Nov. 15-18 at the 54-hole West Florida Intercollegiate in Pensacola.

UVa-Georgia Tech tilt slated Saturday

by The Associated Press
Virginia is a relative neophyte at this business of being No. 1, a level it reached for the first time three weeks ago.

Georgia Tech, on the other hand, is an old hand at playing the No. 1 team ... but without much success.

When the 16th-ranked Yellow Jackets (6-0-1, 4-0-1) visit Virginia (7-0-0, 4-0-0) on Saturday for their Atlantic Coast Conference showdown, it will mark the ninth time Georgia Tech has faced the No. 1-ranked team.

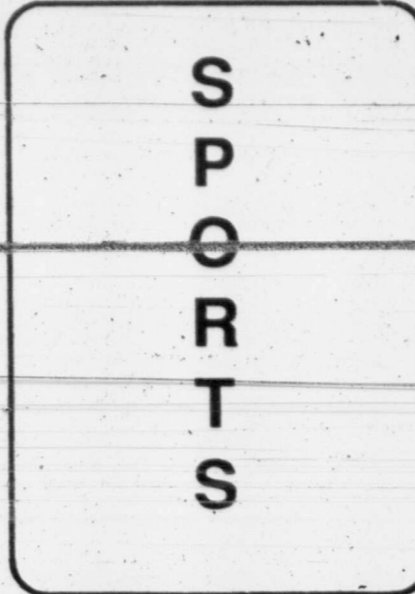

The last time was Nov. 27, 1982, a 38-18 loss to Georgia that left Tech with a 1-6-1 record against the top team in The Associated Press poll.

On a weekend that should help solidify the national championship and bowl pictures, Georgia Tech-Virginia is just one of five games between ranked teams. The others are No. 9 Colorado at No. 3 Nebraska; No. 4 Auburn at No. 15 Florida; No. 13 Iowa at No. 5 Illinois and No. 23 Arizona at No. 7 Washington.

Elsewhere, second-ranked Notre Dame meets Navy at East Rutherford, N.J.; Texas Christian is at No. 6 Houston, Pitt at No. 8 Miami, No. 10 Brigham Young at Air Force, Temple at No. 11 Tennessee, No. 12 Florida State at South Carolina, No. 14 Texas at Texas Tech, No. 17 Mississippi at LSU, North Carolina at No. 18 Clemson, No. 19 Wyoming at Colorado State, No. 20 Michigan at Purdue, California at No. 21 Southern Cal, UCLA at No. 22 Oregon, No. 24 Penn State at West Virginia and No. 25 Louisville at Cincinnati.

Virginia, featuring the Shawn Moore-Herman Moore aerial fireworks, leads the nation with 48.1 points and 544.9 yards a game, and Shawn Moore is the passing efficiency leader. The Cavaliers also have the top two rushers in the conference in tailbacks Terry Kirby and Nikki Fisher.

Georgia Tech is second nationally in scoring defense, surrendering just 13.4 points a game, and the Yellow Jackets have 32 quarterback sacks.

The survivor of Colorado (7-1-1, 4-0-0) and Nebraska (8-0-0, 4-0-0) will have the inside track for the Big Eight championship and a berth in the Orange Bowl. Nebraska leads the series 34-13-1, including 18-5 in Lincoln, where the Cornhuskers have beaten the Buffs 10 straight.

Nebraska has yielded only one rushing touchdown all season, but the Cornhuskers have yet to face a ranked team.

Because of NCAA probation, Florida (6-1-0, 3-1-0) is ineligible for the Southeastern Conference title, and the Gators would like nothing better than to knock Auburn (6-0-1, 3-0-1) out of the SEC lead.

Florida is a three-point favorite.

Auburn, which has won or shared the SEC title the last three years, has remained in the hunt for the national championship by winning three games and tying a fourth in the closing minutes.

The Tigers have won three straight against Florida, but a 16-0 victory in 1988 is their only triumph in Gainesville since 1972.

The Iowa-Illinois winner (both are 6-1-0 overall, 4-0-0 in the Big Ten) will be in the driver's seat for a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Illinois leads the Big Ten in defense, allowing 279.7 yards a game. Iowa is 13th nationally in rushing with 239 yards a game, led by 255-pound Nick Bell, who has 574 yards on 99 carries, a 5.8-yard average.

NBA starts 1990-91 campaign

by The Associated Press
The Chicago Bulls and Philadelphia 76ers have a common goal this season — finding a way to dethrone the two-time defending NBA champion Detroit Pistons in the Eastern Conference.

The Bulls lost playoff series to the Pistons in five, six and seven games the last three years, and believe that they are ready to take the final step to the Finals.

"We've been through the conference finals twice now and we've gathered experience," coach Phil Jackson said. "We hope to make a challenge."

Philadelphia won the Atlantic Division title last season, then fell to the Bulls in the conference semifinals.

"I think we have a shot at the championship. I know that last year we weren't good enough," said Charles Barkley, the 76ers' captain who is ready to play after off-season shoulder surgery. "The key is how well the guys on the bench perform. So far I'm really impressed with the bench."

But before they can worry about the Pistons, the Bulls and 76ers have each other to consider when they meet at Chicago tonight in one of 12 NBA season openers.

The rest of the schedule has Phoenix versus Utah at Tokyo in the first regular-season professional game outside North America; Orlando at Atlanta, Cleveland at Boston, New York at Charlotte, New Jersey at Indiana, Washington at Miami, Milwaukee at Detroit, Dallas at Minnesota, Golden State at Denver, Sacramento at the Los Angeles Clippers and Houston at Portland.

On Saturday, the Los Angeles Lakers are at San Antonio and Houston is at Seattle to start the SuperSonics' season. Michael Jordan is the winner of the last four NBA scoring championships, but Jackson's game plan is to have Jordan fresher for the late stages of tight games, and Jordan says he's willing to accept a new role — if it means winning.

Jordan expects defenses to play him tougher this season. "Every defense is making me take the outside shot," he said. "No defense is going to let me go to the basket anymore."

Both the Bulls and 76ers have made deals to compete with Detroit's depth.

Chicago acquired swingman Dennis Hopson by trading a draft pick to the New Jersey Nets and they signed free agent Cliff Levingston. Philadelphia also traded a first-round pick, to get shot-blocking specialist Manute Bol from Golden State to back up Mike Gminski.

But Barkley is the franchise. He averaged 25.2 points and 11.5 rebounds per game and shot 60 percent from the field last year.

Detroit, looking to become the first team in 24 years to win as many as three straight championships, could open its season with Mark Aguirre replacing Dennis Rodman in the starting lineup. Rodman played only in the last two exhibition games because of tendinitis in his left ankle.

Aguirre had a team-high 4.2 defensive rebounds per game in exhibition play. On Sunday, he led Detroit with 10 rebounds against Utah.

The Lakers won a league-high

63 games last season, but an upset loss in the playoffs has them in the unaccustomed role of underdogs.

"It takes time for the guys to adjust to new sets and the new players we've added," new coach Mike Dunleavy said. "I know patience isn't a word most fans like to hear, but it's what all of us will need for a while until we get things sorted out."

The Lakers, who won the Pacific Division for the ninth consecutive time last season, added free agent Sam Perkins and traded a draft pick for Terry Teagle, who is expected to replace Michael Cooper as the main backcourt reserve.

Stocking plan starts Nov. 29

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's rainbow trout stocking program will begin Nov. 29 at 61 locations around the state, including 16 state parks, officials said.

The sites will receive about 285,000 catchable-sized trout.

About 185,000 of the fish will be obtained from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and about 100,000 will be purchased from a private hatchery. The fish are purchased with money raised from the sale of $5 state freshwater trout stamps.

The stamps are required, along with a valid fishing license, for all those fishing for freshwater trout in Texas. The daily bag limit is five trout and the possession limit is 10.

Police repel attack on mosque

AYODHYA, India (AP) — Police fatally shot nine Hindu fundamentalists and wounded 30 others today, repulsing a renewed assault on a Moslem mosque in a religious dispute that has left more than 200 people dead nationwide.

The conflict has spilled into Moslem Bangladesh, where two more people died today from anti-Hindu rioting. Pakistan's caretaker prime minister said India is not doing enough to protect Moslem shrines.

About 10,000 Hindus tried to storm the hilltop Babri Mosque, which they want to replace with a temple in Ayodhya, 300 miles southeast of New Delhi. The conflict in the northeastern town threatens to bring down the government of Prime Minister V.P. Singh.

Police used tear gas and pushed back the crowds with blows from 6-foot-long bamboo staves. Reporters saw scores of people injured before the crowd retreated down dirt alleys and onto rooftops.

Police opened fire after coming under a repeated barrage of stones from the roofs.

Doctors at nearby Faizabad Hospital said they received four bodies and 30 people injured by gunfire.

Five more bodies were later found still lying in the streets.

police sources said, speaking on condition of anonymity.

At least 235 people have been killed in an unrelenting wave of violence in six Indian states since the fighting began Oct. 24, according to a tally of official reports and news agency accounts.

Singh's government vowed to defend the Moslem site until the courts decide its fate.

Several situations you were unable to effectively bring together last year could fall neatly into place in the times ahead. However, to reap their maximum benefits you must continue to put forth the same honest effort.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) An associate whose cooperation you need at this time but haven't been able to get is likely to be much more receptive to your proposal today if you restate your case. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It's possible you will be much more successful today in your dealings in the material realm than you will be in your social involvements. Trade on your strengths.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You have a very nice presence about you today that will enable you to effectively persuade and guide others rather than command them. Use your skills to everyone's advantage.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) An opportunity that may at first glance appear to be of a limited nature might come your way today through the auspices of a considerate friend. It could be bigger than you think.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Today you might feel a need to confide in someone. If this is the case, select a trusted friend who never revealed what you've told in the past.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) In commercial involvements today be fair, but also be practical. If you feel you're entitled to certain terms, concessions or perks, specify your entitlements in detail.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) A critical situation will be dispatched with relative ease today, because you will trade on knowledge you've gained from previous experiences. Repetition of old mistakes isn't likely.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) There is a possibility today you might be offered participation in something advantageous that has been initiated by another. This could be a good deal, so check it out.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You might have to make a hard decision today that affects two friends as well as yourself. Things should work out well, because you'll do what's right rather than what's easy.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It looks like you may finally start receiving some of the rewards due from past efforts you've expended. There may not be a rush to fulfill these oversights, but they'll be acknowledged.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you're involved in any type of team effort today, either for work or pleasure, try to mirror the attitude of your co-participants. Don't treat lightly what they take seriously.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) A meaningful endeavor you're anxious to finalize can be completed to your satisfaction today if you have the will and determination to do so. Think like a winner.

Brando's daughter reported in coma

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Marlon Brando's daughter, whom prosecutors want to testify against her half-brother in his murder trial, went into a coma from a drug overdose and was in a Tahitian hospital, a newspaper reported today.

Cheyenne Brando overdosed on tranquilizers and antidepressant drugs, the Los Angeles Times said, quoting a family source it didn't identify.

A physician at Mamao Hospital confirmed Ms. Brando, 20, was there.

"I can't say anything further without the authorization of the family," said the physician, whom the Times didn't name.

Marlon Brando prepared to leave Los Angeles for Tahiti, the newspaper said. His publicist did not immediately return a telephone message today.

Prosecutors in Los Angeles want Ms. Brando to testify at the murder trial of Christian Brando, 32. He is accused of shooting to death Ms. Brando's boyfriend, Dag Drollet, 26, at the actor's California estate May 16.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am 75 years old, have never smoked, nor has any member of my family. Yet my physician tells me I have emphysema. Why?

DEAR READER: Emphysema is yet another consequence of aging. As we grow older, the lungs function less efficiently. Pulmonary tissue wears out, in a sense, like other body organs. Therefore, mild degrees of emphysema are common in the elderly. I stress the word "mild" because, in most cases, the pulmonary changes (trapping of stale air with concomitant increase in lung expansion) do not cause noticeable symptoms — other than shortness of breath during exercise — although they are readily visible on X-rays.

Of course, the development of emphysema is greatly accelerated by cigarette smoking, lung diseases (such as asthma and chronic bronchitis) and exposure to air pollution. Also, these factors produce more extreme forms of emphysema that may cause considerable pulmonary disability. For example, a 60-year-old smoker will be far more handicapped (breathless at rest and intolerance to exercise) than will an 80-year-old non-smoker.

To a large extent, the goal of preventive medicine is to help people avoid premature damage to their bodies. Although age-related damage is built into our biological clocks, in the final analysis, the best we can do is minimize premature disability. As yet, we cannot modify or control the consequences of aging.

In your case, you appear to be showing the normal consequences of the aging process. Unless your doctor has specific instructions, I believe you can simply accept your mild emphysema and continue to lead as active a life as you can.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Living With Chronic Lung Disease." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their names and addresses to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 63-year-old female with edema of the lower extremities. I wear support hose for varicose veins, yet the one diuretic I take daily does not take the fluid away. Would it do any harm if I were to increase my diuretic to two tablets daily so my feet and ankles won't swell?

DEAR READER: Edema (swelling) of the legs is a common consequence of varicose veins because, as blood pools in the dilated veins, fluid leaks through the thin venous walls into the surrounding tissue. External pressure on the legs (from elastic support hose) and diuretic drugs (to stimulate more discharge of fluids from the kidneys) are the two most common methods of treating this edema.

However, the swelling itself is not harmful, so if you're willing to put up with some leg puffiness, you needn't consider additional treatment. On the other hand, if your edema is severe, check with your doctor. I see no reason why you couldn't double up your diuretic, but this is a decision best left to your physician.

In addition, you might inquire about methods of directly treating your varicose veins. For example, surgical removal of the veins would probably solve the edema problem and save you the expense and nuisance of having to take medicine.

Family services important to military

FORT BLISS, Texas (AP) — Operation Desert Shield has proved what Donna Santos has known for a long time: Family support services increasingly are becoming an integral part of the military.

Since the draft ended, the makeup of military forces has changed from single, young soldiers to married soldiers with children. And the consequences of such an Army have emerged as thousands of soldiers deploy to the Persian Gulf.

Family assistance programs become a priority in the military, post spokesman Brad Rose said. "We find many of those people who are eligible are not only married, but already have one, two or three children," Rose said.

Ms. Santos said her office, which provides such services as budget counseling to soldiers' families and spouses, monthly fields about 5,000 requests for help.

they deploy. But some military spouses left alone find themselves inexperienced about running the household.

"That word dependent really makes me mad. ... I'm putting out the trash or something goes wrong with the car and I stop and think, he's over there and depending on me to keep things running," said Diana Barrego, whose husband is a member of the E2-7 11th Brigade. "I say, no, I'm not the dependent. My husband is depending on me."

The deployments seem to particularly affect spouses of lower rank enlisted soldiers.

Gramm says U.S. is moving closer to Mid East war

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Sen. Phil Gramm, R-Texas, says increased brutality toward American hostages by Iraq's Saddam Hussein is driving the United States closer to war in the Middle East.

"If you look at the brutality of the Iraqis, where they have gone into hospitals in Kuwait, taken premature babies out of incubators, thrown them up against the wall and taken the incubators back to Iraq," he said, that's evidence of the danger.

"If you look at the way they have abused our hostages, I think it is clear that our patience is becoming strained," Gramm told reporters after a campaign stop here Thursday. "I think it is increasingly clear that there is a very real danger of a conflict here."

Gramm said the conflict has boiled down to the safety of Americans held captive in Kuwait since Iraq's invasion Aug. 2.

"I am hopeful that a peaceful solution can be found," Gramm said. "But as of right now, I think that it is looking more and more dangerous, and quite frankly I don't see the peaceful road home."

Gramm said members of Congress must be careful not to make statements about the conflict that could endanger American lives.

"I don't want a situation where somebody in Congress leaks something and some American dies because of somebody being imprudent in terms of what they said publicly," Gramm said.

"So I think we need to make decisions based on the safety of our young Americans in the Middle East," he said.

Gramm, who is running for re-election against Democrat Hugh Parmer, said he is optimistic about his chances Nov. 6.

"If I win by one vote, I will be very thankful for that one vote," Gramm told about 125 supporters. "But if you want to give me a historic landslide victory, I'll take that too."

Gramm took time out to campaign for GOP gubernatorial hopeful Clayton Williams, who has watched a sizable lead in the polls over Democratic opponent Ann Richards dwindle to a dead heat less than a week before election day.

When asked about issues plaguing Williams' campaign in recent weeks, Gramm replied: "There is no doubt about the fact that Clayton Williams is not a politician. But what we want is a governor that understands business, and a governor that is committed to fighting the war on crime and drugs, and I am convinced he can do that job."

Gramm told local supporters that he would like to see MEDNET, a television link among rural hospitals in West Texas that allows doctors to consult one another, expand nationally.

MEDNET was developed at Texas Tech University.
