

Ole Miss Campus Under Guard

State Police Reinforced

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—An army of sheriffs and city policemen converged on the University of Mississippi campus today to join the guard against Negro James H. Meredith.

State police at the five gates to the campus carried gas masks and billy clubs and wore steel helmet liners.

Six police cars stood parked around the gates — high-way patrol cars, sheriff's cars and city police cars from the length and breadth of the state — and more were arriving.

The reinforced barrier of Negroes numbered an estimated 400. Only the campus police carried guns.

As they did Wednesday when they turned back Meredith and a cordon of federal marshals at the gates, the state officers wore no sidearms.

County and city officers arriving during the morning stepped out of their cars, then unstrapped their guns and put them in their cars.

Six police dogs remained in police cars about 200 yards inside the main gate.

Newsmen on the scene identified officers from such widely separated places as Harrison County on the Gulf Coast to the south and Fort Tulepe in extreme northwest Mississippi.

As classes opened for the day on the hilly, wooded campus, the students went about their business as normal. Newsmen spotted students going to classes, but saw none around the guard posts at the gates.

There were no indications that Meredith planned another attempt to enroll today.

Majors Get Invitation To Hearing

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas House General Investigating Committee invited representatives of major oil companies to appear at a hearing today scheduled to wind up the lawmakers' probe of slant hole oil well drilling.

Rep. Menon Murray said the oil company representatives were asked to attend today's hearing and that he knew of no witnesses subpoenaed to appear.

The invited witnesses were asked to give the committee information on various industry practices, including drilling operations.

Chairman Charles Ballman of Borden said after the committee met in Houston Tuesday that today's session probably would be the last public hearing held in connection with the oil probe.

The committee met in Dallas in late August after the attorney general and state Railroad Commission completed a preliminary investigation into reports of deviated well drilling practices.

The commission, attorney general's office and Department of Public Safety began investigation of slant-hole drilling in the East Texas Field last spring. Later federal investigators and the House Committee entered the probe.

INJURED LIFTED FROM RESCUE SHIP—A hovering helicopter lifts one of the injured from the Swiss rescue ship Celerina off Cork, Ireland, to fly the survivor of the Flying Tiger plane ditching to a U. S. Air Force base in Britain for hospitalization.

Two British helicopters took part in the operation, lifting 17 injured from the freighter which is headed for Antwerp, Belgium, its next port of call.

More Crash Survivors Are Brought Ashore

SHANNON, Ireland (AP)—Four more survivors from a ditched American airliner—one a pretty blonde with a spinal fracture—were brought ashore by helicopter today.

The four, together with the bodies of 12 persons who died in the mouth of the Shannon River, were brought ashore by helicopter today.

Two helicopters flew in relay from the Bonaventure as she lay 36 miles from Shannon airport in the mouth of the Shannon River.

Those brought ashore were Maj. Carl R. Elander of West Point, N.Y., and Seattle, Wash. and two Army privates, George V. Brown of Oshkosh, Wis., and Arthur L. Gilbreth of Big Bear Lake, Calif.

Mrs. Elander, 31, had a broken arm and dislocated shoulder in addition to her spinal injury but she smiled gamely as she told inter-viewers how she survived the ditching.

An unknown man reached out his arm and pulled me into a life raft just as I felt I was going under," she said.

Final Okay Given Cuba Resolution

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has completed action on a resolution endorsing the use of force if necessary to prevent Cuba from becoming a military threat to western Hemisphere countries.

House adoption by a 384-7 vote Wednesday came after a full-scale debate on foreign policy and an unsuccessful effort by several members to have tougher language written in.

The Senate voted its approval last week, 6 to 1. President Kennedy is expected to sign the document. The administration already has endorsed its careful wording.

The resolution is intended as an expression of unified support for whatever action Kennedy considers necessary. In essence, he would be free to determine when and how the United States should act to block the spread of Cuban Communism.

The President has declared he will do "whatever must be done" to protect the interests of the United States and its allies in this hemisphere.

By passing the resolution, Congress went on record as being determined to prevent the creation in Cuba of a military capacity that would endanger the United States. Help is pledged anti-Communist Cubans who seek self-determination for their nation.

Republicans who tied the get-tough-line during debate wanted a more precise statement declaring that the Monroe Doctrine has already been violated in Cuba. The doctrine declared this hemisphere "out-of-bounds" for foreign powers.

A motion to send the resolution back to the Foreign Affairs Committee was defeated 251 to 140. All but three of its supporters were Republicans.

Demos Slate Session Here

Democratic Party Workers of Scurry County have been called for a meeting tonight in the District Courtroom in the county courthouse.

The session will begin at 7:30 p.m. Frank Wilson, county chairman of the party organization, issued the call, and said all interested persons are invited.

Plans will be made to greet John Connally, Democratic nominee for governor, who is scheduled to campaign here next week.

The exact date and time for Connally's appearance here has not been determined. However, it is known that he is scheduling a stop in Snyder during a campaign tour of West Texas, and his tour likely will bring him here sometime around mid-week.

Area Ginning Pace Is Slow

The absence of good gathering weather, and a generally later crop have combined to put this year's cotton harvest well behind the last year's total on the same date.

As of Wednesday night, a total of 833 bales had been ginned in Scurry County. At this time last year, 1,044 bales had been processed.

It and when several hot dry days came along the harvest pace slowed to a crawl.

The gin at China Grove has ginned 147 bales. Snyder Co-op gin, 136. Planters at Dunn, 103. Layfield, 94. Baymaster and Herrin, 19. The gin at Phuvanna is not yet in operation.

Japan Cautions On Trade With Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Assistant Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman cautioned Japan on Wednesday that any expanded trade with Communist countries "may be used later as a fulcrum of pressure against you."

Speaking at a luncheon meeting of the Japanese-American Society, Harriman expressed hope the Japanese government would "regard the danger and will not be misled by Communist propaganda."

JFK. Says Action Needed To Cope With Narcotics Abuse

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today there is need for "much more comprehensive action by us all" to cope with the abuse of narcotics.

Departing somewhat from his prepared text at the first White House conference on narcotics, the President said there is no area where there is so much of a mystery, misunderstanding, and difference of opinion as in the field of narcotic addiction.

For example, he said, various government agencies have different statistics on the problem. Kennedy also said there is a "need for clear and uniform opinion as to proper medical treatment of addicts."

White House conferences like the present one, Kennedy continued, "are essential to our understanding the nature of the problem and to our developing a coordinated program."

Report Imam Is Ousted In Yemen

ADEN (AP)—A Liberal Revolutionary Army announced today it has ousted the imam in the kingdom of Yemen and an informed source in neighboring Aden said the new ruler, Imam Mohammed Al-Badr was assassinated Wednesday night.

Cairo Radio also announced the coup today, but said it had not been reported, not assassinated. Apparently, the rebels are friends of President Nasser's United Arab Republic, with which the primitive little kingdom once had a loose federation.

The radio at Sana'a, the Yemenite capital, broadcast the news, interrupting the morning, interesting, etc., with U.A.R. army music.

Nasser and his program of Pan-Arabism are known to have support among some military men in Yemen, Saudi Arabia and other Arab states.

Sana'a radio said "the Liberal Revolutionary Army in Yemen" had "got rid of tyranny" and proclaimed the monarchy a republic. It made no mention of an assassination.

Mass Burials Are Planned For Flood Victims In Spain

By HAROLD K. MILKS BARCELONA, Spain (AP)—The bereaved gathered their dead for mass burials in flood-ravaged Barcelona Province today as the death toll mounted in Spain's worst natural disaster of modern times.

Unofficial estimates placed the dead at between 350 and 400 from Wednesday's rain-triggered torrents. Officials said more than 400 bodies were recovered and hundreds of persons were still missing. The injured totaled at least 1,000 and more than 1,500 were without homes.

The raging waters destroyed at least 25 factories and partly wrecked 30 others, leaving damage estimated at $400 million. About 10,000 were left homeless by the floods, which had washed a thickly populated industrial area covering 150 square miles from the coast at Barcelona to the foot of Mount Devil by a nine-hour rain and fed by hurricane force winds, the raging waters quickly filled up the river beds dry from a long drought, then swept far beyond the banks. They crumpled mills and bore off cottages. Many persons died in their sleep as the floods leveled their homes. Others perished at work as factories collapsed.

As the nation mourned, authorities tried to estimate the impact the floods will have on Spain's economy. Some of the nation's key textile mills were wrecked in Sabadell, Spain's No. 1 textile center. Flood losses were set at $30 million.

More than $32 million in foreign and domestic orders will have to wait until the plants are rebuilt. Tarifa, an industrial center of 120,000, about 10 miles northwest of Barcelona, bore the brunt of the flood. Residents had put a sand bag

Solons Not Frank About Activities

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressmen, who don't disclose details of their executive agency activities, often are much less than frank about their own activities.

This is particularly true of official travel or junketing or other expenses of the members.

The practice is more prevalent in the Senate than in the House. It is almost impossible to find out how much money a senator spends on government travel. The House makes available at all times the staff payrolls of its members, including the names of individuals and their salaries.

The House also publishes annually a statement of foreign travel spending by its members and committees, but the document lacks details and is long outdated when made available.

Executive agencies sometimes invoke "executive privilege" in withholding information, a practice criticized by a special House committee on government information. President Kennedy has taken the position that this privilege may be invoked by agencies only if he authorizes it.

Although Congress has enacted laws, if any, direct roadblocks in the path of the public's right to know what is going on the problem is one of getting access to congressional documents. They are a matter of record some-where.

Frustrations, difficulties and delays often plague newsmen trying to find out what is going on in the way of congressional junketing or the expenditure of public funds. The information may no longer be available, or the law requires an annual accounting by all congressional committees and legislators on expenses incurred while traveling on official business, either inside or outside the United States.

But the accounting does not have to be made and published until after the first 60 days of each calendar year. But that time the information can be a year old.

Even then it seldom is complete. Spending is listed under general headings—travel, lodging, meals and miscellaneous. Supporting vouchers explaining the details are not available.

When the over-all cost of the new building becomes known, it will be an historical rather than a news item.

3 Candidates Due To Meet On Forum

DALLAS (AP)—Texas' three candidates for governor are scheduled to meet face to face Oct. 18 for a forum arranged by the Dallas League of Women Voters.

They will appear at a luncheon meeting and Station WFAA-TV will carry a delayed telecast. Manager Ed Pfeiffer said today.

Pfeiffer said it is expected to be the only gathering of the current campaign at which all three of the party nominees for governor will speak—Jack Carswell of the Constitution party, John Connally of the Democrats and Jack Cox of the Republicans.

Mrs. John K. Godbey, president of the Dallas League of Women Voters, said Avery Mays, who heads the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, will be moderator for the two-hour forum.

Mrs. Godbey said Connally agreed to the arrangement. He previously has declined to appear on the same forum with opponents.

Each candidate will speak seven minutes and a question period will follow. There will be six questions, with the first candidate allowed two minutes to answer and the succeeding two speakers one minute each.

Pfeiffer said WFAA-TV will tape the session and tentatively has scheduled it for telecast from 8:30 to 10 p.m. Oct. 18. He said the program will be made available to all stations desiring it.

SACROC SUPERINTENDENT HONORED—M. L. Broman, center, is shown with Standard Oil Co. of Texas division engineer Jack Lawton and division superintendent Paul Jones, both of Midland. Jones presented a 25-year award to Broman yesterday. His service to the company started Sept. 24, 1937 in Dallas.

Broman Honored At Luncheon Here

Twenty-five years of service to Standard Oil Co. of Texas by M. L. Broman were recognized by his company and fellow workers at a luncheon yesterday at the Snyder Country Club.

The 25-year award was presented by Paul Jones, division superintendent from Midland. Also attending from Midland was Jack Lawton, division engineer. Broman and Lawton had become friends 24 years ago when both were employed in the Midland office.

In presenting the award, Jones outlined the highlights of Broman's career with Standard, starting from the time he graduated from the University of Minnesota in 1928 with a degree in mining engineering.

Broman was first hired as a draftsman in the Dallas headquarters. His next assignment was in Midland as an assistant engineer.

Other locations with the company include Graham and Gainesville. In August, 1954 Broman was transferred to the Kelly - Snyder district as district superintendent.

Last May he was made district superintendent of Standard's SACROC operation, the largest single operation of Standard of Texas.

In responding to the many words of praise and appreciation of his co-workers, Broman said that in his quarter of a century with the company he had yet to find an employee with whom he could not get along. His only regret, he said, was that he had not joined the company earlier.

Among others attending the luncheon were H. H. Allen, Tom Sinclair, James A. Thompson, Calvin Lange, George Mathis, and Glenn Emerick.

Diefenbaker Best With Big Problems

By RELMAN MORIN
OTTAWA (AP)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker goes before the 25th Parliament of Canada in its opening session today beset with towering economic troubles and facing demands for a motion of no confidence in his minority government.

However, two small opposition parties, holding the balance of power, appeared disposed to give him a temporary political reprieve.

Relations with the United States, an $18-billion American investment in Canada, and questions connected with the European Common Market all figured in the pre-session exchanges of fire. Diefenbaker's call for a motion of no confidence — which would destroy Diefenbaker's regime if passed — came from Lester B. Pearson, leader of the Liberals, the largest opposition party.

He said he would offer the motion in his first speech to determine whether Diefenbaker's Conservatives have the support of the majority in the House of Commons.

The smaller opposition groups, the Social Credit and New Democratic parties, indicated they would not go along with Pearson. Pearson's drive to unseat the government thus appeared doomed by the mathematics of the lineup in Parliament.

Diefenbaker's party holds 116 seats. The three opposition groups have 145, comprised of 100 Liberals, 30 Social Credit, and 15 New Democrats.

To carry a motion of no confidence, a majority of 133 votes is necessary. If the 48 small-party votes go with the government's 116, the motion fails.

Canadian political analysts said night party discipline is likely to insure bloc voting, without dissent.

GOP Candidate For Padre Island Park

AUSTIN (AP)—The Padre Island National Seashore Area bill is no "give away," Albert B. Fay, Republican candidate for land commissioner said yesterday.

Fay in a news release, said he will do everything in his power to persuade the Texas Legislature to permit the federal government to buy the 80.5-mile stretch of the island designated as a national seashore area.

"Unlike my opponent, I have been in favor of a Padre Island park ever since I first heard of the idea," Fay said. He is running against Land Commissioner Jerry Salder.

Yugoslav Ship To Draw Picket Lines

HOUSTON (AP)—Members of the National Maritime Union were expected to maintain their picket lines today in an effort to prevent loading of a Yugoslav freighter that recently unloaded a cargo of Russian grain in Cuba.

The motor ship Drzig landed at Port Houston Tuesday to take on a 13,000-ton cargo of flour under the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Surplus Commodity Program.

All loading operations around the freighter were halted Wednesday by a series of pickets.

At 4 p.m. pickets of the Maritime Union appeared on the scene carrying placards which read "NMI protests ships of countries receiving American aid of carrying cargo for Cuba."

Patent Phones To Check His Condition

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Because Gus Kooles had spent such an uncomfortable night in a hospital, he began to worry about his condition.

Wanting to find out first-hand what his condition really was, Kooles said he went to a telephone in the corridor and dialed the number of a "patent phone."

"Could you tell me the condition of Gus Kooles?" he asked.

"His condition is good and he had a very good night," was the answer he got from the hospital.

Pershing Missile Test Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Army's Pershing missile was launched successfully on a flight of about 350 miles in a test which exercised most of the ground support equipment to be used by troops in the field.

The missile was erected on its tanking mobile field carrier on Wednesday night when the countdown reached 30 minutes before firing. Other ground support elements were stationed on similar tracked vehicles.

It was the 40th test launching for Pershing, which is scheduled to be deployed in Western Europe next year. Thirty-two of the flights were rated successful.

NEW YORK (AP)—A clamorous jam of women show fans decried Wednesday's matinee performance of "My Fair Lady" for 15 minutes.

The Snyder High School Band Parents Club met Monday night at the school for election of officers.

Those named were: H. A. Johnson, president; Harold Bennett, vice president; Elmo Crowder, secretary. Committees appointed included: Mrs. B. L. Smith, telephone; Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Graves, membership; Mrs. Herman Likins and Mrs. Ralph Keessal, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harbair, chaplains; Mrs. Harold Bennett, Mrs. R. E. The Band Parents Club members turn salesmen from now through December as they launch a charitable sale of fruit cakes. The sale was announced today by H. A. Johnson, president.

Proceeds from the sale will go toward furthering club projects for the year. These include sponsoring local band students as a member of the United States of America High School Band.

"When a club member knocks on your door," Mr. Johnson said, "remember that is bringing you a two-fold opportunity. First you will be invited to enjoy a nationally famous fruit cake, usually available only by mail. Second, you will be sharing in worthwhile activities furthering the welfare of your community."

Approximately 100 club members will be canvassing Snyder during the fundraising campaign, under the direction of committee chairman, Mrs. Harold Bennett. Anyone interested in purchasing fruit cake during the sale but who is not contacted by a club member may place his order by telephoning HI 3-1081.

The fruit cakes are beautifully packaged," Mr. Johnson said. "They make them ideal for gifts. 'Businessmen' will find them especially appropriate for client and employee giving. They are also excellent chances for birthdays and anniversaries."

WHAT'S GOING ON

Mrs. Adele Josephson has been notified that she won second place in the professional abstract division with an oil painting titled "Night City Scene" at the South Plains Fair in Lubbock.

Increased uses of electricity and the heavier loads that result, make system improvements in rural areas a continuing job. The experts who operate the rural electric cooperatives are on the job today, anticipating tomorrow's demands and preparing for them. New poles, heavier lines, and improved equipment are constantly being installed to serve you better. Thanks to improved tools and techniques, these system improvements are most often accomplished without interrupting electric service.

The dedicated men who operate the locally owned, locally operated, locally controlled electric cooperative, can point with pride to more than a quarter century of experience in rural electrification. With this experience and dedication they are furnishing an efficient electric service today, while building a brighter tomorrow.

President Sings Praises Of Free Market Economy

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, singing the praises of the free market economy, predicts it will ultimately win out over Red regimentation.

"The free market is a more efficient decision maker than even the wisest central planning body," Kennedy told about 350 editors and publishers of business magazines Wednesday.

He spent about a half hour telling the executives that the administration was by no means anti-business.

Held in the State Department auditorium, the session was like a news conference, with no live television or radio.

"Mr. President," one questioner wanted to know, "do you believe that your administration is unduly sensitive to the alleged hostility of the business world?"

"I would think," the President replied, "that we are sensitive naturally to hostility, if that were the appropriate description, by any segment of the economy. This system of ours really depends upon continuity, upon cooperation, it is going to function."

Another questioner, noting the President's remark that inflation had been avoided under his administration, asked if he really didn't believe that the law of supply and demand had more to do with this feat than government action.

Yes, that was a factor, the president acknowledged. But everybody laughed when he added that "I think we made a contribution which was unacknowledged and comparatively ununsung last spring."

This was a reference to the hassle in which steel companies pulled back a price increase under pressure from Kennedy.

How, another questioner asked, does admiration for the free market jibe with price support operations?

Chipmunk Halts Theater Program
WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—A chipmunk stopped the show at a movie theater here amid the screams and squeals of a lady shoppers audience.

The little rodent made its appearance in the balcony Wednesday after the show had started.

The ladies promptly charged for the exits, the lights went on, and the projector stopped. One woman incurred a bloody nose in a fall down some stairs.

The chipmunk disappeared. And the show started again.

tion, international and domestic? There have to be limitations on the free market, Kennedy explained. If an agreement is attained on coffee for example, he said, the drop in coffee prices will "threaten, in my opinion, the security of the entire hemisphere."

As for U.S. farm price supports, Kennedy said, "We have been attempting in this Congress, with some success but not total success to provide that those who receive the supports will not plant an unlimited amount."

But he said total withdrawal of supports "would bring an economic collapse in the Middle West which would adversely affect the entire economy."

There was little hard news in the session, but the President did disclose he would take a "good look" before making up his mind at a pending bill for tax assistance to self-employed and professional people, to allow them to establish personal retirement plans.

The idea has equity to it, he said, "but on the other hand, it would mean a budget loss of $100 million or $125 million, and might better be made a part of a tax reform bill he will present next January."

It's Easy To Donate Blood

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Charles Kenemur of Little Rock, an avid fisherman, donated a pint of blood and practiced casting at the same time.

He said he was trying to demonstrate how easy it is to give blood. The University of Arkansas Medical Center, where he donated the blood, observed itself of blame for the stunt with a written release signed by Kenemur.

Kenemur stood on a hospital patio Wednesday and practiced casting with his right hand while a nurse inserted the needle into the left arm.

He said he had given blood 23 times. The Arkansas Heart Association said it was having trouble getting people to give blood for open heart operations.

Army To Increase Its Antiguerrillas

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army reportedly has won approval to boost its elite antiguerrilla Special Forces to about 15,000 men—roughly three times their present strength.

Scope of the projected increase in these tough, versatile fighters was disclosed today by Pentagon sources.

A spokesman confirmed that Defense Department chiefs had okayed an increase in ground elements of Army antiguerrilla forces. But he gave no details.

This development tended to bear out an impression that the Army has just about established preeminence in this important phase of U.S. military operations.

For months, the Air Force has sought permission to increase its "Air Commando" force from about 650 to 5,000 men and to develop special aircraft suited to fighting Communist guerrillas.

The Defense Department said this still is under study. But Air Force sources said they believed their service's request for an expanded role in counterinsurgency work in effect has been rejected.

The Special Forces have flourished since the Kennedy administration decided this country should beef up its ability to deal with Communist threats of subversion and insurgency.

The chief cold war role of the Special Forces is to train native troops to cope with and overcome Communist guerrillas trying to take over their countries.

Special Forces detachments have been with the South Vietnamese in their battle to suppress the Red Viet Cong. Some troops have been killed there.

Army antiguerrilla experts also have seen service in Thailand, Laos and Latin America. They enter a country only when invited by its government.

There now are four Special Forces groups. Two are at Ft. Bragg, N.C., one in Germany and one on Okinawa.

JFK Parley On Business Unexplosive

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Almost any question-and-answer session with President Kennedy has some kind of bang in it. But Wednesday's, for business editors and publishers, hardly produced a bang.

Newsmen who cover the regular news conferences were barred from quizzing the President Wednesday, although there was much they would have liked to ask about Cuba, Mississippi and other places. There was no television or radio broadcast.

This was strictly for business editors and their bosses and only they could ask questions. Naturally enough, they asked business questions.

And the President answered them pretty much in a business-like way but still in a way that gave a foretaste of some ideas he'll try to put across in this year's election campaigns.

Before anything was asked he admitted the economy was not in an ideal condition yet but said it had been moving under him toward fulfillment of a number of goals.

He said unemployment is still too high, this country's ability to produce isn't being used to its fullest and there is still economic distress in certain regions.

Ever since last spring when Kennedy angrily pushed the steel industry into calling off its sudden and unexpected price increases, relations between business and the Kennedy administration could hardly be described as happy.

So the business editors, or some of them, probably expected Kennedy to turn the conference into a kiss-and-make-up get-together. He didn't.

It was all pleasant enough. Certainly it was polite. Kennedy drew laughs several times with his quips. And he did nothing to antagonize the men and women facing him.

But, when it was over, it was clear Kennedy hadn't tried to be cozy, either.

Right at the start one editor handed him an opportunity which Kennedy must have been hoping for: A chance to talk about relations between his administration and business.

He was asked about being sensitive to the "alleged" hostility of the business world. Kennedy's answer was like saying I'm glad you asked. The frankness of his answer may have surprised his listeners.

He said there has been a traditional difference between Democratic administrations and most businessmen and the former haven't banked very heavily on the amount of political support they could expect from business.

Then he rebuked businessmen for failing to give him the kind of support he felt should have been forthcoming for his tax revision bill which Congress badly chewed up.

The White House had sponsored this conference of business editors and publishers just as in the past a number of times it has arranged conferences here for newspaper, magazine, television and radio people.

In such sessions a number of top government officials talk to the visitors and answer their questions. At the windup the President does the same.

This may provide these molders of public opinion with some insight into the administration's problems and thinking although hardly more so than they get every day from their Washington correspondents.

All this is part of the administration's efforts at public relations. It can hardly be considered entirely unselfish since it provides the administration with a chance to send the visitors home feeling more sympathetic if not more favorable.

CAROL BURNETT DIVORCED — Comedienne Carol Burnett leaves court in Las Vegas, Nev., with attorney Harry Claiborne after receiving a divorce from actor Dan Saroyan. ## Pastor In Dallas Dies

DALLAS (AP) — Rev. Earl Anderson, 63, pastor of Dallas' Munger Place Baptist Church for 43 years, died Wednesday in a Dallas hospital.

Services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at his church. The outspoken pastor was author of two books, many poems and the hymn "I Seek Refuge in Jesus."

Munger Place Baptist Church was his only full-time pastorate since he decided to drop plans for a journalism career to become a pastor.

He was born in Greenville, the son and grandson of Baptist pastors. He attended school at Stamford in West Texas and worked as a printer's assistant on weekly papers in Avoca and Stamford. He later edited papers at Avoca and Goree.

In his book "Religion, the World's Biggest Racket," he complained that too often unscrupulous persons "manipulate the scriptures and use Jesus as a decoy for false forms of salvation."

Chief Marshal Finds New Experience In Mississippi

By LOUIS G. PASOS
WASHINGTON (AP) — It's a long way from the sidewalks of New York to the University of Mississippi "desegregation struggle" at Oxford. For Chief U.S. Marshal James J. P. McShane, little of the journey has been dull.

McShane, 53, was tapped by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to help enforce the federal court order that the university enroll James H. Meredith, a Negro, as a student.

Since arriving in Mississippi last week McShane has been involved in several brushes with state officials opposing Meredith's enrollment.

It was McShane who attempted Wednesday to escort Meredith onto the university campus, only to become involved in a brief exchange with state officials barring their way.

To a charge that he was showing off, he reported. "I'm not showing off but doing my job as ordered."

Doing his job, first as a New York City policeman and more recently as a federal marshal, has meant an action-packed career for the ruddy-faced, black-haired McShane. He joined the New York City police force in 1938 and within three years was involved in seven gun battles. At one, he killed a hoodlum mar and wounded two others, earning the police department's medal of honor and promotion to detective rank.

After winning 14 championships, McShane resigned from the department in 1937. He had incurred the disfavor of a superior by posing for a photographer on his day off, holding an umbrella over heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano.

McShane, a familiar figure to New York boxing fans, was himself an amateur fighter and won the New York Golden Gloves welterweight championship in 1930.

He joined the staff of the Senate racketeers committee in 1957 when Robert F. Kennedy was its chief counsel.

Last year, 10 days after becoming a U.S. marshal, McShane was assigned to Montgomery, Ala., to direct about 600 federal officers during "Freedom Ride" disturbances.

Earlier this year he made the newspaper when convicted Communist spy Robert A. Soblen, sitting across the aisle from McShane on an airplane flight, slashed himself in an apparent suicide attempt.

Israel had denied Soblen asylum and McShane technically was an unofficial observer as the plane headed for New York. Soblen never got there. He was taken to a London hospital and died earlier this month after swallowing a dose of sleeping poison.

As chief of approximately 725 U.S. marshals, McShane is paid about $13,250 a year.
