Corn Growers' Problems Increased By Herbicides

Corn producers who are thinking about taking advantage of possible high cotton prices next season by switching from corn to cotton may have to reconsider if they used a herbicide this season called atrazine.

An agronomy specialist and a weed control scientist both warn that atrazine-treated soils may harbor enough residue next spring to damage young plants such as cotton, soybeans or sunflowers.

Dr. James Supak, area specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Dr. John Abernathy, research scientist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, both at Lubbock, say that only corn or sorghum can be planted on atrazine-treated land the following season, according to the atrazine label.

"If more than one pound per acre of atrazine was used on this year's corn crop, the possibilities of making a crop of cotton, soybeans, or sunflowers on the same land next year are very slim," they caution.

Conditions favoring breakdown of that herbicide in the soil, they add, involve wet, warm weather. The wetter and warmer this winter is, the more chance there is for chemical breakdown.

"A farmer may wish to take soil residue samples to ease his mind one way or the other," Supak and Abernathy suggest. "If so, the samples should be obtained in the spring to allow as much herbicide to break down as possible. A sample taken in the fall may not give a true picture, because the herbicide residue level in the soil will decrease during the following six-month period.

Abernathy and Supak say a farmer can test the soil himself simply by taking atrazine-treated soil and soil which has not had a herbicide applied this year, and place the samples in cups inside the house by a window. Cotton seed or whatever seed is being considered for planting next season can be planted in the cups, and observed for three or four weeks. Crop seedlings will usually emerge healthy looking, but begin to turn yellow and die after two to three weeks if too much atrazine is present in the soil.

"Some producers may be concerned about propazine, a herbicide commonly used in sorghums," Abernathy says. "Atrazine and propazine, both members of the triazine family of herbicides, persist for about the same length of time in the soil; however, cotton can tolerate only about one-fourth to one-half as much atrazine as propazine.

"If the amount of these two herbicides left in the soil is borderline," he adds, "consideration might be given to resistant varieties."

Abernathy says that in research conducted at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock over the past three years, some 19 herbicides were tested in 48 cotton varieties. Certain of these varieties were much more resistant to triazine soil residues than others, he reports.

"Various cotton varieties, ranged from no injury to 95 percent injury caused by the Triazine herbicides," he adds.

Cotton varieties which were most tolerant of the triazine herbicides were Paymaster 303, GSA 71, and Auburn M.

Most sensitive cotton varieties were Lankart 611, Lockett 4789, and Paymaster 111A.

Tax Office Schedule Told

Tax office of Hart Independent School District will be open Friday, Dec. 31 from 9 a.m. until noon. Friday afternoon is subject to call, Mrs. Bowden may be reached at 938-2268.

The office will not be open Saturday, Jan. 1, 1977 but Tax collector Tom Ed Benton may be reached by telephone at his home, 938-2339.

Test Schedules Are Announced

Six weeks test schedules are being announced for Jan. 4 through Jan. 7 for Hart Junior High and High School.

Junior high students will have tests Tuesday through Thursday. Second, fourth and sixth period tests will be held Tuesday; third, fifth and seventh period classes Wednesday; second, fourth and sixth periods, Thursday and first, third and fifth periods, Friday.

harvest. Another 18 inches of water was applied through irrigation.

Concerning the hybrid's performance, Myrick says, "The yield is the best thing I like about XL-72aa. Also, threshability was good, too."

The purpose of the DeKalb Yieldmasters Club is to promote an exchange of ideas and information among the nation's leading grain producers and to recognize them for their outstanding accomplishments as well as their important role in helping feed the world. Through the sharing of such information, the program also encourages farmers to adopt management and cultural practices that will aid them in obtaining maximum profit from each acre.

J.D. Myrick Named Member Of DeKalb Yieldmasters

J.D. Myrick of Hart was recently named a member of the DeKalb Yieldmaster Club for producing 193.99 bu. of corn per acre in 1976.

His yield, based on 15½% moisture, was mechanically harvested from a solid block measuring 1.841 acres. An impartial third party verified the high yield which was recorded from a field of DeKalb XL-72aa.

Myrick planted the crop April 10 in 40 inch rows and harvested an estimated stand of 24,000 plants per acre Oct. 22.

His fertilizer program included 227 lbs. of nitrogen, 60 lbs. of phosphate and 14 lbs. of potash. Myrick controlled weeds with Atrazine at 1½ lbs. per acre. An estimated 4 inches of rain fell on the crop from planting to

MRS. THERON MORRISON

Cook Of The Week

Proclaimed by her friends as "a very good cook," Mrs.

Theron Morrison shares recipes for dishes which have earned compliments.

Margaret and Theron celebrated their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary last week. They have lived 24 of those years in the Hart community.

A native of San Diego, Calif., Margaret met Theron during the War. Theron grew up in the Running Water Community and turned Margaret into a Texan when they moved first to the Halfway Community.

The Morrisons are parents of three sons and a daughter. Mike, the eldest, lives in Austin. Tommy and his wife and two children make their home in Dallas. Sheri is in Rochester, N.Y. and Blair is a freshman at West Texas State University.

Members of First United Methodist Church, Margaret teaches a Sunday School class for high school youth. She serves on the church's administrative board as secretary.

A member of Xi Mu Iota sorority, Margaret's hobby has provided pretty accents about the Morrison home. Not content to stay with the basic needlepoint stitch, she took a series of lessons and has a beautiful masterpiece sampler to show for her efforts.

Margaret turned a bit of plywood and odds and ends of jewelry into an exquisite Christmas hanging. Fashioned into a decorated "Christmas tree," the pretty work is enhanced with flickering miniature lights.

Chi Psi Sorority Holds Annual Christmas Party

Chi Psi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held their annual Christmas party and "penny auction" Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Huntsinger.

Social committee members served as assistant hostesses, Mmes. Kim Williamson, Freddy Upshaw, Don Elliott, Ronnie Truelock, Monty Upton and Lonny Davis. Hostesses served a turkey dinner.

The sorority's annual auction was conducted by "auctioneers" Kim Williamson and Frank Hooper. Proceeds were approximately $230.

Attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Williamson, Upshaw, Elliott, Truelock, Upton, Davis, Mack Steffey, Charlie Summers, Don Moore, Ricky Farris, Danny Rice, James Campbell and James Jackson.

UMW Party Held Wednesday

United Methodist Women had their Christmas party Wednesday night at the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Ed Bennett gave a Christmas story and the Rev. Phillips spoke to the group bringing up to date this work since he had been here.

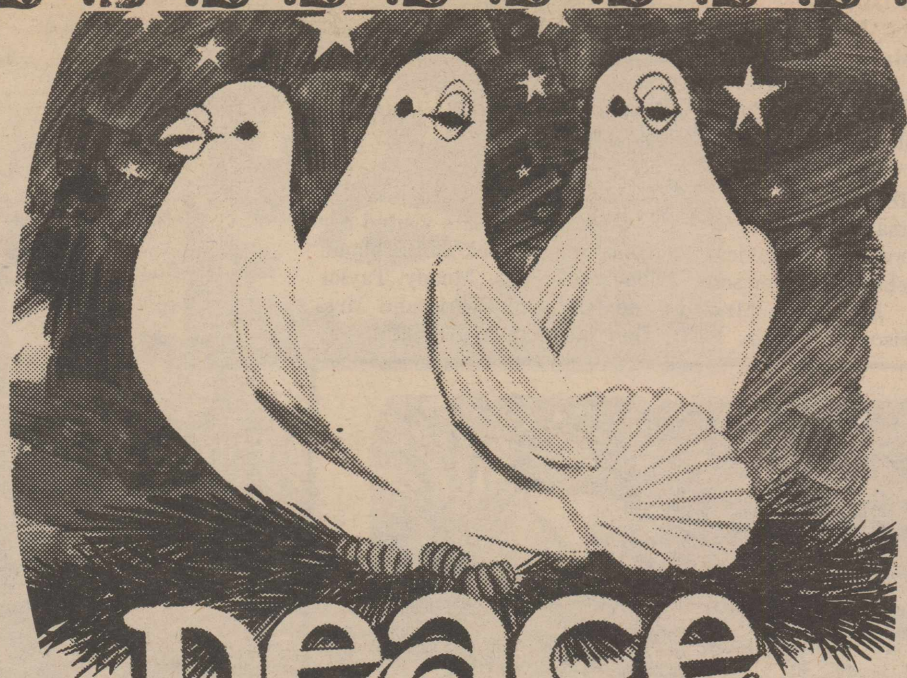

They exchanged gifts after the salad supper. Mrs. Elra Phillips was honored with money and gifts.

CHRISTMAS

By Josie Garcia

Christ the Lord was born in Bethlehem
Having no earthly possessions
at all, yet the world
Rejoiced at his birth
In that manger so low
Silently saying I am sent
To give salvation to all; so
May we remember this day
As it was really meant to be, a joyous occasion in which
Salvation was granted to men

By LaGlenda Wilson

Christmas carols fill the night,
Hearts are happy; smiles are bright,
Red and green adorn the town,
Circles from the roof hang down,

Smiling are children's faces,
Trees decorated with bows and laces,
Midnight hour is coming near,
Angels sing and spread good cheer,

Santa Claus is finally here!

By Melissa Snitker

Candles in the window,
Holly wreaths so bold,
Ring of bells from churches,
Circles predicting cold,
Santas on the corners,
Trees all decked with snow,
Mary and the Christ Child,
Angels, filled with glory,
Sing loud the joys of old.

BRIDENSTINE ENTERTAINS FHA

By Cindy Brooks

A meeting of the Hart FHA was held Wednesday December the eighth. Guest speaker was Kent Bridenstine from the department of Public Welfare for Hale County. Bridenstine lectured the girls on the subject

FHA SHARES CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

By Marci Wescott

Did you hear any strange noises from the streets Monday night? More likely than not, it was the Hart Chapter of the FHA carolers. Members walked the streets of Hart serenading residents with traditional carols.

After caroling, the FHA's enjoyed a Christmas party in the Home Ec room. Sandwiches, chips, dips, cookies and punch helped revive the girls after their chilly outing. Those attending were Sandra Heck, Sandra Gensburg, Rhonda Cole, Janet Black, Alice Steiert, Laura Miller, Leoria Welty, Cindy Brooks, Marci Wescott, Mrs. Martha Mears, Mr. Jerry Jansa and Mr. Primitivo Sanchez.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Sharla Carol Carson, also known as Goldilocks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Edd Carson. Sharla takes an active part at Hart High School. Her class schedule includes Band, American History, English IV, Basketball, Teachers Training and Shorthand. Sharla's other activities include being band twirler, basketball, FFA Sweetheart, Student Council President, Class Historian and National Honor Society. Twirling, rodeoing, painting, sports and running around fill Sharla's spare time. Her future plans include college and hopefully playing basketball.

CHRISTMAS AND LOVE

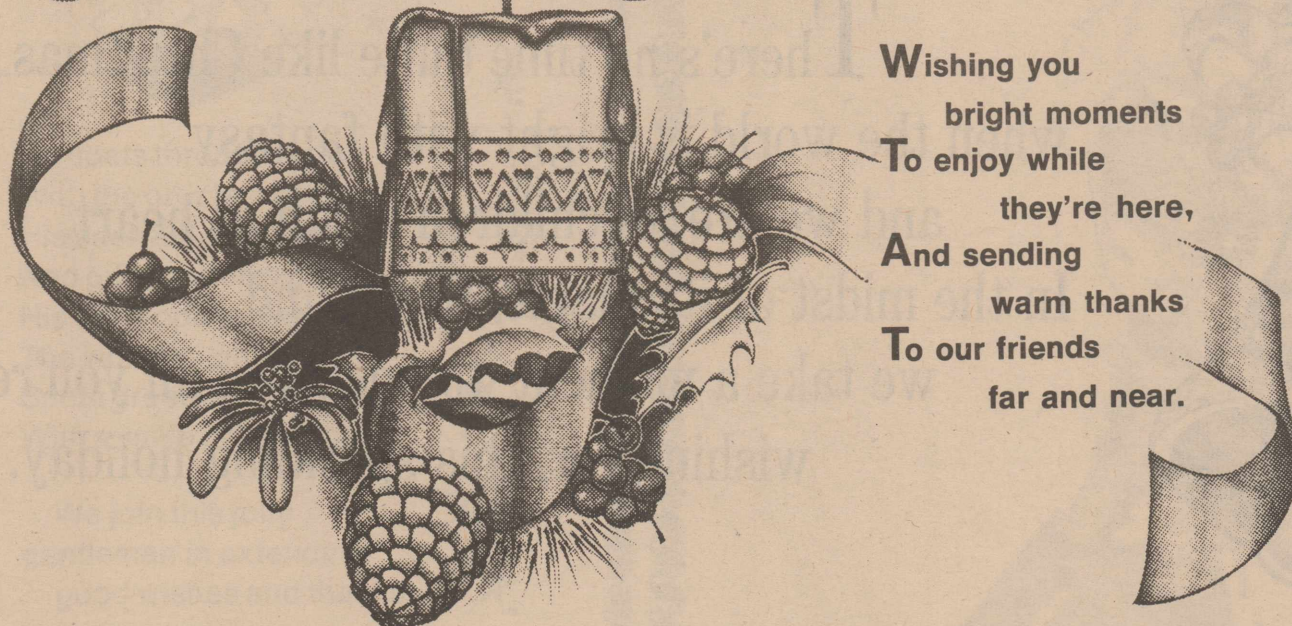

By Marci Cobb

What does Christmas mean to you? To me, it is everything beautiful! It is our Lord's birthday, and a time for worldwide love, and peace. There is so much love during this season that there is not a container large enough to hold it all. Love fills everyone's heart so that they just have to share it with someone else. Christmas is a time for love - giving and sharing. Christmas just isn't Christmas without someone to share things with, to exchange gifts with and to love. Without others Christmas does not seem to carry the real meaning of Christmas. Christmas is for sharing - giving and for loving. Most of all, Christmas is for loving!

WHAT WOULD YOU DO WITH A KHANSAMAH?

Mrs. Long - feed it hay
Mrs. Vance - wash it on delicate and hang it up to dry
Coach Richtors - I'd can - some - ah
Mr. Howell - hide it under the bed

HAND MADE DECORATIONS are hung on the green tree that stands in the James Jackson home. Mrs. Jackson, who made the ornaments, stands by the tree.

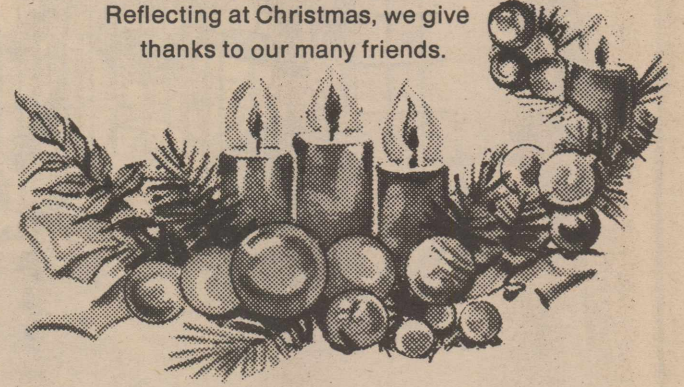

Look Who's Here

Mr. and Mrs. Greg Crosby announce the arrival of a son born Dec. 15 in St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock. The little lad weighed eight pounds one and a half ounces and has been named Garlon Keith. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Garlon Crosby and Rev. and Mrs. Fred Brown of Cooper. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C.H. McAlister of Logan, N.M.; Mrs. Ruby Crosby of Olton; and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Amerson of Tulia. Mrs. Pearl McAlister of Olton is his great-great-grandmother.

Party Fetes

Jill McLain

Jill McLain was feted recently with a party in observance of her fifth birthday.

Suzahn Rowland, Sheryl McLain and Benny McLain assisted the honoree's mother, Mrs. Cleve McLain, with the direction of indoor games.

Birthday cake, ice cream, cookies and punch were served to Becca Richmond, Angie Dyer, Stephanie Farris, Cynthia George, Robyn Truelock, Jason Griffith, Jay Davis and Randall Huntsinger.

CONDITION IMPROVED

Ed Bennett spent a few days in Plains Memorial Hospital in Dimmitt but is improved.

FROM DECATUR

Recent weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Davis were her brother and nephew, Dick Moss and Calvin Buchanan, both of Decatur.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

First United Methodist Church had a Christmas program Sunday night. Rev. and Mrs. Elra Phillips were honored with gifts and money. There was also a candlelight white gift service for Girlstown. Santa Claus made his visit with bags of fruit, nuts and candy for the children. Mrs. James Campbell accompanied the children on the guitar as they sang Christmas songs.

Joy to the World

May his boundless love bring you the many blessings
 of the Yuletide.
 Deep thanks.

O CHRISTMAS TREE - This beautifully decorated "real" tree stands in the dining room of the Joe Ed Carson home. The decorations were made by Mrs. Carson.

PINE CONE TREE - This work of art was started by Jometa McLain who confessed that husband Lett finally got in on the action and helped her finish it. Blinking lights decorate the unique tree.

PERSONALIZED BEDS - The two sons of Mr. and Mrs. DeWayne Brown have their room all decorated for Christmas and neither have trouble recognizing his own bed as they have their names on them.

Merry Christmas
