Pick-A-Back Ship Makes Hop

Launched from the back of her mother ship, the Mata, at Foynes, Ireland, Wednesday, the Mercury, English seaplane, landed at Montreal, Canada, today after a flight of 20 hours, 20 minutes. The crossing over the Atlantic was made in the fast time of 13 hours, 29 minutes. The flight is the first of a series of tests prior to establishment of regular trans-Atlantic service.

'Fledgling' British Seaplane Makes Speedy Atlantic Flight To Montreal, Canada, Today

MONTREAL, July 21. (Canadian Press) — The first trans-Atlantic flight of a pick-a-back plane ended here at 10:20 a. m., E.S.T., today when the British seaplane Mercury alighted on the St. Lawrence river near Montreal.

The Mercury glided to a smooth landing in the Boucherville air harbor 20 hours and 20 minutes after leaving Foynes, Ireland, 2,715 miles away, where she had been launched by her mother ship, the Maia.

OFF FOR NEW YORK

MONTREAL, July 21. — (Canadian Press) — The British pick-a-back seaplane Mercury took off at 1 p. m., e.s.t., today for New York from Boucherville air harbor, where she arrived this morning on the first trans-Atlantic flight for a plane of her type.

Expected Stop Not Made

Some 2,000 miles of her route had traversed the north Atlantic and she came on to Montreal without making her expected stop at Botwood, Newfoundland.

Boucherville is 12 miles east of Monteal.

The seaplane completed the westward crossing of the Atlantic in 13 hours and 29 minutes. The water crossng, from Foynes, Ireland, ended when the speedy ship passed over Cape Bauld at the northern tip of Newfoundland at 3:29 a. m. eastern standard time.

First of Series of Flights

The Mercury was launched from the back of the Maia, her heavier twin, at Foynes at 2 p. m. E.S.T. yesterday on the first of a series of experimental flights to precede regular trans-Atlantic service to

Exemptions In Income Taxes May Be Cut

Subject Being Studied By Treasury Officials Under Broad Tax Revision Plans

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Roswell Magill, acting secretary of the treasury, announced today the administration was studying the feasibility of lowering personal income tax exemptions.

He declined to say whether he, or other officials, favored a reduction, but said the subject was "certainly" one being studied in preparing broad tax revision proposals to be submitted to the next congress.

Efforts Have Been Defeated

In recent years, congress has repeatedly defeated efforts by Senator LaFollette (P-Wis) to cut the exemption for single persons from $1,000 to $800 and for heads of families from $2,500 to $2,000.

As announced previously by President Roosevelt, the treasury also is studying suggestions for changes in the undistributed profits tax and the capital gains tax.

Magill added that in addition the treasury was looking into methods of carrying out Mr. Roosevelt's recommendation for taxing the salaries of federal, state and local government employes and bond interest on future issues of federal, state and local securities.

Barkley Is Endorsed By Labor Factions

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—The A. F. of L. and the C.I.O., which disagree on many political as well as labor issues, have added Senator Alben W. Barkley (D-Ky) to the short list of congressional candidates endorsed by both factions.

William Green, A. F. of L. president, announced last night he had written the Kentucky Federation of Labor:

"Barkley's service for labor and the fine record he made in support of labor legislation merits the support of the officers and members of the American Federation of Labor and all their friends."

John L. Lewis, C.I.O. chairman, earlier had urged organized labor in Kentucky to back Barkley, administration floor leader, who is opposed for renomination by Gov. A. B. Chandler.

Both groups recently endorsed Representative Ravid J. Lewis, seeking the Democratic senatorial nomination in Maryland against Senator Millard Tydings. Lewis is a former coal miner—the occupation in which both Green and John L. Lewis began their careers.

Brady Facing Flood Threat

(By The Associated Press)

Floodwaters from a small creek made a raging torrent by seven inches of rain in two days, threatened Brady, in the southwest Texas sheep country, this afternoon.

Brady creek was rising a foot an hour, and shortly before noon lacked less than two feet of being over a protecting levee.

TOWN BREATHES EASIER

BRADY, July 21. (AP)—This Southwest Texas town, tense as floodwaters from an ordinarily small creek threatened widespread damage, breathed easier this afternoon as the stream came to a standstill, only a foot and half from the top of a protective levee.

Some apprehension, however, prevailed as reports from Melvin, 15 miles upstream, said the creek continued rising there. Observers here, however, believed the stream would drop enough at Brady to take care of additional floodwaters.

It stopped raining shortly after noon.

Merchants Stack Stocks

Merchants hurriedly stacked their stocks on higher shelves and barred their doors as the flood menace grew.

Since 3 a. m. today the rainfall measured more than four inches.

Part of Richard's park race track fence already had fallen before the sweeping waters.

Rains, in most cases greatly beneficial, continued today over a wide area of West Texas and became general in other sections, especially in Central Texas.

San Angelo, in Southwest Texas, reported its fourth day of showers, which brought the July precipita-

Ickes Says Rosendahl's Mind Changed On Value Of Helium

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—Secretary Ickes said today that Commander Charles E. Rosendahl had changed his mind about the military importance of helium after being "wined and dined" in Germany.

Rosendahl, in charge of the naval air station at Lakehurst, N. J., said on his return to the United States that helium had no military value.

In his book, "What About The Airship?" Ickes remarked to reporters, Rosendahl recounted the experience of dirigibles in the World war and added "small wonder then, at the high regard in which helium is held as a valuable military asset."

"I can't reconcile what he (Rosendahl) says now with what he said in his book," Ickes said.

Candidates Are In Last-Hour Votes Drives

Substantial Gains Reported In Absentee Voting; Hard Campaign Nearing Close

(By The Associated Press)

Substantial gains in absentee balloting at most reporting points over 1936 presaged today a record turnout in the Democratic primary election Saturday, as Texas candidates, voice, leg, and handshake weary, plugged strenuously away in last hour appeals to voters.

Of 15 cities reporting figures for various counties, Dallas, with 2,739; Beaumont-Port Arthur, with 1,805; Waco, expecting 1,050, and Tyler, with 648, had record numbers.

Other Gains Reported

Corsicana, Lubbock, Amarillo, San Angelo, Corpus Christi, Edinburg, and San Antonio reported substantial gains, four cities showed less than in 1936.

Houston had 2,450 against 2,629, two years ago; Austin 1,600, 300 less than in 1936; Harlingen 33 per cent less, and Abilene showed a substantial decrease.

With only 48 hours remaining before regular balloting, candidates for governor redoubled efforts in hard campaign schedules today and tomorrow.

Thompson At Ball Park

Ernest Thompson was scheduled at Kilgore, Henderson, Overton and Arp before going to Tyler where he had taken the ball park over to speak tonight at an East Texas league game. Walter Russell, candidate for congress, rained out with a similar program last night, planned to speak on the same card.

Thompson, in an address at Dallas last night, told voters the state needed a "fair trades act to protect independent merchants."

He will close his campaign at Greenville tomorrow night.

The West Texas oil man, Tom Hunter, moved today toward a night rally in his home town, Wichita Falls, and will close at Dallas and Fort Worth tomorrow.

He told an East Texas audience last night at Tyler that his opponents, William McCraw, attorney general, and Ernest Thompson, railroad commissioner, were responsible for the ills of the East Texas oil industry.

That was because, Hunter declared, orders were promulgated "at the instance and leadership" of Thompson, and McCraw was responsible "because orders were permitted to remain in force without challenge from the lawyer for the people."

U. S. Citizenship Is Denied To Clergyman Who Said He Would Not Bear Arms During War

PATERSON, N. J., July 21. (AP)—A clergyman who said he would not bear arms for the United States in war because it was against his religious principles to take human life, was denied American citizenship today.

The Rev. Angelo Benvenuto, Italian born father of 11 children, told Judge Robert H. Davidson religious scruples prohibited him from killing in war, but added:

"I am willing to do anything else for the United States in the event of war, in my capacity as a minister."

Judge Davidson, in denying his final application for citizenship ruled:

"That is not enough. Americans born here must bear arms and naturalized citizens can't be put into a separate category."

World's Largest Military Plane Visits Randdolph Field Today

SAN ANTONIO, July 21 (AP)—The world's largest military plane, capable of flying to Europe and back, non-stop, and the pride of the United States army air corps, roared into San Antonio today on a brief visit.

The ship, a Boeing XB-15, an experimental bomber stationed at Wright Field, Ohio, experimental airport of the air corps, was flown here on a routine navigation flight.

Leaving Wright field at 6:30 p. m. yesterday, it landed at Randolph field at 1 a. m. today. It carried a crew of 16, including Col. F. M. Kennedy, commanding officer of Wright field, and Col. D. B. Howard.

It will leave at 6:30 p. m. on the return trip.

East Texan Is Assessed Prison Term Of 99 Years In Slaying

RUSK, July 21. (AP)—J. L. Murray, was assessed 99 years in prison by a jury here today which found him guilty of slaying Neal Byrd at Ponta last June 22.

Testimony indicated the shooting followed trouble which arose over a son of Byrd's stepping on a watermelon in Murray's field

Police Disperse Pickets In Chicago Area

A force of 50 policemen and deputy sheriffs, armed with clubs and tear gas bombs, dispersed a gathering of more than 400 demonstrators and pickets at the Chicago Hardware Foundry company plant. No one was injured seriously in the melee, a general scene of which is shown here.

Drive Started For Hospital

Several committees were at work this morning gathering the "ammunition" with which they hope to obtain for Lubbock the $1,435,000 Veterans hospital soon to be built.

Several possible sites for the institution had been submitted by owners and expectation was that others will be available before an engineer of the Veterans administration arrives next Wednesday for an inspection of such tracts.

Hess Reviews Invitation

Glen Hess, chairman of the site sub-committee of the general hospital committee of the chamber of commerce, renewed the invitation previously extended to owners of property which they believe may be suitable as a hospital site to list their holdings. Serving with Hess on the sub-committee are S. J. McFarland and Louis Murfee.

Officials of the chamber of commerce explained, however, that unless the site is obviously "desirable" it is likely to receive scant consideration by officials of the national veterans administration. The site, it was explained, should consist of not less than 150 acres of gently sloping land, of which at

Grasshoppers Painted Silver And Gold To Test Their Flight

SIDNEY, Mont., July 21 (AP) — Eight thousand grasshoppers — winged freebooters of the grain fields—were painted silver and gold today in the interest of science.

The bureau of entomology of the U. S. department of agriculture wants to know how far and how quickly the hoppers fly.

In an effort to obtain this information, 4,000 hoppers found in the area 12 miles northwest of Sidney were painted a bright gold color, and 4,000 in silver.

French Island In Pacific, Poorly Charted And Danger To Navigation, Destination Of President Roosevelt's Fishing Expedition

(By The Associated Press)

ABOARD U. S. HOUSTON, En Route to Panama, July 21.—The cruiser Houston, carrying President Roosevelt and his fishing companions on a vacation jaunt down the Pacific, clipped along at 21 knots today toward French-owned Clipperton island, poorly charted and a danger to navigation.

The island, lying 670 miles off the Mexican mainland on a line between Hawaii and Panama, consists of a low coral ring of sand-like appearance, varying in width from a few yards to a quarter of a mile and rising from the sea to a height of five to 14 feet.

Within this coral ring is a large, circular lagoon with depths from a few inches to more than 300 feet. The island is fringed by a continuous coral reef and coral rocks. At the southeast end a huge rock, like a ship under full sail, rises 70 feet.

Ships are warned that the island is dangerous to navigation, even under the most favorable conditions. Mariners are urged to approach Clipperton with great caution.

Exact Location Not Definite

For one thing, the exact location of the island is not definitely known. It has been reported to lie five miles north of its present charted position.

Capt. Guy N. Barker of the Houston plans to make observations. These he will report to the navy's hydrographic office so that officials there can exactly chart the island for the first time.

To Resume Fishing

While Captain Barker is taking his observations, and Prof. Waldo Schmitt of the Smithsonian institution of Washington, D. C., is making scientific investigations on the island, President Roosevelt and

Fugitives From Mexico Sought

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 21. — Highway patrolmen scoured a large section of Texas today for an airplane in which it was believed several fugitives from Mexico City had sped to the United States.

Captain Homer Garrison, assistant public safety director, said officers along the Texas Gulf coast, the international border and as far inland as Dallas had been instructed to watch for the plane.

He said a report the plane had circled over Austin early this morning was unconfirmed. However, patrolmen began an intensive search in Central Texas.

Garrison said he understood the men had been held by Mexican authorities for United States officers in connection with a counterfeiting ring.

Tech To Establish Extension Center

An extension center will be established by Texas Technological college at Childress in September, under the direction of a new faculty member whose appointment was announced this morning.

Dr. L. B. Ezell, head of the education department at Bethany college at Lindsborg, Kan., has been appointed a member of the extension faculty and will be stationed in Childress.

Courses will be offered in Childress and towns in adjoining counties, including Wellington, Memphis, Paducah, and Quanah.

The center will be established because of the distance of that area from Tech and the number of requests for extension courses from towns in that vicinity, said J. F. McDonald, director of extension.

Dr. Ezell served on the division of the extension staff at Tech last summer and this summer, offering correspondence courses in education.

Dr. Ezell received bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees at Elon college at Elon College, N. C., did graduate study at the University of North Carolina, and received a second master of arts degree and a doctor of education degree at the University of Texas.

'Pride Of The Corrigans' Books Passage For Home; He's Willing To Call Off Rest Of The Show--Welcome Back In The U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

DUBLIN, July 21.—He has been getting along nicely in Ireland, chatting informally with the highest of the land, but the thought of a big welcome in America is something else again to Douglas Corrigan.

"I certainly hope they have stopped being Corrigan-mad when I get back to America," is how he puts it.

"A hero by mistake"—that "compass error" that took him to Ireland instead of California, you know—Corrigan apparently is willing to call off the rest of the show.

Today he turned down a five-year contract with a guarantee of three pictures yearly—although yesterday he thought he might be interested in the movies—and refused a $20,000 vaudeville contract,

(By The Associated Press)

DUBLIN, July 21.— The "Pride of the Corrigans," as the Irish call the young American flying hero, booked passage home today on the American liner Manhattan, sailing next week.

That done, Douglas Corrigan went shopping as any tourist. For his uncle he bought a shillelagh (typical cudgel) and for the rest of the family, postcards.

He planned a two-day visit to London before sailing from Cobh July 30.

Valuation Gain Of Million Is Seen In City

Much Detail Work Remains But Indications Point To Maintaining 75-Cent Levy

City of Lubbock tax rate for the new fiscal year which began last April 1 is not likely to be changed from the 75 cents on the $100 of assessed valuation last year.

However, if there should be a change, it is more likely to be upward than downward—but this is improbable.

These were the opinions expressed in authoritative quarters this morning, several weeks in advance of the actual setting of the new rates.

Rolls Not Completed

Before the rates can be set, it was explained, much detail work remains to be completed. Included among these details are the completion of the tax roll, the appointments and meetings of a city board of equalization, and the preparations and approval of the city budget.

The predictions for the new year anticipate, among other things, that assessed valuations in the city will show an increase of approximately $1,000,000 above the figures last year; increases in revenue from city water and power plants; and increased general operating costs of the city government resulting from the continued rapid growth of Lubbock.

Revenues Will About Balance

Expectation is, according to opinion in authoritative quarters, that the increased revenues will just about balance the increased expenses incident to remarkable growth.

Should expectations be realized, assessed valuations would be hiked from the total of $21,393,277 to approximately $22,400,000, in round figures. On the basis of present tax levy, that would produce a maximum possible revenue of approxi-

Forest Fires Raging Savagely In Pacific Northwest Section

SEATTLE, July 21. (AP) — Forest fires raced forward savagely in the Pacific Northwest today despite the efforts of the greatest army of fire fighters mobilized in this area in recent years.

In British Columbia a forecast of fresh westerly winds added to the problem of 1,000 men fighting a 40,000 acre fire. Firemen built breaks around Campbellton on the west flank of the blaze and at camp three of the Comox Logging Co., at its southern extremity. From 30 to 60 million feet of cut lumber would be endangered if the fire reached the camp.

Two Canadian destroyers remained at strategic points on Vancouver islands to evacuate residents of settlements in the fire's path if it became necessary.

Americans Dress Better Than Englishmen, Menjou Opines

NEW YORK, July 21. (AP) — Adolphe Menjou, frequently acclaimed Hollywood's best-dressed man, is convinced American men dress better than Englishmen.

The English "think that if they have a silk hat and 'tails' they are well dressed, even though their clothes do not fit," Menjou said.

He returned yesterday from Europe.

Corn Marketing Quotas May Not Be Needed, AAA Officials Say

WASHINGTON, July 21. Demonstration Attests Strong Bonds That Unite Europe's Two Great Democracies

PARIS, July 21—France paraded her newest war machines for the first time today to demonstrate to King George VI of Britain the strength she can lend to their common cause.

For more than an hour, infantry, cavalry and artillery regiments—the flower of the French army—swung by the red-carpeted reviewing stand at Versailles to the music of massed military bands.

RENEWED ASSURANCE GIVEN

LONDON, July 21. (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the house of commons today that Britain had received from Chancellor Hitler's confidential envoy renewed assurances of the German government "of their desire to achieve a peaceful settlement of outstanding questions."

The prime minister said these assurances had been given to Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, by Captain Fritz Wiedemann, the German fuehrer's representative.

colorful columns of marching men totalling 50,000, supported by hundreds of tanks and about 50 airplanes.

The spectacle, a highlight of Ging George's state visit to France, attested to the strong bonds that unite Europe's great democratic powers.

Never Before Shown Publicly

Vast throngs lining the route of the parade saw implements of war the French army never before had shown publicly.

They watched columns of trucks swiftly pulling six-inch guns on pneumatic rubber tires and mechanized three-inch anti-aircraft guns with trucks for ammunition.

Fifty infantry trucks, each mounting two machine-guns and carrying ten soldiers armed with repeating guns, paraded past together with tanks ranging from tiny whippets to rolling fortresses.

More Jobs To Be Available

Not only will NYA students jobs be available at Texas Technological college next scholastic year, but graduate jobs will be available under a separate program, Dr. James M. Gordon, chairman of the executive committee, has learned.

J. C. Kellam, state NYA director, has notified the college that he has received information from Aubrey Williams, executive director, that the jobs will be available but that the Texas program has not yet been set up and that it is not known how many college jobs will be available.

Requirements Are Given

To be eligible for one of the jobs, a student must have reached his 16th birthday and not have passed his 25th. He must be of "good character and show his ability of performing good scholastic work." He must be a regular student enrolled for at least three-fourths of the normal number of hours of college work.

Maximum to be paid to any undergraduate student will be $20 and the average will be $15 a month. Under the new program to be set up for graduate students, the average

More Trees To Be Planted In 'Belt'

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—The government, encouraged by progress in its prairie states "shelterbelt" program, plans to plant trees next spring in 6,000 miles of 115-feet-wide strips of land in six states.

George Phillips, acting chief of the forest service's division of state forests, said this program would be carried on if small trees now growing in leased nurseries throughout the area "come through all right."

Phillips said that so far 84,000,000 trees have been set out in strips 115 feet wide in North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. The total length of these strips is approximately 7,000 miles.

Trees have been placed on 13,000 farms. Survival of plantings in the semi-arid sections ranges from 65 to 70 per cent, Phillips said. The highest tree death rate was in Kansas.

Family Recreation Discussed At Meeting Of County Club

Family recreation in the yard was discussed at a meeting of the Broadview Home Demonstration club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. R. Ballard. A roundtable discussion of "The Value of Play to the Happiness of the Family" was led by Mrs. C. L. Simkins and Mrs. C. F. Young talked on "Making and Placing of Play Equipment."

The club planned a social for non club members and their families for August 5 at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. F. M. Roberson.

A picnic lunch was served to Mesdames W. E. Kirby, Will Stacy, T. A. Hines, Jack Eason, Simkins, Roberson, Young, O. R. Hines, E. B. Shipp, J. H. Barnett and Miss Elma Simkins, a guest.

Word has been received from the W. C. Alders who have been visiting San Francisco and other points on the west coast. They visited the site of the Golden Gate International exposition. Mrs. Alder is the former Miss Verna Upton.

Abolition Of Child Labor Is Predicted

DALLAS, July 21 (AP)—Ben H. Powell of Austin, president of the Texas Bar association, predicted child labor would be abolished in Texas and labor conditions would remain settled when the new wages and hours act goes into effect next fall.

Speaking before industrialists and southwestern chamber of commerce school delegates at a Dallas Rotary club luncheon Wednesday, Powell urged Texans to give the new law a chance to prove itself.

"We have tried for years to abolish child labor in the mills and factories," he said.

"I think that in a few years we will realize better results are obtained when labor and capital are satisfied with each other and there are no strikes."

Sinclair Lewis Is Ready To Make His Professional Bow As Actor; Has The 'Blues'

COHASSET, Mass., July 21. (AP)—Sinclair Lewis, Nobel prize novelist who temporarily revamped himself into an actor for the summer tourist trade, was ready today to make his professional bow—with no preperformance jitters, but a bad case of "blues" about Boston and Cambridge culture.

"It's beyond all belief that Boston with its tradition of culture and its history in the American theatre, should be without a play at this time—or any time—and its people forced go to Cohasset to see one," said the red-haired author, who will play the lead, beginning July 25, in a dramatic adaptation of his own book, "It Can't Happen Here."

"We talk about being superior to fascist countries of Europe," continued the man whose stage role will be that of an anti-fascist Vermont newspaperman, "and we talk about being superior to communistic Russia, but at the same time we have cities like Boston lacking in theatre—one of the most definite signs of culture and civilized enjoyment of life."

Securities Commission Begins First Action On Holding Unit

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP)—The Securities commission, acting under the utility holding company act, began today its first action to simplify a major utility holding company system.

Chairman William O. Douglas announced a hearing would be held here August 8 to determine what steps the $300,000,000 utilities power and light corporation should take to limit operations "to a single integrated public utility system."

The commission will consider whether the company should be required to rid itself of interest in "any or all" of its 45 subsidiaries.

Clothes Make Nudist Star A Glamor Girl

What Vienna Did To Lamarr — What Hollywood Did To Lamarr

Clothes and Hollywood make-up have made a new woman of the Viennese nudist cinema star, Hedy Lamarr. In "Ecstasy," which should have had the Motion Picture Academy award as the most banned picture of all time, there were moments, the censors said, when Hedy didn't wear a stitch. And those who saw the film credited Hedy (her name was Keisler then) with being about as glamorous as a girl wearing pantaloons in a bathing beauty contest. Now Hedy has made her Hollywood debut in "Algiers." They've given her a wardrobe of flowing silks and laces, and a modern coiffure. And previewers of the movie are hailing Hedy as a 1938 glamor girl.

Top Of 28 Cents Is Paid For Western Wool In Colorado

DENVER, July 21. (AP)—A top of 28 cents a pound, the highest price paid for western wool since last August, was offered in the final day of Denver's July wool auction Wednesday.

The top price was paid for a lot of 2,500 pounds of choice Colorado wool produced in Colorado's North Park section near Walden. Another 1,600-pound lot of Colorado wool brought 25.75 cents.

The highest previous price in the first two days of the sale which marketed a total of 1,195,000 pounds of wool, was 23.5, paid yesterday for two lots of Montana wool.

Reed Warnick, spokesman for Merrion & Wilkins Co., handlers of the auction, reported 235,000 pounds were sold in the final sales.

Prices throughout the three days of the sale ranged from 15½ cents to the top of 28 cents, he said.

The company will open a similar three-day auction at Ogden, Utah, today with more than 3,000,000 pounds of wool offered for sale.

Two tablespoons of vinegar added to a cup of milk will sour the milk enough in two minutes to use it in recipes calling for sour milk.

Seed Testing Laboratory Work Is Resumed Here This Morning

The state seed testing laboratory resumed its work Thursday, according to Early Peltier, seed analyst, with headquarters in the agricultural building annex at Texas Technological college. The laboratory was closed July 7, and samples were sent to Austin for testing.

"We have tested 852 samples from this area this season," said Peltier. "The average germination was high and exceptionally good, as compared to previous years. The noxious weeds found in the samples we handled were very few, showing that farmers are taking more pains to keep their fields and seeds free from those.

"Work of the noxious weeds is Johnson grass. We have been trying to get the state rid of these, both by rigid tests in the laboratory and by cooperation of the farmers."

Peltier has been on a vacation. He is prepared to handle all samples promptly, he said.

To make a novel, colorful summer salad, stuff dark red seeded cherries with white cream cheese. Serve 12 per portion on crisp lettuce leaves. Add a thick French dressing.

To revive cut flowers, cut their stems, under water, with scissors. Do not remove the flowers from the water for at least half an hour. Then re-arrange them in a vase or bowl of fresh cold water.

It's No Surprise That You're Constipated!
If constipation has you bogged down so you feel tired, sunk, all played out—it's time you asked yourself some questions!
What have you had to eat lately? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? It's no surprise you're constipated! The chances are you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.
If this is what you lack, your ticket is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day. It contains the "bulk" you need plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B1.
Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and take a new lease on life! All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Lubbock County Voters Poised For Trip To Election Polls Saturday

Data Is Offered On Balloting In County; Rules Are Posted

Precinct election judges this morning began calling at the office of Ed D. Allen, county clerk, for ballot boxes, official ballots, instruction cards, poll lists, tally sheets, distance markers, returning blanks and other supplies necessary to conducting the Saturday first primary of the Democratic nominations.

The supplies will be taken today and Friday to the various polling places.

Lubbock county is poised for a trip to the polls Saturday, when the first Democratic primary eliminates all but two candidates in nominating races having more than two contestants and deciding nominations of candidates in races having no more than two.

Many Do Not Know

However, one of the conceded weaknesses of the two-primary system is that too many persons do not know how to cast their ballot properly.

Do you know if you are entitled to vote? Where you should go to mark your ballot? How to mark the ballot so as not to mutilate it?

Those questions are as important as making up your mind as to what candidate in a given race should be favored.

As to who should vote, H. B. Bryan, county assessor-collector, has issued the following information for benefit of Lubbock county election judges, to clarify a much-wondered-at problem of the public:

Those Who Can Vote

"Young persons who have become 21 years old since Jan. 1, 1937, or who will reach the age of 21 during 1938 (before the election in which they intend to vote) must have obtained their exemption certificates from the tax collector before Feb. 1, 1938. (Ruling from the attorney general's department: Persons who become 21 between Feb. 1, 1938, and before the election in which they intend to vote and who live outside the city limits of a city of 10,000 inhabitants may vote without having obtained an exemption certificate).

"Persons who were 60 years old prior to Jan. 1, 1937, who live in the city of Lubbock must have obtained their exemption certificates prior to Feb. 1, 1938. (One exemption certificate having been issued, none other is necessary).

"Persons who live in a city or town of less than 10,000 inhabitants or in the rural section who are permanently exempt from the payment of poll tax need not obtain an exemption certificate, but may continue to vote as they have in the past.

Transfers Required In City

"Transfers of poll tax and exemption certificates are required only in the city of Lubbock."

In general, to be a qualified voter one must be a citizen of the United States, 21 years old, a resident of the state 12 months, of the county in which he offers to vote six months and must have paid a poll tax or obtained an exemption certificate.

One may not vote in the primaries if he is not 21 years old, even though he will become 21 before the general election.

Here's How To Vote

How does one vote in the primary?

The ballot for primary elections will be headed "Official Ballot" and you must obtain one from the election judges and prepare it at the place prepared for that purpose by the election judges.

You vote by marking out all the names for whom you do not desire to vote. More on this later.

The name of the presiding judge of the election will be written on the opposite side of the ballot. After preparing your ballot, fold it so that his name will be visible and deliver it to one of the election judges. If the name of the presiding judge does not appear on the opposite side of your ballot call the election judge's attention to the omission.

Do Not Carry Notes

Do not carry to the polling place any marked, sample or dummy ballot, or any paper or ballot on which is marked or printed the names of those for or against whom you have decided to vote.

If you need any assistance in the preparation of your ballot it must be given by the election judges, and a heavy fine and imprisonment is imposed on any judge or clerk who by word, sign or token indicates how he desires you to vote.

Do not forget to carry your poll tax receipt or exemption certificate, if one is necessary, with you to the voting place. However, if you have lost it you may make affidavit to that effect.

If you should mutilate or deface your ballot, notify the election judge in order that you may receive a new ballot in its place.

Should Be Numbered

Your ballot should be numbered. See that this requirement is complied with.

Do not loiter or electioneer while the polls are open, within 100 feet of them.

It goes without saying that idiots and lunatics are not allowed to vote; neither are paupers supported by the county, persons convicted of any felony, subject to such exceptions as the legislature may make, or soldiers, marines and seamen employed in the service of the army or navy of the United States.

A Reassuring Note

A reassuring note is sounded in the law when it provides that voters shall, in all cases, except treason, felony or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at elections, and in going to and returning therefrom.

Where would you vote?

The most rudimentary knowledge of the city's streets, plus a glance at the sample ballot recently carried by Avalanche-Journal publications will give you the answer.

There are 18 election precincts in the county, seven of which are in the city of Lubbock. Precinct 1 extends all the distance south of the alley bisecting the block between Broadway and Main streets, and east of Avenue Q to Avenue H. Precinct 2 has the same northern boundary and extends all the way eastward from Avenue H. Precinct 3 is bound on the south by the alley running between Broadway and Main and extends all the way eastward from Avenue H. Precinct 4 has the same southern boundary and lies between Avenue Q and Avenue H all the way to the city limits or beyond. Precincts 5, 6 and 7 lie on the western margin of the city and extend to the western limits or beyond, all bound on the east by Avenue Q. North boundary of precinct 5 is Nineteenth street. Precinct 6 is bound on the south by Nineteenth street, on the north by the alley between Main and Broadway, which is the southern boundary of precinct 7.

Vote At Courthouse

Those who live in precincts 1, 2, 3 and 4 will vote at the courthouse, in offices in the four corners of the building corresponding to directions of their precincts from the court house. For instance, one in precinct 1, which is southwest of the court house, will vote in the county court room, which is in the southwest corner of the building. And so on.

Precinct 5 voters will go to Dupre school, precinct 6 to Junior High school and precinct 7 to K. Carter school.

The same general directions will apply to cast a vote for county precinct candidates. The four commissioner precincts are formed by two lines drawn east and west through the alley between Main and Broadway and north and south down Avenue H, which lines intersect at the site where the court house is. Precincts, beginning with No. 1, in the southwest quarter, procede in counter-clockwise sequence. For example, voters in election precincts 5 and 6 would vote for one of the precinct 1 candidates for county commissioner. Those in election precinct 7 would vote for one offering as a county commissioner for precinct 4.

Time Of Voting

As to where the rural vote should be taken, "that would require the individual voter to know the number of his own section," said one informant. All voters shall ballot in the election precinct in which they reside, the law reads.

The polls will be open Saturday from 8 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock at night.

Other general information:

Use a black pencil in marking your ballot.

Placing a cross by the name of a candidate for whom the voter does not wish to vote is not sufficient, and such ballot should not be counted, the courts have ruled. It is important that you draw horizontal lines through the names of such persons, leaving unmarked the name of your favorite in a given race.

Another interesting ruling of the courts: There is no statutory law prohibiting a mutilated ballot being counted if the intent of the voter can be ascertained in the light of surrounding circumstances, but the voter should take no chances. By turning in his defaced ballot to the election judge he will be given a new ballot. This may be done three times, but not more.

No Vehicles To Be Used

No vehicles shall be used by any person to convey voters to the voting places unless the voter is physically unable to go or enter the polling place without assistance.

Texas, which has a law on its statutes saying a person may carry a pistol in places where there are resident wild Indians, provides that whoever, other than a peace officer, shall carry any gun, pistol, bowie knife or other dangerous weapon, concealed or unconcealed, on any day of election, during the hours the polls are open, within the distance of one-half mile of any poll or voting place, shall be severely punished.

So, if you leave your pistol, have paid your poll tax, are old enough, have your exemption certificate, go to the right place, don't electioneer or cause a riot too close to the polling place, and don't mutilate your ballot—well, you will have conformed with the requirements.

SPINNING OPERATIONS LOWER

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP) — The census bureau reported today the cotton spinning industry operated during June at 91.9 per cent of capacity, on a single shift basis, compared with 89.3 per cent during May this year, and 137.0 per cent during June last year.

Soap Carving To Be Activity In Parks Recreation Program In City; Plays To Be On Friday

Soap carving instructions were started Wednesday as part of the city parks recreational program, according to John W. Wilson, supervisor. The city supplied the material—80 bars of laundry soap.

The soap, however, will be supplied only for the start of the work, Wilson warned. Henceforth participants must supply their own materials. Last year, he added, soap carving was one of the activities in which great interest was shown.

Meanwhile, he announced, plans are proceeding for the weekly public programs Friday night which will feature one-act plays. Final dress rehearsals for the playlets are scheduled Thursday night, bringing to a close more than three weeks of rehearsals. Scenes of the various programs will be Pioneer park on Seventh street, Carlisle on Twenty-seventh, Mackenzie and Booker T. Washington.

Roman games played in the Colosseum included chariot races, military reviews and gymnastic contests.

BUILDINGS AUTHORIZED

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP)—The joint treasury-post office committee announced today it had authorized construction of eight new post-office buildings to cost $763,000. The projects (with limit of cost) include: Alvin, Texas, $70,000.

Rail Labor Unions Told They're "Slowly Killing The Goose"

Conference Is On In Chicago

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 21. — H. A. Enochs, chairman of the carriers' joint conference committee, told 1,000 representatives of 18 railroad labor unions Wednesday they were "slowly killing the goose which lays the golden eggs."

Assailing what he called "a feeling of antagonism for employers" among railroad labor organizations, Enochs reiterated the position of railroad management that there was no alternative to the 15 per cent wage slash proposed for an estimated 900,000 employes of class one carriers.

Follows Conferences

Enochs presented his case to the unions affiliated with the Railway Labor Executives' association, following a series of separate conferences on the proposal with the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Enochs has contended the roads were financially unable to continue wage rates.

After conferences with both labor groups, he said the management has heard nothing "which changes our opinion a 15 per cent wage cut must go into effect."

"To Go Down The Line"

A. F. Whitney, president of the trainmen's brotherhood of 140,000 workers, asserted his group would "go down the line" against any reduction.

Enochs scheduled another meeting with association representatives for today and arranged to meet with the trainmen again Friday.

Old Settlers Reunion Opens In Dickens Today; Rain Threatens

DICKENS, July 21. — Threats of rain this morning did not prevent a heavy vanguard of attendance for the two-day fourth annual old settlers reunion beginning today.

Committees have been at work for several weeks making arrangements and they report everything ready.

Events scheduled include a soft ball game daily, goat roping, dancing for old people and for young people, bicycle races for boys and girls, old fiddlers contest and young fiddlers contests and amateur programs.

A carnival is a feature attraction, with special programs.

Cash prizes will be awarded in the contests.

Rabbits use their teeth freely in fighting among themselves, but they will not bite a man even in self-defense.

Is No Honeymoon

Wearing her hair in a severe braid-haloed coiffure in contrast to the breeze-tossed locks associated with Hollywood, Mrs. Don Ameche, wife of the popular movie star, is pictured above as she sailed on the Queen Mary for her first visit to Europe. Someone asked her if the six-week jaunt was to be a second honeymoon. "Gosh, no!" interjected her husband. "We just couldn't afford to go before."

Air Travel Is Seen In Future

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 21. — Howard Hughes, the flier, predicts all intercontinental and transoceanic passenger travel some day will be by air.

He drew a verbal picture last night for 400 persons, who honored him and his 'round-the-world crew at a dinner given by the New York World's fair, of large air transports "not as big as the Queen Mary but certainly much larger than some of our present steamships."

He said they would be landed in New York harbor entirely by instruments and docked with the aid of tugs.

"By this time," he predicted, "surface shipping will be limited to heavy freight."

Hughes and his crew will go to Washington today to call on Secretary of State Hull and be guests at a luncheon of the National Press club and a dinner at the Soviet embassy.

Frankie Parker, right, brought along the missus, the former Mrs. Mercer Beasley, and her son, James Beasley, whose father coached him to success, when he made his first eastern appearance of the season in singles in the Spring Lake, N. Federal Grand Jury In Madison Is Adjourned Until August 3

MADISON, Wis., July 21 (AP)—The federal grand jury which went into session July 12 has adjourned until Aug. 3 without announcement whether investigation had been started on complaints of anti-trust law violations by Mid-Western oil companies.

More than a score of men identified with the oil industry were subpoenaed for testimony before the grand jury. In Washington, John Lewin, special assistant to Attorney General Cummings, recently said he would present the complaints and that the alleged anti-trust law violations involved price fixing. At that time Lewin said he would begin the presentation July 20.

Meanwhile, counsel for 12 oil companies and five individuals convicted in the original oil conspiracy trial last January filed formal notice of appeal.

After upholding the convictions Tuesday, Judge Patrick T. Stone imposed fines totalling $65,000.

More than 150,000 bearing apple trees were uprooted in the fruit districts of Wenatchee, Wash., in 1933, to eliminate undesired varieties and to thin orchards.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Record Vote Is Seen In State

morrow. At Fort Worth last night he referred to Attorney General William McCraw:

"Sweet William was having a good time with his band wagon, but he had an accident. A fellow drifted down from O-H-I-O and ruined the show with a fiddle band."

He termed W. Lee O'Daniel a candidate built up as a mystery man by the corporations.

O'Daniel and his hillbilly band, planned to spend all day today at Fort Worth. Tomorrow he will be at Mineola and Kilgore.

O'Daniel Makes Plea

At McKinney last night the flour manufacturer urged persons thinking of voting for men they knew would not be elected to give serious consideration to casting ballots for him and "roll up a tremendous majority in the primary."

He continued his denunciation of "professional politicians." The attacks on him, O'Daniel said, were "evidence of the political pie in Austin which politicians are afraid they'll lose."

From Kingman, Kan., O'Daniel's former home, friends vouched for the flour-maker's character in a broadcast designed to offset "slurs" against the good name of the candidate.

McCraw At Houston

William McCraw, scheduled for Houston tonight, and to close with a rally in his home town, Dallas, tomorrow, talked little of opponents as he ended a Northeast Texas speaking tour at New Boston, Bowie county, last night.

He stressed his old age assistance program and ridiculed one candidate's proposal to pay all over 65 $30 monthly.

"I propose to humanize the social security program. We must give these old folks enough to live on. I'm not talking about strawberry shortcake and silk hats. I'm talking about paying them enough to live on."

Farmer Attacks O'Daniel

Clarence Farmer, speaking at Waco, called on "red blooded Democrats of Texas" to reject the candidacy of W. Lee O'Daniel.

He said O'Daniel was a "Republican from Kansas" who had no right on the Democratic ticket.

P. D. Renfro, scheduled last night at Houston, cancelled his address because of rain. He said he would speak tonight at Galveston; tomorrow night at Lufkin, his birthplace, and tomorrow afternoon at Orange. There was a possibility he might make a Saturday speech at Jasper, he said.

William H. McDonald, incumbent land commissioner seeking re-election, was meting friends at Eastland his home town, but planned to go to Fort Worth, Dallas and San Antonio before election day.

Other Candidates Active

Bascom Giles, his opponent, spoke at Corsicana. Robert A. Stuart, candidate for railroad commissioner, spoke at Huntsville; O. C. Christie was campaigning at Athens, Jacksonville, and Henderson yesterday; John Wood spoke at Paris, and moved on to Tyler, speaking also at Texarkana. Jerry Sadler, wearing a bell boy's uniform, spoke last night at Houston.

C. V. Terrell, incumbent commissioner, spoke at Plano.

Robert W. Calvert, candidate for attorney general, was at Houston for an address yesterday. Both Gerald Mann and Judge Ralph Yarborough expressed confidence they would be elected attorney general, Mann spoke yesterday at Longview; Yarborough at Houston.

Coke Stevenson closed his North Texas campaign for the lieutenant governorship yesterday at Cooper; Pierce Brooks, aspirant for the same post, spoke at Ennis, and Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock, addressed voters at Clarksville.

More NYA Jobs

will be $30 a month and the maximum will be $40. Heretofore, jobs for graduate students have paid the same as those for undergraduates.

Other Factors Considered

In other years, NYA student jobs have not been available to near all applying. Need, scholarship, citizenship, and character have been taken into consideration in the selection.

It is not known when the program will be completed and the college may learn how many jobs are available and may award the jobs, although probably by Aug. 15. The college has been receiving applications, pending the availability of the jobs.

George H. Earle Of Pennsylvania Is Now 'Non-Flying' Governor; Gets Grounded

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 21. (AP)—George H. Earle became a "non-flying" governor last night when his chief of aeronautics lifted the chief executive's flying license for two weeks after a crack-up.

Colonel Camille Vinet, who taught the governor to fly and later became head of the state aeronautics bureau, grounded the governor.

A few hours earlier, Earle, flying through fog, had to land on the campus of a college near Philadelphia. He clipped the top of a tree, hopped a fence, smacked a wing into another tree—and emerged with painful bruises.

Calls For Another

He promptly called for another plane and flew back to Harrisburg.

Penitent, but grinning, Earle returned to the capital and heard the bad news from Vinet.

"He promised me faithfully, he wouldn't go out on a day as soupy as this," moaned Colonel Camille Vinet, the governor's personal pilot and chief of the state aeronautics bureau.

Earle, with 10 hours solo experience in a straight-winged plane and about 100 hours in the old autogiro he used in campaigning several years ago, started the flight as a practice spin this morning around the Harrisburg state airport.

He was forced down months ago in western Pennsylvania in a heavy storm.

His son, George the fourth, 21, also has been flying solo for some time. They think it's great. Mrs. Earle won't ride with either.

Building Permits Total Nears Number Issued For All Of '37

Permit No. 902 for 1938 was issued to E. N. and J. N. Hunter during the forenoon for a two-story frame garage apartment costing $1,250 at 1302 Thirty-first street. During the whole of last year, 938 permits were granted.

The new permit today increased building permit totals for July to $190,405 and for the year to $1,438,249, the records showed.

Cooper School Opening Held

Several hundred Lubbock county residents were guests of Cooper school district patrons Wednesday on the occasion of the all-day opening ceremonies for the new school building at Woodrow which is still under construction. C. B. Oakes of Abilene is contractor.

Visitors came early and remained late. There was something to see or to be seen all the time. Starting shortly after 9 o'clock and lasting until late in the afternoon, the program was varied and interesting.

Inspection Is Held

The morning was given over mostly to inspection of the high school-grade structure.

In the huge auditorium-gymnasium following inspection, a candidate speaking and pie sale was held, presided over by G. V. Pardue, the county speakers' chairman, and auctioneer. A dozen or more spoke in the morning and the remainder in the afternoon.

Between pie and cake sales conducted by the auctioneer, the Kelly Kids of Lubbock played numbers. Total receipts from the sales was about $45, said Supt. B. M. Hayes. More than 40 pies brought a dollar each.

Two Big Rallies Scheduled

Pardue stressed the speaking at Friday night in the city park west of the City hall. "It will start promptly at 8 o'clock as we have a big program," he added.

In the afternoon, preceding the speaking, Richard Ballenger of Lubbock, son of Mrs. Josephine Ballenger, a Lubbock school teacher and a grandson of the late George C. Cooper, for whom the district and school was named presented a large photograph of his grandfather to the school. It was accepted on behalf of the district by Superintendent Hayes.

Oates, member of the firm of C. S. Oates and son, Abilene, contractors, spoke briefly, expressing pleasure at being able to cooperate with the trustees in holding the day's program. He praised the assistance given him by trustees and school officials.

Rodeo Is Popular

Joe Reiger was in charge of a rodeo which followed the afternoon program. A large crowd witnessed the affair.

Women of the community prepared and served a lunch at noon on the grounds in front of the building. It was estimated at least 700 persons participated, with some food being left over.

Union and Cooper home demonstration club women presided over a soft drink booth and Future Farmers of America over another. Both did a good business.

Officials Are Hosts

District trustees, headed by President W. B. Copeland and school instructors by Superintendent Hayes, were hosts to visitors, showing them through the structure. Other trustees are: D. W. Huckabee, secretary, Charlie Boyd, D. H. Frank, W. S. Mash, S. D. Nelson and C. C. Webb.

Sacks were placed on the floor of the gymnasium, as the floor has not been finished, to prevent marks caused by heavy shoes.

Visitors were noted from other rural school districts over the county, both superintendents or teachers and trustees.

Numerous farmers were unable to attend during the morning, some coming in for the noon meal, because of rush of farm work. So much crop working remained to be done that many farmers felt unable to spare the entire day.

Barbecue To Be Held

Annual barbecue given by the district will be held, probably the Tuesday before Thanksgiving, Supt. Hayes said. At that time it is hoped to have a formal dedication.

School sessions begin the first Monday in September. Supt. Hayes said it would take most of the time between now and that date to get the building and grounds ready.

Haynes and Strange of Lubbock were architects for the structure. It is the fourth rural high school building to be erected in the county within recent years. Erected with aid from PWA, the project is No. 1,132 D. S. for the state of Texas.

Besides the school building there are five cottages for use of Superintendent Hayes and the teaching staff and the custodian. Material from the razed old Woodrow building will be used in erecting a garage for the school buses.

A football ground for athletic events will be made on the large grounds. More than 700 trees have been planted. Much landscape work is to be done before the grounds are ready.

Camp Head Jailed

Smiling as he goes off to jail, Ernst Mueller, above, president of the German-American Settlement League, Inc., is pictured after his conviction in a Riverhead, L. I., court of violating the New York State Civil Rights Law. Mueller and and five co-defendants, who operated a camp for U. S. Nazis at Yaphank, L. I., were fined $500 each and sentenced to a year in jail. Jail sentences were suspended except in Mueller's case.

No-Run Games Are Rare

By Tom Miller

Although it probably will not be startling to many readers, who realize that ball as played in the West Texas-New Mexico league is far from perfect offensively and defensively, Marvin Gramly's shutout of Hobbs Tuesday night was the eighth such performance of the season in the loop. It is startling, however, that half those scoreless games came in the first month of the race when a premium was on a pitcher who could last a whole game. Pat Stasey of Big Spring turned the trick his first time out the second day of the chase.

Lefty Jerry Blanchard, our departed flopeared lefthander, and veteran Red Roberts of Wink each have two shutouts credited to them. But going down the list in order here they are:

April 28—At Big Spring, Midland 9; Big Spring 6, Stasey allowed two hits.

May 8—At Lubbock, Wink 0; Lubbock 13, Blanchard pitched a no-hitter in the seven-inning nightcap of a doubleheader.

May 10—At Wink, Big Spring 0; Wink 7, Roberts allowed two hits.

May 21—At Midland, Hobbs 0; Midland 6, Chief Benny Franklin gave up four hits.

June 13—At Midland, Midland 0; Wink 3, Roberts allowed four hits.

June 19—At Midland, Lubbock 0; Midland 4, Lefty Parks allowed three hits in seven innings.

July 4—At Lubbock, Clovis 0; Lubbock 9, Blanchard gave up two hits.

July 19—At Lubbock, Hobbs 0, Lubbock 5, Gramly allowed three hits.

Roberts is only chunker to spread a calcimining on the home club, that at Midland June 13. Each club in the circuit has been shutout at least once, with Lubbock figuring in four, three to its credit. Midland is even at two and two. Clovis had been on the embarrassing end once and never on the victorious side.

Those are only actual scoreless games, although several pitchers have earned no-run games.

Starting with the top salaries of Babe Ruth, Rogers Hornsby, and Lou Gehrig, it would require upward of $350,000 to assemble the highest paid nine baseball stars of all-time on one diamond. Rarely are salaries divulged outright by club-owners, but they always leak out and a fair estimate may be placed on each player.

Ruth drew $80,000 to hit home runs and shag flies for the Yankees in his heyday and Hornsby got $40,000 to manage the Chicago Cubs and do a little secondbasing. Gehrig is pulling down the latter figure this year, though his hitting average has sunk this year below the .300 mark—by several points.

Here's the lineup of our high priced nine: Catcher, Mickey Cochrane of Detroit, $45,000.

Pitcher, Dazzy Vance, $25,000 from Brooklyn—his probably was more, and Dizzy Dean, Lefty Grove, and Lefty Gomez likely could replace him.

First base, Gehrig; second base, Hornsby; third base, Joe Dugan of the Yankees, $18,000; and Shortstop Dave Bancroft of the Giants, $18,000.

Outfielders, Ruth; Hack Wilson of the Cubs, $33,000; and Al Simmons of the White Sox, $27,000. Joe DiMaggio remained out of that outfield not of his own accord.

The above lineup does not include many names that would be foremost in any fans mind as the all-time, all-star team. The Wagners, Walshes, Speakers, Cobbs, etc., probably could be had in their days for an aggregate under the Ruthian figure. The boys who pitched both ends of a doubleheader in one day and went on for twenty years without complaining over a sore arm got only meager salaries.

Pitch-outs: Sam West has increased his batting average to .311 . . . they are panning the strategy of Joe McCarthy in the all-star game at Cincinnati. . . say he should not have moved Jimmy Foxx to third base, a position which has become unfamiliar to him. . . Gabby Hartnett's appointment as Charley Grimm's successor at the Cub helm is a move the big workhouse deserved. . . Joe Bihl's driving range is proving quite popular with the golf bugs, and tonight the women get another break with a contest all their own.

Hartnett Is In Grimm's Post In Chicago

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago Cubs' set of three brain trusters, which couldn't do a thing about hitting slumps and pitching failures, and which didn't particularly impress the rest of the National league, gave way today to a two-man board of strategy headed by the county fair guy, Gabby Hartnett.

The unveiling of the large figure of Garrulous Gabby as head man of the Cubs, succeeding Cholly Grimm, overshadowed the rest of a colorful baseball picture, which included the Yankees-Indians doubleheader for the American league lead in Col. Jake Ruppert's big ballyard, and the game-and-a-half grip the Pirates held in the senior circuit chase.

Cubs Change Pilots Again

The Cubs, famous for years for changing hosses in mid-stream, did it again in loading Grimm's woes on the 220-pound frame of the big fighting Irishman. You can rest assured there'll be no change in policy, for, in giving the heave-to one fighter, Grimm, Phil Wrigley is leading off with another in Hartnett. Both of them keep their sleeves rolled up.

But in the background, somehow, you see the quiet figure of the other half of the board of strategy, Tony Lazzeri, and you wonder how he fits into the picture. There's the angle that Gabby is getting the chance because he deserved it, but think back to last October when Tony signed with the Cubs, and recall that tongues were wagging all over the place about old Poosh 'Em Opp's ambition to boss a big league club.

"Crooshal" Twin Bill Today

While Gabby and his new job took the play from the National league pennant race for the moment, it was somewhat less important to the junior circuit fans, and particularly those in the neighborhood of the Bronx, N. Y. Some 75,000 were all set to pack their way into the house that Ruth built there to take in the "crooshal" bargain bill between the Tribe and the Yanks.

Gehrig and company went into the pair of tilts boasting a half-game edge on the Tribe. Both clubs led their aces, the Yanks relying on the southpaw of Lefty Gomez and the right-hand shots of Rufus the Red Ruffing, while Oscar Vitt called on Johnny Allen and Bobby Feller.

Meantime, Pittsburgh and St. Louis continued to be the chief battlegrounds in the National league race. The Pirates, by splitting a twin bill with the Phillies yesterday, increased their lead by a full game over the Giants, who took two beatings at the hands of the Cardinals' southpaw pitching.

The Phils featured a ten-run fifth inning to wallop the Bucs 11-0 in their first game, but Russ Bauers turned in a five-hitter for a 4-1 Pirate win in the nightcap. Clyde Shoun stopped the Giants with four hits to give the Cards a 7-2 victory in their opener. Lefty Bob Weiland fanned ten and Johnny Mize hit three homers and the Cards clicked 7-1 in the afterpiece.

The Reds dropped back to fourth place, behinds the Cubs, by losing a 4-3 decision to the Boston Bees in a Cincinnati night game. Max West's ninth-inning homer turned the trick for the Bees.

Only one other game got by old man weather on the program. In that one, the Senators socked the Detroit Tigers, 7-2, behind Wes Ferrell's effective elbowing.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 21. — Maybe Tony Galento can't box but he certainly can be funny. . . . Latest about the pride of Orange, N. J., concerns his interior decorating depot. . . . Tony couldn't figure out why the place didn't pay so he went into conference with the proprietor of a successful place in Newark. . . . "Well, suppose I look at your books," said his friend. . . . "What books?" asked Tony. . . . "Didn't you keep books for your place," asked the other. "Listen, partner," replied the great man, "people come to my place to drink beer, not read."

Maybe it's the pitching that has made the Indians a pennant-bound outfit but this agent thinks it's the old hustle. . . . Lyn Lary is making plays he never even tried for a year ago. . . . Tuesday at the stadium he raced clear into center field, batted Bill Dickey's looper with one hand and caught it with the other. . . . Then, just to make it stick, he did it again later in the game. . . . For which, Lyn, you may take a bow. . . . And did you ever stop and think of the Yanks are beaten out by the tribe this year Johnny Allen and Lary, two ex-Yanks will have a lot to do with it.

That's swell news from Montreal. . . . Couple of Weeks ago the fans up there were after Rabbit Maranville's scalp. . . . Now they're packing the park (10,000 of them last night) to cheer him and the Royals. . . . The team has gone unbeaten in nine games, which is plenty of baseball in any league. . . . And they couldn't have done it for a grander guy than the old Rab. . . . Looks like Fred Wolcott of Rice, who is just about the classiest hurdler the Southwest produced in years, can win anywhere. . . . He captured the 110-meter high hurdles in 14.2 in Stockholm yesterday. . . . That's slightly faster than crawling, comrades.

Well that situation at Chicago is finally ironed out. . . . Wonder what will happen to Signor Tony Lazzeri, who between you, me and the Eiffel tower is one of the really smart baseball men, now that Gabby Hartnett has taken over the job of managing the Cubs. . . . Wouldn't it be fun if the Cubs started to click in the National right now. . . . And with Mr. Dizzy Dean apparently ready for something besides oral manslaughter they might do just that. . . . Dean made a poor manager out of Grimm and it wouldn't surprise this department if he made a great one of old Chas. Leo Hartnett.

Tonic For National Leaguers Prescribed By Branch Rickey

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21. — Branch Rickey, guiding spirit of the St. Louis Cardinals, prescribed a tonic today for the National league which included "more unity and coherence and a concerted dislike" for the rival American league.

To the question, "What's wrong with the National league?" the vice president of the Cardinals and head of its vast minor league empire, replied: "Plenty."

Sizes Up Situation

He sized it up this way: "For 50 years the National league clubs have concentrated attention on beating each other. The American league and the World's series have been regarded as only incidents.

"Our clubs have thought only in terms of their own league and winning the pennant. The result was inevitable. After the pennant race, the letdown set in. Instead of bristling with fighting spirit and adopting an attitude of 'now to clean up on those American league upstarts,' our winning team much of the time has figuratively yawned while remembering it had a World's series engagement coming up."

Hubbers Sweep Hobbs Series; Go There

An eight-run fifth inning rally Thursday night blasted a four-run lead of the Hobbs Boosters and Lubbock's Hubbers went out ahead to finish in a 12 to 5 lead.

Russell Needham limited Lubbock's hitting to two safeties by Bob Mosel through four innings, but encountered a wild streak in the fifth to put runners on the hassocks for home run clouts by Joe Gedzius and Al Car. That turned the tide in favor of the Hubbers.

The two teams trek to Hobbs for games tonight and Thursday night. Lubbock moves to Wink Friday.

Boosters Score First

Hobbs drew first blood in the second inning last night when Tony Bonk opened with a single off Gedzius' glove. Trav Padgett waited out a pass, and Skipper Neal Rabe sacrificed Bonk to third. Bonk scored when Jim White, former Texas Tech freshman gridster, lined out to Boyd Watkins in center.

Three more runs were chased over by the Boosters in the fourth. Bonk walked to open the frame. Padgett hit a hot one toward rightfield on which Mal Stevens made a beautiful stop, but his quick throw to second went wild and both runners were safe. Rabe singled to left, scoring Bonk.

White struck out, but all runners were safe when Mosel dropped Gedzius' throw on Needham's bouncer. Gordon Loken batted Padgett and Rabe across with a single to leftcenter, but Needham was trapped at third, Carr to Gedzius to Taylor. Jack Davis singled and Frank Hargrove hit back to Ernest Terry, who tossed him out at first.

Gedzius, Carr Homer

Bobby Hillin started the big fifth with a walk. Pete Melito skimmed a single to left and Terry was safe on Davis' throw which Hargrove was unable to take out of the dirt. Hillin scored on the play. Gedzius looped a high one over the rightfield barricade.

Mosel kept things rolling with a walk. Taylor forced Mosel at second, Stevens was given a life on interference by catcher Rabe, and Watkins walked. That set the stage for Carr's liner over the rightfield palings. Hillin flied out to Bonk in right and Terry fanned.

One Added In Sixth

Lubbock added one in the sixth on Mosel's triple and Taylor's single that White could not handle down the third base line and another in the seventh on Watkin's walk. Carr's high pop-up in the box, and two sacrifices. Carr's fly caught the Boosters off stride and fell for a hit. Hillin laid a bunt down the third base line, and Melito placed another there, with Watkins crossing the plate.

Cecil Smyly's double and Rabe's single produced a marker for Hobbs in the eighth. Mal Stevens got into the home run swing in the Hubber eighth with Taylor on first for Lubbock's final runs.

Terry hurled well after the opening innings and allowed only seven hits for the night. He retired eleven by the strikeout route. Needham fanned ten.

Mosel's single, double, and triple in four innings gave him hitting honors. Loken and Rabe each hit twice for Hobbs, as did Taylor and Carr for the homelings.

Team Of U. S. Track Stars Is Leading Stockholm Contest

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 21 (AP)—A strong team of touring track athletes from the United States started the second day of the international meet here with a handsome lead over competitors from all over Europe.

Led by Ben Johnson, Chuck Fenske and Fred Wolcott, the invaders took five of yesterday's seven opening events.

Wolcott, Rice's hurdling star, captured the 110-meter highs in 14.2.

Gabby Had No Hopes Of Job Now Holding

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 21. — Gabby Hartnett went to work today on a job he had lost hope of getting—manager of Chicago's Cubs.

Steadily for years—until late yesterday when he announced Charlie Grimm's outright release — Owner P. K. Wrigley had said his next manager would not be chosen from the Cub roster; that none of the players would be elevated from the ranks.

Can Do Most Good

Wrigley even had asserted a willingness to release the 37-year-old Charles Leo when the veteran catcher's name was mentioned prominently for manager of the Brooklyn Dodges and the Cincinnati Reds.

But Gabby, Wrigley now says, is the man "who could do the most for the club." The owner of the Cubs added that he had lost a lot of sleep over his athletes' misfortunes this year.

Wrigley said Grimm "has done a great job" but that a change would be "best for the organization." Grimm will be paid until his contract expires Dec. 31. Somewhat downcast, the jovial former first baseman left for his Missouri farm and hoped to make some connection with another major league club.

Congratulates Hartnett

He succeeded Rogers Hornsby as manager Aug. 2, 1932, and piloted the Cubs to pennants that year and in 1935. His only comment on his release was a brief "that's baseball." He had a broad grin and a slap on the back for his close friend Hartnett.

The ruddy-faced Gabby will finish out the year under his player-coach contract. No new one has been or will be offered Wrigley said.

Both Wrigley and the supremely happy Hartnett said the much talked of "board of strategy" would remain unchanged with Tony Lazzeri, the ex-Yankee, remaining as coach and utility player, and Roy Johnson and John (Red) Corriden as coaches.

McDOWELL WON'T PLAY

DALLAS, July 21 (AP)—Clyde McDowell, Fort Worth second baseman who was selected by fans to play for the north in the Texas league's golden jubilee game Saturday, will be unable to play because of injuries and Ivan Crawford of Tulsa will take his place.

League officials made the announcement yesterday. Crawford, outhitting McDowell by five points, is regarded as a fine defensive player.

Vitt Not Making Any Pennant Predictions For His Indians

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 21. — Oscar Vitt, who has been teaching the Cleveland Indians how to take the brewer's big horses at Yankee stadium, won't make any pennant predictions right now, but he will admit that he, and baseball, are getting more wacky every year.

The Indians are in town for what was to have been a "crooshal" four-game series with the Yankees. Rain washed out yesterday's double header and left the clubs a double bill today and a slight lessening of tension all around—that is for all except Mr. Vitt.

"This pennant thing has everyone up in the air. You know we have a pretty good ball club. We went to Washington for a series and what happens. Don't tell me. I know. We lost two out of three to the Senators and then played bad ball in Philadelphia.

In other years this would have washed the war paint off the Indians but this year the Tribe is "staying in there" come good days or bad.

Fourteen Teams From 6 States In Denver Post's Tournament

DENVER, July 21 (AP)—Five states are represented by the 14 teams entered in the 23rd annual Denver Post baseball tournament opening in Merchants park tonight.

The Golden, Colo., Coors team, regarded as the strongest of the Colorado contenders, will play the Minnesota Mines team of Empire, Colo., at 8:30 p. m., mountain standard time, in the curtain raiser.

Oklahoma is represented by two teams, the Enid Eason Oilers and the Duncan Cementers, runnersup last year. Texas has sent the Huber Carbons of Borger, and Nebraska the Ogallala Indians. Wyoming is the fifth state represented.

Marshall Relief Hurler Wins His Own Game Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

League leading Marshall's relief hurler Ray Raymond won his own game last night as the Tigers trounced Henderson 9-8.

Raymond singled to score Bill Crawford from third with two out, and gave his mates their single-run-ten-inning victory.

Meanwhile in the only other East Texas league game played Longview pounded Palestine hurlers for 24 hits, burying the Pals under a 16-9 score.

Rain washed out the Jacksonville at Tyler; Kilgore at Texarkana scheduled encounters. Doubleheaders were planned at both places tonight.

Grid Stars To Perform Here

All-state, and all-district men will make up the Northern and Southern elevens who meet on Texas Tech field the night of August, 6. The game climaxes a six day coaching school.

The game is final gesture of the coaching schooi sponsored annually by the Texas High School Coaching association. The Southern team was chosen from the south half of Texas by a committee composed of Standard Lambert of Austin, chairman; Jake Hanna of Gladewater, J. D. Foster of Mexia, and Raymond Berry of Corpus Christi.

Have Received Recognition

The aggregation includes five all-star players from the team selected at the conclusion of last season by the Associated Press and one all-state Class B performer. In all 16 of the 26 members were chosen on one or more all-state teams. Others gained at least all-district recognition.

Joe Swarting, a 175-pound end of Waco; Euel Wesson, 215-pound end of Temple; Jesse Hawthorne, 180-pound end of Port Arthur; Chal Daniel, 185-pound guard of Longview; and Dick Miller, 143-pound back of Longview, were first-choices of the Associated Press. Wesson was placed at a tackle position.

Howell Ponton, an end from San Saba, is an all-state Class B selection.

First Major Activity Outlined For New Southwest Secretary

DALLAS, July 21. (AP)—The first major action of James W. (Jimmy) St. Clair, new executive secretary of the Southwest athletic conference, will be an attempt to standardize rules interpretation and improve officiating.

The Southern Methodist university director of physical education announced he had been granted permission by the university to accept the newly created post with the conference.

St. Clair, who will continue with the university, will have as his principal duty with the conference supervision and appointment of officials for conference games.

The new program will not be put into operation until the start of the next basketball season.

Broad National Health Program To Be Requested Of Next Congress

Legislation To Have Support

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP) — Miss Josephine Roche, chairman of the president's committee on medical care, said today the 1939 congress would be asked to authorize a broad national health program.

She declined to discuss its scope, but indicated it would be patterned after the $850,000,000-a-year plan submitted to the national health conference earlier this week.

Program Is Criticized

The big question was the probable attitude of the American Medical association toward such legislation. Officials of the society criticized the committee's program as not answering the problem of obtaining adequate medical care for all.

It was apparent, however, that the legislation would have the backing of a sizeable group of doctors. The Committee of Physicians, composed of "rebel" leaders in the AMA, called a meeting in New York today to discuss results of the health conference.

Have Endorsed Proposals

Members of the committee who attended the sessions here declared they were not representing the entire group. Individually, however, they endorsed the proposals of the president's committee for federal subsidization of medical care, the building of hospitals with government funds, and efforts to control major diseases.

The $850,000,000 program was not put to a vote in the conference, which closed yesterday, but delegates representing labor and farm organizations expressed individual approval.

Mrs. Dollie Feagan Jones Dies In San Angelo Late Tuesday

Mrs. Dollie Feagan Jones, 20, former beauty at Texas Technological college, died in San Angelo late Tuesday and will be buried there today, according to word received by friends here Wednesday.

Mrs. Jones, then Miss Dollie Feagan, was selected one of the eight La Ventana beauties at Tech in the 1935-36 session.

Death came after a 19 day illness. Mrs. Jones had undergone major surgery July 8. She was in critical condition afterward more than a week but was later considered to be improved in condition.

She is survived by her husband, Johnny Jones, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Feagan of San Angelo. Her father is employed by the Santa Fe Railway company.

Texas League Teams Swap Opponents; Lead Unchanged

(By The Associated Press)

Texas league teams swapped opponents for series today with the postions of league leaders relatively unchanged.

Beaumont, conqueror of Dallas 6-1 last night, was two-and-a-half games behind league leading Tulsa, winner over Houston by an identical score, as the Oilers' Lefty Max Thomas hung up his eighteenth pitching victory of the season.

San Antonio's Missions clouted sixteen hits off two Fort Worth hurlers in downing the Cats 10-5. Oklahoma City beat Shreveport 10-4, chasing in five runs in the sixth inning.

Three Sports' players were banished after arguments over decisions; Red Harvel in the fourth, Joe Vitter and Manager Hub Northen in the sixth.

SIGNS COLLEGE STARS

PHILADELPHIA, July 21. (AP) — Coach Bert Bell today announced he had signed six recent college stars to play with the Philadelphia Eagles, professional football team. The newcomers included Wallace Johnson, blocking back at Austin college, Texas.

Hill Finishes Off Thomas

Don Hill won the second and third falls in the total time of 11 minutes to finish off Soldier Thomas in the main event at Sled Allen's auditorium, Wednesday night.

Thomas won the initial fall with a series of body slams climaxed by a well executed airplane whirl that put the Hollywood battler into oblivion.

Hill came back to take the second fall in five minutes with a neat Japanese crab. Losing no time in the third fall Hill used a body twist to gain the decision in six minutes.

In the semi-final bout George Hartay took 15 minutes to polish off the colorful Dizzy Dilly Davis It looked for a while like the Houstonian might get going and win a match but Hartay slipped in with a headlock and it was all over.

Gorilla Pogi tried to turn the tables on "Bad Boy" Hagen but by the time he could get started Hagen was decidedly the winner. Result was a default on the part of Pogi after he refused to break a hold.

That Girl on Broadway says the only thing that doesn't become smaller when it's contracted is a debt.

Most misery is self-inflicted.

YESTERDAY, The Plainsman told readers of this column about a candidate for state office who, because of his antipathy toward West Texas generally and Texas Tech in particular, does not deserve support of the voters in this area. Talking about Harry Graves, of Georgetown, candidate for the Court of Criminal Appeals, we recalled his record while a member of the House of Representatives — a record not favorable to this section or to the college — and let it go at that.

Readers armed with that knowledge can vote for Graves if they want to. It's none of our business. We just wanted to "keep the record straight."

Today, we want to "keep the record straight" again, this time in another way.

We want to call attention to a state candidate who has, over a decade or more, been a stalwart friend of West Texas and of Texas Tech, although he lives about as far away from us as is possible and still remain in Texas.

We refer to Walter Woodul, of Houston, present lieutenant-governor and by long odds the leader in the present race for attorney-general.

AS IN the case of Harry Graves' candidacy, The Plainsman has no personal interest in Woodul's race.

He never has business with the attorney-general's office. He isn't after any job in the attorney-general's department and has no friends or relatives seeking anything at the hands of the attorney-general's office.

As far as the writer personally is concerned, John Zilch would be all right as attorney-General.

But from a standpoint of West Texas in general, and Texas Tech in particular, we give you a smattering of the Woodul record from our own section's angle.

Armed with the information, do as you please. We're not attempting to dictate anybody's vote; the result is no skin off'n our nose.

But since he became a member of the Senate from Harris county 10 years ago, Walter Woodul has never failed to lend a sympathetic ear to Lubbock and West Texas citizens (The Plainsman included)) who from time to time showed up in Austin seeking legislation favorable to West Texas Public interests, or for Texas Tech.

Although a "down-stater," Walter Woodul never failed to lend a helping hand. He worked for us behind the scenes and he voted right on West Texas measures—every time.

Later, when he became lieutenant-governor, he further gave aid and assistance every time it was asked. He couldn't have been better toward his own district than he was toward our own, and our college.

And he is the only "down-state" official who has an unbroken record like that!

WE HAVE nothing against any of the Woodul opponents.

But we do believe that we in this section of the state owe a moral debt to an able, honest public official seeking advancement at our hands — especially since he is experienced, tried and capable.

You, as a citizen, have this information. Check it up with anyone who knows if you don't care to take our word for it.

Then exercise the prerogative of a citizen by making up your own mind on whether to vote for somebody who promises to be our friend —or for Woodul, who has already proved that he is.

If every candidate gets every vote promised him thus far, they'll all be elected!

THIS is the honest, honest, honest truth!

Vernon Herndon, chief cook and bottle washer at Connie Hilton's big boarding house, flew up to New York a week or so ago, spent three days and nights viewing the sights in the big city—and had to go to a chiropodist!

He walked so far and so long that he wore blisters on every toe of both feet!

* * *

You've heard about yokels going to New York and getting the roofs of their mouths sunburned gazing up at the tall buildings, but this story about Bro. Herndon really is true.

And there's more to it.

After the chiropodist got through with him and bound his piggies up, Vernon couldn't get his feet into the natty oxfords he wore up there and had to figure out a way to overcome the obstacle.

Knowing that buying a new pair of shoes wouldn't get the job done—since his feet were in no condition to break in new shoes—he finally cut big slits along the side of those he had and finished his tour of New York with ventilated brogans!

If you don't believe this yarn, just ask Vernon about it.

ALMOST anything can happen in a political campaign, but the funniest thing that has happened in the present primary race has to do with "Associated Democracy."

Not long ago, in fact, it was something like two weeks, Texas newspaper editors received broadsides signed "Texas Democracy," in which it was stated that this great "organization" had decided to support Mr. O'Daniel for governor; Mr. Brooks for lieutenant-governor, and Dr. Woods for re-election as state superintendent of public instruction.

The "organization," solemnly reported the broadside, is "statewide and has to do with things educational and civic." It boasted of 185 groups and 100,000 members and told of a flock of meetings and conventions the "organization" had held about the state to decide which candidates would receive its support.

Some nosey Austin correspondent was sent by his chief to check up on this great "organization," which allegedly has headquarters in the capital city.

He found, among other things, that:

"Associated Democracy" was not listed in any directory of the capital city.

That it has no telephone.

That none of the newspapermen or other informed citizens of Austin knew anything about it, and—

That one J. W. Rogers, who signed the broadside and was supposed to be some kind of official in the "organization," was unknown and nowhere to be found!

Quick, Watson! The needle!

Interne Trouble

CAST OF CHARACTERS

TRAN DEARBORN — heroine, student nurse. She ran into love and trouble when she met

DR. BOB BENCHLEY, hero, handsome young interne. He had trouble, too, keeping up with brilliant

DR. STEPHEN SARGENT—head surgeon. Dr. Sargent's problem was something else again.

Yesterday: Miss Armstrong lectures to Tran but, unfortunately, the unpredictable seemed fated to happen.

CHAPTER IV

For the three months that followed Tran continued to be generally known as "Utility."

Which means that, by misfortune of being the junior probationer in the training school—if only by three days—she continued to be at the beck and call of every one.

But after her talk with Miss Armstrong, she ran errands and did chores with the glowing enthusiasm of a religions fanatic. It is true at times she lightened her labors with visions of a radiant future—the day when Dr. Stephen Sargent, entering his operating room—white-capped and gowned and rubber-gloved for action—would look about him and demand in that lord-of-creation tone which one of the older nurses had told Tran simply made you shake in your shoes, "But where is Miss Dearborn? I specifically asked for Miss Dearborn for this operation, did I not? Find Miss Dearborn for me at once."

On those rare occasions when she passed him in the corridors—striding along with that way he had of knowing that the world was his oyster, and looking, as always, almost spectacularly fresh and scrubbed and vital and efficient—Tran, mindful of Miss Armstrong's advice, made herself as inconspicuous as possible.

Not that life for Tran was all made up of running errands. There were classes: anatomy chemistry, biology, psychology.

Tran took these courses in her stride, although scholarship here was a much more exacting business than during her earlier school days—at Miss Brand's, or during those later years when Aunt Clara had left her casually a year at school in Germany or in France or in Italy. . . . "To ground you in languages, my dear. No gentlewoman is really educated unless she speaks at least three foreign tongues."

But learning from books had always been easy for Tran. . . . If it were all as simple as that! If it were not for remembering not to notice things that were funny, for instance.

It was the demonstration class with Miss Philbin that she liked best.

The demonstration room was a complete ward in miniature, with cubicle bed, sterilizer, cabinets full of all the necessary paraphernalia of nursing. . . . Even a patient—the long-suffering dummy, whom probationers of former years had named "Griselda" because of the Spartan fortitude with which she underwent the most harrowing ordeals. Griselda's eyes were blue and staring in her pink wooden face, and she met clumsy student assaults upon her padded person with a set smirk of forgiveness.

In the demonstration class you learned to make a bed so that the sheets lay smooth and tight, with neatly mitered corners, the closed end of the pillows turned toward the door, and the castors parallel with the head and boot of the bed. With the stolid co-operation of Griselda, you learned to move and bathe a patient in bed. You learned how to prepare a patient for various types of medical examinations, how to give a hypodermic, how to prepare trays for the most exacting physician.

You learned everything, in fact, that you would later be required to do for living patients. . . . Above all, you learned the meaning of surgical cleanliness—which is as much beyond ordinary cleanliness as the heavens are above the earth.

Then there were the glorfied hours when—under the supervision of a graduate nurse, you were allowed to go into the wards and help in little humble probationery ways—like getting beds ready for ether patients, for instance, or carrying trays to convalescents. Once or twice Tran was allowed to help one of the graduate nurses prepare a patient for pre-operative examination. This was standing on the threshold of the great adventure—as near as she could hope to get for months. Not until the end of a student nurse's first year did Saint Vincent's permit her to go into an operating room.

On such occasions Tran walked on air—and almost burst with unspoken questions; for asking questions in the presence of patients was not tolerated. And there were some of the senior nurses who did not encourage it at any time. Tran wondered sometimes if that was because even they did not know quite all the answers. . . . Miss Miller did, of course; but "the icicle" was one who believed that probationers should be seen and not heard.

And how, Tran wondered, was a girl to get along in this strange world unless she could ask questions? Needless to say she did—to such an extent that before long the nickname of "Utility" began to give way to "The Elephant's Child."

Once or twice she managed to slip into one of the rooms where the cases of shining, wicked-looking surgical instruments stood. . . . This was one of the few things no one had thought of telling her she must not do without permission. . . . Standing before the glass doors, she would practice calling off as many of the names as she could remember. She would even practice operating room procedure with the scissors every nurse wore tucked into the back of her belt—slapping them smartly from one hand to the other, the way Miss Miller, in one of her more communicative moments, had told her you slapped instruments into the surgeon's hand when you were on duty in the operating room—calling them off in turn as she did so, in a kind of antiphonal chant in which she sang both parts.

"Scalpel" . . . That was supposed to be Dr. Sargent's clipped, peremptory voice requesting a knife. . . . "Scalpel" . . . That was Nurse Dearborn's crisp confirmatory echo as she slapped the desired instrument into his rubbergloved hand. . . . "Retractor"—Slam—"Retractor" . . . "Haemostat" — Slap — "Haemostat" . . . "Sponge"—Slap—"Sponge" . . . "Forceps"—Slap—"Forceps."

One day, when she had progressed triumphantly from "Scalpel" through a miscellaneous list of freshly learned terms to "Suture," here eyes as gravely intent in her pale face ar if life and death hung upon her efficiency, a faint noise made her whirl. The noise had a familiar sound—like a cross between a sneeze and a sob.

Leaning against the door-frame behind her, his hands in the pockets of his white coat, was young Dr. Benchley.

"Might I ask—"he spoke with exaggerated respect, his dark eyes dancing in his ugly, charming face —"whether this is a tonsilectomy, an appendectomy, or an amputation? Because from the wicked assortment of weapons you seem to be using, I should say it must be nothing short of mayhem."

Abruptly Tran's gift of seeing herself in quite as ludicrous a light as the rest of the funny world got the better of her; and she began to laugh.

With a wary glance into the hall behind him, he caught her shoulders and shook her warningly; but as she continued to giggle in helpless mirth, he caught the infection, and they stood, clinging together and rocking with stifled laughter. . . . Until, for no reason at all, they were looking at each other with startled, sobered eyes. And then he had her in his arms, crushing her to him.

After a moment Tran cried, her palms against his chest, "No! No! I —we mustn't!"

"Why not?" he demanded, his lips close to hers. "You know I've been wanting to do this ever since that first day—when you burst into Emergency—remember? . . . You were so little and funny and scared and sweet. . . . Why not, Agility?"

"'It is contrary to the policy of this institution,'" Tran quoted from the House Rules—a little shakily, because his face asparkle with mischief, was still so close to hers—"'for student nurses to have any but professional relations with house physicians.'"

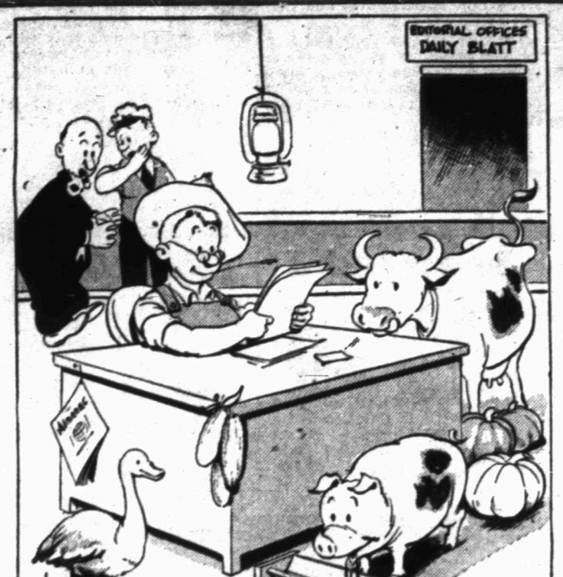

"'Student nurses—'" young Dr. Benchley countered with another quotation from the same source—"'are urged to be constantly alert to co-operate with physicians in any way—'"

At sight of her suddenly whitening face he turned sharply. For it was Tran who first saw the door into the corridor open, and a tall linen-clad figure halt in the doorway. . . . She tore herself free and ran—through the other door into Central Supplies, and on, blindly, down the corridor. For the white-clad figure in the doorway was none other than that of the terrible Dr. Stephen Sargent.

WHY THEY STAND TOGETHER

Consecration of the defensive military alliance between France and Great Britain on the occasion of King George's current visit of state to Paris is one without real significance in its bearing on world affairs.

Despite the fanfare accompanying the ceremony, it did no more than confirm a condition of necessity for both powers. The alliance is one to which they would be forced by the setup of world affairs even if objectionable to them. France fears both Germany and Italy, and probably would be a match for neither in war. Great Britain would consider herself endangered either if Germany should attack France and secure a foothold closer to England on the English channel; or if she had to stand alone in defending her life line of empire through the Mediterranean sea against Italian attack.

Interests of Britain and France are so inextricably bound together they would have to stand together in time of crisis even without treaties. That fact is known and recognized in the diplomatic halls of Europe. Therefore, about the only purpose served by such things as the visit of the British monarch to France is further publicizing the existance of the defensive alliance.

However, business has found from long experience that persistence is essential to a successful advertising campaign. That would seem to be ample justification of the wisdom of the two powers in advertising over and over that they stand together.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, July 21 — The Keystone Kops have been demobilized for 18 years, but much of their technique, all of their gags, and most of their baffling terminology live after them.

The Sennett films were comedy of the broadest, most exaggerated order, yet they gave a thorough grounding in film fundamentals to the men who worked in them.

Frank Lloyd, Roy Del Ruth, Eddie Cline, William Seiter, Malcolm St. Clair and Eddie Sutherland, for example, were Keystone Kops, and now are top-notch directors of the more subtle and sane cinema.

Any one of them will bet that you can't name a piece of comedy business from a modern picture which they can't trace back to the days of the Sennett sillies. These men, and all the rest of Hollywood, still use the argot that developed from pioneer flickers.

You Might Call Ben A Falling Star

I've been listening to Cline, who has a prodigious memory and a relish for reminiscence, and he was telling about various kinds of comedy falls. "The best of 'em all," he said, "was Ben Turpin. Or the craziest — which amounted to the same think. I'll bet if he walked in this office right now and I said, 'Do a 108, Ben,' he'd try it if it killed him. And Turpin's 63 years old.

"A 108? — well, that's a little number that Turpin invented and named. He used to claim that there were 108 kinds of falls, and this was the topper of all of them. To go into a 108, Ben usually got hit or kicked — and hard! — from behind. Then he'd do a three-quarter front somersault in the air and land flat on his back.

"Sure it hurt him, sometimes. We all got to be expert in snapping each other's vertebrae back into place, because in the early days $3 was a day's pay and it was even more painful to squander it on a doctor bill. Most people don't know that Turpin's eyes were crossed from an injury in a fall. He used to do a vaudeville act — and, incidentally, he worked with a tomato can for a hat, and that suggested the comic-strip character, Happy Hooligan, so you know how long ago that was.

"Anyway, he was doing this vaudeville act, and it ended with a headspin off a ladder. One night he lit too hard on his head, and when he woke up he was cock-eyed. He thought he'd never act again, and for awhile he was a janitor in the old Essanay Studio in Chicago. But he found it was a lucky accident, after all, and before he retired Ben was making $3500 a week. He has a house in Beverly Hills and a $100,000 trust fund and is sitting pretty."

Rand: A Man Who Makes Flops Pay

The "straight-back" is another difficult fall, Cline explained. It's just a matter of straightening up rigidly and falling over backward without moving a muscle. "There's a guy around town, Johnny Rand, who still makes a living doing nothing but straightbacks," the director said.

"Then there was the straight-front, and the neck fall. To do a neck fall, you generally run as fast as you can and flop forward, breaking the impact with a kind of twist of the neck and shoulders. Buster Keaton — he's directing now, too—always was best at that one.

"The origin of the pratt fall is lost somewhere in vaudeville antiquity. Everybody agrees, though, that it was first identified with some slapstick comic named Pratt who probably specialized in bouncing back on his derriere.

There are high and low pratt falls, the high one generally being a surprise reaction in which the comedian leaps into the air and comes down seat first. In the "low pratt," the actor doesn't jump; just falls backward.

Cline says that the late Patty Arbuckle, well-upholstered as he was, often injured himself doing pratt falls and almost always sat on an air cushion when he was not before the camera.

U. S. Supreme Court Says "Aryan Race" Idea Is Just A Dream; John Lewis' Head Aches

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The Italians, following the lead of German Nazis, are now declaring that they are of the Aryan race and Jews are not.

Dutcher

But they could not get away with that in the United States Supreme court.

The Supreme court has declared, in effect, that there's no such animal as an Aryan. That was in 1923, when lawyers for Bhagat Singh Thind, a high caste Hindu, contended he was a white person eligible for naturalization as an American citizen. Bhagat came from Punjab, in northwestern India, it was claimed, and that meant he was an Aryan.

But the court declared:

"The Aryan theory as a racial basis seems to be discredited by most, if not all, modern writers on the subject of ethnology."

And it cited a string of authorities.

Elliott Speaks Up

Elliott Roosevelt, youthful radio magnate in Fort Worth, Tex., who endorsed Congressman Fritz Lanham for renomination after the President pointedly had failed to refer to Fritz as "my friend," is no pet of the New Dealers who surround his father."

FROM OKLAHOMA

Perhaps one reason why newspaper investigators found no evidence of political coercion in WPA during Oklahoma's primary campaign was that certain Washington officials were on hand to guard against any funny business.

Senator Elmer Thomas, successful administration candidate, entered WPA headquarters with State WPA Administrator Ron Stevens a few days before the vote.

"Hello there, senator," said the door man, reaching out to shake hands. "Sorry I can't vote for you this year. Going to vote for Gomer Smith. Gomer got me my job."

"Well," stammered the senator, still shaking hands, "Loyalty is a fine quality!"

Not so much because of the Lanham incident as because of Elliott's commercial broadcasts, which have been reported critical of administration policies, He was quoted as saying in his 15-minute commercial broadcast which preceded the President's Texas radio speech:

"In times of emergency, a liberal will try anything once. A conservative always looks carefully before he leaps."

Headache For Lewis

The huge United Automobile Workers' union, threatened with disintegration by long and bitter factional strife among its leaders, is suffering mostly from the fact that it has failed to produce a leader of sufficient size and ability to weld the union together and command it.

Although the more radical political elements are backing the five U. A. W. officials whom President Homer Martin suspended from their jobs, other C. I. O. officials incline to regard the internal warfare as incited by a personal battle for power between Martin and one of the ousted officials, Richard Frankensteen.

Martin booted out his most formidable critics against the advise of C. I. O. Chief John L. Lewis, who after a six-hour session urged him to get all the boys together and make peace. Martin's action failed to increase what small affection Lewis may have had for him, but leaves the C. I. O. chief unable to find a stronger figure who might unite all factions.

C. I. O. intervention is a strong probability, although distasteful to C. I. O. leaders who like to boast that democracy flourishes in C. I. O., as compared with practices in A. F. of L. unions.

in the paper, so maybe you missed it.

We refer to an item carried in Avalanche-Journal papers a day or two ago about Texas Tech's being presented with a picture of the late Dr. P. C. Coleman, pioneer West Texas physician.

For the benefit of the thousands of newcomers in this section, The Plainsman recalls that Doctor Coleman, who for many years practiced in Colorado City and environs, was the first to conceive the idea of a great state school in West Texas.

The doctor's idea was for a "West Texas A. & M." and while the school was called Texas Technological college, instead, he lived to see his dream come true.

A fine physician, a Christian gentleman, a great civic leader and an all around A-1 citizen of the West, Doctor Coleman should long be remembered by those who share his interest in the expansion of this section and in the progress of the college here.

No place at the college can be too prominent for the presentation of his photograph.

IT LOOKS like you've got a pretty good chance for a long-time job if you ever get tied up as an employe of the United States Senate. The terms of two Senate employes span more than 100 years—almost the whole history of Congress, reports a Washington correspondent. They are Carl Loeffler, secretary to the Republican minority, and Captain Isaac Bassett, who was the last of the official snuff dispensers.

Loeffler, who is still on the payroll, came into the Senate as a page boy in 1889. At that time he met Captain Bassett, who had come into the Senate as a page boy in 1841.

There is no official snuff dispenser in the Senate now. Instead of having an employe wandering about with a snuff box, in order to hand any Senator a "dip" whenever he needs it, the Senate now has an ornate, official snuff box which reposes on a shelf in the cloakroom.

Occasionally a Senator takes a "dip" just for fun — although it must be said that no one has ever caught Senator Hattie Caraway, of Arkansas, doing any "dipping!"

with me for the past twenty-five years. I was continually bothered at night and in late years have had to get up ten and twelve times each night. Then too, rheumatism had settled in my hips and legs and I could hardly walk. Constipation was really the cause for my miserable condition. I was terribly discouraged with my condition and really desperate as to what to do next when I began to hear so much praise for Gly-Cas and was persuaded to give it a trial."

"It was actually amazing the quick results this herbal remedy gave me," continued Mr. Gray. "It is wonderful to be so well as I am today. I sleep good every night, get my proper rest and those dreadful rheumatic pains are now in the past. My bowels are regulated and those dizzy spells have been relieved. I can even walk with ease today and my entire system has been cleansed of all the poisons it had been collecting for years before. Never have I seen a medicine do its work as well as Gly-Cas—it gives desired results—even when all else has failed."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns. Adv.

The ambition of most individuals to remember well can be realized by practicing one simple rule . . .

A well known principle of the psychology of memory is to associate the fact you wish to remember with something you already know. Take the following as an example:

You wish to remember that the Pilgrims landed in America during the year 1620 . . . now associate this fact with THE BAKER CO. telephone number which also is 1620 . . . Presto, the job is done . . . it's easy to remember . . . telephone 1620.

Lubbock Auction And Commission Co.
AUCTION SALE EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

LUBBOCK AUCTION AND COMMISSION COMPANY'S market jumped the gun on recovery again this week. Prices moved upward so rapidly the trade couldn't keep front figures on their mind, and it was one of the nicest arranged scrambles that man could devise.
Buyers scrambled for steers, yearlings, cows, heifers and to make it unanimous, stocker and feeder dealers got into the affray with no intention of being ignored. The glamour of the week centered on good butcher cattle, and stiff competition didn't frighten the buyers in the least. All classes of cattle sold 25c to 50c higher than last week.
We have the buyers coming to us for their needs, and we are looking to you—our good customers—to keep us supplied with enough cattle to satisfy our many buyers.
If you have no way to get stock in, wire or phone us for trucking service.
We are bonded for your protection!

Snyder Livestock Market
Of Lubbock, Texas

Mr. Harry Trussel of La Junta, Colorado, who has had several years experience operating auction sales of livestock at La Junta and at Syracuse, Kansas, will take active charge of the management of our market Thursday, July 21.

We have also made arrangements with Mr. Jim Cherrill of Denver, Colorado to work in the ring.

We will have 1000 head of good stocker cattle for our sale Thursday. These cattle are light and would be ideal to graze on grass or sudan.

We will sell cattle at private sale every day in the week and continue our auction sales on Thursday of each week.

We are now buying hogs every day. Bring us your hogs.

For best results consign your livestock to Snyder Livestock Market.

Hamilton Seen In Dallas Again

DALLAS, July 21 (AP)—Elusive Floyd Hamilton, wanted by federal officers for the robbery of an Arkansas bank, apologized to he robbed a former schoolmate, Joe Leito, the latter's filling station here last night.

He also was identified in another robbery last night.

"Joe, I hate to do this, but I have to have some money," Leito said Hamilton told him.

Certain It Was Hamilton

The victim handed $12.75 to the armed criminal, he said. He was certain the robber was Hamilton because "I went to school with Floyd in West Dallas several years ago, and I know him," Leito declared.

Two accomplices waited outside in an automobile during the robbery.

Woman Is Robbed

A single robber took $65 from Mrs. Collins' grocery store. He likewise had accomplices, she said.

Mrs. Collins did not know Hamilton but her description fitted that of the brother of the late desperado, Raymond Hamilton, police asserted. Squadrons of officers scoured the west Dallas area for Hamilton.

Hamilton and two other men escaped the Montague jail weeks ago.

Every hour of every day 11 persons meet with accidental death and 100 with accidental injuries in the U. S.

Daily Market Reports

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 21. (AP)—Cotton futures opened unchanged to two points net higher. Improved cables attracted trade buying and covering which was partially offset by some hedge selling.

October contracts opened at 8.77, Dec. at 8.86, Jan. at 8.88, March at 8.90, May at 8.96, and July at 8.99 bid.

Prices gained an additional point or so after the start in quiet trading and renewed covering and lack of selling pressure.

Advancing stocks and unfavorable crop weather in parts of the belt induced active buying later in the morning and with contracts scarce prices bounded up nearly one dollar a bale.

October contracts advanced to 8.95, Dec. to 9.00, March to 9.06 and May to 9.09, or 15 to 19 points above the previous close.

The demand came from the trade and short covering and some speculative buying was reported and was said to have been based on fear that the continued rains in the eastern belt would prove harmful to the growing crop and result in increased weevil activity.

The turnover yesterday was 7,150 bales and open commitments 379,350 bales, an increase of 1,050 bales from the previous day.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 21. (AP)—Cotton futures opened 2 points lower to 4 higher on firmer Liverpool cables which was partially offset by rains in the western belt. Oct. 8.63; Dec. 8.71; Jan. 8.76; March 8.81; May 8.85; July 8.88.

There was no repetition of yesterday's persistent foreign selling and with contracts comparatively scarce, prices soon turned steadier on a moderate amount of trade and local buying. Dec. recovered from 8.71 to 8.79 late in the first hour when the list was 6 to 8 points net higher.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 21. (AP)—Influenced by unfavorable crop reports from Canada, wheat prices here averaged a bit higher early today.

Opening ¼ cent off to ½ up, September 69¾-70, December 71¾-⅞, Chicago wheat futures afterward rose all around. Corn started at ¼ decline to ¼ advance, September 39⅝-¾, December 38½.

MEXICO CITY, July 21. (AP)—Forty-five guards were jailed on suspicion of complicity today after Enrico Sampietro, a former Italian naval officer awaiting trial on a charge of counterfeiting United States $20 bills, escaped from his cell.

The attorney general's office recently had filed new charges against Sampietro charging he had continued passing the bogus bills despite his confinement, and authorities were investigating the possibility he had bribed some of his guards.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, July 21. (AP)—A fresh selling of amusement and utility stocks took the steam out of a noon rally in rails today and market leaders reduced or canceled extreme gains running to 2 or more points at the close.

Further study of the government's action yesterday in filing anti-trust suits against the principal film companies, and the move of the S.E.C. to impose the "death sentence" clause of the federal utilities act on holding companies, apparently chilled Wall street's speculative ardor.

Transfers approximated 1,900,000 shares.

Loew's was down more than 3 points at the worst. Backward also were Paramount, Twentieth Century-Fox, Warner Bros., R-K-O and Columbia pictures.

Rough going was encountered by Consolidated Edison, North American, Electric Power & Light, Public Service of N. J., Western Union and American Telephone.

Others encountering difficulties included Homestake Mining, Westinghouse, duPont, Allied Chemical, Air Reduction, Texas Corp. and General Motors.

Best performers were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Southern Railway, Northern Pacific, Anaconda, Phelph Dodge, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Boeing, J. I. Case, Johns-Manville, U. S. Gypsum, Philip Morris, Coca Cola, Yellow Truck and National Biscuit.

Markets At A Glance:

NEW YORK:
STOCKS — Irregular; movies, utilities sag.
BONDS — Firm; rails extend gains.
CURB — Mixed; power shares give ground.
FOREIGN EXCHANGES—Easy; sterling resumes decline.
COTTON — Higher; local and trade buying; general rains.
SUGAR — Narrow; easier spot market.
COFFEE — Steady, commission house buying.
CHICAGO:

least 30 acres should be at a sufficient elevation that hospital buildings erected upon it will have an imposing setting.

The site sub-committee was one of three similar groups named Wednesday afternoon at the first meeting of the general hospital committee named earlier in the day at a special session of directors of the chamber of commerce. Others were G. P. Kuykendall, general chairman, A. C. Jackson, T. H. St. Clair, Durwood H. Bradley and Dr. S. C. Arnett, jr., executive committee; and M. E. Ware, Ben Kucera and J. B. Jones, brief committee.

Jackson and St. Clair are commanders, respectively, of American Legion and Veterans of Foreign War posts here.

Additional acceptances to appointments as members of the general hospital committee were announced as J. R. Skillern and E. C. Kuykendall. Representatives of the Central Labor council, the Technical club and several other organizations are yet to be chosen.

Amarillo Lacks Sock-Darning Facilities, So May Lubbock; Inquiry Is Made Of C. Of C.

Amarillo seems to be lacking in sock darning facilities—and for that matter, so may Lubbock be also.

That, at least, was the conclusion at the chamber of commerce this morning after an inquiry had been received from an Amarillo woman who said she was looking for a place where some of her husband's holey socks might be "re-treaded."

If there is such a place in Lubbock, chamber of commerce workers have been unable to locate it.

Assumes Particular Significance

The review assumed particular significance in the light of yesterday's secret conference of British Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax, French Premier Edouard Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet at which France sought a British promise to resist Germany's campaign against Czechoslovakia, as a guarantee of peace.

It was generally considered, for once, that the official foreign office communique issued after the diplomatic conference meant just what it said—France and Britain stood by the general terms of their April agreement to act together to preserve peace and to be ready to fight together if other efforts failed.

Strong Doubt Prevalent

Nevertheless, there was a strong doubt that the cautious Lord Halifax had been persuaded to give France the specific guarantees she wanted of automatic military aid should she decide it was necessary to fight to preserve Czechoslovak independence.

Reports that Lord Halifax already had drafted the communique and had it approved by British Premier Neville Chamberlain before he left London Tuesday lent color to a belief the talks resulted in no detailed plan of action for central Europe but left the way open for France and Britain to adapt their moves to the needs of the moment.

To the Voters of Lubbock County!

On Saturday July 23rd, the citizens of this county will vote for a man to serve them as Sheriff for the next two years.

Every thinking man and woman knows that experience and ability are two essentials.

In determining your choice, investigate an applicant's past service as an officer and how he lived up to his former trust.

IS HE EXPERIENCED?

IS HE CAPABLE?

CAN HE HANDLE THE MANY PROBLEMS THAT CONFRONT A SHERIFF IN THIS COMPLICATED DAY AND TIME? Can he temper justice with mercy when your erring boy gets involved with law for the first time?

I invite an inspection of my past record as a peace officer.

I refer you not only to my men friends, but to the many Christian women of this county who have known me for years and are interested in having a competent man guide the destinies of their families for the next two years.

Think this over carefully. After doing so and investigating my past record you will cast your vote for me. It will be greatly appreciated and I will not betray your trust or try to remain in office indefinitely.

Thanking you for consideration, I am,

SID CARAWAY,
Candidate for Sheriff

General operating expenses of the city government last year totaled $353,281.76, which, however, included $106,257 in payments on bonds and warrants. General department operating expense, including police, fire department, parks and the like, totaled $230,079.

Net revenue from the city electric plant last year totaled $189,973 and from the water department, $142,382. No estimate has as yet been prepared as to what earnings from those sources may be during the current year, although both will be under heavy additional expense for capital outlay, including a new $130,000 Diesel engine for the power plant and large distribution system expansion for the water department.

Rate-Setting Is Due Next Week

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 21.—Texans probably will know next week how much ad valorem tax they will owe the state on the basis of 1938 property valuations.

The automatic tax board, which sets the rate, met Wednesday and adjourned subject to call of Governor James V. Allred, chairman.

Report Not Complete

Comptroller George H. Sheppard, said a report on estimated property valuations and probable revenue from other sources was not complete but expressed opinion it would be ready by July 28.

The current levy is 40 cents on the $100 valuations, 35 cents for the general fund and seven cents each for the Confederate pension and available school funds.

The pension and general fund taxes are at the constitutional maxium.

The board of education has called a meeting July 29 to set the new per capita scholastic apportionment. It was generally believed the tax board would determine the new ad valorem rates the day before.

The current apportionment, which is financed in small parts by the ad valorem tax but largely by other sources of revenue, is $22, the highest in history and $3 more than the previous year. A committee of the education board has estimated the needs of schools for next year and some believe a $24 apportionment would be necessary to meet the amount.

City Owns Approximately Half Of Its Parking Meters Now

Approximately half of the total cost of city parking meters has been paid.

This was disclosed Wednesday from records showing that $16,215.70 actually has been paid to the Dual Parking Meter company and that approximately $1,500 will be available for the payment of the next regular installment.

Total cost of the 600 meters at $58 each was $34,800. Installments, which are 75 per cent of the collections from the meters, are forwarded to the company at monthly intervals, meaning that approximately $1,000 now is on hand from July collections. The gadgets will have been in operation one year from next Aug. 26.

Collections, according to officials, continued well ahead of expectations. Through the summer they have averaged approximately $75 per day, in contrast with many predictions they might fall as low as $50 per day. Through fall and winter months, parking meter revenues averaged nearly $95 daily.

Road From Seagraves To Oil Field Is To Be Constructed

A road from Seagraves to the Wasson oil field seven and one-half miles west will be built with WPA and Gaines county funds, according to announcement Wednesday from state WPA headquarters in San Antonio.

The project is a farm-to-market one, with $11,760 federal funds alloted and $30,136 county funds. Fifty one workers will be employed.

Construction will be a caliche base, across a heavy sand sector, said W. E. Burke, district engineer for the WPA here. No date has been set for starting, but it is expected that work will start soon.

Lubbock County

A. G. HUNT made his first political campaign two years ago when he asked for this same office and polled over 42% of the total votes cast, at which time he announced his intention of making the race again at this time.

As you know, his only opponent two years ago, who was successful in the race, resigned, and due to this fact Mr. Hunt will especially appreciate your consideration and support for this office to which almost half of you voters favored his election two years ago.

A. G. Hunt's friends feel that his thirty years of actual office experience fully qualify him to handle efficiently the affairs of this important office, and you may be assured that he will feel obligated to serve you for a full two-year term if elected.

Since this is Mr. Hunt's second race, it is perhaps his LAST OPPORTUNITY to be honored with a first term to this office, as he has no desire to continue offering himself as a candidate not favored by a majority of voters.

If A. G. HUNT is elected, the people of Lubbock county may be assured of honest, courteous, and efficient service.
