Startling Surprises Feature Development Market Probe

REVEAL RASKOB AMONG THOSE INVOLVED IN GIANT STOCK POOL WHEREIN GROUP LOSES HEAVILY

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—The object for days of an unavailing senate search, two of Wall street's big bear traders—Thomas E. Bragg and Bernard E. Smith—calmly walked into a committee room today and proceeded to tell a story packed with startling surprises for their eager inquisitors.

John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, Fred J. Fisher, W. C. Durant and W. F. Kenny, they testified, had been associated with them in a gigantic $32,000,000 pool on Anaconda Copper in 1929. They lost heavily.

In addition, they said Mrs. Michael J. Meehan, whose husband was specialist in Radio on the floor of the stock exchange, engaged in a pool on that stock in 1928 and 1929. A subpoena has been issued for Meehan.

Others May be Called

William Gray, counsel for the committee, announced that if the committee approved, Raskob and others mentioned by the two would be called upon for testimony.

Bragg was the first to testify. Senator Couzens of Michigan drew from him the story of the Anaconda pool.

After being sworn, Bragg was asked his business.

"I have no business," he replied. "I am a speculator." He added that he had played the "bull" side of the market up until 1929, and in September of that year went short.

He said he went into the Anaconda pool and lost about $400,000. He denied, under persistent questioning, that the pool was formed to manipulate the stock.

When Smith took the stand he was asked if he was known as a "big short operator."

"Yes, sir," he replied.

"You have been known as a big bear raider?"

Protests Term "Raider"

"No one has called be a raider to my face, and I don't know what is meant by raider," he retorted.

SHAMROCK YOUTH FATALLY HURT IN FALL FROM AUTO

SHAMROCK, Texas, April 23.—Herbert Blake, 22, former high school football star and captain of the team, was fatally injured here Saturday afternoon when he fell from the car in which he was riding with two companions in the residential section of Shamrock. He sustained head and internal injuries and died within a short time after being removed to the hospital.

The accident occurred when the door of the machine in which he was riding with two friends, came open as they turned a corner and Blake was thrown to the ground. The three youths were driving behind a truck driven by F. B. Anderson, which turned at a street intersection. As they turned the same direction and the door of the car came open, throwing Blake from the machine.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Blake of Shamrock and was well known here. His father is a building contractor. He was a member of the Shamrock High school football squad for four years and was captain of the team one year while he was in high school. Funeral arrangements had not been made late Saturday night.

RELEASE TWO HELD MIAMI

Cleared of Suspicion in Death of Clarke

MIAMI, Fla., April 23. (US)—Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller and her British flying partner, Capt. W. N. Lancaster were released from the county jail here tonight, and cleared of all suspicion connected with the death of the famous woman flyer's fiance, Haden Clarke, 26-year-old newspaper man.

In the meantime a new note of mystery was injected into the investigation of the strange death of young Clarke, found shot to death in Mrs. Keith-Miller's home, by the appearance of a pretty young woman, Miss Peggy Brown, who asserted that she, and not the aviatrix, was engaged to the dead man.

Immediately after Captain Lancaster's release he was taken into custody by federal authorities who questioned him concerning his connection with the Latin-American Airways.

SERUM GIVEN HERE SAVES LIFE YOUTH STRUCK BY SNAKE

Durwald McDaniel, 9, Archer county ranch boy, was reported recovering Saturday from the effects of a rattlesnake bite after being given antivenin serum at the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McDaniel, was returning to his home, located 12 miles north of Archer City, from the Bowman school late Friday afternoon when he was struck by a large rattler, which his companions later killed.

Young McDaniel was rushed to the hospital here, where the serum was administered, and then returned home. He was brought back to the hospital Saturday and attending physicians reported that he was doing nicely and that the spread of the poison apparently had been checked.

The rattler struck the lad between the ankle and the knee.

BOY KILLED IN HOLDUP TWO BANDITS CAPTURED

DETROIT, April 23. (AP)—Billy Reynolds, 8, victim of two bandits interrupted in holding up a grocery store, died in a hospital this afternoon.

The two bandits, Frank Mohr, 39, and Theodore Lilley, 26, both of them fathers, were captured shortly after they sent two bullets crashing into Billy's chest and abdomen as he entered the grocery store of Garnet Ritchie last night. The child had gone to the store to deliver a magazine to Ritchie, one of his customers.

As he entered the store, Ritchie cried: "Look out; it's a hold up!" A shot in the back was Ritchie's reward, and, as the child screamed two more shots were fired in rapid succession. One of them pierced both Billy's lungs and the other entered his abdomen.

Both bandits surrendered after one had been wounded in the hand. Police said both admitted the holdup and other robberies.

WARM BATTLE EXPECTED OVER NEW MEASURE

Contains Proposed Consolidation War and Navy Departments

ADMINISTRATION OPPOSES SUGGESTION FOR MERGER

Republican Leaders Also Oppose Wage Cutting Provision of Bill

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—A weary and much-harassed economy committee whipped the far-reaching $200,000,000 omnibus retrenchment bill into final shape today for introduction into the house on Monday.

The bipartisan group planned to work over the week-end to prepare for the expected heated battle over the controversial measure when its consideration is begun Wednesday.

As drafted it contains the proposed consolidation of the war and navy departments and the McDuffie federal wage cutting plan, to both of which the administration is opposed, and President Hoover's requested authority to reorganize the government.

TWO ALIENISTS HONOLULU SAY MASSIE SANE

SAN FRANCISCO ALIENIST NOT READY TO TESTIFY

Attorneys Asked to Be Ready With Proposed Instructions Monday

HONOLULU, April 23. (AP)—Against the defense contention that Lieut. Thomas H. Massie was mentally deranged when he fired the shot that killed Joseph Kahawawai, the prosecution in the lynching case fought its way into the record today with testimony of two alienists that the navy officer was sane at the time.

Denied the privilege of examining Massie because of objections by Clarence Darrow, leader of the defense, Dr. Paul Bowers, Los Angeles psychiatrist, expressed his opinion on the stand after studying the record in the case and after several defense objections had been overruled.

Believes Affair Premeditated

Dr. Bowers expressed belief the whole affair had been premeditated by Massie and the other defendants, Mrs. Granville Fortescue, his mother-in-law; Albert O. Jones and E. J. Lord, as it turned out.

Dr. Robert Faus, city and county physician who previously had testified for the prosecution, said in his opinion Massie was sane.

The prosecution rebuttal then came to a temporary halt because Dr. Joseph Catton, San Francisco alienist, had not finished studying the testimony and hence was not ready to testify. Judge Charles S. Davis adjourned court until Monday and asked attorneys for both sides to be ready with their proposed instructions to the jury at that time. Dr. Catton will be the state's final witness.

Massie had testified his mind went blank when he stood before Kahahawai with a pistol and heard the native confess attacking his wife, Mrs. Thalia Massie, daughter of Mrs. Fortescue. The naval officer said he remembered nothing thereafter until after being taken to the police station subsequent to his arrest.

AMERICA ON VERGE OF RETURN TO PROSPERITY STATES NOTED BANKER

CHICAGO, April 23. (INS)—America is on the verge of a return to prosperity, Amadeo P. Giannini, chairman of the Transamerica corporation, said on his arrival here today.

"We are not far from a sound return to prosperity," he said. "I agree with General Dawes' summary of the situation. He hit the nail on the head in opposing the soldiers' bonus and he also was exactly correct in saying conditions have improved all over the country. There is no doubt of that."

The Pacific coast financier was en route to White Sulphur Springs, Va., for the meeting of the American Bankers association.

Two National Guards Killed

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, April 23. (AP)—Insurgents killed two members of the Nicaraguan national guard Thursday morning in an attack on the east coast garrison at Kisalaya, it was learned today. The defenders repulsed the attack.

Uncle Sam's Position In 'Japanese Hawaii' Grows Uncomfortable

By FLOYD GIBBONS
(Copy't. 1932, by Universal Service, Inc.)

NEW YORK, April 23.—Hello everybody—and hold on to your hat. That pineapple Uncle Sam is sitting on over in the Japanese island of Hawaii is becoming uncomfortable. I think I saw the old man squirming uneasily the other day when I was down in Washington.

And I guess there's many millions of the old man's nephews who have been squirming and snorting after reading the testimony of the past few days in the Massie case. It wasn't only in the courtroom in Honolulu that the pitiful story of that 21-year-old American girl wife stirred up emotions deep and hot. No sir, the country felt it—that story went straight to the heart of every American man and woman.

Federal leniency or neglect concerning the present dangerous state of affairs in the islands has raised a question of much greater importance to the nation than the protection or security of American residents of the islands.

Japanese Control

That question is who the heck is going to run the islands?

At present they are being run by and for a majority group of citizens of Asiatic extraction—a group composed of Japanese, Chinese, Koreans and Filipinos—but dominated politically by the Japanese who greatly outnumber all other groups combined.

That's why some Americans shocked at this condition are using the designation I employed in the first paragraph of this blast—the Japanese islands of Hawaii. I know it doesn't sound so good—kinder

GERMANY TO VOTE SUNDAY THIRD TIME WITHIN SIX WEEKS

BERLIN, April 23. (AP)—For the third time within six weeks five-sixths of Germany's voters will cast ballots tomorrow to decide a struggle for supremacy in which the Republican parties and Adolf Hitler's national Socialists are the chief opponents.

The elections will determine the political complexion of the diets in Prussia, Bavaria, Wurttemberg, Hamburg and Anhalt.

The bitterness of the campaign, which followed close on the heels of two presidential election struggles from which Paul von Hindenburg emerged victorious over the fiery Hitler, was illustrated by the fact that in Berlin alone 190 persons were arrested last night.

In Cologne 20 national Socialists, headed by Robert Ley, a member of the Reichstag, were jailed in connection with an attack on Otto Wels, chairman of the Socialist party, and Otto Bauknecht, chief of police.

Judged by the result of the presidential runoff, neither the Nazis and the Nationalists combined nor the present government coalition is likely to obtain a majority in Prussia, where the most important election is being held. Hence much depends on the attitude of the Communists and the small parties, of which there are 12.

Herr Hitler's chief opponent has been the Prussian premier, Otto Braun. Chancellor Henrich Bruening has been busy with the conference in Geneva and has not participated in the electioneering.

PRISONER PAYS PENNANCE AND SHOWS APPRECIATION

OSSINING, N. Y., April 23. (US)—Sing Sing prison officials made public today a curious method adopted by a prisoner for paying pennance and expressing appreciation of a commutation of his death sentence by former Governor Miller.

The prisoner, Joseph Jaworsky, 60, has confined his meals to tea and plain bread for the past 10 years. Jawrosky was sent to the prison Dec. 5, 1921, for a murder in Chautauqua county. He looks after the cows and hens in the prison.

Couple Held Up By Lone Bandit Saturday Night

Johnny Bonneau, clerk at the Monroe Street Pharmacy, and a girl companion were held up by a lone hijacker near the intersection of Cumberland and Winona streets about 9 o'clock Saturday night.

A lone man, on foot, drew a gun and halted the couple as they were walking along the sidewalk. Bonneau had two pocketbooks, one of them empty, and presented the empty one to the bandit, who allowed them to proceed without taking anything.

FIVE PRISONERS SHOOT THEIR WAY TO LIBERTY FROM ALEXANDRIA JAIL

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 23. (AP)—Five prisoners shot their way out of the Rapides parish jail here today, commandeered two automobiles and escaped, after wounding one man.

W. G. Penny, 50, the jailer, was attacked with an iron window weight and Luther, his 18-year-old son, was shot in the abdomen. The men who escaped were Ivy Morgan, Dan Davis, Ernest Gray, Earl Joyner and Jimmy Dear.

They took sawed-off shotguns from the jail, commandeered automobiles, and drove south towards Marksville. The jail break occurred shortly after 3 p. m. Physicians said young Penny's condition was undetermined.

Joiner, Gray, Dear and Davis were charged with robbing the Alexandria Steam laundry of $323 in a holdup March 26. Their trial was set for Monday.

RIVER YIELDS BODY OF WOMAN PHYSICIAN WHO LOST LIFE PLANE CRASH

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio, April 23. (AP)—The Ohio river today yielded up the body of Dr. Carol S. Cole, St. Louis woman physician, who perished when an east bound air mail plane crashed during a terrific storm over this region a month ago.

Hal George, of Detroit, pilot of the plane, was killed instantly when the ship crashed into the river near here. Dr. Cole was en route east to visit a sick daughter when the accident occurred.

Apple Springs Constable and Farmer Fellow Townsmen Since Childhood Kill Each Other in Duel on Street

APPLE SPRINGS, Texas, April 23 (AP)—Fellow townsmen since childhood, a farmer and a constable killed the other here late this afternoon in a duel precipitated when the two men met on the street.

The constable, Walt Crow, 55, was shot three times with a small caliber pistol. He died within 15 minutes.

Brent Hollis, 44, farmer, also was shot three times. He died instantly.

Neither of the men uttered a word before or after the tragedy.

Witnesses said that the battle took place when the two men, between whom ill feeling is known to have existed for the last three years met face to face in front of a drug store.

Walking in opposite directions, each of the men appeared to have drawn his gun as they came within 15 feet of each other.

The shots rang out, the roars of the guns blending as six shots were fired from the pistols in the hands of the two men.

Both tumbled to the ground as the shots ended. Hollis was dead when the first person rushed from a drug store and knelt over his prostrate form.

Crow did not speak after the shooting, witnesses declared.

The two men, both of whom have spent their entire lives at this town, are known to have been unfriendly three years. It is believed the result of a remark said to have been made about a woman relative of one of the men.

Crow, who had served as constable here for the past four years, is survived by his wife, three daughters and one son.

Hollis is survived by his widow, three daughters and three sons.

By JIMMIE MAXWELL

Flowing to the top of the derrick, accompanied by a heavy gas pressure, the Lindsay Drilling company late Saturday afternoon drilled in their No. 2, L. F. Wilson at Chalk Hill in Archer county with an initial production between 850 to 900 barrels, through 10-inch casing.

The well, which is located 990 feet from the north, and 330 feet from the east line of the west half of the northwest quarter of section 119, A. T. N. C. L. survey, drilled 15 feet of rich sand topped at 2190 feet.

Completion of this well marks the bringing in of the eighth producer from the 2200 foot, or Chalk Hill horizon. The new producer, which is furthest south in the pool, picked up the pay six feet higher than it had been found in other wells completed there, and in addition its gas pressure registered a great deal stronger than in the other wells.

The well, which will be tubed the first of the week and connected with the field storage, will be the means of giving the deep pay here an extension of 660 feet, it being that distance south of No. 1 Wilson, finished in the same pay depth two months ago.

The owners of the well, Bob Lindsay and Houston Bolin, (Lindsay Drilling company), Graham operators in conjunction with the Deep Oil Development company, pioneers of the pool, have been foremost in the activities of the pool in the development of this deeper and prolific Archer county horizon.

PATMAN SAYS HUGE SUM AVAILABLE FOR DEFEAT BONUS PLAN

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—A charge that "Wall street international bankers" are inspiring nation-wide propaganda to kill the cash-bonus movement was made in a statement today by Representative Patman, Democrat, Texas.

"I have in my possession evidence to show that the big rich of the nation have put at the disposal of our opponents hundreds of thousands of dollars to fight us.

"People cannot pay inflated debts with deflated dollars. That is what Wall street wants done—the holders of bonds the people voted on themselves to make public improvements when their commodities would pay two or three times as much as they will today."

Patman belittled claims of Democratic and Republican leaders that sponsors of the new-money plan to cash the bonus will lack the 145 signatures needed to force a house vote.

"We can get 218 if necessary," Patman said.

The ways and means committee planned to end the bonus hearing next week.

Baering Down on News With 'Baer'

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain your Wall street short can spot the heathen Chinee two coats of paint and have enough left over to paint the barn yellow.

The senate questioned the market manipulators all this week. All they've learned is that tomorrow is Monday and they ain't sure of that.

It's sure a queer situation in Wall street. And it had to happen while believe-it-or-not Ripley was in Singapore.

The optimists are crying and the pessimists are laughing.

We expect to be summoned by the senators to appear down there next week. We went short on coal weeks before the winter ended.

Last night at supper we were also short on butter.

And as the golf season is here we expect to go short on trousers, niblick approaches and a couple of putts.

BANK SITUATION MUCH IMPROVED

WASHINGTON, April 23. (UP)—Marked strengthening of the banking situation is reported by the federal reserve board.

In March there were only 45 bank failures, the least in 15 months. So far this month three national banks have suspended. These figures contrast with 122 failures in February and 342 in January.

Banks which reopened in March had nearly as large deposits as those which closed.

The board's favorable report removed apprehension concerning the results of the next call for the condition of national banks. The call is expected in June.

Conn. Senator Says Baby Kidnaped to Obtain Gangster's Freedom

HOPEWELL, N. J., April 23. (AP)—Behind the veil of secrecy long since cast about the case, efforts to effect the return of kidnaped Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr., continued today.

John Hughes Curtis, the Norfolk, Va., shipbuilder who has worked for weeks to bring the child back to his Sourland mountain home here, disappeared for parts unknown. He had returned but a few hours earlier from an extended absence, the nature of which he declined to divulge.

One of his two associates, the Very Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, disclosed he had been absent for several hours on an airplane flight in the morning. Dean Dobson-Peacock returned with Mr. Curtis last night.

Simultaneous with Curtis' departure, the yacht Macon, which had been connected with his activities in the Lindbergh case, sailed from Norfolk. Col. Charles H. Consolvo, its owner, disclaimed information concerning its use but asserted the Norfolk intermediaries "have au-

Fishing Season on Lakes Opens Next Sunday

Anglers Compete for Long List Valuable Prizes

When the luminous dials of innumerable watches show 12:01 o'clock next Sunday morning, anglers of Wichita Falls and way points can heave out their favorite lures into waters of any of the three Wichita valley lakes and fish not only for the wily bass and fickle crappie, but for the greatest array of prizes ever posted in The Daily Times and Record News opening day fishing contest.

The contest this year not only has a bigger and better prize list, but it boasts numerous items of fishing tackle and equipment which should be viewed with downright reverence. Honors for the champion fishermen of this section, sport for all followers of the rod and reel, and prizes which range from $25 reels to groceries, and fly casting rods to cash, await the anglers in the opening day event.

The Texas closed season on game fish ends at 12:01 a. m., May 1, and Wichita Falls fishermen will be privileged to test their science, skill and luck after three long months of inactivity. The annual opening day contest is sponsored by sporting goods dealers of Wichita Falls and the Wichita Falls newspapers. As in years past, leading manufacturers have contributed generously to make the event a successful and interesting one. The total list of prizes is valued at more than $145 and includes 27 awards. Other awards are expected to bring the total to more than $150.

Pflueger Prize

Among the manufacturers, the Enterprise Manufacturing company of Akron, Ohio, maker of Pflueger fishing tackle, and the Creek Chub Bait company of Garrett, Ind., makers of well known "true to nature" lures, are two new entrants.

The Enterprise company has offered a $25 Pflueger Supreme reel, one of the finest casting reels made. The reel is a quadruple-multiplying, has an anti-backlash mechanism which may be thrown on or off as desired, jeweled bearings and a "velvet" finish. The reel is offered as a prize in the bass division.

The Creek Chub company has offered in the bass division two lures, the Pikie minnow, old reliable of many bait casters; and its newest fish-luring device, the Creek Chub Beetle, a deep running plug with a trailing triple hook with pearl spinners for short strikers.

The South Bend Bait company of South Bend, Ind., well known to scores of Wichita Falls anglers through the company's previous interest in fishing activities in the territory, this year has entered its

RAIN IMPROVES CROP OUTLOOK

High Wind and Hail in Portions Panhandle

(By The Associated Press)

Prospects for farm crops and range grass were improved Saturday as rains fell in West, East, North and Central Texas. Little precipitation was reported from South Texas.

In some portions of the Panhandle and the South Plains, there were high winds and hail, but no great damage was done. At Amarillo wind attained a velocity of 55 miles an hour.

The rains fell after an interval that had caused fears of drouth in some sections. At Wellington a dry period ended that had begun early in February.

The phenomenon of a sandstorm following a rain visited Amarillo. Blown from the south, dust filled the air until vision was hampered and twilight haze developed.

Sweetwater and Shaufler reported 3 inches of rain; Snyder 1 inch; Shamrock, a heavy rain; Longview, a hard rain; Denton, nearly an inch, Dallas, .29 inch; Sherman, .5; San Antonio, .78; Austin, .7; Palestine, .12; El Paso, Del Rio, Corpus Christi and Brownsville, traces.

For Sunday showers were forecast in East Texas, and colder weather, with a probability of frost in north and west portions of West Texas.

ECONOMY MEASURE READY FOR HOUSE

leaders at the 20th annual meeting of the national chamber of commerce at San Francisco May 17-20.

A development in the administration's protest against the senate's program to cut annual departmental supply bills 10 per cent came on the house side with the charge by Representative Patman, Democrat, Texas, that Secretary Lamont is encouraging protests to congress against reductions in commerce department appropriations.

Telegram Made Public

The Texan made public a telegram he said Lamont sent to Tracy, Locke, Dawson Inc. of Dallas on April 13 which read:

"Greatly appreciate your telegram protesting against proposed reduction in funds of foreign and domestic commerce for next year. Present outlook is that senate will very probably vote on the reductions this week.

"It would have very serious effect on service of bureau both domestic and abroad. Suggest you communicate your interest to your senators and representatives in congress."

Republican members of the committee plan to sponsor in the house President Hoover's five-day work week and the annual leave without pay proposition as a substitute.

Death Sentence Youth Reversed By Higher Court

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 23. (US)—Russell McWilliams, 17, sentenced to death despite his youth, today was saved from the electric chair.

The Illinois supreme court reversed the death sentence of the Winnebago county circuit court and sent the case back for another trial.

It was a victory for Clarence Darrow and many other humanitarians throughout the country who had been aroused by the prospect that a mere boy was to be put to death by the state.

Darrow appeared originally before the state board of pardons and renewed his appeal before the supreme court when the board refused to act.

Failure of the lower court to question McWilliams concerning his past life and environment, as required by the statutes, was one of the bases for the reversal.

The youth was convicted of killing a street car conductor in Rockford, Ill., in a holdup. Evidence showed that young McWilliams had become intoxicated from bootleg liquor before embarking on the holdup expedition.

Fire at a residence at Second and Scott at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon caused damage estimated at $2. The blaze took its origin from a stove, located in the rear of the two-story house. Damage of $10 was caused by fire at a negro barber shop at 104 Lake at 1:05 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

More than $500 damage was caused by fire at a store house of the Maricle Coal and Feed company at Thirteenth and Indiana about 8:50 o'clock Saturday night. Origin of the fire is not known, Grover Habern, assistant fire chief, said. There was little property in the sheet metal building, it was understood.

OPPOSITION TO PROPOSED CONFERENCE AT MEXIA

Declare Garner Supporters Not "Stalking Horse" For Any One

FORT WORTH, April 23. (AP)—Leaders of the movement in Texas to make Speaker John N. Garner the Democratic presidential nominee proclaimed their strong opposition at a caucus here today, to instruction of the Texas delegation for any other candidate as second choice.

The notice, given in a statement issued by Senator Walter F. Woodul of Houston, state chairman of the movement and unanimously approved by the caucus, was a direct response to attempts of leaders of the movement for Franklin D. Roosevelt to have the Texas delegation instructed for the New York governor as second choice. A meeting to plan for selection of delegates with that instruction has been called in Mexia next Friday by T. W. Davidson of Dallas and other Roosevelt leaders.

Woodul's statement insisted Garner's supporters will not become a party to any effort to use him as a "stalking horse" for any candidate or as a means of stopping any candidate. Leaders at the caucus indicated it is the desire to avoid any committments that might cost Garner the support of Texas admirers of any other candidate.

That policy was expressed by Jed C. Adams, Dallas, Democratic national committeeman, when he said "if Roosevelt can not get the nomination, Garner is in a happy position to inherit his strength."

Supporters of Garner

MEXIA, Texas, April 23. (AP)—Sam McCorkle and B. H. Broiles, organizers of a Democratic rally to be held in Mexia next Friday night, announced today that they are supporters of Speaker John N. Garner for the presidential nomination as long as he remains in the field as a candidate.

As to making Garner a "stalking horse" for some other candidate, they said it was their purpose to prevent the Garner boom from becoming a smoke screen behind which some other candidate representing only a minority sentiment of Texas Democrats might be able to gain control of the Texas delegation. They said they believed that next to Garner, Texas Democrats are overwhelmingly in favor of Gov. Franklin Roosevelt of New York. One of the purposes of the rally is to have the Texas delegation to the national convention instructed first for Garner and second for Roosevelt.

TWO DIE IN DALLAS OF VIOLENT CAUSES

DALLAS, April 23. (AP)—A South Dallas grocer and a bride of two weeks died of violent causes here at almost the same minute this afternoon but there was no connection between the deaths.

Mrs. Thelma Rambo, 17, of Dallas, wife of L. C. Rambo, died at a hospital after being fatally stricken in a downtown theater. Hospital attendants said symptoms indicated she had died of poisoning. An autopsy was being performed.

Meanwhile, at Washington, Senator Hiram Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, declared the fact that Al Capone twice has offered to find the Lindbergh baby if released from custody, lends support to the belief the kidnaping "has been done by friends of Capone for this very purpose."

He based his opinion on the renewed offer of Capone to effect the return of the baby if Colonel Lindbergh would obtain for him a temporary absence from his prison cell. Capone at Chicago denied making such an offer but reiterated his statement of weeks ago that he would do everything he could to restore the child to his parents if he were liberated."

"The government has lost hundreds of millions of dollars in revenue which has gone into bootleggers' pockets as profit," Bingham said. "These profits have enabled them to finance crime on an hitherto unparalleled scale."

Dr. John F. Condon, the "Jafsie" who paid on behalf of Colonel Lindbergh $50,000 to persons supposedly holding the baby but failed to obtain the child's release, withdrew the "What is wrong?" advertisement he had kept inserted in newspapers since the ransom payment. Whether the action meant Dr. Condon had re-established contact with the kidnapers could not be ascertained although it was reliably reported yesterday that Colonel Lindbergh himself had made a contact early in the week.

SURPRISE FEATURE OF MARKET PROBE

He agreed without any show of resentment, however, that he had heard he had that reputation.

He denied any knowledge of pools operating with the aid of a specialist who knew the pending orders of the stock in question.

"Anybody who would do that would pick a pocket," Glass interjected.

The committee made no attempt to delve into the short operations of the witnesses, leaving that for future investigation after studying their records.

Smith, a member of the exchange, said he had used his wife's name in the radio pool. He testified that Rockefeller, Mrs. Elizabeth Meehan, Bragg and W. F. Kenney participated but in this instance was not sure about Raskob and Fisher.

"They may have been," he said.

Senator Couzens questioned both witnesses closely about their income tax returns. Both said they had made them annually.

The committee will meet Monday to determine its future course.

DREISER AND KAHN GET ORDER FOR EXAMINATION OF RUSSIAN OFFICIALS

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 23. (US)—Theodore Dreiser, noted author, and Otto H. Kahn, financier, today were granted an order which will compel examination in Moscow of seven Russian officials in connection with a $365,000 damage suit brought against the two famous men by William Reswick, of Mount Vernon, a former American newspaper correspondent at Moscow.

Reswick brought suit against Dreiser and Kahn on the grounds that they backed out of an agreement to bring to this country the all-Russian ballet, an official Soviet organization. The sum demanded was set by Reswick as the profits that would have accrued to him if the ballet had toured the country, as planned.

Kahn and Dreiser counter charge that Reswick, and not they, voided the agreement when he failed to obtain Soviet permission for the ballot to leave the country.

KANSAS WET CANDIDATE DENOUNCES BLUE LAWS

OLATHE, Kan., April 23. (INS)—A resounding broadside against the "hypocrisies" of Sunday blue law enforcement in Kansas was fired today by Chauncey B. Little of Olathe, dripping wet candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator.

Commending the action of Judge Frank R. Forrest of Iola in refusing to permit the prosecution of Sunday theater operators in his court unless the anti-labor Sunday laws are enforced against other violators, Little put himself on record as believing the people of Kansas are "as sick and tired of the hypocrisies of Sunday blue law enforcement as they are of the faults and failures of the national prohibition laws."

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Forces behind Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith will clash next Tuesday in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania in primary battles that may decide whether the dominant Roosevelt candidacy can be checked sufficiently to block his nomination.

Of the 490 Democratic delegates chosen to date, Roosevelt now has 255 pledged and claimed for him, with Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois far back in second place with 58.

Hoover Increases Total

President Hoover increased his total slightly and now has all but 22 of the 445 Republican delegates selected so far either pledged or claimed by his managers. Former Senator Joseph I. France of Maryland, his only avowed opponent, disputes 67 of his claimed total of 248.

Next week will see the selection of 118 Democratic delegates and 264 Republican. More than half of the delegates to attend both conventions then will have been named.

Smith supporters expect to gain most of Massachusetts' 36 delegates, but they will he his first since he became a candidate. Roosevelt's supporters probably will be satisfied with 5 or 6 in the Bay state.

In Pennsylvania, the situation is reversed. Politicians and neutral observers give Roosevelt the edge with anywhere from 50 to 70 of the 76 delegates, with the remainder uninstructed or for Smith.

Smith Makes Appeal

That the 1928 standard bearer attaches importance to next week's primaries was evidenced by his direct appeal for the Pennsylvania preference vote in a letter yesterday to Thomas A. Logue, chairman of the Philadelphia Democratic committee.

Apparently confident of Massachusetts, Smith decided not to make a personal plea there.

The Roosevelt camp sees little to prevent it from capturing 318 delegates in about 20 states and territories remaining to select after May 1. This would leave him with 573, or five short of a majority of the 1,154 delegates. But, to win the nomination 770, or two-thirds, are needed, leaving 197 to be picked up from remaining doubtful and favorite son states.

Thus, the showdown may come on delegates expected to line up in small groups for Lewis from Illinois, Ritchie from Maryland, Reed from Missouri, White from Ohio, Murray from Oklahoma, Garner from Texas, and Byrd from Virginia.

UNBEATEN TEAMS PLAY IN RED RIVER CIRCUIT

VERNON, Texas, April 23.—At least two of the quartet of undefeated teams in the Red River Valley baseball league will fall by the wayside Sunday as all eight clubs play their second games of the season. The feature contest of the day will be between the Oklaunion Cardinals and Vernon at the City park here, starting at 3 o'clock. In the other clash between winners of opening games, Crowell will invade Frederick, Okla. The four clubs at the present tied for the cellar will play each other Sunday with Electra moving to Chillicothe and Tipton, Okla., invading Quanah.

Manager C. D. Greene will probably send Roy Mints, elongated right-hander, against Vernon in Sunday's contest here with Lee Williams as the likely choice to oppose the speedball hurler. The Cards will offer their regular lineup as will Vernon and the former club will be a slight pre-game favorite to win.

BRAZOS VALLEY LEAGUE GOES INTO SECOND WEEK

MUNDAY, Texas, April 23.—The change of schedule will pit first game winners against winners and losers against losers when teams of the Brazos Valley Baseball league line up for their second games Sunday. Sunset at Goree and Rochester at Bomarton were games which promised to narrow the dispute for league leadership. Of the opening game losers, Knox City will play at Munday and Weinert at Rhineland.

Nearly all teams will present strengthened lineups. Abbott, a pitcher, and Pogue, a catcher, are additions to Munday's lineup.

The league schedule calls for the playing of last games of the first half of the split season on July 17.

BERLIN, April 23. (US)—"You never can tell what life will bring for the future."

This double-edged comment nailed to the wall reports today that Greta Garbo, Swedish screen star in Hollywood, would become the bride of Wilhelm Soerensen, wealthy social registerite of Stockholm.

Although denying that such an exciting event for the world of film fans is on the books, Soerensen's comment did not entirely kill the rumor. He added:

"Believe me that at present I am not engaged to marry Miss Garbo, but we are on the friendliest terms. You never can tell, though."

Soerensen came to Berlin from Stockholm recently with Prince Sigvard, who first introduced Soerensen to Miss Garbo in 1928. Soerensen, interested in movies, explained:

"I am here to translate into German my book on Hollywood."

Mother Denies Report

STOCKHOLM, April 23. (US)—Mrs. Gustavson, mother of Greta Garbo, denied today reports that Greta is to be married. She said:

SEVEN BEING HELD IN KIDNAPING PLOT FATAL TO INDIAN

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 23. (UP)—Two Oklahoma City salesmen were held by police today for questioning in the alleged kidnap and extortion plot that results in the salying of Jim Woods, wealthy Indian rancher near Pontotoc.

Police withheld their names.

Police Chief John Wat said the arrests completed the roundup of seven men implicated in the state, county and city investigation.

They were arrested here at the request of Johnston county authorities.

Five men previously have been arrested in the investigation and are held in the Johnston county jail at Tishomingo.

An alleged kidnap plot was uncovered during the investigation by R. E. Maxey, state bureau of criminal investigation, and Johnston county officers. Watt said he was informed the officers posed as bootleggers in order to determine the identity of Woods' slayers.

Maxey said he had learned the men planned to kidnap Woods and force him to pay $90,000 in bonds for his release.

"Instead of going with the kidnapers, Woods reached for a revolver and was shot down in his own front yard," Maxey said.

Chief Watt said he was informed the gang robbed Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Goldman here of $1,500 in gems to obtain finances to go through with the kidnap plot.

Tomorrow the governor and Mrs. Roosevelt will go to Richmond, Va., for the governor's conference. On next Thursday night, Mr. Roosevelt and the other governors will be guests of President Hoover. During gthe Wilson administration the Roosevelts and Hoover often visited each other, but since Roosevelt became governor and Hoover president the two men have seen each other only once and that also was during a governors' conference.

On April 30 Roosevelt will leave New York for Warm Springs, Ga., and his spring vacation.

A. P. I. Chapter to Hear Lindsley on Absorption of Gas

At the regular meeting of the Wichita Falls chapter of the American Petroleum Institute, to be held at the Wichita club Tuesday, April 26, Ben E. Lindsley of Bartlesville, Okla., will deliver a lecture on "The Absorption of Gas and Oil."

Mr. Lindsley is a senior petroleum engineer with the United States bureau of mines and a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He has had many years experience in mining and engineering.

For years the government has been compiling information invaluable to the oil producer and it is probable that many operators do not take advantage of this valuable service. Mr. Lindsley will in his lecture tell just what part the bureau of mines is playing in the petroleum industry, and about the service the government is rendering and how to secure its benefits.

The program was secured through Tom L. Coleman of this city, who is connected with the U. S. bureau of mines. All members and their friends are invited to attend the meeting and make Mr. Lindley's visit to this city and district worth while.

Ashes of Famous Agnostic to Soon Rest in Arlington

WASHINGTON, April 23. (UP)—The ashes of Robert Green Ingersoll, famous 19th century American agnostic, soon will rest with the bodies of presidents, generals and admirals in the nation's most hallowed burying place, Arlington national cemetery. His wife, Eva, will be interred with him.

Ingersoll, the United Press learned today, will be buried May 4 with full military honors on the green Virginia slopes overlooking the Potomac.

Since's Ingersoll's death in 1899, his body has rested in Illinois, the state to which his father, a Congregational minister, moved his family in 1845.

Nearly two years ago the war department granted a confidential application by "friends" for Ingersoll's burial in Arlington, but final arrangements were concluded only recently.

The famous liberal, whose attacks on the literal interpretation of the Bible and on established Christianity made him the idol of free thinkers and the anathema of fundamentalists, will rest in Arlington by virtue of his military service. He commanded an Illinois regiment during the civil war.

Ingersoll will be interred in what is known as the "southern section" of the cemetery, lying not far from the grave of the unknown soldier.

On either side of the famous agnostic will lie companions in arms, Maj. Edward Lloyd and Capt. R. Gilliland. Not more than 1,500 feet from his grave is the tomb of William Jennings Bryan, who died fighting for fundamentalism in Christianity.

STATE PAYING FOR FLEET CARS WITH AN OPERATION ALLOWANCE TOTAL EXCEEDS $100,000 YEARLY

By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN, April 23.—The state of Texas is paying for a fleet of nearly 30 automobiles a month, but the automobiles belong to its employes, and not to the state.

Over $100,000 a year is being paid to employes for allowances on the use of their cars in their work, while many departments maintain state-owned cars.

Travel expenses, including payments for privately-owned cars, apparently will run about a quarter million dollars a year.

In other words, at three cents a mile, the state annually pays the equivalent of sending one person on 330 trips around the world, or a total of 8,250,000 miles of travel—or of sending 330 of its employes for a voyage around the globe.

And meals and hotel bills would approximately pay for their food and lodging on such travel.

The state, in creating headings to classify its expenses, followed the West Virginia system. It found one heading that so far it has not had use for.

That heading appears: "Paid editors and reporters." An item of $140 appeared under it in the preliminary tabulation. But the verification check showed the item was just a couple more senators' salaries for a week.

The state hasn't paid any "editors and reporters" yet.

Many Trips to Moon

As soon as travel to the moon is perfected, the state, on its present travel expense, can send 18 of its employes on a round trip to the moon and back each year.

The figures presuppose at least one legislative session a year—far below the average for the past two decades, with the members drawing 10 cents per mile. Legislative mileage is a small item of the total.

The livestock sanitary commission, whose work is spread over the state and consists in numberless inspections in all counties where the state is engaged in tick-killing work, led all the rest in allowances for use of private cars.

Pays for 10 Cars Month

In September of last year, it paid out $5,971 from the general revenue in allowances on personal cars of its employes. Light cars can be bought by the state for $800 each, so that the livestock commission paid for 10 cars in the single month, but didn't get any of them. As evidence the amount is fairly steady, the livestock commission paid out $4,511 in October for allowances on personal cars.

These months are in the present state fiscal year, and on them the comptroller's department has segregated items under various subdivisions, such as salaries, travel by train or bus, personal cars, meals, hotel, and other items.

Pig Sets Home—A Bacon

BRUCE, Wis.—Elmer Christianson might have been trying the ancient Oriental method of preparing roast pork, but, anyway, he is minus one home because of a pig he had butchered. It seems the pig fell from its hanking place and overturned a lantern and a can of gasoline. Christianson and his family escaped in time from the burning house.

MERCIFUL JUDGES SAVE 10 YOUTHS IN SHADOW OF PRISON

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 23. (UP)—Ten boy robbers accompanied by distraught mothers and fathers stood in the shadow of prison bars today and were saved only by merciful judges.

Five of the boys walked out of the courthouse under suspended five-year sentences.

Five others were led to the county jail to sleep in jail cots and eat jail fare a few days, to have drilled into them the fate of the criminal.

The 10 were captured by police two weeks ago after a series of drug store, theater and pedestrian holdups.

Judge R. P. Hill sentenced five to five years each and then suspended sentence. Judge C. C. Christison deferred sentence "for a few days to consider the cases further."

CORRESPONDENT AND AUTHOR ESCAPE FROM COMMUNIST BANDITS

SHANGHAI, April 23. (INS)—Karl von Wiegand, noted correspondent of the Universal Service, and Lady Drummond Hay, English writer, narrowly escaped capture by Chinese Communist bandits between Ickang and Hankow today when the plane in which they were traveling made a forcel landing in the Han river.

The pilot, Charles S. Vaughan of Nashville, Tenn., a former lieutenant in the United States army air corps, succeeded in getting the craft into the air again just as a group of Chinese ran up the river bank.

TULSA OFFICER'S 24-YEAR SENTENCE UPHELD BY COURT

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 23. (UP)—Convictions of Noah Langley, Tulsa policeman sentenced 24 years in the state penitentiary for the fatal shooting of T. D. Wright, was affirmed by the criminal court of appeals today.

Langley was tried for murder, but the jury found him guilty of manslaughter.

Langley and two other officers went to the Wright home Dec. 27, 1930, evidence disclosed, and asked Wright for whisky. The state evidence showed the officers became intoxicated and that Langley shot his host after an argument.

Defense testimony contended that Langley was not drunk and that the officer shot in self-defense after he had accused Wright of trying to rob him.

The appellate court held that it was up to the jury to sift the conflicting evidence, that there were no errors in the trial and that the judgment and sentence of the Tulsa county district court should be affirmed.

The one-year sentence of Mack Hamilton, convicted in the district court of Seminole county of forgery, was reversed.

Insufficient corroboration was the reason for reversing the decision of the lower court, the opinion stated.

When James H. Collis, aged 48, was buried recently in Hasland, England, churchyard, it was the third time in 11 years that the grave had been opened, his wife succumbing first and his daughter four days after her.

HEAD CELOTEX COMPANY GRANTED DIVORCE FROM FORMER TEXAS WOMAN

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—Bror G. Dahlberg, wealthy head of the Celotex Co., was granted an uncontested divorce today from Mrs. Mary Dahlberg, the former Mary Alexander of San Saba, Texas, on the grounds of desertion.

The Dahlbergs were married Nov. 10, 1921, and Dahlberg charged she left him Jan. 23, 1931. She has been living in Paris and in a residence she established on the Isle of Majorca in the Mediterranean sea.

Dahlberg, one of the nation's largest sugar dealers, developed a plan to drain 170,000 acres of swamp land in Florida, raise sugar cane and manufacture the fiber into insulation and wall boards.

'MAN-A-BLOCK' SYSTEM GIVES 65 MEN WORK

More Than 500 Hours' Work Have Been Assigned Local Needy

116 BLOCK CAPTAINS IN CHARGE OF GETTING WORK

American Legion Sponsors Plan With H. H. Bailey In Active Charge

More than 500 hours of work have been assigned 65 unemployed men in Wichita Falls as a result of the American Legion "man-a-block" plan, according to H. H. Bailey, in charge of the employment system. The federal emergency employment bureau here is working with the American Legion presenting the "man-a-block" system.

To secure employment for the needy of the city, 116 block captains have been appointed to solicit as many hours of work as possible from the residents of the blocks in which they work.

"Due to the recent rain," Mr. Bailey said Saturday, "yards and vacant lots must be cleaned up.

"There are many men registered at the bureau who are anxious to do any kind of work.

"Money earned by these men has gone immediately into channels of local trade, and local merchants have been benefited as well as the worker and his family."

Mr. Bailey requested that citizens having yard work or odd jobs that need doing, inform the federal bureau. The bureau phone number is 6323.

PARKER RETURNS FROM INTENSIVE TRAINING AT FORD V-8 SCHOOL

J. W. Parker, of the Northwest Motors, Inc., returned home Saturday after one week's intensive study in the factory training school at the Dallas branch of the Ford Motor company, where a special school is being conducted for the instruction of all authorized Ford dealers' service men in correct service methods for the new Ford V-8 automobile.

"In all my years of mechanical experience," said Mr. Parker, "I have never seen such remarkable simplicity of design and construction as is embodied in the new Ford V-8 engine."

"It has less wearing parts than a good many six-cylinder automobiles, and in this respect compares very favorably even with previous type four-cylinder engines.

"There are new and ingenious engineering features incorporated in this new V-8 Ford motor by the dozens," Mr. Parker stated, "and both its performance on the road and economy of operation are amazing in comparison with all previous standards.

"Mr. Ford's genius for simplified engine design has made this new V-8 engine unusually easy to service, and the Northwest Motors has provided every piece of precision and speed equipment needed to insure the finest kind of quick one-stop service for Wichita Falls owners of V-8 Ford automobiles"

STRESSES VALUE OF ADVERTISING

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., April 23. (UP)—Gilbert T. Hodges, president of the Advertising Federation of America, urged today that advertising continue uncurtailed, despite adverse economic conditions.

Speaking before the 29th district Rotary convention, Hodges cited several examples designed to show that companies which have kept to their advertising standard have maintained and even increased their business.

"Unfortunately," he said, "many advertisers in their urgent effort to cut down overhead, mistake advertising investment for expense, and unwisely cut their appropriations heavily. In other words they withdraw from their business the special nourishment of which it is then so desperately in need."

BURK DECLAMATION WINNERS

Miss Pauline Henry and Dale Cropper, both of Burkburnett High school, were awarded first places in senior girls and senior boys declamation contests at the district 4 interscholastic meet here last week. Both of them will go to Austin for the state meet as representatives of the district, which is composed of nine counties.

Miss Henry is the daughter of Mrs. Dove Henry, Burkburnett, and young Cropper is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Cropper, Burkburnett. They are both pupils of Miss Margaret Tanner, teacher of speech arts in the Burkburnett schols.

C. C. Gumm Announces Candidacy for Justice of Court of Civil Appeals Says Cost of Litigation Too High

A formal announcement of his candidacy for associate justice of the court of civil appeals at Fort Worth was made Saturday by C. C. Gumm, of Fort Worth.

The announcement follows:

"In making this my statement of candidacy for associate justice of the court of civil appeals at Fort Worth, I am actuated by a desire for a larger opportunity to render a public service. For 30 years I have endeavored to prepare myself for usefulness to my neighbor. As a farmer boy of poor parents, I worked and paid my way through nine and one-half years of college and university study. I attended four years at Washington college, three years at Vanderbilt university one-half year at University of Chicago, one year at University of Pennsylvania and one year of research study in Europe. I was awarded the degrees of A. B., A. M., Ph. D. and other certificates of scholarship. At Vanderbilt, I pursued studies in the law and received the award for original graduate research work.

"I was instructor for one year at University of Missouri, one year instructor at University of Pennsylvania, three years professor at old Polytechnic college, two years at Texas Christian university and one year law lecturer at Texas Christian university.

"During the war, I was manager of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, district food administrator, member of the war resources board, chairman of the Texas food and feed committee, and largely in charge of civilian activities in connection with the army camp and the three aviation fields at Fort Worth. I secured three aviation fields for Fort Worth when only one was intended or hoped for. I assisted in the location of the army camp and many industries in that city. I am the founder of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and fought for its existence for several years and have taken an active part in many civic enterprises, which space will not permit of enumeration.

"For the past 11 years I have been actively engaged in the practice of law in the state and federal courts. I own a law library of approximately two thousand volumes. During this time, I have given diligent attention to court procedure. I have written a great many articles on reform in our Texas laws and court procedure, which have been well received by the bar and the public. My study, observation and practice in the courtroom has persuaded me to believe, and I do believe:

"1. That the cost of trying a legal right in the courts, under our present sytem is too expensive for the poor man, which should not be: the courts should be equally accessible to all men. The present cost of litigation should be and can be reduced with a resultant increase in efficiency;

"2. That the time now taken for determining a legal right through the courts can and should be reduced from one-half to two-thirds;

"3. That technicality, which hampers and often defeats justice at the present time, should be eliminated or reduced to a minimum and can be with a corresponding increase in the quality of justice.

"The unnecessary expense, delay and technicality in the administration of the law has become a burden to the people.

"The method and plan by which these reforms may be accomplished will be presented to the public for their consideration during my campaign as opportunity is afforded, and if I am elected, I shall deem myself under command of the people to proceed with my efforts to effect court reform.

"I have neither sought nor have I held a public office.

"My candidacy is an expression of a desire that my experience may be of service to the people in the cause of better justice.

"I will deeply appreciate your vote and influence."

PRINCIPAL ELECT OF SCHOOLS AT MUNDAY OFFERS RESIGNATION

MUNDAY, Texas, April 23.—The announcement of H. H. Riley, city school superintendent, that he had resigned as principal-elect of the high school for next year to accept the principalship of the Canton, Texas, High school, left further reorganization to be done in the system here in preparation for the 1932-33 term.

Until Riley resigned, only one teaching place had remained definitely to be filled in the local system following the annual election of teachers by trustees. The system will operate next year with one fewer grade school teachers and probably one fewer in the high school.

Of those elected, all except one now are teaching here. The elections were: high school faculty, G. C. Jones, superintendent and L. S. Hardigree, science, with the principal and a Spanish teacher to be named; grades, L. M. Palmer, principal, Mrs. L. M. Palmer, who now is teaching at Van, Texas, and Mrs. Riley B. Harrell and Mrs. L. S. Hardigree and Misses Maudie Mae Bennett, Vivian Curry, Mildred Kennedy and Lucille Jarrell.

MUNDAY LEGION POST DECLINES CENSURE OF NATIONAL COMMANDER

MUNDAY, Texas, April 23.—The Munday post of the American Legion has declined to join in centure of the national commander for the statement attributed to him that ex-service men as a class opposed the immediate payment in full of adjusted compensation certificates, according to Frank Decker, local commander.

Members of the post have gone on record unanimously in favor of payment of certificates, but declined to censure the national head because it "would be playing into the hands of opponents of the measure to encourage dissention in the ranks of legionairres," Decker declared.

Planting Follows Rain

MUNDAY, Texas, April 23.—Planting which had been greatly delayed because of dry weather was in full swing in this section toward the latter part of the week following Monday's heavy showers, which was general over Knox county. Growing crops had begun needing moisture.

TWO DALLAS DRY AGENTS EXPECTED TO MAKE BOND PROBABLY COMING WEEK

DALLAS, April 23. (AP)—United States Commissioner Lee R. Smith said today that Prohibition Agents L. C. Smith and N. D. Heaton probably would post bonds next week in connection with the killing of Marion McGlothlin and the wounding of Mrs. McGlothlin. He said some Fort Worth men had agreed to act as sureties.

William H. Atwell, United States district judge, set the bonds of the agents at $17,500 each in a hearing at San Angelo a few days ago. They had been indicted by the Dallas county grand jury for murder and assault with intent to murder and state authorities had declined to grant bond.

E. Crippen, assistant United States attorney, said he would ask Judge Atwell to reduce the bonds if the sureties were unable to raise the present amount.

McGlothlin was shot to death and his wife wounded after the agents had attempted to buy liquor from a man who agreed to meet them at McGlothlin's crossroads store. The couple mistook the agents for robbers.

'Golden Rule' Plan Living Suggested As Method of Decreasing Ravages of Tuberculosis, 'Great White Plague'

By MARY QUINN
Executive Secretary Wichita County Tuberculosis Association

During the month of April the local tuberculosis association, in cooperation with the national association, has been observing "The Early Diagnosis Campaign" by conducting clinics, presenting speakers to talk to different clubs in city and county and meeting with the different P.-T. A.'s, broadcasting and distributing literature in order to stimulate the interest of the citizens "to find the other case." If each and every family will apply the golden rule plan of living then our efforts will not be in vain.

What does the golden rule imply with reference to the prevention of tuberculosis? It implies first of all that we shall, each one of us, make it our business to learn about tuberculosis, this disease that today kills more young men and women than any other, or in fact than all other preventable diseases. The tuberculosis association is willing to give you readable pamphlets about tuberculosis for the asking. No one need be in ignorance of these facts.

In the second place the golden rule implies that we shall aid the doctor, the public health nurse, the health department, and the tuberculosis association in their efforts to fight tuberculosis. We may not seem to be able to do much, but we can learn about tuberculosis. We can at least help those who are fighting tuberculosis by buying some Christmas seals at holiday time.

In the third place the golden rule implies that, so far as we are able, we will never by our conduct place in jeopardy the health or life of any one else, as a result of our carelessness.

It is no disgrace to have tuberculosis. We must bear in mind that tuberculosis is no respecter of persons. It strikes young and old, rich and poor alike. Its presence in an individual is in no sense a reflection on his character or mentality. Why then should we stigmatize those who have tuberculosis? Rather we should, if we obey the golden rule, seek them out and give to each one the help that he or she most needs. We should aid them and those who care for them to bring cheer and happiness into their efforts for health. We should seek to guard against further spread of the disease by helping to find "the other case."

TWO ROADS AUTHORIZED TO ABANDON SHORT LINE

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—The Texas and New Orleans Railway and the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway company today were authorized by the Interstate Commerce commission to abandon 12 miles of line in Harris county, Texas.

The road runs from Strang to Seabrook and paved highways have made it unprofitable.

Fined for Coal Theft

MUNDAY, Texas, April 23.—Twelve Munday negroes charged with participating in the taking of several tons of coal from a moving Wichita Valley train here early last winter were assessed fines ranging from $1 to $25 and costs each, following the opening of a new term of the Knox county court at Benjamin this week. County court charges were filed after the last federal grand jury at Wichita Falls had investigated the incident without returning indictments, according to Sheriff C R. Elliott.

FRIENDLY SUIT TO TEST VALIDITY OF NEW ELECTION LAW

AUSTIN, April 23. (AP)—A suit to determine validity of a law passed by the 42nd legislature eliminating the names of party presidential electors from the general election ballot will be filed in the supreme court, Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, said today.

Mrs. McCallum has asked former Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas to file the action. It will be a friendly suit.

The law would permit voters to ballot directly for president and vice president, their votes for candidates for these two offices automatically being counted as votes for the party electors.

Mrs. McCallum said she doubted validity of the law, despite an opinion of the attorney general that it was valid. The law contravenes section four of the constitution because a ballot which does not contain the names of the persons to be voted on it no ballot, Mrs. McCallum said.

The mandamus would be in the nature of an action to force Mrs. McCallum to comply with the new law. She informed Senator Love today she would refuse to comply with the law and would follow the prior law.

Mrs. McCallum said she feared Texas' votes in the electoral college might not be allowed unless the new law had been passed upon by the courts.

BLIZZARD MAROONS 43 PERSONS FOR 48 HOURS NO LONGER IN DANGER

CALGARY, Alta. April 23. (AP)—Trapped by the blizzard Wednesday, 43 persons were marooned for 48 hours in a small dance hall at Chestermere Lake, 12 miles east of here, James McIntyre, a garage employe, reported when he broke through the snow-drifted highway to reach here today.

McIntyre said a group of motorists, including a mother and her infant child, were stranded on the road.

He assured authorities the group was no longer in danger and automobiles would reach them some time today.

The application for a receivership, filed in district court, alleged that total liabilities of the company totalled $1,076,000 while assets were but $700,000.

CANDIDATES WILL SPEAK AT SWEETWATER MEETING OF WEST TEXAS CHAMBER

SWEETWATER, April 23.—All candidates for congressman-at-large in Texas, and for the state elective offices will be given an opportunity to address visitors in Sweetwater during the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention May 12-14.

For this purpose a political carnival is being arranged to be held on the evenings of May 12 and 13 during the regional convention, but not connected with the convention program in any way.

Will H. Scott, state representative from the 117th district of Texas, will be chairman of the carnival, and will schedule the speakers. Candidates for governor will be allowed 40 minutes each on the program, and all other candidates, 20 minutes each. Scott points out that only state-wide candidates will be allowed time, since the convention visitors will be from all portions of the state. Scott will receive applications for places on the carnival program, and will assign each speaker a definite time to appear.

The speaking platform will be erected on the courthouse square at Sweetwater, and the speakings will be held the evenings of May 12 and May 13 from 7 p. m. on till as late as the program lasts depending upon the number of speakers each evening. Chairman Scott is desirous of sending an invitation to each candidate for state office to come to Sweetwater for the speaking.

State-Wide Rotary Conference to Open in Mineral Wells May First Prominent Speakers Head Program

MINERAL WELLS, April 23.—Reservations already made for the state-wide Rotary conference which opens here May 1 and continues through May 3 indicate a minimum attendance of 1,200 with the probability that it will reach 1,500. The first state-wide Rotary gathering since the Galveston convention in 1925, when Texas was divided into three districts and a part of a fourth, the 1932 session will attract delegations from every Rotary club in the 41st, 47th and 48th districts, and Rotary International headquarters is assigning to the Texas conference some of the notable figures in the organization.

Sir Charles Mander, baronet, of Wolverhampton, England, past president of Rotary International in the British Isles; Clinton S. Anderson, who is generally expected to be the next president of Rotary International; Claybrook Cottingham of Pineville, La., past director; and Walter S. Jenkins of Hoston, song leader for the international conventions at Chicago and Vienna, are among them.

Unusual Feature

An unusual feature of the opening day's program will be a union religious service from 8 to 9 in the evening at the convention hall at which Dr. William M. Anderson of Dallas will preach and Ed Shumway, Boy Scout director of Abilene, will conduct a song service of the massed choirs of the different churches participating. An informal get-together meeting will follow at 9:15 at the Baker hotel pavilion.

The registration booths open at 1:30 Sunday afternoon, each district having a separate booth, and the first business session starts at 9:45 Monday morning with Dr. John A. Crockett, governor of the 47th district, presiding. Allen Guinn of Mineral Wells, chairman of the host club conference committee, will call the session to order. The Monday morning session feature will be the address of Sir Charles Mander.

The service committee luncheons the Houston club is in charge of the community program, Dallas is in charge of the club program, San Antonio in charge of the vocational and Fort Worth in charge of the international—precede the Monday afternoon session, which will be featured by an address on "Texas Rotary History" by John V. Singleton of Waxahachie, past governor of the old 13th (all Texas) district, with nominations for district governor following.

Dinner and Dance

Monday evening has been set apart for entertainment and fellowship, with a dinner and dance.

Breakfasts for the incoming presidents and secretaries will be held at 7:30 Tuesday morning with two groups—one of clubs with 50 or more members and the other of clubs with less than 50. Jess A. McGill of Paris, governor of the 48th district, is to preside over the Tuesday forenoon session, the feature of which will be the address of Clinton S. Anderson, of Albuquerque, N. M., on "The Governors of the World." Each of the three districts will have a separate luncheon, and each will have a separate business session during the afternoon at which the principal business will be the election of the new governor.

Entertainment of the Rotary Anns and Annettes will be provided by the conference. Monday afternoon the Royal Russian chorus will present a matinee on the Baker hotel roof. Tuesday morning a bridge and 42 tournament with a luncheon for the women will be held in the Florentine dining room. The C. I. A. Girls choir will sing at both general and special sessions. A floor show will be a part of the pavilion programs.

REPORT EXECUTION OF SUBJECT GREAT BRITAIN GUATEMALA

WASHINGTON, April 23. (INS)—Execution by Guatemalan authorities of Juan P. Wainwright, believed a British subject, was reported to the state department today.

Wainwright visited Guatemala frequently as the traveling representative of an American printing concern, and was executed in March for Communistic activities, according to the report, received by mail from the American minister.

No action has been taken by either this government or Great Britain so far as the department knows. Wainwright was born in Honduras of a British father and a Houndran mother, and his nationality is in some doubt.

Mrs. Matilda Hiller, aged 72, who is a grandmother, and Arthur Wilkinson, 74, both of Crewe, England, who were married recently, first met in a cemetery.

Ruth Calls on Dr. Raynor

As the handwriting expert announced that he had something interesting to say concerning the relationship of the two handwriting specimens, Ruth caught her breath. Then she let it escape with a choking little sound.

"The same person did both of them, didn't he?" she asked.

The man nodded. "He did. No doubt about it."

"That's all I wanted to know. How much is it, please?"

"Never mind. I'm taking care of this," Arnold Page waved her voice aside.

"But I'm not delivering this information to . . . headquarters. I'm keeping it to myself!" Ruth answered quickly. "That is—until I'm sure, and even then if I can clear the thing up without any one else knowing, won't it be all right? I can tell you this for sure . . . the party involved didn't know he was being involved. I'd stake my life on that!"

"You needn't tell, Miss Bradley. It is quite all right. But it limits the rest of us. We hardly know where to turn," Page answered.

"Then don't do anything! Let me look after this. Please, won't you?"

Page agreed. Ruth made another suggestion. "If you don't mind, I won't go back home just now. I have an errand I should do. It's about this . . . trouble. Could I meet you at your mother's, Sue, in an hour or so?"

"Of course," Sue was beginning, when she remembered that she would have no way of getting home even then. There was no bus that went very near to the house.

"I'll get a taxicab," Ruth said, as though sensing her question. "You don't mind, do you?"

Left alone, outside the building, because she had refused a lift any place, Ruth started down the street to Dr. Raynor's office. She had remembered that this was the night when he was in the office, receiving patients, arranging prescriptions, and all the rest.

She didn't quite know what her line of approach was going to be. She raised her head and let the cold night air fan her cheeks. The stars were as bright as they had been two weeks ago. The shop lights were as radiant. But somehow the whole meaning of the picture was gone. Had been ever since Joe Raynor had told her that he was going to marry Sally. Funny, she mused, the havoc that one man could play with a girl's life. Small good it did to tell yourself that there were other braver, better men. No girl could ever take her own advice.

She turned in at the entrance of the office. It was in a large brown house that had been remodeled for a few offices. Dr. Raynor's office opened onto the porch. The reception room was empty. Ruth could see it from the street. Maybe he had gone to see Sally this early. She opened the door. The clock whose hands proclaimed the coming and going of the physician announced that he was in.

Ruth sat down. She felt strangely out of place in the office. She noticed the magazines on the table. Their covers were still shiny and untorn. Evidently no patients had had to wait very long for appointments. Business must not be very good. There was a scrap of lace in the corner of a big chair. Mechanically she stooped over, picked it up, and spread it out. It had an "S" in the corner. The half-haunting odor of Sally's perfume lingered on it. Ruth dropped it quickly.

Dr. Raynor was opening the door of his office. She wondered how she should begin.

Next: Ruth questions Dr. Raynor.

THE CHICAGO TAX DECISION

The decision which was rendered last Thursday by the Illinois supreme court will, if it is eventually upheld, prove of far-reaching significance. It will have its repercussions here in Wichita Falls.

The court held that the plaintiff, Mrs. Lillian Cisar, could not avoid payment of her own taxes on the ground that some other property owners were not being proportionately taxed. It was held that she was not entitled to say, in effect, "you're not taxing the other fellow enough, therefore you can't tax me at all."

Here in Wichita Falls there has been a disposition on the part of some property owners to resist collection of their taxes on the ground that certain classes of property, such as vendor's lien notes, are escaping taxation altogether. There have been hints that the issue thus raised would be threshed out in the courts. The Chicago decision points to the futility of such a proceeding.

Mrs. Cisar claimed that as no effort was being made to levy on 16 billion dollars worth of personal property in Chicago, she should not be called upon to pay taxes on her home. A decision in her favor would have struck at the taxing system of practically every political entity in the United States, and would have greatly increased the difficulty of collecting taxes at a time when it is already so difficult as to threaten grave troubles.

If the Ilinois court decision is eventually upheld it will clear up the law in the case. It will not, however, dispose of the problem that is presented by the classes of property that escape taxation. That is a matter for legislation.

MR. LOVE FINDS OUT

As a result of the state supreme court's decision in the case brought by Tom Love, we now have a clearer understanding of the rights of the state executive committee in regard to the pledge. In the light of this and former decisions, it seems that the committee has broad powers to restrict primary participation so far as a voter's intentions for the future are concerned, but has practically no power at all to look into, or take action concerning a voter's past actions. It must let the dead past bury its dead, but it has the right to insist that only those who declare themselves to be in good faith members of a party shall take part in that party's primary.

The Democratic state committee acted in keeping with such rules. It took no action against those who left the party in 1928. It did take action to restrict the 1930 presidential primary to those who profess to be Democrats in the fullest sense. The supreme court's decision fully upholds the committee's action.

Mr. Love can now do one of two things. He can remain out of the May primaries. Or he can take the pledge as required and participate in the primary, comforted by the thought that the courts have, in an earlier case, obligingly construed the moral obligation to be meaningless. In view of the way Mr. Love's following has dwindled, it doesn't matter to the Democratic party in Texas which course he adopts. It may be worth a little to the party to have him disciplined by the state supreme court, but not much.

A man in divorce court complained that his wife threw an alarm clock at him. He should have been thankful he didn't own a grandfather clock.

THE MOONEY DECISION

Among those who have made any study of the Tom Mooney case, there seem to be four different points of view.

One is that Mooney is guilty, that his guilt has been clearly proven, and that the enormity of the crime justifies keeping him a prisoner for the remainder of his life. This is the point of view adopted by Governor Rolph of California. It is the point of view of most Californians.

A second point of view is that while Mooney's actual participation in the bombing outrage is subject to various doubts, his attitude toward government, his record and his associations demand that these doubts be resolved against him.

A third is that while Mooney is not an admirable figure, the evidence of his guilt is so far from conclusive that some measure of clemency should be extended him.

The fourth point of view is that Mooney's innocence has been clearly established, that he is a martyr to the radical cause and that a complete vindication is due him. This is the view of radicals, from the most delicate shade of pink to the deepest red, the world over.

The question of Mooney's guilt probably never can be answered satisfactorily. There is damning evidence against him. On the other hand, there is some impressive evidence for him. Whatever one's opinion of, or feelings toward, the man himself, no impartial student of the case can be as free from doubt as Governor Rolph and his advisers seem to be. The governor takes the position that, Mooney having been duly convicted, the burden of proof is now upon him. This position is hardly tenable. The governor's statement jumps with rather too much agility over the new evidence that is favorable to the prisoner. Those who favor clemency for Mooney will be confirmed in their attitudes by the governor's manner of dealing with the case. It is difficult to feel that the governor entered into a study of the affair with that open-mindedness that was due. After all is said and done, there are many who still doubt and will continue to doubt.

There is in a case like this, and indeed in every case in which an accused man is tried, a principle that heavily outweighs any consideration of the man himself. Governor Rolph was thinking too much of the man Mooney, too little of the basic principle of American jurisprudence. Without granting the pardon which would have, by implication, fully cleared Mooney of the accusation, he should have extended such a degree of clemency as would recognize the doubts that will not down. Californians would have viewed such action as a partial surrender to the radicals who have been clamoring for Mooney's exoneration, and who are hated in California as they are hated nowhere else in the world. The country as a whole, we believe, would have approved it.

THE SHORT SELLING INQUIRY

Ever since the senate directed its attention to the question of short selling, there have been those in Washington who felt that it was packed with dynamite and who tried, in various ways, to stave off the investigation which was demanded.

The worst fears of this group are now being realized. The disclosure of Thursday, relative to the practices of the syndicate which included the house of Morgan in marketing foreign bonds, justifies all the uneasiness that had been felt. When the bonds that were "pegged" at a price of 90 by a great banking house are selling around 35, the public will raise some questions not easy to answer.

So far as the short selling question is concerned, a scapegoat seems to have been found. A bear raid by French traders has been disclosed, and those traders will probably be called upon to bear the blame that otherwise might have been placed nearer home. But a domestic goat has been found for the foreign bond troubles, and its load will be heavy.

Would you call a man who pays his bills on the first of the month an early settler?

Back to Jefferson

President of University of Wisconsin and Former Editor of the Century Magazine
(Copyright McClure Newspaper Syndicate)
By GLENN FRANK

As we swing into the 1932 campaign we shall see some vivid proof of the way in which dead rebels may be used to support living reaction.

I doubt that we shall hear much said about the real heart of Jefferson's philosophy of government, for instance.

Jefferson's philosophy of politics and economics stemmed from one of his shortest and least quoted sentences.

"This world," he said, "should always belong to the living generation and not to generations that are past and gone."

This flexibility of attitude, this conviction that the principles and procedures of government, whether political or economic, should be kept progressively adjusted to changing circumstances, breathed through all of Jefferson's pronouncements.

He insisted that democracy was admirably suited to the simple, rural, agricultural life of his time.

He frankly said he did not believe that the ultra-democratic scheme he sponsored would work equally well in a land whose people had gravitated into great cities, whose enterprise had gravitated into great industries, and so on.

This is why he said again and again that a people should review and reconstruct its political institutions from generation to generation in order that government might surely be fitted to serve the needs and solve the problems of the living generation."

Jefferson thought it was the duty of leadership to anticipate change, not to wait until change was forced upon it, and then blindly oppose it, compelling the advocates of peaceful change to transform themselves into revolutionists.

All that Jefferson said about politics applies equally in the field of economics today.

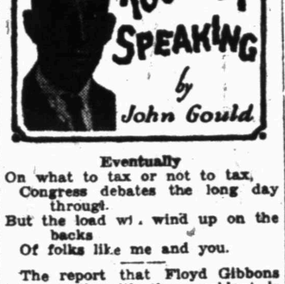

In the field of economic organization, we are now at one of those moments, foreshadowed by Jefferson, when we must review and reconstruct.

The real answer to the current assaults on capitalism is an intelligent adjustment of capitalism to the new forces that make this age of science and the machine.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf.—Peter 4:16.

Eventually

On what to tax or not to tax,
Congress debates the long day through.
But the load will wind up on the backs
Of folks like me and you.

The report that Floyd Gibbons had a talk with the president is probably incorrect. He may have had a talk to the president, but not with.

The five-day week is planned for federal employes at Washington. It's about four and a half days too many for some of the congressmen.

Soup

Nothing, we have discovered, is as subversive of one's sense of humor as soup. There are other alleged foods that we do not care for, but they do not affect us as soup does. Spinach, for all that may be said against it—and there is virtually no limit to the number of things that may be said against it—leaves our sense of humor unimpaired. In fact, though we hate to admit it, it sometimes seems to stimulate it. Likewise, okra and squash and the like actually seem conducive to our brand of jest and persiflage and philosophical comment, and anybody who can be funny on okra has the makings of a true humorist.

Soup, however, develops nothing but gloom. It robs the world of what little humor there is in it. After taking on a cargo of it, things that ordinarily seem killingly funny fail to provoke our mirth at all.

For four successive days this last week we subsisted on soup. Well, perhaps subsisted is not the right word. You don't really subsist on it. You just tantalize your digestive tract with it. We had nothing but soup for four days and if you don't think it gets monotonous, you can conduct a noble experiment for yourself. If there is anything that gets more monotonous than a Republican depression, it's a soup diet.

We can't understand what brought on the trouble that necessitated it. We had eaten nothing out of the way. Some fried chicken, rice and gravy, potatoes, a few vegetables and some strawberry shortcake made by our own personal shortcake artist—that was practically all. It was such a modest repast that we felt justified, a little later, in nibbling at some bananas and peanuts and stuff like that. If we were inclined to be intemperate in our eating, we could expect our digestive mechanism to have its recalcitrant spells, but we really are a very delicate eater. Even on the shortcake, we had only two helpings.

Advice

But something disagreed with us and when that happens there is no occasion to ask medical advice. It is a waste of the doctor's time and our own to go to him with our troubles because we know in advance what he's going to say. He's going to tell us to eat soup.

We have sometimes thought, by way of observing the amenities, of calling him up and saying, "Doc, the colon is acting like an interrogation point part of the time and like a period the rest of the time and we shall proceed to eat soup until it is restored to its proper punctuational status." Or something like that, just to let him know we weren't completely ignoring him.

The main trouble with soup is what they put into it. If you order the run-of-the-mine soup in a restaurant, it is discouraging; it only serves to inform you what was on the bill of fare the day before. It is a sort of rewrite of yesterday's menu, and we always prefer to get that information at first hand.

Furthermore, we are hard to fool about that kind of soup. We were a mess officer in the war, and every veteran knows by that how well we know soup. The army cook's predilection for soup is one of the reasons they pay bonuses to ex-soldiers. It is a good reason, too.

The Choice

The only alternative to that kind of soup is the canned kind. And that involves a choice between chicken soup and tomato soup. Which is like some of the choices you have to make in politics. You don't like one, but you know it can't be as bad as the other. The only time when tomato soup seems to have any charm is when you are eating chicken soup, and vice versa.

Tomato soup, after all is said and done, is just soup made out of tomatoes and you're not entitled to expect much from it. There is no mystery about it. The makers of it simply do the best they can with what they have, which is all that Mr. Hoover is doing.

Chicken soup, however, has always been an unplumbed mystery to us. It is presumed to have contact with chicken, which is a noble food. Fried chicken, broiled chicken, baked chicken, or however, it is good to eat. Even chicken a la king has its good points, if you are real hungry and can divest your mind of the thought that maybe it isn't the fowl's first appearance in company. In almost any form, chicken is easy to take.

It would seem, therefore, that chicken soup would convey some faint, remote, indistinct, subtle hint that it has chicken in it. But it does not. There is nothing about it that suggests chicken. There is nothing about it that suggests anything. The only thing that chicken soup tastes like is more chicken soup. It doesn't even taste bad. It just tastes. It is hard to understand why this should be so. The only plausible reason for it is that somebody now and then wants to play a joke on his stomach. If our own stomach has any sense of humor, it has had abundant opportunity to exercise it, this past week.

And so we must ask our customers to make allowances for us this morning. Life seems bleak and hollow and barren. Not even the fact that fishing season opens next Sunday causes a rift in the gloom. For if we go to Lake Wichita, the sight of its brown, turgid contents will remind us of what we've had to live on lately.

A woodpecker at the White House has been disturbing the president's rest. Let's hope they can keep it out of the senate chamber.

The Democratic party in Texas has apparently lost Love. But it can get along a while longer on faith and hope.

That's more than Texas Republicans have, at any rate.

WILL ROGERS LOOKS AT MOVIES AND A HORSE

(Copyright 1931, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

By WILL ROGERS

Well, all I know is just what I read in the papers, and what I hear as I listen in on a radio that the kids put in my room here. I never was much of a radio hound. I get my Amos and Andy and then wash the other programme up, but as this one is right here I got it going. Hollywood is having one of its "Openings," thats one of those things where there is a new movie opening at some Theatre.

Well for sameness I dont suppose two airdale pups are any more alike than all "Openings." They have a microphone out in the lobby of the Theatre and an announcer and he tells you who is coming in. He says "Here comes Mr. Who's or Mr. Jasbo, we will have em step over to the micraphone and say a few words to you over the micraphone." And thats the last you ever hear of it, they never come over and say anything, and the ones that they do get to come over and say, "Hello everybody, wish you were here," but its the studio bootblack, or some one that worked for the company that is putting on the picture. Its got so that every studio almost sandbags its own people to make em go and make up the crowd. It its a Warner Picture every one there is working for Warner. If its Fox's its a typical Fox audience. Most of em have seen it at the studio, or the studio preview, but they dont attract the crowds like they used too. And most of the companys have done away with em. It cost a lot of dough to put one on, and after all a picture does nowadays just what it deserves.

You can open one down a dark alley and not let any one know it and if its any good in a few days you cant get near the thing. Its like a good restaurant, you cant hide it. This old boy announcing tonight is having trouble getting any one to announce that any one ever heard of. He is laying it onto the traffic. He says traffic is holding all the big ones back. He is tireless though. He keeps making you think some one is coming pretty soon. He says he has to hurry that they have to go back to the studio and put on a programme for the Chevrolett, they want to sell some cars, they dont want to know who is at the openings.

This is a commercial age, we havent got much time for frivilous things. That is a thankless job that announcer has. Poor fellow cant dig up a soul. He will be glad when that Chervolet time comes. Oh yes here is Chick Sales, you all know Chick? He is a bear on canvas or boards, then he had a mighty popular novel one time. Chick ought to fit right into an opening. Chick you was a lifesaver for this poor announcer.

Yep here comes the Chervolett announcement, "We are back in the studios, have you compared Chervolett quality and prices with other cars, if you havent get up in the morning and do it." They are playing a kinder pretty tune now called In the Valley where the Lillies grow. Its gota mighty catchy swing.

Now we are at a Culver City Nighty Club. I worked at the old Goldwyn Studio for three years back in 19 and 20, 21, and I never thought Culver City would ever have a night club, so you can never tell what a town will turn out to be.

Speaking of music my wife and Mrs. Flo Zeigfeld, (Billie Burke) have gone to hear Padawriski. Say try to spell that guys name. Everybody can say it but no one can spell it. I wanted to go hear the old gentleman tonight. I never in my life heard him. Thats almost a crime, for he must be the greatest ever and a very fine old character. I wouldent have known any more what he was doing than a prairie dog, but I bet I would have enjoyed a lot of it at that. I have stayed at his hotel in Warsaw, in fact, occupied his suit there, and by the way Floyd Gibbons was there at the hotel with me at the time. Thats where I first met him. He has had a great time over in China. Sure wish I had not had to rush back.

But still I am not so hot for that actual war stuff. I dont want to see it, no matter what tribes of people are fighting. Aint it funny how that war dropped right out of sight, the Lindberg Baby ruined that war for publicity sake.

And next in comparison to that was a horse, that Australian horse. Did you ever see as many people interested in an animal? I am sitting here now in my den looking at a wonderful picture of him, given to me by the sports writer that come over with him. He told me that he cabled back to Australia from fifteen hundred to two thousand words about Pharlap every day. That was all during the time that he was being prepared for the race, and after he won it. Just think of the cost of that. And the interest that must have been in him. Now imagine how they must feel.

I was in Australia many many years ago, and I have always maintained that they had the best horses, I mean horse for horse all over the country, that they had the best horses in the world. Racing! Thats not only a sport with them, its a mania. When the big race, the Melbourne cup, is run, every man, woman and child in the land has some kind of a bet on it. This horse holds the record for it. He won it I think a couple of times and would have kept on winning it, but the handicappers put the grandstand on him. He was a very big, powerful horse, his real distance was two and a half miles. We havent got a thing that could have finished in the stretch with him over that distance. Imagine that little group, trainer, vetenarian, jockey, grooms, and my friend Wolfe the sporting writer going back all that long trip alone. A horse, after all, I guess, is just about next to a human. Him and the old Dog.

Health and Diet Advice

Floating Kidneys

Floating kidneys were more often found during the period when corsets were fashionable, but they are by no means rare even today. Approximately seven times as many women as men are affected by floating kidneys, probably because a floating kidney is usually associated with other abdominal prolapsus, a condition more frequently found in women because their muscles are usually less developed than those of the sterner sex.

Many people have floating kidneys without noticing any symptoms of distress, and the floating kidney is often discovered during the doctor's examination for other troubles. A patient who has been told that he has a floating kidney may worry a great deal about the condition, but there usually is little harm produced by the misplacement of either one of the kidneys.

Position of Kidneys

In most textbooks of anatomy, the kidneys are described as being about even with the space between the twelfth thoracic and the third lumbar vertebrae, with the right kidney on a little lower level than the left, just in front of the lowest ribs. Having examined many thousands of cases, my experience has convinced me that the right kidney is naturally located two or three inches below the place assigned to it by anatomists. Out of thousands of cases examined, I have found this to be the rule except with those who are abnormally fat, in which case both kidneys may be out of their normal positions.

Sometimes a kidney may descend as low as the hip bone, so that there is danger of a serious blocking of urine because of the twisting of the ureter which carries the urine to the bladder. This does not usually happen, but, should it occur, a surgical operation is usually advised and the kidney is anchored into what is considered its proper position. The danger of having this kink of the ureter occur as a result of a prolapsed kidney is entirely unnecessary if the patient is willing to devote a moderate amount of time and energy in systematically developing the muscles of the abdomen.

The Lying Down Treatment

If either kidney is found to be very low, the proper treatment is to go to bed for two or three weeks, keeping the hips slightly elevated and, while in this position, doing all of the different exercises which will develop the abdominal muscles. It is a good plan to use a milk diet during this time, using as much as six quarts daily. This will keep the intestines filled and will assist in the formation of fat around the kidneys which assists in holding them in their proper position. I do not advise a milk diet for this purpose unless the patient is also willing to take the abdominal muscles-developing exercises. If the floating kidney patient is unable to take this rest in bed, some good results may be obtained by living on a well-balanced diet and endeavoring to strengthen the abdominal muscles from exercising.

Although a wandering kidney can be benefited by any kind of "stuffing diet" taken while lying in bed, this condition will not be permanently remedied unless the patient keeps his abdominal muscles strong by using exercises while lying on the back. When the fattening treatment alone has been used, the patient will be in a weakened condition when he finally gets up, and the kidney will finally slip back into its prolapsed condition.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A Dietetic Crisis

Question—D. D. writes: "I have been sick off and on for 10 years with headaches and constipation. I tried to change my diet to the better but notice I get so dizzy and have a bad taste in my mouth. Why is this? I also had a breaking out on my skin and it seems to me that this came from the orange juice."

Answer—It is well to remember that most sick people are laden down with disease toxins from many years of bad living and these toxins must be largely eliminated before the patient feels much better. Sometimes these poisons have accumulated in such a large quantity that a change toward a more wholesome diet produces what has been termed "a dietetic crisis." As the blood becomes more alkaline, it dissolves many of the virulent toxins which have been deposited in the tissues of the body. As these toxins circulate in the blood before being eliminated, they may cause various aches, pains, dizziness and skin eruptions until the eliminative organs, such as the kidneys, intestines, lungs, liver and skin, have removed them from the blood stream. These disagreeable symptoms are really favorable indications and will disappear as soon as the poisons have been sufficiently eliminated. Drinking plenty of water will assist in this process.

Cancer Not Family Disease

Question—Mrs. Rheba W. writes: "My father recently died of cancer of the kidney and the doctor in charge told me that cancer ran in families. Is this true and would you suggest frequent examinations as a preventative?"

Answer—Cancer cannot be considered a family disease as cancer may be found in every family if a large enough number of its members live long enough. Of course, it is wise that any person past the age of 35 have a physical examination once or twice each year.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—Here's a sample of some of the help congress is getting from the great American people:

Dear Congressman:

If you fat-heads in Washington do not balance the budget we will elect men who will. Don't you dare give us any higher taxes or you will be sorry. Why don't you reduce government expenses? It is a crime to spend five billion dollars a year while people are starving and groaning under the burden.

And that soldiers' bonus bill has got to be passed this session. It only costs $2,500,000,000 to cash the bonus, which is only half of five billions. Next to that, what this country needs is a federal appropriation of $200,000,000 to build roads and provide employment.

Very truly yours,
SAMUEL MUGG.

Lots of people actually write letters like that to Washington. And lots more, if they don't demand certain appropriations in the same breath, insist that if congress would eliminate pork and graft, "useless" government activities and federal employes who do not work, the annual expense of government could be halved.

Taxpayers Responsible

Irgnorance of the government's financial problems runs through thousands of letters which assume that no new taxation is necessary. Every congressman is now willing to agree that nothing excites constituencies more than federal taxes.

But the voters who now protest taxes are the same folks who were responsible for driving up the federal budget and for the fact that any major drastic cut in government expenses is practically impossible.

The house has been paring the budget at every opportunity—but only paring. A cut of 3 or 4 per cent may conceivably be achieved. A warm fight has begun on the proposal to reduce government salaries by 10 per cent.

Democratic Leader Rainey has pointed out that such a cut on all salaries, even the smallest ones, would offset only eight days of a deficit increase now proceeding at the rate of $7,882,000 a day.

May Expect Howl

If congress begins hacking at any of the other really substantial items of expense the country will start to howl. The reason congress doesn't slash expenses drastically is that it knows the people—many of whom are now shouting for a big reduction—wouldn't stand for it.

Seventy-two per cent of government money goes "for wars"—to pay off the war debts, on pensions and other veteran benefits and the army and navy. Almost nothing can be done about it, as is often reiterated.

Business will holler if you go after the commerce department in a serious way and the farmers won't stand for any attempt to cut out present activities in their behalf. The labor department has organized labor and most organized women behind it and the drys will protect appropriations for the department of justice.

Want Aid, Against Taxes!

That's the way it goes, with occasional small exceptions. Try to end appropriations for federal buildings or highways and a howl will go up in every part of the country. Or agricultural and other loans or rivers and harbors work—the chief item of which is Mississippi flood control.

This year of deficit and budget-balancing, like the rest, finds bankers and business men, farmers, unemployed, veterans and the other groups shouting louder than ever for federal aid—and louder than against taxes.

MISS MARY LOUISE STALEY

MISS JESSIE LUCILLE RALEY

MISS LUCILLE WILSON

IN THE PICTURES are shown three of Wichita Falls' attractive sub-debs who served as pages for the 31st annual district convention, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, in session at the Forum clubhouse the past week. Miss Jessie Lucille Raley was captain and was assisted by Misses Mary Louise Staley and Lucille Wilson and a bevy of other girls who are all members of the Junior Forum. Carrying out the administration theme of the first district president, Mrs. Bob Barker, "What Texas Makes, Makes Texas," which was noted throughout the convention, the pages all wore attractive Sweetheart cotton dresses made in this state.

Plans Under Way For Organization Of Civic Music

Mrs. Pearl Calhoun Davis, T. L. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robbins attended the last concert of the season on civic music in Fort Worth Monday night upon the invitation of Mrs. John F. Lyons, secretary of the Civic Music association of Fort Worth. John Charles Tomas, noted baritone, was presented on this program.

The association was organized in the middle of the year with 1,139 charter members. The organization has presented three concerts with Florence Austral, soprano; Joseph Lehvinne, pianist; and John Charles Thomas, baritone.

Reciprocity is now being allowed between the Fort Worth and Dallas chapters giving the Fort Worth people choice of seats before 8 o'clock at the Fort Worth concerts, and Dallas members are allowed admittance upon the presentation of their membership cards after this hour. The same is true in Dallas.

Harry Hines of Wichita Falls is organization chairman in charge of extending this association into the Wichita Falls territory. Captains and teams are now being appointed under Mr. Hines' direction.

Plans call for the sale of no single admissions for any concert during the year. All money collected is placed in a local bank and is used to bring artists to the city. No money is to be sent to outside organizations.

Single men and women may take two memberships in their own names for the purpose of taking guests. Teachers still uncertain of their return to Wichita Falls will be guaranteed refund money in case of removal from the city.

Artists for the Civic Music association concerts are chosen by a local committee.

The Civic Music association is national in its scope, and membership cards are good in any other city providing the seating capacity is not filled by local members.

With the system working between Dallas, Fort Worth and Wichita Falls, members will be allowed to hear many worthwhile concerts for their $5 membership fee.

ANNUAL CLINIC TO BE HELD MAY 4

Plans for the annual preschool clinic to be held May 4 at Carrigan school at 1 o'clock were completed at the last executive meeting and the health chairman, Mrs. A. E. Kepley, will announce her working committee at the next regular P.-T. A. meeting on April 28.

All parents with children who will start to school in the fall, are urged to bring their children to this clinic, as doctors feel these clinics to be important and of much value to mothers in checking up on the general health of her child. Many slight ailments may be discovered at this time and the mother then has ample time for correcting these things before the child starts to school.

No charges are made for these clinics and there is also a check-up in the fall to find how many children have had their ailments corrected.

Competent doctors, dentists, and specialists will be in attendance and are very generous in offering this valuable service for the child's benefit.

PATRIOTIC CANTATA TO BE GIVEN AT SCHOOL

"The Spirit of '76," by Wilson, is the title of a patriotic cantata in which about 70 pupils will be presented by Miss Elizabeth Wright, music teacher at the Carrigan school in the near future.

Other numbers along with the cantata will include a minuet, using the same music and steps of a minuet at which Gen. George Washington was to have danced or been present when it was danced. This minuet is done by seven couples, and both girls and boys are very interested in their parts.

The school orchestra of which Miss Wright is also director, will give a few patriotic numbers as the program is to be patriotic throughout. This orchestra shows much promise according to members who have heard it a short time ago at the school carnival.

A violin duet by Fritz Held and W. H. Clampton will be a part of the program and a skit composed of Lee Cochran and Mercer Lee Jackson with their cornets will also be presented.

The date of this interesting program will be announced later and all mothers and fathers are urged to attend. The Carrigan school P.-T. A. is sponsoring the program and there will be no charges.

Daughters of Confederacy Keep Memorial Day Observance With Program at Presbyterian Church

In keeping with Southern Memorial day, members of the W. R. Scurry chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy will be assisted by members of the American Legion and Spanish War Veterans in presenting a program in the ladies' parlor of the First Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

PEGGY PIEDMONT Says

"A FRIEND in need is a friend indeed," says the old adage. And a well known editorial writer commenting on this, says that it might be added that a friend in need is a myth; that in the romantic days of manhood, all of us read the story of Damon and Pythias and thought it true to life. That we made friends easily, loved them greatly, and believed ourselves capable of any sacrifice for them. This writer says that perhaps we were, but that there is little such friendship between men—unless it began in boyhood. He says the friendship of men stops to count the cost, and is usually based on something that gives mutual advantage; friends are those who get a profit from one another.

THIS all leads up to one of the most appealing addresses ever to be given in Wichita Falls, when Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, of Austin, internationally known clubwoman, lecturer, and author of the "History of Texas," made an eloquent plea to first district, Texas Federation club women in session Friday at the Forum clubhouse, urging more love and greater friendship and requesting them to send telegrams to their congressmen at Washington to use their influence in behalf of the United States entering the world court and that the disarmament of nations may be effected.

MRS. PENNYBACKER told the women that we should not forget the golden rule, "All men are brothers and that all women are sisters." She drew a vivid picture of men from all nations gathered at the world court in Geneva which she visited on her last trip to Europe, discussing the situation in China, and told of going to Germany and the terrible conditions in that country. She said that if we let Germany go down, what we have here now, will be nothing to what will happen then.

MRS. PENNYBACKER told of talking to a little girl in Germany who is a pupil in the socialistic school, and said that this child told her that they are taught to love their country and also to love others. And of another instance of talking to a man whose best friend had committed suicide because of not being able to get work, and could not bear to see his wife and children starving. She said that we, here, are more fortunate so far, but that hunger leads to revolution, and that one reason that she is pleading so earnestly for the United States to enter the world court is, that our staying out is adding to the unrest and making the financial situation here much more dangerous. And that she is so sorry for the children of the world that have not been born in a carefree generation.

WHEN we hear a heart to heart talk like that—a plea for all the people in the world and for the children, of this generation, from one of the most motherly women it has been our pleasure to meet, it is indeed hard to think that there is no real sacrificial friendship between men today. Because friendship between men, means friendship between nations. Her post-war work gave her a life-touch to many points in the world, including visits to Geneva in 1925-26-27, where she attended sessions of the League of Nations, and to her last trip where she attended the world court, and her dislike of strife, and love for the peacemaker, has been helpful in forming her career as a leader in organized womanhood.

STEPPING on a few notches in this line of progress, we, in Wichita Falls are also interested in a harpist which the Eolus a music magazine published in New York City, calls "progressive." The article says, "In art, generations are succeeding one another in surprising rapidity. Especially is this true in the harp world of which the general public knows exceedingly little. During the past 15 years, three generations of progressive harpists have evolved. By "progressive," we mean those who have contributed to the birth of contemporary harpism—not the "renaissance of the harp" of which uninformed people so often speak—and rehabilitated that beautiful instrument in the esteem of musicians as well as that of the public" Flora Bruce Greenwood, Wichita Falls' own daughter, harpist of the Philadelphia orchestra, and the Philadelphia Grand Opera company, is listed in this generation and the article states that she is unusually gifted.

FRIENDS here at home are also interested in this young artist's approaching marriage to Alexander McCurdy Jr., which is announced to take place June 6, in the Second Presbyterian church in Philadelphia and in the man to whom she will be wed. Mr. McCurdy is organist and choirmaster at the Second Presbyterian church. He is a native of California, where he began playing for church services at the age of 12, and at the age of 16, he was organist of one of the largest churches in Oakland. A year later, he was chosen organist of St. Luke's in San Francisco. He

ART DEPARTMENT TO KEEP OPEN HOUSE

Members of the art department of the Woman's Forum will keep open house at the clubhouse Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5:30 o'clock when all local artists are invited to constitute a reception committee to assist the visitors to appreciate the pictures.

The annual showing of paintings by local artists is attracting much attention at the clubhouse and about 100 canvasses painted by about 30 artists are displayed in the Forum building. Every one interested is cordially invited to attend this reception whether they are members of the Woman's Forum or not.

Educational Cotton Luncheon Is Social Event Closing 31st Annual Session First District, T. F. W. C.

Informal dinners, breakfasts and pretty teas were social features honoring delegates for the 31st annual conference, T. F. W. C. in many hospitable homes of Wichita Falls Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of the past week. A cotton luncheon at the country club with Mrs. Bert Bean, chairman, assisted by members of the Wednesday Study club was an educational feast, featuring the history of cotton from the fields to the finished garments. Full bolls of cotton were cleverly wired to stalks that made the long tables seem a real cotton field. Miniature bales of cotton were place favors; little darkies, miniature cattle and razor-back hogs, racks hung with cotton clothing and bales of cotton in trucks and in fields were attractive features.

A cotton field was in full bloom facing the speaker's table and menus were enclosed in hand-blocked southern cotton covers enclosing a printed menu of distinctly southern type. On a platform at the end of the long dining room, a cotton covered platform held chairs for Queen Texas and King Cotton, who reviewed the cotton industry in a short pageant arranged by Miss Juanita Kinsey of the Junior college.

Local Handiwork

Crockett school made the cotton field; the cotton gin, small country store and costume hangers were made by the manual training departments of Huey, Austin and Reagan Junior high and the hand-blocked "mammy" menu covers were made by pupils of the senior high school.

Mrs. H. D. Fillers offered the invocation. Mrs. W. B. Hamilton, who presided, gave a toast to cotton and Mrs. Bert Bean, chairman of arrangements, who was assisted by members of the Wednesday Study club, called attention to the many features of decoration given by local merchants and by the art departments of various schools.

Schools Give Program

Garments worn in the style pageant were designed and made by the students wearing them in the home economics department of the high school and Junior college, under the direction of Mrs. Roy J. Daniel.

Miss Sue Elliott accompanied a quartet of high school boys who sang a medley of southern songs. The quartet included William Huff, Edward Silk, Quinn Holder and Leonard Baggett.

Girls who modeled their own frocks were Gladys Rosser, Elizabeth Holland, Frances Collins, Gladys McAfee, Lettie Morris, Irene Hamilton, Nann Campbell, Mary Beth Robinson, Rosa Nell Savage, Yvonne Cox, Christine Boase, Katherine Crocker, Lena McKinney, Cleo Arrington. Children modeled cotton frocks made by girls in the high school as follows: Betty Ann Wallace, dress made by Vivian Parker; Patricia Wallace, made by Maggie Jo Bell; Dorothy Jo Brown, made by Frances Griffin; Henen Nickell, made by Frances Collins; Doris Mae O'Neal by Genevieve Brooks; Annie Theresa Smith, by Gladys Rosser and Virginia Lee Roberts a dress made by Mildred Owen.

Cotton parchment paper and cotton content paper was distributed by Mrs. Guy Rogers and a committee, by favor of Dallas and Fort Worth paper houses; a plea is to be presented to use this paper in school work, thus helping to "make Texas," stressing to the district president's slogan. More than 200 guests were present.

Mineral Wells Hostess

A telegram from Mineral Wells gave a hearty invitation to the district to hold the 32nd convention in that city next April. While this invitation will not be acted on until the executive board meeting, Mineral Wells will probably be hostess again to the district meeting.

Resolutions compiled by Mrs. Charles Randal of Seymour, were approved by the conference, including movements to support the Texas centennial committee for the 1936 celebration and to support the amendment to be voted on in November which will allow the legislature to give support to the centennial; voting profound regret that the highway to Mineral Wells would be diverted and expressing support, without entering the field of politics, to a movement to protect the beauty spot and health resort of the first district.

John Gould Speaker

John Gould, editorial writer and columnist of the Wichita Daily Times, was introduced by Mrs. L. N. Cason, county chairman of press and publicity after her brief report and made one of the cleverest talks of the session, veering from his announced subject, "Clubwomen and Newspapers," to "Society Editors, Their Cure and Prevention." Mr. Gould's talk, which he avowed was anything but serious, held splendid points relating to the relations of newspapers and clubwomen. He urged the latter never to measure their publicity by inches of space.

Mrs. G. D. Anderson awarded prizes offered by various chairmen of departments, and following the accepted resolutions of thanks read by Mrs. Randal of Seymour; the recommendation by Mrs. Rogers of Decatur, that in line with the state president's objective, a health chairman should be appointed in every club, and a plea for support of the permanent club home in Austin by Mrs. Fincher, state president, Mrs. Barker adjourned one of the most successful sessions known in the history of the first district.

Camp Fire Girls Have Ceremony Thursday Eve

Camp Fire Girls held an unusually pretty council fire Friday evening in the basement of the educational building of the First Methodist church.

Miss Mary McIlheran, executive, gave a short talk, explaining the place of the council fire as the ritual service of the Camp Fire program and stated that "the home harmonious" had been chosen for this council fire in keeping with the 1932 birthday project, which centers around the home. She said in part: "While our program has ever placed the home in the foreground, this year especial emphasis has been centered on the home with the girls making a special effort to devise ways in which they can add to the harmonious environment and social charm of their own homes."

After the Wohelo call and response, the members filed in, singing the ceremonial chant and formed a double circle around the Wohelo candles, with the ceremonials in the inner circle and girls wearing middies and skirts in the outer circle. The group sang "Wohelo for Aye," giving the handsign of the fire on the last word. The watchword, Wohelo, was explained with work, health and love and the cornerstones of the Camp Fire program. Margaret Hutchinson lighted the light of work; Mary Elizabeth Largin, health, and Thelma Simmons, love, giving thanks for work, health and love. After each candle was lighted a verse of the song, "Flame of Work," was sung by the group. Edith McClure, torch bearer, gave thanks for Camp Fire. The girls in ceremonials sang, "Burn, Fire, Burn," giving the impressive motions along with words.

Members of the Mankilo group, wearing caps and honor beads to represent crafts, gave the ceremony of the "Seven Craft" as follows: Home craft, Hazel Kent; health, Ann Tarry; camp, Helen Benninger; nature lore, Lola Sue Winfrey; minds, Lulu Sue Davis; business, Norene Eason; citizenship, Cless Hoffman. National membership honors were awarded to Margaret Davis for five years of continuous membership and Mary Elizabeth Largin and Thelma Simmons for three years.

The executive introduced Ivan Murchison as a new friend of Camp Fire made this year by his splendid cooperation in the birthday project. A series of three lectures were given by Mr. Murchison at the Freear Furniture company, dealing with home beautification. Members who attended at least two lectures and turned in notebooks on the course were entitled to the pretty certificate with the border carrying the symbols of home, hand and thought. Mr. Murchison made a short talk expressing his appreciation of the interest the members had shown by the enrollment of 54 members in the course and the splendid notebooks turned in by the following, who "carried through," and were awarded certificates: Marjorie Gibson, Edith Cone, Rose Lee Ivy, Mary Love Appleby, Mary Elizabeth Largin, Thelma Simmons, Evelyn Howard, Mrs. Frank Michaux, Miss Leska Howard, Miss Loveta Balch and Mrs. Betty Jo Vaughter.

Clever reports were given by one member from each group, telling of some interesting or amusing activity of the group.

All the mothers present were asked to stand as the girls sang a cheer to "our mothers." Mrs. J. Z. Steinkoenig made a response, expressing her appreciation for the Camp Fire program, and to the girls for their recognition of the mothers.

The fathers were asked to stand, while "our daddies" weer sung to by the girls. Dr. Wallace Masters, president of the local council, claimed as "daddy" by all the members was cheered enthusiastically as one who has shown a keen interest in Camp Fire for several years.

The group sang "Now Our Camp Fire's Burning Low," followed by the extinguishing of the flames of work, health and love by the fire lighters and torch bearers.

The members made a pretty picture as they sang Neidlinger's "Mammy Moon" and gave the motions, which close with the girls "asleep" in the circle. "Lay Me to Sleep" was sung, followed by the recessional.

A flying club limited to newspaper men has been formed in England.

Proper Diet Contributes to Appearance in Older People

By PEARL RORABAUGH
Red Cross Nutritionist

If one were assured that aging could be prevented by having had adequate food, then certainly there would be a hurried change by many when the years very close to 50 come. But unfortunately the close years would be much too late to start. Scientists experimenting on animals have found that those animals that have had an adequate diet ever since birth do not age as soon as animals that have had a deficient diet. Such animals not only look younger but have more vigor than the others. Might there not be the same result if we could experiment on human beings? It is generally agreed by students of nutrition that it is true and observation of many cases have proven it. It is known that a diet poor in vitamins results in lowered resistance in individuals and makes them more liable to infection while a too great lack of protein results in susceptibility to disease. A diet lacking in minerals effect the entire functioning of the body. So the age of 50 may mean 60 and it can mean 40. The time to get ready for 50 is before the swaddling clothes have been discarded.

As one gets to 50 and the years take him on, there is need for less food for the body is not so active, and as this inactivity increases, the amount of food needed decreases.

Around 50 many are inclined to put on weight and it is a good thing to watch the scales pretty closely. If they go up some 10 or 15 per cent, it may be time to cut down the amounts of some foods, watching to have the essentials and resisting rich foods. In that event use more of the fruits and vegetables; if the diet is already well balanced with its liberal supply of the essentials, then cut down on the quality eaten as a whole.

With the coming of 60 there is still less food needed, at 70, 80 and 90 the needed amount becomes smaller. There is not the need then for worry when we see the portions eaten getting smaller. It is more dangerous for the aged to eat too much than too little.

It is more important to consider what they can eat. As old age comes, mastication becomes more difficult and softer foods are better—baked potatoes, the stewed meats, fish which is flakey, cooked cereals. Fats should be used sparingly since the digestive processes are naturally slower in the old and fats would only aggrevate this condition. Butter, cream, bacon, olive oil are the safest fats to be used. Usually the aged are not able to eat much at a time but become hungry quickly and need meals often. Many times they are comfortable only with five or six meals a day. Something to drink or some easily digested solid food is wanted at bed time or a glass of milk, fruit or crackers even in the late night.

CLEANLINESS IS NEXT TO GODLINESS

Are the words he is taught to salute. It is up to you to help him with his teachings by sending his suits to SHEPHERD'S for they WATCH HIS FROCKS, too. Do not put away his blankets unless you have them cleaned and do not forget SHEPHERD'S offers storage for your furs in a scientific storage vault—call 8177.

The kiddies love them, so let them delight themselves with really nutritious sweets, for sweets they will have. Chocolate and ice cream the most healthful foods compose PANGBURN'S DRUMSTICKS. Truly TRULY'S the place located at Eleventh and Grace.

"YOUNG AMERICA" WILL BE SHOWN

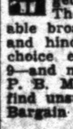

at the STATE, beginning Wednesday. This picture was produced especially for "Boy's Week." We find the story of two boys whose ventures in life rightfully form the title "YOUNG AMERICA." DORIS KENYON, RALPH BELLAMY and BERL MERCER do much in lending toward the success of this production. It begins Wednesday at the STATE. It is his picture. He just must see it.

GOOD SPORTS—VACATION TIME

Is most here. Time to go to BAILEY-MOLINE'S and get him that fishin' rod or maybe it is a tennis racquet he wants—they have them as low as $2.00—get him one—you do want him to be a good sport in all games. He must have a new ball and bat—BAILEY-MOLINE'S have those too—for there is a most complete sporting goods department—and the prices are so reasonable.

THE ADAMS BOY ALWAYS LOOKS NICE

Why? Because his mother buys his suits at P. B. M.'s. Every youngster gets the suit he wants while parents get the values they seek. The $1.00 and $1.95 washable broadcloths, also the linens, and hinder cloths are the boy's choice every time—sizes 1½ to 9—and mothers while you are at P. B. M.'s let me declare you'll find unsurpassed bargains at the Bargain Square.

BOYS ARE LIKE THAT A FAMILY DEBATE

Will not be necessary if you let him wear BILLIKEN ARCH SHOES, for he knows there is more mileage in a pair at less cost. He is looking for comfort, too, and that is what he gets in the BILLIKEN SHOE that he buys at W. B. McCLURKAN'S.

$100,000—THE WORTH OF AN EDUCATION

To your child. Sounds like a lot of money, but it is estimated that a college education is worth $100,000 to him. Arrange for his future through a systematic savings plan that is sure—that plan is a life insurance policy.

Fred L. Story

with twenty years' life insurance experience, will assist you in arranging such a plan.

VITAL THINGS OVERLOOKED KEEP YOUR FOOD SAFE—

With pure ice from the NEW ICE CO. It is not only pure but convenient and economical—that is the simple story of the ice NEW ICE CO. delivers daily, rain or shine, according to schedule. That means you always get your ice when you need it to keep food safe for "him"—and mothers, another vital matter is the water "he" drinks—NU-HEALTH WATER brings new health to all the family. Dial 7316 for NU-HEALTH.

A LESSON IN LIVING SHOULD BE TAUGHT—

and that begins at home in the right environment. Does your boy like to say "yoo-hoo come on over to my house and play?" He will if your home is made attractive to him. Children are like people, they need a shifting of scenes too. Change the front porch by adding some new chairs from McCONNELL'S—or one of the attractive porch swings—remember early impressions of home life stick—so go to McCONNELL'S and let them help you make the house into a home.

THE BANK CAN PLAY AN IMPORTANT PART

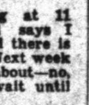

In shaping the destiny of a child. Think now of this. It is not only advisable it is essential to think about the plans for your boy's future and it is most surprising what a small sum of money laid aside each week—if it is drawing interest can do in guiding his destiny. THE WICHITA STATE BANK & TRUST CO. can help you. Do not put it off—open an interest bearing account for him.

BOY'S WEEK APRIL 30TH TO MAY 7TH

And he's talking to you mother, and telling you what he'd "ruther" have on these days recognized as "his" all over the country. Of course mother, you should always be playing your role but then there are times when you need to check up. Junior is "King" now, so what must you think about?

SCHOOL SYSTEM NEEDS ADJUSTING, BUT SO DO PARENTS

Make it so he will "feel proud" when he says "Fellows this is my mother." After a trip to NO MAN'S LAND he will, for there you can get that permanent you need, or that hair cut, a manicure, a shampoo and wave set or any of the aids needed. For your "boy's sake" call 6703 and make an appointment. NO MAN'S LAND BEAUTY SHOP located in WAGGONER BUILDING.

YOUR BOY WILL TERM IT WHITE MAGIC

You term it electricity but it does magic things for you, and the 4.95 beautifully plated percolators at THE TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE CO., can put magic in your coffee and the 47.50 reconditioned WASHERS can put magic in the washing—so again your son is right—I am right too when I say go to THE TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE CO., and see for yourself their magic qualities.

HOW MUCH MILK DOES HE GET?

Frequently that question is put to the mother during a medical examination. For doctors universally recognize the health-productive value of pure pasteurized milk. And when you pour DAIRYLAND MILK you pour health. All the necessary vitamins for body building are contained in Dairyland milk. Call them, 3763.

JUNIOR'S TIRED OF THAT HAT AND SO ARE YOU

So admit it and then go to RUTH-NAN SHOP Monday or Tuesday and get you a new one, for she has a group marked special for those days—prices ranging from 1.00 to 5.00—Looking for something to wear with the cotton dresses the Federated clubs have been talking about? RUTH-NAN has them.

ON THE EVENT OF HIS WEEK IT'S TIME TO TREAT WITH

COCA-COLA the one drink that satisfies. It's a treat for everybody—when thirsty youngsters come in from play, when mother pauses during the day—there's a thrill in every trickle down your throat—refreshment—exhilaration, stimulus to work, play, enjoy summer sports and social activities by drinking COCA-COLA—order a case.

TUNE IN ON KGKO I WANT TO TALK TO

You Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. As the head says I am "here and there" and there is where I'll be Thursday. Next week I am going to talk about—no, 'spect you had better wait until next week—

AMUSEMENTS

Ches Davis, with "The Chicago Follies," added stage attraction at the Majestic for this week, combining music, dancing and good comedy.

Mae Clarke in "The Impatient Maiden," with Lew Ayres, Una Merkel and John Halliday, featured at the State for three days starting Sunday.

Majestic Has Good Picture Program With 'The Chicago Follies' on Stage State Offers 'The Impatient Maiden'

Others in the cast include Boris Karloff, Constance Cummings, Claude King, Willard Robertson and Edward Van Sloan.

To add to your enjoyment you will see, "Speed in the Gay Nineties," an Andy Clyde comedy; "Practice Shots," featuring Bobby Jones; and Majestic news events; also as an added attraction on the stage, the Chicago Follies.

"Cohens and Kellys"

A riotous laugh picture showing the inner workings of Hollywood studio and social life.

This aptly describes the "Cohens and Kellys in Hollywood," starting at the Majestic Monday. The picture presents as its stars George Sidney and Charlie Murray, the screen's most popular comedy team, and heroes of a long succession of films dealing with the adventures of the Cohens and Kellys.

Other attractions include "Old Songs for New," a musical novelty; a pictorial novelty, "Wait Until the Sun Shines," a singsong and Majestic news events, also the Chicago Follies on the stage, in a complete change of program.

"Young Bride"

Five popular screen names head the cast of "Young Bride," a story of a girl's unselfish love and a wayward youth's regeneration, which comes to the Majestic next Thursday.

Helen Twelvetrees, Eric Linden and Arline Judge, romantic team, Roscoe Ates and Cliff Edwards are the quintet of favorites in this RKO-Pathe picture.

The highly entertaining story concerns a beautiful and cultured girl who hungers for romance denied her in her prosaic situation of librarian's assistant. Meeting the handsome sheik of a cheap dance hall, she is blinded by the glamour of his vivid talk of far-away places and big business deals. Mistaking the shell for reality, she surrenders to her longings for romance, only to meet disillusion and face a desperate struggle for happiness.

In addition you will see "Twenty Horses," featuring Ford Sterling; Paramount news in sound, and on the stage, Chicago Follies, with a complete change of program.

"The World and the Flesh"

"The World and the Flesh," starting at the Majestic next Saturday, is romance in a world gone mad. A mighty love story of the carmine days of 1917 when Russia's servants became the masters, drunk with power!

Here is a tense, vigorous background that is perfect for George Bancroft's dynamic personality and Miriam Hopkins' pulse-quickening beauty. It adds color and excitement to a story that is punch-packed from the start.

Other features are "Bouquet of Roses," an organlog, "Subway Symphony," a merry tune; "A Round of Golf," featuring Bobby Jones and Majestic news events.

STATE THEATER FEATURES "THE IMPATIENT MAIDEN"

One of the most widely discussed novels of recent months has found its way to the screen under the title of "The Impatient Maiden" and will open a three-day engagement at the State Sunday. Mae Clarke, Lew Ayres, John Halliday and Una Merkel head the cast of players.

As in book form, "The Impatient Maiden" presents numerous delicate situations, intimately confirming the convictions of its author, Donald Henderson Clarke who has created a "dare-girl" character typical of hundreds of American girls.

Mae Clarke is the "dare-girl" who regards men with a scornful, amused tolerance, but suddenly finds herself in love and can't wait for the things she feels that life owes her.

Lew Ayres is the young doctor, firm in his convictions and with an eye for business. A strange coincident brings these two together and the intimate scenes that follow presents one of the most delightful combinations of comedy and drama ever found in a picture.

"The Impatient Maiden" will play three days at the State, changing on Wednesday to "Young America," featuring Doris Kenyon and Spencer Tracy, which will play through Friday.

The one-day attraction on Saturday will be "The Last Ride," featuring Dorothy Revier, Charles Morton and Frank Mayo.

'Chicago Follies' Delight Crowds At the Majestic

The Chicago Follies, which is an added stage attraction at the Majestic theater for a limited engagement will be found a fast, furious medley of songs and steps liberally garnished with comedy of the surefire side splitting variety and served with a lavish investiture of costumes and scenery.

In the organization of the Chicago Follies first consideration has been given to talent and this musical revue boasts of more real names and exceptional artists than any show seen locally in many years at more than five times the admission prices.

Ches Davis and Gene "Honey Gal" Cobb occupy stellar positions. Davis has been at the head of his own shows for many years and is well known throughout the South. Cobb will be remembered as having been last featured with Neil O'Brien's minstrels. The blackface comedy of this pair is without a peer and has never failed to find instant favor with audiences.

Ivena Baker will bring you some new rhythm dances, the same steps that brought her into the limelight with the Vanities and with the Marx brothers in Cocoanuts in New York.

Viewed from any angle, the eight dancing Dixie darlings are everything the name implies. They are the personification of youth, beauty and pep and will show Majestic audiences what stepping steppers can really do.

Dolly Taylor brings a brand of jazz all her own and Buddy Ryan furnishes more light entertainment.

The Chicago Follies has played for more than 60 consecutive weeks in Dixie and has more return engagements and more shattered attendance records to its credit than any show seen locally in many years.

VARSITY NEWS

By BETTY LOVE RUGELEY

AUSTIN, April 23.—The third annual round-up of the University of Texas is over but the imprint that it left in the minds of the many students and friends of the university is still quite evident. The round-up has fulfilled three purposes. It reunited the ex-students of the varsity; it entertained the dads and mothers, as patrons of the school; and it gave the students the privilege of being hosts to their friends and families. All of these ideals were accomplished in one glorious occasion.

Eight hundred and fifteen visitors registered as guests of the round-up, but it is generally assumed that more than a thousand people were actually in Austin for the occasion. Upon arriving in Austin and formally registering Friday morning the visitors were "branded" with a T. U. badge, and given instructions as to the entertainment which had been outlined for them. The general theme in entertainment and decorations carried out the idea of the old West.

Prizes were awarded to the best decorated fraternity and sorority houses. Each fraternity house on the campus was uniquely decorated and each aided in establishing a good atmosphere for the round-up. First prizes were awarded to the Sigma Chi fraternity and the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

On the lawn of the Sigma Chi house was built a complete replica of the university campus, with all of the buildings, stadium, flag pole, driveways and entrances represented by miniature models drawn to an exact scale, and in its proper place. On the wall of the chapter house a large map of the campus enabled the visitors to identify the buildings. Ralph Harvey and George Bays of Wichita Falls are members of this fraternity and assisted in making the decorations.

The Theta house was transformed into a general merchandise store of the early Texas period. The lawn represented an early street scene with its wagons, horses, cows and hitching posts. It was a "Saturday round-up at Theta" and families were arriving from their farms in wagons. Miss Mariana Engleking of San Antonio, who is an ex-student of the varsity and a member of the sorority, willingly posed for the camera as she was attempting to milk an old cow. Miss Engleking and her sister, Helen, who is also a member of this sorority, are the nieces of Mrs. E. C. deMontel of Wichita Falls.

Misses Dell Hatchitt, Mary Elizabeth Donnell and Helen Cline, who are all members of Kappa Alpha Theta, took an active part in making their house decorations a success. All of these girls are from Wichita Falls.

The dedication of Waggoner hall, the newest building completed on the campus, was the feature of the program Friday morning. Waggoner hall is the building which houses the school of business administration. It is named for Dr. Leslie Waggoner, who was the first president of the university. University classes were suspended Friday morning for the opening event of the round-up. Dr. Leslie Waggoner Sr., was the father of J. P. Waggoner of Wichita Falls.

Friday afternoon the Baylor baseball team defeated the Longhorns in a conference game but Saturday afternoon the Longhorns beat the Baylor team, and held them to a "no hit, no run" game until the last inning.

Truly representative of the Southwest and of Texas was the revue which culminated the first night of the round-up in Gregory gymnasium Friday night when the sweetheart of Texas, the Southwest conference sweethearts and 101 cactus beauties were presented.

The revue, which was directed by Janet Collett, noted dancer, was exquisite in its simplicity and it too continued to use the idea of the old West.

Miss Sarah Orth, sweetheart of A. & M., was the first to be introduced. She is the niece of Mrs. Orth of Wichita Falls.

Miss Helen Lyles of Stamford, who was one of the beauty nominees of the university, was the first one to appear in the presentation.

Fred Couper of Wichita Falls served on the committee for the revue and ball.

Saturday morning was given to class reunions and the annual meeting of the executive council of the ex-students association. At that meeting the new officers were named and again an honor fell to Wichita Falls. Charles I. Francis of Wichita Falls was re-elected president of the ex-students association. Mr. Francis was one of the outstanding men at the round-up. He was in charge of and the speaker at the rodeo which was held Saturday noon, as well as attending generally to the business of the ex-students.

Other officers who were elected were Ralph C. Goeth of Austin, first vice president; W. G. Swanson, Stamford, second vice president; James B. Marley, Austin, third vice president; C. M. Bartholomew, Austin, treasurer; and John A. McCurdy, Austin, executive secretary.

The outstanding event of Saturday's entertainment was the rodeo and barbecue which was held on Freshmen field at noon. A delicious plate was served to the several thousand guests who later were seated on the ground facing the rodeo field. President H. Y. Benedict and Charles Frances spoke briefly to the crowds. Afterwards the Longhorn band gave several selections, while Governor Sterling, Adj. Gen. Bill Sterling and little Inez Sterling rode across the field.

Saturday night the feature was the presentation of the musical comedy, "Firefly," which was followed by an all-university German. One hundred and twenty students took part in this production. Robert Maxey of Lubbock designed the scenery which was used for the play. He also had one of the leading roles and sang with several choruses.

In the "Tommy Atkin's" chorus and in the "house party" was Bill Hood of Wichita Falls, Keith Chunn of Electra and Robert Maxey.

Ralph Anderson was one of the members of the orchestra who helped to make "Firefly" the success it was. He, too, is from Wichita Falls.

Among the groups which entertained with open houses Sunday were Alpha Epsilon Phi with Miss Bertha Mae Krueger of Wichita Falls, one of the hostesses; Delta Delta Delta and Miss Elizabeth Gilbert and Don Ruth Coffee of Wichita Falls assisting; Kappa Kappa Gamma, with Miss Dorothy Bunkley of Stamford acting as one of the hostesses; woman's building, and Miss Velma Jane Meyner's, and Nora Fie assisting; Grace Hall, with Miss Helen Lyles, president of the house council, as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Harvey and Frank Harvey of Wichita Falls were the guests of Ralph Harvey over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Krueger of Wichita Falls visited their son and daughter, Aaron and Bertha Mae, during the round-up.

Billy Collins of Wichita Falls was a week-end guest in Austin.

Mrs. A. C. Bennett of Dallas visited her daughter, Dorothy, of Wichita Falls, for the round-up.

Joyce Samuels of Wichita Falls was the week-end guest of Alexander Cameron, formerly of Wichita Falls, whose family now resides in Austin.

Charles Warman of Wichita Falls was present at every appearance of the Longhorn band.

Thursday is a legal holiday and many students of the university are going out of town to spend the day and the rest of the week.

Misses Don Ruth Coffee and Elizabeth Gilbert have gone to their homes in Wichita Falls for a few days' visit.

Misses Marjorie Vincent and Marguerite Sheldon of Wichita Falls will spend the holiday in San Antonio.

Mrs. W. P. Hood of Wichita Falls visited her son, Bill, over the week-end and participated in the activities of the round-up.

Mrs. Mary Woodruff of Wichita Falls was in Austin Friday and she spent Saturday in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Eliot of Wichita Falls visited with Milton Eliot during the round-up.

T. P. Mobley of Graham was in Austin this week-end.

Estelle Harmel of Wichita Falls was also a guest in Austin during the past week-end.

Julian Montgomery of Wichita Falls came to Austin to spend the several days of the round-up.

Mrs. James V. Allred, formerly of Wichita Falls, expects to go to San Antonio to spend the coming week-end.

Seventeen members were initiated into the Reagan Literary society Thursday afternoon. Of this group was Betsy Lee of Wichita Falls; Dorothy Bunkley of Stamford; Ruth Jenkins of Floydada, and Marguerite Sheldon of Wichita Falls.

Still in the preliminary rounds of the intramural golf tournament, Aaron Krueger is playing for Phi Sigma Delta, and Fred Couper is representing Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Both boys are from Wichita Falls.

Tuesday night the Delta Delta Delta sorority held formal initiation for its pledges, and entertained them with a supper afterwards. Miss Elizabeth Gilbert of Wichita Falls was initiated at that time.

Janet Gaynor in Popular Role to Be Gem Feature

Janet Gaynor, whose production, "Delicious" comes to the Gem Sunday and Monday, proves again that she is the exception to the "luxury and wealth" rule of the movies. In this picture, in which she is co-starred with Charles Farrell, she is again most appealing as the pathetic little figure surrounded by poverty and squalor through which her innate goodness and charm shine brightest.

The story of "Delicious" is consistent with this characteristic of Miss Gaynor except that her occupation is a little more than ordinarily unusual. She is, of all professions, a marmalade girl. Or was, before embarking in the steerage of a giant liner to sail for America to find a home with an uncle in Idaho.

Charles Farrell as a handsome young sportsman and polo player returning from Europe with his string of ponies, makes the acquaintance of Janet one day while he is down in the hold working with his horses. Janet thinks he is a groom, and tells him all about her experiences in a Scotch marmalade factory. Her job, according to the sotry she tells the amazed young millionaire, was that of sticking waterproof paper on the tops of marmalade jars, a prosaic enough calling even for the movies.

The births of four boys and three girls, including one set of twins, were reported to the city health department during the past week as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Freeman, 1403 North First, twins, Earl Ray and Billie Fay, April 10.

MODERN ARGENTINE MUSIC TO FEATURE LATIN BROADCAST

Works of contemporary Argentine composers will be broadcast direct from Buenos Aires by an orchestra drawn from the ranks of the Buenos Aires symphony, under the direction of Juan Jose Castro, when the third of a series of programs from across the equator is presented through the WABC-Columbia network from 10:15 to 10:30 a. m., central standard time, Sunday, April 24. It will immediately precede the regular international broadcast from London.

In building this program, which will originate in the studios of LR4 (Radio Splendid), and will be transmitted to the United States by short wave, the object has been to show what is being written by Argentine composers in the field of serious music, as the wide popularity of the tango tends to obscure other types of music native to the southern hemisphere.

Senor Castro is the regular conductor of the Buenos Aires Symphony society, and is the most prominent Argentine director. Last December he turned Europe, achieving great success in Paris and other continental capitals. He will open the program with tw orchestral numbers, "Firmesa" by Gilardi and "Melodias" by Aguirre, and then Antonieta Lehnardson, soprano, who was heard in the Easter Sunday broadcast from Buenos Aires through Columbia, will sing "Vidalita," a beautiful native song which has enjoyed a run of popularity comparable to that of "Roses of Picardy" in the northern hemisphere.

Wichita Falls to Be Advertised by Shriners' Caravan

When the Shriners of Maskat temple form their automobile caravan for the trip to the imperial council to be held at San Francisco July 26, 27 and 28, their cars will be decorated with banners which will advertise this city through the western part of the United States, as well as to the many nobles from all parts of the world, who will be gathered at San Francisco.

J. Marshall Franklin, chairman of Maskat's "tripe" committee, has designed and is having prepared an attractive banner on non-fadeable cloth, 12 by 36 inches in dimensions, which, in addition, to advertising Wichita Falls, will have on it a Texas state flag and the Shrine emblem. This move on the part of the Shrine, to advertise the city, is receiving the support of the chamber of commerce.

Mr. Franklin has already secured the pledge of 39 cars and over 100 nobles who will join the caravan, and he has not as yet approached the out-of-town nobility, nor has he as yet contacted all those residing in Wichita Falls.

About the middle of July it is planned to hold a parade of the caravan, through the streets of the city. It will be headed by the Shrina band and the patrol. After the parade there will be an entertainment for the nobility at the Wichita club.

Noted Clown to Be Featured on Texas Co. Bill

Ed Wynn, the laugh parader, zany, clown and utter loon—and however redundant the adjectives, they seem to fit an elastically grotesque star of comedy—has now become a fire chief and as such will make his radio debut.

The Time—Tuesday, April 26, 7-8 p. m., central standard time.

The Place—Over 60 stations through NBC-WEAF network.

The Program—To be announced.

For the nonce, however, suffice it to say that the famous Wynn lisp and giggle will cue a 30-minute program, each gag or musical note or "straight" line of which will come from performers as equally distinguished in the departments of music and ceremony mastery as Wynn is in the field of comedy. The broadcasting will be presented weekly by the retail dealers of the Texas company.

THE JESTER TO BE NEW MUSICAL SKIT

The Jester, a new musical radio skit, featuring Art Barnett in the title role, will make its initial appearance over an NBC-WJZ network Friday, April 29, at 4:15 p. m., central standard time. The feature will be heard four Fridays in succession.

Barnett will be assisted in the skit by Howard Lanin and his orchestra, and the entertainment will consist largely of characterizations. For several years Barnett was soloist in Tommy Christian's orchestra doing vaudeville and general entertainment.

TO TRACE HISTORY OF AMERICAN NEWSPAPER

Beginning of the Boston News Letter, the first permanent newspaper in America, will be recalled by Carl Ackerman, dean of the Columbia university school of journalism, in a talk over an NBC-WEAF network Sunday, April 24, at 11:30 a. m., central standard time.

Ackerman will trace the Boston News Letter's history from its inception, April 28, 1704, until it gave way to the modern newspaper.

The first newspaper in America for "publik occurences for foreign and domestik," was published in Boston in 1692.

Detroit Rabbi to Give Sermon for Church Program

The Rev. Dr. James H. Franklin, Baptist, and the Rabbi Leo M. Franklin will conduct the periods of the Columbia church of the air Sunday, April 24.

Dr. Franklin, who is foreign secretary of the American Baptist Foreign Mission society, with offices in New York, will lead the period to be broadcast from 8 to 8:30 a. m., central standard time. He will preach on the topic, "Jesus' Condemnation of Conventional Discipleship." Music of the service will include, "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind," "Jesus Calls Us O'er the Tumult," and "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee."

Rabbi Franklin, who holds the rabbinate at Temple Beth El in Detroit, Mich., will preach during the period to be broadcast between 12:30 and 1 p. m., central standard time. His topic will be "The Testing Hour for the Jew." Among the musical selections to be heard during the period will be the ritual responses by Spicker Sparger, "Borchu," "Schma Yisroel" and "Kdusha." Also "Kaddish" by Maurice Ravel, and the hymn, "By Babylon Waves."

Both periods will be broadcast by a nation-wide WABC-Columbia network.

O. E. NICHOLLS TO SPEAK AT KIWANIS CLUB MEET FOR U. S.-CANADA WEEK

With O. E. Nicholls as the featured speaker, members of the Wichita Falls Kiwanis club will officially observe "United States-Canada week" in their regular weekly luncheon meeting at the Wichita club Monday.

Mr. Nicholl's talk will deal with relations between the United States and Canada.

A group of violin selections will be offered by Mrs. J. E. Hall. Dr. Felix R. Collard is chairman of the program committee.

CHANGE TIME FOR UTAH TABERNACLE RADIO BROADCAST

A choir of 300 trained voices, attuned to the giant pipe organ of the Mormon tabernacle in Salt Lake City, Utah, will be heard at an earlier period over a National Broadcasting company network, beginning Tuesday, April 26.

The program will be heard over an NBC-WJZ network at 1:45 p. m., central standard time, on that date and weekly thereafter. It was heard previously at 3:15 p. m., central standard time. Each week the program will last a half hour, as in the past.

Excerpts from operas and oratories, as well as semi-classical part songs and special arrangements for the ensemble, are presented by the choir and organ. The choir director and organists studied music both in the United States and Europe.

Anthony C. Lund, the choir director, was a student of music in Berlin, Leipzig, London and Paris, and a professor of music in the Brigham Young university, Provo, Utah.

Edward P. Kimball and Frank W. Asper, the organists, both studied the organ in New York City and Europe. Only one operates the console at a time. Kimball is the soloist.

The Mormon organ was built during the early sixties and has been rebuilt three times since. It now has a combination of seven organs: great, swell, orchestral, solo, celestial, strong and pedal organs. They all are electrically operated from a movable console with four keyboards. It has more than 8,000 pipes whereas the original organ had 2,648 pipes.

In the midwest the program will be heard at the new time through stations WREN, WDAY, WKY and KOA.

Jose Iturbi to Give Piano Solo During Concert

Jose Iturbi, the Spanish pianist who has broken all records as a concert artist during his tours of the United States, will be heard as soloist with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Hans Lange, during the last concert of the season, to be broadcast through the WABC-Columbia network from 1:00 to 3:00 p. m., central standard time, Sunday, April 24.

This will be only the second appearance by Iturbi before a microphone. He refused all offers to broadcast unless he could be associated with a full symphony orchestra in a regular concert performance, and he made his radio debut in an appearance with the Philharmonic-Symphony which was broadcast through the Columbia network last fall.

Sir Thomas Beecham, who was to have conducted the orchestra until the end of the season, in the absence of Arturo Toscanini, has been ordered by his physician to rest before directing the Covent Garden opera season in London. The last week's concerts are therefore under the direction of Hans Lange, assistant conductor of the orchestra.

BRITON WILL GIVE FINAL VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE PROGRAM

The concluding program in the vocational guidance series broadcast during the last three months by the national advisory council on radio in education through a nation-wide network of the Columbia Broadcasting system, will be heard Sunday, April 24, between 5:00 and 5:30 p. m., central standard time.

Dr. L. P. Jacks, former principal of Manchester college, Oxford, England, and editor of the Hibbert Journal, will be the speaker during the period. He will talk on "Education and Training for Leisure," and a dramatization entitled "The Family Steps Out" will be used to illustrate his theme. The playlet will depict the members of an average family making plans for their leisure hours.

The program series arranged by the council, in cooperation with the National Vocational Guidance association and the Columbia Broadcasting system, has been one of the most successful educational enterprises the broadcasting world has ever known, according to officers of the council. One of the largest networks of stations ever to transmit a coordinated group of programs carried the guidance series.

Response to the programs, according to Levering Tyson, director of the council, was notable not only for the number of letters received from listeners, but also for the high caliber of the correspondents. Hundreds of school principals, professors and teachers wrote to the council, in fact, more than half of the mail received came from these and like sources.

MURRAY SAYS BURNS SHOULD BE IMPEACHED

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 23. (AP)—The feud betwen Gov. William H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray and Lieut. Gov. Robert Burns was intensified today by a declaration by Murray that Burns "should be impeached."

"There never has been a lieutenant governor impeachede," Murray wrote in his weekly newspaper, the Blue Valley Farmer, "but in my opinion this one should be impeached."

Burns, as acting governor during Murray's recent presidential campaign tour in the Northwest, took state affairs into his own hands vigorously and the chief executive rushed home, abruptly canceling a speaking schedule in Oregon.

WICHITA FALLS DISTRICT CLOSES UNUSUALLY ACTIVE WEEK

Finding New True Sand at 1205 Feet In Archer County Hundred-Barreler Features News of Week in District

By JIMMIE MAXWELL

Saturday marked the close of one of the most active weeks that the district's oil industry had experienced in a period covering the past two years. Twenty-five new sites were staked out, these being scattered throughout all pools. No particular spot was favored by the operators. Several wells were completed and the amount and importance of development under way showed a substantial increase over the previous week's work.

While plenty of new wells were spudding in, with approximately 55 drilling in the district's pools, the outstanding happening of the week was the finding of a new true sand at 1205 feet in Perkins & Cullum No. 1 C. L. Abercrombie test in block 157 Harris subdivision in Archer county, an east offset to No. A-1 Abercrombie, the pool's discovery well, which is producing from the saturated lime formation. The pay, which is a real oil sand, was drilled three feet when the oil rose 1,000 feet in the hole in a short period with considerable mud and cavings in the bottom. Estimates from the showing of oil are that when finished it will make from 100 to 150 barrels per day. To the south of the pool's discovery well Anderson and Daubert No. 1 Abercrombie in the same block and survey is also showing for a well after picking up the same sand and drilling five feet. This test was given a shot and is setting casing.

South of these wells Wheeler & Brashear have staked out their No. 1 C. L. Abercrombie and will drill a well in the northeast corner of block 156, J. W. Harris subdivision, to the new pay depth. The bringin of of these wells has been the factor in making this section the hottest in the county and several delas for acreage drilling clauses changed hands in the past 48 hours.

Chalk Hill Producer

At Chalk hill in Archer county the Lindsay Drilling company has made some sort of a producer out of its No. A-5 L. F. Wilson deep test in block 75, A. T. N. C. survey, after plenty of grief occasioned by a series of shots and fishing jobs. The well was the deepest hole drilled in North Texas and had been plugged back from a depth of 5700 feet to a deep sand encountered at 3614-30 feet, but a hard time was had in an effort to shut off water. This was finally accomplished when the pay was given a shot, only to cause a bridge to form. This obstruction was removed and Friday two-inch tubing was being run with several hundred feet of oil in the hole. No estimate of its capacity has been made, but indications point to a commercial producer of some kind. In the event of the well making a paying or profitable venture it will mean that many other tests in the vicinity completed as failures will start drilling to this deeper holzon.

The same company is drilling out the plug Saturday from its No. 2 L. F. Wilson in block 119, A. T. N. C. L. survey in the deep production at Chalk hill, which is giving evidence of another nice producer from the 2200-foot sand.

Southwest of Archer City considerable activity is being shown on the Green and the W. J. Logan farms and the different blocks of the Falls county school lands. A review of the drilling report for the week shows 10 wells in actual operation, with four tests due for completion in the saturated lime formation.

In the Megargel area and in the different blocks around Holliday an increase in the number of new wells going down was reported.

Young County Pools

Not unlike other sections of the district, Young county continues to show increased development each successive week. New wells were brought in, the best being King Royalty No. 37 Larimore in the Newcastle field, flowing 250 barrels from the shallow sand at 690 feet. This section boasts of approximately 18 spudders drilling in various stages.

In the territory northeast of Graham, four deep tests are drilling to the 2700-foot sand, and the next week should bring to light some interesting happenings.

Wichita, Wilbarger and Cooke counties showed increases in the amount of work under way. However, this development is for the most part drilling on the productive leases.

Jack county, which has been practically eliminated from the list of active pools for some time, is about ready to resume development of its oil resources. Three new locations last week were made for tests in the Bryson and other sections of that county.

Pipe line runs from the district totaled 48,617 barrels per day, a drop of 868 barrels per day compared with the previous week's runs, which were 49,585 barrels daily.

FAIL TO FIND PRODUCTION IN DUNCAN TEST

EXPECT CEASE EFFORTS EXTEND FIELD TO NORTH

No. 1 Dare Showing for Small Producer at Depth Of 1465 Feet

DUNCAN, Okla., April 23.—Interest in the new oil field seven miles southwest of here was given a setback during the last week by the failure of P. L. Gilbert and associates to find production in their No. 1 Medley estate, in the SW NE NE of 2-2s-8w.

Operators abandoned the hole at 2242 feet in a water sand. The No. 1 Medley is two locations north of Gilbert's No. 1 Green, a 115-barrel producer at 1360 feet. Gilbert has not drilled out his acreage in the territory but the failure at the No. 1 Medley is expected to stop efforts to extend the field north. Crane and Rankin are expected to abandon their No. 1 Dare, in the SW NW NW of 1-2s-8w, two locations east of the No. 1 Medley, which has been shut down at 1755 feet.

J. D. Loofbourrow and associates are swabbing and cleaning out their No. 1 Dare, in the SW NW SW SW of 1-2s-8w, just southeast of production, which is showing for a smaller producer in sand from 1465 to 1468 feet. Operators are expected to deepen and shoot the sand before completing.

George Pace was drilling out concrete plugs in his No. 5 Gilworth, in the NW NW SW NW of 2-2s-8w, to test sand from 1550 to 1555 feet and the well was showing some gas.

The same operator was drilling at 1405 feet in his No. 8 J. P. Houston, in the SE NE SW of 2-2s-8w, west offset to the Continental No. 2 Dare, a 35-barrel pumper at 2122 feet.

The Curtis Oil company's No. 3 Dare, in the NE NE NW SE of 2-2s-8w, is a derrick and waiting on tools.

Pace was drilling at 1230 feet in his No. 2 Dilley, in the SW SW NW SW of 22-2s-7w, a mile and a half east of the town of Comanche and a north offset to an estimated 200-barrel pumper completed last week at 1739 feet.

J. C. Chambers and G. W. Haines have completed rigging up for their No. 1 Dolen, in the SW NW NW of 15-1s-8k, a test to be drilled near old production on the north side of the Empire field five miles southwest of here.

5,000-Foot Test

The Carter Oil company is building derrick for its No. 1 Community-Carson, in the SE SE SE of 12-3n-8w, a scheduled 5000-foot test to be drilled south of the Chickasha gas field, in central Grady county.

Joe Anderson shot sand from 2503 to 2528 feet in his No. 2 Wild, in the NE SE SE of 28-3n-5w, in the Carter-Knox field of southern Grady county, and the well was showing for a small producer.

George Schoomaker is shut down at 40 feet in his No. 1 J. A. Slaton, in the NW NW NW of 35-4n-7w, a wildcat near Rush Springs, in Grady county.

Kinnett & Wilson made location for their No. 1 Wilson, in the NW NW of 6-2s-9w, just east of the Walter field. A location was reported on the Smith farm in the SW SW SW of 31-1s-9w, just north of the No. 1 Wilson.

The Monarch Petroleum company was drilling in lime at 4192 feet in the No. 1-A Gregg, in the SW SW SW of 36-3s-4w, just west of production in the old Healdton field, in Jefferson county. This test has been shut down for several months at 4000 feet.

Athey & Merrick are rigging up rotary for their No. 1 well, in the NE NE NW of 20-1n-3w, a wildcat to be drilled southwest of production in the old Robbertson field of Garvin county. The Long & Hart No. 1 Ward, in the NW SW SE of 19-1n-2w, a wildcat near Hennepin, in southern Garvin county, is a location.

Will H. Smith still is shut down at 838 feet in his No. 1 Ridgeway, in the NW NE SE of 17-3s-4w, a wildcat two miles south and east of the town of Loco, in southeastern Stephens county.

Cohen & Reece still are shut down after cementing surface casing in their No. 1 Green, in the SE SW SW of 35-2n-9w, a test for gas to be drilled six miles north and eight west of Duncan.

SACRED HEART POOL EXTENDED OKLAHOMA AREA

Pool in Greater Seminole Field Also Enlarged During Week

FORCE DRILLING TEST BARNSDALL AND OTHERS

To Open Well That Tested 1,382 Barrels a Day On May 1

TULSA, Okla., April 23.—The outstanding incident in Oklahoma oil fields during the week just ended was the definite extension of the Sacred Heart pool of southeastern Pottawatomie county, and in the Greater Seminole field, thus proving the Simpson sand structure to embrace a large area.

The extensioner was Barnsdall Oil company and associates No. 1 Gray, in the northeast corner of the southwest of 25-6-4, which operators say looms for a 500 to 600 barrel well in the Simpson dolomite at 3440 to 3451 feet. After making a 60-barrel flow the well was shut in while tankage was erected.

The Barnsdall and others test is on a tract of land that had to be drilled at once because another firm had top-leased it. It is six miles southeast of the discovery well in the area, Carter Oil company and C. W. (Bill) James No. 1 Monett, in the southwest corner of 35-7-4.

The Carter-James well, which on a 10-day test averaged 1,382 barrels a day is to be opened up May 1, and a gas lift plan has been built, so its production may be augmented materially from the Simpson sand.

Reports from the field say the offsets to the discovery are making rapid time. Pure Oil company and James at No. 1 Tucker, in the southeast corner of 34-7-4, the west offset, and the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company No. 1 Lucas, in the northeast corner of 3-6-4, the southwest diagonal offset, and Amerada Petroleum corporation No. 1 Mitchell, in the northwest corner of 2-6-4, the south offset, were drilling on. Pure and Amerada were around 2000 feet and T. T. I. O. at 1000 feet.

Conservation Area

When Pioneer Petroleum company and A. C. McCoy and Samuel Vierson at their No. 1 Bayne, in the southeast of the southwest of the southwest of 16-5-6e, in northern Pontotoc county, found a new producing level at 1674 to 1686 feet, they gave that little area a big boost. The result was that a flock of new work is starting in that hot area, a real poor man's oil pool.

Pioneer and others well made 50 barrels in two flows, and drilled to 1718 feet, was being prepared for testing.

Dickson Oil corporation has started No. 2 Jackson in the northwest of the southwest of the northwest of 22-5-6e.

In the Allen area, Delaney and H. M. M. Drilling company were rigging up machine for No. 1 Kay, in the northwest of the southeast of 32-5-8e.

Oils, Inc., No. 1 Horn, in the southwest corner of 13-6-3e, at the west door of Asher, in Pottawatomie county, made 156 barrels on the swab and flowing from the Cálvin sand at 3505 to 3515 feet. It is now shutdown for six days proration.

St. Louis Area

North of the old St. Louis pool of Pottawatomie, Allen Huckleberry is building a rig for No. 1, in the northwest corner of 35-8-4e. It is on the Hunton lime plateau that produced so richly in the north half of 7-4e, but failed further north in 8-4e. The deep Wilcox test of Superior Oil corporation was in the northeast corner of 36-8-4e.

Field men are still unable to learn the names of the operators who have dug a slush pit and cellar for a test well in the southeast of the southwest of 31-9-9e, in the Papoose pool of northern Hughes county. The cellar and pit were dug the past week after a stake had been originally driven in the northeast of the southeast of the southwest of 31-9-9.

That the Okmulgee, Muskogee and Tulsa oil area, covering a territory six miles wide by about 42 miles in length, may get a replay from the upper formations, and from the Wilcox sand to the Turkey mountain sand some 200 feet below is the belief of Oklahoma oil men and geologists.

This conclusion followed the success of Fred E. Cusack of Okmulgee, successfully deepening an old well, No. 5 Doyle, in the northeast of the southeast of the southwest of 15-13-14e, in the Morris area of Okmulgee county. The Turkey mountain was found at 2730 to 2733 feet and swabbed 90 barrels initial, settling to 40 barrels a day.

Simms Oil company of Dallas, Texas, is to deepen an old Wilcox sand well in the center of the northeast of the southwest of 15-13-14e, and Cusack is to deepen an old test in the northwest of the southwest of the southeast of 15-13-14e.

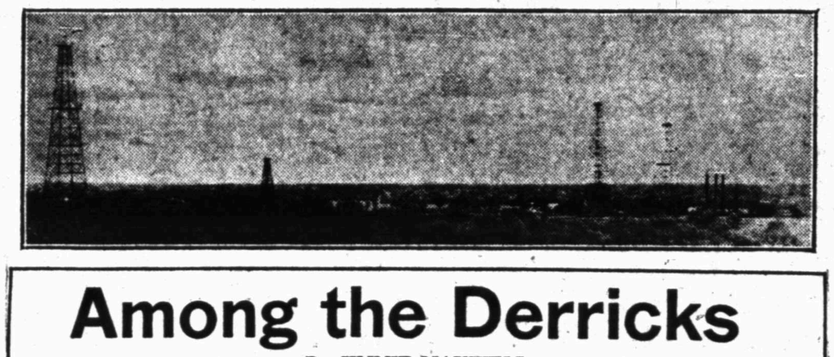

Cusack's find, as it is now termed has caused geologists to give every little nosing and high in the several counties a rechecking to see if deepening would not be feasible.

Finis is about to be written for the deepest test well ever drilled in the United States.

The Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas company having drilled No. 6 Preston Culp in the northwest corner of the northeast of 6-5n-9w, in the Cement field of Cadd county to 10,079½ feet, plugged back and tested various levels, but water and mud always drowned out any commercial showings.

The last level tested was a sand at 3351 to 3414 feet and after a 60 quart shot, it bridged and resulted in a clean out job. Before the shot it made 42 barrels of oil and 32 barrels of water on the swab.

The deep wildcat is believed to have cost the Mid-Kansas, a subsidiary of the Ohio Oil company, around $250,000.

MAY DAY FESTIVAL BEING PLANNED BY IOWA PARK P.-T. A.

IOWA PARK, Texas, April 23.—Iowa Park Parent-Teacher association is arranging a May day festival which will be staged at the City park. A parade of decorated floats, bearing the queen and her train, the five-point children of the school, children who received 98 and 100 per cent grades in the health clinic and special trucks carrying the slogan: "More milk for children; better milk for children," will form in front of the high school building and proceed through the business section of the town.

Mrs. T. M. Black, health chairman, is supervising the health entries and an important part of the program will be the presentation of certificates to these children who have been found physically fit. Little Miss Dorothy Mae Abernathy, will give a talk on "Milk"; Lorena Black will appear in a reading, entitled, "Things Inside"; Polly Faye Clark will give a reading, and there will be a health song by both the five-point and physically perfect children.

Miss Willie Mae George, freshman, W. F. George High school, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will George, who was selected May Day queen this week in a competitive vote of high school pupils on representatives from each of the high school classes, will be crowned queen by Mayor James A. Griffin.

Miss Katherine Sue Ralston will be assisted by Mrs. Alice Palm and Miss Lucille Ellis in directing the coronation of the queen and in presenting a May pole dance bearing the school colors, green and white.

Sinclair Expects Mid-Continent Oil Price to Hold Up

HOUSTON, April 23. (AP)—Harry F. Sinclair said here today he expected the present price for mid-continent crude to hold up, "if the industry exhibits common sense and restraint."

"We were the first to boost the price, and we believe it will go higher," he added.

Mr. Sinclair, chairman of the board of the Consolidated Oil corporation and his company associates came here to inspect their local properties. The Houston visit was one stop in a tour of inspection of properties of the Sinclair and the Prairie Oil and Refining company, recently consolidated.

The party will leave tonight for St. Louis.

Mid-Continent Oil Activities

TULSA, Okla., April 23. (UP)—Activity is being renewed in Oklahoma's oil fields. Areas that have been darkened at night for several months again are lighted and the chug of drilling engines is heard.

Oil scouts reported 27 new stakings in the state this week. Seventeen wells were completed, of which number six were oil wells, one a gasser, the other failures. Oklahoma county had 10 new locations; Creek county, five; Okmulgee and Osage, three each, and Seminole county one.

TULSA, Okla.—Refined gasoline markets were closing steady to strong today. Field reports indicated that 40,000 barrels a day have been withdrawn from storage in Oklahoma and Kansas fields the first two weeks of April, with the national withdrawal averaging 90,000 barrels a day for that period.

OKLAHOMA CITY.—The first test in the state's prosecution of the Wilcox Oil and Gas company for alleged violation of proration regulations in the city field occurred today in district court.

Company attorneys sought to remove the order obtained by the state restraining the company from producing oil and moving it in the city field.

In a public statement, Homer F. Wilcox, company president, emphatically denied guilt in the numerous accusations against the company. He indicated that when a hearing is held, "unethical practices by some interests seeking to embarrass and injure the company would be revealed."

KANSAS STUDENT DIES FOLLOWING COLLAPSE AFTER BOXING MATCH

ANTHONY, Kan., April 23. (AP)—M. E. Collins Jr., 16-year-old high school youth, died late last night, about three hours after he had collapsed following a boxing match with his chum, Ralph Guthrie, 16.

Authorities said an inquest would be held but expressed belief the youth died of cerebral hemorrhage induced by overexertion rather than as a result of any blow struck during the match.

Collins complained of being tired at the finish of the bout but appeared to be in good condition otherwise, witness said. He collapsed after the gloves were removed from his hands.

Acquaintances of the boys said they were "almost inseparable companions."

Remedy for Economic Ills

"JOBS, MACHINES AND CAPITALISM," by Arthur Dahlberg. The Macmillan Co., New York. $3.00.

Dr. Dahlberg understakes to show how capitalism as a system has not had a fair chance. There has been misuse rather than an intelligent use of it. Communism has arisen as a protest against certain evils of capitalism which might easily have been avoided. The gist of the plan to secure an increased demand for labor, general employment, increased wages, and to eliminate wasteful production is to regulate rigidly the hours of work. The author undertakes to show that in every period of prosperity there has been a real scarcity of labor. If this labor scarcity is induced by effective, federal legislation, nothing can hinder the return of better times. This would mean drastic wage cuts for those holding jobs at present; but there would come some purchasing power into the hands of all workers. These would begin to spend their wages and increased production of basic commodities would have to follow this general demand. A general increase in demand for labor would bring higher wages. These would have to be paid for out of that return which has formerly gone into swollen profits or has attracted excessive capital into fields offering only a fair rate of return. Business would not suffer a decrease in total return, but only a decreased rate of return since an increased amount would of necessity go to the laborers.

The author undertakes to demonstrate a new scientific approach to socio-economic problems. This is a pictorial chart which he says, is in essence merely a formula. In the last few chapters of the book, a supposed condition 100 years from now is described in which the effects of the introduction of the proposed labor supply regulation are described.

The book reminds one of Henry Goerge's "Progress and Poverty" in that it seems to provide for the elimination of all our economic ills and for a period of Utopian perfection. The idea does bear reflection, however, as an explanation, if not a solution of some of the difficulties of the present system.

PEEPING AT NEW BOOKS THROUGH UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS

LITERARY KNOT-HOLE

By LORENA DRUMMOND

From Sunburn to Babies

There is a well-known book, which, with the one exception of the Bible, has been given to more ailing people in America than any other opus. It is usually appropriate to give this book when a friend or relative is recovering from an operation. For many years publishing houses (let us hope) have been endeavoring to find a work that will compete with Mr. Cobb's little volume in this gift field.

Perhaps unwittingly, Dutton & Co. gave that book to the public when they published Margaret Fishback's "I Feel Better Now." It is hard to say just what Miss Fishback feels better about, but she might be proud of any of her cheerful verse, much of which was found acceptable to the editors of New Yorker, Vanity Fair and Saturday Evening Post before it was published in book form.

Miss Fishback's meal ticket is writing advertising for Macy's in New York; her vocation is evidently writing verse. Young, pretty, a college graduate, she has a cheerful sometimes flippant, angle on life and has set her thoughts to rime and rhythm. In "I Feel Better Now" Miss Fishback has treated love, underwear, flowers, radios, the seasons, sunburn, skyscrapers, babies, bosses, statues, parks, vacations—in fact, nearly every subject the modern young girl knows about, and many men readers of her little book will suffer a momentary longing to go to New York and hunt the girl down and marry her when reading lines like these:

My mother taught me to be good
At least as good as I was able;
Otherwise I think I could
Dress in ermine, mink or sable.

By TRUEMAN O'QUINN, Exstudent, University of Texas.

"Records of a People's Identity"

Skillful juxtaposition of fact and fancy, of truth and tall lies, make "Southwestern Lore," the most recent publication of the Texas Folk-lore society, a delightful volume. But that is not unusual for readers of these annual compilations of folk sketches have come to expect contributions of genuine worth to the written record of the Southwest's social heritage.

It might be well to quote the "Saludas!" or introduction to the slender volume, written by J. Frank Dobie, who compiled and edited it:

"Southwestern Lore," the ninth volume issued by the Texas Folk-Lore society, is about as representative as such a miscellany could be. Bad men, razorbacked hogs, Mexican sheepherders, treasure hunters, negroes, cowboys both gringo and Mexican, plant life, songs, oil fields, Indians—the four peoples that have mingled their lore in the Southwest, as well as a wide variety of occupations and natural elements—all find representation in the volume.

"As has frequently been observed, the people who belong to the soil of Texas and the Southwest are coming more and more to show an active interest in their own environment and social inheritance. This means that civilization is advancing. The Texas Folk-Lore society has had a part in this advancement and it now submits, with faith in the public's continued support of its work, this additional record of a people's identity."

It is interesting to note that the volume is released for distribution Monday, April 25, immediately following the annual meeting of the Texas Folk-Lore society.

Sophistication De Luxe

"SHE TAKES A LOVER," by Anthony Thorpe, the Mcmillan company, New York, $2.

Prince George of England recently stirred up a hornet's nest in that country when he said "I am sure that Dr. Samuel Johnson would have quickly sickened, as I have sickened of novels which only exist on a disproportionate interest in sex." Prince George went further and said that dozens of the famous novels he had read should have been operated on for gangrene at a point approximately two-thirds of the way through.

While the young Englishman who wrote "She Takes a Lover," doesn't make his work exactly what we would call gangrenous, we had a terrible time going through it. It certainly bases its plea for existence on sex.

When young Peter Dane concluded a blundering life by death in the Alps, Frances, his widow, determined to cut herself off from mankind and become a writer of best sellers. As a means to that end, she established herself in an apartment in London and made contact with every fast and frivolous young person she knew.

The story is superficially clever but few clever lines draw a real laugh. The majority of the characters are such as "only scandal or possibility of scandal" brought to life.

Altogether it is rather a sniveling story, ending on a note of questionable pathos.

Frances took the advice of her mother-in-law, when opportunity that seemed interesting offered, and took a lover.

Paul Ferris, the son of a patrician and poor princess of Rome and a dissipated English artist father, was the man of whom she became enamored; he loved her for a time, then his work came first. The reader is left wondering at the end. Frances is so unbelievably reasonable.

Probably the best character in the book is Mrs. Dane, the mother-in-law who advises "life" for her widowed daughter-in-law. She plays a part deliberately and premeditatedly hard, but lighted with bits of kindness, and from her lips come the only real bits of wit in the book.

Too many of the younger people delight in such fiction. To this reviewer, a book that cannot live and that in its short period of existence, leaves a bad moral taste, is unworthy. The brilliant red cover and the delicate mauve fly leaves are an indication of the theme.

With the Magazines

By L. N. C.

Kenneth Roberts writes a clever article in "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star," in the current Saturday Evening Post. He says that 3,000 years ago Babylonians divined fate from the position of the sun, moon and planets and to this day prominent bankers and business men of America will not leave their rooms if the stars are unfavorable.

Mr. Roberts pokes gentle fun at himself over his contact with an astrologer and says in conclusion, "Astrology is a fascinating subject and there must be something in it, but for the life of me, I cannot find out what it is."

An encouraging article in the same periodical is "The World Isn't Finished," by Charles Kettering, vice president of General Motors, as told to Lewis Carr.

"In these days as always," he says, the most important fact from every angle is that the world is not finished. This holds in every realm; in business, in matters of unemployment and economic recovery, in the organic world, the psychological, the spiritual, the personal and all others. Growth is the gist of life and evolution functions in business as in biology. New standards evolve and new human needs, new products, new jobs, just the same as new living forms do; for all are part of the same process. That the world should be finished in any realm is entirely unthinkable.

"When life is empty, barren, lonely, frustrated and futile," says Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, in an article, "Morals Secede From the Union," "when the world looks dark and human existence purposeless, atheism already is close at hand. To be sure, at that point one can make a wild escape into the comfort of some compensating idealistic philosophy, but for many the next step is to translate the feeling of a devastated experience into the theory of a godless universe." Dr. Fosdick's article in the May Harpers is a light in the dark.

We are not acquainted with Marcel Proust's variety of asthma but Mme. Valentine Thomson, in her article, "My Cousin Marcel Proust," in the same magazine, tells the story of a wedding at which Proust was to be best man and was expected to walk arm in arm with Mme. Thomson, the maid of honor. To appear at the wedding was an ordeal for Proust, who even then was leading a hermit's life, suffering agonies from asthma. His garb, when he presented himself at the wedding, horrified his partner.

"When Marcel came to offer me his arm," Mme. Thomson relates, "I discovered that he was bundled up like an explorer in the arctic. He had not seen the light of day for months; he feared the cold as much as he did the daylight, which he could no longer stand at all. He had pulled three overcoats over his evening clothes, and his shirt-front bulged over I don't know how many thicknesses of wool. His neck was swathed in women scarves."

Writing in the May Atlantic about the methods of the public relations counsel, John T. Flynn has an article entitled "Edward L. Barnays: The Science of Ballyhoo," in which he cites this typical example: "The milliners wanted women to wear large hats. Bernays mozed noiselessly to the attack. A society woman, a famous artist, a famous style expert, a fashion writer, a fashion editor, are brought together at a fashion fete where these leaders collaborate in exhibiting the new hat. Next comes a tableau of beautiful girls. A distinguished committee is on hand to choose the most stylish one. Not a word about hats. When the beauties appear, 'by a singular coincidence' they all wear large hats.

"Merciful heavens!' cries the young lady in Dubuque, seeing the pictures of the 'contest' in the Sunday rotogravue section and looking with an executioner's eye at the little tight-rimmed bonnet she has been wearing. 'I must get one of those large hats.'

And that's the way fashions are put over. The science of ballyhoo is a paying one.

John Maynard Keynes, British economist, writing in the same magazine about "The World Economic Outlook" says: "The problem of reparations and war debts darkens the whole scene. We all know that these are now as dead as mutton, and as distasteful as stale mutton. There is no question of any substantial payments being made. The problem has ceased to be financial and has become entirely political and psychological."

Scribner's Magazine would always be worth reading if it were only for William Lyon Phelps' "As I Like It," even if we sometimes disagree with him. Not often does he spend a whole page and more on one subject as he does on Rudolf Besier's play, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street."

"As Scribner's Magazine is read in every town in America, let me urge the inhabitants of every city where this play comes, not to miss it. Go without three meals if necessary, but don't let this drama pass unseen.

And Dr. Phelps paid a pretty tribute to Edgar Wallace who died recently. "I suppose he can hardly be said to have a permanent place in literature, but he was a public benefactor." Dr. Phelps says, "He never wrote a dull book. We can give him one of the finest epitaphs ever written, that of Prince Hal on Falstaff.

"I could have better spared a better man."

Early in the year, "The Search for the Center" was a much talked of article in Scribners. Dr. Beards' exposition has been followed each month by others of the series. Virgil Jordan, in May Scribners, writes on "The Flight From the Centre." "They surely know that the center of authority, the ultimate source of effective political and economic power, the final standard of values, rests still as always in the individual," Mr. Jordan says, "not in the state or the social, political and economic structure; and that the essential problem of progress is to restore these more and more effectively to him. All the virtues, private and civic, are individual; the vices and evils are solely social in their source, the result of a political, economic and technical structure and organization of society, which has so far frustrated instead of fostering the creative interest and energies of the individual, removed him progressively farther from effective exercise of his creative powers in his work and so paralyzed his sense of spiritual responsibility, freedom and security which attaches to and arises only out of his labor."

Then the invaluable little weekly "The Pathfinder." We merely lift without comment:

"Congress members are working too hard, says a capitol doctor. Yes, they are overtaxing our strength, too!

"The Rhode Island legislature debating a bill which would prohibit smoking in autos not equipped with ash trays!

From Pathfinder's "Americana": "The Havre de Grace, Md., jail being empty because arresting officers have to pay for the meals of any one incarcerated therein!

"Secretary Wilbur saying that even educational appropriations for Indians could be scalped!

SENATOR LEWIS DEMANDS MARINES BE WITHDRAWN FROM CENTRAL AMERICA

WASHINGTON, April 23. (INS)—Aroused by reports of new fatalities to American marines in Nicaragua, Senator Lewis, Democrat, of Illinois, demanded on the senate floor late today that American armed forces be withdrawn immediately from the Central American republic.

"We have learned no lesson, we profit by no example," he declared. "We have now reached the point where we endure the murder of the children of America without protest."

After he had assailed "American imperialism," in the Latin countries to the south, Lewis attacked private bankers "who hold the children of America as extra collateral for loans made in Nicaragua and other Latin nations." He pleaded for a "return to American principles" in dealing with foreign nations of the western hemisphere.

'Her Excellency' Acting Governor State Louisiana

Miss Grosjean became acting governor for a week on the absence of Gov. Alvin O. King, who is attending a governors' conference at Richmond, Va.

She formerly was secretary to Huey P. Long before he vacated the governor's office to become United States senator from Louisiana. She was appointed secretary of state by Long last year upon the death of J. L. Bailey.

Miss Grosjean became the state's first woman chief executive because Louisiana has no recognized lieutenant governor and no president pro tempore of the senate to assume the office when the governor leaves the state.

Dr. Paul N. Cyr renounced his elected right as lieutenant governor to contest the right of Governor Long to hold both the governor's office and that of United States senator. King, then president pro tempore of the senate succeeded to the governorship.

A dern'd good place to fish

SPUDDERS' HEAVY CLOUTING OVERCOMES FAULTY PITCHING

The high spot of the first 10 days of strife in the major leagues has been provided by the St. Louis Cardinals. Red-hot pennant favorites, despite the passing of Burleigh Grimes, one of the game's most successful pitchers, and Chick Hafey, league leading hitter no later than last season and one of the major leagues' outstanding outfielders, the Cardinals have started at something slower than a snail's pace. Last year Gabby Street's mixture of rookies and oldtimers stepped into the van of the National league race by picking on a cripple, Cincinnati. This year the schedule was altered a bit and the Cards' early season program called for an unusual number of games with Pittsburgh, a club that loomed as anything but a pennant contender. The boys figured the champs again would be off to a running start at the expense of the Bucs. But the thing has backfired and the Cardinals already have missed Grimes and Hafey in a big way.

Was it courage or misplaced confidence that caused the Cards to dispense with the services of Grimes and Hafey? The inner workings of a baseball club can never be known. It may be that Branch Rickey had mighty good reasons for relinquishing title to these two stars. On the surface, however, it appears the Cardinal powers believed they were so well fortified with rising young stars, they could dispense with Grimes and Hafey and fill their places. The originators of the chain store baseball scheme have been so successful in the development of talent they easily could have been led to the belief that the system is infallible, and that no one or two players could be indispensable to the cause of the parent club. Rickey undoubtedly put a severe strain on his stock of players when he sold Grimes and Hafey, and while the final decision can't be reached until the end of the season, his daring move so far appears to have played havoc with his club.

The National league race has provided many thrills the past few years, but the way this 1932 parade is starting, this one is going to be even more exciting. There is nothing startling in the rush the Braves have made at the start, for that is an old custom with the bean town's National league entry. The Braves always are champions of the Florida "Grapefruit league," and they usually start every pennant race like champions, only to flop with the coming of mid-May to remain prone for the rest of the season. Many radical changes have been made in the Braves' front, however. Judge Fuchs has spent more real money for minor league players between seasons than any other big league club. Maybe he has found something in the raft of athletes he acquired through purchase and exercise of the draft. Art Shires, incidentally, has done quite well so far in his comeback attempt.

Two bid deals engineered by the Reds have made that club a formidable National league entry. It is not easy to picture a Cincinnati club on the champion's throne, but Dan Howley's present layout may be capable of doing that very thing. Right now the Reds appear as the most improved club of all major league outfits. Unless the failure of the Cardinals may be listed as an important tip, the first 10 days of the race have provided little insight into the outcome of the National league scrap. Brooklyn, with its potential strength; New York, with everything in the world but pennant pitching; the well balanced Cardinals, the apparently rejuvenated Pirates, and the always dangerous Cubs make the National league race a decidedly interesting proposition right now.

Detroit's little considered Tigers have caused most of the early season dope spilling in the junior circuit. The Tigers at the start were considered no stronger than serious rivals of some of the other weak sisters for the basement berth. The Detroit team is one that seemingly had deteriorated rapidly the last few years. No set of pitchers under the big top has worked quite so sensationally to date as Sorrell, Uhle, Wyatt and Whitehill. Their pitching has kept the team on top, but it can't be taken too seriously for the simple reason that the American league's strength is concentrated in the eastern clubs, and until intersectional warfare starts nothing that happens along the western sector can be taken seriously.

From all angles the American league race looks like a carbon copy of the past two or three seasons—Philadelphia, New York and Washington. If there is any change to be wrought in this league, the Yanks appear the only club capable of bringing it about. If this fellow Byrd really has arrived, as the early games indicate, the Yanks are stronger than a year ago. Gomez's development into a star of the highest order is an important factor, and one George Herman Ruth already has proved he's not yet ready to give in to Father Time. The Athletics are exactly the same club they were a year ago, playing the same kind of ball and socking for distance behind the pitching of Grove, Earnshaw and Walberg for most of their victories. Connie Mack has been giving several new pitchers a fling in the early games, but no more Groves or Earnshaws have appeared to date.

Ruth has demonstrated that he not only still can bag more than a fair share of hits, but still commands the attention of the fans. When the Yankees opened their home season last week, nearly 60,000 customers swarmed into Yankee stadium. That is a great opening day crowd under any circumstances; a real tribute to Ruth's popularity under those existing now. While opening day attendance was far off throughout all leagues, the Babe packed 'em into Yankee stadium. Ruth may not be worth $80,000 to the Yanks simply as one of nine players in the lineup, but as a fan lure he is worth far more than he will ever be paid.

The Browns were unable to take advantage of splendid pitching and got away to a poor start against Chicago and Detroit. The entire team started in a hitting slump, and Jack Burns and Jim Levey have hit about as well as Kress, Goslin, Ferrell and the others who are supposed to carry the offensive load for the club. Tom Jenkins opened the season in right field and was replaced by Bettencourt in a couple of games as an indication that Killefer plans to switch these two against right and left-handed pitching.

Euller and Garms Connect in Ninth For Winning Run

Cats Score in Two Big Rounds but Home Club Wins, 10-9

Spudder pitching that went haywire in a big way in the ninth round all but chunked away the advantage gained through a long early lead over the Fort Worth Cats, but timely bingles by Euller and Garms in the home half provided a badly needed run and won a 10 to 9 decision for the home club in Saturday's opener at Athletic park. Bumping Dick Whitworth for six runs in the first and leading by 8 to 0 at one stage, no less than four pitchers were needed to stop the Panthers with four runs and a tied score in the ninth. Pressnell, Florrid, Vincent and White all were trotted out to the hill in that all but disastrous ninth, and the latter received credit for the win. About 400 cash customers viewed the exciting finish.

The Spudders and Panthers conclude their series with Sunday's game starting at 3 o'clock, and White is likely to go back against the Kitties and oppose Skipper Dick McCabe.

Timely long distance larruping was necessary to pull the club through its first of 16 successive home games. Garms, Fuss, Clift and Euller each plucked three hits and each of the first three dished out home runs that helped pull the pitchers over the hump. Young Clift's clubbing was nothing short of sensational, the kid lining out a double and single to go with his homer—and all three hits were clothes-line drives.

Win in Ninth

After Fort Worth had tied up the old ball game in the ninth, Euller opened the home half with a blow past short, advanced on Clift's sacrifice, watched White fly to center and scampered home on Garms' short hit to center. Paul Gribble, left-hander, was the victim of the winning run, but he was the third Cat pitcher of the day, the veteran Dick Whitworth absorbing six runs in the first two innings and the youngster Pickrel giving up a pair before he departed to permit Gribble to hit.

Garms' wallop over the scoreboard gave the Spudders a one-run start. He tore into Whitworth's first pitch and the ball sailed over the ball and strike marker. Scharein followed with a single to right, but was out stretching it on a nice recovery by Frey after he had slipped in the wet turf. Badgro walked after Fuss had gone out, stole and continued to third on Steinecke's high throw. He was left when Baker came up with a one-handed stab of Green's shot. Moore had opened for the Cats with a single, but was erased in a double play, Clift to Scharein to Green.

The foe went down in order in the second and the Spudders kicked in with a five-run outburst for a 6 to 0 lead. After Severeid's smash had bounced off Baker's shins into Engle's glove for a cinch out, Euller popped a single into center. Clift doubled off the left field fence, scoring Euller. Pressnell walked. Both runners moved up on Garms' out and scored on Scharein's double to left center, a lazy looper which Jeanes misjudged in the wind. Fuss finished off the big round with a circuiter over the scoreboard.

Engle's double with one out failed to help the Panthers in the third when Garms and Fuss took care of Whitworth and Moore. Pickrel replaced Whitworth on the mound and the home club was retired without damage.

Press Pitches Out

Pressnell was in his first serious hole in the fourth and he climbed out by whiffing Baker with the bases full, the result of a walk, hit batsman and Jeanes' single. Garms reached first on Dalrymple's error after two were out in the last half, but Scharein popped to Hooks.

After Fort Worth had failed to score in the fifth, the fans were given a peep at both sides of Severeid's baseball in the home half. Fuss' single and a pass to Green put two on and the Cat defense shifted to the left for Severeid. Severeid put on the hit and run on the first pitch and his hoister into unprotected right field was good for a double, scorong Fuss. That was the successful side, and it was a perfect execution of a play. But with Euller up, the squeeze was signaled and Green was doubled when Bo popped to the catcher—that was the unsuccessful side.

Jeanes' single and Frey's double failed to produce for the Cats in the sixth, and Clift's homer produced one for the Spudders. Pressnell and Garms singled, but Fuss and Badgro left 'em stranded after Scharein's sacrifice.

It was in the seventh that Pressnell bumped into real trouble. Hits by Wingfield, Moore, Jeanes, Hooks and Frey, with a pass mixed in, were good for five runs. The Spudders picked up another after two were out. Euller and Clift singled and Pressnell and Garms walked to force in Euller.

Rocky Ninth Round

Pressnell apparently had regained his stride when he set down the Kitties without trouble in the eighth, but Steinecke's double off the left field fence to open the ninth brought Florrid on the scene. Tex Jeanes' fourth hit of the day, a single past short, scored Steinecke. Hooks kept it going with a single. Frey popped out, but a pass to Baker jammed the bases and finished Florrid. Wingfield poured into Vincent's fast one and sent Garms to deep center, Jeanes scoring after the catch. Gribble walked, filling the bases again, and Moore connected for his fourth hit, a single to center, counting the tying runs and putting the winning run on third. White forced Dalrymple into a roller to put out the fire.

Euller, Clift and Garms did the rest in the ninth.

Formation of Boy Ball Teams Urged Early as Possible

Lions, Boys' Club and City Co-Operate in Playground Activities

Under the general guidance of the Lions club, boys' baseball teams are being organized during the last 30 days of the school term for start of championship play with the coming of the holiday season. The boys' leagues for several years have been conducted by the city park department under the leadership of C. C. Bunnenberg, department head, and have grown into one of the city's most worthwhile boys' work projects.

When the city found it necessary to eliminate from its budget the major part of the expense incurred in the operation of the leagues, Bunnenberg turned to outside forces and found ready cooperation from the Lions club in bearing not only the major portion of the expense, but lending its manpower, as well. The Wichita Falls Boys club, maintained by the Rotary club, is furnishing the active organizer and director of the boys' playground baseball activities in Marvin Robertson, boys' club director. Robertson was in charge of baseball activities for the park department last summer and is conversant with all angles of the operation of the boys' leagues.

Increase Expected

The park department will continue to maintain grounds and to supply at least a part of the playing equipment, as well as to use its offices as the clearing house for league affairs.

Last year approximately 700 youngsters participated in league play throughout the summer, and the Lions club hopes to increase this number materially this year and to assist in the formation of at least 50 teams in the junior and senior divisions. The Lions committee handling the club's interests is headed by H. J. Hughey Jr., assisted by Jim King, Woody Featherston, Tom Vague and Robertson, but each member of the organization is to take an active part by working with an appointed team throughout the season.

Leagues to Be Formed

The first call for the organization of teams has been sounded by Vague, and all boys who plan to participate in league play are asked to complete their team rosters as early as possible and register their names with Robertson at the Wichita Falls Boys' club. A premium for early organization is offered the boys in that the selected team names registered will be given full protection and cannot be used by teams registering later.

Leagues will be organized by Robertson according to locations in order that playing fields may be as convenient as possible. Schedules will be arranged as teams and leagues are formed and the boys are asked to complete their team rosters as quickly as possible in order that these tasks may be carried out.

Jefferson hotel's crack team from Dallas took over the leadership in the five-men event of the Texas Bowling association's annual tournament by rolling 2,887 pins Saturday night on the Spudder alleys. The Dallas team displaced Bailey-Moline Hardware company of Wichita Falls as the class A team leader, the latter having set a mark of 2,878 pins two weeks ago, and this score stood as the second best in the tournament at the completion of Saturday's five-men events.

Twenty-one visiting teams were to bowl their matches in the five-men, doubles and singles events over the week-end, and Wichita Falls pin topplers were still in the lead in doubles and singles at midnight Saturday. The doubles score of C. F. Sweeney and C. E. Pimlot, 1,189 withstood the attacks of the early doubles raids Saturday, and Sweeney's 713 remained the top figure in the singles division. The Rotary club's 2,704 led in class B five-men event, the 1,159 of T. C. Anthony and J. E. Handy in class B doubles and the 616 of S. D. Johnson in class B singles.

Several teams in both divisions were yet to bowl their events Sunday, along with doubles and singles in both classes A and B. A heavy day's program was scheduled to get under way at 8 a. m.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Knocking Rube Walberg from the hill in the first inning and continuing their assault on three of Connie Mack's crop of young pitchers, the Yankees slammed the Athletics for a 16 to 5 verdict in the final Saturday before 41,000 fans.

The Athletics scored all their runs in the opening frame, when they clouted young Gordon Rhodes from the box. Ivy Paul Andrews took up the burden after five runs were across, forced Walberg to hit into a double play, and from there on held the Macks in his good right hand. They found him for six hits in eight innings, but could never solve him with men on the sacks. In the fourth he fanned the great Al Simmons with the bases full of Athletics.

It was a different story for the Yanks. Not only did they fall on Walberg lustily in their half of the first to more than make up the deficit, but they were equally successful in solving the youngsters, DeShong, Cain and Krausse, who followed in that order. Their 14 hits were combined with 12 walks, 10 of which came in the first four innings.

Babe Ruth was in the middle of the festivities, hitting his fifth homer of the season in the first inning with one on and smacking a long triple to left field in the third with a pair on the paths. Score:

Bucs Take 3 to 2 Duel From Exporters; Steers Whip Sports

HOUSTON, April 23. (AP)—San Antonio's Indians wielded their war clubs in hostile fashion here Saturday, pounding out 16 hits to trounce the Houston Buffs, 7 to 2, in the opener of a two-game series. While the Buff hurlers were being badly maltreated, Herb Sanders, hurler recently acquired from Kansas City, scattered 12 Houston bingles effectively. Houston used four pitchers with Mike Cvengros, the starter, being charged with the defeat. Lee Stebbins of the Buffs continued his terrific hitting, collecting four hits for a perfect day at bat. RECORD PRIZE LIST AWAITS FISHERMEN IN ANNUAL CONTEST

Best-O-Luck complete fly fishing outfit in the contest. The award, valued at $10.90, is posted in the bass division and consists of a nine-foot split bamboo South Bend rod with extra tip; single action reel, holding 80 yards of light line; 25 yards of Trout-Oreno vacuum dressed enameled line; one six-foot St. Joe natural mist gut leader; an assortment of six flies; and a metal carrying case, 38 by 4 by 2½ inches, finished in orange duco. The South Bend company announced that its gift was in recognition of the increased interest of this section in fly rod fishing for bass.

Fly Casting Interest

The South Bend award, the gift of a Pflueger Supreme reel and the posting of numerous other articles of valuable fishing tackle this year are significant of the increased interest Wichita Falls sportsmen are showing in fine fishing tackle and its correct usage.

The W. T. Waggoner estate of Vernon is again offering two season passes, valued at $10 each, to either Lake Kemp or Diversion lake. One pass is offered in the crappie division and one in the bass division through the courtesy of R. L. More, manager of the Waggoner properties at Vernon.

Curtis Harper, supervisor of the state fish hatchery at Diversion lake, is a new addition to the list of prize donors this year. Mr. Harper is offering a Texas artificial lure license in the bass division. The winner may choose either the license for the remainder of the present season or the license for the new season opening Sept. 1.

The Gaines Motor Sales company is offering a set of outboard motor spark plugs in the bass division for either a two-cylinder or four-cylinder outfit. The plugs sell for $1.25 each and the total value of the prize will be either $2.50 or $5, according to the size of the winner's motor.

The Wichita Hardware company is offering two prizes in the bass division. The first is a Heddon Wisconsin special 3½-foot bamboo bait casting or trolling rod, one-piece construction, valued at $5. The other award is a Shakespeare Black Knight enameled fly casting line, 33 yards, priced at $1.75, and two Joe Welsh 10-pound test leaders.

Valuable Tackle

The Bailey-Moline Hardware company has posted a nine-foot South Bend split bamboo fly rod, costing $7.50, and a $2.50 aluminum case, for the bass division. In the crappie division this company is offering two prizes, a pair of Goodrich sportsman's hip boots, valued at $4.95 and a 10-quart floating galvanized minnow bucket, valued at $2.

The Noble-Little Hardware company is offering one Heddon Lone Eagle, level-winding reel, valued at $6 for the crappie, and a Stay-Alive fish stringer for the crappie. In the bass division this company is giving a Shakespeare six-strip split bamboo bait casting rod. This four-foot rod should delight the light tackle fan, and is equipped with agate guides and locking reel seat. The rod sells at $7.50.

Maxwell and Son Hardware company is offering a South Bend No. 850, level-winding anti-backlash reel, valued at $5.50 in the bass division. In the crappie division this company has posted a True Temper Oxford style steel casting rod, choice of lengths, valued at $5.50. The rod has an offset reel seat and patented locking device. The Massey Produce company, 1918 Tenth street, is offering 10 dozen choice minnows, valued at $1.25, to the crappie division.

Sears, Roebuck and company is posting an award of $2 in fishing merchandise in the crappie division.

In addition to these prizes, The Daily Times and Record News are posting $5 in cash for the bass division and $5 in cash for the crappie division.

Rules Are Simple

Rules of the contest are simple, and vary little this year from the contests conducted in previous seasons. The competition is open to all persons, regardless of age, sex, residence or avoirdupois. Fish entered in the contest must be weighed in at one of the official weighing stations, locations of which will be announced later. Only fish from the three great Wichita lakes, Lake Kemp, Diversion lake and Lake Wichita, are eligible for entrance. All fish must be legally taken, and any contestant found to have violated state laws or local fishing regulations will be disqualified. The contest will open simultaneously with the season at 12:01 a. m., May 1, and will close at 6 p. m., Monday, May 2. No fish will be weighed after this hour. As in years past, the judges reserve the right to extend the period of the contest if weather conditions prevent what is considered a representative catch from the three lakes. At no time in the past, however, has it been found necessary to extend this period.

Prizes will be awarded according to the weight of the fish in each division. The person catching the largest bass will have first choice of all the bass prizes, the person catching the second largest bass will have next choice of all remaining prizes and so on until all prizes have been distributed. The same system will be followed in the crappie division. In case two contestants enter fish of the same weight, the contestants may break the tie by any method upon which they agree.

The annual fishing contest is sponsored with a view of promoting interest in fishing, in conservation, and in observance of the state and local laws regulating such work. The Wichita Falls newspapers, the dealers who have posted prizes and the manufacturers of fishing tackle invite all anglers to weigh in their best fish during the contest and to help support the purposes of the contest.

NEW CONTEST DIVISION ANNOUNCED WITH PRIZE UP FOR BIGGEST CARP

A new division has been created in the annual opening day fishing contest, and the gentleman responsible therefor is none other than J. W. (Bill) Lee, secretary of the Wichita Falls Izaak Walton league chapter and tackle salesman extraordinary.

Mr. Lee let it be known Saturday that he is personally offering a prize for the largest carp caught during the contest. The prize offered is a $4.50 South Bend, level-winding anti-backlash reel.

In order to preserve Mr. Lee's reputation, The Daily Times hastens to add that he does not believe the carp is a noble fish, nor does he wish to prove that "pound for pound" the carp is the equal of anything. The "conservation" division of the contest was created personally by Mr. Lee, who wishes to see the carp exterminated in the Wichita lakes and is taking this means of encouraging all anglers, as well as carp fishermen, to catch a few of this destructive species on opening day.

Golf Clubs Show Interest in Team Tournament Here

Junior Chamber Commerce Event Expected to Attract 25 or More Entries

Fourteen clubs have signified their intentions of sending teams to the invitation golf tournament here May 21 and 22, sponsored by the Wichita Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce, according to announcement Saturday of Woody Featherston, chairman of the invitations committee.

A change in qualifying plans has been announced that will give visiting golfers the opportunity to play their preliminary rounds at any time during the week of the tournament. The Weeks park course, the scene of the competition, will be open to all players to get in their qualifying rounds from May 16 through May 21. Several clubs had written that their players would find it difficult to leave their businesses on Saturday, the day originally set for all qualifying, and the tournament committee decided to allow the entire week for preliminary rounds.

The team tournament idea is entirely new in this section of the state, but the interest shown by clubs throughout Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma indicates that the golfers approve of it in a big way. While the team competition will be featured, individual golfers also will be competing for valuable prizes.

Wichita Falls Out

Wichita Falls will not enter a team and this competition will be left strictly up to the visiting quartets. Individuals, however, may compete for the medal score prizes, and the tournament committee is urging as heavy a representation as possible from Wichita Falls.

H. J. Hughey Jr., chairman of the general tournament committee, plans to sponsor the formation of a team league to play throughout the season on a team basis, with regularly scheduled weekly matches and the championship to be decided on a percentage basis. This form of competition has proved outstandingly popular throughout the country, and if sufficient interest is shown by the visiting golfers at the tournament here, Hughey plans to organize a circuit of eight or more clubs.

25 or More Teams

The 14 clubs that have written Featherston of their plans to send teams to the May tournament are Olney Country club, Walters, Okla., Country club, Shawnee Country club of Graham, Spring Lake Country club of Crowell, Iowa Park Golf club, Electra Golf and Country club, Clarendon Country club, Vernon Country club, Paducah Country club, Nocona Country club, Munday Country club, Quanah Country club, Dornick Hills Country club of Ardmore, Okla., and Memphis Country club.

These clubs have not definitely entered, according to Featherston, but all have expressed approval of the tournament and have asserted their intentions of being in on the event when the play starts next month. Many queries have been received from other clubs, and the committee is hopeful of obtaining 25 or more team entries.

Other records were tied during the week when James of Dallas participated in five double plays in a nine-inning game at second base and Holman of the same club, three at third, while a new mark for bases on balls for a single game was set when three Spudder hurlers issued 15 passes and two Shreveport pitchers 10 for a total of 25.

Leaders to Fight For Peak in City League Skirmish

Unbeaten Star Transfer and Red and White Nines Clash Sunday

Leadership of the City league is at stake Sunday in the double-header at Katy park, starting at 2 o'clock. The two pace setters, Star Transfer company and Red and White groceries tangle in the second game, and the victor will emerge in complete command of the race at the close of the third week.

Both the Star nine and the Red and White entry have bumped off the remaining two clubs in their earlier starts, and each goes into Sunday's encounter with a perfect record. The transfer team is expected to send its ace flipper, Marvin Robertson, after the decision in the important contest, while the grocers are likely to counter with Red Nichols, one of the best of the city's sandlotters. With Robertson and Nichols on the firing line, a pitching battle of the highest order is in prospect.

While these two teams argue over the league lead, Sullivan grocery and Meyers grocery will be contending for the cellar berth. Both go into the game, scheduled as the 2 o'clock opener, with two defeats, and the loser will have full command of the basement position.

Steve Franklin, one of the sandlots' most successful chunkers last season, expects to get back on a winning stride at the expense of the Meyer nine. The chief obstacle in his path, besides the bats of the enemy, will be Lefty Bill Robertson, Meyers' ace flinger.

SPRING GRID PRACTICE CLOSES AT WELLINGTON

WELLINGTON, Texas, April 23.—A series of scrimmage games, which closed Friday, marked the termination of the spring training season of the Wellington High school football team.

"After six weeks of strenuous practice the boys are in fine shape," Coach Jim Smith said. "They are going to make a good showing in our conference next season because of the powerful line. We also have some shifty backs, but I believe that we will boast of the strongest line in the history of the school."

Vines Beats Allison To Retrieve Prestige

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, N. Y., April 23. (AP)—Ellsworth Vines Jr., slim youngster who bulks large in the United States Davis cup plans, set at rest fears that he might not regain his national championship form by trouncing Wilmer Allison in straight sets, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4, Saturday in the singles final of the Mason and Dixon tennis championship.

Vines gained ample revenge for defeats by Allison within the last two weeks in the finals at Pinehurst and New Orleans. He played fast, aggressive tennis, and after the first set had the Texan under complete control.

Allison faded after contesting the first set stubbornly and his shots lacked the extra punch that marked his steady play for the past six weeks on the southern tournament circuit. He appeared to suffer a letdown, although Vines' aggressive attack never gave him a chance to organize.

Miss Virginia Hilleary, of Philadelphia, and Miss Virginia Rice, of Boston, had little difficulty winning the women's doubles championship final, downing Mrs. John Van Ryn, of Philadelphia, and Miss Florence Leboutillier, of Westbury, N. Y., in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2.

After winning the singles, Vines came back with Frank X. Shields of New York to annex the men's doubles title in straight set from Marcel Rainville of Montreal, Canadian Davis cup star, and Eugene McCauliff of Yonkers, N. Y. Vines and Shields won the encounter 6-1, 9-7, 6-1.

Mr. and Mrs. John Van Ryn, Philadelphia, won the mixed doubles title, defeating Virginia Rice of Boston and Frederick C. Baggs of New York in the final round. The score was 6-3, 6-3.

THE GLOOM CHASER . . . by Nate Collier

WHITE OWL now 5¢

Since its reduction to 5 cents June 15, 1931, White Owl has soared above 300,000,000. Smokers know a cigar finer than its price mark. White Owl is sold at 5 cents, but wise buyers remember the same identical cigar sold in February, 1931, at 7 cents.

With The Burglars

For Mrs. F. A. Minderman of Electra shopped in Wichita Falls Saturday. Her puchasing tour practically completed, Mrs. Minderman placed her purchases in her car and parked in the 900 block on Indiana, while she continued her shopping.

Then the burglars stepped in.

When Mrs. Minderman returned the spoils of her tour were gone. She reported to police that material for a skirt, a girl's sweater, two bottles of perfume, a quantity of toilet soap and other articles had been stolen.

Another thief outfitted a "junker" car Saturday as a result of the theft of an automobile wheel and casing, stolen from L. D. Mowery, 1902 Fillmore.

J. W. Crawford of 408 Brook reported to police Saturday the theft of a Ford sedan, license number N 06-567, from its parking place at Pecan and Virginia.

Police listed Saturday the report of the theft of a silver fox fur, owned by Mrs. W. O. Kimmell, 1313 Taylor, stolen from the country club last Tuesday. The fur piece was valued at $125.

The Rev. H. J. Hart of 1106 Fifth told police Saturday of the theft of a piece of garden hose. The hose was taken from the Hart yard Friday.

The third model T Ford to be stolen in Wichita Falls in the last 10 days was taken from Leon Huffines, 1515 Tenth, Friday, police reported. Constables Mitchell and Gillam found the car Saturday near Sand Beach, stripped of all accessories.

L. C. Munday of 1127 Amber told police Saturday of the loss of a leather jacket taken from his car Friday.

PIONEER SETTLER OF HASKELL COUNTY DIES AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

RULE, Texas, April 23.—S. E. (Uncle Steve) Carothers, 88, died at the home of his son, W. R. Carothers in Rule at 10:45 Thursday night, after several days of illness. Mr. Carothers was one of the eldest pioneers of Haskell county, coming here 44 years ago. He was the fifth tax collector of Haskell county, serving in that capacity for several years. He served in the civil war, and was, before his death, the oldest civil war veteran in the county. He was prominent in business circles of the county for many years.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the First Christian church, conducted by Rev. W. B. Harris, pastor of the First Christian church of Stamford. Burial was in the Willow cemetery at Haskell. Pallbearers were Joe Cloud, G. B. Tanner, Will Hines, Jim Davis, C. D. Head and R. L. Vick, all of Rule.

He is survived by two sons and two daughters: W. R. Carothers of Rule, John Carothers of Waco; Mrs. J. W. Carter of Rule, Mrs. L. E. Marr of Haskell; 18 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

To Hold Waco Revival

GERMANS WILL NOT CONTINUE PAYMENT DEBTS AFTER JULY 1

BERLIN, April 23. (UP)—The Telegizfen Union News agency today quoted Minister of Finance Herman Dietrich as saying that Germany "will not" make further moratorium payments after July 1.

The use of "will not" instead of the usual "can not" used by members of the government was the first time an administration official had gone beyond Chancellor Heinrich Bruening's January statement of inability to pay.

Frank Statement of Policy

WASHINGTON, April 23. (UP)—The statement of Finance Minister Dietrich of Germany that the reich will no longer pay reparations was viewed here as a frank statement of policy which is bound to exercise a tremendous effect on the Lausanne conference.

The American government was exceedingly interested in the statement because if Germany stops reparations payments there is the possibility that America's creditors may claim inability to pay their war debts. However, the state department declined to comment on Dietrich's pronouncement.

Privately, the view is held in official circles that probably there will be no payments, for some time at least, on either debts or reparations. Publicly, however, the American government maintains the expectation of collecting the 1932-33 payments.

The state department vigorously denied reports that Secretary of State Stimson had reached some agreement on inter-governmental finances with German, British and French statesmen at Geneva.

CAPONE MAY KNOW FATE WITHIN NEXT TWO WEEKS

WASHINGTON, April 23. (INS)—Al Capone, chief of Chicago gangland, may learn his fate in the supreme court within two weeks, it appeared today.

The department of justice was rushing completion of an answer to Capone's petition for review of his conviction on a charge of attempting to evade income tax with the hope that the case can be formally submitted to the court on Monday.

This would make possible action by the court on decision day, May 1. If the petition is denied Capone will be immediately taken to Leavenworth prison to begin his 11-year term. If it is granted it is probable that the case will not be heard before fall.

Gordon Selfridge, the American owner of London's largest department store, has offered to defray the cost, $3,168, of restoring London's famous Bow Bells, the 200-year-old chimes of St. Mary-le-Bow.

TIMES' DAILY MARKETS

MILD RECOVERIES IN STOCK MARKET AND TONE FIRMER

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP)—Undismayed by sharp declines in the previous sessions, stocks accomplished a mild recovery today. Volume was reduced, but absence of important carry-over selling encouraged a firmer tone and final prices of most leaders represented small advances.

Wall street was much more interested in the short selling inquiry than in the market itself, giving scant attention to fluctuations which on the whole were of little consequence. A dribble of offerings during the first half hour scooped out new low levels for a few prominent issues, including U. S. Steel, American, Borden, General Foods, Socony-Vacuum and Standard Oil of New Jersey, but narrow declines were largely converted into equally narrow gains. Business totaled 471,370 shares, the smallest for a Saturday since Feb. 27.

Net Improvement Shown

Stocks able to show better than fractional net improvement included American Telephone, Proctor & Gamble, Coca-Cola, Auburn, Public Service of New Jersey, Santa Fe, Norfolk & Western, Corn Products and Auburn. Soft spots were notably few, but one of them was Alaska Juneau, which has figured in Washington testimony on "syndicate" activities. This issue broke more than a point in brisk trading.

Week-end news seemed to bring some grounds for encouragement. Steel mill operations in the Youngstown district are back to 30 per cent of capacity. Some other lines may also have gained as a result of firmness in prices. Reports from Washington said the senate planned to push the tax bill and that it was expected congress would adjourn before the political conventions.

Brokerage houses ventured numerous guesses as to what the market would do after next week's U. S. Steel meeting. It was recalled that rallies had appeared rather promptly after the last four periodic reports, although this was not taken to mean that the same procedure would necessarily be followed at this time. Numerous other dividend meetings of importance are to be held in the next few days, and because of the high current yields offered in most instances some revisions are obviously being expected.

RALLIES OVERCOME EARLY DECLINES IN PRICE FOR COTTON

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP)—Trading in cotton was more active today with increased near month liquidation absorbed by trade buying within a comparatively narrow range and the undertone generally steady.

A slight opening decline was just about recovered. After selling off to 6.11 at the start, July rallied to 6.15 and closed at 6.14. The final tone of the market was steady at net declines of 1 to 2 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 2 to 4 points with active month selling 4 to 5 points net lower right after the call under the near-month liquidation and some overnight selling orders from local or commission house sources.

Increased Trade Demand

The liquidation of May was more active, and there was some selling of near months through spot houses, but the decline to 5.93 for May evidently attracted an increased trade demand. Offerings were promptly absorbed by this buying, while covering in the later months was promoted by the steadier tone of the stock market.

Prices worked back to about yesterday's final, and the close was within a point or two of the best at 5.95 for May and 6.38 for October.

Some of the selling of May and July was believed to be for far eastern account with Bombay mentioned in that connection, while the decline evidently reached trade buying limits in considerable volume.

Liverpool made a relatively steady showing. Private cables said liquidation in that market had been absorbed by trade calling and reported an improved cloth demand for the British home trade and South America. The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 115,000 bales against 69,000 last year.

New Orleans Cotton

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP)—Cotton was active for a short Saturday session. The close was steady, at or near the top showing for the day 1 point net up to 2 points net down.

The market rallied during the second hour owing to shorts covering for over the week-end and some improvement in stocks. A Washington report said in effect that the farm board would liquidate its cotton holdings after July 31 by slow degrees. Prices reached new highs for the day in the late trading with May at 5.99 and July at 6.16, up 6 points from the lows. Both active months closed 2 points net down for the day.

Port receipts 9,318, for season 9,377,159, last season 8,668,208, exports 7,644, for season 7,213,673, last season 5,789,314. Port stock 4,184,072, last year 3,592,250. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 111,334, last year 52,714. Spot sales at southern markets 19,848, last year 5,242.

Boston Wool Market

BOSTON, April 23. (AP)—The wool market has been extremely dull during the past week; few buyers were interested enough to make bids on wool or wool tops. Occasional bids apparently for the purpose of testing the market were below quoted values and were mostly rejected. A limited quantity of choice 48-50s fleece wools was sold at prices fully up to the quality of quotations during the last two weeks. Odd lots of 64s and finer short combing western wools were available at very irregular prices, but the bulk of the holdings were not offered because of unsatisfactory general trade conditions.

Livestock

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, April 23. (AP)—(USDA)—Livestock trade during the week felt the depressing influence of a sluggish demand for dressed beef at eastern markets. Although supplies of killing cattle were comparatively light, killing classes are closing steady to 25c lower than a week ago with a bearish undertone on the close. Light yearlings generally showed more stability than did steers. Bulk of fed steers sold within a spread of $5.25@7.25 and finished heavy steers in Chicago topped at $8.35. Heifer and mixed yearlings cleared mostly from $4.50@6.00 with occasional shipments at $6.25@7.00. Stocker and feeder prices held at about the same level as prevailed last week with demand centering upon the better grade of thin stockers. The week's receipts at 11 markets totaling 146,800 were 13,500 short of last week and 31,000 under the corresponding period a year ago.

GRAIN SETBACK BY MOISTURE RELIEF IN DROUTH AREAS

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—Widespread moisture relief in drouth districts gave a sharp setback to grain values today, but stock market rallies later helped overcome part of the loss.

Downswings carried wheat temporarily to about 1c a bushel lower than last week's top prices, and tumbled corn and oats to new bottom quotations for the season and for many years back.

Wheat closed unsettled, ¼@½c under yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to ⅛@¼c lower, oats unchanged to ⅛c off, and provisions unchanged to 5c down.

Beneficial rains were shown Southwest, West and Northwest extending all the way from the Gulf of Mexico northward into Canada and reaching east to the Mississippi river. Advices were at hand confirming extensive abandonment of domestic acreage of wheat that was too far gone for recovery.

Proposals that $100,000,000 of reconstruction finance corporation funds be used to promote credit sales of United States wheat and cotton sales overseas failed apparently to exert much influence as a market factor.

Corn and oats followed the action of wheat.

MEXICAN CHARGED WITH WIFE MURDER NEW MEXICO CASE

EL PASO, Texas, April 23. (AP)—Melquiades Espinosa, husband and father of seven persons slain at their home near Berino, N. M., three weeks ago, was charged with the murder of his wife, Filomena, in a complaint filed before Peace Justice Tom Abalos at Las Cruces this afternoon.

District Attorney J. Benson Newell said he ordered the charges filed when it appeared certain that attorneys for Espinosa would seek his release from the Dona Ana county jail on a writ of habeas corpus.

Espinosa has been held in jail since the day following the murders in which his wife and six children were slain.

Although he does not have sufficient information to go to trial in the case, Newell said, he believes he has enough cumulative evidence to warrant filing of charges and holding Espinosa until the murders are cleared up.

Similar complaints will be filed charging the murder of the children if attorneys are successful in effecting Espinosa's release, the district attorney said.

Espinosa probably will be given a preliminary hearing Monday or Tuesday, Newell said.

U. S. POSITION IN HAWAII UNCERTAIN

The proposal has gone to Washington to have the U. S. navy run the islands. No action has been taken and the result is a regular sock in the eye for Washington.

Startling Proposal

If Washington won't let the U. S. navy run the islands, then the Hawaii politicians have a startling proposal of their own.

It is "Let Hawaii run the U. S. navy."

That sounds just about as goofy as any line written for a musical comedy laid in the South seas but that's what it actually amounts to when a member of the Hawaiian legislature gets up and proposes the reprimanding and recall of the American admiral commanding the United States naval base in Hawaii.

Boys and girls, this is getting hot. It sorter straightens you up with the question, "Whose navy is this anyhow, Hawaii's or Uncle Sam's?"

It's difficult to blame the native politicians of Hawaii. It's our own special brand of politics they are using. We taught them how to do it. They are keen students. Washington has interposed no opposition and the political control of the islands has been allowed to go Asiatic. Now that same Hawaiian political control reaches out for the U. S. navy.

Realization Spreads

Down in Washington the other day your headline hunter spent a few hours trying to smoke up a yarn on this subject with some of the boys on Capitol hill and I found that the realization is beginning to spread that we had better start running Hawaii before Hawaii starts running our navy.

More important than the Democratic self rule or self ruin of some 400,000 Asiatic, Polynesian and Caucasian citizens of the island, is the protection and security of one hundred and twenty-some million American citizens of the continental U. S. A.

Federal administration of the Territory of Hawaii has been conducted with what to me seems to be shameless disregard for the defense of the nation. Instead of considering and administering in the light of its full significance—namely as the keystone of our defense of the Pacific coast—Washington has been thinking in terms of ukuleles and moonlight beach parties, with the result that the all important matter of peace in the Pacific has been consigned to the merry hula hulas.

As soon as Uncle Sam becomes conscious of the pineapple he is sitting on in the Japanese islands of Hawaii, he will militarize them as a zone administered by a navy and army commission. If he does not, then the Hawaiian pineapple is liable to turn into one of the Capone brand.

Postpone Revival

MUNDAY, Texas, April 23.—The start of a joint revival to be sponsored here by the Methodist and Presbyterian churches has been postponed one week from May 15 to avoid conflict with ceremonies attending the closing of school on May 20, it was announced Saturday. Rev. Bryan Keithley, Presbyterian pastor at Graham, will be the revival preacher.

Mitchell Found Guilty

FORT WORTH, April 23. (AP)—Clyde B. Mitchell, found guilty by a federal district court jury of violating the mail fraud statute, was sentenced to four years in Leavenworth penitentiary and fined $1,000 today by Special Judge William B. Sheppard of Pensacola, Fla.

IOWA PARK LIONS CLUB FAVORITE

MISS CHIDA KILDOW

IOWA PARK, Texas, April 23.—At the senior class banquet at which the Iowa Park Lions club annually honors members of the graduating class of the high school, Miss Chida Kildwo was voted the most popular girl.

Miss Kildow is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Kildow, a pioneer Iowa Park family and a popular entertainer. She has appeared on a number of Lions club and community programs.

At the Panhandle Musical festival in Amarillo, in which she competed recently, she received a grade of 95, the highest of any individual soloist, as a saxophone player. She is ineligible to compete in the national contest because she was entered in the 17-year group.

Love Will Vote in July Primary And Comply With 'Utmost Limits Of Conscience and Good Faith'

DALLAS, April 23. (AP)—Former State Senator Thomas B. Love militant leader of the "ultra dry" faction in Texas, announced today he would participate in the Democratic precinct presidential primary May 7, and sign the loyalty pledge prescribed by the state executive committee. He said he would comply with the pledge in the November election to the "utmost limits of conscience and good faith."

"I shall, in no event, go beyond those limits," he declared. "As under the holding of the state supreme court, I am sure the pledge does not bind me to do so.

"It would scandalize the Democratic party to say that it requires that its presidential precinct primary conventions and county conventions shall be composed exclusively of men and women who have bound themselves in writing to put party above principle in casting their ballots in the November election."

Reiterates Belief

Love reiterated his belief that the pledge ought not have been required of Texas Democratic voters. The supreme court has ruled that the executive committee had the power to impose the pledge. Love sued to have use of the pledge restraind by law.

"Let us hope that such a pledge will never be imposed again, as it never was imposed in presidential primaries prior to the first effort to liquorize the Democratic party in 1928," he said. "It was designed to rebuke and humiliate some hundreds of thousands of Texas Democrats, the courage of whose convictions as to their duty led them to vote against Al Smith and his liquor program in 1928, and to drive them out of the Democratic convention and make it easy for the wet minority to control them."

Dry Votes Needed

"Speaking for myself alone, I am convinced that it is my duty not to be driven out. There never was a time when the votes of dry Democrats were so badly needed in Democratic primaries, both the presidential primaries and the July nominating primaries, as in this year 1932.

"Here in Texas we are threatened with modifiers, compromisers and various other booze-siders whose avowed purpose is to nominate wet congressmen-at-large and wet district congressmen and senators and representatives in the state legislature in every possible district."

Love asserted he was backing Speaker John N. Garner for the presidency.

"Of the seven or eight candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination who are mentioned, he is one of the only two of them in the running who are not avowedly in favor of repealing the 18th amendment. While Garner voted against the amendment, he has uniformly and dependably supported all appropriations and other measures for strict enforcement, by his votes in congress."

U. S. WINS FIGHT TO EXTRADITE FONTAINE

WINDSOR, Ont., April 23. (INS)—United States authorities today won their fight to extradite Harold Fontaine from Canada to answer charges of plotting the Leavenworth federal prison outbreak last December. Country Judge J. J. Coughlin ruled that Fontaine's admission that he had conversations with Harry Mack, cellmate in the county jail, warranted extradition.

Mack once suspected in the Lindbergh kidnaping told Boston authorities Fontaine had admitted sending ammunition to the Leavenworth prisoners. Fontaine was released from the federal jail a year before the prison revolt.

TRUCK LINES WARNED MUST STOP REBATING

DALLAS, April 23. (AP)—Mark Marshall, director of the motor transportation division of the state railroad commission, warned last night that heavy penalties for rebating might be invoked against several truck lines unless the present price cutting on freight charges was stopped.

BOARD DISMISSES HEAD OF COLLEGE WEATHERFORD OKLA.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 23. (AP)—President E. E. Brown of the Southwestern Oklahoma Teachers college, Weatherford, was ousted by the state board of education in a secret session last night, it became known today. He was replaced by C. W. Richards, head of the state vocational rehabilitation department.

A. H. Abbott, organizer of the rehabilitation officials, was one of two workers in the state department of education who also were removed.

No reason for the removals was made public but Richards has been reported accused recently by administration friends of fighting Gov. W. H. Murray's initiative "firebells" bills prior to their defeat at an election last year.

FAMED INDIAN POETESS AND PHILOSOPHER MUST SPEND YEAR IN PRISON

BOMBAY, April 23. (INS)—Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, famed Indian poetess and philosopher, today was sentenced to one year's simple imprisonment for violating a government order restraining her from attending the nationalist congress at Delhi.

Mrs. Naidu did not attend the session, scheduled to open at Delhi tomorrow, but was seized on the charge a few moments after boarding a train here to go to Delhi.

PRINCE NICHOLAS PLANS FOR BUSINESS CAREER

The move also was interpreted as a final gesture to Carol that his marriage to the pretty brunette, which Carol refused to recognize, meant more to him than his royal prerogatives.

Walter Bevers, night watchman, chanced to be near when the window was smashed, but the boy outsprinted him. The arrest followed the next day, however.

T. C. GARDNER

The First Baptist church has secured two additional special workers to assist T. C. Gardner, state secretary in the Baptist training school revival which will begin Sunday, April 24, and extend through Sunday, May 1.

Miss Margaret Tyrrell of Mobile, Ala., specialist in intermediate work, who is now a student in the Baptist Theological seminary at Fort Worth, offers two courses, one to intermediate sponsors and leaders, at 6:15 each evening, in which problems characteristic of that department will be discussed and new methods suggested. In addition, each evening she will give a lesson to intermediate pupils on "Training in Bible Study," and it is earnestly desired that all members of that age and department avail themselves of this opportunity and enroll in Miss Tyrrell's class the first evening.

Another special worker, Mrs. J. D. Calloway, general supervisor of primary work in Broadway Baptist church, Fort Worth, is coming to have charge of the conferences on primary plans and methods. Before her marriage Mrs. Calloway was one of the local field workers, giving her time exclusively to primary work and she is an outstanding authority in her chosen field. In addition to the course which Mrs. Calloway will teach, a story hour will be held for primary children, ages 4 to 8.

Start Work Soon On Westmoreland Pool Bath House

Rebuilding of the bath house at the Westmoreland Park swimming pool, located near Call field west of the city, will begin within the next few days, and the pool will be opened to the public on or about May 30, John W. Thomas, president of the Westmoreland Park company, said Saturday.

Plans for the structure were completed Saturday afternoon.

The new bath house will be the same size as the one which burned down last fall. It will be thoroughly modern with all new equipment. The two-story structure, one of which is below water level, will be 127 feet long and will house approximately 225 lockers. The building will be brick and stucco, it is said, and will house large office rooms and showers. The only material difference between the new and old bath houses will be the fact that there will be no dance floor.

The concrete pool is approximately 180 feet square with a depth of from two to seven feet, while the entire reservoir is 550 feet square. The part of the reservoir outside of the concrete pool is 14 feet deep, Mr. Thomas said.

As was the custom in 1931, free swimming lessons will be given weekly. Last year more than 400 were taught to swim.

Tours, France, will hold an exhibition and fair in May.

And how did he pass this money on to his family in a way to make them comfortable for life, protect them against misfortune?
He used the most dependable modern method—trust funds incorporated under his will.
Eventually his estate will go to certain colleges, schools, charities. Through all the years the management of these funds will be in the hands of a Trust Institution like our own.
Thousands of men and women have adopted this dependable, modern method of trust service for the settlement of their estates, and the financial protection of their families. We shall be glad to tell you more about its many advantages.
