Mrs. Bourland, Retired Teacher, Dies Sunday

Mrs. Fred Bourland, who achieved a distinguished record as a homemaking teacher and for her work with girls, died in Hall County Memorial Hospital, Memphis at 6:40 p.m. Sunday, September 12. She had been in failing health several years.

Since she retired as homemaking instructor at Clarendon, she and her husband had returned to their home at the family ranch northwest of Quail.

In recognition of her work, Mrs. Bourland was named an Honorary member of the Area I Future Homemakers of America, and a short time later, she received honorary membership in the state organization.

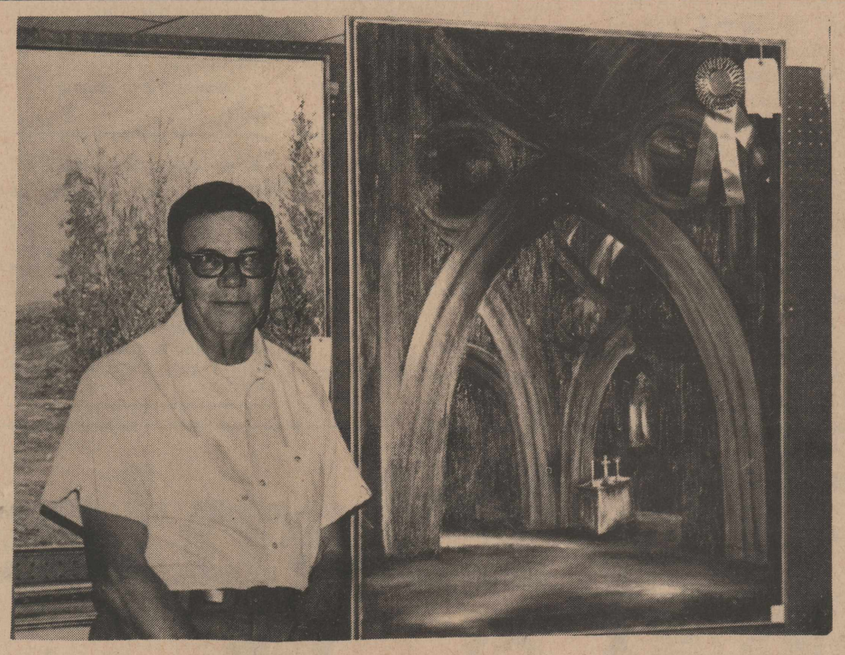

Through the years she had held posts of honor among homemaking teachers.

Born and reared in Hall County, she was the former Velma Ione Sweatt, daughter of C.E. Sweatt of Memphis and the late Mrs. Sweatt. She was born February 20, 1919.

A graduate of Lakeveiw High School in 1936, she then received her degree in 1940 from Texas State College for Women at Denton, now Texas Woman's University. She came to Quail homemaking instructor later that year, and it was during her tenure there that she and Mr. Bourland were married.

Besides her two years on the Quail faculty, she taught at Lelia Lake two years and headed the homemaking department at Clarendon 15 years. Besides her work in the high schools, she continued to encourage the highest standards of homemaking through the Young Homemaker of America, of which she was a sponsor. But one of the highest of all tributes came from within her

Sisters to Withdraw From Hospital Here

The Dominican Sisters, who have operated St. Joseph's Hospital since April, 1938, will withdraw from its operation not later than March 1972.

Notification of this was received in a letter from Mother Jeremiah, Mother General of the Dominican Order at Springfield, Illinois, to Sister Mary Perpetua, hospital administrator.

The St. Joseph's Hospital Board of Directors (of the Hospital Corporation)including the Mother General, her council and the administrator of St. Joseph's took this action by unanimous agreement.

"You will recall that when we reversed the decision for closing the hospital in 1967 and 1968, this was temporary. A newspaper article at that time described the situation accurately by stating, "If the decision is reversed, it is temporary and the final decision rests on the future of Collingsworth County," wrote Mother Jeremiah.

"The City or County should be given the first option to buy the Hospital. I will be happy to meet with any of the Wellington community officials to discuss a price."

Mother Jeremiah plans to come to Wellington in the near future.

Sister Perpetua said that the hospital will continue the installation of the sprinkler system and removal of the oxygen manifold to an outside building as recommended by the Joint Commission on the Accreditation of Hospitals.

Expressing the regret of the sisters at their need to leave Wellington, she pointed out that the Dominican Order has closed a nursing home and school in Denver, as well as several schools in other states.

"This is not an isolated incident. It is part of a pattern," she said.

Gospel Singers Name Wilkins New President

The Collingsworth County Gospel Singers organized Saturday night, September 11, and elected Tom Wilkins president for the coming year.

R.H. Isbell was named vice president and Mrs. Isbell secretary.

Singings will be held on the first Saturday of each month, at 7:30 p.m. in Trinity Methodist Church. The next singing will be October 2.

The Collingsworth County Gospel Singers are affiliated with the 14-County Singing Convention, frequently referred to as the 5th Sunday Singing because of the meeting dates.

Wellington will be host to the next meeting of the 14-County group, and this will be Sunday, October 31, Mrs. Isbell said.

Approximately 65 singers attended the organizational meeting here and the singing which followed. Towns represented in addition to Wellington were Plainview, Turkey, Memphis, Wheeler and Childress.

New Courses In Vocational Work Offered

Courses in vocational training will be offered Wellington area residents if there is sufficient interest, Mrs. Jimmie Sessions, director of the Community Action Program, has announced.

A meeting has been called for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, September 16, at the community action center, when a district representative will be here to discuss the work.

The courses proposed are auto mechanics, small appliance repair and basic electronics, welding and typing for industry, which would include business English, spelling, basic bookkeeping and general office routine.

Those who have not finished high school will be given an opportunity to complete their work for a General Equivalency Diploma, said Mrs. Sessions.

"At this time we are planning to start each of these with a 15-week, three hours per week schedule, extending the course as the need arises."

"Qualifications are that you must be out of school with or without a diploma, 18 years of age or over," continued Mrs. Sessions.

Those interested may come by the Community Action Center or call 447-2840.

Ladies Flight Added

Wellington State Golf Tourney Set

Qualifying rounds of the annual Wellington State Bank Golf Tournament will begin during the next week, and for the first time, there will be a flight for ladies, C.T. Hubbard, bank president, has announced

The women will begin playing Monday, September 20, with the finals to be completed by noon Saturday, September 25. They will play 27 holes during their portion of the tournament.

There will be four flights for the men, Mr. Hubbard said, and qualifying rounds will start by noon Thursday, September 23. These players must complete 18 holes of qualifying play by noon Saturday, September 25, then play another 18 holes Saturday afternoon and the third round Sunday for a total of 54 holes, said Mr. Hubbard in outlining tournament rules.

Handsome prizes will be awarded to the first four place winners in each of the five flights, and they will be awarded prizes upon entering the tournament, as they have been in the past.

Next Weevil Spraying Set September 14

The second diapause boll weevil spraying of area fields is scheduled for Tuesday, September 21, according to Bobby McCulley, a representative of the Texas Department of Agriculture, who will be here for the duration of the program.

The first spraying was on Tuesday, September 14.

The cut-off date for the next spraying will be 5:00 p.m Monday, September 20, and all cotton growers in Collingsworth County and Childress County north of Red River who want to enter the program should come to the administration building of Marian Airpark, where Mrs. Art Kane is secretary of the program.

Jimmy White Flying Service of Paducah has the spraying contract and malathion is being used at the rate of 16 ounces per acre. This is not a hard insecticide, but one that is considered extremely safe, Mr. McCulley said.

A build-up in weevil population in the county has been noted. It is generally considered that when 10 to 15 per cent of the bolls are found to have weevil punctures, spraying operations should begin.

Wheeler Mustangs Come Here Friday

The Wellington Skyrockets open their home season Friday night, September 17 when they face a strong Wheeler Mustang team hunting its second victory.

Wheeler was able to defeat the Lefors Pirates 30-0 in the opener Friday night.

"One thing that makes them strong is that they received a couple of transfers from last year's District 1-A Champion Clarendon Bronchos, Ronnie and Pat Hill, both of whom are in the Wheeler lineup," said Rocket Coach Jim Forrester. A third transfer to the Mustang team is Sandy Richardson from Allison.

Wheeler also has a pair of outstanding 170-pound senior running backs.

There will be other changes from the Wheeler lineup the Rockets faced a year ago. Graduation took four Mustang regulars one moved and another is not playing.

Filling these shoes has been uppermost in the minds of Coach Jim Batemen and his staff began the season. That they have succeeded well is reflected in the Lefors score.

The Mustangs have an all-letterman backfield paced by Rodney Weatherly and Jimmy Cole at fullback and tailback respectively. Gary Fischer is in his second year as the Mustang quarterback and junior Dale Stevens rounds out the backfield from his wingback slot.

Offensively, the Mustangs may be expected to start forward wall of Jerry Beaty and J.C. Brooks at ends, Ronnie and Pat Hill at tackles, Noel Glazner and Jim Bob Brooks at guards, and Rick Hefley in the center position.

On defense, the mustangs will make a few position changes with Ronnie Hill and Lewis Britt at defensive ends, Pat Hill will back the line and

Joint Law Enforcement Agency Is Approved

AUSTIN - - Three criminal justice action grants totaling $103,891 for the area served by the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission won approval today of Governor Preston Smith.

The money will come from the Criminal Justice Council, which oversees statewide law enforcement planning and administers funds from the U.S. Department of Justice for crime control projects in Texas.

Largest of the three awards goes to Collingsworth County, $45,302 for consolidation of the county's law enforcement agencies. Under the project law enforcement costs will be shared by the city of Wellington, which will contribure 40 percent, and Collingsworth County, 60 percent.

The grant will enable complete consolidation of the law enforcement effort countywide, similar to that effected with CJC funding in Hardeman County earlier this year.

The Hardeman County project, only other one of its kind in the state, has been acclaimed widely and is yielding results, according to recent reports.

Goals of such projects include upgrading of personnel and equipment and providing additional services.

Local matching contributions of $10,970 in kind and $26,703 in cash will be applied to the Collingsworth County project.

Panhandle Regional Planning Commission was awarded $45,089 in second-year funding of the law enforcement academy serving the 25-county Panhandle Region. Two basic certification classes and 39 other classes and seminars will be held at Amarillo City College for 900 Panhandle officers. Local match will be $22,500 in kind.

A second grant to Panhandle RPC, $13,500, will be used to further research and development of a model building code designed to prevent burglary in private residentes and business buildings.

The code will be developed specifically for the Panhandle region, but guidelines will be developed to use as a model for other areas.

Emphasis will be on developing practical, low-cost criteria to increase volunteer compliance.

Matching contribution of $4,500 in kind will be provided.

Counties of the Panhandle Region are Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe and Hall.

The award was among 39 action grant applications and one for a planning grant considered by the Criminal Justice Council at its monthly meeting. Applications were for a total of $2,705,274.

Rockets Strong Play Stopped By Penalties in Hollis Loss

Showing a smooth running attack and an effective passing game, the Wellington Skyrockets came out on the short end of a 34 to 20 score in their opening game with the Hollis Tigers September 10. With a few breaks or a few less penalties the game could have been a 28 to 28 tie or a Wellington victory for the Rockets outfought the heavier Tigers through three fourths of the game.

Hollis jumped to an early lead on the third play after Wellington had kicked off to their 35 yard line. After two line bucks, speedy Jerry Cummings swept around end and raced 65 yards for the first touchdown with the kick for point being blocked by Wellington.

Wellington took the offensive on their own 35 yard line and on the first play Randy Vaughan made 6 yards through the center of the hefty Hollis line. Vaughn was the work horse as the Rockets advanced steadily with Jay Thomas and Bruce Oney giving some variety to the running attacks. The Rockets made two first downs as they neared the goal and Vaughn plunged through the center for 5 yards and the first touchdown. The pass try was too high and fell incomplete, leaving the score 6 to 6 midway in the first quarter.

When Hollis started on the offensive for the second time in the evening, the Rocket defense proved too strong. After 6 plays and aided by one 15 yard penalty against the Rockets, the Tigers were forced to turn the ball over and Wellington took the ball for the second time of the evening on their 34 yard line. On two plays Vaughan picked up a first down and Jay Thom as followed neat blocking to go around end for 11 yards and another quick first down as the quarter ended.

After Vaughan and company had picked up another first down the hard way, the Tigers began to concentrate on Vaughan and also stopped the end runs of Thomas. Wellington took to the air and Denny Carter started an option play and tossed to Vaughan for the second touch down. This time the try for 2 points was good with Carter running it over and Wellington led 14 to 6.

Hollis was being held again when another 15 yard penalty gave them a first down on the Wellington 30. A series of strong running plays and a long pass gave the Tigers their second touchdown and they also made a 2 point conversion leaving the score 14 to 14 at halftime.

Wellingtons first attempt at a drive in the second half was foiled by alert playing in the Tiger secondary when they intercepted a Carter pass intended for Vaughan and ran it back to the Wellington 17 yard line. On two plays Cummings made a first down and a pass to Thad Crosnoe made the third Tiger touchdown followed by a 2 point conversion, making the score 22 to 14.

Wellington came back strong and drove downfield mainly on running plays with Jay Thomas going around end for a touchdown that was called back by a offside penalty. Again Hollis intercepted and a long run put them in position to make their fourth touchdown making the score 28 to 14.

In the fourth quarter one of Wellington's best sustained drives was brought to a halt, not by the Tigers, but by another 15 yard penalty at the hands of the officials.

A determined Tiger attack was stopped when Bill Henard recovered a Tiger fumble. After picking up one first down the Wellington attack bogged down. Hollis again and this time Louis Gonzales recovered a timely fumble that set up the Rockets third touchdown. With the ball on the 28 Carter threw a long pass to Ray Schrubs who caught it across the goal line to make the score Hollis 28 and Wellington 20, the try for point having failed.

The Rockets held the Tigers on the next series of downs and had the ball in closing minutes of the game. In the closing seconds there was as odd a play as ever seen. The Rockets ran out the clock only to be given one more play because of an offside penalty called against Hollis. A long long pass from Carter intended for Shrubs was intercepted by Cummings who ran it through a broken field for a touchdown with the clock standing at zero.

MRS. DANNY RAY HARRISON

Harrison-Potier Wedding Vows Solemnized in Cascais, Portugal

Marriage vows were solemnized recently in the Chapel of St. Sebastian, Cascais, Portugal, for Miss Gloria Potier and Yoeman Second Class Danny Ray Harrison, United States Navy, who is attached to the North American Treaty Organization in Portugal. The Reverend Father Cleary was the officiant.

The bride is the younger daughter of Mrs. Alma Dato-Montero Potier of Cascais, and the late Dr. Augusto Rato Potier, who was Portugese Ambassador to Sweden, Pakistan, and Chili.

Parents of the bridegroom, who lived in Wellington as a child, are Mr. and Mrs. Jack M. Winslett of Shamrock. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Richards, and a member of one of the earliest families to settle this area.

Decorations in the chapel were arrangements of white gladioli and carnations with a touch of blue flowers, accenting the sixteenth century blue Portuguese tile around the altar. Each bench was edged with a small bouquet of white carnations, arranged with fern and white satin ribbon.

Dr. Antonio Rato Portier, Councilor at the Portuguese Embassy in London, escorted his niece to the altar.

She wore a formal gown of white satin brocade, of empire style. Two long ribbons of Brussels lace embroidered with pearls were set around the waist and draped down the fromt, with the slim skirt sweeping into a train.

Her heirloom veil, also of brussles lace, fell from a circlet of small flowers to floor length and was the veil her mother wore at her own wedding. The bride's bouquet was of white carnations and tiny blue flowers, showered with streamers of white satin ribbon.

James D. Yokey, United States Marine Corps, served the bridegroom as best man.

After the ceremony, Mrs. Potier entertained with a reception at her home to honor the couple.

The guests were served wedding cake in the drawing room, from a round table laid with an exquisite lace cloth, and encircled with white carnations and fern. Other tables, from which food,sweets and beverages were served, were placed in the den and in the library.

Later the couple left on their honeymoon to the Algarve and points of interest along the coast of Spain. They are now at home at Rua Do Viveiro 6-3 E, Monte Estoril, Cascias, Portugal.

Among the one hundred guests who attended the wedding were United States Ambassador Ridgeway Knight and Mrs. Knight, Admiral B. Fluckey, and a number of heads of diplomatic missions and their wives.

Mrs. J.L. Moody of Lubbock was here last week visiting her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Tom Caterlin.

EVOLUTION!

By Gaylord Cook

School has started again and in classrooms across the land young minds will be filled, under the guise of "intellectual freedom", with much pure garbage known as evolution. Isn't it strange that "intellectual freedom" assures the right to teach atheistic evolution, but forbids the teaching of the basis of faith in God? I do not claim to be well versed in the subject of evolution, but in taking in excess of 70 semester hours of science at the undergraduate and graduate levels in college, I have been exposed sufficiently to its teachings to know where it leads. The truth of the matter is that many, many top scientists today do not believe in evolution and are well aware of its inconsistencies, but all the while our youngsters in school are taught that evolution is a fact and that "all well informed people accept evolution". This is not only absurd but is a downright lie! I will be happy to talk with any young person who is troubled with a conflict between evolution and his Christian faith.

John Sherman, Wellington business man and farmer, exhibited the picture chosen as grand champion.

Using oils as his medium and painting in baroque style, the artist presented unadorned arches which carried the eye beyond an altar and deep into the recesses of the cathedral.

Louis Graham, special education teacher in Wellington High School, showed the reserve champion, a water color in warm shades of golden brown. This was the landscape of a barn which has long stood near Wellington.

In the Junior Division, Jayne Morgan of Samnorwood, received the grand champion for her western landscape and Joey Manuel exhibited the reserve champion a landscape of another era.

Again the fair visitors had an opportunity to do their own judging, and in the senior division, the People's Choice was a portrait of the late H.M. McCaskill painted by his daughter, Mrs. Grady Van Pelt.

In the sculpture class, the choice was a contemporary design of wood and yarn by Mrs. Billy Lindsey.

The People's Choice in the junior division was a pen and water color work by Ray Aguilar.

Individual winners included:

Senior oils: first, Mrs. Van Pelt; second, Mrs. Otis Emmert of Quail; and third, Mrs. John Sherman.

Water Color: first, Mrs. Reggie Lewis of Dodson; second, Celia Anderson Meadors; and third, Bonnie Willis.

Junior division, drawings: first and second, Kenneth Porter; third, Ray Aguilar.

The show judge was Mrs. Hueward Suther of Arnett, Oklahoma, in the northern part of the state.

Saying she was really put under pressure by the many excellent paintings to be judged, Mrs. Suther considered composition, space, color and weight of each painting in making her selections.

Lightning Sets Damaging Fire Near Vinson

Fire, set by lightning, heavily damaged the M.C. Lewis farm home three miles west and one and one-half north of Vinson early Thursday, September 9.

The Wellington Fire Department received the call at 1:30 p.m. and the rural unit reached the blaze just as water from three Hollis units was being exhausted.

The blaze was brought under control with both outside and interior walls still standing, although the roof was a loss, according to J.D. Baker, Wellington fireman.

A three bedroom brick house, it was one of the better farm homes of that area.

Wellington firemen, who reached home about 4:00 a.m. said that no rain fell at the Lewis farm, although Hollis firemen came through a heavy downpour to reach it.

Going from here were Mr. Baker, David Peters, Kenneth Patterson, Bill Isbell, Author Jones, Carroll Reynolds and Howard Breece.

Revenue-Sharing Plan Could Hurt Texas Highway System

Federal revenue sharing as it relates to the state highway systems is of growing concern to the Texas Highway Commission, one of its members, Charles E . Simons, pointed out in Wellington.

The greatest danger lies in the "pass-through" provision, the Commission believes, which requires that 25 per cent of a state's part of the "shared" revenues be channeled to the governor and allocated by him to the cities and other local governments.

This would open the highway monies to political maneuvering, with the so-called "pass-through" funds apparently going to urban places. Already the Department of Transportation is expressing interest in the reactions of the large cities to the proposal.

One of the reasons for the success of Texas' highway system has been its ability to plan years ahead and its freedom from political meddling.

Texas has never known political corruption as it is sometimes practiced in eastern states. Mr. Simons got his listeners' endorsement when he said he does not have much regard for the way some of these governors spend money.

And they agreed again when he said that although we have our problems, the Texas Highway Department stands head and shoulders above that of any other.

Food Outlook Good

Doomsday has been postponed, or at least one of the many doomsdays threatening mankind has.

This is the worldwide famine which a few years ago, scome experts warned was inescapable and would break out in Asia by 1975

The United Nations Food and Agriculture Organ ion (FAO) has just reported that total food production in the Far East, including that of mainland China, is rising "at a rate comfortably ahead of the population growth."

The Far East is, in fact, the only developing area in the world which is increasing food output per person.

There was little or no increase in the developing countries of Africa and the Middle East, the FAO found. Agricultural production in Latin America has been just sufficient to keep pace with population increase.

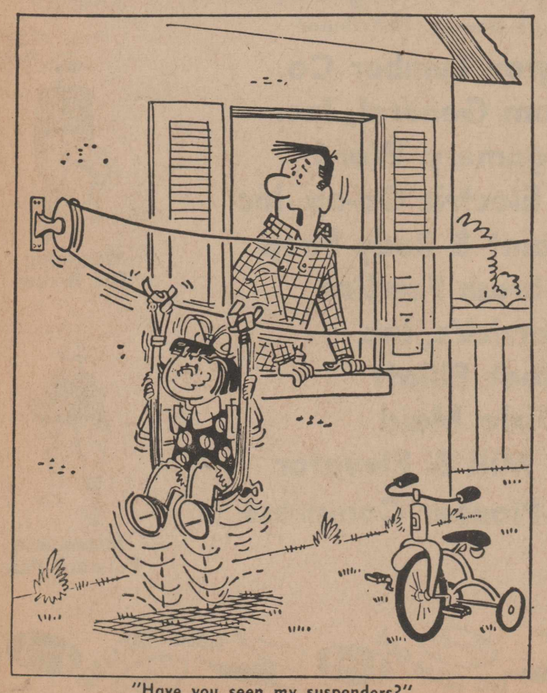

"There is not yet a green revolution," says FAO director general Addeke H. Boerma of the Netherlands.

Yet if Asia, where mankind has faced recurrent famines throughout recorded history, is at long last banishing this specter, the entire world can rejoice.—Wichita Falls Record-News.

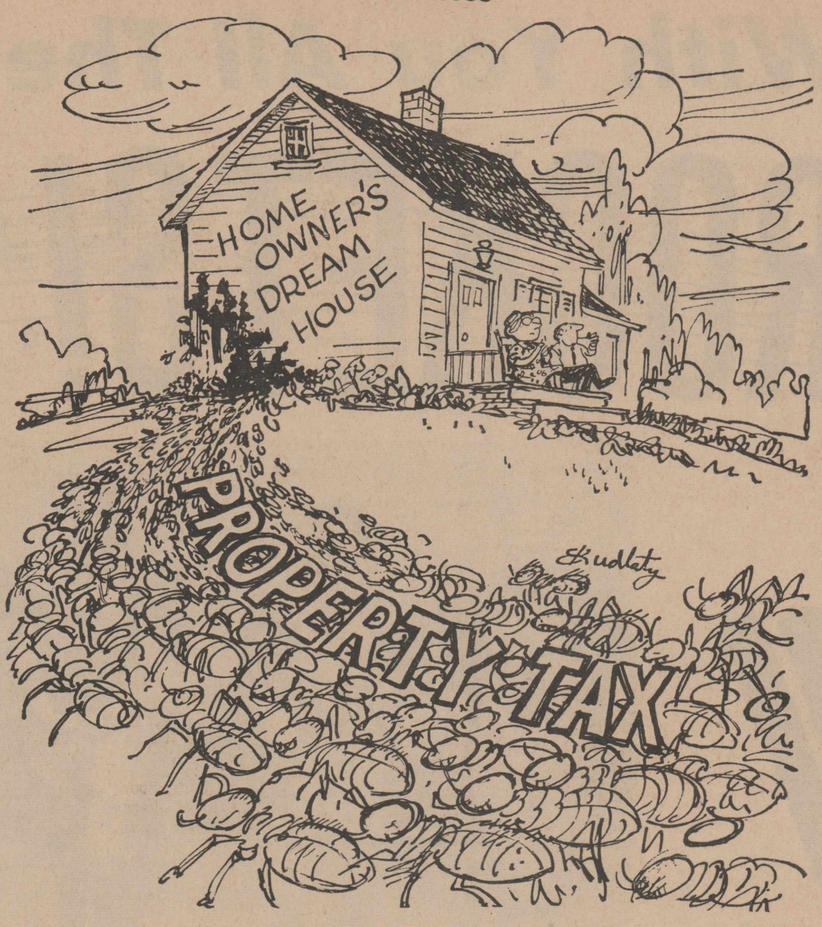

Watch That Gun

To these easy riders who carry sawed off shotguns in the back of their pick-up trucks: Have you ever stopped to consider what might happen if a child got hold of the gun when the truck was parked? Or if someone with criminal tendencies decided to use the gun in a malicious way? Think twice about it. U.S. citizens may have the right to bear arms in self defense, but do they have the right to leave dangerous weapons in the sight of children or those with ill intent?

"Have you seen my suspenders?"

STATE Capital NEWS By Bill Boykin

AUSTIN, Tex. - - Gov. Preston Smith sprang one surprise after another in announcing appointments to key state positions.

One of the biggest was selection of his longtime legal aide and top politician campaign worker Robert D. (Bob) Bullock, formerly of Hillsboro, as Secretary of State, succeeding Martin Dies Jr.

A few days earlier, he selected another staff assistant, V.Larry Teaver of Lubbock, to the State Board of Insurance. Surprise here was that Treaver did not replace Durwood Manford, veteran member of the board.

Manford got a new six-year term and Charles D. Mathews, a Dallas trucking executive and attorney until two years ago, was moved from the board to an Austin district judgeship.

Teaver replaced Mathews when the freshman board member became judge of the new 200th Travis County district court.

Smith stirred some controversy by naming a successor to Brig. Gen. James M. Rose as assistant adjutant general of Texas for air. On recommendation of Maj. Gen. Ross Ayers, the state adjutant general, he picked Lt. Col. Belisario D.J. Flores of San Antonio for the Air National Guard command.

Smith's other appointments included:

* T.E. (Gene) Mitchell of Plainview as chairman of the Governor's committee on Human Relations. Dies previously doubled in that job before his appointment to the Ninth Court of Civil Appeals at Beaumont.

* Robert W. Kneebone of Houston for a new six-year term as a member of the Texas Youth Council.

REDISTRICTING MOVES ON A two-way legislative redistricting fight moved toward Supreme Court decision last week.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin filed briefs in appeal from the August 2 Austin district court ruling that House of Representatives reapportionment this year is unconstitutional because it improperly violates county lines. Martin said the "one-man-one-vote" rule of federal courts eliminates state constitutional provision safeguarding county lines.

At the same time, 53rd District Judge Herman Jones refused to prevent the Texas Legislative Redistricting Board from reapportioning the State Senate and said the Board may also do preliminary House realignment. Time for attack on board's work, concluded Jones, is when it finishes.

Rep. Fred Head of Henderson brought suit in Jones' court to prevent the Board from redistricting House and Senate. He contended new census data is not complete and that reapportionment should be left until 1973. Head indicated efforts will be made to get his suit before the Supreme Court at the same time as the attack on House reapportionment of the regular session.

TEACHER PAY HIKE OK - - Up to 90 per cent of 138,000 Texas teachers will get their pay raise as approved by the Legislature in spite of the 90-day wage freeze, under a Texas Education Agency ruling.

Ruling by State Education Commissioner J.W. Edgar is subject to approval by federal authorities. It would go to 1,200 local school districts on September 8 unless reversed by Washington, but is subject to further interpretation at local school board level.

Edgar said teachers signed contracts prior to August 15, many were at work July 1, and others had reached an agreement and established eligibility to perform with a local school before the president's freeze order. Commissioner Edgar concluded that raises were in order also in local school districts which pay salaries above the state minimum where agreements were reached before August 15.

Texas Public Employees Association filed a petition for exceptions from the freeze since the Legislature last June passed an appropriations bill calling for state workers pay raises.

AG OPINIONS- - Appropriations bill limitations on extended state pay to aliens do not prohibit the Texas Industrial Commission from hiring a Mexician National to work in Mexico fulltime in a Texas Industrial Commission branch office there, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

* A justice of the peace who is not an attorney must have served a minimum of two terms of four years each to be exempt from attending a 40-hour course of instruction for non-lawyers.

* Texas Rehabilitation Commission is authorized to deposit funds received from local agencies under a federal establishment grant in a local depository.

Martin said a governor's veto of funds for payment of court costs will handicap his office in prosecution and defense of state cases.

WATER PLAN ALIVE - - Master $10 billion water plan to move surplus Mississippi River waters to Texas High Plains farms is still alive, according to Harry Burleigh, executive director of the Texas Water Development Board.

Burleigh urged campaign to win congressional support of plan of 1973, when federal agency water conservation report is due.

Although Texans rejected $3.5 billion bond issue to finance state's share of giant project, it is believed much of the money can now be obtained from the federal government, Burleigh endicated. Two groups West Texas Chamber of Commerce and Water Inc., are spearheading the new drive for financing.

SHORT SNORTS

New Texas Film Commission launched drive last week to get more movie production companies to work in state.

Top government and business leaders will brief Texas Industrialists on economic and manufacturing developments at governor's conference here October 13-14.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

California Supreme Court says it is illegal for some school districts to be poorer than others so that all kids don't get the same priced education.

Which is consistent with the current Equality kick, and brings up the question of maybe it is unconstitutional for a judge to draw $30,000 to $50,000 a year while many other people don't make over $5,000 or $6,000.

And if a rich judge is unconstitutional, it would seem to follow that all rulings and edicts he puts out are really illegal.

I see where the people-mixers are now planning to outlaw all-white suburban communities which are causing so much need to shift kids around to keep the schools integrated.

Apparently it will not be necessary to pass any new laws on this subject; the Supreme Court can just find whatever law it thinks proper by a little more examination of the constitution.

Men who wrote the Constitution, like those who wrote the Bible under Divine inspiration, would be vastly surprised if they could come back and see what we have found that they really meant when they wrote down something else.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

THOSE PEOPLE who are complaining about the heat when the temperature was in the low nineties should turn their attention to what has been happening farther west. The first of the week, Bob Goforth's brother, who lives near Los Angeles, phoned to say the temperature was 111 degrees and his air conditioner was out. He described the suffering of the people terrific. What we have experienced is merely nice cotton growing weather--about 20 degrees cooler than Southern California.

IF THE cold front that blew in Wednesday morning, September 15, is to be considered the first norther of the fall, then our first killing frost should not come until November 15 which will be a good thing for the cotton that was planted late.

STOCKMEN are warned to be on the alert for screwworms since 19 new cases were reported last week. Some of these were no farther away than Lampasas and San Saba which are in the Edwards Plateau country northeast of Austin. Outbreaks of these pests generally come in the late summer or fall. Operations such as dehorning should be delayed until cooler weather sets in, according to experienced cattlemen. We know of a couple that putting off work will suit just fine.

WELLINGTON FANS who went to Hollis last Friday saw a good team defeated by penalities. It was not that the four penalties for 15 yards each were not correctly called. It was the inability of the officials to see any on the part of the Tigers that caused so much comment. They got four for five yards each. The penalties did not cause as much comment as did the decision to turn the ball over to Hollis after Wellington recovered a fumble on the 19 yard line. If the ball had been whistled dead, that was undoubtedly the fastest whistle in the west.

THE BAND also looked impressive as they marched down the field. Under the direction of Stephen Schmidly the band has come along in a splendid fashion. They march well and they play well and naturally they will get better as the season advances.

own family when her three daughters chose to follow her in the profession of homemaking teachers.

Mrs. Bourland was a member of the Church of Christ, and with her husband she actively worked with the churches where she lived and also with Westview Boys Home at Hollis.

Services for Mrs. Bourland were conducted at the Clarendon Church of Christ at 4:00 p.m. Tuesday, with Minister Tom Watters officiating. Burial was in Citizens Cemetery, Clarendon under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Survivors are her husband, Fred Bourland of Quail; three daughters, Mrs. Van Schooler of Quail, Miss Lynn Bourland of Clarendon and Miss Beth Bourland of Spearman; one grandson; her father, C.E. Sweatt of Memphis; and two sisters: Mrs. L.E. Hughs of Memphis and Mrs. C.W. Galloway of Borger.

The family has requested that memorials be in the form of bequests to M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Clinic in Houston, through the Wellington State Bank, or to Westview Boys Home.

by a long-time friend, Deskins Wells, publisher and editor of The Wellington Leader.

The Texas Highway outlook is optimistic, with an unusually large number of reservations, Mr. Simons said. "A major element of uncertainty is added by the Nixon Administration's revenue sharing' proposals which could change the federal government's entire approach to highway aid," he pointed out.

There is the final fate of a threatened "fine" against Texas over highway billboard controls and removal, which the Department of Transportation has tentatively set at $24 million--10 per cent of proposed federal aid. The Commission is prepared to go to court, if necessary, to determine if the federal government can initiate this penalty.

"In addition to all the money questions that can't be resolved, there are "pressures on the Commission" from several other directions," the speaker continued.

"Highway people everywhere are under criticism by environmental groups and by advocates of more mass transportation, especially by the fixed-rail variety.

"We are under pressure from counties and cities, seeking legislation that would disperse part of the Highway Fund for the benefit of local governments. At the very same time, we are looking at commitments and promises we have already made to counties and cities that total $8 billion and - - at present and anticipated income levels - - will take 15 years to fulfill.

"That doesn't consider, of course, additional demands that will come to in the meanwhile - - nor does it allow for a major escalation in costs for construction and maintenance."

"That could be a critical area. During the last 18 months, the cost of construction has inflated 15 percent and the cost of maintenance has risen even faster."

"This does not consider the fact that state and federal costs in Texas have increased by about $25 million a year because of what we might call "frills and fancies" imposed by federal regulations in the environmental, safety, beautification and replacement housing fields - - items that can be justified, or at least condoned, but which do add to the costs of highway construction and operations," Mr. Simons concluded.

the secondary will be composed of Fischer and Stevens at cornerback and Cole and Beaty at safeties.

"We do expect them to be tough opponent, but we feel like our chances are good for finding our first victory if we play up to our capability," said Coach Forrester.

"We came out of the Hollis game physically strong, so this should be an advantage."

New Stand in Use for Game; Street Closed

The new concession stand at Powell Field will be used for the first time Friday night, October 17, as the Wellington Skyrockets ope n their home season against the Wheeler Mustangs.

The two entry gates and ticket booths are located at the ends of the stand, and the old gates have been closed, so all Rocket fans attending the games should come there for admittance.

Supt. Thayne Amonett announced that permission was granted by the City of Wellington to close off the street to east-west traffic for the one block immediately north of the field, the duration of the football games. This is the street on which the concession stand and entry gates face.

Since Amarillo street dead-ends at the football field, fans should keep in mind that during the games, they can turn west at this point, but they cannot drive east.

Some finishing work remains on the new concrete block concession stand, which has been built largely with volunteer labor by the Band Booster Club.

Winners in Parade Float Classes Named

Winning entries in three divisions of the big opening parade of the Collingsworth County Free Fair have been announced.

In the commercial division, first place went to City Grocery, with an entry stressing customer service; second to the City State Bank for a decorated float featuring Little Red Riding Hood and third to Wellington State Bank for a decorated float emphasizing drive-in banking.

First place in the Adult Divisions went to Collingsworth County Farmers Union, for its float filled with crops and vegetables produced here; second to the 1954 Study Club with the Little Train that said, "I Think I Can;" and third to the Lillie Home Demonstration with a Birthday cake observing 50 years of Home Demonstration Club Work.

Collingsworth County 4-H Club Float won first in the Youth Organizations, featuring various 4-H projects, including a live calf. Second place went to Samnorwood Cub Scouts, a float carrying a large number of Cubs and Boy Scouts.

The judges stated that due to the speed of the parade and the lack of numbers on entries, they could not judge the bicycles and tricycles, although all were good. They did mention the deocrated tricycle ridden by Bobby Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Owens, and the decorated bicycle ridden by Thomas Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wolf.

Visiting over the week end with Mr. and Mrs. James R. Ross and Joel at the ranch near Quail were her mother, Mrs. Frank Bourland of Clarendon, and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dillard of Austin.
