Answer Line

What will happen if the host agreement between Mitchell County and National Waste and Energy Development, Inc. is rescinded, according to the Texas Water Commission?

The Texas Water Commission says that regardless of whether or not a host agreement is signed and regardless of the amount of public opposition or support to a hazardous waste facility, it's eventually left up to the three-person Texas Water Commission to decide on a permit, provided the permit meets all the criteria.

Development board signs agreement

The Mitchell County Board of Economic Development has entered into an agreement with a Oklahoma City company which matches member cities with industrial prospects.

Lionel J. Nowotny of Private Database Systems, Inc. said Thursday that member cities (in this case Mitchell County) are matched to companies which make site selections for manufacturing companies.

Nowotny said that many companies hire other firms (called engineering firms) which make site selections for manufacturing companies.

Nowotny said his company has a listing of the engineering firms and provides them with information about its members.

Membership fee is $5,000 annually which the Board of Economic Development will pay out on a quarterly basis.

Nowotny said that the size of Mitchell County should not be a deterrent in attracting industry.

"There are any number of reasons why companies want to get in smaller communities," he said, pointing out that many people prefer the quality of life smaller communities offer.

Each member represented by Private Database Systems must provide extensive data for the company about the area, it economics and population.

Elmer Martin, chairman of the Economic Development Board, said of the agreement that "I think it's a step in the right direction. I think

Official to seek moratorium on incinerator construction

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower will call for a moratorium on any new construction of hazardous waste incinerators in the state at a press conference to be held at 6:15 p.m. Monday in Colorado City.

The press conference will be held at the Fort Wood Cafe where concerned citizens and community leaders are invited to meet to discuss the issue, said Jo Anne Noble, district director for the Department of Agriculture.

Following the press conference, Hightower will meet informally with area farmers and ranchers to address any agriculture-related issues and to answer questions.

National Waste & Energy Development Inc. of Pittsburgh, Pa. has proposed to build a hazardous waste facility in west Mitchell County in the Iatan Flats area.

The proposal to build a hazardous waste facility here has drawn mixed reaction in Mitchell County and surrounding areas.

The Mitchell County Commissioners Court has signed a host agreement with the Pennsylvania company.

However, a citizens group, Texans Against Pollution (TAP) is opposed to the project because of environmental and health concerns.

In addition, a number of other entities have signed resolutions opposing the project. The Snyder City Council and the Western Texas College faculty association are the latest to join in the opposition. If built, the facility would be within 15 miles of the Mitchell/Scurry county line. Other entities which have passed resolutions in opposition are the Scurry County Commissioners Court, the Howard County Commissioners Court, Westbrook ISD board of trustees and the Ira ISD board of trustees.

Absentee voting to begin

Absentee voting in the Tuesday, Nov. 6, general election will begin Wednesday, Oct. 17 and continue until Friday, Nov. 2.

Absentee balloting will take place in the county clerk's office at the Mitchell County courthouse.

This year's ballot contains an array of local and state races, including U.S. Senator, governor, and lieutenant governor.

Also on ballots statewide is a proposed constitutional amendment to clarify the authority of the Texas Senate to consider certain nominees to state and district offices.

Local races to be decided in the general election are those of Mitchell County judge, clerk and precinct three commissioner.

Ray Mayo, winner in the Democratic primary for county judge, is being opposed in a write-in campaign by Mac Morris who was defeated in the primary.

Joan Beach, county clerk, was unopposed in the Democratic primary, but is being opposed by write-in candidate Barbara Green in the general election.

Pct. 3 Commissioner Buddy Hertenberger was the winner in the Democratic primary, and is being opposed by Republican challenger Wendy Inman.

Economic options to be studied

Officials with the Texas Department of Agriculture met with local business and civic leaders Thursday to tell of the economic development services the department offers.

The meeting was chaired by Mayor Jim Baum. Agriculture department officials in attendance were Jo Anne Noble, district director; David Guarino, information specialist in agricultural development; Salvador Valdez, director of agricultural development; Richard Salmon, economic development specialist; and Keith Jones, director of the office of sustainable agriculture.

Valdez said it is essential for a community to take control of its destiny and for citizens to unite and work together in attracting new industry or expanding present industry.

"Our presence here is first to listen, then start studying the various options that a community has for economic opportunities," said Valdez.

He also said the Texas Department of Agriculture "tries to make every effort it can to make farming and ranching profitable in Texas."

Guarino told the group of the success experienced in Fisher County where a number of smaller projects has helped boost the economy.

He said Fisher County residents are now "ready to tackle a large scale project" in the form of a textile mill.

Cancer Society sets $13,800 goal for year

The Mitchell Unit of the American Cancer Society has set $13,800 as its goal for 1990-91, Ray Mayo, president, said.

The goal was set during Thursday's board meeting.

Mayo said the most ever raised in one year by the local unit was $13,253, but feels confident that the new goal can be reached.

Mayo also announced that the unit has been selected for the Quality of Life Award for the 1989-90 fiscal year. Units achieving this status must assist 33 percent of the total unit patient population with a 10 percent increase over the previous year. The Mitchell Unit was one of 128 Texas unit attaining the Quality of Life status this year.

Mayo commended Sue Dossey who is in charge of patient services and a read a letter commending Dossey from Col. Ray O. Lundy, chairman of the state patient services committee.

Superintendent's Report

By Don Nimmo
CISD Superintendent

Report card day can be one of the most difficult times for some students and their parents. While educators try to emphasize that a grade is not as important as how much effort a student puts into his work or how much he learns, kids know that A's are highly prized and C's or D's are looked upon with some disapproval.

Grades are a necessary fact of school life, from first grade through 12th grade. Putting a grade on a term's worth of school papers, homework, tests and class participation can be a difficult and sometimes flawed process, but they do serve as a measure of achievement and academic performance and also serve to motivate many students to study harder.

Grades are a kind of shorthand that help teachers and counselors understand what a student has done so far in his school career. Colleges, of course, also look at high school grades when determining whether an applicant should be accepted.

We send grades home to parents as one communication about how students are doing, but they are not meant to be regarded as the sole judge of a student's performance. Isolated from other factors - such as a student's ability, effort and behavior: the difficulty of the course work; personal problems or illnesses the student may have endured during the term - grades have little meaning.

How parents react to a child's grades can either help or hurt him, no matter how old he is. Grades can be an emotional issue between parents and their kids (who doesn't want an all "A" child?), but the emotion can be diffused and grades used as a basis for open communication between parents, teachers and students.

There is no substitute for an on-going, day-by-day awareness of what and how your child is doing in school. By charting progress regularly you will eliminate unpleasant surprises on report card day.

For example, you would understand that a "B" in spelling might be a victory because it represented a rise in spelling test grades from C's in the beginning of the term to A's at the end. On the other hand, an A in math, while commendable, would not have as much meaning if the student earned it with little effort. (Perhaps a more challenging class would be needed here.)

Daily monitoring allows you to intervene before report card grades are issued. If you spot a problem, call the teacher. Find out: Is he careless with his work? Late with homework assignments? Are there social or health problems which are hampering school efforts?

Keep in mind that everyone has an off day; don't be overly concerned about an occasional poor test grade, but if you see a trend, step in before your child falls too far behind.

When report cards are issued, discuss any seeming disappointments as coolly as possible. Ask your child what he thinks of his grades. Is he satisfied with them? Do they represent his best effort? Is there room for improvement? Together, you can map a strategy to deal with disappointing grades. Perhaps your child needs some after school help, or a restriction on television time, or guidance in developing better study skills.

Each child is an individual. Childhood and adolescent development happens in spurts rather than in a smooth line. Academic achievement should be regarded as part of your child's growth as a happy, functioning person. A child or teenager who does not feel good about himself has a more difficult time performing well in school. It is best to be sensitive and reasonable when discussing grades.

It is possible to demand the best from you child while understanding that not every child's best is all A's.

Fifth grade students celebrate Potlatch

Fifth Grade Students Answer Questions About Indians in a Tournament of Knowledge

In observance of Native American Day Sept. 28, 52 fifth grade students at Hutchinson Elementary School celebrated with a Potlatch and Tournament of Knowledge.

A Potlatch is a great feast celebrating an important occasion and gifts are exchanged among the guests.

The students made traditional Indian gifts which they exchanged with their working partner. Then they participated in the Tournament of Knowledge by answering questions about the groups of Native Americans they had been studying.

The "Indians" had invited parents as special guests, and about 30 parents joined in feasting on Indian foods.

The Potlatch was a culminating activity for Mr. Parras's, Mrs. Moore's and Mrs. Carroll's classes. The three groups of students are participating in a cooperating learning social studies class.

THE HOPE OF A FRESH START

(Lamentations 3:22-23)

Dr. Travis Monday — Calvary Baptist Church

Do you ever feel like a failure? Do you ever wish you could get a fresh start on life? I've got some good news for you -- the Bible speaks of the possibility of a fresh start.

The Book of Lamentations was written for a nation that had failed many times and for a people who needed the hope of a fresh start. Consider these words from the prophet Jeremiah:

The steadfast love of the Lord never ceases,
his mercies never come to an end;
they are new every morning;
great is thy faithfulness (Lam. 3:22-23 RSV)

Did you notice that God's love is steadfast and never ceases? Nothing can separate us from the love of God. Did you see that God's mercies never fail and are new every morning?

Sounds to me like God is offering us the hope of a fresh start. How about it? Are you ready to start fresh with God today? If you are, then you can expect God to provide you with all of the love and mercy that you need.

Lady Wolves beat Albany

With one week left in the volleyball season, the Lady Wolves had another tune-up against the Albany Lady Lions on October 9.

In a combined effort, the Freshmen and Junior Varsity Lady Wolves needed only two matches to defeat Albany. In match one, Colorado City dominated the Lady Lions by a crushing score of 15-0. The second match took a little more as the younger Lady Wolves had to come from behind to win by a score of 16-14.

As the Lady Wolves took the court on the varsity level, the Pack went into the game with two wins against Albany in prior meetings. Knowing this, the Wolves played just well enough to defeat a much improved Albany team.

In match one, Albany jumped out to an early lead of 8-3, but could not do anything with the five point spread, and the Lady Wolves made a gradual comeback to win, 16-14.

Just as the Lions took the lead in match one, the Lady Wolves had 7-2 advantage before Albany ran off 5 poins to stay alive 7-7. From that moment on, Albany won by a great team effort, 15-11.

Going into the final match, the Lady Wolves meeded to settle down and regroup. The Pack scored first and took a 6-5 lead behind Angie Williams' serve. The Lady Wolves then put pressure on Albany by playing good defense to get thier offensive opportunities. The Lady Lions did magane to tie the match at 12-12, but Jennifer Munoz served strong for the last three points for the Wolves 15-12.

Wolves lose to Crane, 41-10

CRANE - In the first week of district 6-3A play Friday night, the Colorado City Wolves lost to the Crane Golden Cranes, 41-10.

In prior district play the Wolves were 2-2-1 while the Golden Cranes were 1-2-1.

Although the Cranes had been playing poorly, Friday night showed just how potent their offense was in the defeat of the Wolves.

On the first possession, Cranes running back Ricardo Garza did his "thing" as he set up the Cranes on four carries for 19 yards. As Crane moved the ball to the Wolves 20, tailback Ricky Flores took the ball 20 yards for the touchdown. The PAT was good by Coury Jones with 7:44 to go in the first quarter.

The Wolves were forced to punt on the next series and the Golden Cranes were set up at their 28. Crane then received a lift from the running skills of Garza and raced 65 yards to put the Cranes at the Wolf six-yard line.

Garza then capped off his accomplishment with a six-yard score. The PAT was good for a 14-0 lead.

Each time the Pack would start to get flowing, the Crane defense would put up a solid front and stop the Wolf attack. With 1:48 left to go in the half, the Wolves did manage to establish a running game and moved the ball to the Crane 14. With 10 seconds to go in the half, the Wolves faced a fourth down and long situation. With that Robbie Smith connected on a 30- yard field goal. The score was 14-3 at the half.

The Wolves went into the dressing room with their heads high hoping to come out and get on the board, but the Wolf defense just could not stop the explosive Crane offense.

The Cranes began their first possession on their own 20. Running back Ricardo Garza picked up where he left off in the first half as he moved the ball to the Wolf 11.

Garza picked up his second touchdown from the 11 for the 21-3 lead with the successful PAT.

On the next possession by the Cranes, fullback Jason Johnson raced 60 yards for the touchdown that made it a 28-3 lead.

With a new quarterback, Jeremy Strain, the Wolves looked to have a renewed life, but the Crane defense proved to be too tough as the Wolves were forced to punt.

For the third time, Crane mounted yet another attack as they scored on a three-play 70-yard drive to begin the fourth quarter. The drive was ended on a pass from QB Chad Ellison to tightend Coury Jones, 34-3.

The Wolves then got going as Robbie Smith and Mark Smith made good runs to set the Wolves at the Crane 29. On the next play, R. Smith raced into the end zone to make up the difference. The successful PAT made the score 34-10.

On Crane's fourth and final possession, the offense scored from 65 yards out. The drive lasted over nine minutes to kill most of the fourth quarter.

Jamie Woodick put the final touches on the score from the 11-yard line and a 41-10 lead.

The Wolves' final possession had the crowd jumping and cheering as the Smith brothers worked the ball to the 1 1/2 yard line. However, the Crane defense snuffed the Wolf running game and stopped R. Smith at the Crane 4 with 20 seconds to go in the game with the final score being 41-10.

Leading ground gainers for the Wolves were Kevin Green with 10 carries for 78 yards, M. Smith with seven carries for 63 yards and R. Smith with eight carries for 50 yards and a touchdown.

JV loses heartbreaker; freshmen beat Crane

In Thursday night action between the Freshmen and Junior Varsity Wolves versus the Crane Golden Cranes, the ninth improved to 5-1 while the JV lost in a game that consisted of turnovers and penalties to drop their second game of the season, 4-2.

For the Freshmen, RB Marcus Aguilar and FB Richard Gomez had outstanding running games behind great offensive execution.

In the whole first quarter, the Wolves and the Cranes could muster no offense, but on a Jim Lemons interception, the Wolves had the early momentum going into the second. The drive only took five plays as Gomez raced down the field for a 38 yard TD and a 6-0 lead on the missed 2-point conversion.

With 8:01, the Wolves ran a fake punt, but instead of a first down for the Wolves, the pass was intercepted and resulted in a 51 yard return for a TD and a 6-6 tie.

The Wolves then had 2:32 to score on their last possession of the half on a great kick-off return by Gomez to put the ball on the Crane 35. On good runs by Aguilar and Gomez, Gomez capped off the drive and the half with a 22 yard touchdown. On the 2-point conversion, QB Scott Payne scored on a keeper for a 14-6 halftime lead.

As the Wolves opened the second half at their own 28. Aguilar went to work and scored on a 77 yard TD run for a 20-6 lead.

With the Wolves scoring their last touchdown of the game, Crane had almost two full quarters to tie or win the game. With more than 8 minutes left in the third, the Wolf defense snuffed the Crane attack, and did more of the same in the fourth until Crane scored with no time left on the clock to lose by a score of 20-12.

Aguilar finished the night with 111 yards on 16 carries and 1 TD while Gomez rushed for 98 yards on 9 carries and 2 TDs.

As the Junior Varsity took the field against a larger opponent, the Wolves never seemed to let that affect their play.

On the Wolves' first possession and the ball resting on the Wolf 37, the Pack went four downs and punted. What started out as negative for the "Machine" soon turned into a positive as DB James Franco picked off a Crane pass and returned the ball to the Crane 32. From there, the tandem of QB Kelly Ramsey and WR David Castillo went to work. On a fourth down and long at the Crane 27, K. Ramsey hit Castillo over the middle for the first score. The PAT by Frank Briseno was good for a 7-0 lead.

With 7:71 to go in the first , the Wolves fumbled and turned the ball over two times, but in the same regard, the Cranes had two of their own. These turnovers extended through the rest of the time in the first and much of the second, but late in the second, the Cranes suffered an unsportsmanlike penalty on a punt return by Castillo and with the return, the ball was on the Crane 19. On the next play, K. Ramsey hit Castillo for the second TD of the game and a 14-0 lead on the good PAT.

With 3:21, the Cranes drove the ball 25 yards on a Wolf turnover for their first score. The 2-point failed, and the score remained 14-6 at the half.

On Crane's fist possession of the second half, the Golden Cranes got their running game going and drove the ball 64 yards for the score. The 2-point conversion was good, and the game was tied at 14-14.

As the Wolves put the ball in play, RB Coty Strain took the hand-off for 41 yards to put the Wolves on the Crane 19. With 7:45 remaining, K. Ramsey, on a quarterback keeper, scored from 2 yards out to take a 20-14 lead. The 2-point conversion failed.

Early in the fourth, Crane drove the ball to the Wolf 5. On a great defensive job by Mark Martinez and the help of a penalty, Crane was moved back to the 22 yard-line. In what seemed to be a bright spot for the Wolves soon became dark as a Crane running back scored on a 22 yard gallop making the score 20-20 on the miscalculated 2-point conversion.

With less than 4:50 to go in the game, the "Machine" went to work. The duo that has become synonymous with the passing attack for the Wolves, met one more time as K. Ramsey was successful for a 48 yard TD as Castillo made the catch and out ran the defense. The PAT was good for a 27-20 lead.

The Golden Cranes had 3:09 to use before the game would expire. The Cranes used the clock wisely and with :52 seconds showing, scored from 35 yards out. On the TD, Crane was penalized for taunting and were put on the 18 yard-line to go for the 2-point conversion. The Wolves looked destined to win, but once more, Crane kept their composure and scored the 2 points for a 28-27 win.

The Wolves did mount one more threat with :09 seconds to go, but on a half-back pass, Castillo was intercepted as Crane ran out the clock.

K. Ramsey finished the night with outstanding numbers; 7-12-146 yards for 3 TDs and 1 interception. Castillo accounted for 127 of those yards on 6 catches and 3 TDs. Leading ground gainer was Coty Strain with 64 yards on 10 carries.

CMS teams split games with Crane

The Junior High Wolves split games with the Crane Golden Cranes in Crane on Thursday.

In the seventh grade game, the Cranes dominated the much smaller Wolves as the Cranes went on to win by a shut-out of 26-0. The Wolves fall to 4-1 on the season. The seventh grade Wolves are improving fundamentally and at any given time, the team could get rolling before long.

In the eighth grade competition, the Wolves did just the opposite of the seventh grade Cranes. The Wolves, behind strong running by Eddy Martinez and Heath Mann, won by an overwhelming, 36-0. Martinez recorded four touchdowns while Mann cashed in one.

"We played in spurts in the first half," commented Coach Gary McNeil, "we played a full game in the second half."

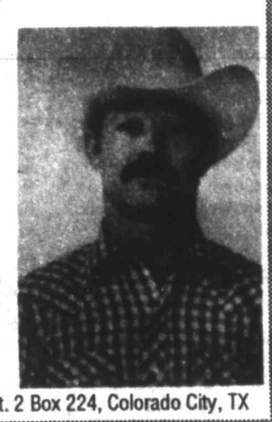

The defense did not allow the Cranes to penetrate the 20 yard-line.

The eighth grade Wolves improve to 3-2 on the season.

Munoz completed a five-year curriculum and a summer internship which included hospital and retail pharmacy practice.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

In the late 1880's, when Colorado changed from a ranching community to one of industry and farming, one of the first industries was salt extraction. The first salt works plant was located west of Colorado, near the present day water filtration facility.

The Dallas Weekly News noted on October 8, 1885: "The salt works are now running at full blast and are putting up over 100 barrels per day. Large orders await the goods as fast as they are manufactured, or rather, evaporated."

The west salt works, also known as the Lone Star Salt Company, was apparently abandoned about 1899 when a large salt deposit was discovered.

The west salt works well was 1200 feet deep. The salt deposit was considered to be 40 feet thick. The operation consisted of water being piped into open vats, then exposed to the sun and wind, which resulted in evaporation. The salt was all that remained and it was cleaned by steam, sacked and loaded on trains.

The west salt works, also known as the Lone Star Salt Company, was apparently abandoned about 1899 when a large salt deposit was discovered at Grand Saline, Texas. This, coupled with high railroad freight rates, made the salt plant unprofitable at Colorado. The local facility was purchased by Morton's Salt Company and the machinery west of town was dismantled and moved to Grand Saline.

There are two versions of who owned the salt works in Colorado. One account says the industry was funded by a family from Indiana. The second explanation claims ownership was traced to a capitalist from Michigan.

It's quite probable that Indiana is correct because R. R. Blount became a half owner in the operation and he was from the Hoosier state.

In 1905 a second salt deposit was discovered two miles east of Colorado. A more elaborate plant was built and it was called the Fort Worth Salt Company. One hundred men were employed at the business.

The east salt works actually consisted of five wells, one of which was 1000 feet deep. The other four wells were 700 feet deep. The east salt works was eventually bought by J. M. Radgord and a group of men from Abilene. The acquisition was thought to have been made after the facility had been operational only a short period of time.

The company was profitable. By 1910 it showed a profit of $31,389.32 and an ice plant was added to the plant. Then, in 1911, tragedy struck. The salt works and the ice plant burned to the ground. They were never rebuilt. Many oldtimers can still recall visiting the salt works on the outskirts of town.

The discovery of the salt works is an interesting story in itself. The railroad (T&P) was looking for wells to provide water for steam powered locomotives. Instead, salt deposits were discovered, and Colorado entered the industrial age.

A third salt deposit was discovered in 1923. It was found 15 miles north of town and some residents can still remember seeing salt that blew 50 feet into the air. The roar of the well could be heard as far away as Colorado City, but the "gusher" didn't last long. The derrick collapsed and the wells had to be plugged. Left behind were salt crystals which covered the ground over an area covering 50 acres.

The salt works were a short lived industry for Mitchell County. Today, only a wall and the foundations at the east salt works remain to remind us of yesterday's struggles.

Reckon what residents of Colorado City will be viewing 100 years from now, to remind them of our impediments today?

Lelek tells about mission

Ernie Lelek, treasurer of the board of the Community Mission, told the Colorado City Rotary Club Wednesday that the mission is a non-profit organization which offers a diversified program of religious and social welfare services.

The mission is located at 299 Elm Street in a building donated by J.O. Dockrey. "Without J.O.'s generosity, I don't know what we would do," said Lelek.

The mission provides temporary emergency assistance for distressed individuals and families.

"We want the whole community to be involved," said Lelek. "We need help financially, and we have a need for clothing, especially childrens' clothing."

"We need help with volunteer labor," he said, adding "there is always work to be done down at the mission."

He said that during September, the mission housed and fed eight homeless transients. He explained that it is a regular policy of the mission to limit lodging to one night, unless an emergency crisis would warrant otherwise as approved by a board member.

The board policy of the mission is to limit transients to a one-night's stay in a 30-day period. Those transients returning before the 30-day period has transpired are not allowed to stay at the mission.

Other officers of the mission board are Elmer Martin, president; Willie Garner, vice president-president-elect; and Judy Chapman, secretary. Lelek said that Rev. David Shaw, pastor of First United Methodist Church, serves as an unofficial coordinator and Rev. Jon Farris, pastor of St. Luke United Methodist Church, also is very active in the mission.

The Rotary Club meets each Wednesday at noon at Burkhart's Villa Restaurant.
