Both were said to be of somewhat diminished intensity.

Expanded reports of the disaster met already promised prompt relief.

American Vice Consul Ott at Belize told the state department the only known American dead were 11 priests. He stressed the need for medical aid.

Daring Fliers Today Are To Seek New Schneider Records

CALSHOT, England Sept. 11 (AP)—Electrically heated blankets were wrapped tonight around the wasp-like seaplanes, one or more of which is expected tomorrow to set the greatest speed record ever made by man.

All three of the machines were taken up and flown above the solent and spithead today in final tests before tomorrow's effort to set a new Schneider cup record. One clocked unofficially today was known to have traveled in excess of seven miles a minute—420 miles an hour—and it is this figure which the British fliers expect to maintain tomorrow over the 217 mile Schneider cup course.

Summer's Dying Fury Is Blamed For Ten Deaths

Texas Drouth Broken By Rains In Several Sections; Other Areas Are Suffering

(By The Associated Press)

SUMMER'S dying fury continued to harass the continent with tropical heat yesterday. Ten deaths were reported.

Waves of torridity stifled millions from New England to the parched southwest plains and from the groves of Florida to the wheat fields of the northwest. The weather man's forecasts indicated relief was not to be expected soon.

Fleet mercury raced up 10 degrees in two hours in Charleston, W. V., Friday to establish a record 103, and Chippewa Falls, Wis., and Ironwood, Mich., reported 98.

Schools were dismissed in Madison, Wis., Winona, Minn., and Omaha because of the heat.

Hard rains in Texas brought a sharp respite and dropped the temperature in Dallas to a maximum of 80. Oklahoma City reported 89; Kansas City 93, and Tulsa 95.

Of ten known victims of prostration, six have died in Wisconsn, three in Toronto, and one in Pittsburgh.

Little Damage Is Caused In State

(By The Associated Press)

Cooling rains swept a large sector of Texas yesterday breaking the passing summer's belated heat wave.

Little damage was thought to have been done to opening cotton. The rains were needed on ranges and in fields and pastures which soon will be stocked for fall grazing.

Reports indicated the Texas gulf coast was out of the path of yesterday's rainstorms.

At Dallas the precipitation was two and a half inches, the

Huey Long Calls For Prayers For Sterling; Bible Quoted

Sounds Of Hysteria Are Said To Be The "Wail Of Hungry, The Crying Of Children"; Texan Denounced

(By The Associated Press)

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept 11.—Governor Huey Long tonight quoted the Bible in his cotton holiday radio address and called for prayers for Governor Ross Sterling of Texas and all others opposing his plan to aid the cotton industry by prohibiting production in 1932.

Governor Long quoted Isaiah 28:15: " * * * Because ye have made a covenant with death and with hell are ye in agreement," and said it applied to Governor Sterling's opposition to his cotton prohibition proposal.

Not In Agreement

"Governor Sterling is not in any agreement with the people on the cotton question," he said. "Who is he in agreement with? Yes, again the passage reads: " * * * A covenant with death and with hell are ye in agreement."

He denounced Governor Sterling's quoted statement that there was too much hysteria in Texas and the south," and that "he had his feet on the ground."

Wail of Hungry

"That's not hysteria you hear. That's the wail of the hungry, the crying of children. It's people wanting to pay their debts, to send their children to school, and to pay the land banks.

"Your feet may be on the ground, but if you veto a cotton prohibition bill passed by the Texas legislature, something other than your feet will be on the ground!"

National Guardsmen Watch All Actions With Machine Guns And Fixed Bayonets; Asks Liberal Contribution

(By The Associated Press)

JONESBORO, Ark., Sept. 11.—The Rev. Joe Jeffers, Baptist evangelist and center of dissension that has split the ranks of the First Baptist church here, held out the olive branch of peace in opening his sermon tonight, while national guardsmen with machine guns and fixed bayonets surrounded his tent tabernacle occupied by some 7,000 persons.

Mr. Jeffers asserted "we are gathered here to worship God and we want to tell the people of Jonesboro, the state of Arkansas and the people of the United States that we are peaceful, lawabiding citizens."

Baskets Passed

After the preliminary talk, collection baskets were passed and Mr. Jeffers exhorted the people to give liberally, explaining that last night only $79 was taken in.

He also announced that the Rev. J. Frank Norris, Baptist minister of Fort Worth, Tex., would come here September 22. Norris is editor of the "Fundamentalist," Baptist publication which allegedly published an article regarding the Rev. D. H. Heard, pastor of the First Baptist church here, whom Jeffers has assailed.

Guardsmen were on duty around the tabernacle to take up visible guns but none were seen. No one was searched.

COURTROOM, BROWNFIELD, Sept. 11. — A jury of 12 men retired at 10 o'clock tonight without reaching a verdict after deliberating six and one-half hours on the fate of J. A. Bonds, for whom the state is asking the death penalty for the alleged murder of J. C. White last April 5.

Making an impassioned appeal for a "life for a life," District Attorney Thomas L. Price closed arguments in the case and the fate of the former state highway employe was submitted to the jury at 3:30 p. m.

Many Await Report

More than 150 persons sat in the courtroom from about 7 o'clock tonight until the jury was sent to its night quarters by Judge Gordon B. McGuire. The famed courthouse grapevine system of communication failed to give an indication as to how the jury stood when its deliberations for the day were ended.

By far the largest crowd in attendance at the trial, packed the courtroom today to hear the arguments. Every available seat was occupied; available standing room in the aisles was exhausted, and a number of men spectators sat on

Investigation Of Gas Rates Over Texas Will Be Started Following Protests On File

Gas Utilities Division Of Railroad Commission Planning To Evaluate Transmission Lines To Determine If Gate Rate Charge Is Too High; Probe Will Start Immediately

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 11.—Laten Stanberry, head of the gas utilities division of the railroad commission, said today an investigation of gas rates over the state would be started in the near future, probably this month.

The commission will evaluate transmission lines to determine if the gate rate charged distributing companies is too high. The attorney general's department has held that the commission may either contract for that work or set up its own valuation force, Stanberry said.

To Confer Today

The gas division chief said the commission hoped to confer tomorrow on which course to pursue.

Some 200 municipalities, believing their gas rates are too high, have asked for the investigation. Several city officials have expressed opinion that rates will be reduced voluntarily as soon as the investigation gets under way.

Lines of the Lone Star, with headquarters at Dallas, the United at Houston and the Houston Pipe Line company will be valued first, Stanberry said. Gate rates will be set to give these companies a fair return on their investments.

Anne received me at the Teusler home, placed at the disposal of the aerial vacationists by Ambassador Forbes who has occupied the house for a year.

"Oh no," she emphasized, "I haven't any packing troubles like most travelers. Why," as she gestured toward her simply, becoming white frock, "Why, my entire outfit, please realize, only weighs sixteen pounds. Charles, too, has his 16-pound limit."

Anne's right elbow relaxed on the broad arm of the davenport and her fingers tapped away at what I visualized as being an imaginary radio message being flashed to wireles

"My Feet Are On The Ground," Governor Declares; "I Am Against Long Plan But I Do Favor Reduction"

Only Six Of 600 Oklahoma Men Vote For Plan In Meeting; Dire Results Of Proposal Are Pointed Out

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 11.—The second blow to supporters of the Long "no-cotton in 1932," plan was struck late today when Governor R. S. Sterling indicated he would not approve the cotton holiday bill if passed by the Texas legislature.

"My feet are on the ground," Governor Sterling said. "I have not been swept off my feet yet. There is too much hysteria in Texas and the south."

Dire Results Feared

The governor pointed out 10,000,000 people are dependent on cotton in the south and that the Long plan might have dire results if enacted into law.

Governor Sterling said he had conferred, directly or indirectly, today with the governors of all cotton growing states and had found only one for the Long plan. He declined to name the governor who favored it. All other governors were for cotton acreage reduction and conservation measures.

Oklahoma Opposed

Governor Sterling said he talked to Governor Murray of Oklahoma this afternoon and Murray said Oklahoma was absolutely against the Long plan. At a mass meeting in one of the large Oklahoma cotton growing counties only six of 600 farmers present favored the Long plan, Governor Sterling said Governor Murray reported to him.

"The southern states are looking to Texas for leadership to save the cotton industry," Governor Sterling stated. "I accept the challenge. I offer cotton acreage reduction and soil conservation—nothing radical or dangerous like the Long plan which would do far more harm than good.

Add To Unemployment

"Not only would the cotton farmer be directly affected adversely by adoption of the Long plan but it would greatly add to the unemployment problem in the cities of the south. It would cripple the port of New Orleans and other ports

Circus Day Comes And Goes As 'Great Gretonas' Prove They're Really Great; Fate Is Cheated As Trapeze Rope Snaps Off With Fair Aerial Artist

CIRCUS bands are blaring in Amarillo today and Lubbock's Circus Day, to all practical intents and purposes, is over for another year. But several hundred tousled heads will raise from several hundred creased pillows here this morning as the city's youngsters prepare to rise and live, all over again, the thrills of the big show.

Possibly five-cent cotton and an uncertain winter had something to do with it. In all probabilities, the advent of the Ringling Brothers, Barnum-Bailey circus, here last year, spoiled the fervor of some. But at any rate, the Al G. Barnes entourage, one of the largest organizations under canvas, did considerably less than a landoffice business yesterday afternoon and last night—not as much business as the performances themselves merited. Those who worry over the debated idea that 'the circus takes a lot of money out of town" needn't worry any longer. The Barnes show took very little, if any, more than it left.

Approximately 2,500 persons, to be conservative, viewed the afternoon show and few more than twice that number saw the night performance. Considering that it takes slightly in excess of $4,000 per day to operate the Barnes show, with its 1,000 employes and many animals, the circus may have cleared a thousand dollars. Then again, maybe it didn't.

But be that as it may, the money spent to view the circus was well spent. From the opening 'spec', "Persia" and "The

It seems that the producers have put on a sort of spy system of their own and have found that the good old public is tired of seeing these gangsters in action, so they will try something new. Of course, my idea of a good show may not ring, but as far as I am concerned they can't go wrong on some musical comedies and just plain everyday comedies. Dreamy Brazilian Machiche Likely To Oust Bold Cuban Rumba On Dance Floors Of America During Winter

There's a hint that ballrooms this winter will favor the Brazilian machiche. On the left Julie Jenner, "Little Show" dancer, and Dave Gould, stage director, demonstrate the backward step, heel on floor, toe in air. Upper right they show 1/2 second step. Below is a close-up of the cross step, legs crossed but toes in a straight line.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The brief reign of Cuba's naughty rumba has given way to the dignified Brazilian machiche as the popular ballroom dance for this winter.

The machiche has long been popular with stage teams and now the Dancing Masters of America have decreed that it is to be the favored step on the ballroom floor.

The accompanying music is slow and dreamy, with interluding melodies strongly reminiscent of Brazil's tropical shores.

The dance itself suggests the maxixe, so popular in 1914. It is a bit like the fox trot, emphasizing slow movement and long, graceful strides in two-step time.

One part of the dance demands that partners dance several steps without touching each other, their hands upraised in front of their face.

This is the custom on Brazilian dance floors, although it may not be adopted in this country, according to Dave Gould, dance director.

He points out that where the maxixe emphasized a backward step with a kick upward, the machiche favors a forward step in which the heel touches the floor with the toe raised.

The machiche has won its way quickly into the favor of New Yorkers, and several of the new musical shows have numbers featuring the dance.

Patented, continuous process takes guesswork out of coffee roasting

Controlled Roasting produces same fine flavor in every pound of Hills Bros Coffee

"A little at a time"—instead of in bulk—is the secret

Instead of roasting in bulk, which requires guesswork, Hills Bros. roast a little at a time. The rare blend of Hills Bros. Coffee passes through the roasters evenly, continuously. This automatic, patented process—Controlled Roasting—does away with guesswork, and insures exactness. It develops every berry to the fullest—a rich, refreshing flavor!

Every can of Hills Bros. Coffee has the same flavor, and every can is fresh! Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of Hills Bros.' vacuum cans. Ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. But Hills Bros. Coffee can't go stale—can't lose its aroma and flavor!

Pour a cup of Hills Bros. Coffee. One breath of its tempting aroma, and you drain the cup and pour another. After that—perhaps another. This is coffee! Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

Senator Reed Proposes Tax

Pennsylvania Senator Would Place Tax Of One Half Of One Per Cent On All Commodities Generally

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Enactment of a general sales tax has been proposed by Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, a high ranking Republican on the finance committee.

Senator Reed, who is close to Secretary Mellon and the administration, advocated a tax of one half of one per cent on all commodities.

He said he would retain the present income tax also but would plug up some of the "leaks" which he described as permitting rich capitalists to evade the income levies.

The Pennsylvanian said he had not discussed his plan with Secretary Mellon but he arranged to see the treasury head late today.

However, his views were in line with those previously expressed by Mellon to the effect that the present tax base is too narrow and new taxes are necessary.

Senator Reed opposed the views of Chairman Wood of the house appropriations committee on a proposal to reduce further expenditures on the army and navy. Reed said the cost of national defense has now been cut down close to the "danger point." Wood had favored reductions.

Reed is chairman of the state military affairs committee.

His views also were in opposition to those of senate Republican leaders including Watson of Indiana, who is opposed to any tax revision next session. Reed also warned against any further inroads on the treasury by the veterans through additional cash payments on their bonus certificates.

Skelly Sells An Interest In Line

TULSA, Sept. 11 (AP)—Announcement has been made of the sale of the Skelley Oil company's interest in the recently completed natural gas pipe line from the Texas Panhandle to Chicago. The interest was acquired by the Natural Gas company of America, the operating organization.

The Phillips Petroleum company recently sold its interest in the line to the Texas company for approximately $5,500,000. While the consideration in the Skelly transaction was not disclosed, reports said the company received approximately the same amount as the Phillips company.

The line was built by an organization formed by several different companies, including Phillips, Skelly, Texas company, Columbian Carbon company, Insull interests, Cities Service company and Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

Favorable Status Believed Broken

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Bolivian legation said today in a statement that the action reported in Chaco, in which a Paraguayan and five Bolivians were reported killed had broken the favorable status of negotiations between Paraguay and Bolivia over the Chaco question.

The statement placed the blame for the recent fighting upon Paraguay. It said:

"Thwarting Bolivia's unalterable pacific spirit, at the time when her government was answering the neutrals' note and rejoicing over the favorable atmosphere of the project pact of nonaggression suggested by her, Paraguay once again breaks this favorable status by attacking Bolivian positions."

A representative of the Bolivian legation called today at the state department.

WHAT MAKES PEOPLE MOODY?

Did you know that our health and our moods are closely related to intestinal cleanliness?

When the system is clogged by constipation, poisons are generated. Often these bring on headaches and listlessness. You feel blue, or become irritable.

The poisons of constipation frequently aggravate nervous troubles, rheumatism, high blood-pressure and heart trouble.

Yet constipation can be overcome by eating a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Two tablespoonfuls daily are guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation.

Try it with milk or cream. Use in cooking too. Recipes on the red-and-green package. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

New Cotton Plan Given By Murray

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 11 (AP)—A permanent board, of representative "dirt" farmers, to control cotton production through a league of the producing states, is advocated by Governor W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray.

The permanent board, under the governor's plan, would decide each year the cotton acreage to be planted, and the governors of the different states then would issue executive orders for enforcement of the board's recommendations.

When the representatives of two-thirds of the states in the proposed league agree on the acreage, the remaining states would have to abide by the majority ruling, under the governor's plan. He said such a plan could be put into effect without federal authorization, and could remain in force "until congress decided it illegal."

Governor Murray termed the plan of Governor Huey Long of Louisiana "extreme," but reiterated his favor of uniform laws by the producting states to bring about curtailment of acreage.

Powerful Support Of G. O. P. Given To Roosevelt Proposal

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—The powerful support of the Republican state chairman has been placed behind the unemployment relief proposals presented to the state legislature by New York's Democratic governor, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Although no official announcement was made, it was learned at Republican state headquarters here that Chairman W. Kingsland Macy had sent word to Albany the Republican party must avoid any charges of obstructive tactics.

Former Governor Smith Says No One Can Speak For Him

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, asked concerning a published report he would not be a candidate for the presidency in 1932, emphatically said, "no one is authorized to speak for me."

A Washington dispatch printed in an afternoon paper said it had been learned from "persons so close to Mr. Smith as to admit no doubt," that the former governor would not allow his name to go before the 1932 Democratic national convention.

he lid comes off the Lubbock h school playing season this afoon when the Westerners meet Green and White Whirlwind Floydada. The first game of season in Lubbock and for any bock teams begins at 3 o'clock p this afternoon. It will be playn the Texas Tech field.

one of the men are playing now either team who remembers the ing game of the season five ago when Floydada sent a to Lubbock and received it night after it had nosed out ugh 13 to 12 victory over Lubbut it is entirely probable that memories of that game will live minds of the players on both this afternoon when the whistblows. It was one day in midember while it was as hot as it nises to be today, and the teams led awkwardly but furiously ugh their first game of the sea- the Floydada booter sending between the crossbars after a hdown for the scant margin of ory.

End Three Weeks Practise

he Westerners brushed off three ks of grinding practice yesterday Coach Weldon Chapman, who es his debut before the Lubbock today as head mentor of the sterner system, had his probable rting lineup and substitutes runover the field in a flashy sigdrill for most of the practice on. They looked pretty good and e was every indication of fight enthusiasm in the ranks.

aptain Bob Crawford will start enter today. On one side of him be Cotton Welch, a guard who ed consistently last year when had an opening, and on the other will be Melvin Griggs, a regu- guard last year. At tackle posts be Bert Williams, a good pros last year until an injury knockhim out before mid-season and will be depended upon as a hful this year. The other tackle ition is doubtful, though Ross ott, a reserve guard last year, bably will start this afternoon. illams and some other candidate labor under great handicaps season in attempting to fill the s of Archie Brawley and Car- McCasland.

Big End Missing

alcolm Martin will be another ortant factor who will not be in afternoon's starting lineup. He freshman candidate at Texas h, and his place at end will be to fill. Will Ed Watson, who ed regularly at the other end fall, is back. The other wing is btful, though Gene Brown, a adsman last year, probably will t. Dalton Blagg may get a nce. In fact, there are likely to many substitutions this afternoon provided the game goes in or of the locals.

n the backfield is another ques- mark. The only returning man h experience is Mack Scoggin, halfback, O. H. Britton, who started the season with Lubbock last year and looked good until a disagreement on the field caused his withdrawal, probably will call signals today. He may be the regular quarterback this season.

Gene Barnett, a squadsman last year but with no heavy experience behind him, is suggested as the starting fullback. The other halfback will be Cecil Merrill or Bill Davidson, neither of previous Westerner experience.

Makes Debut

Weldon B. Chapman, who comes to Lubbock as head football coach at the high school, formerly of Cisco and Austin college, makes his first public appearance in his new role today when the Westerners play Floydada to open the 1931 grid season.

Vines To Meet Lott In Final

California Netter Proves His Power In Beating Perry Of England; Lott Beats Champ Johnny Doeg

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP).—Ellsworth Vines, jr., lanky Pasadena youngster, proved his fighting heart today by coming back to defeat Frederick J. Perry, British ace, in five furious sets and enter the finals of the Golden Jubilee national tennis tournament.

The 19-year old coast star tomorrow will have his chance at the title relinquished today by John Hope Doeg, the Newark left hander, who took a crushing beating from George Lott, jr., of Philadelphia in the other semi-final, 7-5, 6-3, 6-0.

Vines, playing erratically, looked like anything but a future champion as he dropped the first two sets to Perry but he recovered himself to play good tennis in the third and then became a whirlwind toward the last. The final score was 4-6, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

Their spectacular struggle recompensed the gallery for Doeg's disappointing showing against Lott. Apparently spent by his hard-earned victory over Frank Shields yesterday, the Newark southpaw gave the Philadelphian but feeble opposition after the opening set.

Texas Longhorns Present Second Threat For Title

Steers Bear Down In Effort To Win Again

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUSTIN, Sept. 11.—While zealous supporters shudder at the stubborn schedule, the 1931 University of Texas Longhorns face a magnificent chance to establish Southwest Conference football history. This realization has stimulated them in practice which started Thursday with sixty-seven athletes. Boasting excellent material, fighting a tradition that no Southwest Conference eleven has won successive championships, the Longhorns are bearing down. Supreme football will be required to successfully go through five conference games plus intersectional meetings with Harvard, Oklahoma, Missouri and centenary.

Backfield Safe

Coach Littlefield has no misgiving concerning his backfield. Harrison Stafford, 180, and Ernie Koy, 190, 1930 all-conference selections, form the backfield nucleus. Wilson Elkins, 155, turned in a commendable job at quarterback last year. He is expected to be even better this season.

With these three proven veterans assured of their positions, Littlefield needs one man to complete his backfield. Howard Clewis, 160, or Johnny Craig, 158, have varsity experience and are outstanding candidates for the open position. These five men give Littlefield a backfield that appears potent in weight, speed and deception.

Ton Of Tackle

Littlefield has more than a ton of tackle material. Claude Blanton, 210, all-conference last year is assured of his position. He will be the bulwark of Texas' front wall. Herschell Moody and Carl Tyson, veterans, are logical candidates for the other tackle position.

Captain Dutch Baumgarten, an aggressive lineman, is a fixture at guard. Wilson Cook and Hill Hodges, lettermen, loom for the other guard.

Howie At Center

Walter Howle, a factor in Texas winning the conference title last year, will return to center.

At the wings, two vacancies loom. Peterson and Viming, regulars last year, probably will be replaced by Bill Dubose and Ed Price, speedy wingmen with varsity experience.

Littlefield plans no change in his system. He will mix a hard, driving attack with an aerial threat. Elkins will furnish the broken field runs. Ernie Koy will be the plunging thunderbolt on power plays. Harrison Stafford, quick and shifty, will be used for deception. Clewis and Craig are due to serve as defensive backs.

Rain Fails To Halt T. C. U. Frog Practice

FORT WORTH, Sept. 11 (AP)—Although their outdoor workout was washed away by this afternoon's heavy downpour, it neither dampened the Texas Christian University Frogs' spirit nor denied them their drills. The football candidates spent the afternoon at the field house.

Coach Francis Schmidt has selected three teams from his squad of 41. However, none could be classed as the one with which he hopes to start in the first game next Friday against Texas Military college of Terrell. But the system afforded him an excellent chance to gain a line on the ability of his charges and he was able to give every man a chance.

Rice Owls Get Down To Serious Business

HOUSTON, Sept. 11 (AP).—The 62 young men who hope to play first class football for Coach Jack Meagher's Rice Owls got down to business in a serious way today.

The Owls found nothing to hinder them from taking five full hours work on fundamentals as their training camp turned into its second day of activity. Dummy scrimmages, plentifully mixed with body contact, varied with kicking, passing, and footwork drills are keeping the gridmen active.

Houston Amateur Nine Will Battle Dallas Bakery Team

HOUSTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Admiration Coffee company team will attempt to hurdle the last obstacle in their dash toward the state amateur baseball championship here tomorrow and Sunday as they meet the Surebest Bakery nine of Dallas, North Texas title holders.

In advancing to the finals, Houston eliminated Galveston and San Antonio while Dallas bowled over Wichita Falls and Waco.

Olton Swamps Kress Eleven

Spectacular Plays Feature Opening Game In Lamb County Capitol; Hooper And Ledbetter Are Stars

(Special to The Avalanche)

OLTON, Sept. 11.—In the first football game of the season here, the Olton high school eleven today defeated the Kress club by a score of 32 to 0.

Olton scored early in the game, when Ledbetter ran 55 yards for a touchdown on the first play. A forward pass from Hair to Hooper for 15 yards in the air and a ground gain of 20 yards gave the home team its second tally. Another spectacular play was completed in the last quarter when Hooper received a punt and ran 65 yards for a touchdown.

Tahoka Coach Has Big Task

Only Five Lettermen Back To Carry On For Bulldogs On Grid; Thirty Recruits In Line For Service

TAHOKA, Sept. 11 (Special). — With only five lettermen back, Coach Clarence "Nig" McCarver has begun the task of building a team out of thirty recruits that may creditably represent Tahoka on the football gridiron in South Plains Class B circles this fall. Preliminary training was started the last day of August with Capt. Stevens in charge of the boys, but intensive training was not begun until the arrival of the new coach the latter part of last week.

The five lettermen to return are Stevens, captain and fullback; Walker and Curry, ends; and Short and Tankersley, linesmen. All were mainstays of last year's team. Though only a few men of experience are available this year, McCarver has a number of new men of promise and followers of the game believe Tahoka will have as good a team this year as she did last. And, last year Tahoka probably had the best team it has ever had fans believe that only illness and injuries to players kept this team out of the district championship competition.

"Nig" McCarver, new coach of the Tahoka Bulldogs, is a graduate of Howard Payne, where he won the reputation of being one of the gerstest running backs in the Southwest and the envy of all colleges and universities in this section.

Twenty Grand Is Heavy Favorite

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Only the mere gallop of a mile and five furlongs today appeared to stand between Mrs. Payne Whitney's Twenty Grand and another important 3-year-old stake victory.

The required gallop is scheduled for tomorrow at Belmont park under title of the Lawrence realization and, although three other colts were named today to oppose the turf king, the big bay champion should never be out of a pull as he gallops around the oval.

Twenty Grand's only opposition will be the Wheatley stable's Blenheim and the Belair Stud's Sir Ashley, both trained by Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, and Mrs. Katherine E. Hitt's Sun Meadow.

Pansy Walker, which races for the Texas-owned Three D's stable, stepped six furlongs in 1:11 2-5 to win the Walker purse at Lincoln fields. She finished five lengths in front of the early pace setter, Martha Jones, with Justinian third. As the favorite, Pansy Walker paid $3.50 for a $2 ticket.

HILL TEAMS PLAY

LLANO, Sept. 11 (AP).—Two Hill Country League baseball games are scheduled for Sunday, Fredericksburg going to Mason and Junction traveling to Kerrville.

The play-off series between the Fredericksburg and Llano teams, first and second half winners, will begin Sept. 20 at Fredericksburg.

Matadors Down To Work After First Details

Heavy Work To Begin Soon On Tech Field; Fundamentals Being Practiced In Early Work Twice Daily

It is not taking the Texas Tech Matadors long to settle down to the serious business of football this season. They came to work already familiar with the style and system followed and expressed by Coach Pete Cawthon and his assistants, Del Morgan and Dutchey Smith, and they are already cutting the corners off preliminary work and fundamental drill.

With the exception of a dozen junior college graduates who are casting their lot with Tech for two years of advanced work, the Matador prospects are already on to themselves and the work that lies before them. Yesterday saw them in their second day of practice and eager to be off for heavier business. Signal running, a bit of blocking, considerable kicking and shifting has been the menu during the first two days, with all three coaches devoting full time to the varsity.

Today will be taken no more lightly than yesterday, with the possible exception of slower work this afternoon when they may be allowed to glimpse at the high school game before donning uniforms for their own avocations.

Bob Scott Loses In Angelo Play

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Bob Scott of Colorado, defending champion, was eliminated today in the second round of the third annual invitation golf tournament of the San Angelo Country club. Russell Crownover, youthful Abilene golfer, beat him 3 and 2.

Earl Irons of Arlington, medalist, remained in the running by defeating Olin Blanks of San Angelo. John Marston, city champion, was the only San Angeloan to remain in the play. He defeated Fred Johnson of Dallas and Bob Ingram of San Angelo.

In the quarter-finals Saturday morning Crownover meets Bob Peck of Wichita Falls; W. R. Long of Austin, distance winner and said by some to be the tournament favorite, plays L. T. Burns of Wichita Falls; Irons plays Dick Willette of Fort Worth and Marston meets Edgar O'Quinn of San Antonio.

The finals are to be played Sunday.

The Sox completed a triple play in the first inning on Babe Ruth's grounder. Sullivan snatched the grounder, tagged Combs in the baseline and threw to Kerr to force Sewell at second. Karr relayed the ball to Blue to nip the Babe at first.

Conference On Crops Planned

Georgia Planning To Call A Southwide Conference To Devise Substitute Markets In Event Of Cotton Cut

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 11 (AP) — Plans for a southwide conference of commissioners of agriculture and marketing experts to devise substitute markets and crops in the event of a general cotton holiday are being formulated here, A. D. Jones, head of the Georgia bureau of markets, announced.

The conference, he said, would be for the purpose of making "gentlemen's agreements" among the representatives of the cotton growing states to specialize in increasing crops already largely confined to the individual states so as not to glut the market with any one type of product.

In Georgia, he said, this would be done by increasing the acreage of such crops as cow pears, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes and certain types of tobacco, for which he said ready markets are already available.

In the event of a cotton holiday, which he said would automatically send cotton to 15 or 20 cents, cotton farmers, he asserted, would receive sufficient funds so that 95 per cent would be able to finance themselves for the transition from cotton to other money producing crops.

Capt. Frank Hawks States Speed Is Air Requirement

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP).—Commercial flying in the United States stepped up its speed about 35 miles an hour in the last year, Capt. Frank M. Hawks said today in summarizing his observations at last week's Cleveland air races.

"As a result," he said, "flying for business and pleasure has far outstripped military aviation's pace in this country." Capt. Hawks who has flown 75,000 miles at an average of 193 miles an hour in his last 400 hours in the air, expressed the opinion speed would be the decisive factor in aerial combat in the event of future wars.

Nearly 200 new industrial plants in Australia have been started in the last year.

In Battle Of Coast Guard And Smugglers

It was a spectacular battle engaged in by Coast Guardsmen and rum runners off Gloucester, Mass., and these pictures tell the end of the story. JosephMello, upper right, died from wounds received when the crew of patrol boat 2394 directed machine gun fire at the fleeing smugglers. The latter are said to have laid down a smoke screen and a cloud of poison gas during the zig-zag chase, and one Coast Guardsman was overcome by the fumes. At upper left, some of the prisoners are shown with a guard on the deck of the patrol boat following the capture, and the rum boat is pictured below alongside the Coast Guard wharf. Some of the Lassgehn's 400 cases of liquor are visible on her deck. A board of investigation has been named in the case.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Sept. 11 (AP)—Muriel McCormick, daughter of Harold H. McCormick and Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick of Chicago yesterday became the bride of Elisha Dyer Hubbard, 53 year old "farmer" of Middletown, Conn. The wedding took place less than 24 hours after news of their engagement was made public by Mrs. McCormick in Chicago.

The 29-year-old granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller kept the secret of her engagement well, breaking the news to her mother in much the same fashion as did her brother,- Forlwer, and her sister, Mathilde.

Democratic Member Under Fire; Dunnigan Is Probed

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP).—A Republican-controlled legislative committee turned to an inquiry into the relations of one of its Democratic members with a branch of the municipal government.

Senator John J. Dunnigan of the Bronx, who holds an ex-officio membership on the committee by virtue of his position as senate Democratic leader, came under the scrutiny of the investigators.

Government Experts Predict Lower Wheat And Corn Yield

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Government experts today foresaw lower wehat and corn yields than in their August estimate but the decreases were too small to make an appreciable dent in the agricultural surplus.

The agriculture department said the 1931 probable production of all wheat, including the 775,000 bushels of winter wheat estimated August 1, toals 886,000,000 bushels as compared with the 894,000,000 bushels forecast on August 1. This is 29,000,000 bushel more, however, than was harvested in 1930, and is 64,000,000 bushels above the 5-year average of production.

Committee To Administer Relief Named By Gifford

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP).—A committee composed largely of welfare leaders was appointed by Walter S. Gifford, national director, to administer unemployment relief next winter.

Fred C. Croxton, Gifford's assistant, was made chairman and 18 others were named to the group, including John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee in 1924 and Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war.

RESULTS, THOUGH

BENTON, Tenn., —Sheriff Biggs gets results, even if they aren't the right ones. He recently got word to watch out for an automobile stolen from Etowah. He spied one coming down the hill. It was of the same make as the one stolen in Etowah. As Biggs approached the car, five men jumped out and ran. The sheriff returned to town with the car only to find it wasn't the one stolen in Etowah. It was a stolen car, however, taken from Fred Peters, of Knoxville.

LEAPING COW

FREMONT, O.—A cow may have jumped over the moon in rhyme, but Walter Lakony wishes the one that recently attempted a vault over his automobile had succeeded. Lakony was peacefully driving along a ditch when a docile bossy attempted the leap. In failing the hurdle the cow broke off a headlight and crushed the radiator against the motor. The cow was scarcely hurt.

Oil Suggestion Is Made By Hill

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 11. (AP)—A tentative suggestion that the country's crude oil production and imports be fixed at 2,392,000 barrels daily and reduced 10 per cent a month until a fair price obtains was laid before the mid continent states oil conference here today by Thurman Hill, of the Kansas public service commission.

Hill said this figure would be about 100,000 barrels under the daily market demand and suggested a schedule of production and imports to go into effect September 15.

If within 30 days a fair price, to be decided today, was not in effect, the commissions would automatically curtail production 10 per cent from the September 15 allowable. Automatic 10 per cent curtailment would continue each month until the price goal was obtained.

The Kansas commissioner, who called the conference of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas regulatory bodies and invited representatives of other midcontinent oil states and importing oil companies, said he believed a fair price for oil would be at least $1.10 per barrel.

Briand Makes League Speech

Declares First Task Of Next Disarmament Conference Is To Make The "Crime Of War" Legally Impossible

GENEVA, Sept. 11. (AP)—Aristide Briand, making his first speech at this year's assembly of the League of Nations today reiterated the French contention that the problem of security must be solved before real reduction of armaments can be realized.

He promised that France would help, but he made it clear that in his belief the first task of next year's disarmament conference will be to make "the crime or war" legally impossible.

He did not mention the proposal advanced by Dino Gandi, Italian foreign minister, for a truce in armament building to last at least until the end of next year's conference, but immediately after he had finished speaking the representatives of Denmark, Norway, Holland, Sweden and Switzerland laid before the assembly a resolution embodying the Italian suggestion.

Addressing their appeal to "all who desire to realize the principles of peace and justice," these delegates asked that the assembly urge the member governments "to demonstrate their desire for the success of the disarmament conference by abstaining, until the results of that conference are known, from all measures aiming at an increase of the present level of their armaments."

M. Briand, acknowledging that some nations were accused of concealing resistance to disarmament behind the phrase "national security" asserted that the league covenant still leaves a gap making war possible under certain condition. He intimated that if the French proposals for plugging that gap were realized France would feel that security had been attained.

These proposals are in effect to implement the latent 'sanctions" in the covenant and to provide for execution of engagements under the covenant by concerted armed support of league members.

"We of France," said M. Briand, "are ready to give guarantees which will make war impossible. It that ambition is realized the way to reduction of armaments will have cleared."

Grant Warns On License Plates

Homer D. Grant, president of the Panhandle South Plains Fair association, yesterday issued a warning to Lubock motorists who are carrying banners advertising the fair on their automobiles "to be careful and see that the banners do not hide license plates and rear lights from view."

On some types of machines the rear license plates and lights are located in the center of the spare tire frames, and when the advertising banner is placed on the tire the number and light is hidden from view, he said. A state law requires that the number and light be situated so they may be seen at all times while the automobile is on a public highway or street.

Highway officials have cautioned against the obstructing of the two articles by banners or tire covers, it is said.

Houston Man Burned To Death In An Effort To Save Two Children; Stumbles Out Of House But Returns

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Sept. 11.—Burned severely in an attempt to rescue his two children whom he believed to be in a rear bedroom of his flame engulfed cottage, Frank Chelakis, 37, died here tonight.

The Chelakis home was discovered in flames a few minutes past midnight Thursday.

Awakened by smoke and flames in their bedroom, Chelakis and his wife stumbled from the room, taking with them an infant son, who was sleeping in the same room.

Almost suffocated by the smoke, the couple managed to get the child out of the front door of the cottage and Chelakis turned back into the house to get two other children, who were sleeping in the rear.

The man was severely burned about the face and body as he groped his way through the smoke filled home toward the bedroom where the two boys slept.

The boys, in the meantime, were awakened and jumped out of a bedroom window.

Chelakis reached the room and after a futile search for the boys stumbled through the same window and fell into the arms of firemen.

"I Was Just Blue And Downhearted" Man Declares After Killing Woman

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 11. (AP)—"I was just blue and downhearted." That and nothing more was the comment of William H. Fuller, city health department inspector and former deputy sheriff, who is being held in Bexar county jail after the downtown killing of Mrs. Marye Ann Cothran, 47, extra saleswoman on the second floor of a millinery store, yesterday.

Fuller, 47, was arrested at the scene of the shooting. His wife was killed in an tutofnobile accident more than a year ago.

Mrs. Cothran, who was the mother of a daughter, and was divorced several years ago, was shot in view of scores of women shoppers and other saleswomen who ran screaming from the store as the three shots that took the woman's life rang out.

Hours before a complaint was filed against the former deputy sheriff, J. Franklin Spears, his attorney, appeared before special district Judge Anthony asking for a habeas corpus hearing. The hearing was set for 2 o'clock this afternoon.

United States Is Not To Interfere

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP) — State department officials said today the American government had informed the Chinese legation that this country does not believe its good offices are necessary in the Chinese - Mexican expulsion dispute.

Officials said the Chinese minister in Mexico City had informed Ambassador Clark that his contact with the Mexican foreign office had been cordial and that the imminent danger of expulsion of the Chinese seemed to have been averted.

The department has informed the Chinese legation here that because of the changed situation it was the American government's opinion that the best interests of the Chinese government and the Chinese citizens of Mexico would be served if the United States took no action.

The plaintiff alleges information gained in an investigation he directed resulted in McKee's arrest in Henderson county.

The gunboat Sacramento, which has little reserve medical or food stores aboard, was not very far away at Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua. For hours communication was asunder, as was also the case in San Juan. Reports trickled in first of heavy damage by the storm in San Juan, but later advices showed only two deaths there as its storm swept out to sea toward Santo Domingo.

Reports Growing

Then into the United States began to pour tales of destruction and terror in the British settlement. Hourly they became more elaborate.

The Red Cross and three government departments—the White House and the state department—turned attention to the errand of mercy.

San Juan, the butt of tragic hurricanes in the past, escaped with less damage, although the weather bureau reported a 100 mile wind swept over the island.

Why Troubles Seem Worse

IN THIS week's edition of Collier's magazine, in that section devoted to letters from readers, the editor quotes as follows:

"Mr. Louis Tonto, of Buffalo, N. Y., lays all of our political and economic tribulations to the newspapers. If it weren't for the newspapers, he says, we wouldn't know we had problems. And if we didn't know we had them, we wouldn't worry about them."

Of course the editor of Collier's was being facetious in reproducing Mr. Tonto's letter. We would have problems, newspapers or no newspapers. But even a newspaper can agree that the newspapers, in disseminating news of those problems, gives the average man a deeper insight into those problems and makes him know all the more if them. That is a vital and necessary function of the modern newspaper.

Along this same line of thought, the editor of The Morning Avalanche recently engaged an acquaintance in conversation. The acquaintance is a man who has lived from youth to age in West Texas—who arrived in this section just three years short of a half century ago, with no money or friends. During that near half century of residence he has made many friends and more than a fair share of money. His has been a very successful existence.

"How does the present business depression compare with that of 1907 in htis country," the editor questioned.

"I don't know," was the return. "You see, we were 90 miles from a railroad, we didn't have much mail service and we never saw any newspapers until they were a month old. We didn't know anything much about the panic of 1907 until it was already over."

Of course, that man's neighbors—people who lived within a radius of 40 or 50 miles and engaged themselves generally in the business—knew there was something the matter with the cattle market. They knew that for some reason or other, they couldn't get as much for their steers as they had received in the past.

But outside of that fact, the panic of 1907 meant little to them. The chances are they didn't worry a great deal about it—merely went their way, attended to their own small affairs, and let it go at that.

As a matter of fact, the graphs and charts composed by learned statisticians indicate that the panic of 1907 was much more severe than the present ecopomic lull. We simply read more today than our forebears or our oldsters did then; more of us are more interested in world and national affairs today than the public was a quarter century ago. For that reason we give more time and thought—hence more worry—to our troubles.

Although Mr. Tonto's letter to Collier's is humorous and really shallow from one point of view, it hides beneath its surface a very applicable thought and fact. Our troubles of today are no worse than the people's troubles of yesterday. They only seem worse because we know more about their scope and seriousness.

DON'T PICK HIM UP!

Since the murder of O. L. Jones, Waco salesman who presumably was slain by a hitch-hiker he picked up off the highway, considerable agitation has been aroused for the passage of a law making hitch-hiking an offense against the statutes of Texas.

A number of states have passed such laws and there is nothing to be said against them. But, in the final analysis, an anti-hitch-hiking law is not necessary if motorists will only use their God-given common sense.

Any motorist who picks up a hitch-hiker immediately endangers himself to possible damage suits and, in many instances, robbery or murder. Why an automobilist will take a chance with the "thumbers" is more than the thinking man can understand—especially when he stands to lose but not to gain.

Of course, all hitch-hikers are not criminals. Some of them are good people. But the fact remains that the motorist doesn't ask a hitch-hiker to travel. The latter is no responsibility to anyone save himself. If he wants to go from place to place, let him arrange suitable transportation—or walk. Hitch-hiking has become a serious menace of our highways.

Practical Health Problems

VITAMIN D AIDS HEALTH

EDITOR'S NOTE. This is the 35th of a series of 36 timely articles by Dr. Morris Fishbein on "Food Truths and Follies," dealing with such much discussed but little known subjects as calories, vitamins, minerals, digestion and balanced diet.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

NO ONE knows exactly how much vitamin D is necessary for adult health; no one is certain as to the extent of improvment that it may bring about in the growth and development of a child. It has been established that boys and girls entering colleges this year are, for the same age, on an average taller and heavier than their parents who entered 25 years ago. It is conceivable that the proper use of such vitamins in the diet will result in bigger and better men and finer mentalities and with greater resistance to disease.

There was no rickets until window glass was introduced as a factor in human civilization. Window glass prevents the passing of ultraviolet rays and rickets resulted. It is conceivable that the relief of this deficiency by modern methods of providing vitamin D may result in great advancement for humanity.

Vitamin D in the form of concentration, such as viosterol, in the form of irradiation, or in the form of certain foods, is not a panacea for the diseases of mankind. It has not been established that it will prevent the common cold or that it will cure anything but rickets. It does have definite effects on the blood and on the human body generally, leading to improvement in health. In certain forms of tuberculosis and improper development of the bones, the vitamin D may have special value.

The all or nothing policy which we adopt toward our treatments of diseases, indeed toward improving our health, has led particularly to overexploitation of this vitamin.

Case Given Analysis

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—"From the earliest times," said Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, the famous anthropologist, discussing the case of Harry Powers, West Virginia's multiple-murderer, "there has appeared an occasional individual, in one country or another, perhaps twice or thrice in a generation, with the lust to kill enormously exaggerated in him.

Ales Hrdlicka

"Abnormal though this development is, it is not insanity.

"Aside from the epileptic, who, struggling aimlessly but violently, to throw off he-knows-not-what, which intolerably oppresses him, may unconsciously destroy himself or anyone who chances to be near him, only one type of lunatic kills—the paranoiac, the victim of delusions of persecution, whose homicidal urge reflects his desire to free himself by removing the person he holds responsible for his imaginary afflictions."

"THE INSTINCT to kill, not under any maniacal impression, not in anger, not from motives of revenge or hope of gain, nor for any normal reason, but simply to gratify an inherent sense of pleasure in the mere act of killing," continued Dr. Hrdlicka, "is not new, as a manifestation in certain individuals.

"It is, not confined to the human race.

"There are killer elephants. There are tigers, seemingly with an abnormal blood lust, even for tigers.

"While it is an individual characteristic, generally speaking, it is seen in a few entire species—notably the weasel, which, launched on an orgy of killing, continues to kill as long as it can find victims, quite regardless of provocation or of its food requirements."

AS IT APPEARS in modern man, is this lust perhaps a survival, in now and then a freak instance, from the primitive past?—a throw-back to a cave-dwelling ancestry or earlier?

The doctor shook his head.

"Prehistoric man," he said, "was rather a happy-go-lucky soul. It is true, he was something of a cannibal. He killed readily. Unquestionably he often killed wantonly, but as big game hunters do now—and consider it sportsmanship.

"There is a distinction between murder, for murder's sake, and sportsmanship.

"Apart from the fact that we want rats exterminated and sheep protected, the dog which kills rats is not in a class with the dog which pulls down and mangles sheep, in senseless piles of mutton, from pure love of slaughter. Rats are active, hard to catch and capable of some resistance; they take killing. Sheep are helpless and wholly unoffending."

"PRIMITIVE MAN," added the veteran anthropologist, "is not extinct. He exists yet in undeveloped Australia.

"And many an experienced Australian pioneer is chary of trusting himself alone in the company of an armed aboriginal without keeping an extremely watchful eye upon his companion, even though the latter may be friendly, lest some unexpected opportunity inspire an equally sudden impulse in the savage to let fly at him, for the mere fun of knocking something over.

"But that's the sporting instinct.

"Prehistoric man unquestionably did have his abnormal killers, but they must have been pretty speedily hunted down and killed, in turn, by their fellows—as we treat ours today, for that matter."

MAY NOT profit be the multiple-killer's principal motive—and murder simply his idea of the most convenient way of disposing, subsequently, of those he has plundered.

"It's the other way about," answered Dr. Hrdlicka.

"The lust to kill for killing's sake, where it exists, is an animal urge—an urge, as I have said, as frequent among the lower animals as among men, or more so. As such, it is far more powerful than any lust for profit, which, after all, is artificial. Early man was not provident, nor are the lower animals.

"The lust to kill comes first. In modern man, the lust for profit, a later development, is incidental."

IS THE multiple-killer of the gangster type akin to the Powers model?

"Oh, no," said the scientist, with marked emphasis.

"The gangster regards himself as engaged in a kind of warfare. He is not even, necessarily, a very bad type of criminal."

"AGES OF civilization and social relationships," concluded the doctor, "have created around most of us something in the nature of a restraining envelope of conventions and taboos—musts and must nots.

"It is a strong enough envelope to hold the average man inside it.

"Occasionally, however, some individual happens to be slipped into a weaker one than usual, or perhaps his instincts and impulses and urges are so exceptionally strenuous that they burst through, despite its strength—and then we have an abnormal personality. But not a lunatic."

OPPORTUNITY FOR GENIUS

There is fame and fortune awaiting the clever genius who first devises a system of handwriting that is easy and speedy to write and can not possibly be misread. It would fulfill a need long felt in every branch of commerce and industry.

While the typewriter has banished illegibility from business communications and most business records, handwriting has not been entirely dispensed with, much to the regret of the efficiency expert and all whose duty it is to read accurately the penmanship of others.

Merchants and their bookkeepers constantly complain of the difficulty of deciphering the scribbling on the sales sheets of their sales people upon which they must depend in keeping their inventories and accounts up to date. In industry the records of shipping clerks, inspectors, timekeepers and foremen are usually little short of illegible.

Public school courses probably place too little stress on penmanship, but a good penman cannot keep pace with the high speed methods of modern enterprise and keep his writing easily legible at the same time. The fault is not so much the human element but the alphabet.

Obviously, the solution lies in the invention of a brand-new alphabet by which even careless and hurried persons can learn to write fast and unmistakable records.

Germany Buys Wheat Supply

Agreement For Sale Is Made Public; 7,500,000 Bushels Involved; Purchase Is Said To Bear 4 1-2 Interest

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP) — The farm board today reached an agreement for sale of 7,500,000 bushels of wheat to Germany.

Negotiations have been going on for several days.

The sale means the board has disposed of 82,500,000 bushels of the huge store of grain acquired during stabilization operations.

Brazil was given 25,000,000 in exchange for 1,650,000 bags of coffee and China bought 15,000,000 bushels outright. The amount of wheat sold at seaboard has been estimated at 35,000,000 bushels.

The farm board has not made public the amount of wheat it has left, but unofficial estimates placed this at a few million bushels below 200,000,000.

Chairman Stone of the board refused until today to comment on the German negotiations.

A previous German offer for about 25,000,000 bushels of the wheat was rejected.

The announcement today said the purchase, bearing 4 1-2 per cent interest and maturing December 31, 1934, was guaranteed by the German government.

Delivery is to be made at the average rate of 833,333 bushels per month and there are provisions for the increase of the monthly quota if the Germans desire it.

Hillsboro Farmer Killed By Lightning While In Field

HILLSBORO, Sept. 11. (AP)—R. W. Grigsby, a farmer, was killed by lightning yesterday while picking cotton in a field south of here.

Three youths were shocked when lightning struck a cotton wagon in the Peoria community.

Mrs. Mollie Huffhines was shocked as she stood near an open window at her home near Ennis.

Lightning fired a 3,000-barrel oil tank on the property of the Magnolia company at Corsicana and a barn near Streetman.

Time Is Allowed For Brief Filing

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 11. (AP) — Five days were allowed for the preparation of adidtional briefs in connection with a bill in equity attacking the new state peddlers license law following a hearing before a tribunal of judges in federal district court here today.

Assistant Attorney General Hooper, making the closing argument for the state, declared it was his belief that the state legislators had not realized the effect of the law under the terms in which it is written.

"I think the prime purpose of the measure was to secure additional revenue," Hooper said, "and not to regulate the operations of firms and individuals classified under the law as peddlers. The attorney general's office is anxious to place a common sense construction on the terms of the law."

The hearing was conducted before a tribunal consisting of Federal Circuit Judge J. C. Hutcheson, jr., of New Orleans, Federal District Judge T. M. Kennerly of Houston and Federal District Judge Duval West of San Antonio. The bill in equity was filed by R. E. Haggard, distributor for the Grandma Cookie company, the Jenner Manufacturing company and the Texas Allied Distributors association, naming the State of Texas, Attorney General Allred, the state comptroller and others as defendants.

Red River Toll Bridge Is Closed; Free Bridge Open

The state-owned free bridge, which parallels the toll bridge, has been serving travelers since its opening. The toll bridge charged 45 cents for each vehicle using the structure.

United States And Russia Cited In League Assembly

GENEVA Switzerland, Sept. 11 (AP)—Salvador de Madariaga, Spanish ambassador to the United States, today told the league of Nations assembly that world disarmament never can be realized so long as the United States and Russia remain aloof from "international guarantees of security."

Neutrality in time of war no longer is possible, he said, and every nation, whether they are members of the League of Nations or not, shares in the lot of all other countries whether in time of peace or in time of war.

Howard County Fair Is To Be Held On October 1 To 3

BIG SPRING, Sept. 11—The dates for the Howard County fair have been set for October 1, 2 and 3.

Catalogues announcing premiums have been mailed to practically every farmer in Howard county and special meetings are being held to arrange community exhibits. The displays are expected to be better than in previous years, due to the large amount of goods canned by the farmers of this county. More than 95,000 cans have been sold here for canning purposes outside of the cans of goods put up in glass jars. It is estimated that three times as much produce has been canned here this year than ever before.

More than 100,000 American motorcycles are being ridden in Europe this summer.

PINCH of BLACK-DRAUGHT after meals

"I had three spells of indigestion, one after another," writes Mr. John M. Creps, 902 Charles Ave., N. Charlotte, N. C. "I suffered a lot of pain. My back ached and I had pains in my stomach frequently. It felt like my breath was cut off in my chest. I was bothered this way for about a year. A friend asked me to try Black-Draught. I began by taking a pinch of Black-Draught after each meal and found that I soon got relief. We keep Black-Draught all the time."

International Sunday School Lesson

General Topic: SOME MISSIONARY EXPERIENCES

Scripture Lesson: Acts 14:8-23

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday school lesson for Sept. 13, 1931:

Acts 14:8. And at Lystra there sat a certain man, impotent in his feet, a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked.

9. The same heard Paul speaking: who, fastening his eyes upon him, and seeing that he had faith to be made whole.

10. Said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped up and walked.

11. And when the multitude saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voice, saying in the speech of Lystraonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12. And they called Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul, Mercury, because he was the chief speaker.

13. And the priest of Jupiter whose temple was before the city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice with the multitudes.

14. But when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of it, they rent their garments, and sprang forth among the multitude, crying out

15. And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and bring you good tidings, that ye should turn from these vain things unto a living God, who made the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all that in them is:

16. Who in the generations gone by suffered all the nations to walk in their own ways.

17. And yet he left not himself without witness, in that he did good and gave you from heaven rains and fruitful seasons, filling your hearts with food and gladness.

18. And with these sayings scarce restrained they the multitudes from doing sacrifice unto them.

19. But there came Jews thither from Antioch and Iconium; and having persuaded the multitudes, they stoned Paul, and dragged him out of the city, supposing that he was dead.

20. But as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and entered into the city: and on the morrow he went forth with Barnabas to Derbe.

21. And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antioch,

22. Confirming the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that through many tribulations we must enter into the kingdom of God.

23. And when they had appointed for them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they had believed.

Golden Text: Blessed are they that have been persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. — Matt. 5:10.

Time: A. D. 48 and 49.

Place: Iconium, Lystra, and Derbe, going eastward. The return through the same cities, then to Antioch of Pisidia, south to Pamphylia, and back by sea to Antioch of Syria.

INTRODUCTION

That the gods visit the earth in human form is one of the oldest and commonest beliefs of the ethnic religions. Greek poetry and legend are full of it. Homer's Iliad, for example. Inscriptions recently discovered in the vicinity of Lystra show that Zeus (Jupiter) and Hermes (Mercury) were preeminently gods of the place. A myth also was current that these two divinities had once visited the Lystrians in disguise. Such a miracle and such speech must surely be of gods. And they prepare to worship Paul and Barnabas.

That they identified the latter with Jupiter and Paul with Mercury (v. 12) interests us exceedingly, for it gives us a hint as to the personal appearance of the two missionaries. We visualize Barnabas therefore, as a large, handsome, benign, quiet man—like the king of the gods; Paul, as small, slight, nervous, talkative—like Mercury, the errand boy and spokesman of the Greco-Roman pantheon. But when the apostles learned of it" (v. 14), of these preparations to do them divine honors, they naturally were horrified.

PAUL AND BARNABAS IN ICONIUM

"The authentic records give us few clear facts concerning the sojourn of Paul and Barnabas at Iconium. They remained here for some time. Their testimony was confirmed by miracles and 'signs.' They converted numerous Jews and Greeks. But the Jews who had remained unbelievers incited the mass of the people against the 'brethren.' The people were divided into two factions, the one siding with the Jews, the other supporting the new church. A tumult broke out; armed with clubs and stones, the crowd marched to the house where the apostles were eating. They were in danger of being flogged and stoned to death, but were able to escape. They took refuge five leagues to the southeast, in the little town of Lystra in Lycaonia. Here they were sure of finding few Jews and a semi-barbarous country, which they would open to the gospel."—Emilio Bossmann.

LYSTRA—ANCIENT AND MODERN

"The thousands in the populous Lystra of old have dwindled to a bare three hundred, counting men, women and little children. Of the temple and monuments and theatres of old scarcely a trace can be seen. Every house in modern Lystra, with the exception of the mosque, which is a poor little affair without even a minaret, is a one-story hovel of mud or stone, in which an American would scarcely think it fit to stable his horses. All that one sees today of the site of ancient Lystra is a hillside covered with fragments of broken marble and a few larger stones, scarcely one of them in the position where it was originally placed, for Lystra, like most of those ancient cities, has served as a quarry for the neighboring villages.

AN EAGER LISTENER BLESSED vs. 9, 10

"The same heard Paul speaking." The Greek verb implies by its tense that the lame man heard Paul preach repeatedly. "Who fastening his eyes upon him." The verb is common with St. Luke, and is used several times of St. Paul, as in Acts 13:9, where he fixes his gaze on Elymas, and Acts 23:1, where he attentively beholds the council. "And seeing that he had faith to be made whole." He would judge from the cripple's eager attention and the lighting up of his face when Paul spoke of the Saviour and his healing of the sick. "Said with a loud voice." Paul shouted the command, both to arouse the cripple to the fullest exertion of his faith, and to draw to the miracle the attention of all the crowd. "Stand upright on thy feet." Note the nervous energy of the command. "Stand up on your feet! Stand straight!" "And he leaped up and walked." Compare the cripple whom Peter healed at the Beautiful Gate of the temple: "Leaping up, he stood, and began to walk." (Acts 3:8).

GOD IN HUMAN FORM, vs. 11, 12

"The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men." The appearance of gods in human form was not altogether unexpected in heathen antiquity. Twice had Zeus (Jupiter) and Hermes (Mercury) been supposed to visit Lycaonia. The healing of the lame man convinced the people of Lystra that these gods had again vouchsafed to come among them."—Prof. F. J. Foakes-Jackson.

"And they called Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul Mercury, because he was the chief speaker." Barnabas was probably taller than Paul, and more majestic, conforming to their ide of the "father of the gods." Mercury, the herald of the gods, was the god of oratory and also the god of medicine. Paul's evident oratorical power and the cure of the cripple which he had just accomplished likened him to Mercury on two counts.

GOD IN NATURE, v. 17

"And yet he left not himself without witness." God would not have been a loving Father if he had not given to all men, Jews and Gentiles alike, as much knowledge of God and of God's ways as each was prepared to receive. "In that he did good." The natural world is full of proof of God's goodness. "And gave you from heaven rains and fruitful seasons, filling your hearts with food and gladness." Jupiter Pluvius was the heathen god of rain; Paul pointed them to the true Jupiter Pluvius. Paul's plea to this heathen audience is much like his reasoning before a very different heathen assembly, that on Mars' Hill in Athens: compare Acts 17:23-31.

"The world is full of God. He is immanent in the universe. Lift up your eyes, stretch out your hands. He is near you, on every side of you. He is here as really and truly as the light, the gravity, the electricity which fill this room though you cannot see them."—Rev. Henry Van Dyke, D. D.

THE STONING OF PAUL, vs. 19, 20

The mode of attempted execution was Jewish, and shows that those who instigated the attack led also in the final outrage. Barnabas may have been absent from the city or in another part of it, or he may not have been so aggressive as Paul and so have escaped the enmity of the Jews. "And dragged him out of the city." If Lystra had been a Jewish city, it would have been illegal to stone any one inside the city limits. How all this must have recalled to Paul the tragedy of Stephen (see Acts 7:57, 58), something of the evil he had done before he became a Christian; "Supposing that he was dead." The apostle was left by the very men who worshipped him but yesterday as a god—left to die as a villain outside the city gates."—C. H. Spurgeon.

THE RETURN JOURNEY, vs. 21-23

"They returned to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antioch." They returned over their course, going westward, and taking the cities in reversed order. On the return journey the missionaries were able to spend some time preaching in Perga, where they do not seem to have labored on their first visit. From Perga they went to Attalia, a seaport of Pamphylia, where they found a ship for Antioch of Syria, from which they had set out on this glorious pioneer missionary tour. There they called the church together and made their report. They had much to relate. Cyprus had been evangelized and Christianity had been planted in the distant inland region of Asia Minor. Churches of great promise had been soundly established. Many converts among the Jews had been made, and especially the Gentiles had proved warmly receptive of the gospel. They had endured many hardships, but we may be sure that these were lightly touched upon, if they were mentioned at all. This first missionary report was one long paean of praise to God and to his Son Jesus Christ.

Druggists Find New Way To Stop Headaches

Realizing that no one drug can conquer all headaches, as they come from so many causes, two North Carolina druggists developed a combination of several ingredients which function together, giving three-minute, safe relief for any kind of headache, neuralgic, sciatic or rheumatic pain, quiets the nerves and leaves you normally buoyant, without depression or bad after effects.

This combination of pain relieving ingredients, so efficient for women also at special times, may be found at any drug store or soda fount under the name "B-C" (10c and 25c) ready for use in easing pains and quieting nerves in three minutes. "B-C" is the most amazing preparation of its kind ever discovered and is guaranteed harmless. (Adv.)

Poker Debt Is Trouble Cause

Five Men Are Being Held On A Forgery Count In El Paso; $5,000 Draft Cashed By Men With $400 Check

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, Sept. 11.—Five men were charged with forgery here today on complaint of L. O. McMillan, wealthy Tyler, Tex., oil man. They were Ray C. Stiff, J. L. Scott, E. D. Hobbs, Sam Turner and Bob Davis. McMillan said he gave a check for $400 at Hobbs, N. M., to cover losses in a poker game. Subsequently, this check and a draft for $5,000, on a Tyler bank, were cashed in El Paso.

Signature Traced

Officers believe the signature on the draft was traced from that on the check.

An official of an El Paso bank went to Carlsbad, N. M., to see if he could identify several men under arrest there as those who cashed the draft.

Legislature

through which cotton is shipped.

"I have not lost my equilibrium and there is no influence in Texas that can make me loose it. I am against the Long plan but I do favor cotton acreage reduction legislation."

The first blow struck at the Long plan came today when the house refused to instruct a special subcommittee assigned to handle the cotton acreage control bills to report back two bills—one to embody the Long plan and the other a cotton acreage reduction plan.

Work Completed

A. P. Johnson, chairman of the house sub-committee, said the committee had finished its work on the cotton acreage reduction bill and that he felt confident the governor would approve it, if passed by the legislature.

It would restrict cotton acreage to one-third the cultivated area in 1932 and prohibit planting acreage of cotton in successive years. A penalty of $25 per acre for acreage planted in cotton in violation of the law would be assessed with venue in the county where the farm was located. The attorney general and district and county attorneys were charged with enforcement of the law. They will receive ten per cent of all penalties collected.

In addition to the $25 per acre forfeiture which was classed as a civil penalty, persons violating the law would be subject to prosecution for misdemeanor and subject to a fine of $5, to $5,000 and imprisonment in jail not to exceed ninety days.

The bill provided that unless states producing three-fourths of the cotton enact laws calling for similar or greater reductions, the penalty and civil forfeiture provisions would be void. The bill gave the governor authority to "proclaim said fact on or before the last of January, 1932."

Cotton

Rallies Follow Opening Decline

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11 (AP)—Cotton failed to develop any great degree of activity today and prices fluctuated erratically.

With Liverpool lower than due at the start, the market here opened 3 to 4 points down and soon showed losses of 4 to 5 points. Later, the market rallied on fair trade buying stimulated by expectations of some action favorable to restrictions on next year's production, on a reported good demand for spots and only limited hedge selling.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—An opening decline in cotton today was followed by rallies on trade buying and covering.

After selling off to 6.68 at the start, December rallied to 7.01, or 13 points net higher, but offerings increased at this figure and there were reactions later under increased southern selling. December closed at 6.92 with the general market closing barely steady at net advances of 1 to 3 points.

Asks For Death

In his closing sentences District Attorney Price asked that the defendant "pay with his life" for the life he had taken from Jay C. White.

Judge Gordon B. McBride called the court to order at 10:30 and read to the jury the charges in the case. These included the regular charges of murder with malice aforethought, or without malice, negligent homicide, a plea of self defense and a special charge in which the element of mercy through a suspended sentence could be passed by the jury.

W. W. Price, county attorney and special state prosecutor, was the first speaker, consuming half an hour for the state. "He might have made a threat, but he did not carry it out," Mr. Price pointed out in a discussion of the testimony in the case. He also stated that after the 21st of January of this year, there were no more threats on the part of the deceased, as shown by witnesses for both sides.

Determine Facts

"It is your duty to determine the facts," D. J. Brookerson, Benjamin, old time friend of the defendant and his attorney, said. "Take the evidence as it was introduced under the instructions of the court."

After pointing out some of the things brought out in the testimony, Mr. Brookerson said. "I am here today to plead for the enforcement of law. The right of self defense is one of the most sacred rights given to man. The instinct of self preservation has been developed through our laws."

"The burden of proof is on the state to show that the allegations of the indictments are correct," he added. He mentioned the fact that when the daughter of the dead man was on the witness stand he did not cross-examine her.

Price Last Heard

For an hour and a half Mr. Brookerson spoke, closing his address about ten minutes of one o'clock.

District Attorney Price made the closing argument. The afternoon session was a little late in starting, it being 2:15 o'clock before the jury came out of its room. An even larger crowd than at the morning session, was present.

"Human life in Texas is today the cheapest thing under the shining sun," the district attorney declared in his opening remarks.

"The issue in this case is what caused J. C. White's life to be lashed out on that early Sabbath morning," the district attorney said as he reviewed the pleas of the defense attorney on self defense, threats and actual and apparent danger. He also discussed malice aforethought.

Wounds Described

The wounds on the dead man were described by the prosecutor, who then quoted what witnesses testified were the words of Bonds as he stood and looked at his victim behind the counter of the restaurant, "you double-crossed me."

"This is one of the most brutal, this is one of the most cold-blooded murder cases ever written upon the books of Terry county," Mr. Price said in his plea for the supreme penalty.

The court room was still throughout the entire series of talks. Judge McGuire did not have occasion to caution the crowd to be still and not to stage any demonstrations.

Mother Present

Behind the defendant sat his aged mother and his wife. On the other side of counsel's table, facing the jury, sat Mrs. J. C. White, the widow of the slain man. She was dressed in black and for the most part sat facing the jury. At times she gave way to her emotion, as did the aged mother of the defendant and his wife. At other times the women were calm and composed.

Parking space around the court house square was at a premium all day. First cars around the building were parked by 7 o'clock in the morning. County officials who arrived before 8 o'clock, the usual time to start business, found the court room well filled. There were no available seats long before the scheduled time to open court, 9 a. m.

Many persons at noon did not leave the room. Relatives and friends brought them food and drink from nearby drug stores and restaurants. Others went out and ate hurried meals, returning within ten or fifteen minutes after they had left the building.

Following the retirement of the jury to its room, the crowd remained in the court room, most of the persons anticipating a lengthy stay before a verdict was reached.

Average Of 90 Principal Stocks On Market Close Day's Session In Gain

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—For the first time since September 1 the average of 90 principal stocks today closed with a net gain.

Small though the advance was, the interruption to a ten day decline relieved some of the tension in market circles which had been expecting a technical reversal of trend.

Once again the market opened promisingly, only to fall back when liquidation was resumed in a number of important issues. Good support for U. S. Steel, American can and a few other favorites, however, eventually stiffened resistance elsewhere and the list rose, slowly and quietly during the afternoon as shorts covered.

New lows for General Electric, Westinghouse, General Motors, International Harvester, Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, Southern Pacific and Northern Pacific carried forebodings of a wider break while the market was taking its forenoon dip.

Heavy rains fell in the Corsicana sector Thursday night. Accompanying winds bashed in plate glass windows in the Corsicana business district.

Temple reported rains ranging from one half inch to an inch fell in Bell and adjoining Central Texas counties Thursday night and yesterday. Cotton was undamaged and picking was slowed only temporarily. The precipitation broke a 90 days drouth.

At Paris the fall was less than an inch. No crop damage was reported.

In most sections the rains were accompanied by wind and electrical storms.

Wheeler Jury Fails To Get Verdict In Trial Of Pryor

WHEELER, Sept. 11. (AP)—After deliberating throughout the day, the jury in the murder case of Clarence Pryor retired tonight after failing to reach a verdict.

Pryor, young Shamrock road worker, is accused of shooting to death his 82-year-old father-in-law, Dr. W. W. Guyton, near his Shamrock home last July 12.

Anne Lindbergh

stations along tomorrow's route as she sped toward new adventures.

Recalls Experience

Mrs. Lindbergh recalled three lonely nights spent on a plane and I suggested it must have been a trying experience for her.

"One night it really was terribly rough," she admitted. "We tossed about all night long. I was never actually scared. Charles said then and afterward, too, that we ourselves were never in any real danger."

Anne pictured their cramped position in the two cockpits of the tubular fuselage of the plane, saying:

Had Catnaps

"We weren't exactly comfortable, but with the aid of blankets we managed to keep warm, with catnaps at intervals."

She related the arrival of the steamship Shimushiru Maru at daylight after they had spent their first night off Ketoi Island. The Lindberghs went aboard immediately to stretch their limbs.

Here Anne began recalling the cordial hospitality of the Kuriles and everywhere in Japan, and said she was leaving with regret, when the colonel bounded in just from Kasumigaura, all smiles.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Sept. 11 (AP)—Demand for wheat was much better on the cash grain market today with the trade particularly anxious for protein wheat. Exporters were bidding 47 1-2@48 1-2c for wheat delivered Texas gulf ports and were taking everything offered at the advance.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads:

Wheat, delivered Texas gulf export rate or group three points: No. 1 ordinary hard 50@51 1-2c; No. 1 hard 14 per cent protein 53 1-2@54 1-2c; 15 per cent protein 54@55 1-2c; 16 per cent 55 1-2@57c.

Corn, delivered gulf export or group 3: No. 2 mixed 41@43c; No. 2 white 42@44c; No. 2 yellow 40@41c.

Oats, delivered group three: No. 2 red 23 1-2@24 1-2c.

Barley, delivered gulf export or group three: No. 2, 33@35c.

Sorghums, delivered gulf export or group three: No 2 milo per 100 pounds 77@81c; No. 2 kaffir 80@83c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Lively price bulges in all grains today accompanied news that 7,500,000 bushels of United States government financed wheat had been sold to Germany. Wheat finished at virtually the day's topmost figures, influenced also by threshing returns showing that domestic spring wheat this season gave the smallest yield per acre ever known. Estimates were current that exporters took 2,000,000 bushels of North American wheat yesterday, including a good sized percentage of domestic hard winter grades.

Wheat closed strong, 1 1-3@1 3-4 cents up, corn 3-8@1 1-2 advanced, oats at 3-8@1 3-8 gain, and provisions 2 to 20 cents higher.

New Year

shall it be unto you'," said Mr. Pearl. "Tradition has it that on this day the world was created, hence the day is called Rosh Hashono in Hebrew, which means the beginning of the year. It is celebrated by congregating together and proclaiming Jehovah king of the Universe.

Horn Is Blown

"During the morning services, a specially treated animal horn, preferably that of a ram to remind the congregation of the animal used for a sacrifice instead of his son Isaac, is blown," he said. "In the event the first day of the New Year comes on Saturday, as it does this year, the horn is not blown until the second day of the services.

"The Rabbis tell us that on the first day of the New Year three books are opened in Heaven; those known to be righteous are inscribed on the book of life at once; those known to be wicked are inscribed on the book of death, and those belonging to neither of the above classes, who are given ten days in which to repent and better their ways, are inscribed in the third book. On the tenth day, known as Yom Kippur, or Day of Atonement, is observed a fast of 24 hours. The entire day is spent in the synagogue, or place of worship and the time devoted to prayer."

Day of Atonement services also will be held at Hotel Lubbock. They will be conducted Sunday evening and Monday morning.

No Oil Troubles Here

The southwest may be having its oil troubles, but not Pennsylvania, which has been producing oil for 72 years. The upper picture shows the owner of a well in western Pennsylvania, sitting placidly in her favorite chair as the well pumps away in her front yard near a cemetery. Below Samuel Smith seated beside the first oil well in the world, near Titusville, Pa., which he helped drill.

BODY IS FOUND

UVALDE Sept. 11 (AP)—The body of J. Weinstein, a San Antonio peddler, was found here today hanging from the rear of a truck. The body was sent to San Antonio for burial. It was learned he was en route to El Paso, but lack of funds forced him to halt here.

FOUR WOUNDED

DOYLESTOWN, Wis., Sept. 11 (AP)—Four men were wounded, two seriously, when two gunmen shot their way to freedom late today after holding up an robbing the Doylestown State bank of approximately $1,500.

PROBLEM SERIOUS

WASHINGTON Sept 11 (AP)—Federal officials in close touch with the unemployment situation believe that while the problem of preventing distress next winter is serious it presents no occasion for public alarm.

More than 20,000 decreased persons are now cremated in the United States every year.

Large enough to supply 3,000 portions, the world's greatest apple pie recently made at Birmingham, England, was 12 feet long, 10 feet wide, two feet deep and contained 450 pounds of apples, 150 pounds of flour, 50 pounds of lard and 28 pounds of sugar.

Pageant of Pekin", to the Roman riding which rang down the curtain of the circus proper, those myriads of acts were rolled off in orderly manner and to the apparent satisfaction of the cash customers.

Before the show there were some skeptics who sniffed at the billing "The Great Gretonas", four men and two women from the Wintergarden in Berlin. But those who viewed the Uhlans, in breath taking, death-defying feats upon the high wire, went home thoroughly convinced that the Gretonas are really great.

Not withstanding that Lubbock circus fans have been privileged to view the one and only Lillian Leitzel; not withstanding the fact that the "Flying Wards" of the Hagenbach-Wallace circus have worked to thunderous applause of South Plains citizens, this section has never seen an act which approaches the thrills and the wonders of "The Great Gretonas", who, scorning a net, performed "seeming impossible feats" on the wire, exactly as advertised.

Stark Act Is Feature

Mabel Stark, admittedly the world's leading woman wild animal subjugator, with 15 (not 17) Royal Bengal tigers bowing to her every whim, made the spectators forget Clyde Beatty, of Hagenbach's, who today commands more publicity than any 'cat trainer' under the big tops. Miss Stark's performance with the most treacherous of all beasts, was another high point of the performances.

No one has ever questioned the claim of the Barnes circus to have "the world's greatest collection of trained horses". Those equine stars were here yesterday, forty strong, together with trapeze artists, clowns, tightrope walkers, elephants—and everything that goes to make a circus a circus—even to the smell.

Accident Is Averted

Early in the showing of the night performance grim tragedy stalked the merry atmosphere of the big tent but as luck would have it, was cheated from its prey. High over the second ring, in front of the reserved seat sections, Miss Billy Mae was performing on a trapeze. No net was between her and the tanbark.

Petite, graceful as a swan and without the bulging muscles which usually go with the trapeze performer, Miss Mae went through first one and then another of her tricks, hanging by her knees, by one foot then turning somersaults. Between stunts with her grip firm on the bar, she swung far over the audience—then fate played its hand.

Worn Rope Breaks

A worn trapeze rope, nearing the end of the season, suddenly broke and the actress found herself gripping the bar, now vertical and connected at only one end. Attendants immediately stopped her swing, she slid to the ground safely, but not until a thousand gasps split the dusty air.

Perhaps it was the yawning 'open spaces' in the big tent which made the faithful 5,000 feel conspicuous last night and perhaps it was plain reticence. But for some reason or other members of the audience were content to spend the evening "sitting on their hands", to borrow a show phrase. Only The Gretonas, Miss Stark and a few other performers commanded generous applause, although by no means were they the only ones deserving it. To leave the more unusual acts to consider one not so thrilling, the superb riding of Mark Smith, chief horse trainer, was enough to draw applause even from an assemblage of Eskimos.

Menagerie Good One

The Barnes show didn't have as many elephants as some large circuses carry. It had a hippopotamus, although but nothing was said about its sweating blood. But the circus did have the largest assemblage of "cats'—lions, tigers, pumas and jaguars—that have ever been seen here under one tent. The menagerie, as claimed, was a complete traveling zoo.

No unusual events marred Lubbock's lone Circus Day. There was no disorder, no evidences of petty thievery or pocket-picking as were part of a circus in the dear, dead days of the late nineties. The circus came, satisfied a sprinkling of amusement-hungry thousands then vanished, as circuses do, to the call of the road.—C. A. G.

He Loves His Spinach

Here indeed is a rara avis. Though normal in other respects, little Billie Ziegler, 3rd, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ziegler, Jr., of Saratoga, N. Y., has an over fondness for spinach. But there's a catch in it, for "Spinach" is the name of Ziegler's crack 4-year-old racer, which he hopes will give a good account of himself during the current season at the Saratoga track. Photo shows Billie and Clyde Phillips, trainer, feeding "Spinach" a carrot.

New Mexico Governor Asks Aid To Curb Oil Imports

SANTA FE, N. M., Sept. 11 (AP)—Governor Arthur Seligman of New Mexico has enlisted the support of the governors of all other oil producing states to an appeal to President Hoover for an at least temporary prohibition of foreign oil imports because of reported increases in oil importation since the oil field shut down in Oklahoma and Texas.

Governors Huey P. Long of Louisiana, W. H. Murray of Oklahoma; Harry Woodring, of Kansas and Ross Sterling of Texas have telegraphed Governor Seligman that they will join in this new appeal against imported oil. Governor Harvey Parnell of Arkansas has not replied.

Republicans And Democrats Opposed To Tax Revisions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP) — Both Republican and Democratic opposition roared forth today against the movement for tax revision inaugurated by some administration Republicans.

On the White House steps Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican leader, pronounced the proposals for new and higher taxes at this time "a mistake."

Through the Democratic national committee, Senator Harrison of Mississippi, ranking Democrat on the finance committee, tonight asserted of all times this is the most worst for men in high places to talk about increasing burdens on the American public.

Four Killed, 13 Injured In Explosion At Kodak Plant

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP). —An explosion in the kodak park plant of the Eastman Kodak company today caused the death of four men and injury to 13 others. Two of the injured were not expected to live. The explosion shook the northern section of the city.

Quick precautions against fire following the blast almost certainly avoided an appalling death list, investigating officials said. Highly inflammable gases and materials, if ignited, would have hampered the exit of the 75 employes who left the building in a near-panic.

Solution Of Piracy Affair No Nearer; Story Accented

MINEOLA, N. Y., Sept. 11. (AP)—Minute study of clues, hours of patient questioning and painful reenactment of a tragic scene on board the yacht Penguin failed to bring a solution today of the Long Island pirate mystery in which Benjamin P. Collings, wealthy Stamford, Conn., man, is missing.

The day brought acceptance of the story told by his wife, Mrs. Lillian Collings; and announcement from District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards of Nassau county that, "fantastic as it seems," he believed it.

Taxation Now Is Being Felt

Chancellor Snowden's Measure For Producing Revenue For Nation's Deficit Goes Into Force Friday

LONDON, Sept. 11. (AP) — Phillip Snowden's emergency taxation measures, producing $202,500,000 in additional revenue, went into force today as the British people from Mayfair to Limehouse cinched up their belts for the sake of national solvency.

Cabinet members, school teachers, policemen and other government employes and the unemployed faced with resignation the fact that their remuneration would be sliced on October 1 to effect a savings in administrative expenses of $350,160,000. The defense services, education and the road fund will contribute to this figure.

Of all the drastic changes discussion centered chiefly around the measure increasing the tax on income to about $1.25 on $5, of 25 per cent. The exemption limit for married men was reduced from $1,125 to $750 and for single men from $675 to $500. Allowances for children were cut from $300 to $250 for the first child and $250 to $200 for succeeding ones.

The house of commons, after listening to Chancellor Snodwen's speech, agreed to the tax resolution and set next Tuesday for debate on the budget. This is in accordance with custom which dictates that the government's budget proposals must be given immediate effect and the challenge must come later.

The labor party gave notice of a motion to reject the economy bill and condemn the government's scheme to make it effective by orders in council, declaring the proposals will deprive the masses of the necessities of life while others remain in enjoyment of luxuries and will aggravate unemployment by restricting the purchase power of wage earners."

Unidentified Mexican Man Instantly Killed By Deputy

VICTORIA, Sept. 11. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Richard A. Rogan shot and killed an unidentified Mexican man here today. He said he fired in self-defense.

Rogan and H. A. Lawrence, county tax collector, were searching for two prisoners who escaped from the county jail last night and halted the Mexican and another man for questioning.

One of the men fired a pistol at Rogan, but the bullet jammed in the barrel. Rogan said he shot the Mexican and the other man fled.

The two prisoners who escaped were Leon Garlaska, 20, of Beaumont, who was arrested on car theft charges, and a man charged with a misdemeanor.

Rise In Price Of Oil Given As Saving Grace For Company

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11. (AP) — J. B Orr, treasurer of the Shamrock Oil and Gas co., said today that approval given by nearly all of the bondholders of the company to a refinancing plan and the rise in price of East Texas oil had saved the company from liquidation and loss of a portion of its gas properties. Orr said the rise in price of East Texas crude to 2 cents a barrel had made refinancing unnecessary, but the plan was carried out as arranged. All indebtedness has been paid.

As Portugese Troops Quelled Rebel Outbreak

It was an unexpected introduction to real warfare for cadets of the Lisbon Military School when, as shown above, Portuguese federal troops built barricades outside the walls of the institution during recent fighting against rebel forces. Nearly 50 persons were killed and 260 wounded in the Portuguese capital's most serious revolutionary outbreak in recent years. The troops seen in this picture were loyal soldiers under command of General Antonio Carmona, who quelled the uprising after a series of fierce street battles.

Testimony Ends In Negro Trial

CONROE, Sept. 11. (AP)—Submission of testimony in the trial of Isaiah Edwards, 19, negro, charged with killing Constable Tom Beyette near Magnolia August 5, was completed today.

Only two state witnesses were used. The defense offered none.

The case of George Tolson, charged jointly, may be continued. The special venire was exhausted in obtaining the Edwards jury.

B. H. Dulaney, justice of the peace at Deckers Prairie, told of the killing of his friend. Dulaney, himself wounded at the time, said the negroes, handcuffed, were being taken to Conroe on theft charges. Beyette and Dulaney were in the front seat of the automobile; the negroes in the rear. Beyette's pistol, said the justice, dropped from his holster, Edwards seized it and began firing. "the other negro giving all the slack he needed."

These Westerners Are A Determined Lot When An Education Is At Stake

LAST WEEK a young fellow came riding out of the West on a wagon load of beans, determined the beans should help pay his expenses at Texas Technological college.

Yesterday, a young woman came from out of the same territory astride a faithful cow pony and leading a string of nine horses, which she is determined will aid her in learning the finer points about the "three R's", and affiliated letters of the alphabet. The young man swapped the frijoles for three months' board and room; the young woman, who is Virginia Wester of Las Vegas, N. M., is going to trade riding lessons for cash which she plans to use in providing necessities of a college career.

Tanned by New Mexico sunshine, but eager to start out on her college education, the 16-year-old New Mexico girl reported to the college employment bureau yesterday morning and began preparations for locating "her stable" from which she will rent horses for riding during the coming school year. Her 14-year-old brother, Bob, came along to help her with the horses.

Virginia will be a freshman.

Young Girl Learns How To Fly In A Brief Space

QUEENS VILLAGE, N. Y., Sept. If—Charlotte Hodgkinson, the omboy of Queens Village," has en up to something again.

This time she has been up in an rplane—by herself—and after only o hours and 27 minutes of inruction!

But though aviation experts may amazed by her feat, the acquainnces of pretty 19-year-old Charte aren't. It's just another of their onde young neighbor girl's "caps." They just knew she'd "do mething nobody else would try."

And it really was something" hen Charlotte made a solo flight Curtis Airport, Lond Island, afr having had only 147 minutes of aching. An army officer who once w alone after three hours and 20 inutes of instructions, set a record at stood for years.

Always a Dare-devil

Furthermore, Miss Hodgkinson as actually at the controls of the lane, with an instructor beside r, after but 57 minutes of inruction.

So while the aviation world applauds her, neighbors are only mildly impressed. Hadn't Charlotte always been a dare-devil? They recall how at the age of 7, Charlotte was playing on a float when a little playmate of her own age was dragged under water by the tide. Fearlessly Charlotte dived in, drew her friend up by the hair and brought her ashore.

Then recently she climbed out on the wing of a plane at Roosevelt Field, yelled "good night" instead of the parachute jumper's traditional one, two, three—and leaped. It was her first parachute jump.
