

95 Cases On Docket For District Court

Ninety-five cases are now docketed for the fall term of district court, which opens in Wellington November 10, J. McBroome, District Clerk, said this week. The docket is heavier than usual at this time of the year due to the filing of 78 tax suits during the summer months, Mr. McBroome explained.

Of the civil cases on docket, seven were carried over from the last term of court and five divorce and five other civil cases have been filed since the close of the April term. Several other cases will likely be filed before the opening of court, Mr. McBroome predicted.

Mr. McBroome also announced the jury list for the fall term to include the following men:

Grand jurors include: W. S. White, G. M. Stokes, Guy Beasley, R. S. Hudson, T. R. Cunningham, A. V. Jones, O. A. Kiker, Ray Godbey, Jett Roberts, Earl Yarbrough, Ernest Lewis, Fred LeDerer, F. A. Hatch, J. L. O'Hair, E. C. Blevins, and J. E. Walker.

Forbis Wins Insurance Award

John Forbis, Wellington representative of the Southwestern Life Insurance Company, has been judged one of four winners in a contest sponsored recently by the Insurance Salesman Magazine, a publication circulated throughout the nation.

In addition, the prize-winning article written by Mr. Forbis on "Home Interviews" is being published in the October number of the magazine.

Mr. Forbis has represented this company here for the last four years, and last month led the Amarillo district in the number of insurance sales made.

He was notified early this week of his award.

Boyd Williams Breaks Leg In Football Practice

Boyd Williams, former Skyrocket football star, is recovering from a broken right leg received Sept. 27 in football practice at West Texas State College, Canyon, where he is a student.

Williams was confined to a Canyon hospital several days for treatment, but he is now able to attend classes. His leg will be kept in a cast for about six weeks longer.

This accident will force Williams out of football for the remainder of this season. He was a member of the freshman team.

FIRST OF THE LEADER FORCE TO GO TO THE ARMY

is J. K. Porter, compositor in the mechanical department of the paper. He began his work with The Wellington Leader as an apprentice about six years ago. Porter is one of six selectees from this county who will leave Wednesday, October 15, for El Paso for induction into the U. S. Army.

Selectees Named For Draft Call

The six Collingsworth County men who will fill the October 15 draft quota were named this week by Ross Wilkerson, clerk of the local board.

Included are Joseph G. Thomas, Herman D. Armstrong, Sebern Albert Morris, Cleo Ray Crowover, James Kenneth Porter, and Alva Byam Calcote.

The group will leave Wellington at 2 o'clock Wednesday, October 15, for Fort Bliss, El Paso, where they will be inducted into the U. S. Army.

Pate Child Burned By Upset Bucket Of Scalding Water

Heinie Dell Pate, 22-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Pate of Quail, was painfully burned Saturday morning when he upset a bucket of scalding water.

The boy was following his mother, who was dressing a chicken, when he fell against the bucket of water in which the chicken

3 Poultry Raisers Win In Tri-State Event

Three Collingsworth County poultry raisers were winners in the Amarillo Tri-State Fair Poultry Division, it was revealed Thursday, with the publishing of the complete list of winners. The three were Mrs. Guy Clay of Wellington, Floyd Nipper, Route 3, Wellington, and Gene Manzer of Wellington.

Mrs. Clay, who showed Dark Cornish chickens, placed first and second in the cock division; first, second, third and fourth on cockerels; first, second, third, and fourth on hens; fourth, second, third and first on pullets, and first and second on young pens. She was also given an award for having the largest and best display in the English class, for having Confident of victory, the Wellington Skyrockets will meet the Lakeview Eagles here Friday night, October 10, at Rocket Stadium. This will be the Rocket's second conference game.

Considered one of the pluckiest teams in the district, the Eagles, however, are small, since they have only a limited number of men to draw from. Under the direction of Coach E. J. McKnight, they have developed a surprisingly strong team this year, and in their first game of the season defeated Memphis Cyclone 6-2.

In the second team played by the Eagles this year, they held the Turkey Turks to a 0 to 0 tie. Their third try, however, they lost to the powerful McLean Tigers by the one-sided score of 35 to 0.

A small but fast backfield has been given credit for much that the Eagles have accomplished this year, and the Rockets are expecting a livelier skirmish from this team than has been experienced in several years, according to Coach Scott McCall.

With the perfect record of three games won behind them, the Rockets this week showed themselves in top condition. Weak points in both the line and backfield have

Club Booth Is Fair Winner

The educational booth sponsored by the Home Demonstration Clubs of the county at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo was rated as one of the outstanding booths exhibited, and was one of three to be praised by an Amarillo paper describing this section of the Fair.

The booth shown was that exhibited at the Collingsworth County Fair by the Houselog Home Demonstration Club, and which was awarded first place at the local event.

Lois McBroome Transferred To Spearman FSA

Miss Lois McBroome, of the Farm Security Administration office in Wellington, was transferred late last week to Spearman, where she will be in charge of the clerical division of the FSA office of Hansford County.

Miss McBroome has been with the local office for the last two years as a junior typist. She left Wellington Sunday, and began her new work Monday morning.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McBroome.

Miss Motley Is Quail Teacher

Miss Maurine Motley of Hollis, Oklahoma, began work Monday as teacher of commercial subjects in Quail High School. She takes the place of Miss Aubrey Boggs, who resigned recently to accept a similar position at Memphis.

Miss Motley is a graduate of Baylor University. She is a sister of Mrs. J. P. Neal of Wellington.

In addition to her work in the commercial department of the school, Miss Motley will have charge of journalism work and the publishing of the school paper.

Soil District Meetings Begin In County Monday

Red Cross Roll Call Quota Set At $900

Preliminary plans for the most intensive Red Cross Roll Call carried out in this county in more than 20 years were laid Saturday, October 4, when Mrs. Estelle Penry of Fort Worth, a representative of the American Red Cross, met with a group of local residents.

Dewey Ellis, chairman of the Roll Call for the last two years, will again head this year's drive which opens November 11.

The county's quota, highest that it has been in years, was set at $900.

"The people of Collingsworth County have given generously to the cause of national defense, and to other humanitarian causes this year, and we feel that they will support the Red Cross Roll Call with the same fine spirit," Mrs. Penry was assured.

Other chairmen who will assist Mr. Ellis in the Roll Call are B. W. Beard, Junior Roll Call chairman; Cameron Beam, chairman of the business district; Mrs. Walter Campbell, chairman of the residential drive; and Rev. J. E. Kirby, speaking chairman.

Chairmen for the various communities over the county and those who will assist in the drive in Wellington, Dodson, Quail and Samnorwood, will be named in the near future.

During the weeks before the Roll Call Drive opens, speakers will appear before various clubs, churches, schools, and other organizations, explaining the work of the Red Cross, not only in its national phase, but the work of the local chapter as well.

Permanent chairmen of the county chapter of the Red Cross are Dick Wiley, chairman; Mr. Ellis, treasurer; Miss Katherine Boverie, secretary; John Forbis, disaster chairman; Russell Yates, first aid chairman; and Miss Virginia Robey, publicity chairman.

Start Poultry Show Plans Soon

Plans for the Collingsworth County Poultry Show in December will be started in the near future, V. H. Lindsey, show superintendent, announced this week.

Mr. Lindsey stated that a meeting will be called soon, to which all persons interested in the annual poultry show are invited. New officers will be elected at this time, and the place and exact date of the show selected.

Judge of this year's show will be E. F. Curry of Amarillo, one of the Panhandle's outstanding poultry men.

"Since we have begun holding poultry shows here each year, the quality of chickens in the county has been materially raised. In addition to that, many people are raising finer birds this year because of the better information

Letters Praise Defense Edition Of The Leader

Below are four letters received during recent days congratulating The Wellington Leader on its Agriculture In Defense edition issued September 25.

These letters represent not only local readers, but advertisers in the special edition, an editor and a government official.

September 30, 1941

Dear Deskins: I have just received and read with a great deal of interest and satisfaction the special edition of the Wellington Leader dealing with agriculture and defense.

I want to congratulate you on having made a real contribution, not only to national defense, but to everyday agriculture as well.

I liked very much your instructive editorial, and I was also impressed with the article by Cliff Day. I appreciate your giving me

JOHN FORBIS was one of four insurance men of the nation to receive an award from the Insurance Salesman Magazine for articles submitted.

Defense Stamp Drive Opens In City Schools

Students in the Wellington Schools will be given an opportunity to help in a definite way the defense efforts of the nation when the Defense Stamp Drive is conducted from October 15 to 22. This drive is only one phase of the Defense Bond and Stamp Drive which will cover the entire county, later this month.

The drive will also be extended to cover the Samnorwood, Dodson, and Quail schools. In charge of the drive are R. F. Curry and Mrs. Deskins Wells, chairmen.

Aim of the drive is to aid the students in the making of regular savings, and to make them conscious of the aid they are giving their country through buying these stamps.

Mr. Curry will open the local school drive Wednesday, Oct. 15, when he addresses students at the assembly. He is expected to tell the boys and girls the part their dimes and quarters can play in the defense effort, and the method by which the local drive will be conducted.

Stamps will be available to the students at all time. These stamps will be of the 10 cent denomination, and books holding $5 worth of stamps will also be given the children.

At the close of the Defense Stamp Drive week, October 22, an award will be given the room in each school having the best record. This will be determined by the number of stamps bought, and by the number of individual students in each room making purchases, Mrs. Wells said today.

At the close of school $5.00 will be awarded to the rooms having the highest average for the remaining eight months of school

The series of educational meetings, designed to acquaint landowners of the county and all other interested persons with the proposed Soil Conservation District, will begin Monday, October 13, and will continue through Tuesday, October 21, when all persons of the county will have been given an opportunity to hear the discussions.

These meetings precede the elections called for Saturday, October 25, to determine whether or not this county and Donley County shall be organized into a Soil Conservation District.

At the same time, an explanation of the 1942 Farm program will be given by a representative of the AAA office in Wellington.

Schedule for the meetings, each of which will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, was announced today by B. A. Zorns, county agent, and includes the following:

- Samnorwood, Monday, October 13.
- Quail, Tuesday, October 14.
- Wellington, Wednesday, October 15.
- Dodson, Friday, October 17.
- Shinnery, Monday, October 20.
- Abra, Monday, October 20.
- Rolla, Tuesday, October 21.
- Swearingen, Tuesday, October 21.

"These meetings are simply to give out information on the proposed Soil Conservation District. You will hear what will be necessary in order to organize it, and how it will be operated after it is organized, provided the farmers of the county approve it in the election a week from Saturday. These meetings are not to argue for or against the creation of the district. They are to give you the information concerning them in order that you may decide for yourselves whether you want one in Collingsworth County," Mr. Zorns said.

Concerning the explanation of the 1942 farm program, to be discussed at the same time, the local AAA office urged that all farmers, regardless of whether they will be eligible to vote in the Soil Conservation election or not, be present to hear the farm program explanation.

Several changes made in the new program make it necessary for all farmers to be acquainted with the 1942 setup, it was pointed out.

Basketball Season Opens

Basketball, the traditional winter sport of the county's two consolidated high schools, got under way last week when the Quail and Samnorwood boys and girls teams met on the Samnorwood court.

The Quail teams were victors in both events.

These teams will meet for the second time this year Friday of this week, when both boys and girls will play on the Quail court.

This game, one of the highlights of the basketball season for the two schools, is expected to attract a capacity crowd, with fans from the entire northern and western parts of the county attending.

The Quail girls have played one other game this season, winning from Kelton 32 to 8 on their home court.

Merle Walker is coach of the Samnorwood teams this year, while C. R. Brown is coaching the boys team at Quail and J. B. Riddle the girls team.

WHY ON EARTH DO THEY DO IT?

... divide their insurance among a number of agents

Splitting insurance up among several agents may keep a couple of good fellows happy, but it means a grand buck-passing session among the boys if you want some facts. Divided responsibility means divided attention to your needs when the pinch comes.

Moral: Put it up to ONE good agent to take care of your insurance. We're doing it for a lot of pretty substantial people hereabouts.

FORD

"6" OR "8"

IN THESE UNUSUAL TIMES we invite you to inspect an unusual new car—new in its beauty, its comfort, its choice of two fine 90 horsepower engines, 6 cylinders or 8.

See it and you sense at once that here is new style that will stay good for years. On a lower, wider chassis, we have designed new long, low, wide and modern lines.

Interior treatment is entirely fresh, distinctive, pleasing. The beauty of this Ford will more than hold its own in any company.

Inside, the car is big—wide across the seats, generous in knee-room, leg-room, elbow-room.

On the road this year you find the "new Ford ride" still further advanced in its softness, quietness, steadiness and all-round comfort.

At the wheel, you will find driving easier than ever. Steering, gear-shifting, action of the big and sure hydraulic brakes have all been made smoother and easier.

In quality, the car is sound to the last detail. Defense requirements have all been met without a single reduction in the basic and lasting goodness of the Ford mechanically. Some new materials have replaced old ones, usually at a greater cost to us, but in every case the new is equal to or better than the old.

If your family needs a new car, go see and drive this Ford. For what it is today and for what it will be through the years ahead, we believe that you will find in it more and better transportation for your money than you have ever found before.

"THIS BOOK ISN'T WORTH READING
... tear down the Library!"

One bad book doesn't make it a bad library. You wouldn't destroy the library to get rid of a few bad books.

A similar situation holds in the beer industry. The vast majority of beer retailers operate clean, decent law-abiding establishments. Now and then an occasional "black sheep" retailer turns up who violates the law or permits anti-social conditions.

The Beer Industry is now actively working to eliminate such retailers. We want to protect your right to drink good beer and our right to make it.

We also want to protect the economic benefits of beer. Right here in Texas, beer provides employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and contributed $2,273,-68.64 last year in state taxes.

This state, too, has an important stake in Beer's purchases from more than 100 industries supplying the brewing industry with materials, equipment and services.

You, too, can help the cause of moderation by (1) patronizing only the reputable places where beer is sold, and (2) reporting any law violation you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

BEER...a beverage of moderation

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

I want to extend my congratulations to Ben Hurst and Mrs. Guy Clay and all the other people who worked with them for the success of the county fair. It was remarkable considering how late they started. Within the next two or three weeks a meeting will be called to organize for next year. This will iron out certain rough spots that are bound to develop when the work is done in a hurry. The late start was not due to those who did the work. The job was literally dumped in their laps and they were loyal enough to respond. They deserve the thanks of each one of us.

My daughter met me at the train Sunday night so full of enthusiasm over the football game that she forgot to ask if I had brought a present, which I had not. "They were giants, Daddy, but our boys won." This was good news to me, because I had checked up on Chillicothe previously and they have a splendid team. Coach McCall has done a great job in building a splendid team. He has brought out the best in each boy and put it into a whole. It is what you call a team. In some ways I admire these boys more than I did the regional champions of other years, and that, my friends, is quite a bit of admiration.

I have also been tremendously impressed with the play of the Rocket line. Tuesday afternoon, I went out to watch them and saw John Lee drilling them on blocking and defensive tactics. It was fine work if I am any judge. He and Scott McCall make a fine team and they work in harmony that is reflected in the boys.

This Friday we play Lakeview here. Next week the Rockets will journey up to McLean to take on the Tigers. Make your plans now to go to the game. I would not guarantee the outcome, but the McLean fans will know they have been to a football game before it is over.

I had quite a trip going to the

STEER CLEAR OF MAD STEER

When a Brahma steer gets mad, it's time to get out of his way. This cowboy is doing some expert dodging at the Pendleton, Ore., roundup.

State Fair at Dallas. It took hours to get from Electra to Wichita Falls. There the Denver train was routed over the Katy lines. A bridge went out and the train was changed to Rock Island lines and finally we wound up on the Denver at Bowie. In the evening I reached Dallas twelve hours late.

Our train was the last one to pass over a certain section of road. Water was running up to the ties when we pulled over at a snail's pace. The highway was under four feet of water and there were cars and trucks stalled in the middle of it.

I would have been worried sick if I had been driving my own car. Since there was no responsibility on my part for the safe conduct of anyone, I thoroughly enjoyed the trip. The fact that everyone had missed their trains, their appointments or their meetings hours ago brought quite a change. Ordinarily people on a train do not mix and mingle much. They talk to the neighbor in the next seat, read, sleep and sit, but that is about all. This trip was more like a boat ride. Everyone had plenty of time, because they could not do anything about the time. They were as friendly a group of people as you ever saw.

There was an interesting talk with a furniture worker in Houston—a union man who believes in the 40 hour week but who is more than willing to discard it during the national emergency. Another was that with a railroad official—a graduate of A & M in 1904—who thinks the $900,000,000 demand for increased wages will be settled with a slight upward increase.

Naturally I found some editors and publishers. There was Ed Howard, president of the firm that publishes the Wichita Record-News and the Times, and there was Harry Koch of Quanah. It was most interesting to hear them talk. Mr. Howard is one year older than Mr. Koch. He started publishing a handset paper in Wichita Falls in 1891 and Mr. Koch started publishing a paper in Quanah in 1892. At that time Mr. Koch thought that Quanah would be a large city at some time. Today Mr. Howard is a wealthy man and he owns the controlling interest in an outstanding liberal and democratic newspaper that is a valuable property. On the other hand, Mr. Koch while not rich is well to do; but he has a son who invented a cracking process for gasoline and who could buy the Wichita papers, providing they were for sale, and then turn around and make a substantial payment on the Dallas Morning News.

In short both of these men are highly successful—successful in much more than money. Each one of these men have quite different but remarkable qualities of mind, but they are as friendly and as common as an old shoe. They are interested still in people and in ideas. I think this mutual quality is significant. But there are others. Mr. Howard still notices when a light is burning over a desk where no person is working. Mr. Koch still moves a can of gasoline his workmen have set within five feet of the melting pot. These things came out in casual conversation, but I consider them important.

The war came home to roost with every member of The Leader staff this week. J. K. Porter, whom all of us love and respect, received his call to the colors. Quiet, modest, sincere and efficient, "Jackie" has won the esteem and the friendship of every person with whom he has ever worked. By his own perseverance he has become a skilled workman. He has made a good hand, and everybody down here believes that he will make a good soldier. In fact they know it. He knows how to take orders, and he has the determination to carry them out right. Furthermore, all his associates are mighty proud of his fine attitude, and they are certainly cheerful in front of Jackie, but if he steps out to get a cold drink and is once out of sight and hearing, you could cut the gloom with a knife.

All of them know that J. K. has the intelligence to get along fine in the Army, but for us to get along without him is not going to be pleasant. He is a grand boy and we hate to lose him.

In August I wrote that this immediate section had the best crops of any part of Texas. A lot of people thought it was foolish optimism. I have just returned from another trip and again I say that this county and its neighbors have the best crops in the state. There is no need to worry about pickers. There is nothing for them to pick in many parts of the state. They will find out that there is from a half a bale to a bale on each acre in this county. If this clear weather keeps up, we will need 5,000 cotton pickers in the next two weeks. I intend to have Virginia Robey send a story over the state saying that we have the cotton and we need the pickers.

Wondering about the 1942 cars?

Here is Buick's superb solution to the problems posed by making our national defense, as it should be, industrial America's No. 1 job

BUICK BUILDS FOR DEFENSE

Our assignments Build-ing Pratt & Whitney valve-in-head aircraft engines for defense use.

IT WAS no time to duck or dodge the facts. So we didn't try.

Instead we said—these being the materials critical in the defense program, we'll do our planning for 1942 with that foremost in mind.

Not merely for an "acceptable" car—certainly not for any "ersatz" number.

We had to have a real and representative Buick. One we could be proud of. One able enough, active enough, durable enough to serve till annual new models are the rule again.

We resolved on a 1942 automobile of such merit as could carry the Buick reputation without fault until other new Buicks, however far off, could come along to refresh it.

Now we're announcing those 1942 cars.

Why waste words telling you how good they are! You can't put language in the gas tank and learn either how many or how enjoyable are the miles you'll get per gallon.

There's a better answer—you drive these cars themselves. Come on, do that! Put your own yardstick on their quality.

It would be a shame, for you and for us, to have you miss the dreadnaught Buick we've built to stand up successfully to the toughest job in years.

No other car has ALL THIS FOR YOU IN 'FORTY-TWO

Rockets Defeat Powerful Chillicothe Eagles 7-0

A rapid push down the field and Gribble's short run for a touchdown in the last four minutes of play upset previous predictions, and gave the Skyrockets a 7-0 win over the strong Chillicothe Eagles on the Rockets' home field Friday evening, October 3.

This game kept perfect the Rockets' winning record for the season, giving them three wins, no ties and no losses. Their goal line has not yet been crossed.

Facing a team which outweighed them 10 pounds to the man, and with more experience behind it, the Rockets sized up their foes in the first quarter, and never again were the Eagles able to get the playing completely in hand.

Twice the Eagles came within scoring distance of the Rocket goal, once during the first quarter, when the Chillicothe boys drove to the Wellington 8-yard stripe. Again in the third quarter, the Eagles came to approximately this same point, but on both occasions the Rocket defense became as a stone wall, and the Eagles were pushed back seven yards.

Two field goal attempts were made by the Rockets late in the game as it became more apparent with each waning minute that the contest would end in a deadlock, however both fell short, and the ball went into the Eagles' possession. This was but a short while before the Rockets' touchdown drive.

A summary of the game by quarters follows:

First Quarter

Wellington kicked off to Chillicothe on the 10-yard line, and Flynt returned to his own 22-yard marker before being downed. Tidmore's center plunge was good for 6 yards, Donald picked up 2 more at the same place and Martin hit left guard for 3 yards and a first down. Tidmore again went through center for 6 yards, and Donald's left end run netted 7 yards and another first down. Tidmore, attempting to carry the ball around left end, was hit hard by Brewer, and stopped 3 yards behind the line of scrimmage. Donald's pass to Martin fell incomplete, and Tidmore punted out on the 40-yard line.

Rocket attempts at running the ball had netted only a short gain, when Duke, Eagle tackle, threw Melton, Rocket quarterback, for a 6-yard loss. Unable to gain this back, Melton punted to the Eagle 30-yard line, where Flynt received and returned to the 45.

A quick tackle by Brewer and Holton resulted in a 5-yard loss for the Eagles, but a few seconds later, Tidmore went through center for 10 yards, and another 10 yards was gained by Donald on a left end sprint. An attempted Eagle passing attack failed to materialize, but Wellington received a 5-yard penalty for offsides at this point. Two running plays netted the Eagles but two yards, and then Duncan pulled out of guard position, circled right end, and ran 16 yards before he was downed, well inside the Rocket 10-yard line. Another short Eagle advance was followed by a 6-yard loss, and the Chillicothe boys were held for downs, the ball going to Wellington on their own 11-yard line.

Goodner tore through center for 8 yards, Thompson hit the same place for 15 yards. After a running play failed to gain a long pass from Melton to Gribble netted 20 yards, and Goodner circled end for 4 yards, placing the ball on the Eagle 35-yard line as the first quarter ended, 0 to 0.

Second Quarter

Gribble picked up 3 yards at right end, and Melton plunged through the middle for 7 yards and a first down. On the next play, Melton's pass to Gribble was intercepted by Tidmore, who was downed before he could make a return.

Donald circled left end for 9 yards and Tidmore went through left guard for 3 more. Martin lost 14 yards on two plays. Tidmore punted and the ball was killed by Melton.

Short gains made by the Rockets at this time were offset by a 5-yard penalty for offsides, and two attempted passes fell incomplete. Melton's punt went out on the 18-yard line.

The Eagles were unable to advance but 3 yards and Donald punted to Melton on the 47-yard line.

A pass from Melton to Gribble, who lateralled to Thompson, was completed for no gain. Two additional passes, from Melton to Gribble and Melton to Williams, were incomplete and the Rockets were forced to punt. Donald, receiving on the 30-yard line, made no return.

Williams was in there quick to throw Tidmore for a 5 yard loss. Thompson intercepted a pass from Donald intended for Tidmore. Two Rocket passes were incomplete and a third, from Melton to Gribble, was good, but no gain was made. Goodner's six-yard plunge through center was short of a first down, and the ball went to the Eagles.

Donald circled right end for 11 yards and Tidmore smacked left guard for 8 more. Chillicothe drew a 5-yard penalty and the Eagles were unable to make a first down. Tidmore punted to Thompson on the 30-yard line.

Melton's 23-yard pass was received by Williams as the half ended, 0 to 0, with the ball in midfield.

Third Quarter

Melton received the Eagles' kickoff on his 25-yard line and returned 13 yards to the 38. Goodner went through left guard for 6 yards, Melton hit center for 2 yards, and Thompson, again going through center, gained a yard. Melton punted to Donald

After a Rocket pass fell incomplete, Melton hit center for 6 yards, then passed to Williams for an additional 13 yards. Gribble went through left guard for 4 yards, and Thompson hit center for 2 yards. Goodner circled left end for 12 yards. Three attempts to pass fell incomplete, and the ball went over to Chillicothe on downs.

Chillicothe gained little and a punt put the ball in the Rockets' possession. Thompson's try at center was stopped, and the Rockets received a 15-yard penalty for clipping. Melton's pass to Williams, however, was good for 22 yards. Four yards were lost on the next play. After a pass from Melton to Gribble had fallen incomplete, Melton punted out on the Chillicothe 12-yard line.

Tidmore gained 5 yards through center, but a few minutes later a 5-yard penalty was given the Eagles. Tidmore fumbled and lost a yard as the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter

Opening the quarter, Tidmore punted, the ball going out on the 45-yard line.

Goodner skirted left end for 5 yards, and Melton's pass to Goodner added another 4 yards. Thompson's plunge through center was good for 6 yards, and a pass from Melton to Gribble netted 25 yards. Goodner fumbled momentarily and lost 4 yards, and Melton's pass to Williams was incomplete. On the next play, Melton's try for a field goal was short, and Chillicothe took over the ball on the 20-yard line.

Three attempts to run around end netted Donald but four yards, and on the fourth play, Tidmore punted to Melton, who returned 25 yards to the Chillicothe 45-yard marker. After a Rocket pass fell incomplete, Goodner circled left end for 20 yards. The three following plays netted but four yards, and again the Rockets tried for a field goal, and again the ball fell short. Chillicothe took over on the 20-yard line.

Donald quick-kicked to the 40-yard line, where the ball was killed by Melton.

Two Rocket passes were good for 30 yards, and an end run by Goodner was good for 6 yards. Now deep in Eagle territory, Melton picked up 2 yards through center, and sent a pass to Gribble for 6 yards. On the next play, Gribble hit left guard for 2 yards and a touchdown. Melton converted for the extra point.

With less than four minutes to play, Donald took the Rocket kickoff on his 10-yard line and returned to the 35. A pass to Lampe was good for 25 yards, and Tidmore circled right end for 9. Twenty yards in penalties were assessed against the Eagles at intervals of only a few seconds, and they were unable to make further gains. Before the game ended, Wellington 7, Chillicothe 0.

Growth Means Health

Here at the Wellington State Bank we are very grateful over the numerous favorable comments that our friends and customers have made following the publication of our last financial statement. They were pleased with the fact that this bank is growing, and naturally we are very pleased as well.

The statement was a matter of figures, which we are required to publish by law, but back of those figures which simply show that this institution has grown, was something else. That something else is the real reason for the fact that the resources of this bank are increasing steadily.

It has to do with an understanding service rendered by bankers who know the needs of the people they serve. It has to do with the interest of men in your welfare who long ago put their money into the creation of this bank. And above all it has to do with a sound and conservative banking policy which protects depositors and stockholders and renders a uniform and consistent service to all through both bad years and good years.

Trucks Outstrip Cars In Number Of New Purchases

For the first time in several years, more new trucks than cars were sold in Collingsworth County during the period of a single month, Howard Riggs, county tax assessor and collector, revealed after all licenses for September had been issued.

Total sales were much lighter than usual, only nine new vehicles of all kinds having been registered. Four of these were cars and five were trucks.

Mr. Riggs attributed the small number of sales in September to many prospective buyers waiting until the 1942 models have been placed on market.

Passenger licenses on new cars were issued to Fred S. Taylor, Ford Deluxe Tudor; Dr. C. B. Jones, Chevrolet Special Sedan; E. T. Vaughan, Plymouth Coach; and Lester Hunter, Chevrolet Sedan.

Farm truck licenses went to I. E. Emmert, Chevrolet three-fourths ton pickup; J. C. Emmert, Chevrolet three-fourths ton pickup; LaFayette M. Hughes, Ford Truck; and Lewis Green, Ford Pickup.

The commercial license went to John Barjenbruch, G.M.C. Pickup.

MARELLA

By MRS. J. W. PEARSON

The rain which fell last week delayed feed cutting and cotton picking.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Z. Bartlett and June and Bonnie Val were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Preston Gilbreth.

Misses Barbara Pearl Bartlett, Ina Mae Winegeart and Lena and Virginia King were Sunday visitors with Miss Ethel Stephens.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Pierce and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cherry attended the Amarillo Fair Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Farmer and children, Jackie and Charles, spent the week end with his father and brother, R. E. Farmer and B. F. Farmer.

W. P. Gilbreth returned home Thursday from Colorado, where he has been working this summer.

The chemical laboratories of the petroleum industry are now laying the foundation for industries of the future.

Out of their research are being created new products and more efficient ways of making old ones. Synthetic rubber, plastics, explosives, basic chemicals and scores of other essentials developed in petroleum laboratories are already being made on a commercial scale.

These scientific discoveries of materials vital to peace-time needs, as well as National defense, are opening up new fields of industrial activity.

Texas as the leading oil State is playing an important part in the creation of these new American enterprises. As a result, many young Texans now preparing themselves in our schools and colleges will find places in the industries resulting from this research.

The test tubes of today make the jobs of tomorrow.

Few Changes Made In 1942 Range Program

COLLEGE STATION.—Except for additional grazing practices and more local adaptation of practices designed to eradicate undesirable plants, recommendations drafted by delegates to the national AAA range conference and tour indicate no major changes in the 1942 Range Conservation Program of the AAA.

That's the word Howard T. Kingsbery, state AAA committeeman and ranchman from Santa Anna, brought back from the conference which was held in Idaho, June 23-27. The conference last year was held in West Texas.

Recommendations of the conference included proposals for many detailed changes, a number of which are aimed at giving assistance to small ranchmen and farmers, Kingsbery said. Two important changes recommended were the revision of the present deferred grazing practice to include limited and rotational grazing on the basis of range management plans approved by the county AAA committee and the broadening of eradication practices for undesirable plants to make possible more local adaptation of such measures.

In the interest of national welfare, the conference pledged itself "to marshal the range agricultural resources of the country to best meet the needs of national defense," the Texas ranchman reported. The conference also went on record as advising ranchmen against speculative expansion during the present period of more favorable price and urged that a balance be kept between livestock prices and industries prices to keep the livestock industry in a sound condition.

The group advocated that measures be taken to avoid inflation and that the defense program be supported by higher taxes on excess profits, incomes, and luxury items, along with increased promotion of defense bond and stamp sales. Greater emphasis on better nutrition also was recommended.

Father Of Mrs. J. T. Slay Dies

John Fraser, Sr., 75, prominent stock raiser, grainman, and pioneer of Gray County, died suddenly at his home five miles east of Groom Tuesday, September 30. He was the father of Mrs. J. T. Slay of Wellington, and had a number of friends in this county.

A native of Scotland, Mr. Fraser moved to Marlin in 1885, and to the Panhandle in 1889. He was postmaster at Boydston before the coming of the railroad, serving in that position from 1891 to 1941. In point of service he was the third oldest postmaster in the United States.

He was active in religious and lodge affairs, and business circles of the Panhandle.

Funeral services for Mr. Fraser were conducted Thursday.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Margaret K. Fraser; two sons, W. F. Fraser of Pampa; and Walter K. Fraser of Groom; and four daughters, Mrs. Willis Emory and Mrs. Ernest Inman of Groom, Mrs. M. N. Parker of Eagle Pass, and Mrs. Slay of Wellington.

Vibrations from a dynamite explosion have been detected 2,000 miles away.

THEY WERE IN THE SWIM

Robert J. Moore of Tacoma, Wash., congratulates Mrs. Clara Rickner, Seattle housewife, for snagging the largest fish caught by a woman at the annual salmon derby in Puget Sound. His, weighing 28 pounds and 5 ounces, was the largest taken in the finals.

Joe Copeland Heads Dodson Four-H Club

Joe Copeland was named president of the Dodson 4-H Club when it was organized Tuesday morning, October 7, at the Dodson School. B. A. Zorns, county agent, was in charge of the meeting and will assist the boys in their work.

Other officers named at the same time were Dan Farris, vice president; Denver Warren, secretary; Hardy Scott, reporter.

The group will meet the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

Members include Edwin Bonneau, Clyde Messick, Teddy Ray Lewis, Vance Hunt, Garland Covey, Leon Caddell, Billy Carter, Dicky Lewis, Billy Owens, Olan Carter, Kenneth Baird, John D. Smith, Paul Bowling, Darvin Crisco, Lawrence Stewart, Verdel Mayhugh, Kenneth Welch, Ruben Cornelius, Leonard Akin, Don Farris, Wendell Burge, Kenneth Rippetoe, Alvin Doyle Tipton, Hardy Scott, Joe Copeland, Gene Lewis, Denver Warren, Garland Hightower, Wyatt Atkins, and Junior Hunter.

Goodner Heads Student Body

Olen Goodner, high school Sophomore and Skyrocket star, was named high school mayor in the school elections held Wednesday, October 1.

Other school officers named at this time were Buddy Forbis, vice-mayor; H. L. Duncan, auditor; Marion Baumgardner, host; Mildred Walker, hostess; Dane Sisk, parliamentarian; Billie Mac Sims, sheriff; and Frank Cook, clerk.

This group will make up the student council, which will decide the policies of the student body and act on the other questions concerning the student government.

In charge of the elections was the high school civics class, under the direction of Mrs. Ozett Rainey.

Other candidates for the various offices were: Mayor, Conrad Melton and Billie Earl Wallace; Vice-

Mayor, Junior Montague and Dan Austin; Auditor, Herschel Lewis and Jim Bob Wood; Host, Junior Young and T. W. Devenport; Hostess, Allene Elbert and Katherine Clark; Parliamentarian, Jno. Boverie and Virginia Whitt; Sheriff, Jeraldine Graham and Lyla Ryan; and Clerk, Charles Jones and J. A. Goodson.

Farm Products Shown At Leader

Three examples of the fine products the county is producing this year are hanging in the window of the Wellington Leader this week.

First of the group to be brought in were twelve sweet potatoes, all growing on one stem. They were raised by M. J. Lowe of the Lillie community. Most of the twelve are larger than the average bought on the market, and any of the dozen would pass as marketable potatoes.

Soy beans, showing unusual growth and number of seed pods, were brought in by W. M. Squyres, who lives one fourth mile south of Lillie Gin.

Heads of original black hull kaffir, German red maize, and desert maize were brought in by D. W. O'Brian of Quail. Each of the heads is well matured, and larger than the average found in that community in several years. Mr. O'Brian stated that he had six acres of the German red maize, and that it is averaging a ton and a half of heads to the acre.

Bill Cummings Enters Albuquerque Veterans Hospital

Bill Cummings of Wellington left recently for Albuquerque, New Mexico, where he will receive treatment at the Veterans Hospital over an extended period of time.

Mr. Cummings is suffering from a lung condition. He has been in ill health for more than a year.

Mrs. Cummings and their son, Will Joe, remained in Wellington.

Jolley Heads Norwood FFA

Grant Jolley, Jr., heads this year's Future Farmer Chapter at Samnorwood, Earl Breeding, vocational agriculture teacher at that school, announced recently.

Serving with Jolley are James Berg, vice president; Billy Conway, treasurer; Bobby Conway, secretary; James Allen Cunningham, reporter; Junior Thompson, watchdog; and Holland Pounds, parliamentarian.

This year's program of work has been set up, and the members of the chapter expect to carry out supervised practice projects, such as feeding calves and hogs, through the school year.

Regular monthly meetings will be held. In addition to their regular vocational agriculture work and supervised projects, the boys will assist in various community enterprises during the year.

Approximately 45 high school boys are members of the FFA this year.

County Draftee Recovering From Broken Left Arm

Pvt. Jack Lowe, draftee from Collingsworth County now stationed at Camp Wolters, Texas, is recovering in the army hospital after having his left arm broken in three places recently.

Further details of how Lowe's arm was broken have not been received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Lowe of Lillie, nor have they learned when the accident occurred.

County Youth Pledges Tech Social Club

LUBBOCK. — Haynes Baumgardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Baumgardner of Wellington, has been pledged to Los Camaradas, men's social club at Texas Technological college. He is enrolled as a senior in the division of agriculture.

Names of 70 men students were announced this week as prospective members of the seven men's social organizations on the campus.

Miss Verna Helm of Shamrock is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital following an operation there Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hall returned Tuesday from Pampa, where they have been visiting with a son.

Women Urged To Aid With Red Cross Work

An effort is being made to get all Red Cross knitting and sewing distributed during the remainder of this week and next week, Mrs. J. W. Harper, production chairman of the local chapter announced this week.

"We are asking all women who will take either knitting or sewing to complete in their home, to do so. There is still a large number of garments to be made, but with the co-operation of women over the county, we feel that we can get all these finished by Dec. 1," Mrs. Harper said.

December 1, she explained, is the date on which all garments are due back in the Red Cross production rooms.

At the same time, Mrs. Harper urged that those women now having finished sweaters or other garments to turn them in to the Red Cross, in order that packing for shipment may begin.

Women of the county were reminded that the Red Cross sewing and knitting room, located on the second floor of the courthouse, is open Monday, Tuesday and Saturday afternoons, from 1:00 until 5:00 o'clock, and that every woman in the county who will help with the Red Cross work is cordially invited to come and help with the work, or to get materials to work up in her own home.

SOLDIER'S LIFE

... As Soldiers See It

Fort Knox, Ky.,
October 2, 1941,

Dear Deck:

I will drop you a line to let you know I am still on this side of the pond. I sure have been seeing some new country at Uncle Sam's expense. I am in the armored force now. I may not like driving a tank but anything will be better than the infantry. That is what I was in seven weeks.

This sure is a pretty country up here. The camp is right on top of a mountain. I don't like the weather if it is like it has been since I have been here. It has been raining ever since I have been here.

The nearest town to camp is Louisville, about thirty miles away. I haven't been there yet but intend to go soon.

Yours truly,

Frank Skaggs

Herron, Curry Rotary Speakers

R. F. Curry, Wellington postmaster, and Sgt. Durwood Herron of the U. S. Army were speakers at the regular session of the Rotary Club Tuesday afternoon.

Discussing the proposed defense bond drive, Mr. Curry, who is county chairman of the Defense Bond committee, told the group of the patriotic service to be offered by the service clubs.

"All of you are patriotic Americans—I can't say anything more than this," he stated.

Turning to the defense efforts, he added, "From the hearts of Americans will come the funds to finance this undertaking. If we have our money in our government we will feel more directly our responsibilities."

"When this is over, you know what is going to happen to these United States. We will need something very badly to cushion the shock. We can provide that cushion now by laying aside a part of our wages and profits we make now to use at that time. Whatever you may do is purely voluntary, it is for you to decide for yourself," Mr. Curry concluded.

Sgt. Herron, a former Wellington resident who for the last six years has been stationed with the U. S. Army at Schofield Barracks, Honolulu, Hawaii, discussed for the group Hawaii and other Pacific possessions and their importance to the United States.

"Hawaii is the back door to America," he told his listeners. Continuing, he told of the fine climate, the ample rainfall, the pineapple and sugar cane crops, and cattle raising. Pearl Harbor, the U. S. Naval Base at Honolulu, is the most important harbor in the world today, Sgt. Herron believes. Concluding the main part of his talk, he told of his work which took him to Midway Island, the Philippines, and then to China.

In answering questions asked by Rotary members, Sgt. Herron stated that British ships may enter Pearl Harbor for repairs, but that Japanese ships are not allowed inside the harbor. He pointed out that the other islands of the Pacific, Guam and Midway are also fortified.

Visitors at the luncheon, in addition to Sgt. Herron and Mr. Curry were J. O. Scheyler, Kenneth Fink, and A. B. Walker of Childress, Dr. J. W. Harper and F. O. Masten of Wellington.

Schaded's Escape Injury In Car Accident Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Enis Schaded and their small daughter, Diane, escaped injury Friday, October 3, when a truck rammed the back of their car ten miles west of Dallas.

The accident occurred when Mr. Schaded drove around a truck parked on a bridge. The second truck, immediately behind them, crashed into the Schaded car, although Mr. Schaded had signaled that he was pulling to the left side of the road.

The car, 1941 Pontiac, was badly damaged.

Fresno Gins First Bale

T. C. Clement of the Fresno community ginned the first bale of cotton this season at the Fresno gin, as well as the first bale in the new Fresno Gin plant Tuesday morning, October 7.

Mr. Clement brought around 1800 pounds of seed cotton, and received a 468 pound bale. The cotton was classed as middling fifteen-sixteenth cotton, and was sold on the grounds for sixteen and one-half cents. The cottonseed was bought on the basis of $50 a ton.

In addition, the Reynolds Store, owned by Earl Reynolds, at Fresno presented Mr. Clement with a premium for ginning the first bale.

Editorial

The old shortage business is so mixed up now that neither Texas producers nor Eastern users know whether there is a shortage, whether inconvenience looms, or whether it all was just "scare" talk to railroad that pipeline legislation through congress.

But one thing they can agree upon is that neither Secretary Ickes, nor congress, nor the oil industry nor anybody else suggested the only reasonable and intelligent long-range answer to any shortage now and to any shortage that really may exist in time of war.

That answer is—move the factories from the congested Eastern seaboard back into the country where the source of supply is for both the oil and the raw materials. Also, where unlimited cheap natural gas for fuel is available; also where one of the four best supplies in the nation exists for hydroelectric power.

What happens now is that Texas grows cotton. It ships the cotton to Massachusetts, then ships fuel to run the machinery for processing it; then Massachusetts ships the cotton goods back to Texas. Texas ships hides and leather to the shoe factories of the Eastern states; and the same process follows through again. The identical story runs through virtually every phase of industrial production, since Texas and the Southwest supply some of the raw materials, or the fuel or collateral requirements, for nearly every type of production.

Why not put the factories where the raw materials are—at least when the fuel or energy supply is near? Then the ships can haul finished goods one way, instead of raw materials.

It doesn't even require the argument of national defense and safety of scattered and inland industrial location to justify the economic soundness of this view.—Wichita Falls Record-News.

• Trend To 1929

There are indications of a boom everywhere and already the so-called "snooty" stores have that "take-it-or-leave-it" attitude.

The same was true in 1929, but a year later there was a big difference. After the crash, store owners who had been too busy counting their money to give their patrons any consideration actually began speaking to Mr. and Mrs. John Doe when they came into the store. . . . Store owners found that a friendly atmosphere went a long way in making and holding customers.—Harry Koch in the Quana Tribune-Chief.

• Courtesy And Wrecks

E. S. Rowe, Jr., patrolman of the State Safety Commission, said yesterday in Floydada that the use of the same courtesy on the highway that is observed elsewhere would eliminate 50 per cent of all highway accidents.

Recounting four years of experience as a patrolman the plain-spoken custodian of public safety on the highways declared that speed is answerable for a large majority of the accidents on the straight-aways, and as an example gave this week's worst driving conditions, both day and night, in many months. Not a fatality in a 50-mile radius, in two days, whereas last month one 10-day toll was 11 lives under good driving conditions.—Floyd County Hesperian.

• Criminals At Liberty

Criminals in unions are doing much violence to the cause of labor. Labor leaders who do not foresee this and rid themselves of such criminals are running the risk of annihilation. Most of these criminals are in the CIO ranks. We have just received notice from one of our supply houses: In June of this year a contract was made between the factory and the union to run for two years. Everyone was satisfied until 10 per cent of the men, all CIO's, decided to break the contract. The other workmen foolishly followed the leadership of the CIO's. The plant was closed; the business office was closed, and even the bank account of the company was tied up by the strikers.—Clyde W. Warwick in The Canyon News.

Washington Week

By RALPH HERBERT

If the news ever seeped down to the millions of kids in the United States, they would probably make wry faces, for the fact is that down in Texas the United States Department of Agriculture is making experiments in the growing of the bean from which is extracted the child's terror—castor oil.

In 11 counties four fine varieties of the best castor bean seeds have been sown on 1700 acres. It is estimated this should bring a production of about 1,500,000 pounds of beans. And this product in turn, could, if necessity arose, be used to plant 250,000 acres. And then, if everything went right, this new planting would bring in a harvest of anywhere from 55,000,000 to 80,000,000 pounds of castor beans.

The necessity has not yet arisen. It will not arise as long as there is shipping to bring in castor beans from Brazil and India. The larger part of the import comes from Brazil. So far this year the imports, despite increasing scarcity of ships, have been greater than last year. For the first four months of 1941 the United States imported 118,000,000 pounds of castor beans, compared with 81,000,000 pounds in the same period last year. For the whole of 1940 the United States imported from Brazil alone 238,000,000 pounds of castor beans.

Of course, only a very small part of this was used to make the castor oil the druggists sell to parents who want to dose the children. Castor oil has been found to be a good lubricant for airplanes, but now in this country it is chiefly used in a dehydrated form as a drying oil by paint, varnish and allied industries. It is used as a substitute for tung oil which has come in decreasing amounts from China where crops have been smaller, due to the war with Japan. Some tung oil is obtained from crops raised in the southern states, but not enough to supply the country's needs.

The Texas experiment with castor beans is a preparedness scheme. If war or increased shortage in ships cut off the Brazilian and Indian supply of castor beans entirely or almost entirely, farmers in this country would be encouraged to plant castor beans. But this could only be done profitably if the foreign supply were shut off. In ordinary times, the American farmer could not economically compete with the foreign growers.

The Wellington School Board met Wednesday night and elected R. F. Curry superintendent of schools for the ensuing school year. L. F. Sheffey, who has been the superintendent here for the past few years, has accepted a position as one of the professors in the West Texas State Normal College at Canyon.

Under the new law whereby men becoming 21 since June 5, 1917, are subject to army registration, this county registered 75 here Wednesday. Only one was needed to make exactly 10 per cent of the number who registered last year under the ages of 21 to 31.

Patients at the sanitarium during the past few days have been: Miss Bessie Royal, Mrs. Savage, Mrs. George Thompson of Aberdeen and Elmore Dodson of Dodsonville, all of whom underwent operations.

Last Saturday about 11 o'clock the country home of I. T. Goodnight of this city was destroyed by fire supposedly caught from a faulty oil stove. The home was located on Buck Creek west of town.

"Cotton picking weather" has made things hum like times here before the drought, and as they also brought fine days for rabbit hunting, or just doing nothing, I SAW

James Allen Beard, the youngest of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Beard's two little boys, following his mother in the post office, carrying a primer with his finger hooked in it as a book mark. Part of the time he carried the book on his head, then he started looking at it studiously and wouldn't look at anything or anyone else.

Mrs. Chas. Graves telling of a turkey hen she owns that not only raised her young turkeys, but several baby quail as well. . . . Ruth Gholson wearing a hand-knit yellow sweater. . . . George Shadi's white and tan dog waiting for him outside the post office. . . . and Walker Maddox riding horseback for his mail.

Girls of the twirling corps, newest addition to the band and drum groups of the school, excited over the prospect of having their new uniforms for the ball game Friday night. The drum corps hopes to have theirs too, but the band, whose suits were ordered in August, learned this week they couldn't get theirs until the last of this month. Some of the material needed to finish them is being held up because of defense priorities.

'Better Look Out, Now'

Rotary Host To Childress Club

First of a series of inter-city Rotary meetings was held Tuesday night, September 30, when approximately 35 Childress Rotarians and Rotary Anns were guests of local members and their wives at a banquet held in the Christian Church.

Members of the Childress club were in charge of the program, under the direction of C. J. Lyons, president. Rev. Charles Talley, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Childress was principal speaker of the evening. Pointing to the need for better knowledge of each other, Rev. Talley commented:

"Know people better, and you will have a better opinion of them."

Continuing, he discussed the many things in common which the Wellington and Childress clubs hold, and stated that only a thirty minutes drive keeps them from coming to really know each other.

Entertainment numbers on the program included a humorous reading by Miss Myrtle Proctor; vocal solos, "Loch Lomond," and "One Alone" from the Desert Song, by Elmer Watkins; and character dances by James Williams (Rosy) Bates. A Dr. I. Q. question contest concluded the program.

Visitors present for this meeting were F. A. White, Rev. and Mrs. Orion Carter, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Black, Mr. and Mrs. C. Henry Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lyons, Frank Weddington, Jimmy Weddington, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Waldron, Mr. and Mrs. John O. McMinn, Mr. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bowford, Mrs. Creed Hill, Clyde L. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. SOLDIER'S LIFE

... As Soldiers See It

United States Naval Hospital, San Diego, California, October 4, 1941.

Dear Mr. Wells:

I thought I would drop you a line, and see how things are going back in dear old Wellington. Hope everyone is happy and stays that way.

I have been in the hospital 38 days, but I hope to get out soon. You know, Mr. Wells, I have done an awful lot of thinking since I have been in the hospital. I just wonder if the people back at Wellington and around there would treat a soldier like the people out here. I guess one reason is that there are so many sailors out here. But, still, they get treated pretty bad. The people that are worth anything and are fit to keep company with won't have anything to do with a sailor, because they have heard so many tales about sailors that are untrue that they think all sailors are alike.

For some reason or other I just don't think the people in Texas would treat a sailor that way. One thing, people who talk too much about things of which they know nothing sailors, is that they walk down the street with their arms around their girl friend or holding her hand and that sort of thing. Do they ever stop to think what it might be like not to know if their friend or husband was going to be here tomorrow or not—or if he might be shipped to China or the Asiatic fleet for 36 months? Maybe they never think how it might feel to know that someone you love is leaving the next day and you have no idea when a letter will get through to you from him. Maybe they don't know how it feels to be lonely before a person is gone because you don't know when, if ever, you'll see him again, or how it feels to keep smiling and laughing when a voice inside you keeps saying over and over, "He's leaving Sunday . . . He's leaving Sunday." And how do they think it feels when you say, "Bye, see you in August." And you know darn well you'll be lucky if you see them by Christmas, and maybe it will be Easter before you hear his voice. Do they think ever of any of the things a Navy wife, mother, sister, father or sweetheart goes through when the mail doesn't arrive?

I think now, surely if they did they would realize that what they are saying about us is not true. Someone has to be in the Navy, and someone has to think enough of the ones who are in it to be wives and girl friends to them. How would it be if all the young men in our country joined together and said, "We don't want to join the Navy. Too many sailors have a bad reputation." Then I wonder who would be kicking? Not the wives and sweethearts of the men in blue, who would rather have their husbands and beaus working in a machine shop, service station, department stores, etc., with two feet on the ground. Oh, no! It would be the very ones who talk now about the loyal men who are our first line of defense—the ones who make cracks about sailors' girls.

Please, people out there who may read this, stop and think. Think what you are saying about the Navy (Army, Marines and Coast Guard, as far as that goes) before you say it. Think before you say "Don't have anything to do with her, she's a sailor's girl." And don't put on a knowing look about something of which you know nothing. Well, I suppose I had better shove off for this time, but I would like to leave a thought. "One short beer is sometimes a long step in the wrong direction."

Just another of Uncle Sam's "Blue Jackets" Robert A. Hunt, U. S. Naval Hospital, San Diego, Calif.

Sky Harbor, Goderich, Ontario.

Dear Deck,

I guess I have you to thank for the big special copy of The Wellington Leader. Anyway, I sure appreciate having it sent to me, and enjoyed reading it through. One of the best copies of The Leader I have ever read.

More than anything else, the paper impressed me with the optimism about the crop prospects. Can it be true that Collingsworth is going to enjoy a bumper crop in this, the year it is most needed? Sounds too good. But I do hope the farmers of Collingsworth and the surrounding counties do have a whale of a good crop, because everybody knows they have waited eleven or twelve years for it.

I enjoyed reading the article in The Leader about Collingsworth lads serving in the armed forces of the U. S. A. and Canada. It was nice of you to include us fellows who came up here, because we do feel that we are the same as if we were in the U. S. forces. I was also glad to learn where Bill Parker is—I was with him when I first came up here, but for five months I haven't heard of him.

Only today I received a letter from my brother, John, who has been alternating between Canada and Wellington for the past year, and was surprised to learn that he is in Canada once again. He has just joined the Polish air force and is now in training with them at Windsor, Ontario. Not far from here—I'll have to go see him. I hope he behaves himself this time and makes a good pilot. You know, it's a funny thing about people from Texas. Everywhere I have gone I have found that people are happier at meeting a fellow from Texas than any other state. It seems that Texas has something extra.

I went down to Detroit a couple of weeks ago and found myself to be quite a novelty with my R. C. A. F. uniform. Everybody seemed glad to see me, and when they heard my Texas drawl, they were especially glad. Somebody said, "I'll bet you're from Texas." I said, "You bet." And after that I had people all around me.

I wonder if the people down there realize the extent of the cooperation between the U. S. armed forces and the Canadian? Naturally, I am in a position to see the cooperation better than most people. It is more than you would think, even after reading the papers. To begin with, the R. C. A. F. is supposed to be an entirely Canadian organization, but it probably is financed with money borrowed from the U. S. It has lots of U. S. instructors and almost every fifth pilot is an American. Actually, it is more or less an American "AEF" or overseas force.

To even the score, there is training in Canada (this is supposed to be more or less a secret) a large body of U. S. radio operators, U. S. soldiers, pilots and marines are learning British radio technique in a town not far from here. I have seen and talked to dozens of them.

My brother, Pat, who gets his wings as a bomber pilot in about three more weeks, is not going home as early as he planned. He is taking an advanced training course, and will wait here in Canada until I get my wings too, then we will go home together. We should be there about Christmas. I don't know for sure yet, but I think I'll finish as a fighter pilot. I wanted to be a bomber pilot, but up here you make what "they" want you to be.

Sincerely yours, R. L. Templeton.

TEAMWORK

BUILDS A GREATER GULF SOUTH

★ It takes more than the work of any one man or organization to build a great industrial region. It is a job for everybody.

★ For instance, United Gas Pipe Line Company is carrying out a program to help attract new industries to this area and to develop greater opportunities for industries already here. Included in this program are monthly full-page advertisements in national magazines, mailed advertising, and personal interviews with industrialists in various parts of the country.

★ In this program the Company is working hand in hand with the Chambers of Commerce, Governmental bodies, and other industrial development agencies in this cooperative effort to build a greater Gulf South.

★ "Teamwork" of all Gulf South agencies has resulted in industrial growth of the area and we are glad to do our full share toward the further industrial development of this area.

Jack C. Whitfield Weds Denver Girl September 4

A recent wedding of interest to Collingsworth County friends was that of Jack Whitfield of Lowery Field, Denver, Colorado, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Whitfield of Samnorwood, to Miss Jane Schwartz of Denver, Colorado. The wedding took place September 4, at 4 o'clock in the Chapel of the Grace Episcopal Church at Colorado Springs, Colo. The ceremony was read by Rev. Kennedy.

Miss Dorothy Graninger of Denver and the groom's brother, Private Grady R. Whitfield of Lowery Field, Denver, were the couple's attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Ed A. Schwartz of Denver, the bride's parents, were present for the wedding.

The bride was dressed in brown crepe trimmed in gold sequins. She wore turquoise beads and brown accessories. Her corsage was of roses and sweetpeas.

Mrs. Whitfield was educated in Denver and at the time of her marriage was employed by the Montgomery Ward Store in Denver.

The groom, formerly of Samnorwood, received his schooling at Plymouth and Samnorwood, where he graduated in the class of 1936. For the past two and a half years he has been in the army, stationed at Lowery Field.

The couple will be at home at 46 Jones street, Encio Village, Denver, Colorado.

Belcher-Nunley Wedding Vows Read Sunday

Miss Vera Belcher, of Vernon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Belcher of Vernon, and Grady Nunley, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Nunley of Robstown, were united in marriage at the home of Rev. Charles Tally of Childress in a simple ring ceremony at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, October 5.

Miss Belcher chose as her wedding ensemble a gold dress, and a varied color coat with brown accessories. She carried a white Bible, a gift from her mother, and wore a corsage of orchids. The bride formerly lived in Wellington and has many friends in this section.

The groom is with the Rolla Gin where the couple will make their home.

Those attending the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Belcher, James Belcher, and Loretta Withers of Vernon; Mrs. George J. Ward and daughter, Ann, of Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Shirley, Bamma King, and the bride's sister, Hazel Belcher, of Childress.

National B.P.W. Week To Be Observed In Pampa

Climaxing a week of varied activities over the entire First District, the Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club will entertain the District One Conference of Business and Professional Women October 11 and 12. National Business Women's Week is being observed all over the United States from October 5 to 11. One week is set aside annually to call attention to the achievements of women in business and the professions and to give the community at large an opportunity to become acquainted with the programs of the clubs. It is observed every year in October. Governors of most states and mayors of cities have proclaimed this week.

The First District of the Texas Federation consists of the following clubs: Amarillo, Brownfield, Childress, Crosbyton, Crowell, Electra, Hereford, Lubbock, Pampa, Plainview, Quanah, Shamrock, Tahoka, Vernon, Wellington, Wichita Falls, Henrietta, Seymour, Panhandle. The Panhandle Club was organized September 7, 1941, and it is hoped that they will receive their charter at the conference at Pampa.

At noon Sunday a luncheon honoring the District One director, Mrs. Dora Davis, will be held at the Schneider Hotel with district chairmen participating.

The Pampa Club promises every member attending a good time, particularly at the "Fun Frolic" to be held at the Country Club following the banquet. The nature of the frolic has not been divulged.

Mrs. Etha Pruden, Wellington, Legislation Chairman, will participate.

Registration will begin at 3:00 p. m. Saturday, October 11, at the Schneider Hotel, conference headquarters, and a reception will be held during the afternoon.

Lillian McNutt,
Conference Publicity
Chairman.

"In the ballet, our feet are our fortune—so we must pamper them—just as every wise woman who wants to feel fresh and lovely must pamper her feet, too," said Baranova, the exquisite doll-like ballerina of the New Ballet Russe, in a recent back-stage interview. She reached for the roll of cotton beside her and tore off a piece. "Our toes get so burned after we dance on them a long time," she sighed, as she doused the cotton with witch hazel. "So I have worked out a regime for my feet—and I stick to it!"

John W. Reid, Former Resident, Dies In Crash

John W. Reid of Vernon, a former Wellington resident, was fatally injured Tuesday evening, September 30, near Seymour when his car was involved in a collision with an automobile in which six negro cotton pickers were riding. Mr. Reid was a salesman for the Murray Gin Supply Company of Dallas, Texas. His last visit here before his death was on September 22.

Mr. Reid died in a Seymour hospital Tuesday night about 8:30 o'clock, approximately three hours after the accident. Physicians said his death was due to many internal injuries.

Investigating officers said Mr. Reid's car apparently went out of control on the slick pavement, turned around several times, and came head-on in contact with the car in which the negroes were riding. The automobile was completely demolished and the engine thrown 33 feet from the point where the cars came to a stop after the crash.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning from the First Baptist Church in Vernon, with a large crowd of both Vernon friends, and giners from the lower Panhandle, northwest Texas and southern Oklahoma attending.

Attending from Wellington were Jack Watson and M. P. Watkins.

Mr. Reid came to Wellington with his parents, the late Thomas L. Reid, and Mrs. Reid a number of years ago. He was associated with his father in the Reid Gin here. He left Wellington 10 years ago. Before moving to Vernon in 1938, he and his family lived in Dallas.

Surviving Mr. Reid are his widow and two sons, John William, Jr. and Thomas Bert; his mother, Mrs. Thomas L. Reid of Clarendon; four brothers and a sister, Mrs. C. C. Aggee of Beaumont, Dawson Reid of Paducah, Roy F. Reid of Santa Anna, L. E. Reid of Portland, Oregon, and Claude R. Reid of Abilene.

Husband Of Former Resident Dies At Terrell

Word was received here last week of the death of Earl Lea of Wills Point on Sunday, September 28, in a Terrell hospital.

Mr. Lea was married on Sept. 2 of this year to Mrs. O. L. Fink, a former Wellington resident at Clarendon. Shortly after that, they left for Wills Point, his former home, where Mr. Lea was to complete business affairs before he and Mrs. Lea were to return to Clarendon to live.

His death was due to a heart attack.

Food Purchases Increased $3,655 By Stamp Plan

Expenditures for food in Wellington and Collingsworth County were increased $3,655 during the month of September through the Government's food stamp program, it was revealed this week by L. J. Cappelman, Regional Director of the Surplus Marketing Administration for the thirteen Southern States.

This sum represented the amount of blue stamps issued by the Wellington and Collingsworth County Stamp Program office during the month. In addition, $4,758 of orange stamps were purchased from the Government during the period, bringing the total amount available for food purchases due to the stamp program to $8,413 for September.

Participating in the Wellington and Collingsworth County stamp program during the month were 380 cases, representing with their families, 1,433 persons. Those participating represented 75 percent of the 1,900 persons in the area eligible to receive stamps during September.

Since the stamp plan has been in operation, $16,189 in blue stamps have been issued in Wellington and Collingsworth County, augmenting regular food expenditure for the area by that amount.

Amount of blue stamps issued per person during September averaged $2.55.

Shelterbelts have been planted on over 2,200 farms in Texas.

Pneumonia Fatal To Owens Infant

Flora Lou Owens, eight-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Owens, died shortly after noon Friday, October 3, of pneumonia. The baby had been ill for only a short time.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the Assembly of God, with Rev. Floyd McCleskey, pastor, in charge. Hymns included "Kneel at the Cross," and "What A Friend We Have In Jesus." Interment was in the Wellington cemetery with the Kelso Funeral Home in charge.

Survivors are the parents and one brother, L. B. Owens, Jr., and three grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Owens of Wellington, and Mrs. J. E. Larkin of Roxton.

ASK ME ABOUT MY BUSINESS

When To Quit Advertising

A well-established journal requested a number of its largest advertisers to give their opinions concerning the best time to stop advertising, and the following replies were received:

The Best Time To Quit Advetrising Is

- When the population ceases to multiply, and the generations that crowd on after you and never heard of you, stop coming on.
- When you have convinced everybody whose life will touch yours that you have better goods and lower prices than they can get anywhere else.
- When you can perceive it to be the rule that men who never advertise are outstripping their neighbors in the same line of business.
- When you can forget the words of the shrewdest and most successful men concerning the main cause of their prosperity.

- When every man has become so thoroughly a creature of habit that he will certainly buy this year where he bought last year.
- When younger and fresher houses in your line cease starting up and using newspapers in telling the people how much better they can do for them than you can.
- When you would rather have your own way and fall than take advice and win.

Southwest School Of Printing Gives Vocational Aid

The Southwest School of Printing is the new name of the old school in Dallas, Texas, sponsored by the newspaper publishers and commercial printers of the Southwest to teach the elementary and fundamental principles of the printing industry so that the period of apprenticeship may be shortened. E. W. Jackson of the Steck Company, Austin, Texas, is the president; H. A. Wagner of the American Printing Company, Galveston, is the vice president; and Alfonso Johnson, Dallas, a graduate of the Missouri School of Journalism, is the executive secretary.

More than twenty years ago a group of public spirited Dallas business men bought eighteen acres of land and built a modern school building on the edge of Dallas in which to teach many trades and vocations. It was found impractical to teach many trades under one roof and the property was turned over to another Dallas group which limited the teaching to the printing industry, and met with more success. About three years ago, the entire property was given to the newspaper publishers and commercial printers of the Southwest and in that time 104 graduates have gone out to the job shops and newspapers of the Southwest as two-thirds. Two instructors, Supt. W. H. Mickel and his assistant, J. C. Shackelford, devote their full time to the practical classroom work of the school. A monthly paper, devoted to the printing industry, The Southwest Printer's Forum, is produced by the students.

This is one of the two schools conducted on a non-profit basis by publishers and printers for training apprentices in the printing industry; the other is the Southern School of Printing, in Nashville, Tenn.

If Landowners Approve, Here's The Story Of Soil District Government

The question has been asked, what are soil conservation districts? Soil conservation districts are farmer-formed and farmer-run, for farmers. They are established only upon the petition of the landowners and then not until the will of the majority has been expressed in a vote. The districts are controlled and operated by a board of 5 supervisors, 3 of whom are originally elected by the farmers and 2 are appointed by the State Board of Supervisors.

At an election on the 1st Tuesday in October, 1943, the 5 supervisors will be elected by the farmers, and at the conclusion of their term farmers will re-elect to fill these offices again. Every landowner has a voice in shaping the policies of the district in which he lives. The vote of the one-horse farmer is just as strong as that of the large-scale operator.

The aims of the district and the soil and moisture conservation measures it recommends are set forth in a work plan which is drawn up by the local supervisors and approved or disapproved by the landowners. The districts are legally constituted units of local government set up under a state law. They are a new kind of government organization. They owe no allegiance to any state or federal bureau or agency, or to any local organization. They have no taxing power, no power to issue bonds or in any way to bring indebtedness against the district or county.

The operating procedure represents democracy at its best since not a step is taken, not a plan is made, not an erosion-control measure is placed upon the land that does not first have the concurrence of the landowners affected. In carrying out the work of conservation within a district, the farmer-controlled board of supervisors may call upon all local, state and federal agencies for such assistance, technical or otherwise, as the agency may be in a position to provide. At the present the Department of Agriculture is cooperating with over 300 districts throughout the country. In the districts now operating, agricultural, business and professional interests have allied themselves in a manner seldom duplicated in any other type of cooperative activity.

The principal aim behind all districts is to bring about the best possible use of every acre of land and at the same time to conserve and rebuild it so that the men, women and children on the land may live decently, securely and happily. These districts probably provide the best possible instrument ever devised in this country for the establishment of permanent agriculture through the building of a conservation culture.

In some districts the supervisors have made arrangements for the providing of machinery for doing conservation work and the CCC and WPA are doing large amounts of the labor. In many of the districts where the CCC is not available, farmers are receiving the assistance of the WPA in fighting erosion. These WPA projects are locally sponsored by the districts themselves.

Recently, much has been said about decentralization of the work of agricultural agencies and the turning over of agricultural programs to county, state or local organizations. Through the soil conservation districts, soil conservation activities have been decentralized to the greatest degree. Its operations are guided by farmers themselves, through the functioning of democratic processes at what is often called the grass root level.

Through this approach the responsibility of soil and water conservation work is actually in the hands of the farmers themselves, and through district organizations the farmers are enabled to receive assistance from all federal and state agencies having assistance available; and without this district organization, farmers will not have this advantage.

The 5 supervisors for a district are, by law, landowners residing within a district who are actively engaged in farming or ranching. These men may be paid a salary of $4.00 a day for not more than 20 days a year, or a total of $80.00 for the year. This money is provided by the State Legislature, and taxpayers of all counties help to provide these funds whether or not a soil conservation district is operating within their home county.

Mrs. C. N. Savage has entered St. Joseph's Hospital, where she underwent a tonsilectomy, on Monday.
