VFW Auxiliary Urges Loyalty Day Observance

On Sunday, May 1, communist countries throughout the world will celebrate their military might.

To counteract this, Loyalty Day will be observed throughout the Free World, also on May 1.

In Collingsworth County, the Women's Auxiliary of Glynn Moore Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has chosen to emphasize flag etiquette in both the schools and with the public.

"An informal survey by the VFW members shows that flag etiquette is sadly lacking in our community and in other nearby communities," said Mrs. John R. Henard, Auxiliary president.

"In celebration of Loyalty Day, the Auxiliary is donating a Pledge of Allegiance coloring book to every child in elementary school. This illustrates quotations in the Pledge of

All Little League and T-Ball players will meet on the south side of Ellison Park for this selection. Parents are urged to be there.

Little League games will be played at Marian Airpark Ball Park.

New Little League uniforms will be bought, and a new plan for financing the program was announced.

Panels will be of 4x8 foot plyboard.

The portable panels will be of 4x8 plyboard which will be used for Little League games and removed for softball.

Wilkerson urges that all boys and girls intending to play get their applications in.

"We need to know how many players will be out before we can determine the number of teams and draw up the schedule/ he said.

At this time four teams are assurred, and there may be one or two more. Under Little League official rules, teams are limited to 15 players.

Emphasis in the T-Ball program will be to provide more batting practice for older players.

Four coaches have signed up for Little League, Danny Gray, Jimmy Black, Billy Jackson and James Hale.

There are two T-Ball coaches, Candy Reyes and Margaret Wood, and two more are needed.

"Little League players returning to the program this year need to get in contact with their last year's coach sometime during the week to be sure we have an application," Wilkerson pointed out. A new application is needed each year

The date for playing to begin will be picked Saturday.

Mothers of players will operate the concession stand again this year. Mitzi Watts and Jackie Davis will be in charge of Little League and Geney Gulley and Kathy Southerland for T-Ball.

Dorothy Scott Memorial Organ Dedication May 1

The Dorothy Scott Memorial Organ will be dedicated in a service Sunday, May 1, at 3 p.m. in the Church of the Nazarene.

After the service, Jerry Whitten of Pampa, organist and organ teacher, will present a recital of church music on the new organ.

The public is invited to attend, said the Rev. Don Bland, pastor.

The organ was given to the Church of the Nazarene by the family of the late Mrs. Scott, including her husband George Scott, and their daughters, and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bradley (Carolyn) of Childress and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Pedigo (Grazelle) of Amarillo. They were joined by other members of the family and a number of friends.

The new memorial organ comes at a time when such an instrument was badly needed by the church, Rev. Bland explained.

The organ which had been used for many years in the church services was no longer usable, and repair was not advised, the church had been told.

It was also a gift, from Mrs. Robert Posey, now of Oklahoma City, and the late Mr. Posey.

The new organ is an Allen MCD Classic 22 model.

The dedication service will include hymns of praise, a prayer of invocation, responsive readings and the litany of dedication.

Mr. Whitten, who will present the recital, is organist and choir-master of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church in Pampa and for 19 years has been affiliated with Tarpley Music Co. of Pampa and Tolzien Music Co., in Amarillo as a consultant.

He received a bachelor of music degree with a major in organ from the University of Oklahoma and his graduate degree, Master of Sacred Music, from Union Theological Seminary School of Sacred Music, New York City.

His program, which will include both traditional and contemporary church music, will open with "Awake, Thou Wintry Earth," by J.S. Bach.

Other numbers will be "Come Thou Almighty King," arr. by M.C Whitney; "The Last Supper," J. Weinberger from Bible Poems; "God of Grace

Owens Ends 26 Years as Funeral Director

Guy and Juanita Owens are retiring after five and one-half years as owners of Owens Funeral Home, but for Owens it has been a career in this business of 26 years duration.

The couple had to leave Wellington for two years with a funeral home in Harrison, Ark., before they made the decision that this is where their roots are deepest.

Nor do they intend to move from here now.

Except for the two years in Arkansas, and his stay in Dallas to attend the Dallas Institute of Dallas Institute-Gupton Jones College of Mortuary Science in 1958, and his military service, Collingsworth has been this couple's home most of the time.

Both believe strongly in community service.

They are deeply involved in First United Methodist Church where he served a number of years on the administrative board.

Mrs. Owens is active in United Methodist Women, being a charter member of the Wesleyan Service Guild, forerunner of UMW, and held each of the Guild offices at some time.

Owens was on the Salvation Army Board and in Boy Scout Fund raising drives. He was a director of Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce for a number of years.

He is a Master Mason, 32nd Degree Mason and member of the Scottish Rite. He belongs to Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion.

Mrs. Owens worked with the AAA office, now ASCS, for 23 years, beginning in 1949, under only two county executives, Millard Brown and Bob Weatherly. She was employed for three years at West Texas Utilities Co.

She has served as county chairman of the American Heart Fund drive several years.

Born at Plymouth, she graduated from Wellington High School in 1941. Owens was born at Quail and graduated from Quail High School in 1941. He served in the armed forces 4 years during World War II and the Korean Conflict, with 40 months overseas in Europe and Asia.

The couple has a daughter, Diane Owens Hudspeth of Hollis, and a granddaughter, 17 year-old Keverly Kay Kent, of Hollis.

All parents are invited to come out and recognize the achievements of some of Wellington's youngest athletes.

Kindergarten Children To Enroll on May 2, 3

Enrollment in kindergarten for the 1983-84 school year will be on Monday and Tuesday, May 2 and 3, from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. in the kindergarten room of Elementary school.

Parents are asked to bring birth certificates and shot records, according to Melvin Cardwell, principal.

Students must be 5 years old by September 1 in order to enroll.

Kindergarten classes are for one-half day. There will be a morning class and an afternoon class.

"We ask that you not make a request for a specific session. Bus students may start in January and attend all day class for one semester. These students would still need to be 5 years before Sept. 1, 1983. But even these students need to enroll next week," said Cardwell.

A shower of needles was the result of a cyclone striking a factory that made knitting needles.

Kiwanis Entertains WHS Seniors

Wellington High School seniors were guests of the Kiwanis Club at its dinner meeting Friday, April 22.

"As seniors who graduate, many of you are looking forward to new things to do, new places, new friends. Even if you are staying in Wellington, there will be new jobs and new associations," said the Rev. Tom Thomson, guest speaker.

"There is no magic in a new location or new circumstance in life. You provide your own key to success by your attitude toward life and toward other people.

One key to success in life, he said, is to find out what others want and to help them get it. That will result in your more easily getting what you want in life."

"Best Friends" Meet at Little Rock

Four classmates whose friendship began in Wellington met in Little Rock, Arkansas for a get-together over a long weekend.

They were Vada Cook (Mrs. Bill Wauer) of Lubbock and her twin sister, Mrs. Bill Barnhill (Zada Cook) of Little Rock, Jackie Moore (Mrs. Al Kennedy) of Winnsboro, and Patsy Harper (Mrs. Calvin Mitchell) the only one still living in Wellington.

The four were "best friends" through junior high and high school, they were in each other's weddings and now they and their husbands get together once a year.

Besides seeing much of Little Rock and going on an azalea trail through the city, they were in Hot Springs for a tour of that city and picnic.

"It's a perfect time to do this. The dogwood and redbud trees, the bluebonnets and Indian Paintbrush were in full bloom," said Mrs. Mitchell.

At the end of the visit, the Mitchells returned to Winnsboro to visit with the Kennedys for several days. Mitchell went on to Jefferson to visit a former Wellington man, Lynn Morris, and to fish. The two women visited the famous "Old World Store in Marshall.

Mrs. Wauer and Mrs. Barnhill, twins, were among the 6 children of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cook, who moved to Lubbock. Each now has 6 children of her own. Mrs. Kennedy, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Moore of Sulphur Springs, has three children and Mrs. Mitchell three.

A luncheon was held following play and awards were presented. Favors were bright pink butterfly golf balls.

Clarendon will be host to the next Greenbelt Women's Golf Association tournament in May and Willow Creek members will host the June event.

Class Holds Quilt Exhibit on May 4

Quilting, an art of yesteryear, is the latest handicraft of some of Wellington's most active young women.

The results of four months of work in their quilting class will be seen in an exhibit of quilts Wednesday, May 4 in Bura Handley Community Center.

The hours are 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. and the public is invited.

There is no admission charge.

Each Wednesday approximately 30 young women--and one junior high student--working in three classes under an instructor, were taught how to piece quilts, and then quilt them, or how to produce an appliqued quilt.

Each one completed a quilt.

In the exhibit, the quilts will be hung along the walls so that visitors may be able to see the entire design and the variety of colors.

Each young quilter made a "sampler" quilt, pieced in blocks with each block different from all the others. Each block has a name. Some of the blocks are patterned from those made by pioneer women: "Dresden Plate," "Flower Garden," "Grandmother's Fan", "Log Cabin."

Three-day Family Get-together Honors Mrs. Fay Davis on Birthday

Ten of the 11 children of Mrs. Fay Carter Davis, 1009 Dallas Street, were present for the three-day get-together, Friday, April 22 through Sunday April 24, that honored her on her 78th birthday.

A dinner was served Friday evening, April 22, at the Farm Bureau building. Approximately 90 family members attended.

Saturday and Sunday, the group gathered at Bura Handley Community Center, where one of the highlights was a fish fry Saturday evening.

Visiting, playing dominoes and cards, and reminiscing filled much of the time.

Mrs. Davis was born April 25, 1905 in Texas, but in December of that year, the family moved to Madill, then in the Indian Territory. She grew up there.

Mrs. Davis is a cousin of former Oklahoma Governor Raymond Gary.

She was married to Homer Davis on November 10, 1923 and they continued to live in the Madill area for a number of years.

The first Collingsworth County stop for this close-knit family was the Shinnery Community, where they worked for Fred Yarbrough. They moved to the Swearingen community, and then for 10 years in Lillie community.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis moved to Northfield, where they operated the store for many years. She returned to Wellington about 10 years ago, following the death of her husband.

MRS. FAY DAVIS

Besides her 11 children, she has 34 grandchildren and 34 great grandchildren.

Present for the party were these children and their families:

Methodist Women Attend Retreat at Ceta Canyon

Methodist Women from the entire Panhandle held their twentieth Annual Spiritual Growth Retreat at Ceta Canyon on April 15-16.

Attending from Wellington were Billye Owens, Pauline Masten, Nan Henard, Bennie Sullivan and Mary Nell Holton.

The success of the retreat this year was largely due to the excellent planning of the presidents of the three districts and their chairmen of Christian Personhood. Amarillo District is headed by Ann Christian, Pampa District by Bonnie Fabian and Plainview by Lucille Brasher.

Twila Gibbens-Rickman, Associate Pastor of St. Johns Methodist Church of Lubbock was the main speaker and she also shared in several musical numbers. She related well to the women on "Women and Change" from women of the Bible to the women of today. Rev. Gibbens-Rickman is the daughter of a minister, the wife of a minister and a minister herself. She is a graduate of Perkins School of Theology. She is also in charge of pastoral care at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Kay Tavenner of Panhandle gave a touching morning devotional.

The sharing sessions stressed the benefits of sharing and caring and of strengths and capabilities of women on the move. They were encouraged to participate in and benefit from such groups.

Kelso Retires After 50 Years as Funeral Director

When Jimmie and Lucille Kelso move from their apartment in Kelso Funeral Home, he will close 50 years as a funeral director in Wellington, and 47 years as a partner or full owner of Kelso Funeral Home.

They will continue to live in Wellington.

Kelso entered business during the worst days of the Great Depression, going to work for Ray Goodson, owner of Goodson Funeral Home.

He recalls that he had no means of transportation but his own two feet, so he walked two and one-half miles to work down sandy, rutted roads from the family farm, wearing the only suit he considered appropriate to his business, a black suit with white pin-stripes.

His salary? $0. "It was an apprentice type training," he explains. "After a while I was paid a small salary, for neither Ray nor the other businesses here could afford to pay beginners."

In 1936, when Mr. and Mrs. Goodson left, Kelso and Cal Sugg bought the business. Kelso became sole owner in 1938.

He was a member of the last class to secure an embalmer's license by examination only, without having attended a mortuary school.

During World War II he was the embalmer for funeral homes at Memphis, Hedley, Clarendon and McLean, as well as for his own.

He leaves the profession with both poignant and happy memories.

Of the former, there were the funerals for a family of 6 killed in a car accident; other funerals for a group of 5 young people killed in a single wreck going home from church.

Many times he has had four funerals pending at once.

To counter-balance these are many happy memories.

Kelso was one of those most instrumental in organizing the Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service.

For many years, he operated the only ambulance in town--a service much appreciated by the people.

But there came the time he was sued for an accident he had nothing to do with.

He was traveling in his funeral coach near Childress when a car whipped around him and crashed head-on into a pickup pulling a combine. Nobody was killed. Kelso rendered aid to the injured and took them to the hospital in his coach.

Later that day, the attorney for the combine owner called and asked if he'd like to pay for the repair expenses to the machine and mentioned a suit. Kelso refused. The man sued and the judge threw out the case.

Some months later, the driver who caused the accident in the first place also sued Kelso and again the case was thrown out.

About this time state requirements for operating an ambulance became stringent and the equipment required to furnish the ambulance was expensive.

Jimmie Kelso donated his ambulance and many hours of time to help set up Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service. He served on its board 5 years.

Kelso was born in Melrose, N.M., the son of James H. and Mollie Kelso, both teachers. He was 6 when they came here and he attended school wherever they taught--Dodson, Plymouth and Lillie, He graduated from Wellington High School in 1928 and has been active in the Wellington Ex Students Association.

Lucille and Jimmie Kelso were married in February 17, 1975, and she has worked closely with him since that time. The former Lucille Bennett, she had been employed by 1st National Bank and Wellington State Bank a number of years and was Assistant County School Superintendent from 1935 to 1942.

The Kelsos belong to 1st Baptist Church and he is past president of the Kiwanis Club, a former director of the Chamber of Commerce and a member of several funeral directors associations. The nature of his work prevented his being active in much civic work.

Mrs. Kelso is a former member of B&PW Club.

He has two daughters, Mrs. Robert Fleming of Austin and Mrs. Tom Lockridge of San Antonio. Her daughter is Mrs. Saundra Morton of Los Alamos. Together they have 7 grandchildren.

NORWOOD LAND JUDGERS

Samnorwood High School's FFA Land Judging team will participate in the national FFA land judging contest next Thursday in Oklahoma City. The team won second in district, first in area and fifth in state to gain the right to compete in the national contest. Team members, from left, are Stephanie Brandvik, Steve Bentley, Sandy Henard and Trudy Baker.

Revival May 1-8 At Samnorwood

The First Baptist Church of Samnorwood will have revival services May 1 through 8. Rev. Richard Coss will be the evangelist while Jeff and Melanie Kinney will provide the music. Services will be at 7:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday, 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Sunday, May 1 and 11 a.m. on Sunday, May 8.

A nursery will be provided.

Coss and the Kinneys are members of First Southern Baptist Church, Del City, Okla., where Coss is a staff evangelist. Along with his church duties, he is founder/director of the C Bar N - Christ Bars None - Boys Ranch where he works with teenagers who have backgrounds of broken homes, drugs and other problems. Coss also conducts numerous revivals each year and has a prison ministry principally with death row inmates.

Coss was born in 1944 at Vancouver, Washington. By the time he was twenty-five years old, he had spent one-third of his life behind bars with thirty-two arrests and twenty-eight convictions. His last place of confinement was El Reno Federal Reformatory at El Reno, Oklahoma.

"On March 16, 1969, while at El Reno, Coss accepted Jesus Christ as Saviour. Soon after his conversion he began preaching in the prison chapel. Before his release in 1971 he was receiving weekend passes to preach in nearby churches. After his release he pastored a Baptist church in Western Oklahoma for one year before entering full-time evangelism. President Gerald Ford gave Coss a full presidential pardon restoring all rights and privileges of citizenship," said Rev. Bill Alexander, Samnorwood pastor. He has now been out of prison over twelve years.

"He is an author, guest speaker, chaplain, and has appeared on nationwide TV shows and appeared on stage with celebrities Jerry Clower, Art Linkletter, Wanda Jackson, Mike Warnke, The Imperials and the Daniel Amos Band. Bring your family and friends to hear and meet Richard Coss. Everyone is invited to get acquainted with Coss and the Kinneys at a covered dish luncheon following the morning service on Sunday, May 1."
