Committee Okays Court Nominees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee approved today President Nixon's nomintion of Lewis F. Powell Jr. and William F. Rehnquist to fill two vacancies on the Supreme Court.

The vote on Powell, a Richmond, Va., attorney was unanimous. The committee recommended Senate confirmation of Rehnquist, an assistant attorney general, by a vote of 12 to 4.

The committee members who voted against Rehnquist's nomination were Birch Bayh, D-Ind.; Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., Philip Hart, D-Mich., and John V. Tunney, D-Calif.

Sen. Quentin N. Burdick, D-N.D., whose position on the Rehnquist's nomination had been regarded as in doubt, voted with the majority to recommend Senate confirmation.

The committee's action cleared the way for the Senate to take up the nominations, but Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said they will be the last item on the agenda before adjournment.

Mansfield hopes to wind up the present session of Congress before the middle of December.

Rehnquist, 47, a Phoenix lawyer before his appointment in 1969 as a top aide to Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, has been nominated to succeed retired Justice John M. Harlan. Powell, 64, a former president of the American Bar Association, would replace the late Hugo L. Black.

Nixon, in announcing his selections Oct. 21, described both nominees as judicial conservatives, but opposition to Senate confirmation has centered on Rehnquist.

Spokesmen for the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights and the AFL-CIO testified at the Judiciary Committee's hearings against Rehnquist's nomination but took no position on Powell.

However, witnesses for the Congressional Black Caucus urged rejection of both nominations.

Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, a committee member, said that so few senators are opposed to either nomination he does not anticipate any Senate filibuster to block confirmation.

Powell is the third Southerner Nixon has nominated for the court. His nominations of Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. of South Carolina and G. Harrold Carswell of Florida for a previous vacancy were rejected by the Senate.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., who led the fight against the Haynsworth and Carswell nominations, is supporting Powell's appointment but has voiced opposition to Rehnquist.

In a statement Monday, he cited what he called additional evidence indicating that Rehnquist "is completely out of step with our national commitment to eliminate racial discrimination in all facets of our society."

He said the transcript of the 1966 National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, showed that Rehnquist, who represented Arizona, opposed anti-blockbusting and minority-hiring provisions of a proposed model state anti-discrimination act.

The SDN Column

There was another speaker at the AFL-CIO convention in Miami the other day, although President Nixon got all of the haadlines.

John E. Healy II, President of the Associated General Contractors of America, addressed the labor session, and reports are that he spoke as frankly as the president, but perhaps got a a better reception.

Healy concentrated on a subject that is of concern to many Americans—productivity. He raised an interesting point as he chided the unions and urged them to re-emphasize their motto of "A fair day's pay."

He reminded that it took 410 days to build the Empire State Building in 1930. Today, he estimated, it would take at least three years for labor, using modern equipment and materials availble in the seventies, to build the same structure.

There are those who suspect that President Nixon went to the labor union convention against the recommendations of his closest advisers for the specific purpose of erecting a hedge in case his economic policy flops. It would be handy to have organized labor to blame when the voters go to the polls next year. If this is the case, the country may ultimately pay a very high price for economic stability.

It was hinted that Nixon's advisers perferred that he send Vice President Agnew, the Howard Cosell of the political world to Miami to address the labor unions, but he insisted on going himself.

Latest figures circulated by the United Campaign Reporter indicated that about one-third of the United Fund drives in Texas have achieved 90 per cent or more of their goals, and some 25 of them have reached or exceeded their objectives.

Some of those who have had more success than others report they used a "whirlwind type" campaign this year. Although details were not supplied, presumably they were able to set aside a period of two or three days in which all workers went out and covered the respective towns simultaneously.

Veto Hinted On Tax Cut Bill

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon was quoted as telling Senate Republican leaders today he will seriously consider vetoing the tax bill if it reaches the White House with its present revenue reductions and presidential campaign finance provisions.

The $27 billion tax cut bill passed the Senate Monday night after Democrats tied on an amendment for public financing of presidential campaigns, beginning in 1972.

Scott said he and Senate Republican Whip Robert P. Griffin of Michigan discussed the tax bill and other issues at breakfast with Nixon.

Scott said over the next nine years, the tax bill passed by the Senate would add $56 billion to the tax reductions proposed by the administration to stimulate the economy. He called the campaign finance provision "tax relief for Democrats."

"I strongly urged him to veto the bill," Scott said after his meeting with Nixon.

Scott said the President replied he would give "very serious consideration to my request."

The GOP leader quoted Nixon as saying he would wait until he saw the final form of the bill, which goes now to a House-Senate conference committee, before deciding what to do about it.

"I have the impression that the bill is in considerable danger unless it is drastically changed," Scott said.

More than half the Republican senators voted against the measure, largely because of the Democratic-sponsored plan to make available up to $20.4 million in federal funds to the major-party nominees in the 1972 campaign.

The bill was passed 64 to 30 Monday night and sent into conference with the House. The conference committee is expected to do at least a trimming.

Some Republicans said they will urge President Nixon to veto the entire bill if the final version still carries the campaign-financing provision.

The final Senate bill contained many provisions asked by Nixon to benefit business, encourage modernization of plant and equipment, and give a boost to export sales.

Henderson Testifies

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — Col. Oran K. Henderson, tesifying in his own behalf, said today that as commander of the 11th Infantry Brigade he missed only one combat assault—the March 16, 1968 attack on My Lai.

The much decorated officer accused of concealing a massacre in the village that day began his testimony with a lengthy recounting of his 30 years in the Army.

He said it was his practice to be on hand for every combat mission conducted by his troops but "the only landing that I missed was on the morning of the 16th of March."

That day, his pilot testified previously, there was trouble with the helicopter and Henderson arrived overhead when the troops were already in the village.

Mores differ among cultures

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I am a Hindu from India, who reads your column in the Binghamton Press. May I comment on the letter from a young man whose best friend [Bill] invited him to try to get his wife [Sue] pregnant because Bill had been unsuccessful? The young man declined, and you indicated that he had made a wise decision.

I will agree with the proposal of Bill and his wife Sue. Our ancient religious books, "The Vedas," permitted such a thing in unusual circumstances, as laid down below:

"When the husband has been away from the house for a certain length of time for the purpose of studies, or for the purpose of trade in other countries, the wife is allowed to live temporarily with some respectable man only for the purpose of becoming pregnant. And after that has taken place, these temporary relations shall be severed and the wife shall go back to her husband's home and continue to wait for his return."

Thanking you,

Yours truly,
PREM AGARWAL

DEAR PREM: Thank you for illustrating a point which we in the Western world are apt to forget. We represent a very small part of the world, and what we consider "immoral" or "unethical" is not necessarily immoral or unethical in other countries and for other cultures.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for nearly 12 years. We are childless, and whenever we are asked if we have children, and we say we haven't, someone always says, "Oh, isn't that too bad!"

We then say, "Not really. We never wanted any." Then they look at us like we are monsters.

Abby, we feel that our lives are full and very rewarding without children. We are able to travel, do a great deal of civic, political and humanitarian work we couldn't do if we were raising a family. And we are happy! We don't hate children. We like them. But we feel the world doesn't need any more.

Please tell your readers that there are some perfectly sane people who do not want to be parents. I am tired of having strangers pity us when they learn we have no children.

CHILDLESS AND HAPPY

DEAR HAPPY: I think you've said it very well.

DEAR ABBY: Concerning children who must remain locked out because their parents do not "trust" them with a key. [Children lose so many things.]

Altho our children are now married, each one had his own house key from the first day he went to school. The key was put on a "dog tag chain" obtained from an Army surplus store. Later a "blood type tag" was given to each child and placed on the chain beside his key.

The children lost many items during their school days, but never a key nor blood type tag.

Thank you for an interesting column. A. P. McD.

DEAR A. P.: And thank you for an interesting [and helpful] suggestion.

DEAR ABBY: Why are you always sending people to psychiatrists? MAN OF FEW WORDS

DEAR MAN: Because psychiatrists get to the CAUSE of the trouble. It works like this: If a person's shoe constantly rubs a blister on his heel, he can have the blister treated. Unless he gets rid of the ill-fitting shoe, thereby removing the cause of the blister, he will continue to get blisters.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Texas Is Chilly And Damp

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gusty showers and thunderstorms roved Texas coastal plains and the eastern part of the state during the night and early today, bringing sleet or hail in some areas.

Clouds or fog covered most other sections of the state in early morning.

Although much of the storm activity moved across the shoreline into the Gulf of Mexico before dawn, the National Weather Service posted a special warning against severe winds and high tides for persons near the coast from Port O'Connor to High Island.

A damp chill lingered over many areas in the wake of light snow and sleet mixed with rain which fell Monday in the Texas Panhandle and parts of North Texas, and rain over most of the eastern half of the state.

Official observers blamed a low pressure center off the coast near Palacios for winds lingering behind the thunderstorms and expected to hit gusts close to 40 miles per hour in the alerted area.

These winds were blamed for keeping tides high and expected to push them as much as four feet above normal in the upper parts of Galveston and Trinity Bays and nearly two feet above normal near the immediate coast from Port O'Connor to High Island.

There was enough snow to whiten the ground briefly around Perryton and some other points in the Panhandle Monday evening, and sleet was mixed with the rain as far south as Dallas.

Thunderstorms developed after nightfall near the Coastal Bend and spread, pelting Corpus Christi near midnight with the first hail seen there in recent years.

Temperatures early today slipped down to 31 degrees at Dalhart and 32 at Perryton in the Panhandle. Readings elsewhere stood mostly in the higher 30s to 50s but stayed as high as 72 at McAllen near the state's southern tip.

The mercury climbed no higher Monday than 36 at Amarillo while Brownsville recorded a warm 79.

Forecasts called for partly cloudy skies in most sections and rather cool weather for at least another day.

Pleas Heard In County Court

Two guilty pleas were entered in county court yesterday.

Roy Carl White pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated. He received a $100 fine plus court costs and a 30-day jail term. However, the jail term portion of the sentence was probated for one year. He was arrested Saturday by Highway Patrolmen.

Wesley Pharis pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated, and he will return to court Dec. 2 for sentencing. He was arrested Nov. 20 by Highway Patrolmen. He was released on $500 bond.

British Raid 154 Homes

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops raided 154 homes in a Roman Catholic district of Belfast today, arrested 24 persons and seized two new carbines, six pistols and a quantity of ammunition.

More than 500 soldiers of the Scots Guards tussled with roving crowds who set off gelignite bombs amid the troops. The soldiers fired rubber bullets at the crowds, then opened up with live ammunition on a man carrying a rifle, but it was not known if he was hit, the army said.

More than 1,100 persons have been pulled in since emergency powers were invoked in Northern Ireland Aug. 9. Two-thirds of these were subsequently set free, but approximately 300 are under indefinite internment as suspected members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army.

Meanwhile, rival wings of the IRA feuded in the open today, with the militant "provisionals" accusing the leftist "officials" of treachery.

Meatcutters Return To Work

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Union meatcutters and butcher workmen at meat processing plants across the nation were to return to their jobs today after a one-day walkout Monday by 50,000 of them in protest over President Nixon's wage controls.

Plants in several places came to a complete standstill.

The protestors, numbering about half of the total membership of the Amalgamated Meatcutters Union, stayed away from their jobs and some gathered to hear a closed-circuit television address by union secretary Patrick E. Gorman to the AFL-CIO convention in Miami Beach.

Gorman called upon the AFL-CIO to use whatever means necessary, including a national work stoppage or a general strike, to recover lost wages.

The object of the protest was a retroactive pay hike for the meatcutters that was held up during the wage-price freeze that ended Nov. 15.

Several managers of plants affected by the work stoppage viewed the action as an illegal strike.

The bulk of the workers involved are employed in Iowa, where an estimated 10,000 union employes stayed off their jobs in 10 cities.

Meat plants most affected throughout the nation were those operated by some of the leading processors—Rath, Swift, Armour, Cudahy, Morell, Hygrade, Wilson and Hormel.

The union had negotiated a contract in September 1970 that called for a second wage increase of 25 cents an hour, effective Sept. 6, 1971. That would have raised the average hourly rate to $4.50 for a union worker, but it was held up during the freeze. The union wants the lost five weeks of increases restored.

President To Dedicate Hospital

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon will dedicate a four-level, 140-bed hospital—heart of the planned Eisenhower Medical Center—near here Saturday.

Also attending the dedication of the $7.5 million hospital, in addition to movie stars, politicians and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, will be Mamie Eisenhower, widow of the former president.

The hospital land, valued at about $500,000 at the time, was donated by comedian Bob Hope and his wife Dolores. Groundbreaking took place in 1969, several months after Eisenhower died.

Rent Advisory Board Meets

By MICHAEL J. REILLY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission scheduled its first tentative steps toward formulating a national rent control policy today with the first meeting of the new Rent Advisory Board.

The White House established the board Monday to assist the commission in working out regulations to determine how much America's rents may go up.

Until these rules are put in effect most rents on private dwellings remain generally frozen, able to rise only to the level that prevailed for the highest 10 per cent of the apartments in the same unit during the 30 days [illegible].

Commercial, farm and industrial rents have been totally excluded from rent control since the freeze ended. Monday the Price Commission announced another minor exemption in allowing existing state or local rent control agencies, such as New York's, to resume their authority over previously rent-controlled units.

A commission official said the ruling applies to rent-control agencies in New York City and elsewhere in New York State, in the Boston area and Miami and Miami Beach. But he said there might be other rent-control agencies in the nation of which the commission is not yet aware.

Price Commission chairman C. Jackson Grayson, said rent increases approved by such agencies may now go into effect. However previously non-controlled units, public housing and publicly subsidized housing remain under federal supervision.

It had been expected that the Rent Advisory Board would be made up of Price Comission members, but assistant White House press secretary Gerald L. Warren said Monday "it was felt a separate entity should be created ...."

The rent panel will act in the capacity of adviser only, as Nixon's order stated, to "provide advice concerning special considerations involved in the stabilization of rents."

Earlier Monday, Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally expressed confidence in the success of Phase 2, and said the Pay Board's recent approval of a 15-per-cent pay increase in the first year of a soft-coal miners' contract should not be taken as indication Phase 2 controls are being eroded.

His views, however, were disputed by Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien, who said: "The American economy is in deep trouble and no amount of well-orchestrated cheering, even by such an experienced cheerleader as John Connally, can alter the situation."

Connally aimed most of his remarks in a broadcast news conference Monday at AFL-CIO President George Meany, accusing the labor leader of acting in a boorish and arrogant manner toward President Nixon last week.

Connally said Meany was discourteous after Nixon addressed an AFL-CIO convention in Miami. While Nixon was shaking hands with delegates, Meany stepped to the podium and gaveled the convention to order.

HOUSTON (AP) — Manager Thomas Stidger was working in his office of Wyatt's Cafeteria Monday when a gunman slipped in and said: "I want everything."

Stuff Your Turkey With Seafood

AUSTIN—Don't mess with tradition. Turkey and Thanksgiving go together, and that's that.

But if you were to try a variation on the theme with the turkey's stuffing, you'd probably be forgiven, especially if you used the recipes for oyster or shrimp stuffing offered by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Sure, those family stuffing recipes handed down from generation to generation are hard to beat, but seafood stuffings have a lot going for them too.

Both oysters and shrimp are in season this time of year so you'll probably come up with some quality delicacies.

The oysters you buy should be packed in a clear liquid. The closer the liquid looks to egg whites, the better.

The shrimp should be firm and meaty and smell fresh.

When your family is through stuffing themselves on the stuffing, remove the remainder from inside the bird and store it separately in the refrigerator. This allows the bird and the stuffing to cool faster and lessens the possibility of spoilage.

Try one of the following recipes for your Thanksgiving feast this year, and maybe you'll start your own family tradition:

OYSTER CORNBREAD STUFFING

1 can (12 ounces) oysters
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup chopped onion
¼ cup butter or margarine
3-½ cups toasted cornbread cubes
½ cup chicken broth
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 teaspoon sage

Drain oysters. Cook celery and onion in butter until tender. Add oysters and cook three to five minutes or until the edges begin to curl. Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Makes approximately four cups stuffing, enough for a four pound ready-to-cook bird.

STUFFING FOR POULTRY

For 5-9 pound bird——2 times stuffing recipe
For 10-15 pound bird——3 times stuffing recipe
For 16-20 pound bird——4 times stuffing recipe
For 21-25 pound bird——5 times stuffing recipe

SHRIMP STUFFING

1 pound shrimp fresh or frozen
½ cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped onion
½ cup butter or margarine
2 cups herb-seasoned stuffing mix
½ cup chopped macadamia nuts
¼ cup hot milk
1 egg, beaten

Thaw frozen shrimp Peel shrimp. Remove sand veins and wash. Cut large shrimp in half. Cook celery, onion, and shrimp in butter until vegetable are tender. Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Makes approximately four cups stuffing, enough for a four-pound ready to cook bird.

Couples Game night was held Nov. 19 at the Union Community Center. Other activities planned for the month included knitting, bowling, and bridge lessons.

A delightful program on holiday decorations was presented by Mrs. Dillard Teal and Mrs. S.T. Terry, members of Snyder Garden Club. They made several holiday arrangements including nut rings, Della Robbias and many other Christmas ornaments.

Dr. Robert Clinton, president of WTC, gave a talk on the importance of the bond election for the college.

Guests attending this month's meeting were Mmes. Lorrel Wilson, Floyd Baldwin, Stan Walker, Weldon Walton, Carroll Hull, Bob Stanfield, Terry Stanfield, Jerea Harper, Mary Gelski, Lu Wolf, Kathy Tully and Beverly Corzine.

Pressure Growing For Removal Of Surcharge

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Pressure appears to be growing here and abroad for removal of the 10 per cent surcharge on goods imported into the United States, and so it is unlikely that a decision can be postponed far into 1972.

The Council for Economic Development, whose membership includes many top executives and educators, is the latest to add its opinion, recommending that the surcharge be lifted "without undue delay."

There are problems, though, as there are with almost all aspects of the new economic plan. Some were anticipated, but it seems likely that the lowness of currency realignments is somewhat of a disappointment.

The surcharge was meant to give the United States strength in forcing a realignment of exchange rates in its favor. If nations wanted the surcharge removed, they should permit rates to change.

The change sought by the United States was an upward valuation, a revaluation, of the currency values of its trading partners. This move, although seemingly a paradox, would enlarge the relative power of the dollar.

Oversimplified for the purpose of illustrating, imports into the United States would cost more because their prices were quoted in more expensive foreign currencies; U.S. exports, bearing weaker U.S. dollar prices, would be more competitive abroad.

When the new valuations were established, it was the U.S. intention to remove the surcharge as no longer needed. If foreign currencies rose 10 per cent, for example, it would have an effect similar to the surcharge.

Such has not been the case. No currency has of yet risen 10 per cent relative to the dollar, and even in cases where the realignment had been progressing, it has slowed in recent weeks.

A study by Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. shows that the dollar on Nov. 15 had effectively depreciated 6.9 per cent in relation to 14 major currencies as compared with pre-May 1971 parities.

Since Aug. 13, however, two days before the U.S. plan was announced, the decline has amounted to only 3 per cent. In some instances, the dollar has actually risen in value since then.

Here is the record since Aug. 13 of changes in exchange rates among major currencies:

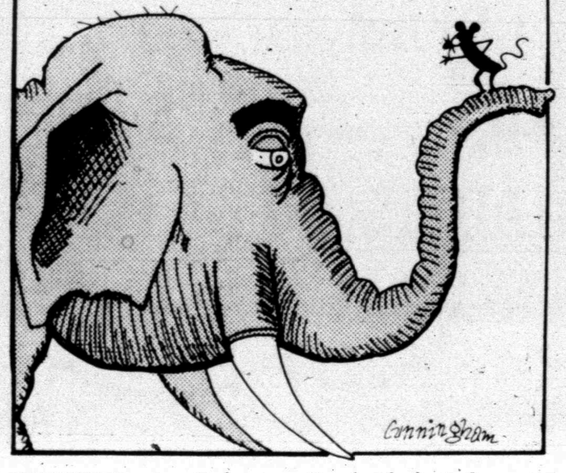

United States, down 3 per cent, Canada, down 0.2, Japan, up 7.5, Australia, down, 0.3, United Kingdom, up 1.1, Switzerland, down 0.2, Germany, down 0.8, France, down 2.8, Italy, down 0.4, Belgium, up 5.1, Norway, up 0.8.

The U.S. goal was for considerably more than 6.9 per cent. And while a slow response from some nations may have been anticipated, it is unlikely that so many "downs" were foreseen.

Despite its problems, the U.S. economy is still the strongest, and almost every other nation depends on it to one degree or another. It must be with mixed feelings, therefore, that they challenge the U.S. effort to force a big change in relative currency values.

That, however, is the course some of them seem to be taking.

A Junior Editors Quiz About ELEPHANTS

QUESTION: Are elephants really afraid of mice?

* * *

ANSWER: Many humans, particularly women, are terrified at the sight of a little mouse. Many people believe that the elephant, a huge animal, is afraid of a mouse. This presents a comic situation — the picture of a strong, heavy animal, like the elephant, being intimidated by a weak and tiny animal like the mouse. This grew out of the idea that a mouse could get into the end of the elephant's trunk and possibly suffocate him.

Elephants really show no fear of mice. Many times mice run around an elephant's stall and are ignored by the big beast. The elephant has a keen sense of smell, so it is aware of the presence of mice, but doesn't choose to notice them.

The elephant, which is the largest of land animals, is also very intelligent, and most likely doesn't find any reason for fearing a mouse. Even if a mouse did crawl into the opening of the elephant's trunk, the elephant with one breath could blow it out of the cage.

Court Rules On Nude Art

BOSTON (AP) — Commenting that he had "rarely seen so much fuss made over so little," Chief Justice Bailey Aldrich of U.S. Appeals Court ruled that an art show which shows a front view of a nude man and a bas relief of a human buttocks is "manifestly not obscene."

Aldrich said Monday that the controversial City Hall showing sponsored by the Boston Visual Artists Union could continue as scheduled.

The 109 works in the show included the two that prompted Asst. Real Property Commissioner Anthony Foregione to order the exhibit closed after the sponsors refused to remove them.

Mayor Kevin H. White overruled Foreione, but the mayor reversed his ruling when city councilors protested. The artists union went to U.S. Migistrate Willie J. Davis, who ruled the exhibit could continue.

Aldrich, in ruling on an appeal of Davis' action, "The exhibitions, depictions of the human form are manifestly not obscene."

Steal Show

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The Fox Theater was closed Sunday after someone stole the show.

Manager Tom Jensen said a thief entered the theater early Sunday and stole six reels of film and two portable television sets.

Dust Caused Malfunction

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here said a dust particle floating by Mariner 9 could have caused Sunday's guidance system malfunction.

A light-sensitive "tracker" apparently locked onto something brighter than its reference star Canopus, a spokesman said Monday.

As soon as the dust particle passed, the "tracker" locked onto another bright object-probably one of Mars' two moons, scientists said.

It took controllers at the Pasadena lab 47 minutes to roll the spacecraft to lock it onto Canopus again. Mariner is held in orbit around Mars by the planet's gravity but must be pointed toward the star for the probe's cameras and antennas to focus on the Martian surface.

Remarks Heard On Holiday

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks you're pretty sure to hear at any big family Thanksgiving dinner:

"Isn't it done yet?"

"Do you really think a 24-pound turkey is big enough for 16 people?"

"I'd say give it at least another hour. Don't you remember the year Bertha cooked her first turkey, and it tasted almost like raw rubber?"

"For the last time, get out of this kitchen. If another man puts a foot in here the rest of the day, I'll throw the turkey right out the window."

"Why is it turkey all the time on Thanksgiving? Personally, I'd rather have a plump baked chicken."

"Isn't it done yet?"

"Fixing all the trimmings for a Thanksgiving dinner is so much fuss and bother that every year I threaten it's the last one and next year I'll ask Eddie to take me out."

"Oh, you never really will. That wouldn't be any fun, Margaret. Thanksgiving isn't Thanksgiving anywhere except at home."

"Yes, I know. But it's still such a nuisance, and the smell of turkey gets into the draperies and stays there for days."

"All the men are staring at the television set as if they were watching the Second Coming. Since when did football become the main part of Thanksgiving? The Pilgraim Fathers didn't play football, did they?"

"Isn't it done yet?"

"I think you'd better slow down, Jim. That's your third one already, and the day is still pretty young."

"Remember, when all our children were young, and there were so many of them that we had two sittings at the table for the kids before we could get a bite ourselves?"

"Yes, if the kids weren't in such a hurry to grow up and fly away, this would be a nicer world."

"Well, I guess we've got a lot to be thankful for. Our family is dwindling so that any year is a good year in which none of us dies."

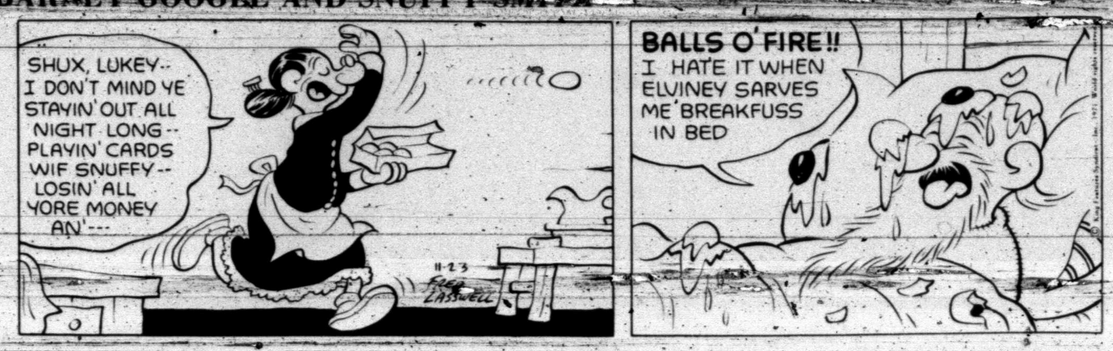

"Yes—or loses his job."

"I'll drink to that. Lift your glasses. Here's a toast to the family."

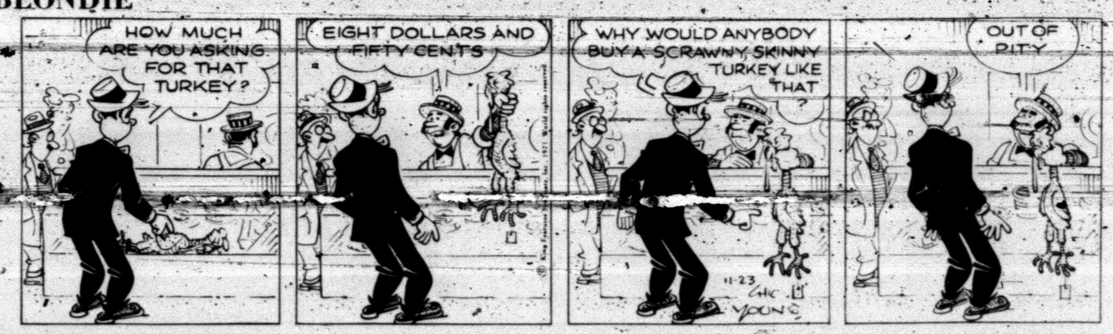

"Have you noticed that every time Frank comes into the kitchen to look at the turkey, he takes an extra snifter?"

"Well, it's done and on the table at last! You men leave that television set and sit down—or I'll really throw the turkey out the window. Fred, you say grace. You're the only one who got a raise this year."

WTC Seeks Second Win

Coach Sid Simpson's Western Texas College Westerners will be seeking their second straight victory tonight when they take on Schreiner Institute at Kerrville at 7:30.

They opened the basketball season here last Saturday with an impressive 90-72 victory over New Mexico Military, and Coach Simpson is hoping the Westerners can keep up their momentum.

Simpson was pleased with the hustle shown by the team in its opener, especially in the second half when they broke open a tight game.

Probable starters for tonight's affray are post men Joel Dyess (6-4) of Garland and Jimmy Hill (6-4) of Amarillo Tascosa; [illegible] Hanibal (6-4) from Fort Worth Kirkpatrick, and guards Johnny Neff (5-11) from McAdoo, and either Mike Simpson (5-9), sophomore from Denison, or Steve Sparks (5-8) from Krum.

Plenty of bench strength is expected from post men James Houston (6-3) of Charlotte, N.C., and Ralph Jackson (6-5) of Brownfield Union; forwards Cliff Gardner (6-3) of Tahoka, Marvin Jackson (5-9) of Brownfield Union, Mark Pearson (6-2) of Borger and Gary Henderson (6-5) of Amarillo Tascosa, and guards Mike McDowell (5-11) of Lubbock and David McAlister (6-0) from Plainview.

The Westerners will use a double post offense and a man-to-man defense.

Nebraska Holds Onto 1st Place

NEW YORK (AP) — Nebraska's Cornhuskers are still sitting on top of The Associated Press College football poll like the classic immovable object.

But No. 2 Oklahoma has its irresistable force all ready for a classic showdown on Thanksgiving day.

Nebraska, the defending national champion, continued to dominate the voting, collecting 40 of the 55 available first place votes. But Oklahoma, with eight firsts, was a strong second, amassing 976 points to 1,024 for the No. 1 Cornhuskers.

Nebraska, boasting the nation's No. 1 team in total defense and second in defense against rushing and scoring, matches this strength against Oklahoma's 563.2-yard total offense average, the best in the country.

Alabama surged into third place ahead of Michigan, which barely beat Ohio State 10-7, adding significantly to the game Saturday in Birmingham, Ala., between the Crimson Tide and Auburn ranked No. 5.

The top three teams were idle last week, as were Auburn and Georgia which jumped a notch to No. 7.

In the other notable change in the week's rankings, Louisiana State crashed into the Top Ten—in the No.10 position—on the strength of its impressive 28-8 triumph over Notre Dame at Baton Rouge.

The Fighting Irish, suffering their second setback of the campaign, tumbled from seventh to 13th.

In other games involving Top 10 teams, No. 6 Penn State walloped Pitt 55-18; ninth-ranked Arizona State bested San Jose State 49-6 and No. 10 Colorado shot down Air Force 53-17.

An additional poll of a special panel of 55 sports writers and broadcasters will be taken next Monday but the final poll, determining the national championship, will not take place until after the Jan. 1 bowl games.

The top six teams, all unbeaten, are involved in major bowls. Nebraska and Alabama clash in the Orange Bowl. Oklahoma and Auburn play in the Sugar Bowl. Michigan puts its 11-0 mark on the line against Stanford in the Rose Bowl while Penn State 10-0, No. 6 in the rankings, plays either Texas or Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl.

The Top 20, based on a 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 formula of voting, with first place votes in parentheses and total points.

1. Nebraska (40)	10-0	1024

FALCONS RIP PACKERS

ATLANTA (AP) — It's a three-team race in the National Football League's West Division now and the Atlanta Falcons feel that anything can happen.

The Falcons jumped right into the fight with a 28-21 victory over the Green Bay Packers in Monday night's nationally televised NFL game. They now trail the division-leading Los Angles Rams by one game and the second-place San Francisco 49ers by just a half-game.

"Anything can happen now," said Atlanta's defensive end John Zook, who along with the rest of Atlanta's front four made it hot for Green Bay quarterback Scott Hunter all night in the 31-degree weather. "We just have to win our own games, not worry about the other teams."

Zook, end Claude Humphrey, and tackles Glen Condren and John Small each sacked Hunter once for a total of 31 yards and then Zook hit him in the end zone with just over a minute to go. Hunter fumbled out of the end zone for a safety, icing the Falcons' victory.

Prior to Monday night's game, Packer quarterbacks had only been dumped six times for 56 yards this season.

However, Falcon mistakes, especially in the kicking game, kept the Packers in the contest. Green Bay tackle Bob Brown blocked two placement attempts by Bill Bell, one on the first Atlanta extra point try and the other on a 37-yard field goal attempt. Cornerback Doug Hart picked up the ball and raced 57 yards for a touchdown to give Green Bay a 7-6 lead in the second quarter.

With Atlanta leading 26-14 in the final period, Art Malone fumbled and Ray Nitschke recovered for the Packers at the Atlanta 24. On the next play, John Brockington raced around the right side for 24 yards to put Green Bay right back in the game, 26-21.

But the Falcons' Tony Plummer knocked a Billy Lothridge punt out of bounds on the Packer one-yard line with 1:04 remaining and on the next play Zook hit Hunter for the safety.

The Packers led 14-12 at halftime, but Jim "Cannonball" Butler returned the second-half kickoff 82 yards to the Green Bay 19. Four plays later quarterback Bob Berry hit tight end Jim Mitchell for three yards and the go-ahead touchdown.

Hall And Exon Roast Each Other

ENID, Okla. (AP) — Quail was supposed to be the main course, but Oklahoma Gov. David Hall and Nebraska Gov. John Exon took turns roasting each other at Monday night's Grand National Quail Hunt banquet.

Hall produced a dead crow, declaring that's what one of the two governors would be eating after the Thanksgiving day football battle between No. 1 ranked Nebraska and No. 2 Oklahoma.

The Oklahoma governor then presented Exon with a wishbone pin as a reminder of Oklahoma's powerful wishbone-T offense.

Exon replied that traditionally, the wishbone is broken on Thanksgiving Day.

Aggies Can Replace Hogs

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — If the Texas Aggies needed any more incentive to knock the Texas Longhorns out of the Southwest Conference football championship, they got it Monday from the Liberty Bowl.

Bud Dudley, Liberty Bowl official, telephoned Aggie Coach Gene Stallings and said A&M will be invited to replace Arkansas in the Dec. 20th game against Tennessee if the Cadets defeat the Longhorns Thanksgiving Day.

Lee Recalls Early Days

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A bus ride here reminded Mexican-American golfer Lee Trevino of his days as a poor boy.

"You known, when I was in Dallas caddying for $1.25 a day, I decided to go downtown to a movie," Trevino recalled.

"Now I was only 12 years old, and I was really black then 'cause I didn't wash the dirt off. Anyway, I got on the bus and paid my money and sat down in the front.

"In a little while, the driver said, 'Hey, boy, get on in the back of the bus.'

"I said, 'Why,' and he said all Negroes have to sit in the back. Then I told him, I'm not a Negro, I'm a Mexican.

"'Then get off the bus,' he said."

Trevino, who often pokes fun at himself, told the joke while riding a bus from San Antonio's Friends Special School, the recipient of the profits from an exhibition in which he starred over the weekend.

Fairbanks To Speak Here

Chuck Fairbanks, head football coach at the University of Oklahoma, has been secured as the featured speaker for the annual Snyder football banquet.

His team will meet Nebraska Thursday in a game that could decide the national championship. Fairbanks' Sooner teams have gone to two bowl games in the past four year. He is considered to be one of the outstanding young coaches in the country.

The date and time of the banquet will be announced later.

Tiger football boys will be honored at the banquet.

Meanwhile, the Tiger Booster Club has called off its regular weekly meeting tonight since the Tiger basketball team plays tonight, according to an announcemnet by Del Hirst, club president. The Club will meet next week.

Grid Slate Is Over

Snyder football teams closed their season last week with two victories against no losses. That makes the season record 34 victories against 16 losses with two ties.

The varsity Tigers whipped Lake View 33-7 in their finale, and the junior varsity Bengals thumpetl Lamesa 41-12. The other teams had closed out their seasons a week earlier.

For the season, the junior varsity posted the best record with nine victories against a single loss. Travis 9th grade finished 7-1, and Lamar 9th grade was 6-2. The varsity was 5-4-1, and Travis 8th grade was 4-4. Lamar 8th grade was the only team to lose more games than they won with a 3-4-1 record.

Tigers, Levelland Vie Here Tonight

The Snyder High School Tigers open their 1971-72 season tonight with Levelland's Lobos providing the opposition. Tipoff is on tap for 8 o'clock in the Scurry County Coliseum following the "B" team game at 6:15 p.m.

The Tigers have good height and experience and are expected to battle Lamesa for the District 3-AAA championship. Tonight's game, however, is a non-district affray.

Coach Bob Moore plans to use a double post attack this season and a man-to-man defense.

Probable starters are Kent Horsley, 6-8 senior post man; Jerry Brooks, 6-3 junior post man; Dub Preston, 6-5 senior wingman; Tommy Washington, 5-11 junior wingman; and Fred Liner 6-2 junior guard.

Good reserve help is expected from Gary Brooks, 6-3 wingman; and Kevin Jones, 6-4 post man.

The squad was bolstered this week with the addition of six boys, most of whom competed in football. Included are two letterman guard Jackie Murray, a 5-10 senior, and wingman David Thompson, a 6-1 senior. The others are post man Jimmy Don Dyess, a 6-2 junior; guard Charlie Anderson, a 5-7 junior; Meell Blalock, a 6-3 junior; and Mike Hinton, a 5-11 junior. Dyess, Anderson, Blalock and Hinton were on the junior varsity last season.

Coach Jim Bartlett will coach the JV team this season.

Not much is known about Levelland, but they always have a tough squad under veteran Coach Gano Tubb.

Football Team Won 2nd Place

District 3-AAA football teams ended their regular football season last week with Lubbock Estacado being the undisputed champion with a perfect 7-0 record. The Matadors also had the best season record with only one tie to mar a 10-game slate. Estacado will host Brownwood at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the bi-district game.

Snyder's Tigers grabbed second place with a 5-2 district record while Sweetwater, Lamesa and Dunbar tied for third place with identical 4-3 marks. Colorado City and Lake View tied for sixth place with 1-5-1 marks while Brownfield finished in the cellar with a 1-6 mark.

Lamesa had the second best season record with seven wins against three losses. Dunbar was next with a 6-3-1 record while Sweetwater finished 6-4. Snyder also won more games than they lost with a 5-4-1 mark. Lake View, Brownfield and Colorado City all lost more games than they won.

Snyder was the highest scoring team for the season, collecting 227 points, compared with 215 for Estacado. However, the Matadors scored 205 points in district games compared with 183 for Snyder. Estacado also had the best defensive record, giving up just 40 points in district and 50 for the campaign.

Finding Spot In Big Thicket Is No Easy Task

SILSBEE, Tex. (AP) — A twisting, turning series of farm-to-market roads in Southeast Texas intertwine, serpent-like, bringing visitors to the undefined ecological wonderland known generally as the Big Thicket.

It is possible to drive along the roads for 14 miles without seeing a house. Many of the town sprinkled around the heart of the sector are mere whistle-stops.

Nobody knows exactly where the thicket begins and ends since it has no set boundaries, but Saratoga is the center of the general area, which some say extends north nearly to Woodville, south to just below Sour Lake, as far east as Evadale and as far west as Moss Hill.

This area incorporates about 300,000 acres of so-called Big Thicket but old-timers in what remains of the wilderness are quick to tell you that the original thicket was a much smaller sector, probably no bigger than 50,000 acres centered around Saratoga.

I went to the thicket area to see for myself what it is like and, on the suggestion of Big Thicket Association President Dr. Pete Gunter, went prepared to camp out in one of the wilder areas of what has been proposed as a national park.

The place was known as Jack Gore Baygall in the Neches River Unit, 14 miles north of Silsbee off State 92. A baygall is a shallow pond found in swamp environment. It gets its substance from rain which is normally plentiful in the thicket.

Finding such a place was no easy task, however. It seems, the job of Big Thicket guide is not an easy one and the Silsbee guide, Geraldine Watson, was seeking a college degree in botany and not available to give directions.

Silsbee, a bustling town just 20 miles from Beaumont, has an entirely different style of living than more isolated towns within the proposed park area.

Whereas the people in Saratoga were apt to drop whatever they were doing to talk thicket, those in Silsbee were not even aware that a unit of one of the proposals for a Big Thicket Park lay near them.

Finally someone was found who could give directions to Jack Gore Baygall.

The baygall area, it turned out, was nearly on the Neches River with easy access down a well-worn oil company road.

A pair of oilwells are situated nearby, along with an oil storage tank.

Half a mile off the road was a place to pitch camp under a towering pin oak tree.

Even though oldtimers disallow that the Neches River unit is a portion of the thicket, the area is one of those that has escaped the woodsman's axe.

From the road, most woods look pretty much alike but to really appreciate the beauty you must hike into the forests themselves.

The Neches River forests consist of towering hardwood trees draped with numerous vines which combine to form a canopy over the forest floor.

Through that canopy little sunlight penetrates and underbrush is absent, indicating virgin forests.

The eerie swamp setting of the accented by giant cypress trees which are huge at the base, diminish in size about 10 feet from the ground and climb straight as an arrow to astonishing heights.

A pair of rare red pileated woodpeckers lit in a pin oak near the camp and began a noisy tapping on the trunk in search of insects.

Some people say ivory-billed woodpeckers, recently thought to be extinct, have been sighted in these woods, once reportedly seen by the Silsbee guide, Mrs. Watson.

Night falls quickly due to the thick canopy and when darkness comes, it is totally dark.

The moon and an occasional star can be seen peeking through the leaves and, alone in the wilderness, all the tales of ghosts, bears and panthers that go hand-in-hand with that wilderness area, come back.

In the distance could be heard the beat of the oil well. Just after nightfall a red wolf howled, a sound to raise the hair on the back of the neck.

Another wolf answered from farther west, then they were both silent as if to compete with the oil well.

Early the next morning the sound of water drops could be heard on the tent canvas. It was not rain, but a dew heavy enough to moisten the entire forest floor.

The average rainfall in the Big Thicket is 60 inches per year. The earth is certainly rich enough with decayed leaves and other plant material making up a large portion of the surface soil.

The area by day is a fascinating place, different from East Texas forests not only in the impressive size of the vegetation but also in its diversity.

The forest floor is clean to the degree that in many places it is like walking in a park.

As in most swamp-type environments, each bend of a stream and each patch of forest looks strangely similar to the others yet each is unique in its own way.

Visitors who go to the thicket looking for bears, panthers, ghosts and a giant poisonous snake under every bush are in for a disappointment.

Mexico Tightens Hold On Border

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary John Connally said Monday Mexico has tightened its hold on the border from California to Texas by making it harder for Mexicans to shop in the U.S.

Connally said new restrictions on Mexicans are having an effect on their traditional holiday shopping trips into the state.

"They say that we're causing them trouble because of the 10 per cent surcharge. Yet we allow our citizens to go into Mexico to bring back $100 worth of purchases free of any duty whatsoever, but they don't accord us that privilege," he said.

He said a similar situation exists in Canada where Canadians are permitted to bring back only $25 in duty free American goods.

Movie Artifacts Bring Big Price

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A winning bid of $320 by actress Debbie Reynolds for a carved wooden model of the Holy Sepulchre used in the movie "David and Bathsheba" topped offers in the last session of 20th Century Fox's sale of movie artifacts.

Sotheby, Parke-Bernet, auctioneers conducting the sale, reported total proceeds from the six sessions of $172,214.

Paul Cronin, an Andover, Mass., restaurateur, paid $280 for a massive round table used in the movie "Prince Valiant." Gary Etter of Grenada Hills, Calif., bought an electric chair for $10.

CHICAGO (AP) — A Chicago teen-ager has been charged with four counts of arson involving four fires in the 100-story John Hancock Building.

Texan To Boston For Treatment

BOSTON (AP) — A Houston teen-ager who has a rare form of hemophelia, a bleeder's disease, has been brought to Boston for treatment at New England Deaconess Hospital.

The youngster, Darrell R. Selby, 13, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. E. L. Selby, arrived at Logan International Airport Monday aboard an airliner. Their flight was made possible by the Houston Lions Club and a fund established by friends of the family.

The boy's father, a truck driver, and a sister remained in Houston.

Darrell has Christmas disease, a type of hemophelia in which most of the bleeding is internal. Medical sources said about one in 10,000 males are born with hemophelia, and 15 per cent of them have the Christmas type. The name derives from the first patient in whom it was identified, a boy named Christmas.

Young Selby will be a patient of Dr. James L. Tullis, who has been working on a blood concentrate for treatment of Christmas disease. The concentrate helps replace clotting agents missing in the patient's blood.

Dr. Tullis recently wrote the Selbys and offered Darrell free hospitalization.

The Selbys were met at the airport by two Boston sisters, Mrs. Charles Brassill and Mrs. Francis Stasium, who had made arrangement to meet them through a third sister, Mrs. Michael Gleason of Houston.

"If she, Mrs. Selby has no plans for Thanksgiving, we'll have her in one of our homes," Mrs. Brassill said.

A Brookline woman has offered Mrs. Selby the use of her apartment.

JDReadyingProduction Limits On Pep Pills

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department is readying the nation' first production limits on pep pills, amid indications the drug industry may be permitted to make as many, if not more, than it did this year.

The department's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs says its final decision will be influenced greatly by a recommendation lost in government channels two months ago, and now being hastily resuscitated by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Meanwhile, a study under way by the Food and Drug Administration on the safety and effectiveness of amphetamines and methamphetamines for short-term weight control could wipe out most of the legitimate market for these frequently abused drugs.

The bureau is shooting for a Friday decision on 1972 production quotas authorized by the 1970 Drug Control Act, and for publication in the Federal Register at the end of this month.

Although refusing to release specific figures, a bureau attorney said pharmaceutical manufacturers have requested a significant increase over 1971 production, estimated at 3.5 billion pep pills in 10-milligram units.

Two public-interest groups already have fired off letters of concern to bureau Director John Ingersoll, requesting that quotas be tightened.

The Task Force on Drug Abuse, a private, nonprofit organization, said it understands the bureau will not decrease production quotas and that manufacturers are asking for an increase.

"To follow either course the BNDD would officially sanction the widespread overproduction, diversion and prescription abuse of these drugs," the task force letter said.

The American Public Health Association said it hopes the "estimated past diversion, due to thefts from manufacturers, distributors or pharmacies, unauthorized sales by pharmacies and pilferages will not be taken into account in setting the quotas."

"Unless such losses are subtracted from the original authorized quotas," the APHA said, "the amount manufactured will result in excess inventories of large amounts of amphetamines that do not have any legitimate market."

The bureau attorney, who asked not to be named, acknowledged that manufacturers have cited replenished inventories as one prime reason for requesting higher quotas.

"That does not justify the type of increase they're asking for, however," he said. "Amphetamines can be manufactured rather quickly and the materials are readily available."

"I think the figures we will come up with will be realistic, meeting the legitimate medical needs of the country while removing the diversion factor," he said. "If we're wrong, show us. We'll be glad to change our minds."

Ken Durrin, director of compliance for the bureau, said slightly under 20 per cent of the legitimate pep-pill production can be traced to illegal markets, although other estimates run as high as 50 per cent.

Durrin said final quotas for 1972 will be directed to a large extent by a recommendation expected from the U.S. surgeon general.

The National Institute of Mental Health prepared a letter for the surgeon general's signature months ago, recommending some quota reduction, but the letter never reached the Justice Department.

"It turned up on my desk recently with the note, 'Where has this been the last two months?'" said Dr. Lorrin M. Koran, a special assistant to the NIMH director.

Officials from the NIMH and the FDA were trying to reach agreement on a recommendation before quotas are set Friday.

The FDA already has limited legitimate medical uses of stimulants to the treatment of narcolepsy, or uncontrollable sleepiness; hyperkinesis, or overactivity in children, and short-term weight control for 4-6 weeks. It expects to report sometime early next year on the efficacy of amphetamines for any type of weight reduction.

"If the FDA says these things don't work for obesity," said a spokesman for a major drug company, "it would effectively take them off the market."

Sexton To Raise Funds For POWs

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — "I can't believe I'm really home," S.Sgt. John Sexton told a homecoming crowd at Metropolitan Airport. "I wanted to be back so much. I've been away for almost three years."

Sexton, the 23-year-old prisoner of war released by the Viet Cong, announced upon his arrival Monday that he would devote himself to raising funds for POWs, servicemen missing in action and their families.

Sexton arrived from Denver where he had spent five weeks at Fitzsimmons Hospital recuperating from illness and wounds suffered during two years of captivity with the Viet Cong.

He appeared pale but walked easily and said he felt "pretty good."

Sexton, greeted by his family, friends and newsmen, lit up with a big smile when he talked about the meaning of his first Thanksgiving home in five years.

"I had decided I was going to have a Christmas or Thanksgiving turkey even if I got home in June," he said.

Flanked by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sexton Sr. of Warren, and his sisters—Mrs. Eddie Groppi and Mrs. Philip Winsko—Sexton announced the formation of a nonprofit, tax-exempt fund. It has been named the Sergeant Sexton Fund for M.I.A. and P.O.W. Aid and will seek to raise money to aid prisoners and to locate those missing in action. He did not specify the method to be used in aiding POWs.

"I am going to work my head off for it," Sexton said. "It is going to be my No. 1 involvement."

The Sextons will celebrate Thanksgiving with about 75 friends, half a dozen turkeys, four hams and all the trimmings.

Next month, Sexton will be honored by a parade, festivities at a shopping center and a testimonial dinner-dance before returning to Denver for further treatment and medical evaluation.

Vet Files Suit To Get Job Back

HOUSTON (AP) — An Army veteran filed a federal law suit here Friday seeking to get his job back in the Harris County Clerk's office. He says he was fired for protesting the Vietnam war and after other employes accused him of being a "nigger-lover."

Elroy James Spanihel, 24, filed the suit on behalf of himself and two other workers, Tim Garcia and Gary Shores, whom he said was fired for the same reason.

The firing came, he said, after he wore a black armband to the office to protest the Vietnam war and after getting in an argument with four other deputy clerks about race.

Spanihel, who is white, said the other clerks accused him of being a "nigger-lover" after he said he believed that all men were equal.

The next day, he said, he and the other two men were fired. Spanihel said he was told he was fired because he "believed in the forceful overthrow of the government."

Spanihel says he believes he was fired because of the armband incident and because he disagrees with the racial opinions of some of his fellow workers.

County Clerk Bob Turrentine refused to comment about the suit.

Prisoner Dies In Jail Fire

WINTER PARK, Fla. (AP) — "Oh my God! That's my son, my poor, poor son!" screamed Strawlee Moore as policemen tried to free a young prisoner from a smoke-filled jail cell whose door was welded shut by the flames.

Mrs. Moore arrived at the Winter Park jail Monday just as policemen wearing gas masks were dragging prisoners from the cells in the rear of the police station.

Michael Moore, 21, and Dewayne Paige, 19, had been arrested the night before on charges of trespassing at Rollins College and Moore's mother wanted to arrange bail.

As choking prisoners began exiting from the smoke-filled cell area, Mrs. Moore heard a scream.

"Let me in!" she screamed. "Oh please, please, please let me to him. That's my son! Oh my God, that's my poor, poor son!"

Minutes later she was told her son had died.

When rescuers reached Moore's cell, they said they found the door sealed shut. Fireman Bob Hines said the heat from within the metal-walled cell had welded the locking mechanism shut and 69 frantic minutes passed before the men were able to spring it.

When the door finally opened, Paige was alive. Moore was dead.

Officers said they found eight burning mattresses piled atop one another in the center of the cell. Moore's body was sprawled beside them.

Police Chief Melvin Colman said it was not immediately known how the fire began or who piled the matresses on the floor.

Paige, two other prisoners, a policeman and one fireman were admitted to a hospital. Several persons were treated for smoke inhalation.

Mrs. Moore was admitted for treatment for shock.

Peggy Lee Has Pneumonia

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Singer Peggy Lee is suffering from viral pneumonia and will be hospitalized for a week, her manager says.

Brian Panella said Miss Lee became sick while performing in New Orleans and entered St. John's Hospital here Saturday. He said Monday that the singer will rest two weeks at home before returning to work.

Donna Discloses Alleged Threat

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ernest Borgnine's estranged wife says the actor threatened to kill her, their two children and himself.

Donna Ann Borgnine, 38, who filed for divorce Sept. 13, disclosed the alleged threat Monday during a custody hearing.

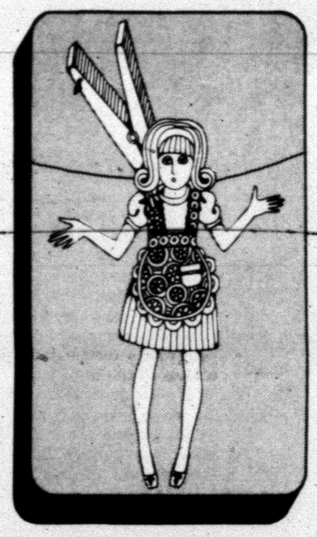

Mrs. Borgnine appeared in Superior Court accompanied by two guards. Asked by Judge Joseph Wapner why she had the guards, Mrs. Borgnine replied, "Because Mr. Borgnine had threatened [illegible] children, and himself."

Judge Wapner allowed her to retain custody of the children, Christopher, 5, and Sharon, 6. He ordered Borgnine to pay his wife $1,630 a month in temporary support.

Sealed bids on confiscated firearms are accepted by the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission.

END WASHDAY HANG-UPS
WITH a FLAMELESS ELECTRIC DRYER!

How many times have you dreaded seeing washday roll around—because of rain, blue northers, dusty winds or hundred-plus sunshine?

These are hang-ups you wouldn't have to face if you owned a flameless electric clothes dryer. You'd just move the clothes from your washer into the dryer, turn a dial and forget about the weather.

And you could dry clothes any time of the day or night.

If you were drying permanent press clothes, many would come out ready for wearing. Which could save you lots of ironing.

An electric dryer really makes sense. It costs less to buy. Only one energy source is needed. And it saves you hours of work for pennies a load.

See your appliance dealer soon about a flameless electric dryer.

Uruguay Winding Up Campaign With Bang

MONTEVIDEO (AP) — Uruguay's capital is winding up the campaign for Sunday's general election in a blaze of rallies, oratory and enthusiasm.

Montevideo, where 1.4 million of the country's 3 million people live has a daily display of color and sound that would do credit to Mardi Gras.

The voters will elect a president and vice president, all 30 senators, 99 members of the House of Deputies, and mayors for the country's 19 districts.

There are 11 candidates for president—seven from the ruling Colorado party, two from the National party, one from the leftist Broad Front coalition and one from a faction that splintered off the Christian Democrats when they joined the Broad Front.

The major candidates are expected to be President Jorge Pancheco Areco, seeking reelection; Wilson Ferreira Aldunate of the Nationals and retired Gen. Liber Seregni of the Broad Front.

Loudspeakers attached to telephone poles and neighborhood political clubs keep up a din of speeches, pledges and party songs from midmorning to late at night. They are often drowned out by hundreds of cruising trucks and autos with their own scratchy loudspeaker systems.

All of the parties have their colors splashed on walls, streets, trees and even slow-moving strollers: red and white for the Colorados, blue and white for the Nationals and red, white and blue for the Broad Front.

Few trees lining the avenues have been spared the painted bands of the Front. Block after block of sidewalk curbs are also checkered with the tricolor.

Hundreds of teen-age girls and boys wearing the orange shirts of the Christian Democrats parade through the city, singing and passing out pamphlets for the Broad Front.

Groups of youngsters wearing blue and white armbands slow traffic on the highways and stuff National party leaflets into passing cars.

The Colorado's held a weekend night rally that drew nearly 20,000 persons and turned the Avenue 18th of July into a sea of scarlet banners.

Red scarfs or bows were given to the onlookers.

Youths snakedanced through the throng, and cheerleaders with red and white flags led songs and cheers to punctuate three hours of speeches.

Mostly missing from the color display are the gray or blue uniforms of the police. Despite the virtual state of siege in force since 1969 to fight the Tupamaro guerrillas, few policemen are seen in the downtown area.

Color coding for politics is not new in Uruguay. The first elected government took office in 1865 after 40 years of strife between the Colorados and the Nationals.

Butz Foes Count 33 'No Votes'

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate foes of the nomination of Dr. Earl L. Butz to be secretary of agriculture say 33 senators are committed firmly against his nomination with another 20 considering casting a no vote.

They are counting on a coalition of farm organizations, the poor, environmentalists, organized labor, those angered over low wheat and corn prices and the memory of the Ezra Taft Benson era to defeat him.

The rejection of any president's choice of Cabinet advisers is a political long shot, having occurred just twice in the last 100 years.

But opponents of the agricultural philosophy of the 62-year-old Purdue University dean are buoyed by the unusually narrow 8-to-6 bipartisan vote by which the Senate Agriculture Committee Monday sent the nomination to the Senate floor.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana put the Butz nomination behind other major pending legislation and aides said that means debate cannot begin before early December.

Anti-Butz strategists say they are hoping that delay will give them enough time to convert the narrow committee vote of approval into a defeat on the Senate floor.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., the Republican national chairman, said he counts up to 30 votes against the nomination. He said he believes most of them will be cast for political reasons and that, as of now, Butz will be confirmed by the majority vote required.

Opposition to Butz surfaced immediately after his nomination by President Nixon to replace Clifford Hardin, who resigned earlier this month.

At first, that opposition was based primarily on Butz' service under Benson as an assistant secretary of agriculture in the 1950s. But senators soon were reading many of Butz' speeches in the last 15 years, in which he advocated what his foes now call a "survival of the fittest" philosophy for family farmers.

Butz has resigned as a Ralston-Purina director and from two other agri-business boards. And Hardin has accepted the job as Ralston-Purina's vice chairman.

Monday, at the committee's direct request, Butz reluctantly agreed to sell within 90 days of his confirmation the estimated $119,000 in stock he holds in Ralston-Purina and the two other firms, Stokely-Van Camp and International Minerals and Chemicals Corp., a fertilizer manufacturer.

He agreed also to place all his other stock holdings in a blind trust and to refrain from buying any other agri-business stock.

Society Trying To Buy Deer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Humane Society of the United States is negotiating to acquire 500 deer from a Grapevine, Tex., rancher rather than let them be shot by hunters.

Rancher A. C. Stone said he would be happy to sell the deer live at $200 a head.

The group, headquartered in Washington, D.C., said Monday they would be willing to purchase the deer for distribution to zoos across the country.

Sue Pressman, the society's zoo representative, said an unnamed person has asked the group to pursue efforts to buy the deer herd from Stone.

"We have talked to a specific individual who has promised a donation," she said.

Stone said he had planned to open his ranch to hunters at $250 a head. He said he started the herd 15 years ago with 20 deer. But Stone said he'll be forced off his land within two years by the new regional airport going up near here.

Naturally, he said, the deer must go, also.

An employe on the ranch, Joe Preston, said Stone had originally planned to sell the animals live but later decided that if he couldn't sell them live, he'd sell them to hunters at $250 each.

Stone said he preferred to sell the animals live but still has committments to a few hunters. About a dozen of the big bucks have already been killed, he said.

"We feel very strongly against letting the hunters have the deer," said Guy Hodge, a field representative for the society. "They're so tame that they'd walk right up to the hunters. They'd have to punch them away with their guns in order to shoot them."

But Stone disagrees.

"The first few you try to trap are allright, but after awhile the rest of them begin acting pretty wild," Stone said.

Mrs. Pressman said the society plans, if the deer are bought, to distribute them to zoos around the nation. Eventually, plans would call for returning them to the wild.

Two strains of the deer are rapidly disppearing, she said, and conservationists hope to see them breed in captivity.

Sect Urges Children To Visit Families

HOUSTON (AP)—Members of the youthful Children of God movement will be urged to visit their families over the holiday period to counter charges they are being held in the group's colonies against their wills, a member of the fundamentalist group said here Monday.

Parents of teen-agers and young adults who live in the colonies of the so-called "Jesus Freaks" have charged that leaders of the organization hold some mysterious power over their children and don't allow them to leave.

"In much recent press coverage of the Children of God and many affiliated works we have been accused of drugging, hypnotizing and coercing young people to remain in our colonies," said a statement released by the leader of the Houston colony who goes by the Biblical name of Cephas.

"To prove our faith in them (the members) we hereby are going to have a massive worldwide demonstration throughout all our colonies ... that these lies that some have been telling about us are not true," he said.

The Houston colony leader said about 70 persons live here.

Lewis Ingersoll, a leader of the Dallas colony, said in that city that the effort to send the members home is to "disprove some of the malicious lies spread by the parents."

He said there are 39 colonies in the United States, Canada, Great Britain, Germany and the Netherlands and Belgium with about 2,000 members.

Kentucky Lake in Tennessee in November showed a total of 62,000 ducks and 12,000 Canada geese.
