OFFICERS CAPTURE BUCK BARROW

Farm Act Administrator Tells Grain Board To Reform Or Be Eliminated

POLICE ORDERED WITHDRAWN FROM URSCHEL KIDNAPING IN OKLAHOMA CITY

FAMILY READY TO DEAL WITH SNATCH GANG

TRUSTEE OF SLICK OIL FORTUNE TO BE NEGOTIATOR

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 24 (AP)—Police were ordered withdrawn today from the Urschel mansion, scene of Saturday night's kidnaping of its master, Charles F. Urschel, as the oil man's wife announced that the family will deal, independent of any official investigators, with kidnapers.

At the same time the family announced that Arthur Seeligson, who with Mr. and Mrs. Urschel, is a trustee of the $23,000,000 Slick oil estate, will take charge of negotiations upon his arrival here tomorrow from North Carolina.

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 24 (AP)—The family and associates of Charles F. Urschel, kidnaped trustee of the $23,000,000 Slick oil estate, are ready to "make a contact with the kidnapers ourselves", a spokesman said today.

A second tense night of waiting had brought no word from the abductors when E. H. Kirkpatrick, an employe of the Slick-Urschel offices at Tulsa, declared:

"We will cooperate with the federal and other officials but we are ready to make contact with the kidnapers ourselves.

"Although we want to help the officers, our first interest, of course, is the welfare and return of Mr. Urschel."

Kirkpatrick made the announcement from the big, white Urschel mansion, where Mrs. Urschel, widow of Tom B. Slick, "king of wildcatters," has awaited bravely for news since her second husband was hustled from a bridge game late Saturday night by two machine-gunners.

His statement was interpreted by newspapers to mean that Mrs. Urschel, joint trustee of her late husband's estate, was willing to pay ransom if the contact can be established.

A policeman remained on duty overnight inside the mansion and two squad officers stood watch outside.

At Philadelphia a kidnaper's bullet cost the life of Frank A. McClatchy, 56-year-old real estate man. McClatchy was kidnaped Wednesday and was shot when he offered resistance. His abductors then fled.

The family of John J. O'Connell of Albany continued its vigil with little to indicate when a development might be looked for.

G. R. Hilton of Oklahoma City was here on business this week.

TWINKLES

Children playing along the street, shouting tick-a-lock, remind us again that there are a lot of adults who would like some similar refuge in time of depression. And some would be willing to accept such refuge from a king, dictator, state socialism, or any other kind of government.

It was real mean of Mr. Balbo to bring his mighty armada over here and ruin some of our self-complacency just when the depression almost had us licked.

We like Marvin Jones' "new day" much better than the "new era" so many people are enthusiastic about. We recall that a superman named Hoover started a new era for which we have been paying more than two unhappy years.

MAN AND GIRL FOUND KILLED ON ROADSIDE

Fort Worth Couple Shot in Back Of Head

FORT WORTH, July 24. (AP)—The bodies of A. S. (Pete) Michael, 33, and a girl identified by finger prints as Geneva Cantrell, 19, were found on the roadside here today. Both had been shot in the back of the head.

The girl apparently had been attacked and her body dragged 40 paces to a clump of bushes beside the road.

The body of Michael had been thrown into a ditch two and a half yards from the car.

A dented left fender indicated that the car had been forced to stop, probably struck by another machine. The hub cap on the left front wheel had been knocked off and thrown inside the automobile.

PASSION PLAY CAST SOON WILL GO TO SOUTH, CENTRAL AMERICA

German players who will present the Freiburg Passion play in the English language here next Monday and Tuesday evenings at the city hall will soon close their American tours and go to Central and South America for extended appearances.

Their programs here will benefit the underprivileged children's funds of the Kiwanis club. Tickets, priced at 50 and 75 cents and $1, plus tax, are on sale at the Corner drug store.

The people of those distant periods responded in amazing fashion to the dramatization of the Life of Christ. Intellectual curiosity had grown and flowered into the Renaissance. Crusades had brought, and were bringing back to Europe with each homeward-bound company of knights, a new and broader conception of life. The crowds became more dense within the cathedrals, as man became more evident to himself through the power of sacred stories retold by word and gesture. Christ's power no longer overawed the multitude, for they could visualize His suffering. Undoubtedly the religious dramas played a tremendous role in disclosing to men and women their individuality.

At Freiburg, Baden as in all the other medieval towns, built up under soaring Cathedral towers, the rush of the people at the Passion plays grew so great that the improvised stages were overrun. The voices of the participants could not be heard above the roar of the crowd. Even repeated requests, written into the dialogue of "Let There Be Silence," were not sufficient to relieve the situation. Finally it became the custom to erect the stage in front of the cathedral, in the shadow of the facade. At Freiburg the very earliest mention of the Passion play indicated that the plot was unfolded during the progress of a procession winding slowly on the outside of the muenster. But from the time that the spectacle emerged from out the dim, glass-tinted interior of the nave, the church lost its hold on the Passion play purely as a religious ceremonial. Monks and Friars still took

SAYS FARMERS GOING TO GET SQUARE DEAL

SAYS FEDERAL MARKET FOR GRAIN MAY BE ESTABLISHED

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—George N. Peek, chief administrator of the farm act, told representatives of the grain industry today to "put your own house in order" or "the government will act."

The farm administration is "greatly displeased" with the recent sharp fluctuations in the prices of wheat and other grains, he said, and determined that a program of reform for the methods of marketing products is necessary.

The industry is to be given "the first opportunity" to establish practices which would insure greater stability in prices, but if it fails, farm administrators are prepared to take prompt action before the next session of congress beginning in January.

"I do not entertain the view that the present grain trade has any divine right to handle the farmers products," Peek said.

"The institutions engaged in marketing exist and will continue to exist just so long as they provide a useful service.

"If they do not perform such service then it will be necessary for farmers to find some other method for marketing their products.

"This country cannot go on permitting farmers to be dispossessed of their farms and hopes through no fault of their own because of their inability to make the cost of production.

Square Deal 'Now.'

"My prediction is that unless the farmers of the country can be assured that they are going to get a square deal—not two or three years hence but now and before congress reassembles, then events will happen which will make what we already have seen look like a pleasant dream.

"I want to emphasiz to every one connected with the grain trades the necessity that you put your own house in order where it needs to be put in order.

"We are not going to undertake to superimpose something on the grain trades until after they have had an opportunity to work out their problems themselves.

"If this is not done, promptly, however, I will make no promises."

Peek's comments were made public in written form by the government after he had confronted the grain conference.

Soon after, the conference selected committees representing the exchanges, terminal elevators and country elevators to explore the possibilities of a code for each, with instructions to present their plans at the conference late today.

Delegates of 12 Counties Apply For Relief Fund

AMARILLO, July 24 (AP)—Representatives of 12 drouth-stricken counties of the upper Panhandle met here today to make application for relief funds to be provided by the government for county highway building.

The funds are needed to provide work for farmers and unemployed in the area.

Speakers, including Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo, advised the committees to have their applications ready on definite projects

Cotton Destruction Is Ready To Start

RESPONDING to the government's plea to reduce cotton acreage by 25 per cent so that a smaller crop will produce higher prices and better times, Gray county farmers are ready to plow up part of their growing cotton. This picture is typical of many such scenes now being enacted throughout the cotton belt. The growers will be compensated for their loss under the terms of the farm relief law.

YOUNG DEMOS CLUB LIKELY

Organization Sponsored and Encouraged by Postmaster General James Farley.

ORGANIZATION of a Young Democrats club in Gray county soon is likely as result of a visit by R. S. White, secretary of the Potter county club, this morning.

Encouraged by Postmaster General Farley and President Roosevelt, the Young Democrats organization is spreading all over the nation. The Amarillo club has 150 members and a goal of 1,000 by Christmas. It charges no dues and admits young men between the ages of 16 and 35.

The national committeeman for Texas, McDonald Leech, 607 Nixon Bldg., Corpus Christi, is directing the organization in this state. He appoints the first county chairmen, who then call organization meetings. Retiring presidents after this time become county chairmen. Congratulations to the Panhandle clubs at Lubbock, Plainview, Littlefield, and Austin have been extended by Mr. Farley, the Texas senators, and by Richard F. Roper, executive secretary of the national democratic committee.

"The president and this administration realize very keenly the possibilities which the Young Democrats have to be of service to the nation and therefore to the democratic party," Mr. Farley said recently. He plans to attend the national convention August 31 and September 1 and 2 in Kansas City.

ST. LOUIS, July 24. (AP)—President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals today announced Frankie Frisch, second baseman, had been named manager of the team for the remainder of this season and for 1934, succeeding Gabby Street. Breadon said the change was made because "we want to win the pennant."

RECOVERY COMMITTEE WILL BE FORMED THIS EVENING—GROUP WILL HEAR PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

Education Campaign Contemplated By Chairman

A local national recovery committee will be formed this evening at the city hall at 8 o'clock under the direction of C. H. Walker, whose chairmanship is by appointment of General Hugh S. Johnston, national director.

In the meeting will be the mayor and city commissioners, heads of federated clubs, chamber of commerce presidents, civic club presidents, county judge, parent-teacher association heads, postmaster, B. & P. W. president, and heads of the American Legion Auxiliary, as well as others interested.

At 8:30, the group will tune in on President Franklin D. Roosevelt's address and the subject of what individuals and firms can do in hastening national recovery. The committee's work will chiefly be educational.

Mrs. Lewis Of Canadian Badly Hurt in Wreck

VINITA, Okla., July 24 (AP)—Mrs. A. J. Lewis, and her daughter, Icel, of Canadian, Texas, were in a critical condition at a hospital here today as a result of an automobile accident Saturday.

Mrs. Lewis neck was broken and the daughter suffered leg and internal injuries. A son, who was driving the car as it went over an embankment, was unhurt. The family was en route from Arkansas points to Alva, Okla., to visit.

PAMPA MAN ROBBED OF CAR AND MONEY BY AN ARMED HITCHHIKER

RECOVERY of a Chevrolet coach bearing a Gray county license Saturday in Artesia, N. M., led officers to discovery of a hi-jacking and threats of death made more than a week ago when Bob Sanford, employe of the Pampa post office, was forced at the point of a gun to drive a youth beyond Amarillo. Sanford was robbed, then released with threats of death if he informed officers within two weeks.

Sanford picked up the youth at a filling station in Memphis after the boy had been recommended by the filling station attendant. When Mr. Sanford got as far as Clarendon, he told the youth he was not going to Amarillo. But when a gun was drawn, Mr. Sanford drove to Amarillo where another car joined the Sanford car, which was driven outside the city limits. Mr. Sanford was robbed and left by the road.

Mr. Sanford walked to his brother's home in Amarillo and told of the happening, and they decided that it would be best to obey the orders of the gunman.

Artesia officers told Chief of Police Jno. V. Andrews yesterday that a young man, answering the description of the man who rode with Sanford, had tried to sell the car for $75, saying that he won it in a poker game. The car was held by New Mexico officers, who let the youth go because they knew him. When Chief Andrews telephoned that he held a warrant for the arrest of the youth, New Mexico officers were unable to locate him.

About 24 Pampa Scouts Expected To Attend Camp

Boy Scouts of the Adobe Walls council are registering daily for the sixth annual training camp at Cima del Mundo, near Las Vegas, N. M.

Two dozen Pampa Scouts are expected to make the trip, along with about 10 boys from Wellington, 10 from Clarendon, 4 from Follett, 15 from Perryton, and several from other towns of the council.

That the road and camp site are in ideal condition for the camp was reported today by Scout Executive C. A. Clark. Joe Shelton, and V. Darnell, who returned yesterday from a trip of inspection. Las Vegas Scouts are just ending a successful camp.

Mr. Clark believes the Adobe Walls council is very fortunate to obtain use of the Las Vegas equipment for $2 per day.

Amarillo Pastor To Talk Tonight On Temperance

Dr. Roy C. Snodgrass, said to be an eloquent speaker, will be in Pampa tonight to speak on temperance. The open-air tabernacle just south of the First Christian church on Starkweather and Kingsmill streets will be used for this meeting which is sponsored by the churches of the city.

The Rev. C. E. Lancaster, minister of the First Baptist church, will preside at the meeting, which will begin at 8 p. m. He will introduce J. M. Cook of Amarillo, district chairman of the group of citizens opposed to repeal of the 18th amendment. Dr. McClure, minister of the First Methodist church of Amarillo will accompany Mr. Cook and Dr. Snodgrass.

Dr. Snodgrass is minister of the First Christian church of Amarillo and is recognied as one of the best orators among Christian churches. Last year he spoke before the international convention of Christian churches and because of popular demand will speak again this year when the convention meets at Pittsburgh, Pa.

He is a close observer of conditions, a student of national affairs, and a clear thinker. Every intelligent citizen, no matter what his views are on the question of temperance, is urged to hear Dr. Snodgrass' presentation.

TEXAS BANDIT IS CRITICALLY SHOT IN FLIGHT

CLYDE BARROW FLEES; BUCK NOT EXPECTED TO LIVE

GUTHRIE CENTER, Ia., July 24. (AP)—Clyde Barrow, bandit suspect, and his two companions were believed surrounded by a posse of 200 men near here today and about four miles north of the Des Moines-Omaha highway.

Barrow, a woman and a man believed to be Jack Sherman escaped earlier this morning from a wooded tract at Dexter, where Marvin Barrow and his wife were captured. The three men were spotted by Chief of State Agents Park A. Findley, who scoured the territory with an airplane.

DEXTER, Ia., July 24. (AP)—Marvin Ivy (Buck) Barrow and his wife, bandit suspects, were captured here today in a battle with state and county officers.

Barrow was critically wounded. He is not expected to live, a physician who treated him, said.

Two men believed to be Clyde Barrow and Jack Sherman and a woman escaped in a car stolen from Valley Fellers, a farmer.

Three squads of state and county officers surrounded the woods where the five suspects were hidden early this morning. As they closed in, the suspects began to fire with machine guns. The officers returned the fire, wounding Barrow. "Rags" Riley Polk county deputy sheriff, was wounded in the encounter.

Near Barrow and his wife, the officers found two machine guns, and five revolvers.

The three who escaped abandoned their car at Polk City, held up an oil station attendant and proceeded towards Des Moines in the attendant's car. Somewhere en route they are believed to have left the woman said to be "Mrs. Barrow."

Hid In Woods

The five had been hidden in the woods for five days. Suspicion was aroused when Ed Penn, farmer, found blood stained bandages in the woods while he was hunting blackberries.

Workers in a restaurant became suspicious after one of the men for several days had purchased five dinners to take with him.

Officers were notified and the search which led to the shooting was started.

NO COTTON BLANKS

County Agent Ralph Thomas today was still without blanks on which farmers may make application for permission to plow up a part of their cotton. The blanks are several days overdue.

Heat-o-Graph

Temperature in Pampa today was 88 degrees, following rains south and east of here Sunday.

The forecast:

A PRESIDENT'S TIMELY WORDS OF WISDOM

In President Roosevelt's remarks to the forest army there was a paragraph which ought to be tacked up where every citizen could keep his eyes on it during the next year or so.

That paragraph reads as follows:

"Too much in recent years large numbers of our population have thought of success as an opportunity to gain money with the least possible work. It is time for each and every one of us to cast away self-destroying, nation-destroying efforts to get something for nothing and to appreciate that satisfying rewards and safe rewards come only through honest work."

Here is one of those little observations to which all of us are ready to give lip service, but which we are not quite so ready to put into practice in daily life.

The stock market is boiling up toward the rim of the kettle these days, and a good part of its rise can be accounted for solely by the desire to get something for nothing. The man who bought Amalgamated Clothespins at 13 last winter and sold out a few days ago at 98 may be a smart fish, but he has enrolled himself among the something-for-nothing boys and any recovery that takes place will come in spite of him and not because of him.

For that man is a symptom of a national disease; a disease that came upon us most virulently duing the gay twenties and which has had us flat on our backs for the last four years.

* * * *

In the old days the country's admiration went to its builders, its doers, its men who got things done and made it possible for their fellows to get things done.

The railroad builders, the steel builders, the auto magnates and their brethren may have been guided by some cloudy ethics now and then and they may have profited unduly occasionally—but at least they gave the country a definite return for their wealth.

A decade ago we started shifting our admiration to the clever lads who put up their booths at the crossroads and levied toll on passing commerce; the men who made their fortunes by juggling stocks, who got rich not because they produced something we needed but because they got in on the ground floor and let the elevator carry them up.

Unless we can turn our admiration back to the biulders instead of the takers, the recovery which is now in progress will do us precious little good.

DRYS AND WETS IGNORE WOMEN IN PICKING ELECTION DELEGATES

AUSTIN, July 24 (AP)—Among the 62 persons named by the prohibitionists and the anti-prohibitionists as candidates to the 18th amendment repeal convention there is only one woman.

Should the state vote dry, the convention would be made up wholly of men, provided none of the delegates elected sent an alternate. Should Texas vote wet, the repeal convention would have in attendance one woman, Mrs. J. M. Loving of Austin, provided she did not delegate the privilege to her alternate, and also provided also E. A. Simpson of Amarillo did not let his alternate, Mrs. Jose Fay Peck, also of Amarillo, cast his vote.

The prohibition convention did not pick a single woman candidate for delegate but it named four women alternotes, while the anti-prohibitionists selected only the one woman delegate and the one woman alternate.

Women chosen by the prohibitionists for alternates are Mrs. J. W. Fincher of Houston, Mrs. L. B. Wiseman of Floresville, Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum of Austin and Mrs. W. C. Jones of Brady.

The women on either side were not given as much recognition as had been anticipated. Many women are active for repeal, and many others are working for retention of prohibition. Some think it would have been good strategy for the anti-prohibitionists to have placed more than two women on its roster of 62 delegates and alternates.

W. L. Dean of Huntsville, author of the Dean law, Texas' stringent prohibition enforcement statute who died, since the convention, was one of the prohibition nominees for delegate.

F. L. Denison of Temple who lost his effort to be chairman of the Texas highway commission when the senate refused confirmation of his appointment by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, is one of the anti-prohibition nominees for delegate.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 24. (AP)—Suspension of a big speculator, whose dealings aggregated millions of bushels, divided interest today with reopening of grain business and temporary sharp advnaces in prices.

Despite active commission house purchasing which at times hoisted values 3 cents a bushel, the wheat market reacted in late dealings, and closed at the lowest quotations allowed under emergency rules.

Provisions reflected the weakness of hog values and of corn. In much of the day's business, the climbs in the provision markets amounted to 75 cents compared with Thursday's close.

Wheat closed steady at the average of the closnig prices of Thursday, with corn unchanged to 1½ up, oats unchanged to 1¼ higher, rye unchanged to ½ advance, and provsions 50 to 75 cents off.

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY By O.E.H.

Something's bound to happen. It's so quiet around here that we find the natives wishing they were down in the hurricane zone for a change.

Lest we work more than the patriotic limit of 8 hours, we'll stop writing these little things here and now.

"REVOLUTION"

Charles A. Guy in Lubbock Journal: Too many persons think the word "revolution" means an armed attack upon constituted authority. They think "revolution must include organized warfare, bombs, siege guns, troops and bullets. Of course, they are wrong.

The word really means, as Mr. Webster so carefully noted: "A decided and sudden change; the overthrow of one form of government and the setting up of another, by the people."

There's no mention of armed force, of bloodshed, there.

(Revolutionary Americans would understand you better than many moderns. Many folk now are astonished, if not insulted, if you tell them they are in the midst of a socio-political revolution of a very pronounced type.)

REACTION IS BEGUN

Fred A. Story in Clarendon News: There are indications that reaction against the president's industrial recovery act is setting in. Here and there writers are beginning to challenge the "communistic" trend they see in it. Notable among them is Alfred E. Smith, who in his magazine The New Outlook, brands it as communistic. Mr. Smith was sorely disappointed when the Chicago convention failed to nominate him as the standard-bearer for the democratic party. He has not been in sympathy with the administration, despite the wide-heralded handshaking and hatchet-burying gesture. But the average American citizen feels no regret over the choice of the Chicago convention. The wildest imagination could scarcely conceive Al Smith's having commanded national and industrial respect to the extent President Roosevelt has. And the average American citizen feels a resentment at any snapping at the president's heels at this particular time.

(The right to differ is an American tradition. The spirit and purpose of "sniping" is the test. Read below.)

NOT ALL ROSES

John L. McCarty in Dalhart Texan: When the present public works and R. F. C. program are over it is likely there will be more evidence of waste and extravagance than anyone has ever dreamed possible and some day there will be a great big pay day for the taxpayers. Whether it will have been worth the price or not is debatable.

In all probability this writer and this paper will vigorously oppose the twenty-million dollar bond issue for relief work in Texas. I am afraid that it is establishing a dangerous precedent and that it will permit entirely too much possibility for political spoils and graft.

(How are you going to answer the federal demand that the states shoulder a portion of unemployment relief? And especially if the federal aid is withdrawn for non-cooperation of states?)

SURPLUS IS REAL

Homer Steen in Floydada Hesperian: In spite of the camplaints, in which to some extent this newspaper has joined, that the surpluses complained of in farm commodities, notably wheat and cotton, are paper surpluses, the department of agriculture, which has made the count, declares there is in reality and in truth more than enough wheat in storage to run the country on a domestic basis, for at least a year, and enough cotton, lacking only perhaps a million bales, to take care of the world's demand from the United States for another twelve-month period.

(You're right. But sometimes we suffer from fictitious supply and demand factors in manipulated markets, and not infrequently our markets are unduly swayed by inaccurate crop reporting board statistics.)

part in the production; but their influence decreased year by year. When the dramatized life of Christ moved in the light of the sun, the revival of the drama as an independent art was assured.

The Passion play at Freiburg was enacted for many years before any definite script was prepared to guide the production from year to year. The monks knew their roles by heart, but when the laymen of the town first began to appear in the sacred roles, they had to be taught their parts. The two oldest existing manuscripts in the city archives at Freiburg consist of 61 pages and cover leaves. The first bears the date of 1599, and the second that of 1604. In the older version there are scenes depicting the defeat of the Devil, that are not to be found in the 1604 version.

Two different methods of presentation are provided for in the manuscripts. One gives the directions for the processional enactment of the drama, the scenes to be given as the actors walk around the outside of the Cathedral; the other is the silent stage version for the unfoldment of the play on a platform to be raised in front of the facade of the Cathedral. Thus the two oldest versions of the Passion play at Freiburg mark the whole transition from church to town council control; for it was not long before that august group of men assumed the responsibilities for the ceremony.

Marvin Barrow gave his address as route 6, Dallas, Texas, where he said his mother, Mrs. C. B. Barrow lives. He had been wounded in the head several days ago at a Fort Lodge tourist camp, Barrow said. In the battle today, he was shot through the hips and sustained a severe shoulder wound.

Officers were certain that Clyde Barrow and the woman also were wounded seriously. They believed the name, Jack Sherman, given for the third man, by Marvin Barrow, was an alias.

Identification of the Barrow brothers was established by broadcast descriptions and questioning of Dexter residents, who had seen them.

Used Army Guns

Marvin Barrow said they had purchased their supply of guns from a soldier at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, for $150. Barrow, who was taken to a Perry hospital, was released from Huntsville, Texas, penitentiary in March.

Mrs. Barrow also was taken to the Perry hospital for treatment. Shattered pieces of glass penetrated her eyes in the battle.

The Barrows are wanted at Mt. Ayr for robbery, officers said here.

Clyde Barrow, Sherman and the woman with them escaped by wading a stream running through the woods. They dashed northward stole Fellers' car and last were reported seen between Panora and Guthrie Center.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ford of LeFors at Pampa hospital yesterday, a daughter.

Blond Princess Given High Office As Head of Italian Women Fascists

BY ANDRUE BERDING

ROME (AP)— Aprincess, blond and elegant, distantly related to King Victor Emmanuel, has become head of the "Fasci Femminili," or women's section of the fascist party, with headquarters in Rome.

Princess Bianca Pio di Savoia, 35 years old, thus has been called to occupy the highest political post any woman in the kingdom may fill.

Grants First Interview.

She has direct charge over 11,874 women and in ceremonies is the ranking representative of 200,000 fascist women.

In granting her first interview, Princess Bianca kept the appointment in her sumptuous office in the historic Braschi palace, headquarters of the Rome fascists. She wore a black silk blouse, black broadcloth skirt, a long double pearl necklace. Her light hair was carefully coiffeured and her green-blue eyes smiled a welcome.

She talked, in a low, cultured voice, of women in sport.

"Girls can derive a great advantage from sport, provided they practice it rationally," she said. "They should be permitted sports that do not involve too much fatigue and exhausting preparation such as required by the Olympic competition."

In this she was restating the fascist doctrine with regard to women in sports. Italy did not send women to the Los Angeles Olympics.

Poor Remember Her.

Princess Bianca spoke with enthusiasm of social service work which is the chief activity of the women fascists. She herself was for years head of the Garbatella fascist group. Garbatella is the poorest district in Rome and thousands of families there owe to her an alleviation of their pinched situations.

Even after her recent promotion, Princess Bianca, by her own wish, has kept charge of the district.

"It has given me and still gives me great satisfaction," she said.

She revealed that last winter the fascist social service gave assistance to 40,000 persons.

Another work in which she has been interested is the Red Cross. She has been a member of the national committee for two years. She has also devoted much time to the maternity and infancy organization.

The "Messagero" of Rome, commenting on her appointment, said: "It is enough to remember the tact, intelligence and alacrity she demonstrated for two years in directing the women fascists in one of the poorest sections of the city, the Garbatella, in order to judge how opportune is her selection."

"I WOULDN'T DRIVE A CAR WITHOUT Hydraulic Brakes!"

AN INTERVIEW WITH CAPT. FRANK DOUGHTY, 91 VESPER ST., PORTLAND, ME.

Look at the Brakes when you "look at All Three"

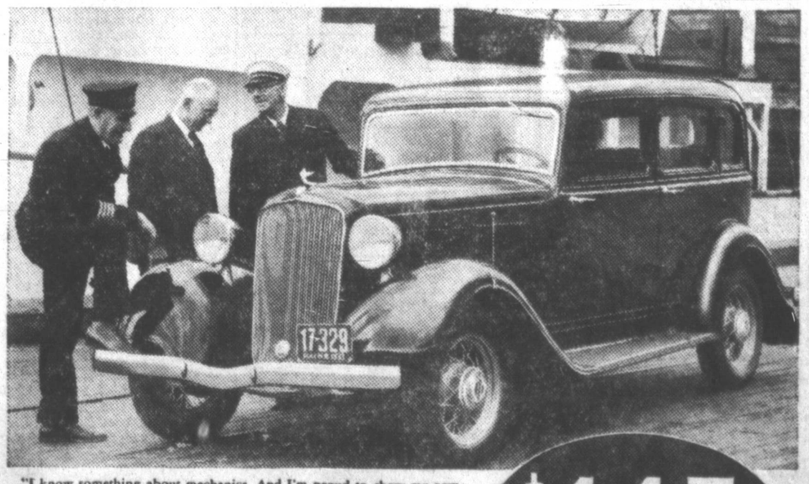

FOR 17 years, Capt. Doughty has sailed out of Portland harbor. Nowadays, you'll see him sailing around Portland streets in the Plymouth sedan that's pictured at the right.

Why a Plymouth? "Out at sea, a man has room to maneuver out of trouble," says the Captain. "On land . . . you have to be able to stop in your tracks!"

So hydraulic brakes win another friend. Because they "stop you on a dime." They are self-equalizing.

No other low-priced car offers you hydraulic brakes. No other low-priced car offers you the combination of Floating Power engine mountings, safety-steel bodies, rigid-X frame.

In short . . . no other low-priced car offers you the balance of comfort, safety, style and performance, and you have only to "look at all three" to find this out. Do that . . . before you buy.

"I know something about mechanics. And I'm proud to show my new Plymouth...because it's not only trim-looking but sturdy and dependable."

ROADRUNNERS NOSE OUT STRONG CANADIAN TEAM 5-4 IN HARD FOUGHT GAME

PITCHING DUEL DEVELOPS AS GAME STARTS

WILDCATS COLLECT 10 HITS TO NINE FOR DANCIGER

Danciger's Roadrunners barely nosed out the Canadian Wildcats 5 to 4 yesterday afternoon in Canadian. The Wildcats made a desperate effort to win in the last inning, when they scored two runs and had the tying run on third base as the last man went out.

The game was a pitching duel between Lefty Thomas of the Roadrunners and T. Riley. Only one base on balls was issued during the game, it going to Whitey Baccus. The only extra base blow of the game went to Cox, who hit a triple for the Pampa team.

Canadian opened the game by scoring two runs in the first inning. Danciger scored one in the third and tied the score in the sixth. The Roadrunners went into the lead with two in the eighth and one in the ninth but the Wildcats proved that they weren't tamed by scoring two in the last half of the ninth and nearly tying the score.

Thomas whiffed eight of the Canadian boys while Riley struck out four. Harold Miller and Pitcher Thomas led the Danciger attack with two blows each. The other Danciger bingles went to Baccus, Hickey, Cox, Leggett, Gossett, L. Riley, T. Riley, and Fry were the heavy hitters on the Canadian side with two each. Hoy, Canadian third baseman, provided the fielding thrills of the day when he knocked down everything that came his way. Many of his stabs were while off balance and throws to first seemed impossible.

The Roadrunners meet the Magnolia "Mags" in a three-game series this week, the first game Wednesday, the second Thursday and the last game next Sunday.

Score by innings:									R	H	E
Danciger	001	001	021						5	9	1
Canadian	200	000	002						4	10	1

Batteries: Danciger, Thomas and Leggett. Canadian, T. Riley and Teas.

Swimming Marks Are Lowered By New Champion

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—Out of a series of record-smashing performances in the Women's National A. A. U. swimming championships, Lenore Kight stood today the unchallenged queen of America's girl aquatic stars, worthy successor to the great Helene Madison.

The 20-year-old Homestead, Pa., flash scored a clean sweep in the four free-style events of the four-day championship program which closed yesterday, broke one world's record, and swam the anchor leg on the Carnegie Library team which smashed another world's standard in the half mile relay.

Only in the 440-yard event did Miss Kight eclipse a world's record but she won both the 880 and mile swims in such easy fashion that a record-pace was not needed. She was closely pressed only in the 100 meters.

Second honors for the meet went to Katherine Rawls, 15-year-old Fort Lauderdale youngster who retained her spring board diving and 300 meter medley championships, smashing the world's record in the latter event, but was dethroned by Margaret Hoffman of Scranton, Pa., in the 220 yard breast stroke.

FIVE BOYS KILLED

PORT HURON, Mich., July 24 (AP)—Five boys were burned to death today as their home on the Sarnia Indian reservation, 2 miles south of Sarnia, Ont., was destroyed by fire. They were sons of Tom White and his wife, Chippewa Indians.

ENGLAND DEFEATS U. S. FOR RIGHT TO MEET FRENCH TEAM

Vines Collapses On Court And Perry Is Awarded Victory by Default.

AUTEUIL, France, July 24. (AP)—For the second time in three years, England's twin tennis aces, Fred Perry and H. W. (Bunny) Austin, have halted America's bid to regain the Davis cup in the interzone finals.

Just as they did in 1931, but under circumstances even more dramatic, Austin and Perry smashed through to victories in both of the final singles matches before a record crowd in Roland Garros stadium yesterday, gaining one by default through the collapse of the American champion, Ellsworth Vines, won the series four matches to one, and gained the right to battle France in the challenge round Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

To Austin went the honor of clinching the series and ending for another year America's hopes of recapturing the trophy France has held ever since the "Four Musketeers," Rene LaCoste, Henri Cochet, Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon, won it at Germantown in 1927.

Meeting Wilmer Allison in the first match of the day, with Great Britain holding a 2-1 lead, Austin polished off the Texan in four sets, 6-1, 7-9, 6-3, 6-4, but all the drama, oddly enough, was concentrated in the second duel between Perry and Vines.

Fighting to regain the prestige he lost through the terrific beating he took from Austin in the opening singles match Friday, Vines fought Perry point for point until he suddenly fainted from nervous exhaustion and the pain of an injured ankle with Perry at set point in the 14th game of the fifth set.

The lanky American fell flat on his face, his long arms stretched full length in the red dust. Officials hurried applied wet towels to his face, then carried him to the clubhouse where he was revived.

Perry was awarded the victory, 1-6, 6-0, 4-6, 7-5, 7-6 default.

Vines put up a great battle against the No. 1 ranking British star until his ankle, injured on Friday, gave way in the sixth game of the fourth set when the American was leading 3-2.

Allison likewise gave Austin a hard fight, but the slender Briton again played a waiting game, letting the Texan beat himself on errors. Bunny won the match point in the fourth set when Allison netted.

America's only victory of the series came in the doubles where Georgie Lott and John Van Ryn whipped Perry and George Patrick Hughes in straight sets on Saturday. In the opening singles matches Friday, Austin had beaten Vines and Perry had conquered Allison in straight sets.

England's changes of lifting the trophy this year look bright in view of Henri Cochet's disappointing play, but experts are wary of outright predictions of a French defeat.

SELECTING JURY HERE

Selection of a jury to hear the damage suit of G. E. Brewster against the McLean Gas company et al was under way in 31st district court this afternoon. Brewster is suing as a result of the severance of gas connections at his home during allegedly cold weather.

The Gray county grand jury also was in session today.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bonham and son, Edward, of Seattle, Wash., visited a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Hampton.

All-Stars Beat Panhandle 10-8

Panhandle's veteran ball club fell before the Pampa All Stars 10 to 8 yesterday afternoon in Panhandle. The All Stars were leading 8 to 1 at the end of the sixth inning when Vodie Clemmons was relieved by Meek, veteran hurler, but the old fellow couldn't get his arm in action and Lester finished the game, taking over the mound duty with three men on base.

The youthful Clemmons allowed the Panhandle sluggers only five scattered hits in the six innings he was on the mound. He whiffed 11 of the Carson county experts. Clemmons has pitched 17 innings of ball in the last three games in which he has participated and his strikeout record is believed to establish a record. The youngster has 37 strikeouts in his 17 innings.

The pegging of Caddy was outstanding during the game. The veteran catcher caught several men stealing and took more off bases. The All Stars looked better than in any game this season.

The All Star lineup: Harris, 2b; George Clemmons, ss; Caddy, c; Lester, 1b; Romine, 3b; Vernon Clemmons, cf; Maples, rf; Lawson, lf; Vodie Clemmons, p; Hendron, 1b.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Johns and Mr. and Mrs. Skeet Roberts left yesterday for a fishing trip to various points in New Mexico.

Will Announce Winners in Gray Tourney Tuesday

Scores in the Gray County club's handicap golf tournament were being re-checked by the tournament committee this morning. Committeemen stated that they were unwilling to release the names of the winners until they had made a complete check of scores and figure the handicaps.

The course was crowded yesterday with players finishing their 54 holes of tournament play. The course was in the best condition of the season, and some of the best scores during the tournament were recorded.

The winners will be announced by The NEWS tomorrow and prizes will be given out at the City Drug store, where they are on display. Nine prizes will go for tournament play, five for tournament scores, and four for net scores.

APPORTIONMENT PAID

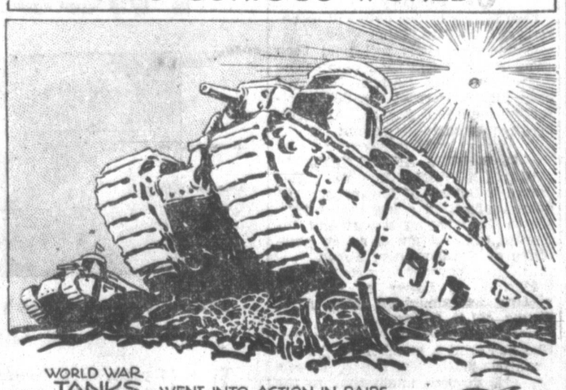

AUSTIN, July 24 (AP)—Remittance of another $1 on this year's state school fund apportionment has been authorized, making an aggregate of $10 paid against the $16 per capita allotment. The per capita apportionment for the next school year was not yet been fixed.

Charles Corts of McLean was a Pampa visitor yesterday.

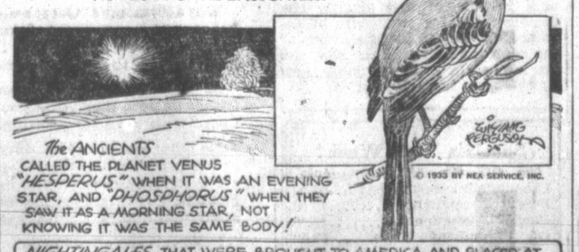

J. F. Jones of White Deer visited here Saturday night.

Dr. R. M. Bellamy will be dismissed this afternoon from Worley hospital, where he has received medical treatment.

WORLD WAR TANKS WENT INTO ACTION IN PAIRS... "MALE AND FEMALE!" THE FORMER CARRIED LIGHT FIELD GUNS AND THE LATTER, MACHINE GUNS. THE TANKS DESIGNATED AS THE MALES LED THEIR MATES INTO THE ENCOUNTER.

JUST how the World War tanks came to be given genders is not known, but it added a touch of chivalry to these lumbering implements of war. The male tank preceded his mate into battle for the purpose of breaking up enemy emplacements, while the female made it her duty to lay low the men who were seeking to destroy her partner.

HARD HITTING AND 11 ERRORS DEFEAT MAGS

VISITORS COLLECT 14 HITS AND MAKE ONE ERROR

The Magnolia "Mags,", weakened by the absence of some of their regular players, lost a one-sided game to the Shamrock "Irishmen" yesterday at Magnolia Park by the score of 13 to 4.

The error column, with 11 entries, tells the story, although some lusty clouting by Shamrock helped run up the score in the latter part of the game. Shamrock had two runs before they got a clean base hit, but hopped on Burke for five hits and five runs in the fifth and three more hits and three runs in the sixth before he was relieved by Warren, who allowed six hits and three runs during the last four innings.

The "Mags" scored all of their runs in the second and third innings on clean hitting and would have had more were it not for some poor base running on the part of Grove. Grove opened the game with a scratch hit toward Glaggow Baldwin promptly sacrificed him to second but he was put out in a double play when he wandered too far from second. Bozeman opened the second wiht a walk and scored ahead of Warren when the latter clouted a homer to left. Grove opened the third inning with a clean single to center and Baldwin followed with a single to right, but Grove was called out when he overslid the bag at third base. Cahill popped out to Bryan, but Newsome scored Baldwin with a double to left and went to third on Blake's wild throwin. Bozeman followed with his second walk and Warren scored Newsome on an infield hit, but Wagner ended the frame and, as it later turned out, the Magnolia's scoring for the day, by striking out.

Masterson was never in danger after the third inning. He allowed two hits in that frame, but no more for the rest of the game. With the exception of a walk to Baldwin in the seventh, he retired the side in order from the fifth to the ninth innings inclusive.

With the exception of Scruggs, all of the visitors got at least one hit. Masterson helped his own cause considerably with a home run and single which drove in four runs and led his team in this respect. Grove collected three of the "Mags" eight hits, but Warren led in total bases with a homer and single and drove in three of their four runs.

DRIVE OF 256.6 YARDS WON DRIVING CONTEST AT ST. PAUL

Golfers Addicted To Telling Tall Driving Tales Should Look Up Figures.

BY BILL PARKER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Locker-room golfers who relate how they drove 300 or more yards on this or that fairway must have blushed when they read that a drive of 256.9 yards won the St. Paul open driving contest, which included roll on a level, watered fairway. They must have questioned their sense of distance when they read that Craig Wood collected first money in the Chicago driving contest against the world's long hitting pros and amateurs with an average of 245.5 yards in three drives.

It requires a powerful wallop, almost perfect timing and follow thru with plenty of snappy wrist action to send the ball zooming through the air for 250 yards.

At the Corsicana invitation, Dennis Lavender, a long driver, won with one drive of 297 yards. The ball hit the middle of a baked fairway, bounced and rolled, and then the best it could get was 297 yards.

The markers on a golf course are seldom correct. Many golfers hit a ball down the fairway and walk up to find it has stopped around the 250-yard marker or perhaps a bit farther. In reality, they probably have clouted the ball approximately 200 yards. Golf course markers are usually measured with a "rubber-band" simply because it is good business to lead neophytes to think they can really hit for distance.

Pro Tournament.

Larry Nabholtz, Dallas Lakewood Country club professional and official of the Texas Professional Golfers association, got a pleasant surprise the other day. He opened his mail and discovered checks from six Texas professionals paying their dues in order to compete in the Texas Professional Golfers association tournament and the National P. G. A. sectional qualifying round at the Dallas Country club on July 31 and August 1. The first 36 holes will be the sectional qualifying round. The final 36 will be for the state championship.

With this rush of dues paying, Nabholtz said he believed Texas would be allowed four places in the sectional qualifying for the National P. G. A. As an example of how keen the professionals are for the tournament, Dudley Bell of Houston sent a check for $90 which paid last year and this year dues.

What first resembled a small field now looms as a large and most worthy one that will compete at the Dallas country club in two days of medal play competition, which means plenty of subpar golf.

YANKS LEADING SENATORS BY A FULL GAME

CUBS SLOWLY GAINING ON GIANTS IN NATIONAL

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The two New York clubs, again bracketed together as leaders of the major leagues, where the centers of baseball interest today as the Yankees forged ahead in their duel with Washington for first place in the American league and the Giants found their lead in the National dwindling before the oslaughts of the Chicago Cubs in spite of a remarkable effort to hold their own.

The Yanks picked just the right time yesterday to hand a pair of 8 to 1 lacings to the Cleveland Indians. Washington's Senators cracked up at the same time and dropped a 12 to 8 decision to the Detroit Tigers. And as a result the Yanks took the lead by a full game.

The Giants put on a sensational ninth inning rally, scoring seven runs off three pitchers in the final frame to beat their neighbors, the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8 to 5.

The Giants put on a sensational ninth inning rally, scoring seven runs off three pitchers in the final frame to beat their neighbors, the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8 to 5. But the second place Cubs came through with a double victory over the Phillies, winning the opener 9 to 5 when Harvey Hendrick smashed a pinch home run with the bases full in the tenth, and the second game 3 to 1 on Pat Malone's five hit pitching.

The Tigers' triumph brought further changes in the standing of the junior circuit. Detroit moved from sixth place to fourth while Chicago's White Sox dropped a pair to Boston and went to fifth and Cleveland continued downward to sixth. The Red Sox beat the Pale Hose 6 to 2 and 7 to 1, collecting 11 blows in each game behind the steady hurling of Henry Johnson and George Pipgras and swept their five-game series.

The Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Browns had an off day.

The Cincinnati Reds checked Pittsburgh's threat to the National league leaders and moved up a notch to sixth place by defeating the Pirates twice, 6 to 1 and 6 to 4 when the veteran flingers, Red Lucas and Eppa Rixey displayed some expert elbowing and Chick Hafey led a 23-hit attack with five doubles.

The Boston Braves and St. Louis Cardinals exchanged places twice in the course of splitting a doubleheader and finished with Boston holding fourth place, which it captured Saturday. In the opener Ben Cantwell failed to match Tex Carlton in what started out to be a battle between two of the league's leading pitchers. Carleton pitched seven-hit ball and the Cards slammed out a 12-0 victory. Rain halted the second game after six innings when the Braves held a 2 to 1 margin due to singles by Hal Lee and Shanty Hogan and Rabbit Maranville's fly in the fourth.

MOLLISONS TO LEAVE HOSPITAL--PLANE VIRTUALLY A WRECK

PAIR TO FLY TO NEW YORK IN AMPHIBIAN

TWO HURLED 15 FEET CLEAR OF SHIP AT AIRPORT

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 24 (AP)—Britain's famous flying couple—Captain Jim and Amy Johnson—awakened at the Bridgeport hospital this morning, refreshed and smiling again at life.

After 9 hours sleep, they regarded more cheerfully the crack-up in the salt marsh last night which ended their flight over the North Atlantic.

Their plane "Seafarer," in which they flew from Pendine, Wales, planning to start over the ocean again to Bagdad, and thence back to England, lay in swampy grass at the rim of the Bridgeport airport, virtually a wreck.

Captain Mollison announced at noon that he and his wife will fly to New York tonight leaving Stratford in a borrowed Sikorsky Amphibian plane at 5 p. m., for Floyd Bennett field.

"I was so tired I didn't know where I was headed," Mollison whispered as mechanics carried him and his wife away on stretchers made from fabric torn from the Seafarer.

"He couldn't see! He couldn't see!" cried Mrs. Mollison, who is equally as famous with her husband in British flying annals.

Mollison and his wife, taking 400 gallons of gasoline and a lipstick as baggage, hopped from Wales at 6 a. m., Eastern standard time, Saturday. They fought contrary winds across the Atlantic then encountered fog patches and head winds from Newfoundland down the coast.

It was 9 p. m. last night when the black plane soared over Bridgeport airport. Fred Moller, airport manager, went aloft and tried to guide the Mollisons to the runway. The transatlantic plane circled the field five times, with Mollison signalling frantically. Suddenly it shot down and nosed into a drainage ditch.

The Mollisons, who had previously cut the ignition switch to prevent fire, were thrown 15 feet clear of the ship. Attendants with pocket lamps, sought them in the darkness.

"For God's sake, come over here," Mollison cried. They found him lying in the marsh, and not far away came on Mrs. Mollison. Attendants slashed fabric from the plane for stretchers and hastened the pair to a hospital.

German Voters Give Hitlerites Church Control

BERLIN, July 24. (AP)—Chancellor Hitler's Nazi government had control of German protestantism today as a result of general church elections and started its reorganization from the ground up.

Simultaneously the non-Nazi election board received complaints that voters had been intimiated and in consequence declared the balloting invalid.

About 400,000 elders and members of governing boards were chosen. They will name provincial synod delegates, who will select delegates to a national synod for nominating a Reichs bishop, a post that has been in dispute for weeks.

Incomplete returns indicated electors, who apparently realized the futility of resistance, had heeded Chancellor Hitler's admonition that "the church expects protection from the state, which in turn is entitled to expect allegiance from the church" and had resigned themselves largely to fusion lists, making balloting superfluous.

WILEY POST SEES FASTER WORLD FLIGHTS IN NEAR FUTURE

ROBOT PILOT MADE BIG HIT WITH AIRMAN

SAYS MECHANICAL MAN FLEW SHIP ACROSS ATLANTIC

NEW YORK, July 24 (AP)—Wiley Post has no illusions about the longevity of that record of 7 days, 18 hours and 49 minutes he set in his dash around the globe. He thinks some one will break it in the not too distant future.

Sitting in comfort in an easy chair for the first time in more than a week, Post told yesterday of his adventures fighting the winds and fog of many lands. Asked what the fastest possible time around the world would be, he chuckled and said:

"Oh, about 30 seconds, I guess. No one really knows, but they're going to go faster and faster."

The robot pilot that helped him around the globe made a big hit with Post, he disclosed, despite some mechanical diffucilty. He said he'd rather have it than a human co-pilot because it is more accurate.

"Being a lazy man," he said, "I let the robot do the work as much as possible. I trusted the ship to the robot from Edmonton till I was over Newark airport. It flew it every step from the first takeoff, too, until 30 minutes before I landed in Germany."

Post is sure he could have made the trip in five days if he had "the breaks" in weather.

ofthepiluosmight

Post, who ended his record shattering flight at 10:59, Eastern standard time, Saturday night, had time yesterday only to have a few of the more obvious wrinkles pressed from his gray suit before a busy day began.

Back at his hotel, there came the day's climax, a visit from General Italo Balbo.

"Only a man like you can do something like that," the general said, his eyes flashing. "Oh, Post, magnifico! magnifico!

"I think," said Post, "that most generals are phony, but you have absolutely proven yourself a general to have gone out and taken charge of such a flight as you have made. I think it great—extremely great."

New York plans an official reception for Post Wednesday, when the Winnie Mae will be trundled up Broadway on a truck. On Friday Post may fly to Oklahoma, his home state.

CHANGES IN ALLOTMENT PLAN FOR WHEAT BEING URGED FOR PROTECTION OF THIS SECTION

COLLEGE STATION, July 24.—A rough idea of how the domestic allotment plan for aiding wheat farmers is intended to work out in practice is given by Texas A. & M. college extension service officials in the case of the well known John Doe.

John's three year average (1930-31-32) of wheat production has been 12 bushels per acre on 100 acres. If he signs the three-year contract with the government to reduce his acreage for 1934 and 1935 as directed by the secretary of agriculture he will be paid this fall and next spring an extra 30 cents per bushel on the domestically and humanly consumed portion of 1,200 bushels—the three-year average production. John's wheat, however, blew out in the high spring winds and he harvested no wheat at all this year. That doesn't matter. He will get his payments just the same, for the wheat plan includes this crop insurance feature. The administration has decided that 50 per cent is the portion of the 1933 crop that will go into domestic human consumption. This means that John would be paid 30 cents per bushel for 600 bushels, $120 soon after September 15 and the remaining $60 next spring.

Now suppose, in the fulfillment of his contract, the secretary orders John to reduce his planting this fall 20 per cent under his three-year average. John's three-year average has been 100 acres, yield 12 bushels and production 1,200 bushels. Cutting off 20 per cent would indicate a 1934 yield of 960 bushels. If 50 per cent is declared again as the portion domestically and humanly consumed in the United States, John's allotment—the part on which he would be paid in the fall of 1934 and spring of 1935 the equivalent of any processing taxes levied next year—would be 480 bushels. He would have to plant enough acres to produce this amount, 40 acres at 12 bushels per acre, and as much more as he desires up to 80 acres. His 1934 payments would be made on this 480 bushel allotment. What they would be no one can say and no one knows what the processing tax for the 1934 crop will be. That point will be determined by the cents per bushel that will have to be added to the 1934 wheat price to bring wheat prices up to the general price level.

The same process would be repeated in 1934-35. At no time can the secretary of agriculture order a cut of more than 20 per cent. It is said that the cut this fall will probably be 15 per cent.

Now when John signs his three-year contract (it gives three years of benefits in exchange for two years of acreage reduction) he at once becomes a member of his county wheat production control association. He would have a part in electing the executive committee of this organization. He would report his three-year average yield and acres to the committee and they would have it published along with with all the others in the local newspaper. If John's neighbors protest that he is out of line in his statements the committee would have to check up on him. If the sum of all the individual farm allotments in the county (unsigned acreages taken into account) exceeds the county allotment, the association would have to make adjustments of all acreages. The cost of all this local work is estimated to amount to an average of about 2 cents per bushel, and would probably be deducted in some way from John's payments.

Should John fail to keep his contract next year the government would declare his 1933 payments liens against his future crops and collect it back. If he should sell or rent his farm his successor would have to carry out the contract. But if John is loyal in living up to his contract and farms his allotted acres in a workmanlike manner he will get his payments whether he makes a crop or not.

Extension service officials point out again that the plan in its present form would discriminate against many Texas farmers because state and county allotments are based on five-year averages while the individual farm allotment is based on three years. Wheat acreages in Texas are incrasing, they explain, and hence Texas would have to reduce an average of 28 per cent under the 1932 acreage if a 20 per cent cut were ordered. In 45 of the 65 counties that produce 100,000 bushels or more per year, farmers would have to cut 25 per cent or more of a 20 per cent cut is ordered. A brief has been filed with the administration pointing this out and asking for readjustments of the plan.

Writer Charges Davis Cup Team 'Over-Trained'

PARIS, July 24. (AP)—Sharp criticism of American methods, which it was asserted sent Ellsworth Vines and Wilmer Allison into the Davis cup matches with England "over-trained," developed today in the sporting columns of the Paris newspapers.

"The principal American adversary was their own captain, Bernon Prentice," charged Jean Augustin in the Paris Midi. "How can any country confide its sporting interests in a man who presented two players of great value, Vines and Allison, resembling cadavers instead of athletes?"

Vines was praised by several writers for his gameness, as were the British for a performance which in the opinion of most observers was the result of high-grade coaching and training.

"There seems no question the Americans under-estimated the British," remarked one writer.

The American team sails Wednesday on the Olympic for home.

BUCS TAKE A DOUBLEHEADER FROM INDIANS

GALVESTON CLIMBS TO FIVE GAMES OF HOUSTON

By The Associated Press

The hard-driving Galveston Buccaneers stood a full game higher in the Texas league pennant struggle Monday by virtue of a double win over the Oklahoma City Indians.

Storming Oklahoma City Sunday night on their profitable northern road trip, the Buccaneers swept a double-header, 3 to 1 and 2 to 0.

Fine pitching was largely responsible for Galveston's success. Thormahlen held the Indians to four hits in the short second game after his teammate, Tubbs, had held them in check with five hits in the first game.

By taking the pair of games, Galveston climbed to five games of the Houston Buffs, league leaders.

The Buffs pounded Posedel and Johns for 19 hits in the first game of their double-header with Tulsa to win easily, 12 to 4, but in the second game the Oilers evened things up by scoring a 9 to 2 victory.

At Dallas the Steers' surprisingly disastrous home stand was accentuated by another defeat, this time at the hands of the San Antonio Missions, 3 to 1.

The Steers returned a few days ago from a profitable swing around the loop in which they won considerably more games than they lost. They had expected to move up in the league on their own grounds but so far have been unable to get going.

The Missions pounced on John Whitehead for their three runs in the sixth inning. In this inning Whitehead was hit for a double and two singles, which the Missions combined with a pair of walks, one intentional, to bring in their scores.

The Beaumont Exporters' game at Fort Worth was postponed on account of rain.

Hollywood Sound Workers Strike

HOLLYWOOD, July 24. (AP)—Determined to avoid a threatened tie-up of the entire movie industry, "if humanly possible," 11 studios advertised today for men to replace 665 sound technicians who went on strike Saturday midnight.

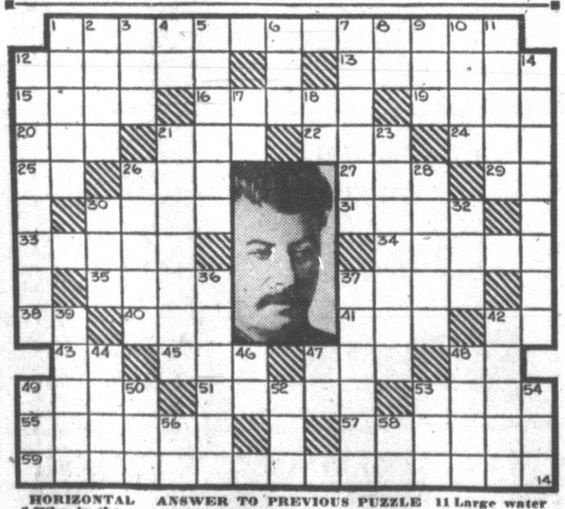

Because sound has come to be practically the essence of movie production, the strike would affect a large portion of the 27,000 workers in the industry.

The sound men are seeking a contract embodying uniform wages and hours.

A report of "no progress" in negotiations for settlement of the strike was made by Harold V. Smith, business agent for the sound technicians locals of the international alliance of theatrical stage employes.

Representing the Picture Producers' organization, Pat Casey blamed the strike on "a jurisdictional dispute between two groups of labor men"—The I. A. T. S. E., and the International Brotherhood of electrical workers, the latter having only seven men.

A New Serial by Ruby M. Ayres

SYNOPSIS: Sick with apprehension because she has apparently caught Nicholas Boyd in deceit, and Bishop, her step-father, in an affair with Boyd's wife Georgie Bancroft determines to wait in Nicholas' apartment until he returns, and have it out with him. For Georgie loves Nicholas, and Nicholas has said he loves her. Suddenly the door is pushed open, and Bernie Boyd, Nicholas' wife, enters. Bernie asks angrily whether Georgie has been there before, and Georgie answers "Yes."

Chapter 43

NICHOLAS ARRIVES

THERE was a dramatic silence, then Bernie asked:

"And are you the 'innocent young girl' for whom my husband pleaded so eloquently last night?"

"I don't know," Georgie said.

"You don't know," Bernie laughed shrilly. "Perhaps you don't know that he has been asking me to divorce him, offering to pay me to divorce him?" She laughed again. "You must be very innocent, I should think."

She moved over to the fire and stared at herself in the mirror that hung above the mantelshelf.

A sudden horror of everything seized Georgie. She took a stumbling step towards the door.

"I'll go."

Bernie turned sharply.

"Make the most of him," she said mockingly. "It won't last. He'll get tired of you just as he has of the others."

She tore herself free of her husband's grasp, and the next moment Georgie was alone.

There was nothing beautiful left in life; she was awake to ugly reality at last. When Nicholas came back she was still standing where he had left her, her brown hair falling about her face, one hand clutching the back of the chair.

"Oh, Robin!" he said hoarsely.

He made no attempt to touch her; he walked away from her and stood staring down into the fire, and the silence was unbroken till suddenly Georgie began to sob.

"IT'S gone, everything that was so beautiful. Nothing can ever be the same again. I loved you so I'd have done anything in the world for you. It's like trampling something beautiful into the mud."

He asked painfully:

"You mean you don't care for me any more?" and then as she did not answer. "Well, perhaps I ought to be glad. We should have had to say good-bye anyway. I wrote to you. I knew it was useless. She wouldn't have set me free."

For a moment nobody spoke.

"Oh, no, you won't; as you've waited so long for my charming husband, you will wait a little longer. If you and Nicholas think you can make a fool of me you are mistaken. 'Innocent young girl' indeed!"

"Very well," Georgie said apathetically. She did not care what happened; her beautiful dream was ending sordidly, as surely most things did in life.

The moments dragged by in absolute silence; Bernie had lit a cigarette and was puffing at it agitatedly, her blue eyes hardly leaving Georgie's white face.

And then Nicholas came in, shutting the door carefully behind him.

For a moment nobody spoke, till at last, Bernie broke the eloquent silence with her sharp voice.

"Well, what have you got to say for yourself?"

Nicholas ignored her; he crossed the room to Georgie and spoke in an agitated voice.

"Why did you come here? It was sheer madness. I wrote to you."

Bernie's mocking laugh broke the following silence.

"Very pretty! Very pretty indeed!"

Nicholas turned.

"You will please go," he said quietly. "I will take you down to your car."

SHE faced him defiantly.

"Go! And leave you to your innocent young girl! Last night you begged me to divorce you. There was to be no scandal, you said." She drew a sharp breath. "I rather fancy that I shall have something to say in the matter now. It will make a pretty story, Nicholas, you and this."

"You will please go!" he said.

She laughed in his face.

"You've changed your tune since we were in America," she flung at him fiercely. "Have you told your innocent young girl how you begged me not to leave you?"

There was a terrible silence, then she laughed again, though with less confidence.

"Well, I'll go," she said; she turned her head and looked at Georgie's bowed little figure.

"I wish I could die," Georgie said, and she slipped to the floor in a little sobbing heap.

Nicholas turned slowly and looked at her. His twisted face was very pale and his eyes were ineffably sad; then he lifted her up, holding her in his arms, her face hidden against him.

For a long time neither of them spoke, but gradually Georgie's bitter sobbing ceased, and at last she moved one arm, slipping it round his neck, holding him fast.

She found her voice, faintly:

"Where are you going?"

"I told you in my letter."

"I never had it."

"Im going over to Ireland tonight; I've a friend there. Later on perhaps—"

He felt her tremble.

"You won't—without telling me?"

"My dear, if you've got to tear your heart out, it's better to do it at once. I couldn't bear to feel that perhaps you were always going to be unhappy. I'm not worth it."

She said in a muffled voice. "If you weren't it wouldn't make any difference. I'd love you the same, whatever you were."

There was an apologetic tap at the door, and Nicholas released her from his arms.

"Who is it?"

The voice of his man answered.

"It's quarter past eleven, sir."

Georgie's eye dilated.

"I forgot you were going away," she whispered.

"Try always to forget it," he answered hoarsely. "Just try to believe that we're playing a game together, a game that perhaps some day will have a happy ending."

She said steadily,

"It won't make any difference if I never see you again. When I'm an old woman, I shall love you just the same, and whatever happens, wherever I am, if you want me—"

"If I want you?"

"We won't say good-bye, my little girl, just—" he broke off, and it was Georgie who finished the sentence for him. "Just 'God bless you'."

a light coach. There were spots of blood on the hub cap and both the front and rear seats of the car were bloody.

The girl's shoes were found on the floor of the car under the steering wheel. In one of these was a box of snuff and a handkerchief. Her underclothing was on the fender of the car. Her hose, rolled into a bloody ball, were a few feet from her body.

The body of Michael was on its side, one arm under the head. There was a bullet wound in the back of his head. His forehead was bruised.

The girl's body was found behind a tree. She had been shot behind the right ear, the bullet coming out directly below the left ear. The body was clothed in a dress.

In the front seat of the car was a bill fold that appeared to have been torn apart. It contained only a few pennies and no mark of identification. The bill fold is believed to have belonged to the girl.

Detectives said the couple apparently had been slain about 10:30 o'clock last night. It was presumed, too, that they were shot while seated in the car.

Michael's body was identified by his brother, Herbert W. Michael, with whom he made his home here. The automobile, which belongs to Herbert Michael, was borrowed by the man who was killed about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Police records show the girl was finger printed last Monday, having been booked for vagrancy. She had told police her home was in Oklahoma.

TEXAS VOTED WET IN 1887 AND IN 1911

DRYS LOST BY MARGIN OF 6,000 VOTES 21 YEARS AGO

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS.

AUSTIN, July 24 (AP)—With the attention of the Texas electorate centered on the always argumentative question of prohibition on account of the approaching vote on both state and federal liquor questions, a glance into the record of previous prohibition elections proves interesting.

Texans will be called upon to decide August 26 whether to amend the state constitution to permit the sale of 3.2 per cent alcoholic beverages and to pass on ratification of repeal of the 18th amendment to the federal constiution.

The record reveals that agitation for prohibition started shortly after Texas won its independence from Mexico. The movement made little headway but popped up again spasmodically in the widely scattered sections of the state until the time of the war between the states. During the war and post-war periods it died down again.

A vote on the question, however, was forced in 1887 after a strenuous campaign had been waged to get the legislature to submit it. The prohibitionists were defeated, 129,720 votes being recorded in favor of prohibition and 220,627 against it.

There came another lull in the movement and the next vote was forced in 1911 when the prohibitionists lost again, but by a much smaller margin. At that election, 231,096 votes were cast for prohibition and 237,393 against.

Ratification of the 18th amendment was effected in the legislature in the session held in February and March of 1918. The senate ratified the amendment first by a vote of 15 to 7. The house followed several days later, 72 to 30.

The question of amending the state constitution to banish liquor from the commonwealth was submitted at the regular session in 1919. The vote was taken at a special election called for May 24 of that year. Oddly enough, there were fewer votes cast in that election than in the 1911 election. The records in the office of the secretary of state disclose that 159,723 voted for state-wide prohibition and 140,099 against it, giving the prohibitionists their first state victory by a margin of little more than 19,000.

State-wide prohibition replaced local option prohibition that had been placed in the constitution when it was redrafted during the constitutional convention held in 1875.

PROCESS TAX IS EXPLAINED

Levy Made When Raw Products Are Changed Into Manufactured Goods.

By ROY F. HENDRICKSON

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—"Processing" taxes form the newest device for attempting to increase the farmer's income and purchasing power.

They are designed in the "agricultural adjustment" law to collect the difference between prices he now receives in public markets and what he got on the average between 1909 and 1914.

The government puts the money into a central fund for financing a retreat from excessive farm production, embracing payments to farmers and aimed at the same time to increase the public price of what he sells.

The first such tax levied by Secretary Wallace was 30 cents a bushel on wheat to be paid as the grain is converted into flour or other food. It went into effect July 9.

Another on lint cotton will become effective August 1 and a third, on cigar leaf tobacco, will be levied starting about October 1. Others will be assessed as programs for reducing farm output develop.

It is termed a "processing" tax because of being levied at the point where the raw material is "processed" or changed into products as purchased by the public, like wheat into flour, tobacco leafs into cigars, etc.

The tax may be levied on seven "basic" commodities, wheat, cotton, corn, hogs, tobacco, rice and dairy products.

But in addition, Wallace can order compensatory processing taxes on commodities sold in competition with these even. Thus taxing of rayon, silk, wool and linen may be ordered at about the same time that the levy on cotton becomes effective.

The rate of the processing taxes are determined from costs indices maintained by the bureau of agriculture economics. First, it estimates the average current farm price for the product. Then the average farm price of that product during 1909-1919 is ascertained.

A third figure employed is the difference between the cost of living to farmers now and in the pre-war period. The formula for determining the tax is then used in this way: The pre-war farm price is increased the same percentage as the cost of living is now higher than in pre-war times, this figure forming the "fair exchange" or "parity" value of the product.

The current average farm price is then subtracted, leaving the difference as the amount of the tax.
