LINDSEY WILL BE BURIED TODAY IN LOCAL CEMETERY

FUNERAL TO BE HELD AT HOME, 1518 AVENUE M AT 3 O'CLOCK DIED WEDNESDAY

PNEUMONIA FATAL AFTER TWO FORMER ATTACKS ARE OVERCOME

Federal services for J. D. Lindsey, pioneer West Texas cattleman and capitalist and founder of two theaters in this city, one of which now bears his name, who died Wednesday at 7:00 a. m. at his home at 1518 Avenue M of pneumonia, are to be held this afternoon from the home at 3 o'clock. Burial will be made in the Lubbock cemetery.

Mr. Lindsey died as he had lived, with a broad smile, typical of the hearty pioneers of this section of the state of which he was, playing golf on his "hole" late each day and peacefully, as the ravages of disease snatched his vitality during his third and final fight for life against pneumonia, which developed a week ago last Saturday, following an attack of influenza. Twice before he had been stricken with pneumonia, and twice his constitution was able to throw off the disease.

Owned Several Theaters During the major part of his period, his time has largely been devoted to the cattle industry, which he loved as well, but in recent years he has extended his activities to the theater business, and with his three sons, owned and operated at the "Grand" and "Pavilion" theaters in Lubbock, and at the "Grand" and "Pavilion" theaters in Amarillo, Tex. He has been a director of the Board of the First National bank here since the institution was organized as the Lubbock State bank.

The Woman's Day

By Allene Summer

While it might be trying to have an Irene in the home, many parents will envy the home or school system which gave the young lady her social poise and confidence. Any mother knows that Irene "will get there," which is what most parents want for their children, regardless of the method. No, they don't all admit it.

For Antique Hounds

"I am lost," writes one who signs herself "Grandmother's Clock." She explains her "lostness"—"Yesterday I saw an early American Girardin bench. I am lonesome. My entire house shall be furnished in antiques. But where and how do I begin?"

Spring Dishes

You've heard of rainbow wedding. But did you ever give a rainbow luncheon or tea? It's considered quite the smart thing to mix your crystal table ware—to serve one guest's chicken and mushroom salad, for instance, on a pale crystal plate, while the guest next to her sits from a rose plate, and a third from amber, and so on. Even candlesticks are mixed, and gift shops are displaying candle sets of harmonizing crystal, amethyst and jade, gold and rose.

"I Do!"

The European marriage of convenience, rather than the American marriage of "romantic passion," is somewhat eulogized by Rebecca West one of the greatest of living women novelists. Miss West writes:

"Marriages of convenience may give the persons concerned all the happiness they can get out of companionship and children. Why, then, do women insist on feeling a romantic passion? It may be because it is a kind of insurance against all sorts of things about a man, beautiful which are not true; which girls him with all the virtues and charms she has wanted him to have, whether he has them or not. Men find women so attractive that they can take them as they are. Women, however, find men so unattractive that they can't accept them except in a state of emotional excitement."

Skycraper Furniture

If your furniture, your book cases, your desks, your chairs, your dressers, are almost at all as they are today, if they tower into the air, but take little space on the floor, it's in the newest note of home furnishings. Decorators explain that they skycraper idea has necessarily invaded the home, because of their limited space today. Condemned in the kitchen, Paul Frank, an outstanding furniture designer of the new skycraper idea, has designed a combined bookcase and filing cabinet, rising in a series of rectangular forms, growing smaller until the top is reached.

"Out of the Dishpan"

"Never again need a woman's tender hands touch greasy dish-water," reads an ad broadcast throughout the land. The thingamajig looks something like one of those attachable bath showers. It costs less than $7. It screws to any faucet, and it guarantees to clean like soft dried egg yolk. And, reading the ad, one wonders if the cure isn't worse than the disease. You screw on and screw off five different do-funnies!

Aided but Star O. K.'s Censor

Dorothy Hall

By VIRGINIA SWAIN
NEA Services Writer

NEW YORK, March 9.—Dorothy Hall rode in the black maria to the station, when police raided the play in which she was leading woman.

But Dorothy Hall believes in censorship.

"It's reached the place when lovers of the theater must look even to the theater's most dreaded foe, censorship, to protect it from restriction."

"It certainly will rescue the drama, I'm for it."

Miss Hall had returned from the stage of "The Virgin Man," and was playing her last week to night.

Miss Hall had returned from the stage of "The Virgin Man," and was playing her last week to night.

Miss Hall had returned from the stage of "The Virgin Man," and was playing her last week to night.

"The truth is no excuse. Many things are true which are not entertaining. Even when a play is sincere and restrained, it may be dangerous."

"And I consider most of the sex plays now on Broadway merely vulgar and crude. Their only purpose is to demoralize, while dragging in the money."

"But even such a play as 'The Captive,' a marvel of good writing and staging, lesson of place in America, is sold with an unwholesome topic which should be treated by doctors instead of playwrights."

Miss Hall believes that audiences are just as guilty as producers in sex plays. Few actors are able to choose the roles they will play.

The daughter of a staid Methodist family of Bradford, Pa., Miss Hall was allowed to come to New York only on the pretext of studying interior decorating.

After about five months, she got work at an "office" in a motion picture studio, and triumphantly wrote an astonished family that it could view her work in the local movie house.

"Just think how I felt when I learned that the wholesome in which I worked had been cut out!"

"From movies, she went to the speaking stage."

"I'm one of the lucky girls who don't have to take a part they dislike," she says, glancing at the handsome manufacturer husband who is her insurance against economic pressure.

But this winter I turned down so many roles that at last, in desperation, I decided to try 'The Virgin Man.' The title was the worst of the show, anyway. And when they let me cut out some of the 'drama' and some of the vamping, I thought the play was harmless—though amateurish and dull.

The solution of bad plays is yet to come, Miss Hall says. Certainly police censorship is inefficient.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

Unless the War Department can overcome the situation for which the Senate is to blame, by allotting to the Army-pay item funds from current appropriations not imperatively needed, the permanent establishment will suffer greatly in every way.

THE GASOLINE-TAX MEASURE

With only a few days left of the regular session, or eleven work days should the members remain another week on a two-dollar per diem basis, the Texas Legislature is in a jam rather like that which entangled Congress at the windup—though fortunately in no danger of a filibuster.

eration at present is to meet the Highway Commission's financial situation, which constitutes an emergency. Governor Moody is in favor of the legislature remaining in session for a short time to complete some of the necessary things, but it is not recorded that the legislative body is going to take very kindly toward this idea.

ELEMENTS OF PROSPERITY

Dr. Frank Crane, possibly one of the best known editorial writers, and one of the very best thinkers of the age, has written a splendid short editorial on the elements of prosperity. His thought along this line is certainly worth of the mind of many people.

BRITISH ACCEPTANCE

As was foreshadowed, the reply of the British government to the invitation of President Coolidge is cordial in tone but cautious in substance. Great Britain naturally and sincerely desires to be on good terms with the United States, and is ready in general to fall in so far as possible with a leading American policy.

OUT OUR WAY

A WIDE FOLLOWING.

SO THINK WE

We think the fact that Ferguson is supporting Jim Reed for Governor will possibly make it against Reed's chances for becoming president.

We think because misery likes company it is possible the reason that Ben Moody's name has been associated with Al Smith as a probable running mate for the office of President and vice president is the general opinion that a certain political enemy of Dan's is responsible for this proposition being sent out about Dan's connection with the Smith campaign.

We think the Texas Technological College was rather hooped down at the fat stock show in Fort Worth. The college entered six hogs and a number of boys in the contest down there, and out of the six hogs, they pulled down five first prizes, and the boys in their judging put it at lover some of the old institutions.

We think that friendship is sweet and beautiful except when it plays the role of security for a boss.

We think there are three things that enter very strongly into the making of prosperity. They are brains, labor and capital.

We think that possibly the old saying "think his stars" originated in a theater where his actors enabled him to park the house with people.

We think that things have greatly changed. It used to be when a man was run down he took a tonic, now they take the ambulance.

We think that one of worst afflictions that most of us have during lent is the income tax reports that we are called upon to fill out, and make the first payment on.

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that the cafes over the country have not yet learned that eggs are cheaper than they used to be.

It is reported that the Englishman who came over to America went back and reported that this was a peach of a country—everybody had something they wanted to get rid of.

It is reported that the localing committee of the Northwest Texas Conference, Methodist church, has selected a site for the Clarendon college to be moved to, but Aquilla has got to show their hand in raising funds to put up more than $50,000 in building and $20,000 endowment.

It is reported that a lady lost her suit in the district court in a nearby town. It was a civil suit, however.

It is reported that the Denver officials will turn over the blue prints of the established route of the Denver road through Lubbock county within this week, and then the buck will be passed to Lubbock again to carry out her part of the contract by securing the right of way. This will mean that those "Denver notes" must be paid and that very soon. As soon as the blue prints are made the Denver people will want to let the contract for the grading, and that cannot be done till the right of way is secured, hence an emergency for action.

It is reported one minister not being willing to have so many people break their marriage contract, has substituted for "Until death do us part" "So long as this contract shall last."

It is reported that several victrola needles or sewing needles rust in the home. Wonder which one does in your home.

It is reported that measles, whooping cough mumps and chicken pox will be a thing of the past within a very short time if the health crusaders and the medical profession gets in an effective work in the next few years as they have in the past. That

DIVERSIFICATION BEING PROVEN

Hogs, Poultry and Cows STAMFORD, March 9.—With the passing of the "first of the year" and as business men of West Texas complete their inventory it has been found that West Texas business is in a state of soundness and marked buoyancy.

Farmers of West Texas, who thought they were ruined by the collapse of cotton, have found their resources were greater than they had expected. Business men who once despaired when the usual fall buying failed to materialize, find their business has remained at a steady level without the usual slack period following the holidays. The farmers who thought they could not buy in the fall have found themselves to be in better condition than they had anticipated, and as a result the fall rush has been spreading out over a several month period, and the business man is finding that the goods on his shelves have moved out better than he had anticipated.

The reason for the present conditions of West Texas business is three-fold. Firstly, West Texas as a whole has made good crops each year for the past seven years. The result was in such good condition that one slack year could not undermine the farmers and business interests of the region. Secondly, the farmers of West Texas have taken up a program of diversified farming to an extent that few people realize, and they are in position to live at home producing their own food at a minimum of expense. Third—a great all play is spreading over all West Texas. Millions of dollars in oil, gas and royalty money has been turned over in West Texas. This money has more than replaced the losses caused by an overproduction of cotton.

When Col. R. G. Lee was campaigning in behalf of a balanced farming program in 1924 and 1925, the farming situation of West Texas was acute. Brood hogs could not be secured in Texas at any price. Hogs had disappeared from the farms. The West Texas chamber of commerce in co-operation with the Fort Worth Stockyards company, inaugurated a hog importation campaign that placed thousands of high bred brood gilts on the roads of high bred brood gilts on the approaching a normal condition with respect to hogs.

One striking evidence of this is available. Col. Lee sometimes ago checked up on the hogs between two well-known West Texas cities. On a 34 mile drive between Big Spring and Lampas he looked over such farm places and found that very few farmers had any hogs at all. Less than a half dozen hogs were seen on the trip.

Mary Wants to Direct, Picks Story About an Angel

BY DAN THOMAS NEA Service Writer HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 9.—Until today, Mary Pickford had a secret ambition. But it is a secret no longer. She wants to direct.

"Since I first started working in pictures, I have wanted to direct," she told me. "It may be several years before I discard make-up for a megaphone, but I'm determined to do it some day."

"I should love to do H. G. Wells' 'The Wonderful Visit' for my first picture. It might also be my last, because directing requires unlimited strength and vitality."

Must Persuade Wells "Before I can make any definite plans however, it will be necessary to persuade Mr. Wells to sell me the film rights to his book. When I was in Europe last summer I told him that some day I want to film that story. When the time comes I hope he will consent, despite his declaration never to sell another story to the movies. My heart is in 'The Wonderful Visit' and that is why I want to direct it myself."

The Wonderful Visit is a story of an angel who comes to earth and disrupts an entire community in one week. As a screen actress, Miss Pickford believes it offers unique possibilities for the standard picture.

Her idea is to film the story with an entirely unknown cast. She would prefer a sweet-faced Italian boy about 17 years old for the angel. But Joe Schenck, head of United States Artists thinks Mary herself should portray the angel. They have discussed the picture briefly and he agrees it would be a great production. There is a satire for those who would get it and stand for the others.

"I would like to play the angel," says Miss Pickford, "but I am set on directing the picture and the whole work might prove too much."

The story in question is a perfect Pickford picture. Who could direct a Mary Pickford type of picture better than Mary Pickford?

At present, Mary is busy supervising the film of her first picture, which will go to the screen an entirely new and fascinatingly beautiful Mary Pickford in the person of a modern shop girl—short skirt and all.

Weekly Health Letter

Much interest is being shown in the state-wide clean-up campaign sponsored by the state board of health for the week April 24 to 26. Information received from a large number of municipalities indicates that intensive clean-up activities will be conducted under the auspices of city officials in co-operation with chambers of commerce, civic clubs, women's clubs, boy scouts and school children. Cleanest-town contests will also be conducted in a number of counties, plans already having been made for this work in Hill county under the leadership of the county's federated clubs along the lines of similar contests during the last several years.

According to Dr. J. C. Anderson, state health officer, general clean-up activities call for clean streets, alteration of parks and vacant lots, sanitation of public buildings, drainage and eradication of mosquito breeding places. Other things stressed by the state health officer for consideration by towns and communities include campaigns for: safe water, milk sanitation, sewage disposal, garbage disposal, vaccination against smallpox, diphtheria immunization, and birth registration.

"Homeholders," Dr. Anderson stated, "should ascertain if their local water supply is given Grade A rating by the state board of health, and if their city commissions have adopted the standard milk ordinance. This should also be given during this week."

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST OPTIMISM When Bill's barn burned to the ground, he stood there and said: "Well, darn! As glad to see as the smoldering wood. For his stock was gone. And his loss was one. He couldn't afford at that time of year. And he stood again. On that blackened ground, pouring the grit into every ear. He cursed his luck till a month was turned. But the fact remained that his barn was burned! When Jim's barn burned, he said: "Well, darn! There goes my stock and there goes my barn! 'Twas a careless trick. And it makes no stock. It's a dreadful plight that I'm in right now!"

MATADOR TRACKMEN OFF TO FORT WORTH

CREW TO ENTER INTER-COLLEGIATE TRACK AND FIELD MEET CONTESTING TEAMS OVER STATE AT STOCK SHOW

Coach Grady Higginbotham and the Texas Tech track squad will leave today for Ft. Worth where they will take part in the annual inter-collegiate track and field meet held in that city during the Fat Stock show. Tech will meet teams from Texas University, Texas A. & M., Rice, Baylor and other Texas colleges during the meet in the Panther city.

For the past few weeks workmen have been engaged in building up the track and very little workout has been carried on lately for that reason. However, the men have been in fairly good condition for some time and a number of the Matadors will give the other college crew stiff competition in their events. Coach Higginbotham was somewhat uncertain just who would carry the Matador banner in the 100 yard dash and field events. Walker and Fisher will run in the 100 yard dash and Walker will run the 220, and 200 yard hurdles; Christian will run the 120 high hurdles and the 220 low hurdles. Davis will enter in the pole vault. Brown in the high jump. Moore in the 400. Neal will run the 880 yard run, and Edwards will take part in the weights.

Walker, the fleet dashman of the Matador crew, will probably take a first place in the 100 and 220. Christian will no doubt place in both the 120 high and 200 low hurdles, and Edwards has a very good chance in the field events, shot put and discus. It is not certain whether the Matadors will take part in the one mile relay or not as no time has been devoted to that part of the track work.

Personnel Given
Percy Walker, handsome Ramsome Walker, Leon Fisher, Christian, Davis, Clyde Brown, Elmer Moore, Neal and Tony Edwards will be the probable team to wear the Matador banner in the 100 yard dash and field events. Walker and Fisher will run in the 100 yard dash and Walker will run the 220, and 200 yard hurdles; Christian will run the 120 high hurdles and the 220 low hurdles. Davis will enter in the pole vault. Brown in the high jump. Moore in the 400. Neal will run the 880 yard run, and Edwards will take part in the weights.

McWilliams Wins in Tech Semi-Finals

Semi-finals in physical training of the Texas Technological college, which is under the direction of Rhodes Ferguson, was conducted last evening at the assembly hall with McWilliams defeating Walker with a score of 23 to 7 and with Berden taking an extra time game with McDonald with a score of 19 to 14. Finals will be played this evening and tomorrow evening with McWilliams and Berden battling for the P. T. championship.

In the last game of the semi-finals the McDonald-Berden contest, both teams were tied up at the conclusion of the last period, 16-16, and a necessary extra period of five minutes was played with Berden coming out over the McDonaldmen by one point.

Unusually good interest has been displayed throughout the entire term by physical training, according to Captain Ferguson and try motions of classes have taken part in the basketball tournament of the physical training work.

The final games will begin at seven each evening and no admission is charged. Attendance is expected to turn out for the final clashes this evening and tomorrow evening.

Cobb Doubles First Trip to the Plate

JOHN W. COBB, Florida, March 9.—Texas' first baseman today doubled in his first five innings in the final game of the Mack men's baseball team, in which the Mack men pounded four New York Giants batters for 14 hits and thirteen runs to win, 13 to 5.

Early in the game Cobb struck out three batters, striking out Horning twice, when a line drive hit him on the knee. Eddie Collins was forced from the game. He was not believed to have been seriously injured.

WACO, March 9.—The Waco Cubs won their first ball game of the season today by defeating the House of David Team from Benton Harbor, Michigan, 3 to 1.

MALONEY AND SHARKEY FORGO OTHER FIGHTS UNTIL PAIR CRAWL THROUGH ROPES FOR ENCOUNTER ON MAY 19

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 9.—Jim Maloney and Jack Sharkey, rival Boston heavyweight title contenders, will do no more fighting until they crawl through the ropes for their 15 round match at the Yankee stadium May 19.

Tex Rickard, who has both men under a long term contract, put up the barriers today against further preliminary competition for either Boston fighter on the theory that he cannot afford to take any more on injuries or substance that would upset the outside heavy-weight program.

You'd Be Surprised!

BY BILLY EVANS

WALTER JOHNSON, generally considered greatest of all pitchers, boasts a record that fairly teems with records.

Horemans Beaten by German Billiardist

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—The triple tie for first place in the 18.2 ballroom world championship billiards tournament was broken tonight when Erich Hageman of Germany topped over Edouard Horemans, the Belgian star, 400 to 182.

Horemans' defeat takes him out of the tie and leaves the field clear to Jake Schaefer of Chicago and Welker Coanan of California, both of whom have three wins and no defeats.

The match does not alter Hageman's position. He remains in fifth place topping Willie Hoppe, present title holder and Kinsey Matsuyama of Japan.

occasion his great surprise, for Johnson is familiar with the many remarkable pitching feats of perhaps the most popular ball player that ever graced the game.

Therefore, to write of unexpected reverses suffered by Johnson would create far greater interest among the fans. To do this, one must go back to the season of 1914.

In 1912 and 1913 Johnson had been practically unbeatable. He had won 22 and lost 12 in 1912, while the following year he turned in the phenomenal record of 36 wins and only seven defeats.

When the 1914 season rolled around, Johnson was considered so effective by opposing managers that it was regarded as bad judgment to waste a first-string pitcher against the Washington ace.

Walter Johnson managed to win 28 games and lose only 15 in 1914, yet in many respects he suffered any number of unexpected reverses at the hands of some comparatively unknown pitchers.

On 25 occasions in 1914 recruit pitchers or second-stringers faced Johnson. Eleven defeats resulted because the rookies turned in some fine pitching, Johnson says. It was the most unusual, but not altogether pleasant, year of his career.

SHADOW OF MOSTIL DEED HANGS OVER BASEBALL TEAM IN WORKOUTS WHILE PREPARATION FOR SEASON CONTINUES

(By The Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Ga., March 9.—A shadow of gloom permeated the Louisiana camp of the Chicago White Sox today as they went through their usual drill minus the services of their star centerfielder, Johnny Mostil, who lies in a critical condition at a Shreveport hospital suffering from an influenza pneumonia.

The Sox worked on but their hearts were with Johnny for the shock of his deed, believed committed in a moment of despondency late yesterday, had lost its mark of grief.

Considerable speculation of his successor pending the outcome of his condition, was heard. Ike Boone, recalled from the Pacific Coast League, where he had come from the majors, and Randolph Moore, recruited from the East Texas League, were considered the most likely to get the call. Ed Falk, outfielder, joined the club last night.

Red Sox Work

In Florida, the rookies capped as usual and the veterans felt the old life returning. Another of the ancient number-put-in-the-appearance during the day when Babe Marquard, formerly a Giant, Robin, Red and Brave, have into the camp of the Washington Senators. Hucky Harris says the 40-year-old hurler will be given a four-outing trial.

The Senators encountered trouble today. Walter Johnson, the "Old Barney" of baseball, suffered a slight injury when Joe Judge, veteran first sacker, bounced a line drive off his ankles.

The only exhibition clash of the day was scheduled for Lakeland, where the Cleveland Indians and Cincinnati Reds were holding forth.

Shocker a Holdout

At St. Petersburg, Miller Huggins, managerial head of the Yankees, has greeted Urban Shocker, although the pitcher hasn't yet signed his contract.

Fleming and Combs are also listed as holdouts. Sherry Smith of the Indians and Wally Pipp of the Reds, also come under this category, although they were spectators of the Lakeland game this afternoon.

John McGraw sliced off a quartet of youngsters from his squad at Saratoga today sending Cole and Jones to the Toledo American Association team and Cohen and Ballerino to the Buffalo International.

Johnny Ritter has recovered from a slight indisposition and was working with the Brooklyn Dodgers as they went to field at Clearwater.

Other Recruits

Cy Williams has joined the Phillies at Bradenton.

The St. Louis Cardinals spent a light day at Avon Park and plan to run over to St. Petersburg for a weekend clash with the Yankees.

Mostil to Recover, Not Likely to Play

(By Associated Press)
SHREVEPORT, La., March 9.—Johnny Mostil probably will be lost to the Chicago White Sox this season, even if he recovers from the effects of self-inflicted wounds attending physicians announced tonight.

While his team mates in spring training here went through their daily workouts he remained in a serious condition in a hospital. The physicians, however, expressed the belief that he would recover, unless complications set in. Mostil slashed himself about the body and legs in a hotel last night, and it was feared at first that a wound near the heart would prove fatal.

Members and officials of the club remained in constant attendance at his bedside today. A brother, Ed Mostil, was on his way here from their home in Whiting, Indiana.

Listen-in, you roll-your-owners

I DON'T know what kind of tobacco you are making 'em with now, and I don't care. I want to slip you this piece of information, to wit: You never tasted a home-rolled cigarette that could come within a mile of one made with Prince Albert. Read that again.

That's because Prince Albert is the grandest tobacco that ever nestled neat in a makin' paper. P. A. is crimp-cut. It stays put in the paper while you're rolling it. Doesn't spill all around.

And that taste! Unlike anything you ever experienced in the home-rolled line. Sweet and mellow and mild, with "come again" written all over it. No two ways about it—better tobacco just naturally makes a better cigarette. Get some P. A. today and get rolling!

Prince Albert is double-barreled smoke-joy . . . equally good in a cigarette or a jimmy-pipe. Many a fellow who wanted to smoke a pipe but "didn't dare" has become a pipe-regular since discovering P. A. Give Prince Albert a whirl in your pipe on my say-so.

P. A. is sold everywhere. And always with every bit of love and care bestowed by the Prince Albert people.

Oil Test Near Gail Is to Be Deepened

With the announcement that the Penn Oil Company's No. 1 well on the A. J. Long place six miles southeast of Gail will be made a deep test and with other oil operations being progressing, the oil business there is beginning to attract considerable interest, reports John R. Williams, who has just returned from that vicinity.

The Penn well will be drilled to 4,000 feet and possibly deeper. It has been decided the test is now at 3,700 feet in a black lime formation.

New contracts for the Snodgrass ranch, northeast of Gail and the L. B. Long ranch east of town have been made for wells, which will be spudded within the next sixty days, Mr. Williams reports.

LINDSEY FUNERAL

opposing ranks of United States citizens clashed in the Civil war, and moved to Texas with his parents when he was five years old. He came to West Texas when a mere boy, and with his brother entered the cattle business near what is now the town of Shallowater. When Lubbock began to take on the aspects of a city, he moved with his family to this city, about 15 or 16 years ago, but in the meantime, has continued in the cattle business in addition to his many other activities.

Built Theater Here
Demonstrating the faith that he held in Lubbock, Mr. Lindsey about two years ago completed the Palace Theatre building here, and on the entire first floor equipped one of the prettiest and most commodious theaters in this part of the state.

pall bearers for the funeral this afternoon were announced last night by the Rix Undertaking company, as follows:

Active: O. L. Slaton, W. K. Dickenson, Homer Wilson, J. S. Johnson, T. E. Buckner, and W. S. Posey, Honorary: Geo. M. Boles, Dr. M. C. Overton, G. G. Johnson, Temple Ellis, H. T. Kimbro, Jas. E. Watson, John M. Demman, C. S. Middleton, Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, J. M. Bradley, and M. E. Merrill.

Mr. Lindsey is survived by his wife and three sons, Clifton, Ralph and Ernest, all of whom are married and live here; three brothers, J. O. Lindsey of England; W. M. Lindsey, of Teague; and T. L. Lindsey, whose address is unknown; and four sisters, Mrs. W. A. Bush, of Teague; Mrs. Annie Duncan, of Brownwood; Mrs. J. T. Terry, of Texas; and Mrs. Emma Cline, who lives in Arizona. I. O. and W. M. Lindsey, and Mrs. Henn were with Mr. Lindsey when he died in addition to all members of the immediate family. Other relatives mentioned will not be here for the funeral services, members of the family said.

several important pending measures are left hanging in the air. He mentioned the tobacco tax, gasoline tax, and court reform bills.

Moody Wishes Obeyed
Governor Dan Moody asked for, and obtained, action on three bills in addresses to the house and senate. In the morning he appeared before the senate and urged that body to act on pension legislation and tax revision.

The pension bill was passed a short time later by senate, as was the Stevenson resolution calling a referendum on the question of empowering the legislature to make sweeping improvements in the taxation system. Governor Moody also asked for text book legislation and a short time later the house passed the bill which will come before the senate as committee action can be had.

Action is Crossed
The house has already passed the Stevenson resolution, but as it was amended in the senate and must again come before the house, the governor appeared before the house this afternoon and declared the present system of taxation is a costly and inefficient patch work.

The Stevenson resolution, if it is approved by referendum, would enable the state to gradually reduce and turn the aid valorem taxes over to the counties in the meantime finding new state revenues in taxes upon intangible values.

Would Ban Fees
Brought in quick action by the United States supreme court opinion questioning the validity of the judiciary fee system, the house constitutional amendments committee today reported favorably for passage of a resolution by Representative Wassell for a constitutional amendment to eliminate the Texas fee system.

The supreme court opinion in an Ohio case is construed by many legal authorities as knocking out the fee system of at least as far as judicial officers are concerned by declaring persons financially interested can not sit in trial of criminal cases.

Representative Wassell's proposed amendment would be submitted to the voters in November, 1928, proposing to permit the legislature to fix the compensation of all county officials to replace the "unfair and iniquitous fee system as now prevails under the constitution."

Brown Bill Passed
Recommended in Governor Dan Moody's address to the house yesterday, the Brown bill to revise the state text book commission and its method of operation was finally passed in the house Wednesday.

The bill provides a text commission to be composed of seven members appointed by the governor, who with the state superintendent, will be ex-officio members. This arrangement will supplant the present system of 16 nominations submitted to the governor.

DAILY MARKET

COTTON PRICE SLIDES
NEW ORLEANS, March 9. (AP)—Business in the raw cotton market today was quiet, with price levels for the day under the influence of selling on the anticipation that there would be little reduction in the new crop acreage.

The close was steady, a little above the low with net losses for the day of 11 to 12 points.

The opening was steady, and unchanged despite poorer Liverpool cables than due. Unfavorable weather in the belt and prospects for continued liberal exports advanced prices six to seven points where May trade at 14.30 and July 14.45 to establish the day's high.

The decline which set in shortly before noon swung May down to 14.20 and July to 14.37, 8 to 10 points below the high and 2 to 3 points below the previous close before it halted temporarily.

A few points were gained and levels eased downward again to set new low marks at 14.05 for May, 14.25 for July and 14.33 for October, 19 to 22 points below the early high.

Exports totalled 45,958 bales.

NO SUGAR SALES
NEW YORK, March 9. (AP)—There were no sales in the raw sugar market today, but the undertone was easy, with nearby sugars offered at declines of 1-32 of a cent or on the basis of 4.80.

The earlier spot market and the disappointing London market led to increased selling pressure in raw sugar futures. Prices were easier throughout the session. The close was at net losses of 2 to 4 points. Approximate sales 20,000 tons. March closed 219; May 218; July 229; September 228; December 228.

No improvement was noted in demand for refined sugar and prices were unchanged at 6.50 to 20 for fine granulated.

COTTON MARKET LOWER
NEW YORK, March 9. (AP)—The cotton market was lower today under liquidation which seemed to be precipitated by talk of a slight easier spot situation in the south. May contracts sold off to 14.05 or 13 points net lower and closed at 14.10, the general market closing steady at net declines of 18 to 15 points. The opening was steady at a decline of 1 to 2 points in response to easier cables from Liverpool, but prices steadied on moderate buying and covering, accompanied by reports from New Orleans that prospects were for large exports from gulf ports. Prices worked 2 or 4 points above yesterday's closing figures on this demand, but the bulge met increased offering, the afternoon market becoming easier. Early trading was very quiet, but more active on the late decline, when stop orders were uncovered.

The market seemed to be unsettled by rumors of an easier spot basis in the south. There was also some comment on a report that the world's consumption of American cotton, exclusive of linters for the first six months of the season had amounted to 5,214,000 bales, compared with 4,974,000 bales for the first half of last season, and 4,756,000 for the last half of last season. The increase over last season seemed to be less than expected, but this factor was not mentioned very prominently in connection with the decline. The opinion was expressed in some quarters that consumption for the second half of this season would show a decided increase. Old crop positions were relatively easy in late trading, selling 15 to 20 points net lower, compared with declines of 15 to 15 points on the later months. Last prices were within 2 or 3 points of the lowest.

Liverpool cables reported trade calling and London buying had absorbed hedge selling in the market there and that there was a brisk inquiry for cotton goods from India.

Exports for the day 4,548, making 7,347,526 so far this season. Port receipts 24,954 U. S. port stocks 2,882,322.

WOOL SALES BLOW
DUBLIN, March 9. (AP)—Wool buyers respect very little business has developed as yet this week, buyers are taking sample lots and are placing some small placing orders for quick delivery, but men say they have not received orders large enough to justify heavy buying of wool. Sales include chiefly domestic wools.

WEST TEXAS BUSINESS IN SOUNDTEST CONDITION IN YEARS, CHECK SHOWS AFTER ANNUAL INVOICING

Special to The Avalanche
STAMFORD, March 9.—With the passing of the "first of the year" and as business men of West Texas complete their invoicing, it has been found that West Texas business is in the soundest condition in the history of the region. Reports gathered by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce from throughout the territory served by the organization reflect a healthy condition of business. Farmers of West Texas, who thought they were ruined by the collapse of cotton, have found that their resources were greater than they had expected. Business men who were depressed when the usual fall buying rush failed to materialize, find that their business has remained at a steady level without the usual slack period following the holidays. The farmers—who though they could not buy in the fall, have found that they are in better condition than they had anticipated, and as a result the fall rush has been spreading out over the several months period, and the business man is finding that the goods on his shelves has moved out better than he had anticipated.

The Reason
The reason for the present condition of West Texas business is twofold. Firstly, West Texas as a whole has made good crops each year for the past seven years. The region was in such good condition that one slack year could not undermine the farmers and business interest of the region. Secondly, the farmers of West Texas have taken up a program of diversified farming to an extent few people realize, and they are in position to live at home producing their crops at a minimum expense. Thirdly, a great oil play is spreading over all West Texas. Millions of dollars in oil lease and royalty money has more than replaced the losses caused by an overproduction of cotton.

When Col. B. Q. Lee was campaigning in behalf of a balanced farming program in 1925 and 1926, the hog situation in West Texas was acute. Proud hogs could not be secured at any price. Hogs had disappeared from the farms. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Fort Worth Stockyards Company, inaugurated a hog importation campaign that placed thousands of highbred brood sows on the farms. Today West Texas farmers are approaching a normal condition with respect to hogs.

Striking Evidence
One striking evidence of this is available. Col. Lee checked up on the hogs between two well-known West Texas cities. On a fifty-six mile drive between Big Spring and Lamesa, he looked over each farm house and found that very few farmers had any hogs at all. Less than half a dozen hogs were seen on the entire trip.

Recently staff members of the West Texas Chamber made the same trip again and found more than one hundred hogs within less than ten miles. It is said that every farmer in the section there with very few exceptions is now supplied with swine, and that there are hundreds of brood sows in the counties traversed. Each barn lot has flocks of hens and turkeys. Large stacks of feed were in evidence at practically every farm. And as a result, business conditions in the towns in that section are in sound condition despite the low price of cotton. This situation prevails over a great section of West Texas.

Oil Activity
The oil activity has become more intense. Not only is there an active play in the Panhandle and in the older oil fields of West Texas, but in almost every county, leading is active, and there are very few counties west of Fort Worth in which from one to twenty wild cat wells are not being drilled. Spectacular play is occurring along the Texas & Pacific Railway. The Ranger, Eastland, and Cisco section have always been active and are now experiencing the greatest play since the big boom. Baird and Putnam are having a big shallow oil play. Abilene is receiving a strong reflection from activity in Merkel, Trent and Noodle Dome. Sweetwater is dividing this play with Abilene. To the west, Colorado and Big Spring are having the greatest period of oil development in the history of either town. Howard county's noted "chalk field" is developing into a real field. Midland marks the point from which play went to truly spectacular. Spreading out into a great crescent the play has come up from Big Lake to the northwest. Upton, Crane, Pecos, and Crockett counties are undergoing great development. Recently in Pecos county the third largest oil well in the history of West Texas came in with a roar. This was followed by another well on Texas University lands in Crane county. The play has crossed the Texas & Pacific Railway west of Odessa. At Judds a good well has been found, and in Winkler county seems rivaling those of the great central West Texas oil boom are being enacted. The play has spread to the west until at the present time, wild cats are drilling right up to the foothills of the Davis and Delaware mountains. President Lancaaster of the Texas & Pacific Railway recently prophesied that three towns of fifteen thousand population are due to build from Big Spring west. The Texas & Pacific Railway has seen the western division of the road change from the red to the black side of the ledger and apparently the oil play has just begun.

To the South
To the south of the Texas & Pacific in Brown and Coleman counties another big play is in progress. The Fry pool in Brown county has come into the blue light as one of the really big pools of the state. Cross Cut and Cross Plains continue active and operations continue there at a rapid pace. The same is true to the north in Shackelford and in Stephens counties. The Cook pool near Albany has reached the two million barrel mark, although the pool is barely one year old. Jones county is receiving an active play with considerable production already being made in the southern part of the county. Wild cat wells are going down all over the county and farmers there have forgotten cotton prices as the lease money flows into their pockets. Archer county and Young county are each receiving great oil play. In fact, the entire area generally known as the Wichita Falls belt is back into prominence as an oil section. The same thing is true of the Panhandle. Operations in the Panhandle are not confined to a small area. A section forty miles wide and a hundred miles long is already well-proven, and activity there has been intense for more than a year.

Cattle
In the section west of San Angelo, oil operations continue at a rapid pace. The Orient section is in the best condition ever known.

The cattle industry in West Texas too, is in flourishing condition. The cow man has staged a successful come back. The ranges are populated by the best cattle Texas has ever seen. The ranchmen have found that proximity of farms has provided plenty of feed and at a low price. Many of the cattlemen have adopted the practice of finishing their cattle on home grown feed, and are securing good results. The sheepman is contributing his part toward stabilizing business conditions in West Texas. Both meat and wool are bringing fair prices. The range is good, and the lamb crop is bringing smiles to the faces of sheep raisers.

And finally, the poultry industry with its competition, the dairy business, has grown by leaps and bounds. It is estimated that the poultry population of West Texas has increased by one million during the past twelve months. Hatching plants with total capacity reaching more than a million eggs have been installed at points throughout the region. Poultry associations have been formed at many points. At others, private business has provided dressing and storage plants. Prices have proven satisfactory with a strong demand for all products. This industry has done more, perhaps, to stabilize general farm conditions than any other one thing and interest continues unabated.

The towns of West Texas reflect this general prosperity. The business and bank failures of West Texas have been no more than in any other year.

Merchants report that collections, which were slow for a time, have picked up. The good season in the ground has raised the spirits of the farmers. Seed is going into the ground for many crops. Grain is already growing. It is expected that when all crops are growing and the agricultural population gets to work in earnest that a sharp increase in general business will be noticed.

Whitaker Plans Long List of Farm Talks

HARKELL, March 9.—Five speaking engagements in four days will be filled by B. M. Whitaker, county agricultural manager of the West Texas chamber of commerce, this week. Initiating his busy program of addresses Tuesday, Whitaker spoke at Harkell Tuesday afternoon, and that evening made a talk at Seymour. On Wednesday, Whitaker filled a speaking date at Abilene, and Thursday he was scheduled to address the commercial body of Weatherford at a big meeting. Friday he will attend the annual dinner tendered by the West Texas chamber of commerce for exhibitors and directors of the "Fort Worth Fat Stock Show."

Other members of the West Texas chamber family are spending a busy week also. President Arthur P. Duggan and Manager Homer D. Wade of the regional organization are spending time in touring the extreme northwestern portion of the state, starting their trip at Amarillo Monday. They spent Tuesday in Borger at the big first birthday celebration of the town, and spent Wednesday morning at Pampa. At 2:30 Wednesday the two officials talked at Whiteside, and that night they spoke at Pampa. Thursday was to be spent in Miami, Mobeetie and Canadian, and Spoutman was to be visited Friday morning and Perryton Friday night. Saturday at noon, Duggan and Wade will be in Teahome, at two-thirty they will speak at Stratford, and will talk at Dalhart Saturday night. Their week's tour was planned as a service trip to be devoted to addresses on diversification and organization.

QORNICITY HOSTESS DENTON, March 9.—Special memorial services honoring Mrs. Virginia Carroll, one of the founders of Smith-Carroll Hall at the College of Industrial Arts and for her services as hostess in that dormitory, were held in the gymnasium of the hall last Sunday afternoon. To meet urgent calls at local hospitals, Sheffield Council of Social Service or Sheffield, England, is compiling a list of volunteers for blood transfusion.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS. To the sheriff or any constable of Lubbock county, Texas: You are hereby commanded to summon all parties to making publication once in each week for consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District court (29th judicial district) of Lubbock county, to be held at the court house thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the first Monday in April, A. D. 1927, the same being the 13th day of April, A. D. 1927, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 2nd day of March, A. D. 1927, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court as No. 2548, wherein Velma Whit Carter is plaintiff, and C. R. Carter is defendant, and said petition alleging that plaintiff resides in Lubbock county, Texas. Defendant's residence is unknown. They were married in Crosby county, Texas on July 26, 1924. No children were born to said marriage, and no community property accumulated. Plaintiff prays for divorce; for restoration of her maiden name; for costs and legal and equitable relief. If you fail not, and have you before said court at the aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.
