Combine Lack Slows Harvest

By The Associated Press
Lack of equipment to harvest Texas' big wheat crop brought new worry to Panhandle and Texas-Oklahoma border farmers.
A bright, glaring sun beat down on the ripe fields of wheat yesterday. But the Texas Employment Commission dampened the outlook with a gloomy report on the lack of equipment.
In brief, the TEC said 16 Panhandle counties lack enough equipment to get the wheat in promptly. And experienced combine and tractor operators are needed in Ochiltree and Lipscomb Counties on the Texas-Oklahoma border.
Lipscomb County had the biggest problem. The TEC said 150 combines are needed immediately there. Some estimates placed the number needed at 300.

Farmers in that county also need about 10 trucks, 10 qualified combine operators and 10 experienced tractor drivers, the TEC said.
Ochiltree County's needs were placed at 50 to 75 combines, 20 trucks, 15 skilled combine operators and 10 experienced tractor drivers.
Too many young and inexperienced workmen are moving into the area, the commission reported.
Equipment shortages on a less serious scale were reported in Childress, Hall, Cottle, Collingsworth, Floyd, Hale, Swisher, Randall, Gray, Roberts, Moore, Dallam, Sherman and Hansford Counties.

Warning Signs Observed Before Texas City Blast

GALVESTON, June 21. (AP)—Yellowish-brown smoke rose from two ships before they exploded in the 1947 Texas City disaster.
An explosives expert, Dr. Melvin A. Cook, testified yesterday that this was "unmistakable evidence" of burning ammonium nitrate.
Dr. Cook testified in the $200 million damage suit growing out of the Texas City disaster. More than 500 were killed or missing in the fires and explosions.
The SS Grandcamp, a French freighter, caught fire and exploded to touch off the disaster. A day later the SS High Flyer blew up at the blasted Texas City waterfront.
The suit is to determine the government's liability in the April 16 disaster. It was brought by survivors of the dead, missing and injured.

Cominform Shows Election Strength

TRIESTE, Free Territory, June 21. (AP)—Pro-Cominform parties were victorious in voting for new councilmen in five villages in the British-American zone of Trieste Free Territory, unofficial results showed today.

When Trieste voted a week ago it elected a majority of councilmen who favor the return of the Adriatic port city to Italy.

ro people, the progressive people, the people of the future of the world."
Robeson, just returned from a tour of the Soviet Union and Europe, said he would "defy any part of an insolent, dominating America to challenge my Americanism."
The Harlem rally was sponsored by the Council of African Affairs, a group listed by Atty. Gen. Tom Clark as subversive.
Robeson told the crowd that in Paris he had said "it was unthinkable the Negro people of America or anywhere else in the world could be drawn into war with the Soviet Union."
"I repeat it with hundredfold emphasis. They will not," he declared.
Robeson addressed the rally after attending the wedding of his son, Paul Robeson, Jr., 21-year-old electrical engineer, to Miss Marilyn Paula Greenberg, 21.
Young Robeson, only child of the baritone and his wife, met his bride at Cornell University, where he starred on the football and track teams.
They were married by a Protestant clergyman in an apartment house. A crowd of several hundred persons gathered outside, and some in the crowd booed as the wedding party left the building.
The singer, who became angry at news photographers, told a group of them:
"I have the greatest contempt for the Democratic press, and there is something within me which keeps me from breaking your cameras over your heads."
The bride's mother, Mrs. Rae Greenberg, of Forest Hills, Queens, attended the wedding.

Brindle cooked his own dinner—and burned the peas.
"I'll get Violet back home if it's the last thing I do," Brindle growled.
"The trams are my career," snapped Violet. "I shall go on, whatever happens."

Defies Law, Is Slain In Fight

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., June 21. (AP)—A 36-year-old laborer yelled defiance of the law last night, and then was killed in a gun fight in which the sheriff and police chief were wounded.
Rollie Cook was slain in his home as he wrestled with three officers after Gerald Uptegraff, Blackford County sheriff, had been shot in the back with a .22 caliber rifle in a dark hallway.
Police Chief John Landis, who said Cook was in a drunken rage when officers arrived to aid the sheriff, was shot in the leg. Two other officers were unharmed. It was not determined who fired the shot that killed Cook.
Landis said the sheriff had gone to the house at the request of Cook's mother, Mrs. Iva Cook. She told Uptegraff her son had ordered her from the house after drinking all day.

PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR FILES SUIT FOR $30,000 IN PUNCHING OF NOSE

ROCKPORT, Mo., June 21. (AP)—A Presbyterian pastor filed a $30,000 damage suit yesterday, contending he suffered a broken nose during a dispute with a Methodist minister.
The argument was over a marriage ceremony.
The suit was filed against the Rev. Kenneth J. Bressler of Fairfax, Mo., by the Rev. Ellis J. Hough of Kansas City.
Last week Bressler was fined $25 in magistrate court after pleading guilty to a charge of common assault. Hough said Bressler punched him in the nose during an argument in Bressler's home.

The Presbyterian minister had asked Bressler for permission to perform a wedding ceremony in the Methodist minister's church.
The dispute took place shortly before the wedding of James R. Schomann, of Turkio, Mo., and Miss Wilma Wright of Fairfax. The groom had asked Hough to perform the ceremony.
After the argument a third minister was called in to handle the service.

Babich Gets Life In Girl's Slaying

MILWAUKEE, June 21. (AP)—Nineteen-year-old Milton Babich was whisked off to Waupun prison last night just 45 minutes after a jury labeled him the murderer of his wife's kid sister.
 His bride, Kathleen, who is expecting a baby in mid-July, screamed out, "lies, lies—the police are telling lies," as the jury announced its verdict: Guilty of murder in the first degree.
 Babich did not change expression at the verdict. He glanced over his shoulder at Kathleen. He rose, stood before the bench and declared, "I am not guilty of first degree murder."
 Municipal Judge Herbert J. Steffes then sentenced him to the Wisconsin State Prison at Waupun "at hard labor for the rest of your natural life."

 But under Wisconsin law, he will be eligible for parole after 20 years, or with time off for good behavior, after 11 years and three months.
 His sentence was pronounced just three months to the day after the weighted body of Patricia Birmingham, 16, was fished from the Milwaukee River by firemen searching for suicide victim.
 Kathleen broke into hysterical screams and was comforted by the defendant's older brother, Victor. Both glared at Detective Lawrence Papke, who was instrumental in obtaining a statement from the youth.
 Kathleen's mother, Mrs. Albert T. Birmingham, tried to comfort her daughter, but was rebuffed. She told reporters she was pushed away by Victor, not by Kathleen.
 Babich was not permitted to see his wife after the verdict was announced at 9:49 o'clock. He changed to a dark green sports shirt and left for prison at 10:35, handcuffed to Sheriff Herman Kubiak.
 Milton told the jury that he picked Patricia up on her way home from school last Feb. 10. As they sat in his father's car he showed her a gun to frighten her so she wouldn't tattle that Kathleen was pregnant. He said she picked it up and it went off when he grabbed for it.
 He became frightened, tied a concrete building block to her feet and dropped her body in the river. She had been shot twice through the head.
 The jury was given its choice of three verdicts: Guilty of first degree murder; guilty of four degree manslaughter, which implies accidental death because of "gross negligence"; and innocent.
 The 10 men and two women jurors began deliberating at 8:04 o'clock last night, and reached a verdict at 9:19. But it was another half hour before Judge Steffes arrived from home to reconvene the court.
 Chief Defense Counsel Arthur Richter said he will file a written motion for a new trial within a few days. He charged the quick decision "surely shows the jury gave the matter no deliberation. They had their minds made up in advance."
 But Dist. Atty. William J. McCauley retorted, "If the jury had not returned this verdict, it would not have been representative of Milwaukee."

Another Round In Chief's Fight Opens

WICHITA FALLS, June 20. (AP)—Another round in Police Chief Chris Jensen's fight to keep his job opens today.
 District Judge Frank Ikard will hear attorneys for the city of Wichita Falls and Jensen on a temporary restraining order granted Saturday night.
 The order Ikard issued forbids dismissal of Jensen until he is charged with offenses under the civil service act.

 Jensen was dismissed by the city council some time ago, but he obtained an injunction to block the action. The injunction was reversed by the Second Appeals Court in Fort Worth last week.
 Attorneys for both sides have said the case is a test of a new state civil service law.

COMMISSION MAY ADJOURN

Palestine Peace Talks In Stalemate

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, June 21. (AP)—The United Nations Conciliation Commission for Palestine may adjourn its formal sessions because of a stalemate in Israeli-Arab peace negotiations.
 The commission yesterday discussed the possibility of adjourning the sessions if no formula could be found to bring Israel and the Arab states out of the deadlock.
 Meanwhile, in Tel Aviv, Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett, said the Israeli delegation had proposed a Palestine to decide whether the Arabs want an independent state or annexation to one of the Arab countries.
 Sharett conceded the Israeli government prefers an independent Arab state in partitioned Palestine but added, "it is not we with whom the decision in this question lies."
 Though hinting at adjournment, the commission decided to make a final effort to find a basis for negotiation. This will center around the appearance before the commission today of Dr. Walter Eytan, head of the Israeli delegation and chief of the Israeli foreign office's political division.
 Later, the four Arab delegations, from Syria, Egypt, Lebanon and Trans-Jordan, will be canvassed for their views on the possibility of fruitful discussions.

 If progress appears unlikely, the sessions probably will be adjourned until August, a spokesman said.
 He said the Israelis so far had been unwilling to talk about the return of some 800,000 Arab refugees to Palestine until the question of frontiers was decided. The Arabs, in turn, had refused to discuss frontiers until the refugee problem was solved, he said.
 If an adjournment is taken, the secretariat of the commission would continue to maintain contact with both sides, keeping the commission informed of developments.

KANSAS CITY, June 21. (AP)—The bandits had a kiss for grandmother.
 But grandmother — 59-year-old Mrs. Sadie Crosser—would rather have her automobile back.
 Her story, as told to police, was that a young man stepped into the car as she stopped for a traffic light while driving home late Saturday night.
 He flourished a gun, forced her to drive to another intersection where another young man got into the car. She was then ordered to drive out into the country where the two holdup men rifled her purse of between $10 and $18, forced her to get out of the car and then drove away with the automobile.
 Before leaving, however, she said one of them "gave me a motherly little kiss on the cheek and told me: 'You remind me of my mother.'"

Discovery Of New Moon Of Neptune Confirmed Today

AUSTIN, June 21. (AP)—Discovery of a faint little new moon, the solar system's 30th, was confirmed Monday by McDonald observatory astronomer.

Possible discovery of the nameless new satellite to the planet Neptune was announced May 1 by Gerard P. Kuiper, University of Chicago astronomer, at McDonald Observatory, jointly operated by the Universities of Texas and Chicago. Dr. Kuiper confirmed the discovery of the satellite Monday at the summer meeting of the American astronomical society in Ottawa, the University of Texas announced.

The new moon is 250,000 times fainter than the faintest star visible to the naked eye and is the faintest moon observed to date. Its presence was confirmed from studies of photographic plates taken May 29 on the 82-inch reflecting telescope at McDonald Observatory near Fort Davis, Tex.

The new satellite is five million miles from Neptune and three billion miles from the earth, Kuiper said.

The second moon of Neptune is only 200 miles in diameter, 15 times smaller and 250 times fainter than Triton, the first satellite to Neptune, discovered in 1945.

Kuiper estimated that the new moon, moving in nearly the same plane as Neptune, requires two years to complete its cycle. Earth's moon completes its orbit in one month.

FOUR STILL MISSING Search Continues For Flood Victims

PETERSBURG, W. Va., June 21. (AP)—Rescue parties pressed their search today for at least four persons still missing in a disastrous flood that struck the Potomac and Shenandoah River valleys over the week end.

Otherwise, inhabitants of the stricken area were occupied mainly with a melancholy survey of damage, the clearing of debris, and restoration of power and communications facilities.

A final watery threat late yesterday vanished as quickly as it came, but not before throwing a scare into flood-conscious Cumberland, Maryland's second city.

A local cloudburst near Midland, 20 miles west of Cumberland, quickly filled mountain rhyolites and flooded part of shaft, a mile from Midland.

For some hours it seemed like a repetition of the flash floods that broke into the river valley around Petersburg and Moorefield last Friday and into the parallel valley of the Shenandoah in Virginia.

That swiftly-striking inundation brought death to at least eight persons, uncounted damage, and the menace of disease through polluted sources of water supply.

While health officers worked on disinfecting wells, Moorefield children were given typhoid vaccine. Romney, W. Va., and Petersburg, had drinking water problems.

At Shaft last night, roads were blocked but damage in the village itself was slight. However, Cumberland's 40,000 citizens spent some worried hours in fear of a possible crest there. High waters did come, but no flood stage.

Here at Petersburg, the center of the week-end flood, 50 homes were destroyed, 300 damaged, and 335 farm structures washed away or damaged.

Prisoner Fatally Shot In Escape Try

SUGARLAND, June 21. (AP)—Bobby Frank Dyer, 25, Darrington prisoner farm inmate, died yesterday afternoon of gunshot wounds received when he attempted to escape.

Dyer, serving 20 years for robbery from Dallas County, made his break shortly before noon.

Another prisoner Kenneth Kilpatrick, 25, received less serious wounds.

Housing Bill Drive Launched

WASHINGTON, June 21. (AP)—Administration leaders cracked the whip over House Democrats today in a hard drive to pass President Truman's controversial housing bill.

In advance of a meeting of all 261 party members, they indicated they might try for a two-thirds vote to bind virtually all House Democrats to support the measure. And one leader noted that under party rules a member is subject to "discipline" if he fails to follow such caucus instructions.

Discipline in party affairs sometimes means a congressman's loss of the right to propose federal job-holders in his district.

There has been a vigorous southern rebellion against the Senate-passed housing bill, which the House starts debating tomorrow.

The measure calls for a vast program of slum clearance, low-rent public housing and farm housing aids. The cost is estimated all the way from $10 billion to $20 billion.

Some private estimates say more than 60 southern Democrats will oppose the bill. If Republican leaders, arguing for economy, can hold most of their 171 party members in line against it, the vote will be close.

There were predictions that the battle, will end in passage of a compromise bill providing somewhat less than Mr. Truman wants.

gelo. Eight of nineteen dismissed there Sunday and Monday were flown by Air Force planes to the Warm Springs Foundation at Gonzales, Tex.

The five admitted to hospitals yesterday included one from Balinger, a San Angelo student nurse and one re-admitted patient.

Houston reported three new cases and so did Dallas. San Antonio had one new case of polio.

The three new Dallas patients were young married women, aged 17, 26 and 28. They brought the county's total for the year to 21.

Houston's three latest cases were two men and a boy. The Big South Texas city had had 13 polio cases and one death this year. The rest of Harris county has had 15 cases and two deaths.

San Antonio's total to date is 74 cases.

Problem Of Unrendered Taxes Points To Need Of A Resurvey

Concerns of the commissioners court over the extent to which property owners have failed to render property for taxes points up the need for general tax survey.

Unrendered taxes are vexing. Conceivably they could cost the property owner loss of homestead exemptions. They also might be more likely to delinquent because they end up on the unrendered roll. The court is correct in seeking to unravel the problem.

In the process of discussion, the court mentioned the possibility that much property is escaping taxation. How much is conjectural. That all depends upon the dispatch with which city building permits are noted on the county rolls, with the thoroughness of renditions on rural properties.

There is little doubt that there are hundreds of thousands of dollars of improvements in Big Spring and in the rural areas which are not listed for taxation. This occurs when homes and business property arise on once vacant lots—and no one bothers to notify the collector of the change. It occurs when unimproved farm or ranch land has a home, outbuildings or other improvements added—and no record is made of it in the tax office. Just as there may be some comfortable homes on land carried simply as vacant lots in town, so there may be instances of homes on farms where only unimproved acreage is assessed.

It is conceivable, too, that there may be land which is not assessed, or at least not to the correct owner. This condition could obtain in any of the three local tax collecting agencies.

Of course steps to correct may provoke cries of anguish, but the situation ought to be resurveyed. It is a step which needs to be made before thorough equalization is attempted.

The Old Barter Deal Raises Its Ugly Head And Calls For Halt

The British have been on short rations a long time, much shorter since the war than during the conflict. That is because Britain can produce only a part of her foodstuffs and must import the balance. She can't buy much from the U. S. because she lacks dollars, or from any other nation whose economy is tied in with the dollar. Her only ready source of imports is from sterling-bloc countries.

In 1947 the British blocked the convertibility of the pound. This meant, for example, that Argentina could not use the pounds she got from Britain through sale of foodstuffs to buy the oil, machinery and other things she needs from the United States.

So, like a bombshell, Britain and Argentina let it be known last week that they were negotiating a five-year, two-way trade treaty under which Britain would acquire up to 300,000 tons of meat, cereals and other supplies from Argentina in exchange for the oil and machinery Argentina needs.

Well, that did it. American business men protested that this meant the shutting out of American goods from Argentina. It meant Britain was wenching on her ECA commitments by using American dollars to build up her production; she could swap the goods she produced to other countries for the foodstuffs she needs.

Paul Hoffman, ECA administrator, also hit the ceiling. He said he was going to "bring every pressure" he could to block the British-Argentine deal. Congress, some elements of which want to cut down ECA expenditures anyhow, is sure to get into the act. The world must have a free and untrammelled flow of commerce if Europe is to recover and the world economy be stabilized.

Essentially, the British-Argentine deal is Hitler's old "barter" deal and "blocked mark" system all over again. That proved a powerful weapon in the hands of the Nazis and helped prepare Germany for World War II. Nobody expects Britain to build for a war, but the barter plan constricts trade to fixed channels. It is the antithesis of free trade. The point is that Britain's penchant for trade ought to be obliged to be traded in its widest sense—and not barter.

Recovery Comes To West Europe After Nightmare Of Mid-1940s

NEW YORK — THE LOOK OF fear has left the face of Europe. Its peoples are better fed, better clad and more hopeful.

These are a few impressions gained by a group of former war correspondents during a two-week tour of five European countries.

A fortnight on the continent hardly qualifies a poor man's philosopher to pose as an authority on Europe's complex political and economic problems. But a country reflects the collective plight of its individual citizens. And even the most casual traveler cannot help but see the immense betterment of living conditions from Europeans now as compared to the mid-1940s.

THE ORDINARY VISITOR NOTES LITTLE signs of recovery like these:

In England: Strawberries on the hotel menu! And a melty substance similar to what is known in the United States as ice cream. It is possible now to get a taxi in London without leaping four feet into the air, cracking your heels together and yelling "ked!" at the peak of your lungs.

At a small restaurant in Isigny, France, near the invasion beach landings, the waiter brings a bottle of good wine for 400 francs—less than $1.30. Is this possible? Hasn't there been a mistake? No, it is true. History records no example of a French waiter ever making an error in the bill that favored the customer. Cognac is inexpensive also.

IN GAY PAREE IT IS AGAIN POSSIBLE for a tourist to emerge from his hotel without having both legs broken by rival black marketeers tackling him for the privilege of changing his money. The French franc is so sound that the black marketeers had to go back to work.

The glory of France, its cuisine, is limitless again.

This Investigation Business Is Doing More Harm Than Good

The next big show is scheduled to open, it appears, when Senator Hickenlooper releases the necessary microphones, television cameras and klieg lights. It is to be an exhibition match between the Navy and the Air Force, and the advertisements say that no holds are to be barred. The show is to be conducted by the Armed Services Committee of the House. According to the advance billing by the chairman, Mr. Vinson—as reported by the Associated Press—the investigation has "seven major objectives."

Among the seven major objectives, which the thirty-six Congressmen are going to shoot at, there are some stupendous objectives. They are going "to examine the performance characteristics of the B-36 bomber to determine whether it is a satisfactory weapon." They are going "to examine the roles and missions of the Air Force and the Navy to determine whether or not the decision to cancel construction of the aircraft carrier United States was sound." They are going "to study the effectiveness of strategic bombing to determine whether the nation is sound in following this concept to its present extent."

The committee is not, however, going to investigate its own capacity to investigate the performance characteristics of the B-36 bomber, the roles and the missions of the Navy and the Air Force, and the effectiveness of strategic bombing. That is assumed and taken for granted. Yet that is the very question, which needs some discussion before the uproar starts.

The question is whether thirty-six Congressmen, after cross-examining a long list of admirals and generals, can decide by a count of their own noses the issues which this committee proposes to decide.

They are the issues which the best military and scientific minds of all countries are continually studying and debating. They are the issues on which only the ignorant speak with certainty. They are the issues on which the more qualified man, the more thoroughly informed, the more intimate his knowledge of the hidden and essential details, the more tentative and experimental are his conclusions. They are issues involving the security of the United States, the self-confidence and morale of fighting men. They are issues which cannot be decided yes or no but only by a close calculation of alternative risks.

Yet these issues are to be "investigated" and "determined" by a public spectacle. Is this not the culminating example of how the investigating procedure of Congress has been allowed to degenerate to a point where the vital interests of the United States and the intellectual integrity of Congress itself are in jeopardy?

When a Congressional committee sets itself up to determine the performance characteristics of a bomber and the roles and missions of the various armed forces in the unknown strategic situations of a hypothetical war, then surely it must be recognized that these investigating committees rush in where men with even a little wisdom would fear to tread.

State Dept. Is Trifle Coy About Chinese Bargaining Between America, Russia

WASHINGTON — An amazing story of Chinese bargaining between the US and the USSR has been carefully hushed up by the State Department. At one time during the China war the Chiang Kai-Shek government was almost on its knees before the Soviet ambassador to patch up a deal with Russia—at the very same time it was yelling for aid from the U. S.

The hitherto untold story began nine months ago, September 1948, when the Soviet ambassador at Nanking suggested that the Nationalist government sign a non-aggression pact with Russia—including a highly important clause whereby, in case of Russo-American war, China would side with Russia.

The Chinese Nationalists stalled their reply. Meanwhile, Russian pressure increased in Manchuria. Finally, on Oct. 11, Chiang Kai-Shek replied that China would accept a non-aggression pact provided it did not contain the clause putting China against the U. S. in the event of a Russo-American war.

News of this leaked back to Washington three days later, Oct. 14. But it was not until Oct. 17 that someone thought to inform the White House or else the White House woke up to the situation.

TRUMAN THREATENS
At any rate, on Oct. 17 at 5:30 p. m., Presidential Assistant John Steelman phoned Gen. Al Wedemeyer, head of the War Plans Division, with the ultimatum that unless the President received a full report on sending war materials to the Nationalist government, the Pentagon building would be blown higher than a kite.

Supplies to China must start moving within two weeks, Mr. Steelman warned. The first ships actually left Nov. 16. But meanwhile, on Nov. 2, the Nationalists evacuated Manchuria.

Later, as the Chinese Communists approached the Yangtze River, the Nationalist government decided to accept the Russian treaty overtures of last September. Suddenly Soviet Ambassador Nikolai Roschin was informed that China was willing to accept the non-aggression pact with no reservations whatsoever. It would even accept the clause against the U. S.

By this time, however, Russia had cooled. Knowing that victory was just around the corner anyway, Ambassador Roschin replied that there was no hurry.

FRANTIC CHINESE
But the Nationalist government was now frantic. It informed the Russian ambassador that it was willing to sign anything—provided Gen. Mao Tse-tung and his Communist Army was stopped. And the Chinese ambassador to the Kremlin went so far as to state that since the United States had betrayed China, the Nationalists were willing to make any kind of arrangement with Communist Leader Mao. They were even willing to enter a coalition government with Mao as prime minister.

Two years before, Gen. George Marshall had urged that Chiang Kai-Shek form a coalition Chinese government with Communist leaders in his cabinet, but with Chiang retaining control. Chiang had said no. But by spring of this year, the Nationalist government was so desperate it was even willing to accept its hated enemy, General Mao, as premier. This time it was the Russians who in effect said no.

COY AMBASSADOR
Latest stage of the frantic Nationalist attempts to make an alliance with Russia came last month after the government was moved to Canton. Once again Nationalist Foreign Minister George Yeh tried to draw the Russian ambassador into a discussion of a Nationalist-Soviet alliance. But once again the ambassador was coy. Studiously he avoided all personal contact with the Nationalist leaders.

Premier Hu Ying-Ching then held an official reception to which all foreign envoys were invited, and the Russian ambassador was urged to come ahead of time for a conference. He refused, however, on the ground that such action would cause unfavorable comment among the other diplomats.

Then he was asked to stay behind after the reception. This he also refused, for the same reason.

AMBASSADOR COMPLAINS
Finally Ambassador Roschin was told that unless he accepted this invitation tendered by the head of the Chinese government to come early to the reception, he would become persona non grata and his recall would be requested forthwith.

Roschin therefore finally agreed to arrive at 8 p. m., knowing that the premier had an appointment with the British ambassador at 8:45.

He actually arrived, however, five minutes late, and without giving Premier Hu a chance to say a word, launched a long series of complaints about the fact that he had been in Canton since April, housed in lamentable quarters, and in all this time had not been able to get a telephone. Communications, he said, were abominable. He had suffered great delay in receiving mail, the servant shortage was terrible, and the Chinese government, he demanded, should transport Russian servants to Canton.

The ambassador even demanded special visas for his servants, especially a chef, because Cantonese cooking, he said, was atrocious.

By the time Roschin had rattled off this stream of complaints, the British ambassador had arrived for his 8:45 appointment. The Russian ambassador bowed out, having successfully avoided any conversation regarding a Chinese-Russian pact which by that time Moscow most emphatically did not want.

UNDER THE DOME
Biggest pipe collector in Congress is freshman Congressman Leonard Irving of Missouri, who has more than 200 pipes from all parts of the world, including several fancy varieties of the "Missouri Meerschaum"—or corn cob.

Pro-China senators are planning a hot reception for W. Walton Butterworth as assistant secretary of state. Butterworth not only handled our China policy, but our policy of appeasing Dutch imperialism in Indonesia.

Broadway Sensation Is Clicking In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, June 21 — Judy Holliday is back in town for another try at the movies. She's doing much better this time, thank you.

Judy played the wise-cracking roommate of the junk dealer (Paul Douglas) in "Born Yesterday" on Broadway. She was merely a sensation and eased out of the role after three years and three months.

She is now braving the film industry in "Adam's Rib" with Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn. She was given Mary Astor's dressing room and is generally being treated as a dignitary. "Wasn't always so with her in Hollywood."

She was under contract to 20th-Fox, but nothing happened. Finally she learned she had a role in a wartime musical, "Something for the Boys."

Judy was enthused until she learned she had one line. She complained to a studio official. "It's only one line, sure," he answered. "But it's a long line!" "And," he said, adding the clincher, "the picture's in color!" The actress complained to her agent. He listened, then replied, "But it's in color!"

So she did the part. When she reported for work, she discovered she was to play a war worker—dressed in overalls, bandana on her hair and goggles over her eyes.

"What's more, it was a comedy line, so I had to read it fast."

Employers Take Advantage Of Loopholes In Child Labor Law

Few people stop to think just what some of the laws which we take for granted really mean to our life. They know the laws exist, but they fail to take note of their accomplishments and of their loopholes. For instance, there is the child labor law, a law which should be of interest to every parent, but which is all but forgotten by most of the people for which it was created.

Nearly 60,000 minors have been found illegally employed during the 10 year period since the federal law has been in effect, even though inspections during any one year could cover only a fraction of the establishments to which the act applies.

Its 16 year limit for employment in manufacturing establishments prevented in World War II a repetition of wholesale factory employment of 14 and 15 year olds which took place in World War I.

It has kept children under 16 from working during school hours in all the interstate commerce industries covered by the law. Lax state laws allowed the number of employed between 14 and 18 years of age to skyrocket from 1,000,000 to 3,000,000 during the last war; the Federal law simply didn't have broad coverage. Many state laws permit children to go to work at 14, or on the completion of the eighth grade, so thousands of children went to work in industries covered only by state laws.

Federal standards serve as an example for state laws of similar nature. Five states, since the end of the war have joined the list of those with laws similar to the federal law.

Serious loopholes which exclude large numbers of youth from protection of the law have come to light during the 10 years of experience in enforcing it.

First, there is the "30 day" loophole. Any logging concern, any cannery or other concern which can hold its products for 30 days before shipping, is outside the reach of the federal law.

So, the logging concern which cuts timber in the winter and has to wait until spring to float it downstream for shipment can employ youth, under 18 years, even in the most hazardous operations prohibited by federal law. Canneries and some other businesses can do the same thing.

The present law does not directly prohibit child labor in interstate commerce industries, but prohibits shipments of goods in interstate commerce by establishments which have employed children within 30 days prior to shipment.

Second, there is the "goods" loophole. Many industries do not produce "goods." Transportation companies carry them but do not produce them. And Western Union's contribution to interstate commerce is dots and dashes—not "goods."

Third there is the agricultural loophole. The Act reads: "shall not apply with respect to any employee employed in agriculture while not legally required to attend school."

The phrase, "legally required to attend school," can mean many different things in 48 states with 48 different compulsory education laws.

So, children 14 years of age and even younger work on commercial farms in some states.—MILDRED YOUNG

Question Of Academic Freedom Becoming Live One In America

WASHINGTON — STEP BY STEP, education in this country is beginning to feel the pressure of the national concern about Communism.

As the pressure grows, angry arguments become intense over this question:

How far can academic freedom—freedom to teach and search for truth—be interfered with without damaging, terrorizing or destroying it?

Here are some examples of recent events:

1. Several professors were fired from the University of Washington for being members of the Communist party.

2. The University of California has ordered its 4,000 teachers to take a new oath of loyalty to the United States.

3. A week ago 20 top educators—including Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, president of Columbia University, and Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard, issued a report which said:

MEMBERS OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY should not be employed as teachers.

The reasoning behind these three steps was this: A Communist party member has no academic freedom anyway; he surrendered intellectual honesty when he joined the party and now, sheep-like, does what it tells him.

All three steps dealt with the teaching done by teachers, not with what teachers did outside a classroom. Now that element has been added.

In a sharp letter to President Conant of Harvard—who says Communist teachers shouldn't be hired—Frank B. Ober, who graduated from Harvard in 1913 and now is a Baltimore lawyer, said:

"Anyone familiar with Communist methods knows that most of the damage from teachers is done outside of the classroom, made possible by the influence gained in the classroom."

"Similarly, I believe a professor's efforts to aid Communists gain greatly from his prestige as a professor, and is not reasonable to close one's eyes to such extracurricular activities."

OBER IS THE FATHER OF THE ANTI-Communist law recently passed by the Maryland Legislature. In his letter he complained bitterly about two Harvard professors, Harlow Shapley, who teaches astronomy, and John Clardi, who teaches English composition.

Clardi, he said, spoke at a Maryland meeting of Henry Wallace's Progressive party, to fight the anti-Communist law sponsored by Ober; Shapley, he said, spoke at the New York meeting of the "Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace" where this country's foreign policy was attacked.

Ober wants Harvard to set up its own loyalty program. He said: "The test of a professor's actions ought not to be whether he can be actually proved guilty of a crime. Reasonable grounds to doubt his loyalty to our government should disqualify him, for the position is one of trust, and the government has, if it chooses to exercise it, regulatory power over education."

CONANT ANSWERED BRIEFLY THAT Harvard's long tradition of letting its professors act as private citizens will remain unchanged. He turned the job of a full answer over to Greenville Clark, New York lawyer, Harvard graduate of 1903, and a fellow, or trustee, of Harvard.

Put in its briefest form, Clark's answer to Ober's idea was "no thanks." He reminded him that the meetings attended by Shapley and Clardi were public and open to the press. And he said:

Harvard "believes that the members of the faculties, in their capacity as citizens, have the same rights to express themselves as other citizens, and that those rights should not be restricted by the university by trying to keep a 'watch' on professors."

Secret Diplomacy Again Rouses Ire Of Correspondents At Paris

SOME AMERICAN CORRESPONDENTS covering the Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Paris are dissatisfied over the U. S. State Department's arrangements for supplying the American version of developments.

Most information regarding Western plans has come from British and French sources. The Russians don't talk.

It's the old, old story. American diplomatic circles exalt freedom of the press and subscribe to a fully informed public. Despite this, some high diplomatic quarters long have pursued the idea that if important problems can be worked out secretly, there will be a better chance of success.

ON THE OTHER HAND THE BRITISH, and to some degree the French always have the latch string out for news gatherers.

So the life of a reporter abroad is no bed of roses. He has to dig hard for such ore as he unearths, and then has to make a careful assay to make sure that he has the real thing and not fool's gold.

While the British generally are most liberal in giving information, they are past masters at sidestepping when they want to. One of the cleverest in that line I ever encountered was the late Earl of Balfour. Balfour was a representative at the Versailles peace conference, and I attended one press conference at which he answered questions from some 75 correspondents for perhaps an hour. He was charming, he was witty, he spoke "freely."

When the conference was over a young American reporter, who was new at the peace parley, came to me in real distress.

"PARDON ME," HE SAID, "BUT would you please tell me if Mr. Balfour said anything at that conference?"

I couldn't help laughing as I told him he could go back to his headquarters with a mind at peace. Mr. Balfour hadn't given up a whisper of information.

That's one way of evading an issue and it's just as bad, though no worse, than the scheme of maintaining secrecy.

In our democracy the government is the servant of the people. That being so, the public is entitled to an exact accounting of the stewardship. The best way to render that accounting is through the news.

Secret diplomacy, barring rare exceptions, is a mighty dangerous thing.

Summer School Is Hit Hard By Prolonged Legislative Session

By MARTHA COLE
AP Staff
AUSTIN, June 21. — This long legislative session is wreaking havoc with summer school. Twenty-four members of the House are enrolled in summer classes—17 at the University of Texas here and seven at Baylor University in Waco. This commuting between Waco and Austin gets difficult. And the 35 a day legislators are getting now doesn't exactly encourage commuting by airliner, most of the seven going to Waco zoom back and forth by car. Rep. Joe Fleming of Henderson served notice on the House several weeks ago that he had to go to Baylor Law School and they'd better speed things up. But the wheels of the legislature kept creaking and Rep. Fleming's desk is vacant about half the week. Rep. J. K. Aynesworth of Waco has had more trouble. He's been trying to get the driver finanial responsibility bill passed in the House and go to school in Waco, too. Aynesworth has stuck to his job in the capitol and trusted in understanding professors. "They've agreed to give us the same number of days off they arranged for those who had to go to National Guard Camp," Aynesworth said. National Guard camp is another thing. Five legislators were supposed to go last week and the week before with the 36th Division. Sen. Jim Taylor of Kerens, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Rep. Ray Kirkpatrick of Trenton, chairman of the house appropriations committee, both national guard officers, stuck close to their conference committees in the capitol. Reps. George Nokes of Corsicana, M. B. Etheredge of Huntsville and L. P. Caston of Leonard got off for a week end with the Guard. This coming week end Reps. Peppy Blount of Big Spring and L. C. Slump, Jr., of Decatur are due at National Guard Camp for the 49th Armored Division. Blount also is enrolled at the University of Texas this summer, but has his classes arranged so that he doesn't miss a legislative session. Rep. Johnnie B. Rogers of Austin starts to class at 7 o'clock in the morning out at the university, gets through at 10 and rushes back to the capitol almost in time to hear the morning invocation. Classes go that way, too, for Rep. Bill Craig of Miami. "But it's about to kill me," Craig said. "I'd never have started to summer school if I had known he session would last this long."

NEVER AGAIN—Jean Marie Henderson, 2½, (above) promised not to do it again after she was rescued from the face of a 150-foot cliff. She was saved after tumbling 50 feet down a cliff near Spokane, Wash., when her suspenders snagged a bush and gave her time to hang on. A neighbor woman crawled down the cliff and lifted the child to safety. (AP Wirephoto).

City Negroes Celebrate Juneteenth Little Late

A day late and a Queen short, Big Spring Negroes happily unrecited their June Teenth celebration here Monday. A couple of balky trucks—one bearing the Queen—failed to dull the edge of the parade. Vainly, the procession was stalled in an effort to stimulate the recalcitrant royal carriage. In succession, celebrants moved through a baseball game, a barbecue, dedication of a new park, and a gay June Teenth dance at the Gomez hotel. Highlight of the celebration came with the dedication of the new North Side park. The dedication ceremony included speeches by Mayor G. W. Dabney, Oliver Reed, Otto Tucker, and Mrs. G. H. Penny. Marie Cooper, winner in a June 19 contest, was crowned Queen and "Miss Big Spring" for the day. Prior to the dedication service, the Midland Indians defeated the Big Spring Sluggers in a diamond contest unrecited at Bronc Park. Music for the parade, the afternoon festivities, and the dance was furnished by "Don Juan and his New Moods in Music." Activities for the day almost got off to a bad start. The opening parade, made up of floats, gaily decorated automobiles, horsemen, and bicyclists all set to escort the Queen through the downtown section, got off slowly and finally had to swing into high without the Queen. The truck carrying Miss Big Spring and her court failed to start at the appointed time. The parade was delayed. Still the vehicle wouldn't run. After starting without the Queen, the procession was again forced to stop when another float ran out of gasoline, but the throne truck was unable to catch up. After the parade had wound through the downtown streets and participants were headed back home to prepare for the baseball game, leaders met the delayed Queen on her float—on the way to the parade. The 49 "Juneteenth" celebration was sponsored by three civic organizations. Promoting the festivities were the Ever-ready Civic and Art Club, the A. E. Dement Civ. and Art club, and the Colored Men's Business and Social club. Tommy Biggs, treasurer of the CMBSO also led the horsemen in the parade.

Mansfield Wins Calf Roping Title

Toots Mansfield, Big Spring, won the calf roping title at the 1949 California Rodeo at Salinas, Calif. Sunday. He nosed Gene Rambo, a Californian, out by 4 of a second in final averages. Zeno Farris, a New Mexican roper, was only 7 of a second behind Mansfield, and J. D. Holleyman took fourth. Sonny Edwards, Big Spring, finished out of the money, just behind Holleyman. Sonny, however, took second money in the second go-around. Mansfield won a second place on his second calf.

Business Failures Show Sharp Rise
NEW YORK, June 21. (AP)—Business failures rose sharply in the week ended June 26. Dun & Bradstreet reported today. It reported that 196 commercial and industrial enterprises failed during the latest week. This compared with 174 in the previous week and was substantially above the 100 failures in the like week of 1948.

Kelley Hoping For Water Compromise
AUSTIN, June 21. (AP)—Sen. Rogers Kelley of Edinburg said yesterday that he hopes a compromise between the Senate and House on a better-sessions study of surface water laws will be reached "sometime soon." Kelley is a member of the free conference committee attempting to iron out differences between House and Senate versions of a committee to report back to the next Legislature.

40 Killed, 563 Missing In Storm

TOKYO, June 21. (AP)—Police estimated 40 persons were killed and 563 were missing in a typhoon that struck Okinawa and southern Japan early today. The typhoon, with winds up to 115 miles an hour, is expected to hit the big northern Japanese island of Honshu tomorrow. Destruction in southern Japan was described as heavy. More than 500 houses had been reported destroyed. An estimated 4,500 farms were flooded by torrential rains. There were no reports of injuries to occupation personnel. Sixty-two boats were destroyed or set adrift. Police said a 2,500-ton freighter went around at the entrance of Hakata Bay in northern Kyushu.

Broncs To Entertain Cats In Doubleheader Tonight

Cayuse Batting Rampage Sinks Felines, 17-7

The Big Spring Broncs and Ballinger Cats square off in a double bill at Steer park this evening. The first of two, seven-inning contests is due to get underway at about 7 p.m. Julio Ramos, the lefty who owns a 11-0 record, and Bert Garcia, a righthander, probably will see mound action for the Broncs tonight.

After tonight's games the Hosess depart on a seven-day road trip that will take them to Vernon, San Angelo and Ballinger. Pancho Perez, the Broncs' big righthander, couldn't seem to find his Sunday pitches Monday night, but he didn't need them. The Broncs went on a batting rampage that produced 19 hits from the offerings of three Ballinger moundmen as the locals romped to a 17-7 victory over the Cats.

Pancho, who coasted to his second victory in as many starts, contributed two of the blows, scored as many runs and drove in another.

The Hosess went to work early on Cat Starter Ed Norton, who retired in favor of a pinch batter in the fourth. The Broncs already had smashed 10 safe blows and pounded seven runs across the dish when Norton exited.

The climax came in the seventh when Carlos (Potato) Pascual lofted a home run over the left field wall with the bases loaded.

However, Ray Vasquez was the most consistent Broncs batter. He rapped a double and two singles in six expeditions to the dish, while Pascual had a couple of one-basers to add to his homer and Felix Gomez reaped for two doubles and a single.

Pascual drove in a total of five runs, while four other tallies came across on the strength of Vasquez' blows. Charley Young and Jim Higgins gave Perez rough sailing. Young sent one screaming over the boards with one on in the seventh after he had doubled two across in the sixth. Higgins had a double and two singles in five trips, while Johnny Jones poked a couple of two-baggers and drove in one runner.

The Cats staged a mild rally in the ninth, but Perez settled to stifle the threat before the Broncs advantage could be challenged seriously.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

By WACIL McNAIR

We doubt that baseball attendance figures in Big Spring ever will follow the pattern established in two East Texas league cities this year. According to a notation in the Marshall newspaper that city's Browns were drawing 700 to 800 fans per game while resting in first place, but they attracted 1400 to 1500 before they reached the top run. Longview, in the same league, had to be content in the 700 to 800 bracket while it was in first place, but when the club hit the skids and finally relinquished first place the average attendance almost doubled.

The victor apparently has no claim on the spoils down in that section. Incidentally, the Robstown club in the new Rio Grand Valley league may buy a guinea pig for a box office experiment in Class D baseball. Club officials there have established admission prices of 60 cents for bleachers and 90-cents for the grandstand.

Carlos (Potato) Pascual, the Broncs third baseman who pitched seven innings of sterling baseball for the Broncs Saturday night, had been begging for a turn on the mound for a month. He is no stranger to the hill. He was originally signed as a pitcher.

Pitcher Art Quigley, who was released from a hospital only a few hours earlier, was the victim of that Roswell batting power last Friday night when the Sweetwater Swatters took it on the chin by 24-12. He took over when Lou Lockhart faltered in the second inning and the Rockets promptly collected 14 hits and 17 runs in the next four and one-third innings.

Three Midland pitchers have been favoring back ailments recently. During the last Indian series here, Ernie Nelson said his back was troubling him. Sam Van Hoozer and Glen Patton have experienced similar trouble. Patton is the lad who pitched a one-hitter against the Broncs here a couple of weeks ago.

Jimmy Perez, the wronglander who went to Abbeville, La. from the Broncs at the end of last season, is leading the Evangeline league hurlers with an 8-1 record. The Abbeville club was leading that Class C circuit by one game when the last averages were released.

The Fort Worth baseball club hoped to erect a roofless grandstand for Cat fans, but Texas League President J. Alvin Gardner turned thumbs down on the proposal.

That coaching school scheduled in Wyoming for Aug. 8-12 will be held at a mountain camp. Bob Woodruff of Baylor will do the football teaching, while Everett Case of North Carolina is the basketball tutor.

Texas League Umps Do Not Assess Fines If Players Biff Each Other

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, June 21. — When the players fight each other in Texas League baseball, the officials do not usually assess any fines. They take this view of the situation: so long as it doesn't interfere with the conduct of the game or slow it down too much, the boys can have their little scraps without fear of penalty.

There is a predominant view that such things help the crowds. Most everybody enjoys a good scrap—that is, as spectators. Manager Jimmy Adair of Dallas and Pitcher Ralph Hamner of Shreveport apparently weren't thinking about the gate the other night when they went off behind the stands here for some fistbuffs. It was too early for the crowd to have seen it anyway.

It was rather inconsiderate of Jimmy and Ralph, don't you think? One was suggested that they ought to be fined for not giving the crowd the benefit of their fistbuffs. Another thing to consider, also, is the umpires. Those fellows never have any fun. They're always being booed by the fans and spoken harshly to by the players and managers. They undoubtedly would like to see a fight—involving somebody else—once in a while. Here is summer and thoughts are on baseball, tennis and golf. But to our desk comes Texas Christian University's annual football brochure. We believe this is the earliest one ever has been sent out.

It is quite complete, even listing T.C.U.'s best bets for All-America and other probable stars. Lindy Berry, the versatile Horned Frog quarterback, is listed as the top man for this honor and Morris Bailey, pass-catching wingman, and Harold Kilman, guard and tackle, are others placed in the All-America running.

The brochure oozes confidence over TCU chances for next fall although laying it to "Frog fans," who, the treatise says, are more optimistic about the 1949 prospects than they have been at any time since 1938 when T.C.U. was undefeated, untied and unworried. The fact that T.C.U. won only four games last year is taken as a good sign. The fans, it seems, look on 1938 as another 1937. It is recalled the Frog footballers won only four games that year and look what they did in 1938!

Well, T.C.U. comes up with 26 lettersmen from 1948, including seven starters. Also there will be two lettersmen from 1947. And 16 of the 28 will be seniors. Among the top sophomores will be Gilbert Bartosh, the Granger flash; John Mednich and Keith Flowers. And then there's big John Morton, who comes from Compton, Calif. Junior College. They think he'll be the answer to the fullback prayer.

The T.C.U. "fans" could be right. It seems Neils Pearson, the umpire who figured in the shoving incident at Temple when President

Bengals Whip Strong Angelo Nine By 8-7

SAN ANGELO, June 21.—The Latin-American Tigers made it a complete Big Spring day over San Angelo here Sunday when they came from behind in the ninth inning to nudge the Greyhounds 8-7.

The Tigers trailed from the second inning, one time as much as six runs, before surging to the front in the last stanza.

The Greyhounds, one of the most powerful amateur aggregations in West Texas and a long standing rival of the Tigers, made an effort to get back in the game in the last of the ninth. They loaded the bases on a single, a Tiger error and a walk. However, Gamboa threw the next two men out at the plate and Pat Leyva, a pinch hitter, skied to let the retire the side.

The Tigers played one of their best games of the season in the field, and they went out and got their base hits when they counted. Martinez and T. Fierro led the Tiger batting attack with three safeties each.

Eagles, Felines Still Deadlocked

Fort Worth pitching and Dallas batting last night kept these two teams tied at the top of the Texas League. Dallas Eagles won Wednesday, 15-4, while Fort Worth nudged Shreveport, 3-1.

In other games, Oklahoma City nosed out Houston, 8-7, and San Antonio thumped Tulsa, 9-3.

Carl Eskrine scattered seven Shreveport hits as his Fort Worth mates took their eighth straight game.

Ben Guntini, Jerry Witte and Bill Serena socked home runs to lead Dallas' one-sided decision. Guntini hit two homers, accounting for three runs.

It was a nice welcome for Walt Lanfranconi, new Dallas pitcher. The ex-coast league hurler chunked eight hit ball.

Lanfranconi figured in a two pitcher purchase by Dallas from the Chicago Cubs recently. Yesterday, Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler ruled the other twirler, Red Lynn, must be returned to Los Angeles. Three Pacific Coast League teams had protested the sale—Los Angeles to Chicago to Dallas.

A pinch single by Joe Vosmik scored two runs in the eighth inning for Oklahoma City, good for the narrow victory over Houston.

Three home runs by Ed Levy, Joe Frazier and Dan Balch blew Tulsa out of the park and San Antonio into a firmer stand in fourth place.

Graziano Returning To Fistic Warfare

WILMINGTON, Del., June 21. —Rocky Graziano returns to the fistic warfare tonight after an absence of a year with a rocky crown on a shot at the middleweight title he once held.

The one-time boss of the 160 pounders takes on Buffalo's Bobby Claus. The bout is slated for 10 rounds but if the product of New York's lower east is the Rocky of old it'll probably be over long before the scheduled time.

It'll be Graziano's first competitive appearance in the ring since Tony Zale took back the middleweight title June 10, 1948. Rocky had won the title a year previous from Zale.

MIDDLECOFF PUTS BODY ENGLISH IN SHOTS—Dr. Carry Middlecoff, newly crowned National Open golf champion, attempts to help his ball as he applies body English after making shots in the Motors City Open at Detroit, Mich. He was co-winner with Lloyd Mangrum. ## Staley Maintains Giant Killer's Role

By The Associated Press
"Staley, the Giant killer"—that's what St. Louis fans are calling Gerald Lee Staley. 25-year-old broad shouldered righthander of the St. Louis Cardinals today.

Primarily a bull pen operative last year and at the outset of this season, Staley has been given great runs since given a starter's role on May 28. The Brush Prairie, Wash., native has found his side arm specially ball and sweeping curve seemingly puzzling to the New York Giants.

Staley pitched the Cards to within a half-game of the National League's league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers last night, beating the Giants, 7-2, in St. Louis. The Dodgers were idle.

The triumph was Staley's fifth of the season and his third over the once powerful Giants who occupy fifth place.

Staley began the game boasting a streak of 13 2-3 consecutive scoreless innings over the polo grounds. He ran the skien to 18 2-3 before the Giants solved his offerings for two runs in the sixth inning. But the Cardinals already had the game in the bag.

The Cards nicked Monte Kennedy for a run in the first and drove the young lefty to cover with four more in the third. Doubles by Red Schoendienst and Nippy Jones plus Enos Slaughter's triple featured the uprising.

Boston's third place Braves crawled to within two games of the Dodgers, edging the Chicago Cubs, 3-2, in the Majors' lone day game. Elbie Fletcher singled home Ed Stanky from second base in the ninth inning with the winning run.

Vern Bickford went all the way to gain his ninth victory. Hank Sauer accounted for Chicago's run with an eighth inning homer.

The fourth place Philadelphia Phillies, behind the seven-hit pitching of Russ Meyer, turned back the Pirates, 7-1, in Pittsburgh.

Meyer also took a hand in the Phils' 15-hit attack, socking two singles and driving home a pair of runs. Meyer lost his shutout in the sixth when Ralph Kiner boomed his 15th homer.

The New York Yankees grabbed a tighter hold on the American League lead, increasing their advantage to four games over the runner-up Detroit Tigers. The Yanks beat the St. Louis Browns, 4-1, in the stadium while the Tigers lost, 6-1, to the Red Sox in Boston.

Fred Sanford, priced from the Browns for $100,000 in the fall, limited his former mates to seven hits. Jack Phillips socked his first homer of the season with two on the sixth inning off Bill Kennedy to provide the New Yorkers with their margin of victory.

Walt Masterson, recently obtained from Washington, and Joe Dobson halted the Tigers on six blows while the Sox collected 14 off a trio of Detroit pitchers. Masterson left in the seventh complaining of a sore elbow.

The third place Philadelphia Athletics inched to within a half game of Detroit, beating the world champion Cleveland Indians, 4-1, in the Quaker City.

Dick Fowler granted the Indians only four hits in posing his fifth straight triumph and sixth of the season.

Chicago ended a five-game losing streak as Lefty Bob Kuzava pitched a 5-4 triumph over the Senators in Washington.

Trailing, 3-2, going into the eighth inning, the White Sox jumped on losing pitcher Rap Scarborough for three runs on an error and one batters by Cass Michaels. Charley Kress and Bobby Rhawn to win.

Observation by a Chicago baseball writer after watching the Dodgers: "That team could win the pennant—if Branch Rickey doesn't try to improve it." . . . Ditto by Larry MacPhail, now a Delaware Park manager: "Horses may have as many albits as ball players, but they can't talk."

Maybe New Law Will Help Stop Doak Walker

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, June 21. —Current events: "Promoter" Joe Louis passed up a scheduled trip to the Joe Walcott and Erzzard Charles training camps the other day because Don Newcombe was pitching for the Dodgers in Chicago.

Probably was a smart idea. . . . Frank Kovacs and Don Budge, supposedly arguing about their seedings in the pro-tennis championships teamed up together in the doubles. . . . when the Texas Legislature recently passed a bill making it illegal to "throw a bottle at any game," one lawmaker commented: "This may be the only way to stop Doak Walker." Speaking of Texas, the Longhorn baseball team which bids for the National Collegiate A. A. title tomorrow, hasn't lost a Southwest Conference game on its home field since 1943 and has won 47 of its last 48 collegiate games there.

The Bluefield, W. Va., Blue-Grays of the Appalachian League suffered their first shutout of the season the other night at the hands of the Welch Miners. . . . the next day Jeff Heath, who is acting as touring coach for the Braves' farm system, came to town and gave the Athletics a short batting lesson. . . . that night Bluefield belted Welch by the football score of 26 to 6. . . . Bluefield never will complain that too many Jeffs spoil the broth.

The four teams engaging in the NCAA baseball finals at Wichita, Kas., this week are the survivors of a field of 20 which competed in district tournaments. Using the conservative figure of 15 men per team, that would make 30 college ball players who appeared to be good enough to compete for the national title. Tom Hamilton, Texas' leading hitter (.412 for the full season) also played in the NCAA Baseball Tournament in 1947. . . . Willey Warren, who hit .402 for Wake Forest, was a polo victim when he was three years old and wasn't expected to ever walk again. At 14 he tried out for football on his high school football team although he weighed only 89 pounds. . . . Southern California nominates Second Baseman Art Mazmanian as its All-America prospect (the coaches will pick a team) but rates Bruce McKelvey as the outstanding college catcher. Bruce had to alternate with Bob Zuber, a .417 hitter, this season.

Back to Walcott-Charles, we don't quite understand the determined efforts of the "Octopus, Inc." publicity staff to play down Charles and play up Walcott. . . . Bruce Drake, coach of basketball and golf at Oklahoma U., probably is the only college coach to turn out two Walker Cup golfers. Walter Emery in 1936 and Charles Coe in 1949.

Observation by a Chicago baseball writer after watching the Dodgers: "That team could win the pennant—if Branch Rickey doesn't try to improve it." . . . Ditto by Larry MacPhail, now a Delaware Park manager: "Horses may have as many albits as ball players, but they can't talk."

Yale will play seven of its nine football games next fall at home; Columbia will be met in New York and Princeton at Princeton.

Juveniles Await Judge's Decision In City Burglary

Two juveniles Tuesday awaited a decision from the county court on information that they were involved in burglary of the Big Spring Hardware on May 28.

Hearing was conducted Monday by Judge J. E. Brown. He set Wednesday as the day for returning his judgment.

The two youths, one 14 and the other 16, admitted to the information that they had been involved in entering the hardware company and making off with nine guns and pistols, together with some ammunition and scabbards.

Slaughter said tips to police and to him resulted in recovery of the guns from their burial place on a farm northwest of here on June 14.

A third member of the group, John Bedwell, is free under $1,000 bond on a charge of burglary in connection with the case. He is 17 and thus not subject to juvenile action. One of the juveniles has a previous record, Slaughter said.

Ruth and Mary Hobbs have returned from two-weeks in San Antonio where they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Toerck, their grandparents, Lela Mae Hobbs, who accompanied them, is remaining for a longer visit.

Quarters Priority Will Be Granted Medical Officers

Medical officers will be given priority of consideration in assignment of quarters and their families will be allowed to accompany them on tours of foreign duty, according to Capt. Harold Sandford, in charge of U. S. Army and Air Force recruiting here.

This policy takes cognizance of the fact that medical personnel are required to be on duty more hours per day in most cases than is normal. Orders allowing families of medical officers to travel with them have been issued to the field.

This policy is the latest step in a continuing campaign designed to relieve the critical shortage of medical officers in the Army. Capt. Sandford said.

Man Given Life In Slaying Of Co-Ed

BOULDER, Colo., June 21 (AP)—Joe Sam Walker, 33, was sentenced yesterday to serve 80 years to life in prison for the "violent, vicious, atrocious" murder of Theresa Foster, Colorado University coed.

A jury convicted Walker May 9 of killing the 18-year-old freshman from Greeley, Colo. Her raped half-nude body was found Nov. 11 under a bridge south of Boulder, two days after she disappeared on a walk from the university campus to her residence.

Walker admitted disposing of the girl's body but claimed a "stocky, blond" youth killed her after he had given them a ride in his automobile.

ILLOGIC COSTS NEGRO 10-SPOT

His history was rusty and his reason insufficient as a Negro drew a $10 fine in city court today.

Judge W. E. Greenleaf asked the sheepish prisoner why he had been drunk.

The prisoner at the bar hesitated, scratched his head. Bewildered, he concluded that "it was jus' 'cause everyone else was, suh!"

Anti-G-A Solons Beat Similar Plan

AUSTIN, June 21 (AP)—House members who had fought the Glimmer-Aikin plan for reorganization of the state public school system won out today in a move against the state's higher education system.

The House voted, 62-40, to send a resolution providing for a committee to blueprint a program for higher education to the committee on appropriations. That's where the Glimmer-Aikin foes wanted it.

The resolution had been approved by the Senate and was in the House Committee on Education.

Finances were still the main worry of the House. It hoped to get a picture today of just how work on the state budget was coming along.

Two Polio Cases Under Treatment In Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, June 21.—Two cases of polio without paralysis are under treatment in Colorado City, according to Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, city health officer.

Russell Reed, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Reed, was dismissed from the isolation ward at Root Memorial hospital here Monday. His doctor reported his case as polio "of the abortive type" with no evidence of paralysis. He was due to go home Monday, unmarked by the dread disease.

Felice Nesbitt, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nesbitt, is still isolated at Root hospital after a six days' illness. Her doctor, also, declared her illness to be slight "although the diagnosis shows polio." Felice, who attends Hardin-Simmons University during the school term, was said by her physician to be out of danger.

Two other cases from Mitchell county are now in Hendrick Memorial hospital, Abilene. They are Kaye Miller, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller. Kaye became ill in San Antonio and had recovered sufficiently enough to be moved to Abilene treatment center. The other case is that of Ronald Hopper, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hopper of Spade community in South Mitchell county. Ronald is recuperating in Hendrick Memorial.

Three Runs Made By City Firemen

A false alarm from the Waffle shop started the series Monday. It was followed by call from 610 Gregg where a wooden step was reported burning. The fire, caused by a cigarette, did negligible damage.

Tuesday's alarm came from 1804 Gregg. Children playing with matches started a blaze, which did no damage, firemen said.

Decision to drain the area came at a meeting of city, county, and railroad officials last Thursday when a cooperative plan for the work was agreed upon. The area to be drained covers about six or seven acres.

How deep is an oil well? . . . How long is a piece of string!

This is an exploratory well being drilled by the Humble Company on the Continental Shelf 7 miles offshore from Quatre Bayou, Louisiana. It will be drilled to a depth of 14,000 feet.

Humble has production 12,026 feet deep in the South Mays Field in Chambers County, Texas.

The great East Texas oil field was discovered in 1920 at an average depth of today, 3,570 feet. Today, most oil is found in the United States at much greater depths.

The oil industry is going deeper to find more oil for your needs, to discover reserves of oil that will be available for long-range increasing needs and for national emergencies.

Fifteen years ago, the average depth of a Humble well was 4,362 feet. Ten years ago, the Company went 700 feet deeper, to about 5,000 feet, to find oil for you. And the average depth of producing Humble wells drilled in 1948 was 6,695 feet.

That's average. The oil companies go a lot deeper if they think they can find oil farther down. The deepest well drilled in 1948 was 17,696 feet; it was a wildcat well which discovered neither oil nor gas.

How deep is an oil well? It's as deep as it has to be to find or produce oil, or to prove that there's no oil there.

Costs go up as wells go deeper. A well 10,000 feet deep costs, on the average, about three times as much as a 7,000-foot well; a 15,000-foot well may cost 12 times as much.

To find and produce more oil for you requires a tremendous lot of money. And in any territory, there's a considerable risk involved, for only by drilling can you prove, or disprove, that a geological or geophysical "prospect" actually contains oil. In fact, a good many hundreds of millions of dollars have been invested in drilling "dry holes." In an unproved area, the odds are 9 to 1 against the chances of finding oil.

But the oil industry continues to drill wherever scientists think there is a possibility of finding oil; it will go as deep as today's equipment will permit in its hunt for oil . . . because it is a responsible, dynamic industry whose major interest is to supply the oil you need today, and to provide reserves of oil for your needs, and those of the country, in the years to come.

Bennett Will Be Installed As Jaycee Officer

COLORADO CITY, June 21. — Harold Bennett, state vice-president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, region four, will leave Friday for San Antonio where he will attend installation ceremonies. Bennett will be formally installed as a member of the state Jaycee board in a session planned for Saturday evening.

He is a past president of the local Jaycees, is active in civic affairs as a member of the senior chamber board, and is secretary of the Colorado Farm Loan association.

Colorado City Jaycees recently were notified that their organization was awarded two national prizes at the national convention in Denver. The Colorado City Jaycee Echo, weekly mimeographed publication, took first prize in division three, the division of competition for all towns of 25,000 population or under. Bennett edited the Echo for six months during its prize-winning year.

The Echo, a spirited little paper, carries a column by editor T. J. Goss Jr., and cartoons by associate editor, Porter Richardson. Local Jaycees also took third place with their sports program. They were sponsors of a softball league and of a knot-hole gang, playground summer program for boys. Rosser Jones headed the sports committee with Bill Carter in charge of the softball summer league, now in its third season under Jaycee sponsorship.

Mud Puppy Feeds Aquarium Fish

LEWISTOWN, Mont. — A gun club put a mud puppy—a young salamander—into a small aquarium with the idea that the creature's transformation into a salamander would be an interesting exhibition. But they reckoned without a Loch Leven trout and a Rainbow trout in the same tank. The mud puppy turned into supper for the trout long before he could change into a salamander.

Judith Coplon Insists She Is Innocent Of Espionage Charges

By The Associated Press

Judith Coplon today for the fourth day sought by repeated denials to convince a jury she is innocent of espionage charges.

Defense Atty. Archibald Palmer called the former Justice Department political analyst to the witness stand in Washington to explain her meetings with a Russian, and papers found in her purse when they were arrested.

She has consistently denied taking secret government papers with intent to aid Russia, as the government charges. The papers in her purse? She planned to use them in writing a book, The Russian, Valentine Gubitchev? They had a maid romance, and the night of her arrest she met him for a "goodbye forever" because she had found out he was married.

In New York, Alger Hiss began his defense with an imposing array of witnesses, many of them former associates at the State Department where Hiss was a high-ranking official. He is charged with perjury for denying he ever gave Whittaker Chambers prewar State Department papers, or saw Chambers after Jan. 1, 1937. Chambers said he did.

Jester Backs Minimum Standards Program For Texas Public Schools

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 21. — Gov. Beauford H. Jester of Texas said today that only by solving its own school problems can his state press a plea for freedom from federal "interference" and regulation.

Jester, a Democrat, made the assertion in a statement prepared for delivery this morning at a round table on inter-governmental relations at the governors' conference.

He outlined a school program which calls for heavy outlays. "Texas will have this minimum standards program regardless of whether the federal government sends one penny to Texas," Jester said.

"We have assumed the responsibility that we feel is ours and are prepared to foot the bill. Federal aid would, of course, decrease the state's obligation by the amount of the grant, but it would not increase the overall contribution to the local schools and it would not change the minimum standards formula. I make exception here of the vocational education and free lunch programs which necessarily will continue to be on a cooperative basis with the federal government.

"We feel that only by assuming this responsibility of educating our people and paying our teachers a living wage can we conscientiously press our pleas for freedom from federal 'interference' and regulation.

"I am fundamentally opposed to sending money to Washington, to be returned for local services that could better be provided by the state and community. Such legislation has been provided by the Texas Legislature in the field of public education will strengthen states' rights' more than any amount of political oratory."

SMALL SALARY, LARGE ESTATE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21. — For 35 years John Walsh worked here as a postal clerk. His highest pay was $2,100 a year.

Last September he died at 81. An appraisal on file today in superior court shows he left an estate of $114,994.

Walsh was no speculator, just bought government bonds and invested in good companies, his daughter, Mrs. Frank Grimes, explained.

Legion Teams Begin Schedule

Junior American Legion baseball teams of this area were to begin firing away today on a schedule that will carry activity through July 9.

Two Big Spring teams, both of them sponsored by the Howard County Legion post No. 355, were to face each other in the local opener. The Big Spring aggregations are known as the Bombers and the Hawks.

Other action today was slated at Coahoma where that Legion group was to entertain the Stanton team.

The schedule will continue Wednesday at Forsan when Big Spring Bombers travel there to engage the Buffs. The Forsan Legion team also is sponsored by Post No. 355.

The teams in this area are to battle for the privilege of meeting the winner of the west half of District No. 6 in a playoff for the district championship.

Double Ring Rites Are Read In Church

Bessie Joe Dorton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dorton, and Richard Weinkauf, son of R. A. Weinkauf, were united in marriage at a double ring ceremony held in the Park Methodist Church. The Rev. I. A. Smith, pastor, officiated as nuptial vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with shasta daisies, snapdragons and fern.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in white. Alice Mae Dorton, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a lavender dress with white accessories and a gardenia corsage. Robert Grothe of San Angelo, was best man.

Mrs. Joe Faucett sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." She also played the traditional wedding marches.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tucker, uncle and aunt of the bride, were host and hostess to a reception.

The Weinkaufs attended Big Spring schools and will make their home in Midland.

Still Seeking Jury For Murder Trial

YELLVILLE, Ark., June 21. — The state and defense strove again today to get a jury to try Sgt. Kenneth D. Speegle, 24, for the rifle slaying of a state policeman.

Speegle, a combat veteran of the Pacific, formerly lived at Borger, Tex.

He is accused also of killing a retired railroad man.

Sheriff Jack Pace was ordered to round up a special jury panel today after attorneys had questioned 74 men yesterday and selected only 11 to sit in the jurybox.

Most of the persons were turned down because they said they opposed capital punishment. Others had formed opinions.

Speegle, who is AWOL, is charged with first degree murder for the shooting of Trooper Sidney W. Pavatt in this North Arkansas mountain area last Sept. 23.

Speegle also is charged with the slaying of Zue E. Crook, retired railroad man.

Prosecutor Eugene W. Moore has asked the death penalty.

Speegle entered a plea of innocent by reason of insanity as the trial opened.

The Arkansas State Hospital examined Speegle and reported him to be sane but apparently suffering amnesia. He had claimed he remembered nothing of what he had done during the period the state patrolman was shot.

Later authorities reported Speegle admitted the two shootings and that he had feigned amnesia.

The population of Los Angeles County, California, has increased from less than 24,000 to almost 4,000,000 in the last 70 years.

Judith Coplon Insists She Is Innocent Of Espionage Charges

The trial of 11 Communists charged with advocating the violent overthrow of the U. S. Government found a fourth defendant in jail today for passing the judge.

He was Gilbert Green, Illinois Communist chairman.

Judge Harold R. Medina took this step after Green snapped: "I thought we were going to get a chance to prove our case." Judge Medina said he meant to maintain order in his court "if it's the last thing I do."

When Eugene Dennis, another defendant, started to protest, the judge warned him that "the next outburst will be followed by the same sort of ruling."

Yesterday's clash came after the judge refused to admit into evidence an article written by Green and Dennis in 1938.

Unidentified Sub Sighted Off Florida

MIAMI, Fla., June 21. — The Coast Guard said today an unidentified submarine had been reported off the South Florida coast.

Three Navy planes searched an area roughly off Cocoa and Melbourne during the night without finding a trace of the craft.

Then the Coast Guard said the case had been listed as "classified" and that no further information could be obtained here.

Comdr. O. D. Weed, said Coast Guard headquarters in Washington restricted the case on orders from the Navy.
