Jouett Shouse Announces That Plans Made For Immediate Drive For At Least A Total Of $1,000,000

To Fund Deficit

Entire Financing For 1932 Is to Total Between $5,000,000 And $6,000,000; Cleveland After Convention

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 22.—Jouett Shouse came out of a huddle with Alfred E. Smith and John J. Raskob on Democratic party finances today and said their immediate objective would be to raise approximately $1,000,000.

The conference among Mr. Shouse, national executive committee chairman; Mr. Raskob, national committee chairman, and former Governor Smith, the party's presidential candidate in 1928, also was attended by the head of a fund organization which will assist in the campaign.

Visit Follows Tour

Mr. Shouse came here immediately after concluding a trip to the Pacific coast to confer with Mr. Raskob before the latter sailed Friday for Europe. Mr. Raskob will not return until July 1.

Mr. Shouse said finances were the only subjects discussed at the meeting. The national committee, he related, was empowered at its recent Washington meeting to proceed with the raising of funds.

Amount Sufficient

A campaign proposal with a goal of between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 was submitted at that time by the John Price Jones organization. Such

Man Gets Death For Nine Cases

(By Associated Press)

DUESSELDORF, Ger. April 22.—Maintaining the stoical calm which characterized his behavior throughout the trial, Peter Kuerten heard himself convicted of murder today and sentenced to death nine times—once for each of his crimes.

Kuerten terrorized this community several winters ago with a series of gruesome slayings and criminal attacks on women. He confessed nearly a hundred murders but he was tried only for nine of them.

The prisoner expressed regret for the first time today for his acts, which he had related to the last revolting detail.

"After my confession my crimes now seem so awful and disgusting that I can not find any excuse for them," he said. "I am willing to take the consequences."

Criminals Of Oklahoma Now Face New Law

Governor Murray Signs Bill Wednesday Providing For Sterilization Of Three-Time Criminals

Is Potent Threat

Declares Sterilization Not Punishment But Protection And Humane Measure For The Best Interests Of All

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 22.—Oklahoma criminals faced a potent threat today from the forces of the law.

Governor W. H. Murray signed and thus enacted into law a measure passed by the recent legislature providing for the sterilization of three-time criminals.

Gray Is Author

Originating in the house of representatives under the authorship of Dr. J. T. Gray, Stillwater, as a measure to provide for sterilization of insane men under the age of 67 years and women under the age of 47 years in state hospitals, the bill was amended in the senate to apply also to certain inmates of "any other institution supported in whole or in part by the state."

Any third-termer in the state penitentiary or reformatory sentenced for felonies, is subject to the law.

Left Up To Board

Administration is left to the state board of affairs, which controls all state hospitals and prisons.

"More attention ought to be paid to the criminals than to persons of unsound mind," the governor said. "Criminality and weakness of the

Merced Is Center Of A Controversy

Mexican, Suffering From Appendicitis, Is Focal Point In A Disagreement On Charity Hospitalization Fees In Lubbock

BY CHARLES W. RATLIFF
Of The Avalanche Staff

MERCED ORTEGA, 25-year old Mexican, lies groaning in pain in a cramped, one-room shanty in "Little Juarez," suffering from an acute attack of appendicitis. His condition, doctors aver, is grave.

An operation is deemed necessary by physicians who have diagnosed the case — but where the operation is to be performed remained this morning as a problem.

For Merced, day laborer and a resident of Lubbock's Mexican section for the past 11 years, is the innocent center of a controversy of which he knows nothing. Writhing at times from what is believed to be a ruptured appendix, he is the focal point in a disagreement between city and county officials, and the two Lubbock hospitals concerning whether or not the hospitals should stand expense of charity cases or the city and county should bear it, as is done in many Texas centers of population.

"Largest County Not Paying"

The hospitals have been standing such expense for a number of years, not only on cases from Lubbock county but also from six neighboring counties, it was announced last night. Recently Hockley, Lynn and Bailey counties have been paying for their charity cases, hospitalized here, but Lubbock county, claimed by physicians as "the largest county in Texas with no arrangements for hospitalization of indigent sick," has not swung in line. It is on the hospitalization fees that the controversy hangs, doctors here being still willing, they say, to donate time and services.

Ortega's case was placed in the hands of Dr. D. D. Cross, physician and surgeon. Visiting the squalid home in company with Dr. O. W. English, he diagnosed the illness with Doctor English concurring that an operation should be performed. Impossible to operate in the shanty, in which a man cannot stand erect and where, in addition to the patient, three

Levy Will Be Made Against First Person Making Intra-State Sale, Wholesaler In Majority Of Cases

Proponents Watch

Half Of Returns Will Go To Schools And Other Half To General Revenue Fund; Expect $5,000,000

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 22. — The three cents a package cigaret tax hurdled its last barrier today when Governor Sterling affixed his signature.

The tax will become operative 90 days after the legislature adjourns, probably about August 10. The levy will be made against the person making the first intrastate sale, the wholesaler in most cases.

Passed House Monday

The bill was passed by the house Monday, 72 to 56 after it had been approved by the senate. It also proposed a two per cent gross production tax on natural gas.

Senator Berkeley of Alpine was the author of the cigaret tax. He was present to witness the bill's signing as were Representatives Holder of Lancaster, Sanders of Nacogdoches and McDougald of Beaumont, leaders in the fight for its passage.

First Revenue Measure

Proponents estimated the tax would bring in about $5,000,000 annually. The natural gas producers tax was estimated to raise around $6,000,000 a year.

This was the first revenue-raising measure enacted during the present session.

Holder said he did not think any others would be necessary to keep the ad valorem rate from being raised. However, a bill to tax natural gas distributors had been approved by the house and others were pending.

Texas had never tried a cigaret tax. The proposal had been offered

Training Will Be Offered At Local College

Scout Leadership Course Is Planned For Summer Session As Experiment; Confab Held Here Wednesday

Scout leader training probably will be offered in Texas Technological college during the summer session as an elective course, for which college credit will be given, D. T. Jennings, scout executive of the South Plains area announced following a conference with the summer school committee yesterday afternoon.

Gunnar H. Berg, director of volunteer training of the National Boy Scout council, who came to Lubbock yesterday to address the executive board of the council at its regular quarterly meeting, appeared before the committee with Mr. Jennings in behalf of the installation of the leaders' course at the Technological college.

To Furnish Facilities

The committee agreed to furnish the teaching facilities and director of the department, provided the regional council would aid by furnishing instructors and other training necessities, according to Mr. Jennings.

When the matter was put to a vote yesterday, the board agreed to meet the college's terms.

Members of the summer school committee who met with the two scout officials were Dr. A. W. Evans, Dr. John C. Granbery and

Lubbock County 4-H Council To Gather In City Saturday

Members of the 4-H club council will meet in regular session Saturday afternoon at 2:30, it was announced yesterday from the office of County Agent D. F. Eaton. The meeting will be held in the district courtroom.

Achievements of the past year and projects for the future will be discussed in the session. Milton Davis, Acuff, is president of the council.

Texas Aviator Makes Landing Following Hop

Capt. Frank Hawks Is Forced Down In France Wednesday After Record Flight From England To Rome

(By The Associated Press)

HESTON, Eng., April 22.—Flying the same little red plane in which he shattered Colonel Lindbergh's speed record for a trans-continental flight in the United States, Capt. Frank M. Hawks of Texas today set a new aviation mark for European pilots to shoot at, even though he failed to accomplish the task he had set for himself.

Leaving here at 6:30 this morning, he arrived in Rome five hours and twenty minutes later, but on the return flight he was forced down in France by lack of fuel and could not complete the round trip tonight.

Plane Undamaged

The little red plane was undamaged, however, and Captain Hawks said he would fly back to England tomorrow.

Although he failed to complete the scheduled 1700-mile round trip, his time from England to Rome was far better than any on record Wing Commander Kingsford-Smith at the beginning of his record flight from England to Australia took more than 12 hours to reach Rome.

Time Is Speedy

His time for the flight from England to Rome, estimated by him to be a distance of 930 miles, was 5 hours and 20 minutes. He arrived at Centocelle airdrome, near Rome, at 11:50 a. m. He met with unfavorable flying conditions in his pass-

Government Tax Collections Drop For First Nine Months

WASHINGTON, April 22. (AP) — Total government tax collection for the first nine months of the present fiscal year dropped $347,420,929 below the same period last year.

Collections July 1 to April 1, the internal revenue bureau announced today, amounted to $1,930,032,167 compared with $2,277,453,096 for the same period a year ago.

Little Sympathy

Youth Takes Box Of Candy For Mother

THE URGE to send his mother a box of candy became so great that he took the article from a local drug store without paying for it, John Miller, 19, of Austin, said yesterday when he was brought before Judge E. L. Pitts, in county court, to face theft charges.

Miller's plea failed to arouse a great amount of sympathy on the part of the judge, for in statements which followed, the defendant admitted taking four shirts from W. O. Sheely's store Monday and in addition told officers that he had been doing quite a bit of shoplifting lately in Panhandle cities, including Amarillo.

The purloined articles, he said were sold to second hand stores and individuals.

Stating that he was going to give the youth ample time to take an inventory of himself Judge Pitts imposed a sentence of 60 days and costs upon Miller.

United States Accepts Spain

Recognition Is Accorded By State Department To New Republic; Loughlin Calls At Ministry

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The United States today extended recognition to the new Republican government of Spain.

The principal nations of Europe and South America, with their close political, geographical and cultural relations with Spain, having already resumed normal diplomatic relations with Madrid, the state department saw no need for waiting longer.

Ambassador Calls

Secretary Stimson announced Ambassador Irving B. Laughlin had been instructed to call at the ministry of state and extend formal recognition of the United States to the provisional regime of President Alcala Zamora as successor to the Bourbon monarchy.

Ambassador Laughlin's call at the ministry followed closely that of Sir George Graham, British ambassador, who accorded recognition in the name of the states of the British commonwealth.

The state department had no information of the pending appointment of Salvador De Madriaga, noted internationalist and author, as Spain's new ambassador to Washington, whose selection was announced in Madrid yesterday.

Suit Of Attorneys Expected To Be Settled Out Of Court

ELPASO, April 22. —Mrs. Concepcion Goeldner de Escobar, wife of General Jose Escobar, exiled Mexican rebel leader, said today the suit of attorneys against her for $10,000 would be settled out of court. The attorneys, C. L. Vowel, Charles Owen and F. C. Vowell, sued for fees in connection with Mrs. Escobar's divorce action against her husband, in Canada. The divorce suit was dropped when Mrs. Escobar went to Montreal and was reconciled with the general.

Master Planning Of Future Endeavors Will Lift American Business Giant Out Of Economic Bog

By J. R. BRACKETT
Associated Press Business Writer

NEW YORK, April 22.—The American business giant, in an economic bog, may be lifted to the paths of orderly production by master planning of its future endeavors.

In the confusion surrounding discussions of business conditions there have been spasmodic suggestions for some super-planning agency to regulate—by suggestion or by absolute control—developments in all branches of industry. To ascertain the concensus of experts, the Associated Press requested a dozen business leaders and economists throughout the United States to give their opinions.

FIRST OF SERIES

As never before the American public is interested in its economic problems. A dozen expert economists and business leaders have been asked to outline their ideas for future guidance. Their opinions are outlined in this and four other stories by J. R. Brackett, Associated Press business writer, which will appear daily in the Morning Avalanche.

Planning Essential

Most of those queried regard some sort of master planning of the future endeavors of industry as essention to full progress.

Instead of blindly stumbling toward progress with duplication of effort and disregard of production and demand, these experts see value in some sort of a national body which would bring about coopera-

Alleged Shouse Statement Attacked By Chairman Fess

WASHINGTON, April 22. (AP)—A statement attributed to Jouett Shouse, in a recent speech at San Francisco, was described tonight as a "brazen falsehood" by Chairman Fess of the Republican national committee.

Fess charged the national executive committeeman said the Republican national committee had purchased for distribution ten million copies of a magazine "that made reference to the religious affiliations," of John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman.

Amarillo Sponsoring Special Train To Mexico City In May

AMARILLO, April 22. (AP)—A special train carrying mayors or their representatives from practically every town in the Panhandle was planned today from Amarillo to Mexico City.

The purpose is to invite President Ortiz Rubio to the Tri-State fair.

The train, sponsored by the Amarillo News-Globe, will leave here May 23 and return May 30.

Wide Search Underway For Missing St. Louis Doctor

ST. LOUIS, April 22. (AP) — The family and friends of Dr. I. D. Kelley, missing ear, nose and throat specialist, tonight eagerly awaited word from his abductors who lured him from his home on a fake sick call Monday night.

No word has been received directly or indirectly from the abductors of the physician. Meanwhile detectives and police have begun an investigation of the kidnaping.

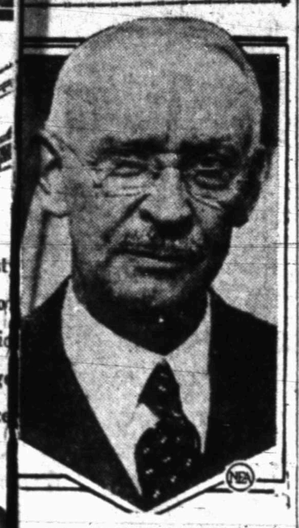

Building Suit Is On In 99th Court

Trial of the suit of H. C. Ragland and L. R. Ragland against M. C. Overton, seeking to have the building restrictions removed from two lots at the corner of Broadway and College avenue, was started yesterday in 99th district court before Judge Clark M. Mullican.

The plaintiffs allege that the lots are no longer suited to residential purposes, as restricted under deeds granted by Dr. Overton in 1908. The building of Texas Technological college at the end of Broadway and the development of highways by the property has made the lots essentially business locations, the petitioners say. The petition alleges that there are now other business establishments and semi-business plants on both Broadway and College avenue, territory restricted as residential territory when the Overton addition was laid out in 1908.

Attorneys in the case stated yesterday that two or three days would be required to complete the trial.

Fresh Attempt Made To Block Investigation

Bishop Cannon Hurls Challenge Against Authority Of Senate Campaign Funds Committee Probe

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—A new attempt by Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, to block a senate investigation of his 1928 anti-Smith campaign expenditures was revealed in letters made public today by the senate campaign funds committee.

Bishop Cannon challenged the committee's authority to investigate his use of $65,000 turned over to him by E. C. Jameson, of New York, to oppose the election of former Governor Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic presidential candidate.

Refused Answers

A similar move by the churchman last year prevented the senate lobby committee from making an investigation. Bishop Cannon walked out on that committee and refused to answer its questions, claiming it was exceeding its rights.

Later, during the last session of congress, the senate adopted a resolution by Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, to give the campaign funds committee the authority which the lobby committee lacked.

Conferred Powers

That resolution, Cannon contended in the letters made public today, attempted to confer "purely judicial powers" upon a legislative committee.

He added the resolution attempted to "authorize your committee to assume the functions of a grand jury, first by inquiring into violations of any provisions of the federal corrupt practices act and second to investigate a fraudulent conversion to private uses of any campaign funds."

The supreme court has held, Bishop Cannon said, that investigation of such matters is "for the courts and not for congress."

Chairman Nye plans a meeting of his committee within the next few days to consider Cannon's contention. He has been unable so far, however, to muster a quorum of the investigating group.

Rees Services Are Set Today

Popular Texas Athlete Dies In San Antonio Of Wounds Received Tuesday; Burial At Center Point

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, April 22.—F. A. "Nona" Rees, 24, three-letter athletic star at the University of Texas, who was shot yesterday, died in hospital here today. He was found in the rear of a sporting goods store here of which he was manager.

Rees, distinguished in football, basketball and baseball during his high school days here and during his four years at the University of Texas, never regained consciousness to explain the shooting. A small calibre rifle was found near him. He had been shot through the head. Police advanced the theory that the rifle fell from a shelf and was discharged, the shot striking Rees behind the ear.

Services Set Today

Funeral services for the athletic idol will be held at Center Point, Kerr county, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Members of the family will gather at the home for final rites.

It is expected that some of Rees' former teammates at Texas Univeristy will act as pallbearers.

Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Rees; six sisters, Mrs. M. M. Hood, Mrs. N. A. Faith, Mrs C. L. Sowell and Miss Almeda Rees, all of San Antonio, and Mrs. Bolton Boone, of Junction and Mrs. L. A. Duncan, of Glidden.

Proration Of East Texas Is To Be In Effect Early Today

AUSTIN, April 22. (AP)—R. D. Parker, supervisor of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission, said today proration of the new East Texas oil area would start tomorrow. The commission today approved the agreement made Monday night by East Texas oil men.

Under the agreement, initial production will be 130,000 barrels daily, increasing to 140,000 barrels May 15, 145,000 June 1 and 150,000 June 15. The proration order will expire July 1.

Author's Suit Ends In Court

Federal Judge Rules Writer Must Pay $17,500 Plus Her Attorney Fees As Result Of Plagiarism Suit

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 22.—Federal Judge Woolsey today ruled that it will cost Miss Georges Lewys $17,500, plus her own attorney's fees and other costs of the trial, to have sued Eugene O'Neill for plagiarism over his Pulitzer prize play "Strange Interlude."

He dismissed Miss Lewys' $1,250,000 suit in which she charged O'Neill stole the plot for his play from a novel she wrote, commenting in his 20,000-word opinion that he was convinced she had made "a wholly preposterous claim."

After allowing the usual costs against her, he directed that she pay $7,500 to O'Neill, $5,000 to the Theater Guild, and $5,000 to be divided between Boni & Liveright and Horace Liveright, Inc. The Guild and the publishers were co-defendants.

Helen Keller Is Guest Of Hoover

WASHINGTON, April 22. (AP) — President and Mrs. Hoover were unusually attentive today to a serene faced woman who was their luncheon guest.

She was Helen Keller, who Mark Twain called one of the greatest characters of the nineteenth century. As always she seemed happy and was amazingly aware of all that went on about her.

Through Polly Thompson, her secretary, and Mrs. Anne Sullivan Macy, her teacher, she shared in the conversation.

Placing her sensitive fingers upon their lips, or hands, she grasped their meaning almost instantly. Sometimes she responded in a pleasant voice, but if eager to express herself quickly she tapped out her words on the hands of her guardians.

Henri Petain, Hero Of Verdun, At 75 Works So 'They Shall Not Pass'

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, April 22.—"They shall not pass" was the word that thrilled France, allied and neutral countries and stunned Germany when the French army of Verdun was fighting for the country's very life.

The slogan came from Henri Petain, then a dapper general of division, the best dressed, most rigidly military looking officer in the French army. The year was 1916.

Approaches Milestone

"They" did not pass.

Today, approaching his seventy-fifth milestone—he was born at Cauchy-la-Tour, April 24, 1856—Marshal Petain of France still stands proud and erect.

Always immaculately dressed, his flowing mustache, now as white as snow, is the only evidence of advancing age.

Marshal Petain is still engaged in seeing to it that enemies of the republic "shall not pass."

Believing that the next war, which the majority of Frenchmen regard as inevitable, will be fought mostly in the air, the government last February made him "general inspector of French aerial defense."

HENRI PETAIN

Yet France and the world seldom hear about him. He is a bitter enemy of personal publicity and at Verdun gave strict orders that his name was not to be mentioned in the official communiques. He has a positive dread of cameras, and newspaper photographers class him as the most difficult man in France to "shoot."

Until a few years ago Petain was addicted to violent daily exercise, especially rope-skipping. Because of the early hour in which he indulged in it, a landlord in Arras once threatened to eject him from an apartment house.

The marshal compromised by moving to the ground floor and doing his skipping in the garden.

In war days he was known as one of the most reckless speed maniacs among French officers, many of whom might have qualified for test runs on the sands of Florida.

The advancing years have not cured Petain of this liking for fast driving. Recently with two chauffeurs relaying each other at the wheel, he traveled from Paris to Nice between sunrise and sunset of a short winter's day.

Mexican Troops Arrive For Inauguration Of War To Be Waged On Smugglers Along Rio Grande

EL PASO, April 22. (AP)—Three hundred Mexican federal troopers were quartered in Juarez, Chihuahua opposite El Paso today as evidence of the Mexican government's determination to cooperate vigorously with the United States government in preventing smuggling.

Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of customs and Javier Larrea, representative of the treasury department of Mexico, conferred here last week and jointly stated the Mexican government would place troops at strategic points in the El Paso area to curb smuggling.

Three squadrons of the 69th cavalry, under command of General Enrique Zertuche, moved into Juarez on a troop train last night, the first in that city since the ill fated Escobar revolution two years ago.

The train was typically Mexican, complete with families of the soldiers and camp followers. Laughing children scuttled from box car roofs to assist their mothers unload household goods, while the troops themselves detrained.

Officials said Fort Hidalgo, overlooking Juarez from the southwest and unused since its capture by rebels in the Escobar revolution, would be fitted out as headquarters for cavalry regiment.

Rumors flew fast through Juarez and El Paso as word of arrival of a troop train spread, principally because of chaotic conditions in the administration of the Mexican city. Mayor Arturo Flores was removed by his council only yesterday, along with the city secretary and several councilmen, as a result of agitation to unseat Governor Andres Ortiz of Chihuahua, which failed.

The limestone was topped in the well at 1,793 feet. Loadings were reported to be running slightly higher than other tests in the immediate vicinity.

PRESCRIPTION
in use over 47 Years
Really Helps Bowels

Don't you want this way of making the bowels behave? A doctor's way to make the bowels move so well that you feel better all over? Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin doesn't turn everything to water but acts on that half of waste clogging your system. It cleans you out without any shock, for it's only fresh laxative herbs a famous doctor found so good for the bowels, combined with pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients.

A doctor should know what is best for the bowels. Let Dr Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin show you how soon you can train the bowels to move freely, every day, the way they should. It's wonderful the way this prescription works, but it's perfectly harmless; so you can use it whenever a coated tongue or sick headache tells you that you're bilious. Fine for children, too—it tastes so nice, and they ought to have a spoonful the minute they seem fretful, feverish, or sluggish, or have a sallow look.

You can get the original prescription Dr. Caldwell wrote so many years ago; your druggist keeps it all ready in big bottles. Just ask for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and use it always for constipation.

AC COLLEGE COLUMN

By MARSHALL FORMBY, TECH CORRESPONDENT

TO VOTE ON QUEEN

Texas Tech will hail another queen!

Students will vote tomorrow and Saturday for a queen who will be crowned during the annual pageant of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention here May 15. The election will be under the direction of the Tech Chamber of Commerce of which Don Maddox is president.

Any co-ed wishing to compete for the queen may do so by filing with either Maddox or Raymond Pflugef. The petition for filing of the names must be signed by at least 25 students and must be in to these two students today.

The pageant will be under the direction of Miss D'Laural Beville of the speech department. Several hundred students will participate.

IS JUNIOR PRESIDENT

Bill Collins of Brownfield, who [illegible] was named marshal for the final graduating exercises in the college last night. This year, as president of the junior class, he is enrolled in the liberal arts school.

The office of marshal carries with it much responsibility, according to college officials. It will be Collins' duty to see that everything starts on time and that everyone is in his right position.

Each year some outstanding junior is appointed to this position by college officials. Last year Leon Harvis of Roaring Springs, who was enrolled in the school of agriculture, was named. He will receive his degree this year.

OUT TODAY

With Martha Mounts, home economics senior as special editor, the special home economics edition of the student newspaper, The Toreador, will be issued today. The school of agriculture recently issued a special edition and others will follow edited by the engineering and liberal arts students.

The paper today will contain special information concerning the home economics school and about students enrolled in that part of the college.

ELECTIONS SET

Dates for the student elections in Texas Technological college this spring will be split, it was indicated yesterday by Wayne Castleberry, president of the student body. The first election will be held Wednesday, May 6, when the president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer, the head yell leader and the student representative to the athletic council will be chosen.

Election of editors and business managers of the two publications, The Toreador and La Ventana, will be held May 14 and 15, it was said.

A convocation is to be held next Wednesday at the Tech gym, at which time eligibility rules for these office candidates will be considered. The publication election will be by secret ballot.

STANDINGS GIVEN

William Luce and Luther Williams with no losses to their credit are leading the Tech chess tournament, according to an announcement yesterday. The tourney which was started several weeks ago is now half over. One week is being allowed for each match and the entries have drawn for opponents.

Standing of the other entries follow in the order of their standing: Charles O'Neall, Riley Millard, Frank Ward, Rudy O'Neall, Ralph Glover, Tony Ulrich and Narvall Mullins.

TO DEBATE TODAY

Presenting the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, That the Nations Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade," Charles O'Neall and Garland Smith, both freshmen students from Lubbock, will debate a team from Wayland college at Plainview today. The debate will be held there, it was announced yesterday.

The only other freshman debate for this year was held with the West Texas State Teachers college several weeks ago when Smith and Carroll Thompson, also of Lubbock, won a unanimous decision over the Canyon team.

The Tech team is under the direction of Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, acting head of the speech department.

PLAN BABTIST BANQUET

With Dr. John Caylor, Dallas, who is state secretary of the Baptist Student union of Texas, as principal speaker, the Baptist students of Tech are making arrangements for the annual banquet at the Hilton hotel May 1. All Baptist Tech students are invited.

Tickets were placed on sale this week and a special program is being arranged.

POSTPONE ELECTION

Postponement of the election of new officers for the Tech organization of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers until the meeting two weeks from last Tuesday night was announced yesterday by Bill Fry, president. It was planned to hold the election last Tuesday night.

The society is made up of students in the Tech department of mechanical engineering and has for its purpose the promotion of that industry. Fry, who was chosen president last winter, hails from Dallas.

TO DISMISS CLASSES

So that students may take part in the judging of the contests in the Interscholastic League meet here Friday and Saturday, all classes will be dismissed Friday from 10 o'clock until 3 o'clock that afternoon, college officials have announced. It is probable that classes will be held as usual on Saturday.

Many of the students will help in the judging of debates, declamation contests and other competitive events which will be held those two days. Eighteen West Texas counties will compete.

MEETING CALLED

A social program has been arranged for a meeting tonight of the Tech Spanish club, La Capa Y Espada, according to officials. The program is under the direction of E. B. Fincher, chairman of the program committee.

The regualr meeting will be held in room 310 of the administration building at 7:30 o'clock.

IS CAMPUS VISITOR

Among the recent visitors on the Tech campus was "Red" Howell of Paducah, a former student. He has been teaching school near Paducah the past year.

Howell was a pitcher on the Tech Matador baseball team before the discontinuance of that sport.

FORD RELIABILITY

THE FORD TUDOR SEDAN

Long, hard use shows the value of good materials and simplicity of design

EVERYWHERE you go you hear reports of the good performance and reliability of the Ford.

One owner writes—"The Ford Tudor Sedan I am driving has covered 59,300 miles through all kinds of weather. It is still giving perfect satisfaction."

Another owner describes a trip of 3217 miles in 95 hours over bad roads and through heavy rain and sleet in the mountains. "Throughout the entire trip," he writes, "the Ford performed excellently and no mechanical trouble of any kind was experienced. The shatter-proof glass undoubtedly saved us from serious injury when a prairie chicken struck the windshield while we were traveling at 65 miles an hour."

See the nearest dealer and have him give you a demonstration ride in the Ford. Then, from your own personal expecience, you will know that it brings you everything you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

LOW FORD PRICES

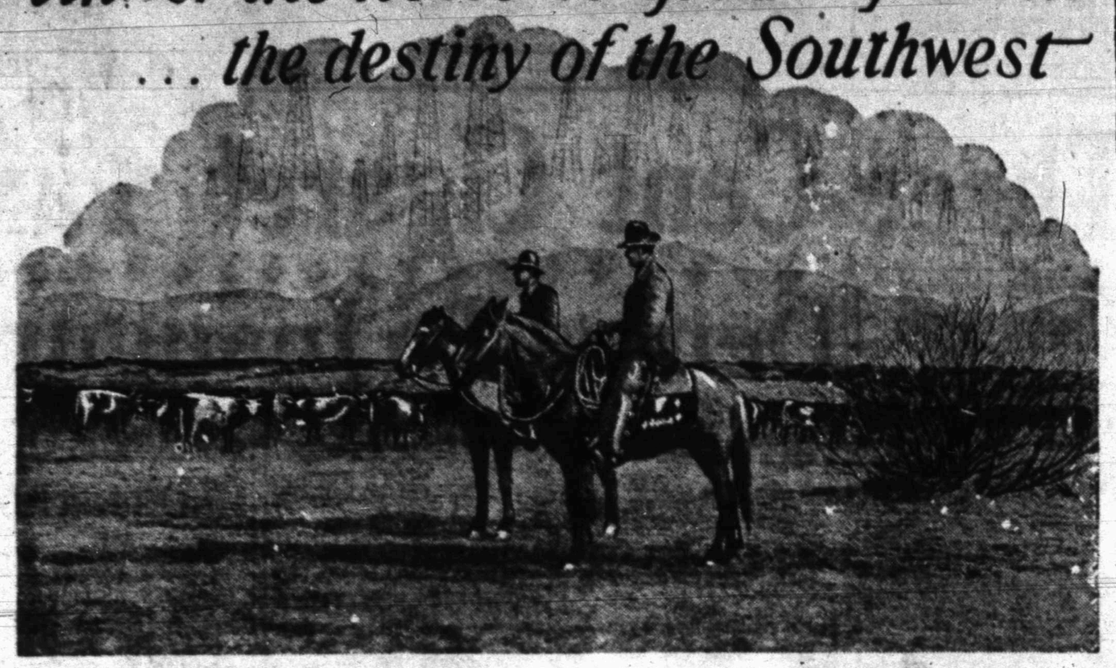

$430 to $630

(F. o. b. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra at low cost. You can buy a Ford for a small down payment, on economical monthly terms, through the Authorized Ford Finance Plans of the Universal Credit Company.)

Under the hoofs of grazing cattle ... the destiny of the Southwest

Copyrighted, Erwin E. Smith

THE pioneer cattleman who crowded the heels of savagery was of the breed which met emergency with resourcefulness, his word and honor needing no sureties. In the face of adversity he wrapped himself in his abounding fortitude and calmly awaited the opportunity to again forge ahead. Like the mesquite tree, he was the first to occupy the vacant space and, like the mesquite in a drouth, which dies back from the top but whose roots are deep in the soil, auspicious showers found him ready to again thrust out green boughs and luxuriant foliage.

But a new wealth was destined to turn the resourcefulness and energy of the pioneer cattleman and farmer into more lucrative channels. In 1894 traces of crude petroleum showed in a well that was intended to bring water to the City of Corsicana, Texas. Exercising an inherent pioneer progressiveness, a group of far-sighted citizens began drilling for oil. Their vision and foresight were rewarded when, in 1896, a producing well was brought in, marking the beginning of the first important oil field in the Southwest.

Within a few brief months a movement was started to build a refinery. On Christmas Day, 1898, the first still in the Southwest was charged at Corsicana by the J. S. Cullinan Company, which, through a series of developments, became the Magnolia Petroleum Company in 1911.

Before the accidental discovery of oil at Corsicana in 1894, the vision of a Jules Verne could hardly have conjured a picture of the Southwest thirty-seven years hence. Oil, like black magic, plus the same kind of resourcefulness and fortitude possessed by the early Southwestern pioneer, has brought untold wealth and prosperity to a land that would otherwise have been cattle pastures or cotton fields.

As oil transformed the cattle range into cities and oil fields of beehive activity, the founders of the Magnolia Petroleum Company kept pace with each new need for petroleum products. As the kerosene lamp replaced the ancient and troublesome tallow candle, bringing new convenience and pleasure to the ranchman and farmer, so was a new era of smokeless, cinderless luxury introduced to the traveler when, in the early part of 1901, the first oil-burning locomotive left Corsicana over the Houston & Texas Central, burning Magnolia fuel oil.

The Magnolia Petroleum Company, as the original refining company of the Southwest, like its pioneer predecessors, has grown with its responsibilities and opportunities until today we see the pioneer, who a generation back read his letters from home by the light of Magnolia kerosene, hurtling across his range in an eight-cylinder motor car, still served by Magnolia . . . his needs supplied better than ever before by Socony Motor Oil and Magnolia Ethyl or Maximum-Mileage Gasoline.

This is the last of a series of historical sketches portraying the pioneer history of the Southwest, in commemoration of Founders' Month of the Magnolia Petroleum Company, pioneer Southwestern refiners.

Here is a close-up of the distinguishing mark of the new standard Goodyear All-Weather Tread Tire — the reinforcing rubber prisms which decorate the sidewall. So expressive of the new note in tire design is this Goodyear development, that Goodyear leadership in this respect is sure to be widely copied, as reflecting the outstanding characteristic of the 1931 tire mode

Announcing for 1931

"the smartest thing in rubber"

HERE, moderns, is the latest and by far the most efficient expression of the tire-building art to date.

It packs within its sleek and stout black circle the grandest combination of style and value your good money ever bought.

It is the new standard Goodyear All-Weather balloon, the improved 1931 edition of the most popular tire in the world.

Goodyear has too much at stake to offer it to you as something special unless it could make good generously on every advantage claimed.

Come look at this great tire; let your own eyes tell you how ruggedly handsome, how modern and clean-lined and smart it really is.

On the test cars, over sand, gravel, concrete and brick roads, it averaged 24% longer tread-wear than even the famous Goodyear it succeeds.

Literally, it is the finest-looking, greatest-performing money's worth of tire that ever went upon the highways under the Goodyear name.

The best news is left until last: it costs you not a cent extra to buy!

SIX IMPORTANT FEATURES

among the many that distinguish the new and improved standard Goodyear All-Weather Tread Tire:

1 Its center non-skid pattern is 10% deeper

2 Its shoulder non-skid pattern is 50% deeper

3 Riding ribs and outer non-skid blocks have outside bracing as on truck tires

4 Outer non-skid blocks are handsomely prismed into sidewalls

5 Cross sections are equal to Heavy Duty measurements

6 Styled to 1931 motor car design

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

THERE was something Ruth Bryan Owen said the other day that appealed to me a lot. It was in answer to all of this piffle about woman's place being in the home and what she had to say was:

"I agree that woman's place is in the home, but a home is where the family lives, and that is anywhere that can be traveled in a car. Isn't it useless for me to confine myself to keeping four walls safe for my children when, as a matter of fact, a few days ago I stood out in the yard waiting for my young daughter to come home in an airplane? . . . The community and the whole nation has become the home today, and woman's place is in that home."

Try that on the next person who starts a lot of eloquence about the way modern mothers refuse to stay by the kitchen sink.

GREEN FOR THE COSTUME

ONE of the current spring fashion notices is that green is heading the list of frock colors and jade is leading for costume jewelry, with the exception of black and white.

ON OUR FAME ROSTER

HERE is someone else to add to our local hall of fame roster: Bessie Moores of the Carlisle community, who will go to Washington in June as one of the two farm girls to represent Texas 4-H clubs at a National 4-H encampment.

This isn't the first time we've heard of Bessie Moores in 4-H club work because her name has been among those accomplishing things ever since she entered a club. To win in a competitive race which draws 1,200 girls from one state, means that one must have an enviable record and that is what Miss Moores has. She and one other young woman, Trula Morrow, of Wellington, are to go to Washington in June because they were declared winners in a contest where judging was based on excellence in productive demonstrations of gardening, dairying and poultry keeping, food preservation and preparation, clothing construction and home improvement activities.

Girls in the 4-H clubs who win are not idle. Last year, the fourth that Miss Moores has had in her club, her record showed a profit for the year of $521.27 above cash outlay. In addition she did all of her own sewing and most of that of the entire family; canned 99 containers of food, and took a leading part in re-making the farm home into a more livable place by improving the living room and her own bedroom.

If there is one who thinks that all modern young women are idle, flippant and incapable of accomplishing things, I hope he will go over and visit with Miss Ruth Stockton, the county home demonstration agent, and learn of what some of her girls are doing—girls such as Bessie Moores.

That should not be necessary, of course, because one who seeks for women who are accomplishing things doesn't have to look far in any community.

WHAT MEMPHIS DID

EVER since the seventh district convention of women's clubs was held over in Memphis the other day, I've been hearing of the favors for teas, luncheons and other occasions and of the work that the Memphis women must have gone to in preparing for the entertainment. Yesterday afternoon, I saw some of these favors when Mrs. Otis Copeland brought them down in making her report at the Daleth Delphian club meeting.

One was a tiny flower in a pot not much larger than a thimble. This was a real plant and there was dirt in the pot, which had the hole in it for drainage. Another was a picture of a house, hand painted and indicating considerable care and time had been spent on it; another was a program for a musical tea that was hand-painted and hand-printed.

These may not sound like so much unless one takes into consideration the number that were made. There were about 300 women at the Memphis meeting of the Federation of Women's clubs and it is no small job to make favors for that number.

And everything else was as elaborate, the club women reported, telling particularly of a garden scene that was arranged for the musical tea. The woman in Memphis must have worked for months in order to prepare entertainment for that convention, Lubbock delegates were convinced.

THAT ECONOMICAL SOUP

OH yes, here's the recipe for split pea soup we were mentioning yesterday in that $1.89 dinner for eight. The other receipes will follow within the next few days.

One cup green split peas; one quart water; one pint milk; one-eighth pound salt pork, sliced; one small onion, sliced; two teaspoons salt; one tablespoon flour; one tablespoon butter; dash of pepper; lemon. Pick over the peas and wash them well. Soak over night in one pint of water. In the morning, add the remaining water, the salt pork and the onion. Simmer covered about one and one-half hours or until the peas are soft. Remove the pork, press the peas and onions through a fine sieve and be careful to save all the liquid. Brown the butter, add the flour and mix until well blended. Pour in the milk and stir until thickened. Mix with the strained peas and serve when hot. Lay a thin slice of lemon with finely chopped parsley over the top in each plate of soup just before it goes on the table. If soup becomes too thick add more milk until soup reaches right consistency.

City Federation Is To Meet Today; Texas Day Program To Be Given

Meeting, Announced First To Be On Friday, Will Be Today

Business Meeting, Program Are Arranged For Today At Meeting Of Federation Of Women's Clubs

Because of the Interscholastic League meeting on Friday and Saturday, a meeting of the City Federation of Women's clubs, which was originally scheduled for Friday, will be conducted this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church.

This announcement was made last evening by Miss Mae Murfee, president of the organization.

A Texas Day program has been arranged for the meeting, in accordance with the State Federation custom, and it will be featured by a play. The entire program will emphasize the Texas theme, according to Miss Murfee.

There is to be a business meeting of the Federation, in addition to the program.

No meeting of the Federation was held last month and the two meetings will be combined this afternoon, according to announcements.

Two Mayors In Juarez Power

Mayor Flores, Secretary And Three Councilmen Ousted In Midnight Meeting Tuesday; Others Hold Sway

EL PASO, April 22.—(AP)—Two mayors and two city councils held sway in Juarez, Chihuahua, across the Rio Grande from El Paso today. Mayor Arturo N. Flores, his city secretary and three councilmen were ousted from office at a midnight meeting of the majority of the council said the mayor had not shown it "proper consideration" in leaving the city without first conferring it.

Balthazar Adame was installed as temporary mayor, the deposed councilmen were replaced by their alternates, chosen at election time by Mexican custom and the new administration took charge of the city hall.

Observers saw in the upheaval a bullet move on the part of Governor Oritz to gain control of all the lower municipal governments in order to be able to dominate Chihuahua in the approaching presidential elections.

Lamesa Man Is New President

AMARILLO, April 22. (AP)—H. E. Williams, Lamesa, today became president of the Panhandle Hardware and Implement association at the closing session of the association's twenty-second annual convention here. He succeeds Dan H. Wilmot, Roswell, N. M.

Ed N. Neer, Portales, N. M., was elected vice-president. C. L. Thompson, Canyon, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

New directors are: W. H. Rhodes, Roswell; Travis Lively, Pampa; T. J. Meinecke, Plainview; W. S. Kerr, Hereford; O. L. Nislar, Lubbock; B. B. Kent, Perryton.

An inspection tour through the U. S. helium plant marked the close of the three-day meeting.

Canyon Teacher Goes To Meeting

CANYON, April 22. (Special) — Miss Edna Graham, professor of mathematics of the West Texas State Teachers college will attend the national meeting of the Kappa Delta Gamma fraternity which will be held in Fort Worth on May 7-9.

Together with Dr. Ophelia Wesley, of the faculty of the Amarillo college, Miss Graham will represent the Pi chapter of the national honorary educational fraternity.

Other Canyon teachers who are members of this organization are Miss Anna I. Hibbets, Miss Hattie M. Anderson, Miss Tennessee Malone, Miss Darthula Walker, all of the teachers college faculty, and Miss Grace Clark and Mrs. C. E. Strain of the Canyon public school faculty.

Miss Graham is vice-president of the chapter which she represents.

Scene Of Search Shifts To Dallas

DALLAS, April 22. —(AP)—Search for two remaining gunmen sought for the slaying Monday of a policeman and the wounding of his chief in Marlow, Okla., shifted to Dallas today when an automobile in which the men were believed to have escaped was found abandoned on Main street here.

The touring car, bearing a California license plate corresponding to the number on the car in which the men fled from Marlow, was marked on the street here late yesterday police were informed.

Jack Allred, confessed third member of the gang, was shot in the spine by Ike Veach, wounded police chief of Marlow, while fleeing from the scene of the slaying of James A. Hill, veteran marshal.

Officials Declare Fuse Is Found Near Scene Of Blast

SEMINOLE, Okla., April 22. (AP) F. A. Capps, in charge of the American Glycerin company's nitroglycerin magazine near here which exploded last night shaking a wide area said today a piece of burned fuse had been found near the scene of the blast.

Capps said the fuse lent credence to his theory the 580 quarts of explosive had been set off by a bomb, he believed it the work of disgruntled workmen.

Damage was slight.

Help Cut The Fire Waste!

DEMON Fire, as investigated in 425 Texas cities and towns, cost Texans and insurance firms almost a million dollars in the month of March. To be mathematically explicit, 734 blazes saw $959,495 go up in smoke, a staggering total which challenges the attention of citizens from Texline to Galveston and from Texarkana to El Paso.

Lubbock knows something about fire records and their effect upon the community's pocketbook, and before this year is out will know considerably more. A bad fire record in 1930 has boosted insurance payments by approximately $32,754.42 for the same amount of insurance carried a year ago and, sad to say, the end is not in sight.

During the year 1930 Lubbock, through a previously won good fire record rating, was actually paying $8.50 in cash on each $10 fire insurance premium. A 15 percent credit was in force on every premium paid within the city limits.

Then came fire and before we knew it the 15 percent credit was wiped away and, on top of that was attached a three percent penalty for a bad fire record. Today Lubbock is paying $10.30 on each $10 premium or part thereof—just a dollar and eighty cents more than the same protection was costing 12 months ago.

Judging from the March report of State Fire Insurance Commissioner J. W. Deweese, other cities are soon to find themselves in a similar predicament. Witness the report, in its various divisions:

FIRE LOSSES IN TEXAS FOR MARCH 1931

Number	Cause	Amount
77	Stoves, furnaces, boilers	$ 47,372.00
75	Vacant house fires	53,478.00
53	Defective chimney or flue	11,463.00
47	Sparks on roof	2,097.00
45	Exposure	39,400.00
42	Matches—smoking	28,762.00
40	Electricity	86,511.00
26	Incendiarism	43,797.00
16	Petroleum and its products	8,191.00
16	Open fires, open lights	12,733.00
15	Explosions	9,764.00
12	Gas, natural and artificial	14,822.00
7	Rubbish and litter	9,416.00
5	Hot ashes, hot coals	1,783.00
5	Spontaneous Combustion	11,070.00
3	Picture show fires	540.00
3	Ignition of hot grease, tar, wax	80.00
2	Lightning	800.00
8	Miscellaneous known causes	8,146.00
2	Sparks from machinery	12,585.00
235	Unknown causes	556,685.00
734		$959,495.00

Eighty percent of March fires were caused by carelessness. Doubtless 80 percent of the fires of last year—the ones which hurt Lubbock's pocketbook—were due to the same cause. Carelessness has always been an ally of destruction and will continue to be until as much of it is eliminated as is humanly possible. The shoe fits in Lubbock as well as everywhere else.

There is active in this city today a Fire Prevention board.

It is the goal of this board to hold fires to the minimum through education of the public and to boost Lubbock back into the good fire record class as soon as it can be accomplished. Watch for the reports of this board—heed its advice as it is presented through the columns of The Avalanche and Journal.

Do your part, not only to help cut your own and others' insurance cost but to safeguard the property which you hold. Cut fire's waste!

Marry in haste and you will have no leisure for repenting.

Practical Health Problems

HYGIENE OF CHILDBIRTH

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

The building materials for the prospective child can be had through the body of the mother. Therefore, the mother must provide in her diet the food substances necessary to build the child, and at the same time to maintain her own body in a fair state of health.

If the growing child does not secure the nutrition that it needs through the food taken by the mother, it will take these materials from the body of the mother. Thus it is that the women who are undergoing the process of childbirth are sometimes undernourished. For this reason also the old epigram, "For every child a tooth!" If the mother eats properly, she is not likely to have trouble with her teeth nor is she likely herself to become undernourished.

The proper diet contains proteins, carbohydrates, fats, mineral salts and vitamins. During the period when a woman is expected to undergo childbirth, she needs extra amounts of minerals and vitamins.

As has been repeatedly emphasized in these columns, the foods containing these substances to best advantage are milk, whole grain cereals, leafy green vegetables, eggs and fruit.

If the prospective mother will make certain that her diet contains at least two leafy green vegetables every day and a quart of milk, she will be quite certain of having a sufficient amount of calcium to build bones and to maintain teeth. It is not necessary that the quart of milk be taken as whole milk. It can be used in combination with cereals, soups, custards, puddings or in the form of butter milk, cottage cheese or as milk that is powdered or evaporated.

The whole grains are especially valuable because of their mineral and vitamin content, and the leafy green vegetables contain salts and most of the vitamins (except vitamin D). In order to provide adequate amounts of vitamin D, the mother should probably take codliver oil or viosterol.

In most places in this country she will not get sufficient sunlight under ordinary living conditions, and it will be necessary to get the vitamin D through the substances that have been mentioned. If her diet seems to be deficient in any of the other vitamins because she is unable to take the foods that have been mentioned, the physician may be able to prescribe concentrates of vitamin A and of vitamin B, which are now available. Vitamin C is best had in fresh fruits, particularly citrus fruits.

The prospective mother does not need any extra salt. What she gets through usual seasoning of food is probably sufficient. It is important, of course, that the food taken in be properly digested and assimilated. It is not necessary to eat any food that upsets the digestion or that causes a feeling of nausea. The essential substances are to be found in a wide variety of foods and a choice should be made among those that seem to meet the conditions best.

Because there is a tendency to putting on weight, due to the lack of exercise, overeating should be avoided. The average woman should not gain more than 20 pounds during the entire period.

There is no evidence that smoking in moderation is harmful to the mother or to the child; excessive use of alcohol or tobacco may be harmful to both.

More Trouble Seen

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Senator William H. King of Utah, in the closest contact — through travel and personal observation— of all lawmakers in Washington with the interplay of European political influences, does not look to see much effect from King Alfonso's overthrow upon other old world governments.

Senator Wm. H. King

The surviving monarchies in England, Belgium and Scandinavia, he points out, already are more democratic than the average republic. Italy he sees as more in Mussolini's hands than its king's. Balkan royalties he does not, indeed, consider by any means secure on their thrones, but such developments as may conceivably result at almost any time in the enforced retirement of one or another of them will, he believes, arise from causes nearer home than from Spanish contagion.

"MOREOVER," he suggests, "the very necessity for the maintenance of order in the present crisis seems likely to bring to the front some strong man of the Republican group who—to uphold what he regards as republican principles—may justify himself in a resort to methods as dictatorial as Spain has known under its crowned rulers."

Senator King accurately recalls that Spanish monarchism has been tottering for years on what has appeared like the extreme verge of revolution. As a European correspondent I visited Madrid and Barcelona as long ago as 1909, during the revolt which ended with the execution of the then celebrated radical Francisco Ferrer, its leader.

While that particular uprising was crushed, to be sure, as good an authority as Alejandro Lerroux, who holds the portfolio of foreign affairs in the present Zamora provisional Republican government, told me it was a question of only a little time before a republic would be established.

PERHAPS it is noteworthy that Miguel Maura, now Provisional resident Zamora's minister of the interior, is a son of Antonio Maura, the premier who insisted upon Ferrer's execution in the face of pleas for mercy from liberals throughout the world—for Ferrer's reputation was international and his popularity immense among advanced thinkers.

Premier Maura, whom I met shortly after the uprising's chieftain had faced the firing squad, was a charming old man, but an ultra-conservative. The times, he said—for he freely admitted the strength of Republican sentiment—were desperate and an example was imperative.

Jose Canalejas, a liberal but not a Republican, who succeeded Maura as premier, told me a year or two later that he agreed with his predecessor as to the justice of Ferrer's condemnation, but said his sentence should have been commuted—that martryizing him was a gross error which the Republicans would be certain to capitalize.

AN ANARCHIST subsequently assassinated Canalejas.

General Weyler figured prominently in the pacification of the especially turbulent Catalan provinces following the 1909 outbreak, as captain general of the Barcelona region, and curiously enough, he did so as a political liberal whom even the revolutionists liked.

The 1909 troubles were provoked by the Moroccan war, which lasted for years, and while small, nevertheless, was a terrible burden to poverty-stricken Spain. Since then there never has been a time when the monarcy was secure.

Alfonso's supposed popularity has been largely mythical. The monarchists touted him, but never considered him very bright mentally. He also was profitable as a glorified capper for resorts like Biarritz and San Sebastian, where he was press agented enthusiastically.

THE PEACEFUL fashion in which he was permitted to leave, as Manoel was permitted to leave Portugal when deposed, is characteristic of the people of the Iberian peninsula.

They are rather free with the assassination of notables who actually are on the job and cannot apparently be eliminated otherwise, but seldom do what they deem any unnecessary killing.

Pedestrians don't make very good shock absorbers.

You don't have to be bald to be coming out on top.

Hit-and-run driving is not yet eliminated.

SIJI KALTER STOOD UNDER A COLD SHOWER 18 1-2 HOURS.—Siji Kalter, a native of Riga, Latvia, established a world's record for a non-stop cold shower as a means of curing himself from an attack of rheumatism. Such violent cures are practiced by Russian peasants to the present day. This story is contained in a report of the Polish Telegraphic Agency, which was commented on by German medical periodicals.

NITRO-GLYCERINE IS NOT AN EXPLOSIVE.—The explosive substance which we call nitro-glycerine is not nitro-glycerine, and is not a nitro-substitution compound as its name would imply. Instead of being a substance produced by the action of nitric acid upon organic compounds, its reactions are those of a salt or ester of nitric acid, and its correct chemical name is glyceryl trinitrate. True nitro-glycerine is not an explosive, and is not used as such.

A THRILLING MYSTERY STORY + by MILES BURTON

READ THIS FIRST:

Dick Penhampton, young friend of Sir Edric Conway, police commissioner, after the theft of the famous Hardway diamonds and the murder of Inspector Brooks is put on the trail of the gang headed by a person known as the Funny Toff, who no one has seen, but who is identified by his maniacal laughter. Dick, who is in love with pretty Alison Weatherleigh, has never told her of his dangerous mission. Dr. Weatherleigh, Alison's father, a collector of antiques, arrives in London, and Dick has been invited to meet him. Dick and Alison become engaged. The murder of a rival gangster, Herridge, whose body was discovered by Dick with one of the Hardway diamonds placed on the man's breast has been investigated by Inspector Pollard. Dick assumes that the placing of the diamond in this manner indicates that the Funny Toff has pierced Dick's disguise of Captain Blackwood and tells the police commissioner this must be so. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER 23

Sir Erdic smiled. "It occurs to me that the identification of Captain Blackwood with Mr. Richard Penhampton was a fairly simple matter," he replied.

"Dashed if I can see that!" exclaimed Dick. "It was pitch dark in that room, except for the one flash I told you of and I refuse to believe that he recognized me by that. How could my distinguished features be known to the Funny Toff? Again, I am certain that I was never followed between my rooms and Walworth."

"The significance of that flash seems to have been lost upon you," replied Sir Edric. "You don't suppose that a man like the Funny Toff would engage an unknown agent without taking steps to find out who he was, do you? I haven't a doubt that you were standing opposite a hidden camera, and that he took a flashlight photograph of you. That photograph was circulated among his agents, one of whom recognized you. You are a fairly well-known figure on race courses, at night-clubs, and places like that, you know, Dick."

"Good lord, I never thought of that!" exclaimed Dick, in some dismay.

"But I have," replied Sir Edric earnestly. "You're in this business now, Dick, whether you like it or not. And, since you're in it, I want you to help us. Not by indulging in any sleuth stunts of your own, but by helping me with your intelligence. It's brain-power we want, if we are to circumvent the Funny Toff."

"If my brain is of any use, it is very willingly at your disposal," replied Dick. "But I confess, though I have thought a lot about this business, I'm no further forward than I was. I suppose that your people have had a look at that house in Creek Street?"

"We have been over every inch of it with a magnifying glass," replied Sir Edric. "It has been condemned by the sanitary authorities and has been empty a long time. By the look of it, it seems to have served the youthful population of Wapping as a playground. The whole place is full of dirty fingerprints and footmarks. You couldn't hope to isolate any one of them."

"From what you tel me of this man, I should imagine that he never gave the same rendezvous twice," remarked Dick. "There must be hundreds of empty houses suitable for such a purpose, and of course he would be careful to leave no traces behind him. Talking of traces, there was nothing to be made out of that house near Rainham, I take it?"

Sir Edric shook his head. "The rain on Saturday night effectively washed out all footmarks, and Pollard tells me that he hasn't been able to get a readable finger-print," he replied. "There's one thing pretty certain, that Herridge was carried there, alive or dead, by water. Nobody was seen walking over the marshes, at all events as long as daylight lasted. I expect the barge which was seen tied up to the wharf had something to do with it". "I dare say it had," replied Dick. "As I told you, one of the men who spoke to me in the Margate Jetty was an obvious bargee. But, if you come to think of it, Herridge cannot have been taken from Wapping to Coldharbour Point in an ordinary barge. When was he last seen alive?"

"At about four o'clock," said Sir Edric. "But I don't quiet follow—"

"Wait a bit," interrupted Dick. "Suppose he left Wapping by water

Tahoka Man Fears Ontario Liquor Control For U. S.

HELLO TEXAS—LOOK AT CANADA

It is hard to pick up a wet newspaper these days without reading some favorable mention of the Canadian "government control" of the liquor traffic. This system was thoroughly tried out in the Carolinas for many years and was a complete failure as far as promoting sobriety was concerned.

Recently an article was printed about the Ontario system with the idea of showing it was superior to prohibition. It seems that in this Canadian province, about the size of Texas and little over half its population, the annual liquor bill, after five years of "control," has grown to $55,000,000.

The same system applied to Texas with its nearly six million people would give it $100,000,000 annual liquor bill, a sum greater than the cost of the highway and school system and the entire state government.

This is $40 per capita for our city and town population with annual liquor sales of $800,000 for Lubbock, $1,700,000 for Amarillo and a million each for San Angelo and Abilene. At $20 a day average sales this much liquor would keep 125 saloons running in Lubbock, or at $5 a day average sales is enough to keep 500 bootleggers going all the year. Has Lubbock 100 bootleggers now?

By all means help put a wet in congress and in the White House so as to usher in the glorious Ontario system and kill prohibition. That is what the "Young for President" club aims to do and is what every politician who is boosting it wants to do just as soon as he can get into congress.

Canadian government control means more whiskey, better whiskey, cheaper whiskey with one bootlegger to every city block in Texas.

All you wets pull hard for Owen D. and all his friends and if they win, prohibition will be a long time dead.

CHRIS L. ADAIR

Tahoka.

Plans Being Made For Annual Battle Of Flowers At Santone

SAN ANTONIO, April 22. —(AP)— Another gala day was witnessed by thousands here as the fortieth Fiesta de San Jacinto celebration entered its third day, marked by a large trades display parade containing many flowers bedecked floats.

With King Antonio XIII already supervising the merrymaking, the queen of the fiesta will become known tomorrow night as coronation ceremonies for her will be held amidst the assembled duchesses of the court of Olympus.

The Battle of Flowers parade Friday, the feature of the celebration, will be led by Governor Ross Sterling, the mayor and military leaders. Scorers of flowered floats are held in readiness for it.

TOO LATE TOMORROW

DIVIDENDS ISSUED

GREENVILLE, April 22. (AP)—Depositors of the First State bank of Wolfe City, which closed Jan. 15, 1930, today were receiving fifteen per cent dividends in liquidation through a petition filed by James Shaw, state banking commissioner and granted by District Judge Newman Phillips.

FARMERVILLE, La., April 22. (AP) —Arrest of Jim Yarrells' 16-year-old bride as an alleged accomplice in the Lecompte, La., bank robbery and identification of Yarrell by Sherman, Texas, authorities as one of the participants in the Sherman bank robbery of March 9 when $30,000 was taken, were the principal developments today in the return of the alleged bandit to Farmerville.

Mrs. Yarrell arrived here this morning and was taken into custody by Sheriff Pat Murphy. She was not placed in jail but was detained in the sheriff's office. She was not allowed to communicate with her husband.

After identifying Yarrell as a bandit who participated in the Lecompte robbery, officers from that city yesterday returned home. Today they were enroute back to Farmerville to view Mrs. Yarrell to determine whether they could identify her as the girl who sat outside in an automobile while the Lecompte bank was being robbed. After identifying Yarrell as a bandit who robbed the Sherman bank, a Sherman banker and the sheriff from Grayson county left to return home. Presumably they planned to make no effort to obtain custody of Yarrell until charges against him in Louisiana had been disposed of.

Yarrell, whose real name is said to be Hunter B. Watson, is being held in the Union parish jail under heavy guard in connection with four bank robberies which netted $50,000 loot.

State Reserve Is Advocated

Building And Loan Associations In Second Day Meeting; Loan Official Speaks On Wednesday

SAN ANTONIO, April 22. (AP)—Establishment of a state reserve system for banks similar to the federal reserve was recommended for building and loan associations by John Warren of Newark, N. J., in an address before the Southwest States Building and Loan league in convention here today.

Warren, past president of the New Jersey Building and Loan league, told 200 delegates that such a system, requiring membership of all associations in each state, would be a solution to building and loan associations' greatest problem—maintenance of a fund to meet withdrawals.

Seven states were represented in the convention, which opened yesterday. They are Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Colorado.

Oklahoma City was favored as the meeting place of the convention in 1932. Final selection was scheduled for late today.

Joseph J. Miranne of New Orleans expressed the opinion that education of the public regarding withdrawals would be a better solution of the problem than the reserve system. He said the public should be taught that inability immediately to meet withdrawal notices had no connection with an association's solvency and should not undermine their confidence in that association.

TYLER, April 22. (AP)—Guy V. Lewis, owner of the Lewis-S. S. Cook No. 1 well, Smith county's first producer, was critically ill today in a Tyler hospital. Physicians held little hope for his recovery.

Man Sentenced To Die For Killing Woman In December

SANTA FE, N. M., April 22. (AP)—Pedro Martinez of Los Carriplos today was sentenced by District Judge M. A. Otero, jr., to die in the electric chair for killing Mrs. Apolonia Narvaiz last December 26.

"I consider myself an innocent man," Martinez said.

His attorney, Judge Reed Holloman appealed to the state supreme court.

"NO ONE CAN TELL ME WHAT I MUST BUY; SO I BUY FROM MY INDEPENDENT DEALER*"

"The Independent Dealer gets my gas, oil and accessory business! I want quality and he gives it to me. He isn't dictated to by a 'Main Office.' And the money he makes doesn't go out of town."
—M. J. B.

When you deal with an Independent Dealer you deal with a friend and neighbor—a man who has your interests at heart—a man who believes this is a land of fair and open competition.

And wherever you see the green and white Quaker State sign you know that is an independent dealer. He sells Quaker State Oil with its world-famous "Extra Quart," because he knows it lubricates longer—and lubricates better—not because some outside "principal" has ordered him to.

Buy from the independent and you buy what you want—not what he's ordered to push. Buy not only oil from him, but your gas, tires, and all your accessories.

MEASURED IN MILES

SUPPOSE for a moment that advertising didn't exist—that there were no trade-marked goods—that everything you bought had to be judged solely by its look or feel or taste.

Imagine yourself setting out to do the morning's shopping under such conditions. You'd drive down the street, looking in windows for the articles you needed—the blouses for Johnny, the half-dozen bath towels, the toilet soap, the ginger ale for tomorrow's picnic. You'd stop, ask questions, examine the towels, smell the soap, wonder if here was your money's worth or if you might find something better farther on. And though you followed this procedure mile after weary mile, you could never be sure.

Computed simply in terms of gasoline and tires and shoe-leather, advertising saves you a startling sum every year. And if you add the value of your time, the amount is vastly increased.

When you buy a product that is advertised you know in advance what you will get, how much it costs and where you can obtain it. That is why, in millions of modern homes, the newspaper advertising columns are a daily guide to purchases.

Read the advertisements in the Avalanche and Journal, decide what you need, then buy with assurance.

Let advertising save you time and money

Spudders Measure Shreveport Again As Galveston Loses To Beaumont; Sports Make It Eight Losses In Row

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, April 22.—Hap Morse's Herd romped back into undisputed possession of first place in the Texas League pennant race by defeating the Fort Worth Panthers here today, 5-3. Leon Chagnon, another right hander, who was rushed to young Hank's rescue, was touched for a double by Langford and a single by Harrell that rounded out the big first frame rally. From then on he steadied down and the last eight innings it was a good, old-fashioned pitching battle.

District Track And Field Meet Here Beginning Tomorrow Morning To See Nearly One Thousand Athletes Play

Lubbock county's main entry in the annual District 2 interscholastic league track and field meet here tomorrow and Saturday will hail from Slaton, winner of a majority of events in the county meet here in March.

Coach J. O. (Del) Morgan, supervisor of the meet, predicts an entry list approaching the one thousand mark for the meet beginning tomorrow morning with the boys' and girls' tennis preliminaries.

Since all first and second place winners in county meets are eligible to compete in the district meet, it is expected that an unusually large crowd of athletes will be on hand. All the counties of the South Plains will send representatives here tomorrow.

Preliminaries and the rural pentathlon in track events will be held Friday afternoon, beginning promptly at 2 o'clock, Morgan states. They will include 120-yard high hurdles, 100-yard dash, 220-yard low hurdles, 440-yard dash and 220-yard dash. The rural pentathlon will be held at 2 o'clock.

Semi-finals and finals in all track and field events will begin Saturday afternoon at 1:30, running through 3:30 at which time the meet is scheduled to end. Track events scheduled for Saturday include finals in the above listed events and with the 880-yard run, mile run and mile relay included. Field events include pole vault, shot put, high jump, discus, javelin and broad jump.

Babe Ruth Sustains Injuries In Game He Helps Win; May Be Out Of Lineup Several Weeks

(By The Associated Press)

BOSTON, April 22.—Babe Ruth's left leg went back on him today while he was furnishing considerable assistance to his Yankee teammates in drubbing the Red Sox—and the slugger was carried off the field to a hospital.

An x-ray was taken of the injured member. It disclosed no breaks in any of the bones and baseball's dynamic personality was placed in bed, under observation for the night.

Dr. Francis Newton, the attending physician, did not say how long the cohorts of Joe McCarthy would have to do without Ruth's services.

A combination of accidents were believed responsible for the Babe's injury. In the sixth inning he doubled and slid into second. His battering team mate, Lou Gehrig, drove out a hit and Ruth advanced to third. He rounded the bag but turned his ankle in doing so. He took time out and rubbed the ankle but resumed play a moment later. He scored on another drive but was blocked at the plate by Charlie Berry, Sox catcher, and was thrown heavily to the ground.

Injured In Field

Ruth took his place in left field in the last part of the inning and started after Tom Oliver's long drive to the fence near the foul line. While running Babe's leg gave way beneath him and he fell. He was unable to get up and two Red Sox runs crossed the plate while Oliver stopped at second. Yankee team mates rushed to Ruth's aid, but he was unable to stand up and was carried from the field. He was removed to the club house where an examination showed the injury was to his left thigh instead of his ankle, as most of the spectators believed.

Five Games Carded For Campus Teams

Five games will be played today in the Texas Tech intramural basketball tournament in order to hasten the approach of the final and championship rounds, Director W. L. Golightly said yesterday. The Fish and Seniors of the Liberal Arts League meet at 4 o'clock to start the day's program. They will be followed hourly by the Fish and Senior Aggies, Soph and Junior Aggies, Fish and Senior Engineers and Soph and Junior Engineers.

In yesterday's game, the Army of the Independent League defeated the Bookstore team, 24 to 18. Sollis and Moffett for the winners and Grizzell and Koger for the Bookstore doing the heavy scoring. In one of the fastest scoring games of the season, the Sophomores defeated the Juniors of the Liberal Arts league, 35 to 28. Robinson and Wiese led the scoring for the winners with Rhodes and Crites leading in offense for the Juniors.

The Soph Aggies defeated the Senior Aggies, 22 to 16, yesterday with Bean and Easley scoring most of the winners' points. In the other Independent League game, the Y. M. C. A. defeated the Band, 29 to 16. C. Cummings and Slaughter were effective scorers for the Y. team.

Rice Owls Appear Strong Contender For Track Honors

AUSTIN, April 22. (AP)—The Rice Owls today established themselves as heavy favorites to cop the 1931 Southwest Conference track and field crown when they vanquished the University of Texas Longhorns, 73-49 in a dual meet here on Memorial Stadium field. The Owls downed A. and M. in a meet two weeks ago.

Both Harbor of Rice and Schiller of Texas bettered the conference mark in the 880-yard run, the Rice runner breasting the tape two strides to the good. Harbor's time was 1.56.2, or 1.3 better than the existing Southwest Conference record.

The Owls took 11 of the 16 first places in the meet. The Rice field men copped first places in five of the six field events.

Holloway, Rice sprint star, carried off individual scoring honors of the meet with 11 1-4 points.

Senators Use Three Hurlers To No Avail As Big Crowd Welcomes A's Home; Yanks And White Sox Win

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, April 22.—The world's champion Athletics opened the American League season at home today by trouncing the Washington Senators, 5 to 1.

The Athletics opened the game with a rush, scoring four runs on four hits, a walk and an out before Hadley was yanked out of the game and was replaced by Fischer.

Joe Cronin robbed Mose Grove of a shut out game when the star shortstop poled a home run into the upper left field pavilion.

Before the game the A's were proclaimed the champions of the world when the two teams paraded to center field and stood at attention as the American League pennant and the world's championship flag were unfurled, in the presence of Commissioner K. M. Landis and Mayor Mackey. The Athletics were presented with gold watches or diamond rings, according to individual choice, by Commissioner Landis. Mayor Mackey threw out the first ball opening the game.

WHITE SOX WIN AT HOME

CHICAGO, April 22.— Knocking Mel Harder, Pete Jablonowski and Fay Thomas around in the seventh and eighth innings, the Chicago White Sox opened their home season here today with a 1 to 2 victory over the Cleveland Indians. Pat Caraway pitched for the Sox and limited the Indians to eight hits and shut them out after the second frame.

Fred Eichrodt featured the Chicago attack with four hits and a sacrifice in five trips to the plate, batting in four runs.

YANKS DOWN RED SOX

BOSTON, April 22.—The New York Yankees opened the American League season here today by defeating the Red Sox, 7-5, but the victory may prove a costly one.

Babe Ruth, the club's chief offensive threat, may be lost to the Yankees for several weeks as the result of an injury received in the sixth inning, when he collapsed while going after Oliver's fly. It was found he had a severe "Charley Horse" on his left thigh.

Up to the time he was carried from the field, Ruth had accounted for five runs, scoring two and driving in three with two singles and a double.

New York ---- 400 102 000—7 11 1

PHARMACY LOOTED

HOUSTON, April 22. (AP)—Bandits last night took $94, a pistol and shotgun from the Park Place pharmacy, when they held up George Harriss, the night manager.

Harriss said three unmasked white men entered the store. One drew a pistol and held him at bay while his companions rifled the cash register.

SERVICES PLANNED

SWEETWATER, April 22. (AP)—Funeral services were planned today at Tye for W. B. Hicks, 54, who was shot to death here last night. Hicks had been ill for some time. Survivors are several children.

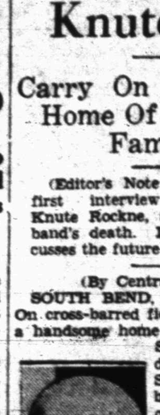

"We Must Learn To Lose!" Says Mrs. Knute K. Rockne In First Interview

Carry On Spirit In Home Of Knute's Family

(Editor's Note: This is the first interview with Mrs. Knute Rockne, since her husband's death. In it she discusses the future of her family.)

(By Central Press)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 22.—On cross-barred fields not far from a handsome home in fashionable Sunnymede district of South Bend, brown leather ovals arch and soar in the pale April sunshine. A pattern of blue-clad figures is in constant change, as a horde of boys line up, collide, run this way and that. Whistles shrill everywhere.

Knute Rockne

The Notre Dame football squad is in spring practice.

Seated at a dining room table in the cottage, a small, dark woman is writing a letter. Others, finished, are before her. Her eyes are those of a woman hurt by a great sorrow, a sudden, stunning, devastating grief. The April sunlight reveals that she is writing a note of gratitude for an expression of sympathy. A tragic task—but her hand is firm, the pen strokes swift, sure.

Mrs. Knute Rockne, the mother of a Viking's sons, is carrying on.

SHE LOOKS UP.

The gesture is significant. The sport writer, the first to ask her what plans she has for her little family, now that Knute Rockne, the great football coach and the provider and protector of this home, has passed on, senses the symbolic. The great blow has not blinded this courageous woman to the great, new responsibilities which are hers. She looks up—and forward—to the future for her little family.

To Carry On

"We'll carry on," she speaks slowly. "Knute would expect us to. So we must.

"The three boys and Mary Jeanne must grow up and become good, useful citizens. Just what are my plans? How can I say—at this time?"

She arises and goes to the window and stares out into brightness of a young spring day.

MRS. ROCKNE turned back from the sunshine.

"Of course," she continued, "I'd like to see the boys follow in their father's footsteps and become good athletes, Knute and I often talked of their future.

"We never thought Bill (the eldest) would develop athletically because of severe burns he suffered when very young and which may prove a handicap. Junior is different. He has shown ability. I hope he goes on. Jackie, of course, is too small yet to discover his inclinations.

"I surely hope to be able to send the boys through Notre Dame. There can be no other school for us—."

Enter The Others

There was a rush of small feet, and Mary Jeanne, Jackie and the Rockne dog, Villosa Nox Von Mail, an imported German police dog, bounded into the room. Round of face and blond of hair, Mary Jeanne bears a striking resemblance to her famous father.

THE MOTHER'S eyes clouded as Jackie reached her side.

"This is a particularly hard day for me," she said. "This is Jackie's fifth birthday. Knute and I always went down town together to buy his presents."

Mrs. Rockne reached over and stroked the sleek head of Villosa Nox Von Mail. The dog looked up to her.

"Poor thing," she said. "He knows something is all wrong. He's been very quiet lately."

What did Mrs. Rockne think of Russia exported more than 5,000,000 tons of petroleum products last year.

Notre Dame's football future?

"Mr. Anderson and Mr. Chevigny are good coaches," she said. "I believe they will have winning teams. I only hope they get the support Knute got. Especially from the sport writers. They were fair to Knute and I hope they are fair to his successors. Knute was always grateful for this."

MRS. ROCKNE did not tell—as friends do—how her own fine courage brought her, without a collapse through her recent ordeal. How she steeled herself so that her heart-broken children might follow her example. How each morning she attends mass in the Church of the Sacred Heart, where six years before Knute Rockne embraced the faith. Often, one of "Rock's boys" come from the campus to drive her there and escort her home.

"I always wanted Notre Dame to win," said Mrs. Rockne, as the interview closed. "I hoped they would win every game, though Knute used to say good sometimes' came out of defeat. That was strange, coming from a man who won so many times. He knew one cannot always win.

'Now we," she looked at her children, "must learn how to lose!"

Mrs. Rockne, center, and her children: Jackie, top left; Bill, lower left; Mary Jeanne, upper right, and Knute, Jr., lower right.

Panhandle Ranchmen Sold Cattle To Jesse Harper Never Guessing He Was Former Notre Dame Athletic Director

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, April 22. (AP)—Panhandle ranchmen sold cattle to Jesse Harper for 10 years and never guessed that he knew anything about football, it was revealed here when his appointment to succeed Knute Rockne at Notre Dame was announced.

"Harper never lost interest in football, but he didn't discuss it with cattlemen," said Henry Ansley, Amarillo newspaperman and former ranchman. "I had been selling him cattle five years before I learned that he was formerly a coach.

"One night after I became associated with the News, Harper came in and asked about Notre Dame's score. 'why are you interested?' I asked. Harper replied: 'I formerly coached up there.'

"When the late Hugh Butler was coach of the Amarillo Sandies, Harper was watching a workout. Before he had been on the field five minutes he was working as hard as Butler."

Whitney Horses Sweep Features At Havre Grace

NEW YORK, April 22. —(AP)—The powerful stables of the Whitney clan swept the feature races at Havre De Grace today as C. V. Whitney's Fall Apple accounted for the $10,000 Aberdeen stakes and Mrs. Payne Whitney's Anchors Aweigh qualified for the preakness and Kentucky Derby with a smashing triumph in the Shenandoah purse.

In winning the Aberdeen stakes and the purse of $13,850, Fall Apple conquered 15 of the ranking juveniles in training. Trailing the Whitney juvenile in second place was H. T. Archibald's Westy Junior while third went to Mrs. John Nay Whitney's Stephen Fetchit. Although ridden by Arthur Robertson and coupled with Coloto in the betting, Fall Apple paid $23.70 for $.

The victory of Anchors Aweigh, the only son of Man O' War to win a stake race as a two-year old in 1930, further strengthened Mrs. Payne Whitney's chances to win the $50,000 three-year-old features at Pimlico May 9, and at Churchill Downs, May 16.

Heavyweight Bout Tickets Are High

NEW YORK, April 22. (AP) — Tickets for the heavyweight title match between Max Schmeling and Young Stribling in Cleveland July 3, will sell for $5.49, $12.50 and $25, including taxes, Dick Dunn, who will promote the fight for Madison Square Garden, announced here today. He said a gross intake of $1,500,000 was possible if the 110,000 seats in the municipal stadium were sold.

Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's manager, will leave tonight for Cleveland to select a training camp for his gladiator. Schmeling will attend the Kentucky Derby in Louisville, May 16, and will start training the next day. Stribling also will start his workouts somewhere in Cleveland May 17.

The NUT and CRACKER

By COL. JOE O'GOOFTY
One-Time Big League Pitcher

NEW YORK, April 22.—The lively ball is dead this year, they say, owing to a heavier cover and thicker seams. If the report is not greatly exaggerated, and the lively ball really is dead, its ghost certainly is pretty spry.

When the season opened, the boys were looking for Hack Wilson and Babe Ruth to hold a little private home run duel. But Chuck Klein, without even making its acquaintance in a spring training camp, found the ghost of the lively ball so friendly that he has made a public affair out of the home run business. I see where Wilson got a home run the other day off Dazzy Vance, but it happened to be Charley Wilson, the Braves' new shortstop.

Charley was sneaked away from Rochester, the Cardinals' farm, by Judge Fuchs one dark night last winter. The Cards, having Charley Gilbert, didn't figure on needing a shortstop, so Judge Fuchs took Wilson to be an understudy to Rabbit Maranville. I don't know where Charley learned to hit that way, but I'm sure he didn't find out from Maranville. The rabbit ball didn't get its nickname from the Rabbit. The only time Rabbit ever mats .300 is during a world series when he can hit pitchers who don't know him.

Before the season, I was the only expert who picked the Braves to win the bunting. The others were all talking about a five-club race. My many readers will remember I said the Braves probably would cop because this was an odd year. It's a pretty odd year, all right, with George Earnshaw being knocked out of the box twice and Wally Roettger of the Reds getting five hits out of five. But oh, well, the odder the better.

Yes, and you might make the e inquiries as to the night of pector Brooks' disappearance. see what I'm getting at. It's belief that our cheerful friend been using that ruined cottage sort of private abattoir. I im- e that the unfortunate Brooks lured to some lonely spot in pping, where he was set upon tied up. He was then taken by r to Coldharbour Point, and murdered, as Herridge was equently—" it Brooks was suffocated, not ned," objected Sir Edric.

Yes, I know. I was nearly suffo- myself. You forget those in- al refuse tips. They've been ing for years and they must erate an enormous quantity of bon dioxide. I don't know, for I n't tried the experiment, but hould think that if you chose a able spot on one of those tips, threw a man into it, he'd be focated soon enough. It sounds ty horrible, but horrors don't n to deter these particular ruf- ns. Once he was dead, the rest uld be easy. All they would have do would be to put him in the king-case, drive the lorry up to cottage, and pick it up. They uld naturally approach London m the west, in order to cover ir traces."

Ingenious, I admit," commented Edric. "To think that, just be- e you came in, I was bewailing lack of imagination! But, you w, Brooks' body showed no es of having been bound or gag- ."

Dick waved this objection aside h an airy gesture. "A mere de- l!" he exclaimed. "Mind, I don't intain that this is what actually ppened. I'm only offering sugges- ns. And, now I come to think of I don't know that they carry us ch further. But I do believe that ou can trace that motor-boat, will have found a clue."

Well, we want one pretty bad- " Sir Edric admitted. "I only hope will not prove as barren as the es we already have. We have n able to discover nothing about lorry and we don't seem to be le to learn anything about the e. It has been just the same with l the previous crimes in which we spect the Funny Toff to have had hand. He leaves nothing lying out which could possibly incrim- ate himself or his agents."

"Surely the diamonds, when he gins to dispose of them, will give m, or at all events his agents, way?" suggested Dick.

"I'm not so sure," replied Sir Ed- . "You see, receiving and dispos- g of stolen goods is a trade, like erything else. As long as a receiv- , fence, we call him, is in a small y of business, we have a chance, n order to live, he is bound to dis- se of his stuff at once, and rough the ordinary recognized annels. But, if a man was carry- on the trade on an extensive le, he could afford to keep well- own stones, like those composing e necklace, up his sleeve for as ng as it suited him. He could send agents, each with a few stones, all over the world. There are plenty of places where an odd stone or two could be disposed of, without awkward questions being asked. At the worst, he could re-cut the stones, and so alter their appearance."

"And you believe that the Funny Toff is a fence on this extensive scale?" asked Dick.

"I do," replied Sir Edric. "We've heard whispers of him more than once when there has been a big burglary. And it's a curious fact that although big robberies are on the increase, the amount of stuff handled by the ordinary small fences has decreased enormously. It all points to one firm having, so to speak, made a corner in stolen property. And I'm convinced that that man is the Funny Toff."

"Who merely runs this murder business as a sort of side-line," commented Dick. "Well, if I am to lend you my brains, I'd better be told everything there is to know. I've got an idea at the back of my head, Conway. What became of the packing-case in which Brooks' body arrived?"

"I've got it locked away downstairs," replied Sir Edric. "Would you like to see it?"

"Yes, but, if possible, not under the disapproving eye of Inspector Pollard," said Dick. "Pollard, I am quite sure, regards me as an interloper and he doesn't share your flattering estimate of my brain-power."

"We'll go and have a look at it together, without disturbing Pollard," replied Sir Edric. "He's a better man than you think; give him an idea and he'll follow it out through thick and thin. But his conception of a criminal is a fellow with rubber soles and a handkerchief round his neck. He lacks imagination, and I believe he's rather proud of that fact. Come along."

Cure For Ills Is Given In Letter

SHREVEPORT, La., April 22. (AP) Prof. Charles William Wallace, member of the faculty of the University of Nebraska, on leave of absence and meanwhile operating as an independent oil producer, with headquarters at Wichita Falls, Texas, has written Governor Sterling of Texas about a plan he suggests for curing the ills of the oil industry without resorting to proration.

The plan is to curb all wells making more than one hundred barrels daily to the one-hundred barrel limit "or to the limit of economic demand only."

Copies of the letter were sent to Gov. Murray of Oklahoma, President Hoover, Secretary Wilbur and others.

Cotton Further Decline Seen In Cotton — Livestock Active Trade On Fat Lambs Seen — Grain Price Rallies Prove Fizzles

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, April 22. (AP)—Cotton ruled rather quiet here today but prices were generally steady but developed no definite trend. Although cables were considerably lower than due, the market was supported by the severe cold weather in the western belt and predictions of frost to the coast over night. After opening 1 to 3 points down on the poor cables and easing off to levels 4 to 4 points below the close of yesterday the market rallied owing to the severe weather shown by the detailed weather map covering 9 to 6 points. The market towards noon and during the early afternoon ruled steady. After quiet and steady well into the afternoon the market turned easier and more active in the late trading in sympathy with lower stocks, and made new lows right at the end 11 points below the early highs. The close was steady but at the bottom, the general market showing net losses for the day of 9 to 10 points.

NEW YORK COTTON
NEW YORK, April 22. (AP) — Cotton prices declined further today under continued liquidation and rather more general selling on the part of commission houses with Wall street and foreign connections. Heaviness in Liverpool and Egyptian markets also contributed to the decline and while prices at times displayed some stability and were apparently influenced by unfavorable weather conditions, this factor seemed to be offset by weakness in the stock market and final quotations were at the lowest of the session. July contracts sold off to 10.32, closing at that figure while the general market closed barely steady at net declines of 12-14 points. Fluctuations were confined within narrow limits as trade buying orders absorbed limited offerings and there was a show of hesitation on part of sellers owing to a sharp drop in temperatures with light to killing frosts to portions of the western belt, and general rains in the east.

Council Needed

"It is consistent with our development," says Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the United States Chamber of Commerce, "that there should be a council to consider large questions of national policy, but its value would lie not in the arbitrary regulation and control of industry and consumption, but in giving intelligence to voluntary effort on the part of business management to do more effectively the common task of meeting national wants and desires."

The idea of a national plan would not necessarily involve rigid restraint of business, these experts believe. It would mean that a route would be laid out, in which every business unit would cooperate to avoid the pitfalls of a trial and error process.

Old Ideas Futile

"Old systems and old ideas have ended in futility," says Prof. R. G. Tugwell, author and departmental representative of the Columbia Economics department, New York. "Something new is needed; and the vast interest which has been aroused by the notion of master-planning indicates that this may be our next great social experiment."

A national economic council could be composed entirely of business; or both government and business leaders; it could function with legal authority or merely as an advisory body; it could be set up by the voluntary action of either government or business or both, or it could be set up by legislation, in the various conceptions submitted.

"The time is now ripe for national planning," says Dr. Ernest Minor Patterson, president of the American Academy of Political and Social Science and professor at the Wharton School of Finance of the University of Pennsylvania.

"Our experiences of the last eighteen months are a forceful reminder that our economic and social machinery will not operate of itself. Guidance will be increasingly necessary if a repetition of such disasters, or perhaps worse ones, is to be avoided."

Stock Market Slumps Definitely To New Average For Year Wednesday

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
NEW YORK, April 22. (AP)—The stock market slumped definitely to a new average low for the year today.

Both the railroad and industrial groups penerated their previous minimums and the composite of 90 issues kept by Standard Statistics company dropped two and a half points to 120.9 compared with the previous low of 122.8. The 1930 bottom was 114.7.

Individual declines were not as sharp as in the previous session but volume increased to 2,700,000 shares, the largest turnover since March 30. The market had one rally—late in the morning—in which some pivotal stocks more than made up earlier declines; but by afternoon prices were again sliding downward. The drop was accelerated by late selling of General Motors, which broke more than 3 points, and by pressure against U. S. Steel. The latter gave some evidence of support before noon, but the buying was apparently short covering and soon evaporated. At its closing price of 126 1-2 steel common was down a point and so in new low ground since 1927.

Captain Hawks kept a luncheon date with Commander Nello Rengareschi at Rome but his forced landing prevented him from keeping his second engagement of the day, a dinner which was to have been given him tonight by the London Aero club.

He had intended to stop at Paris on his return flight to refuel, but adverse weather conditions and head winds and fog forced him down at the little hamlet of Poilly-Les-Gien on the Loire river. He landed near the village at 4 p. m.

His average rate of speed for the flight from England to Rome this morning was 174 miles an hour.

Livestock

MIDDLEWESTERN LIVESTOCK
KANSAS CITY, April 22. (AP)—Livestock trade around the eleven market circuit was featured by a fairly active trade on fat lambs at strong to unevenly higher prices with old crop wooled lambs at several points 25-40 higher. Mature killing classes of sheep held around steady. The supply numbered around 75,000 as compared with 80,002 a week ago.

The hog market was slow with weight averages of 240 lbs. and down 10-25 lower and strong weight butchers at some centers closing with a decline of 25-50. Total offerings were around 79,000, an increase of 23,000.

Increased supplies of cattle failed to slow down the trade on fed steers and yearlings to any appreciable extent. Packers at some points where prices advanced rapidly on Monday and Tuesday managed to obtain concessions of as much as 25 on fed steers with weigh. Demand continued fairly broad for the better grades of light estimated at 38,800 against 30,661 a week ago.

Dr. Gray pointed out that the method of sterilization to be followed in carrying out provisions of the law, interferes with no blood or nerve supply and produces no physical change.

every two years for some time and had always been killed. This year, the house rejected it three times.

The law's constitutionality was questioned by some because the senate added the cigaret levy as an amendment to the house gas tax. The constitution provides all revenue raising measures must originate in the house. James V. Allred, attorney general and others held, however, that the senate had the power to amend by adding a new tax.

Half of the cigaret tax returns will go to the schools and the remainder to the general revenue fund. The schools will get one fourth of the gas tax and the general revenue three fourths. Proponents said the taxes would enable the per capita school apportionment to be kept at $17.50.

Minister Of Marine Seeks Bloodless Rebel Surrender

LISBON, April 22. (AP)—Declaring he would use all possible means of persuasion to secure a bloodless surrender of the rebels at Madeira, Admiral Correala, Portuguese minister of marine, boarded a transport tonight to sail to the zone of rebel operations.

If persuasion was unavailing, however, he said, he would not hesitate to use force. The transport is carrying 600 troops and a hydroairplane.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, April 22. (AP)—Grain price rallies fizzled out today, the dominating influence finally being stock market unsettlement, together with uneasiness over a big Australian bank failure. Transient upturns earlier in grains were associated with trade reports that a more definite statement of the federal farm board's export policy was probable. The reports suggested that when the 1931 United States wheat crop entered the market, the farm board might announce a decision as to whether the board would keep in storage for a year or more the remainder of the government sponsored old crop holdings.

Wheat closed nervous, 1-8 to 1-4 cents lower; corn 1-2 to 1 1-8 down, oats 1-8 to 3-8 off, and provisions showing 7-30 cents decline.

Scout Training

Professor J. O. Ellsworth.

Will Be Experiment

The course probably will be instituted in the summer school as an experiment, according to Mr. Jennings. If the plan proves successful it is expected to be continued during the regular terms as an elective course, he said. Both Dr. P. W. Horn, president of the college, and Dean J. M. Gordon, who were out of the city yesterday, are in sympathy with the move, it was said.

The executive board meeting, held in the ball room of Hotel Lubbock, was attended by more than 30 persons active in Boy Scout work of South Plains area. Board members attending were T. A. White, president, R. D. Moxley, K. N. Clapp, W. G McMillan, A. H. Leidigh, Garnet Reeves, O. H. Cline, J. T. Trigg, of Lubbock; F. J. McClure, Ralls; J. T Herd, Post, and J. W. Partin, Wilson.

Berg Makes Address

Following the reports of the different departmental chairman, Mr. Berg addressed the meeting devoting a major part of his talk to problems of the South Plains area.

His address was closed with an appeal to the scout workers to give their greatest efforts to the scout movement at this time.

"In this period of depression it is imperative that we do our utmost for the protection of our boys," he said. "Economic conditions of the homes in such periods often cause the boys to go astray. The Boy Scout influences has a decided effect upon the boys and makes them want to do the right thing, regardless of the extent of the privations.

Results Valuable

"If scouting saves one boy, the results are well worth the expenditure of several regional budgets. If it makes one better citizen out of the entire area, the financial cost will not have been spent in vain," the scout official said.

Mr. Berg, who addressed a group of Lubbock scouts and scout leaders last night at a meeting of the board of review, is to leave this morning for Amarillo.

Separate Camps

The executive board adopted the suggestion offered by the activities committee, of holding of summer camps by districts, rather than as council as a whole. As a result of the decision, each district in the South Plains area will have its own summer camp this year.

The activities committee report, read by W. G. McMillan, told of scout activities in the district since January 1.

Garnet Reeves, chairman of the department of publicity, in his report stated that scouting had received almost 100 columns of newspaper space during the three-month period.

In a report signed by Durwood Bradley, of the department of awards, the board was informed of the advancements made by scouts in the council. During the period since January 1, exactly 97 new scouts were enrolled in scouting; 37 advanced to second class; 24 to first class; 21 merit badge scouts received the rank of Star; 12 received the rank of Life; nine attained the highest rank in scouting, that of Eagle scout, and eight Eagle scouts received palms for additional merit badges, the report said. A total of 400 merit badges were awarded.

Reports also were made by J. M. Gordon, of the department of education, and A. H. Leidigh, chairman of the department of organization.

Following the reading of the financial report, the board voted to urge chairmen of the different districts to build up financial organizations in their territories for the purpose of staging financial campaigns and the collection of pledges.

G.A.R. Encampment Is Being Held; Greetings Are Extended

HOUSTON, April 22. (AP) — This city today was host to the 46th annual encampment of the department of Texas of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Greetings of Houston to the Union veterans were said by Mayor Walter E. Monteith whose father fought under the stars and bars. The meeting will extend through Friday. It is being held along with a meeting of the auxiliary woman's relief corps.

Freddie Burch, 23, yesterday was assessed a penalty of ten days in jail and costs by Judge E. L. Pitts, in county court, when Burch pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a watch and $15 in cash from a farm house south of Lubbock.

Controversy

children and his wife live, sleep and eat, the doctors declared that the patient must be removed to a hospital."

Want Fees Guaranteed

But the managements of the Lubbock sanitarium and the West Texas hospital have declined to accept the patient until bare hospitalization fees are guaranteed. City and county officials, turned to in the quandary, declare no fund is available to cover the case—and all the time the patient lies on a pain-racked bed.

Citing losses which they claim approximated $30,000 on charity cases during 1930, officials of the two hospitals declare they have reached "the end of the rope" and that something must be done by the city and county to relieve them of the burden. Both hospitals are being operated at a loss, they averred, and an average of almost one charity case per day is clogging the institutions. Seventy-five per cent of the cases are of white Americans, the other 25 per cent being divided among negroes and Mexicans, they say. One official reported the recent release of a charity patient who was confined in a hospital here for seven weeks, all on the institution's expense.

Mayor J. J. Clements and County Judge E. L. Pitts, interviewed last night, reported that neither the city nor the county has any fund for the care of indigent sick.

Willing To Aid Case

"I'm willing to go any amount on a collection to help this case," the Mayor declared, "but as far as the city's spending any money, it can't be done. There's no money to spend. We used $750 during the past year on similar work but that's all gone now. We haven't turned down a single case in which we could give any possible assistance."

Judge Pitts turned to the statutes to support his remarks.

"In counties where there is no public hospital," he said, "the statutes do not provide for the expenditure of public funds for indigent sick. This county has no special funds to handle such cases.

"We've received numerous requests on cases similar to this one," he added, "but what funds we did have for disposition of charity cases have long been exhausted. And besides, many of these requests have been made over the telephone and late at night. A certain doctor or hospital would call up and ask that I approve the amount needed for an operation without consulting the court or making an investigation of the case. We've got to handle the taxpayers' money judiciously and approving such requests isn't carrying out our sworn duty," he went on to say. "We can't afford to approve such requests. We can't just say 'yes, go on and operate, until there has been some investigation made of the case."

Have Been Generous

"The hospitals and physicians have been very generous in the treatment of such cases in the past and we appreciate it," he said, "but there's no statute that requires us to take over the work and pay for them out of the county's funds."

Judge Pitts cited cases where after the requests for help had been made that applications for county aid had been entered and a portion of the expenses paid. "There are application blanks on my desk every day for such requests and when properly filled out and investigated, the court will consider aiding them," he said. Aiding such cases calls for a special fund, he explained.

He also spoke of a city-county hospital unit, pointing out that the county would be forced to provide hospitalization for such cases if there was a public hospital here. An election could be called and bonds for hospital voted, he said.

No Money Available

City Health Officer J. W. Rollo stated that he had not made an investigation of the case but that there was nothing the city could do in the matter as there was no money available. Dr. Rollo pointed out that the establishment of a city-county hospital is the only possible solution to such cases.

Dr. W. L. Baugh, county health officer and a member of the staff of the West Texas Hospital, could not be reached for a statement last night.

The cost of Merced's operation and hospitalization will be approximately $40, it was stated. This does not include the services of the operating surgeon and consulting physician, it was said, as they will be donated as has been in the past.

Charge on charity hospital rates in the city is $4 per day, "less than actual cost," it was stated. The regular charge to other patients is from $5 to $7 daily. This charge is made for the room, meals, medicine, etc., and is exclusive of the physician's and nurses' fees.

"The doctors of Lubbock are willing to give their time and medical knowledge in these charity cases," Dr. Cross said, "but they don't expect to bear the expense of the hospitalization of the patients also."

And in the meantime, Merced continues to lay tumbling in pain on his cot in the squatty little hut in "Little Juarez."

Body Of Young Girl Found Stabbed To Death In Ditch

SAN ANTONIO, April 22. (AP)—The body of Merle Springer, 11, stepdaughter of Elmer Dickey, was found in a ditch about a mile from the home near Leming this evening. She had been stabbed in the chest 33 times with a sharp pointed weapon.

The girl was missed when she failed to return from school at her usual time. An hour or so after she became overdue the family started a search and found the body. No clues as to her slayer were found.

Garland Youth Will Appear Before Dallas Grand Jury

GARLAND, April 22. (AP)—Arther Killion, 17, was held under a murder charge tonight for the fatal shooting of Ed Corley, 45, his uncle by marriage, at a tourist camp near Garland today. The youth was taken to jail at Dallas and will appear before the grand jury there tomorrow. He made no attempt to post bond and offered no statement except to say that the shooting was in self defense.

Killion's brother, Luther, 30, was shot and wounded by Corley Sunday night. They had had a dispute over the tourist camp, which they operated together.

an estimate, however, Mr. Shouse said today, was based on the entire financing for 1932 and the party leaders at this time will only concern themselves with the raising of $1,000,000. This amount, Mr. Shouse said, would be sufficient to fund the present party debt of approximately $650,000, carry on the organization's work until the 1932 convention and leave a balance for the new national committee which will come into being then.

While Cleveland has been the only city thus far formally to invite the party's 1932 convention, Mr. Shouse said he understood a bid would be made by San Francisco. However, he said he had not discussed the matter with any members of the national committee.

National In Scope

The money raising campaign, Mr. Shouse said, will be national in scope.

"We expect to obtain a great deal of this outside New York," he said.

Earlier in the day Mr. Raskob reiterated he had no intention of resigning his chairmanship, he said persons asking his retirement were dry Democrats not connected with the national committee and "not one national committeeman or committeewoman has written or asked my resignation."

Mr. Raskob listed the three live issues to be decided in 1932 as prohibition, the tariff and establishment of an economic balance.

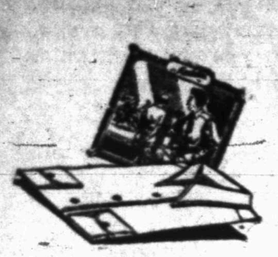

He said business was picking up but that he did not believe the improvement would benefit Republican chances for that party "is shot to pieces."

'Legs' Diamond Awaiting Bail

Notorious Gangster Held In Jail On Charge Of Assault On Truckman; Record Being Sent Officers

CATSKILL, N. Y., April 22. (AP)—Jack Diamond, who has been marked by the pistol bullets of gang gunfire and whose activities have intrigued the interest of police of two continents, sat in a county jail today awaiting release from a charge of assault.

Behind this charge stood an allegation of beating and torture at night on a lonely mountain back road. The charge, made by a Greene county grand jury, constituted the first definite complaint against the gangster since he moved into his roadhouse last year.

Supreme Court Justice F. Walter Bliss issued a bench warrant yesterday which brought the gang leader before him to answer for the story of Grover Parks, truckman, that Diamond, his lieutenant, Jim Dalton, and others beat and tortured him because he refused to give information concerning a load of cider which he was carrying on his truck.

Diamond asked that he be freed on bail and was told that the amount of bail depended on his record. He was held pending receipt of information as to his record.

Little Japanese Princess Excited When Showing Her Tastes In Color

WASHINGTON, April 22. —(AP)—Little Princess Takamatsu of Japan spending a month in this country and on her round-the-world honeymoon, has sent home all her Japanese costumes with which she started.

The princess has a whole trunkful of smart London dresses made in the latest mode, mostly pink and blue. These are her favorite colors. They peep out unexpectedly even in the all white costume which she wore to the White House.

When Yamaki, her attendant, appeared carrying an armful of the dainty, diaphanous garments they presented the appearance of a gay spring bouquet. Yamaki is small and dainty herself. Her cheeks were flushed with excitement. Her brown eyes sparkled. She thought it was fun—showing the dresses.

The impromptu fashion show was arranged with ceremony but with much graciousness by the Japanese secretary to the prince. The gowns were shown in his office in the 14-room suite in the Mayflower hotel which the royal party unostentatiously occupied during their Washington visit. Trunks and bags bearings fascinating foreign labels were all around—Berlin, Vienna, Paris, London.

Yamaki made soft little cooing sounds of delight as she held up one after another of the silken soft, cloud-like dresses. The princess' tastes, she explained, are simple, but she does like pink and blue!

Reported Sane, Man Ordered To Face Charges Of M[urder]

BEAUMONT, April 22. (AP)—W. W. Norvell, admitted to the state institution for the insane at [Wichita] Falls after being found insane by a jury here, today was ordered returned to Beaumont to face trial on murder charges for the slaying of his wife, Norvell having been found sane at the state institution.

Norvell was indicted on murder charges more than a year ago after his wife was attacked with a knife and wounds were inflicted which proved fatal. The question of his sanity was injected into proceedings and he was never brought to trial.

SEVER RELATIONS

GRAND FORKS, N. D., April 22. (AP)—George E. Duis, president, today announced the North Dakota Montana Wheat Growers association has severed "all connection with the farm board."

The association, he said, will continue operating independently and may bring legal action to recover claims totaling $620,805.98, which it has lodged against the farm board.

The association has a membership of approximately 25,000.

We have been serving the people of the South Plains for many years. And every year the acceptance of Goodrich Tires has been outstanding above all others, making possible the erection of the largest service station, if not the finest in West Texas.

You may be a lawyer, doctor, contractor, teacher, City Official or one of the many thousands of occupations, and in your classification you are better qualified to judge and serve than we.

We are Goodrich Tire Dealers, and Goodrich Tires are sold over the world and nation every day. Goodrich Tires are constructed to a standard, that is not excelled by any other tire.

All have to use tires, and we all buy them. In the past the choice of thousands of people has been made by only the influence of the tire salesman. Today you no longer have to make your choice in this manner, trusting to luck, gambling your money, endangering life and property.

But we show you in every way— by weight, feel, eye, and thousands of people that are using only Goodrich Tires and nothing else, and why?

It is your money, your car, your life, and we want you to see the New Goodrich Silvertown and be the "JUDGE."

"No tire offers more for less money."

"And by thousands, more people are now riding on Goodrich Tires over the unimproved West Texas Roads."
