Too Busy For Sleep

"If I can get two or three hours sleep, I'm fine," explains Mrs. Ben Kennedy of the busy pace she sets herself as farmwife and mother.

Their family farming operation finds Erma working shoulder to shoulder with Ben in any task at hand but seldom too tired to pick up some bit of handwork or a paint brush and oils. Into "wee hours" of the night her hands are busily turning out another bit of "Erma-Art."

Erma's busy work might be a tole painted plaque, a canvas done in oils, textile painted quilt block or cup towels, crocheted afghan, a suit for a man, dress for a square dancing lady or just about any new craft that captures her interest.

Swiftly completing each project she beings, Erma soon finds the Kennedy home "running out of room." Then, she says, "Ben starts griping 'cause I have so much stuff around."

Much of her work is given away for gifts or to organizations to raffle away in fund projects. She also finds a market in garage sales. "And still I have 42 quilts on hand right now," she explains.

Erma designs almost all her own quilt patterns and dislikes making more than one by any pattern. Her current quilt project may be patchwork, applique or painted designs. Two of her own originals are textile paint embroidered sketches of her family. One features her own drawings of herself and Ben; their daughter, Meitizie; sons, Rodger and Deverle and their daughter by marriage, Rodger's wife, Thelma. The second quilt features her parents, sister, three brothers and herself.

QUILT QUEEN - Mrs. Ben Kennedy has made untold number of pretty quilts since she began. She holds one of her favorites, one with textile painted "appliques." Creating quilts from her own design is just part of her gifted talents.

School Board Appeals Texas Assessment Values

School board members Monday night approved the 1977-78 audit report presented by Brown Graham and Company of Tulsa.

Approval was also given the purchase of a Burroughs L5000 magnetic record mini-computer for the school tax and business office at a cost of $10,402.

Transfer of the Joe Lopez family into the Hart ISD for the 1978-79 school year was accepted.

Board members also heard the request of a group from First United Methodist Church for permission to use the elementary gymnasium for youth dances. The Rev. Lanny Wheeler was spokesman for the group.

An okay was given for a dance following the homecoming football game Friday, Oct. 20 until 1 a.m. The approval was given on a trial basis.

Board members voted to appeal the recent Texas Assessment Practices Board values of property in Hart Independent School District.

An enrollment report was given by Superintendent Ted Averitt with a total count of 650 in grades kindergarten through 12. Breakdown by classes shows K, 53; first, 77; second, 53; third, 52; fourth, 51; fifth, 50; and sixth, 49. Junior high and high school shows seventh, 58; eighth, 53; ninth, 49; tenth, 44; eleventh 43 and twelfth, 18.

Lemons Visits Lions Club, Speaks Of Legal Battle

Keith Lemons visited informally with a group of local residents Monday following the regular luncheon meeting of Hart Lions Club.

Speaking of his legal battle to have his name carried on the Democratic ballot in the general election as candidate for Castro County Attorney, Lemons said his appeal to the Texas Supreme Court had been turned down.

"They thought is was a contested election and they had no jurisdiction," said the Hart High School graduate. He said that he intended to file another request this week.

Should the Supreme Court again deny his appeal, Lemons said that he would seek election as a write-in candidate.

"I'd like to get the truth out.

It's not true that I could not be nominated," Lemons said, noting that the election code reads that a person must be a licensed attorney to serve as county attorney and does not state that a candidate be licensed before filing candidacy for said office.

BILL CLEMENTS WILL CUT TAXES AND GOVERNMENT SPENDING

Texas was built by men with the vision to look ahead and the grit to get things done. Bill Clements is the man to keep this tradition alive for the future of Texas.

Bill Clements will bring a strong, fresh and tough approach to our government in Austin. He is a businessman, not a politician.

Bill Clements started with nothing and built a successful, worldwide company with hard work and the skill to manage men and money. And now Bill Clements wants to preserve the future of our state and he wants the working people of Texas to have the same opportunities he had.

With his proposed "Taxpayers' Bill of Rights," Bill Clements is committed to protecting Texans from excessive taxation and runaway government spending. He is pledged to cutting taxes and returning that money directly to the taxpayers.

As former Chairman of the Southern Methodist University Board of Governors, Bill Clements knows how to make education in Texas the best in the Nation. He's for discipline in the classroom and "back to basics" quality education.

As the son and grandson of farmers, Bill Clements knows the frustrations that an indifferent government can cause people who make their living off the land. He will use the strength of the State Government to fight burdensome Federal restrictions.

"I believe that Texas has always had more promise than problems, but the balance is more delicate each year. We need to get to work now."

BILL CLEMENTS A GREAT GOVERNOR FOR TEXAS

MRS. BERT VANDIVER

Cook Of The Week

New for Hart Junior High School students this year is a Title I reading program designed to help students "catch up" or to improve reading skills. The new course is being taught by a newcomer to Hart schools, Vicki Vandiver.

The Vandivers came to Hart from Pampa, Vicki's hometown. She met Bert when he came there as a teacher. Vicki taught two years in O'Donnell before she, too, became a teacher in Pampa.

"I never dreamed some day I'd teach in the high school where I graduated," she says. She taught there two years and was a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, international sorority for women in education.

Bert is a coach "at heart," she says. At HHS, he is first assistant football coach and teaches health and driver's education. Bert grew up in Dalhart.

Vicki confesses that she learned to cook after her marriage. She likes easy to prepare foods. She shares recipes she got from her mother-in-law who is a very good cook. The recipe for potato rolls is one she got from Bert's mother.

Reading is a favorite pastime. Vicki also likes to play raquet ball but hasn't had the opportunity since moving to Hart where there are no courts. She also loves to snow ski.

The Vandivers are Baptists.

Hart Couple's Son-In-Law Receives National Service Award

Doyle G. Warren of Floydada, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Sanders, was the recipient of the Distinguished Service Award, highest recognition given by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents.

One of the eight county agents with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service receiving the award, Warren was recognized at the state association's annual meeting in Lufkin in August. Actual presentation of the award was at the national association meeting later that month in Boise, Ida.

Calhoun County Extension Agent Gilbert Heideman, president of the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association, said the award is presented annually to county agents throughout the nation who have made outstanding contributions to agriculture and rural living for ten years or more.

Warren's extension service career began in Dawson County in 1965. He also served in Lubbock County three years before assuming the Floyd County position in 1978.

Since moving to Floyd County, the county agent has given major emphasis to educational programs designed to increase the net profit of agricultural producers. Marketing and management have been key points that have been combined with programs in crop production and soil fertility.

Examples of Warren's effective programs have been a quadrupling of the corn acreage in the county over the past five years and a sharp increase in soil sampling to better manage soil fertility.

Warren has tailored special educational efforts in financial management for young farming families to help them increase their stability in the farming business.

The county agent has also been a driving force in building a strong 4-H program in Floyd County which has led to a doubling of 4-H membership during the past seven years. The 4-H budget in the county is now six times greater than in 1970 due to expanded programming.

He and his wife Judy are

parents of four children, Michelle, Chad, Brad and Ric. He is active in First Baptist Church, Floydada Chamber of Commerce and Floyd County Development Board.

The Warren family attended the national convention and vacationed in Yellowstone National Park and other points of interest.

Lubbock Man Named Director

J.C. Chambers, an insurance executive from Lubbock, has been elected to the Board of Directors of Southwestern Public Service Company.

The action was taken Friday at the regular board meeting in Amarillo.

Chambers is a graduate of Texas Tech University and attended Lubbock High School. He is a partner in Insurance Associates, the agent for Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company in Lubbock. Chambers received his C.L.U. designation in 1965 and is a Life and Qualifying member - Million Dollar Round Table. He is the president of the Massachusetts Mutual Agent's Association.

Active in civic affairs, Chambers is a director of the Texas Tech Foundation, vice-president of the Red Raider Club, a member of the executive committee of the Methodist Hospital and a member of the President's Advisory Board of Lubbock Christian College.

Chambers is also a director of the Briercroft Savings and Loan Association and the First National Bank in Lubbock.

Silverton Takes 12-0 Win

Injury Ridden Horns Lose

By Monty Upton

Two teams of the "walking wounded" met in Silverton as the Hart Longhorns dropped a tough defensive game 0-12 Friday night. Suffering from injuries to key personnel Hart was ineffective all night on offense as they suffered eight turnovers, five interceptions and three fumbles, and generated less than 75 yards all night. Silverton, with the exception of one 44 yard run, had less than 100 yards.

The opening kick was received by Hart, but with new folks starting at unfamiliar positions as they tried to regroup after numerous injuries, the Horns failed to move the ball. Freshman Melvin Washington at fullback, Nathan Ingram at halfback, and Isaias Ponce and Jesse Gonzales alternating at slotback made up an almost entirely new backfield for regular QB Ricky Rowland.

In the line Chad Black was new at tight end, Benny McLain had been switched to left tackle, newcomer Joe Portillo filled in at inside guard, Marlin Marble pulled in to right guard, Kelly Jones shifted to right tackle and Steven Brantley running at split end. Besides Rowland, center Scott Jones was about the only person still in the position he had started at all year and he had a broken thumb that was heavily padded.

Neither team had earned a first down until less than a minute remained on the clock and Rowland was able to complete a nine yarder to Black. Two plays later Ingram earned another one on a nine yard run. However, the drive ended on the fourth play of the second quarter as Rowland's pass was picked off.

The Owls could not move either under pressure from defensive linemen K. Jones, Roy Martinez, Danny Rodriguez, Marble, Gonzales and Black. The tough secondary of Ponce, Rowland and Brantley with monster man Daniel Higgins kept the Owls from completing a pass all night.

Both teams gave up the ball two times with the Owls third possession of the quarter ending as Rowland recovered a fumble at the Horns 32. However, Hart was victimized by an interception on the series and the Owls had the ball at the Horn 43. QB Mark Brown lost a yard on the first play but the second play saw him drop back for a pass. Finding his receivers covered he tucked the ball in and ran for it. Breaking away he went 44 yards for the only offensive TD of the game. A PAT run fell short.

Hart suffered another interception to end their next series and time ran out on the Owls with the score 0-6.

The second half was almost a repeat of the first as neither team sustained a drive. The Owls did use Horn penalties to move to the Hart 29 but could go no further.

The fourth quarter saw four more Hart turnovers to end any hope of driving the ball. The last of these, a pass interception by the Owl's QB and safety Mark Brown was returned 30 yards for the final TD with 1:29 left in the game. Brown's attempted PAT run following a high center fell short.

Giving freshman QB Derek Rich some game experience the Horns ran the ball long enough to give the Owls one more play before the gun.

The Horns stand at 2-3 for the year and are open this week before starting district play with homecoming against Bovina on October 20. By that time, look for vast improvement if old injuries are healed and young players have jelled in new positions. Come on out and back these young men and the coaching staff.

Junior Varsity Gridmen Lose 16-0 To Silverton

Hart JV went down in defeat to Silverton by a score of 16-0.

The Horns moved inside the 20 yard line four times but were stopped with penalties.

"We had 10 penalties for a total of 135 yards which killed our drives. We played real well on defense and played fair on offense," said coach David Turner.

"Clay Barnes played quarterback for the JV and this was his first game ever to play quarterback. I thought he did a good job. Everybody is going to make mistakes."

"I thought overall we played pretty good. Its just those penalties that killed us."

The JV is now 1-3 for the year. They play Anton today (Thursday) at Anton.

Junior High Combine Win

Seventh and eighth grade footballers were joined together Thursday to play Silverton's lone junior high team. The hometown combination took an easy 44-0 victory.

The eighth grade players scored 30 points with the seventh grade adding another 14. Robert Gonzales and Arthur Finch scored a TD each with Arnie Garza getting a two-point conversion for the seventh grade.

Alex Carrasco, Bobby Valadez, Leonard Washington and Arnulfo Gonzales were outstanding offensive players for the eighth grade.

Defensively, it was Johnny Lopez, Alex Carrasco, and Bobby Valadez for the eighth grade and Wade Cook and Rene Gonzales for the seventh grade.

Approximately 150 yards rushing and 50 yards passing were chalked up by the locals.

One Remains Hospitalized As Result Of 2 Wrecks Here

One woman remains in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock as the result of injuries received in a two car accident Friday morning. Sulema Reyna was transferred from Central Plains Hospital in Plainview to the Intensive Care Unit at the Lubbock hospital.

Kelly King, driver of the second vehicle, was admitted to a Plainview hospital Friday and released Sunday.

The accident occurred at 8:15 a.m. Friday, 2.4 miles north of Hart. Ms. Reyna was driver of a 1974 Cadillac. She had pulled off the highway to the right and apparently did not see the approaching 1977 Ford pickup driven by King.

King had no time to react when Ms. Reyna pulled into his pathway as she attempted a U-turn.

The accident was investigated by DPS patrolman Dryle Maples of Dimmitt.

Maples also investigated a two vehicle accident that occurred approximately 12:55 p.m. Tuesday at the intersection of Texas 194 and First Street.

A 1973 Buick driven by Margueria Rodriguez of Hart was struck broadside by a 1968 Dodge truck driven by James Bussey of Plainview.

Bussey was driving east on 194. Ms. Rodriguez was driving north on First Street, enroute to the service station, and apparently did not see the approaching truck.

Both persons were taken to Plains Memorial Hospital in Dimmitt. They were treated and released.

Fourth Grader Is Winner In First Guessing Effort

"Beginner's luck" was with fourth grader Brett Ritter this week. Entering the Hart Beat football contest for the first time, he captured the week's top win and $5 for his efforts. He was incorrect on just three games.

Debra Ball and Lanny Wheeler missed four games each and were off the same number of points on their tie-breaker predictions. They will equally divide second and third place winnings, receiving $2.50 each. It was also Wheeler's first week to enter the fun competition.

Miss Ball shares the season lead with Ted Averitt and Everette Heller. They have 56 correct predictions for the season. Season standings for contestants with 50 or more points is found elsewhere in this issue. A large number of contestants are within 10 points of the leaders, a deficit that is very possible to overcome in the remaining weeks of the contest.

Contestants should not give up trying for the grand prize of $50. Standings may still change from week to week as persons fall into guessing slumps or hit lucky streaks.

Remember, too, anyone can be a weekly winner. Enter today, you may be next week's top winner.

UNDERINFLATION

Contrary to popular opinion, underinflated tires don't provide better traction on slick surfaces, says the Tire Industry Safety Council. Underinflation causes excessive heat buildup, which reduces tread life and wastes gasoline.

CHECK TIRES

Tire inflation should be checked at least once a month and before long trips, according to the Tire Industry Safety Council. Use a hand guage because automatic air towers at service stations frequently are inaccurate.

Mrs. Kennedy

provide Erma with many of the patterns for her textile paint art. "They're the best source of patterns," she says.

A few years ago, Erma managed to get each child in Deverle's fourth grade room to sketch his or her own hand outline. She took their original drawings and name and turned out an appliqued keepsake quilt for Mrs. Ann Bell.

When menswear knit became popular a few years back and tailoring classes were being taught, Erma entered into a flurry of stitching for men. That year she made 76 suits. Three of the suits she made were for a man in Houston that she never met.

Erma also received a request from a television entertainer in California asking that she make him a suit every week. She declined the opportunity but could not keep from asking how he knew to call her.

He answered that he had been traveling through the country and stopped in a fabric store in Plainview seeking to learn of a seamstress who might make him an elaborate suit of crushed velvet. Someone in the shop knew of Erma's talent with needle and thread and gave him her name.

Seldom does Erma sew menswear now, however, because men's clothes "are too much alike." Currently she keeps busy with square dance costumes for which she's also earned a reputation.

"They don't get monotonous," she says. "You can always do something different."

Erma made her first set of cup towels before she started to school. She was visiting her grandmother when she learned the basic embroidery steps for that first work. She was sewing at a machine by the time she was ten or twelve.

Her grandmother, mother and a neighbor lady taught her how to crochet. When doilies, dresser scarfs and such were popular, she crocheted those things. Now she turns out afghans by a myriad of patterns, made by her own design.

Painting has become Erma's favorite hobby. She loves "any part of it," whether it be a miniature, larger canvas or something in a tole design.

Buying her own inexpensive grouter a few years ago, she salvages scrap items into varied plaques to transform with her brush and paints.

Erma took a few lessons in painting when she first delved into painting ceramics but she discontinued those when her teacher wanted her to "go slow."

"I wanted to paint a rose and she said I wasn't ready. I wanted to try it so I painted one at home and asked her what I had done wrong. She told me it was 'Awful' and said again, 'I told you you weren't ready! That was it, I decided. I'd just do my own thing.'"

Erma and Ben grew up in Terry County and were classmates before their marriage. They moved to their farm near Hart in January, 1952. Meitzie and Rodger are graduates of Hart High School; Deverle is a sophomore.
