First 'Little Buckaroo' Rodeo To Be Staged Here June 22

PRETTY COWGIRL AND "IVY" - Carolyn Smith and Ivy are ready for the fun and competition which is in store for contestants in the Buckaroo Rodeo which Olton Cowbelles hope will become an annual event.

Fun, food and entertainment for the entire family will be offered in Olton's First Buckaroo Rodeo, to be staged Saturday, June 22 beginning at 10:30 a.m.

Sponsored by Olton's newly organized Cowbelles, the sporting events will be held in an improvised arena in the field adjacent to Olton Country Club.

Events are planned for all ages, for those with and without horses. Previous experience is not necessary.

Categories listed include stick horse races for the young, goat ribbon races, egg and spoon races, greased pig chase, musical chairs and relay. Even Mom and Pop can get in on the fun.

A Grand Entry of contestants on horses will lead off the show at 10:30 a.m. Rodeo clowns will be on hand to furnish entertainment.

Experienced rodeo announcer, D.M. (Bub) Holt will handle chores at the microphone.

Olton Cowbelles, women dedicated to the promotion of beef, sponsors of the Buckaroo attractions, will have available bar-b-que beef sandwiches, lemonade and other cold drinks guaranteed to please young and old cowboys alike.

A gentle saddle horse will be given away. Tickets will be available at the rodeo.

Interested persons, adults or teenagers, wishing to help stage the rodeo are asked to call Mrs. "Doc" Brimhall, president of the Cowbelles.

Needed are area workers, concession stand workers and parking attendants.

Lions Club Sweetheart Travels To Canada

Olton Lions Club Sweetheart, Miss Chesna Dickenson, left Lubbock Wednesday morning for a flight to Detroit, Mich., the first leg of her journey to Canada.

Miss Dickenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Dickenson Jr., will not only represent Olton Lions Club on this trip, according to Leon Noack local chairman of the Youth Exchange Program for the organization, but "will be a representative of the Olton Community, the people of Texas and the United States of America."

"Living in the home of her Canadian host family, her goal will be to learn how the people live, work and play; and to promote better international relations. For this important mission, our exchange students are very carefully screened and chosen."

At the airport to see her off Wednesday were her parents, Lion Boss Doug Goen and friend Miss Martha Smyth. Some sixteen other students were scheduled to leave the area for Canadian soil.

Upon arrival in Detroit about noon, a four and one-half hour charter bus trip, terminating in Blyth, Ont., Canada, delivered the exchange students to their pre-assigned destinations.

In Blyth Miss Dickenson was met by her hosts, the Ralph Pearson family of Brussels, Ont. Sidelights and other features of Canadian hospitality will be courtesies of the host family.

Upon her return, Miss Dickenson will be available to speak before civic groups and others describing her impressions of Canada and the life of its peoples.

Father Of Year To Be Named

Someone's dad will be named Olton's "Father of the Year." The honor brings with it gifts valued at more than $200 from sponsoring merchants.

Any father living within Olton Independent School District is eligible for nomination with the exception of sponsoring merchants and their immediate families.

You may submit your father or someone else's father for the honor by writing a letter telling why you think your nominee is deserving of the title, "Father of the Year."

Selection will be made by a panel of out of town judges. Deadline for entering is Wednesday, June 12.

Sponsoring merchants are Thompson Implement, Superior Cleaners, Zakka's, Don's Super Market, Olton State Bank, High Plains Seed, Wood-Jordan-Davis, Consumer's, Pay-N-Save grocery, Production Credit Association, Luster's TV & Radio and Enterprise Studio. A list of prizes may be found on page 8.

Recognition Given At Faculty Dinner

An annual dinner was held Friday in the school cafeteria for faculty, administrators, personnel and board members. One of the highlights of the event was the presentation of service pins and recognition of persons retiring effective with the 1973-74 school year.

Retiring after approximately 30 years as a teacher, Mrs. Leatha Smith was presented a plaque of appreciation for "tireless service and devotion to the children of H.P. Webb Elementary School."

Bob Starritt, custodian at Olton High School, was given a ten year service pin. Retiring also, he was presented "a pot of gold" filled with a monetary gift from his school associates.

Oleta Priest, a twenty-year member of the school lunchroom staff, is also retiring but was not present at the dinner.

Other persons receiving

20-year pins were Virginia Miller and Austa Fisher. Barbara Tollett was presented a pin for 15 years service.

Weather Plays Havoc In Area

Although some of the farming area of the community escaped damage from repeated onslaughts of Mother Nature during the weekend, areas to the north, the east and extreme southeast of the city were not so fortunate.

Swirling clouds brought damaging winds and devastating hail Sunday evening with a repeat performance adding to the misery Monday night.

Farmers northeast of the city report washing rains possibly did even more damage than the hail, as akes were filled to highest capacity since 1946. Reports of four to seven inch falls were issued from the northeast areas, while south and southwest of the city only a light fall was recorded.

Scattering reports have come of roofs being ruined by hail described as "golf ball size and larger, jagged in shape." Many farm homes to the northeast report broken windows. The Alton Goree home across the line in Hale County suffered 23 broken windows.

Away from home over the weekend, the knowing nothing of the storms, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Clark began to see damaged crops north of Tulsa as they returned home. Mrs. Clark Said "Never before have I driven for a solid hour through that many acres of ruined croplands. We kept hoping that we'd run out of it, but it lasted all the way in to home."

Fields of wheat, promising a possible 30 to 35 bushels per acre, were flattened. Corn fields are reported as having the best chance for survival and farmers are anxiously watching for signs of recovery in the plants.

The city had its hail problems also. Divided by an imaginary line from the northeast corner to the southwest, heavy hail covered yards in the eastern portion, while the northwestern section received little.

Eugene Griffin, official

weatherman, stated that the city proper received 1.02 inches of rain during the weekend, but, he added "I think north of town they measured it by the yard."

Clean Up Campaign Continues Through June

A word of praise comes from chairman of the city wide clean up campaign, Billie Norfleet, to all those who have helped in cleaning up the city.

Mrs. Norfleet especially expressed her thanks to the students of junior high who helped on afternoon in picking up trash all over the city.

"The clean up will continue through June and July too, if necessary. Trash will continue to be picked up in the alleys and if some is missed, simply call City Hall and it will be picked up," Mrs. Norfleet said.

Realtor Believes In Olton

Only three days after he had received his license to sell real estate in 1948, James M. "Jim" Speer made his first farm sale, 240 acres land.

Since that beginning, Speer has sold many farms with the cost of land climbing from about $225 per acre. Every one an irrigated farm, they have ranged mostly from $350 to $750 per acre.

"Land is going to keep going up," he believes but is confident that land is one of the best of investments.

Speer's land deals have not been limited to the Olton area but have also included Aiken, Hart, Dimmitt, Hereford, Bovina, Friona, Muleshoe and nearer communities of Hale Center, Spade, Springlake and Circle.

One of the most important deals he recalls making was the purchase of Olton's first elevator (now High Plains Corn) for the late Ben Smith of Plainview. Prior to the elevator's construction, grains had to be hauled to Hart, Plainview or Amherst.

Securing an elevator was a major accomplishment and the vital asset was about to be sold at a sheriff's sale in Littlefield when Speer contacted Smith about buying it. He recalls Smith paid about $50,000 for it and that fall took in more than $90,000 worth of grain, making his transaction highly profitable.

In the mid-fifties, Speer and Smith sponsored a project which led to the annexation of the Hillcrest Addition, a plot of 40 acres with lots to accommodate a maximum of 144 homes.

Speer recalls their selection of the site was determined by the good soil and the land's topography which allowed it to drain well. The two developed the project, providing water and paving to the area.

Purchased for $17,500, the 40 acres today provide the city with taxes from homes valued at approximately $330,000 plus being an attractive addition to the city property.

It was with the intention of purchasing a farm himself that Jim Speer brought his family to Olton in 1946. Already a veteran druggist, he had seen the land about Olton and heard glowing praise of the farming potential from a friend, the late Dr. A.C. Gettys of Belton, a professor at Mary Hardin-Baylor College and owner of farmland in the Olton area.

The proposed farm purchase, however, turned out also to be the drug store on Main Street owned by Jack Straw.

Speer, the fourth of 12 children, was born in Temple where his parents had come in 1892 from their native Georgia. He went to high school in Waco and worked during his high school days for a Mr. Powers, vice president of Behrens Wholesale Drugs.

His capable apprenticeship was evident when Powers sent him to Whitney to "run his store there and find someone to buy it." A pharmacist friend came to help run the store and Jim's

Beyond Comprehension

Open Letter to the Editor:

I recently lost my mother, Mrs. Bertha Fisher, and she was laid to rest in the Olton Cemetery. My sister went to the grave the next day, Memorial Day, and the grave had been stripped of every spray, flower, etc., leaving the grave completely bare.

We are all aware of the condition to which this world has deteriorated. Murders, robberies, thievery and trickery has become common practice. This we have come to expect from our government on down to the stranger on the street.

There is one thing I cannot understand however, how can anyone that calls themselves human beings stoop so low as the steal from the dead is beyond my comprehension.

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

Where did May go?

I'm not referring to some feminine person nor even some masculine sufferer whose parents had been set on having a daughter. (True, I've never heard of a boy named May but we can all think of some fellow who's been dubbed with a rather feminine moniker - even Johnny Cash's "boy named Sue")

No, it's the month! Where, oh, where did it go? I need it to back up a number of days!

One reason our town isn't dubbed "the prettiest little town in Texas" or even "one of" is because of people like me! I didn't get all "cleaned up"!

The City Fathers can proclaim and set ordinances but they're both meaningless if we don't do our part or they don't make us! And why have to be made?

There are so many spots just waiting for someone to transform into beauty sites just by showing some "I care."

I'm not "the pot" calling "the kettle" black. No one knows better than I that my own little corner of the earth is sorely in need of beautifying.

May is gone forever but June has been designated as "clean up some more" month. And if we don't succeed by then, we'll just clean up July, too!

Think of the many little spots about town that could be beautified with only a little bit of effort by each of us!

Now if I just knew where I should begin!

Baseball

This Week

Storm clouds postponed much of the baseball action in Olton this week and results are unavailable for some games.

In Babe Ruth action Thursday evening, Olton Butane topped Springlake 12 to 11 in an error filled game. Butane got eight hits, singles by Martin Brown, Rene Saldivar (two) and Kirk Bryan; doubles by Joe Garza and Buster Lloyd and a triple by Lloyd.

Tuesday night's Senior Babe Ruth play found High Plains hosting Muleshoe and notching an 11-3 victory over the opponents.

Collecting hits for High Plains were Jimmy Parker, Alan Carson, Kevin Workman, Greg Burgess, Kenneth Burgess and Joe Snider with singles. Vic Allcorn picked up a two base hit with John Carl Sudduth connecting for a three-bagger.

IN AMARILLO

Mrs. John Lambright visited Wednesday in Amarillo with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Lambright of Stinnett.

MRS. TRAVIS WALTERS

Cook Of The Week

Recipes are shared this week by a "town girl" who had never lived on a farm until she came to an Olton farm as a bride. Janice Walters grew up in Littlefield and it was there she met a farm boy from Spade, Travis Walters.

Janice and Travis are parents of three sons: Jim, 17, Sam 14 and Marty, 12. Janice also proudly claims three "honorary" daughters - Charla Shipley, Kay Givens and D'Lynn Hall. That special friendship was begun several years ago.

The Walters' family returned to Olton at Christmas time from Cayuga in East Texas where they had lived three years. Although they like East Texas, Janice says Olton had continued to be "home".

Holding his own special place in the family is the family's dog, Henry, who replaced their beloved German Shepherd that was killed during their move to East Texas.

Cooking is Janice's favorite homemaker's task. The oatmeal cake recipe she shares is one she found while they lived in East Texas.

Janice likes to sew and do handcrafts. At present she is working on a crewel embroidered shawl - her first try at crewel stitchery and finds it fascinating.

Keeping up with the boys' interests is also important to Janice and Travis. Interested in "any kind of ball," the young Walters lads have been active in summer baseball program. Janice is serving on the project committee and has just finished helping collect monies to underwrite this summer's program.

The family has had tropical fish for several years but Janice says that now she is about the only member still interested in that hobby.

MRS. JOE HERNANDEZ

Hernandez-Perez Vows Pledged In Plainview

Miss Elizabeth Perez of Edmonson and Joe Hernandez pledged wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony Friday evening in the chapel of First Baptist Church in Plainview.

Officiating was the Rev. Glenn Godsey, pastor of First Mexican Baptist Mission of Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert C. Perez Sr., of Edmonson are parents of the bride. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Hernandez.

Double ring vows were pledged before an altar set with baskets of white gladioli and white mums with orchid pom poms placed on white columns. Brass candelabra, garlanded with greenery and accented with white satin bows and white tapers, flanked the floral arrangements.

Juan Martinez of Plainview, organist, presented nuptial selections and accompanied Yolanda Jimenez of Plainview as she sang "Let It Be Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white organza fashioned with a self-ruffle outlining the round yoke of tucked organza enhanced with Venice lace and seed pearls. Matching lace trimmed the high neckline and long sleeves which were caught at the wrists with self ruffles. White satin ribbon accented the waistline and Venice lace appliques adorned the A-line skirt, encircled at the hemline with a deep ruffle edged with Venice lace.

Her Juliet headpiece of Venice lace, embellished with seed pearls, held her three-tiered Venice lace edged veil of imported illusion which swept to a cathedral train. She carried a bouquet of seed pearls and floral glass trim with two long stemmed red roses. She presented one rose to her mother as she approached the altar and the second to the groom's mother after the exchange of vows.

A wedding band belonging to her grandmother was attached to the bridal bouquet for "something old." "Something new" was pearl earrings and she "borrowed" a pearl necklace from Mrs. Jim Ferguson. She wore the traditional touch of blue.

The traditional "lasso," a pearl beaded rope, was placed over the bride and groom signifying they were one flesh.

Elia Perez of Hale Center was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Pauli Hernandez, sister of bridegroom, Alma Lydia Perez of Hale Center, sister of the bride, Carmen Blanco of Lockney, Alma Delia Villanueva of Halfway and Becky Madrigal of Hale Center.

Jo Anna Alirez, niece of the groom, was flower girl. Candles were lighted by Estella Perez of Edmonson, sister of the bride, and Louisa Hernandez, sister of the groom. Guests were registered by Mrs. Jack Alirez, sister of the groom.

The maid of honor wore a formal gown of white dotted Swiss styled with white satin ribbon accenting the high bodice waistline and wide Bertha collar edged in lace. A deep ruffle encircled the hemline.

Bridesmaids wore formal gowns of peek-a-boo floral eyelet with orchid background. Fashioned with fitted waistlines accented with orchid satin ribbon, they featured scooped necklines and short sleeves with ruffle accents.

Candlelighters wore floor length gowns of floral polyester fashioned with deep ruffles encircling the hemlines. Miss Perez' dress was of orchid background; Miss Hernandez' of blue.

Feminine attendants carried nosegays of white daisies and baby's breath and with streamers of blue, orchid and orange.

Ramon Hernandez of Garland, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsmen were Ruby Perez of Edmonson, brother of the bride, Victor Madrigal of Hale Center, Johnny Hernandez and Martin Hernandez, brothers of the groom, and Robert Sanchez.

Guests were seated by Ruby Perez and Robert Sanchez.

A reception was held in the church parlor. The bride's table was laid with white and centered with a crystal candelabra with white tapers. Attendants' nosegays encircled the candelabra.

Appointments were silver and crystal. The traditional three-tiered cake was topped with a pearled heart and two white doves trimmed with lace.

The groom's table was laid with a white cloth edged with embroidered floral print and centered with silver candelabras with white tapers.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride chose a dress of floral eyelet with orchid background styled with ruffle edged short sleeves and scooped neckline.

The newlyweds will be at home at 1106 A Dimmitt Road, Plainview.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of Plainview High School. Hernandez graduated from Olton High School in 1969 and attended West Texas State University.

A rehearsal party was held Thursday evening in the El Centro room of City National Bank, Plainview, by the parents of the bride and groom.

druggist, since he sold his drug store in the fall of 1956. Although successfully blending real estate and drug businesses together, Speer decided to leave the latter when drug regulations became so rigid that a pharmacist could no longer make medicinal recommendations.

An avid love of reading helps him keep up to date with his pharmaceutical knowledge. The bookshelves of his real estate office hold the hefty volumes of a years-old and a recent "United States Dispensary."

Speer had owned drug stores in Paducah, Muleshoe, Whiteface and Belton before coming to Olton. Paducah was the site of his first two stores in a day when that county-seat was the focal point not only of Cottle County but of King and Motley counties, as well, and boasted a population of about 5,000.

It was in Paducah that Jim and Nina began their marriage. Eyes a-twinkle and a smile playing about his lips, Speer recalls his first meeting with his wife of 42 years.

"I'd gone to Canyon to visit my sister who was in school up there when I saw Nina walking down the street in a yellow dress and yellow hat and I thought she was the prettiest thing I'd ever seen."

He confides that he'd written his sister asking that she find him a date while he visited and she had done so with a student friend who roomed next door. Shy and quiet, Nina had broken the blind date even before Jim arrived in Canyon.

Learning that the pretty girl in the yellow dress was the date he was to have had, Jim pursued the acquaintance and left Canyon with Nina's promise to accompany his sister on a visit that summer to Paducah.

Nina kept her promise. Wedding plans were made but postponed when Nina's mother suffered a broken leg in a fall on the eve of what Jim hoped would be their wedding day.

They were married a few weeks later and began their home in an apartment over Jim's drug store.

Jim Jr. and Sharon were born while the Speers lived in Paducah. Jim is a graduate of Olton High School and Sharon of Lubbock High School.

Attending the University of Texas at the same time, Sharon was seeking her degree while Jim Jr. was earning his from the University's School of Law. Sharon has continued to attend universities and colleges, some foreign, in pursuit of further education.

An attorney, Jim Jr., lives in El Paso with his wife, Blanca, and their two children; Blanca Elizabeth, almost four, and James M. Speer III, almost two.

Sharon is married to a petroleum engineer graduate of Texas, Tom Rankin, and is presently living in Chicago, Ill. The Rankins are parents of a daughter, Tyra Kay, just graduated from high school, and a son, Jack Gilbert, just entering high school. Sharon and her family have lived in the Canary Islands and Libya since Tom is with Pan Am, a foreign subsidiary of Standard Oil. They are preparing to move in the very near future to Lima, Peru where Tom will be supervisor of drilling.

Dana, the Speer's second daughter, was born in Temple while the Speers were living in Belton. She and her husband, T.J. McIntyre II, graduated from Texas Tech and are parents of nine-year-old Tillman J. McIntyre III. Dana and T.J. are real estate brokers in Houston.

Taz was born after the Speers came to Olton. A state qualifier in extemporaneous speaking three years for OHS, he earned his doctor of law degree from Texas University and also lives in Houston. Taz and his wife, Sydney, are parents of a son, Robert Tazwell Jr., almost four.

During his ownership of six drug stores, Speer employed young men out of high school who showed interest in the business but were financially unable to attend college. Nine of those, with his encouragement and help, went on to become successful registered pharmacists.

"Can't" is a word that Speer does not acknowledge. Dating back to his high school days, he adopted a motto which has continued to be his philosophy. "Don't tell me how it can't be done" would also be worthy of adoption by Oltonites as a whole.

Sorely in need of a city hall, the town's present facility was built after Chamber of Commerce secretary, Arnold Amundson, now of San Antonio, and Speer, as chairman of an appointed committee, launched a fund campaign. The needed funds were exceeded through the proceeds of first two "parties."

Insistent that farmers be eligible for membership in this agricultural town's Chamber of Commerce, Speer played a prominent role in the successful endeavor by merchants and farmers.

He recalls that one of the two fund efforts was a queen's contest with contributions counting as votes for some of Olton's pretty and popular young women. The winner, he remembers, was Mrs. Uil Gunter, then Miss Fern Carson.

Fervent in his desire for Olton to progress, Speer helped push for paving, curbing and guttering and sewers. Recalling the absence of all when he came to Olton, he does not recall the identity of the old-timer who answered his complaint of that lack with "If you don't like Olton you can move away."

Jim's answer, he does remember, was "I came to stay."

"This is awfully good country," he says ardently. "Good climate, good people and we've got good and progressive farmers here."

Progress was his goal some years ago when he and a group of farmers and merchants made application for the charter of a First National Bank of Olton. An escrow of $150,000 was put up in banks. A limited amount of stock could be owned at the proposed new bank.

A selected committee went to Dallas to meet with the State National Bank Executive to make application for the charter. Representatives from that office came to Olton for interviews with a number of local people.

The proposal was resolved with stockholders of the would-be bank purchasing one-third of the stock of Olton State Bank. Since that time the bank has made several changes in ownership.

A member of the Masonic Lodge, he was presented a gold pin and citation in 1970 at Waco from the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Texas for having been a Master Mason for more than 50 years.

Speer has also received a Citation of Achievement from the Texas State Board of Pharmacy in tribute for 50 years service.

When he was only seven years old, Jim joined the Methodist Church. After their marriage, the Speers became members of First Christian Church.

"The good Lord has really blessed me and Nina," Jim says with sincerity. "He's given us good health. Our children have all had good health and have made good lives for themselves. We've made wonderful friends in a lot of places. We really and truly have been blessed."
