Banks In Texas Awaiting Order

Indians Prefer Scrip To Money

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 10 (AP)—Scrip may be a novelty to white men but New Mexico Indians have been using something very similar to it for upwards of 35 years.

They call it "tin money," and Mike Kirk, Albuquerque Indian trader, said today many of the Indians, especially the Navajos, prefer it to United States currency.

Each trader uses hs own type of "tin money." Some use round shaped brass checks, others octagon or square. Each trader has his name and the denomination scratched on the coin. The trade checks are accepted at their face value by all Indians in their tradings among their own people.

PROCEDURE IS HINGED ON DECREES GIVEN BY ROOSEVELT

(By The Associated Press)

Upon the decrees of President Roosevelt hinged the procedure of Texas banks today in reopening under terms of the emergency bill which congress passed yesterday, giving him full power to relieve the financial crisis.

While doors of the banks remained closed, most of them continued to operate on a limited basis, as provided for by Secretary of the Treasury Woodin, but were careful to observe President Roosevelt's extension of the national holiday, announced last night. They permitted access to safety deposit boxes, honored checks on individual deposits where it was shown that money was needed for necessities, accepted new cash deposits and paid in cash 20 per cent of an employer's payroll.

Bank Later Closed

At San Antonio, however, limited withdrawals were permitted for a time at one state bank under authority granted by James Shaw, state bank commissioner. The bank later was closed. Depositors could check against a credit of 5 per cent of their deposits but cash withdrawals were limited to $10 daily.

The president's proclamation revoked a decision of Fort Worth bankers to reopen today to clear checks accumulated during the holiday but, as at Houston, they were conducting as much business as the Federal restrictions permitted.

TO SHUT DOWN OIL WELLS

ACTION IS TAKEN AS PROTEST AGAINST CUT IN PRICES

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, March 10.—Protest of oil producers in this section against drastic price cuts on crude, recently announced by Shell and Humble, is taking direct-action form in Jones county. It was reported here today that wholesale shutdown of production will start at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, affecting about 175 wells, or virtually 100 per cent.

Shell started the cut last week, in Fisher county, in contract to buy 165,000 barrels of storage oil from one large operator, at 30 cents per barrel against the former prevailing price of 50 cents. Humble met the cut, then extended it to cover Jones county. Operators immediately protested, charging that Humble had arbitrarily removed Jones county from the west central district and placed it in the West Texas (permian basin) district, where the 30-cent price prevails.

MEASURE IS KILLED

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP)—A bill to prohibit the operation of chain dental offices today had been consigned to the legislative cemetery. The house committee on public health voted last night to kill the bill, introduced by Representative Thomas J. Rentro of Fort Worth by request.

Release Of Money In Oklahoma Seen

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 10.—(AP)—Possible release of $11,000,000 into Oklahoma banking and trade channels was seen today by state officials who said they believe outstanding state warrants might be accepted as security by the Federal Reserve banks.

While national bankers here and elsewhere in the state looked toward Washington for further steps toward the reopening of "sound" banks, fifteen state examiners and supervisors were sent into the field again by the state banking department to resume their check of conditions at 252 state institutions.

Service Restricted In New York Banks

NEW YORK, March 10. —(AP)—New York banks, including savings institutions, were performing restricted services for customers today as gold from hoarders' caches continued to pour into the vaults of the Federal Reserve bank.

Leading bankers said they "hoped" normal business could be resumed by Monday, at least.

Thousands of savings banks depositors were cheered by the announcement that they would be permitted to draw small sums from their accounts today. In most cases, withdrawals were limited to around $10.

Man Charged With Slaying Of Youth

PORT ARTHUR, March 10 (AP)—Charges of murder were filed today against W. M. Burges who surrendered to police shortly after Hamilton Robertson, 18, was shot to death behind a suburban drug store last night.

Text Of Roosevelt Economy Message

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The text of President Roosevelt's economy message follows:

The nation is deeply gratified by the immediate response given yesterday by the congress to the necessity for drastic action to restore and improve our banking system.

A like necessity exists with respect to the finances of the government itself which requires equally courageous, frank and prompt action.

For three long years the federal government has been on the road toward bankruptcy.

For the fiscal year 1933 it will probably exceed $1,200,000,000.

For the fiscal year 1934, based on the appropriation bills passed by the last congress and the estimated revenues the deficit will probably exceed $1,000,000,000 unless immediate action is taken.

Thus we shall have piled up an accumulated deficit of $5,000,000,000.

With the utmost seriousness I point out to the congress the profound effect of this fact upon our national economy.

It has contributed to the recent collapse of our banking structure. It has accentuated the stagnation of the economic life of our people. It has added to the ranks of the unemployed. Our government's house is not in order and for many reasons no effective action has been taken to restore it to order.

Upon the unimpaired credit of the United States government rest the safety of deposits, the security of insurance policies, the activity of industrial enterprises, the value of our agricultural products and the availability of employment.

The credit of the United States government definitely affects these fundamental human values. It, therefore, becomes our first concern to make secure the foundation. National recovery depends upon it.

Too often in recent history liberal governments have been wrecked on rocks of loose fiscal policy. We must avoid this danger.

It is too late for a leisurely approach to this problem. We must not wait to act several months hence. The emergency is accentuated by

SLAYER FLAYS JUDGE FOR PENALTY

ZEALOT AND ASSASSIN SLATED TO DIE FOR CERMAK'S MURDER

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI, March 10.—Giuseppe Zangara, zealot and assassin, today was sentenced to death in the electric chair for the murder of Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago in his futile attempt to kill President Roosevelt.

Sentence was passed at 10:31 a. m., by Circuit Judge Uly O. Thompson who read the sentence from a prepared statement ending with "and may God have mercy on your soul."

Judge Denounced

There was a flurry in the courtroom after sentence was passed as Zangara denounced Judge Thompson and shouted, "you give me electric chair.

"I'm no afraid that chair.

"You're one of capitalists.

"You is crook man too. Put me in electric chair.

"I'm no care."

Deputies rushed Zangara from the court room as he shrieked the last sentence. Spectators were held in the courtroom until after the prisoner was removed to the elevator carrying him to jail.

Governor Sets Date

Under the Florida law the execution date will be fixed by the governor of the state and officials of the state penitentiary at Raiford.

Judge Thompson's sentence ordered that Zangara be confined in Dade county jail until his removal to Raiford and that he be kept there until the governor sets the week of execution, the hour and day, to be set by the prison farm superintendent.

"And at such time and place punishment of death shall be inflicted upon you by causing to pass through your body a current of electricity sufficient in intensity to cause immediate death, and application of such current shall be continued until you shall be dead," the judge ordered.

"And such punishment of death shall be executed within the walls of the permanent death chamber of the state prison of the state of Florida.

"xx and may God have mercy on your soul."

Removed To Jail

The courtroom emptied quickly after the Italian who tried to kill

CHIANG TAKES ARMY POST

CHANG'S RESIGNATION ACCEPTED; FRESH TROOPS IN FIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

The resignation of Chang Hsiao-Liang as military commander in North China has been accepted by the national government.

The command of Chang, who submitted his resignation last week, at the same time assuming blame for the loss of Jehol province to the Japanese, then was taken over by Chiang Kai-Shek, Chinese generalissim, who immediately threw fresh troops into battle at Kupiekow pass through the great wall.

Occupation Complete

Earlier reports from Tokko described a heavy battle at Kupiekow. Previously reports had said the pass wass occoupied at noon last Wednesday.

The Japanese foreign office instructed its legation at Peiping to attempt negotiations looking toward the withdrawal of Chinese troops from Kupiekow. Failing this, it was oped to seek the good offices of foreign countries in an effort to persuade the Chinese to withdraw, obviating the necessity of invading North China.

PROBE SOUGHT BY SOLONS

INVESTIGATION INTO INSURANCE FIRMS IS PROPOSED

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 10.—A resolution proposing appointment of a committee to investigate the internal affairs of Texas insurance companies was introduced in the Texas house of representatives today by Representative Frank Patterson of Fort Worth.

The resolution stated the annual reports of the companies revealed that "exceedingly large annual incomes" had been paid to officers, directors, and stockholders and that the insurance companies were only paying a nominal tax in comparison with other lines of endeavor.

The payment of "excessive" salaries and dividend's has continued during the present unusual economic conditions and "such payments have endangered the sufficiency of the policy reserves and the solvency of some of the companies, and other companies have been compelled to borrow large sums from the Reconstruction Finance corporation," the resolution stated. Excessive salary and dividend payments have made it impossible for other concerns to meet their obligations, the resolution recited.

"It is currently reported that a number of said companies have used the policy reserves, which belong to their policy holders, to make unsafe and unsound loans and investments and it is currently reported that some of these loans and investments were for the actual benefit of the officers and directors of the companies and not for the protection of policyholders," the resolution stated.

Sizzling Gold

PRECIOUS METAL SEARS CONSCIENCES, BURNS FINGERS, STINGS HOARDERS INTO ACTION

BY RAYMOND CROWLEY

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP)—Gold was hot today. Sizzling hot.

It burned fingers, seared consciences, and stung hoarders into sudden action.

By the thousands all over the country, they scurried to banks to purge themselves of the yellow stain which, the government decreed, will be a passport to prison.

In vanity bags, steel chests, trousers pockets and armored cars it poured in—stacks of double eagles, $5 pieces that dangled on last yuletide's tree, big bars of bullion.

Fright—which drove much of it into socks and vaults—was helping chute it back into Uncle Sam's keeping; fright (salutary and wholesome this time) at the prospect of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

One estimate predicted a billion dollars in hoarded gold would be back in a few days where it is most useful, reinforcing the rock of gold on which the currency is reared.

It was believed, in the absence of official figures, that perhaps $200,000,000 of gold has been restored to the Federal Reserve system throughout the country this week. Here are some reports from various federal reserve districts:

At St. Louis, Governor William C. Martin of the eighth district said more than half of

REGULATION IS TO BE GIVEN BY WOODIN

TREASURY SECRETARY SEEKING MEANS OF REOPENING BANKS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10—Federal Reserve member banks desiring to reopen will be required to apply to the district federal reserve banks for a license to be issued by the secretary of the treasury.

Secretary Woodin said today either an executive order or a treasury regulation to this effect would be issued soon.

To Aid Others

At the same time, he said, state banking authorities would be empowered to permit state banking institutions other than federal reserve members to perform all of their usual banking functions except those otherwise prohibited.

TO SPEED OPENING

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—An executive order designed to speed the opening of the nation's banks under close supervision of the treasury was issued today by President Roosevelt. Under the order, the secretary of the treasury was given authority to issue licenses to federal reserve member banks to reopen.

The statement came from Woodin after a morning spent in conference with the president and numerous financial experts over the manner in which the treasury would proceed under the new banking law toward reopening the nation's banks.

Secretary Woodin also authorized banking institutions to complete for their own account or account of their customers payment on subscriptions for treasury bills sold on March 6.

The regulation, the 16th since the bank holiday was proclaimed, was issued as the treasury officials set to work on the procedure that will be employed in applying the freshly enacted legislation to the tangled banking situation.

The treasury sold approximately $75,000,000 in treasury bills on March 6 and the banking holiday has tied up some of the funds.

On leaving the White House, the secretary said sound banks would

Hundred Years Are Added To Sentence

ABILENE, March 10. (AP)—Bringing his aggregate sentence to 125 years, criminal district court at Baird late yesterday assessed a total of 100 years against Ben Chaney, ex-farmer of Taylor and Coke counties, who drew 50 years for attempted kidnaping, and 10 years on each of five charges of house burglary.

Chaney, a few weeks ago was convicted here of burglarizing two Taylor county homes and drew sentences totaling 25 years.

The kidnaping charge involved the frustrated effort of a man to carry away the 11-year-old daughter of W. Homer Shanks, from her home at Clyde, near here, the night of January 15.

ROBBERY CASE GIVEN JURY

NO VERDICT RETURNED IN TRIAL OF JACK SULLIVAN HERE

A 72nd district court jury, which about 10:55 o'clock this morning received the case of Jack Sullivan, charged with robbery with firearms, had not returned a verdict early this afternoon. The jury retired upon completion of arguments, which began at 9 a. m.

Daniel A. Blair and Burton S. Burks, district and assistant district attorney, respectively, were the prosecutors. Ben Kucera was defense counsel by appointment.

Joe W. Harris, a salesman, whom the state alleges Sullivan held up and robbed of an automobile after the ex-convict and convicted bank robber escaped from Lubbock county jail last Nov. 17, was the principal state witness.

He identified Sullivan, and declared he was the man who commandeered his red Dodge automobile at Broadway and Avenue G late on the afternoon of Nov. 17.

Girl In Courtroom

Miss Mary Cuban, who was wounded in Mountain Air, N. M., last September when Sullivan was shot, sat with the 25-year-old desperado in district court yesterday afternoon.

Miss Cuban was released from Lynn county jail Wednesday, after having been held there in connection with an automobile theft. The case against her there was dismissed.

Yarbrough Defense Testimony Offered

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP)—Additional testimony was in order today for the trial of Calvin B. Yarbrouh, Belton automobile mechanic, charged with murder in the fatal burning last September 8 of his 16-year-old adopted daughter, Doris.

The state rested yesterday after offering testimony in an effort to show that Yarbrough threw a bucket of gasoline on the girl. The gasoline was ignited from a blow torch. The defense contended the gasoline was spilled accidentally, while Yarbrough and his adopted daughter were cleaning an automobile.

LIBERTY, March 10. (AP)—A plot to murder D. W. Browney for his insurance was described by the state's star witness at the trial of Mrs. Pearlie Browney, charged with complicity in the killing of her elderly husband.

REDUCTION IN EXPENSES IS PROPOSED

PRESIDENT WOULD CUT VETERANS COSTS AND FEDERAL SALARIES

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10—A silently intent congress received from President Franklin D. Roosevelt today his second request for extraordinary powers, this time to slash veterans costs and federal salaries so a balanced budget might be attained within a year.

Simultaneously in senate and house the president's message was read, with the legislators hanging onto each word. A determined dispute plainly was in the making, but Democratic leaders professed confidence that Mr. Roosevelt would have his way, while not with the dispatch that marked yesterday's enactment of the banking law.

Bill Being Drafted

A bill for the new powers for the chief executive was being drafted under direction of Lewis Douglas, new director of the budget who resigned today as a member of the house from Arizona. Once it was ready, Senator Robinson of Arkansas was to sponsor it.

Immediately on hearing the presidential message read the senate recessed until tomorrow to allow completion of the legislation.

House Democratic leaders arranged to bind their great majority by caucus, with the aim of passing the bill by early next week.

The house created a select economy committee of five to handle Mr. Roosevelt's request for power to cut government expenses.

Speaking of the five billion dollar federal deficit that has been piling up since 1931, President Roosevelt had said in his message that the situation was akin to that in connection with banking, in that it demanded "equally courageous, frank and prompt action."

Veterans Aid Affected

The new legislation, as recommended by Mr. Roosevelt, will lay down broad principles for pensions and other veterans benefits, but will rest with him the important authority over administrative details. He will aim to slash costs caused by compensation for non-service connected disabilities.

"We are unanimous," he said, "in

BANK AND RELIEF BILLS INTRODUCED

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP)—Banking and relief legislation predominated today in the bills that swarmed into the legislative hoppers in both sides of the capitol in a day that marked the settling of congress down to routine procedure.

One of the first measures to be proposed in the senate was by Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.), to guarantee time deposits in banks.

It was closely followed by a bill by Senator McAdoo (D., Cal.), to protect depositors in Federal Reserve member banks against loss through failure or suspension of such institutions.

Another banking measure, introduced by Senator Dill (D., Wash.), would open postal checking accounts.

One of the first farm relief proposals came from Senator Bankhead (D., Ala.), who proposed a $400,000,000 appropriation for loans to purchase of small farms, farm implements, building materials, household equiment and sustenance supplies.

What Of THE FUTURE?

A NEW CHAPTER of American history opens up! A new president! A new regime! A new era!

As the "new deal" gets under way, the eyes of the nation are focused on Washington. The outcome is vital to all, regardless of party affiliation or social and economic status. The financier, the manufacturer, the merchant and the artisan, all have a stake at issue.

The new administration is pledged to a constructive program. The people await its performance. But more than mere interest and expectancy are required. Confidence is called for. Faith is demanded.

Faith in the future is a prerequisite to America's recovery. Faith such as that which inspired the founders of this great nation, can retrieve the country's fallen fortunes, revive dormant markets, reanimate crippled industry, and put willing workers back in jobs. It can restore the American standard of living to the American people.

That faith must be reflected in the 48 states of the Union. It must be shared by its 120,000,000 inhabitants. There is greater ground for confidence today than at any time during the past three years. There is no occasion for the hysteria which has been all too prevalent of late. Deflation has been so thorough and so complete, affecting not merely commodity prices but merchandise stocks which are required to meet the everyday requirements of the people, that a resurgence of business and recovery of prices are logical. Conditions have reached such a low point that the next movement must be upward. We are starting on a new basis — from first principles.

Let us look forward, not backward, for reminiscence can bring only regret for our recklessness and its results. The aftermath of the hectic boom which reached its apex in 1929 cannot be blamed on any one section of the community; it was the inevitable consequence of a nation's craze for easy money, in which all of the people participated. If people had only applied themselves to their own business, the depression could not and would not have been so far-reaching in its consequences.

There is no use bewailing the sins of the past, either of omission or commission. The country has paid the penalty, and it should concern itself now not with remorse but with a firm desire of amendment. Therefore, let's start afresh! The opportunity is greater now than ever in the history of the country, and the reward will be in proportion to the effort the people make. To the leaders in national affairs to whom we look for guidance, we must accord the fullest measure of support. Leadership in finance, in industry, and in other realms pertinent to the life of the people should be forthcoming to supplement the constructive efforts of statesmanship. We must each of us, in our own sphere do what we can to restore American prosperity.

The revival of America's confidence is a sacred duty which must be borne not alone by the statesmen but by the bankers, the industrialists, and the working class, whether profitably engaged or unhappily unemployed. The maintenance of currency standards, the even flow of credit for legitimate purposes, the stabilization of markets, the provision of employment and the restoration of the country's earning ability and purchasing power, as well as the elimination of the causes of the country's suffering, are matters of chief concern to the new administration.

It is for the new leaders to find the way. And for us to follow—not with doubt and misgiving—but with courage and confidence. That is the loyal duty we owe to the new administration. That is the patriotic duty we owe to the nation !

MOST STORES TAKE CHECKS

TWO BIG DEPARTMENT FIRMS EXCEPTIONS TO PRACTICE

Although two of the larger department stores are not accepting checks, most Lubbock mercantile establisments Thursday were accepting them from regular customers and other persons in whom they have faith for the amounts of purchase only.

The two stores not taking checks said they acted on advice of bankers to limit acceptance until the bank situation is clarified. Drug, hardware, grocery, and other stores, like the departmental shops, Thursday accepted checks for amounts of purchase. Few gave change on checks.

Business men differed as to the probable amount of cash that is being sent out of town. Some held that the amount was small while a few insisted the practice, if continued, would make a serious situation.

It is understood all of the wholesale oil and gasoline dealers have received instructions to make remittances daily, in both cash and checks. Heretofore dealers have remitted by draft for the most part, leaving the cash and currency here. Retailers, one dealer explained, are now making their remittances to dealers in cash for the most part. They turn over checks from their customers to the dealer.

A check of local produce houses indicate farmers are accepting produce checks and using them as a medium of exchange. A. H. Brooks, of the Lubbock Poultry and Egg company, said his customers indicated to him they were using their cream checks for cash, paying their bills with them.

H. R. Doughtie, Swift and Co., said his orders were to break up the larger checks into smaller ones, if the recipient so desires, in order to use the paper as cash.

The Borden company, produce division, according to B. B. Laughlin, manager, is paying by check.

One man explained, farmers are selling cream, poultry and eggs and using this as means of taking care of necessities.

American Indians used totem poles for tombstones as well as for idol worship. Ashes of cremated braves were placed in the poles.

ATTRACTIVE WOMAN PHYSICIAN LIKES BEING A DOCTOR; TELLS EXPERIENCES

Dr. Ann West. Wilson's attractive woman physician, who is completing her first year of practice in her home community, likes being a doctor, she said Thursday. She attended Texas Technological college its first year.

Are her patients shy of a woman doctor?

"They don't seem to be; in a general practice, most patients are women and children," she explained. "But I've had some grandfathers to take care of."

In a few years, 30 children of the Wilson community can say of "Doctor Ann."

"She ushered me into the world during her first year's practice here."

Doctor West seeks to make childbirth as painless to her patients as possible.

"I've always given the mothers something to ease their suffering," she explained. "Men folks don't like to be sick; neither do women."

Although a qualified surgeon, she has performed only minor operations, done in her office at Wilson.

"People don't accept a woman here for surgery, as they do in the large cities," she explained.

A woman is no more of a gossip than a man is, and can keep professional secrets, so declared "Doctor Ann."

"In a small community, there always is some one inquiring about your patients, but I think it is neighborly interest," Doctor West said.

Doctor West was dressed tastefully yesterday. She was wearing sensible black shoes, black hat, skirt and waist ensemble, and a black coat. She carried black gloves and a black purse. A pearl necklace was her only piece of jewelry. (Her white gold wrist watch was more a necessity in her profession than an ornament.)

Hers is largely a country practice, and she always carries an adequate supply of common medicines with her "for sometimes it's 15 miles to a drug store."

One child she delivered was born in a barn; another in a dugout. The latter died ten days later of pneumonia. Another infant died a few hours after birth probably of "a collapsed lung."

"And the mother, I believe, is one of my best friends now," she said.

She related of a case in which she delivered a child "and probably saved the life of the mother." The husband, who had not intended to call a doctor until neighbors insisted, "paid me only one fourth of the fee because he said that was all I was worth."

Doctor West resides at home with her widowed mother, Mrs. Iona West, seven miles out of Wilson. Members of her family have been doctors, her father had wished to study medicine, and these facts perhaps prompted her to the study of medicine, she said.

Would she consider marriage?

"It would take a lot of things to make me give up my practice," she said. "But if I were married I probably would give it up."

Doctor West is a member of Lubbock County Medical society. A member physician recently said of her, "She's a darn good doctor."

She did her interneship at Baylor hospital in Dallas, after receiving her M. D. degree.

NO SENTIMENT THERE

VANCOUVER, B. C.—"I've been robbed," declared an ex-convict indignantly as he presented himself before J. Dinnage Hobden, secretary of the society for re-establishing discharged prisoners. What made the man angry, more than the loss of his hard earned money, was the fact that the holdup man had been a friend of his when both were convicts. But though he berated the holdup man for forgetting his friends, the man took the cash and escaped.

YOUNG SCREEN PLAYER HERE

BILLIE VALLIE WILL APPEAR PERSONALLY AT THE LINDSEY

A six-year-old motion picture actor, Billie Vallie, who is appearing personally today and Saturday at the Lindsey theater, looks like nearly any other six-year-old youngster off stage. His nose runs, his knees get just as rusty, and he has a similar line of chatter.

With his mother, Mrs. Belle Vallie, Billie is making personal appearances at theaters over the country. He has appeared in pictures with Al Jolson, Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell and has been in pictures since he was less than 2 years old.

Gaynor "Too Ritzy"

His favorite picture was "Sunny Side Up" but his favorite actors are Warner Baxter and Greta Garbo. He thinks Janet Gaynor is too "ritzy."

Beginning with "Lucky Duck", he has appeared in 53 pictures in a little more than four years.

Billie hasn't started to school yet but his mother is teaching him while they are on the road. He knows his alphabet and can print his name. "I'm learning to write it fancy now," he explained, waving his arms to indicate the style of his script. He believes he can count to "about 200." Billy emphasized his explanations by bouncing a large red ball up and down on the desk.

As trophies of his trip through the Southwest, he wore a ring on each hand, the turquoise and silver type that are bought from the Indians.

He is on the stage now because he "has to make a living" but Billie has an ambition to be a banker when he grows up.

Deer Found With Horns Interlocked

SAN ANGELO, March 10 (AP) — When Arthur Henderson, ranchman, found a live and a dead deer with horns interlocked yesterday, he obtained permission from James Flynt, deputy game warden, to kill the living animal. The live deer was emaciated and it appeared the body of the other had been dragged for three or four days. Efforts to pull the horns apart proved futile.

Unusual Offer Is Made By Vicks On New Mouth-Wash

The makers of Vicks VapoRup have put out a new antiseptic mouthwash and gargle. It will do everything that any mouth antiseptic can and should do . . . and at half the usual cost.

The proof is actual use in your own home. To furnish this proof, 5 million bottles in a special trial size were supplied to druggists, below cost—a 25c value for only 10c.

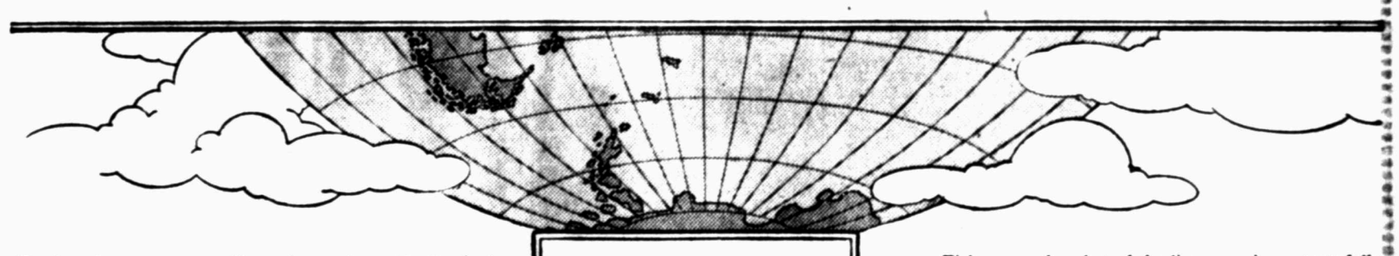

But the demand has been enormous. If your druggist is already out of the trial size, the regular 10-ounce size of Vicks Antiseptic is an even bigger bargain—a 75c value for only 35c. And, after using it a week, if you are not delighted with its quality, and amazing economy, you can return the unused portion and get your money back.—Adv.

Five States Seek To Lift Sunday Baseball Ban

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

If you are listenin' and it isn't too late, there's a high school track meet in session out at the Texas Tech field. Lubbock and Amarillo are the opposing teams. They'll be going until about sundown.

SHORT, SHORT STORIES

Judging from the number of letters this week from prospective ball players, there's no depression or moratorium in the post-office business . . . no less than 46 letters came within two days this week . . . from potential big league stars or at least the writers say so . . . One of them is Dutch Shires, kid brother of Art (The Great) Wotaman Shires . . . who got his Texas League start under Del Pratt at Waco . . . Ned West, kid brother of Sam West of the St. Louis Browns, also sends in his application for a contract.

When the moratorium lifts, if it does, the local baseball project will be pushed again . . . Pete Catwhon is in Austin today and tomorrow attending the Texas university interscholastic league meet . . . in which Lamesa represents the West Texas Panhandle . . . The wolf is already at the door of the Kansas City baseball club . . . a young wolf, intended as a mascot, was sent to the office of the club from Texas by Mrs. Bill Rodgers, wife of the team's business manager . . . Ernie Schmidt, star center for Pittsburg, (Kas.) Teachers' college, has closed his collegiate basketball career with exactly 1,000 points to show for four years of competition . . . Dell Morgan, Tech cage coach, is in Kansas City watching the big boys play in the A. A. U. tournament . . . he hopes to schedule a few games with some of the nation's outstanding amateur teams next year.

Jackie Mitchell, Chattanooga's girl baseball pitcher, has signed to play in exhibition games with the Baltimore Orioles this spring . . . she "whiffed" Babe Ruth in a training game last year . . . Ed McKeever's dope on attendance and enrollment at the Texas Tech gym in February is interesting . . . 17,093 spectators saw the various athletic games in the gym during last month . . . 3,943 men students in 139 classes worked out in the gym . . . as well as 3,580 gals, in 112 classes, making a total of 24,616, more than Lubbock's population to pass through the gymnasium portals . . . and a legislative committee would take the Tech, out of Texas Tech . . . and they hang pictures.

Fifty years ago baseball was the only intercollegiate sport of Missouri colleges, and was played clear through what now is the football season . . . that college is rare now which has a baseball team for the shortest season of the year . . . Melbourne Museum (Australia) formerly practically deserted, now is thronged with thousands of visitors daily, who came from all over Australia to see the stuffed hide of Phar Lap, that country's greatest race horse . . . which died in America . . . Jack Durham, captain of the 1931 Tech football team, probably will enroll as a past graduate next term . . . he'll be on a team of ex-Matadors which plays the Matadors this spring in a spring training game . . . Texas Tech also will meet the West Texas Buffs again this spring . . . at Matador field.

To D. B.: This information comes a little late, but we tried to call you soon's we found out . . . anyway, Sam West is 38 years old . . . Seemed a dirty trick, but must have been just coincidence . . . but on the very day Dutchy Smith announced that Lone Star Dietz would bring his Haskell Institute Indians here next November 4, said Lone Star Dietz resigned at Haskell to accept a position coaching a Boston professional football team . . . but the Indians and their new coach, whoever he is, will be here nevertheless . . . Dutch didn't know about Dietz' change until yesterday . . . A neat comeback did Bob Worthington of the Braves make to Skipper Bill McKetchnie when the latter bawled Bob out for arriving late at spring camp: "Well, I had to attend my own wedding, didn't I? . . . and Bob had his bride there to prove it . . . Feel kinda sorry for Coach "Sad Sam" Burton and his Buffs for losing last night . . . but they're to be congratulated, anyway.

CONTESTS ARE TO BE THIS AFTERNOON

COACH BLAIR CHERRY BRINGS SQUAD OF 20 FOR MEET

In the first local track and field meet of the season the Lubbock High school Westerners match strides with the Amarillo High school Golden Sandies this afternoon on the Texas Tech turf and cinder path.

The contest being at 3:30 o'clock and are free to all spectators.

Coach Blair Cherry is bringing a squad of 20 men here today to compete against Coach Weldon Chapman's thinly clads. A comparison of rosters, veteran performers and general dope shows Amarillo to have the upper hand.

Coach Chapman, however, appeared pleased this week with the time trials which determined the probable starters in the various events today. Yesterday's workout was limited to brief exercises near the high school. No time trials were held at the Texas Tech track.

Following are the Lubbock entries as they qualified in time trials:

100-yard dash—Dalton Blagg, Rufus Ryan, Joe Nelson.

220-yard dash — Charles Young, Robert Stone, Alfred Arnold.

440-yard run — Charles Young, James Hunt, Maynard Knight.

880-yard run — Dick Chapman, Wilson Chapman, K. Green.

Mile run—Graham Stanfill, Hugh Huff, Sidney Brown.

Relay—Stone, Young, Nelson and Hunt.

Low hurdles—Blagg, Artie Hicks, Clarence Mast.

High hurdles—Stone, Mast, Maurice Cowan.

High jump—Blagg, Cowan, Rayburn Hale.

Broad jump — Blagg, Rayburn Hale, Nelson.

Pole vault—Cowan, Hicks, Hugh Snodgrass.

Shot put—George Janes, Robert Hale.

Discus throw—Janes, Robert Hale.

Javelin — Cowan, Paul Warren, Robert Hale.

Among the outstanding performers for Amarillo probably will be MaHuron, speedy halfback on the district championship football team, who does some of the sprinting for Amarillo; Kirby and Talbot, heavy linemen who handle the weights, and Corbett, football captain-elect and high jumper.

ROSENBLOOM TO BATTLE GERMAN

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP)—Maxie Rosenbloom, Harlem's playboy box-fighter, defends his light heavyweight championship against the challenge of a youthful Teuton puncher, Adolph Heuser, in a 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Rosenbloom, whose title claims rest upon recognition by the New York State Athletic commission, rules a 2 to 1 betting favorite with prospects of even heavier odds by the time the fighers enter the ring.

BECTON IS HOST TO FARM BUREAU

A beautification program for farms will be discussed at a monthly meeting of the Lubbock County Farm Bureau federation tonight in the school auditorium in Becton.

Mrs. William Dingus will speak on a home beautification program. C. E. Russell, head of the department of horticulture at Texas Tech, will illustrate his talk on farm beautification with slides.

A local program will also be given. Charles Lail will be the local chairman. James C. Burroughs, president of the county farm bureau federation, will preside.

RIDGEWAY TO JUDGE

BRUSHING UP SPORTS

AROUND THE TRAINING CAMP CIRCUIT

ONLY ONE MISSING

SAN ANTONIO, March 10 (AP) — All of the Detroit Tigers but Earl Webb were in camp today and Manager Bucky Harris said he was unable to account for the absence of the outfielder who came to the Bengals last season from the Boston Red Sox. Daily work-outs will be held until March 17 when the Tigers engage University of Texas in the first game of the exhibition schedule.

ATTRACTS ATTENTION

BRANDENTON, Fla., March 10 (AP) —Joe Medwick, the Jersey youth who starred as outfielder with the Houston, Texas, club before joining the St. Louis Cardinals last fall, so far is the prima donna among the new recruits in the Red Bird training camp.

Medwick's vim and vigor in the workout sessions is attracting attention from observers, including Manager Gabby Street.

No news has been received from the holdouts, Frankie Frisch, Dazzy Vance and Jim Lindsey.

ROUND INTO SHAPE

SARASOTA, Fla., March 10 . — The Boston Red Sox have rounded into shape so fast that Manager Marty McManus was forced to cut today's practice program to a single afternoon session.

McManus has every player in camp except Infielder Marvin Olson, who was trifle dissatisfied when he read the contract mailed him at Gayville, S. D. Nothing has been heard from him lately and McManus, with the enthusiastic support of Tom Yawkey and Eddie Collins the new owners now on the scene served notice that the infielder will accept the terms offered him or suffer the consequences. The concensus here was that Olson was making his way here in a penitent mood.

ORDERS GIVEN

PASADENA, Calif., March 10 (AP)— The Chicago White Sox, regulars and everyone else, today had their orders to bear down and display everything they have.

A collection of irregulars and pickups from neighboring sandlots trimmed the varsity, 10 to 6, yesterday and Manager Lew Fonseca got very little pleasure out of it. The pitchers especially, were told to show something from now on, or be prepared to move on.

CLOTHES MAKE THE MAN

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—When police started to strip James Washington, negro who had been arrested for burglary, of his loot, it reminded one of the clown in the circus. They started by removing one suit of overalls and then followed: two more suits of overalls, one jumper, three pairs of pants, a sweater, two undershirts and a pair of shoes. Washington had stolen this wardrobe from a clothing store.

LAW ENFORCED IN ONLY SIX OF STATES

REMAINDER OF THE 25 HAVING BANS FAIL AT ENFORCEMENT

(Note: The Associated Press yesterday presented the results of a national survey of state legislation showing that Oregon and Washington already had turned to legalized racing and betting as a new source of taxation and that bills were pending in 19 other states. Today it presents the result of a national survey of the so-called "blue-law" restrictions on professional baseball.)

BY FOSTER HAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 10, (AP)—Four score and many years ago the puritan forefathers of America decided it was and should be declared illegal to engage in anything except church-going on the seventh day of the week. They passed laws to outlaw other activities.

A national survey by the Associated Press of these so-called "blue laws", many of which date from the 18th century, shows that 25 states still carry a ban against recreational or gainful activities on the sabbath. However, in only six has there been any considerable effort to enforce them against Sunday baseball and in five repeal bills are pending.

Pennsylvania Watched

Most important, in national interest, of the repeal bills is that in Pennsylvania, home of three major league teams and without Sunday baseball since 1794. It is the only state harboring major league baseball which bans Sunday play, Massachusetts having lifted the restrictions last year.

Annually for many years bills have been presented which would give the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh teams the privilege of adding to their revenues with Sunday attractions but not until this year of depression—1933—have they been near passage.

Now a bill repealing the ancient laws has passed the lower house and is up for last and expected favorable reading in the senate. Those who should know say it will pass the senate and that Governor Gifford Pinchot probably will allow it to become law without his signature. Both major leagues have withheld their schedules pending the outcome.

Legislation Pending

The other four states in which legislation is pending with reasonable expectations of passage are Wisconsin, Maryland, Georgia, and Maine. The Maine bill, however, would exempt amateur teams only while the Georgia measure merely provides for a referendum on the subject in the city of Atlanta. Wisconsin voters expressed their desire for legalized Sunday baseball in a referendum last fall.

The six states where the letter of the "blue laws" has been strictly enforced, at least against baseball, are Pennsylvania, Maine, Virginia, Vermont, North Carolina and Georgia. North Carolina just this year passed its bill outlawing baseball on the sabbath. In rock-ribbed Vermont and Virginia, where all except necessary occupations are banned on Sunday, no legislation is pending.

Henry's, Oilers To Play Tonight

ROSENBERG - ARVEY OF CHICAGO TO MEET STAGE LINES

BY CHARLES A. GRUMICH
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY, March 10. (AP)—The Wichita Henry's will strive to pass the semi-final hurdle in their bid for a fourth consecutive national title against a team which has twice defeated them this season.

Tulsa's Diamond Oilers are opponents of the Kansans tonight as the National A. A. U. tournament draws near an end.

The feature game, scheduled for 9:30 p. m., overshadows the other semi-finals contest that might well hold the spot position. The Southern Kansas Stage lines team, representing Kansas City, meets Rosenberg-Arvey of Chicago, a team featuring the former Northwestern star, Joe Reiff.

Rosenberg-Arvey is the only unseeded team among the four survivors. It first surprised by defeating the favored Denver Piggly-Wigglies by three points in a third round encounter and last night ousted the last California entrant—Pasadena Majors—34-28.

West Texas' tall Teachers were no match for the Henry's in the quarter-finals, the champions winning 37-17. In two games during the season the Teachers and Henry's split.

Tulsa eased into the next to last round with a 30-17 victory over Phillips university, Enid Okla.

The U. S. public health service has worked out a new system of fumigating loaded ships which consists of spraying with liquid hydrocyanic acid under pressure ranging up to 100 pounds.

"HACK" WILSON SEEKING JOB

WANTS CLUB WILLING TO PAY $15,000 FOR SERVICES

MIAMI, Fla., March 10. (AP)—Lewis Robert (Hack) Wilson was in the market today for a new owner willing to pay him $15,000 for the 1933 season.

Turning down a $10,000 offer from the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday, Hack was given formal permission to dicker with other National league clubs in an effort to bring about his own trade.

Joseph Gilleaudeau, vice president of the Dodgers, stipulated however, that the terms of the trade must be satisfactory to Brooklyn.

There were indications that Wilson would seek to land either with the New York Giants or the Boston Braves, both of whom could use additional hitting strength in the outfield. However, it was considered unlikely that either would be willing to pay Wilson the $15,000 he is asking.

Hack received $33,000 from the Chicago Cubs for his services in 1931 and was paid $16,500 last season.

Thought For Today

Nay but, O man, who are thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?—Romans 9:20.

* * *

As thou hast created me out of air and glitter, I thank Thee for it.—Rucker.

The Historian

One of the hardest things for a reader of history to do is to realize that the figures which appear on the pages before him were once real flesh-and-blood people like himself.

Time and fame have a way of freezing men into heroic attitudes. The past looks like a series of tableaus a group of heroic paintings in which everything is arranged just so. It contains no blood, no human emotions.

Washington remains eternally rigid, posing in the bow of a boat as it crosses the Delaware amid the ice; the Declaration of Independence gets signed by a collection of well-dressed gentlemen who kindly faced the artist and arranged their ruffles—and passed into eternity that way. It is hard to believe that these folk lived and moved about and got hungry and felt tired as ordinary people do.

So history becomes unreal; and a speculative man is apt to wonder, now and then, if perhaps the moving picture camera won't introduce a welcome change.

A century from now people who study the doings of this generation won't have to depend on paintings. Our great men won't be figures from a portrait gallery; they will be human beings in front of a news camera, some of them slightly smitten by stage fright, none of them frozen into colorful immobility. Our city crowds, our farmers, our armies—they, too, will move and laugh and be real.

And that will be a tremendous advantage. What wouldn't we give today, for instance, for a good news picture of the Boston tea party, an action shot showing a wagon train heading west to the Ohio Purchase, an informal picture of the Constitutional Convention, an exposure or two of the Lincoln-Douglas debates or the building of the Union Pacific railroad?

If we had such things we wouldn't be so apt to credit our ancestors with impossible virtues. We should realize that heroes like Washington and Jackson and Webster were mortal men like Coolidge and Hoover and Roosevelt, that the ragged continentals were probably quite as irreverent and profane as the A. E. F., and that, in short, the American of the golden age were blood brothers to ourselves.

Flapper Fanny

It often takes plenty of punch to bag the right man.

That Girl on Broadway says many a man who used to be dissatisfied with the peak of prosperity would now give his right arm for a mere peek at it.

People who don't understand why U. S. can't recognize Russia never stop to realize that even the Czar couldn't recognize it now.

A LUBBOCK man had to go to a specialist recently and when he came home his wife, interested, inquired:

"What did the doctor say when he examined you?"

"He said 'Umph, Umph, Umph'", was the reply.

"And what did he mean by that?" demanded the little woman.

"He meant 'five dollars, please'"!

SENATOR Borah and Citizen Alfred E. Smith are both wise men and leaders in this country. But aren't they wrong in declaring that the American people do not want their President to assume dictatorial powers, no matter what the situation may be?

Messrs. Borah and Smith may be right in contending that no President should assume dictatorial powers.

But they could be right in that regard and still be wrong in the claim that the people are opposed to any such move.

One of the things that put Mr. Roosevelt right on the top of the heap with the people themselves was his straight-forward speech at his inauguration, in which he said the time for talk had past and the time for action had arrived.

And then when he immediately jumped into his task—when he substituted action for talk in no uncertain terms—he became the idol of the public that elected him.

IF what The Plainsman has heard in the way of comment can be taken as a criterion of public opinion the nation over, the people of the United States want a leader who will lead—and are prepared to follow him to the last ditch.

They are tired of red tape; they are tired of the "on-the-fence" attitude which marked the Republican administration.

As Will Rogers recently remarked, they want action—any kind of action—so they will be doing something.

Students of government and economics are agreed that the slowest moving, least efficient form of government in the history of the world in the democratic form of government, such as all republics have.

They likewise agree that the most efficient form of government is the monarchy—providing that the right kind of wise and courageous monarch is in the saddle.

Closest thing to a monarchy that this country can have or wants is the temporary dictatorship plan, in which the dictatorship lasts only as long as it is needed or the dictator himself lasts only as long as the people want him.

THE Plainsman is not committed to a dictator form of government— nor to a semi-dictatorship, such as this country would have under rules which govern a wartime President.

That's a deep subject; one which this column is in no position to speak on authoritatively.

Possibly Messrs. Borah and Smith are entirely right in their declaration against President Roosevelt's assuming any sort of dictatorial powers, in spite of emergency in national affairs.

But we don't think they're right in declaring that the people are opposed to a form of dictatorship under present conditions.

A visitor in a federal penitentiary stopped before a cell.

"Ah, my poor man," he said, "It was poverty, I presume, that brought you to this."

"Naw", returned the convict, "on the contrary, I was making money".

One of our neighbors has been laboriously building a chicken house—in fact, he's been at it for a couple of weeks.

Yesterday evening his wife hollered from the back stoop:

"George Simpkins! How long are you going to fiddle around with that little, old chicken house?"

"Patience, my dear, patience", George replied. "Rome wasn't built in a day, you know!"

ADD to your list of West Texas boys who have made good in the city the name of Silliman Evans, ex-of Fort Worth and points north and west. He's just been made fourth assistant postmaster-general in the Roosevelt administration.

All oldtimers in Lubbock—everybody who's been here six years or more is an oldtimer—remember Silliman as the jolly, little fat fellow who was West Texas staff man for the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram. Since leaving the paper he's been vice-president in charge of public relations for a big air transport company and has been dividing time between his New York headquarters and Washington, where he's been doing a little right and left-handed lobbying.

The Plainsman saw Silliman the last time at the Democratic National convention in Chicago, where Silliman was running the Garner headquarters and campaign. Having covered a lot of stories with Silliman in the past, we had a regular reunion.

"What kind of a job are you going to get if Garner is nominated?" your humble servant kidded.

"I'm gonna be secretary of state or an admiral", was Silliman's quick return.

This column joins the rest of Silliman's old friends in West Texas in applauding his new appointment and knows he'll make good.

He's smart as a whip and has lots of zip—and don't worry, he'll get by in great shape.

Warned That He Would Need An Asbestos Suit On Treasury Job, Secretary Woodin Decides "Hot Seat" Isn't Too Hot

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, March 10—Mr Ogden Mills, the retiring secretary of the treasury, remarked that whoever took his job in the Roosevelt administration would need an asbestos suit.

Musing over that remark, Mr. William H Woodin, the new secretary of the treasury, walked into the office for the first time and placed his hand on the seat of Mills' chair.

"That isn't so hot," he reported.

(And if you don't mind, the first syllable of the last name is pronounced "wooed" rather than "wood." This takes some of the stinger out of wise-cracks about a "Woodin-headed cabinet.")

The people who live here never actually felt the depression as many in other sections had felt it until the big Commercial National Bank closed and the District National along with several smaller banks went on a five per cent withdrawal basis. Within a few hours the bank situation had replaced the inauguration and the "new deal" on nearly every tongue. An experience previously shared by hundreds of other cities and towns had come here at last.

Mrs. Cordell Hull's pet name for her husband, the new secretary of state, is "Judge." All his friends call him that, too. That's because before he came to Congress many years ago he was judge of the fifth circuit in Tennessee.

Among women, graduates of Mount Holyoke College are exhibiting a lot more pride now than those of other female institutions. No Mount Holyoke girl lets you forget that presidents went to Mount Holyoke for the first American woman delegate to a major international conference and for the first woman ever to sit in the cabinet. Mary Emma Woolley, president of the college since 1900, was chosen by President Hoover as a member of the American delegation of the Geneva disarmament conference. Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins was one of Mary Emma's girls. She took her degree at Mount Holyoke in 1902.

Gen. Phelam D. Glassford, the former Washington police chief who became nationally prominent last summer when he defied the administration by opposing its drastic action against the bonus army, has been urged by his friends for appointment as one of the three commissioners of the District of Columbia. That would place him in full charge of the police department from which he was forced out by the retiring board of commissioners.

Since the B. E. F. episode Glassford has devoted himself to programs of rehabilitation and aid for unemployed, homeless men. In April he plans to open "Camp America" for homeless young men on a 1500-acre tract in nearby Virginia, hoping to establish it as a model for similar camps under a federal relief program. He is also interested in a "penny cafeteria" on Pennsylvania avenue which sells meals for a nickel under the management of his son, Guy Glassford.

Here's an authoritative story of how Congressman Willis C. Hawley of Oregon, father of the Hawley-Smoot tariff, happened to be defeated in the primaries last year after 25 years in Congress. He was one of the most assiduous and successful of all congressmen in getting federal appropriations for his district—he figures it was about $55,000,000 in all.

But he wangled one appropriation too many when he got a $2,000,000 appropriation for a soldiers' home for the northwest, fought off neighboring states which wanted it and finally promised it to the town of Roseburg, Ore., in his own district. Other counties in the district then demanded a chance at getting the project, but Hawley kept his word to Roseburg. Ensuing bitterness was responsible for more than the 200 adverse votes by which he was defeated. Now he wishes his appropriations record had been kept at $53,000,000.

While working for the Soviet government, Garaux married the Russian girl, Elena. INTERESTING NEWS, COMMENT FROM AUSTIN

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP)—Members of the "junior Texas legislature," an organization composed of pages and other youthful employes of the Texas house of representatives, have given the regular members some "pointers" on how legislation should be enacted.

On a recent dull Saturday afternoon the house hall was turned over to the junior legislature, which proceeded to pass and repeal laws in the approved style and to amend the constitution. In a "session" that lasted about an hour, the juniors repealed virtually all laws on the statute books, enacted a few that suited their own sentiments and so revised the constitution as to leave that ancient safeguard of liberty in a state of confusion.

Bills to change constitutional and statutory prohibition were passed with celerity by the juniors. To pass the appropriation bills required only a few minutes, while to get through the bill to legalize wagering on horse races, a controversial subject before the regular house, was mere child's play.

Mundell Rogers of Sweetwater served as speaker of the junior house. He ruled promptly on points of order and made his rulings stick, regardless of their merit. Rogers had a complete staff of assistants, including a parliamentarian, reading clerk, chief clerk, journal clerk and a sergeant-at-arms.

Rep. Cecil Lotief of Cross Plains obliged the juniors by serving as their chaplain.

Included in the list of stenographers "employed" by the juniors were Rep. Sarah Hughes of Dallas and Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

Members of the legislature sat around and enjoyed the antics of their juniors.

"They didn't do so badly all things considered," one of the regular members remarked when the show was over.

From the pictures we've seen of them, rubber bathing suits are going to have to take a lot of strain—from rubber necks.

WHEN AND HOW MUCH CURRENCY WILL BE ISSUED? QUESTIONS UNANSWERED

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP) — When and how much new currency will be spread through the country were among the paramount questions today for which treasury officials yet lacked definite answers.

The "when," however, was one of the reasons President Roosevelt extended the banking holiday. The new money will be available when the banks reopen.

Amount Not Known

"How much" depended entirely upon the amount of government obligations, drafts, bills of exchange, and bankers acceptances traded by the twelve federal reserve banks for the new currency.

The bureau of engraving has been working 24 hours a day turning out the new money. Even before the passage of the law under which it will flow into the American pocketbook, the new legal tender, carrying the backing of the United States government, was being printed.

Without doubt, the amount finally issued and put forward as a revivifying monetary tranfusion will be more than two billion dollars. The federal reserve system will be the agency by which it will be stated on its mission of booming business.

Scrip Plan Shelved

With this new money circulating, the early plans of many clearing houses to issue scrip have been, for the most part, shelved. Some cities, however, not waiting for the expiration of the bank holiday to start commercial life anew, are finding scrip a local benefit.

The speed with which the administration has acted in its effort to open the bank doors has been taken as an indication that the new currency, green and crisp and to all appearances little different than millions of dollars of currency already circulating, will be available at the 12 Federal Reserve banks of the country for issuance when the bank holiday is lifted.

More than likely, it will be less than a week before the new money is buying shoes and bread and motorcars and farm machinery, and meeting in every way its full purpose as legal tender of the United States of America.

the $1,350,000 withdrawn last week, was returned this week; $636,000 of it yesterday.

At New York recovery of gold since the first of the week totaled $65,000,000. Of this $30,000,000 poured into the Federal Reserve bank yesterday. As in other reserve districts it included gold returned by individuals and turned in by member banks in accordance with Treasury Secretary Woodin's regulations.

At Cleveland, the reserve bank estimated it received $500,000 yesterday, on top of $300,000 Wednesday, the Plain-Dealer said.

At San Francisco the reserve bank statement showed an increase of more than $19,000,000 in gold reserve during the week ended Wednesday. The reserve was sufficient to back all federal reserve notes outstanding nearly 70 per cent.

At Chicago, bank officials said a "noticeable amount" had been received and they expected an inpour to begin today. The Chicago Tribune, said that between Feb. 24 and the president's proclamation withdrawals from the reserve bank soared to from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 daily.

eleventh district Federal Reserve bank at Dallas, declined to say whether any new currency authorized by congress had been received here for distribution to reserve system members and it could not be learned whether any Dallas banks had applied for permission to reopen to Secretary Woodin.

Gold Starts Flow

McKinney said that as a result of the threat of publicity and penalties for gold hoarders, the yellow metal had started going back to reserve bank vaults.

Both Corsicana banks continued to operate on a limited scale, with slightly tighter regulations on cashing of payrooll checks. Both reported they were ready to file formal application for reopening immediately if necessary.

At Childress, scrip bearing the signature of R. S. Brashears was in prospect for employes of the Childress Daily Index for the week-end, the first in that town. Employes will receive the scrip in denominations of $1, $2.50 and $5. It may be applied on accounts with advertisers of the paper but will not be handled through the banks.

ROOSEVELT TEXT

the necessity of meeting great refunding operations this spring.

We must move with a direct and resolute purpose now. The members of the congress and I are pledged to immediate economy.

I am, therefore, assuming that you and I are in complete agreement as to the urgent necessity, and my constitutional duty is to advise you as to the methods for obtaining drastic retrenchment at this time.

I am not speaking to you in general terms. I am pointing out a definite road.

The last congress enacted legislation relating to the reorganization and elimination of executive agencies, but the economies thus to be effected are small when viewed in the light of the great deficit for the next fiscal year. They will not meet the pressing needs of our credit situation.

"Saving Is Essential"

Provision for additional saving is essential, and therefore I am asking the congress today for new legislation laying down broad principles for the granting of pensions and other veteran benefits, and giving to the executive the authority to prescribe the administrative details.

We are unanimous in upholding the duty of the government to care for those who suffer in its defense and for their widows and orphans. The application, however, of this great principle to large numbers of people involves complications—so great that it is almost impossible to draw legislation with sufficient flexibility to provide substantial justice in varying situations.

The proposed legislation states the principles and, limited by them, permits the executive to draw the lines of differentiation necessary to justice.

Requests Enactment

In accord with the same purpose of substantial justice I request also the enactment of legislation relating to the salaries of civil and military employes of the government.

This would repeal the existing furlough plan, substituting therefor a general principle and authorizing the executive to make application of this principle.

The proper legislative function is to fix the amount of expenditure, the means by which it is to be raised and the general principles under which the expenditures are to be made.

The details of expenditure particularly in view of the great present emergency can be more wisely and equitably administered through the executive. The flexibility of the measures which I am proposing is not only practical but proceeds along the road of constitutional government.

"Stability Concerned"

Such economies which can be made will, it is true, affect some of our citizens; but the failure to make them will affect all of our citizens. The very stability of our government itself is concerned and when that is concerned the benefits of some must be subordinated to the needs of all.

When a great danger threatens our basic security its my duty to advise the congress of the way to preserve it. In so doing I must be fair not only to the few, but to the many. It is in this spirit that I appeal to you.

If the congress chooses to vest me with this responsibility it will be exercised in a spirit of justice to all, of sympathy to those who are in need and of maintaining inviolate the basic welfare of the United States.

I ask that this legislation go into effect at once without even waiting for the beginning of the next fiscal year. I give you assurance that if this is done there is reasonable prospect that within a year the income of the government will be sufficient to cover the expenditures of the government.

ZANGARA

the president of the United States was removed to his jail cell.

Before disposing of the case, Judge Thompson said:

"I want to make a few observations. I want to thank the spectators for their splendid decorum and officers of the court for their conduct of the trial.

"But what seems more important at this time is the firm conviction that the congress of these United States should pass legislation for confiscation of all fire arms illegally owned.

Assassinations Cited

"Assassins, roaming at will through the land—and they have killed three of our presidents—are permitted to have pistols.

"And a pistol in the hands of the ordinary person is a most useless weapon of defense.

"No one can foresee what might have happened had Mr. Zangara been successful in his attempt."

Funeral For Kelso Held This Morning

Funeral services for Newton J Kelso, 84, who died at 1:25 p. m. Thursday in the home of a son, Don Kelso, at 1948 Nineteeth street, were conducted at 9 o'clock this morning at Sanders Funeral home. Rev. R. M. Hocker, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, officiated. Burial was to be in Emma cemetery in Crosby county besides the body of Mr. Kelso's wife.

Survivors are three sons, Don Kelso of Lubbock, H. Kelso of Deming N. M., and R. L. Kelso of Fort Worth, and one daughter, Mrs. J. T. Wiley of Lubbock.

Mr. Kelso had lived in Lubbock about 15 years. Previously he had lived in Crosby county.

REDUCTION

upholding the duty of the government to care for those who suffer in its defense and for their widows and orphans."

American Legion posts and other veterans organizations flooded members of congress with protests against moving at this time to grant such wide powers as sought by the president, but Democratic leaders expressed confidence he would have his way eventually.

As to salary cuts for federal employes, he sought repeal of the present furlough plan and proposed a flexible authority for himself to adjust such compensation.

To Cut Salaries

At the capitol, Speaker Rainey told reporters the president expected to reduce government costs between six and seven hundred millions, if congress gives him the authority sought.

As to the present billion dollar outlay annually for veterans, Mr. Roosevelt was said to expect to reduce it over $279,000,000; reduce salaries about $135,000,000, and to effect savings in reorganization of bureaus in excess of $200,000,000.

In his message, slightly longer than that record brief one of yesterday asking the banking law, the president based his argument for the new power on the importance of maintaining governmental credit, saying: "Our government's house is not in order and for many reasons no effective action has been taken to restore it to order."

House Leaders Active

House Democratic leaders plan to organize the labor committee to handle the $500,000,000 reforestation employment proposal.

The ways and means committee, however, will pass on the bond issue part of the legislation.

Roosevelt's plan as to veterans, Speaker Rainey said, was based on the flexible provisions of the tariff act, which permits the president to increase or lower duties on the basis of recommendations made by the tariff commission.

The compensation to veterans and the salaries of government employes could be raised or lowered on the value of the dollar, under the proposal.

Rainey said that President Roosevelt "believes that with the savings he can effect and the passage of the beer bill the budget can be balanced."

Beer May Help

Revenue of about $150,000,000 annually is expected from the legalization of beer.

Mr. Roosevelt's employment proposals of tomorrow call for the enlistment of about 500,000 idle men into a corps similar to the army.

The recruits would be given sustenance in camps in various parts of the country and would be paid not to exceed $1 a day. If they have dependents, they will be requird to send a part of the compensation to them.

If at any time the workers can obtain better jobs, they can obtain discharges.

Although the total outlay is fixed at $500,000,000, Rainey said, only $200,000,00 would be required for the first year.

It is designed to take many men off city doles and relieve the cities of congestion of unemployed.

Vet Report Delayed

Representative McDuffie (D., Ala.), chairman of the joint congressional committee which has been investigating veterans affairs, said he did not think the committee could report within the next two weeks, and that congress probably "will have acted before then."

Mr. Roosevelt in his message did not specify to what lengths he intended to go in slashing veterans appropriations and government salaries.

A bill to carry out the proposal of the president, and gone over last night at the White House with congressional leaders, would require that the salary reductions take into account the cost of living and be limited to a total of 15 per cent, including the existing salary cut.

Permanently and totally disabled war veterans would be untouched. Also, veterans whose disability is traceable to service origin would be kept on the payrolls. The president would be given full authority to fix the rates of compensation for all of the thousands of other veterans now receiving allowances who are not in these classification.

The pay for retired emergency officers is to be trimmed by him to the same basis as pay for retired regular officers. The present lay, reducing pay 8 1-3 per cent, through a furlough system, is to be wiped out.

Patman Speaks

At the house of representatives, Representative Patman (D., Tex.) proponent of veterans benefit and cash payment of the bonus, told newsmen "We know certain cuts can be made but we want them made by the veterans committee which has been studying this problem and knows where reductions can be made with justice."

"We are going to oppose any attempt to put such a bill through today," Patman said, "and will insist that it be referred to a committee. We are not going to stand for any act on service-connected disabilities." Patman said he thought the entire veterans bureau could be abolished to advantage.

be opened "just as soon as possible."

He declined to be more specific.

"The main thing is we have a way to open the banks", smiled the secretary as he entered a taxicab to return to the treasury.

RESTRICTIONS STILL CLAMPED ON BANKS

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP) — A presidential proclamation kept rigid restrictions clamped tightly today about operations of the nation's banks until—possibly tomorrow—many of them can reopen for business as usual.

Less than two hours before the restrictions would have become ineffective at midnight last night, President Roosevelt used the power congress had just given to him by extending the bank holiday "until further proclamation."

Regulations Unchanged

That meant that for the time being banks can do only what they have been doing the last few days—enough business to prevent food shortages or keep people from going payless. There was no change immedately in the various regulations issued by the treasury since Mr. Roosevelt's proclamation slapped on the gold embargo and started the money holiday last Sunday night.

But early today, Secretary Woodin announced that emergency banking act rushed through congress yesterday and giving extraordinary powers to the president "makes possible the opening of banks on a sound basis backed by an adequate supply of currency."

May Open Tomorrow

He said that the treasury will not authorize any bank reopenings before tomorrow but already "has taken steps to secure information through proper authorities as to the

TWO CHICAGO BANKS ARE CONSOLIDATED

CHICAGO, March 10 (AP) — Out of two affiliated Chicago banks arose today a single institution which its officials said had assets amounting to $700,000,000. It would open they said with the lifting of the presidential proclamation.

The move was announced by Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National bank. He said the First Union Trust and Savings bank, the state bank affiliate of First National, had been merged into the larger institution "in view of recent developments and the prospect that banks which are members of the Federal Reserve system may enjoy wider privileges."

"HIGHEST TEST"
at the price of ordinary gasoline

Today there is one big, outstanding topic of discussion whenever experts talk about gasoline.

At the conventions of petroleum technicians . . . in the meetings of automobile engine designers . . . in almost every issue of the magazines devoted to the oil and gas industry . . . the subject that comes up over and over again is VOLATILITY.

Everywhere, there is greater recognition, than ever before, of the fact that volatility is the most important property in gasoline.

You may not care for technical details. You may not know that volatility is defined as "the ability to evaporate and become vapor." But since high volatility (high test) gives truly startling improvement in performance, you can't help being vitally interested in the fact that

Phillips 66 has 78% more volatility than any other leading gasoline.

This is a powerful, outstanding fact. It tells you why Phillips 66 saves you money. Every gallon, every drop of this greater gasoline has more volatility, has higher gravity, is higher test.

Right now, Phillips 66 gravity ranges from 65.6° to 80.5°. And it does not cost 3¢ extra per gallon. No, sir! As the world's largest producer of natural high gravity gasoline, Phillips can afford to give you amazingly high gravity gasoline at the price of ordinary motor fuel.

The very first time you try a tankful, your engine quickly tells you that this high test and high anti-knock gasoline IS different. You actually feel the added power and snap, the new speed of get-away and smoother running. You get more miles to the gallon and . . . the fastest cold weather starting you have ever experienced.

Higher test (more volatility) is the quality in Phillips 66 which brings you this wonderful combination of motoring improvements. And this high test is yours, without a single penny of higher price, at every Orange and Black 66 shield. For the gas that is easy on your engine and your pocketbook, Phill-up with Phillips 66 . . . and don't forget, when you drain—refill with Phillips 66 Motor Oil, the new scientific lubricant which offers the same extra value always given by Phillips 66 gasoline.

What Is CONTROLLED VOLATILITY?

Everyone knows that weather affects ordinary gasoline, that temperature affects engine performance. Obviously the weather cannot be controlled; so Phillips insures perfect performance by CONTROLLING the VOLATILITY of the gasoline. Phillips pioneered this scientific method of matching gasoline to driving conditions. Always, it makes full allowance for differences caused by climate and geographical location. Whatever any engine in any city needs, to attain maximum efficiency and ideal performance under its climatic conditions, is exactly what Controlled Volatility puts into Phillips 66.

Phillips 66 — Also Phillips 66 Ethyl at the regular price of Ethyl Gasoline

UNIQUE — A gasoline of U. S. Motor grade at a competitive price

Phillips 66 MOTOR OIL — BIG NEWS! This oil lubricates perfectly.. even at 62° below Freezing

Our Position As A Service Store Made It Possible To Contribute Something During The Present Emergency

Trained in the idea that service should be more than just a word—schooled in the theory that a liberal policy toward both the interest of our customers and the requirements of our city in general is an obligation—subscribing to the thought that we have a greater responsibility to you, our customer, than that of merely "separating you from your money" (when you have it)—we are truly thankful that we have been able in a small way to render some manner of extra service during this unusual emergency. During this period we have found that we have had no occasion to materially alter our regular established policies. They have been proven sound practices for operation during this period of stress just as they were for operation under normal conditions. It has not been necessary for you to suggest charge tickets just because you did not have the cash, for we have always offered charge privileges to those found worthy of this accommodation. We have not found it necessary to refuse you the use of your checking accounts either in the purchase of merchandise or in the settlement of accounts, but instead we have been able to furnish actual cash change in a limited way, where it was an accommodation. All of this we regard as a matter of service—part of the things you have a right to expect from a SERVICE STORE that really believes in SERVICE.

Yes, we believe this service store truly offers you a little different type treatment than prevails in many quarters where the only claim to service might be summed in language similar to this—"The Greatest Copper Lined Hod ever offered at positively the lowest price ever quoted in the World".

DELAY TRYING LOUDERBACK

IMPEACHMENT IS SET MONDAY IN HOUSE AND SENATE

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP)—Senators were ready to try Federal Judge Louderback of California on impeachment charges yesterday, but inability of the house to prosecute the case at the time brought a postponement until Monday.

After senators weer sworn in to act as Jurors and Vice President Garner took the special oath required for the senate to sit as a court, Senator Norris (R., Neb.) in charge, was informed the house could not proceed.

Managers Not Named

This, Norris explained to his colleagues, was because the house had not been able to select managers to present ts prosecution, to succeed the managers whose terms died with the 72nd congress Saturday.

Vice President Garner, speaker when the house voted impeachment of Louderback, informed the senate he had not voted or expressed an opinion at that time and indicated if members felt he should not preside, he would step aside. There was no comment from members.

The charges against Louderback accuse him of malfeasance in office in connection with several receivership cases to come before him, and allege "tyranny, oppression, partiality, improper and unlawful conduct and misbehavior."

MATTERN INJURED AS STEER BOOSTS HIM OVER FENCE

SAN ANGELO, March 10.—(AP)—Jimmy Mattern, trans-Atlantic speed record holder, suffered minor injuries when he made a forced landing over a corral fence on the O-H Triangle ranch 40 miles from here Thursday afternoon.

Mattern, who in his early residence in San Angelo, aspired to be a cowboy, has been trying his hand at a little ranch life recently, getting himself in shape for the long grind of a round-the-world flight.

Jimmy was practicing with a rope and wasn't having much luck at doing anything but annoying a wild steer in the corral. When he got off his horse the steer took after him and the world flier went round and round the enclosure in record speed for these parts.

The second time past the gate he started to get over and the steer gave him the boost that completed the job. The injuries to his dignity were great but his bodily damage consisted of a strained shoulder and a wrenched back. He is expected to be ready to fly the last of the week.
