Outline Of Business Of TFWC Convention Developed At Executive Meetings

State Educational Recommendations Appear; Lurid Pictures Are Protested

HOUSTON, Nov. 11. (AP)—The Texas Federation of Women's clubs made ready for work on the convention floor when reports of chairman of various committees were received Monday at the thirty-second annual session of the executive board. Mrs. R. F. Lindsay of Mount Pleasant, state president, presided.

With receipt of the reports, the outline of the business of the convention was developed and a plea before the convention for a protest of "lurid" theater advertising and "salacious" titles appeared in prospect.

The reports also recommended that the organization exert its influence for curbing mob violence. The body was asked to officially abhor lynching.

Consider Libraries
Many recommendations had to do with education and the securing of better educational facilities in the state. A recommendation also was made that the women's clubs of the state sponsor in the legislature a bill to give counties power to levy a tax to support county libraries.

Mrs. W. R. Potter of Bowie, past president of the State Federation and state director on the General Federation board, reported on the program being sponsored by the General Federation to raise a $2,000,000 endowment fund, and recommended that clubs of the Texas Federation take an active part in the campaign. The fund will be used to finance the various phases of the work of the General Federation.

The executive board appointed a committee to work out ways and means for raising the fund. The personnel of the committee, as named, follows: Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, past president of both the national and state organizations; Mrs. Florence C. Fiere, former treasurer of the national body, and Mrs. Lindsay and Mrs. Potter.

Protest Lurid Pictures
Mrs. J. K. Beretta of San Antonio made the report in which the Federation was asked to protest against the showing of "lurid" pictures in theater advertising and against the use of "salacious" titles for pictures.

Inclusion of a course in music on the regular curriculum of the school of the state was recommended by Mrs. Walter Robinson of Dallas. Mrs. Robinson suggested that a credit be given for the course to apply on the list of credits needed for graduation.

Mrs. Bob Barker of Fort Worth, chairman of the Federation's legislative committee, presented a resolution asking the Federation endorse a plan for a gigantic celebration of the centennial of Texas liberty in 1936.

Dr. Annie Webb Blanton presented for consideration by the convention a program calling for a number of changes through legislation in the state's public school system. The program would seek special consideration for rural school children and

Mrs. Marrs To Talk On Child Welfare At Conference Of Parents And Teachers

AUSTIN, Nov. 10. (Special)—Mrs. R. M. N. Marrs, past president of both the national congress of Parents and Teachers and the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, will give a talk on the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection on Wednesday afternoon, November 19, during the twenty-second annual convention of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, which will be held in San Angelo Nov. 17-21. Mrs. Marrs, who is a member of the important White House Conference committee for the study of the preschool child, will bring to the Texas body a first hand knowledge of the method of work of the different committees engaged in the study.

Mrs. Marrs says, "Dr. H. E. Barnard, director of the White House Conference, stated recently that he knew of no other groups so well able to interpret the findings of the conference and to put into actual use the recommendations made, as the 20,000 local parent-teacher associations scattered over the country."

"Of these 20,000 associations," Mrs. Marrs continued, "2000 are in Texas and the vast majority of them are earnestly engaged in intelligent study of the child."

President to Speak
Mrs. Marrs announces that Herbert Hoover, president of the United States, will give the opening address when the White House Conference on child health and protection convenes. The president's address will be broadcast over a nationwide network of radio stations so that everyone may have the privilege of hearing him. The hour will be 9:00 p. m. Eastern standard time but listeners are asked to watch the newspapers for final announcements.

Mrs. Marrs urges parent-teacher associations to plan special meetings to hear this radio talk by President Hoover for the work of the conference is of vital importance to all parents and teachers. She says, "Over 1200 men and women, already engaged in professional work in the interest of children, make up the various committees and sub-committees of the conference. These experts on all phases of child development are bringing their experience and research to bear upon the recognized problems of childhood. Their studies will determine the present status of the health and well-being of the children of the United States. They will report what is being done, and will recommend what ought to be done and how to do it. Parents and teachers cannot afford to miss the opportunity to hear President Hoover."

In Texas other child welfare workers connected with the White House conference are Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, state president of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, who has been appointed official delegate from Texas by Governor Dan Moody. Mrs. L. E. Ledbetter, director of health in the Texas congress, and Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, former publicity director for the Foundation of Parent Education in the University of Texas. The last two were invited by President Hoover to attend as delegates to the White House conference.

Mrs. Marrs calls attention also to the fact that the address of Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior and chairman of the White House conference, will be given at 12:45 noon Eastern Standard Time on Saturday, November 23. This address will also be broadcast over a nationwide network of radio stations. The members who hear President Hoover will also want to hear Secretary Wilbur sum up the conference.

Mrs. T. W. Sawyer Has Circle Meeting

Mrs. T. W. Sawyer, 2324 Broadway was hostess to members of Circle seven of the First Baptist Woman's Missionary society Monday afternoon. The Bible lesson was given by Mrs. J. H. Hankins and there were six women present.

Mrs. R. C. Goodwin was received as a new member. A talk on personal service was made by Mrs. A. C. Jackson.

KOTEX

The New Sanitary Pad which deodorizes

Kotex Company, Chicago

Kotex is five times as absorbent as surgical cotton; it is designed to fit perfectly; it deodorizes. Hospitals use it—so should you.

YOU can't be too careful in choosing sanitary pads. Your health, your comfort are at stake. Old-fashioned methods are trying, uncomfortable, unhygienic. Substitutes for the best are unnecessary. Specify Kotex. It costs so little now that women in every walk of life are using it. And once they try it, they never go back to other methods again.

Designed to fit perfectly. Corners are rounded and tapered. It deodorizes. It is unbelievably soft and yielding. And it stays soft. Indeed, Kotex is guaranteed to stay soft longer, to last longer than any other sanitary pad.

Kotex is made of Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding, laid in many air-cooled layers which you can adjust to your own needs. Tests have shown that Kotex is actually five times as absorbent as cotton.

Today, 85% of our leading hospitals use Kotex absorbent. They specify Kotex for their women patients. They use millions and millions of pads a year. Surely you could ask no safer guide in your own choice of sanitary protection than this overwhelming preference by hospitals.

Next time you buy sanitary pads, specify Kotex.

SYNOPSIS

Terry Malone's promising football career at Princeton is cut short in his freshman year when "Red" Thomas, jealous of Terry, breaks his arm in a quarrel. A year later, Terry returns to college. The animosity between him and Red is resumed. Terry realizes he will have a hard fight to compete with Red, who has advanced a year and is Princeton's football hope. They both love Margot Blair, but Red's wealth gives him the upper hand. One Sunday, Margot asks Terry to take her to chapel. They meet Red who accuses Terry of two-timing. Later, Terry hears Red has been suspended for six months and his hopes rise.

Terry takes Red's place and gains national football fame. He goes to Margot's coming out party.

He is furious at Margot's attention to Red. Later, when Margot and Terry are together all anger is forgotten. Terry meets a school pal, Dan Hart with an actress, Marie Cranston.

CHAPTER XVI

Marie Cranston was christened Marie O'Reilly by her parents, who had been killed, when she was eight in a railroad wreck near Chicago. She was placed in an orphan asylum and for six years lived in a monotonous life only made endurable by a youthful flirtation with Dan Hart who was in the boys' section of the same asylum. It started by sending notes in laundry, which the girls made up and carried to the boys in the bags. Through the medium of the laundry bags, they got to know each other and had signals to identify the other across the courtyard. They were mere children then, but life in the asylum was not only hard, it was devoid of human affection. The relationship was the only bright spot in an existence hungry for companionship. They thrived on it until the day Marie was hired out to a Nebraska farmer as a servant girl. Unable to stand the asylum after Marie had gone, Dan managed to escape and tried to find her, even tracing her to the farm.

But Marie was unable to withstand the continued advances of the farm hands and ran away with a touring carnival. This lasted for three months until the show landed in Chicago. She left the carnival, worked as a waitress and then secured a job in the chorus of a burlesque show. She was picked up by a smart Jew who knew her and he placed her with a traveling stock company.

Going from one small town to another, she chanced to read in a local paper about Dan Hart winning a scholarship to Princeton. She immediately wrote to him and the correspondence continued until she came to New York.

Now they were together. Sitting in Marie's box apartment in the East Fifth, with her name in electric lights along Broadway, these two waifs, denied the devotion of parents and friends, lavished affections on each other, sharing common sorrows and joys that cropped out in their daily lives. Marie was delighted with Dan's football success. And there was not a happier person in the world than Dan when Marie brought down the house. He clipped every press notice and saved them.

Dan spent his week-ends with Marie and she supplied him with spending money to cover all college expenses. She even demanded that he have his clothes tailored at a famous English establishment on Fifth Avenue. She had placed in a bank money enough to cover his expenses through law school.

Both had been "bumped pretty hard" and they were contemptuous of convention. But Terry sensed in their relationship a determination to live beautifully and intelligently. They considered the world's opinion its applause, nothing but the pastime of children building houses on the sand.

When Terry went home for a week-end, he sat with his mother before the fireplace in the low, oak-paneled living room, picking up the threads of their separate lives. He told her about Dan and Marie, their different standards and point of view.

All Dressed Up

This weird-looking gentleman is neither a witch-doctor nor a bogey man; he's a dandy of the Pinto tribe of Australian aborigines, all dressed up for a tribal dance, photographed recently by an expedition to Central Australia. His tribe, among the most primitive of Australian bushmen, is said to live under stone-age conditions similar to those that prevailed in Europe 3000 years ago.

"They just don't seem to care about things most people do," said Terry.

"How delightful," said his mother, who was tremendously interested and asked innumerable questions. "Don't you like that, Terry?"

"We don't want everybody to be the same. I only ask that people be good at their game, merchants, thieves, writers, ministers; it doesn't matter, if they do it with gusto and sincerity."

"Bring Dan down for a week-end. I'd like to know Marie, too. Those people are real to me, Terry. Flesh and blood and dreams and heart-break. They're alive!"

"I know what those two have been through. Success is after all merely a relative term, so watch their dust. They'll go roaring through obstacles to the top of their game. Take Dan. He's the kind of boy your classmates will be talking about with surprise fifteen years from now. You know the sort of thing."

"Here's a picture of that famous lawyer, Dan Hart, who won the such and such a case. Say, I know that fellow. Was in my class at Princeton. He was on the football team, but who would ever think that he'd—I'm going to look him up."

"I hope you're right, mother," said Terry. "I'd rather play around at parties and things with Burne and Sonny, but when it comes right down to it I admire Dan. He's another breed of dogs."

That night, after Terry rushed off to catch the train for Princeton, Mrs. Malone reflected on Dan and Marie's desperate struggle to get ahead, brightened by flashes of intelligence, of sacrifice, that verified her philosophy of life, which she hoped Terry would understand—that existence for everyone was something of a desperate struggle that looked easy from a distance but was very difficult, made endurable by sparks of valor, of courage and sacrifice, something that seemed, on meditation, to be futile and absurd, but only worth while because it was a fight, a game, far more interesting than that played on the field of Princeton.

Red Thomas returned to college at the beginning of the second term in late February. You saw him swaggering along Nassau Street, shaking hands with townspeople; along Prospect Street roaring with delight and slapping classmates on the back, who in turn welcomed him noisily into the fold. You saw him loitering along boarded walks in front of McCosh Hall, surrounded by grinning friends.

Terry took in the scene, his body slack in an easy posture against the door of McCosh Fifty. After all, undergrads expected so little from athletic heroes. Freshmen, hurrying by, eyed Red furtively, for here was one of their tin gods. Would they ever climb to such prominence, to such popularity?

Red's go-to-hell attitude toward professors and instructors, and exaggerated stories of his suspension, stirred the respect of thin-chested grinds and the more high-minded students. Red was the big bad boy of the campus, a fellow who just didn't give a damn about anybody or anything.

He carried his dubious honors well. Genial, democratic, bolsterous. "Hello, Joe! Well, well, still fooling the Dean, eh? . . . Glad to see you again. . . . Howdy, Chuck, hitting them on the handle this year? . . . Looking great old man. . . . Pete, you old soak, shake!"

But in the club Red had lost ground. During his forced absence, Burne Warwick forged ahead, in line for senior presidency. Sonny Drayton was in charge of the Bicker Committee and, naturally, he selected a section formed around Terry Malone, the most sought-after individual in the sophomore class.

Red's extravagant threats to "burn the damn club house down" subsided into sullen indifference and a reluctant acceptance of Terry Malone as a club mate after an unusually quiet Bicker Week in March. It was a silent and decisive triumph for Terry but he did not rub it in on Red. Rather, the arch enemies swallowed their hatred and survived several hilarious drinking parties and other festivals of good fellowship to cement friendship between the two classes.

With baseball season tumbling right after club election, the hours were too short, now, too crowded with things to do. Terry thought of Margot, and wrote to her frequently for the days were warm and soft and there was something that stirred the blood on spring evenings when he sat on the club veranda and looked out over low fields of rolling country where deep blue twilight lingered lovingly.

May descended with the usual devastating effect on the little college town. Girls in shining blue and green and red roadsters cluttered up the shaded sides of Prospect Street. The grandstand at ball games was spashed with living color or animated by these pleasantly disturbing creatures. Terry persisted pitched and ran over the diamond in a futile attempt to forget Margot. He never succeeded.

With approaching summer, the lay, dreaming days arrived. Even the threatening June examinations could not get Terry into a studious mood. He was always out of doors, sitting on the grass down by the lake, playing baseball or indulging in cheery loafing along sun-scorched Nassau Street. Hook-nosed tailors, down from New Haven, continually grabbed his arm and hustled him into shops where the latest spring styles were displayed. (To Be Continued)

EQUIPMENT BIDS TO BE OPENED

Bids are to be opened Wednesday at the office of the Lubbock Independent school district on approximately $80,000 worth of equipment for the new senior high school at Avenue T and 19th street. A. C. Jackson, business manager said today.

"I am expecting about 20 to 30 bidders on the entire bidding," Mr. Jackson said. "There has been considerable interest among people who handle school supplies in the contracts."

Four general bids are expected, including about 75 items of equipment. Some of the bidders will submit propositions on the furnishings of equipment as a whole, while others will submit bids on only one or two items.

A number of local firms are expected to bid.

FIRE CHIEF ELECTED

DIMMITT, Nov. 11.—(Special)—J. C. Springer, recently elected chief of the fire department, just organized here, has resigned. He is succeeded by Ernest Medkief, one of the volunteers.

"There are scoops in industry as in publishing. And it takes a great deal of enterprise to score them. Your use of the Ultra Violet Ray in the 'Toasting' of the LUCKY STRIKE tobaccos is a scoop that makes front page news for every smoker."

Herbert Fleishhacker

Everyone knows that sunshine mellows — that's why TOASTING includes the use of the Ultra Violet Ray. LUCKY STRIKE — the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobaccos — the Cream of the Crop — THEN — "IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so TOASTING removes harmful irritants that cause throat irritation and coughing. No wonder 20,679 physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating!

Your Throat Protection — against irritation — against cough

Consistent with its policy of laying the facts before the public, The American Tobacco Company has invited Mr. Herbert Fleishhacker to review the reports of the distinguished men who have witnessed LUCKY STRIKE'S famous Toasting Process. The statement of Mr. Fleishhacker appears on this page.

Thought For Today Let the woman learn in silence with all submission.—I Timothy 2:11.

Didn't Go In a recent article in the Review of Reviews about Adolf Hitler, the German dictator, there is the following significant statement:

When Armistice Day came in 1918 the human race, collectively and individually, had had all the war it wanted.

But it is youth that makes Hitler. The young people, who did not fight in the war, voted five million strong for their hero.

Considering the fact that Hitler stands for a program that probably would land Germany, and the rest of Europe, in a head-on war, there is a good deal to think about in that remark.

It is not the old generation that we generally overlook to fact: a new generation, which knows the World War only by hearsay, is beginning to come on the scene.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says: That Girl on Broadway says it's hard for the modern-day kiddies to say their prayers at mother's knees

THIS being Armistice Day, The Plainsman is going to lay off all his usual fusses and forget, for a few minutes, the strictly local line of discussion.

Briefly, the subject which is uppermost in the mind of The Plainsman today is that of armaments, preparedness and the infusion of things military into the minds of the youth of America.

As he types these lines The Plainsman is well aware of the assaults which may fall upon his unprotected head for 'clanking the sword' on a day set aside to commemorate the halting of the most terrible conflict in the history of man.

IT were possible—if it were human nature—to keep peace from one end of the world to the other, The Plainsman would be the last person in the world to advise that this or any other country pay attention to troops, to armaments or to anything which even smacks of war.

When Armistice Day came in 1918 the human race, collectively and individually, had had all the war it wanted.

But it is youth that makes Hitler. The young people, who did not fight in the war, voted five million strong for their hero.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The well was quite a sight to see. The top was round as it could be. The top was round as it could be.

"Let me peek in," one Tiny said. "It looks nice to see water. I'd enjoy a cooling drink." The Travel Man said, "Careful, now, that you don't bump your head."

Just then a woman came in view. She promptly shouted, "Howdy do! It seems you lads are thirsty. Can I be of any aid? You'll find a cup there, on a shelf. Go right ahead and help yourself! I'll promise that the water's pure. You needn't be afraid."

And she was right. The Tinies tried the water. Then one of them sighed, "Oh, my, but that tastes very good. I'm tickled that we found a lovely little spot like this. It's something that I wouldn't miss. The water's surely cold when it comes trickling from the ground."

Then Copsy noticed that she had a full pail soon was by her side. And then the Tinies each took turns and drank a little more.

The friendly Travel Man then said, "We'd best be moving on ahead. We must not spend too long here."

DEMOCRATIC CHIEFS PLEDGE CONSTRUCTIVE LEGISLATION

Cooperation In Avoiding Chaos Which Might Develop In Congress Assured

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Seven national Democratic leaders have joined in a pronouncement pledging the party to a constructive legislative program and to cooperation in avoiding the chaos which might develop from the congressional deadlock resulting from Tuesday's election.

Apparently still hopeful of controlling the next house, the Democratic chiefs asserted:

"The Democratic party faces its duty with a firm determination to permit no thought of political advantage to swerve it from the course that is best for the country."

Leaders Issue Statement

The statement was signed by Democratic leaders in congress—Senator Robinson of Arkansas and Representative Garner of Texas; the last three presidential candidates of the party—James M. Cox, John W. Davis, and Alfred E. Smith, and John J. Raskob and Jouett Shouse of the national committee.

The Democrats disclaimed any intention of planning a general revision of the tariff and said the party still stood on its last national platform which called for periodic individual rate changes recommended by a non-partisan tariff commission. The last of the statement follows:

A remarkable victory has been given the Democratic party. We, however, regard it less as a political triumph than as a great opportunity for constructive service.

Correct Situation

For a year and a half the Democrats have conducted as vigorous a campaign as they could, not to destroy the administration, not to accomplish the downfall of any political figure, but to resist and to correct a situation that had become well-nigh intolerable.

The minority in the senate and the house of representatives fought bravely and sincerely to prevent the enactment of a tariff bill which was not only the apotheosis of bad economy but was doubly dangerous because of the conditions in the country. Certainly with the nation in the throes of a ghastly business depression it was no time to place a greater burden upon consumers and an additional handicap on business.

Despite the opposition of the Democrats and the progressive wing of the Republican party and over the protests of leading economists of the nation that bill was forced on punish anybody or to exalt itself. To the extent of its ability it will steer the legislation of the nation in a straight line toward the goal of prosperity, nor permit itself to be diverted either by political expediency or a desire to show that it now dominates the enacting branch of the government.

Not To Be Obstructive

"To this end the seventy-second congress will not be an obstructive body. It will not seek to embarrass the president of the United States, but will gladly cooperate with him and with members of the opposite party in the house and senate in every measure that conduces to the welfare of the country. It has in mind no rash policies, but will seek as carefully as possible to remedy the evils that are afflicting the nation.

"As to the tariff, the Democratic policy, announced in its platform and through its candidates in the last presidential campaign, is directly opposed to periodic general revisions, which inevitably bring in their trial a shameful load of scandal and hideous dislocation of our whole industrial and commercial system. Democrats in the present congress sought the enactment of a plan that would limit changes to those obviously required—changes in individual schedules on the recommendation of non-partisan experts in consonance with the dictates of economic science. With such a process tariff alteration would proceed with the maximum of patience and caution, and would cause no earthquakes in our business structure.

Nothing further. "Whatever changes may be considered necessary to rid the present act of its outstanding enormities, nothing is further from the minds of those who will direct legislation on the Democratic side than a general revision of the tariff.

"The one bright spot in the financial gloom of the present situation is the federal reserve system. That feature of our government, a Democratic accomplishment, has been praised by President Coolidge, by President Hoover and by Secretary Mellon.

"If there are delays, embarrassments and confusion in the seventy-second congress the fault will lie with the failure of the other party to join with us in a conscientious effort to subordinate politics to the public good.

"The Democratic party realizes that it has not been given a charter of autocratic authority but has merely been entrusted with a great task, and that on its ability to perform this task fearlessly, justly, honestly, and skillfully depends the length of its tenure and the extension of its authority in the government."

(Signed.)

FOUR HELD AFTER DOPE SEIZURE IN McLENNEN COUNTY

WACO, Nov. 11 (AP)—Approximately 1,000 cubes of morphine averaging about two and one-half grains each, and estimated at retail bootleg price to be worth well over $2,500, have been confiscated here within the past few weeks by city detectives and federal men.

Three men and one woman, two of the men alleged by police to be the largest wholesale "cannon" dealers in Central Texas, have been charged with sale and possession of narcotics in federal court, and probably will be tried during the next term of court here.

One of the men, Roland Thompson, whose automobile was confiscated by officers after they allegedly found 650 cubes of morphine hidden in the upholstery, was one of a trio who, in 1928, burglarized a dry goods company here of several thousand dollars worth of furs and kidnaped Policeman J. V. Gunderman, who surprised them in their operations.

Thompson is in the McLennan county jail by federal men, unable to make bond of $2,500 set Friday afternoon by United States Commissioner A. P. McCormick.

His wife, who was arrested with Thompson on the Temple road Thursday night, also was arraigned

A CROSS-SECTION OF CURRENT CONVERSATIONS IN CONOCOLAND

"HERE'S ANOTHER ADVERTISEMENT ON GERM PROCESSED OIL . . . I CHANGED TO IT YESTERDAY—AND FOR ONCE JIM AND I ARE AGREED"

Even the women are becoming conscious of one oil brand, instead of just asking for "a quart of oil." That brand is rapidly becoming Conoco Germ-Processed.

The reason is simple. For, while these women don't think much of technical discussions of "adsorption," and "Penetrative Lubricity," every one of them knows what we mean when we say: "This oil actually penetrates metal surfaces." Then, the sensational proof of Conoco Germ-Processed oil in the recent Pike's Peak Tests and at the Indianapolis and Altoona races, appeals to practical-minded women who want to be shown.

For there is just as much difference in motor oils as there is in cold cream. Some oils, as with some inferior creams, simply lay on the surfaces to which they are applied. While Germ-Processed oil, like a fine cold cream, penetrates deep into the "pores" (there are pores in metal, you know) and there performs its true function.

The assurance and peace of mind which comes from this penetrating quality of Germ-Processed oil, instantly stamps this as every woman's favorite brand. That's why we see both men and women so well represented among our customers . . . at the Sign of the Red Triangle.

CONOCO GERM PROCESSED PARAFFIN BASE MOTOR OIL

Following the Pike's Peak Tests, where Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil was tested side by side with three other popular, nationally known oils, the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association issued Certificate of Performance number 2268, comprising 14 points, of which the point below is one.

POINT NO. 8

"That carbon deposits collected from the combustion chambers and cylinder heads and weighed by the official chemist were shown by the records of the test to be less after the use of the subject oil than after the use of the comparables."

The recent Pike's Peak tests disclosed some startling facts about motor oil . . . Free booklet at all CONOCO stations.

An Atlas White stucco finish for the cost of two paintings

● Aside from architectural changes, the average old home of frame construction can be overcoated with stucco made with Atlas White portland cement for about the cost of painting the same house twice. And such a treatment of its exterior is a permanent improvement.

● Besides its economy and permanence, there are many other qualities recommending Atlas White stucco to those who plan to build a new home or remodel their old one. There are few materials with as wide a range of color and texture. Atlas White stucco is weather-proof and fireproof. (A stucco coating on an old frame house of course does not make it absolutely fireproof, but does make it fire-resistant.)

● Ask your building material dealer, architect or contractor to help you with suggestions and prices on finishing your home with Atlas White stucco.

Atlas Cement is made at Waco—by Texas workers—of Texas materials . . . Along with other economical quality products, your building material dealer can quickly furnish you either Atlas portland cement (gray) or non-staining Atlas White portland cement. Ask for Atlas cements.

HAD A PAIN IN BACK AND SIDES

Lady Says She Took Cardui On Her Mother's Advice and It Helped Her.

New Orleans, La.—"About five years ago I was in bad health," writes Mrs. A. C. Lightel, of 2225 Marais Street, this city.

"I suffered with a pain in my back and sides. I would have severe headaches, and I knew that I needed something to stop the pain and build me up.

"My mother had used Cardui for fourteen years and she thought it would do me good, and advised me to take it. I took about three bottles at this time, and it did help me. I did not have any more headaches or pain.

"Later, when I felt I needed something to build me up, I knew how good Cardui was so went back to it again. I took several bottles. I was all right and did not have any more trouble.

"I am glad to recommend Cardui to other young women for it is a splendid tonic."

This medicine contains nothing harmful or injurious and may be safely taken by women of all ages. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Sold everywhere.

J. H. HANKINS REPORTS MEXICO IN FAVOR OF PROJECT

Definite assurance that the Carlsbad Caverns highway will be extended down into Mexico has been given J. H. Hankins, president of the association, said after his return from Chihuahua, Mexico, where he attended a conference with Mexican officials and others. "Andres Ortiz, governor of Chihuahua, said that they had secured surveys and were surveying the route between Chihuahua and El Paso," he said. "He said that they had assurance of 500,000 pesos from the national government of Mexico for road building. Governor Ortiz said that it was his desire during the remaining two years of his administration to grade up a road to El Paso."

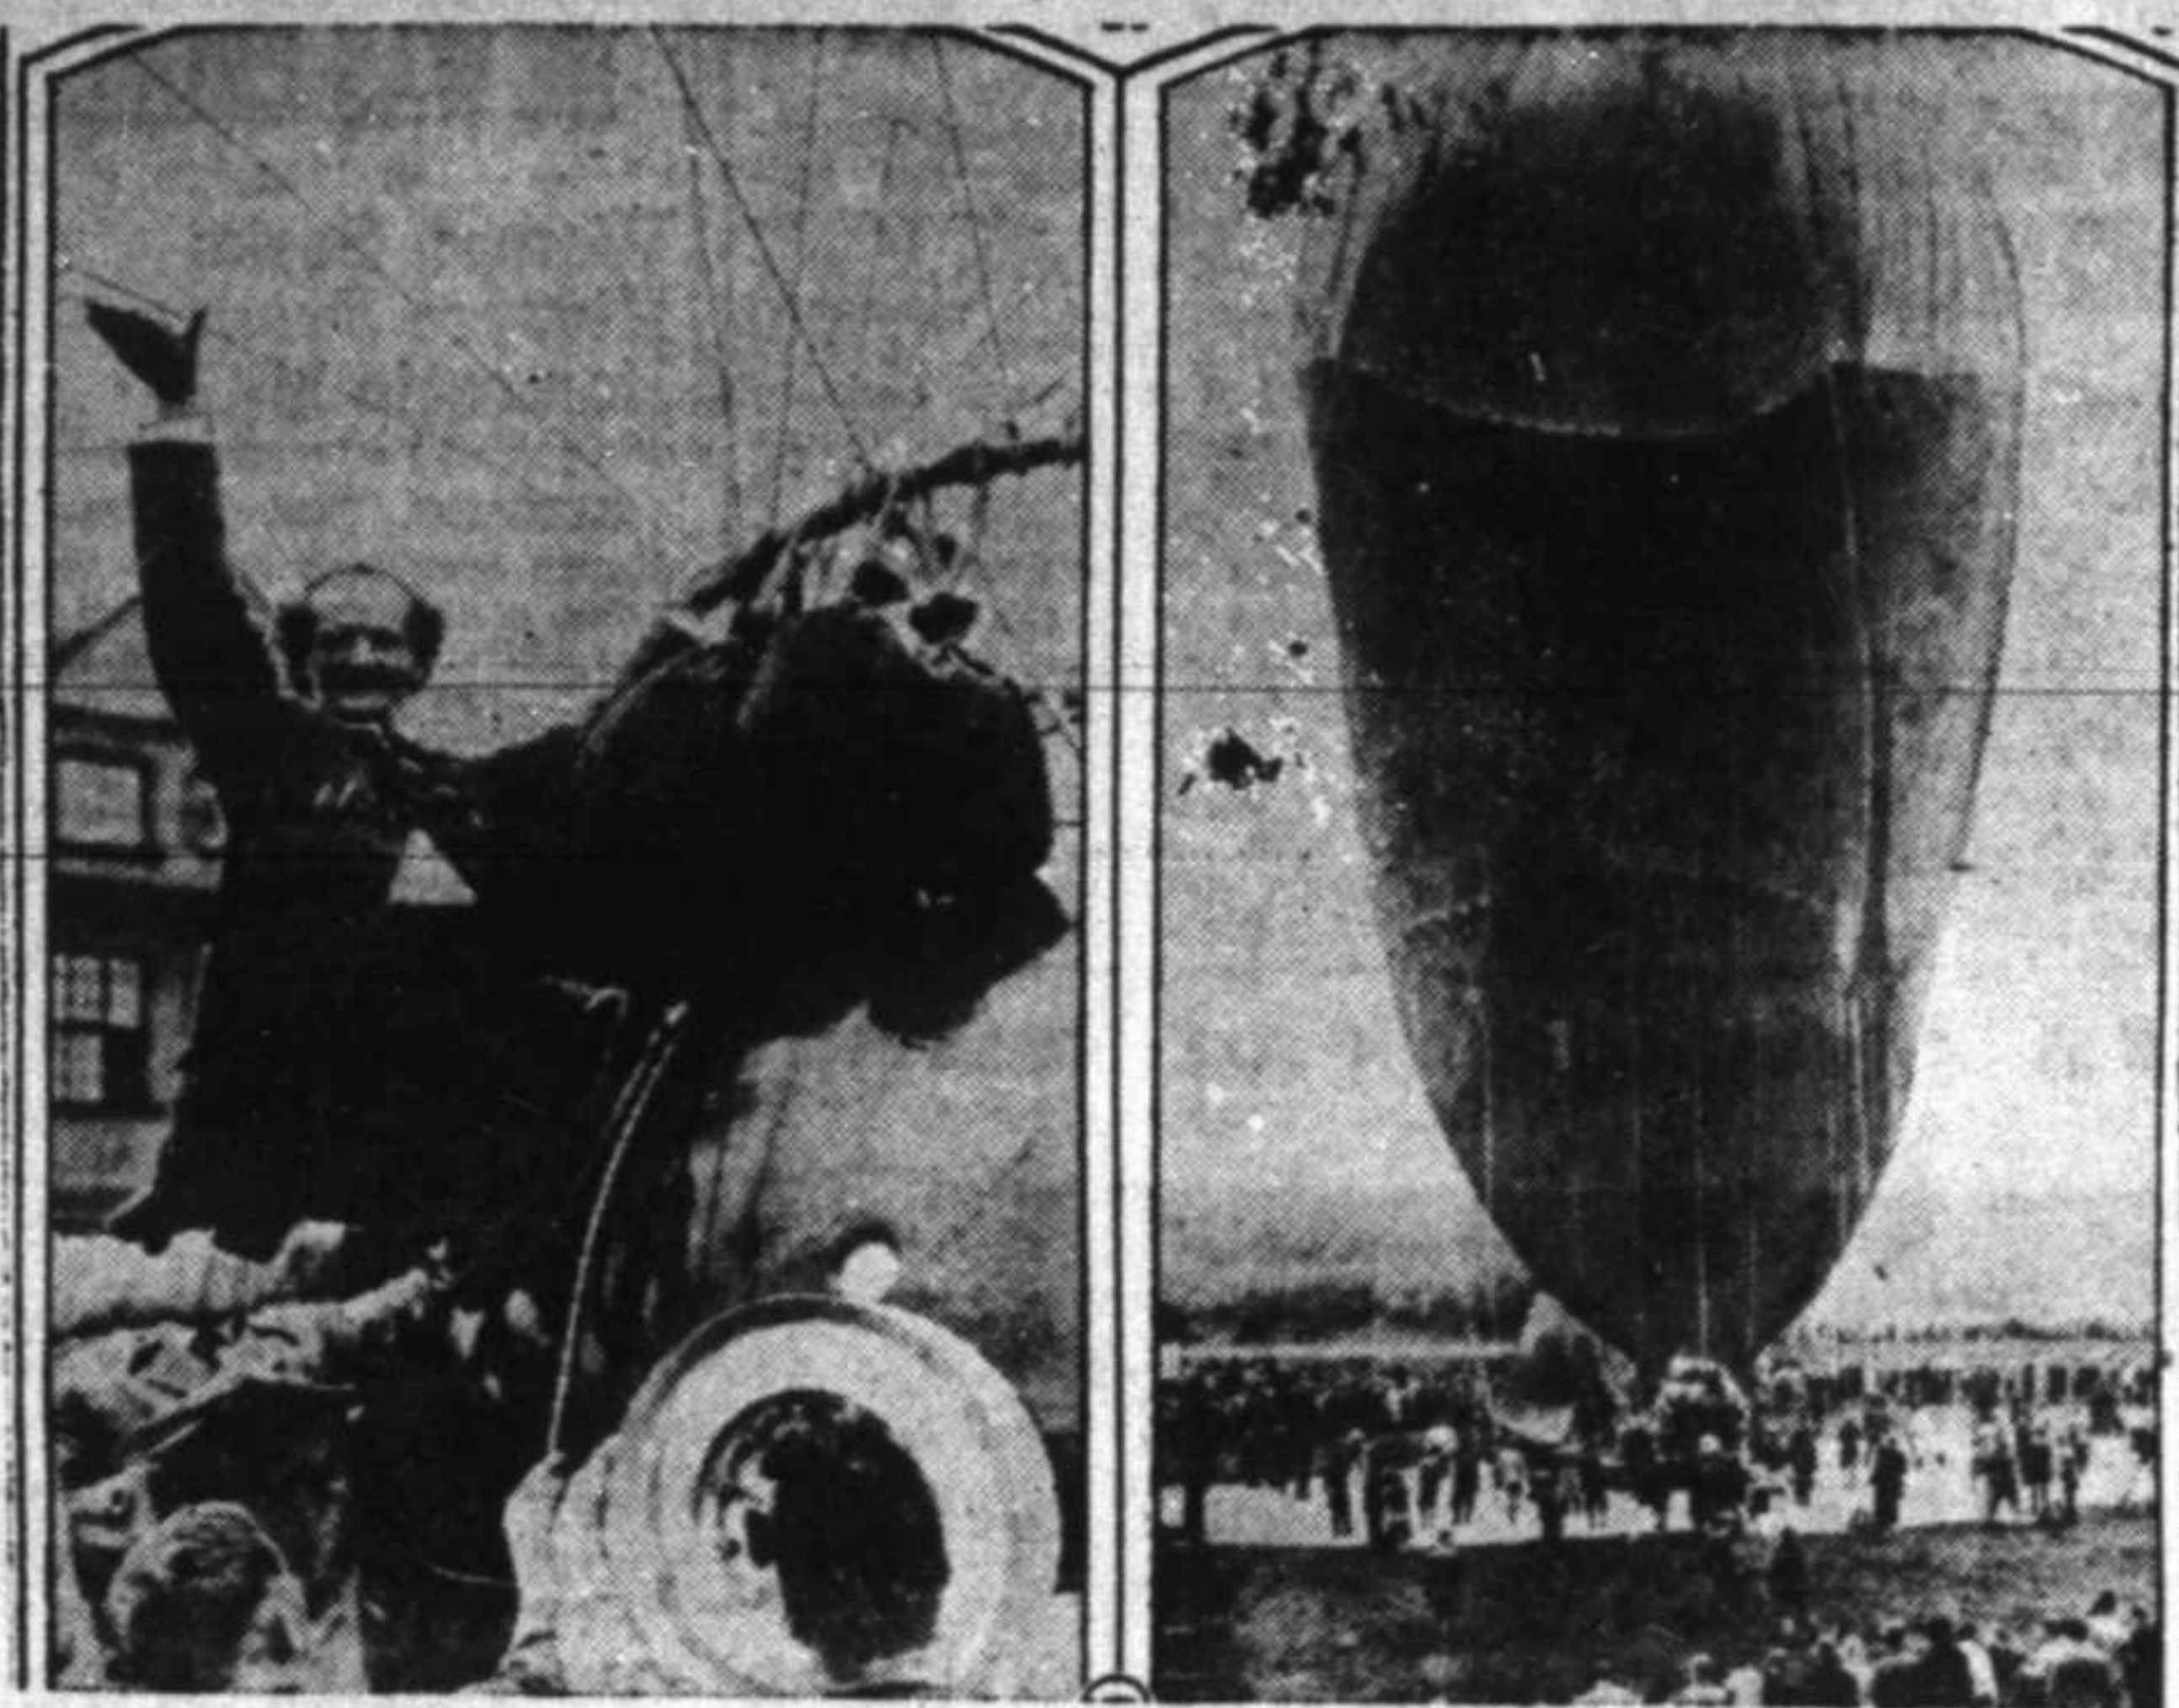

Mr. Hankins also conferred with Charoas A. Nieto, president of the Chihuahua City Chamber of Commerce and was given "definite assurance" of that organization's support. "I was informed the chamber was 100 per cent behind the plan," he added. Phillips Baber, chairman of the highway committee of the Rotary club of Chihuahua also said his organization was in sympathy with the plan, Mr. Hankins added.

County Line Man Being Buried Today

Funeral services and burial for Carl Lenox, 24, of County Line, are being conducted at Shamrock today, former home of the Lenox family. The body was sent to that place yesterday afternoon by Bynum-Morgan funeral home. Mr. Lenox died Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in a local hospital following an eight-day illness. He is survived by his parents, two brothers, Billie and Kenneth Lenox, and a sister, Ruth Lenox, all of the County Line community.

The total number of stars is unknown. It is possible to photograph more than 10,000,000 of them by a long exposure.

Scientist Fails In Try For Record Ascension

The only drawback to Professor Auguste Piccard's attempt to soar higher than man ever has before was the fact that his balloon wouldn't leave the ground. The Brussels University physicist is shown, at left, as he prematurely bade good-bye to a crowd gathered on the outskirts of Augsburg, Germany, and entered the hermetically sealed gondola in which he hoped to ride ten miles upward into the sky. But his initial attempt to set out for a scientific study of the higher altitude; was balked, because the immense, sausage-shaped balloon, pictured at right, failed to lift the metal basket from the field. He'll try again.

AGED PROSPECTOR ADMITS KNOWING LOCATION OF BULLION CACHE IN MEXICO MOUNTAINS; GOLD PART OF VILLA LOOT

EL PASO, Nov. 11.—An aged prospector and range rider for the government in 1911 when Pancho Villa was having his day on the Mexican border, has admitted here that he and a partner moved about $57,000 in gold bullion from a cache in the Quitman mountains about 118 miles southeast of El Paso. "And there is plenty more where that was," the man said. Carried Out 212 Pounds. He explained that his companion accompanied him to the cache last October. He said he carried 212 pounds of gold out to a point where it could be loaded into an automobile without letting his companion know the position of the cache. "But he went temporarily crazy," the aged prospector said. "I could see him losing his head, so I hid the gold again."

The gold involved, according to reports, was smuggled across the Mexican border by Villistas and cached. The smugglers, the prospector said, rented

FACES EXECUTION

"Window" Cow To Die Now After Research Is Over

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Pennstate Jessie II, the second cow with a "window" in her stomach, today became the mother of a calf and received her death warrant.

Coincident with the announcement of the arrival of Jessie's daughter the Penn State college vitamin research officials said they had decided sufficient experiments had been conducted through the opening in Jessie's stomach and as soon as the calf is weaned the walking laboratory would be consigned to a butcher.

Her predecessor, Jessie I, they said, revealed the secret of vitamin B formation in bovine rumen. Bacteria, experimenters showed, created vitamin B when it was not fed in the cow's ration. Recent tests with Jessie II were on cellulose formation.

The "window" was cut in the stomach of Pennstate Jessie II last spring following the death of Jessie I, after four years of laboratory service.

He said he intended to bring out some of the gold when he made the trip to the cache with it again, keeping only a small bar which he disposed of in 1925 for $1,453. The prospector expressed fears that if the gold were brought out, either the Mexican or United States government would attach the gold as smuggled goods.

YOUR INSURANCE PROTECTION MUST NOT LAG

MODERN business is restless with ambition. Never still, never satisfied, it constantly seeks new methods, new appliances, new uses. A ceaseless reshaping of practices, readjustment of facilities. Not only has modern business required new forms of indemnity, but new manufacturing processes and new buildings of undreamed proportions have brought new fire hazards.

STOCK FIRE INSURANCE

has not only met the insurance requirements, but by research, engineering and laboratory tests has discounted the new hazards to such an extent that its average cost has constantly declined for more than twenty years.

Under the system of establishing fire insurance rates, Stock Fire Insurance company engineers have surveyed practically every commercial building in the United States, whether insured or not, and have on file minute details of construction, occupancy, protection, exposure and other information relating to fire hazards.

Stock Fire Insurance surveys buildings and their contents—studies neighborhood and community conditions—offers advice—makes recommendations—points out hazards—establishes facts by which risks are measured. To this end it maintains Underwriters' Laboratories, where thousands of materials and devices are tested for safety purposes, and, when approved, are so labelled.

In many other ways it contributes to commercial stability by providing standards of safety.

TODAY

We Will Be Closed To CELEBRATE PEACE

We have discovered the waste and futility and horror of war. Our eyes have pierced the veil of hypocrisy and seen the too-long-hidden greed of nations.

But what of the sacrifice made by our war heroes? What of their idealism? All reverence! They were beautifully brave men. They loved their country. They gave themselves to a cause.

And we pray that their cause was not an illusion, that the "War to End War" will prove more than a catchphrase. It will... if the world has learned to honor its warriors as the givers of Peace.

Let Us Pause Today in Memory of Those Brave Warriors Who Sacrificed their Lives for Our Country

A quality you would want if you knew all of the facts

Fact No. 15. The hand that makes a cheap thing falters, if ever so slightly, when it attempts to make a fine thing. The finest things invariably come from those who make only fine things. Schilling is the one coffee roaster who produces one grade of coffee only. There are no 2nd or 3rd grade Schilling coffees--no cheap blends--no dual standards of quality. There are many excellent coffees--but, of them all, where is the next apt to come from?

HE IS NOT UNKNOWN

Nobody knows his name; yet simple heroism needs no other calling. Nobody knows his creed . . . or whether he had a creed . . . yet no more sublime lesson than self-sacrifice is learned within church-walls.

He may have been a toiling clerk whose scope encompassed only the task before him. Or his life may have been as far-flung as the mist-blue western hills toward which he pushed his plow.

Who he was, or what he was, matters little.

He was American. The sun-warmed Virginia hillside where he sleeps is his soil for it is American. The ideals for which he died were the fruit of a tradition characteristically American; a tradition of freedom that has heard ax strokes in a clearing, pen scratches at Independence Hall and "Cuba Libre" at San Juan Hill.

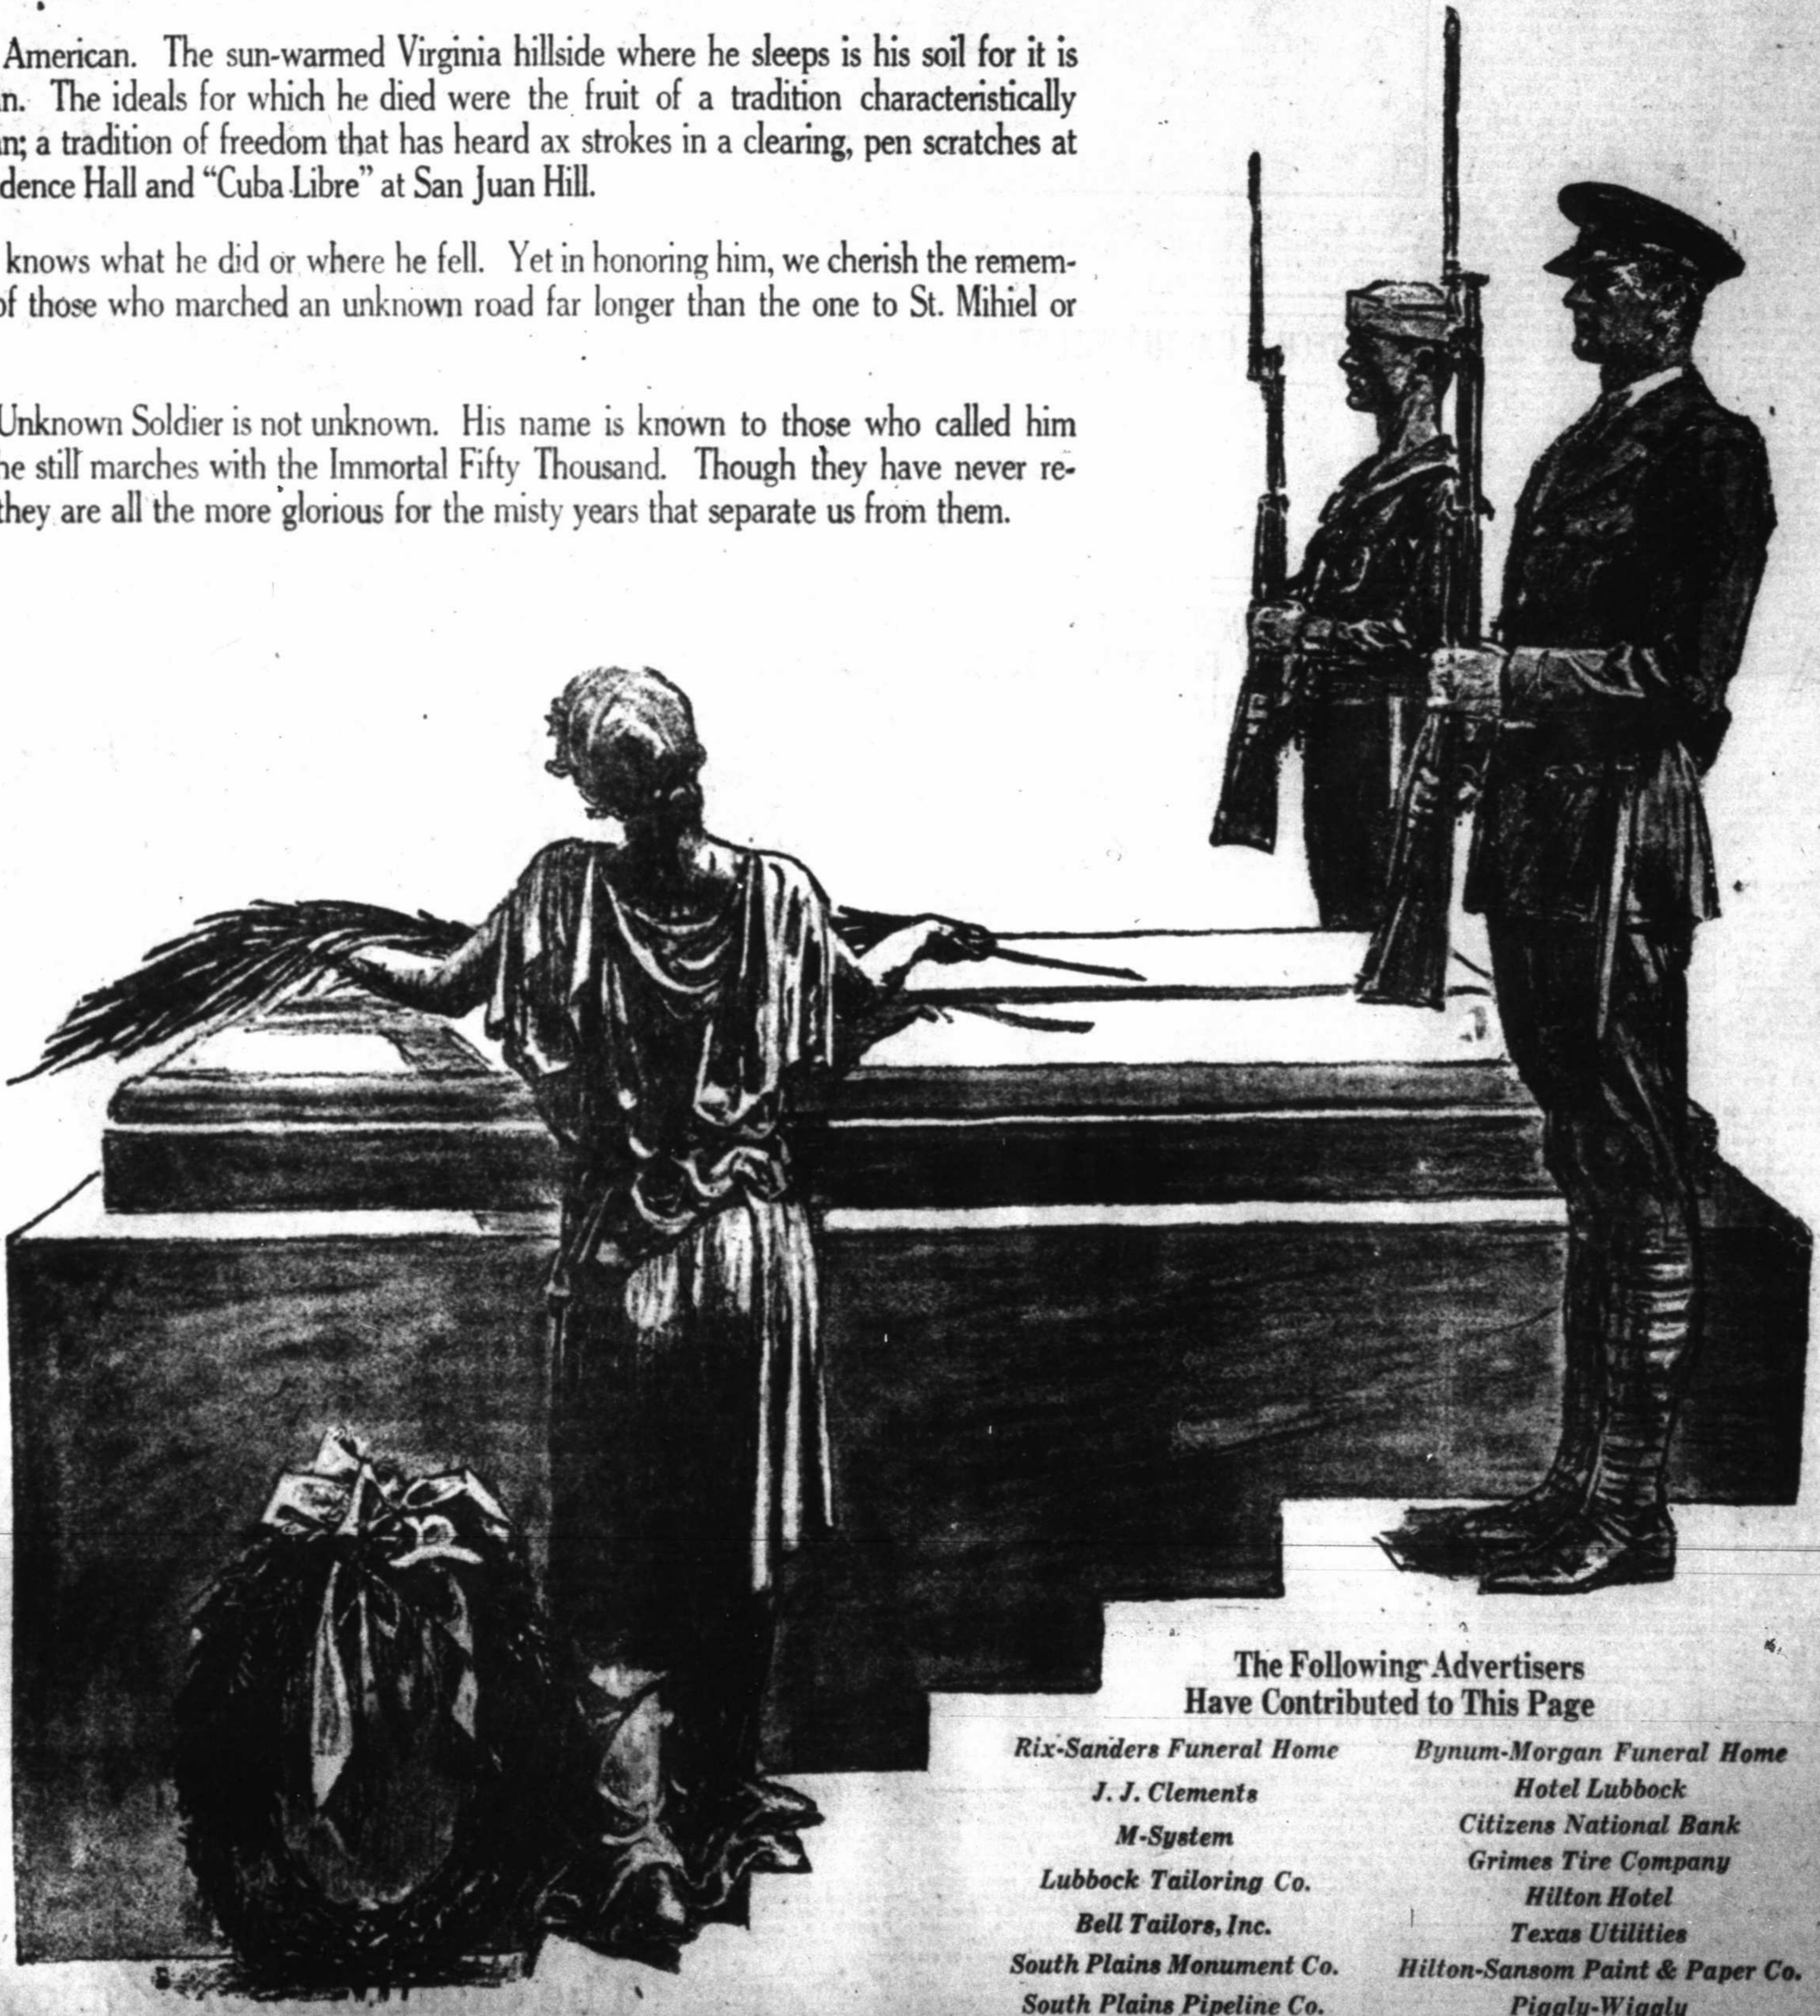

Nobody knows what he did or where he fell. Yet in honoring him, we cherish the remembrance of those who marched an unknown road far longer than the one to St. Mihiel or Vaux.

For the Unknown Soldier is not unknown. His name is known to those who called him buddy; he still marches with the Immortal Fifty Thousand. Though they have never returned, they are all the more glorious for the misty years that separate us from them.

The Unknown Soldier

He is known to the sun-white Majesties
Who stand at the gates of dawn.
He is known to the cloud-borne company
Whose souls but late have gone.
Like wind-flung stars through lattice bars
They throng to greet their own,
With voice of flame they sound his name
Who died to us unknown.

PRINCE OF WALES IS TO MAKE VISIT TO SOUTH AMERICA

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Nov. 11.—The Prince of Wales, who sails for South America January 15 to open the British trade exposition at Buenos Aires, plans to do some tropical flying and his own private airplane probably will be taken over on the British aircraft carrier Eagle, which will be stationed at Buenos Aires during the exposition.
The date of his departure was announced today. He will go in the British steamer Orpesa, visiting Bermuda and Havana before passing through the Panama canal to Valparaiso, Chile, his first port of call on the South American west coast.
To Tour Brazil
Thence he plans to go to Buenos Aires, and after that to Rio de Janeiro, where he will arrive March 25. He hopes to spend three weeks in an informal tour of Brazil before returning to England aboard the Royal mail packet Arlanza, arriving at Southampton April 28.
The Arlanza is a historic vessel in her own right. During the war she served in the fifth armored cruiser squadron and was mined in the North sea. Dr. Julio Prestes, president-elect of Brazil before the recent revolution, went home from his last European trip in the same vessel.
The heir to the throne has been improving his Spanish in preparation for the South American tour, tutoring with the Queen of Spain, who is in London on a visit. His younger brother, Prince George, also is studying the language.
About 61 per cent of the cigarettes made in the United States are manufactured in North Carolina.

Map Show Changes War Wrought In Europe

These two maps graphically tell the story of the upheaval in Europe brought about by the World war and its aftermath. The map at top shows Europe in 1913, prior to the war; the one below is a recent one, showing the changed boundaries and governments.

COTTON CROP GOING FAST

DAVIS ESTIMATES 50 AND 60 PER CENT OF CROP GONE

Sixty percent of the cotton crop in the territory east of Lubbock has been harvested. Charles M. Davis, manager of district No. 2 of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, estimates.

"West of Lubbock, where the crop is heavier, I think about 50 percent has been harvested," Mr. Davis added.

Based on Reports
Mr. Davis bases his estimates on reports from the several branch offices of the association. There are 11 besides Lubbock that report each week to the district office here.

Estimates for the 40 odd counties comprising the district, indicate that over 300,000 bales will be harvested this year. Last year the same counties produced around 362,000 bales.

Wet weather Saturday cut down the expected receipts of the association and also the ginnings at most of the gins.

E. A. Tusha, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Santa Fe, places the estimate at slightly over 300,000 bales this year for this section.

BANKRUPTCY PETITIONED
CHICAGO, Nov. 11 (AP)—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed last week by Mrs. Mae J. Harmon, widow of the late Patrick "Paddy" Harmon, sports promoter and a builder of the Chicago stadium. Harmon was killed in an automobile accident last summer.

Mrs. Harmon lists liabilities of $22,734 and assets at $450. The principal creditor was Otto Price, saloon keeper, who lent Harmon $81,000 toward the stadium building fund. Mrs. Harmon's attorney said.

MUCH COTTON HANDLED
SNYDER, Nov. 11.—(Special)—More than 6,000 bales of cotton have been handled by the local branch of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association here, Raymond Ford, local manager said.

For the past week an average of over 30 bales a day has been received by the local office.

MATRIMONIAL AND BIRTH ASSOCIATIONS GET IN TROUBLE WITH POSTAL SYSTEM IN OKLAHOMA CITY; CHARGES BROUGHT

(By The Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 11.—Three jointly operated marriage and birth endowment associations against which "fraud order" proceedings have been launched by the federal postal department will continue to operate and fulfill their contracts, J. A. Fairley, vice-president of the organization said today.
"We intend to keep our doors open and will do business as long as it is possible. We only thought it fair to warn our customers of the proceedings and explain the situation we would be in if the order was upheld; we cannot operate without use of the mails," Fairley said.
Fairley said he had received notice to appear before the collector of the post office department in Washington December 1 to show cause why a fraud order should not be issued against the Liberty Marriage Endowment association, the Liberty Birth Endowment association and the Supreme Marriage Endowment association. J. E. Hines is president and J. E. Fuqua is secretary-treasurer of the organizations.
Charges were brought by Horace J. Donnelly, post office department collector, alleging the company is conducting through the mails lotteries, gift enterprises and schemes for the distribution of money by lot or chance. His action followed an investigation requested by the Oklahoma City Better Business Bureau.

NEBRASKA BANK'S LOOT DISCOVERED IN WALL STREET

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Franklin P. Ferguson, attorney of Park Avenue, was arrested tonight, accused of receiving stolen property. His arrest followed a disclosure that part of the $250,000 loot taken in a Lincoln, Neb., bank robbery had turned up in the financial district.

The detective found and arrested Ferguson in the Harvard club. He said this morning he met a friend, Raymond Sims, by chance. Sims, he said, is a security dealer. During their conversation the dealer told him he had $15,000 worth of bonds he wanted to sell. The bonds, Sims declared, were given him by a friend who was settling an estate.

Ferguson said he offered to dispose of the bonds and agreed to meet Sims in the Hotel Pennsylvania in the afternoon to give him the $15,000 cash. When he received the bonds back from the broker-age house, he said he went to the hotel to meet Sims, who, however, was two hours late.

When Sims did arrive, Ferguson declared he demanded an explanation of him. Sims, he said, went into a telephone booth to call a friend from whom he had received the bonds. But Ferguson happened to turn his head for a moment, and when he looked around, he declared both Sims and the bonds were gone.

New Station Opened On Mexican Border
MCALEEN, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Mexican-American radio station, XED, at Reynosa, Mexico, across the border from here, went on the air at 6 p. m. Saturday for the first time.

The event was an international affair, with representatives of President Pascual Ortiz-Rubio of Mexico present, as well as prominent officials of various states of northern Mexico, including Governor Francisco Castellanos of Tamaulipas state.

The station will be of 10,000 watts strength on a frequency of 960 kilocycles, crystal controlled. It broadcasted a bluff description in English Sunday.

Marking Of Cavern Route To Be Made
Marking of the Carlsbad Cavern highway through Texas will be started by the state highway department in the near future.

Walter R. Ely, chairman of the state highway commission, at a conference in Lubbock last week with A. E. Davis, of the chamber of commerce, said that the marking would begin soon.

"I am glad to hear it," J. E. Hankins, president of the Carlsbad Cavern Highways association, declared in announcing the proposed marking. "It will help us a great deal in our work. I am sorry I did not get to meet Chairman Ely but I was out of the city when he was here."

ARMISTICE DAY OBSERVED BY NATIONS OF WORLD; UNKNOWN DEAD HONORED

Armistice was expected to pass unnoticed in Germany as has been the case each year.
Oratory and comment on the outcome of that momentous day generally are reserved for November 9, when the Reich changed from a monarchy to a republic, and to some extent for busting, or the day of repentance. A movable church observance falling this year on Nov. 19.

LISBON, Portugal, Nov. 11 (AP)—President Carmona and members of the cabinet today decorated the monument to the war dead in celebration of the Armistice anniversary. At 11 a. m., as they placed their wreaths, a battery signalled a nationwide two minute silence. Religious services were held at all churches.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 11 (AP)—Armistice services at the tomb of Belgium's unknown soldier today bore testimony to the close comradeship which still unites allied ex-service men. Delegations of the American, British, and French legations, carrying their national colors, stood beside Belgium's former soldiers as King Albert laid his wreath upon the monument.

GENEVA, Nov. 11 (AP)—In memory of the dead of the World War the preparatory commission on celebration of the League of Nations today stood in silence for one minute beginning at 11 a. m. Thirty-two nations were represented in the ceremony.

PARIS, Nov. 11 (AP)—The American colony in Paris joined with the French in solemn commemoration of the twelfth anniversary of the Armistice.
The principal ceremony was at the Arc D'Triumph where President Doumergue, surrounded by members of the cabinet, reviewed a procession of troops, former combatants and war wounded. He then placed a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier.

LAMESA HOLDING CELEBRATION TODAY
By J. SAM LEWIS
LAMESA, Nov. 11.—Armistice Day dawned cloudy and wet, reminding of the days of 1918 in France on the western front when the sun did not shine for weeks at a time. Regardless of weather conditions, today's celebration here will be held.

The day's program is featured by a parade for former service men, Civil War veterans, members of the Legion, auxiliary, school football team, pep squad and fire department. The business hours of the city are closed for the day. At 11:15, a flag raising was held at the courthouse and at noon a basket dinner is being spread in the basement of the Methodist church with Gold Star mothers as honored guests.

Rev. R. B. Freeman, pastor of the First Methodist church at Littlefield, is to make the main address on "Man's Part in Making a Nation."
The afternoon program, the big event, is the football game between Slaton and Lamesa high schools. A special train loaded with Slaton fans is expected to arrive here at two o'clock for the game. The evening's entertainment feature will be a wrestling match between J. D. Camp of Lamesa and Red Terry of Dallas.

JUDGE SAMUELS
"Loyalty comes of the spirit that is free and unexpressed. It is that sense of loyalty that Edith Cavell had to face her German execution, and to scorn the falsehood that would have averted her Fate at the very edge of the grave. It was this sublimity of mind that ennobled Washington when hope turned low and the cause seemed lost."

"It post England the flower of her breed on the fields of Europe when she refused to abandon Belgium for her fate, and when she might have purchased safety at the price of perfidy."
Celebrate Supremacy
"On this occasion we are merely celebrating a race for commercial supremacy, not an adventure in conquest that this meeting today would be a sacrifice, as much so as if the stars of the living God were profaned with heathenish rites."

"In times past when men fought for liberty, it was the leader rather than the cause that gave the inspiration to battle and when Parliament revolted against Charles I, the principle for which the round heads fought, and the right of kings for which the cavalier died was obscured on the one hand by the figure of Cromwell and on the other by the unhappy house of Stewart."

Judge Samuels' sincerity while speaking before the large crowd of listeners, was noticeable in the very force with which he studied and expressed his every thought.
In concluding his address the visitor declared: "The success of all governments depends more or less on the Anglo-Saxon idea of self-restraint and willingness to give to others the birthright of equality, what we claim for ourselves; to lift up the backward races, to know the dividing line between privilege and liberty and to make the flag the emblem of our national life just as we practice it, not only to ourselves but to all others."

Dr. J. J. Wittmer, head of the medical department of the Edison company, said the method was still in the experimental stage and should not be considered as a positive cure.
"As an adjunct to the regular pneumonia treatment the mixture has had remarkable success," he said. CHARTER GIVEN POULTRY UNIT

ASSOCIATION IS GIVEN APPROVAL BY STATE DEPARTMENT

A Texas charter has been granted the Texas Panhandle-Plains Poultry association, information received here Monday night reveals. Incorporators are Taylor White and R. E. Shaver, of Tahoka, and D. E. Eaton, of Lubbock. Headquarters of the association have been established at Slaton.

The association was chartered with no capital stock. Mr. White being president of the body.
Poultry leaders of 54 Northwest Texas towns met last August to form the association for the further advancement and improvement of poultry raising in this section.

Plans have been made for staging of a poultry show in Slaton on December 10, 11 and 12, this to be an annual affair.

LOCAL SERVICES

enue, traversing Broadway and on to Texas Tech campus, hundreds of Lubbock and South Plains citizens stood in the rain with bared heads as the colors passed.

Time swung back 12 years in memory. Once more khaki clad men marched with grim faces to the beat of drum and the blast of bugle. Once more the distance rumble of battle was characterized and relieved as the drums rolled softly and then louder. Men marched on and colors floated in a brisk morning breeze, hurling defiance into the very face of foemen.

Ends On Campus
The parade started at 9:30 o'clock and ended on the Tech campus. Included in the ranks were ex-service men of the World War, veterans of other wars and many others, individuals and organizations.

Flag ceremonies were held at the college this morning at 10:40 o'clock, units going directly from the parade formation to designated posts in a circle around the pole. The American Legion ritual was followed, participated in by Post Commander F. A. Haley, Jr., post chaplain N. L. Peters, first officer, Benjamin Kucera; second officer, H. D. Woods, and third officer, H. L. Allen.

Hear Program
Following the flag ceremony the crowd dispersed to go immediately to the college gymnasium where a program was held with Dr. Paul W. Horn presiding.

Following invocation by Dr. J. C. Granbery, the audience sang "Onward Christian Soldiers," led by Prof. William R. Wagborne, and accompanied by Mrs. E. F. George at the piano.

Princetonal address was given by Judge Sidney L. Samuels, of Fort Worth, who spoke at length upon the meaning of loyalty and of Armistice.

At noon today the service men were to assemble at the Legion hall in a "chow line" to be served remembrance of the days in training camps and overseas. Alex McDonald has charge of this feature.

The gridiron attraction, Texas Tech vs. Abilene Christian college will furnish the main event for the afternoon program.

Dinner is Tonight
All former service men, whether or not they are Legion members, and their wives or women friends are invited to attend a dinner in the Legion hall tonight. F. D. Rupe, former post commander and at present a resident of El Paso, will be one of the main speakers for the occasion. He and Mrs. Rupe arrived in Lubbock yesterday to be present for the ceremonies.

The day's activities for Legionnaires was inaugurated early this morning, when 91 members of Legion posts gathered at Hotel Lubbock at 6:30 o'clock for a stag breakfast. Program for the occasion was under direction of Alfred M. Scott and consisted of several dance and reading numbers by young local artists. The breakfast was entirely informal and staged more for a get acquainted event than anything else.

Two New Lots of PRINTED SILK Are Featured Wednesday

Printed Silks have become so popular that continued re-purchase is necessary. Of decided interest are two new assortments that have just been received, for in them you will see the first indication of the new designing and colorings for spring.

One Lot Priced $1.98

The quality is especially high. All the advantages of the latest silk reductions is quickly apparent, but the great bid for attention comes from the unusualness of the patterns. The designs are larger—the colors brighter—all in all a truly silk offering at $1.98.

Another Lot Is Priced Yd. $2.25

These are qualities that brought more than $3.00 the yard in former seasons but there is no resemblance of former seasons in the patterns. Unusual floral designs in wide spaced patterns reflect the new printed idea. The price per yard only $2.25.

New Purses

New dull calf kid leathers are featured in a very new assortment priced $5.45 Up. See them.

Stomach Trouble And Headaches Are Banished When New Medicine Is Put To Test

MRS. AVEY KESWKI

"Konjola did wonders for me," said Mrs. Avey Keswki, Box 208A, Route No. 1, Galveston. "For several years I suffered dreadfully with stomach trouble. I had a severe and sickening headache almost constantly. Gas accumulated in my stomach after every meal and I had the cramping pains of indigestion. My nerves were so weak that I could not rest or sleep well at night.

"I am now on my fourth bottle of Konjola and I feel better than I have in five years. Pains and headaches have been banished and I have not had an attack of indigestion since I began taking Konjola. My nerves have quieted and I enjoy sound, restful sleep at night. My entire system has taken on new life and I will always praise Konjola for the good it did me."

Taken regularly after meals over a six or eight week period, this master medicine for ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness has done as much for thousands as it did for Mrs. Keswki.

Konjola is sold in Lubbock, Texas at Brown's Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section. Adv.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 11 (AP)—Senator Elmer John H. Bankhead, who defeated Senator J. Thomas Heflin in the Alabama election, said in a statement here today he would oppose organization of either the senate or house by the Democrats even if the official result of the national election should give the Democrats a majority.

"I do not want the Democrats to have anything to do with the Hoover administration," he said. "Let the Republicans organize and run things as they want until they get out of office and then the Democrats will take the situation over."

CRIMINAL DOCKET FOR COURT CARDED

Business Depression Has Real Test On Installment Buying In United States

Weathering Of Storm Will Prove Worth, Dutcher Avers

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Installment buying—and who doesn't know what that is—is now going through a severe test. Various economists have predicted that the system would break down under a really serious depression and everyone now seems to admit that that's just what we're having.

No one knows yet just how the installment system has fared over the country, how extensively installment sales have been affected, whether there has been an increase of credit losses on installment business and comparatively how many radios, bedroom suites, diamond rings, fur coats, two-pant suits and electric washing machines have been lugged back to the store because of defaulted payments.

One finds two sets of figures bearing on the subject, neither of which yet shows how successfully the installment system and installment buyers are weathering the storm. Economists and business men will have to wait until after the first of the year for that, when the Merchandising Research division of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce completes the first of its annual retail credit surveys and compares 1930 with 1929.

Two Surveys Made
The division's first semi-annual survey, covering the first six months of this year and conducted by Dr. W. C. Plummer, noted retail credit expert of the Commerce Department, showed a decline of 6.7 per cent in net retail sales, but hardly any change in the percentage of total installment and charge account sales or in the percentage of goods returned. Returns of installment goods, mostly repossessions, increased slightly less than one per cent.

The other set of figures concerns automobile financing—which means installment buying—for the first eight months of 1930 as compared with the first eight months of 1929. These figures are gathered by the Census Bureau from 485 automobile-financing organizations.

This year, it appears, people have been buying fewer cars, older cars and cheaper cars. For the eight-month periods, they bought 2,369,000 cars on the installment plan in 1929 and 2,224,000 in 1930. A great decrease in the number of new cars sold and financed was accompanied by a small increase in the number of used cars. New cars, 1,339,000 from January through August of 1929 and only 1,032,000 in the same period of 1930. Used cars, 1,086,000 in 1929 and 1,114,000 in 1930.

The average new car financed cost $591 in 1929 and $560 in 1930. The average used car financed cost $301 in 1929 and $276 in 1930.

Check Retail Stores
Getting back to the stores and Dr. Plummer's survey, this work covers 323 retail establishments in 24 cities which had total net sales of $460,708,000 for the first six months this year. They were engaged in seven leading retail lines—department stores, furniture, jewelry, men's clothing, shoes, women's specialties and electrical appliances.

Credit sales increased slightly in proportion to cash sales—but very slightly. Regular charge account sales increased from 48.3 per cent in 1929 to 48.9 in 1930 and installment sales from 19.1 to 19.5 per cent. The installment sales increased proportionately in the first three months of 1930 and decreased in the next three months.

Real Result Yet Unknown
The percentage of returns on jewelry rose from 16.6 to 18.1 on electrical appliances from 12.8 to 16, on women's specialties from 8.7 to 13.9 and on men's clothing from 4.2 to 6.5 while returns to furniture and department stores remained about the same.

But Dr. Plummer points out that the real story won't be known—

STEEL BIDS ON BUILDING LET

WICHITA FIRM GIVEN CONTRACT FOR NEW BUILDING HERE

Contract for 431 tons of steel, said to be the largest steel contract in Lubbock in recent years, was awarded to Wichita, Kas., where it is to be fabricated and then shipped here. There will be about 15 car loads in the shipment.

To Start Soon
Shipments will start soon, it is expected and the steel will begin arriving about December 10. Work of setting the steel columns in the footings now being dug is to start about December 16, Mr. Haynes said.

The 431 tons purchased is structural steel and linings. Mr. Haynes said: "There will be more steel purchased later on."

Six bidders were here for the letting. They included North Texas Steel company, Central Texas Steel company, Lubbock Steel company, Mosher Steel company, Capital Steel company and Truscon Steel company, besides Mr. Sibbitt.

To Bid on Other Later
Later on bids for the brick and steel joist will be opened. It is not thought that this will be done until after January 1.

Other bids will include the plumbing, heating and electrical contracts. These will be taken some time next year.

Face brick of the dry pressed brick type to match the present brick will be used. The first floor will have granite columns six feet high with the remainder of the face of stone.

The amount of steel purchased will be sufficient to care for a 12 story building, Mr. Haynes pointed out.

The semi-annual survey showed half-year decreases of sales in 1930 from 1929 of 19.5 per cent in jewelry, 14.1 in furniture, 10.2 in shoes, 10.1 in men's clothing, 6.6 in women's specialties and 5.3 in department store sales. The only increase was one-tenth of one per cent in electrical appliances.

OFFICIALS FOR HEARING ARE SELECTED

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S AIDES COMING TO RAIL HEARING

Announcement was received in Lubbock today of the appointment of R. D. Cox, Sweetwater, and Dewey Lawrence, Paris, assistant attorney generals, by Attorney General Robert Lee Bobbitt to cooperate in the preparation of evidence and exhibits in behalf of the application of the Texas and Pacific Northern for a branch line from Big Spring north to Vega. Hearing on the application will be held before the Interstate Commerce Commission in this city on December 8 and the two men will attend the meeting.

To Aid Proposal
Information received here revealed that both Cox and Lawrence will do everything possible in favor of the proposed line. "We will be glad to do all we can in helping West Texas citizens gather data and information in support of the project," Mr. Lawrence has said. "The department has already offered its cooperation and we will be at the service of towns along the route who may need our help."

It also has been stated that there is a possibility that the attorney general's department will intervene or at least add a recommendation, this having been done when the Fort Worth and Denver sought to build 202 miles on the Plains three years ago. Walter Guertner, chief engineer for the commission, together with two of the commissioners, will be in Lubbock for the hearing.

Evidence is now being gathered by towns along the route of the proposed line for presentation at the Lubbock hearing, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Louisiana, for interventions have been filed from all four.

Property Taken From Cars Here

Loss of property from two automobiles while parked on Lubbock streets were reported at police headquarters last night, records at the station revealed this morning.

Two shotguns, one a 12-gauge and the other a 410 gauge, belonging to J. C. Davis, of the Texas Floral company, were taken from his automobile while he was attending church last night at the Broadway Church of Christ. One of the guns was a Nitro-Hunter and the other a Winchester.

Second report at police headquarters was of theft of a new tan overcoat from a car belonging to P. V. Ellison, of Crosbyton.
