Netta Jarrett Attends Convention In Seattle

Netta Jarrett, President attended the biennial convention of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society, an international honor organization for women educators, in Seattle, Washington, this week.

Among the 2,500 delegates are representatives from Canada, Mexico, Norway, Sweden, and Finland, The international character of the convention is highlighted by the diversity of cultures in the port city of Seattle, gateway to the Orient, Russia, Canada, Hawaii, and Alaska.

Site of the convention was the Seattle Center, scene of the 1962 World's Fair. Special events take delegates to the Pacific Science Center, the Space Needle, and other points of interest.

"The Woman Educator in Changing Times," is the focus of study examining present status, goals, and roles as agents of change.

A major project of the Society is its scholarship program. Eighteen grants of $2500 each have recently been awarded to outstanding women educators for advanced study. A program of fellowships for foreign women to study in this country has trained many leaders in education overseas.

The Delta Kappa Gamma Society is the largest organiztion of professional women educators in the world. Its honorary members include Dr. Margaret Mead, anthropologist; Miss Pauline Frederick, television newsreporter; and Senator Margaret Chase Smith. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Pearl Buck, author, also were members.

The current international president is Mrs. Phebe Emmons, Raleigh, North Carolina.

Netta is a member of Epsilon Omicron Chapter.

RODEO News

Talley and Gay Griffin attended the Girard Rodeo recently. Talley won: a buckle in flags, and 2nd in barrels.

Gay won: third in poles, and fifth in barrels.

IRA LESLIE HAGINS

Ira Hagin Of Gail Dies

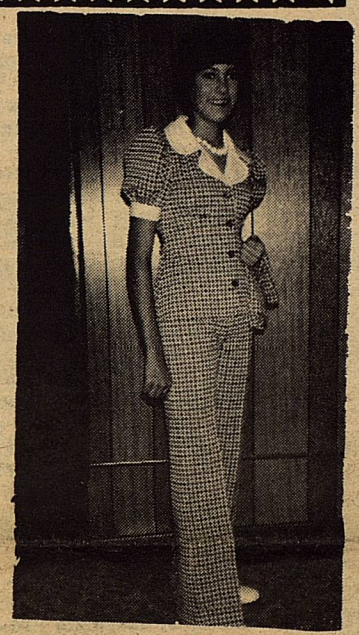

Funeral services for Ira Leslie Hagins, 58 were held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Borden County School Auditorium with burial following at the Gail Cemetery.

Hagins died following a one car accident on U.S. 180 around 1 a.m. Friday. He was rushed from the scene to Medical Arts Hospital and then transferred to Lubbock Methodist Hospital where he died.

He was a long time resident of Borden County. Hagins was a native of Dickens County but had grown up in Gaines County. Hagins was retired from the Texas Highway Department.

He was a World War II veteran and a member of the church of Christ.

Survivors include his wife Fannie; one daughter, Mrs. Patricia Ann Cole of Irving; four sons, Danny, Freddy Wayne, and Leslie Hagins, al of Midland and Kenneth Randell of Gail; two sisters, Mrs. Effie Brandon of Seminole and Agness Blair of Lamesa and three grandchildren, Scott, Chris, and Keith Hagin.

Westbrook Wins Dress Revue

Dana Westbrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Westbrook, a member of the Howard Co. 4-H Club was chosen senior winner of the Howard Co. 4-H Dress Revue, July 13, 1974. Dana won with a three-piece outfit of red, white, and blue plaid polyester knit made into a jacket type top with white collar and lapels top stitched in blue. The four-gored skirt and cuffed pants made the outfit interchangeable for various occasions.

Girls entering were judged on over-al appearance of their outfit, suitability of the design, color and texture for the girl, grooming, posture, attitude, poise, personality, construction, and 4-H records.

Tricia Jackson and Shelly Peterson also participated at the Howard Co. Revue. Each received a blue award.

West Texas Boys Ranch Report

It is about the halfway mark of the 1974 Roundup for West Texas Boys' Ranch. Many of the Borden County residents have not sent their donations.

With the grass short and the market weak, , it is very understandable that most of us are keeping a tight rein on that pocketbook, but remember, it effects the boys at the ranch adversely also. They need our help more than ever right now.

Barbara and John R. Anderson have sent in a most generous check for Boys' Ranch. This will certainly boost Borden Countys standing. Thanks, Barbara and Rich!

Bert Dennis, Wagon Boss for Borden County for West Texas Boys' Ranch is still hoping for a 100% donation ratio from this county. Any donation, no matter how small, will be greatly appreciated. Let's make a good showing for our County.

Dr. Robert H. Anderson, Dean of the College of Education at Tech; Dr. Shamus Mehaffie, Assistant Professors of Education at Tech; Dr. Billy Askens, an Associate Professor of Education at the University; Don Morrow, representative from Educational Service Center in Lubbock; and dMr. James McLeroy, Superihtendent of Schools confer about Individual Education for Borden County School.

Individual Ed. Viewed

Borden County teachers are spending the week before school starts attending workshops designed to come up with new ways to individualize the instruction offered this year.

Although the school system's 215 students will not return until August 19, their teachers climbed back into the saddle August 12 to meet with several leaders in the field of education from Texas Tech University. Heading the list of visiting educators will be Dr. Robert H. Anderson, Dean of the College of Education at Texas Tech University. Anderson is recognized as one of the nations authorities on the development of individualized teaching techniques.

Also taking part in the workshop is Dr. Shamus Mehaffie, Assistant Professors of Education at Texas Tech, and Dr. Billy Askins, an Associate Professor of Education at the university.

'We have worked at individualizing our instruction for some time now,' reports Borden County School's Superintendent James McLeroy. 'We are not going to go off on the deep end on any new approaches, but we are going to look at several systems to see which parts we want to use here,' he explains.

The progressive Borden County school system will continue to operate with an educational philosophy that has proven to be successful for quite some time. As expressed by Superintendent McLeroy, the philosophy is simply, 'To teach every child all we can in 13 years regardless of the child's race or background."

Reflecting the stability of the school system is the fact that there are no changes in the schools list of teachers and administrators from last year.

Registration this year at Borden County wil be conducted August 16. Seniors will register from 9 a.m. until 1 :30 a.m.; Juniors from 10:30 a.m. until 12 noon; Sophomores from 1 p.m. until 2:30 p.m. and Freshmen from 2:30 p.m. until 4 p.m.

School busses wil begin running the first day of the new school year, August 19. The school day will begin at 8:20 a.m., break for luncyh at 12 noon, and recess for the day at 3:30 p.m.

The Borden County school system will continue the policy that does not require students to get innoculations before the school year begins. The school wil again provide this service for students through the nurse's office, provided parents' permission is given.

TSTA Conference

A state wide Local Association Presidents Conference was held at the Joe C. Thompson Conference Center and the Villa Capri Motor Hotel July 30-31 in Austin. Mr. Bob Dyess, President of Borden County School Texas State Teachers Association TSTA was among those in attendance.

The Conference focused on programs and projects relative to membership, legislation, self-governance of the teaching profession, the improvement of public opinion toward their public schools, human and inter group relations, and issues confronting todays local associations, such as NEA-TSTA - faculty representative activities, structual concerns of local associations, membership interests etc. Opportunities were also provided for district presidents and local association presidents to exchange ideas that would help them improve their local or district situations.

Coach Dyess is President of Borden County Schools TSTA for 1974-75. Borden County School has been very fortunate in having 1 0% participation in TSTA for several years.

Free Lunch Program

The Borden County School serves nutritious meals every school day. Students may buy lunch for 30-35 cents.

Children from families whose income is at or below those shown on the scale are eligible for free meals. If your income is greater than those shown but you have unusually high medical bills, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of your income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, or disaster or casualty losses, your children may still be eligible.

To apply for free meals for your children, at any time during the year, request an application, and return it to the school. The school will let you know whether or not your children are eligible within 3 days of receiving your application. If you do not agree with the school's decision you have a right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing James McLeroy at Box 95, Gail, Texas, 856-4262.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If you have such children living with you and wish to apply for such meals for them, please notify us or indicate it on the application.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color or national origin.

POLLUTION CONTROL

Pollution control facilities and equipment for farm and business machinery may qualify for rapid federal income tax depreciation if installed and certified before January 1, 1975, says Earnest Kiker, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Farmers and businessmen may amortize or depreciate the cost of certain pollution control facilities and equipment over five years (60 months) even if the equipment has a longer, useful life.

Such facilities must have been installed and appropriately certified by state and federal pol ution control certifying authorities after 1968 and prior to 1975. Also, the Internal Revenue code provides that the facility must be 'a new identifiable treatment facility used connection with a plant (or other property that was in operation before 1969.'

Any facility that is used to control the pollution or contamination of air or water is eligible, if the other conditions are met, notes Kiker.

Many recent pollution control investments are viewed in two parts--one that qualifies for the fast write-off and one that will not. Thus, the same investment may end up with two depreciation schedules. This may complicate bookkeeping a bit but will be well worth the tax savings.

For additional details and information, Kiker suggests contacting any Internal Revenue Service office for a copy of IRS Publication No. 577, 'Amortization of Pollution Control Facilities.'

CATTLE OUTLOOK

The cattle feeding business is finally straightening out. Retailers are moving beef at almost record high prices, along with large supplies of pork and poultry. Consumer demand remains strong. But, although conditions are improving, cattle feeders are still losing money on cattle coming out of the lots.

The seven-state cattle on feed report for June 1 showed May placements down 40 per cent from the 1973 level. Feedlots were not replacing finished animals. Increases are expected in animals placed on feed in the next few months, but no real gain is probable until the fall.

Fed cattle marketings should be fairly stable during the rest of 1974, with an average of 2,135 head per month.

Fed cattle prices are showing some improvement entering the third quarter of the year. The high will probable come in July with some slight weakness through the rest of the third quarter. Price strength is again expected to begin in the fourth quarter and last into the first quarter of 1975.

Feeder cattle prices should follow the same basic pattern of slaughter cattle. The drop into the fall, however, may be more substantial. Heavier feeders will respond directly to any strength or weakness in the finished cattle market. The larger supplies of heavy feeders, however, coming to market in the late summer and early fal , will put pressure on the feeder cattle market. Feeder prices should again show some strength as fed cattle prices improve toward the end of the year.
