Important Period In African War Opens Today As League Launches Move To Gain Peace

Premier Mussolini Expected To Show His Hand Within 48 Hours; Peace Terms Are Likely To Be Harsh

BY JOSEPH E. SHARKEY
Associated Press Foreign Staff

GENEVA, April 13—A critical period in the African war opens tomorrow when the League of Nations launches its long pending negotiations to bring peace between Italy and Ethiopia.

Within the next 48 hours the league expects Premier Mussolini to show his hand and say definitely on what terms he will make peace.

Expect Harsh Terms

League circles forecast these terms would be harsh. In some quarters belief was expressed they would be so demanding the league could have nothing to do with them.

In this crisis, linked with the greater Rhineland crisis which already has created something of a chasm between Great Britain and France, one man refuses to lose his optimism.

He is Salvador De Madariaga, appointed by the league to handle peace negotiations between the two warring nations.

The diplomat, also well known as a poet, expressed confidence tonight that the league would emerge triumphant.

To Convoke Meeting

Dr. Augusto Vasconcellos of Portugal, chairman of the league's committee of 18, let it be known that if Il Duce's terms proved hopeless from the league's standpoint he would convoke a meeting of the sanctions committee Friday to discuss the situation.

If Great Britain recommends more drastic sanctions against Italy league circles forecast that France would vigorously oppose such a step.

Paris is described here as anxious to get Italy into the four power Locarno general staff conservations as a precaution against possible German aggression.

Democratic Drive Opened In Texas

DALLAS, April 13. (AP) — In an address before the Democratic Women's Luncheon club here today, which observers considered the opening of the national Democratic campaign in Texas, Congressman Martin Dies of Orange, defended the "New Deal."

"Name your objections in black and white," Congressman Dies challenged opponents of President Roosevelt.

He said the president's administration had been fearless and honest and the welfare of the "plain people," had been Mr. Roosevelt's paramount thought, above "every political consideration."

Former Ally Of Calles Is Arrested By Secret Police

MEXICO CITY, April 13. (AP) — Gen. Jose Maria Tapia, former ally of former President Plutarco Elias Calles, sent into exile Friday, was arrested by secret police today and other followers of the one-time "strong man" were reported to have gone into hiding to escape capture.

Gen. Tapia, former governor of Baja California and former chief of staff of the army, was seized by police as he left his home here.

Friends obtained an injunction from the federal district court designed to prevent authorities from "killing or exiling" him.

Youth's Dream Of An Education Is Swept Away

BY SHERMAN R. MILLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 13.—Eighteen-year-old Lloyd Lewis of Plattsburg, Mo., sat in a Manhattan skyscraper office tonight and saw his dream of a college education swept away because he didn't understand the meaning of plagiarism.

Lloyd, announced as the winner of a $5,000 prize essay contest sponsored by Eddie Cantor, the comedian, seemed nothing but bewildered as Cantor's agent told him he was disqualified because he had plagiarized, word for word, part of an article written several months ago by Dr. Frank Kingdon, president of Newark university, for a magazine.

Peace Essay Contest

Cantor's contest was for a peace essay. Dr. Kingdon's article had been on the same subject.

Wide-eyed, the farm youth turned to questioners.

"What is plagiarism?" he asked. "I don't know what it means."

Informed, he readily admitted copying Dr. Kingdon's article and submitting it as his own.

Admits Copying It

"Sure, I copied the article," the high school junior told his astounded audience. "I don't see anything wrong in that. It was much better than I could have done and honestly I don't see anything wrong in it. I wanted to win the contest and go to college, so I just looked up a lot of magazine articles and picked out what I thought was the best. I didn't copy it all, though. I just took enough paragraphs to make it the right length. I counted the words."

Cantor's agent, Ben F. Holsman, said Lloyd would be sent back to Plattsburg by plane tonight with his transportation paid.

From a list of 13 other finalists in the contest for which over 300,000 entries were received the judges will select another winner.

Republicans To Urge WPA Abandonment

States Would Again Handle Relief Needs

Large Amount Of Fund Sought By FDR To Continue Works Would Be Earmarked For Projects Of PWA

Report Circulated

Hopkins Contends Government Aid Will Be Necessary As Long As Prolonged Mass Unemployment Exists

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Republican members of the house appropriations committee were reported ready today to demand that Harry L. Hopkins' Works Progress administration be dismantled and the relief problem be turned back to the states.

This became known as a group of Democrats and Republicans began circulating petitions urging that $700,000,000 of the new $1,500,000,000 fund requested by President Roosevelt to continue WPA be earmarked for Secretary Ickes' Public Works administration to build large permanent projects. The petitions will be taken to the White House.

Granted To States

Under the Republican committeemen's plan—expected to be placed before the house in the form of a minority report—only a few hundred million dollars would be appropriated by the federal government for relief purposes and this would be granted to the states to help them in caring for the needy.

Just before the appropriations committee, considering the $1,500,000,000 request, resumed its hearings this morning, Hopkins began nationwide distribution of a large illustrated report describing the works program as "a great forward step." It said that when the value of public improvements and conservation of human morale were considered "a works program may well prove to be less expensive than direct relief."

The report also asserted that "government aid will be necessary as long as prolonged mass unemployment exists" and fixed actual expenditures up to February 29 at $2,210,000,000.

Conflicting Charges Heard As Trial Of Judge Closes

WASHINGTON, April 13. (AP) — The senate impeachment trial of Federal Judge Halsted L. Ritter of Florida today heard a presecution assertion that the evidence had "convincingly" demonstrated guilt on all counts, and a defense declaration that the jurist had come out of the most "searching" investigation in history an "honorable and upright man."

Four hours, equally divided between opposing counsel, were set aside for closing arguments after rebuttal testimony had been presented before a luncheon recess. A verdict will not be reached before Wednesday.

Hope that the three, two of them owners of the mine, still lived increased when smoke was seen curling from rock crevices today. Those trapped are R. E. Magill, lawyer and Dr. D. E. Robertson, owners of the mine; and Alfred Scadding, time-keeper.

Great Magician Is Claimed By Death

Howard Thurston Is Pneumonia Victim At Miami Beach

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 13—Howard Thurston, 66, the magician, died to pneumonia following a cerebral hemorrhage.

The second Mrs. Thurston, who became his wife years after he changed a box of candy into a white rabbit in her hands on a Chicago theater stage, was with him when he died. His daughter, Jane, who worked as his chief assistant through years of magic on platforms throughout the world, also survives. The first Mrs. Thurston died in 1934.

Recaptured Health

Last December 13 the famous trickster said he had performed his greatest trick—"I've recaptured my health." But his hopes were greater than his strength and he had to stay close to his apartment.

Mermann, the great magician, once took a brass collar button from the forehead of young Thurston. He gave the button to the boy and Thurston cherished it more than the gift of a watch from Emperor Franz Josef of Austria-Hungary.

Thurston studied for the ministry at Mt. Hermon academy in Massachusetts and was on his way to the University of Pennsylvania to continue this course when he accidentally saw Hermann buying a railroad ticket to Syracuse, N. Y. Thurston also bought a ticket for Syracuse and thus forsook the ministry for the magician's stage.

Attempt Reunion

His knowledge of theology and his interest in magic cause him to enter into many discussions of the after life. He was reported to have formed an agreement with the late Harry Houdini, another great magician; the late Arthur Conan Doyle, British spiritualist and author of the Sherlock Holmes stories; and the late Charles Carter, who died recently in Bombay, India, to attempt a reunion after death.

Mrs. Thurston today declined to discuss the reported agreement saying "there have been too many conflicting stories about that already. But I might discuss it later."

Mrs. Houdini, in Hollywood, Calif., said 'he's joined Houdini now. No doubt they're up there telling each other a lot of tricks."

Excitement In Ride For Girl

She Drives Away In Man's Car And Smashes Another; This Is But A Start—Three More Given Attention

Life on the farm of a brother near Floydada was never like this.

A 17-year-old girl whose mother and foster father live at Lubbock came to the city after living recently on the quiet farm. She did not go unnoticed—for long.

Climbs Into Car

Officers said she climbed into an automobile belonging to L. K. Arant of Shallowater, backed it from the curb in the driveway leading through the courthouse grounds, smashing into a parked machine owned by O. F. Wright of route 5, and drove out south Avenue H to 2200-block, where the wrecking business really picked up.

In attempting to pass the vehicle of an unidentified man on the wrong side, here is what happened:

Her acquired automobile struck that of the unidentified man, deflected from its course and piled into a parked car owned by E. K. Hufstedler, driving that machine against a parked car owned by C. A. Bruner of 710 Avenue M.

Fortunately, none was injured.

The girl was charged with operating an automobile without consent of the owner, Bill Mabray, City patrolman, signing the complaint before County Attorney Jess C. Levens, after an investigation assisted in by Assistant Police Chief Don Reeder and Tom Cannon, policeman.

The girl pleaded guilty before E. L. Pitts, judge of juvenile court, and was given suspended sentence of one year and paroled to her mother.

Labor Chiefs Make Protest After Arrests

Striking Employes Of El Paso Electric Company Nabbed And Rushed To New Mexico To Face Charges

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 13.—Labor leaders today protested the extradition of several striking employes of the El Paso Electric company, but later said Governor James V. Allred, in granting the governor of New Mexico's requisition, had followed usual procedure.

The men were arrested in El Paso Saturday night and rushed to Dona Ana county, New Mexico. They were charged with conspiring to embezzle the elastic link on a turbine generator, valued at more than $20, on Feb. 27, 1936.

Explanation Demanded

E. L. Alexander, president of the El Paso Central Labor union, protested that the arrests were illegal and demanded a public explanation. The protests were lodged with Fred E. Nichols, state labor commissioner, and Wallace C. Reilly, secretary of the Texas Federation of Labor.

Governor Allred said the requisition papers were examined by a secretary, found to be in proper form and on April 6 were duly honored "as scores of cases" are handled.

"Where papers appear to be in order, it is customary to grant them, unless protests have been made and a hearing asked," he said. "There were no protests."

Reilly said the men did not know the charges against them at the time of the arrests, or by what right they were taken into custody. He blamed New Mexico authorities and company officials asserting they were "fostering trouble on trumped up charges."

"The governor was not responsible," he said.

Those arrested were W. E. Brown, Max Rau, R. L. Kendall, Curtis M. Bozeman, C. A. Hays, H. W. Hantsche and Joe C. Blansit. D. L. Minturn and Fred Bridler made affidavits on which requisition papers were prepared by District Attorney M. A. Threet of Dona Ana county.

Artist Being Questioned In Slaying Of New York Woman

NEW YORK, April 13. (AP)—Police announced tonight they were questioning Herman W. Horstmann, 26, an artist and real estate operator, in connection with their investigation of the bathtub killing of Mrs. Nancy Evans Titterton.

Horstmann was arrested this afternoon in the Grand hotel on a charge of violating the Sullivan act which forbids possessing a gun without a permit.

Horstmann's description tallied in some respects with that given by neighbors of the Titterton's of a young man with sandy hair, tall and well proportioned who frequented the district asking for women who were not known there.

Only Possible Way Out Is For Italy And Ethiopia To Open Peace Talks But Bare Hope Is Held For Accord

BY ROBERT B. PARKER
Associated Press Foreign Staff

PARIS, April 13.—Both Italy and Great Britain, diplomatic sources said tonight, have called on France to choose between them in Italy's conflict with Ethiopia and the League of Nations.

Ambassador Vittorio Cerruti of Italy brought Premier Mussolini's demand to French Premier Albert Sarraut, diplomats said. Britain's declaration, the newspaper Le Matin asserted, was delivered by Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, at Geneva.

Paris Must Choose

"Either you must be with us or with the Italians," the newspaper quoted Eden as telling French Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin. "But you must choose."

The French press warned Great Britain that any tightening of the sanctions screws on Italy would be likely to lead to war.

(Informed London sources said the British cabinet at a session tomorrow probably would recommend stronger sanctions if Italy does not enter League peace negotiations sincerely.)

Faced with demands from both sides, the only possible way out for France, diplomats stated, would be for Italy and Ethiopia to agree to peace talks when the committee of 13 meets Thursday at Geneva. They said, however, that the French government holds little hope for such an accord.

The British and Italian demands put France squarely face to face with two possibilities:

1. To choose Great Britain, with

Body of Mrs. George L. Boyd, 28, was found slumped across a bed in the Boyd home at 2008 Avenue L, about 8 o'clock Monday night.

Discovery was by a 6-year-old daughter, Lavon Dee Boyd, who had been playing in the yard.

Mrs. Boyd had been in ill health several months.

The death certificate had not been signed Sheriff Tom Abel and Justice of the Peace-Coroner J. T. Trigg said they held an inquest at the Boyd home.

Verdict Not Complete

"The verdict is not complete," said Trigg, aroused at his home late in the night. He explained he wanted to question a physician who was not in the city at the time.

The body was taken to Sanders Funeral home, which said services had not been announced in detail. They will be sometime Wednesday afternoon, however.

Other survivors are: The husband, a barber; one son, Leroy; six brothers, Roy, Victor, Virgil, and Wade Webb, all of Oklahoma City, and Dee of Kansas City, and Bill of Lubbock; seven sisters, Mrs. Cliney Gibbons of Tulsa, Mrs. Albert Bollinger of Pauls Valley, Mrs. Grace Links of Flagstaff, Ariz., Mrs. Clay Houghton of Walters, Okla., and Mrs. Murrell Hicks and Miss Wilma Webb, all of Oklahoma City.

Shorter Week And Minimum Salaries Declared As Goal

Limitation Of Jobs To Men And Women Between The Ages Of 18 And 65 Also Suggested By Chief Executive In Speech To Young Democrats Of Maryland; Challenge Is Hurled

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

BALTIMORE, Md., April 13—President Roosevelt proposed shorter working hours and suggested limitation of jobs to men and women between the ages of 18 and 65 in an address tonight calling the nation to a period of "social pioneering" against unemployment.

Before the cheering members of the Young Democratic clubs of Maryland crowding the huge armory where he spoke and to the youth of the nation over the radio, the president emphasized that the government "must give and will give consideration" to length of working hours, stability of employment and minimum wages.

"Flaming youth has become a flaming question," he said, "and youth comes to us wanting to know what we promise to do about a society that hurts so many of them."

Picking up the challenge of unemployment, the president asserted "return to the 1928 kind of prosperity is no sufficient answer. The best that the captains of the country could do for you before the depression was not good enough then and it is not good enough today."

Surrounded on the long platform by Democratic congressional leaders seated with the Young Democrats, the president left his suggestion for work for those between 18 and 65 in the form of a question.

Population Increases

"Our working population increases every year," he said "both because of population increase and because more and more women are working for wages. That is as it should be. But when we face your problems these increases raise the question as to whether it is not possible and right to limit the active working ages at both ends."

Greeted with a thunderous roar which echoed throughout the vast, high-roofed armory, Mr. Roosevelt was interrupted frequently with applause.

Asserting that production has returned to a high peak, he declared employment is only 80 per cent of that peak.

Industry Can Help

"It seems reasonable, therefore, that industry can contribute in great measure to the increase of employment if industry as a whole will undertake reasonable reductions of hours of work per week, while at the same time, they keep the average individual's pay envelope at least as large as it is today."

In referring to "captains of the country" he inserted "and captains of industry" in the 1928 era and was cheered lustily.

The huge audience laughed as the president spoke in mock seriousness about some "panaceas." Motoring to Baltimore with Mrs. Roosevelt by a route through Ellicott City, the president reached the armory just after the old time torch light parade — signal of a campaign year.

Promise Is Applauded

Prolonged applause met the promise to "prevent another violent, mad descent into another sink of suffering and disillusionment like the one from which for the last three and a half years we have been surely emerging."

The crowd stood and cheered when he said "In regard to all these problems there are counsellors these days who say: 'Do nothing'; others who say: 'Do everything.' Common sense dictates an avoidance of both extremes. I say

Illinois Gets Spotlight In Voting Today

All Sides In Various Races Predicting Victory; Headline Event Is Knox-Borah Fight For Support

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 13. — Illinois' spotlight claiming primary campaign sizzled to its end tonight with all sides predicting victory in the races headlined by that of Col. Frank Knox, of Chicago, and Sen. William E. Borah of Idaho for the state's presidential preference vote and its delegates to the Republican national convention.

Col. Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, made a last minute thrust at the New Deal in a speech tonight as his headquarters was asserting he would achieve a sweeping triumph in the first man-to-man test of Republican contenders and would not lose one of the 50 convention delegates to be named by the party's electors Tuesday. The result of the preference vote is advisory and not binding on the delegates chosen.

Others Enthusiastic

Manager Edgar J. Cook of the Idaho senator's state campaign committee was equally enthusiastic over his standard bearer's prospects, saying "I look forward to a very, very handsome victory tomorrow."

In the Democratic governatorial contest, which overshadowed in state interest even the Knox-Borah battle and the effort to turn out a record vote for President Roosevelt on the preference ballot, Gov. Henry Horner asserted "victory is ours, strictly on the issue of bossism vs. the Democratic voters."

Mayor In Fight

Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, who led the forces opposed to the governor in favor of Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, said the physician would "win by more than 300,000 votes."

The Democrats will also name 50 delegates to the Philadelphia national convention tomorrow, all uninstructed but listed as for the president by party managers.

Mrs. Bartholomew Prepares To Open Fight For Her Son

LOS ANGELES, April 13. (AP) — Freddie Bartholomew's mother, traveling under an assumed name, reached Los Angeles tonight and immediately contracted attorneys, preparing to open the legal fight for custody of her famous son.

Her sister-in-law, Miss Millicent Bartholomew, was made legal guardian of the 12-year-old movie actor nearly six months ago. Attorney Leonard J. Meyberg, who said he would represent Mrs. Bartholomew in the struggle, announced she would file a petition in superior court, contesting the guardianship.

MOVE IS TABLED

TRENTON, N. J., April 13. (AP)—The New Jersey assembly sidetracked tonight a third move for an investigation of the Lindbergh kidnap-murder, voting 37 to 1 to table the resolution of Assemblyman Basil B. Bruno, Monmouth Republican, for a general inquiry into the crime.

Burning Sun Has Mercury Jumping

DALLAS, April 13. (AP)—Rays of a sun at midsummer heat burned down on most of Texas today.

The top mark reported was Fort Worth's 95-degree reading in the early afternoon. Dallas in the northern part of the state and Lubbock in the Panhandle reported 93.

Amarillo's 90 was six points short of the all-time April record. The forecast was for slightly cooler weather.

San Antonio reported 90 and El Paso's high of 80 was usual for that section, with a 54-degree low mark.

WELL, now that Walter Winchell has been made an honorary Centennial Ranger and over half of the people in the United States are begging for large pants and ten-gallon hats and ranches, we guess they're about ready to begin the celebration down here in Texas.

CONCERNING HANDBILLS

TO the Daily Reader who wrote us concerning the distribution of handbills: We have had a number of letters similar to yours decrying the circular nuisance and we agree with you that the practice is obnoxious. The papers litter lawns, front porches and streets. We have never entered a campaign against the practice; since our company does not publish handbills we thought some of the readers would think we had an ax to grind if we did so.

We suggest that you get several women who agree with you about the matter and ask for an audience with the city commission and propose that they issue an ordinance to prohibit the distribution of this form of advertising.

It isn't Lubbock alone that suffers from this nuisance. Citizens of Dallas, aroused in a campaign to clean up the city's streets for the central Centennial exposition, are taking pot shots at it. If you will write us again, signing your name, we would be glad to print your letter.

ON FUTURE APPAREL

ON H. G. Wells' belief that a hundred years from now hats, high heels and long skirts will be extinct, John Frederics, amusing hatter to the elite, has designed a few clever little head coverings and shoe designers and coutouriers have tried their hand at style predictions. They must have their fun you know.

The progressive loss that has attended man's civilization will bring a bald era, they fear. As a consequence, platinum wigs and jeweled caps will be in vogue. Other forecasts include metal pumps, with spiral and curved heels. Cire ribbon molds the figure for an evening gown of pleated chiffon and net cape, slit to the knee and one designer sees possibilities for paper suits that will be destroyed when soiled and soiled stockings that will replace shoes.

Who of us do you think will be here to know or care what they're wearing a hundred years from now? If, however, someone finds a way of making hose we're wearing today last until tomorrow and a way of preventing hair from graying is discovered, we'll be satisfied.

THEY DRAW LAUGHS

WONDER why politicians don't have up-to-date campaign pictures? When some old boy blossoms out with his platform outlined under a photograph made the year Bob Taylor became famous it's bound to give the people who knew him then a laugh. To one of our inexperience, it appears that as long as the voters laugh WITH you the case is looking up, but when they begin laughing AT you it isn't so good.

OUR "UNUSUAL" WARMTH

THERE is much speculation as to just what the last two warm days will mean. Some suggest a rainstorm and others fear they are only giving promise of spring with colder days just ahead. What ever they mean, can you remember a prettier Easter Sunday? Men who worked out in their yards just after mid-afternoon complained of the heat as they wiped brows drenched with perspiration.

We felt sorry for weary little children who stumbled over dusty weeds in their futile searches for Easter eggs, but they didn't seem to mind as they attempted to put all "their eggs in one basket."

THEY SCORE AGAIN

WE can't help but offer a "goody," "goody," for Miss Ruth Sidney Pirtle and her cast of three Tech students, who were successful in the intercollegiate play tournament at Houston last week-end. There's no use to go into a discussion of how much a director means to the success of a production, but sometime we overlook this in congratulating a cast.

This was the second year Clay Thompson placed first among men actors. The author of the play, with which the students won first place last year planned to attend the tournament. We hope he did and are sure he was more than pleased.

Mrs. Cecil Pray and little daughter, Nancy Lou, of Fort Worth are visiting Mrs. Pray's mother, Mrs. A. M. Nail, 1410 Seventeenth street. They will be here about two weeks.

New metal alloys will be shown.

Visitors will be taken behind the scenes in a telephone exchange. A long distance call will be traced, showing the process of carrying a message between any two points in the world. Use of telephone equipment in radio network broadcasting will be explained.

Plans for the show are nearing completion. Prizes and souvenirs will be given.

New features will include extension of the show to the chemistry building in order to permit chemical and geological engineers to display their work more effectively.

Trial Of Four In Robbery Of Aged Widow Is Postponed

MEXIA, April 13. (AP)—The trial of four men for the robbery a year ago of Mrs. Melissa Kennedy, aged Shiloh widow, was postponed today because of the absence of a defense counsel.

County Attorney Roy Lewis announced he was ready to try the case, but Judge H. F. Kirby granted a defense motion to reset the case at the next term of court.

Defendants are Lester Love, Joe Shamlin, Felix Goss and Cliff Davis, charged with robbing Mrs. Kennedy of more than $1,400 in old currency at her farm home.

Investigators said the woman had carried the money for years on her person, afraid to deposit it in a bank. The robbers overlooked $2,700 which was sewed in the woman's clothing, and she deposited the sum, at once, in a bank.

A "Health Wreck" Before The Gly-Cas

Limbs Swelled, Arms Pained With Neuritis; Kidney And Stomach Disorder Made His Life Miserable For Years; Gly-Cas Again Unfailing

"It is a pleasure to be the means of others finding their health through the use of Gly-Cas," said Mr. H. L. Cunningham, 1310 Scott street, Little Rock, Ark. "For the past fifteen years I had been so badly constipated that I was forced to take a laxative every day and my kidneys were in a terribly disordered condition, was up four and five times each night. My limbs swelled and I had dreadful pains in my arms. Medical authorities said I had neuritis. Dizzy spells were entirely too frequent, would get sick at my stomach and what I would force myself to eat did not agree with me. I was on the verge of a complete breakdown physically when I learned of this new Gly-Cas and what it had done for so many people, I decided to put it to the test in my case and I found it wonderful."

"Gly-Cas went right to the source of my health troubles and today I simply feel fine," he continued. "Kidneys and stomach are now regulated so I sleep good, eat well, dizzy spells have gone and even those dreadful pains have been driven out of my body entirely. Gly-Cas is one medicine sufferers need not hesitate in trying for it has proven its merit beyond all doubt."

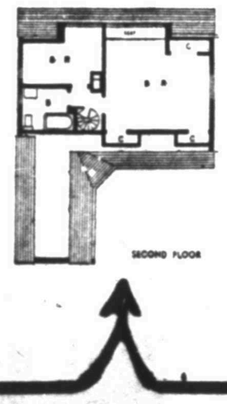
A Setting for Fine Furniture



This attractive house is seen by its architect, Harrison Gill, as serving as a background for a fine collection of French Provincial furniture.

The foundations are concrete block, with native stone above grade, wood frame walls and roof, and wood shingle facing. The first floor is concrete slab with slate, brick and linoleum finish, the second floor, wood.

A large living room comprises most of the area on the first floor, with kitchen, dining unit and bedroom occupying the rest. The second floor has two additional bedrooms and bath. The house is one of a group of low-cost dwellings chosen by "The Architectural Record."

The interior finish is painted board walls and ceilings, except for the plaster ceiling in the living room. There is no trim, doors being directly on studs.

The exterior finish is white for the shingle walls, blue-green for shutters, and composition roof shingles, altogether an attractive combination.

Behind Her Mighty Line Of Forts, Fear Of Invasion Still Grips France

Loopholes Are Seen As Peril

Drive Through Swiss Or Dutch Borders Feared; Nation Has Spent $160,000,000 Building Gigantic Fortifications

By NEA Service.

PARIS, April 13. — The elaborate system of forts that stretches from the Alps to the sea and divides Germany from France and Belgium is already a grave element in the European political situation.

When Hitler, claiming equality with other European nations, faced the demand that he promise not to fortify his side of the Rhine, he refused. And his answer was, "Look at the French fort's you don't think they're going to abandon them, do you? Then why should we promise not to build any?"

France, which has spent $160,000,000 building the most elaborate system of fortified defenses ever conceived, has no idea of abandoning them. For they are as perfect a defense against invasion from the east as money and ingenuity can devise.

They are so perfect that it is highly unlikely that they ever will be attacked, at least by methods resembling those of 1914-1918.

Germans Scoff At "Line"

There lies the catch. Unofficial German sources indicate that Germany - while insisting on its right to fortify the Rhineland, has no real intention of doing so.

It is believed that German attack or defense on that front would be so different from the tactics of 1870 and 1914 that fortifications like those of the French are regarded as not worth imitating. In fact, one ironic German officer is reported to have said that the French are now perfectly prepared for the campaign of 1914.

Parallels Border

From the fortified town and concentration point of Bedfort, near the Swiss border, the Maginot line of fortifications parallels the German border northward beyond the Luxembourg border in the vicinity of Montmedy.

This Maginot line is completed, and is regarded as impregnable under orthodox methods of attack. It is named for Andre Maginot, who fought through the World War as as sergeant, and wound up as the Minister of War who engineered the forts.

Forts Are Underground

The Maginot line system is largely underground, as a safeguard against high explosive shell-fire Elaborate labyrinths of tunnels with entrances far behind the "front" are provided with every imaginable facility for gas defense, storage of food and ammunition, and living quarters.

Steel-and-concrete casements are all that appear above ground along the "front," camouflaged and bristling with modern armament, from machine guns to heavy artillery. The ground before the casements is all accurately surveyed and ranged. It can be swept by devastating fire at will.

When Germany occupied the Rhineland, the forts were immediately and effectively manned. Residents of nearby villages are usually assigned to duty in them, having been specially trained for their jobs in each fort.

Perlling the effectiveness of the Maginot line is the situation of Switzerland, unfortifed except by its mountains and with a small army. While this passage around the end of the line is harder than that through Belgium in 1914, it is possible.

Northward from Montmedy, the fort chain stretches to the sea. But it is not completed in this section. Hasty decision to increase the strength of the forts behind the Luxembourg frontier had to be made in 1930 when Little Luxembourg refused to fortify its territory.

Belgium is working hard at fortifying its eastern border on a line southward from a position in front of Antwerp. But the French, not satisfied with this protection, have gone ahead with further fortification of their own Belgian frontier as a second wall if the Belgian defense failed to withstand another attack. It is believed that tests of the plan to defend this northern frontier by flooding were unsatisfactory.

Even Holland, basking in 100 years of peace, is growing alarmed over the mushrooming of new air bases across her flat frontier. An invasion across southern Holland to strike the Belgian line south of the Antwerp defenses is regarded as a possibility Hence a movement is growing in Holland to increase defenses of its eastern frontier.

The building of an 80-foot bridge by the Germans at Urdingen, wider than traffic apparently requires, is regarded by some Netherlanders as ominous.

Rumors that all this expensive fortification may be set at naught by unrevealed German technical advances in war weapons, with the known fast that Paris and London are within an hour and a half of modern bombing planes operating from Germany's new air bases, make the value of the fort system nil, so far as giving any feeling of security from attack.

Fortified Line On Which France Depends For Security

Right to the very edge of these grim concrete blockhouses, a French farmer hopefully plows his acres . . . the grass atop the structures and the bushes around them do not mean neglect; they mean camouflage. Every inch of the farmer's fields is measured and ranged for shell and machine gun fire. Above the fortified line on which France depends for security, showing the "weak spots" on either end where it would be possible to get around the defenses by again violating neutrality, in this case of Switzerland and Holland, instead of Belgium as in 1914.

Manufacturing Plant For A Trouble Signal System Has Been Set Up Here

A device which combines principles of the governor on a phonograph with those of the buzzer system used in catching an elevator ride has brought to Lubbock a new industry.

H. V. Bigham and Sons, Inc., manufacturers of a "trouble signal system," is making a name in the ginning business particularly not only for the company but also for Lubbock. The invention, on the market for three years and a month, is intended to eliminate the word "breakdown" from shop talk.

Step-Up Operations

Working up to the present time on a small scale, Bigham and his associates have installed their trouble detector in 98 plants in Texas and other southern and southwestern states. Present plans for expansion are designed to step-up operations to meet an expected sale increase.

Bigham has a patent pending on the device, which, no bigger than the generator on an automobile or the electric motor of a sewing machine, "saves time which might be taken up by repairs, prevents breakdowns by indicating minor trouble which could become a major one, reduces possibility of accidents since most of them are caused during the time when repairs are made, and eliminates fire hazards," he declares.

Is Constant Guard

The signal system, formed of similar unit devices attached to individual pieces of machinery by a pulley which operates a governor within the device, is a constant guard against faulty operation, as a siren blares forth and a board displays the location when trouble starts, Bigham explained.

In the gin business, it means that trouble which has continued unnoticed through several operations until a complete "choke - up" has resulted is caught at an initial stage. The governor of the device, when trouble occurs, establishes an electrical contact which starts the distress signals.

Illustrating the device, Bigham said that the person who presses a button to call an elevator to his floor, as indicated by the signal board in the elevator, could be compared to a "trouble-maker" in plant operation, and the working of the buzzer system the principle his invention is based on.

H. V. BIGHAM

To Increase Employes

Located at 341-43 Avenue H, the plant now has an employed list of 4, which will increase with expansion of the industry. The plant was established here in March, 1933, after the invention had been in a process of perfection since 1930. Associated with Bigham are his two sons, W. C. and Verlon Bigham.

Bigham, a resident of Roaring Springs for some 20 years previous, thought of the invention during his work in ginning establishments. Directors of the company include Aubrey L. Lockett, Vernon; Roy Riddel; J. E. Newton, Dougherty; W. C. Bigham; E. E. Moss, who aided in perfecting the invention; J. D. Skinner, Corsicana; and H. G. Yakey. Aqua Dulce.

Interest in the device has spread to Europe, and correspondence from Moscow, U. S. S. R., has recently been received. The invention was a main attraction at the recent convention of ginners in Fort Worth, Bigham said.

Open Season On Tigers, Cubs Begins Today; Big League Hunters Take Aim

Dizzy Dean To Pitch Against Champion Cubs

Detroit Tigers Open Against Promising Cleveland Tribe; Fair Weather Promises And 200,000 Fans Expected

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 13. — With a belated but timely assist promised by the weather man and a salute to the addicts of America's great national sport, 16 major league clubs will put on ceremonial view tomorrow the results of the most drastic player shakeup in the memory of the oldest bleacher inhabitant.

Changes embracing approximately one-third of the aggregate lineups of all American and National League outfits will be put to their first test before close to 200,000 fans in eight cities. They forecast the bitterest sort of pennant scrambles with at least three and possibly four clubs waging the main fight in each circuit.

Won't Break Records

President Roosevelt will throw out the first ball at Washington, where the Senators entertain the New York Yankees and a good share of the government partakes of a half-holiday, an annual custom.

Weather forecasts indicate a silver lining to the clouds that have hung persistently over the gloomiest spring training season in many years. Fair weather is promised for the entire major league program.

Opening day attendance will not surpass any records but figures to be considerably above last year.

The opening guns of the championship campaigns will boom loudest west of the Alleghenies, with the flag-winning Chicago Cubs invading the stronghold of their bitter National League rivals in St. Louis, and the world champion Detroit Tigers moving into the ballwick of the ambitious Cleveland Indians.

Brooklyn's entirely reconstructed team, flanked by loyal rooters from Flatbush, will meet New York's Giants before a near-capacity crowd of 55,000 at the Polo Grounds.

Cincinnati expects a sellout attendance for 30,000 for the opener with Pittsburgh.

Dean vs. Warneke

All told, 115,000 fans are expected to witness the National League's introductory show, featuring a pitching duel at St. Louis between the great Dizzy Dean, erstwhile super-heteorodyne of the holdouts, and Lonnie Warneke, No. 1 man of the Chicago sharpshooting staff. Dean got the opening day summons after Manager Frankie Frisch originally primed his newcomer, Roy Parmelee, late of the Giants, for duty.

The four American League openers, it is estimated, will draw no more than 80,000, due mainly to the fact that the Tigers and Yankees open away from their enlarged parks. Top crowds of 25,000 likely will see Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, youthful pitching giant of the Tigers, oppose Mel Harder, big chief of the Indians, while Wes Ferrell goes to the firing line for the elaborately built Boston Red Sox against the Philadelphia Athletics, survivors of baseball's biggest "sellouts."

This year's campaign will offer the fans a quicker chance to size up their favorites and determine whether the experts were justified in establishing the Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Cardinals as pennant choices. The three-game series plan will operate for the first time; a fresh set of "openers" will be played April 17. Intersectional competition will get under way earlier than ever, April 28.

How About Giants

Both pennant races appear likely to be close. The fight for National League leadership hardly could be any hotter than it was last September when the Cubs came galloping from behind with a 21-game winning streak to overhaul the Giants and the Cardinals. All three teams, plus the improved Pittsburgh Pirates, figure to participate in this year's tussle. Betting men like the Cubs' chances to repeat but baseball writers figure the Cardinal pitching staff, with Parmelee joining the celebrated Dean brothers, as the most probable dominating factor of the campaign.

Two straight foldups by the Giants have kept the critics from giving them more than an outside chance.

Pittsburgh, fortified by a fine backstop in Al Todd and a comeback by Manager Pie Traynor at third needs more consistent pitching to be a real pennant factor but has a good chance of getting it.

Brooklyn likely will get a strenuous battle from the Cincinnati Reds for fifth place. Philadelphia's pitching should stand off any challenge from the Boston Bees for seventh position.

Al Simmons' big bat is the main addition to the champion Tigers. With the club well fortified in every respect otherwise, it probably will be sufficient to offset chal-

Station KFYO To Announce Baseball Reports As "The Judge" Makes Debut Here

It's "play ball" today in the majors, and as the first games of 1936 get under way, as they proceed and as they wind up, baseball fans of Lubbock may have the scores hot off the griddle.

Or, at least, hot off the radio tubes. Instituting a new wrinkle here, Station KFYO, the Avalanche-Journal broadcasting station, will flash baseball results thrice daily—at 2:45 p. m., at 5:45 and a final report at 7:15 o'clock.

And the Old Judge himself will be at the "mike," spouting the returns as they come in via special leased wire. DeWitt "Judge" Landis, veteran announcer formerly with the Amarillo station, new manager of KFYO, will make his debut in Lubbock over his own dials at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon.

Tune in on 1310 kilocycles, for the Judge's announcements, and read the Morning Avalanche tomorrow for more particulars and the line scores.

Sharman Takes On Balk Estes

Supporting Card Flavored By Main Event Performances For Wednesday Night; Stratton And Jackson In Main

Hy Sharman, the demon speedster from Salt Lake City, will try his artistic temperament and wicked wiles against the handsome Balk Estes, young and powerful Oklahoman, tomorrow night in the special event of Promoter Sled Allen's grapple show at the Auditorium. It will be their first meeting.

Sharman, colorful and unpopular little scrapper who worked the main event as an industrious referee last week, is due to meet with no little opposition from Estes, who is trying to make headway in the profession and who knows a few tricks already.

The supporting card is further embellished by a couple of well known battlers, each of whom has appeared in main event contests here. For losing to Otis Clingman last week in the main, Dale Haddock, powerful, cruel trickster from Detroit, is backed down to the preliminary, but it should not be an ordinary preliminary.

Meyers Meets Haddock

Ray Meyers, the Kentucky veteran, opposes Haddock in the curtain raiser. Meyers, a main eventer by profession, knows he can regain top billing if he beats Haddock, and Haddock needs a victory to get back among the leaders again. Their engagement should be interesting.

Topping the card is that colorful gent from the north, comical Bulldog Jackson, who likes it rough and tough. It is the Bulldog's first main event performance, but in recent supporting cards he has hinted of main event ability. He'll need all the ability and all his tricks to get far against Walter Stratton, a popular local favorite who has been keeping his record unblemished by fighting around the Abilene district.

Stratton is here for the first time in several weeks, much to the delight of fans who like to see muscular demonstrations along with eager, earnest wrestling. Last time he was here, Stratton put on his best show, for the first time becoming an aggressive spirit, faster and more furious than before. If he has retained that attitude, it bodes no good for the wild sourdough from the Yukon.

Junior Team Of Lubbock High Is Class Champion

The Juniors of Lubbock High School won the inter-class football championship when they defeated the Seniors in a close ball game by the score of 7 to 6, Monday afternoon. They had previously defeated the Sophomores, 14 to 0.

The game was close all the way and the only scoring threat of the first half was killed when the Juniors let the end of the half find them only a yard from a score.

The third quarter was also close and a few minutes after the start of the final quarter Murray for the Seniors intercepted a flat zone pass and ran forty yards for a touchdown when White passed to Letsinger. The same combination then worked the same play for the try for point winning the ball game.

The play of Letsinger, Simmons, Kinard and White was outstanding for the Juniors while Kerr, Schoolar, Blue and Meador were standouts for the Seniors.

The lineups:

Seniors: Ends, Bardwell and Murray; tackles, Blue and Hendricks; guards, Triplett and Cummings, center, Meador; halfbacks, Kerr and Schoolar; quarter, Linn; fullback, Parks; sub, Halsell.

Juniors: Ends, Letsinger and Tapp; tackles, Simmons and McGraw; guards, Stewart and Kinard; center, Sullivan; halfbacks, Woods and Gantz; quarter, White; fullback, Perry; sub, Gearheart.

Six Teams Of Texas League Start Season

Fort Worth Cats Lead League After Sunday's Victory At Expense Of Dallas; Others Fire Away This Afternoon

(By The Associated Press)

All hands start firing in the Texas Baseball league Tuesday as six teams clash in openers at Galveston, San Antonio and Oklahoma City.

Alone at the top of the league after its 4 to 1 victory over the Dallas Steers in a special league opener at Fort Worth Sunday, the Cowtown Panthers will give up the first "lead" of the season.

Minus several stars of the 1935 season, who either paraded to the big show or were traded in winter deals, the league has another crop of youngsters — and the perennial veterans — on hand. The tendency among the eight clubs leaned towards promising youngsters as the full-fledged season started.

Indians Meet Tulsa

The 1935 champions and Dixie rulers, Bert Niehoff's Oklahoma City Indians, start the campaign with several of its main cogs doing duty elsewhere this year. The Indians, opening against the Tulsa Oilers at Oklahoma City, will fire Jack Brillheart, veteran southpaw, at the invaders.

Tulsa, under Manager Marty McManus for the first season, will use Ed Bryan on the mound with either Jackson or Straub behind the plate.

The veteran Ash Hillin, likely to be the mainstay of the San Antonio Mission hurling corps for the season, was Manager Bob Coleman's choice to start the year for the Padres with Bus Payton, great youngster catcher, receiving.

Manager Dutch Lorbeer of the Beaumont Exporters, stripped of his hustling 1935 team by the Detroit Tigers, sets another bunch of youngsters out into the league scramble against San Antonio. He has nominated James Bratton, a righthander, for hill service with George Tebbetts in the trappings.

Houston And Galveston

Crafty Ira Smith, putting together a young team at Houston, entrusts his opening day pitching assignment to either Bob Ross or Al Sherer, two newcomers who looked great in spring drills. Franks will be the receiver.

The Galveston Pirates, opening on their home grounds against Houston, will have Jack Jakucki, one of last season's veterans, on the mound and Johnny Berger, a recent acquisition, behind the plate.

Two new managers will make their bows tomorrow—McManus with Tulsa and Coleman with San Antonio. Alex Gaston and Harry McCurdy, who finished the season last year with Dallas and Fort Worth, respectively, are back, while the other four, who started the 1935 season and weathered the campaign, are Jack Mealey with Galveston; Smith with Houston; Lorbeer with Beaumont and Niehoff, Oklahoma City.

President Set To Pitch Ball

Roosevelt Limbers Up, Takes Box Seat Stance Today For First Ball At Washington; Ceremony Is Planned

BY DILLON GRAHAM
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON, April 13. —His right arm in fine pitching form after a southern fishing vacation, President Roosevelt laughingly promised today to throw a "strike" when he tosses the first ball officially inaugurating the major league baseball season here tomorrow.

As sun-burned as any of the players, following his weeks of angling in Bahamian waters, Mr. Roosevelt today received from Owner Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators his annual gold-bordered American League pass. Tomorrow he'll earn his Annie Oakley by pegging a shiny, new ball in the general direction of the pitcher's box to start the Washington-New York Yankees game.

Fight For Ball

There'll be a mad scramble for the presidential throw. Yankee and Senator players will string out in a line from home plate to first base, all ready to jump and snag the horsehide.

Accompanied by members of his official party, Mr. Roosevelt will be driven onto the field and up to his box, while the army band toots the customary "Hail to the Chief."

Vice-President Jack Garner and Griffith, with perhaps William Hardidge, president of the American League, will march to the centerfield flag pole and raise the stars and stripes.

Then, while upwards of 25,000, including cabinet members, senators and congressmen and just plain fans, look on, Mr. Roosevelt will wind up and let go the ball that starts the season rolling. Congress will be in session but 3 o'clock will find many members answering roll call at Griffith Stadium.

Fair and warmer weather, perhaps around 65 degrees, has been promised by the weatherman and the Senators feel confident of a victory—if Mr. Roosevelt stays until the end.

No's the Senators' good luck charm. They've won every game he's attended —and remained through to the finish. In 1934, when rain temporarily halted the opener and the president left, the Senators lost to the Red Sox but they've won every other inaugural he's watched.

Washington will have a new first-game pitcher for the first time in four years. The southpaw Earl Whitehill, who has hurled openers since 1933, hasn't rounded into shape yet, so the big and colorful right-handed Buck Newsom, will get the assignment. Clif Bolton will catch. The initial game stunt is nothing new to Buck, for he's hurled the starters for the last two years for St. Louis.

For the Yankees, the veteran Lefty Gomez will pitch his fifth consecutive season-beginner, with Bill Dickey on the receiving end.

Aggies Set Scoring Record In 32-7 Baseball Victory Over SMU Mustangs

COLLEGE STATION, April 13. (AP) The Texas A. and M. Aggies jumped on Bob Finley and Maco Stewart for 24 hits, incluring four homers, four triples and six doubles, to inflict a crushing 32 to 7 defeat on the Southern Methodist university Mustangs here today.

The Aggies set the scoring record for their baseball teams and set what was believed to be a Southwest conference record.

Troubled with wildness in the early innings, Doc Pitner of the Aggies coasted as his lead increased and was nicked for nine scattered hits.

HORNED FROGS 13; OWLS 12

HOUSTON, April 13. (AP)—Coach "Bear" Wolf's T. C. U. Frogs eked out a 13 to 12 decision over Jimmy Kitts' Rice Owls in a weird Southwest conference baseball marathon were today.

Trailing 9 to 12 at the end of eight innings, the Frogs put over four tallies in the ninth to gain victory. Ten men went to bat in that decisive ninth round with the tying run crossing the platter on Wall's double and the winner scoring as Seale hit Sammy Baugh with a pitched ball as the bases were loaded.

Three Sets Of Golfers Tie In Dallas Battle

Pro-Amateur Teams Clip 12 Strokes Off Par; Wood And Picard Figure In Top Trio; SMU Lad Shoots 30

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, April 13.—Three pro-amateur teams clipped twelve strokes from par 36-36—72 on the Dallas Country club course today to tie for first place in the Texas Centennial 36-hole best ball event.

Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., sensation and his sharpshooting partner, David (Spec) Goldman of Dallas; Craig Wood of Deal, N. J., and Reynolds Smith of Dallas, and Jamie Gough, sensational Dallas youngster and Bryan Winter, Dallas professional, tied for top place.

Wood Shot 64

Picard and Goldman put together sparkling rounds of 65-67; Wood and Smith tacked up 64-68, and Gough and Winter tallied 67-65.

Gough, gangling Southern Methodist university freshman who set a new course record only a week ago with a card of 63, teamed with Winter to shoot the lowest nine holes of the day—a 30, six shots under par—on the final nine holes.

Wood had individual rounds of 68-71 while Picard slipped two shots below par with a pair of 71's for low scores in the professional ranks.

Goldman and Jack Munger, both young Dallas stars, tied for low amateur. Goldman fired 70-72, while Munger tacked a 68 to a morning round of 74. Munger played brilliant in the afternoon despite a bad seven on a par four hole.

Houston Pro Falters

Munger and George Aulbach, Dallas Country Club pro, had 69-65—134, while Floyd Boone, Longview professional, and Bill Clark, Longview amateur, had 70-66—136. Harry Todd, Texas amateur champion, and Herbert Schroeder of Dallas registered 68-69—137 and Jimmy and Francis McGonagill, Dallas brothers, scored 71-66—137.

After a great 66 in the morning Willie Maguire, Houston professional, and Don Schumacher, Dallas amateur, faltered in the afternoon and took a 72 for 138 total.

Fifty two players competed.

Conqueror Of Top Row And Azucar Is Louisville Bound

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13. (AP)—Indian Broom, sensational 3-year-old which whipped Top Row and Azucar while setting a new world's record for a mile and an eighth last Saturday, will be shipped to Louisville April 20 to begin prepping for the Kentucky Derby.

Derrill Cannon, trainer, made the announcement today following a conference with Major A. C. Taylor, Canadian sportsman and owner of the chestnut colt.

Cannon said the fleet son of Brooms came out of the $10,000 added Marchbank handicap, when he set the new record of 1:47 3-5, in fine condition.

CARDS, BROWN SQUARE

ST. LOUIS, April 13. (AP)—Frankie Frisch's Cardinals squared the two-game spring series with the St. Louis Browns today by winning 6 to 3 before 3,500 persons. The Browns won yesterday, 7 to 4.

Ace Golf Club Members Swell

Horton Smith Joins Hole-In-1 Club, Now Numbering 88 As Eight New States Come In; 28 Listed From Texas

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 13. (AP)—Latest returns from the golfing ranges today sent the membership in the Associated Press Hole-in-One club to 88 with 26 states reporting aces and with the sharp-shooters from Texas still blazing the trail.

Eight states—Connecticut, Louisiana, Kentucky, West Virginia, Oklahoma, Wyoming, Oregon and Pennsylvania—reported for the first time, while the Texas ace brigade produced 10 more to run its list of members to 27. California and Tennessee now are tied for second place with 11 each.

Dallas leads the field with 10, five of which were collected on the Tenison municipal course and two of them on that layout's 13th hole. Nashville, Tenn., is a close second with eight.

A beauty shop operator from Denver, Robert P. Chesney, shot into the lead of the long distance ace championship by scoring a one-shotter from 290 yards, or 15 yards farther than the previous record-breaker for the year, made by Glover Collier, Memphis railroader.

The most noted joiner to date is Horton Smith, master of the Augusta masters. The "Joplin Ghost" scored his ace, the third of his brilliant career during a practice round on the 190-yard fourth of the Augusta national course.

Lubbock Trio Accepted

Other new members of the club included:

Sid Thrash, Lubbock, Tex., third hole, Lubbock C. C.

Panny Farmer, Knox City, Tex., 9th hole, Meadowbrook, Lubbock, Tex.

P-TA Membership In Texas Larger

AUSTIN, April 13. (Special) — When the membership of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers went over the 100,000 mark last week, extension leaders felt that a fitting tribute had been paid to the Texas celebration of its 100th birthday. They naturally interpreted this membership in terms of statewide interest in their program for child welfare, said Gladys W. Henderson of the state extension committee.

Exact figures sent to Washington April 15 as the annual membership report show Texas as having 100,667 members.

These figures represent a gain of 4,130 over the membership of 96,537 last year. In 1935 the Lone Star organization ranked fourth in membership in the United States. The National Congress had a total membership of more than one and a half million last year and, with this year's increases, leaders expect more than two million members to be reported at the National Convention which meets in Milwaukee, May 11-19.

Registrations are pouring in to the State Department of Health for the Summer Round-Up of the Children, an annual campaign conducted by parent-teacher associations to send all children to school free of remedial defects, both physical and mental. Police Drive In City Continuing

Somewhat retarded by night hours, a stream of motorists who had broken traffic ordinances continued from the four directions of the City limits and joined in front of the desk of a police desk sergeant, Monday.

Thirty-seven tickets were issued Monday night, said Sgt. Bastin Wolffarth.

Seventy-seven persons had trekked into corporation court by 11 o'clock that morning to answer charges, but the count from that time until 5:30 o'clock was not available, officials said.

Wolffarth said he had seen no evidence of a police-highway patrol joint drive that night. Officials had planned to check defective lights.

As a result of the traffic campaign conducted by Chief Johnston, a larger percentage of motorists were observing stop signs, red lights, and general driving regulations.

Subject To Fine

Persons who fail to answer a ticket summons notifying them of violation of traffic regulations are subject to a fine ranging from $5 to $200, said Police Recorder C. E. Luce.

"It is as much a violation to fail to report on a traffic ticket for speeding, or for other violations, as violation of any other law," he said. "If we have to go after a man who refused to come down and make his plea here, it is going to cost him. Article 792 imposes a fine for violations."

Virtually all persons appearing to pay fines outwardly were in good spirits. There was considerable bantering

Sweepstakes Prize Will Be Sought For In Court Battle

LEVELLAND, April 13 (Special)—The small fortune won by Jesse Boysen, Levelland druggist, in the Canadian Army and Navy Veterans sweepstakes will be the prize in a 72nd district court suit.

Sam Combs, W. S. Eggleston, and Ray Watson, all of Levelland, have filed suit in district court here for $20 000 won by Boysen when Thrapston finished second in the Manchester Handicap, on which the lottery was based, last November.

Other parties to the suit are Mrs. Boysen and Lubbock National bank, in which the plaintiffs' petition sets out the prize money was deposited in the name of Mrs. Boysen.

Carl Ratliff of Levelland and Vickers & Campbell of Lubbock filed the suit.

A cast representing the Sock and Buskin club at Texas Technological college won first place Sunday in the sixth annual Texas Intercollegiate one-act play tournament at Houston, the Associated Press reported.

Clay Thompson, a member of the cast, won highest acting honors for men, for the second year. Elizabeth Arnett of Tech won second place woman's award.

Thompson, Miss Arnett and Tony Thurston have rehearsed the play they presented, "Casualties", by Flavin, since early in this school term, under supervision of Miss Ruth Pirtle, head of the speech department. Miss Pirtle accompanied the group to Houston.

North Texas State Teachers college at Denton won second honor and College of Mines at El Paso, third. A cup for the best diction was awarded Hardin-Simmons college at Abilene.

_for Digestion's sake... smoke Camels

Copyright, 1936, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

BARONIAL DINING at the Winter Place Tavern in Boston. Theodore Roosevelt, Enrico Caruso, Henry Cabot Lodge praised its famous fare. Here Camels reign supreme. Nick Stuhl (left), maître d'hôtel, says: "Camels have the gift of making great dishes more enjoyable. Camels are the most popular cigarette at the Winter Place Tavern."

MEASURING THE EFFECT on digestion of smoking Camels (above). Delicate machines measure the flow of digestive secretions. The evidence shows that smoking a Camel increases the secretion of digestive fluids. The importance of this extra secretion in facilitating digestion is a matter of common knowledge. So smoke Camels... for digestion's sake...and for their costlier tobaccos. Camels set you right!

PARACHUTE JUMPER. Miss Uva Kimmey says: "My life depends on making no mistakes. I smoke Camels for digestion's sake. They encourage digestion in a pleasant way. Camels set me right!"

WORKING AGAINST TIME. Bob Duffey, steam-shovel operator, says: "Work comes first—eating, second. You grab a bite when you can. But trust Camels to make even a quick meal taste good and feel good."

Smoking Camels Promotes Enjoyment of Good Food and Stimulates Digestion

Our nervous modern life often affects digestion. Mental effort—physical rush—slows down the flow of the digestive fluids. Smoking Camels restores and increases this necessary flow.

Scientific research definitely confirms the fact that Camels encourage digestion in this pleasant way. Enjoy Camels as much as you like. They never frazzle your nerves.

Costlier Tobaccos!

● Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

A New Policy Is Needed

PRESS reports concerning a so-called "hunger march" in Washington last Friday tell of a "rain-soaked army of 900 stamping through the halls of Congress, some with clenched fists and humming 'The Internationale', demanding that Congress feed, shelter and provide them with work at the prevailing wage schedules."

Our view is that they shouldn't get a dime—and that they should have been unceremoniously put out in the streets with orders to disband and learn some manners.

The fact that some of the "marchers" were singing "The Internationale"—the song of Communism's Comintern of Moscow—showed their colors.

Enemies of the government they are—not friends and not citizens, no matter where they were born.

This government has enough problems to solve for the good of good citizens; it has no time to waste with avowed enemies of the public.

Imagine what would have happened to a "capitalistic army" that pulled a similar stunt in Moscow!

Would red-handed Stalin and his gang of cutthroats have permitted such a thing?

We all know the answer. And why Communists should be accorded the rights of Americans in this country is more than we can understand and certainly more than we can condone.

The sooner this country adopts the policy of turning the cold shoulder to its internal enemies and making sedition the most unpopular pastime within our borders, the better off we'll be. Our national aim should be to aid and protect good Americans and eternal damnation for those who, through force, seek to tear down our government and traditions of free men, to substitute therefore the crackbrain methods of the Soviets.

We have all the sympathy in the world for the hungry and the homeless.

We believe it should be the policy of our nation to stamp out want among our own people—the people who stand for the things all good Americans stand for and who have the right to discuss their problems with their government.

But for sniveling reds whose only desire is to foment unrest and disorder, we have nothing but opposition. If they would tear down this government, they have no right to seek favors from it!

ON OUR "EDITORIAL COUSINS"

Old Andy Jack Stricklin, the Lone Wolf editor of the Terry County Herald of Brownfield, printed a quotation from the Lamesa Reporter on the editorial page of his last issue. The Lamesa quotation, credited by Andy Jack to J. W. Smith, sr., was to the effect that Editor Smith's Reporter had quit socking The Morning Avalanche editor because those socks make Lamesans interested to the point where they read The Morning Avalanche all the more. The Reporter urges Editor Stricklin to follow a similar course, thus causing The Morning Avalanche much pain.

We agree with Editor Smith that his comments, as well as those of other South Plains editors, do attract increased interest in The Morning Avalanche. Advertising in the Lamesa Reporter, the Terry County Herald and all the rest of our neighbor contemporaries is valuable and we know it.

But so is advertising in The Morning Avalanche—and every time we mention Editors Smith and Stricklin, which we always do by reprinting their socks at us—they get a "break" same as we do in their papers!

While the editor of The Morning Avalanche believes he can limp along without comments by the editor of the Lamesa Reporter, he doesn't like to do it. Sallies between editors hurt neither paper and amuse many readers, always providing they are of the "red hot", although good-natured type of sallies forever springing from the fertile brain of Andrew Jackson Stricklin.

Instead of desiring to hamper our contemporary publications, The Morning Avalanche would like to see all of them make lots of money, have big circulations and in every way gain the peak of success in their various fields.

Incidentally, here in Lubbock we are proud of the fact that we have never been refused a professional favor by a single South Plains editor from whom we have sought one; that we have never failed to grant one asked of us by our neighbors. Our neighbors have been unfailingly courteous and helpful over a long period of years and we appreciate it. And since we do not make any attempt to take the place of any of our contemporaries in their own fields—and have no desire to—our "latch string" remains on the outside for all our "editorial cousins" — including Editor Smith, if we happen to be able to do something for him.

EXPLANATION OF LAST SATURDAY'S CARTOON

THE VOYAGE OF THE BELLS

A strange belief connected with Holy Week, is that referring to the mysterious pilgrimage of church bells. For centuries the country people of France have been under the impression that all church bells travel to Rome and back between Thursday and Saturday of the Holy Week, to receive their blessing at the hands of St. Peter's. As a result of this belief, no church bell is rung on the last three days. Instead, the bell-ringers use gigantic alphorns which can be heard 12 miles around.

My cartoon was drawn after an original photo of th is strange custom.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

TOBY RYAN, 19, is a commercial model, posing for photographs to be used in advertisements. She shares an apartment with HARRIET HOLM, also a model.

At a charity style show Toby meets wealthy TIM JAMIESON who showers her with attentions for a time. Tim leaves town for "a few days," promising to call Toby as soon as he returns. The time stretches out and no word comes from him.

Toby spends a day "on location," making photographs to illustrate a magazine story. When she reaches home a letter is waiting for her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXII

Harriet, who was at the mirror coaxing her hair into soft waves, said, "There's a letter for you, Toby. It came in the afternoon mail—"

Toby picked up the letter and for one breathless moment her heart soared. Then she saw the name on the corner of the envelope and the warm feeling that had surrounded her vanished. The letter wasn't from Tim. The name on the envelope was that of an advertising agency.

She said, "It's nothing very important, I guess," and tore open the envelope. There were two sheets inside, folded separately. The first bore the letterhead of the advertising agency. It read, briefly, that the enclosed letter had been received from a publication carrying their advertising and, since it seemed to be for Toby, they were forwarding it to her.

The second page was a sheet of pale pink notepaper, written in purple ink. Attached was a picture of Toby, cut from an advertisement. The picture was rather worn and had been folded so that a crease came directly down the center of her face. But it was Toby just the same.

She folded back the clipping and read:

"Dear Dream Girl; I suppose you will be surprised to get this letter from someone you have never seen or heard of, but since I do not know where you are, writing this letter is the best I can do. I hope it will reach you, Dream Girl, for you are the one I have been searching for all my life. I have another picture like the one I am putting in this letter and I keep it in my watch and look at it many times a day.

"I would send you one of my pictures, but I do not have any that do me justice. Dream Girl, I have roved the world, but now I am ready to settle down in a little home and know that you are the one to share my lot. Will you please write to me and tell me your name and address? Until then I will just call you Dream Girl and count the days until I hear from you.

Every-lovingly,
Jonas Huckleberry."

Toby read it slowly, for some of the words were almost illegible. Then she said, "Why, Harriet—how ridiculous!"

"What's the matter, honey?"

"This letter. It's perfectly crazy. Listen to this—"

She read the letter again, this time aloud. Harriet crossed the room and took it from her when she had finished. "It's a proposal," Harriet exclaimed. "Jonas Huckleberry wants you to marry him, Toby. He's asking you to share his lot—and I'll bet it's a fine one! I've had some fan mail myself, but never anything to equal this. Well, darling, there's a husband if you want him."

"I certainly don't."

The other laughed. "You needn't take it so seriously," she said. "He'll never be able to find your name or address. Listen, honey, Clyde's going to be busy tonight. What do you say we see a movie together."

Toby said, "Why, yes. I'd like to."

* * *

It was the afternoon of the following day. Howard Blane, junior member of the firm of Amberson and Blane, stood in the office of Al McCracken, ace copy writer of the advertising agency.

"I've just been talking to Ramsey," Blane said. "He'll have those tables of statistics over here this afternoon."

"Good." McCracken nodded. "I'll get to work on them as soon as they show up." He reached for a sheaf of papers. "Here's the first draft of the Kimball Bakeries copy. Want to take a look at it?"

"Thanks." Blane took the bulky sheets and turned to go. Half-way to the door, he swung around and came back. "I thought we were ready to go ahead on that Hillyer soap series," he said confidentially, "but there's another delay. Hillyer wasn't satisfied with the model Joyce picked. That's the trouble with that place. Everything's got to be okayed by Hillyer himself. Talking to anyone else is just a waste of time—"

"I shouldn't think it would be hard to find a model," McCracken said. "New York's full of them."

"I know—but finding one to suit Hillyer's another matter. He's got his own ideas. Wants a girl whose picture hasn't been used too much or associated with another product. One with freshness and charm. Unsophisticated. The sort of girl who can hold a bar of soap in her hand and smile and make you think that, because she likes it, you'll like it, too.

"It's going to be a nice job for the girl who lands it. They're going to give her a contract and $1000 bonus to agree not to pose for any other soap manufacturer for a year. Of course, she'll be paid for all the posing she does, besides. She can pose for any other product, but no other soap manufacturer."

There was a sound in the doorway and both men turned. Bill Brandt stood there. He said, "Excuse me. I thought you were alone, Mr. McCracken."

"Did you finish that Bradley copy?" McCracken asked.

"Yes. I have it here."

"Leave it with me." McCracken said. "I'll go over it later and talk to you about it."

Bill gave him the typewritten sheets and returned to his own desk. He couldn't have avoided hearing what Blane had said about finding a model for the Hillyer soap advertisements. Everyone in the office knew what a big account that was. Back pages, in color, on the best known magazines in the country. One of the biggest jobs Amberson and Blane had ever landed.

Blance's words still rang in Bill's ears. "A girl whose pictures haven't been used too much . . . one with freshness and charm . . . who can hold a bar of soap in her hand and make you think that, because she likes it, you'll like it too . . . It's going to be a nice job for the girl who lands it—"

On Bill's desk was a box of cough drops and a manuscript reviewing the history of the company manufacturing them. He was supposed to be reading that history. But Bill disregarded it, as well as the cough drops. He opened a drawer of his desk and took out several clippings. They were advertisements, cut from newspapers and magazines. In each there was a picture of a girl—the same girl.

Bill laid the clippings out before him, rearranged them. He sat back and studied them and presently withdrew one. Then another. At last only one remained. It was the photograph of a girl with an armful of daisies. She was looking up, smiling, and the wind had blown her hair back from her face. It was easy to imagine this girl halted by the gloriousness of a summer morning, drinking in the beauty of trees and sky and yellow sunshine. It was Toby Ryan.

For several minutes Bill studied the picture. Then he arose and went to Howard Blane's private office. The door of the room was open and Bill stood there a moment before he entered.

"Mr. Blane," he said. "I couldn't help hearing what you were saying about finding a model to pose for the Hillyer soap advertisements."

Blane looked up, surprised. "Er—what's that?"

"I couldn't help hearing what you were saying to Mr. McCracken," Bill repeated, "about finding a model for the Hillyer soap ads. I wanted to show you this picture." He laid the clipping on the desk. "This girl," he went on, "hasn't been posing very long. I thought perhaps you hadn't seen her photographs."

Blane took the clipping. "Hm," he said. Then he looked up at Bill and smiled. "Girl friend?" he asked.

"Oh, no," Bill said hastily. "I—that is, we used to live on the same street. It was just that what you said about wanting someone with freshness and charm and all that made me think of this picture. Toby really is like that. Toby Ryan, her name is."

"But these pictures are going to be in color," Blane objected. "It takes more than just a pretty face—"

"That's what I wanted to tell you," Bill went on eagerly. "Toby'll be a knock-out in color."

"Hm. Has she ever posed for any color photographs?"

"No. I don't think so, but that's really an advantage. You said you were anxious to find a girl whose picture hasn't been used a lot. In color photographs Toby will look like a different girl. No one will ever know they've seen her before."

Blane eyed the clipping narrowly. "She's a pretty girl," he said.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

UNCLE SAM'S most far-sighted diplomatic and military trouble-shooters still train their sharpest spy glasses on Ethiopia. Experts so high up their names can't be hinted regard the Italo-British clash as more menacing to world peace than the Rhineland or Mongolian conflicts.

Britain will strive to stave off a continental outbreak until she learns what Mussolini aims at in the event of a smashing victory over Haile Selassie. The Mediterranean, the Suez canal and the Red sea form the lifeline to Egypt, India, British China, Australia and New Zealand—the empire's most precious possessions. They are infinitely more important than maintaining friendship with France of checkmating Hitler. That "Little Caesar" senses the Eden-Baldwin weakness is evidenced by his purely diplomatic diversion of troops toward the headwaters of the Blue Nile.

Therefore England will back a French war against Germany only as a desperate means of sideswiping Italy. And if nobody touches the match to the bonfire piled up in Central Europe, Japan will refrain from tackling the Russian Bear.

PUBLICITY: Though Benito Mussolini holds a whiphand today, his regime hung by a slender, human thread only a few months ago. Confidential advices from aboard report that his "recovery shot" came just in time to spare him an outbreak at home and mutiny in the field.

Il Duce's first Ethiopian generalissimo was Emilio De Bono. His appointment was personal and political, and it suggests that the Italian ruler expected a much easier time in conquering Judah's Lion. The old man had "covered" stories with Mussolini in their Socialist newspaper days and participated in the march on Rome. As a soldier, De Bono was a failure. His cautious creepings caused campfire muttering. The publicity be showered on Mussolini's nephews—army aviators—angered home folks whose sons were toting rifles.

During the peak of discontent Il Duce called a midnight council. Several hard yspirits told him the truth. Pietro Badoglio, a regular army man, summarily supplanted De Bono. He hauled the army out of the trenches and steady advances crushed the morale of Selassie's guerillas. But Badoglio's first order was to keep the names and exploits of the nephews off the front pages. That unkind command helped to save the fascisti dictatorship.

WINNER: Smart headwork likes behind the drive for delegates which has already netted Governor Alf Landon approximately 350 votes—some guess as high as 400—in the Republican national convention.

The Kansan's friends will not decline support from any state, and his undercover strength in the East and South will surprise even the professionals. But Campaign Manager John Hamilton will concentrate on territory west of the Mississippi from now until June. He hopes to corral every state except Idaho, Washington and Oregon (which are generally conceded to Senator Borah). He believes the Landon slate will defeat the uninstructed (Hoover) ticket in California.

The explanation for this strategy is found in eastern G.O.P.-ers' repeated declaration that the nomination must go to a western man, but that the West must first agree on its favorite. That's the attitude of Old Guarders known to be lukewarm to the Kansan. They won't have an anti-Landon leg to stand on if the Governor succeeds in "winning the West."

SCOUTS: The tense state of affairs in the Orient and other hot spots east of Suez may bring a boon to 31 American diplomats threatened with long exile from the United States.

These members of the foreign service receive about $3,000 a year. Though they are entitled to visit the U. S. once every six years, many cannot afford the passage unless they have private means. As a result they lose touch with the American scene and thought, and sometimes their reports prove valueless to the topnotch diplomats at Washington. They "go foreign."

For years Secretaries of State have begged Congress for larger funds, but without much success. This year Cordell Hull's smart salesmen cited the need of obtaining personal reports and impressions from these diplomatic scouts on the rim of the world. They emphasized that never before was their first-hand information so essential to the White House. So Congress boosted the $30,000 travel money fund to $100,000—and authorized them to return by airplane if the crisis warrants such haste.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

GOVERNOR LANDON'S backers are taking a new tack to head off the rising tide of opposition to the Kansan on the basis that his nomination might split the party and ruin its chances of victory. They used their new argument in New York with pronounced success and several big time eastern politicos are now trying to help them sell it to a group of G. O. P. Senators and ex-Senators who will have a lot to say at the convention.

The Landonites realize they must win on an early ballot or never. Conversely no other candidate can win inside of three or four ballots. So they now stress the point that a united and harmonious party front depends chiefly on quick selection of a nominee and avoidance of rancor-breeding deadlocks.

Insiders report that Dave Reed of Pennsylvania, Walter Edge of New Jersey, Charley McNary of Oregon, Hastings and Townsend of Deleware and other past and present wearers of the toga are pretty well sold on this idea. A few more converts of this type would come pretty close to assuring an efficient Landon steamroller at Cleveland.

WISE: New York sharps figure the support of the Senatorial clique is the most important political asset any G.O.P. aspirant can have. They have potent strings they can pull and they know the fine points of convention technique backwards and forwards.

Up to now there has been no disposition on the part of Republican Senators as a group to unite behind any particular candidate. Nevertheless they have been a stout potential barrier to Landon's triumph. Several members of their own crowd have hopes and normally they would prefer to rally to a pal than to a stranger. Senator Dickinson's promoters especially have counted on this as their ace-in-the-hole.

Insiders are confident that Hoover and Borah could protest their heads off in vain if most of the Senators decide to join the Landon parade. So the governor's adherents are wise in focussing their heaviest current fire on "the most exclusive club in the world."

SCARE: Ex-Senator Dave Reed of Pennsylvania is right in the thick of the political porridge these days. He is one of the most frequent consultants of Chairman Henry Fletcher of the Republican National committee.

There is reason to suspect that the tears Dave recently shed at the prospects of G. O. P. defeat in Pennsylvania were slightly crocodile. He just wanted to scare the boys so they would get out and hustle.

* * *

SIDELIGHTS: New York gets word that Secretary Wallace is no longer nervous about AAA payment disclosures . . . The dope is that a number of fairly prominent G. O. P.-ers will be embarrassed too . . An effort will be made to oust Chairman Mel Eaton at the April 16 meeting of the New York State Republican committee . . . Mr. Eaton isn't worrying.

A PLEA FOR FACTS

An editorial in The Morning Avalanche of April 10th, comments on the first liquor case in our County court and is entitled "A Shadow of Coming Events?" The true facts should always be given in any criticism of our juries.

Briefly, the facts are as follows:

Two officers saw a negro emerge from the defendant's house with a package under his arm. Investigation revealed a half gallon of corn liquor. He stated he had purchased it from the defendant. The officers immediately entered the defendant's house and arrested him.

The first negro entered a plea of guilty to violation of the liquor law and was sentenced to jail. True, the defendant first said he guessed he would have to plead guilty. His excuse was that he was afraid to fight his case. He had a conference with Deputy Posey, who, although an excellent officer, is also fair-minded and believes in following our law procedure. Mr. Posey informed him that whether guilty or innocent, he was entitled to a fair and impartial trial and that it was his legal right.

While determining what action to take, the county attorney appeared and said to the defendant, "I hear you are not going to plead guilty. If you dare try to fight me in this case, I will fine you $500 and keep you in jail six months."

We immediately went to trial. Neither of the officers testified that they had purchased the whiskey from the negro. The main witness was the negro who was already in jail. He was controverted by the defendant's wife, who has no past jail record. She stated that the first negro brought the whiskey to the house with him. The jury believed her and acquitted him. The defendant had not said he was guilty, but said he guessed he would have to plead guilty.

Under the law, nothing said by a person under arrest can be used against him on trial of a case. This is done so as to prevent statements obtained by force, intimidation, or made in ignorance, from being used to convict innocent defendants.

In regard to the theft case referred to, in which a six months'

An opportunity for every Texan to know his own state; its scenic beauties, historical background and amazing resources!

The month of April is especially eventful. Houston, San Antonio, Kilgore, Taft-Sinton, Victoria and other communities invite you to interesting historical celebrations; observances that will be cherished and long remembered by patriotic Texans.

Make your plans to attend these celebrations and other observances to be held throughout the year. Pack the family into the car, go by train or bus—really SEE Texas. You'll find Texas offers every vacation pleasure—and it's all right here in your own state.

See the calendar at the right. Write the Chamber of Commerce at the various cities for detailed information on events you are interested in.

"What agency does she work with?"

"The Models' League."

"Well, I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll put her picture in with some others we're considering." He went on smiling. "It occurs to me, Brandt, that we've had you in the wrong department. Maybe you should be selling ads instead of writing them."

"I'd like to try it, Mr. Blane."

"Would you? Well, go back to your desk and finish whatever you have to do there. And Monday morning report to Mr. Nagle."

Unfortunately vitamins cannot be seen. They are invisible but active. Their presence is readily seen in the health and growth of your chicks, but ONE vitamin is not enough, chicks need all FOUR.

That's why EVERLAY FEEDS are so superior, they contain an abundance of all four vitamins in addition to a blended protein and an oatmeal base.

THE TARZAN TWINS, No. 14 — By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As the boys continued along the trail that tunneled the gloomy jungle, they perceived no further evidence of the lion which had caused their headlong flight. Doc's swagger returned. "I'm not afraid of any old lion. All you've got to do is look 'em right in the eye an'—"

"And what?" Dick interrupted. "An' they put their tail between their legs and beat it." "An umbrella's a good thing to frighten a lion with," Dick offered. But now Doc's attention was elsewhere. "That big rock; we didn't pass that. That means for sure we're on the wrong road!"

The boys decided to retrace their steps back to the other fork, certain that it must lead to the railway. At the point where they turned, the trail ran straight for a hundred yards. And there, just at the end of the stretch, a great black-maned lion emerged into full view!

Dick and Doc stood frozen in their tracks. The lion stopped, too, and surveyed them. He was aroused by the sight of such young and tender prey. Baring his fangs, the great fierce beast opened his mouth in a terrific, earth-shaking roar —then moved toward his quarry!

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 13.—The principal support in today's stock market was provided by a few of the rails, coppers and specialties.

Traders continued to view industrial developments with optimistic eyes, but many of them were inclined to give the list further time to demonstrate its ability to override profit taking with volume and strength.

While realising cut minor slices from some of the erstwhile leaders, several managed to get up to new highs for the past several years. The Associated Press composite of 60 stocks edged up .1 of a point to 64.8, the best figure since the summer of 1931.

Ruling On Another New Deal Law Promised By High Court

WASHINGTON, April 13. (AP)—A ruling on the constitutionality of another New Deal law—the 1934 municipal bankruptcy act — was promised today by the Supreme court.

Arguments will be heard on April 28, with a final decision a few weeks later. The act was intended to aid cities, counties, and other political subdivisions refund their debts in federal bankruptcy courts.

TICKER NEWS
By A. J. Humphreys And Co.
1001 13 St., Lubbock

The most significant feature of private crop reports from the interior of the belt is the admission by the farmers themselves that they do not understand the governments new acreage proposals. It looks very much as if this really means that the new contract forms looking to the retirement of acreage have not yet been distributed and as if the Government has as yet done nothing toward signing up the growers. All sections of the belt readily admit that there will be an increase but nearly everybody claims that the extreme lateness of the new crop precludes any idea of a big crop this season. However the conservative idea in the trade is that if the last half of April and all month of May bring generally favorable weather the handicap which now exists will be dissipated.

WASHINGTON: In their efforts to increase production of cotton in Shantung province according to reports to the Commerce Department, the Japanese cotton mill owners association is reported to have recently purchased in chosen 133,000 pounds of American type cottonseed to be distributed free to Chinese cotton growers in Shantung. The seed will be apportioned to the District Magistrates of Shantung Province in the cotton growing region along the lower river north of Chefoo. Then and east of Tsinan.

New York Orvis Bros. and Company report inciates a possible increase in cotton acreage of 3,510,300 acres to a total of 31,367,300 acres against the Government July forecast of 1935 at 27,872,000.

President Roosevelt and Senator William E. Borah were unopposed for the presidential primary ballots of their respective parties. A hand-picked slate of delegates assured the chief executive the Nebraska delegation's 14 votes in the Democratic national convention.

New Attack On Unemployment Promised By President In Address To Young Demos Of Maryland Last Night

to you 'do something'; and when you have done that something if it works, do it some more; and if it does not work do something else."

Addressing himself directly to the youth of the nation, the president, at this outset of his campaign for re-election, gave no direct word as to whether he would seek his NRA goals through legislative or only administrative action.

Seek To Extend Age

"We in your government are seeking to extend the school age in every state of the union and to make it easier for boys and girls to stay in school. Work out for yourselves what would happen if all the boys and all the girls of 14 and 15 and 16 and 17, who are now working in industry, found it possible to stay in school until they were at least 18 years old.

"How many jobs would that give to the young people of the nation who have graduated from high school and from college? And how much better equipped would be these youngsters who are now at work if they could stay in school to the completion of their education?

"In the same way, ask yourselves how many jobs would be created if the great majority of people who are now over 65—to take a figure at random—were in a position to retire in security for the balance of their days on earth. And how much greater happiness would such security give to their old age?"

Instance Is Cited

Turning to the subject of the shorter work week, he cited an instance where a certain industry under the National Recovery act reduced working hours to an average of 36.4 per week. He said that since NRA some members of this industry had increased working hours so that the average for the industry is now 39.9 hours per week.

"Not a serious difference you say," he added, "and yet if you figure it out on the assumption that there were 166,500 men and women in this industry, 10 per cent or 16,650 people have either lost their jobs or, by working longer hours, are preventing 16,650 other people from getting employment. Actually the records show that 1,400 people lost their jobs and 15,250 other people were kept from getting work."

Before leaving the subject, he added these words:

"Because the practices of employment definitely affect the problem of unemployment, the government must give and will give consideration to such subjects as the length of the working week, the stability of employment on an annual basis, and the payment of at least adequate minimum wages. A government doing that is a government that is working actively at the answers to your problem."

Leaves Little Doubt

Mr. Roosevelt left little doubt that he believed in pressing ahead with new experiments.

"I, for one," he said, "do not believe that the era of the pioneer is at an end; I only believe that the area for pioneering has changed. The period of geographical pioneering is largely finished. . . .

"I am certain that one of the chief needs today is the releasing and the enlistment of the spirit of youth."

Addressing himself directly to youth, the president asserted that "the world in which the millions of you have come of age is not the set old world of your fathers . . . because the facts and needs of civilization have changed more greatly in this generation than in the century that preceded us."

Panaceas Are Cited

He cited some "panaceas" clipped from a recent newspaper, which he did not identify, and then dismissed them. These proposals, he said, ranged from a definite gold content in the monetary unit, restoration of private ownership of gold, and on to putting "federal finances in order."

"I ask you what the panacea planks like these offer to you as a way out of the problems that you have today and will get up to face tomorrow?" he said.

"Some counsellors say 'confidence and normal prosperity will cure everything — give everybody jobs.' They generally mean by that the confidence and prosperity of 1928. But, my friends, 1928 was no millenium. You and I know the simple fact that while production was increasing and profits were increasing in 1928 and 1929, unemployment was growing at an outstanding rate. Return to the 1928 kind of prosperity is no sufficient answer. The best that the captains of the country could do for you before the depression was not good enough then and it is not good enough today."

Declaring that the fact of increased industrial efficiency required an "answer," he added:

Does Not Accept It

"Some people tell you that even with a completely restored prosperity there will be a vast permanent army of unemployed. I do not accept that. No man who is sensitive to human values dares to accept it. That is why we are not content, merely, to restore what is sometimes called prosperity. We propose to attack the problem from every conceivable angle.

"We readily admit that a greater purchasing power, far more widely distributed, will mean the consumption of more goods — industrial products and farm products. The production of these goods will mean more employment. Most business men believe with us in a greater purchasing power on the part of more people; they know that their businesses will be helped thereby.

Work In Unity

"To work in unity toward this end constitutes one form of attack and there are others which we must not overlook."

The president concluded his address with these words:

"Be wise enough and tolerant enough, you who are young in years, to remember that millions of older people have kept and propose to keep these qualities of youth. You ought to thank God tonight if, regardless of your years, you are young enough in spirit to dream dreams and see visions — dreams and visions about a greater and a finer America that is to be;

"If you are young enough in spirit to believe that poverty can be greatly lessened; that the disgrace of involuntary unemployment can be wiped out; that class hatreds can be done away with; that peace at home and abroad can be maintained; and that one day a generation may possess this land, blessed beyond anything we now know, with those things — material and spiritual — that make man's life abundant.

"If that is the fashion of your dreaming then I say: 'Hold fast to your dream. America needs it'."

Servant Girl Reveals Story

Unwed Girl Tells How Her Desire To Find Home For Her Baby Provided Another With Child For Hoax

KAHOKA, Mo., April 13. (AP) — Anna Ware, unwed servant girl, told today how her desire to find a home for her fatherless child provided Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench with a baby for an alleged $250,000 hoax.

The state, through two witnesses, charged Mrs. Muench obtained the baby to dupe Dr. Marshal Pitzman, wealthy and socially prominent St. Louis physician, into believing he was the father and she the mother.

The 17-year old Newton, Pa., domestic said she came to St. Louis for her confinement last July 31 after Wilfred Jones, an attorney, had made arrangements to have her child adopted by a "well-to-do family."

The baby, a boy born Aug. 17, was taken from her a few hours after its birth. The next day, Mrs. Muench, wife of a St. Louis physician and sister of a state Supreme court judge, announced she had become the mother of a son.

Last December, Miss Ware won back the child in a suit in which the St. Louis court of appeals denied Mrs. Muench's "false claim of motherhood."

Coming out of seclusion for the first time since "Harry" was returned to her, Miss Ware was the closing state's witness against Mrs. Muench; her husband, Dr. Ludwig O. Muench; Mrs. Helen Berroyer and Jones on a charge they conspired to evade adoption laws in obtaining her baby.

Acid Stomach— Get Quick Relief

If you are suffering from indigestion, atonic dyspepsia, sour stomach, gas pains, "raw stomach," inflammation of the intestines (enteritis), gastric acidity and sick headaches, due to excessive acidity, you can't afford to ignore these warning signs. You should try at once the Doctor's Prescription known as Gasa Tablets. If you allow these conditions to become worse, the acids may eat into the delicate mucous membrane of your stomach and intestine and possibly cause dangerous ulcers. Gasa Tablets soothe the raw, inflamed lining of the "acid stomach," and help convert starchy foods into dextrose. Take just one or two and see how they help your stomach to "tackle a hearty meal." The first battle must produce results or money back. On sale at John Halsey Drug Store.

sentence was imposed, that case was clear. There was no issue of fact to determine and it was a different case altogether from the liquor case.

As to whether this first case tried is a forerunner of others, or not, we do not know. True, it was followed by two cases which resulted in hung juries. That is the usual result of such cases in a county in which 75 per cent of the people will vote dry and drink wet.

Our excellent sheriff's force is trying to enforce all the laws. However, Sheriff Abel realizes that the public have certain rights guaranteed under the constitution. One of these is a fair and impartial trial, whether guilty or innocent, and under certain conditions, a verdict of "Not Guilty" in spite of defendant's statements.

Without the court's charge and a hearing of the evidence, it is hard for a person to say whether a verdict of a jury is right or not.

New Plane Run Is Added By Braniff

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 13 (AP)—T. E. Braniff, president of Braniff Airways, Inc., has announced a new plane run had been added between Kansas City and Dallas, bringing the total number of daily trips to two.

At the same time, Braniff announced extension of the present Chicago-Kansas City run to Dallas, rounding out an expansion program calling for two north and two southbound planes out of Dallas each day, instead of one.

Under the new plan, the added southbound plane will leave Chicago at 1:15 p. m., arriving in Dallas at 8:25 p. m.

The new northbound plane will leave Dallas at 4:35 p. m. and terminate in Kansas City at 8:20 p. m.

The order followed a series of Washington conferences that came after the Interstate Commerce commission suspended the line's service between Oklahoma City and Tulsa. The change, Braniff said, affects only points on the regular day runs between Kansas City and Dallas.

Three Minute Relief From Periodical Pains

Now it is so unnecessary to suffer month after month from inorganic pains, because "B C." will bring soothing relief in three minutes. "B C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neuralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit-forming drugs. Get "B. C." in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold. (adv.)
