TEAMS test scores revealed

Sam Huffman, Colorado High School counselor, presented a summary of TEAMS scores to the board of trustees Thursday night.

The tests are given to first, third, fifth, seventh and ninth grade students each year and are used for the exit-level test for 11th graders who may continue to take the test through their senior year until they pass it.

A comparison of the test scores over the past three years shows little change.

"I'm hesitant to draw any conclusions over such small changes," said Huffman, noting that numerous factors including students' ability can affect the test scores.

TEAMS scores can be evaluated in a number of ways," he said. He used two methods in the presentation to the board - scaled scores and percentage mastery.

A scaled score is a statistical conversion of the number of items answered correctly.

"Scaled scores have two advantages as indicators," he said. "The Truck stop seized by state for unpaid fuel, sales taxes

State Comptroller Bob Bullock's office Wednesday morning seized the truck stop commonly known as Cattleman's west of Colorado City on Interstate 20 at exit 212.

Sara Nelson of the Comptroller's office said that an audit of Easy Flow Holding Co., owner of the local truck stop and seven others across the state, shows that fuel taxes and sales taxes on some 11 million gallons of diesel fuel have not been paid.

All eight truck stops were seized Wednesday.

The Internal Revenue Service and the Federal Bureau of Investigation is still conducing an audit, she said.

The Comptroller's office can sell the assets of seized property unless the taxes are paid in full within 20 days.

The local truck stop is being leased by Cal-Tex, Inc. from Easy Flow Holding Co. Nelson said that the truck stop will remain open as long as it can be verified that Cal-Tex, Inc. has a valid lease and is paying the fuel taxes. She said all lease payments will be garnished by the state, however.

She once the audit is completed, the case will be turned over to the local district attorney's office to prosecute.

Ray Mason named to state hospital board

Ray Mason, administrator of Mitchell County Hospital, was installed as a member of the Texas Hospital Association Board of Trustees during the Annual Banquet, Tuesday, June 7, held at the Hyatt Regency in Dallas.

Representing more than 75 percent of the state's hospitals, the Texas Hospital Association is one of the largest state hospital associations in the United States, with more than 730 institutional and 3,750 personal members.

Based in Austin, the association represents the collective interests of its members regarding public policy and serves as the advocate for legislative and regulatory issues affecting the health car industry in the state.

Three new councilmen to swear-in

The returns of the May 7 council and charter amendment election will be canvassed, to be followed by the oath of office to be taken by Bob Reily, Rex Thackerson, and Howard Nelson, as they take their seats.

Other items on the Council's agenda are:

- Awarding of bids for used City vehicles offered for sale;
- Discussion of a sewer problem in the alley between 2nd and 3rd and Elm and Walnut.
- Consideration of Ordinance 88-06, establishing city fines;
- Approval for payment of current vouchers.

The guns included eight automatics and one large revolver in a variety of calibers, valued at about $2,500 to $3,000. Police are investigating.

Other incidents occuring the past week included a theft reported by Monis Sewell at the Jem Store, 2308 Hickory, on Monday. Tuesday a woman was arrested in the 100 blk of Austin and charged with possession of marijuana under 2 oz.; and Brent Palmer reported a theft at 100 W. 1st.

School is out and its vacation time again. The time when Dad loads up the family and heads for scenic spots of the country. When school starts, the kids will be asked to write about their vacation trips. Here are some of their observations about the scenic wonders of the U.S. as collected by an elementary school teacher:

"* A Mammoth is an extincted elephant when it is not a cave in Kentucky.

* In the Everglades, it has been found that car travel is faster by boat.

* Many questions have been aroused in my mind as to what it is best to lookout for on the Lookout Mountains.

* I looked up the location place of the Meteor Crater twice, but I forgot it three times. Another said I meteor is an astronomical phenomenon, whatever that it.

* Mt. Rushmore: One of the chief by-products is people going to it and looking at it and it looking back at them.

* Pike's Peak: In 1806 Zebulon Pike was exploring when he discovered the famous peak that bears his name. Even today, the Zebulon is a famous peak few people have ever heard of.

* Niagara Falls: The Niagara Falls are called that because that is what they do best.

* I have always wanted to visit Death Valley, but not very much.

* One thing I do not like about the Dinosaur National Park is it is too big and it keeps going on and one. When a park or anything else gets to a good stopping place, it should know enough to stop there and end."

first is that they are valid to compare scores from year to year. Scaled scores are adjusted for slight differences in test difficulty. The second advantage is that they provide an equal interval scale for comparisons.

"Scaled scores are comparable across years to provide longitudinal indicators of student performance but not across different subject areas or grade levels," he said, further explaining that scaled scores are used to compare performance by grade.

"Because of the lack of validity from grade to grade, percent mastery is used to track a particular group of students," he said.

for recarpeting of the halls at the high school, and;

- renewed a medical transportation contract which is administered through the Wallace Center.

Asst. Supt. Don Nimmo said that 1,300 feet of natural gas line will have to be replaced at the high school because of nine leaks found in the line. Estimated cost will be $4,400.

Nimmo said that samples are being taken from the buildings to be tested for asbestos. He said the middle school walls, rooms and hallways have tested negative and that painting will start on the building in the near future.

Prior to Thursday's meeting, a public hearing was held on Chapter II funds for 1988-89. There was no one at the meeting to offer any input. Nimmo said that the district will receive $10,982 which will help pay the salary of the teacher for the fourth and fifth grade gifted and talented classes at Hutchinson Elementary.

Nimmo added that a gifted and talented program will have to be implemented for grades 1-12 by 1989.

No action was taken following an executive session in which the board discussed a tax suit, a possible law suit on the high school roof and personnel.

Simple Plan for Better Eating

With all the numbers and recommendations about calories, cholesterol, fat and other substances in our food, it seems like trying to eat better is a complicated task.

Actually, most healthy Americans can forget about counting calories or anything else and just follow these simple guidelines every day:

- Eat four or more servings of vegetables and fruits or fruit juices.
- Eat four or more servings of bread, cereal, and starchy foods.
- Eat two or more servings of low-fat milk, cheese, and dairy products.
- Eat 5-6 ounces of lean meat, fish or poultry.
- Eat no more than 5-8 teaspoons of fats and oils.
- Eat more egg whites and limit whole eggs or egg yolks to no more than 2 per week.

According to the American Heart Association, following these simple guidelines will allow you to enjoy a wide variety of foods, control your weight and maintain a low blood cholesterol level.

Soft Drinks for Breakfast?

At least one major soft drink manufacturer is promoting cola instead of coffee as a breakfast drink. Here's how the two compare nutritionally: Two cups of perked, black coffee has 79 milligrams of caffeine and 0 teaspoons of sugar. Twelve ounces of cola (one can) has 45 milligrams of caffeine and 10 teaspoons of sugar. The best ingredient in both products is water.

Quotes are something journalists use to help explain a news story and to brighten up an otherwise dull story.

I'm always on the lookout for some humorous quotes to use when editing the Wolf Call, the newsletter for the Colorado City Rotary Club.

Here are some of my favorites...

By swallowing evil words unsaid, no one has ever yet harmed his stomach.

- Winston Churchill, British Prime Minister

That may be true, but there's been a few times that I've choked on some words that I felt like I had to say, regardless of whether I believed them or not.

We are all here on Earth to help others; what on earth the others are here for I don't know.

- W.H. Auden, 20th century poet

Remember, it's just as blessed to receive as it is to give.

The optimist proclaims that we live in the best of all possible worlds; and the pessimist fears this is true.

- James Branch Cabell, U.S. writer

My brother has always called me a pessimist. I just keep telling him I'm a realist.

If dogs could talk, perhaps we'd find it just as hard to get along with them as we do with people.

- Karel Capek, Czech journalist and playwrite

Our two dogs and cat at home can communicate quite well without talking. A wag of the tail or a meow is all it takes for them to get results from their obedient masters.

The scientific theory I like the best is that the rings of Saturn are composed entirely of lost airline luggage.

- Mark Russell, humorist

Maybe if there's enough lost airline luggage floating around in space, it'll replace the ozone layer.

The universal brotherhood of man is our most precious possesion, what there is of it.

- Mark Twain

If Mark Twain were alive today, I wonder what he would say about the brotherhood of man or the lack of it?

Experience is the comb nature gives us when we are bald.

- Belgian proverb

I just hope I never have to experience that experience.

If only one could have two lives: the first in which to make one's mistakes, and the second in which to profit by them.

- D.H. Lawrence, English author

That goes along with the old saying that hindsight is better than foresight, but who has the foresight to realize it at the time?

The American Indian was humored out of his land?

Really now?

Humored?

The American Indian, and the way he lost his land, has been described in a lot of different ways before, but never that he was humored out of it before. Yet that's the way the President of the United States of America explained it recently to some of the Soviet Union's brightest students.

Then again, we have to remember that the president was never one of this country's brighter students.

Mr. Reagan did understand that some white folks, including some presidents like himself, were tacky in insisting that several Indian tribes pack their tee-pees and walk to Oklahoma from places like Georgia and Mississippi.

That president may see that as humoring, but it wasn't very funny to the Indians, who were being forced off of their lands, several of whom dropped dead before they got to their designated homes.

They didn't call this the "Trail of Tears" because it was funny, you know.

Some of those Indians were pregnant women who became mothers en route. Several were pregnant women whose infants died at birth - along with their mothers. Old people who could barely walk, walked, too. At least until they dropped.

Humorous?

If the president really wanted to tell the truth to these Soviet students - the truth they've undoubtedly read about anyway - he could have told them the darkest side of the average American has historically been the potent strain of bigotry he inherited from his European ancestors.

Don't get me wrong. Bad as the U.S. government was to the Indian, it was small potatoes compared to what Joseph Stalin did to his own people in the Soviet Union.

President and Mrs. Reagan's mistake was in whitewashing commonly known historical facts about the United States. Like all families, the American family has had its problems. And, like all good families, it has faced most of those problems and struggled to make improvements.

The president might have mentioned that.

Instead, he chose to cover the warts with cheap makeup, an act which probably reminded Soviet students of their own leaders prior to Gorbachev.

He could have told those students, sure, the United States has participated in acts as inhumane as those of the Soviet Union. He could have owned up to the fact that early settlers who fought for man's right to be free, did so even as their slaves worked in the fields.

He could have mentioned the 100-plus years of civil rights struggles that followed the abolition of slavery and the struggle by women for the right to vote in their own country. That one lasted for a century and a half.

He could then have concluded by talking about the progress made toward the goal of democracy.

If only six percent of the population voted in the beginning (male land owners), it's also true that in time, all white men were given the right to vote. Eventually all white women could vote, too, and finally, black men and black women were able to exercise this right, as the Jim Crow laws died a stubborn death through federal legislation.

It should have been expected that progress in the area of human rights would be slow in a nation whose roots had been saturated with the prejudices of its forefathers.

Even so, the changes that have enabled this country to evolve into a legitimate democracy today - not to mention a more humane country - would never have occurred if the right government aparatus hadn't been installed at the beginning.

When rights are abused, the victims have to be able to air their complaints in public without being taken to psychiatric hospitals. They have to be allowed to demonstrate peacefully in order to reach the conscience that is so often shielded by human greed and prejudice.

At least in the United States, the victim can look his oppressor eyeball to eyeball and do something about it. Not without a struggle. Not even without bloodshed. But he can do it, because he's got a constitution to back him up.

That's a gift the Soviet students still don't have.

Youth show conference set June 15-16

BIG SPRING - Quality livestock will be in the spotlight here June 15 and 16 when Extension District 6 hosts a Show Cattle Conference at the Howard County Fair Grounds.

Don Richardson, Howard County Extension agent and a key coordinator of the event, said planners will stage a balanced program that presents all aspects of planning and preparing quality cattle for shows. The event is designed for families involved in the 4-H and Future Farmers of America beef cattle programs.

"The Extension Service is hosting the educational event as part of its training opportunities to young people, their parents and adult leaders involved in livestock programs," said Richardson.

Richardson said that top of the line speakers are scheduled for the two-day meeting. Charles Neeb of Fort Stockton, Far West District 6 Extension director, will open the seminar by explaining its purposes and objectives. Discussing show steer and heifer programs and future trends will be two livestock judges, Dr. John Edwards of Texas A&M University and Dr. Chris Skaggs of Iowa State University.

Charles Shroeder, one of Texas' most successful steer producers, will discuss the show program from a breeder's standpoint. Shroeder is a partner in the S&S Cattle Company of Taylor. He also is a director of the Texas Club Calf Association. Shroeder also will address the conference segment dealing with feeding and management of a successful show cattle program.

Also on tap will be a selection of live show steer prospects to be viewed and evaluated by Skaggs, Edwards and Shroeder. Richardson said this session should be valuable to participants as they compare their own show animals with those on exhibit. This should give them some idea on how their steers might develop. Size and type will be the emphasis of this session of the program.

Along with the formal presentations, club calf breeders, artificial insemination companies, show supply firms, feed companies and other individuals with goods and services associated with the beef cattle industry will participate in a trade show featuring their various products.

The agent said the conference is designed to provide an inside look at today's new junior show cattle programs. Participants are urged to bring their own steers, trimming chutes and grooming equipment but are not required to do so.

For additional information call members of the planning committee - Don Richardson or Mike Bragg, Big Spring, 267-6671; Greg Jones, Stanton, 756-2251; Earnest Kiker or Shane Lowrie, Midland, 687-1351; Tommy Perkins, Odessa, 335-3071; or Mike Mallett, Pecos, 447-9041.

POUND PUPPY - Ginger, a four-month-old female part Sheltie, is available for adoption from the city pound located at Mitchell County Veterinary Hospital, Highway 208 South. For more information about her or other pets available for adoption, call 728-8055.

Q. When do I spray for honeydew?

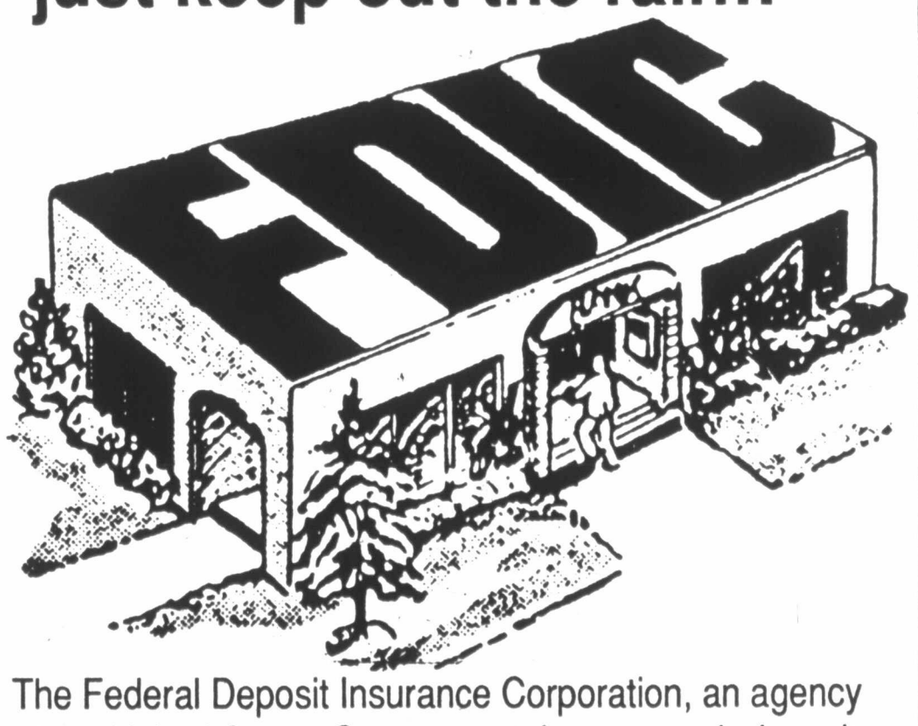

Mrs. Edwin Bodine
Colorado City

A. Honeydew is caused by Aphids feeding on the leaves of trees causing a sticky drip off the tree. Spraying when the honeydew is present is the only way to control it or putting Di-system around your trees in the Spring will help.

Members of Girl Scout troops 244 and 250 have returned home after spending a week touring the Grand Canyon in Arizona.

The trip was made possible by the troop's profits from the annual Girl Scout cookie sales, car washes and cake sales.

Those who went were Shawne Ortiz, Shea Ortiz, Cindy Newman, Laura Conaway, Emma Molina, Priscilla Molina, Leti Castillo, Annie Jones, Nikki Walla, Kelly Garrett, Jo Conaway, Carolyn Newman and leader Sara Ortiz.

They left Colorado City the morning of May 28, stopping along the way to have a picnic at a roadside park. The first night was spent in Albuquerque, N.M. at the Holidome. Sunday, they drove to Flagstaff, Ari. and on to Las Vegas, stopping to tour the Hoover Dam. They spent the evening in Las Vegas and toured the famous Circus Circus casino and hotel. They spent the night at the Park Hotel.

On Monday, Memorial Day, they drove to the Grand Canyon where it was cold and snowing. The girls enjoyed the atmosphere at the famous El Novar where people where drinking hot beverages beside the fireplace.

They spent the night close to the Grand Canyon and on Tuesday, a beautiful day with temperatures in the upper 80s, they toured the west rim of the canyon by shuttle bus. The bus stopped at eight overlooks along the 16-mile round trip which is closed to private vehicles.

Susan Everman group meets in home of Jean Edwards

The Susan Everman group of the First Baptist Church WMU met in the home of Jean Edwards Monday, June 6.

Jessie Mae Merket, group leader, opened the meeting by reading a scripture, Luke 8:11,15, the parable of the seed. Catherine Morris then directed the calendar of prayer using an apple picture with the names of two missionaries who had birthdays on June 6. After prayer for those missionaries, she presented a real apple to each person to use to challenge her own seed planting of the gospel.

Judy Baker reminded the group that the G.A.s and R.A.s are still collecting Campbell soup and other labels to send to the Valley Baptist Academy to buy equipment.

Earline Sellier, Mitchell-Scurry delegate to the Centennial Celebration is Richmond, showed the Certificate of Merit awarded to the First Baptist Church WMU for its centennial quilt. She displayed other memorabilia from the trip and will give a full report later.

Margaret Bodine, a member of the Australian Partnership Mission Team from the local church, reported that preparations are practically complete and requested everyone pray for them as they undertake the mission. It was voted to give them 40 small Bibles to use as gifts for friends they meet in Australia. Billie Margaret Harrison led in prayer for members of the mission team.

The Mission Action Committee reminded the group of the church in Minnesota that the Mitchell-Scurry Association will be building later this summer. To help raise money for the building, tin cans are being collected. The cans are to be turned in Saturday, June 25. There will be a pickup parked in front of the church to collect them.

The G.A.s earned about half of the needed money for camp last week from their jobs project. Saturday, June 11, they were to have a car wash in the parking lot of First National Bank.

The group voted to change the regular meeting date from the first Monday to the second Monday in each month.

The program, "Start with Seed", told of women who planted the seeds of the gospel in different ways and in various places. On the program were Jean Hardee, Mary Lloyd, Billie Margaret Harrison and Jean Edwards.

A prayer for those who are ill was led by Margaret Bodine.

A salad supper was served by the hostesses, Jean Edwards and Ann Myers.

Others attending were Betsy Aycock and Frances Cooper.

Loraine ex is UT football coach

Former Loraine resident Clovis Hale, football offensive line coach for the University of Texas, was the subject of a column recently in the Conroe Courier.

Hale is the son of Hattie (Punk) Hale, a resident in Valley Fair Lodge, and the late R.J. Hale. He married Jean Wilson, the daughter of Irene Kidd and the late Wilson Kidd. The Hales have two grown sons.

Hale was featured speaker at the Willis (near Conroe) High School all-sports banquet April 29.

Hale, 46, graduated from Loraine High School and attended McMurry College . He began his coaching career as an assistant at Lubbock High School. Two years later, he became an assistant coach for Spike Dykes (now Texas Tech head coach) at Big Spring. Hale eventually became the Big Spring head coach, from 1970-72.

He was the head coach at San Angelo Lake View from 1972-77 and then joined Hayden Fry's staff at North Texas State in 1978. He went to Iowa with Fry. In 1981, Hale joined the staff at Rice. In 1984 he moved to Lubbock to become an assistant coach at Texas Tech under Jerry Moore.

He remained on the Tech staff when Moore was released and David McWilliams was hired as Tech's head mentor for the 1986 grid season.

Hale joined the Longhorn coaching staff after McWilliams became the Longhorns' head coach for the 1987 football season.

Hale said living in small town, such as Loraine, is special.

"Nobody teaches respect like small communities - that's the great thing about small communities. Kids still respect their parents. Parents still respect the kids. Kids respect elders. Elders respect young people. To me, that's what small communities are all about," he said.

He told the crowd at the Willis banquet that if he could fulfill his dream of eventually coaching at the University of Texas, youngsters, with determination, could fulfill their dreams, too.

MEDICINE & PHARMACY
A HEALTH TEAM

Medicine and Pharmacy had a common beginning before splitting into today's two professions. As health knowledge developed it became increasingly difficult for any single group to keep up with progress in all phases of the health field.

Today, we rely upon the physician to diagnose the health problem and specify the medicine best qualified to correct it. We as practicing pharmacists then must keep up with progess in the general health field and make available to the physician and his patients the hundreds of newer and more effective medication that are becoming available.

The Medicine Place's dedicated to your better health. We would like to be your pharmacy. We are committed to keeping your prescriptions low as possible. We will not knowingly be undersold on any prescription.That's The Medicine Place's Pledge to you.

GARY MARSH, Calvary Scrubs' third baseman, stands at the ready during Church League slow-pitch softball action Thursday night.

Cruzaders remain unbeaten

Sam Rivera came through with a hit and the number of undefeated teams dwindled to two in Mitchell County Church League softball action Thursday night.

Rivera, catcher for the St. Ann's Cruzaders, ended the game with his clutch hit-keeping the Cruzaders undefeated and handing the Calvary Scrubs their first loss.

The visiting Scrubs, 3-1 and defending regular season co-champions, took a 2-0 lead in the top of the first inning on scores by Gary Marsh and Doug Chitsey Jr.

Blake Hammond scored for the Scrubs in the second to make it 3-0.

The Scrubs went on to make 5-0 before the Cruzaders mounted their comeback.

Fourth inning hits by Jeff Hammond, Marsh and Chitsey scored Mike McKinney and Doug Chitsey Sr. for a 5-0 lead.

The Cruzaders got on the board in the bottom of the fifth when Rudy Sanchez hit to score Lupe Luera-making it 5-1.

The Scrubs were unable to extend their lead in the last three innings. The Scrubs put only two runners on base through the last three innings and were plagued by a rash of fielding errors.

The Cruzaders committed their own errors early in the contest.

The Scrubs got their final run in the top of the sixth to make it 6-1. J. Hammond scored the run on a hit by Marsh.

The Cruzaders pulled within 6-4 with three runs in the bottom of the inning with scores by Joe Franco, Raymond Martinez and Robert Gomez and other hits by Rivera and Greg Rodriquez.

The Cruzaders still trailed 6-4 going into their seventh and final at-bat. Sanchez led off with a triple and scored on Santos "Tonk" Rodriquez' ground out to second that made it 6-5.

Consecutive hits by Light Rivera and Gomez advanced Martinez and tied the game at 6-6. That's when S. Rivera came up with two outs and hit to score L. Rivera for the game winner.

The contest was the last one Thursday evening and left the 4-0 Cruzaders as one of only two undefeated teams with the other team being St. Ann's.

St. Ann's remained undefeated at 3-0 with a 15-3 win over the now 2-1 St. Ann's Lobos in the first game Thursday. In other games Thursday the St. Ann's Amigos beat the First Baptist Saints 21-2 and the Methodist beat the Christian Soldiers 27-0.

In Tuesday's games the Scrubs knocked the Rough Riders from the unbeated ranks with a 7-6 score, the Warriors beat the Soldiers 16-9, the Cruzaders beat Calvary 30-4 and the St. Joseph's of Loraine beat the Methodists 20-14.

Longest Day of Golf

What's better than a hole in one?

The West Texas Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society's LONGEST DAY OF GOLF.

In late June area golfers will have the perfect opportunity to play as many holes of golf as humanly possible, for a most worthy cause, the fight against Multiple Sclerosis. Participants raise money on a pledge-per-hole basis to support research projects and provide a wider range of services for our local patients with Multiple Sclerosis.

Top fund raisers will qualify for awards including a "Duffers Delight Vacation" for two courtesy of the Hyatt Regency Hilton Head Palmetto Dunes, Hilton Head Island, South Carolina, with round trip airfare courtesy of American Airlines, a drawing for a weekend vacation with gallery tickets to the PGA Championship, as well as, many other fantastic individual prizes.

Multiple Sclerosis is a chronic, progressive disease of the central nervous system with, as yet, no known cause, effective treatment or cure. Multiple Sclerosis affects some 250,000 young adults in the United States, 600 of which are in our local area. Symptoms can range from blurring of vision to poor coordination to complete paralysis.

For more information contact Bob Hinn at Wolf Creek Golf Course at 728-2528 or the West Texas Chapter at 915-699-7787. You do not have to be a golfer to participate.

Cutting the fat - improving health

Today's obsession with fat is more than just a desire to be trim and in fashion - being overweight can lead to health problems. Obesity has been linked with major health concerns such as heart disease, cancer and diabetes.

This focus on fat and health is causing people to reevaluate their diet and develop more healthful eating habits. However, when people approach dieting by eliminating whole food groups believing certain food groups are high in calories, they increase the risk of jeopardizing their health.

The key is to eat a variety of foods in moderation.

Susan Welsh, Ph.D., director of the USDA's Nutrition Education, says nearly half of all women who have reduced the fat and cholesterol in their diets are also getting less iron and calcium. The reason for this is that when people look at lowering their dietary fat intake they reduce or eliminate important nutrient-rich food groups such as meat and milk.

Fat and oils, not vitamin- and mineral-rich food groups are the main contributors of fat in women's diets.

Important nutrients found in the meat and milk groups contribute to the overall nutritional health of the individual. And, unfortunately, the results of excluding whole food groups from the diet do not manifest themselves quickly but rather over an extended period of time. Osteoporosis is an example of a delayed reaction to a lack of adequate calcium in the diet.

Calcium is important for building strong bones and teeth in growing children. As adults, a minimum daily intake of two servings from the milk group helps maintain bone density. Bone density decreases with age in all people after about age 35. If adequate calcium is not consumed it may be several years before there are visible signs of the disease. Often, 40 percent of bone tissue is lost before the individual is diagnosed.

Sot it is equally important that adolescents consume adequate amounts of calcium during their developmental years and as adults, that they maintain adequate calcium intake to maintain good bone health.

Many scientists believe that extra calcium in diets and weight-bearing exercise such as walking may help prevent osteoporosis.

The best sources of calcium are milk, cheese and yogurt, which also provide riboflavin, vitamins B12, A, thiamin and, if fortified, vitamin D. So the need to consumer foods from all food groups is especially important for overall health.

The source of many calories in adult diets that can be reduced to positively affect our health is fat. According to USDA data, Americans consume 37 percent of their calories from fat. The American Heart Association recommends 30 percent.

Reducing fat intake to recommended levels can be accomplished by keeping in mind some simple tips.

Select low fat foods within food groups

When buying dairy products select those that are low in fat. Skim or nonfat milk has 1 gram of fat per cup; lowfat or 2 percent milk has 5 grams; and whole milk has 8 grams. Choosing lowfat milk, cheese, yogurt and cottage cheese is an easy way to limit fat intake while still obtaining the important nutrients provided by milk-based products. Also, by selecting lean cuts of meat and trimming visible fat, including skin from poultry, calorie savings add up quickly.

By choosing alternative cooking methods to frying, and by selecting lite seasonings, numerous calories can be saved and the flavor of the food will be more detectible.

- Roast, bake, broil or simmer meat, poultry or fish,
- Cook meat or poultry on a rack so that fat will drain off. Use a non-stick pan for cooking so added fat will be unnecessary.
- Chill meat or poultry broth until the fat becomes solid. Spoon off the fat before using the broth.
- Season vegetables with herbs and spices rather than sauces.
- Try lemon juice on salads or use limited amounts of oil-based salad dressing.

Control serving size

The amount of food a person needs depends on age, sex, physical condition and activity level. Everyone should have at least the minimum number of servings from each food group daily. Many women, older children, and most teenagers and men need more.

Breads and cereals - a minimum of 4 servings daily which should include several selections of whole-grain products

Fruits and vegetables - 4 or more servings

Meat, poultry, fish and alternatives - 2 or more servings

Milk, cheese and y yogurt - 2 servings for adults, 5 servings for women who are pregnant or breastfeeding

Inactivity and smoking are two factors that are as important, if not more so, than diet, yet receive less publicity. Even the greatest obsession with fat won't compensate for the lack of attention to other risks involved in coronary heart disease.

'Texas' to open 23rd season

CANYON—"TEXAS" begins its 23rd season in the open-air Pioneer Amphitheatre beneath the enormous cliffs of Palo Duro Canyon on Wednesday, June 15th, at 8:30 p.m.

The musical drama will play nightly except Sundays through August 27th in the State Park near Amarillo.

A half million dollars in renovations during the past three years can be seen in the costumes, sets and finest sound and light equipment available.

The famed thunderstorm scene takes on a new dimension, while the favorite fire ballet is danced through a haze of realistic smoke.

Cowboys and Indians mount horses as the story of early Panhandle life unfolds. A romantic triangle brings the struggles between the farmer and rancher to life while battling the fierce elements of nature.

An eventual collaboration produces a railroad and a new town for the area.

Top talent from across the southwest has become a trademark as "TEXAS" offers semi-professionals the opportunity to play to near full houses each night with an average of 1,600 persons in attendance. This year the cast of 80 comes from 13 states and one foreign country.

Last year 100,000 persons traveled from every state and 84 foreign countries to see the production. Over 1.8 million have seen "TEXAS" since its beginning.

Reservations are encouraged and can be obtained by calling the "TEXAS" office at 806-655-2181 or by writing "TEXAS," P.O. Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015.

Tickets are $5, $7, and $9 for adults, and $2.50, $3.50 and $9 for children under twelve.

An optional chuckwagon barbecue is served by Sutphen's of Amarillo before each performance from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Reservations are not necessary, and dinner is $5 per person.

Big Bass Bonanza

BRECKENRIDGE—Chamber of Commerce President Dale L. Cary has issued a very special invitation to all interested bass fishermen from everywhere to the First Annual Breckenridge Big Bass Bonanza which will be held at Hubbard Creek Lake on June 25 and 26.

Hubbard Creek Lake is five miles west of Breckenridge on U.S. Highway 180. Headquarters for the Big Bass Bonanza will be Wimberley's Wharf which is located at the east end of the "mile long bridge" on U.S. 180.

The First Annual Breckenridge Big Bass Bonanza will feature a $25,000 tagged black bass for some lucky fisherman to pull out of Hubbard Creek Lake during the two-day event. Guaranteed prize money of $10,000 will be paid to the top places along with $50 for the big bass of the hour. With entries running at a faster pace than anticipated, additional cash should be available to pay additional places.

Entry fees are $40 for one day, $60 for two days. Entries must be received by Saturday, June 18. Late registration is $50 for one day and $70 for two days.

The tournament will be held on Saturday, June 25, and on Sunday, June 26. Tournament fishing hours will be from 6 a.m. until 3 p.m., local time on both days of the tournament.

For additional information or entry forms contact the Breckenridge Chamber of Commerce, phone (817) 559-2301, or write P.O. Box 1466, Breckenridge, TX 76024.

Fort Griffin Fandangle

ALBANY—Tickets are currently on sale for the 50th anniversary version of the Fort Griffin Fandangle set for its traditional six performances on June 16-18 and June 23-25 at the Prairie Theater located just northwest of the Albany city limits.

Herds of buffalo and longhorns, Indian villages, covered wagons loaded down with pioneers, cowboys and their horses, and gunslingers and their women will be filling the theater with the sights and sounds of the "Old West" as over 300 local residents prepare to celebrate their rich heritage and bring back to life the founding of this portion of the state.

Ask Bob Bullock

Editor's Note: Bob Bullock, Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts, answers questions from taxpayers in his monthly column, "Ask Bob Bullock." If you have a question about state taxes, write to: Bob Bullock, Comptroller of Public Accounts, Austin, Texas, 78774, or call 1-800-252-5555.

Dear Bob Bullock:

I understand there have been some recent changes in the way food sales are taxed. Could you explain what those are?

MJW
Austin

Dear MJW:

It's pretty simple. Restaurants should collect sales tax on usual food sales.

For grocery stores, bakeries and delicatessens, taxable food sales depends on whether the business provides eating facilities for customers. If it does, you should collect tax on these items:

*food maintained in a heated state;

*food sold in individual portions;

*food sold with utensils;

*ready-made, ready-to-eat sandwiches;

*individual ice cream sundries; and *five or less doughnuts, cookies and other baked goods.

If you don't have eating facilities for your customers, you should tax these items:

*food maintained in a heated state;

*food sold with utensils;

*ready-made, ready-to-eat sandwiches; and *individual ice cream sundries.

The law and the rule are a little complicated, but I've found that simple rules aren't always fair, and fair rules aren't always simple. If you have any questions or you'd like a copy of the new rule, just call or write my office at the number and address above.

Dear Bob Bullock:

My company provides management services for several commercial real estate properties. Should we collect tax on these services?

D.B.
Bryan

Dear D.B.:

That depends on the services you're providing that are included in the fee.

If you're charging for any of these services -- landscaping and lawn maintenance, garbage pick-up, janitorial/custodial services, pest control services, security services, newsletters, parking, and/or telecommunications services -- then, yes, you should be collecting tax. (There are other services that might be taxable, so call or write my office if you aren't sure.)

If you are providing a taxable service, you should separate the charges for it from charges for non-taxable services. If you don't separate the charges, then the entire fee is taxable.

Dear Bob Bullock:

Please explain how the local sales tax on telecommunications applies to calls made from mobile homes.

G.G.
Abilene

Dear G.G.:

In most cases, the local sales tax on telecommunications is imposed based on where the call originates. Calls made from mobile phones can present a problem since you can't always tell where the call was placed from. In those cases, the tax rate is determined by where the bill is sent.

Alzheimer's Disease

What Can I do to help?

If you are a family member or friend of an Alzheimer's patient:

Learn all you can about the disease.

Maintain friendships. Don't isolate the patient or caregiver.

Visit or telephone often. Be prepared to listen!

Offer to stay with the patient, so that the caregiver can have some rest, run errands, socialize, get some exercise, or whatever is needed. Offer to help take the patient to the doctor or other places.

Offer to take the patient for a walk or for other exercise.

Encourage the patient to talk about his concerns; he may be depressed and anxious and in need of an opportunity to talk to someone.

Offer to help with bathing or other care needs.

Include the patient and his family in social activities, church attendance, holiday times, dinner out, birthday parties, etc.

Do not be embarrassed by difficult situations in public; most bystanders will be more impressed by your patience and helpfulness, than by any unusual behavior on the part of the patient.

The local Alzheimer's Support Group meets each fourth Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in Wallace Center. Any person having a member of the family suffering from the disease is encouraged to attend. Contact Marge Coleman, 728-8403.
