WHO MAKES GOOD ON THE GOODS THAT GO WRONG

Under the above heading another part of this issue, you will find a second message from the business men of Perryton, directed against the door-to-door peddlers, grafters, and transients who are already pouring into this city, passing on their unknown, nameless brands of merchandise. By buying from this class of men, you are tearing down everything that is worth while in Perryton. Every dollar that leaves the city in some peddler's pocket is a potential dollar that will help build a better Perryton if it had been spent at home. You aren't getting more than you pay for when you buy from one of these peddlers. Despite their tale of special reductions and advertising offers they are making a long profit at your expense and you are not getting more than you pay for. When the goods arrive you will find that the quality does not compare with the goods you buy from local merchants who are interested in serving you, not only today, but every day throughout the year. And perhaps you have already learned that the word of the peddler who "guarantees" his products is not as substantial as the local merchants who makes satisfactory adjustments should you be dissatisfied. The peddler is gone. His "guarantee" is valueless.

Employment Bureau

County Agent To Assist Farmers In Getting Good Men For The Harvest Fields

Coutny Agent G. R. Sheets is making arrangements to start an employment bureau to assist the farmers in securing harvest workers. No charge will be made to those availing themselves of the service and Mr. Sheets will try to keep in touch with those desiring work. A telephone call to Mr. Sheets is all that is necessary and he will locate the men for you. Everyone can help by directing all unemployed men to Mr. Sheets for placing.

Mrs. T. A. Lee, Amarillo, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Nellie Ballew. Mrs. Lee organized the Salvation Army work in Perryton and she wishes to extend greetings to the many friends in Perryton who she will be unable to see.

Jim Mears, a former resident of Ochiltree County, came in last Thursday for a few days visit with his brother, G. B. Mears. He was accompanied by O. M. and Chas. Olahorn. Mr. Mears now lives near Fluviana, Texas.

Mrs. Lila Barton Reynolds and daughter, and Mrs. Henry Barton and Mrs. Dick Barton of Lipscomb county, visited friends here last Sunday.

John L. Just Reedley, California, is here visiting with relatives and friends, and looking after business interests.

Mrs. E. Z. Hunter and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Heusel, Stillwater, Oklahoma, were guests the fore part of this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jones. Mrs. Hunter is a sister of Mr. Jones.

CHAUTAUQUA TO BE JULY 19-23

COMPLETE PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED FOR FIVE DAY ENTERTAINMENT TO BE HELD

July 19th will be the opening date of the Perryton chautauqua this year, the local committee has announced. Every attempt has been made to present an up-to-the-minute program and the newest findings of the scientific, economic and theatrical worlds have been combined in the 1928 program. Unusual scenic, lighting and staging features will be used this year which will add much to the value and interest of the program. "Fads and Fancies of 1928"—an up-to-date revue—will be one of the headline features of the season. It includes an orchestra comparable to the Victor Solon, a marimbaphone wizard who has been acclaimed throughout the United States and Canada, and a comedian whose every action brings a laugh. For comedy, clean fun, sophisticated brilliance and paramount artistry this number is unsurpassed. The week opened properly by the Jugo-Slav Tamburica orchestra, a group of young Croats who were lifted from obscurity when they played at the Paris exposition. The William G. Pohlman company includes a group of artists who have attained recognition in many metropolitan music centers. Their costumes number from famous operas are exquisite bits of beauty. The Jack Woods bell ringers are an attraction almost unique since there are only three or four bell ringing companies in the United States. For genuine novelty as well as fun and entertainment this company will be one of the high spots of the week. Two lectures which live up to old chautauqua ideals are included in the week. Dr. Henry Black Burns is a physician who has made a lifelong study of social conditions. His lecture is full of information couched in pithy, forceful Anglo-Saxon made interesting with dry humor. Dr. Alexander Cairns, the other lecturer, speaks on "The Goose That Lays the Golden Egg." He is one of the most eloquent preachers in the eastern part of the country and is the author of a widely read syndicated column in the newspapers. A splendid play runs out the week. "Laff That Off" is a comedy which was a Broadway success and is full of swift action, wise cracks, unusual situations and laugh-drawing comedy. Every effort has been made to prepare a program which educates as it entertains, slighting neither at the expense of the other.

Johnson Car Recovered

Sheriff Clark of Texas County Recovers Ford and Captures Thieves

The new Ford Tudor car stolen in Perryton on Tuesday night of last week from in front of the R. C. Johnson residence was recovered on the following Thursday by Sheriff Clark of Guymon. The two young men who stole the car were captured and are now prisoners in the Guymon jail. Clark arrested the men and recovered the car near Elkhart, Kansas. As soon as Clark got word of the loss of the car, he telephoned a description to all filling stations and garages in his county. A lady operating a filling station about twenty-five miles north of Guymon reported that the car had stopped at her place for gas. Clark immediately took up their trail, running into the car, abandoned and out of gas, near Elkhart. He drove on down the road and arrested the two young men, who, after questioning, admitted the theft. It was later discovered that they had escaped from the jail at Woodward on the Monday night proceeding, and had stolen a car to get as far as Perryton. The thieves are of the "jelly-bean" type and both have prison records. They will be returned to the authorities at Woodward.

Hold Rodeo On August 9-11

ALL PANHANDLE ANNUAL RODEO TO BE HELD AT CANADIAN LATER THIS YEAR

Canadian, Texas—The annual show of the All-Panhandle rodeo will be held August 9-11, instead of on July 4. This change was made in order to secure the services of Leonard Stroud, and his rodeo attractions, as well as those of Florence Hughes Ranch, world's champion trick rider, and a bronc rider of note. The management has provided one car each of Brahma and Mexican steers for riding and bulldozing of the bovine family, and there are going to be thrills and spills in seeing this event on the program. The Mexican steers are all colors of the rainbow, have their natural horns and it will be interesting to see the boys leap from their horse and twist them down. A very interesting part of the program will be the bronc riding. The management has been assembling the roughest, and wildest horses in the southwest for a period of six years, and this will be your opportunity to see the riders make an effort to ride the backs of these buckaroos, according to very difficult contest rules. The grandstand has been enlarged, until it will hold more people than any such place in the southwest. The seats will be numbered enabling you to secure reserved seats in advance.

PRIMARY OFFICERS SELECTED

COUNTY DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MAKES UP BALLOT AND APPOINTS JUDGES

The members of the Democratic Executive Committee met in Perryton recently to select the judges who will have charge of the Democratic primary to be held on Saturday, July 28. They also assessed the amount which each candidate would pay toward defraying the primary expenses and determined the order in which their names will appear on the official ballot. Following is a list of the primary judges. They will select their own clerks and assistants. Precinct 1. Courthouse. J. M. North. Precinct 2. Huntton. J. L. Hurter. Precinct 3. Lone Tree. D. D. Taliaferro. Precinct 4. Alfalfa. J. H. Callihan. Precinct 5. Notia. F. L. Hamilton. Precinct 6. Taz. Calvin Flowers. Precinct 7. Crowe. J. F. Wilkinson. Precinct 8. Mears. (No primary will be held in this precinct. Voters to vote at either Black or Cedar Bluff). Precinct 9. Cedar Bluff. S. S. Mallet. Precinct 10. Black. E. A. Grever. Precinct 11. Farnsworth. W. B. Dennison. Precinct 12. Waka. J. W. Rogers. Precinct 13. New Hope. Hugh Riley. Precinct 14. Perryton School. Geo. M. Perry.

Install Meat Case

Beautiful New Case Is Placed In Perryton Mercantile Company Market

A handsome new meat case was installed in the grocery department of the Perryton Mercantile company, Saturday morning, being connected with the electric cooling system used in the meat market. The new case is attractively decorated and is lighted with electric lamps. Cooling coils run through the entire length of the case keeping the contents fresh and cool.

VISITING WHEAT SECTION

J. E. Briggs, field representative of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was in Perryton, Monday, checking up the number of cars needed to move the 1928 wheat crop. Mr. Briggs is making a tour of the Panhandle working along this line. The W. T. C. C. is doing everything possible to have all cars needed on hand so there will be no grain dumped on the ground this year. Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Brown were transacting business in Amarillo Monday and Tuesday.

HARVEST UNDER WAY NEXT WEEK

SOME ARE CUTTING BARLEY AND OATS THIS WEEK

Harvest will be in full swing in the Perryton territory by the middle of next week. A number are cutting barley and oats this week and it is expected that hundreds of combines will be in the fields by the fourth. The cool damp weather of the past few days has retarded the ripening of the thousands of acres of golden grain which are to be found in this section. Hail losses have been rather severe during the past week. The heaviest loss was on Saturday night in the Waka country. Many total losses are reported from that neighborhood. The loss throughout the entire territory is approximately ten per cent. Several destructive storms did much damage. The 1928 crop gives promise of being one of the heaviest in the history of the country. The acreage is greater than ever before and many think that the yield per acre will exceed 1926 but this is extremely doubtful. What we need now is plenty of good sunshine and no more rain or hail.

Hale For Representative

Spearman Druggist Enters Race Against Judge Gray and White of Borger

The numerous friends of Judge S. B. Hale, over the entire north Panhandle country, are greatly pleased over the fact that they have at last succeeded in prevailing upon him to allow his name to be placed upon the Democratic ticket as candidate for representative of the 124th district, comprising the following counties: Dallam, Hartley, Moore, Sherman, Hutchinson, Hansford, Ochiltree, Roberts, Hemphill and Lipscomb. Judge Hale has for twenty years been identified with the interests that have brought the Panhandle of Texas into the limelight. He has served the people of Hansford county as county judge and school superintendent for several years, and is very familiar with the needs of the district he seeks to represent. His friends feel that he is the logical man to get some of the things so much needed by our new and developing country. From the fact that he has land interests and has been actively engaged in farming and stock-raising for many years as well as mercantile interests, they feel that this broad experience will materially assist him in matters of legislation pertaining to the Panhandle country. His Spearman friends have organized a campaign headquarters and are vigorously pushing his candidacy.

Rebekahs Initiate Six

Lodge Is Very Active; Have Several Other Candidates on Waiting List

The Perryton lodge of Rebekahs, the Odd Fellows auxiliary, is very active at the present time. At the meeting of the order on last Tuesday evening, six were initiated into the lodge. Those receiving the ritualistic degrees were Misses Eva Glasgow, Lou Putnam, Beatrice Norwood, Margaret Carpenter, Mrs. Gladys Bray and Maynard Anderson. After the degree work was completed refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cake and cocoa were served to the many members and visitors present. Mrs. George W. Cutter, who is one of the most active members of the local lodge, states that they have a number of candidates on the waiting list. The ball game on last Sunday in Perryton between the locals and the Borger club resulted in a victory for the visitors by the score of 11-6. It was a fast and interesting game until the last inning, when with the score 6-5 in their favor, the oil town boys cut loose and batted five scores across the plate. Clark Osborne returned to his home in Pampa Monday after visiting several weeks in the home of his aunt, Mrs. G. M. Cooper. Carter Pens at the Herald Office.

COUNTRY WEEKLIES VITAL
SCHOOL FOR PARENTS
THE PYGMIES LEARN HOW
FIJI ISLANDERS

H. Z. Mitchell's "Sentinel" at Bemidji, Minn., wins the prize as best weekly in the National Editorial contest. This is a good time to remind the public in general, and national advertisers in particular, that country weekly newspapers are the most important organs of public opinion and protectors of public welfare.

And their advertising value, per mill line, is not excelled by any publication of any kind.

The reader of a country weekly buys everything, from shingles on the roof to cement in the cellar floor, and every advertiser has in him a possible customer.

What is the matter with our children? Not much, but a great deal is the matter with some parents.

The police are hunting for a little girl, ten years old, invited to go to a party by a plausible man, fifty-eight years old. The child did not know the man, the parents did not know him. But the parents said, "Certainly." Off she went in the stranger's car, and that's the last seen of her.

Every public school should have an annex with the sign over the door:

"Primary Common Sense for Parents."

Miss O'Brien, adventurous young explorer, returns to St. Paul, Minn., disappointed in the African Pygmies. She shot all kinds of game, endured all kinds of hardship and says Africa is all right for a woman, but a little rough for men.

"The pygmies are darling little creatures," says she, "but I had to teach them to act wild." She wanted moving pictures of them.

Many American girls could teach any pygmy to act wild, and do so.

Fiji Islanders, bushy haired, active, gave a warm welcome to the monoplane Southern Cross, landed at Suva.

Those Fijians once had an annoying habit of eating white men. This time they only cheered them. The fliers have beaten all records, including Lindberg's long distance flight over water. It is 5,538 miles of ocean from Oakland, California, to Suva, Fiji Islands, via Hawaii.

The next hop, 1,700 miles, will take the fliers to Brisbane, Australia, on the way to Sydney. The world is really flying.

The 250 Fiji Islanders, about eighty of them inhabited, belong to old grandmother Britannia. She rarely overlooks anything.

When young people that now read this column get their around-the-world flying machines they may find chances to grow up with the country on some of those uninhabited, unexplored Fiji Islands.

Crops in the corn belt have taken an upward turn. The Arkansas River Valley reports, "Wheat will make thirty-five bushels to the acre."

All that is cheerful for the Republican candidate.

Nothing melts irritation on the farms like good rains, good crops, good prices.

George Bernard Shaw, becoming less important and less accurate after seventy, declares that accumulated money is the root of all evil.

Without accumulated money Niagara Falls wouldn't be harnessed, the Panama Canal, which helps Britain as much as it does us, wouldn't be dug; automobile production wouldn't be on a quantity basis and this country would have perhaps, 240,000 expensive automobiles instead of 24,000,000 inexpensive automobiles.

Great accumulations of capital, like great accumulations of water going down hill, represent power.

Eliminate accumulated capital, and you would eliminate possibilities.

No man can afford to be without Red Top Storage for at least half his crop. No man can afford to risk selling on a depressed harvest time market. Nor can he afford a 10% shrinkage from piling on the ground. More than 75,000 Columbian Steel Bins are helping grain growers take big profits. Every grain section of the country is dotted with Red Top Bins.

Columbian is the original steel grain bin. Year in and year out it is the biggest seller. It is the sturdiest—the biggest value. It improves the quality of grain stored direct from combine or threshed from shock or stack.

Alfalfa, blue grass, clover and other valuable seeds are as completely protected in Red Top Bins as cereals, corn and kafir. Handy for all farm storage such as sacks, harness, tools and smoked meat.

Possibly young Saul did a little grumbling in those days of hard work, but little as he knew it, he was "laying up in store against the time to come." Young Moffat, who became the great missionary, many a time blessed the memory of his grandmother, who forced him as a boy to learn how to do many things. "You do not know what you may need in after life," she would say, and how true it proved! So, we read that Paul in Ephesus and Corinth ministered to his own necessities by tentmaking. What satisfaction it must have given him at that time, to be independent, because he had mastered a trade in his youth!

Did Paul ever come in personal contact with Jesus Christ? It is an open question. No reliable answer can be given. Some take his words in 2 Cor. 5:16 as meaning that he had seen and conversed with Jesus in the days of His personal ministry. His training would have prejudiced him against much of our Lord's teaching, had he heard Him, and knowing the ardor of his temperament, we are not surprised in seeing Saul the fiercest antagonist of the Gospel.

At about the age of 35 we find Saul involved in the persecution which arose about Stephen. He took part in the murder and began to drag men and women to jail because of their faith in Jesus. Such a ferocious spirit did he display that we find Luke describing him in terms descriptive of some savage monster—as "breathing out threatenings and slaughter" (Acts 9:1).

This is the man who was so suddenly and thoroughly converted by a vision of the glorified Christ on the road to Damascus. The story of it will be considered in succeeding lessons.

Can You Answer These

When was Paul born?

What kind of a city was Tarsus?

What was the government of the city?

What kind of a population did it have?

MAKE EXHIBIT AT FALL FAIRS

PANHANDLE-PLAINS FORMS EXHIBIT ORGANIZATION TO SHOW AT FAIRS DURING FALL

The movement to secure immigration of competent farmers into the Panhandle-Plains section of Texas, took fresh impetus recently when the committee on ways and means of the Panhandle Development association, acting under instructions from the association itself, met in Amarillo, reorganized under the name of "Panhandle-Plains of Texas, Inc., elected officers, authorized the employment of an exhibit manager, authorized the securing of space at eighteen fairs in the three states of Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa, and approved the purchase of $1500 worth of publicity as a start in that direction.

The new name "Panhandle-Plains of Texas, Inc." was deemed to be more particularly descriptive of the section than the name heretofore used, the Panhandle Development association, and was adopted for that reason. The institution will be incorporated without capital stock. The officers elected were E. B. Black, Hereford, president; J. W. Stephen, Tulsa, first vice-president; and Col. Harve H. Haines, Amarillo, vice-president and general manager of the Board of City Development, was named vice-president and general manager with authority to perform the duties of secretary and treasurer under that title. In addition to these three officers, five directors at large were named: Dr. O. H. Lloyd, Vega; F. H. Hill, Panhandle; M. R. Avery, Dimmitt; W. B. Quigley, Memphis; and Matt A. Cram, Plainview. These gentlemen, together with the officers of the organization, will comprise the board of directors. None of the officers or directors will receive any compensation whatever for their activities; their services are all given to the organization.

The first action of the board was to authorize the employment of an exhibit manager whose duties will be to prepare three composite exhibits of the agricultural products of the Panhandle for presentation at the six fairs in each of the three states named one of the composite exhibits to go to each state. The board approved a publicity program that was outlined, and authorized the purchase of 300,000 copies of the first piece of literature that will be used for distribution at these fairs while the exhibits are on display. The follow-up campaign that had been outlined at a meeting of chamber of commerce secretaries, county agents, and home demonstration agents was approved by the board of directors and authority given for its preparation and continuance.

The plans of the board of directors contemplate that the name of every prospective settler secured by the association in whatsoever manner will be furnished to each chamber of commerce in the thirty-two counties of the territory to be represented by the organization so that each county will have ample opportunity to present its claims to every prospective settler. Particular caution will be taken to prevent the capitalization of this effort by unscrupulous persons who may be tempted to take advantage of the opportunity and the utmost protection possible will be afforded sellers of land and prospective purchasers. The counties included in the territory of the organization are Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Collinsworth, Cottle, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Floyd, Gray, Hale, Hall, Hansford, Hartley, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Lamb, Lipscomb, Moore, Motley, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher, Wheeler. The fairs selected at which exhibits will be displayed are: Kansas—Bellevue, Clay Center, Topeka, Hutchinson, and Dodge City, Nebraska—Lincoln State Fair, Hastings, Aurora, Broken Bow, Geneva and Kearney, Iowa—Cedar Falls, Des Moines, Atlantic, Marshalltown, Guthrie Center, Coon Rapids, and Waterloo.

The board of directors have other plans in the making for securing lists of available lands at guaranteed sale prices and the publicity committee are at work on additional publicity matters.

No concerted effort of this character and magnitude has ever before been undertaken for the purpose of populating the available lands of the Panhandle-Plains section, and the interest displayed in all portions of the territory of the association has been keen. The directors were selected not only because of their interest in the proposition, but they were distributed over the territory in such a fashion that every part of the territory is represented on the board of directors.

CAPON FOR WEST TEXAS

The bane of existence to many poultrymen is the surplus cockerels. About half of all the chicks hatched are cockerels and unfortunately it is impossible to tell them from the pullets until they are several weeks old. It is necessary therefore to raise many thousands of them each year to get the needed supply of pullets. In order to dispose of the cockerels as early as possible, they are marketed generally as "broilers" and "fryers." But as these markets receive enormous numbers in a short period of time, low prices generally result. Every one has them and wants to sell them at about the same each year and this creates the cockerel problem.

In the East many poultrymen are handling a portion of these excess cockerels as capons. They are doing this for several reasons, chief of which are (1) the Eastern consumer has come to appreciate the capon as a special delicacy and is willing to pay good prices for it, thereby creating a good market; and (2) by taking a part of the cockerels off the broiler and fryer market, this market is somewhat strengthened. Thus the producer has found it a profitable venture and rapidly increasing numbers of capons are raised and consumed in the East.

They can be produced on the waste grain on many Texas farms, turning into money thousands of pounds of waste around the grain stacks of the Plains farms alone. Many Plains farmers have found it necessary to keep the flock of layers penned up for half a day in order to force them to eat laying mash. So much waste grain is available that if they are allowed to run in the open all the time they will eat this grain alone, get very fat and lay but few eggs.

There may be other places as good, but there are none in a better position to cheaply produce capons than the grain sorghum belt of Texas.—E. M. Holmgren, in The Progressive Farmer.

BUYING LIFE INSURANCE

Life insurance alone of all forms of insurance has the advantage of being in every case an investment rather than an out-and-out expense. To collect on fire or tornado insurance, the house or barn must burn or be blown away. Every barn doesn't come to an abrupt end through the agency of fire or wind, although many do, but every life must end, and with every life insurance policy there must be a payment. However, there are forms of life insurance that are paid to the insured himself instead of at his death, and life insurance in force for as long as three years has a loan value. In times of emergency you can borrow against it at low rates of interest. The danger here is in failing to pay off the loan, and thus reducing the measure of protection given the beneficiary.

Life insurance is used for about nine different purposes, but the three which are of the most importance to the farmer are (1) family protection; (2) business insurance; and (3) insurance for educational purposes.

In buying life insurance a definite plan should be followed. It is well to provide for the payment of a part of the insurance money in a lump sum on the death of the policy holder. This lump sum payment should be sufficient to cover the expense that invariably follow illness and death, to pay off pressing and all-important obligations such as a mortgage on the farm, and to provide the family with sufficient funds to meet their changed condition of life. Beyond this point, ordinarily it is inadvisable to provide the family with insurance money in a lump sum. Where man or woman are left with insurance money beyond their immediate needs, there is too great an opportunity for unwise purchases or investments. To meet this condition, insurance companies now write policies that provide for the payment of insurance money at the rate of so much a month. In other words, such policies provide for a monthly income which is much safer in the hands of the average person than a sum of money beyond immediate needs.—The Progressive Farmer.

DID YOU EVER

STOP TO THINK

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Okla. W. G. KINSOLVING, PUBLISHER OF THE CORPUS CHRISTI (TEXAS) TIMES, SAYS:

"Buy-at-home campaigns too frequently are pitched on the wrong basis. Charity begins at home. Patriotism begins there, too. But home, in this instance, means just home and not the old home town. People buy away from the home town because they think they can get better bargains or better selections or better or more exclusive materials. They will continue to buy away from home, in spite of appeals to home town patriotism, until they are convinced that local markets are able to meet foreign competition on an even footing.

"In nearly every instance the man or woman who buys away from home is induced to do so by advertising of the foreign marketer. It is the only way that the foreign market can reach such trade. The local merchant has two strings to his bow. He can advertise and he can also show his wares to the prospect. But he too frequently never has an opportunity to show his wares because the customer never knows that he has them.

"CONSISTENT ADVERTISING OF SOUND MERCHANDISE IN THE HOME TOWN NEWSPAPER WILL DO MORE TO INCREASE HOME TRADE THAN ALL THE INDIGNATION MEETINGS OF ALL THE HOME TOWN ORATORS PUT TOGETHER."

15 RULES FOR RETAILERS

1. Keep your eyes on your business barometer—your stock records and accounting system.
2. Make your show window work hard for you.
3. Co-operate with the worthy national advertiser. Cash in on his advertising in your local territory.
4. Seek out attractive, new, quickly salable merchandise.
5. Buy wisely and adjust the volume of buying to the demand.
6. Put human interest in your advertising copy.
7. Advertise honestly, thoughtfully and frequently.
8. Keep informed on social, civil, political, industrial and sporting events. Use them as selling occasions.
9. Study the merchandising and advertising methods of successful retailers in your own and in other lines.
10. Add side lines after careful study of their salability and adaptation to your trade.
11. Have a business library on your desk. Successful retailing requires head work—theory plus practice.
12. Know your exact cost of doing business. Figure your profits preferably on your selling price.
13. Properly classify everything that comes into and everything that goes out of your store by an intelligent system of accounting.
14. Suggest salable, timely merchandise to manufacturers.

FREE POSTOFFICE RENT

The New carried a notice last week that the government was asking for bids upon a building to locate the postoffice for the coming five or ten years. The government takes it for granted that in towns the size of Canyon business men interested in locating the postoffice in certain sections will agree to furnish a building free of charge to the government. That is a shame and disgrace against the United States government, and the practice should be stopped by congress. The larger towns are furnished large commodious buildings for post-offices, which are paid for by taxpayers. In the smaller towns, the business men are supposed to furnish quarters for Uncle Sam to operate his postoffice. Just where the justice come in, we fail to see. The local postoffice pays in revenue in proportion to any postoffice in the United States. Just why Uncle Sam wants free rent for the privilege of doing business here, we are unable to see.—Canyon News.

Telling the Story of Buick Supremacy!

A letter from one of the many who trade-in a Buick for a new Buick—telling the story of skilled engineering and rugged construction that makes Buick the most durable of motor cars!

Amarillo, Texas

Wilson-Sherman Motor Co., Perryton, Texas

Dear Sirs:-

The 1925 Buick, Standard Coach which you have just received from me on a new 1928 model of same type was purchased new by me on February 17, 1925.

Up to the time of delivery of this car to you I had driven same 53,667 miles and the connecting rods and main bearings had never been disturbed or examined since the car left the Buick Motor Company's plant and so far as I was able to detect there was no knock in either main bearings or connecting rods when you received same.

I had the valves ground twice and put in new cam shaft timing gear at 30,000 miles. The car has the original pistons and rings and I was getting an average of 20 miles per gallon on road driving, and 1,000 miles on a change of oil without adding extra oil.

I drove the car over all kinds of roads in the states of Arizona, New Mexico and West Texas—my average driving speed being around 35 miles per hour.

I averaged 18,000 miles to a set of tires.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) WALTON H. SPILLAR

THE BIG BOUT

By Albert T. Reid

Hints for the Home

by Nancy Hart

Next time you want to make a Bon Voyage gift, try baking a variety of home-made cookies cut in fancy shapes and attractively packed in separate boxes.

Wrap each box in a different fancy paper of futuristic design in high colors and use gold seals or gold paper tape for tying. Then tuck the boxes into a gay raffia bag, with a clever greeting card to speed the traveler on his way.

Use only half quantities for the recipes, and you will find that an economical gift with plenty of delicious cake left over for the family.

Cottage Cheese Salad

Drain juice fruit from pint can shredded pineapple, add water to make a pint; bring to boil and dissolve in it a package lemon-flavored gelatin. When slightly thickened, fold in pineapple, a cup cottage cheese, and season with salt and cayenne. Lay strips of pimento in mold, fill with gelatin mixture and chill. Serve with cream mayonnaise.

Colored Melon Pickles

When making melon pickles, divide fruit into three parts of white, red and green pickles. Prepare syrup of one cup water one pound sugar (beet or cane) to each pound fruit. With syrup for white pickles boil one sliced lemon for flavoring. For red, spice with cloves and color with "red hots." For green, use cinnamon and green vegetable color. Seal separately.

Makes Them Like Prunes

Prune Toast is a delicious breakfast dish made by browning thick slices of Vienna bread in butter or margarine. Then turn into the pan a half pound stewed seeded prunes cooked very soft. Heat, pour over toast, dust with powdered sugar and serve with cream.

To Remove Chewing Gum

Place a piece of ice over chewing gum that adheres to cloth; scrape off as much as possible with a dull blade, then wash spot with gasoline or alcohol.

Keeps Pens Clean

One dip of the pen in a small quantity of ammonia makes the pen as bright as new. This is helpful when using various colors of ink.

Have A Bright Oven

If you will paint the inside of the oven with aluminum paint it will be much easier to see what's going on inside.

Changing Pictures

An occasional change of pictures in a room has a freshening affect that is quite comparable to bringing in a quite bouquet of flowers. It is a mistake to leave the same pictures in the same positions year after year.

When Husking Corn

To remove corn silk with the least effort, first husk the ear, then brush toward the stem end with a clean wisk broom.

If You Have No Egg-Beater—

A fruit jar can be used for beating eggs quickly. Rinse jar with cold water to prevent eggs sticking break the eggs into the jar, seal and shake.

Salt Cleans Sinks

Sinks and drains can be kept free of grease and odors by pouring hot salt brine through them once or twice a week.

THINKING OUT LOUD

By Samalman

There are more automobiles than There are more automobiles than farms in Iowa, the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce proudly announces. The farms may be outnumbered by the automobiles, but for one thing, they never leave the state.

Proponents of a third party have evidently forgotten the old saying about two being company and three being a crowd.

Those who looked forward to a real exciting convention are quite disappointed that it is not being held in Chicago.

Some people are beginning to think that "Father's Day" celebrations are made just as a ruse to keep Father home at least one day in the year!

The Fourth of July is almost here, and all over the country preparations are being made. Father is busy purchasing fireworks for the Great Day, while mother is hurriedly replenishing the family medicine chest! Soap has become a new medium of expression for sculptors. We always wondered what some of them used it for!

A woman explorer says that Africa is a much safer place than New York. Some persons who have been induced to attend gatherings of literary lions may agree with her.

A cow was found on the roof of a metropolitan apartment house, and everybody wondered how it got there. We know. It had to go on the roof, as there was no room for it in any of the apartments!

It won't be long before the girl who used to wear strong shoes in order to walk back safely from automobile rides will have to provide herself with a good, reliable parachute.

President Coolidge will have a hard time saying "I Do Not Choose to Run" to the Wisconsin mosquito hordes!

The big onion area of Northern Indiana held a special gala Onion Day. Must have been promoted by handkerchief manufacturers!

Scarsdale, N. Y., has won a legal battle to close its air to airplanes. Seems to us there will be some difficulty in putting up the notices!

Your Buick Dealer stands back of the USED CARS he sells

Your Buick dealer's reputation is worth far more to him than the profit on any used car transaction.

He is the head of an established business. He expects his business to grow steadily, year after year. He knows that to get more business, he must continue to please his present customers.

He carries a representative stock of used cars—including both used Buicks and cars of other makes. He offers you your choice of many makes and models, covering practically every price range.

You can ask his honest opinion of any car in stock and receive an honest answer. He wants you to be satisfied with the purchase you make because he wants you as a used or new car customer.

You're sure of a square deal when you buy from the Buick dealer. He knows that it is good business to stand back of the used car he sells you.

WHO Makes Good -on the Goods that Go Wrong?

NO man-made product can be unfailingly perfect. The best of manufacturers at times have sub-standard products; the keenest merchants make errors of judgment in buying; unforeseen defects will creep into goods, unintentional mistakes will occur.

And it is just such things that give your local merchant the opportunity to show his fairness and eagerness to make good--to rectify and satisfy the unguarded customer.

But what chance have you on the "come back" with the transient trader who is here today and gone tomorrow?

His goods may go wrong too. From the very nature of his "one-time" transactions, quality may not be so strictly safeguarded. And when his goods go wrong as they are more apt to do than the careful merchant, where's your "come back"?

You can't go back and meet him "face to face"--he's gone. You can't find him and he surely won't seek you.

"THIS INVESTMENT WILL PAY YOU EIGHT PER CENT"

Such rich returns on your money are very tempting and each year thousands of people invest their hard earned savings in 'good bricks'. To all appearances these investments are perfectly sound. Some very wise business heads have been fooled.

But the man who offers "get rich schemes" is thinking of only himself—he will be the one to profit, not you.

Good advice is this: "If you can't afford to lose—don't take any chances." If you really wish to invest there are many safe ways and we will be glad to help you. Our experience is at your service.

But the soundest investment of all is to put your money in the bank where the principal is safe—and good interest certain!

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

Starches

Much of our food may be classified as starchy. We could not get along without a certain amount of the carbohydrate. It is only with excess of starch, that I attempt to deal here.

Common starches are rice, potatoes, bread, and cereals that are marketed under trade names. The admixture of sugar makes the starchy foods more tempting. We eat five or six times as much starch as we really need. Most any well-set dinner-table has four or five starches, when one would be abundant. The well-living housewife sets on her table two kinds of bread, always potatoes, maybe Lima beans or baked beans, cake, pie with starch crusts, and rice pudding occasionally. If I were permitted to hang a motto above the American dinner-table—one that would do good—I would certainly proclaim, "One starch—not four."

When too much starch is piled into the system, the liver is given more than it can do perfectly—and the liver is the largest gland in the body. It transforms all the starch it can; the overplus is deposited about the body; we become fat, mushy, flabby in muscle and mentality. We are overloaded with ballast. We have all sorts of "liver trouble". Physicking does no good—not even temporarily. Cutting down the starch is the only rational way. If we do not—then nature makes us sick—and we are compelled to diet in order to get well—and nine times out of ten, the offender is starch, taken in great excess.

Excess of starch weakens; makes us susceptible to disease; children who eat heaps of potatoes, acquire infectious disease, colds, and such—very easily. Watch your starches. Use one, not four. We find starches fully as harmful as meats, though highly innocent in appearance.

OBLIVION FOR LINDBERGH?

Will Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh within a few months or years drift into oblivion as have other American heroes and prominent figures whose names were temporarily on every tongue?

If not, he will be one of the few exceptions in history since Marcus Aurelius wrote "all is ephemeral—fame and fortune as well." Those exceptions who were not forgotten are remembered because they were continuously and systematically advertised. Names passing fleetingly through the headlines did not carry sufficient weight to insure their retention in public memory. Only those who have built up their reputation painstakingly, step by step, have achieved enduring remembrance.

This is the great lesson that may be drawn from an article appearing in the American Magazine, entitled "How Many of These Celebrities Do You Recall?" The article is not an ordinary memory test. It is a modern application of the Marcus Aurelius theory—a commentary upon quick-flaming and quick-dying American enthusiasms. But it can be applied to flashy, spasmodic advertising, comparable to newspaper-headline fame or notoriety.

Classifying the noted and the notorious of recent years, Frederick L. Collins, author of the article, reminds his readers that few people can name six members of Roosevelt's cabinet or of Taft's; that they cannot name six persons who went down with the Lusitania or the Titanic. The average person cannot name the wireless operator of either ship although they were heroes for weeks. Who was Vesta Victoria, Thomas B. Reed, Lyman Abbott, Mr. "A", Mary Antin, Howard Carter, or Clara Morris, asks Mr. Collins, and then he continues with a list of scores of names which have been on the lips of every American within the span of a few years.

"Is it possible that Lindy, the unforgettable, will sometime take his place among the heroes we've forgotten?" asks Mr. Collins. "Perhaps, but I don't think so. His achievement might be forgotten if it weren't for two things. One is his own personality; the other his glorious youth."

"The men we have forgotten were often good men, but they were one-time men. They sold themselves to their public honestly and soundly. But they didn't follow up their sales. And most of the profit, as every business man knows, is in the 'repeats'."

A FULLY ADULT NATION

The United States has definitely grown up. The swaddling clothes stage of its existence is forever past.

Not so very long ago we were the precocious child among nations. It was the general custom to kindly pat the growing child on the head and remark that it might amount to something some day if it carefully emulated its elders.

The order of things has been suddenly reversed. The one-time baby of nations is the center of the amazed eyes of its once patronizing elders.

It was a healthy child and grew to manhood with unforeseen rapidity. It left the nursery to become a world leader in industry, in business and in finance.

We took the best the old world had to offer and embellished it with new qualities of shrewdness, progressiveness and unprecendented foresight. The result is the greatest industrial civilization the world has known.

At the beginning of any life there is bound to be experiment. It is a necessity of eager youth. What waste it causes is the price of progress.

We have sifted the good from the bad. We have found stability; we have blazed our trail along sound economic lines. We have exalted and striven toward an ideal—the utmost efficiency.

American produces 70 per cent of the world's petroleum and 55 per cent of the copper. We have 85 per cent of the world's automobiles and also an overwhelming majority of the telephones. Our railroads are beyond comparison. We have displayed unparalleled ingenuity in the production and use of gas and electricity.

We have set ourselves a standard of living that has made necessities of luxuries. Our high wage scale and the mechanical power commanded by the worker has made that standard possible.

LOCAL TAXES TAKE THE DOLLARS

One might almost say that when he writes the check for his property tax, the dollars go to local taxes and the cents take care of others.

Local Taxes raise the revenues for county, city, town, township and school, as well as most of the drainage, park, road and similar funds.

How those figures have grown since 1913 is indicated by figures compiled by the finance department of the United States Chamber of Commerce. The amount has increased until every day $19,000,000 must be earned to pay expenditures by local units of government.

The increase in taxes, it is pointed out, grew faster than the population, so that the revenues thus obtained (in 1926) amounted to $34.87 per capita, instead of the $12.36 of 1913.

Local taxes are heavier largely because we have demanded improvements. In the period of high prices improvements were made, at an excessive cost. Many a community built a $100,000 high school plant, that a few years later would have been just as proud of one costing one-half that amount or less.

We want more, not fewer local improvements. But these may be on a sensible basis. Economical methods may succeed the wasteful ones found too often on public work. If taxpayers will interest themselves in obtaining value received for the money, as vigorously as they protest high taxes later, their efforts will be reflected in local taxes.—Topeka, Kansas, State Journal.
