BELLANCA PLANE PREPARES FOR BERLIN FLIGHT

CHAMBERLIN IS READY TO HOP ACROSS OCEAN

WEATHER HALTS PLANS AND PLANE REMAINS IN ITS HANGAR

(By Associated Press) CURTIS FIELD, N. Y., June 3.—The Bellanca monoplane, "Columbia," was filled to capacity with gasoline and oil today in preparation for a take-off, probably this afternoon, weather permitting for an unannounced point in Europe.

WEATHER UNFAVORABLE

NEW YORK, June 3.—The weather bureau reported to Clarence Chamberlin this afternoon that atmospheric conditions were not favorable for his proposed trans-Atlantic flight and advised against a hop to tonight.

As the afternoon progressed the Columbia remained in its hangar at Curtiss field behind locked doors while mechanics went over the engine and the plane was loaded.

Chief speculation concerning the venture among flying men centered about the identity of the navigator accompanying Chamberlin.

When the flight was first planned it was expected Chamberlin would be accompanied by Bert Acosta with whom he broke the world's endurance record in the Columbia on April 14, by staying up more than 31 hours. Acosta, however, became associated with the proposed flight of Commander Richard E. Byrd.

Berard is Rejected Lloyd Berard, an ex-mail pilot, was selected navigator but his name was dropped because of a controversy which arose over prize money and compensation to the flier's wives in case of accident resulting in his rejection.

After it became general knowledge today that the Columbia was being prepared hurriedly for a flight, nothing definite could be

A. & M. Graduates Four Lubbock Boys

His automobile and a small bank were missing and the police were told that a negro man had been seen driving the machine from the Reese home. Mrs. Reese had been sleeping as she slept in bed with her two children and her sister-in-law had been killed after an attack, physicians said. Both were shot through the head. The children escaped harm.

LINDBERGH IS BACK IN PARIS

Makes Successful Trip In English Plane; To Leave For Home Tomorrow

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, June 3.—Laden with new honors and bearing with him memories of a heart warming reception from King George and the English people, Captain Lindbergh returned to France today for his promised farewell visit before leaving for home tomorrow at Cherbourg. The first point in France over which he flew on his great New York-to-Paris hop, he will board the light cruiser Memphis at his destination today for his promised farewell visit before leaving for home tomorrow at Cherbourg. The first point in France over which he flew on his great New York-to-Paris hop, he will board the light cruiser Memphis at his destination today for his promised farewell visit before leaving for home tomorrow at Cherbourg.

Lindbergh flew from England today on a British plane, his own famous Spirit of St. Louis having been created by British boys. Lindbergh was selected navigator but his name was dropped because of a controversy which arose over prize money and compensation to the flier's wives in case of accident resulting in his rejection.

After being forced to delay his return yesterday because of fog, Lindbergh left Kenley airfield, south of London, at 6:20 o'clock this morning, flying a single seater Gloucester Gannock. Conditions were still so bad, however, that he descended at Lympne, after covering only about fifty miles. A wait of little over an hour saw the heavy mist begin to thin under the warming rays of the sun, and the flier again took to the air at 7:12. Although some fog persisted over the channel, conditions were better toward the end of the flight, and he landed gracefully at Le

Butcher Held After Woman Is Murdered

CHICAGO, June 3.—Michael Hirsch, 32 year old butcher's helper, was questioned today in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Mary Sietzema, 27, whose body, with the clothing partly torn away and with three strands of wire twisted about her neck, was found on the floor of her bungalow home when her husband returned from work.

Hirsch told the inquirers that he made two visits to the Sietzema house yesterday, both times with meat deliveries. Blood stains on his shoes, he explained, were from the duties he performed in the butcher shop. In Hirsch's pockets the police said they found a key that fitted the door of the Sietzema home, and several strands of cord similar to that used to cover the lamp wire with which Mrs. Sietzema was strangled. The key, Hirsch said, was to his own home. Police checked this statement and found it true.

Latzo Is Slight Favorite To Win Over Dundee Tonight

BOTH BATTLERS IN TIPTOP CONDITION FOR TITLE BOUT AT NEW YORK POLO GROUNDS

EXPERT OPINIONS DIFFER SHARPLY OVER WHICH MAN IS THE BETTER; DUNDEE'S NERVE MAY LAND HIM WELTERWEIGHT CROWN

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, June 3.—With expert opinion sharply divided as to the outcome, Pete Latzo, world's welterweight champion, and Joe Dundee, the Baltimore challenger, will settle their differences over the 16 round bout tonight at the Polo Grounds.

Without weakening himself, Dundee knocked out Latzo only a few months ago that the slight Dundee encountered a then unknown boxer, Eddie Roberts, who knocked him out in three punches, stopping abruptly his championship aspirations.

Nize Flowers

D'ARCY "JAKE" FLOWERS

Here's D'Arcy "Jake" Flowers, acquired by Brooklyn in a recent trade with St. Louis, who has greatly strengthened the Brooklyn infield. Sweet flowers that bloom in the spring, tra-la, must be the theme of the song that Manager Robinson is now singing as his infield continues to improve with Flowers on the job daily.

Should Dundee take the title from Latzo he will have accomplished something he failed to do in the lightweight division. In 1925 he was selected by the New York state athletic commission as one of the contenders in an elimination series to determine the champion's successor to Benny Leonard's title. In his first fight of the tourney Dundee lost a decision to Charley O'Connell of Cleveland, although an ineffectual appeal was made from the decision by the Maryland boxing commission.

Dundee is 25 years old. He was born at Baltimore and began his professional boxing career in 1921. A draw with Lew Tendler and victories over Sid Barbarian, Luis Vincentini, Jack Zivic and Willie Harmon stud his record of more than 40 contests.

The Baltimore Italian, one of the busiest punchers in fistie ranks, has developed his rushing, battering style in the same hand-box gymnasium where Joe Gans, famous negro lightweight, once trained.

The fractured ankle Dundee suffered in training last January has entirely healed. In the past month he scored convincing victories over Johnny Mendelsohn and Billy Draako, a German welterweight, in his final conditioning fights before the title shot.

Latzo will have many backers. NEW YORK, June 3 (AP).—If social effort counts for anything Pete Latzo, world's welterweight champion, will be cheered right on through to victory when he meets Joe Dundee of Baltimore at the Polo grounds tonight. The hard coal country in Pennsylvania is proud of the fact that Latzo, who comes from one of their number not long ago, is the most popular champion Pennsylvania ever had and a large delegation will be here to watch him defend the title he won from Mickey Walker last year.

Down those honors, Latzo has been training faithfully at Pompton Lakes, N. J., for his coming fight. Up early in the morning for a grind on the road, Pete has devoted each afternoon to strenuous sparring sessions that, his handlers say, have put him in the best physical condition of his career.

Although only 24, Latzo has been in approximately 100 ring battles since he took up the game eight years ago. Walker checked out his first bid for the title in 1922. Frankie Schaefer and Willie Harmon turned him back in 1924, and in 1925 Morrie Echlaiffier and Bermondsey Billy Wells took decisions from him. Latzo reflects with no little satisfaction, however, that he has since squared accounts with each of these honors.

Latzo has lost two contests this year, the first at Dallas to Clyde Hill and the other at Chicago to Joe Simonich. Hill floored the champion in the seventh round of their 10 round bout but was unable to carry the advantage further. In neither of these fights was Latzo's title at stake, as he was over weight.

HUBBERS WILL RELY ON CITY LOOP HURLERS

STALNAKER OR DILLARD WILL HITCH AGAINST ROPES TEAM

This afternoon the Hubbers will meet the Ropes crew at the Merrill park in an evening contest. It will be the third game for the Hubbers card and may be a close exhibition as the Ropesville nine has had several more games attached to its season's list than the homelings and have been battling with some good nines of the South Plains. Hensley, moundsman of the Ropes crew, has been acclaimed as one of the best pitchers on the South Plains and has several victories attached to his winning column.

Just what Manager Jackson will use in the box for the Hubbers is not certain but either Stalnakor or Dillard, city loop toppers, will be called on to work. The managers of the city loop have asked that their hurlers be given a chance to battle with the Hubbers and this afternoon Manager Jackson will look them over.

The probable lineup to be used for the Hubbers will be: Jackson, center field; Sheppard, second base; Hardwick, left field; D. Galtier, third base; Ater, short stop; Sanders, first base; Rigney or DeWitt, right field; Hamilton, catcher; Stalnakor or Dillard, pitcher.

CHI-SOX ONLY WESTERN TEAM TO TAKE GAME

YANKS BLANK DETROIT WITH RUETHER ON THE MOUND

(By Associated Press) Three defeats marked the first charge of the American league against the western baseball front and today the invaders were devising new tactics to combat the combination of pitching and hitting to which they were subjected yesterday.

Dutch Ruether turned back a badly disorganized Detroit club with only two hits, one of the best pitching performances of the season, and the New York Yankees won 2-0. It was their fifth victory in the last six starts. It also was the first time in 22 years that Detroit had invaded the Yankee stronghold without the inspiration of Ty Cobb.

Cobb Looks Good
Tyus Raymond himself was figuring in an 8-4 victory the Philadelphia Athletics scored over Cleveland. Joe Pate, essaying a relief pitching role, checked a threatening Indian rally in the fourth.

Every player in the Washington lineup got at least one run in the Senators 11-2 route of the St. Louis Browns. Manager Harris altered his lineup and batting order with surprising effect, and Tris Speaker playing first base, figured in five double plays.

The White Sox alone of the western invaders came through with a victory, Ted Lyons registering his ninth triumph of the year for Chicago over the hapless Boston team.

Giants Beat Reds
The New York Giants, starting their first western invasion in the National league, found a tartar in the trailing Cincinnati Reds, who carried them through 12 innings before McGraw's men pulled out of 5-4 victory. Eddie Roush started a final batting rally that produced two runs. Cincinnati shot three singles out in their half of the twelfth but left the tying run stranded on third base. Burleigh Grimes relieved McQuillan in the second inning and pitched nine consecutive scoreless innings.

The pace setting Pittsburgh Pirates regained their momentum and flattened out Philadelphia, 7-3, after Cy Williams had tied the score in the sixth inning with a home run that secured two men ahead of him. Carmen Hill allowed the Quakers only five hits.

STAMFORD HILL, Eng., June 3 (AP)—Helen Wills won her way in the finals of the women's singles of the North London tennis championship by defeating Mrs. Beamish of England in the semi-final today 6-4, 6-3.

Bill Tilden Puts Bee On H. Cochet

ST. CLOUD, France, June 3 (AP)—Big Bill Tilden today wiped out the stain of his defeat by Henri Cochet in last year's American National Lawn Tennis championships by downing the youthful Frenchman in their semi-final match in the International hard court championship tournament in straight sets, 9-7, 5-3, 6-2.

Bankers Hold On To League's Lead

The bankers held their lead in the city loop by defeating the highly touted Wholesalers in a most interesting exhibition at Tech park yesterday afternoon. The final score was 4 to 2. The money pitchers, known as Ater, Wholesaler pitcher, in the initial frame and drove in three runs. Moody Smith, first baseman of the Bankers, singled out a triple with the bases loaded in the first session to score the three runs counted by the money pitchers. "Big Boy" Waller, shortstop for the Bankers, tossed a good game and until the fourth inning holding the hard hitting Wholesalers first to high—but he came in too fat with several hits and the Wholesalers sent them out. In the last inning the Wholesalers scored two runs.

That which is your best, if used correctly, can mean the difference between life and ten strokes a round.

I am shown here using my Stroke Savers for a shallow short-toe design. I have, and my heels in fairly well have a wide open stance with the right foot advanced six inches past the left.

My knees are slightly bent and both elbows are kept close to the body, stressing my old principle of compactness minus stiffness.

Keep your head perfectly still, pick out a spot between the ball and the ball to pitch to or chip to, the shot being played to produce a slight spin. This shot requires the proper practice. You can get it only through practice. Visualize this picture of the follow through—then go ahead and concentrate on it.

husband when she married him, 25 years ago. Of her twelve children, four daughters, and five sons are living.

Senora Calles was brought up in the Catholic faith, and friends of the president said today she undoubtedly would be buried with Catholic rites. They pointed out there was nothing inconsistent in her as the president in connection with the religious laws has insisted he was not making a fight against Catholicism or any other religion that obeyed the Mexican constitution.

Coolidge Sends His Words of Sympathy

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—Condolences on the death of Senora de Calles have been sent to President Coolidge by President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg.

President Coolidge said, "That I have learned of the death of Senora de Calles, in your great sorrow you have my very sincere sympathy and that of the American people."

Through the American embassy in Mexico, Secretary Kellogg sent this message:

"I am shocked and grieved to hear of the death of Senora de Calles. I send you my heartfelt sympathy. Since Senora de Calles died in Los Angeles I write to you today to express my sympathy on the part of the American government to carry out any wishes you may express."

President Arranges To Receive Body

MEXICO CITY, June 3 (AP)—President Calles, ill himself with a severe cold, was making arrangements today for his wife's body to be brought to Mexico City from Los Angeles where she died yesterday. The government will observe thirty days' mourning.

The president, whose stern character usually does not give outward evidence of emotion, was grief-stricken when the news reached him that Senora Calles had succumbed. He remained in seclusion at Chapultepec Palace, a place that has seen much sorrow and sympathy for the rulers of Mexico.

The ill-fated Emperor Maximilian lived at the same palace, and long before it was the scene of the coup fall and last grim relief of the Aztec emperors.

He Has Worried Much

For days the president worried over his wife's condition and remained in his personal headquarters awaiting hourly bulletins from her bedside. He cancelled all engagements, among them a farewell visit of James R. Sheffield, the American ambassador, before his

BETTER ROADS GROUP MEETS

Bond Issue Necessary, Say Members Of Committee After Discussion

Pointing to the astounding total of taxes paid by Lubbock county into the state road fund, members of the state road committee, meeting at the court-house last night to discuss a feasible plan for constructing hard-surface roads in this county, agreed that only by floating a bond issue here and receiving federal and state money aid in this county can the benefit of money they yearly pay out.

With slightly over 7,000 motor vehicles in Lubbock county, approximately $25,000 is paid annually in license and registration fees, and under the new gasoline tax passed, of three cents per gallon, over $25,000 per year will be paid in tax from this county each year. It is estimated, making a total yearly amounting to over $50,000.

State Aid Considered

If the county will begin a concerted road-building program to match that of surrounding counties, this money will be returned in state aid. At the present time the Highway commission is more favorable to such a plan than it was formerly.

Members placed aboard the American cruiser Memphis this morning. The Memphis left shortly afterward for Cherbourg, where Captain Lindbergh will embark tomorrow, with Washington, as his destination.

Flier To Spend Two Days In Washington

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—Captain Lindbergh will spend at least two full days in Washington before flying to New York in the Spirit of St. Louis to end his historic journey to the point from which it started two weeks ago.

The semi-official entertainment committee carried forward its plans today to cover the reception of the flier through Saturday, June 4, and Sunday. One tentative arrangement made for Lindbergh was a visit to the tomb of the Unknown Soldier Sunday afternoon and a trip then to Walter Reed hospital, where hundreds of world war veterans are receiving treatment.

road-building in this part of the state than they have been for several years, and Lubbock county should take advantage of this fact, it was stated.

It was further pointed out, taking federal figures as a basis, that operating costs of paved roads are compared with dirt roads, are about 50 per cent less, and that the saving in gasoline, tires auto parts and wear and tear each year would pay the interest on the road bonds in this county.

A program of road-building best suited for the county will be drawn up and suggested to the county authorities by the committee, each part of the county being represented in the committee.

WHEN I WAS A BOY

Chest swelled and Eyes Shinning

When I was a boy—his yarn began with that. Gee, but I was the kid that made 'em step. And the girls—why they gave me those kindly glances that made 'em all jealous. You know, it's a good thing I was masculine all the way through—when I said scat, scat it was.

Ain't it funny to listen to the tale, "When I Was a Boy?" Conquering days of the past will stir any of us to emulation when the old man begins to talk. But boys and girls you'll be doing the same thing 'ere time is done with you.

So let's hold hands—a ring around the roses while we think of the old and swing to the tune of these bargains at CLARENCE SAUNDERS STORE.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—A more reactionary sentiment was evident in the cotton market here today. Except for realizing, selling was restricted by continued nervousness over the crop progress in West Texas, but bullish features failed to bring in much buying. After selling early at 17.20, October reacted to 17.82, the mid-afternoon market showing net declines of about 9 to 11 points.

Cable Order Merely Calls For Purchase Of Goods In Mexico Proper

(By Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, June 3.—The foreign office issued an official statement today saying that President Calles' decree instructing government departments not to buy in the United States is in no wise a boycott against American goods, as the departments were merely ordered to buy in Mexico without considering whether the goods were American or not. The decree is described as "intending to safeguard Mexico's financial interests and avoid delays in the receipt of merchandise."

It is explained that the step was taken owing to grave injury through the investment of large sums in merchandise bought in the United States which was considerably delayed in delivery and because merchandise bought in Europe has been stopped in transit through the United States on the way to Mexico. The foreign office stated that the

SAINT AND SINNER

COPYRIGHT 1926 NEA BY ANNE AUSTIN

THE next morning when Faith took her seat beside Cherry, it was all she could do to restrain the words which bubbled out of her heart, for poor, harassed little cherry's face was as wan as a dying magnolia blossom; the golden eyes looked dead and hopeless, above their deep half moons of violent shadows.

It had been hard enough to witness the tremendous news of Cherry's impending release and vindication from her father, poor Jim Lane, bowed down with sorrow and worry, but it was the hardest thing he had ever been called upon to do to let Cherry suffer even one minute longer than was necessary.

"But she'll be free today, today!" Faith's heart rejoiced. She bent over Cherry, took the cold little hands in hers and clasped them tenderly.

The jury had filed in, the judge had sunk wearily into his chair, and court had been declared in session when Churchill came pushing his way through the packed courtroom, closely followed by Bob Hutchins.

Faith's heart almost stopped beating as she saw the raven, warbling faces of the men, but when Bob was in his chair, Faith's hand was raised forward and whispered, "Everything's all right!"

The crowd was waiting tensely for Cherry to be ordered back into witness chair to which she had not half the day before. They expected to hear from her own lips the story of her last interview with Ralph Cluny, whom she was accused of murdering.

But Churchill rose and advanced toward the judge's bench. "Your honor, before this trial process, I ask your forbearance while I ask you to attend to a matter of importance to the defendant and to the cause of justice."

Churchill, with a triumphant smile, first at Cherry, who leaned forward with breathless interest and leaning hope in her golden eyes, then at Hutchins, who was frowning, indignantly, stepped to the judge's bench, closely followed by the district attorney.

After a few minutes of low-toned conversation, broken by a sharp exclamation of astonishment and incredulity from Hutchins, Judge Grimshaw ordered the sheriff's deputies to remove the jury.

"Court is adjourned for ten minutes," Judge Grimshaw declared. "Butlers, see that no one leaves the courtroom."

He passed out of the room, followed by Hutchins and Churchill, Churchill carrying a heavy bag which Faith guessed, contained the exhibits against Hutchins.

Within ten minutes the judge reentered the courtroom, the jury was summoned, and order was restored. Churchill took his places before the judge's bench again, and spoke in a loud, ringing voice:

"Your honor, I move a dismissal of the indictment of murder against this defendant, Cherry Lane Wiley, and of the indictment against Christopher Wiley, charged with the murder of Ralph Cluny, on the grounds that the real murderer, Brady W. Hutchins, has made a written confession, after having been confronted with indubitable proofs of his guilt, and with the confession of his accomplice, Samuel Horton."

Cherry rose from her seat, stood poised a moment, with her tiny hands outstretched blindly, then fell at Faith's feet in a faint.

(TOMORROW: Cherry is free of the charge of murder, but not of her marriage to Chris Wiley and its disastrous consequences.)

A New Defense

Clarence Darrow, defender of Lieb and Leopold, has expressed astonishment that Henry Gray and Ruth Snyder were put before the jury as two normal persons who deliberately planned and carried out the murder of Albert Snyder.

The intimation is that had the defense attorneys been clever enough they could have secured an acquittal for their clients because as Darrow says, this "atrocious crime" was the act of two persons under pressure of some tremendous nervous excitement.

What was this outside influence, this nervous excitement which caused their action? Gray and Mrs. Snyder were in love.

Now here is a new line of defense for criminal lawyers. It will not take much of a nerve specialist to give expert testimony to the effect that people in love are not responsible for their actions. Let the person charged with no matter what heinous crime admit that he was in love, and the way will be paved for a speedy discharge from the bar of justice.

This "in love" plea will beat the insanity plea all hollow. By all means, Mr. Darrow should be given a chance to try his novel defense in some murder trial that has had plenty of publicity. Establish one court precedent in the form of an acquittal on the grounds that love is a form of insanity, and the jails of the country can be emptied in a jiffy.

It is surprising that no criminal lawyer ever thought of this before.

Down With Them?

There used to be an old "whizzer" to the effect that nobody loves a fat man. Nowadays in Europe it would seem that the slogan is "Nobody loves a bachelor."

As a result of the war, in almost every country in Europe there is a tremendous surplus of women over men. Wherefore statesmen and politicians look upon bachelors with no kindly eye.

It has at various times been rumored that Mussolini contemplated taking heavily any bachelor who persistently and stubbornly stuck to single blessedness. Stepan Raditch, leader of the Croatian peasant party in Yugoslavia, has gone even farther. He says that a bachelor can not be an honest politician. The bachelor, says the Croat leader and philosopher, tends towards irresponsibility and frivolity. Life is not a serious business for him. Wherefore the Raditch party has given all bachelors a grim alternative—marriage or expulsion.

Though social welfare workers still persist in criticizing the present day flapper for some of her alleged excesses, health experts are now almost unanimous in giving the much maligned little lady a rather generous O. K. She has taken off her corsets; she has taken on more exercise; she uses more attention in the choice of her diet. A Chicago doctor recently found, however, that this genus flapper was still doing itself one great injustice—submitting to one weakness which is causing physical injury. This is the persistent custom of wearing high heeled shoes. The chances that the style will fade elude rather slim.

Evils In Education

In Philadelphia a professor of philosophy bewails that a "top-heavy civilization" is being produced and that it must fall unless a new system of education is devised. In Princeton University two educators debate the value of high or degrees for teachers. In Amherst, Mass., student representatives from fourteen colleges discuss the evils of student life.

All of which is proof that education is still suffering from growing pains. There are undoubted ills in the educational system. In the evils of education, prescribe more education.

THE PLAINSMAN

With the flood menace now concentrated in one portion of southern Louisiana relief workers are turning their attention to rehabilitation work. During the time that the waters were on the rise, people were tearing through levees, washing away people, livestock, homes, crops and everything in their path—lucid news accounts were prominent on the front page of every newspaper. The tumult and the shouting now has nearly died. Little more will be said about the great flood. Yet the work which is yet to be done is more important than the actual damage done by the waters. Think how many lives have been changed—think how much rebuilding must be accomplished—think how many years those people can return to their ordinary ways of living. Think of the days, the weeks, the years and probably the decades of privation and hardship which must be passed through by whole families before the awful marks of the high water can be erased. We who are so far removed from the stricken territory, cannot grasp the situation. We only know that it must be a thousand-fold worse than we can imagine and that our imaginations alone are had enough.

 The news that a Lamson bank has temporarily closed its doors will probably be greeted with loud cheers in some sections. If such is the case The Plainsman advises the joyous to make the best of their opportunity. Bank failures—even temporary ones—are practically unknown on the Plains of Texas and the chances are that much water will flow under the bridges before there will be another. One thing is a dead sure clinch and that is many thousands of dollars will roll into the coffers of West Texas banks and into the cash registers of West Texas business men before such an event can be chalked up in any of the stronger banking institutions of the territory.

 Ivan Chatskovsky, age 145, and Olga Mariewa, 121, the two oldest people in the world, are engaged to be married. There is no fool like an old fool—or two old fools.

 Soviet Russia, with 165,000,000 people, is third among the nations of the world in population. We might well add—and about last in popularity.

WASHING TON LETTER Capital Foregoes Politics To Take In Unusual Medical Convention

By RODNEY DUTCHER WASHINGTON, June 2.—The capital of your country got a new kind of thrill last week at the exhibits and side shows put on for the delegates to the American Medical Association convention, in session here.

Only medical men and their friends were supposed to be in the convention hall, but others slipped in, of course.

The biggest drawing card in the convention hall—as well as probably the most valuable to physicians—was the "Fresh Pathology Exhibits." Three countries were covered by trays and filled with sections of the human interior taken from persons who had died within the previous 24 hours.

It appeared just like a butcher shop, with its refrigerator in the rear, but the crowds which congregated about it soon learned differently as the white-clad surgeons picked up the specimens and launched into lengthy discourses on what had been the matter with them.

THE surgeons handled the specimens freely, stretching them, carving them with knives and otherwise emphasizing their lectures. It was all very matter of fact and all was surprising to the lay brother, though the benefits were easy enough to understand as two or three men brandished brains or livers on different sides at the same time.

"Unfortunately we haven't got the other kidney and we haven't got the blood vessel, but—"

AN entire floor was given over to the Scientific Exhibit. There was a collection of hundreds of articles swallowed by children, huge cases of kidneys, lungs and other organs devoted to latest research in this or that disease, long vistas of charts and small movie machines constantly in operation, exposing the most intimate details of anatomy. It was probably the most instructive exhibit of its kind ever gathered under one roof.

MOST of us seem to think that doctors are rather stupid, but the physicians more than return the compliment by suggesting that most of us are downright idiotic.

The "lay mind" as the doctors call it is highly susceptible to almost any brand of health bunkum that amateur or professional healers serve up to it with an eye on the lay pocketbook.

An excellent example of what the public will sometimes fall for was the patenting of the famous "tapeworm trap," guaranteed to capture tapeworms. This was a gold or platinum contraction designed to be baited with a piece of meat and lowered through the esophagus into the stomach before the very eyes of the ravenous tapeworm. As the tapeworm darted for the bait, he was to release a hidden spring which clamped the teeth of the trap about his neck. Then all the fisherman had to do was to pull up the string, trap, tapeworm and all.

THE association always puts on a big exhibit demonstrating how the public is bunked of millions every year by "medicines which do nothing."

American women suddenly decked almost en masse that they wanted to be slim, and that was the case. Hundreds of "obesity cures" were thrown upon the market. All of them, according to Dr. Arthur H. Croup, were either worthless or dangerous, and sometimes both.

There were both sales, numerous

ARE THE STARS INFINITE?

When so distinguished a scientist as the acting-secretary of the Smithsonian institution, Dr. Charles G. Abbott, pronounces a new opinion regarding the nature of the universe, it cannot be passed over as the mere guess of a visionary mind. Dr. Abbot is a mature man of 53, whose life has been devoted to astronomical and physical science, chiefly in connection with the Smithsonian institution. His particular specialty is solar radiation, and his greatest achievement is the proof of the sun's variability. It is, therefore, as a result of years of study along lines directly bearing on the subject that he proclaims the belief that the stars are not infinite in number and undertakes to estimate the astral population of the universe at about 20,000,000,000. He finds support for his views in the Lindbergh trans-Atlantic flight, arguing that if the stars were of infinite number, they would have illuminated the vast of the heavens at night as brightly as the sun does by day.

Years ago Herbert Spencer reasoned very conclusively that the human mind is incapable of grasping the idea of infinity. It may conceive of space, power or numbers beyond the possibility of its own knowledge, but not beyond limit. An estimate of 20,000,000,000 stars is so far beyond any conception within the range of human intelligence that the difference between that and infinity is rather one of language than of realization. Nevertheless, Dr. Abbott's theory may mark a new departure in the thought and terms which scientists will employ in discussing the universe.—Buffalo News.

YOUTH AND AGE

Youth will be served. Look at Lindbergh and George Souders for proof. But let's not forget age, while we're sizing 'em up. There is Walter Johnson, for instance. In his first game of the season, after being laid out with a broken leg, the old master pitched the Washington Senators to a shut-out victory over Boston, 2 to 0. He allowed only three hits.

As Johnson will celebrate his 25th anniversary with the Senators on August 2nd, you can see that he is no spring chicken, but his effectiveness doesn't seem to be impaired.—Abilene News.

Journal Jobs

Judging from the reception Lindbergh received in Paris, he flew across the Atlantic to make the world safe for aviators to be kissed.

An army officer says that within five years young people will be taking to airplanes for their recreational rides. A California man has invented a device that steers an airplane without hands.

Highlights In The News Of Texas

EL PASO.—The meanest of thieves is believed to be in El Paso. He broke into the El Paso Children's Home this morning and stole the new dresses and suits of clothing which had been provided for 15 small orphan girls and boys in readiness for a summer outing in a camp nearby. He also took the clothing and money belonging to the Matron, and then stole a saving bank containing 25 cents belonging to a six-year-old orphan girl.

OLNEY.—By a vote of better than 4 to 1 Young county's $1,200,000 road bond issue was carried.

CLAUDE.—The total car loadings of grain from Claude for this year will be about 800, it is expected.

MCCLEAN.—The census which was recently taken of McClean reveals that the town has practically doubled its population during the last 12 months. Eighteen months ago the official census was 900, while now it is 1,625.

SANFORD.—D. M. Shook of Rockana was awarded a $750 lot here when hundreds of visitors motored to this new townsite for the formal opening.

AUSTIN.—Governor Moody was the guest of honor when members of five generations of the Dillingham family attended the annual reunion held at the old Dillingham home nine miles north of Austin recently.

BROWNWOOD.—Fifteen fires in a boiler factory was searched. Brownwood last week resulted in losses totaling $16,000.

AUSTIN.—The question of enacting stricter penalties for exhibition of slot machines and like gambling devices was submitted to the legislature Wednesday by Governor Moody, along with 11 additional bills, mostly local.

NOCONA.—Bertha Hancock, 15, and Florence Davis, 14, members of a swimming party, were drowned near here in the Red River.

PAMPA.—Between 60 and 75 gallons of high class wine and beer were found here by officers when Natural Result NEW YORK.—Mrs. Ruth A. Rosson Kraschewsky was married on Friday, August 13. Now she is seeking a divorce.

Lad Will Hike To West Point; Is To Enter This Fall The quest for an education has led at least one Lubbock boy to go to extremes rarely ever resorted to in this modern age, and in keeping with his plans, Orval Burroughs, son of Mrs. J. H. Burroughs of the Carlsle community, a junior in the school of agriculture of the Tech college plans to leave here Saturday on foot for New York city, from which place he will go to West Point, entering there the coming fall.

Young Burroughs recently was notified of his appointment in West Point. He plans to make the trip solely through the aid of passing motorists, and hopes to arrive in New York by July 1.

He is a graduate of Lubbock high school, and attended school at Texas A. & M. college before entering Tech here. While in Tech he has played a prominent part in all student activities, was a member of the first-stroke judging team, was distinguished the best college citizen by the faculty last year. He was a member of the agriculture club, the student council, the Stock and Business club, and the track team.

Best recommendations must be furnished by the girls wishing to avail themselves of this loan. Girls applying are placed on the "duty" list at Baylor, thereby being entitled to a minimum of expense, and a loan equal to half of their school costs is advanced. This can be paid back by teaching or other occupations.

By commencing school on June 6, attending the summer session next winter and the following summer, a student can complete two year's work and only miss one session she is teaching school.

Pola Does Her Stuff

TELLS OF GREAT LOVE She'll Quit Pictures

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, June 2.—Princess Apollonia Mediani, better known as Pola Negri of the films, plans to forever keep her new love "based on a perfect understanding and a companionship" by forsaking the silver screen for a family of her own within the next two years.

The exotic Pola came to Chicago with her new husband, Prince Mediani of the republic of Georgia, and talked eagerly of her future plans as she twiddled a diamond silver cross, which has been handed down to the bride of the eldest son in the royal family of the Georgian republic since the eighth century.

Has Orphanage "I am already the foster mother of 105 children, you know," she said, referring to the orphanage she maintains in Poland, "but I wanted to organize a family of my own. How many? who can tell, perhaps half a dozen. Some women can do things well—have a career and children at the same time. But alas, I can only do one well."

It was the romance of Prince Mediani that took her from the despair of sadness at the death of Rudolph Valentino to whom she was understood to have been engaged to marry; the film star said with a tinge of sadness today.

COTTON CROP FIGURES OUT

Nearly 18 Million Bales Of Cotton Ginned in 1926, Federal Men Announce

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 3.—Cotton of the 1926 crop picked and ginned amounted to 47,577,374 equivalent 500 pound bales, the census bureau announced today in its final report after a special canvass in May.

The final ginnings by states were: Alabama 1,487,821, equivalent 500 pound bales; Arizona 122,962; Arkansas 1,547,922; California 131,211; Florida 318,954; Georgia 1,494,185; Louisiana 828,497; Mississippi 1,887,789; Missouri 217,839; New Mexico 71,600; North Carolina 1,212,818; Oklahoma 1,772,784; South Carolina 1,008,068; Tennessee 451,522; Texas 5,636,831; Virginia 51,529 and all other states 14,922.

The March canvass of the census bureau giving preliminary figures on the 1926 crop placed it at 47,310,258 equivalent 500 pound bales, of which ginnings estimated 234,841 bales would be turned out after the March canvass. The department of agriculture in its final estimate of the crop on May 17, placed production at 47,511,000 equivalent 500 pound bales.

Nazarene Revival Gaining Interest

Increased interest is being displayed in the revival of the Nazarene church on Avenue H which opened Tuesday evening with the pulpit assisted by the pastor, S. L. Wood.

Song services are being lead by L. C. Messer.

The evangelist took as his text "Repentance" last evening, and told of the effects which true repentance has upon a persons life, stating that there is too much sham in many persons religion now, and a need for, more true repentance of sins.

C. I. A. Beauties Are Announced

DENTON, Texas, June 3.—Eight students of the College of Industrial Arts have been raised to the pinnacle of campus fame through selection by a well known artist as the most beautiful of C. I. A. Sixteen photographs, the choice of nearly seventeen hundred girls at the college, were submitted to the artist who in turn selected half the number as the prettiest.

The beauties are Miss Rita Nelson of Texasarkans, Miss Mickey Mills of Iowa Park, Miss Violet Alfrey of Hillsboro, Miss Oreta Smith of Dinger, Miss Patsy Mathews of Vernon, Miss Amy Lois Redding of Coleman, Miss Dorothy McKeyby of Albany, and Miss Hayden Hanton of Miles.

Too Many Holidays
CONSTANTINOPLE.—So many religious holidays are celebrated here by various creeds that Turkey's metropolis really has only three full business days a week.

Friday is the Moslem Sabbath, Saturday the Jewish and Sunday the Christian. Tuesday is not religious, but held to be unlucky because centuries ago it fell into the hands of Moslems, and Greek tradition as to its ill luck has been taken up by the Turks. Monday is a business day but not a good one.

Betts Funeral Will Be Solemnized Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Madie Betts, wife of W. P. Betts, of the Woodrow community, who died on Thursday night about 9 o'clock at her home, are to be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Lubbock cemetery, with Rev. W. A. Bowen, pastor of the First Baptist church officiating.

Mrs. Betts was 44 years old. She is survived by her husband and four children, all of whom were with her when she died.

Drilling On Boles Well Begun Again

Drilling operations on the Boles No. 1 oil test well about five miles southeast of here are going steadily forward following resumption of work the first of the week after a shutdown of about two months due to lack of water, and about 100 feet is now being cut down daily, it was reported Thursday.

The hole is now about 700 feet down, with the bit in a favorable formation for gas, this sand having been prevalent during the last 150 feet. Much new equipment has been added on the rig, and plans now are to drill the hole to a depth of 4,500 feet unless gas is found sooner.

The test is owned entirely by Lubbock men, and operations are being carried on by Lubbock capital.

Postal Receipts Show A Continued Rise In Lubbock

A continued soundness of business conditions in Lubbock is reflected in the increase of Postal receipts for the city of Lubbock.

Receipts for May show approximately $1500 gain over the same month for last year, May this year recording $6,783.67 as compared with $5269.95 of May '25 last year.

Receipts for April of this year are $7894.81 as compared with $7241.27 for April of last year.

Receipts for the first quarter of this year were $21708.14 as compared to $19459.93 for last year.

As the biggest part of these stamps sales are for personal mail, the banks and wholesale houses being the best customers of the local postoffice, the increase in postal receipts shows a corresponding increase in the growth of the city, it was pointed out.

House in Mourning
GUILFORD, Conn.—The house that went into mourning over the death of the quill of Louis XVI of France still stands on the Boston Post Road in this village. The house, built in 1761, was owned in 1793 by Nicholas Lopez, a French refugee from Guadalupe. When Lopez heard of the tragic death of his king he painted his house black, and it has been painted black ever since. It is now occupied as a farmhouse.

Cudahy's Puritan Ham

Finer Flavor because -ripened naturally

Do not parboil this mild
Puritan Ham
before frying or broiling

Distinguished in name. Puritan Ham is—"First in the Land," because of its finer flavor and greater tenderness. Puritan owes this distinction to the special Cudahy method of curing—"ripened naturally."

This method naturally diffuses the sweet juices of the young meats selected for Puritan, without forcing or hurrying.

The result is likened to fruit tree-ripened compared to that artificially ripened. You'll thoroughly enjoy Puritan Ham.
