Arson investigators focus on ballroom of San Juan hotel

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Investigators searching for evidence of arson concentrated Friday on a blackened corner of the Dupont Plaza Hotel where the ballroom was located. Police said search teams had found 95 bodies.

The head of a union representing casino workers charged that the death toll in the New Year's Eve fire was so high partly because hotel security agents locked the access door to the casino, located directly above the ballroom, and another door leading to a conference room.

Police Superintendent Carlos Lopez Feliciano told reporters outside the darkened hotel Friday night as searchers quit for the night that 95 bodies had been found. "They consider that 95 is a complete count, but tomorrow they are going to search again just in case. At this moment, 95 is the final total, I hope," he said.

It apparently was the second-worst hotel fire in U.S. history. The Winecoff Hotel fire in Atlanta on Dec. 7, 1946, left 119 people dead.

Officials at times have given conflicting casualty estimates of the number of dead. Shortly before Lopez Feliciano spoke, Gov. Rafael Hernandez Colon said 93 had died. Earlier Friday, officials reported the death toll at 60, then 53, and then 82.

Victor Villalba, president of the casino employees' union at the hotel, said at a news conference Friday that many people died pushing up against a locked door leading to the pool area on the west side of the hotel. He called for an investigation by federal and Puerto Rican authorities.

Rescue workers search through the main level of the Dupont Plaza Hotel in San Juan, Puerto Rico, as they look for more bodies Friday. At least 95 people are known dead from Wednesday's fire at the resort hotel.

"If those doors had been open or if the hotel security services would not have controlled access to casino entranceways in the way they did, the number of victims would not have been so high," said Villalba, president of the Association of Casino Employees.

Other hotel employees said earlier in the week that it is common for doors to be barred during emergencies to prevent robberies of the casino cashier.

Hotel spokesman Rissig Licha would not comment on the report that the doors had been locked.

Investigators focused their attention on the ground-floor corner of the building where the ballroom was located. Witnesses at the nearby swimming pool reported hearing explosions and said the ballroom and the casino directly above it virtually exploded in flames Wednesday afternoon.

Weary relatives wait for bodies to be identified

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Red-eyed and weary-looking, more than 80 relatives and friends waited for bad news Friday in a cordoned-off room of the government hospital where experts tried to identify charred remains from the Dupont Plaza Hotel fire.

The anxious group had searched lists of the 41 people still hospitalized with injuries and lists of people given rooms in other hotels after the Wednesday afternoon blaze but did not find the names of their loved ones.

"She must be in there," a gray-haired man from Cooper City, Fla., said, pointing to a forensics room where badly burned bodies were being examined by pathologists and an eight-member FBI team flown in from Washington, D.C.

Oil breaks $18-a-barrel threshold

United Press International

Oil prices rose on the New York Mercantile Exchange Friday and closed above the $18-a-barrel mark for the first time in 11 months.

The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, which has agreed to cut production by 7 percent for the first half of 1987, hopes to achieve its target of restoring an official oil price system based on an $18-a-barrel average by Feb. 1.

On the European spot market, Britain's benchmark North Sea Brent crude inched up 5 cents to $18.10 a barrel.

Oil traded on world markets has rallied from the $15-a-barrel level since Dec. 20, when OPEC announced its pricing and production accord.

West Texas intermediate — the key U.S. crude for immediate delivery on the Merc — climbed by 19 cents to $18.13 a barrel. It was the highest close since the crude finished at $18.83 a barrel last Jan. 31.

On the spot market, West Texas intermediate added 5 cents to $18 a barrel.

Unleaded gasoline for immediate delivery on the Merc rose 0.39 cent to 49.73 cents a gallon, and home-heating oil gained 0.76 cent to 50.71 cents a gallon.

Authorities urge people to move inland to escape classic northeaster

Associated Press

Authorities in four states urged people to move inland Friday, as a classic northeaster blamed for nine deaths swept up the East Coast with heavy snow, high wind and beach-grinding tides after causing millions of dollars damage in the Southeast.

"I just tied up my boats and put the cat in the attic. There's not much more you can do," said Dick LaCross, who lives near the beach in Scituate, Mass., where many seaside residents voluntarily evacuated Friday morning.

High tides broke through a sea wall at Marshfield, Mass., sending water up to 9 feet deep into streets and homes. Rescuers in boats helped evacuate some of the residents, who scrambled onto the roofs of houses, cars and businesses to await help.

In New Hampshire and Maine, the National Weather Service urged coastal residents to "complete all safety precautions and evacuate to higher ground inland as soon as possible."

Authorities said they had no immediate estimates of how many people evacuated in those states, Massachusetts and New Jersey.

Two New Jersey residents died when their car collided with a truck on a snow-covered road in Vermont, and one traffic fatality in Massachusetts was blamed on the storm.

Elsewhere, storms dumped up to a foot of snow on parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio, and the Rockies. In western Pennsylvania, authorities reported four cases in which men collapsed while shoveling snow and died.

The weather service called the northeaster "the most vicious storm" of its kind since a February 1978 blizzard paralyzed Boston with 27 inches of snow, caused 29 deaths, destroyed 339 houses and inflicted $300 million property damage.

Immigration officials say fewer illegals crossing border into Texas

McALLEN (AP) — Border crossings along the 800-mile stretch of Rio Grande that separates Mexico and Texas fell dramatically in the last two months, but officials fear the decline is only a lull.

"The main reason for a lack of entrants is because of the new immigration reform act. They don't believe a job is available for them," said Jerry Hicks, deputy chief for the McAllen Sector.

An immigration reform bill signed into law Nov. 6 subjects employers to financial and criminal sanctions if they knowingly hire illegal aliens. Those sanctions don't take full effect until May 1988 and warnings are still four months away.

"A lot of people in Mexico think the employer sanctions are in full effect right now," Hicks said.

November and December are traditionally slow months for the Border Patrol, because of the cold weather and the tendency to stay at home during the holidays, but agents say they've never seen the number of crossings plunge to such a degree as they did in the last two months.

However, the sector chiefs in Texas don't believe the past two months are the beginning of a new trend. And despite the sharp year-end decline, crossings for 1986 were generally up along the Texas-Mexico border compared with 1985.

'Taxman, spare that oak!' rallies Michigan donors

INDIAN RIVER, Mich. (AP) — Donors trying to beat the new tax law helped save 283 acres of rare, century-old red oaks that survived the lumbering era and escaped disastrous fires only to be sold to a sawmill.

"It's the largest and least disturbed stand of red oak hardwoods in the state of Michigan and quite likely in the Great Lakes region," said Tom Bailey, executive director of the Little Traverse Conservancy.

The non-profit group, which raised about $500,000 this year, had estimated buying the entire $1.25 million forest would take four years and feared that trees would fall to loggers in the meantime, Bailey said.

But about 400 people, many of them summer residents of the area, donated cash and stocks before the year's end, many wanting to take advantage of premium tax deductions on charitable donations under the old tax law, he said.

That made final purchase of the land possible.

The oaks, more than 100 feet tall and nearly 200 years old, sit on the western shore of Burt Lake at Colonial Point on land inhabited by Indians at the turn of the century.

Vietnamese youth's dreams of healing die in gunfire

HOUSTON (AP) — A 14-year-old Vietnamese youth who dreamed of becoming a doctor and spent much of his spare time studying was fatally wounded by shots fired from a passing car, authorities said Friday.

Houston police said they have no leads in the case, although they are investigating the possibility that the youth, Duy Phuong Quach, was the victim of a gang-related shooting.

However, the boy's father said his son didn't know enough people to have made enemies.

"He didn't go out of the house at all unless it was a special occasion," the teen-ager's father, Liem H. Quach said. "He obeyed the rules of the school and his family real good."

Quach was killed early Thursday after watching a New Year's fireworks display in far southeast Houston. He was shot in the face after he and four others climbed into a car to go home, police said. Another vehicle pulled alongside and four shots were fired.

"We don't have any suspects or motives. Nothing," homicide Sgt. Jerry Welch said Friday.

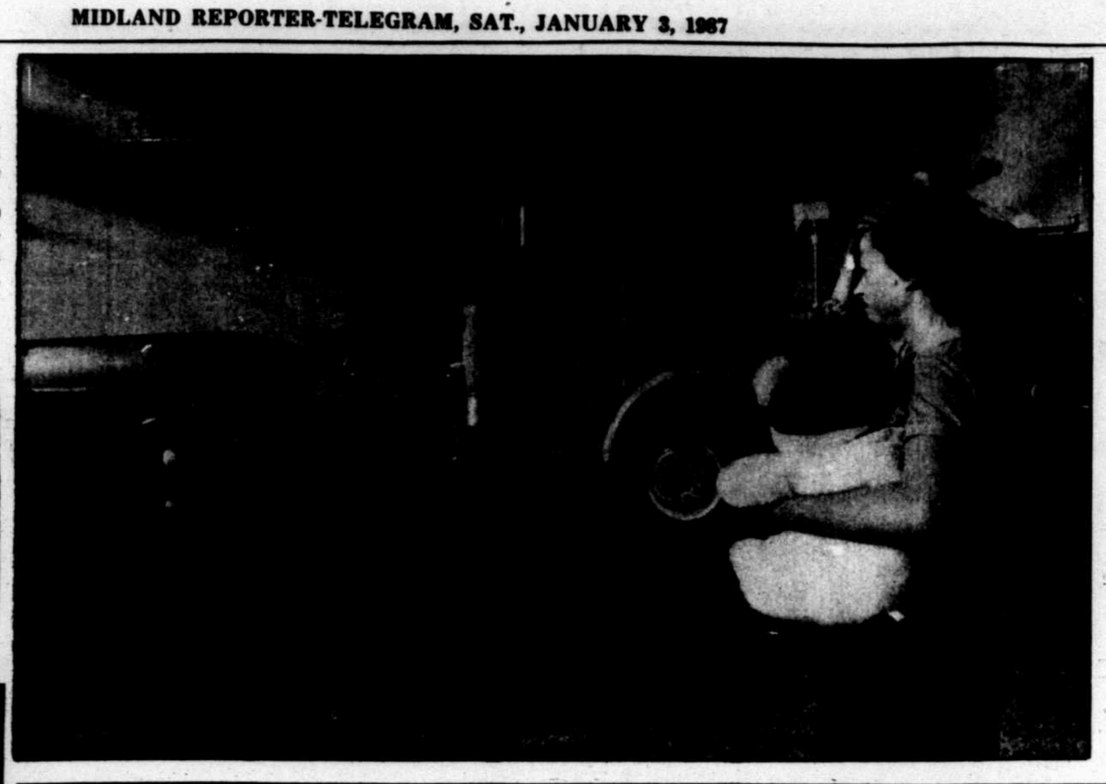
Shot kills boy from two miles away

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A 16-year-old boy preparing to celebrate the new year was killed by a rifle bullet that may have been fired by someone ringing in 1987 two miles away, authorities said.

David Gomez Vega was shot as he, his mother, brother and a family friend were in their front yard about 15 minutes before midnight on New Year's Eve. Suddenly, Vega clutched his chest, staggered and fell to the ground, police said.

He was pronounced dead at 12:40 a.m. Thursday at Wilford Hall Medical Center, where doctors removed a large caliber bullet from his chest, said Detective Jimmy Holguin.



Interstate incident

Stacie Brown seems stunned after the car in which she was a passenger went out of control and overturned Friday afternoon on the south access road of U.S. Interstate 20 near Midkiff Road. Miss Brown and her family were on their way from Tucson, Ariz., to Arlington when the accident occurred. There were no apparent injuries, according to police.

FIRE

Searchers have hunted for bodies through the tangle of burnt furniture, twisted cables and collapsed ceilings for two days. Undersecretary of Health Emilio Davila said bodies were found from the mezzanine-level casino up to the fourth floor.

The corpse of a woman was discovered sitting in a window frame through which her husband had jumped and suffered only a broken ankle. Davila said the woman apparently hesitated.

"We're here to find out where it started and why it started," said Andrew Vita of the U.S. Treasury Department's Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. The bureau, the FBI and Puerto Rican police are investigating the fire.

Vita refused to say what evidence police or his agency's 22-member team has turned up, nor why the investigation was focused on the corner of the building.

Hernandez Colon and other top officials have said there are indications the fire may have been set by an arsonist. There was a bitter labor dispute at the hotel, Wednesday's blaze was accompanied by explosions and there were at least two small fires at the hotel in the previous days.

"The labor controversy in the hotel was very, very tense," Hernandez Colon said in a broadcast interview. "All sorts of information was going around that there was going to be a problem at the hotel, that there were going to be bombs, that there were going to be fires. People were warned to stay away."

The investigation is being directed by Puerto Rico's Justice Secretary Hector Rivera Cruz, who summoned the federal agencies. The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms has jurisdiction in cases involving explosives and interstate commerce, Vita said.

Besides physical evidence, bureau agents are interviewing guests and others, Vita said. "The scene process is (only) one small, potentially important part of the investigation," he said.

Asked about reports that remnants of three incendiary devices were found in the beachfront hotel, Justice Secretary Hector Rivera Cruz was quoted Friday as saying, "I'm not denying that."

"We have some theory of the (cause of the) blast that cannot be released specifically at this moment," the New York Daily News quoted Rivera Cruz as saying.

The Teamsters union, which represents most of the hotel's 250 unionized employees, has angrily rejected suggestions the fire was linked to the labor dispute. The blaze broke out minutes after union members meeting in a hotel conference room rejected a contract offer.

The union has offered a reward of $15,000 for information about the fire's cause.

Hernandez Colon, the governor, said Thursday the Dupont Plaza and many other Puerto Rican hotels did not have sprinkler systems.

A hospital official called out a Hispanic name, and a well-dressed man rose from his folding chair and left with the official.

"I wonder how I'll feel when they call your mother's name," the Florida man said, turning to his son.

He asked that his name not be used until the fate of his wife was known. He said she was 70 years old and had gone with her sister, who lives in Puerto Rico, to the Dupont Plaza casino. Her sister was also missing, the Florida man said, pointing out two tearful young women and a young man he said were her children.

Officials say the intense heat and flames caused the bodies of those trapped in the casino, on the 20-story hotel's mezzanine level where the fire started, to be burned charcoal-black.

Hospital officials had relatives fill out forms asking descriptions of nearly anything — jewelry, clothing, old broken bones or dental plates — that could help the identification process.

They also provided telephone lines for relatives to call dentists to ask for X-ray records.

Only nine bodies had been identified at the hospital by midday Friday.

Hospital officials said at least 60 families reported they still had loved ones missing, and government officials said the death toll could eventually rise to 100.

Most of the people inside the room were Hispanic, but there were also families from New York and Connecticut. The brother of Susan Lawrence, still missing, flew here Thursday from the United States because her husband was hospitalized with burns and fractures.

Puerto Rican Secretary of Health Luis Izquierdo Mora came to answer questions and promise help. A Puerto Rican man raised his hand and expressed frustration: "I've been waiting here 24 hours. When will this be finished?"

"We have the best pathologists in Puerto Rico working 24 hours a day," Izquierdo Mora replied calmly. "The great majority of these bodies are terribly burned. It is a very difficult task. But it will be done.

"They are progressing. We are doing this with the very best care, with the very best dignity. We know you are suffering.

"We're still receiving bodies. It is taking a long time to remove the bodies because the FBI is involved, the secretary of justice is involved. Every time a body is lifted, they take photographs. It is a slow process," Izquierdo Mora said, referring to the investigation into the possibility of arson.

BORDER

Marfa Sector Chief Hugh Rushton says his agents usually apprehend about 1,400 aliens in December. About 700 aliens were arrested this December. Rushton said crossings were down in his sector by 53 percent, comparing November 1986 to the previous November.

"As soon as this bill passed, they quit coming," he said.

Hicks said he expects the number of entries will increase this year.

"Smugglers and illegal aliens are always looking for methods to escape, to elude our officers and no doubt they will be back in action in January," Hicks said. "We're looking for a sharp increase in entries."

Hicks said arrests in his sector fell 43 percent in December 1986 compared with December 1985. Arrests were down 28 percent, comparing November 1986 and the same month the previous year.

Elsewhere along the border, comparing December figures for the two years, crossings were down 51 percent for the Laredo sector; 42 percent for Del Rio; and 26 percent for El Paso. All but Marfa showed entries dropped more sharply in December than November.

But crossings were up 32 percent for 1986 for the McAllen sector and were up 21 percent in the El Paso sector. Other sector chiefs said they believed their numbers would be up for the calendar year, but did not yet have the year's figures compiled. All five sectors showed increases for the fiscal year that ended Sept. 30 over the previous year.

Richard Marroquin, deputy chief patrol agent for the Laredo sector, said he believes the overall increase in the number of crossings is due to economic conditions in Mexico, Central and South America.

"Every year the total figure goes up," said Gustavo de la Vina, assistant chief of the El Paso Sector. "We expect the figure for 1987 to be even higher."

Marroquin said he expects a surge in crossings as news spreads that the United States is not conducting mass deportations of illegal aliens — as some Mexican media had warned.

"The true indicator will be the end of the month and February as to any effect the bill will have on entrants," said Paul Berg, assistant patrol chief for the Del Rio sector. "Normally we go down (in December)."

STORM

The storm was blamed for four traffic deaths Thursday in North Carolina and two in Virginia, which was also hit by coastal flooding, rain and up to 5 inches of snow in some western areas.

Friday's high tides were generally 3 feet or more above normal, said meteorologist Bill Barlow of the National Weather Service. Tides of 2 to 3 feet above normal had been expected because of a syzygy, a rare alignment of the sun, moon and Earth that has occurred only three times since 1912, the weather service said.

Southern New Hampshire saw heavy snowfall, with 18 inches piled up in Salem, and waves closed coastal roads in the Hampton and Portsmouth areas.

Sgt. W.O. Allen Jr. said investigators are looking into the possibility that Quach may have been the victim of a gang-related shooting. However, Welch said Friday authorities hadn't found any evidence to link a gang to the death.

Investigators said the slaying did not appear to be related to the Dec. 27 incident in which three Vietnamese were killed outside a restaurant, investigators said.

The youth's family said he was too busy studying to get involved in a gang.

Quach said his son wanted to become a doctor and got ready for school at 5 a.m each day. He said the ninth-grader held a second degree black belt in karate and made good grades at the Houston Independent School District's High School for Health Professionals.

"He worked very hard because he wanted a scholarship," Quach said.

He went with friends and relatives to the fireworks display, Quach said.

"I don't think anyone planned to kill him," the father said. "He didn't go out enough to have enemies. Someone just drove up in a car and fired all those shots."

The boy might not have known the assailants, but they could have been firing at another youth in the car, police said.

"Or they might have been firing a few rounds, trying to scare them," Allen said.

Quach said his family moved to Ohio after leaving Vietnam in 1975, then came to Houston about eight years ago.

Midlanders take wing in annual bird count

By ED TODD
Staff Writer

Midland birdwatchers Thursday counted 118 species of waterfowl, songbirds and raptors in the best-ever yearly census of birds in and around Midland.

"Oh, we did great — the best we've ever done," Midland naturalist Frances Williams said today of the annual Midland Christmas Bird Count, which was taken on New Year's Day.

Twenty-five birders "in the field" and eight backyard birdwatchers spotted 27,708 birds of 118 species, including some waterfowl which rarely fly this far inland.

The count included 91 white-faced ibis coastal waterfowl and 44 night herons. Both feed on frogs and fish.

"That's really amazing," Ms. Williams said of the inland-sighted ibises. Just one of the goose-size birds visiting West Texas would be "startling," she said.

The waterfowl were spotted along Monahans Draw south and southeast of Midland.

The count also include 14 species of ducks and 14 species of hawks, including a golden eagle.

Five kinds of owls were sighted in trees and shrubs on ranchland where Midland Draw meanders. The raptors included barn, great-horned, burrowing, long-eared and short-eared owls.

In town, the count included blue jays, robins, cedar waxwings, warblers and 10 blue birds, which are unusual to West Texas.

The bird census took in Fairview Cemetery, Resthaven Memorial Park and Hogan Park.

"Cemeteries are nice places for birds," Ms. Williams said. "No one bothers them there."

The Midland bird count was part of a concerted effort which included North America, Central America, Hawaii, Bermuda and the West Indies.

Results of the more than 1,500 counts will be submitted to the National Audubon Society, which supervises the annual project. Results of the survey will be published in Audubon's ornithological journal, "American Birds."

This year marks the 87th anniversary of the original Christmas Bird Count, which was taken on Christmas Day of 1900 in 25 Northeastern United States cities, Ms. Williams said. Since then, the annual event has grown to include more than 38,000 bird-watchers.

The Midland Christmas Bird Count is sponsored annually by Midland Naturalists, an organization that fancies not just birds but reptiles, butterflies and other creatures, and wildflowers.

"Our main purpose is to show the people of Midland that there are a lot of beautiful things here and that they don't have to go off to someplace else."

The Midland count on New Year's Day was the 38th annual bird census here.

The 1986 bird count here totaled 20,785 birds of 101 species. In 1975, 105 species were counted. The census area takes in about 177 square miles in the city of Midland and on farms and ranches south and southeast of the city.

Ms. Williams noted that an "unusual number" of ducks and other water birds are in the Midland area this year because of the availability of water in the draws and playa lakes. Rainfall in the latter half of 1986 was usually high in the Midland area. Rainfall ranged from an official 32 inches to between 40 and 50 inches on farms and ranches. Normal rainfall here is 13.70 inches per year.

The dawn-to-dusk Midland bird count was rounded out with a chili supper and a tallying of the birds.

Immigration law won't keep illegals out, Mexicans say

By CAM ROSSIE

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP) — The new U.S. immigration law has been a boon to shysters who forge documents for Mexicans seeking to cross the border, but it won't stem the flow of illegal aliens, officials in northern Mexico say.

"The black market for forged documents is booming, mostly in the United States but also with agents in the Mexican border cities," said Jorge Bustamante, director of the Tijuana-based Colegio de la Frontera Norte.

The Immigration Reform and Control Act, signed by President Reagan Nov. 6, seeks to contain the flow of illegal immigrants to the United States by penalizing employers who knowingly hire undocumented workers and increasing the Immigration and Naturalization Service budget.

Under an amnesty provision, aliens who have lived continuously in the United States since before Jan. 1, 1982, are eligible for permanent resident status.

The law requires employers to verify the residency status of all new workers by examining documents such as a U.S. passport, a U.S. birth certificate, a Social Security card, a driver's license or other state-issued identification.

Bustamante said the law has created "a new industry of so-called lawyers," whom he described as unscrupulous individuals who claim they can "fix things for a fee."

They offer to forge documents and to help Mexicans through the amnesty proceedings for a fee ranging from $1,000 to $5,000, Bustamante said.

The daily newspaper El Norte of Monterrey expressed its disdain of the law in an editorial cartoon showing Uncle Sam at a carnival shooting gallery. The targets were Mexicans lined upon a shelf.

"Shoot an undocumented one. Three for $1," the caption read.

An El Norte editorial said, "The United States is a country that presumes to be the vanguard of civil rights, liberty and justice" but that the law "strikes a hard blow to the Latin minority that lives there."

Mexican newspapers have complained the law could result in the deportation of millions of Mexicans living in the United States. The measure so angered one federal official from Monterrey, northern Mexico's largest city, he toured the border area to criticize it.

"The real and imaginary barriers they think to set up will not control the flow of illegal immigration," Romeo Flores Caballero, chairman of the commission on border affairs in the federal Chamber of Deputies, said while in El Paso, Texas.

The mayor's office in Ciudad Juarez, just south of El Paso, reports the only noticeable effects of the law is "a bombardment" of radio and newspaper advertisements offering services to workers without documents.

"The people continue crossing just the same as always. The law exists only in the mind right now," said Mario Trejo, press chief for Mayor Jaime Bermudez.

Bustamante believes the law has served primarily to appease Americans.

"The American public is now less apprehensive," he said in a telephone interview. "There is a certain feeling that things are now back in control or on the way to being controlled."

He said, however, "In a few years, people will change their cry from 'We have lost control of our borders' to 'We have lost control of our documents.'"

Bustamante believes increasing the U.S. Border Patrol will make undocumented immigration "more selective" because of the cost of repeated attempts to cross the border.

Statistics gathered by the Colegio de la Frontera Norte, a research group that conducts studies on border issues, show that the typical worker without documents who got a job in the United States did so on the fourth border crossing.

"Now they'll have to spend more money because chances are they'll get caught more times before they get into the United States," he said.

Mexicans who come to cities like Ciudad Juarez and Tijuana, where jobs are not difficult to find, won't mind waiting for the right chance to cross, according to officials.

"Juarez still has a surplus of employment thanks to the maquiladora industry," Trejo said, referring to assembly line operations flourishing along the Mexican side of the border.

"You come today and tomorrow you have a job even if you can't read or write," he said.

President Miguel de la Madrid said in an end-of-the-year interview with the government newspaper El Nacional it was difficult to predict the effects of the new immigration law.

"Probably the greatest effect of the law will not be caused by massive deportations of workers to Mexico, at least at levels significantly higher than the present," the president said.

"What can be expected is a reduction in the flow of migration toward the United States. This can be a serious element in the development of Mexico, since this factor has served as a mechanism of adjustment in regard to unemployment," he said.

Chinese students gather around banned posters

PEKING (AP) — About 200 students at Peking University gathered on Friday around banned posters heralding the release of students detained in a pro-democracy demonstration and urging top Chinese leaders to take a public stand on the unrest.

One poster called for a news conference at which the students could tell the story of their Thursday protests, which were in defiance of an official ban on unauthorized demonstrations.

A student who spoke on condition of anonymity said all 24 students whom protesters claimed were detained by police were released and returned to campus. Other students said they were not certain whether all were released.

The students had been detained Thursday when more than 1,000 protesters marched onto central Peking's Tiananmen Square and engaged in a shoving match with police who had blocked the area off.

About 5,000 students marched that night to demand the release of the detained students.

Officials agreed, but only 11 students were seen returning to campus to heroes' welcomes. The official Xinhua News Agency reported the students were freed, but it did not say what happened to several other "troublemakers" it said were detained.

The number of marchers dwindled along the 10-mile route to Tiananmen because of sub-zero cold and icy streets. About 1,000 students made it to the square on Friday and staged a sit-in in front of the Monument to the People's Heroes.

Reagan's 1987 budget contains aid for Contras, deep domestic cuts

NATION

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan will submit a $1.02 trillion budget to Congress that "will not abandon the Contras" while calling for deep new domestic cuts, administration and industry officials said Friday.

Among the new proposals in the president's 1988 budget, to be submitted to Congress on Monday, are changes that would make it harder for middle-class Americans to get home mortgages, according to an industry group.

Meanwhile, a Congressional Budget Office suggested that the $42 billion in cuts and other savings to be proposed by the president will fall about $19 billion short of meeting the administration's own deficit-reduction target.

The congressional report, released Friday, said that the annual federal deficit, a record $221 billion in the fiscal year that ended last Sept. 30, will fall to $174 billion in the current fiscal year and to $169 billion in fiscal 1988 even in the absence of further spending cuts or other savings.

The reduction will occur because in the current economic climate of relative prosperity, revenues are outpacing outlays, the congressional office said.

While the forecast is similar to the administration's forecast of a $173 billion deficit for 1987, it is considerably above the administration's projected $150 billion "current services" deficit for 1988.

Reagan has vowed to propose steps in his new budget to reduce the 1988 deficit to the $108 billion target of the Gramm-Rudman budget balancing law.

Edwin L. Dale Jr., a spokesman for the Office of Management and Budget, said the congressional estimate differs from the White House projection because it uses less optimistic assumptions about the economy.

The congressional report projected economic growth of 3 percent in 1987 and 2.9 percent in 1988, compared with administration estimates of 3.2 percent and 3.7 percent.

And the congressional forecast predicted that inflation, running at about 1.1 percent over the past year in the Consumer Price Index, would rise 4.4 percent from December 1986 to December 1987, and by another 4.4 percent in the following year.

By contrast, the administration predicted inflation of 3.6 percent this year and 3.7 percent in 1988.

The Mortgage Bankers Association of America, quoting from what officials said were confidential advance details of the budget, said Reagan's proposals could roughly double the amount of up-front cash that homebuyers would have to pay to acquire mortgages backed by the Federal Housing Administration.

The association provided these details:

— Certain closing costs for FHA mortgages, including a 3.8 percent mortgage insurance premium, could no longer be financed with the loan but would have to be paid for at the same time as the down payment.

— Families with incomes over $40,000 would have to pay at least a 5 percent down payment to acquire new FHA loans. Currently, 3 percent down can be paid to cover the first $25,000 of a loan, with the 5 percent level making up the difference. The present formula would remain for families with under $40,000 income.

— Fees paid to the Government National Mortgage Association (Ginnie Mae) for financing FHA and Veterans Administration loans would be raised from the current 0.06 percent to 0.1 percent, adding roughly $187 to closing costs.

— Homeowners could no longer get FHA mortgages to cover second homes or investment houses.

Reagan returns, prepares for prostate surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan returned from a week-long California vacation Friday and prepared to enter a military hospital this weekend for prostate surgery and tests for any recurrence of the colon cancer he suffered 18 months ago.

There has been no indication during Reagan's holiday with his wife Nancy in Los Angeles and at the desert resort of Palm Springs that he has spent any time dealing with the Iran-Contra affair that enveloped his presidency in the final weeks of the year.

As the Reagans boarded Air Force One for the trip home, a reporter shouted, "What will '87 be like?"

"Great," Mrs. Reagan replied. "Better than '86," the president added.

Reagan made only one public appearance after leaving Washington, an awards presentation ceremony for the designer and crew of the globe-circling Voyager aircraft. And in the privacy of his Los Angeles hotel suite, he recorded a year-end radio address to the nation and a New Year's message to the Soviet people broadcast by the Voice of America.

Frank C. Carlucci, the president's new national security adviser, formally assumed control of the National Security Council staff Friday, but aides said Reagan had no immediate plans to meet with him.

Carlucci succeeds Vice Adm. John M. Poindexter, who resigned after Attorney General Edwin Meese III discovered Poindexter knew about but did not move to stop the funneling to Nicaraguan rebels of millions of dollars in profits from secret U.S. arms sales to Iran. Reagan had approved the weapons sales despite an arms embargo against Iran but has said he knew nothing of the diversion of Iranian payments to the Contra rebels in Nicaragua.

Before leaving for California, Reagan appointed outgoing NATO Ambassador David Abshire to oversee the White House response to various investigations of the matter, and Abshire will assume his duties on Monday.

On Sunday morning, the president is scheduled to be admitted to Bethesda Naval Hospital just outside Washington for a series of tests, followed on Monday by surgery.

IRS may take credit for tax payments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans who use credit cards may find them handy at tax time. The Internal Revenue Service said Friday it is considering a proposal to allow people to pay their taxes with the plastic money.

IRS Commissioner Lawrence Gibbs said the agency has proposed allowing taxpayers to charge their tax bills much like they charge merchandise. The proposal is currently being considered by the Treasury Department.

"We would charge your credit card account and then you would pay your credit card company," Gibbs said on NBC-TV's "Today" show.

For people who file quarterly estimated tax returns, Gibbs said, the credit card system could also be employed. He said the details of the proposal are still being worked out, and he did not elaborate further.

Gibbs also said he hopes the tax overhaul law going into effect this year will not be revamped soon, to "give people a chance to get used to this new law."

"I agree with my boss, (Treasury) Secretary (James) Baker. He has said that he really hopes that we'll cool it for awhile after this act. I think any time you have change in the tax laws, you're going to have confusion and confusion is going to be considered complexity," Gibbs said.

With tax forms already being mailed out, Gibbs urged people to get their returns in early. People due tax refunds will receive their checks within four to six weeks if they file early, but it takes six to eight weeks as the April 15 filing deadline nears, he said.

Partly cloudy skies mild temperatures still in forecast

From Staff and Wire Reports

Partly cloudy skies and mild temperatures are expected to continue through the weekend, according to forecasters with the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport. The high today should reach the low 50s. Winds will be from the north at 10 to 20 mph.

Tonight will be partly cloudy with a low near 30. Forecasters for Sunday predict partly cloudy skies and a high near 60.

Friday's high of 66 was 9 degrees cooler than the record of 75, set in 1964. The low of 25 was 17 degrees warmer than the record of 8 degrees, set in 1983.

STATE

Skies became increasingly cloudy Friday as a low pressure system moved into West Texas.

A few light showers dampened the northern Panhandle near the center of the low and by late afternoon about the only clear area was over the middle Rio Grande plains near Laredo, the National Weather Service said.

The wind was generally from the south across the state except in West Texas where a west wind prevailed. The wind increased in speed during the afternoon, to the 15 to 25 mph range with occasional higher gusts. In the mountains of West Texas the wind raced at up to 45 mph, the weather service said.

NATION

Coastal cities of the Northeast were battered by unusually high tides and a storm packing strong winds Friday, as residents were warned to move to higher ground.

Inland, the storm brought up to 15 inches of snow to York, Maine, and a foot fell in central Pennsylvania.

Flood warnings were posted on the northern and central coast of New England into the afternoon, but tides reached their highest between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. EST, and the flooding threat was diminishing after that, the National Weather Service reported. Gale warnings were still in effect along the Atlantic Coast between New York and Virginia.

Snow warnings or advisories were posted in much of New England, across the mid-Atlantic states to northeast Tennessee and the mountains of northwestern North Carolina.

Heavy snow also was forecast for the northern Sierra and in the higher elevations of the Tahoe Valley on the California-Nevada border.

TDC probes forged document which helped man go free

DALLAS (AP) — State prison officials launched an investigation after discovering that a convicted murderer not eligible for parole until 1998 went free with the help of a forged document.

Texas Department of Corrections authorities are trying to find out who forged the letter that helped Willie Wood, 48, of Dallas get out of prison for seven months, and whether it was an isolated incident.

Prison officials thought the document was authorized by District Judge Pat McDowell. However, McDowell said he had nothing to do with the papers. "It just did not happen in our court. It's obviously a cut-and-paste job," he said.

Wood was released in May after prison officials received in the mail a forged form that reduced his sentence from life to 22 years, making him immediately eligible for release.

Under the Texas Department of Corrections' mandatory release policy, an inmate must be released after serving one-third of a sentence.

TDC officials did not discover the error until receiving a tip in November, despite several parole violations and a shoplifting conviction while Wood was under the supervision of a Dallas parole officer.

Wood remained free until Dec. 5.

Officials with the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles and the Dallas County district attorney's office said they believe the forgeries occurred at TDC.

TDC spokesman Charlie Brown told The Associated Press Friday he could not comment on the case until the investigation is complete.

McDowell and Dallas County Assistant District Attorney Norman Kinne said it is easy for an inmate to obtain copies of judgment forms.

Clothes make the manager, business plan director says

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Proper dress, appropriate etiquette and self-confidence are as important to becoming a successful manager as making good grades in college, says the director of a fast-track management program at Texas A&M University.

"Differences between good and poor managers don't hinge entirely on intellectual capabilities, but on a number of other things such as how you look and act," said Lyle F. Schoenfeldt who heads the Fellows Program in Texas A&M's College of Business Administration.

Schoenfeldt said many successful executives have graduated from college with a B- or C+ grade average.

However, one job applicant's slow-moving walk cost him an interview with a board chairman of a large company, Schoenfeldt said. The chairman felt a person who dawdled while walking wouldn't be a fast-thinker once he reached the office.

The university program is designed to give students with outstanding leadership abilities an edge. Tools for the job include knowing how to dress appropriately from head to toe.

"One of our students was interviewing for a summer internship with a public accounting firm. He had on a nice looking suit but then he had on Hush Puppy shoes. They couldn't get over that and because of it, they couldn't see their way to making him an offer."

Nittany Lions tame Hurricanes for No. 1

By IRA KAUFMAN

TEMPE, Ariz. (UPI) — Penn State forced seven turnovers and D.J. Dozier scored on a 6-yard run in the fourth quarter Friday night to lead the Nittany Lions to their second national title in five years with a 14-10 upset of top-ranked Miami in the Fiesta Bowl.

Penn State gave coach Joe Paterno perhaps the finest victory in his 21-year career and forced the Hurricanes to commit one of the more memorable acts of self-destruction in the annals of major bowl confrontations.

Miami's Heisman Trophy winner, Vinny Testaverde, endured the worst game of his college career, throwing five interceptions while managing no touchdown passes before a Penn State defense that often gave ground but never surrendered the big play.

The performance echoed Testaverde's dismal outing last year in the Sugar Bowl when he threw three interceptions in a 35-7 upset loss to Tennessee. Against Penn State, Testaverde completed 26 of 50 passes for 285 yards.

The first bowl game in 13 years to match two perfect teams was quite imperfect in execution for both sides. The teams combined for 10 turnovers and Miami was penalized nine times. The Hurricanes, 11-1, also struggled through four possessions inside the Penn State 30 without producing a point.

The Nittany Lions, 12-0, displayed uncharacteristic sloppiness but the second interception of the game by All-America linebacker Shane Conlan and a 38-yard return to the 5-yard line proved decisive. Two plays later, Dozier ran six yards behind center Keith Radecic for the winning score with 8:13 left in the game.

Typically, Miami tight end Alfredo Roberts fumbled on the ensuing possession. Miami's final chance to win ended on linebacker Pete Giftopolous' second interception of the game, a theft at the Penn State 1-yard line in the final seconds.

Favored by seven points, the Hurricanes, coached by Jimmy Johnson, came to the Arizona desert as a brash, tense team which did not indulge in modesty. Even when the game was over they still looked impressive, outgaining Penn State 445 yards to 162. Looks were obviously deceiving.

Giftopoulos's 21-yard return to the Miami 36 two plays into the final period put Penn State in commanding position, with the score tied 7-7, but Massimo Manca's 49-yard field goal attempt fell considerably short.

As a partisan Penn State crowd of 73,098 watched the final quarter unfold, Testaverde hit Melvin Bratton for 14 yards and Alonzo Highsmith ripped off a 20-yard run to set up Mark Seelig's 38-yard field goal 3:11 into the fourth quarter. Seelig, who missed a 28-yarder in the third quarter, had misfired on six of his previous seven field goal attempts.

Bratton scored from 1 yard out in the second period and quarterback John Shaffer ran 4 yards for a touchdown to produce a 7-7 halftime tie.

For the second consecutive season, Shaffer played poorly in a bowl game that decided the national championship. In the 1986 Orange Bowl against Oklahoma, Shaffer was lifted after three interceptions as the Sooners won 25-10. Facing some torrid Miami pressure Friday, Shaffer completed just 5 of 16 passes for 53 yards.

The Hurricanes assumed the No. 1 ranking after beating Oklahoma 28-16 on Sept. 27 and held it until Friday night. Penn State will be presented with the UPI Coaches Trophy, sponsored by the Gerrits Foundation, at the American Football Coaches Association meeting in San Diego on Jan. 7. The award is accompanied by a full four-year scholarship to a non-athlete.

The final Top 20 ratings will be released Saturday.

Conlan intercepted a poor Testaverde pass at Penn State's 17 late in the third period, but fullback Tim Manoa returned the favor two plays later by fumbling at the Penn State 31. A controversial pass interference penalty against Ray Isom led to a 28-yard field goal attempt by Seelig, who was wide right with 2:08 left in a particularly sloppy third period.

It was also not a polished performance by Miami receivers, who absorbed some huge early hits from the nation's No. 3 scoring defense and then dropped six passes — including several easy catches over the middle. A Hurricane attack that averaged 38 points per game during the regular season was contained by a complex defensive scheme that deftly disguised blitzing linebackers.

While Paterno was winning Sportsman of the Year honors and toppling a juggernaut, Miami players were showing up on All-America lists and were involved in some unsavory off-field problems.

Defensive end Daniel Stubbs was charged with petty theft in February, Bratton has a court appearance scheduled after the season on a shoplifting charge and wide receiver Michael Irvin allegedly drove his car over the feet of two university law students. Thirty-two current team members were implicated in an alleged telephone scam.

The Hurricanes claimed the negative publicity only made them play harder and Johnson said he had never been around a team of such single purpose.

The game was shifted from New Year's Day to Friday and moved to prime time in anticipation of a huge nationwide television audience. The Fiesta Bowl doubled its payout to $2.4 million per team to attract the championship game between two independents.

Redskins challenge Super champs

NFC Semifinal

By MARIO FOX

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears return to their wintry den Saturday to play the Washington Redskins in a postseason NFL rivalry dating back a half century.

"There'll be a lot of electricity in the air," predicts Bears kicker Kevin Butler. "It's been a month since we've been at Soldier Field, so I think the crowd will be up for it."

Game time is 4 p.m. EST before a sold-out Soldier Field crowd of 66,000. The winner advances to the NFC title game next Sunday against either San Francisco or New York.

The Bears, hoping to become the first NFL team to repeat as Super Bowl champions since the 1979 Pittsburgh Steelers, finished the regular football season with a 14-2 record, tying the New York Giants with the best record in the league.

Washington earned a trip to Chicago by eliminating the Los Angeles Rams 19-7 in the NFC wild-card last Sunday.

The Redskins, 12-4, beat the Bears 28-21 for the 1937 NFL title. But the most lopsided score in NFL playoff history was the 73-0 Chicago rout of Washington in the 1940 NFL championship. The Bears also beat the Skins in their last two meetings, in the 1984 playoffs and during the regular 1985 season.

Seven Redskins — including running back George Rogers and wide receiver Gary Clark — came out of the Rams' game with injuries, but all are expected to play against Chicago.

"Everybody's going to be ready to go," said Redskins offensive guard Russ Grimm, sufering from fractured ribs.

The Bears are near 100 percent healthy, with the exception of No. 1 quarterback Jim McMahon, who is out until next season after shoulder surgery.

"We have a few guys with nicks here and there but there is nothing going to keep them out of a game of this magnitude, and that's the same with their people," Bears Coach Mike Ditka said.

Five-foot-nine Doug Flutie, 1984 Heisman Trophy winner who joined the Bears on Nov. 4, will be making only his second start this year after winning the Bears' quarterback derby over Mike Tomczak and Steve Fuller.

"He has a strong arm for someone so little," said wide receiver Willie Gault, Chicago's top pass receiver.

Gault is expected to be covered by cornerback Darrell Green, in a matchup of two of the fastest players in the NFL.

Washington quarterback Jay Schroeder passed for 4,109 yards this season, a Skins' record on a team that has had the likes of Sonny Jurgenson, Joe Theismann and Norm Snead at quarterback through the years.

Schroeder has the good fortune of throwing to Clark and Art Monk, who combined for 147 catches and 1,333 yards in receptions this season.

That's the same yardage Chicago's Walter Payton has amassed this season in leading the Bears to their fourth straight NFL rushing title, with 2,700 yards.

In comparison, Rogers' 1,203 yards led a Washington ground game that gobbled up a total of 1,732 yards.

Snow order of day for Jets, Browns

BEREA, Ohio (UPI) — The highlight of the Cleveland Browns' practice Friday was a snowball fight and a feeble attempt at making a snowman.

The New York Jets didn't even get that far. After they were told by the Browns that Cleveland Stadium was unavailable, the Jets decided not to practice at all, and retreated to their downtown hotel rooms to mull over Saturday's AFC playoff game.

"We would've preferred to work out, but we are ready," New York defensive end Marty Lyons said. "Of that we're sure. Let's go. Let's play."

The Browns declined to allow the Jets to use the sold-out, 80,098-seat Stadium because the field already had been prepared for the game and an overnight snowfall complicated matters. Workers shoveled snow from the tarpulin onto the sidelines as a girls' choir rehearsed the national anthem.

"For obvious reasons, the Jets did not wish to use our practice facilities (at Baldwin-Wallace College)," said Larry Staverman, the stadium's vice president of operations.

One lockerroom pundit had the afternoon's best comment, suggesting the Jets utilize a stadium parking lot or the grand ballroom of the team's hotel.

But the vast majority of the Browns believed Saturday's nationally televised contest (12:30 p.m. gametime on NBC) will be a dogfight.

"You have to think that both teams will be fully prepared," said Cleveland quarterback Bernie Kosar. "The game will key on getting plays completed and making good on whatver breaks occur.

"People say the Jets are underdogs because they've lost five of their last six games. True, but they won 10 of their first 11. New York has plenty of offensive possibilities."

Jets tight end Mickey Shuler echoed those thoughts.

"Anyone who gets ready for our offense can't concentrate too much on the running game because we still have some wide receivers who can do damage," he said.

The game could come down to the speciality teams and the Bears should have the edge with Butler.

TED BATTLES

It's true, Big 10 football slipping

BATTLES

DALLAS- Michigan lost another one in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day and folks say the Big 10 isn't what it once was. Texas A&M would be the first to concur after Ohio State offered clear evidence of the confirmation of the suspicions in the Cotton Bowl Thursday.

When these teams played, back in the early 1950s, Ohio State won 56-13. This time the Big 10 cochampions had to be satisfied with a 28-12 laugher. Folks, that's dramatic improvement.

What they were laughing about was that A&M, the SWC champion, went into this game as a four-point favorite. It could have been closer, but the Buckeyes had no one to match Aggie Quarterback Kevin Murray. When Joe Montana set a Cotton Bowl record with four interceptions against Houston in 1978, he won the game.

IF YOU'D have left it up to the Ohio State defense, there would have been no doubting who was the game's MVP offensive player. The same guy that should have won it last year, Murray, who managed to wipe out some long-standing records.

When Ohio State linebacker Chris Spielman intercepted Murray and returned it for a TD, it marked the first time interception return for a TD in the Cotton Bowl since Holt Rast did it in 1942, for Alabama against A&M. Some one in the press box remarked that "once in a half century isn't bad." Another remarked, "I'll bet it happens again today, the way Murray is throwing the ball."

Sure enough, with 2:49 left in the game, another linebacker Michael Kee picked off Murray and returned 49 yards for a TD. This put Colorado's Byron (Whizzer) White's 47-yard return for Colorado in 1938 in second place.

COACH Jackie Sherrill, noting that even good major league pitchers aren't good every start, agreed Murray didn't have one of his better days.

If A&M wanted Murray, who has been casting longing glances toward pros, to return next year, this may have been the vehicle to do it. In fact, Murray today may be having second thoughts about his pro baseball career.

However, Sherrill said Murray couldn't have done it alone.

Sherrill pointed out, "To have that kind of a day, he had to have a lot of help. Third down killed us, the ones we didn't make because of dropped passes and the ones they made facing long yardage."

Sherrill was referring to a 51-yard pass from Karsatos to Nate Harris on third and nine, and "it was third and 17 when Cris Carter made that great catch for 34 yards on that first touchdown drive," Sherrill said. And there was also a Carter catch on a third and seven.

"We could have had two or three more interceptions," Sherrill went on. "Jeff Holley dropped that ball in the flat that would have been a sure touchdown. And Carter, a great athlete, simply made catches on two balls which should have been intercepted."

THE OTHER quarterback, Ohio State's Jim Karsatos had a better day in the first quarter than Murray did all day, completing 6 of 9 passes for 143 yards. Eighty-four came on a 79-yard drive to the A&M one.

That provided a bit of irony. Here was A&M making a mockery of the weapon that was made famous by the league that originated football's version of the aerial circus.

And, here was Ohio State, who made Woody Hayes' three-yards and a cloud of dust famous, using the forward pass to befuddle and con-

LOS ANGELES — Larry Smith, who turned losing football programs into winners at Tulane and Arizona, was hired Friday to try to restore the University of Southern California as a national football power.

Smith spent the last seven years as Arizona's head coach and replaces Ted Tollner, who had a 28-20-1 record, including a 7-5 record this season, ending with Thursday's 16-7 loss to Auburn in the Citrus Bowl.

MHS Girls boost 4-5A mark to 2-0

From Staff Reports

ABILENE — Midland High did just what it needed to in its trip to Abilene Cooper Friday, taking a 66-50 victory over the Cougars.

4-5A

The Lady Bulldogs raise their District 4-5A record to 2-0 with the win and set up an important district meeting Midland Lee on Monday night.

Brenda Rodriquez found her shooting touch against the Cougars, hitting 14 shots from the floor, mostly from long range, to score a season-high 28 points. MHS also put Amy Cumings, 15 points, and Sebrenia Finch, 12 points, in double figures.

The Bulldogs are now 2-0, 12-5 on the season while Cooper fell to 0-2, 4-14.

In other 4-5A games, San Angelo kept its district mark unscathed at 2-0 with a 57-53 win against Odessa Permian and Lee defeated Abilene High, 67-60. In non-district play, Odessa High fell to Class 4A Snyder, 56-31.

Irwin shares Fila golf lead

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Hale Irwin shot a 4-under-par 68 Friday to make up three strokes and move into a tie with Scott Verplank after two rounds of the $250,000 Fila Invitational golf tournament at Fiddlesticks Country Club.

Irwin, who opened the 54-hole, 12-player exhibition event with a 69 on Thursday, finished the day with a two-day total of 7-under-par 137 over the par-72, 7,162-yard Fiddlesticks course.

Verplank, whose opening 66 gave him a three-shot lead after one round, carded a 71 Friday. While Irwin offset two bogeys with six birdies, Verplank's round featured two birdies and one bogey.

West Germany's Bernhard Langer and Davis Love III trailed the coleaders by three strokes after rounds of 69-71 for 36-hole totals of 4-under-par 140.

Only six of the 12 golfers were under par after two rounds. Curtis Strange and Calvin Peete were six shots behind the leaders at 143, followed by Corey Pavin, Andy Bean and Ben Crenshaw at even-par 144.

Lee bounces back against Coronado

By ERIC SCHURER
Sports Writer

Getting back on an even keel was all Midland Lee coach Paul Stueckler had in mind against Lubbock Coronado Friday night.

The Rebels did that and more, recording a 50-47 victory over a team that has beaten them twice this season after a disappointing two-loss-and-out performance in the Caprock tournament Dec. 29-31.

Leading all the way, Lee got its final six points from Danny Allen to put the Mustangs away. Ahead by just three with a minute to play, 46-43, Allen took a floor-length pass from Nicky Sanchez in for an easy lay-up. Then with :07 left, Allen sank a pair of free throws to ice the win.

"I feel like a lot of coaches do, that when you're coming off a tournament, you need to play a game before you start district play," Stueckler said. "Because if you play well in the tournament you're on a cloud, thinking no one can beat you and you let down and get beat.

"Or if you play poorly in the tournament, you've got your heads down and you need a chance to get 'em back up. That's what we were able to do tonight."

The Rebels, now 8-9, stopped a three-game skid by knocking off the Mustangs, 13-6, and picked up some much needed momentum before opening 4-5A play against Midland High Tuesday at Chaparral Center.

AND ALTHOUGH Stueckler didn't feel Lee played one of its better games, at least offensively, he was more than happy to come away with a win over the District 3-5A Mustangs.

Coronado was on the polar opposite of the Rebels coming into the game. Coach Mike Mayberry's team had won four straight games, taking the championship of the 16-team Caprock field.

"Despite our poor shooting, I felt we played well, at least defensively," Mayberry said. "You've also got to give Lee credit. They made the big plays and they made them when they needed them.

"Lee's a solid team. they've got some strength inside and some strength outside. It's very hard to beat a good team three times, especially in their own gym."

Lee never trailed against Coronado and opened up the game like they were aiming for a shutout. The Rebels scored the first 11 points of the game and opened up a 16-4 lead late in the first quarter. But the Mustangs battled back, pulling within one, 20-19 with 1:50 to go in the second period, then within two, 42-40, at 5:10 in the third.

But the scrappy Rebs never let Coronado take the lead as Lee's defensive scheme held the Mustangs to a scanty 31 percent (17 of 55) from the floor in the low-socring contest. Lee was also a victim of cold-shooting streaks, hitting just 40 percent (18 of 45).

"Our shooting percentage was poor, 30 percent in the first half and I don't think much better in the second, but despite that we were able to win the game. That was important for us," Stueckler said.

MARK VAN Cott led the way with 15 points and seven rebounds from the inside for the Rebels and Sanchez added 13 points and seven assists. Allen tossed in 10 points. Coronado did not place one player in double figures.

Now Lee turns its attention to district play and a date with the 6-11 Bulldogs. The new district schedule pits the Tall City teams as the season opener rather than in the traditional district finale.

"It's good to get it over with I guess," Stueckler said. "Really I'd rather play them late in the season, but nobody asked me. If we win it's great, if not, it's not so great."

Bird, McHale key Celtics

Associated Press

BOSTON — Larry Bird scored 37 points and Kevin McHale added 29 Friday night as the Boston Celtics built a big lead and shook off a Chicago comeback for a 113-99 victory over the Bulls.

The Bulls, led by Michael Jordan with 34 points, rallied from a 25-point deficit in the second half and closed the deficit to 93-85 with six minutes remaining.

However, Bird, guarded by Jordan in a Chicago defensive switch, pulled Boston out of danger with a layup and a free throw. It was the fifth straight victory for the Celtics, who got 10 points from McHale in the last four minutes.

Bird led a 16-6 surge that gave Boston a 30-20 lead after one period. The Celtics then scored 13 consecutive points at the end of the second quarter for a 64-41 halftime lead.

The Celtics hit only four of 15 floor shots in the third quarter, but Bird managed to score 12 points and Boston took an 85-67 lead into the fourth period.

Pacers 116, Clippers 106

INDIANAPOLIS — Chuck Person had 15 of his 19 first-half points in the second quarter and Steve Stipanovich had 21 of his season-high 29 points in the second half as Jack Ramsay won his 800th game.

Ramsay is the second coach in NBA history with 800 victories. The all-time leader is Red Auerbach with 938.

The loss was the 10th straight for Los Angeles, which has lost 23 of its last 24 games, but the Clippers made it tough down the stretch.

Hawks 118, Bullets 101

LANDOVER, Md. — Dominique Wilkins scored 30 points and reserve guard Mike McGee added 27 as the Atlanta Hawks overcame an 18-point deficit late in the second quarter.

Wilkins, the league's No. 4 scorer, had 11 points in the third quarter as the Hawks outscored Washington 35-16 and went ahead 81-76 after trailing 60-46 at halftime.

McGee, who entered the game earlier than usual after Atlanta's two starting guards each picked up two fouls, scored 13 points in the first quarter and 12 in the final period. After shooting only 31 percent in the first half, the Hawks sank 59 percent of their shots from the floor in the pivotal third quarter.

Bucks 91, Cavaliers 84

RICHFIELD, Ohio — Ricky Pierce scored 10 of his 26 points in the pivotal fourth quarter as Milwaukee won a defensive struggle.

Cleveland led 75-71 with 7:32 remaining, but the Bucks outscored the Cavaliers 20-9 down the stretch. Pierce contributed six points in that span, while Jack Sikma and Paul Pressey each scored four as the Bucks snapped a three-game losing streak.

Pistons 129, Nets 128

PONTIAC, Mich. — Vinnie Johnson scored 14 of his 22 points in the fourth quarter, lifting the Detroit Pistons to their fourth straight victory.

With the Pistons leading 125-122, Bill Laimbeer stole a pass from Kevin McKenna with 27 seconds left. Thomas then made a field goal and Joe Dumars added two free throws to end the Nets' hopes, despite three-point field goals by Leon Wood and McKenna in the final 12 seconds.

Mavericks 117, SuperSonics 107

DALLAS — Mark Aguirre's 27 points kept Dallas from trailing the entire game as the Mavericks defeated Seattle.

The Mavericks, 20-9, won their third consecutive game to improve their home record to 13-1, including nine straight. Dallas has won 15 of its last 19 since Nov. 11, when it was 5-5.

Seattle, which lost its third consecutive game and fell to 15-14, was led by former Mavericks guard Dale Ellis' game-high 28 points. Forward Tom Chambers added 26 points to the losing effort.

Reserve guard Al Wood, who was traded for Ellis in the off-season, scored 22 points, 11 in each half. Wood sparked Dallas in the second and fourth quarters when it appeared Seattle would overtake the Mavericks.

Seattle, which out-scored Dallas 14-2 in the last 4:44 of the first period to tie the game for the last time at at 24, hit only 21 percent from the field in the second quarter, and trailed 57-42 at halftime.

Wood scored 11 points to lead Dallas on a 25-8 run and a 47-32 lead early in the second period. The SuperSonics missed their first nine shots and hit only five of 24.

Middleton's goals spark Bruins

Associated Press

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — Rich Middleton scored two goals as the Boston Bruins built a 5-0 lead and snapped a five-game losing streak with a 7-2 victory over the slumping New Jersey Devils.

Boston outshot New Jersey 42-23 in extending the Devils' longest winless streak of the season to six games, 0-5-1.

NHL

Jets 6, Sabres 3

BUFFALO, N.Y. — Paul MacLean scored two goals in the third period to lift the Winnipeg Jets over the Buffalo Sabres and their first-ever triumph in Buffalo. The Jets had lost 11 games and tied one on Buffalo ice since entering the league in 1979.

Red Wings 2, North Stars 1

DETROIT — Steve Yzerman scored two goals and goaltender Greg Stefan extended his personal unbeaten streak to six games as Detroit won over Minnesota.

The victory extended Detroit's unbeaten streak to five games, 4-0-1, and evened the Red Wings' season mark at 15-15-7. Detroit also moved into sole possession of first place in the Norris Division.

fuse the opposition. The only cloud of dust Thursday was what became of A&M's national ranking aspirations.

After bringing OSU to the Ag one at the end of the first period, Karsatos, built like a young Sumo wrestling hopeful, on the second play of the second quarter darted in from the three on a quarterback option as three Aggies stood and watched him to give OSU the lead for good. In baseball, it would have been a game-winning hit, but just like baseball there was a lot more to come before the game was decided.

Murray showed 143 yards for the day with 12 completions in 31 attempts. But those five completions to Buckeyes were back breakers for the guy who should have beat out Auburn's Bo Jackson for MVP last year.

STATE'S Earl Bruce, dapper along the sidelines with a dark suit and fedora replacing his usual red cap, agreed with Sherrill that it was an even game, "Except for those two breaks. I won't say lucky because they were fine plays, but they were the difference."

Sherrill, asked if Edwards attire made him feel "outdressed", said he thought the dark suit "did wonders for Earl's image. It makes you look slimmer."

Edwards, who usually wears a red baseball cap, even wore a fedora. When he came out on the field to examine an injured Buckeye, one press box wag suggested he was "making arrangements for the handling of the body."

The Scarlet Scourge also commanded attention with the sartorial splendor of their footwear, red hightops provided free by a sporting goods firm. It only made A&M's defeat that much more embarrassing. The shoes made Ohio State look like a bunch of guys wearing weighted shoes so they could lose weight...and judging by the the program weights, it might not have been far from the truth.

AFTER A&M's lone touchdown with 9:10 left in the game, A&M trailed 28-12 and went for two. If they had been successful, no telling what might have happened.

Replays showed the two-point catch by Keith Woodside was good. Sherill's response was that the same thing happened when he was at Alabama and Joe Namath and the players were convinced he had scored.

"The players complained to Coach Bear Bryant about the injustice of it all. "Coach Bryant said, It's a touchdown when the the official throws up his arms."

Friday's Results
Stars & Stripes, Dennis Conner, def. USA, Tom Blackaller, 43 seconds. Stars & Stripes wins series 4-0.
New Zealand, Chris Dickson, def. French Kiss, Marc Pajot, 2:44. New Zealand wins series 4-0.
Summary of Friday's Challenger Races
NEW ZEALAND def. FRENCH KISS.
New Zealand overcame a poor start to win its fourth straight victory over French Kiss. The French boat, skippered by Marc Pajot, led for a few minutes on the first upward leg and then was overtaken, never to regain the lead. New Zealand, which has won 37 out of 38 races and 26 straight, was just too fast.
STARS & STRIPES def. USA.
Stars & Stripes entered the finals if it does not lost a protest to USA. The San Diego boat led almost all the way against Tom Blackaller's San Francisco-based entry. Dennis Conner won the start in light breezes and was behind only once, briefly, on the second windward leg. It was Stars & Stripes fourth straight victory over USA.

Midland Lee's Roz Eaden puts one up against Abilene High.

Rebel girls hang on against Eagles

By BOB BRUNDAGE
Sports Writer

What started out as a Midland Lee blow out of the Abilene High Lady Eagles, turned into a close, down-to-the wire contest Friday night in District 4-5A girls basketball action at Chaparral Center.

The Rebels, who held leads as big as 12-2 and 29-15 in the first half, ended up coming back from one-point deficits twice in the fourth quarter to gain a 67-60 victory, their first in 4-5A play.

It wasn't a characteristic Lee game with fast breaks and full court presses. The Rebels worked the ball to find the open girl and fell back into a zone defense. They seemed lifeless on the court, standing around. They, according to Lee Coach Shirley Stephenson, didn't have much choice.

"We've got so many hurt kids and he's (AHS coach Carlos Ratliff) hurt so many hurt kids we probably should have been playing in the emergency room," said Stephenson of her walking wounded: Regina Calicutt with a knee injury and LaVette Wallace and Melissa Hart with sprained ankles.

"Regina hurt her knee in the last few minutes of the last game in the Slaton Tournament," said Stephenson of the tournament her Rebels played in Monday through Wednesday. According to Stephenson, Wallace has been hobbling on an injured ankle since the Tall City Tournament and Hart sprained hers in the 4-5A opener against San Angelo, a 64-48 loss.

Still, despite the lame ladies, both Stephenson and assistant Linda Carraway think the Rebs are picking up some mobility.

"I thought the kids did a good job," said Stephenson. "We're finally moving the ball up and down the court. We're moving a lot better than we have been though not as good as the start of the year."

AFTER JUMPING out to the big leads, 29-15 coming with 2:52 remaining in the first half, Lee started losing its grasp on the game. Abilene scored eight straight points for a 29-23 score and left the court at halftime trailing 33-23.

The Lady Eagles kept chipping away at the lead in the third quarter and finally tied the game for the first time with 25 seconds left to play on a 10-footer by Marla Owen, 44-44.

Piette Mayfield countered with an offensive rebound off her missed shot and put it back up for a 46-44 lead and hit one of two free throws with four seconds left in the frame to end the quarter at 47-44.

Abilene tied the game again at 51 on a pair of free throws by Vicki Dean and, after Mayfield's bucket from close range, took the lead for the first time since the game's first field goal on two trips to the line by Dean for three points, 54-53.

Again it was Mayfield who brought the Rebels back, hitting a 15-footer followed 30 seconds later by Hart's rebound and two-pointer for a 57-54 score.

The Lady Eagles took the lead one final time, 60-59 with 3:03 left in the game, but Hart scored on a five-footer and Wallace came up with a pair of key steals for layups for a 65-60 lead with 32 seconds left. Leah Burnett capped the scoring with two insurance free throws in the final seconds.

DESPITE HER injury, Wallace led all scorers with a game-high 19 and added 11 rebounds while Mayfield added 16, Hart 13 points and 10 rebounds and Roz Eaden 11 points and six assists. For Abilene, Dean scored 17 points while Jennifer Kiser and Evett Walker added 12 each.

With the win, the Rebels improve to 15-3 on the year and to 1-1 in 4-5A play. Abilene High falls to 1-1 in district action.

On Monday, the limping Lady Rebs will have one of their toughest games of the season as they host cross-town rival Midland High at Lee Gym at 4:15 p.m., 6:15 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Abilene High (60): Sandy Martinez, 0 0-0 0 0; Julie Rodriguez, 1 0-1 4 2; Jody Anderson, 4 0-0 4 8; Didi Doss, 0 2-2 1 2; Vicki Dean, 5 7-14 3 17; Julie Clevenger, 0 0-0 0 0; Jennifer Kiser, 5 2-5 2 12; Evett Walker, 6 0-0 5 12; Marla Owen, 3 1-4 0 7. Totals: 24 12-26 19 60.

JIM MURRAY

Tinker, tinker what happened to game of football?

Murray

The trouble with football is, it's not a sport, it's a debating society.

It's also like that famous dromedary, which, we are told, is a horse designed by a committee. It's got so many whereases and rules and injunctions and caveats piled on top of it that it looks in poor light like the hunchback of Notre Dame. It's a wonder it isn't paralyzed altogether, that it can navigate at all.

They change the game every half hour. It was not so long ago it was illegal to re-substitute a player if he had gone out of the game that half. Later, that was changed so that a player replaced could not go back into the game that quarter. This meant that if you took a player out in the fourth quarter, he was through for the day.

WHEN THEY changed that, they went whole hog. Today, unlimited substitution is permitted. The football field usually looks like a cattle pen in a thunderstorm.

It used to be that, if you threw two incomplete passes in a row, you got penalized five yards. If you threw an incompletion into the end zone, it was a touchback and the ball went over to the other team on its 20-yard line. You had to be five yards behind the line of scrimmage just to throw the ball at all.

They used to let defensive linemen slap the ears off offensive linemen in the pass rush. They used to forbid offensive linemen from holding their arms out from their body in blocking. Now, they can do everything but pull your nose off.

They used to let everybody run downfield under a punt or a pass. Now, there are myriad illegally-downfield penalties. Hurdling a prostrate player or the line of scrimmage used to be illegal. Now, airborne touchdowns are commonplace.

THEY TINKER with the game endlessly. The penal code governing it is as thick as Napoleon's.

It used to be a simple game to officiate. You had 11 guys on a side, a coach, a football and a referee. Now, in pro ball at least, they have seven judges on the field and a replay official armed with a replay camera in the press box.

This latter is a particularly revolting development, a further step in dehumanizing the game.

They're turning it into an arcade game.

You would think seven guys would be enough to monitor the activities of 22. You would think, at worst, that any bad calls would even out, given the seven guys were men of probity and dignity, which they are.

But you see, the Anglo-Saxon mind loves rules and law. You see it in everyday life. The love of the law transcends the love of justice. The Magna Charta was brought into effect not so much to redress wrongs as to give the lords of the realm something to argue about on the long winter nights. I think it was Jefferson who said that he who governs best, governs least. But that's no fun at all.

The only thing the Anglo-Saxon loves better than his nit-picking law is his machines. Whenever there is an opportunity to bring the two together, he is ecstatic.

FOOTBALL has now given him, and us, that Nirvana. He gets controversy and electronics in the same package. Rube Goldberg would have loved it. Ball (A) is fumbled by player (B) or not fumbled and recovered by player (C), which triggers official (D) to signal play dead, which triggers crowd (E) into paroxysm of booing and activates screen (F) in press box which is then reviewed by a judge (G).

You saw the ultimate idiocy of this line of officiating Sunday at Washington's RFK Stadium when it took nearly five minutes to "decide" whether a key fumble had been committed or not.

Actually, it is the notion in this court of law that a fumble occurs on a football field whenever a ballcarrier does not hang onto the ball. Just as I think that in baseball a strike has occurred whenever a batter crosses any part of the plate with a bat on a pitch he is obviously badly fooled on.

But, here again, we have our society's love of subheading B to section 12, paragraph 20, of the federal code governing the playing of games. It's not the game that's important, it's the legalities. The guy's knee didn't touch the ground – or it did touch the ground – or both. Whatever. We need a trial, evidence, expert witnesses, a jury. Everything but a bailiff and Judge Wapner.

WHAT'S next? Appeal? Can the ballcarrier be excused because the tackler or the official didn't read him his rights?

Can the lawyers be far behind if games are now being decided off the field of play? Will they run on the field, taking photographs of the scene of the accident, subpoenaing witnesses? Will they get injunctive relief forbidding the continuation of the game until they can get a court ruling? Will they handcuff a decision until they can haul the commissioner of football into court on discovery? Will they loudly threaten to "take this to the highest court in the land" on the plaint that their client's – the fumbler's –livelihood is being menaced?

In a society in which men strap themselves into a cylinder of valves and circuits and confidently go to the moon, the belief in the efficacy of machines is total. But, the joker is, people still have to interpret those machines. Human error creeps into the equation sooner or later.

If we are going to have games determined by computer, why not do away with the middlemen – the players –, altogether? Just feed the machines the pertinent data concerning the Rams and the Redskins and let the transistors fight it out.

If we don't want to do that, why don't we just let the guys in the striped shirts call the game? What do we want, a sport or a litigation? Let the machines get their own game. As long as it's being played by people let it be run by people.

The machines are making us obsolete fast enough. Let's keep them out of sport. We can still pile rules on top of rules and argument on top of argument. Who's going to get in an argument with a tape machine in a bar over the winter? Or, maybe, we'll build machines for that, too.

Bo plans revolution with speed, quickness

INDUSTRY, Calif. (AP) — Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler, in the wake of the Wolverines' 22-15 loss to Arizona State in the Rose Bowl game, promises sweeping changes for 1987.

Schembechler, meeting with reporters Friday, said some coaches and players would be reassigned and emphasis will be put on making the Wolverines faster, especially on defense.

"I'd like more speed and quickness," Schembechler said. "We just didn't have it this year. I think everybody knew that this year. We had three games where our opponents scored 20 or more points.

"It's not that our defense isn't a good defense. It can't get the ball back quickly. We don't give up the big play, but people could control the ball on us."

Arizona State, for example, ran 81 offensive plays to only 52 for Michigan in Thursday's game. The Sun Devils had the ball some 10 minutes longer than the Wolverines.

"We've got the quickness. We may have to make some player adjustments and they'll be radical in some areas," Schembechler said. "I probably shouldn't say this, but I may take a kid like (flanker John) Kolesar and move him to defense. But I'm committed to improving our quickness, and right away. And I may do something like that."

A new assistant coach has to be hired to replace offensive line coach Elliot Uzelac, who is leaving to become head coach at Navy. Schembechler said, however, the new man might not assume Uzelac's duties.

"I thought we did well this year to get here," Schembechler said. "Coming out of the Notre Dame game (the season opener), I didn't know if we were good enough. When it came down to teams with overladen talent, we were a step late. You can't ignore that."

Schembechler didn't try to hide the disappointment he felt in seeing his Rose Bowl record drop to 1-7 and his overall bowl record to 3-11. On the whole, however, he was upbeat, positive and looking ahead.

No doubt, Frogs are team to beat

Associated Press

Texas Christan will be the team to beat when SWC regular season basketball play gets underway on today in Fayetteville where the Arkansas Razorbacks are virtually untouchable.

TCU warmed up for the seige of "Sooooo-iiii-eeeee pigs" by whipping sixth-ranked Oklahoma in Oklahoma City in the finals of the All-College Tournament.

"That victory should give us a lot of confidence when we play on the road," said TCU Coach Jim Killingsworth. "It was one of the greatest victories we've had around here."

TCU was the preseason SWC favorite and lived up to the billing during non-conference play.

The Horned Frogs also had important intersectional victories over Louisiana State at Baton Rouge and Michigan State in Fort Worth.

The Arkansas-TCU clash is at 4 p.m. and will be televised over Home Sports Entertainment.

SWC Basketball

Arkansas has been hot-and-cold. The Razorbacks have defeated Kansas and Ohio State but were blown out by Pittsburgh in Hawaii. Starting forward William Mills, who was dismissed for disciplinarian reasons, will be missed by the Hogs.

In other SWC games, Rice is at Texas, Baylor is at Southern Methodist, and Texas Tech is at Houston. All the games are at 7:35 p.m.

Texas downed defending national champion Louisville in The Great Alaska Shootout but has struggled through a rash of injuries. The hot-shooting Patrick Fairs has been slowed by a broken finger.

Texas is the SWC defending tri-champion along with Texas A&M and TCU.

Texas A&M is playing in the Heritage Classic at Des Moines, Iowa beginning Friday night.

Texas Tech, the SWC Post-Season Tournament champion, is off to a slow start as usual under Coach Gerald Myers. The top victory for the Red Raiders was over highly regarded Wyoming.

Houston has a new coach in Pat Foster and the Cougars have knocked off Minnesota of the Big Ten Conference.

SMU was impressive in a two-point overtime loss to fourth-ranked North Carolina in the finals of The Dallas Morning News Classic.

Texas A&M doesn't play its first SWC game until Jan. 7 when the Aggies host SMU at G. Rollie White Coliseum.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Iraqi commander says Iran using new U.S. weapons

KUWAIT (AP) — An Iraqi field commander was quoted Friday as saying Iranian troops used new U.S.-made weapons in last month's offensive against Iraq.

Gen. Maher Abdel Rashid told Kuwaiti journalists visiting Iraq that he had evidence the Iranian troops used new weapons made by the United States, Israel and unspecified European countries.

Abdel Rashid commands the 7th Iraqi Army Corps, which claims it repulsed the Iran's Christmas Eve offensive across the Shatt al-Arab waterway.

The new weaponry included long-range U.S.-made artillery, Abdel Rashid was quoted as telling the journalists who interviewed him Wednesday in Basra, southern Iraq.

"We did not capture the guns because they were deployed beyond the Shatt al-Arab, but judging by the shells we could tell that the weapons were new," he was quoted as saying.

The Shatt al-Arab is the southern boundary between Iran and Iraq, which have been at war since September 1980.

Bomb blows up base shed

BERLIN (AP) — A crude bomb with an alarm-clock timer blew a hole in a transformer shed at the British military's Gatow airport early Friday, authorities said. It was the second attack on the airport since October.

No one was injured and airport operations were not disrupted, British military spokesmen said.

West Berlin police spokesman Manfred Ganschow said the bomb was set off by a "normal alarm clock used as a timer" and attached to "non-professional" explosives that might have been powder removed from fireworks.

The bomb slightly damaged a transformer and other equipment in the shed.

Ganchow declined comment on who may have carried out the attack.

Police suspect environmental activists because of local opposition to the military's plans to remove about 5,500 trees on the landing approach path to the airport.

Tailors' offer just 'sew-sew'

LONDON (AP) — The Savile Row tailors Gieves and Hawkes, offering a few men's suits at 1911 prices, disappointed some bargain-hunting customers Friday with out-sized garments, but the royal family's tailors vowed to do better with a follow-up sale.

The stylish store decided to celebrate the 75th anniversary of its first mail-order catalog by offering 20 ready-made suits at the 1911 price of 3.50 pounds — then $17.03 dollars — rather than current prices of up to 500 pounds, or $740.

People began lining up Thursday afternoon outside the doors that bear the coats of arms of Queen Elizabeth II, her husband Prince Philip and son Prince Charles. The store gave tickets labeled "suit" to the first 20 expectant customers.

But after the doors opened Friday at 9 a.m., some of the bargain-hunters offered comments seldom heard in the street of luxury clothing stores.

"I think it's a bit of a swizzle (slang for swindle)," said Bill Gribbin, a teacher, who had a "suit" ticket but got pushed aside in the stampede and found the bargain suits already gone.

Rebel coalition rejected

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — The government on Friday rejected a coalition with Communist rebels and said negotiations to end the insurgency should focus on land reform and industrialization.

In a letter to the Communist-led National Democratic Front, the government insisted the rebels respect the "people's power" mandate of President Corazon Aquino. Mrs. Aquino took office last February following a civilian-military uprising that ended the 20-year rule of Ferdinand E. Marcos.

Chief government negotiator Teofisto Guingona distributed copies of the letter at a news conference.

Government officials had previously rejected rebel demands for what the leftists termed a "transitional coalition government." Friday's letter, which promised general economic and social reform, was the first document spelling out the government position.

"This government got its mandate through people's power," said the letter of the revolt that toppled Marcos after a fraud-marred election both Marcos and Mrs. Aquino claimed they had won.

Hitler became rich, magazine says

FRANKFURT, West Germany (AP) — Adolf Hitler was a tax evader who became the richest man in the Nazi hierarchy, a West German magazine said Friday.

The Munich-based Quick magazine said the Nazi dictator got officials to write off his tax debts while amassing a fortune through payments from industrialists and sales of his book, "Mein Kampf."

Quick based its article on a book called "Hitler's Money," written by Wulf G. Schwarzwaller.

The magazine said that when Hitler became German chancellor in 1933, he told the public he would decline his yearly salary of 29,200 marks, and an annual expense account of 18,000 marks. At the time, the average German worker earned an annual salary of about 1,200 marks.

Hitler quietly had his salary and allowances reinstated in 1934, Quick said.

That same year he also convinced Fritz Reinhard, president of the Reich's Finance Ministry in Munich, to write off his tax debt of 405,494 marks and exempt Hitler from paying any future taxes, Quick said.

The sum was easily worth a small fortune.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Life is a series of difficult choices. The most difficult but wisest choice anyone could ever make is to choose to believe in and commit his life to God. All other choices are secondary compared to faith and trust in the one, true God. Have you made this supreme choice? If you haven't, discover how with us. If you have discover with us how to affirm your choice.

THE HOPE OF A HOME

It takes a heap o' livin' to make a house a home!

Paul and Dee don't agree. They are counting on this—their dreamhouse—to be a home the day they move in.

And who's to argue. Surely it's the quality and not the quantity of living that makes a house a home. A Bible that is read, prayers that are said, thoughts that comfort and inspire, smiles that encourage and forgive—these bring brightness and warmth no hearth can provide.

Nearby there's a church in whose life and friendships Paul and Dee will find growing faith and enrichment. Sunday after Sunday they (and soon their family) will bring its glow home with them.

God bless you, Paul and Dee—and millions like you who turn houses into homes.

LIFESCOPE

Have Trouble Falling Off The Wagon? Your Lifescope Says, "Before You Walk, Learn to Stand!"

I want to remind you that your strength must come from the Lord's mighty power within you. Put on all of God's armor so that you will be able to withstand all the strategies and tricks of Satan. For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this age, against spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places. Therefore take up the whole armor of God that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand.

Stand therefore, having girded your waist with truth, having put on the breastplate of righteousness, and having shod your feet with the preparation of the gospel of peace; above all, taking the shield of faith with which you will be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked one. And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God; praying always with all supplication.

Stand fast therefore in the liberty by which Christ has made us free . . . For God is able to make us stand. Let your conduct be worthy of the Gospel of Christ, that you may stand fast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the Gospel . . . For by faith you stand!

Shall we continue in sin that grace may abound? Certainly not! How shall we who died to sin live any longer in it. Or do you not know that as many of us as were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into His death. Therefore we were buried with Him through baptism into death, that just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.

Reach Out Singers perform at Grace Lutheran

Group features contemporary Christian music

A live, 60-minute concert of contemporary Christian music will be presented by the Reach Out Singers, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Grace Lutheran Church, 3000 W. Golf Course Road.

There are eight groups of Reach Out Singers. Three travel during the fall and winter and five of the groups do summer ministry. The ministry takes the young people throughout the United States, Canada, New Zealand, Australia, Scandinavia, the Middle East, Central Europe and Eastern Europe. This group will travel through the central and southern United States and to New Zealand and Australia.

The Reach Out program features contemporary Christian music, familiar hymns and gospel songs.

"The purpose of the Outreach For Christ Ministry is to challenge people regarding their commitment to Jesus Christ and to encourage all Christians in their faith," says a spokesman for the organization.

Bill and Iris Bates from Whitehall, Pa., are the directors for this tour. Both have traveled previously with the Reach Out Singers. Bates was a vocalist with the nine-month group to Israel and Egypt and then directed the American tour during the summer of 1984. Mrs. bates was a member of the nine-month group which toured the USSR and Poland.

The Reach Out Singers is a ministry of Outreach for Christ International. The Rev. Keith Knoff is the executive director. Members are selected by national auditions.

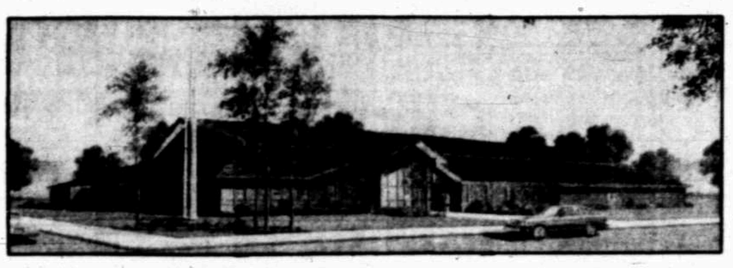
No admission fee is charged. A love offering will be taken at the concert.

Groundbreaking ceremonies are today



Groundbreaking for this Meeting House and Stake Center is being held today.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints will hold a groundbreaking for a Meeting House and future Stake Center at 2 p.m. today.

The completion date on the building is January 1988. Located at Crestgate Avenue and Fielder, the 25,000 square-foot building will have a full-sized gymnasium and chapel. It will house two wards or congregations and will have the capacity to house three wards in the future.

Upon its completion, there will be two L.D.S. churches in Midland with each housing two wards and serving 1,000 Midland members. The existing building also has the capacity to house three wards and each ward may have 300 to 500 members.

This building, like all LDS buildings, will be paid for upon completion. The money to do so has already been set aside.

The Midland second ward choir will sing for the groundbreaking ceremony. Speakers will be President L. Royce Griffin, stake president, and President Glen L. Jones.

RELIGION IN BRIEF

The Blackwood Brothers

Blackwood Brothers to perform Tuesday

The Blackwood Brothers will perform 7 p.m. Tuesday at Midland Center, 105 Main St. Winners of nine Grammy awards and 18 Dove awards, the Blackwood Brothers have been seen on Barbara Mandrell and the Mandrells Sisters Show, the Tomorrow Show, Hew Haw, the PTL Club, the 700 Club and the Blackwood Brothers Show. The group has sung in 45 nations and all 50 states during its 50-year history.

Church to show ORU video

The video tapes of Dr. Larry Lea of Oral Roberts University will be shown beginning 7 p.m. Sunday at Midland Foursquare Church, 415 Alta Ave.

"These videos deal with the need of each Christian being able to spend quality time with the father in prayer," says a church spokesman.

A prayer time will follow the viewing of the tapes each week. The week night services will begin at 7:30 p.m.

"It is customary for us to start with a week of prayer," the spokesman says. "We usually incorporate our missionary conference with this as we set goals for the new year."

Other prayer meetings that are open to the public will be held at 6 a.m. Monday and Thursday. During the hour of prayer, those attending pray for the community, nation and its leaders.

For more information call the church at 683-1750.

Dobson series to be shown

The powerful, six-part film series "Turn Your Heart Toward Home" will be shown, beginning Sunday, at three area churches, the First Church of the Nazarene, 1208 W. Wall Ave., Greenwood Church of Christ, 1.5 miles west of Greenwood School, and Greenwood Baptist Church.

Over 50 million concerned parents and family groups have benefited from Dr. James Dobson's enlightening film series, "Focus on the Family." Now building on that nationwide groundswell of interest, Word Publishing and Focus on the Family, Inc., present "Turn Your Heart Toward Home."

"In this bold new film series, America's most trusted family life expert brings his vast experience to bear on one of society's most pressing challenges — the protecting and strengthening of family relationships," says a spokesman for Dobson. "It is the purpose of this powerful new film series to challenge those individuals to return to the traditional values upon which families are best created and nurtured."

The titles of the six films are "A Father Looks Back," "Power in Parenting: The Young Child," "Power in Parenting: The Adolescent," "The Family Under Fire," "Overcoming a Painful Childhood" and "The Heritage."

The films will be shown 6 p.m. Sundays, through Feb. 8, at First Church of the Nazarene, pastored by the Rev. Harold L. Quarles. The series will be shown 7 p.m. Sundays, through Feb. 8, at Greenwood Baptist Church.

Altar society to meet

St. Ann's Altar Society will meet 1 p.m. Monday at 1400 Douglas Ave.

Hostess for the meeting will be Mrs. William Kleine. For more information call Eleanor Williamson, 685-3369.

TEXAMI gets local boost

Genevieve Hearon, president of the Texas Alliance for the Mentally Ill, will speak 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at St. Mark's United Methodist Church, 1701 N. Main St.

TEXAMI, a member of the National Alliance for the Mentally Ill, is a self-help support group for family members of mentally ill persons who meet on a regular basis to talk about mutual problems and concerns, as well as sharing ideas and solutions for coping with mental illness in their families.

Ms. Hearon is here to provide information about TEXAMI and to generate interest in forming groups in Midland and Odessa.

For more information call Shelley Jackson at the Permian Basin Community Centers, 563-0271.

Women's fellowship meets

ODESSA — Woman's Aglow Fellowship will meet 10 a.m. Wednesday at Rodeway Inn, I-20 and South Grant.

Guest speaker will be Dorothy Pearce of Big Spring. She and her husband, Wesley, and their five children travel the United States and Canada as a family singing group known as "The Wes and Dorothy Pearce Family."

They have released several albums and have another due for release soon.

In addition, Mrs. Pearce is an artist who works in the mixed media of oils, watercolors and pastels and a song writer.

Her topic at the Aglow meeting will be "The Family and Its Needs Today."

The public is invited to attend the free lecture.

Sexuality study offered

"'...and God created them male and female...' and Now What!," a human sexuality study for 9th grade youth from a Christian perspective is being presented by Christian Life Enrichment Resources, under the sponsorship of the Midland Association of Churches.

This 13-week sexuality course will be offered in four different churches and one outreach agency beginning the week of Jan. 12 and ending the week of April 5. The classes will be held from 7 to 8:45 p.m. at St. Nicholas Episcopal Church and Memorial Christian Church on Mondays, Midland Lutheran Church on Tuesdays, Trinity Presbyterian Church on Wednesdays and Casa de Amigos on Thursdays.

The class to be held at Casa de Amigos is free of charge to low-income youth and the remaining four classes will have a $25 per-student fee. The additional costs have been paid by the Midland Association of Churches.

All classes are limited to 20 students. For more information, or to enroll, call Linda Goddard, 697-5078.

A parents orientation meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Trinity Presbyterian Church, Andrews Highway and Louisiana Avenue.

Mission journeymen trained

Schooler

RICHMOND, VA. — The Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board approved 50 young adults for training as journeymen during its December meeting in Richmond, Va.

Those approved compose the 25th group of college graduates under 27 years old going overseas to work two years alongside career missionaries. Four married couples are in the group.

Robert Schooler, who attended Lee High School in Midland, is one of five Texans in the group. The journeymen will fill assignments as teachers, youth, music and student workers, clerical workers and librarians, and one will be a physician.

Those who receive medical clearance and successfully complete a five-week training session at the Cauthen Missionary Learning center, Rockville, Va., will be commissioned by the board Feb. 27. They are scheduled to go to 27 countries.

Schooler, who attended Rice University and has a bachelor of science degree from the University of Kansas, was a Southern Baptist Home Mission board summer missionary in Maryland. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Schooler of Perth, Australia, he has been assigned as a driver education instructor for a refugee center in Morong, the Philippines.

Thorpe speaks at Kelview

Rev. Thorpe

The Rev. Jerry Thorpe is the featured speaker for Kelview Heights Baptist Church's three-day revival which begins Sunday.

Thorpe co-pastored Temple Baptist Church of Odessa for 20 years before assuming the pastorate in 1984. Under his leadership, the church has just completed a million dollar expansion and is one of the largest churches in Odessa.

He serves as director for the pacific Coast Baptist Bible College and is the executive vice president of the Western Regional Fellowship of the Baptist Bible Fellowship.

"Rev. Thorpe, combining humor with his expository preaching style, is an outstanding speaker, who regularly speaks for colleges, conferences, camps and revivals," says a spokesman for Kelview Heights Baptist Church.

Services will be held at 9 and 11 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Sunday, and at 7:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday.

A nursery will be provided for each service. Kelview Heights is located at N. Big Spring and Scharbauer Drive.

The church's pastor, the Rev. Frank Johnson, invites the public to attend.

Dialogue needed, Kung says

NEW YORK (AP) — Noted theologian Hans Kung says Christian dialogue with Islam, Hinduism and Buddhism can make for enlightened judgments as to elements in each that bring people closer to a knowledge of God.

In a big, new book, "Christianity and the World Religions," published by Doubleday, Kung maintains that it's also important for human relationships and international peace to develop compassion for the "other."

Earlier major works by Kung, of West Germany's Tubingen University, were "Does God Exist?" and "On Being a Christian."

JEANE DIXON'S your horoscope

© 1986, Los Angeles Times Syndicate

By Jeane Dixon
Sunday, January 4, 1987

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY: Your personal financial fortunes take a turn for the better. A change in family attitudes brings loved ones closer. At work, you are able to win the trust of loyal associates. A new leadership post is likely. You are widely admired for the steps you take to right a wrong. A long-cherished goal moves within reach. Make the most of a golden investment opportunity.

CELEBRITY BIRTHDATES: Louis Braille, German fairy tale collector Jacob Grimm, first American-born saint Elizabeth Ann Seton, actress Jane Wyman and her daughter, Maureen Reagan, "Dukes of Hazzard" boss Sorrell Booke, actress-director-writer Dyan Cannon, former CIA chief William Colby, boxer Floyd Patterson, Miami Dolphins coach Don Shula, Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.).

ARIES (March 21-April 19): A newcomer you meet socially could play a major role in your future happiness. The home front should be quieter than in the recent past. A good day for lovebirds to get engaged.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): A fairly quiet day lies ahead. Test new ideas on old friends. Their reactions will surprise you. Your creative endeavors are aided by a friend or relative.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): An argument could develop over money even if friends try to help out. Avoid buying things on impulse. Contrary individual could put a damper on your high spirits. Romance still thrives.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): A sermon or conversation gives you a new perspective on a personal problem. Keep spending within reasonable limits. Useful information can be obtained from a close relative if you lay your cards on the table.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Devote more time to artistic and creative enterprises. Romance looks promising but you will have to make the first move.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Plans may have to be altered. An influential person offers his or her cooperation on an employment matter. Show your gratitude in a tangible way.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Spend more leisure time on a creative hobby -- it could lead to a second income. A family member could be in a disruptive mood this evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Listen carefully to the advice of an influential friend. Do not force issues. Avoid squandering limited resources to satisfy restlessness.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Too many social engagements could keep you from spotting career and business opportunities. Do not wait for the phone to ring.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Put business matters on the back burner and concentrate on family affairs. Devote some time to each child. A hobby could lead to a second income.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Be both independent and confident. Curb a tendency to be extravagant before you find yourself in a financial bind. Self-discipline pays big dividends.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Make the most of daylight hours. Outdoor sports appeal to many and can help bridge a generation gap. A romantic encounter could be featured this evening.

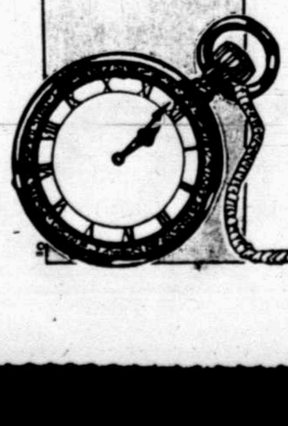
WATCHES



Mr. Sears and Mr. Roebuck got together because of a classified ad!

In the late 1800's, Richard W. Sears had a pretty good business going selling watches and needed someone to handle his watch repairs. He placed a classified ad in the newspaper and Alvah C. Roebuck got the job. That's how the nation's biggest retailer got started... through a classified ad!

Giancana

CHICAGO (AP) — Antoinette Giancana, who told about her life as the daughter of an organized crime leader in her 1984 book "Mafia Princess," is making news of a different sort in Playboy magazine.

Ms. Giancana, 50, daughter of slain Chicago gangland figure Sam "Momo" Giancana, appears in the magazine's February issue in such poses as taking a bubble bath and standing in a peignoir before a blazing fireplace.

In an accompanying interview, she blames alcohol for personal problems that afflicted her before and after her father's death in 1975.

Ms. Giancana attributes her newfound happiness to exercise, a nearly vegetarian diet and abstinence from alcohol and tobacco.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Singer Eddy Arnold will receive the President's Award later this month from the Songwriters Guild of America, the group has announced.

Arnold will be presented the honor at the seventh annual National Songwriter Awards broadcast from the Tennessee Performing Arts Center. The awards show on Jan. 20 will be a syndicated television special.

Arnold is being honored "for his long and illustrious career as one of this country's greatest singers," a news release said Friday.

He began his singing career in the 1940s and was especially popular in the 1960s. His hits include "Make the World Go Away," "Anytime" and "What's He Doing in My World."

RANCHO MIRAGE, Calif. (AP) — Rancho Mirage Mayor Jeffrey Bleaman has a bone to pick with the media.

The mayor of this desert community says he enjoys the publicity of having President Reagan spend the New Year's holiday here, but he wishes the press would stop giving the credit to neighboring Palm Springs.

The president and Mrs. Reagan spend their New Year's vacations at the estate of publisher Walter Annenberg. The estate is in Rancho Mirage, but reporters who travel with the president usually put a Palm Springs dateline on their stories.

The mayor said he has thought of writing letters to news organizations to give them a refresher on geography.

CHICAGO (AP) — The parents of a 7-month-old girl who has undergone four liver transplants in 32 days said she was feeling better Friday, and that was lifting their spirits.

"When your kid's getting worse, then you feel awful," said Frank LaRocco. "When your kid's feeling better, then you've got something to feel better about."

Meghann LaRocco was listed in critical but stable condition Friday after receiving the new liver on Tuesday at Wyler Children's Hospital of the University of Chicago. Doctors have said the first several days after surgery are crucial.

"She looks real good," said hospital spokeswoman Gretchen Flock. "Her yellow color has gone down. She is real playful. She's playing more with her tubes...which is a good sign that she's comfortable."

The tubes include those used to feed Meghann intravenously and to help her breathe.

LaRocco said he decided not to shave his beard while his daughter was in the hospital because he wanted to stand out among all the adults she sees wearing surgical masks and gowns.

"She'll grab me by my beard," he said. "She feels my beard, she knows who I am."

After the first operation, LaRocco said, Meghann acted as if she did not want to look at her mother, Shirley, as if she blamed her for the pain.

"She was real mad at Shirley," he said. "For two days, she would not look at Shirl."

But after the other three operations, LaRocco said, the child seemed more accepting.

"It's like Meghann really understands that she depends on Shirley to save her," he said.

Dr. Christoph Broelsch, who led the surgical team, said the crucial period lasts up to five days after surgery.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Rhythm-and-blues musician Ike Turner pleaded innocent Friday to charges he conspired to sell 10 ounces of cocaine to an undercover officer.

Turner, 55, appeared before Superior Court Judge Melvin Grover and pleaded innocent to one count each of possessing cocaine for sale, conspiring to sell the drug and maintaining a residence for the purpose of selling cocaine.

Also pleading innocent Friday to the felony cocaine charges were co-defendants Richard Griffin of Los Angeles, Eddie Coleman Jr. of Altadena and Willie Whitley of Pasadena, said court clerk Carol Teranishi.

The defendants, free on bail, were ordered to appear March 20 in Superior Court for pretrial motions.

Turner, whose career nosedived in the late 1970s, once toured the country with former wife Tina Turner as the "Ike and Tina Turner Revue." He recently acknowledged having a problem with cocaine use.

Defense attorney Guy O'Brien argued during a preliminary hearing before Municipal Court Judge Phillip Argento that Turner was so intoxicated with cocaine that he could not have had the presence of mind to conspire to sell the drug.

Country music firm has French accent

By CHRISTOPHER BURNS

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — From the heartland of country music comes Champs Elysees, which offers a radio program produced by a disc jockey who shelved twangy country tunes and cornpone banter for French music and stories.

Wes Green's company produces a French radio program on two cassettes a month. They are mailed to 3,500 subscribers around the country.

"Bonjour, c'est Champs-Elysees," says French radio personality Georges Lang, an announcer for Radio Luxembourg, RTL, a top French-language station based in Luxembourg and heard in France and Belgium.

Lang began one tape with a synopsis of stories on the French in Lebanon, a Jacques Cousteau oceanic museum, a history hot line, a clinic for damaged paintings, a recipe for pigeon with foie gras and truffles, and French theater.

Th tape is peppered with French pop tunes and is aimed at anyone who wants to hear a show in French. For the most part, the subscribers are French students and universities.

"Language lab tapes are so boring for the most part," said Green, 32. "One of the real problems with learning language here is that it is so terribly remote. There's nothing exciting about it. But foreign culture is interesting," he said in a recent interview.

A transcript and English glossary accompany the tape to guide the listener through idioms and historical and cultural references.

At the University of Chicago, Champs Elysees has been more than an exercise for students over the last two years, said Gerald Honigsbloom, director of French-language instruction.

"I go back and forth between here and Paris to run our education abroad program, and with the tape here I find myself quite up-to-date on the political and cultural scene," Honigsbloom said. "It has the compelling quality of a living document."

Champs Elysees tapes have been broadcast on the campus radio station, Honigsbloom said.

Green says his company's tapes help shatter the image some Americans have of France being stuck in a quaint past.

"The impression that many Americans have of France is people with Basque berets and baguettes under their arms," Green said.

Green, a former disc jockey at WSM and WLAC in Nashville, said the idea originated three years ago when a former company of his, Nashville Radio Workshop, was sending Grand Ole Opry broadcasts to RTL.

"I worked out a deal with Georges Lang," Green said. "I asked him if he'd be willing to do the programs."

Three hundred subscribers received the first tapes from the company, which is a family business with Green, his mother, Edna, and brother, Mark, as co-owners.

Dominique Laurent, a Vanderbilt doctoral student in French, writes the transcript and glossary with Vanderbilt French Professor Jean LeBlanc serving as editorial consultant.

Puerto Rican officials say buildings safe

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Puerto Rican officials, concerned the deadly Dupont Plaza Hotel fire could hurt the vital tourism industry, said Friday the island's buildings are safe and promised to upgrade them if necessary.

Members of the Puerto Rico Hotel Association said they had received very few cancellations since the New Year's Eve blaze, but scores of people have called with questions.

"The tone of the calls is, 'Is it safe to come to Puerto Rico?' " said Hugh Andrews, head of Williams Management Corp., which operates the El San Juan and Condado Plaza Hotels. "That we have to correct," he said.

Klaus P. Reincke, managing director of the El San Juan Hotel, said there have been a few cancellations for "personal reasons." He acknowledged that "perhaps it is too early to tell" the long-term effect of the blaze on tourism, one of the island top money-makers.

Miguel Domenech, executive director of the Puerto Rico Tourism Co., said future tourism will depend partly on how well the investigation into the Dupont Plaza fire is handled.

Puerto Rican officials have launched a full-scale investigation into the blaze that killed scores of people and injured more than 100. They have promised to prosecute if the fire is found to have been arson.

Gov. Rafael Hernandez Colon said the blaze at the 20-story Dupont Plaza could hurt tourism if people judge the island by the tragedy, but he urged visitors to see it as an isolated incident.

"Puerto Rico has achieved one of the best fire-safety records in the United States," Hernandez Colon told a news conference. "Our major buildings are constructed of materials that are highly fire resistant and less toxic when burning."

At the same time, Hernandez Colon said he was "fully committed to the immediate modernization of the building code governing our hotels and major commercial buildings."

"Quite frankly, as has been the ease in other jurisdictions, technological advances in fire-prevention have far outstripped the modernization of local building codes," he said.

The island's college of engineers, he said, has embarked on a two-year study to revamp local regulations on fire prevention and detection.

Among other things, he said the revised code will require sprinkler systems in all new hotels and high-rise buildings, "retrofitting existing facilities, use of ventilation systems with automatic shutoffs, installation of fire command and communication system, and revision of architectural norms to assure easy evacuations."

"Our goal is to assure the Puerto Rican visitor, and resident, the prompt re-evaluation of our present fire-prevention structure, and the immediate implementation of the most advanced fire-fighting capabilities," he said.

Andrews said members of the hotel association will review "life-safety systems" at their buildings.

He and others criticized news reports of the fatal blaze that mentioned the lack of a sprinkler system at the Dupont Plaza. Some survivors have also said there was no fire alarm system.

"We have to overcome the tremendous negative publicity," said Andreas T. Meinhold, vice president of the Condado Plaza Hotel.

Prosecutor to probe allegations in wake of racial attack

NEW YORK (AP) — A state prosecutor said Friday he will investigate allegations of police and prosecutorial wrongdoing in the aftermath of a racial attack in Queens two weeks ago.

Charles J. Hynes, a deputy state attorney general, said he placed several telephone calls Friday to the lawyers who made the allegations, and said he was determined to speak with them and review any evidence backing their claims.

Asked in a telephone interview if he could seek subpoenas for their testimony, Hynes said: "If by Monday I haven't heard from then I'll have to take the next logical step. And that's something I'm not going to discuss."

The lawyers, Alton Maddox and C. Vernon Mason, represent the two surviving victims of the Dec. 20 attack, Cedric Sandiford and Timothy Grimes. A third black man, Michael Griffith, was struck by a car and killed while fleeing a gang of whites in Howard Beach, a predominantly white Queens neighborhood.

Maddox and Mason said at a news conference Wednesday that they would not cooperate with Queens District Attorney John J. Santucci because they believed the prosecutor and the police were seeking to protect the whites involved.

NATION IN BRIEF

Air pollution, high humidity caused Chicago blackout

CHICAGO (AP) — Tests by two laboratories confirmed that air pollution, combined with high humidity, triggered a power failure that knocked out power to 200,000 customers last week, the utility said Friday.

Residue that formed on insulators at a North Side substation created an unintended pathway for electricity, leading it off conducting wires and shorting out transmission on Dec. 23, said Commonwealth Edison Co.

The residue was collected from the insulators at the Crosby Transmission Substation and examined by McCrone Associates of Chicago, and Hazelton Laboratories of Madison, Wis., according to Edison officials.

Salt was the most prevalent ingredient found, officials said, and other materials included aluminum, calcium, iron, potassium, magnesium, titanium, graphite, silicone, carbon, flyash and rust.

The power failure was one of the worst in Chicago history, causing delays for commuter trains, knocking broadcast stations off the air and forcing several downtown office buildings to close.

The test results confirmed earlier lab tests, Edison officials said, but they still said that "freak atmospheric conditions" were to blame. The 100 percent humidity contributed to the problem.

Iacocca files for divorce

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. Chairman Lee Iacocca has filed for divorce from Peggy Johnson, his wife of less than nine months, a Chrysler spokesman said Friday.

Attorney Robert Feldstein is representing Iacocca in the divorce, said Chrysler spokesman John Guiniven. There was no answer Friday at Feldstein's office telephone number.

Iacocca, 62, was married to Ms. Johnson, 35, on April 17, 1986, at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City. The two were engaged in January 1985.

Iacocca's first wife, Mary, died in May 1983 of complications related to a lifelong bout with diabetes. They married in 1956.

Woman finds baby on step

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A woman opened her door New Year's Day to find a day-old girl and a note saying "Please take care of her" on the step.

"I was scared to death when I looked down," said Eloise Smoot, 46.

The temperature outdoors was just above freezing, and when police got the 6-pound, 2-ounce girl to St. Christopher's Hospital her body temperature was only 76 degrees.

By Friday her temperature was normal and her condition improved from critical to fair.

Let's talk about Real Estate...

As an eternal optimist I am constantly looking for encouraging indicators in the real estate market. Unfortunately after an analysis of MLS figures, the best I can say is that activity on our market has changed very little over the past three years.

Approximately the same number of properties are for sale: 1589 currently, 1465 in December, 1985, and 1594 in 1984. In both 1986 and 1984, approximately 1270 were sold in the first 11 months of the year, and 140 less were sold in the intervening year of 1985. Dollar volume for 1986 is off a minor 5% over 1984, and an encouraging 25% improvement is being experienced in the average number of days a property is on the market before it is sold-from 140 two years ago to 106 currently.

So you can see-news of the market is not discouraging, even though not as wonderfully encouraging as we would all like it to be! Let's look forward to '87!
