TRUMAN ASKS MILITARY UNITY

Army's Discharge Score Cut To 50; 600,000 Eligible

Length Of Service To Be Computed For WACs; Score For Officers Set At 70

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 — The Army announced today another cutback in requirements for release from service, effective Dec. 31. It will make an additional 600,000 men and women eligible for separation.

The changes include a reduction in the point score for enlisted men to 50 and for officers to 70.

For the first time, length of service will be computed in the case of WAC personnel. Enlisted WACs will be eligible if they have had two years and six months of honorable service. WAC officers will be eligible if they have had three years and three months.

Service required for separation will be reduced by six months to 42 months for enlisted men and by three months to 48 months for male officers except medical department officers.

The age criteria was reduced by three years to 45 years for all medical and dental officers except plastic surgeons.

The critical score will be reduced by five points to 65 for dental and veterinary corps officers and all medical officers except certain specialists. The factors for release of sanitary corps officers, medical administrative corps officers, nurses, physiotherapists, and dietitians remain unchanged.

Married WACs Eligible

WAC officer and enlisted personnel married to discharged veterans of World War II may be released upon their own application, regardless of the date of their enlistment. Other married WAC personnel, who enlisted before last May 12, will be released upon application irrespective of the date upon which they were married. The critical score for WAC person-

Mercury Flirting With Zero Mark In The Panhandle

(By The United Press)

The coldest weather of the season punched into practically every region of Texas today with freezing temperatures reported as far south as Del Rio, Alice, Corpus Christi and Houston.

And, with the possible exception of the Panhandle, where the mercury flirted with zero this morning, even colder temperatures are expected throughout the state tonight before slight moderation sets in tomorrow.

Temperatures today ranged from near zero at Dalhart to 45 at Brownsville.

Forecasts For Tonight

Forecasts for tonight predict ranges between 8 and 12 in the Panhandle, 10-16 in extreme northern East Texas, 14-18 in the South Plains, 18-14 in the interior of East Texas, 20-26 elsewhere in West Texas with the exception of 28-32 in the El Paso and Del Rio-Eagle Pass areas, 26-32 on the upper coast and 32-36 in the extreme southern portion of East Texas tomorrow.

Other minimums today included 5 at Amarillo, 6 at Pampa, 12 at Gainesville, Denison and Guadalupe Pass, 13 at Wichita Falls 14 at Sulphur Springs, 15 at Texarkana, 16 at Dallas and Fort Worth, 17 at Abilene and Wink, 18 at Big Spring, 20 at San Angelo and Waco, 21 at Pyote, 25 at Austin and Navasota, 26 at Lufkin, 27 at Tyler, 28 at San Antonio, 30 at Houston and El Paso, 32 at Corpus Christi and Del Rio, 34 at Beaumont and 37 at Galveston and Laredo.

AT LEAST 34 ARE DEAD IN COLD WAVE

(By The Associated Press)

Snow and rain sleet and subzero temperatures dampened and chilled a large part of the country today and the immediate outlook for better weather wasn't promising. The prolonged cold wave was directly responsible for at least 34 deaths.

Fresh falls of snow moved into the Atlantic seaboard from the midwest and southwest and falls to a depth of from eight to 12 in-

GI Bill Is Given Top Priority

Amended Bill Of Rights Up For Passage

Congress Strives For Adjournment By Tomorrow

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19—Striving for final adjournment tomorrow, Congress paved the way today for action on an amended G. I. Bill of Rights.

Result of a compromise after weeks of bitter Senate-House controversy, the veterans' legislation held top priority on today's business calendar.

Faces One More Fight

But it faced one more fight in the House—where it comes up first—over the subject of future bonus payments, if any.

Chairman Rankin (D-Miss) of the House veterans committee leveled his oratorical guns at a compromise recommendation that no payments under either the original or the amended G. I. bill be deductible from any future bonuses.

The original G. I. bill set down as a future deduction all tuition, unemployment compensation, or defaults on loans, but not the loans themselves. The House left this provision in the proposed new law but the Senate removed it and the conferees followed the Senate.

Guarantee Is Raised

On the other compromise provisions there appeared to be little likelihood of a fight.

These ease the present stringent control wielded by the Veterans' administration over GI loans and raise the maximum government loan guarantee from $2,000 to $4,000 on real estate. This would permit a real estate loan of $8,000, with the government guaranteeing one half.

The compromise calls for real estate loans to be arranged by recognized lending agencies, the veteran and a Veterans' administration local appraiser. Business loans still would require administration approval.

Loans Easier To Get

Other Senate-House recommendations:

1. Make loans easier to obtain by making the "reasonable value" of property the basic consideration rather than the "normal reason-

Seven Hurt, 1,000 Homeless After Ammunition Explosion

Germany Admitted 3,544,284 Men Killed In Five Years Of War Just Before Huge Ardennes Counter-Offensive Was Opened

NUERNBERG, Dec. 19 (AP)—A captured Nazi document shows that the German Army high command admitted just before the Ardennes counter-offensive in December, 1944, that Germany had lost 3,544,284 men killed or missing during more than five years of war.

The report, prepared for Adolf Hitler's headquarters, did not include wounded but an attached note stated that 729,031 wehrmacht wounded and sick were hospitalized in the Reich at the time the document was compiled.

Hitler Was Liar

Hitler told the truth about the low number of German casualties in the Poland campaign, but was an inveterate liar in his accountings of casualties in subsequent battles, the report indicated.

Casualties on the eastern front up to Nov. 30, 1944, were listed in the document as 1,410,728 dead and 907,050 missing. Accepting the usual military ratio of four men wounded for each man killed, these figures would place total German casualties on the eastern front through Nov. 30, 1944 at approximately 8,000,000.

Soviet estimates placed German casualties in the east at 12,000,000.

Casualties Are Listed

Homes In Project Near San Diego Badly Damaged

(By The Associated Press)

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 19—Seven persons were hospitalized, one of them with serious injuries, and approximately 1,000 others left homeless when a flaming ammunition truck and trailer exploded with a terrific blast on a highway 15 miles north of here yesterday afternoon.

Six of the injured, all Marines, were taken to the nearby naval hospital. One is being treated for a skull fracture and the others for lacerations from broken glass. One woman, cut about the face, also was given hospital treatment.

Texan Seriously Hurt

Alue Dale Crosson, 22, Marine private, son of Mrs. Lee Crosson of Falfurrias, Tex., was listed by the Navy as the most seriously injured victim of the explosion. He suffered a possible skull fracture, although his condition was described as "good" at the naval hospital. Five other Marines were released from the hospital immediately after treatment for lacerations. Crosson was struck by a flying particle of metal while he was on the Camp Matthews Marine rifle range.

Camp Matthews, near the site of the explosion, reported 16 Marines were cut by flying glass.

All of the homeless were residents of the Torrey Pines federal housing project close by. John Arvin, federal housing administrator, estimated 85 per cent of the 214 units in the project were seriously damaged, with windows shattered, partitions knocked down and ends of buildings blown out

Loss Of Life Averted

Navy officials reported the truck was en route from San Diego to Fallbrook, Calif., with a load of 57 rocket motors, 24 depth charge extenders, 49 depth charge pistols, 29 depth charge boosters and .40 millimeter shells.

Possible loss of life was averted when the driver, John Ayala of Fallbrook discovered his gas tank aflame, jumped out and warned authorities at La Jolla junction, 150 yards away, of the danger.

Equality For Air Force Is Also Sought

President Dashes Navy Hopes; Asks For Quick Action

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—President Truman called today for merger of the Army and Navy into a single department of national defense with the Air Forces fully equal to the land and sea arms.

Stepping squarely into the middle of the long and bitter struggle between the Army and Navy top commands, Mr. Truman followed in virtually every detail the official War department plan for unification.

Further Study Useless

And he dashed one prime Navy hope by declaring in a special message to Congress:

"Further studies of the general problem would serve no useful purpose."

Navy witnesses appearing at Senate military committee hearings on the merger proposal have pleaded against hasty action.

Declaring that "I urge this as the best means of keeping the peace," Mr. Truman proposed that the new defense department be headed by a single cabinet member operating with one undersecretary and several assistant secretaries, all civilians. There would be a departmental chief of staff, with a commander for each of the three component branches—Army, Navy and Air.

Could Discuss Problems

Either the President or the secretary of defense could take up directly with the separate commanders matters of basic military strategy and policy and the division of the department's budget.

Key staff positions in department, Mr. Truman said, should be filled with officers drawn from all the services "so that the thinking of the department would not be dominated by any one or two of the services."

"As an additional precaution," he added, "it would be wise if the post of chief of staff were rotated among the several services, whenever practicable and advisable.

All Will Cooperate

"However strong the opposition that has been expressed by some of our outstanding senior officers and civilians, I can assure the

Union Stands Firm On Wage Demands

First Hearing By Fact-Finders Is Scheduled Today

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Dec. 19 — Determination to stand firm in its wage demands on two major fronts was voiced by the CIO United Automobile Workers today as President Truman's fact-finding board called its first hearing on the month-old General Motors strike.

After rejecting a Ford Motor Co. offer to raise wages 12.4 per cent, the union declared it was "sticking to its guns" for a 30 per cent increase from GM "unless the corporation can produce facts and figures to prove its inability to pay that much."

Stand Is Reaffirmed

The UAW-CIO's stand was reaffirmed in a letter from the top strike strategy committee to all local unions on the eve of the first government panel's session in Washington.

Representing General Motors at the capital hearing were President C. E. Wilson and Vice President Harry W. Anderson. R. J. Thomas and Walter P. Reuther, holding corresponding positions in the union, led the UAW delegation.

The strike strategy committee's letter, signed by Thomas, Reuther and other union officials, said the

Tires For Everyone Is Beaumont Offer

PORT ARTHUR, Dec. 19. (UP) — Tires for "everyone who needs them" were offered today by the rationing board.

Chairman A. M. McAfee of the board said Houston OPA officials had increased the Port Arthur quota to such an extent that the board expected to be swamped with business.

Three special typists were hired to write certificates for persons who can get their present tires condemned.

Oil Output For Texas Boosted

AUSTIN, Dec. 19. (AP)—The railroad commission's statewide proration order for January is calculated to result in daily production of 2,027,175 barrels of crude oil.

The commission, in announcing the order, said it was designed to meet the emergency demand for fuel oils emphasized at yesterday's statewide hearing at which all operators submitted increased nominations.

One Day Is Added

The increased allowable production was accomplished, said Chairman Olin Culberson, by adding one producing day generally over the state. The January production pattern thus calls for 26 general days, compared with 25 last month, 21 producing days for the big East Texas field as compared with 20 in December.

The Panhandle field remains exempt.

The average daily allowable beginning Jan. 1 will be 2,122,696 barrels, but estimated underproduction of 4.5 per cent of the allowable will reduce the estimated daily flow of crude oil to 2,027,175.

Over Bureau Estimate

This was 252,175 barrels of crude daily over the Bureau of Mines estimate of market demand for January on crudes alone.

Production of 163,000 barrels daily of natural gasoline and distillate will increase the total liquid petroleum production to 2,187,434

Soldiers At SPAAF Get Holiday Reward

Col. H. O. Bordelon, commanding officer of South Plains Army Air field, had good news for the officers and enlisted men at the Army Air Force installation today.

"As an added reward for a job well done, all officers and enlisted men on the post may go home for Christmas," the colonel's announcement said.

The job well done was the removal of more than 1,000 planes from the field in the past two months by enlisted and civilian personnel at the field. The planes had to be "unpickled" so that they could be flown to Kingman, Ariz.

"All runways, taxi strips and aprons on the field are now clear of planes and open for landing of planes," Col. Bordelon said.

The soldiers were given until Jan. 7 to report back to their station. Civilian employes, also given holidays, may work at their own discretion during the Christmas season.

Col. Bordelon was the only officer on the field who was uncertain of whether he would be given a holiday leave or not. Should he be given time off he plans to go to Oklahoma City to be with his family. Otherwise they will come here for Christmas.

THOSE NOT NEEDED FOR LAAF CLOSING GET LEAVES

Officers and enlisted men at Lubbock Army Air field who are not needed for the final closing of the field will be given Christmas leaves, Col. Wm. G. Snaith, Dallas, acting commanding officer, said today.

Col. Snaith and his staff were in the process of determining who could be given leaves this afternoon, he said. All leaves would be contingent on closing of the field scheduled for Dec. 31, as all officers and enlisted men will receive transfer orders by that time.

Col. Snaith succeeded Col. Harold N. Holt today, Col. Holt having been granted a 30-day leave. He left this morning for Philadelphia, Pa., to spend Christmas with his family and more than likely will not return to the field before it closes, it was said.

Capt. McVay Is Acquitted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—A Navy general court martial today acquitted Capt. Charles B. McVay, 3rd, on the charge of inefficiency in the loss of the heavy cruiser Indianapolis.

With respect to this charge against the cruiser's skipper, the court held that it was "not proved."

Neglicence Charge Remains

There was no announcement of the court's decision on the charge of negligence against him for allegedly failing to steer a zigzag course through waters where enemy submarines might be encountered.

Navy regulations require immediate announcement only of a finding that charges are not proved.

A finding of guilty on any or all counts is subject to review through higher authority before any public disclosure is made.

The prosecution presented its final arguments today, offering a summation of the evidence without making a specific recommendation on a verdict.

After detailing pertinent points developed in more than two weeks of testimony, the judge advocate, Capt. Thomas J. Ryan, jr., closed by saying:

Summary Of Evidence

"This is believed to be a comprehensive summary of the evidence from the viewpoint of the prosecution and a statement of the basic law in this case."

Capt. John P. Cady, defense counsel, followed with his final argument, concluding with:

"I feel entirely justified and confident in asking this court to fully and honorably acquit the accused of both charges and the specifications thereunder."

Battleship Reported Endangered By Gales

LONDON, Dec. 19. (U.P.) — An unofficial and unconfirmed report from Lisbon today said the American battleship Washington was in danger off the Azores, presumably from gales sweeping wide reaches of the Atlantic.

A United Press dispatch from Lisbon said the U. S. embassy was checking with the Portuguese Navy department on the report circulating there that the 35,000-ton Washington was in danger.

The Navy department said it was unable either to confirm or deny the report immediately. No details were available, the Lisbon dispatch said.

Police Seek Ex-GI In Beating, Theft

DALLAS, Dec. 19 (U.P.)—Police today sought a discharged soldier in connection with the beating of Jack Art Ward of Benecia, Calif., and the theft of $1,800 from Ward in a hotel room.

Ward said that his assailant, who used a bottle to beat him over the head, had traveled with him from California and that the attack occurred after they had returned to their room following a round of night clubs.

Loss Is Heavy As Fire Sweeps Tulsa

Business Area In Path Of Flames; City Fire Department Faces Hazardous Task

(By The United Press)

TULSA, Dec. 19. — Two separate fires that started within 30 minutes of each other raged uncontrolled for more than two hours in the downtown business district here early today, and first unofficial estimates indicated losses would approach or exceed $1,000,000.

A strong north wind that fanned the flames and four-above-zero temperatures hampered the fire fighting.

Heart of Business Area

Renberg's, a three-story clothing store on Main street in the heart of the business district, was swept by flames that were discovered at 6:50 a.m. when heat set off a burglar alarm system.

The Barnes-Manly laundry, Tulsa's largest, and a half block of business buildings were destroyed by the second fire which started less than 30 minutes after that at the clothing store.

The laundry blaze was brought under control within two hours, but firemen were still streaming water into the fire at the Main street clothing store at mid-morning.

Other Stores Suffer

The Renberg store building, erected in 1907 and remodeled in 1937, was reported valued at $150,000 and the store's merchandise including thousands of Christmas items at $350,000.

Firemen said, however, that adjacent stores had suffered heavy

Air Medal Awarded To Jumbo Webster

Flight Officer Walter E. (Jumbo) Webster, son of Mrs. C. E. Webster of 2204 Ninth, who was killed July 28, while on a flight from India to China, has been awarded the Air Medal posthumously, it was announced by headquarters, India-China division of the Air Transport Command.

WEBSTER

F/O Webster, who was a backfield star of Lubbock High school from 1936-38, was reported missing in action July 28 and officially declared dead Sept. 15, by the War department. He was piloting a C-109 gasoline tanker over the Hump.

After graduating from high school, Webster attended Texas Tech three years, continuing his gridiron career. During 1943 he was a civilian pilot instructor for Army cadets at Fort Stockton Army Air field. He enlisted for service with the AAF in February, 1944, and went overseas February, 1945.

F/O Webster's wife, the former Mary Elizabeth Bowden, resides at Fabens, Tex.

Western Union Facing Strike

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. —AFL union employes of Western Union laid plans today for a nation-wide walkout of 48,000 members the morning of January 7.

Acting on authorization of a strike vote conducted by the National Labor Relations board December 1, the general committee fixed the strike call at 8 a.m. in each time zone.

Negotiations Deadlocked

Negotiations between the union and company on 13 issues, including a 25 per cent wage increase demand and additional annual holidays, became deadlocked last August.

Union officials said the only employes of the communications system who would not be affected are the CIO-affiliated workers in New York.

The committee sent telegrams last night to all locals saying "the strike action is based on all issues in dispute between the company and the union and this action will take place unless these issues are resolved to the satisfaction of the union."

There was no immediate comment from Western Union officials in New York regarding the walkout plans.

Gen. Leonard Wing Is Taken By Death

RUTLAND, Vt., Dec. 19 (AP) — Maj. Gen. Leonard F. Wing, 52, who led the 43rd (Winged Victory) division in four major Pacific campaigns and landed in Japan with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's occupation troops, died early today at his home.

He was the victim of a heart attack.

Gen. Wing returned from Japan Oct. 9 with his division. He served in northern and southern Solomons, New Guinea and Luzon.

He entered the federal service in February, 1941, with the 43rd which was then a National Guard outfit.

In private life he was a widely known Vermont lawyer. He leaves his widow, two sons and a daughter.

Christmas Parties Are Staged In Schools Of Lubbock Today

Christmas assembly programs, classroom trees, exchanging of gifts and caroling today in the Lubbock public schools marked the end of school before the holidays which begin Thursday and will continue until Monday morning, Dec. 31.

The Bible department, under the direction of Miss Virginia McLean, presented a marionette show depicting the story of the Christ Child at an assembly this morning in the auditorium of Junior High school. Laura Williams read the Christmas story as the marionettes, which were made by students, enacted the various scenes.

The Junior High school choral club, directed by Miss Nell V. Lemond and Mrs. Eloise Elliott, provided music for the program. The last period this afternoon the students of the various rooms enjoyed Christmas trees, exchanged gifts and packed Christmas boxes to be presented to needy families.

Carrying out a tradition of the school for the last five years, students of the Roscoe Wilson school brought canned goods which will be presented this year to the children of the war torn areas of Europe. Carolers were in the halls at 1 o'clock and later in the day,

Doctor Claims Baby In Kidnap Hoax Not Victim Of Violence

CHELSEA, Mass., Dec. 19. (AP)—Medical Examiner William J. Brickley reported today that baby Ronald Carlan died of "asphyxiation and acute general respiratory infection."

Brickley in a preliminary report on an autopsy on the six-months-old baby whose "kidnaping" became one of New England's greatest hoaxes of recent years, told District Attorney William J. Foley that asphyxiation could have been caused when the baby might have turned over face down in his crib.

Mother Hid Baby

His mother reported the baby as kidnaped on November 28. The mother is Mrs. Rose Carlan, 23, wife of a Navy enlisted man. She told police later the baby actually had died four days previously, and that she had hidden the body under the drawers of a china closet in her bedroom-dining room.

Dr. Brickley said the baby had suffered four separate attacks of pneumonia and on each occasion had inhaled food.

Mrs. Carlan now is under arrest, charged with murder in the baby's death and is undergoing mental observation for a ten-day period at the Boston psychopathic

Byron Price Says Censorship Useful Only During Wartime

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—Byron Price, the wartime censorship director, says the free exercise of editorial opinion and criticism is a foundation stone of our form of government.

"Any censorial excursion into that realm," he declared in his last report to President Truman, "would most certainly destroy the respect and confidence of the censored and lead to collapse of the entire structure."

Instrument Of War

Censorship should be used "solely as an instrument of war," Price said in the report made public last night by the White House. Even then, he added, it should aim strictly at keeping useful information from the enemy and collecting information which may be turned against him.

Price was executive news editor of the Associated Press when he took the censorship post. Recently he became vice president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

"No one who does not dislike censorship should ever be permitted to exercise censorship," he asserted. And in a free country like the United States, he said, it ought to be voluntary as a matter of principle.

The voluntary wartime censorship of U. S. editors and broadcasters, he said, was just as effective as the compulsory brand in Great Britain and Canada.

Examples Are Cited

He cited as examples the keeping of secrets of the North Africa invasion, Casablanca conference, preparations for D-day and the atomic bomb.

Censorship of mail and communications had an actual offensive value, Price said. In one instance intercepted letters led to seizure by a destroyer of a cargo of quinine—destined for a black market in cold tablets—which was needed urgently for malaria control among troops.

In other cases, he said, censorship turned up $25,000,000 worth of textiles which the war production board promptly acquired, and a large number of industrial diamonds which otherwise would have been sold in Mexico.

Russian Couple Buy Tank, Join Red Army

MOSCOW, Dec. 19 (AP)—A married couple who bought their own tank and used it, with Generalissimo Stalin's permission, to kill 160 enemy soldiers have been demobilized from the Red Army.

The couple, Lt. Ivan Fyedorovokh Boiko and his wife Senior Lt. Alexandra Boiko, who early in the war turned their savings of 50,000 rubles over to the Soviet Union to build a tank, took part in campaigns on Poland, Germany, Romania and Czechoslovakia. The wife commanded the tank; her husband drove.

Vice Admiral Barbey, Navy's Expert On Beach Landings, Thinks Wars Avoidable

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Dec. 19.—"Uncle Dan" Barbey has beaten on more closed doors than any brush salesman; he has landed on more enemy shores than any Viking known to history.

Yet he believes wars can be avoided.

Sixty-two times has Vice Adm. Daniel Edward Barbey, 55, superintended planting of the American flag on foreign-held beaches.

His reward for being the most expert man in the Navy on amphibious landings is command of the American Seventh fleet.

Makes No Predictions

Unlike many career warriors, Barbey does not believe his own specialty holds the key to all success in warfare. He makes no predictions as to the future of amphibious operations, although he is proud of the role they played in the Pacific war.

Unorthodox and strongly opinionated, Barbey is one of those many-talented and endlessly energetic men like Benjamin Franklin or Da Vinci, or a six-day bicycle racer.

He has General Patton's invincible heedlessness when the combat gets under way, but he plans for it as cautiously and thoroughly as did General Omar Bradley.

Barbey is a big man, proud of his strength, who in his youth climbed the Matterhorn as a lark and swam the tricky Bosphorous straits just to see if he could swim it.

Puts Self Into Jap's Place

He has a sensitive ability to put himself in the enemy's place. Once, sitting with his feet on the rail as his convoy ploughed past Japanese Philippines strongholds, he said:

"Tomorrow night about 10 o'clock we will be off Manila, and if I was a Jap commander there I'd try to slip out and put a few torpedoes into this convoy."

So he redeployed his escort ships and warned them to expect surface attack at that hour. "And at 9:55, we engaged a Jap destroyer," said Lt. Cmdr. Bill Jibb, former Florida newsman now on Barbey's staff. "Four of our destroyers sank it."

Woman Denies She Aided Delinquency

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19 (AP) — A denial of charges that she contributed to the delinquency of Ellsworth (Sonny) Wisecarver, 14, with whom she recently eloped to Oroville, Calif., was entered today by Mrs. Eleanor Deveny, mother of two children. Her trial was set for next Monday.

The elopment with Mrs. Deveny was the second such adventure for the youth. In 1944 he eloped with Mrs. Elaine Monfredi. They were married in Reno, arrested in Denver and their marriage later annulled.

TIMEPIECE GOES FLYIN'

DENVER (U.P.)—A Denver Civil Air Patrol officer, Jay A. Rice, jr., took the hard way to learn if time really flies.

Rice, testing an Army trainer plane over farm country north of Denver, dropped his watch from the plane accidentally. He has hopes a farmer or hunter will return the watch so he can see how his timepiece weathered the flight.

Texas Cities Are Dressing Up Again For Christmas; Holiday Spirit In Evidence

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Take your left hand, remove gloves, extend fingers and count. That's how many shopping days you have before Christmas, including what's left of today.

We realized that belatedly with something of a shock. But other people are smarter.

Take Sgt. Jimmie Owens of Sweetwater. He's been planning on what he's going to do Christmas for three long years.

Was Prisoner Of Japs

Sgt. Owens, now in William Beaumont hospital, El Paso, was a prisoner of the Japs for 34 months. Last Christmas he had rice and one teaspoon of sugar.

This year Jimmie, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Owens of Sweetwater, is going to cook a Christmas dinner to end all Christmas dinners.

"No more rice!" he said. "I'm going to cook a sumptuous spread for the boys who won't be able to go home for the holidays. It will be the best gift I could receive. I've dreamed of this menu for three years."

It includes celery hearts, stuffed olives, roast turkey and dressing, cranberry sauce, mince meat pie, frozen egg nog, fruit cake and so many other things it makes us drool.

Over in Fort Worth, the Star-Telegram Goodfellows are doing their usual good job. Gifts will be distributed to the city's poor. They will include food, clothing, and as many as 2,000 pairs of shoes.

Cities Dressed Up

Cities throughout Texas are all dressed up with Christmas ornaments. It's the cheeriest Christmas since Pearl Harbor. But Pampa had trouble. Their shipment of ornaments was delayed by a truck strike. But, says D. L. Parker cheerfully, they'll be put up yet.

The majority of Texas towns are resuming Christmas lighting for the first time since the war began.

The Christmas spirit was seen in Tyler, too. Marriages exceeded divorces there. Saturday was what the local paper called "Reno day" with 21 divorces. But cupid, aided no doubt by Santa Claus, counted 27 marriages.

The geographical center of the United States is in Kansas.

Housing Plan Being Fought

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP) — Bitter industry criticism of the government's new housing program brought a "let's give it a chance" reply from federal officials today.

OPA, a principal target of sharp words leveled by industry leaders at the conclusion of a government-sponsored housing conference, said price increases to spur production already have been granted in a number of cases and that other adjustments are on the way.

Problem Outlined

To industry contentions the government had its mind make up about the program when it called this week's advisory conference Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small replied:

"President Truman has outlined a critical housing problem, and he has instructed us to get homes built for veterans as quickly as possible.

"We are consulting with the industry to the fullest extent possible under the emergency circumstances."

Douglas Whitlock, former president of the Producers' Council, Inc., said he had understood the conference was to be a cooperative project but that instead:

"Going To Take It"

"We were told, here's a priority program and you are going to take it."

Whitlock referred to a new regulation, which will be announced late this week, ear-marking about 50 per cent of all building supplies to homes costing $10,000 or less.

H. R. Northup, secretary-manager of the National Retail Lumber Dealers association, and Whitlock joined in assertions that the major construction bottleneck is OPA's "unrealistic price policy."

An OPA spokesman said the industry had applied for three separate price increases, had been granted two, and the third would have been authorized by now if the industry had not delayed filing a corollary wage statement with the War Labor board.

Lou Costello To Build Center For Youth In Memory Of Son

By ED BARLOW
United Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 19. — Rotund comedian Lou Costello has seen the final blueprints of a dream — a dream coupled with tragedy for fat, funny Lou.

The dream is the Lou Costello, Jr., Youth Foundation, which will cover two acres with recreational and health-building facilities for youth of the Los Angeles area.

More than 4,000 children now without an outlet for playtime energy will be given the best-equipped play center in the country as "preventive medicine against so-called delinquency," Costello said.

Paradise For Youngsters

Plans call for spacious and fully equipped playgrounds, a softball field, tennis, badminton and basketball courts ping-pong tables, a large swimming pool and wading pool, two-story clubhouse with snack bar, game rooms and shops, gymnasium, theater, and classes in in arts and crafts. Also provided for is a free medical clinic fully equipped for diagnostic purposes and treatment, with a staff including heart and rheumatic ever specialists.

The swimming pool was put into the plans at Costello's request, even though it brings back tragic memories to him. For a little over a year ago, todling little Lou Costello, Jr., slipped and drowned in the huge swimming pool on his father's estate.

"Make doing wholesame things a joy for the kids; let them like it immensely or no at all; let them become interested in their own way," is the comedian's policy for the new foundation.

Open House During War

"And when they get a look at nice things, the next time they might be tempted to steal something, they think 'Costello wouldn't like it,' so they don't do it," he adds.

Which was why he turned his own estate in the San Fernando Valley into a gathering place for the kids while war conditions made it impossible to build the foundation, inviting them in for a swim and barbecue party every hot afternoon.

And the expensive, modernistically-pillared Foundation only will be the extension of that idea—and something for the little Costello who never got a chance to live the kind of life Lou wants for all kids.

Meet The People— Texas GI Awarded Netherlands Honor

ABILENE, Dec. 19 (UP) — Meet a Texan, who, as a GI became a knight.

Meet Abilene Staff Sergeant Albert L. Box, jr., who has been awarded the highest order of the Netherlands for his services with administration of civil affairs in Maastricht, Holland.

The Texas sergeant — the only "GI" in an American group consisting of colonels, majors and captains — was awarded the Silver Medal of Honor of Orange-Nassau with swords by Prince Bernhard at the Hague.

Box described the medal in this way:

"The Orange-Nassau is the royal order. 'With swords' means that it is the highest order of that particular medal . . . I'm supposed to be a knight because these medals of Orange-Nassau are sent to the chancellor of the Netherlands, order of knighthood."

After presentation ceremonies, Sgt. Box stood next to the prince on the square in the Hague, and the group inspected troops passing in review.

More than half of Florida's 1,150 miles of seacoast is on the Gulf of Mexico.

Tree Trimming Made At Home

By VIVIAN BROWN
Associated Press Newsfeatures

Even if you have a quantity of Christmas ornaments for your tree, it is nice to add to your collection each year.

Some that you can make yourself can be prettier and more original than any you can purchase in the stores. Here are some ideas for home made ornaments as suggested by Dennison:

To make a paper Christmas ball, cover a small rubber ball with wax paper. Cut strips of white or colored crepe paper across the grain one and one-half inches wide. Stretch and wrap the crepe strips around the ball, pasting as you wrap. Cover the ball smoothly with several layers of paper. Then slash the paper ball in half and remove the inner rubber ball. Paste the two halves of the paper ball together again and rewrap with strips of crepe paper. Decorate ball with narrow strips of crepe paper in contrasting color, stretched and twisted between the fingers to form a paper twist or thread. Paste the twist on the ball in attractive designs. Insert a loop of wire or thread in top of ball for hanging on the tree.

A stocking can be made out of four layers of white crepe paper. Cut the toe and heel sections (Fig. 2) out of four layers of red crepe paper. Place two layers of the toe and heel sections on top of two stocking layers and stitch together around the outer edge. Make ruffle of red crepe paper cut across the grain two inches wide. Gather lengthwise through center with needle and thread, then sew around top of stocking. Finish with green ribbon bow and tiny gold bell.

To make a mitten, cut shape (Fig. 3) out of four layers of white crepe paper. Paste two layers together at the wrist. Then sew them together around the outer edge with red crepe paper twist. To make the twist, cut a strip of red crepe paper across the grain one half inch wide. Twist the paper between the fingers. This forms a coarse thread. Decorate the back of the mitten with red gummed stars.

Lynn Fugitive Is Captured

Apprehension of Tommy Mason, 22, at Okemah, Okla., was reported by Lynn County Sheriff Sam Floyd Tuesday night, several days after the man had sawed his way to freedom from the Tahoka jail.

South Plains officers also reported recoveries of four stolen automobiles.

Mason is under a two-year penitentiary sentence from Lubbock, faced a forgery charge in Lynn county at time of his escape, and is under charges in Dawson, Hockley and Lamb counties.

Abandoned At Tucumcari

A light blue 1941 Ford coach, license No. ED 2166, belonging to Nolan Swain of route 2, and reported stolen Monday night, was abandoned in Tucumcari, N. M., Sheriff H. W. Beasley informed the sheriff's department here. He said license number on the car was AX 9803 when found, but the motor number and other description of the car corresponded with the one Swain reported stolen.

Beasley also said two men had stolen a gray 1941 Chevrolet coach at Tucumcari, Kansas license No. 2-47434. Police announced recovery of this car last night in Lubbock, after they investigated a report by H. E. Ewing, 706 Ave. T, that an abandoned car was in front of his house. Ewing gave the license number which checked with that of the stolen vehicle.

Found In Garage Here

A pickup, reported by Sewell and Wilks, 1412 Texas, as stolen from their car lot, was found at a garage here, police said. Sheriff Floyd announced recovery of a Chevrolet sedan reported stolen at Tahoka.

Police were investigating a break-in and theft, reported by Mrs. J. B. Roberts of 1008 Ave. V, who said a purse containing $12 and papers had been taken from a back bedroom. Officers said entrance was made through a window.

Employes Of Tarrant County Denied Raise

FORT WORTH, Dec. 19 (U.P.)—A demand by Tarrant county employes for a 15 per cent increase in salary has been denied by the county commissioners court in 48th district court, it was learned today.

County Judge Kraft, acting as chairman at a meeting attended by about 60 employes, told the group that "the county is in a financial situation now so that it cannot give further raises." We will have to continue on the same basis of pay under the same general agreement."

Likelihood Of China Civil War Lessens As Factions Confer

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

Prospects of averting a long and bloody civil war in China appeared greatly improved today.

A United Press dispatch from Chungking reported that fighting between communists and central government troops had died down over the week end. High communist leaders were gathered in the nationalist capital for a meeting next week of the political consultative council, at which an effort will be made to smooth out the basic differences between the two factions.

The new tendency to seek a settlement was greatly spurred by President Truman's declaration of United States policy toward China. It tended to clear up the ambiguous situation under which both sides kept hoping for favors.

Should Get Better Break

The dispatch of such an important figure as Gen. George C. Marshall, new United States ambassador, also seems to have convinced the communists that they will get a better break than under the policy fathered by former ambassador Patrick Hurley.

Finally, Russia has adhered to the letter of her treaty pledging support to the central government and has aided the occupation of North China by Chiang Kai-Shek's troops. That was further proof to the communists that their salvation lies in conciliation and not force of arms.

Outside pressure is now being applied, but it is not all against the communists. President Truman turned the screws a little in the other direction when he discarded the idea of writing a blank check for the Chungking government.

Support May Be Withheld

Instead, he threatened plainly that American economic and political support might be withheld unless Chiang reaches agreement with the communists, abandons his one-party government and gives his opponents adequate representation in the government of a unified China.

Mr. Truman demanded first of all the end of the civil war. He recognized the impracticability of permitting separate communist or other armies to exist in China, but implied that communist interests should be protected by the merging of their armed forces into the national army.

The last point is particularly important, and may be the chief stumbling block to an agreement. The communists logically feel that they will be helpless if their army is disbanded or is made part of a national defense force unless they are given iron-clad guarantees to safeguard their political rights.

Chiang Is Big Question

Whether Chiang can give satisfactory guarantees without having them underwritten militarily by the United States and Russia is the big question before the forthcoming Chungking conference. The American public would not take kindly to a pledge of military intervention in China, and it is doubtful if Russia would want to take such a step.

The effective weapon probably is President Truman's implied threat to withhold economic aid unless China sets her own house in order. He likewise said American armed forces in China would not be allowed to intervene in any continued civil war, even though the national government will be otherwise supported.

Solons Get Booties, Urge Pa's Discharge

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP) — Baby shoes and booties are arriving in senatorial offices with pleas to "send my daddy home."

Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) of the Senate Military committee today showed a reporter nearly a dozen pairs of the infant footwear and said:

"It's a lobby to get fathers out of the Army. I don't know what to do with them."

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) said he was sending his collection to the War department with a suggestion to generals there that "they be a good Santa Claus and release the fathers."

Good Eclipse View Given Westerners

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP) — Westerners received a good view of the first total eclipse of the moon in nearly three and a half years last night.

Generally overcast conditions in the east balked many observers.

Joseph Ashbrook of Harvard University's observatory said the satellite's copper hue during the total phase seemer brighter than in the last eclipse on August 26, 1942.

At Hayden planetarium in New York, Curator Gordon Atwater reported that an 80 per cent overcast prevented photographs by observers of the area.

The earth's shadow started across the moon at 7:37 p. m., Eastern Standard time and disappeared at 11:03.

Truman Urges Merger Plan

Congress that once unification has been determined upon as the policy of this nation, there is no officer or civilian in any service who will not contribute his utmost to make the unfication a success."

In his 5500-word message, Mr. Truman called again for congressional approval of universal military training, asserting it has met "with the overwhelming approval of the people of the United States."

An Essential Step

He termed unification legislation "another essential step—along with universal training—in the development of a comprehensive and continuous program for our future safety.

"One of the lessons which have most clearly come from the costly and dangerous experience of this war is that there must be unified direction of land, sea and air forces at home as well as in all other parts of the world where our armed forces are serving," Mr. Truman continued.

"We did not have that kind of direction when we were attacked four years ago—and we certainly paid a high price for not having it."

No Basis For Fear

The President said there is no basis for fear that an over-all organization would lodge too much power in a single indfvidual or the concentration of so much military power would lead to militarism.

"There is no basis for such fear as long as the traditional policy of the United States is followed that a civilian, subject to the President, the Congress and the will of the people, be placed at the head of this department."

Mr. Truman said "the Navy should, of course, retain its own carrier, ship, and water-based aviation

He avoided any reference to the Navy's land-based flying activities.

Marines Part of Navy

Of the Marine corps, the President said that "of course" it "should be continued as an integral part of the Navy."

Citing what he termed "the most important reasons for combining the two existing departments," Mr. Truman said such a step would:

Strengthen facilities for integrated strategic plans, programs and budgets;

Achieve economies through control of supply and service functions;

Foster coordination between the military and civilian branches of the government, and,

Foster civilian control of the military.

In support of parity for air power, the chief executive said it has been developed to the point where its responsibilities are equal to those of land and sea power.

He added that there should be an end to such different Army and Navy policies as rates of promotion, ways of selecting officers, granting awards and decorations and point allowances for discharge systems.

Colder Weather

ches were forecast. Rain and sleet pelted down across many southern states after falls of snow were reported as far south as Macon, Ga.

Mercury Below Zero

There was only a mild tempering of the nation's cold belt from eastern Montana westward to Indiana and Illinois and the mercury again today was far down below zero in several sections.

The new falls of snow hit northern Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, southeastern Pennsylvania and southeastern New York.

Weather forecasters in Chicago said temperatures in the midwest cold belt would moderate today but the cold weather was to continue until at least Friday. Another batch of cold air was reported headed from Canada into the Dakotas and Minnesota, probably reaching the states over the weekend.

Shortage Of Gas

New season low temperatures were reported in some sections but in the frigid midwest cold belt the readings today were higher than 24 hours ago. The coldest spot on the weather map was Land O'Lakes, Wis., a low of 23 below.

James Mullings Dies After Short Illness

James Edwin Mullings, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Mullings of 3504 Ave. P, died at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the family home following an illness of only eight hours.

He had been in ill health for several years but his condition was not serious until he was stricken early Tuesday.

Other survivors are two sisters, Miss Martha Ellen Mullings of Los Angeles, Miss Juanita Fay Mullings of Lubock; and a grandmother, Mrs. F. C. Yaws of Lubbock.

The family has lived here 5½ years.

No funeral arrangements had been made early this afternoon, Bryan McDonald and Son Funeral home announced.

Musical Program Is Offered At Rotary

A musical program, arranged by Dr. Julien Paul Blitz, head of the music department at Texas Tech, and presented by three artists and a six-girl chorus was heard by members and guests of the Rotary club today at a luncheon at the Hilton hotel.

Miss Joyce Watson sang "Kiss Me Again" (Herbert), "Always" (Berlin) and "Holy Night" (Adams) accompanied by Miss Imogene Webster. Pvt. Roger Hall played two violin selections, "Spanish Dance" and "Poem". A chorus from Tech music department sang Christmas carols.

Dr. Clifford B. Jones was program chairman and introduced Dr. Blitz. Members were reminded that Jan. 15 will be ladies night for the Rotary club at Tech Social Center. Rex Webster, who was recently released from the Navy, was welcomed back to the club as a member.

Visiting Rotarians were Seth Alston of Lovington, N. M., Bob Bowers of Brownfield, Edd McLaughlin of Ralls and Joe T. Salem of Sudan.

Son Of Statesman Hanged For Treason

LONDON, Dec. 19. (AP)— John Amery, son of a prominent British statesman, was hanged at 9 a.m. (3 a.m. CST) today for high treason to his king and country.

Led from a cell next to that of William (Lord Haw Haw) Joyce, who is awaiting death on the gallows for the same offense, Amery was executed under a clearing sky after a night of drizzling rain.

The 33-year-old son of L. S. Amery, former secretary of state for India and one-time First Lord of the Admiralty, was convicted of broadcasting Nazi propaganda from Europe during the war. Witnesses testified at his trial that he had been selected by the Germans to be the British Quisling.

Amery's actress wife, Una Wing, and his brother left the prison about an hour before the hanging. His parents visited the prison last night.

Case Comes Up Monday

Her case is due to come up in Chelsea district court on continuance next Monday.

The baby also had a bad case of diarrhea, according to the medical examiner.

He said he would be unable to turn in a complete report on the autopsy until after state chemists had completed their analysis of some of the baby's vital organs.

He said, "The baby definitely was dead when placed in the spot where it was found by the police.

"There is no evidence of any act of violence thus far," he stated.

Dr. Brickley said the body had been moved four times but explained that this could be accounted for by the fact that it was handled not only by the mother but by police officers.

Stadium Fund Drive Begun By Tech Exes

No personal solicitation campaign will be made immediately by the Lubbock chapter of Texas Tech alumni in an effort to raise funds toward the $300,000 athletic stadium planned for the college.

Jason O. Gordon, chapter president, has said that numerous calls have come to the association officials asking when they will be contacted for contributions.

He said persons wishing to make contributions are to mail their checks, money orders or cash to the Texas Tech Foundation, Stadium Fund, Box 96, Tech Station in Lubbock.

Drive By Ex-Students

Gordon said donations had begun to come in regularly through the mails and a successful campaign is promised. The drive was organized by a group of ex-students meeting Monday night, at which time a stadium rally was scheduled for January 7 in a local hotel.

Forms are being printed and will be distributed at the January gathering for solicitations. The forms will be filled in showing the complete address and amount contributed by the former students. These lists will be kept in duplicate, one copy for the alumni files and one for the foundation.

Gordon requested that persons wishing to give any amount from $1 upward send their donations immediately to the given address.

Auto Strike

GM strikers have voted by a 99 per cent majority "to remain on strike until their demands are met."

Balloting On Appeal

The balloting was conducted on President Truman's appeal for a resumption of work pending a report by his fact-finders.

Asserting "economic pressure" resulting from the strike and General Motors' competitive position had caused the corporation to "move from zero to 13½ cents an hour," the strategy committee said "that is the answer as to whether or not the strike is effective."

The union's reference was to GM's latest wage offer, which was 1½ cents an hour less than that of Ford. The Ford offer was termed "completely unacceptable" by Richard T. Leonard, UAW-CIO national Ford director.

Conditions Opposed

Union officials were believed opposed to the Ford proposal partly because of the conditions attached. The 15-cent an hour wage increase, if accepted, would have become effective only when production reaches 80,000 units a month. Highest rate of output since the war ended was 22,508 cars and trucks during November.

Ford's wage proposal also was for a two-year period and was dependent on satisfactory agreement on the problem of curbing unauthorized strikes. It also stipulated that any increase in OPA ceiling prices of cars would not subject the pay issue to further negotiations.

Tech Extension Plan Sent Cairo School

In reply to a recent request for information concerning correspondence courses offered by Texas Tech and because of interest shown by Egyptian students to enroll for these courses, J. H. Millikin, director of the extension division, has mailed informative literature to "Your Future" institution, Cairo.

The American Office of War Information, Cairo, recommended Tech to "Your Future" institution, the only non-official organization in the Near-East to assure young men and women, by means of adequate educational planning and supervision of studies, a guarantee of success in business and life.

Millikin said he believes many students of "Your Future" institution will enroll for Tech correspondence courses.

Discharge Score

nel was not reduced.

The length of service includes total active commissioned and enlisted duty since Sept. 16, 1940. The adjusted service rating point score is computed as of last Sept. 2.

The Army said it would continue to discharge personnel in this country who are no longer needed and who do not qualify for overseas duty, even though they do not have enough points or service for release. All other factors for discharge, including hardship or dependency or importance to the national health, safety or interest, will remain in effect. Military personnel who have been engaged in scientific research projects also may be discharged if they meet requirements imposed under that provision.

Wainwright Testimony To Be Presented In Trial Of Homma

MANILA, Dec. 19. (AP)—Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, by deposition, will be one of the principal witnesses at the war crimes trial of Lt. Gen. Masa Haru Homma, to whom he was forced to surrender, but to whom he never bowed even as a captive.

Wainwright's deposition will be one of the principal documents submitted to the military commission which on Jan. 3 will try Homma on charges including responsibility for the cruel Bataan death march, Lt. Col. Frank E. Meek, the chief prosecutor, said today.

Returned In Disgrace

A fidgety Homma was returned in disgrace today to the palatial residence from which in 1942 he had watched Corregidor captives forced to march in humiliation. There, where he once lived as a conqueror, he pleaded innocent at his arraignment on charges of responsibility for the death march and for 67,000 deaths among American and Filipino prisoners of war, internees and civilians.

Handsome Maj. Gen. Basilio J. Valdes, chief of staff of the Philippines Army during the war and who testified at the Yamashita trial that Japanese murdered his brother and nephew and tried to rape his niece, was a member of the trial commission.

There were many familiar faces in the courtroom at Homma's arraignment, including all members of the Yamashita prosecution and defense staffs still in Manilla.

After the arraignment, Meek said that Homma left the Philippines on Aug. 15, 1942, in disgrace because Wainwright's strong defense of Bataan and Corregidor consumed so much time and so many of Homma's men that Japan's southward push was thrown out of gear.

He said Homma's knowledge that he had won a hollow victory doubtless influenced his attitude toward his captives. The general never again held an important command.

Texans Believe President Truman Should Give Them Enough Sugar To Bake Pie For Christmas; Validation Of Stamp Sought

DALLAS, Dec. 19. (U.P.)—There's a woman down the street and over about two blocks who thinks President Truman should give her enough sugar to bake a pie for Christmas.

She doesn't want any of the President's White House sugar. She just wants him to validate sugar ration stamp No. 39 today, instead of having to wait until it automatically becomes good Jan. 1.

That's exactly what Joe Weingarten of Houston, Tex., wants, too. Furthermore, he wired the President Tuesday, asking for validation of stamp No. 39 in time for housewives to land a few good punches in the kitchen during the holidays.

Plenty Of Sugar

He didn't phrase his request in those words, but he put behind the message the weight of the Supermarket Institute of America, which he heads as president. He told the President that there is plenty of sugar — there's simply no stamps.

For several weeks, Weingarten has been checking warehouses around the country for sugar. "There is no real shortage," he said.

The Houston grocer has been bucking serious opposition. Men like OPA Administrator Chester bowles in Washington, who holds the strings on Mrs. America's sugar sack, said it was too bad about holiday cooking and baking. As far as Bowles was concerned, Weingarten reported, stamp 39 would become valid Jan. 1, and not a grain before.

That Won't Help

That won't help this Dallas woman whip out a pie for Christmas.

R. C. (Bob) Trigg of Dallas, regional OPA foods administrator, hasn't been very helpful, either. He said recently that housewives had failed to consider the extra demands the holidays would make on their sugar.

Trigg warned persons against "paste-up" tactics designed to make other stamps look like the currently good-for-five-pounds No. 38. He said many such forgeries had come to the Dallas verification center. "That is a serious offense," he said. "A violator is liable for mutilation of ration stamps to two years in jail, or a $10,000 fine—or both."

Validation of stamp No. 39 could be done quickly, according to Weingarten. "A simple announcement would do it."

Otherwise, there isn't going to be much pie this Christmas.

Shuffler Gets College Post

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 19 (AP) — Organization of the Texas A. and M. college development fund, which will serve as a central agency in a program to expand the college's research and educational facilities, was announced yesterday by A. F. Mitchell of Corsicana, chairman.

R. Henderson Shuffler, former Odessa newspaper publisher, was named executive director with headquarters at the college.

Long-Range Program

"The fund will undertake a long-range program for the growth and improvement of the college," Shuffler said. "In cooperation with the college administration and former students it will study the needs of the college and develop programs and projects to meet them. In addition the fund will seek gifts, endowments and bequests."

Discussing the future of the college Chairman Mitchell, who represents the former students, said "The A. and M. development fund will speed the development of the college into an institution of inestimable value to Texas. Needed buildings will be erected, and research, scholarships and projects which can not now receive state funds will be financed."

Jimmy Stewart All Excited About Trip Home For Holidays

For the first time in seven years, Jimmy will be back home in Indiana, Pa., for the Yule season. When I talked to him, he was viewing the prospect with enthusiasm, or as much enthusiasm as the lanky ex-colonel can generate about anything.

"Gee, it ought to be great," he said, "although I guess it will be a little cramped. My two sisters and their husbands and one child will be there too and the house wasn't built for that kind of a crowd." But that will make a good chorous around the piano.

Jimmp won't start work on the Frank Capra picture, "It's a Wonderful World," until February.

Deserter Jailed In Narcotic Smuggling

DALLAS, Dec. 19 (U.P.) — A fugitive from a 25-year sentence for Army desertion, Charles Vernon Kulbeth, 26, was in the county jail today charged with smuggling in connection with the federal seizure of $106,000 worth of narcotics here Saturday.

United States commissioner William Madden Hill accepted the charge at a special hearing at his home, where he is ill.

Kulbeth pleaded guilty and was jailed in lieu of $25,000 bond.

Two other persons, one a woman, were arrested with Kulbeth. The man, Jarrell Lee Carter, was transferred to San Antonio to face trial in another narcotics case. The woman was released.

Probe Findings To Go To HST

HOUSTON, Dec. 19 (AP) — Another labor dispute was dumped into the lap of President Harry S. Truman today when negotiations between 13 railway brotherhoods and the Southern Pacific railroad broke down completely.

Failure of the company and the union to reach a compromise over the operation of the Southern Pacific hospital here automatically turned the dispute over to a three man fact finding board named by the President. Findings of the board will be turned over to President Truman who is expected to announce a decision by Jan. 10.

Justice Richard F. Mitchell of Iowa Supreme court, chairman of the fact finding group, said tonight that he had his two associates, Judge E. M. Tippon of Missouri and Judge J. Jaeger of Nebraska, had started their report and would submit it to the President as "soon as possible."

Both the railroad, through its spokesman, John P. Bullington, and the railway brotherhood, represented by W. E. B. Chase, admitted that they were far apart at the conclusion of negotiations this afternoon.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19 (AP) — It will come as no surprise to the nine teams that got in the way of the Army steamroller that the mighty West Point football combination has been named the outstanding sports team of the year.

The big, speedy, invincible Cadets from the banks of the Hudson won the annual Associated Press poll in about the same manner in which they flattened their opponents.

71 Votes For Army

Of the 76 votes cast by the nation's sports experts, 71 of 76 first place nominations were awarded to Army.

In the other five cases the national collegiate football kingpins drew second place ballots. All told the Cadets piled up a total of 223 points on a basis of three for first, two for second and one for third.

The 1944 Army eleven won last year's team of the year honors but not by so wide a margin.

The Detroit Tigers took second place in the voting, receiving one top nomination but plenty of seconds and thirds to accumulate 66 points. The World series winners finished 27 points ahead of another championship football aggregation—the Cleveland Rams of the National football league. The Rams scored 39 points but attracted two first place votes.

Other First Place Votes

Of the other first place votes, Alabama's Rose bowl football team and the Fort Wayne (Ind) Zollner Pistons, a crack pro basketball outfit, each received one. The Pistons finished in a tie for sixth while Alabama wound up tied for eighth.

The Oklahoma A. and M. basketball team, which won the national collegiate title, annexed fourth place with 16 points and Indiana's Big Ten football champions took fifth with 13.

Football also figured in the biggest sports surprise of the year poll, the experts voting the Great Lakes 39-7 defeat of Notre Dame as the top eyebrow lifter.

Jimmy Braddock Claims Billy Conn Will Outpoint Champion Joe Louis; Warning Is Given

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Capt. James J. Braddock probably should be listened to when he picks Billy Conn to outpoint Joe Louis easily in their second meeting next June. He thinks Joe, at 32, will have gone over the hill. He warns, however, that "if Billy tries to outpunch Joe he will run into trouble."

Smart Promoting

Somebody did a smart bit of promoting for the Sugar bowl in bringing together Bob Fenimore, the Oklahoma Aggie antelope, and Herman Wedemeyer of St. Mary's, both All-America backs. Hank Iba, coach of the Aggie basketball team, was in town last week telling everyone who would listen that Fenimore not only was the greatest back in the country, but the fastest, and that he could trim Davis in a 100-yard dash by five yards, at least.

And Lowell Tew

Ben Bloodworth of the Decatur (Ala) Daily, a fearless contributor, says as follows: "Note to Southern Cal: Alabama's Crimson Tide not only was Harry Gilmer and Vaughn Mancha, but all this and Lowell Tew."

Wade Has Inside Track

Wallace Wade, who put Alabama and then Duke on the football map, has the inside track on the Kentucky coaching job, says Buck Weaver of the Louisville Weavers. "And, should he accept, the word is that his choice of first assistant is none other than slinging Sammy Baugh. A more perfect set-up hardly could be found. And, boy oh boy, would they pull the star athletes into Stoll field!" exults the roundest Weaver.

Grid Banquet Held Here For Sundown

A grid banquet at the Hilton hotel in Lubbock officially closed the first season in eleven man football play for the Sundown Roughnecks, one of the top contending teams in District 6-A during the past season.

Supt. P. O. Smith served as toastmaster of the banquet. Jo Ann Perry gave the welcome, with John Ethridge the response. Football music was given by Ross Garrett, accompanied by Miss Eunice Gibson. Billy Key gave the invocation and W. L. Mooney gave the benediction.

Coach Clem Page spoke on the highlights of the past season.

Players of the team who were on hand were John Ethridge, Dale Peden, Jack Carey, Morris Wilson, Bobby Meek, Billy McCulloch, Douglas Ethridge, James Clark, Teddy Benson, Lawrence Patton, Clarence Ledbetter, George Benge, Cecil Ray, Bobby Wheat, Wayne Teague, Bobby Swain, Jack Page, Burnice Clark, Billy Mealer, Wiley Bounds, Eugene Woodward, John McInturff, John Whiteside and Elmer Dowell.

A special guest of the evening was Ira Wells. Members of the school board who attended the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Swain, Mr. and Mrs. Bishop Craddock, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. LaMarr, Mrs. P. O. Smith and Mrs. Clem Page.

The Roughnecks had long been a power in six-gun football, and were playing their first season in the faster eleven-man game. The team was a threat all the way in the district race, winning five and losing four games as their record for the first season in football.

Meadow High Takes Two From Tahoka

MEADOW, Dec. 19 (Special)—Meadow High cagers took both feature games here last night over the Tahoka Bulldogs, the girls winning 35 to 9 and the boys by a 46 to 16 count, but the Bulldogs Pups from Tahoka took the boys B game, 12 to 4.

The scoring by the Meadow girls was divided between four players, with Wilma Hinson, Mary Fox, Bobbie Stephenson and Lois West accounting for the points. Hinson and Fox flipped in ten each, Steuhenson eight and West the remaining seven. Peggy Dunlap scored all nine of the Tahoka points.

Three Broncho stars were hitting the hoop for Meadow in the boys A game, Jack Barnes scorching the net with 19 points, followed by Leland Terry with 14 and Paul Nettles with ten. Jerry Edwards, with ten, led Tahoka.

Botkins paced the Tahoka B team with eight points, and Jack Brown was high for Meadow with two.

These games concluded the Meadow schedule until after the holiday season, the net games scheduled at Wellman for Jan. 4.

Westerners In Speedy Finish

Slaton's Tigers Defeat 40-25

The Lubbock Westerners put on a fast finish in the last half last night at Slaton, and pulled away from the Slaton Tigers to win 40 to 25 after being played on almost even terms through the first half.

The Westerners held a lead of three points over the Tigers at the end of the first period, and led by four points at the half, but the Lubbock club broke on to pull away in the last half.

The Westerners built up an eight point lead in the third period, and coasted in with the victory with a strong finish that found Lubbock scoring nine points to two for Slaton in the home stretch.

It was Jimmy Clark who set the pace for the Westerners, finding the range for six baskets from the playing floor, and toed the foul line for two more and 14 points.

Roberts and Elder set the pace for the Slaton club, Roberts hitting three field goals and rolled in four out of five free pitches for ten points. Elder connected for three field goals and made good on one free pitch for seven points.

The Lubbock B team made it a clean sweep for the visitors, getting off to a flying start to roll up a 51 to 6 victory over the Slaton Tiger Cubs. Moore and Johnson each connected for five field goals, with Moore adding a free picth to gain top honors with 11 points.

Coach Morgan Will Speak In Beaumont

The South Texas Coaches and Officials association, meeting Thursday in Beaumont, will hear Coach Dell Morgan, head ringmaster of the Texas Tech Red Raiders, as the featured speaker.

He will discuss changes in officiating throughout the years and the need for uniformity in handling athletic contests.

Morgan has been busy for the past couple of weeks addressing banquets given in various communities in honor of high school football teams. Jan. 4 he is to talk at the Waco high school banquet.

Frenship Noses Out Shallowater, 15-12

WOLFFORTH, Dec. 19 (Special)—Scoring was light, but the Frenship High school cagers nosed out the always tough Shallowater five here last night, 15 to 12, in the feature game of the night. The Shallowater Juniors won the curtain raiser, 19 to 9, to even the series.

Penkert paced the scorers for the night, leading the losers with eight points. Wynn and Johnson of Shallowater each counted four points for the winners.

Dana Bible Likely To Present His Greatest Team As A Swan Song At Texas U. During '46

AUSTIN, Dec. 19 (AP) — Dana Xenophon Bible, whose gridiron legermain has brought him championships by the bunch in two of the nation's major conferences may present his greatest team as his swan song.

Bible, who came to the University of Texas nine years ago, will retire as a football coach Jan. 1, 1947.

A Mighty Collection

Jan. 1, 1946, he will lead his Longhorns against Missouri in the Cotton bowl. Then will come the mightiest collection of star football players the state university ever has known—the 1946 Longhorns who will represent a reunion of men who won fame at Texas before going away to serve their country in war.

It was in 1941 that Texas had what generally is regarded as its greatest team. But that eleven stumbled in the stretch, was tied by lowly Baylor, defeated by Texas Christian, and lost the Southwest conference championship.

But with the men due to come back next fall, Texas can look forward to a team that almost seems to have been planned for Bible's last year.

Stars To Return

She will have such stars as All-America End Hubert Bechtol and his running mate, Dale Schwartzkopf; Tackle Harlan Wetz, Center Dick Harris and Backfielder Bobby Layne back from this year's squad. Harris and Layne were All-Southwest. Ralph Ellsworth, the former Navy player, also may return if his participation at Annapolis is not charged against him.

Then, from tems of other years will come fellows like Jesse Hawthorne, Max Baumgardner, George McCall, Kenny Baker and Clyde Harville, ends; Henry Harris, George Watkins and Charley Jungmichel, tackles; Les Proctor, Duane Coltharp and Ed Heap, guards; Audrey Gill, center, and Walter Heap, Spot Collins, Don Fambrough, Joe Magliolo, Walton Roberts, Ken Matthews, Wayland Hill and Bobby Coy Lee, backs. There also is the prospect that Jackie Field, the great running back of 1942, will return.

New Deal Cops Two And Post Wins One

POST, Dec. 19 (Special)—Playing before a good pre-holiday crowd here last night, the New Deal boys won two games and the Post girls won the third in a triple header basketball card.

The Post girls won 20 to 13 over the strong New Deal club with Billie Cowdry setting the pace for the winners with 11 points. Joy Sheppard chipped in with six more. Nancy Young, with seven, paced the New Deal girls.

But perhaps the outstanding play of the game was turned in by Jimmie Chandler of Post, who played a great defensive game for the winners.

The defensive play of New Deal's Utley also featured the boys A game, as New Deal nosed out a 14-12 victory. J. N. Hall of New Deal paced the scorers with six points, while Jimmy Bird paced the Post club.

New Deal also won the boys B game, 22 to 19, in a fast, close battle. Roy Williams of Post, and Vaughn and Aglin of New Deal all shared the scoring honors, each with eight points.

Coyotes And Scotties Evenly Matched For Semi-Final Tilt

BY TOM W. MILLER
United Press Sports Writer

Wichita Falls and Highland Park's coming semi-final football battle matches two powerful clubs with neither apparently having an advantage.

Their clash Saturday afternoon in Fort Worth has been billed a "re-play" of the 7-7 tie they finished up with on the night of October 26 in Wichia Falls.

What Has Happened

So let's get a look at what happened then and what has happened since to see what might justify a different ending to this second Coyote-Highlander game.

Highland Park in that first encounter made just 44 yards through and around Wichita Falls' sturdy line, bulwarked by the biggest tackles in Texas — part Indian Wee Willie Bigham at 248 pounds and freckled Bob Hames at 219.

Not only did all of the Coyotes come through the Odessa skirmish unscathed, but Layne West, hurt early in the season and re-injured against Amarillo in the bi-district game, will be back at his end post.

One Counter Scored

In five games since then, only one touchdown has been scored against Wichita Falls. J. W. Thompson of Odessa, the state's high scorer, was stopped cold.

Yet Coach Tugboat Jones of the Coyotes says: "We're going to work on defense."

Highland Park's line gave up 95 yards back in October against the Coyotes, and opponents have scored once in four of the last six games. But—

The first string forward wall hasn't been dented and the Scotties held previously unbeaten Paris to just 12 net yards on the ground. Every Highlander is physically fit and ready.

Not Much Difference

It would take a microscope to detect a difference up front.

The backfield?

Highland Park's three Bills and a Ted — Moxley, Elliott, Weatherford and Bristol — and a capable crew of replacements have scored 318 points in the last 288 minutes of play. Some of the teams were weak, to be sure, but a couple, Paris and Fort Worth North Side, had reputations for staunch defenses. Up to the High Park game, that is.

Not quite so point-conscious, the Coyotes' backfield, featuring speed demon Lindy Berry, and Big Joe Dean Tidwell, still has an enviable record — 167 points in the last 192 minutes.

Edge In Passing

In that even-stephen struggle in October, the Scotties had the edge in passing, completing eight of 11 for 141 yards while the Coyotes made good three of seven for 15 yards.

But one of those three-completions brought Wichita Falls its touchdown, as did one of the eight Highland Park made good.

Nt much to go by there.

How about weight, will one team be able to shove the other around solely on size?

Highland Park outweights Wichita Falls 19 pounds, less than two pounds per man.

Take your choice.

Rassle Royal Will Be Staged Tonight

Wrestling matches tonight at the Lubbock Horse and Mule arena will be decided by the outcome of the curtain raising rassle-royal that will pit together two new comers, a relative new comer and three old timers.

Tom Felis and Joe Parker will be the two newcomers to the local ring, with the returning stars being Milt Olsen, Ivan Jones and Charlie Trijo, along with Ted Torres, who made his first appearance last week.

The first two victims of the free for all starter will be rematched for the opening preliminary bout for one fall, or a 30 minute time limit. The net two pinned will return for the best two out of three falls, or a 45 minute time limit semi-final. The two survivors will meet in the main event, with a 90 minute time limit.

Year's Crop Is Third Largest

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—The 1945 crop turned out to be the third largest on record—surpassed only by the peak harvest of 1942 and the crop of 1944.

Reporting this today in final figures for the year, the Agriculture department said the average of production fell 1.5 per cent below last year and two per cent below 1942.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, expecting demands for food to continue at high levels, has asked farmers to produce about as much next year as they gathered in this year.

New Records Set

New production records were established for a number of important crops including wheat, oats, rice, peaches, grapefruit, and truck crops for fresh markets.

Crops of near record proportions included hay, soy beans, flax seed, potatoes, sugar cane, oranges, grapes and pecans. There were larger than average crops of corn, peanuts, sorghum grain, dry peas and grass and legume seed crops.

On the other hand, production of cotton, apples, barley, rye, dry beans, buckwheat, sorghum silage and forage sweet potatoes, sugar beets, apricots, sour cherries, maple syrup and maple sugar were below average. Except for 1921, the cotton crop was the smallest since 1896.

The final estimate for the important corn crop was 3,018,410,000 bushels compared with 3,,203,310,000 produced last year and with 2,433,060,000 for the 10-year (1934-43) average period.

Corn Too Wet To Store

The department said, more than a normal amount of this year's corn is either "soft" or of high moisture content and unsuitable for long storage. Much of the "soft" corn is being fed to livestock.

The record wheat crop was placed at 1,123,143,000 bushels, compared with last year's previous record of 1,072177,000 bushels and with the 10 year average of 789,080,000.

The wheat crop was made up of 823,177,000 bushels of winter wheat, 35,020,000 bushels of durum wheat and 264,946,000 bushels of spring wheat other than durum.

Fruit production was extremely varied. The combined total of 13 principal fruits including citrus crops from the 1945 bloom, was down five per cent from last year's record production.

Butter For Holidays Cut Below Average

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19. (AP)—Butter for Christmas tables will be even harder to get than it has been lately. Government orders to stop the sale of the government surplus butter when some 29 million pounds of the 70 million or so recently released was still on hand have cut the pre-holiday supply below what had been counted on.

The federal-state market service, commenting on the situation, said "butter consumption is expected to decline to a new all-time low point, not equaled during the war.

GIs May Be Stranded Unless Rails Freed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—The Army said tonight that 82,000 GIs from the Pacific would have to spend Christmas in West Coast ports awaiting transportation home unless the rail jam cleared up.

The navy announced that many of its men scheduled for discharge or furlough will be in the same fix, too, but gave no figures.

Hoping to relieve the situation some, the Office of Defense Transportation ordered all railroads west of the Mississippi to move troop trains "just as fast as they do their regular passenger trains" from now until March 1.

The order directs western railroads moving troop trains or empty cars for troop shipments to "establish and maintain schedules for movement of such trains over its lines equal in respect of speed of operation to that of the railroad's normal passenger train schedules."

The situation has become so serious that troops had to remain aboard troop ships at San Francisco last night because there was no room for them in the staging areas ashore. It was expected that five ships would be used for this purpose tonight.

House Of Representatives Almost Vacant During World Organization Discussions

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 — "I make the point of order," cried Rep. Roy O. Woodruff of Michigan, "that there's no order in the House."

"Bangety-bang," went the speaker's gavel; the lawmakers resumed their debate on the United Nations organization, and Rep. John M. Robsion of Kentucky looked over the rows of empty black seats.

"I am disappointed," he said, 'and I am grieved that less than 50 of our 425 members are on the floor when we are working on the very peace of the world for generations to come."

That's what the gentleman from Kentucky said, but he was a Kentucky gentleman. I'm not. My count of congressmen shows there were 19 Republicans in the chamber and 21 Democrats. Five of the Republicans were strolling the aisles and two were reading yesterday's Congressional Record. Two pairs of Democrats were holding animated conversations and seven more were hidden behind their newspapers, reading about the blizzard. Or:

Some Stroll In Later

One dozen Republicans were paying attention. So were 10 Democrats. Some more of the boys and girls strolled in later and the proceedings turned into a little ripsnorter.

Almost everybody, with exception of Miss Jessie Sumner of Illinois (whom we'll get to in a minute) had some complaints about uniting the nations, but intended to vote for the idea, anyhow. In a gray suit, a blue shirt, a red rose and gold curls, Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce of Connecticut said peace on earth would have a better chance if the boys got going on a disarmament conference.

"I hope the Secretary of State, who flew at the peril of his life through a snowstorm without even an overcoat, accomplishes something over there in Russia," said Rep. John Jennings, jr., of Tennessee.

Kept Making Speeches

Speakers kept making speeches and the black-clad Miss Sumner (who's been reducing lately and looks better for it) kept trying to interrupt them, without much luck. Rep. A. L. Miller of Nebraska mentioned the Prince of Peace at Christmas time and Rep. Clare Hoffman of Michigan retorted:

'We're all against sin so far as I know, but if Christ and his followers couldn't bring permanent peace in 2,000 years, then I haven't much hope for any organization we can create in the next few weeks."

More speeches and more attempted remarks by Miss Sumner brought the subject around to the wages of the U. S. delegates. Rep. Sol Bloom of New York said they'd get $12,000 a year each, unless they were congressmen, who would collect only one salary. Finally Miss Sumner got five minutes. She said that wasn't enough. She got 10.

Same Old War Mongers

"The same old war mongers are masquerading as princes of peace at Christmas time," she shrilled into the microphone. The pitch of her voice went higher and the coffin-shaped loud-speaker near the ceiling vibrated as she continued:

"This new world plunderbund will set up headquarters in Hollywood . . . or some less appropriate place. We have so many people here in high office whose hearts beat with an adulterous love for some foreign governments that . . . we have joined the dance of death on the European and Asiatic battlefields."

Miss Sumner took a final, deep breath and cried: "Mr. Speaker I do not feel that I can sit here and participate in this shameless roll call.

She went out. So did the microphone. The electrician said he guesse he'd have to install a new one.

PLANS WILDLIFE PROJECTS

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (U.P.) — Long famed as a tourist state, Wyoming has made plans for the expenditure of one million dollars by the state game and fish commission. A new hatchery will be constructed as soon as manpower and material become available. A number of other wild life projects also are being considered.

Kai-Shek Back In Nanking

SHANGHAI, Dec. 19. (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek returned triumphantly late yesterday to Nanking, the pre-war capital from which he and his government were driven by the Japanese in 1937.

He was accompanied by Madame Chiang.

Meanwhile, this city prepared to welcome tomorrow Gen. George C. Marshall, American ambassador who probably will fly on to Nanking the following day. Plans for a Chiang-Marshall meeting have not been formed, but in Chungking the World Daily News said Marshall would meet the Chinese leader in Nanking and then accompany him to Chungking.

Arrives In Manila

Marshall arrived in Manila today and plans to leave for Shanghai tomorrow morning.

Crowds greeted the Chiangs at Nanking as their fighter-escorted transport landed at 4 p.m. at the Ming Tombs airfield. The official party toured the city in which most of the executive Yuan (council) and other governmental branches already are established.

All over China the people prepared for the Yule season, their first peacetime Christmas since 1936. The Generalissimo, China's foremost Christian, probably will observe the holiday in Chungking. Although there are about 5,000,000 Christians in the country, the holiday spirit pervades the entire nation.

"Kilroy" Always One Jump Ahead Of Yanks

HOUSTON, Dec. 19 (U.P.) — "Kilroy" has been at the University of Houston.

Kilroy, that evasive character who made the first wave on the beaches of Normandy and Saipan and who hit the bars of Sydney and New Delhi, has given the school a quick once-over.

Wherever the khaki-clad soldiers of World War II went they were met with signs "Kilroy was here." Mess tents, orderly rooms and latrines were cluttered with signs and wise sayings of Kilroy.

"Kilroy" Always First

Always Kilroy had beaten the soldiers to the draw. If it were the mess tent he was the first person to eat in it, the signs said. If it were the C. O.'s chair in the orderly room Kilroy was the first person to sit in it, the signs said.

They said lots more too.

A sign at one Pacific atoll bragged that Kilroy was the first to leave the lonely island.

And now Kilroy is still ahead of the veterans. His signs at the University of Houston tell how "Kilroy graduated here."

Better Policing For Austin Is Promised

AUSTIN, Dec. 19 (U.P.)—University of Texas and city officials have redoubled efforts for better policing and lighting in the university area, a statement from university administrative officials said today, coupling it with a denial of rumors of an attack upon a girl student.

Investigation showed this rumor to have no foundation in fact, the statement said. The statement by the dean of women and dean of men said:

"Several weeks ago a student residence was burglarized and another was entered by a man who apparently carried ether. In neither case did any harm come to a student.

"One or two additional incidents of less serious nature have been investigated and appropriate steps taken to prevent recurrence.

"It is earnestly hoped that any circumstance of an unusual nature will hereafter promptly be reported to the office of the dean of men or to the office of the dean of women.

"Police officials declare that such incidents are on an upward trend in the nation and that they are a symptom of postwar conditions."

Five Parachute From Plane, One Missing

RAWLINGS, Wyo., Dec. 19. (AP)—Search for the sixth man who parachuted from a crippled B-25 bomber over snow-covered south central Wyoming Monday continued today in below-zero weather.

His five companions who were found alive yesterday said he left them about noon in search of the plane from which they jumped on orders of the pilot, 2nd Lt. Roy L. West. West crash-landed the plane and made his way to Sinclair, Wyo., to report the accident.

FIGS IN INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS (U.P.) — Indiana usually hasn't been considered figgrowing country, but Mr. and Mrs. Clifton L. Bradley of Indianapolis have a four-foot tall tree flourishing in their yard which has 25 to 30 small figs on it.

Congress Puts On The Heat

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—Congress put on the heat today in an effort to complete legislative action before the holidays on two major bills dealing with international affairs.

One is the Senate-passed resolution calling on the government to "use its good offices" with Great Britain to permit free entry of Jews into Palestine.

The House scheduled a final vote on it by late afternoon.

The other bill, to make this country a full partner in the United Nations organization, already has been passed by both House and Senate but in slightly different forms.

Conferees went to work with little difficulty expected in reaching an agreement. The only point at issue is a House amendment which would allow congressmen and government officials to serve as UNO delegates, without extra pay.

A third piece of legislation dealing with world matters was signed into law by President Truman. Approved by the Senate and House earlier this week, it authorizes the expenditure of a second $1,350,000,000 for work of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration. The bill contains a clause asking the President to work for free access by American reporters to news of UNRRA's activities.

That Girl on Broadway says as a rule, when a man yields to temptation he is remorseful; if he doesn't, he's regretful.

* * *

A psychologist says the average intelligence of the human race is equal to that of a 17-year-old.

It's just as we've been suspecting for years: People know too much for their own good!

(The above item will be especially interesting to others who, like The Plainsman, have 17-year olds in their families!)

* * *

WE sure do wish we had been in a Pullman smoker the other day as a train wended its way from Washington toward Texas. What happened would have been well worth paying to see and hear.

A group of men were sitting in the smoking compartment, as male train travelers are wont to do, discussing this, that and the other subject and finally a pompous, important looking and quite vocal gentleman got around to the cotton situation.

He hailed from Houston, Texas, it seems, and naturally knew a great deal about everything, including cotton.

* * *

At one point in his conversation, he flatly said:

"Now you take the cotton sections of East and Central Texas. There they always raise from three-quarters of a bale to a bale per acre. But out in the Western part of our state, a farmer does well if he raises one bale to each 20 acres planted."

A quiet, distinguished looking gray-haired man in a corner of the smoker car entered the conversation for the first time. Quietly, he remarked:

"What you say interests me. I am somewhat familiar with Texas and especially with the Western part to which you have referred. When last I noticed the cotton figures—and over a period of years before that—the Congressional district around Lubbock raised more cotton on the average than any other Congressional district in the U. S."

Then he started giving facts and figures.

* * *

THE wise Houstonian saw that he'd run across somebody who had real information and he had no more to say on the subject. He didn't know the identity of the quiet, gray-haired man; probably doesn't know even now that the man with the facts was Judge Marvin Jones, of the U. S. Court of Claims in Washington.

The funny part of the whole business is that Judge Jones is one of the best posted men in the land on agriculture.

He studied the subject for more than a decade as a member of the national House of Representatives; then became the chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture, a post he held for several years. In fact, Judge Jones was mentioned several times as a possible selection as Secretary of Agriculture and during part of the war years served as War Food administrator, a job requiring great knowledge of the farm picture.

* * *

Judge Jones told The Plainsman the Pullman smoker story when visiting here last week. His eyes were twinkling, for he has a grand sense of humor.

But he grew grave as he continued the conversation.

"The trouble is," he said, "the people of the country—even the people Texas, don't yet know about this section. They don't mean to discriminate against us of Northwest Texas. They simply don't know what we have.

"During my years in the Congress, friends from other parts of the country used to ask me in all seriousness, why people lived in the Panhandle-Plains area when they didn't have to. Many of them honestly thought all we have is sandstorms, rattlesnakes, gophers and deserts."

* * *

THE judge, of course, is right.

No matter how good a job we of Northwest Texas have done in telling our true story, it hasn't been good enough.

Someday, somehow, the people of Northwest Texas—those residing north of the T&P tracks and between the 100th meridan and the New Mexico borders—should work out a program through which our true story can and will be unfolded to the nation—starting with Texas.

That is important.

* * *

An Associated Press correspondent says Belgium is recovering from the effects of the war faster than any other country because the people there have buckled down and gone to work.

How oldfashioned of them!

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says it seems to be a rule that how well Santa fills a young woman's stockings is in direct ratio to how well Mother Nature fills them.

* * *

We see by the papers where a court in Chicago awarded a woman $101,000 for the theft of her husband by another woman.

This news likely will cause many a woman to become extremely careless with her husband in the hope that another woman may steal him!

* * *

SOMETIMES we wish this word "screen" had never cropped up in our language because it seems that everything is being "screened" now.

Its use first began during the early days of the war when Selectric Service "screened" the nation's young manhood to get fighting material. Then the Army and the Navy "screened" 'em all over again, to make sure that no man was given a job in the service that was anything like the one he had already learned in civilian life.

Then Congress started "screening" appropriations and committees began "screening" Congress' problems—and the first thing anybody knew the "screening" practice had hopped over into government bureaus and then into civilian life.

* * *

Now hotel managers the country over are "screening" applicants for room reservations; railroad and plane line ticket agents are "screening" applicants for travel privileges; purveyors of various types of merchandise are "screening" their customers—in fact life in the U.S.A. seems largely to be carried on behind one, giant "screen."

We shouldn't be a bit surprised if preachers started "screening" their congregations; deacons began "screening" collections, and missionary societies took to "screening" conversation.

Fact is, even Old Santa might take up the fad if it goes much farther—and heaven forbid!

For our part, we'd like to go back to where all folks try to "screen" is flies!

* * *

WELL, we'd better all get together and decide that 1924 was the year in which snow fell on the South Plains on the Fourth of July. If we don't all agree to 1924, Lee Ragland is going to be "in bad" with the missus for forgetting an important date.

Mr. Ragland, a local farm machinery dealer, says he knows 1924 was the year because he was married on July 3, 1924, and started on his honeymoon the following day. Assuming that Mr. Ragland's memory as to his wedding day is better than that of most men who have been married 20 years or more, we'll throw in with him in the matter.

"We started to Dallas on the afternoon of July 4, 1924," Mr. Ragland recalls. "I was in the automobile business then and I had a brand new Nash touring car. We put up the curtains (there were very few closed cars in those days) and wore overcoats and gloves. It was sort of misting and there was snow in the mist. I remember it well."

So unless someone can bring up more proof than Mr. Ragland, 1924 is going to be the "snow-on-the-Fourth" year from here on out!

Feminine Viewpoint

THREE and a half years overseas, now back and a civilian. His wife and kids ought to be happy, it seems.

MILLETT

But for them the separation hasn't ended. His work is in a different city from the one in which they made their home during his absence. And he can't find a house or apartment for them.

So they are in one town, and he is living in another.

Not a pretty picture. But it isn't an unusual story. We are getting the men back home, but that is no assurance they can find a place to live with their families. Families who were together throughout the war are still together, and many of the families who were separated throughout the war still must live apart.

Maybe the answer in part to such unfairness can be found in the bill Rep. Wright Patman of Texas proposes to introduce in Congress.

The bill would:

1. Give veterans priority to get materials and supplies to build modest-priced houses.

2. Give veterans priority in renting new homes during the transition, just as war workers were given preference during the war.

* * *

CONSCIENCE IS NEEDED

BUT that can't be the whole answer. It won't give enough of the servicemen a break soon enough. Something else is needed—and that is a public conscience. One that would persuade any landlord with apartments or houses to rent or any family who rents a spare bedroom to give first chance at their dwellings to veterans who have seen overseas service, and that would make other would-be renters reluctant to try to beat out veterans in the rush for houses.

ALL THAT IS NEEDED IS PROOF

Criticism of a war ally is not an American monopoly. An examination of recent Russian publications and speeches finds them filled with complaints, not only about the United States but also about Britain, Sweden, Spain, the Vatican and almost every other country.

They are all out of step but Joe.

A few sample quotations from Soviet sources will disclose what the Russians are thinking.

A distinguished publicist accuses one section of the American press of "disseminating calumny and falsehoods." He contends it piles "one fantastic invention on top of another in order to put Americans at loggerheads with the Soviet union."

"When (a New York newspaper) said that the Soviet government was not demobilizing the Red army, that was not a mere rumor; that was a lie with a purpose—to propagandize ideas borrowed from Hitler."

"The United States," declares Pravada, "is trying to use the atomic bomb as a political weapon to blackmail the Soviet union. "The atomic bomb," alleges New Times, "served as a signal to incorrigible reactionaries to launch a lynching party against the Soviet union."

The Moscow radio asserts, "The breakdown of the London session of the Council of Foreign Ministers, the atomic bomb problem and the Allied policy in Germany and Far Eastern affairs are utilized to lend color to the malicious assertion that a war between Russia and the Anglo-Saxon countries is inevitable."

But, while the Russian press and radio and lower-drawer officials have been quick to fling criticism at other nations, there have been indications among top Soviet officials that they seek amity and cooperation—at least to a degree—in international undertakings. Up to the moment, Russia has not gobbled up any of China, which she has had good opportunity to do. Russia has not pushed its way into Italy and Greece and has kicked up but little fire over a hand in governing Japan. And these are the words of Foreign Minister Molotov, announced to a Soviet assembly: "The Soviet union has been and will be a bulwark of protecting the peace and security of the nations and is willing to prove it by deeds, not words."

At the current conference of "Big Three" ministers in Moscow, Secretary of State Byrnes doubtless has put it up to Molotov to make that statement good.

Army Private Blasts Brass Hats
Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—To every G. I. in the United States Army and every G. I. already out, biggest news last week wasn't General Marshall's testimony before the congressional Pearl Harbor committee, or the General Motors strike, or the British Parliament loan.

It was the story about Pvt. George L. Mark's lethal lambasting of War department brass hats during testimony before the House Military Affairs committee while a score of generals and colonels listened in red-faced amazement.

PEARSON

What the buck private did was what millions of his buddies have dreamed of doing—speaking their minds about their brass-hat overlords with full protection against disciplinary action. The House committee guaranteed this protection and Private Mark, a 37-year-old Clevelander about to be discharged, made the most of it.

Justified or not, every barracks "lawyer" would agree that Mark's charges made beautiful G. I. reading. Flaying the military chiefs with such names as "Pentagon Boy Scouts," "bemedaled four-flushers" and "aristrocratic phonies," the bald-pated G. I. declared: "They want a large Army to retain their ranks. These brass hats don't like work. If they did, they wouldn't be in the Army."

Capitol newsman William Arbogast later asked on of the major generals who listened to the tirade if Private Mark's discharge would be held up and if his explosive comments would fetch him a "blue discharge."

"Hell, no," replied the general. "We'd have this committee on our heads if anything like that happened. This boy is due to be discharged tomorrow and he'll get an honorable one—right on time. We're not going to waste any time letting him out of the army."

TRUMAN'S IRISH BLOOD

THE Friendly Sons of St. Patrick claim they have chalked up real progress in making an Irishman out of President Truman.

At a recent Sons banquet, which Truman attended, it was brought out that his forebears were Irishmen named Tremaine. So officials of the organization called at the White House the other day to offer Truman an honorary membership.

"We have already voted you in at an executive meeting," James Colliflower, president of the society, announced. "We'd be delighted to have you accept and attend our next St. Patrick's day dinner."

Barring out-of-town business, Truman said he would be on hand for the dinner.

"I don't see any reason why I shouldn't accept an honorary membership in the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, also," he added. "But do you think I qualify?"

"Certainly you qualify, Mr. President," spoke up Martin J. McNamara, popular Washington attorney. "George Washington was a member. He joined the society in Philadelphia after it was organized in 1774. Unless I am mistaken, you would be the second president in history who became an honorary member of the Friendly Sons."

Truman replied that in that case they could count him in and thanked his visitors for the compliment.

* * *

THE MAN CONGRESS TRUSTS

HE didn't get in the headlines, but the man largely responsible for passage of Truman's government reorganization bill was Comptroller General Lindsay Warren, for 16 years a leading member of Congress.

Not only do both Republicans and Democrats trust him, but it was Warren's forthright testimony before the Senate and House committees that brought Congress out of its lethargy. Warren watched the bill like a hen with one chick all during its progress through Congress.

Three others also deserving credit are Jack Cochran of Missouri, Will Whittington of Mississippi, and Senator Abe Murdock of Utah. President Truman's friends say they wish this team could handle more of his measures.

Few people realize how sweeping the new reorganization act is. It goes beyond anything ever given Roosevelt. Result is that Truman is now on a very definite hot spot. He told Congress he could do the reorganization job if given authority. Congress has now given him the authority. That authority will expire April 1, 1948. What people are now watching is whom Truman will get to advise him. If he turns the reorganization job over to political appeasers, the new reorganization act will lay an egg.

STASSEN VOWS 'EM

HAROLD STASSEN won congressional friends last week at an off-the-record session of first-term and second-term Republican congressmen. After speaking briefly, he invited questions from congressmen.

While he didn't reveal anything significant that he hadn't already said in public statements, members came away with the rare feeling that Stassen had not dodged a single question thrown at him.

Fresh out of his Navy uniform, Stassen called for a limited form of unification of the Army and the Navy—referring particularly to procurement and the duplication of airfields. At the same time he insisted that "the U. S. Navy is the best outfit in the world."

Asked about how he would advise handling the atom bomb, Stassen declared that it is "time for government to catch up with the scientists. They are far ahead of the politicians now, and public policy-makers must catch up with them if we are to handle the terrifying things which they devise, for the best interest of the people."

The United States and Russia must and can get along together, Stassen said. "The important thing which Americans and Russians must learn is that the people of both lands want peace." He added that he could understand how the Russians could be suspicious when our government opposes their international policies, yet has not a set plan of its own.

"They can't see what direction we're going in, and so I can understand that they feel suspicious," he said.

As he finished, Senator William Stanfill of Kentucky, who succeeded baseball czar Happy Chandler, remarked: "Mr. Stassen, let me congratulate you on your courage and your clarity."

Note—Absent from the question period was Rep. Charley La Follette of Indiana. Once he was charged by colleagues with "leaking" to this columnist. To avoid a repetition of such charges, La Follette left early.

THE GENERAL SPEAKS

THE other day in Manila, Cpl. Sidney Blum, assistant "mail bag" editor of the Daily Pacifican, Army newspaper for troops in the Philippines, telephoned Brig. Gen. G. C. Stewart, chief of transportation section, for information he needed to answer a soldier's queries.

"This is the Pacifican calling, General," began Blum. "Will you please——"

That was as far as he got.

"I refuse to answer your questions!" the general roared. "The Pafician prints nothing but lies! I'll not answer your qestions on shipping or anything else!"

He banged down the receiver.

LOUIS SHURR, the corpulent theatrical agent, is the hero of many Broadway fables. Shurr is said to own a sable coat and an emerald necklace with which he adorns the girl he is escorting.

When he bids her good night, he takes the wrap and necklace home with him.

Shurr is hard to impress. An actor is said to have burst into his office one day; when he took off his hat, Shurr observed that four daisies and a stalk of asparagus were growing right out of his head. "I think I've got something for Ripley," said the actor. "Why?" said Shurr.

A vaudevillian proposed a novel turn to him on another occasion. "I dive off a gallery box onto the stage," he explained, "Committing suicide right in front of the audience. It'll wow them."

"Could be," agreed Shurr, without too much enthusiasm. "But what'll you do for an encore?"

Present Legislation Not Much Help To Homeless Vets
High Prices Scare Off Prospective Buyers

By MARQUIS CHILDS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — Of the 1,000,000 men a month being discharged from the services, at least 400,000 are looking for new homes. As this goes on month after month, the housing situation daily grows more acute.

Whether the action taken by the White House goes far enough is a question worrying those who have studied the problem. The danger is that while it will be widely heralded as a measure to help veterans, it will in reality not give very much help.

CHILDS

In allocating materials, the President's order applies a cut-off — for the benefit of veterans — on dwellings costing not more than $10,000. This can mean a concentration at around that figure with practically nothing in the $6,000 $7,500 class.

Surveys made by the Army show that two-thirds of all returning veterans who want homes feel that they cannot pay more than $50 a month either in rent or in carrying charges. That means at most a $6,000 house.

* * *

Price Is Prohibitive

For most American families $10,000 has always been a prohibitive price. That is the weakness in the presidential order.

Without additional legislation, price ceilings cannot be fixed on either new or old houses. Unless Congress acts quickly to pass Rep. Wright Patman's bill with its relatively simple control provision, the speculative boom will go on.

Without such legislation, the new housing expediter, Wilson W. Wyatt, former mayor of Louisville, will find his job an almost hopeless one. All the expediting in the world will not produce, as reconversion director John W. Snyder pointed out, more than 500,000 housing units in 1946 and that is a very optimistic figure.

* * *

WYATT is an excellent choice. As mayor of Louisville for four years, he did a really constructive job of city administration. He is intensely hard working, conscientious and yet with a saving sense of humor.

To the so-called expediter, the public and particularly the veterans, will look for a solution of the housing jam. But if the powers are lacking to set prices and take off some of the pressure, expediter Wyatt may find himself a scapegoat in an impossible situation.

Looming up already is an ever sterner struggle which will come next year. That will be over rent controls.

They expire, along with the whole OPA, on June 30. Chester Bowles of OPA has insisted that these controls must be continued. More recently others in the administration who were luke-warm or indifferent have come to see what dynamite is in this housing question and they have supported Bowles.

* * *

Goes Before Manufacturers

Bowles played Daniel in the lion's den the other day in boldly going before the convention of the National Association of Manufacturers to argue for continuation of federal controls. The NAM had recommended that all wartime restrictions be removed by February 15.

On that occasion Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio chose to play to the NAM galleries by ridiculing the control argument. He got a big hand.

The strategy of those who would eliminate federal control is to insist that rents can be held in line by local authorities. The catch in this is that local authorities are much more subject to local pressures.

* * *

TODAY, in New York, one of the more congested areas in the country, landlords are offering tenants contracts beyond next June 30 at 25 to 40 per cent increases. The tenant is being told that this is a favor to him since rent control is to be abolished with the certainty of a jump in rents of 50 per cent or more.

The astonishing thing is to find responsible business men in the NAM backing a runaway boom which would almost certainly have serious consequences if, indeed, it did not precipitate a disastrous crash. NAM president Ira Mosher solemnly argues that prices have nothing to do with collective bargaining and wages.

It will be a fierce battle. But with so many millions of families in the tenant category it is hard to see how Congress can throw controls overboard.

GOOD NEIGHBOR POLICY

CHICAGO, (AP)—Adela Rodriguez of Caracas, Venezuela, a delegate to the national 4-H congress, saw the "good neighbor" policy in operation yesterday.

The 20-year-old extension student at the University of New Hampshire, Durham, N. H., lost $115 and her return train ticket in a loop theater just before the close of the congress.

But her fellow 4-H'ers, at a farewell luncheon, took up a collection and presented Adela with $115.09.

FREED UNDER BOND

CHICAGO, (AP)—Municipal Judge John T. Zuris was tried and found guilty in his own courtroom—in a "kangaroo court" proceeding—and was sentenced by a Congressional Medal of Honor winner to buy a $1,000 war bond.

Judge Zuris agreed to comply. He had been charged with failing to lead the Lithuanian nationality group of Chicago over the top in its Victory bond sales campaign. T/Sgt. Stanley Bender of Chicago imposed the "sentence."

HORSE HOLIDAY

CHICAGO, (AP) — Christmas cheer is coming to old Dobbin.

On Christmas morning each of the city's 1,000 neediest nags will receive a present from the anti-cruelty society—a six-pound bag of oats, bran, apples, carrots, corn and shorts. The oldest and coldest will get blankets.

Even the "underprivileged" animals" owners will be remembered—with the society's 10 commandments on the care of horses.

Six Killed As Plane Crashes

FORT WORTH, Dec. 19. (U.P.)—Six men were killed when a twin-engined PBY U. S. coast guard patrol bomber, with one engine missing and the other throwing oil, crashed in a field on the Hicks-Ross farm 15 miles north of here yesterday afternoon.

The U. S. Naval Air station at Dallas said the plane, flying westward through a heavy overcast, had aboard two coast guard pilot officers, two coast guard enlisted men and two Army enlisted men. The plane had taken off from the coast guard base at Biloxi, Miss., and had clearance to El Paso.

Went Into Steep Dive

Harry White, jr., 17, an eyewitness to the crash, said the ship dropped into a steep dive, struck the ground and caught fire before any of the crew and passengers could use their parachutes.

"The plane was not on fire before it crashed, but one engine seemed to be cut out," young White said.

Naval authorities said an Army guard had been posted over the wreckage and that salvage of the aircraft will be handled by the Marine Corps Air station.

Names of the victims will not be released by the Navy until next of kin have been officially notified.

Allies To Set Date Of Japan's Election

TOKYO, Dec. 19. (AP)—Allied officials will set the date of Japan's next election after they have taken all possible precautions to insure its fairness—possibly even declaring the more notorious or old-line Japanese politicians ineligible for office — authoritative American sources declared today.

Japanese sources said the cabinet of Premier Kijuro Shidehara decided today upon Jan. 22 as the election date, but Allied headquarters ordered the announcement withheld pending its final approval. It must be approved not only by headquarters here but by Washington, the American officials explained.

News Briefs

The condition of Mrs. T. B. Smith of 2023 Sixteenth, who suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Monday night, was said to be "critical" by attendants at West Texas hospital today.

Firemen said slight damage resulted when a car caught fire about 9:30 a. m. near the postoffice.

Wayne Kelley, 33, of 2708 Twentieth remained in West Texas hospital today for treatment of a broken jaw and contusions of the chest, occasioned about 10 p. m. Tuesday when his car was in collision with another about nine miles north of Lubbock on the Plainview highway.

Ishmael Hill, principal of Central Ward school, attended funeral services in Canyon Monday for his brother, Edward Fairy Hill, who died Saturday of injuries suffered Friday night in a car accident on the Canyon-Amarillo highway. Mr. and Mrs. Hill and three children, Merl, Bobby Jack and Carolyn, will leave Friday for Canyon where they will spend the Christmas holidays. Following the holidays, the family will go to Nashville, Tenn., where Hill will attend the George P. Peabody college for teachers for the next nine months. He has a leave of absence from the Lubbock schools and will return next September as director of elementary education.

Finis Lewis, 40, a negro, was in county jail today on a charge of forgery of an $18 check. District Attorney Burton S. Burks said the arrest followed investigation into the story of the man's wife: She had money in the bank, went to a hospital for surgery and gave a check that "bounced." Investigation, he said, disclosed Lewis had claimed to a white man that he couldn't write, so had induced the white man to write several checks the negro claimed he was authorized to pass. The name of the wife was signed by the white man, who appended: "His mark." The negro placed an "X" beside the appendage. The account of the wife was almost exhausted by the series of checks, Burks said he had been informed.

Three O'Donnell men who were taken to the police station early today after they allegedly were found in possession of a case and a half of beer and who subsequently were charged with drunkenness explained horse hair on a fender of their car by telling a story of having run into a wagon and team sometime before midnight, police said. The sheriffs of Lynn and Dawson counties were investigating, but the state highway patrol, to whom the case had been referred, had not learned the name of the wagon and team's owner early this afternoon, or the place of the collision. Police said the men claimed they had not stopped after the collision. Two of them were fined $15 each for drunkenness. The third pleaded innocent, and a bond was set for him. Their car was badly damaged, investigators said.

Donald R. Stewart, husband of Mrs. Betty Jo Stewart of route 5, Lubbock, has returned home after receiving his discharge from the Army Air Forces. He served as an AAF gunnery school instructor three years.

Short Stories Help Housewife Pay Bills

SAGINAW, Mich., Dec. 19. — Mrs. Ernest Caesar, alias Eunice Lee Caesar, had proved today that you don't have to go very far from the front door of your home to conceive top-notch fiction stories . . . or non-fiction, if you will.

The mother of three grown children, Mrs. Caesar is earning wide recognition as a writer of short stories. Her likes and dislikes, she admitted, are quite ordinary. But her stories aren't.

Idea For New Story

Her idea for her latest story, "Love Me, Love Vanilla," came after a trip back home to a tiny West Florida town. Her mother's little dog, actually named Vanilla, ruled his worshipping mistress. The rest, however, is fiction—the love story of a soldier and a Southern girl, and the spoiled Vanilla's part in the proceedings.

Mrs. Caeser completed the story in one week.

The portable typewriter parked in the middle of the Caesar living room now is being used for a book-length novel on married life, "I Meant To Tell You."

Mrs. Caesar said she has averaged $15 a week in her 8 years of writing, making housekeeping a little easier.

COMPRESS IS BURNED

HOBART, Okla., Dec. 19. (AP)—Flames swept the Traders Compress here at daybreak today, causing damage estimated by Manager Ted Shriner at $500,000.

The California - Arizona citrus industry set a record by shipping 140,544 cars of fresh fruit during the 1944-45 season.

Storm Troops Spread Terror

NUERNBERG, Dec. 19 (AP)—One brigade of Hitler's brown-shirted storm troopers alone blew up or burned 35 synagogues in a two-day outbreak of anti-Jewish terrorism, American prosecutors told the international military tribunal today.

Evidence of violence and terror from the storm troopers' own records was presented to the tribunal in the prosecution's effort to place war crimes convictions against thousands of lesser Nazis, as well as the score of Hitler's top henchmen sitting in the courtroom prisoners box.

Organized For Terror

Col. Robert G. Storey, of Dallas, Texas, assistant U. S. prosecutor, said the brown shirted storm troopers, also known as the SA, were organized before Hitler's rise to power "to beat up and terrorize all political opponents."

The SA is the third Nazi organization to have its secrets laid before the court. The prosecution contends six organizations should be convicted as criminal groups and their members should automatically be held guilty of war crimes.

Evidence already has been presented against the Nazi leadership corps and the Reich cabinet.

Already filed with the court are more than 30,000 applications from individual Nazis belonging to the accused organizations who are asking for permission to appear to defend themselves.

"Grand Old Gals" Of Railroad Line Retire

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Dec. 19. (U.P.)—The two "grand old gals" of the Grand Trunk Railroad had retired today after working 30 years together with "nary a cross word."

The women are Mrs. Grace Ford and Miss Della Henry. They are cousins. Together, the pair's service record covers 69 years.

Miss Henry began her career with the railroad in May, 1909, when she gave up teaching to work in the dining car department of the local station. Mrs. Ford became a file clerk for the railroad in February, 1913. And on June 16, the following year, both entered the superintendent's office.

Husband Killed In 1907

Mrs. Ford left her household duties at that time following the death of her husband, who was electrocuted during the spectacular Fourth of July fire in 1907. Mr. Ford had been employed as a lineman in the telegraph department of the company.

In addition to pensions they will receive, the company has provided free transportation through the Grand Trunk for the "grand old gals." Both are looking forward to traveling, and are in excellent health.

Mrs. Ford is the mother of two daughters, and Miss Henry lives with her brother, M. P. Henry, and his family.

Mrs. Ford and Miss Henry admitted they have had a long time "to think over" their plans following retirement.

They explained simply, "we're just going to gad."

Calvert Boosted For Gubernatorial Race

HILLSBORO, Dec. 19. (U.P.)—Joe W. Patterson, organization chairman for the Calvert-for-Governor club, said today that "messages are coming in from all over the state urging the candidacy of Hill county's Robert W. Calvert."

Patterson said that plans for the formal entry of Calvert into the gubernatorial race will be completed tomorrow night at a mass meeting here. However, when contacted, Calvert refused to comment on his present political status, saying:

"The matter is in the hands of my friends; I will abide by their decision."

G. B. DeWeese Dies In Local Hospital

George B. DeWeese, 81, of 1724 Thirteenth, died at 11 o'clock Tuesday night in St. Mary's hospital. He had lived in Lubbock five years.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at Bryan McDonald and Son Funeral home chapel with Rev. George Dale officiating.

The body will be sent near Little Rock, Ark., for burial.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. A. L. Harris of Lubbock; a son, Rex of La Jara, Colo.; two grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

PATTON IMPROVING

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Dec. 19. (AP)—The condition of Gen. George S. Patton, jr., recovering from a broken neck, was described as excellent by Army medical officers today.

Stock Market

INDUSTRIALS UP

NEW YORK, Dec. 19 (AP) — Selected industrials advanced fractions to more than a point in today's stock market but there were a good number of issues unchanged or slightly lower.
Rails, a leader most of the session, were mixed at the close while steels, rubbers, retail stores, aircrafts and utilities generally were fractionally higher at the finish.
Transfers approximated 1,000,000 shares against 1,350,000 yesterday.
Higher were Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, United Air Lines, Electric Power & Light, Kennecott, Allied Chemical, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central (at a new yearly high), Texas Co., and American News.
Laggards included U. S. Steel, International Harvester, American Telephone, Phelps Dodge, American Can, Westinghouse and American Smelting.
Bonds were steady.

Two Women Die In Rooming House Fire

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 19 (U.P.) —Two elderly women were killed and two other persons injured today in a rooming house fire here.

Mrs. Ada Howell, 65, crippled woman confined to a wheel chair, and Mrs. Minnie Barclay, 74, were suffocated in the dense cloud of smoke. Firemen found the body of Mrs. Howell in the wheel chair, wedged in the stairway. She apparently had attempted to get downstairs from her second floor room.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Brown were injured in jumping from their third floor room window. Neither was in serious condition but they were taken to General hospital for treatment.

Britain Asks UNO Site In East U. S.

LONDON, Dec. 19 (AP) — Great Britain urged the United Nations preparatory commission today to consider a small town "in the east of the United States" as the permanent home of the United Nations organization.

The British delegation presented the commission an official document listing considerations which it said should be taken into account in picking the site.

A member of the British delegation said the recommendation could be interpreted as favoring a town "not too close to Washington."

TEA AT PALACE

LONDON, Dec. 19. (AP)—Britain's royal family entertained more than 180 members of the American Red Cross staff for nearly two hours yesterday at a Christmas tea in Buckingham palace.

Fight Looms Over Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP) — The Pearl Harbor committee called an executive session for late today to consider how much longer the five-week-old inquiry shall continue — a question that may eventually bring on a hot fight in Congress.

This was disclosed by Chairman Barkley (D-Ky), as the Senate-House investigators received records showing that in the spring of 1941 the Japanese were convinced that the United States was reading some of their secret codes.

Reports Not Confirmed

Barkley, who returned to the committee after several days illness, did not confirm reports that Democrats will favor only a 30-day extension of the hearing beyond Jan. 3, the date originally set for its conclusion.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) is opposed to such a limitation, saying the inquiry should go on as long as necessary. He has estimated this may take an additional 60 or 90 days.

Committee Counsel William D. Mitchell and his staff have served notice they intend to quit early in January. Senator Lucas (D-Ill) told reporters there was little chance of persuading the legal staff to continue beyond that time.

Christmas Parties

Christmas programs, trees and music were featured by the individual rooms. Mrs. H. J. Matejowsky, a Girl Scout leader, acted as Santa Claus and visited all of the rooms.

Mothers Plan Parties

The room mothers planned the room parties and provided refreshments, trees and decorations. The trees will be presented to the Salvation Army.

The P.-T.A. and teachers of Central Ward sponsored room parties, trees and refreshments for the school today. The fourth, fifth and sixth grades of George R. Bean presented a Christmas program and music this morning at the school. This afternoon each room exchanged gifts by drawing names and refreshments were provided by parents.

Carols Are Sung

A group of students under the direction of Miss Imogene Webster sang carols in the halls of K. Carter school this morning. The afternoon was to be devoted to classroom trees and programs.

The room mothers of Sanders treated the school children following classroom parties this afternoon.

McWhorter and George M. Hunt schools held classroom parties and Christmas trees Tuesday afternoon. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served by parents, teachers and students.

Dicken's "Christmas Carol" was presented at an assembly this afternoon in the Senior High school auditorium. Following the assembly, school was dismissed for the holidays.

As has been the custom the last 10 years, pupils of Dupre school brought gifts for presentation to the Goodfellows. The room mothers sponsored class parties and trees at the school Tuesday.

German Losses

Force dead as of Aug. 11, 1942. On that same date, Hitler announced that only 350,000 Germans had been killed.

The report also listed these casualties:

Polish campaign—16,843 dead, 320 missing.

Africa—10,013 dead (this figure is blurred on the photographic copy of the German records), 90,052 missing.

Western front—Up to June 1, 1944, six days before D-day, 66,106 dead, 3,218 missing. From June to Dec. 1, 1944, 54,764 dead, 338,033 missing.

The Balkans and Greek islands —24,207 dead, 12,060 missing.

Gen. Knudsen Speaks Before Houston C-C

HOUSTON, Dec. 19 (U.P.) — If its people use their common sense America will win the peace, Lt. Gen. William S. Knudsen, retiring director of war production, last night told the Houston Chamber of Commerce.

"We are a powerful nation now," he said. "The whole world has respect for us, but it will try to take advantage of us. Only the good, hard common sense of America will save us."

Then Knudsen gave his formula for the coming years:

"First, we must reinstate individual pride in workmanship.

"Second we must have a revival of pride in the home. That is the real backbone of the country.

"And third we must have pride in our country and its unlimited opportunities."

At the meeting Paul J. Neff, executive vice president of the Missouri Pacific lines was introduced as new president of the chamber of commerce.

Japan Control May Be Talked

MOSCOW, Dec. 19. (AP)—While authoritative quarters said the atomic problem still was of uppermost importance as the "Big Three" foreign ministers went into the fourth day of their "exploratory" talks today the question of control of Japan appeared to be looming bigger in the picture.

Although the talks were cloaked in the strictest secrecy, observers attached significance to the fact that one of the advisors of Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov at yesterday's conference was Y. A. Malik, last Russian ambassador to Japan.

They also pointed out that U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes conferred yesterday morning with John Carter Vincent, head of the Far Eastern section of the State department, as well as Dr. James B. Conant, atomic expert of the American delegation. Vincent later accompanied Byrnes to the meeting of the foreign ministers.

Iran Question Studied

Another question reported to be high on the agenda was the Iranian problem. Both Byrnes and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin conferred with their Iranian experts shortly after publication of a new statement by Iranian Prime Minister Ibrahim Hakimi yesterday appealing to the United States, Great Britain and Russia to withdraw their troops from Iran.

There was no announcement after yesterday's meeting.

Persons present at the gathering emphasized again the cordial atmosphere which prevailed. The progress so far was pictured as follows: The first session was taken up with routine procedural matters, the second was devoted to filing papers by all three sides and getting the discussions lined up, and the third was devoted to exploration of the issues.

Warships Will Be Docked Christmas

NEW YORK, Dec. 19 (AP)—The Third Naval district today announced that 104 warships—an armada more than twice as large as the 47-ship fleet that anchored in the Hudson river on Navy day, Oct. 27—would be berthed in New York harbor Christmas day.

They will be here in keeping with an order by Navy Secretary James Forrestal that all personnel possible be permitted Christmas leave or liberty.

Twenty-one classes of fighting ships will be at docks in Manhattan, Brooklyn, Staten Island and New Jersey, including battleships cruisers, destroyers, submarines and their tenders, minelayers and ammunication ships, freighters and transport, landing craft and submarine chasers.

The battleships New York, North Carolina, Missouri and Washington and six carriers including the Enterprise and Franklin Delano Roosevelt, were included in the list of Navy vessels already in port or on the way here.

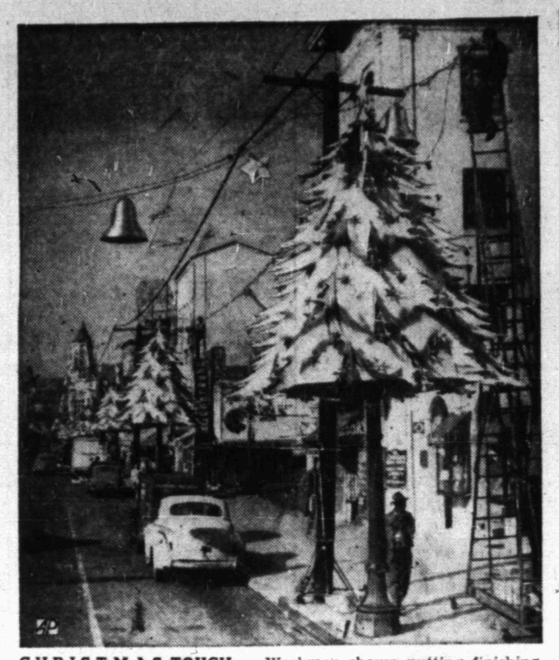

Would-Be Holdup Foiled By Teller

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19 (AP) — Just before closing time at the California bank Tuesday, a man walked to the window of Mrs. Nora Micek, a teller, showed her a paper sack, and commanded: "Give me all the money you've got. I've got a gun here."

Somehow, the 35-year-old Mrs. Micek wasn't convinced. The man seemed etremely nervous.

"To heck with you mister," she shouted as she slammed the window shut and the bank alarm was sounded.

SLAP BREAKS ANKLE

INDIANAPOLIS (U.P.)—A glass of ice water can be a dangerous thing. One glass cost James Harrington a slap in the face and a broken ankle. Harrington was overly insistent after a waitress told him there was no ice, so she slapped, he slipped, and the net result was one broken ankle.

Tech Red Raiders Add To Schedule

Texas Tech's Red Raiders added two games to the basketball schedule yesterday, one of them a pre-Christmas battle Friday night, Coach Polk Robison announced last night.

The Abilene Christian college five will invade the Tech gym the night of Saturday, Jan. 12 for an additional home game.

Friday night the Red Raiders will go to Phillips for a game with the Phillips Men's club quintet.

Seventeen games were on the original Tech schedule. Robison said negotiations are on for two or more games on the road during the mid-semester period of Jan. 28-30. Indications are military teams will be met.

Officials For Bowl Game Are Selected

DALLAS, Dec. 19. (AP)—Dwight Ream of Washburn college will referee the New Year's Cotton bowl game between Texas university and the University of Missouri, Game Director James E. Stewart announced yesterday.

Jimmy Higgins of Southern Methodist will be umpire, Charles Swartz of Rice field judge and Louis House of the University of Iowa head linesman.

$400 IN QUARTERS

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U.P.)—When Phil Schneider, jr., arrived home recently after 37 months in the Army, his parents had an unusual surprise for him—a can containing $400 in quarters they saved during the last two years.

Schneider, whose overseas jaunt took him around the world, said he is ready to settle down. He and his wife plan to use the surprise money in buying a home.
