Truck Service Coming To Halt In Western Area

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A paralyzing strike and lockout shutdown of truck transport spread today over 11 Western states.

By tomorrow, declared an industry spokesman, the 2½ million dollar a day operations of 150,000 trucks by 1,600 transport firms will be halted completely by a wage dispute in California's Central Valley.

An estimated 100,000 men will be idled in Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Utah, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, and California.

Freight on hand or on the road when the Central Valley Teamsters went on picket lines yesterday morning will be delivered. But new shipments have been embargoed by regional trucking associations represented by the employers' Western States Labor Policy Committee.

PERISHABLES HAULED

Employers and the Teamsters have agreed that such perishables as milk and vegetables will go through. President Einar O. Mohn of the Western Conference of Teamsters said a committee has been organized to arrange transportation of emergency freight and all goods under government bills of lading.

The Labor Policy Committee dispatched the lockout order after the Teamster Union's Sacramento Joint Council 38, with 2,350 drivers in eight California cities and Reno, Nev., went on strike for wage parity with Oakland, Calif., drivers.

After a 10-day strike, the Oakland local last week won a one-year contract granting a $1.60-a-day wage boost plus new vacation and pension benefits. Employers said the Oakland local package ranges from $4 to $4.57 a day in six counties under the Oakland agreement. These are Alameda, Contra Costa, Solano, Santa Cruz, Santa Clara and Monterey.

The Oakland contract scale ranges from $2.45 to $2.72 an hour. The present Sacramento Council scale is $2.25 an hour.

DEMANDS IMPOSSIBLE

The employers declared the Sacramento Council's parity demands were impossible. The employer group contends the Sacramento Council is bound by a memorandum of agreement signed last May 27 to cover all union bargaining units in the West except the Bay area.

The memorandum provided a 10-cents-an-hour wage boost in each year of a three-year contract plus a 5-cent increase in pension contributions in 1960.

The Sacramento Council declared its pickup and delivery drivers refused to ratify the memorandum agreement terms.

Hedy To Receive 3 G's A Month

HOUSTON (AP) —Movie Actress Hedy Lamarr's separation agreement with her oilman husband grants her a life income of at least $3,000 a month.

Provisions of the agreement between the actress and Howard Lee, her estranged husband, were made public in the agreement filed with the Harris County clerk's office yesterday.

It provided that she will receive $3,000 a month or one-half of Lee's income after taxes, whichever is larger.

William Kraker, Miss Lamarr's lawyer, announced the signing of the agreement in Los Angeles Friday. He was named trustee.

Missile Intercepts Another Missile

WHITE SANDS, N.M. (AP) — The Army's new Kingfisher target missile, slashing across this test center at supersonic speed, was successfully intercepted by the Talos antiaircraft guided missile today.

It was the nation's first publicized firing of an antiaircraft weapon against the new target missile which matches the speed of any known tactical aircraft in the world.

Right-Of-Way Policy Under Court Test

AUSTIN (AP)—A law provision which affects private and city-owned utility companies and the state highway construction program is unconstitutional, Dist. Judge Harris Gardner was told today.

Asst. Atty. Gen. John Webster started the state's presentation in a test suit on a provision of House Bill 179 passed by the last Legislature. Acting on behalf of the Highway Commission, the attorney general filed suit against the cities of Austin and Dallas and various privately-owned utility companies in both cities.

The section under attack provides that the Highway Commission will reimburse private and public utility companies for costs incurred while relocating their facilities to clear right of way for the interstate highway system.

"Our position is that the various utility companies have an obligation to move their facilities at their expense when located on public right of way property," Webster said.

"Our fundamental contention is that six sections of the Constitution prohibit paying for relocating the utilities."

TO SUPREME COURT

Gardner said the case probably would be appealed to the Supreme Court.

The Highway Commission said last May its policy would be to require utility owners to move facilities at their own expense but the companies would be reimbursed if the court held the state responsible.

Webster said the federal law authorizing payment for relocation of facilities on interstate highways was not valid in Texas.

The federal government would pay for 90 per cent of the relocation costs if the state took part in the program. The other 10 per cent expense would be borne by the state.

Officials War Over Gambling

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Open warfare flared today among Terre Haute, Ind., officials as a federal grand jury went into its second day investigating a shattered multi-million-dollar gambling syndicate which once operated in their city.

The first shot was fired by Vigo County prosecutor John Jett when he was subpoenaed last night as a witness.

Jett accused Terre Haute Mayor Ralph Tucker, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor two years ago, and Police Chief Frank Riddle of refusing to listen to his demands for breaking up the syndicate.

If Tucker and Riddle had gone along with his suggestions, the prosecutor said, the international bookie joint could have been closed long before federal agents shut it down in a raid Nov. 29.

Jett also is a Democrat but long has been a factional foe of Tucker.

More than 160 big-time gamblers, bookies and wealthy men from coast to coast said to have made bets with the syndicate will appear before the grand jury before the two-week hearings are over.

Posse Searching For Missing Boy

BORGER (AP)— A posse on horseback searched a wide Panhandle area today looking for Tommy Joe Wilborn, 13, missing since last Wednesday. The disappearance was reported only yesterday.

Sheriff Hugh Anderson led the search around the Borger, Phillips and Buena Vista areas.

Offshore Drilling Started By Japan

TOKYO (AP)—This country's first offshore oil drilling platform will be officially launched in the Sea of Japan Aug. 25, Japan Petroleum Exploration Co. announced today.

The platform which was bought from R. G. LeTourneau, Inc., of Longview, Tex., this spring is in the process of being assembled with the help of American engineers from Texas at Tsuchizaki Port in Akita Prefecture.

The self-contained "portable island" is similar to other oil drilling platforms which the Longview firm has built for operations off the U.S. Gulf Coast.

It was bought under a ½ million dollar contract which called for the Texas firm to supply component parts and technical guidance.

Another High-Level Nuclear Blast Sighted Over Pacific

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States exploded a nuclear device at Johnston Island today. The brilliant flash lit up Hawaiian skies.

U. S. Pacific Command headquarters announced the explosion occurred at 12:30 a. m. Hawaii time.

Rooftop observers in Hawaii saw the flash from the Johnston area, 700 miles southwest of Honolulu, turn to a rose color and gradually fade.

On Aug. 1, a high-level explosion of a nuclear warhead from Johnston startled thousands of Hawaii residents as a mushroom cloud rose in the Hawaiian sky.

This morning's blast did not appear quite so spectacular.

Advance warning of the shot brought thousands of Hawaii residents to their rooftops.

In Washington, the Atomic Energy Commission put out this terse explanation in a statement:

"The test detonation of a nuclear warhead in a missile occurred above the Johnston Island area in the Pacific today. The test is part of the Hardtack nuclear weapons test series."

Observers said the flare of the explosion was visible only for some two or three seconds.

A Weather Bureau spokesman declined to estimate the altitude of this morning's blast. The Bureau said the explosion Aug. 1 was at about 20,000 feet.

When the first of the Operation Hardtack series was fired Aug. 1, some spectators thought Pearl Harbor had been attacked.

Today's blast came on the heels of a report by a 15-nation U. N. Scientific Committee Sunday that even a slow increase in world radioactivity from nuclear tests and other sources endanger mankind's future health.

While agreeing unanimously that even the smallest amounts of radiation may cause harmful genetic and perhaps physical effects, the committee turned down a Soviet demand that they call for an immediate end to nuclear tests.

Senate Refuses To Vote Cut In Cabaret Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today rejected 51-39 a move to cut the 20 per cent cabaret tax to 10 per cent.

Sens. George W. Malone (R-Nev) and Alan Bible (D-Nev) offered the proposal as an amendment to an excise tax bill that had kept the Senate working until close to midnight Monday.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) of the Senate Finance Committee said the amendment would cost the Treasury 20 million dollars a year. The 20 per cent levy brings about 40 million annually.

"There are many federal excises just as burdensome or more burdensome than this one," Byrd asserted.

Senators yesterday managed to dispose of controversial whisky and oil-gas depletion allowance amendments.

The lengthy proceedings did not give much encouragement to legislators who want to wind up the second session of the 85th Congress by this Saturday.

In acting on the excise bill, the Senate defeated 51-29 an attempt to strike out of the House-passed measure a provision benefitting whisky distillers.

BYRD PROTEST

This provision would permit a distiller to hold his product in bond up to 20 years without paying the $10.50 a gallon tax, instead of eight years as at present.

The Senate vote came despite an attack on the provision by Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) of the Finance Committee. He announced it as a "windfall running to many millions of dollars" and declared, "I am certainly not willing to give tax relief to any whisky distillers when we are denying tax relief to other taxpayers."

Advocates of the section said it would not cost the Treasury anything because distillers with big stocks of whisky approaching the eight-year mark could not afford to pay the tax on it anyway.

They said some distillers would have to pour their product down a sewer to avoid paying the tax if they could not dispose of it by any other method.

The House provision retained in the bill applies the 20-year rule to existing stocks as well as future production.

DEPLETION

The unsuccessful effort to cut the 27½ per cent oil and gas depletion allowance was a renewal of an old fight, but proponents of the reduction got more votes than in other recent tests.

The allowance under tax law is for depletion of capital resources — that is, the oil and gas underground.

Senators seeking to cut the allowance said it was an unjustified tax benefit for oil interests. Oil state senators argued the benefit was necessary to keep exploration for new sources at a high rate.

Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del) tried to slash the depletion allowance to a flat 15 per cent, but lost 63-26. Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) then offered an amendment to set up a scale graduated from 27½ per cent to 15 per cent. This was beaten 58-31.

Judge Steps Out Of Will Hearing

CLEBURNE (AP)—Dist. Judge John James Jr. disqualified himself today from hearing the J. E. Sexton will appeal because he once represented Mrs Agnes Kirk, who is seeking the huge fortune left by Sexton.

The judge said he was Mrs. Kirk's attorney when she sought to collect on a $100,000 check given her by Sexton. Relatives of the wealthy bachelor stopped payment on the check and the case was settled out of court for $5,000.

Mrs. Kirk, 40, is the attractive operator of a Cleburne rest home where Sexton sometimes was a patient. He died Feb. 28 in a Jacksonville, Tex., rest home at the age of 80.

Sexton in a disputed will signed March 23, 1954 left most of his estate to Mrs. Kirk. Its value has been estimated from 2 to 60 million dollars.

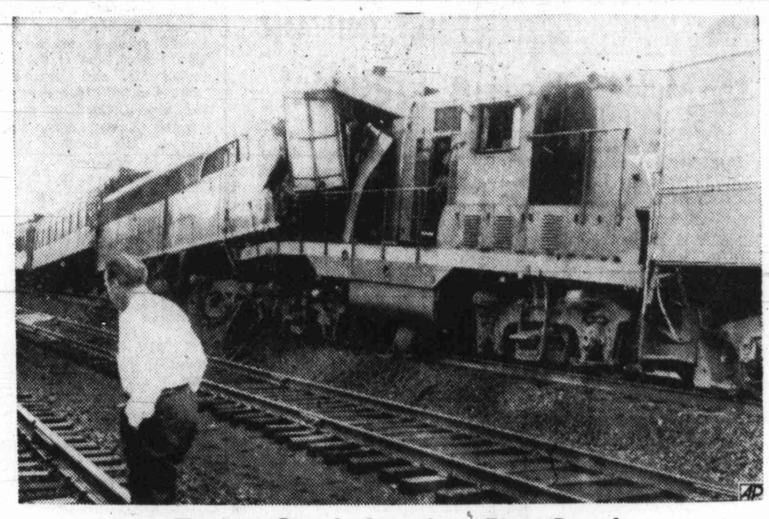

In a probate court decision July 24, Special Judge Atwood McDonald refused to admit the will to probate, saying he believed one of the witnesses' signatures was not genuine.

Both Mrs. Kirk and attorneys for relatives and a woman who claims she was Sexton's common-law wife gave notice of appeal. Opponents of the 1954 will gave appeal notice because they seek court jurisdiction elsewhere.

Hoffa Admits Gifts From Man Who Handled Labor Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamster President James R. Hoffa testified today he has received gifts but "no cash money" from a Detroit labor relations consultant with whom he discussed labor contracts.

Hoffa told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee he received the gifts from George Kamenow.

As a witness before the committee last year, Kamenow took the Fifth Amendment when asked whether he had been a go-between for employers in influence deals with Teamster officials. He also balked at giving details of his financial transactions with unionists, including Hoffa.

Hoffa professed only a vague recollection of what gifts and favors he had accepted from Kamenow.

He said he does recall receiving a gift of fishing tackle, and is just about sure he once got a gift certificate but that he couldn't recall the amount.

CROOKS IN OFFICE

Hoffa had a long go-round with the committee over what Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) called the Teamsters president's "perpetuating crooks in office" in the union.

In the course of this, Hoffa said he subscribes to what he termed the philosophy of the late labor leader Samuel Gompers — "take care of your friends and whip your enemies."

Hoffa denied that fear held him back from throwing hoodlums and officials with criminal records out of the union.

"I'm not frightened by anybody," the bouncy Hoffa roared. "I do not frighten easily."

Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, had asked whether Hoffa was "frightened of these people."

Hoffa conceded the Teamsters constitution gives him extraordinary powers to eject hoodlums but he added:

HAVE TO BE CAREFUL

"You have to be careful."

He said use of broad powers by his predecessor, Dave Beck, led to Beck's fall from power. (Beck was convicted of misuse of union funds).

"I say you are not tough enough to get rid of these people," Kennedy said.

"I don't propose to act tough," Hoffa replied. "I will follow the Constitution."

Hoffa specifically said he would not summarily fire such scandal-scarred Teamsters chieftains as Ray Cohen of Philadelphia, Joey Glimco of Chicago and Al Reeger of New York.

Hoffa said a union committee has been set up to try Cohen, president of Philadelphia Local 107. Cohen repeatedly took the Fifth Amendment before the Rackets Committee.

Kennedy said 17 employes in the Cohen local have an aggregate of 103 arrests and 40 convictions.

"The (Teamsters) investigating committee will go into all employes of Local 107," Hoffa replied calmly.

Kennedy said Glimco has been a close associate of such Chicago hoodlums as Tough Tony Accardo and Paul (The Waiter) Ricca. eplied: "Our constitution .... doesn't deal with associations but with the activity of unions."

Nautilus Crew Receives A Hero's Welcome In Britain

PORTLAND, England (AP) — The crew of the U.S. submarine Nautilus arrived today for a hero's welcome after an epic voyage under the north polar icecap.

Blaring bands, bagpipes and cheers greeted the big atomic-powered submarine as she was docked.

In fleeting sunshine, the crew reached land for the first time since leaving Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, on July 23 for the first voyage under the arctic ice by way of the North Pole.

Men and officers of the royal navy, U.S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney, U.S. Navy men and officers, and hundreds of spectators roared out a greeting.

Men of the Nautilus shouted and waved as they ended their 8,145-mile journey.

For the captain of the Nautilus, Cmdr. William R. Anderson, of Waverly, Tenn., it was the second landing.

Last week he was flown by helicopter and airplane from the wet deck of his sub to the White House where he received the Legion of Merit from President Eisenhower.

Early this afternoon, he was reunited with his 115 men and officers. A helicopter whirled him from shore to the Nautilus as it neared this port.

Anderson, in full uniform, stood on the conning tower as the big sleek sub moved into port.

The Nautilus, traveling on the surface, arrived in a moderately choppy sea. Crowds lined the cliffs to get a glimpse of the big vessel.

The crew will receive unlimited shore leave until Monday. Waiting for them were scores of congratulatory telegrams and several bags of mail—first they have received since leaving Honolulu on their polar mission.

City Commission May Set Base For New Tax Levies

Big Spring property owners will get some indication today as to what effect a comprehensive valuation and equalization survey will have on their city taxes.

Pritchard & Abbott, appraisal engineers who have been engaged in the survey for several months, are to submit a tentative report to the city commission at 5:15 p.m.

Commissioners then will attempt to decide the percentage of actual values to be used in making up the new tax roll. They also are expected to duscuss the tax rate to be applied to the new valuations.

The valuation report is the major item on the agenda for commissioners at their first August meeting. In connection with the tax talks, the officials are due to name their choices of citizens to serve on the city-school equalization board, which is scheduled to meet early in September.

However, before the equalization board can meet, city and school tax rolls must be compiled, and notices must be sent to taxpayers.

Commissioners also are to hear a report on the annual city audit from Clyde Hollingsworth, auditor, and are expected to approve final reading of a revised traffic ordinance. Consideration of several small subdivision plats also is on the agenda.

Major Address Scheduled For Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will go before the United Nations emergency Assembly Wednesday for a major address outlining the United States program for the Middle East.

Announcing this today, the White House said Eisenhower plans to fly to New York tonight, leaving Washington about 6 p. m.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President will address the Assembly Wednesday morning, probably shortly after it convenes at 10 a.m. (EDT).

Eisenhower plans to fly back to Washington shortly after his speech.

In announcing the President's plans, the White House gave out no information regarding the nature of the proposals he will make for political and economic stabilization of the Mideast.

Hagerty's announcement came shortly after Secretary of State Dulles arrived in New York to take charge of the U. S. delegation planning for the emergency Assembly session.

Marine Group Is Being Withdrawn

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The United States announced today a token withdrawal of a Marine battalion from Lebanon, but this failed to satisfy Asian-African nations supporting Soviet demands for an immediate U.S.-British military exodus.

(Diplomatic officials in Washington said the battalion is the only unit scheduled for withdrawal under present plans.)

It was understood the battalion will remain with the U.S. 6th Fleet, restoring its amphibious striking power in the Mediterranean.

The U.N. announced that the United States and the Soviet Union will lead off Middle East debate in the 81-nation emergency General Assembly Wednesday, the day the Marines will leave.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will be the second speaker.

The move to pull out the Marines obviously was intended to take the edge off Soviet charges of aggression in Lebanon.

But Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, took a pot shot at Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's plan to ease Middle East tensions. Its criticism was that Hammarskjold did not call for "withdrawal of armed forces of the interventionists." Besides American troops in Lebanon there are about, 3,000 British paratroopers in Jordan.

A Lebanese rebel leader, Saeb Salam, said in Beirut that the withdrawal of one battalion of about 1,700 men from Lebanon was a welcome gesture but far short of meeting rebel wishes for a complete evacuation.

Yarborough Calls For Military Funds For Texas Bases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate was urged yesterday by Sen. Ralph Yarborough to restore funds for several Air Force projects in Texas to a military construction funds bill.

This country "cannot afford to lag in the race for a sound national defense," he told the Senate Appropriations Committee. The items were deleted by the House.

Appropriations he asked restored to the bill:

Connally AFB at Waco, jet runway, $3,500,000; Brooks AFB at San Antonio, dormitory and dining hall, $1,370,000; Sheppard at Wichita Falls, service club and officers' quarters, $984,000; Biggs at El Paso, dormitory, $1,700,000; Webb at Big Spring, SAGE direction center, $6,767,000.

Navy Blimp Ends Long Arctic Trip

SOUTH WEYMOUTH, Mass. (AP) — Its 8,000-mile arctic journey completed, a Navy blimp nosed into its home base here today and was promptly christened the "Snow Goose" by its exuberant crew.

When the 343-foot Snow Goose touched down on the runway at 8:26 a. m. it had been in the air 76 of the past 77 hours. In that time it had flown 3,400 miles from Cornwallis Island, north of the Arctic Circle, to T-3, a floating ice island 500 miles from the North Pole, then back home with only a one hour stop for refueling at Churchill, Man.

The expedition, sponsored by the Office of Naval Research, was commanded by Capt. H. B. Van Gorder of Canandaigua, N.Y.

Purpose of the trip was to test the feasibility of using blimps to carry supplies, and in scientific observation. The 24-hour arctic sun makes airplane landings impossible on the slushy icepack in summer.

The blimp made a mail drop on T-3, the ice island manned by IGY scientists and dropped some depth charges for underwater sound studies in the surrounding Arctic Ocean.

With several scientific observers aboard it demonstrated its ability to fly low, slow and long, prime assets for research.

The blimp was nicknamed after the snow goose, which lives in the far north but migrates south to the United States. The name was chosen in recognition of the joint Canadian and American effort that went into the venture.

Good, Poor Crops In Pattern Of Checkerboad Over County

Drier areas of the county—those sections which have been neglected by showers which favored their nearby neighbors — are facing an agricultural crisis, according to Jimmy Taylor, county farm agent.

He pointed out that the county this season is checkerboarded by areas of wet and dry history. In the portions where there has been more rain, cotton and grain are still in good condition. In the areas where there has been less rain, whatever production cotton now has on it (if it is in fields which were planted early) will just about be the crop, Taylor said.

The younger cotton, if it rains in the next few days, will make additional production. If the rain does not come, this younger stuff will soon be in critical condition.

What bolls are now on the older cotton in the areas where there has been little rain will be the sum total of cotton to be expected — less, perhaps, some loss which further prolongation of the dry weather may impose.

Older grain is generally in fair to excellent condition, Taylor said. Most of the grain planted early is already ripe and combining has started in some parts of the county. The production is good. Other areas, where there has been less rain, is suffering in fields of grain planted late. If no rain falls, much of this crop will never head nor ripen, the agent said.

A county-wide rain would be of great benefit to all crops, Taylor said, but to some sections if there is no rain, the picture looms black for farmers.

He said that boll worms are not causing extensive damage in the older fields and what worms he has seen in surveys have been in the younger cotton.

He pointed out that there are relatively few millers flying about.

"You have to have the millers to lay the eggs if you are to have worms in quantity," he observed. "There are few millers—hence, relatively few worms."

He said that the year has been marked by many localized rains.

"One farm may have had good rains two or three times in a period when neighbors a mile or two miles away have had no rain at all," he said. "As a result, the crop conditions are sharply varied. They may even differ from field to field with cotton or feed planted in both at approximately the same time."

Ann Miller To Wed Texas Oil Man

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Ann Miller says that she and Texas oilman Bill Moss plan to be married soon.

She said Moss will continue to live in Dallas and she will commute from there to Hollywood to continue her film career.

She was divorced in 1947 from her first husband, Reese Llewellyn Milner, heir to an iron foundry fortune. Moss' first wife was actress Jane Withers.

Trade Bill Up To President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Compromise legislation to extend the reciprocal trade program for four years was ready today for President Eisenhower's signature. Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks called the bill "the best yet."

The program, started 24 years ago, permits the United States to negotiate agreements to cut tariffs on imports in return for similar concessions from other nations on American goods they admit.

As finally passed by the Senate Monday 72-18, the compromise comes pretty close to what the President wanted. Its central provisions are these:

The program will be extended four years, a longer extension period than ever before. Eisenhower asked five years.

The measure gives the President authority to cut tariffs up to 20 per cent. Eisenhower asked 25 per cent.

In one key provision, Congress is given the power to override, by a two-thirds vote, a presidential decision to reject a Tariff Commission recommendation for import quotas or higher duties intended to protect a home industry.

Kimbell Feed Mill Has New Manager

Finis Taylor of Durant, Oklahoma, has moved to Big Spring to become manager of Kimbell Feed Mill.

Taylor joined the firm at Durant in 1950 when it bought a mill at which he had been working since 1944. Later he was made assistant manager and then was offered the Big Spring position. He and Mrs. Taylor have two daughters aged nine and five.

Another new employe at Kimbell's is Willard Miller of Forsan, who has been named manager of the retail feed store.

Candidate

Susan Landers, 16, is one of the candidates for queen of the Howard County Farm Bureau. A 1958 graduate of Big Spring High School, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Landers of the Elbow community. She placed third in the Miss Howard County Beauty Pageant July 4. Mis Landers plans to enroll in Southwestern University, Georgetown, this fall.

M'Millan Back From Cyprus

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan came home today from what he called encouraging talks in Athens, Ankara and Nicosia on the future of strife-torn Cyprus.

Macmillan told a news conference in Nicosia before flying to London that the main job now is to end violence which has taken hundreds of lives on the British Mediterranean island.

He said he could not tell what the next step would be but would discuss the problem with his Cabinet.

He met in Nicosia with leaders of the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities that are seeking opposing futures for the crown colony.

Macmillan told newsmen his five days of talks had left him encouraged rather than discouraged. Their purpose was not to try to reach definite agreements but to discuss the problem, he said.

Both in Athens and Ankara, the Prime Minister plugged the British plan for a seven-year period of local self-government for the two national groups on Cyprus with Greece and Turkey sharing in administration.

Band To Rehearse

LAMESA—The Lamesa Junior High School band, under the direction of John C. Foster, will begin rehearsals Monday. Foster announced daily rehearsals will be staged from 8 to 9 a.m. Foster was named Aug. 4 to the director's position. He succeeds Bill Green who resigned to accept a position in the Snyder system. The new director is a graduate of Abilene Christian College.

Rate Adjustments Asked By Continental Air Lines

Continental Air Lines has proposed rate adjustments to the Civil Aeronautics Board, including reductions as much as 20 per cent on some cross-country fares.

While CAL asked that basic first class and coach fares be increased six per cent, it also asked for an experimental 20 per cent reduction for one DC-7B non-stop daily coach flight "without frills" between Chicago and Los Angeles.

The request which would affect this area most is for extension of the first-class family fare through Saturday. Currently, one regular adult fare will entitle other members of the family to travel on the same flight at half fare Monday through Thursday. CAL wants to make this Monday through Saturday.

Another request is for a 25 per cent cut in winter excursion coach fares for family groups between Chicago, Kansas City, Denver and Los Angeles. Robert F. Six, president, said that the adjustments were sought to promote air travel and provide additional revenue.

Jess Talkin' by Jess Blair

Farmers in the area west of Fairview are paying the preacher, buying off the weather man or else just being lucky. They made the best cotton crop in the county last year, and there is not much doubt but what they have the best prospects this time.

Yesterday morning A. H. Tate was out hoeing weeds, and we took a circle over his cotton patch. He thinks he already has three-quarters of a bale made while some of his young cotton is even better. The stalks are not tall but they are loaded all the way to the ground. Tate got around four inches of rain a week and a half ago and could get by without any more moisture.

He has an irrigated farm at Tarzan and says the cotton in that area will likely average two bales to the acre. He says it's probably the best irrigated cotton ever grown there.

Maize in the Fairview-Moore area is also good, with some of it likely to cut over a ton to the acre.

* * *

North of Tate's place, however, the rains were lighter and so are the crops. Cotton around Knott needs rain, while some of the feed is burning.

Earl Freeman, who runs a garage at Middle Knott, says he got only three-quarters of an inch there, but six miles southeast on his farm the rainfall measured over three inches when four heavy showers fell in less than a week. He says his cotton should average three-quarters of a blae, providing the hail stays away.

* * *

South Dawson County has missed out on recent moisture and cotton is going down every day. At Sparenberg crop prospects are only fair, with some farmers saying they would be satisfied with a quarter of a bale to the acre.

* * *

One colorful landmark at Sparenberg has disappeared. This is the St. Paul's Lutheran Church, which has stood just east of the village since 1924. The church house has been moved to Lamesa, since the two churches combined.

One of the oldest members, Adolph Kunkel, said the church lost its pastor last January and hadn't been able to find another one.

"So many people have moved away," he said, "and some of the members still out here got to going to the town church."

The first building was replaced in the 1940's by a new one, which was one of the largest rural church buildings in the county.

A comparatively new forage plant, perennial sudan, may become very popular in West Texas. This last year Texas A&M College furnished small parcels of seed to farmers for seed production. Three farmers in this area who planted it were Ellis Iden, Odell Buchanan and C. H. Hyden.

The plant looks about the same as regular sudan except the seed heads are a bit larger. Bert Badger, who works for the State Department of Agriculture, says the grass may take the place of blue panic, since it is easier to get up and is more palatable.

Badger who has also been checking cotton fields says there are fewer pink boll worms than in several years. The regular boll worms have increased, however, he said, and some cotton has been damaged. He is also finding millers and eggs and says a new hatch will be coming off within the next few days.

* * *

Grover Springer, Lenorah merchant, probably knows more about the rainfall history of his community than anyone else. He has been the official government recorder since 1947. He records every shower that falls, from the heaviest down to a trace, which he marks with a "T". He has a lot of "T's" for 1958.

He says there was no rain big enough to measure this last June, but over an inch and a half fell early in July. Since Aug. 1, the rainfall has measured four-tenths of an inch.

"We have a total of 10.56 inches for 1958," he said, "but most of it came early in the year. This plus last year's moisture put enough water in the ground to keep crops growing during the hot, dry weather we've had lately."

* * *

Crops are generally good in "Death Valley," the name that some folks apply to the big, bowl-shaped area below the caprock east of Lenorah and which reaches across the Valley View community.

Feed is burning in some places, and cotton is spotted. Along the north and east side toward Knott crops are holding up well.

Ranchers down along Devil's River and the Rio Grande are selling livestock instead of buying, says Loyd Bardwell, a salesman for Kimbell Grain Company. He says several ranches have contracted their calf and lamb crop. And a few who are holding on to their cattle are moving them to grassland in other areas. One cattleman is taking 1,000 head of steers to Missouri.

Bardwell says ranchers got some grass back on their ranges, but it has cured out now. Most of this year's growth were weeds. Broom weeds have covered a lot of country around Sonora and surrounding counties.

Ranges are in very poor condition at Sanderson, Comstock and back north to Crane and Garden City. However, part of that country received good rains since Bardwell's last trip.

He said that many ranchers were already feeding both sheep and cattle.

Demand Promotion For Adm. Rickover

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of Democratic senators has demanded that the Navy promote Rear Adm. H. G. Rickover of atomic submarine fame.

They said he will be forced into retirement in a year or so unless he is upped to three-star rank.

As yet, the Navy hasn't said whether the 58-year-old Rickover will be moved up to vice admiral. Rickover was a moving force in development of the first U. S. atomic submarine.

The senators Monday night recalled the fight that occurred in 1953 when Rickover was promoted from captain after the intercession of members of Congress and then Secretary of the Navy Robert Anderson. A board of admirals which controls promotions, twice passed over Rickover.

"Congress saved him before and it is my hope that if necessary Congress can save him again," Sen. Clinton B. Anderson (D-NM) told the Senate.

He said members of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee conferred recently with Secretary of the Navy Thomas S. Gates about retaining Rickover's services.

Sen. Anderson was joined by Sens. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) and Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) in demanding that the Navy give Rickover three stars.

Two Republican senators—Sen. Norris Cotton of New Hampshire and Jacob Javits of New York—praised Sen. Anderson for championing Rickover.

The Democratic senators were strongly critical of the White House for not inviting Rickover to last Friday's ceremony announcing the submarine Nautilus' trip under the North Pole's ice cap.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, has said lack of adequate space forced the invitations to be limited. Rickover said he was "too busy to yorry abous snubs."

Sen. Anderson said the "Old Guard" had tried to force Rickover out of the Navy in the past. A small man who weighs only 125 pounds, Rickover didn't hesitate to step on toes in pushing the atomic submarine program during its early days. In some instances, he went over the heads of superiors.

Las Vegas Girls Are Covering Up

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—There will be no more bare bosoms in the chorus line of the El Rancho Vegas. But there is still cleavage in the ranks of hotel owners.

Beldon Katleman, the hotel's principal owner, capitulated yesterday to pressure from civic and church leaders and ordered a five-girl chorus line into more modest costumes. They've been dancing nude above the waist.

The trend toward nudity in hotel shows started last October when one hotel imported a burlesque production. Resort owners immediately split on the issue and the controversy spread throughout the community. Two major hotels still feature dancing girls naked from the waist up.

Katleman wired Las Vegas clergymen: "It behooves every person connected with entertainment to reconsider their standards of show priduction . . . Perhaps our decision will start the tide in another direction."

Seeking Merger Of Two Pipelines

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A merger of Pacific Northwest Pipeline Co. and El Paso Natural Gas Co. would help natural gas development in the intermountain area, Paul Kayser, president of El Paso, said yesterday.

The Federal Power Commission is scheduled to hold hearings on the proposed merger Sept. 17 in Washington.

Kayser assured Salt Lake employes of Pacific Northwest of their jobs. He pointed out that El Paso plans an investment of more than 85 million dollars in the intermountain region.

Object Of Sanitation Drive

Local health officials are out to eliminate scenes such as this in a campaign to encourage residents to start using fly-proof garbage containers. Open cans and barrels and spilled garbage are an invitation to disease-spreading insects and rodents, they say. City ordinances require garbage cans to have tight-fitting covers, but a survey by Lige Fox, sanitarian, found 80 per cent of containers failing to measure up to the requirements.

Sidewalk Displays Banned At C-City

COLORADO CITY — The City Council instructed City Manager R. K. Snethen to crack down on local merchants who display merchandise on the sidewalks, at the meeting of the council Monday night.

The question had arisen after Snethen had said that more and more merchandise was being set out on sidewalks in front of local firms and asked for council policy on the matter of enforcing an ordinance which prohibits such display.

"Enforce it or repeal it," said Mayor Trevor Crawford.

The council also approved a lease with the Texas and Pacific Railway for use of a 38 foot by 200 foot area west of the depot and south of the Baker Hotel, for use as a parking area. The city also plans to pave the parking lot.

Jack Burkhalter, county agent, Jim Trammell, FFA instructor, and John Russell and Francis Winn appeared before the council to ask for a delay in moving the 4-H and FFA stock show barn until after Jan. 10. The City had previously given notice that rodeo stands and pens owned by the rodeo association and the stock show barns, owned by the county, were to be moved by Oct. 1. Mayor Crawford told the group that if the county would give assurance that the barn would be moved by Feb. 1, that the city would grant a stay of removal.

Snethen announced the appointment of Eugene Wood, 32, as lake patrolman. Snethen said that until recently Wood had been in the military service.

The council voted to accept the bid of the City National Bank to act as depository for the city's funds for two years.

FBI Stands By During Search For Missing Child

OLIVE HILL, Ky. (AP)—FBI agents said today they'll remain as "observers" while police and volunteer searchers try to solve the disappearance of Debbie Ann Greenhill.

Searchers have been combing rugged, hilly terrain here since last Saturday, when the 2-year-old blonde toddler disappeared while her family settled in a new mountain cabin.

Special Agent Charles Weeks said "in Louisville FBI agents have no evidence that Debbie was kidnaped. But he said four agents would offer FBI facilities to help in the search.

Oil workers dragged a 54-acre lake yesterday without success.

Police Chief Milt Barker said he's investigating the possibility of foul play, but added "nothing worth a penny" has been found.

Tax Assessor Is Named For C-City Schools

COLORADO CITY—The Colorado City school board announced Monday night that Mr. and Mrs. Nick Farrar will officially assume duties in the school tax office Sept. 1.

Farrar will be the new school board secretary and will act as assessor and collector. He will replace J. W. Watson, who has served as school tax collector for 12 years. Watson has been assisted by Mrs. Watson. Board members made a personal presentation of a silver tea service to Mr. and Mrs. Watson in appreciation of their service.

The board set the first class day as Sept. 2, in accordance with the recommendation of Frank Wilson, superintendent. A teachers' meeting was set for Aug. 27.

Appearing before the board were the Rev. James Caraway and Alton Myers, who with others are forming a new church in Colorado City and requested use of the primary building for meetings. The church is tentatively to be known as the Calvary Baptist Church.

The board approved plans to open school earlier in the morning at the Wallace Negro school during cotton picking season so that classes could be dismissed at 1 p.m.

Let Commissioners Get Het Up, Too

CARTHAGE, N. C. (AP)—As Judge W. H. S. Burgwyn sat perspiring in the Moore County court room's 98-degree heat yesterday, he decided there should be a few more fellow sufferers.

He ordered the county commissioners summoned for jury duty today. "This place needs air conditioning and they ought to know it," snapped the judge. "They can come and suffer the heat and noise and gnats right along with the rest of us."

A Bible Thought For Today

"Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God." (2 Corinthians 7:1)

Forced Draft Activity Indicated

While approval by a federal agency of long-term loans for two dormitories at Howard County Junior College is most encouraging, some formidable hurdles remain if the housing is to be ready by September of 1959.

That, of course, is the goal. But you don't snap your fingers and conjure up buildings which will house 52 women and 104 men within the space of a few months. Thus, the time element is quite apt to become a most crucial one.

Some details, routine but requried, must be cleared to satify regulations. Meanwhile, the college board must issue revenue bonds for financing of the projects before it can actually secure the funds from the government. Before a contract can be let, the college must have the money in hand.

Before contractors can be asked to submit bids, the preliminary plans must be converted into final ones, with the board's final blessing. This could consume a couple of months, leaving another month for contractors to figure on the job.

It boils down to three to four months delay before ground could be broken. Admittedly this would be a tight squeeze on completion by September a year hence. However, we trust that every effort will be exerted to expedite the project to the end that the time interval can be reduced. If we could get this show on the road by early December, that would leave about nine months for the job. It's worth trying.

It Just Won't Go Away

Although recognizing that even a slow build up of radioactivity from nuclear weapons may pose a serious threat to future health, a 15-nation U. N. scientific committee has rejected the idea of asking for a ban on nuclear test explosions.

"As is the case with every technological advance," commented a representative of our own Atomic Energy Commission, "man must learn to live with new risks even as he accepts new benefits conferred upon him."

This is high sounding talk. The more practical reason for rejecting the idea of tests is that they would perhaps be unilateral. For all Soviet Russia's protestations, she has yet to agree to the only commonsense basis for suspending the tests—a system of international inspection.

This report will perhaps have the effect of dulling the propaganda tool of Russia in calling for suspension of test explosions, but it cannot alter the cumulative effect of radioactivity resulting from the tests.

"Even a slow rise in the environmental radioactivity in the world . . . might eventually cause appreciable damage to large populations before it could be definitely identified as due to radiation," said the report. Under present circumstances this is a calculated risk for mankind, but it does not mean that the door should be closed to mitigating the risk. The entire world is in the same boat on this, and radioactivity—unlike many other things—does not just go away. Each bit is added to that which has gone before. Like a serpent, it could rise up with deadly bite.

Now There's China To Reckon With

WASHINGTON — After all the angry words have been spilled out in the General Assembly of the United Nations, the problem of the Middle East will remain as formidable and as menacing as before.

That is the reality behind the current session which promises, at the outset of debate at least, to be a slamming match, with the Soviet delegate and the American delegate beaing each other over the head as so often in the past. But there are those thinking beyond this familiar exercise in vituperation.

From top officials in the United Nations and the State Department and from diplomats in Washington and the U. N., this reporter has sought to get some idea of the shape of things to come. They agree for the most part that while the Assembly session is unlikely to settle anything, it will be an outlet for tensions and frustrations which might otherwise add to the peril of the Middle East. The U. N. forum can be a useful escape valve.

Merely by agreeing to meet to discuss the Middle East the United States has acknowledged that the Soviet Union has a role in that area. From the viewpoint of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, his able deputy, Ralph Bunche, and others in the U.N. who have been struggling to put out the fire, this is a distinct gain. It was wholly unrealistic to pretend that Russia could be excluded from concern with the Middle East.

But since it is most improbable that anything can come out of a slamming match in the Assembly, particularly since the United States seems to have no plan ready to put before the delegates, the big question will still be unanswered. That question is: How to get at least minimum agreement with the Russians on the area? Without that minimum, no plan, regardless of its origin, can succeed.

This gets, of course, back to the question of a summit meeting with the Russians. The relief that Washington felt when Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev rejected a summit conference in the framework of the U. N. Security Council was heartfelt. But since only a high-level meeting, which presumably might come after the Assembly session, can arrive at any settlement, the relief is bound to be short-lived.

And something new has now been added that further beclouds the relationship between East and West. Khrushchev, it has been amply demonstrated, must reckon with Mao Tse-tung and the Chinese Communists. When the two leaders met in Peking, Mao appears to have exercised a veto over the meeting Khrushchev previously agreed to.

The belief is growing here that the leader of the Chinese Communists can continue to exercise that veto if only by insisting that Nationalist China be replaced in the Security Council and in any top-level deliberation by Red China. To mold the great unwieldy mass of China into a modern industrial state in one generation, Mao must follow the hard Stalinist line with complete ruthlessness. Therefore, he is opposed to any relaxation of world tension, and he will continue to try to block a negotiated settlement involving Moscow and Washington and excluding Peking.

Admittedly this is a bleak prospect. But those who try to confront the politics of the world situation with as much realism as possible believe it is not altogether hopeless. The hope lies in a new approach that will direct the intense nationalism of the Arab states into constructive channels and avoid forcing them to choose between Moscow and Washington.

Hammarskjold has been asked frequently about a purported plan he has worked up for development of Middle East resources under U. N. supervision with the help of the big powers. He denies that he has a "plan," but he puts great stress on a new approach. U. N. officials such as Bunche, who has done so much to hold the peace in that troubled region, suggest, as an example, cooperation between Syria and Iraq to irrigate the Syrian plain.

Both in Washington and in the U. N., among the smaller and middle powers, there is growing support for a new look that will not be imposed by either side. It will come by gradual and often painful stages out of the necessity for the Arabs to live together. If this seems visionary — and certainly the stumbling blocks are everywhere — it is nevertheless, in the view of those who face the hard facts, a narrow avenue to a conceivable peace.

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP) — Retired Detective Capt. Gustave Steffens recounts this poser from a case he once solved.

An elderly man is found dead in the water with his watch stopped at 4 o'clock, and police must determine whether it was 4 a.m. or 4 p.m.—but how?

Police reasoned an elderly man is likely to have regular habits, and a check with the man's family showed the man always wound his watch at a certain time. The company that made the watch provided the length of time the watch would run under water, and a check of the number of turns left in the winding stem gave the police their answer.

U.N. Meets Again Old Problem Of Red China

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United Nations' 81 members may have to pause in their ding-dong fight over the Middle East, starting Wednesday, while they waltz around once more with the old question of membership for Red China.

Every time this came up previously the United States lined up enough votes to keep the Chinese Reds out. It can probably do so again. But the State Department, as if expecting trouble, has just put out a 5,000-word document outlining the U. S. position on the issue.

This is in part a flat explanation—and in part a kind of question-and-answer explanation — of why the United States refuses to recognize the Red Chinese as the lawful government of China, and therefore opposes a seat in the U. N. for them.

It's a pretty cold, realistic document, unusually free of moralizing, except for one broad splash of wishful thinking. And in one spot it's a little less than candid.

It's wishful thinking for the department to say it holds the view that Communist rule in China is not permanent. There's nothing solid to indicate otherwise.

And it's a little less than candid—in explaining American support of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government on Formosa—to speak of the Nationalists' growing power without adding Chiang couldn't stand five minutes without American help.

For a while in 1950—after the Reds drove Chiang off the mainland and to Formosa—the Truman administration's policy was one of non-interference in the Chinese civil war. This meant leaving Chiang to his fate.

This abruptly changed when the Reds entered the Korean War Ever since, under both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations, U. S. policy has been the same: nonrecognition and opposition to a seat in the U.N. for the Reds.

Here is the U. S. explanation for refusing recognition:

It's to this country's interest not to recognize the Reds. If the situation changes, and if it would be to the benefit of this country to change its policy, it will do so.

Without using this exact language, the department said the Reds outlawed themselves by their attack in Korea and by breaking agreements and promises since then.

Further: the Chinese Reds are breathing down the necks of their Asian neighbors and want to communize the continent. This country has lined up with the non-Communist nations and is doing what it can through economic and military help to keep them non-Red.

To give the Reds diplomatic recognition would give them prestige they don't have now, increase their influence, bewilder the non-Communist Asians, make them uncertain of American policies, and perhaps weaken their resistance to Peiping.

And, if this country gave the Reds recognition, it would lead to a U.N. seat for them. This would mean turning over Chiang's seat to them and, eventually, the end of his government.

Then the Department dwelt on questions that have been raised about the wisdom of this American policy. And it gave answers. They went this way:

Don't the Red Chinese, since they actually run mainland China, have a right to American recognition? No. Such recognition is a privilege, not a right. This country can grant it or withhold it.

But how can this country "ignore" a government which controls all mainland China and rules over 600 million people? The department said the Communists who run China are only 2 per cent of the population and besides, because of their brutality, have caused a lot of popular unrest.

(This is not one of the department's best arguments. Only a small percentage of the Russians are Communists, yet the Reds there control over 200 million people and this country, despite Soviet Communist brutality, has recognized the Kremlin regime for years.)

Might not recognition of Red China eventually weaken the ties between Red China and the Soviet Union? The department said there's no evidence to support this belief and argued at length to the contrary.

Wouldn't this country widen its trade by recognizing Red China? The department doesn't think much of trade possibilities with the Red Chinese.

Restaurateur With Partners

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the secret desires of many successful New Yorkers is to run a restaurant.

No one knows just why this is. One reason probably is that more people eat out regularly here than in other American cities. Manhattan doctors report few of their women patients here suffer from skillet callouses.

Gloria Safier, a career gal who shared this dream of operating a restaurant, did more than merely dream. As a result, she now leads a fascinating double life built on a ham-to-hash motif.

By day she is one of the city's half-dozen top lady theatrical agents. At night she is the boss at a swank new bistro that has found quick favor with the celebrity trade.

It is one of the oddest business ventures in a town where practically anything goes. She has 62 partners, many of them prominent in the theatrical, advertising, movie and published fields.

"They all come here and bring their friends," said Gloria. "They're trying to eat themselves rich."

The restaurant was launched with $50,000. The stockholders put up from $100 to $10,000 each.

"I wouldn't let anybody invest more than that," said Miss Safier, "because if it failed, I didn't want anybody to get hurt too much."

Among her partners are Arlene Francis, Faye Emerson, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Lena Horne, Jerry Lewis and Henry Morgan. They also include movie and television producers.

Miss Safier, tall, green-eyed, and brown - haired, has been associated with the theater since childhood.

"At 5, I was reading Variety instead of Mother Goose," she said.

The idea of starting a restaurant seemed a natural to her. She figured the people she dealt with needed a common meeting place.

"But this is no philanthropy," she said hastily. "The purpose is to make money."

Most of her own clients, as soon as they heard of the project, insisted on being cut in. The glamor folk thought it glamorous to own a piece of the place where they dined.

She said the hardest part of the whole business was picking a name. Many restaurants in the area have French names.

Finally, one of the stockholders said: "Why not simply call it Brown's? Nobody can forget that."

The name was adopted by acclamation.

As long as most of the stockholders are working and eating regularly, she figures, it can't go broke.

Unsung Hero Of Science

It's funny how hard it is sometimes to get interest displayed in something of high scientific value and then, once the matter is brought to light, how excited everyone seems to be about it all.

I am thinking of a chunk of rust colored "stone" which reposes in a museum near the town where I used to live. One half of this sizeable piece of material is in Albuquerque. It was cut in two pieces and one half remains within a few miles of where it was discovered. The other was taken to the New Mexico collection.

The "rock" is a meteor—in reality, it is the fragment of the very core or heart of a dead planet. It is not composed of the ordinary materials of which rock are usually made but of pure iron and nickel. The severed end is not rust colored — is is as bright as a polished silver mirror and the crystals of the alloy of which it is composed are clearly visible.

This cosmic relic had lain exposed in a farmer's field just a few hundred yards off a fairly busy road for no one knows how many thousand years. Sometime in the remote past, a planet, according to a popular theory, disintegrated. Its fragments took up orbits around the sun. Most were small, a few were of considerable size. From time to time, the earth comes so near to one of these that the gravitational pull drags it to the ground. Rarely are the fragments which crash to earth of any great size.

For millions—even billions, perhaps—of years, this rusty colored stone had circled the sun in its long lonely journey. Then, no telling when, it came too near the earth and crashed to the ground—to the same place where it remained unnoted for so long a time.

The farmer who owned the land saw the odd looking stone and it aroused his curiosity. That was 30 years before it was identified. He tried repeatedly to get someone to come out to the field and look at what he had found. No one bothered. He persisted as the years passed but still he was the only one displaying any concern.

Finally, a state park nearby employed an alert young man as a curator. The farmer went to him with his story of the strange looking rock. The curator, unlike the others, immediately asked to be taken to the place. What he saw excited him. He tapped on the rock with a hammer and rusty fragments fell off. He hastened to his office where he telephoned Albuquerque where the most noted meteor expert in the nation was stationed.

His excitement was transferred to this expert and overnight he drove from Albuquerque to the site. The next day the men, with the aid of workmen, lugged the weighty relic to the museum. They weighed it—more than 800 pounds; they measured it. It was about 3 feet long and 15 inches in diameter. They acquired hacksaws of the best possible steel and sought to cut through a small fragment which extended from the main body. The material turned the edge of sawblades as though they were lead.

Eventually the big chunk was loaded into the expert's station wagon and moved to Albuquerque where it was placed on the stand of the laboratory's diamond-tooth saw. For hours on end the saw whirred and finally, after two or three days, it had cut its way through the center of the meteor. This exposed the interior — the highly polished silver-hued surfaced marked by crystal formation.

It was hailed at the biggest nickel-iron meteor ever recovered. It is almost unique in the field. There are hundreds of rock meteorites on display. You'll travel far before you get a chance to see a nickel-iron specimen.

I argued bitterly that the meteor should be named in honor of the old farmer who had found it first and who so doggedly kept at the task of getting someone to investigate.

It wasn't named for him. It is called "the Lake Murray Meteor."

And that doesn't seem quite fair to me.

Inez Robb

Just A Fellow In Union Fight Stable

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
(Writing for Inez Robb, who is on vacation.)

WASHINGTON—Embrel Davidson, Negro prizefighter out of Detroit, thought he was better, just a little bit better, than a horse. It took him two years to learn how wrong he was.

Embrel's a janitor now in Youngstown, Ohio. On the side he plays the xylophone in a dance band, and in general he finds life more satisfactory than he did a few years back when he was a heavyweight contender on the payroll (as it developed) of the pension fund of the Teamsters Union.

He was a ham-and-egger in 1952, getting his head beaten in for $150 when he took on as manager Bert Brennan, the horse fancier, union leader, and currently international vice president of the Teamsters. Jimmy Hoffa, the president of the union, had testified that he owned a piece of Embrel, but the latter told the Senate rackets committee he thought his only boss was Brennan.

Whenever he went into the ring, Embrel said, he split the purse 50-50 with Brennan, but fights were few and he got to worrying about how he'd eat between performances.

"I asked Mr. Brennan for a job so I could live when there wasn't any fights," he told the Senators. "He said, how much did I need? I guess I exaggerated a little; I said I needed 100. He said he'd give me $75.

"So every week I'd go down to the pension fund place in the basement of the union and get my check."

He never did any work for the union or the pension fund, either, but he did cut the grass at Brennan's country place and help with the boss's string of trotting horses, Embrel said.

He added that he won 40 fights and lost six; the trouble was that the six he lost were to heavyweights a little better than he was. So the biggest purse he ever earned was $650. Mostly he got around $200, fighting at the Motor City Arena in Detroit, and when he gave half of that to Brennan, there wasn't much left. Embrel appreciated that extra $75 weekly from the pension fund.

After a couple of years of this, Embrel continued, he was training for a fight and his sparring partner mistakenly smacked him in the nose and broke it. The doctor said he couldn't go through with the match.

"I told Mr. Brennan about this and he did not like the idea," Embrel added earnestly. "He said I could beat this guy without him ever hitting me in the nose. I thought that was impossible. Mr. Brennan said maybe I'd better get another manager.

"I said yes, but I did think I was a little bit better than a horse. And what if one of his horses was hurt training for a race? Would Mr. Brennan make it race anyway? He said I was different from a horse. He said anyway he was tired of being a fight manager."

So Embrel went off the pension fund payroll, faded from the fight industry, and took up the janitoring and jazz band businesses. Senator John L. McClellan (D, Ark.) said that for talking so frankly he not only was a credit to his race, but to his country.

The Senator added that he calculated the Messrs. Hoffa and Brennan had paid their prizefighter nearly $8,000 from the union pension fund. He said the least they could do was give the money back.

He also said he'd asked the Justice Department to see whether perjury had been committed, because Hoffa testified a year ago that his prizefight enterprises had cost the union nothing. Then the Senators called the dapper, slick-haired Brennan for questioning on the subject of man vs. horse. He refused to testify. Said he feared he might tend to incriminiate himself.

Arrested Affair

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — The fellow looked at the pretty policewoman and shook his head sadly.

"She arrested me once already," he sighed. "I told her that it would be nice if we could go to her house and talk it over. And I was so taken by her that she was on the jail elevator before I knew what she was really doing to me.

"She booked me for drunk."

Disarming Sheriff

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP) — Mrs. Anita Quarles has been a deputy sheriff for Union County for 20 years, but it hasn't soured her on people. The gray-haired grandmother says, "I have never had a bad person in my custody. People in trouble with the law are no different from you or me . . . they are just unhappy and unfortunate."

Nothing Safe

EDMONTON, Alberta (AP)—Police here reported a 17-compartment bird house was broken into and $25 damage done. Several bird eggs were stolen.

The Gallup Poll

GOP Given Slight Edge In 'Honesty'

PRINCETON, N. J.—One political certainty is that the issue of honesty in government will be hotly debated in the campaigns this fall—particularly by the Democrats. Before the bar of public opinion, which gets a better "honesty rating"—the Eisenhower administration or the Truman administration?

The vote across the country, in an Institute survey, is a close one with highly partisan overtones and many voters rating the two administrations about the same.

But the over-all results show the administration of President Eisenhower with a slight advantage over that of former President Truman.

The vote of the Independents is a deciding factor in helping to tip the scales in favor of the present Republican administration.

With talk of vicuna coats and oriental rugs bringing inevitable comparison with the mink coats and deep freezers of the Truman administration, Gallup Poll reporters across the country asked this question of voters from both major parties and the important Independent bloc:

"Do you think there has been more dishonesty or less dishonesty in Washington during the Eisenhower administration than during the Truman administration?"

Here is the vote across the country:

MORE DISHONESTY UNDER IKE THAN TRUMAN?

	Per cent
More dishonesty	15
Less dishonesty	21
About the same	49
Undecided	15

Democratic voters, by a vote of 2-to-1 among those who see a difference, say that there has been more dishonesty in the Eisenhower administration than there was in Truman's.

GOP voters, however, by a vote of 5-to-1 among those who see a difference, say that there has been less dishonesty in this administration.

Here is the vote by party affiliation:

DEMOCRATS

	Per cent
Present administration has
More dishonesty	20
Less dishonesty	10
About the same	55
Undecided	15

REPUBLICANS

	Per cent
Present administration has
More dishonesty	4
Less dishonesty	46
About the same	41
Undecided	11

INDEPENDENTS

	Per cent
Present administration has
More dishonesty	12
Less dishonesty	23
About the same	48
Undecided	17

Both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations have seen instances where the question of undue influence was the issue.

Perhaps the best known case under Truman was that of Maj.-Gen. Harry H. Vaughan who was named as one of several officials who received deep freezes as gifts from persons seeking government contracts.

The most recent furor over gift giving has come up in the case of Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams and New England industralist Bernard Goldfine. Adams has admitted receiving gifts from Goldfine who was under investigation by Federal regulatory agencies.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an original gown of embroidered tulle over taffeta fashioned with a Sabrina neckline embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The bodice terminated with a deep point in both center front and back. Accordion pleated tulle ruffles with panels of embroidered tulle in front and back formed the skirt which extended to form a short train.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a half hat of tulle embroidered with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white cascading bouquet of fleur de amour.

Pat Weeks of Alpine was her sister's maid of honor, and Mrs. Glenn Priddy of Odessa, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Donald Airhart and Mrs. Weldon Kidd.

Court Posts Being Filled In Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Democrats choose two State Supreme Court justices today in an election tinted by the simmering school integration issue.

The justice posts were two of the three contested state races on the Democrats' second primary ballot. All others either had been decided in the July 29 primary that brought an overwhelming victory to Gov. Orval Faubus, or else the incumbents were unopposed.

Republicans voted today too. They held their first statewide primary to pick an opponent for Faubus in the November general election, but it was little more than a formality. Arkansas has had only two Republican governors, both during Reconstruction days.

The integration dispute, which played a strong role in Faubus' landslide victory, broke into the fore again in the Supreme Court contests.

Jim Johnson, a 34-year-old attorney who organized the first Citizens Council in Arkansas in 1955, branded the man whose office he seeks — Justice Minor Millwee, 57, — as a "flunky" for liberals.

SCHOOL CLOSING

Johnson has proposed a state constitutional amendment which would force the closing of any public school ordered by a court to integrate.

Griffin Smith Jr. charged that Justice Ed F. McFaddin, 63, whom he opposes, delivered a blow to civil liberties by dissenting to a verdict in last fall's Central High School integration crisis. The high court had ruled that a man arrested during anti-integration demonstrations at the school could not be prosecuted.

Neither of the incumbents has replied directly to his opponent.

The third contested Democratic post was for state treasurer. Incumbent J. Vance Clayton was opposed by Edd Taylor, a furniture dealer and former county judge.

Rep. W. F. Norrell (D-Ark) faced competition for his 6th Dist. congressional post from W. E. Fletcher, a former state representative.

The Republicans, forced by a 1957 state law to nominate in primaries instead of conventions, choose between George W. Johnson, a 75-year-old attorney, and Donald D. Layne, a 34-year-old civil engineer, in the gubernatorial race.

Primaries Being Held Today In Three States

By The Associated Press

Negro rights were at issue today in primary elections in New York and Arkansas. Farther west, in Idaho, a primary featured a candidate for governor who wants legalized gambling.

The New York primary was held in Harlem itself. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell was challenged for the Democratic nomination for his House seat by another Negro, City Councilman Earl Brown.

The contest is only one of 52 primaries for congressional and State Legislature nominations in New York state. But politicians regard it as a possible gauge of Negro political sentiment in the nation.

It is the attitude towards the race question by the two candidates that makes the issue considerably more than purely local.

Powell has gone all out. He has called Brown a "hand-picked Uncle Tom"—a Negro phrase for members of their race considered subservient to whites.

For his part, Brown has accused Powell of rabble rousing racism and "treason to the Democratic party."

Most observers think Powell will win. He already has the Republican nomination. What politicians will be studying will be the victory margin.

In Arkansas, where Gov. Orval Faubus won an overwhelming primary victory July 29, the race issue has been raised in contests for nominations of two State Supreme Court justices.

As in the case of Faubus, the big question is integration of public schools.

The Idaho man plumping for legalized gambling is State Sen. A. M. Derr, one of four Democratic candidates for governor.

It is Derr's contention that gambling casinos should be permitted in those Idaho communities that want it. Should that be done, he says, Idaho would benefit from a gambling tax and increased tourist business as well.

Derr's primary opponents are State Sen. Max Hanson; John Glasby, former Democratic state chairman; and Omar Maine, a farmer.

The winner will run against Gov. Robert E. Smylie, a Republican.

Absentee Vote Total Reaches 22 Monday

Twenty-two absentee voters had balloted in the runoff primary through Monday. One week remains for the voters who wish to avail themselves of this method of casting their votes.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said that while 22 is a small number, the total compares with the total absentee vote in the first primary for the same comparable interval. She called attention to the expiration of absentee voting opportunity on Aug. 19.

One Mishap Listed

Only one traffic mishap was reported in the city Monday. Police said John William Elrod, 1800 Main, and John Davis West, Coahoma, were operators of vehicles involved in the crash at 3rd and Owens.

Fireball Thought To Be A Meteor

The sighting of a bright red "fireball," flying from the north over Webb AFB, was reported last night by M. G. Rosales.

Control tower operators at Webb said a number of meteors were seen in the sky during the evening, and the object Rosales reported was presumed to be one of these.

The earth this week is passing through the interstellar debris of what is believed to have been an ancient star or planet. Meteor showers are to be common for several days, according to astronomers.

MARKETS

WALL STREET

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market drifted lower early this afternoon in slower trading. Chemicals were a weak spot with loss of 1 to 2 points. Much of the list was down fractions to a point or so. There were escattered small gains.

Turnover slackened and was the quietest day in four weeks.

Some brokers said the market was due for a period of hesitation after the recent sweeping advance. In addition, caution also was prompted by the slow trend toward tighter money. The Traesury reported short—term borrowing costs rose to the highest point since March on the latest issue of 91-day bills.

Steels, motors, aircrafts and metals were off fractions to about a point. Oils were mostly lower.

Chrysler, General Dynamics, Kennecott, Lorillard, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, United Aircraft, and Baltimore & Ohio were off about a point.

County To Mail New Tax Notices

Big Spring property owners will probably learn this weekend just what valuations have been fixed on their property for county tax purposes.

The first property owners to receive their county valuation notices will be Big Spring residents. This is because the checking of the valuations so far has been on urban property. Later, as the work progresses, the owners of rural property will receive their notifications.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said that she has been assured a shipment of the special post cards on which changed values will be listed and mailed to property owners should be in her hands on Wednesday.

She said that her staff will probably start Thursday filling in the increases or decreases in valuation on the first batch of cards.

There are to be 13,000 such cards to be mailed before the job is completed. The cards will bear the name of the owner, his address and description of the property. They will show the old valuation and the new as established by Pritchard & Abbott, tax engineers employed by the county, city and schools to make a tax valuation survey. They will also state the date on which the board of equalization will meet at which meeting the property owner has the right to protest the valuation increase, if he so desires.

The office of the county tax collector and assessor has been working for three weeks posting the valuations set by the engineers on the tax books. It was estimated that they are past the half-way mark in the job. The staff is working all day and on into the night with the posting.

All of the listings must be completed and the final cards dispatched by Aug. 27.

Court Resumes Work Aug. 22

Judge Charlie Sullivan, who is on his annual vacation, said today that he would be in court on Aug. 22 to handle civil cases which he has docketed for disposal at that time.

He said he would be in and out of his office between this date and that but that he had no business scheduled for the interval.

He said that on Aug. 25 he is opening the new term of the 118th District Court and that a petit jury and a grand jury would be on hand. A civil docket has been set for the week.

Judge Sullivan anticipates a heavier than usual run of criminal cases to develop from the grand jury session and said he is considering setting in an additional week of criminal jury trials soon after Sept. 1.

Action of the grand jury and developments in the cases which it considers will be the determining factor in this decision.

While Gil Jones, district attorney, said the grand jury would not have an extremely large number of cases to handle at this session, they will be faced with decisions on more serious offenses than usual.

There are two murder cases, two assault with intent to murder cases and a number of sex and morals offenses to be laid before the grand jury, he said.

Leak Closes New Swimming Pool

LAMESA—A total of 491 persons visited the new North Swimming Pool during the first day of operation Sunday, according to Manager Lynn Ranson.

However, a leak developed sometime Sunday night and the pool was closed Monday, Ranson said late Monday he expected it to reopen Tuesday at 1 p.m.

The North Pool's grand opening will be staged Sunday, when the Lamesa Evening Lions Club will sponsor a free water carnival with a water ballet troupe from Lubbock being featured. There will be no charge for swimmers during the grand opening.

Opening of the Hollis-Carver Park Pool has been scheduled for about Aug. 25. Completion of the pool was delayed when a portion of the plumbing equipment failed to arrive. However, the pool will be turned over to Blackshear school for use in physical education classes, according to Mayor J. D. Dyer Jr. James McAllister is to manage the Hollis-Carver Pool.

School Board's Meeting Put Off

Big Spring's August school board meeting, scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until next Tuesday.

Four of the seven trustees are out of the city on vacations and business, making it impossible to assemble a sufficient number to transact business, said Supt. Floyd Parsons. The meeting has been rescheduled tentatively for next Tuesday, although an earlier session may be held if a report is received from Pritchard & Abbott, appraisal firm now engaged in a revaluation survey of property in the school district, the superintendent said.

Principal item on the agenda for next Tuesday's meeting is a study of the tentative school budget for 1958-59.

Hearing Slated In Michigan Fire Case

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—The State of Michigan faces a possible showdown tomorrow in one phase of its attempt to solve the mysterious burning death of Teamster unionist Frank Kierdorf and the disappearance of Kierdorf's uncle Herman.

A hearing will be held in Genesee County Circuit Court on the plea for freedom of Jack Thompson, a Teamsters man held in the strange case.

Thompson, 41, a Teamsters business agent, was granted a writ of habeas corpus Monday by Judge Stephen J. Roth, who will hold tomorrow's hearing.

Thompson is held for investigation of arson in a fire at a Flint, Mich., dry cleaning shop at which people say Frank Kierdorf, 56, an ex-convict, suffered his fatal burns. Kierdorf was a Teamsters business agent.

If Thompson is to be retained in custody, State Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams must prove evidence against him in the blaze. Otherwise, Thompson will be freed. He was arrested on Adams' orders.

Judge Roth approved the writ amid hints of calling a grand jury into the case and as the search for Herman Kierdorf continued unavailing.

Herman, 68, a former Teamsters business agent, vanished prior to his nephew's death after vowing vengeance for what happened to his relative.

At that time the only explanation for the younger Kierdorf's burns was his almost incoherent mumbling of a story that he had been set upon and burned deliberately by two men.

Police later said they believed this a false story and that Kierdorf was burned accidentally at the cleaning shop fire. Meanwhile, Herman Kierdorf had been released from custody and disappeared.

At a news conference in Lansing Monday, Adams reiterated belief that Thompson had a connection with the dry cleaners fire.

The attorney general also disclosed he and State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs had discussed the possibility of asking a one-man grand jury investigation of the case. But he emphasized there has been no decision.

B. F. Miller Dies Monday At Age Of 85

B. F. Miller, 85, pioneer leader in church and public affairs leader in this area, died Monday afternoon at his residence, 1704 Settles.

Funeral services are planned for 4 p.m. Wednesday in the Nalley-Pickle Chapel with the Rev. Jack Power and the Rev. Jim Fields officiating. Interment will be in City Cemetery.

Mr. Miller came to Howard County on one of the early-day "immigrant trains." Disembarking at San Springs in 1901, he settled in the R-Bar community north of the village.

In subsequent years, he helped organize the old R-Bar school, worked on the first road from Colorado City to Big Spring, and donated the land on which the Salem Baptist Church was erected near R-Bar. He also gave land for the Merrick Baptist Church in Martin County.

Mr. Miller and Miss Tina Elizabeth Davidson were married 69 years ago—on Jan. 10, 1889, in Cleburne.

He was born Mar. 13, 1873, in Goatneck, Johnson County.

Survivors include Mrs. Miller, Thomas, Mrs. Mark Harwell and Miss Eva Miller, all of Big Spring; three sons, Claude and Roger Miller of Big Spring and Cecil Miller of Deming, N. M.; 10 grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers are to be Ray Groseclose, D. H. Griffith, Stanley Wheeler, Dock Wilkinson, Lloyd Thomas and Frank Arner.

Rites Set Here For J. E. Nichols, Former Resident

Graveside rites will be said at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the City Cemetery for J. E. Nichols, former resident who died Sunday in Hobbs, N. M.

Mr. Nichols, who had moved to Hobbs a short time ago from Big Spring, suffered a heart attack. Funeral was to be held in Hobbs Tuesday afternoon and the final rites will be here under direction of River Funeral Home.

Surviving Mr. Nichols are his wife, and four sons, Dennis Harold, Johnny, Roy Lee and Danny, all of the home; his father, C. N. Nichols of Arizona; and one sister, Mrs. R. D. Lane, Big Spring.

Kennedy is president of the Texas Assn. and headed up the Lone Star delegation. Next year's national convention will be held in Louisville, Ky.

Motorist Hit In Face By Raw Egg

A motorist was struck in the face with a raw eg Monday as he drove in the 400 block of Edwards St.

The vandals had disappeared when police investigated.

Airport Contractor Gets Second Payment For Work

Howard County and the Civil Aeronautics Authority have now paid B. G. Brown and Associates, contractors for the county airport, approximately 10 per cent of the total cost of that project.

The contractor was sent a check today for $64,291.64—second payment on progress estimate—since the work was started on the airport. In July he was paid $13,322.12. This aggregates $77,513.76. It is estimated that the finished airport will cost in the neighborhood of $800,000.

The money sent to the contractor today represents the combined participation of county and CAA. As the contractor advances with the work, a report on the job is submitted. By percentage, the job is estimated now as 15 per cent complete.

When such reports are received, the CAA is advised and makes a payment to the county based on the report. This money and the money from the sale of the $500,000 bonds voted by the county provide the fund from which checks are drawn to pay the contractor.

Gas Volume Up As Glasscock Venture Recovers Distillate

A southwest Glasscock prospector continued to recover distillate and water on tests Tuesday. On the latest try, Tidewater No. 1 Couey made 8.25 barrels of distillate and an equal amount of water, while gas flow stepped up slightly.

Efforts to take a drillstem test in a southeastern Martin County wildcat were unsuccessful. Operator was coming out of the hole after taking a norther Borden test, but there were no details. Northern Borden also gained a location.

Borden

Midwest Oil Corp. No. 1 A. M. Clayton, C SE SE 16-31-6n, T&P, 12 miles northwest of Gail, was coming out of the hole after having taken a drillstem test from 8,342-8,401, but there were no reports on the results of the test.

Sinclair Oil & Gas No. 3 Boyce Wallace will be located 3,307 from the south and 660 from the west lines of the east half of section 20-40-6n, T&P, about 10 miles southwest of Justiceburg. This is projected to 8,900.

Lone Star Producing No. 1 Clarence Porter, C NE SE section 9-32-4n, T&P, an Ellenburger prospector 12 miles southwest of Gail, progressed to 7,681 in shale and lime with a trace of chert.

Shell No. 1 Miller, C SE NW 527-97, H&TC, 12 miles northeast of Gail, was shut in for storage. Previously it made a substantial volume of fluid, largely water.

Sinclair No. 2-B Waddell, 660 from the south and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 20-30-6n, T&P, bottomed at 8,653, prepared to acidize the open hole Ellenburger section from 8,641-53. This is a south offset to the Dunigan Field in the north part of the county.

Dawson

Texas National Oil No. 2 J. A. Richardson, 2,047 from the north and 660 from the east lines of section 77-M, EL&RR, 10 miles northwest of Lamesa, drilled at 4,175 in lime.

Garza

Shell No. 1 G. C. Slaughter, 330 from the south and 2,280 from the east lines of Section 42-2, T&NO, in the Happy (Ellenburger) area 12 miles south of Post, drilled at 8,130 feet in lime.

Glasscock

Tidewater No. 1 Couey, C SW SW 13-36-5s, T&P, 20 miles southwest of Garden City, flowed 8.25 barrels of distillate and 8.25 barrels of water from the Strawn in 14½ hours. Gas was at the rate of 735,000 cubic feet per day, about 70,000 more than the previous day.

Howard

Amerada No. 1 Blanche Lester, 2,447 from the south and 2,173 from the west lines of section 41-33-1s, T&P, a deep prospect a mile south of the Moore pool, was at 4,635 in lime.

Martin

Humble Oil & Refining No. 1 McKaskle, 660 from the north and east lines of section 12-35-1n, T&P, washed out bridge and attempted a test from 6,004-90. After 7 minutes it was apparent the test had failed, so the tool was pulled and operator was preparing to circulate.

Veteran Section Foreman Not The Type To Skip From Job To Job

By JESS BLAIR

T. W. Haynie of Stanton was never the kind of a fellow to change jobs often.

In fact, outside of 20 months in World War I he has kept the same job since 1917 when he became section foreman for the T&P Railroad at Morita, about half way between Big Spring and Stanton. He had started work for the railroad at Stanton in 1916 where his father, T. S. Haynie, was section foreman.

The Haynies have been railroad people since August, 1899, when they moved here from West Point, Texas. The elder Haynie was in charge of the track near Stanton for over 23 years until he retired in 1927. Upon his retirement, his son Werner was shifted from the Morita job back to Stanton, where he has been ever since, except for time out on special jobs.

"This is all I've ever done," he said, as he idly watched his workers cutting Russian thistles off the roadbed. "It's been a long time, but I hope to stay on another two or three years until my retirement."

During those 42 years of service, he has seen railroading change in many ways. The small 75-pound rails gave way to 85 pounders, 90 pounds, then 100 and on up to the 115-pound rails now used. Also trains have changed. The cars are longer, heavier and they roll easier.

Perhaps the biggest change was about the time of World War II, when the railroads began using diesels instead of steam locomotives.

BIG IMPROVEMENT

"These diesels were a wonderful improvement," he said. "The old locomotives pounded the rails much like a tire with a heavy boot in it pounds the highway. They kept the rails loosened and beat out holes under the ties. It kept us busy all the time tamping down the ballast and keping the rails tight."

At one time a section crew maintained only a few miles of track, but now Haynie is in charge of the whole stretch between Stanton and Midland. The work is no lighter, but there is not so much of it. He has worked as many as 32 men, but now has only three in his crew besides himself.

The diesels are also more powerful than the steamers. At one time it was a common occurrence for a train to become stalled on the long hill coming into Stanton from the east, and it would have to double its train into Stanton. Since the diesels took over, this has never happened.

In commenting on the size of trains, Haynie said the longest train he ever saw was in the spring of 1956 when five diesel units came through from the west with 192 cars. Figuring the average car at 50 feet in length, this train was over a mile and three-quarters long. The longest string of cars he ever saw pulled by the old 600-locomotives was 165. They were loaded oil cars and also headed on the downhill pull to the east.

During all those years, Haynie has never had a serious wreck or accident. In 1916 two cars turned over because the drawbar pulled off. Then in 1925 eight cars went off the track near Morita, and then again a year or so ago two cars were jack-knifed near Stanton when the engineer started to back up.

He has never had one of his workers killed or critically hurt, though one man lost part of a finger when a crow bar missed its mark.

"That doesn't mean we couldn't have one, though," he said. "Sometimes we work in hazardous weather, especially during dust storms when you can't see a hundred yards ahead. With the wind howling, it would be impossible to hear the train whistle. At such times we work very carefully, and sometimes even have to stop for awhile."

Most of the work consists of keping the rails level by tamping down the ballast rock. This takes up most of the time, although quite a lot of weed cutting is required during the growing season.

The crew works eight hours a day for five days a week. Back in the early days, they put in 10 hours a day six days a week, having only Sunday off.

The pay is also a lot better now, and is high enough that his workers seldom hunt another job. The three he has now have all been on the job from 12 to 20 years and seldom miss a day.

KEEPS EYE ON 'BOYS'

Despite their experience, however, Haynie stays with them all during the day. He never takes off time for a coke or cup of coffee, even when working within the city limits.

"The boys have worked so long they've become a bit careless," he said, "and sometimes I've got to whistle them off the track when a train is coming. We've had only a very few accidents, and I don't want any to happen."

In December 1923 he married Margaret Anderson, who has also proved to be a good railroader. They have three children, two of whom still live near Stanton. The two boys Silliman and Travis, cultivate the family farm west of Lomax. Haynie bought the place several years ago and now has an irrigation well that waters much of it.

Their daughter Ermine, now Mrs. K. E. Crow, is a housewife and teaches school in Dallas.

Fifty-nine years of railroading by father and son without a major pile-up of cars add up to a record of faithful performance that has seldom if ever been equalled. In speaking of it, however, Haynie added quickly, "But don't let anyone tell you that we haven't been mighty lucky, too."

He is quite modest about his own record, but says his father was one of the best section foremen the T&P railroad ever had.

The Haynies have no definite plans for retirement, but probably won't get far away from the railroad. He has lived in the same house all those years, and was a small boy when his family moved into it in 1904. Since then it has been remodeled and modernized, but it still sits just south of the railroad where the trains rumble and whistle day and night.

Apparently the noise doesn't bother them, and they might not be able to sleep soundly without it. After living almost on the tracks for half a lifetime, they've become accustomed to almost everything except a night of complete silence.

Social Medicine Not Working In Hungary

BUDAPEST (AP) — Hungary's Communist government is complaining about the way its system of socialized medicine is working —partly because over a third of this country's 10 million people are still outside it.

"These people," says Health Minister Frigyes Doleschall, "are forced to buy back their health from the doctors and in case of more serious illness, must pay for hospital treatment. In other words they must obtain medical care in a manner that hardly differs from the one prevailing in capitalist countries."

Virtually all doctors in Hungary get a salary from the government. Patients pay for health service in the form of social insurance fees deducted from their salaries.

There are complaints that doctors neglect their insured patients in favor of private patients who pay directly. Sometimes insured patients also pay their doctors on the side. Some doctors live as well or better than the best-paid people in Hungary.

"In practice," Dr. Doleschall wrote in the monthly Belpolitikai Szemle (Review of Domestic Politics), "this means that the old capitalist system exists and that those who pay their doctors get far better treatment and many more advantages than those who go to them merely within the framework of the health insurance system."

Dr. Doleschall suggests that a special code of regulations should be drawn up and a doctors' ethical committee should be formed.

Old Union Merger Due Investigation

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says it has learned the U.S. Senate Rackets Committee will investigate a 1949 union merger from which Harold J. Gibbons emerged as a power in the Teamsters Union.

The newspaper said the committee has subpoenaed Lawrence J. Camie, who quit as head of Teamsters Local 688 in St. Louis. Gibbons succeeded him.

Local 688 merged with Gibbons' United Distribution Workers — changing 688 from a local of 1,000 to 7,000 men.

Since the merger, Gibbons has become an international vice president and right-hand man to Teamster President James R. Hoffa.

U.S.-Canadian Can Be Solved

Parliament Hears U.S. President

OTTAWA (AP) — President Eisenhower told Canada's Parliament today that differences between the two neighbor nations can be solved and must not be allowed to overshadow the transcendent importance of free world cooperation in the winning of the global struggle against communism.

"We stand together at a pivotal point in history," Eisenhower told a warmly applauding Parliament. He was interrupted 10 times during his speech by members' applause and the traditional desk thumping.

"All that we Canadians and Americans, and those who went before us, have built, all that we believe in, is challenged as it has never been challenged before. The new horizons of competition range from the polar areas and extend to the infinity of outer space."

In conciliatory terms, the President got down to specific points of difference—U.S. wheat exports, American restrictions on oil imports, Canada's trade imbalance with the United States, and the heavy flow of American investment capital to Canada.

"There is no cause to be surprised or disturbed," Eisenhower said, "over that differences ... between the two ...

The President made no mention in his address of a possible new channel for cooperation, in the realm of defense, through creation of joint Canadian-American Cabinet Committee on Defense.

The two leaders canvassed in tentative fashion the idea of setting up such a committee in the first of their official talks Tuesday. Details and decisions were reserved for later talks.

NO BAD INTENT

Turning to matters which he said are "troublesome between us," the President said that in disposing of surplus wheat overseas, the United States has no intent to damage normal commercial markets and that he thinks "we have been generally successful" in this.

Canadians have contended that the disposal program has cut into their commercial markets overseas. But Eisenhower said he considers the basis for past objections by Canada has been largely removed and "the doors of consultation" will be kept fully open on this subject—"there must never be a final word between friends."

The President conceded that in the past the wheat program has caused inconvenience and occasional damage to Canada. But in several respects, he said, Canada stands to benefit from U.S. removal of surplus farm products into overseas consumption.

He contended that many hungry people have had food which they would not have had otherwise, that storage of the products would have depressed the world market and world prices. And, he said, the foreign funds obtained by the sales and made available to recipient countries in the long run should help raise living standards and enlarge the markets for everyone.

TRADE BALANCES

Canada also has been unhappy about an unfavorable balance of trade with the United States running to around one billion dollars a year.

Eisenhower observed that American goods flow across the border only because Canadian consumers want to buy them.

To try to balance the trade books once a month or once a year with every nation, he said, would stifle trade rather than expand it. Furthermore, he said, Canada's export deficit to the United States is offset by export surpluses to other countries and by the flow of investments to Canada.

While the question of control of some Canadian industries by American citizens is raised, these industries are subject to Canadian law, he pointed out.

He noted that U. S. investments have helped provide employment, tax revenues and other benefits to Canada.

If there are defects in the investment process, Eisenhower said, he is confident ways will be found to correct them, because this is in the interest of both countries.

more old settlers had passed away during the last year than during any previous year since the reunions were started. He red the names of 61 who had died within the last 12 months.

The reunion started Monday night with an old fiddler's contest, with championship honors going to an outsider. He is 75-year-old George Cockrell of Canadian who ...served as secretary for several years, was given a ladies' make-up kit as a special prize.

After the awards were made, Mrs. Hall read several letters and telegrams from old timers who could not attend the reunion. O. B. Bryan read the list of new officers recommended by the nominating committee, and they were voted in by acclamation.

Alton Turner will serve as president, Hoot Tom as vice president, while Mrs. Hall was elected as permanent secretary of the organization.

The oldest oltimer was John Atchison of Stanton, who passed his 91st birthday two months ago. He came to Stanton in 1907. The person having lived the longest in Martin County is Chris Peters who came here as a small boy in 1883. He was born near the Rhine River in Germany, then was brought to Arkansas by his parents. After his mother died, his father moved to Stanton, which was then called Marienfield. The youngest old settler at the reunion was a baby just 18 days of age.

Several visitors were recognized from out of town. The ones coming the farthest were two from Corpus Chrsti, although others came from Oklahoma, Ruidoso, and Dallas.

Laymen Hear Of Hospital Work

The importance of clinical pastoral training and the workings of the chaplaincy in a state mental hospital were outlined for the First Baptist Brotherhood at the regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening.

With Chaplain Marvin Berkeland presiding, three theology students —Keith Wright, Woolem Walsh, and Erlene Gaskin — told and demonstrated how chaplains work with patients, some of the problems encountered and how critiques help the ministerial students to find more effective techniques.

"Most people who are mentally ill have become so because of one or both of two things," said the Rev. Berkeland. "Either their relationships and adjustments to other people have not been satisfying, or they are similarly disturbed in their relationships with God."

Except in certain types of mental cases, which are in a small minority, chaplains have an initial interview with the patient, and whether they return for additional talks is up to the patient, explained the Rev. Berkeland.

Announcement was made of the Royal Ambassador camp for junior boys July 14-18 and the intermediate boys July 21-25 at the Baptist encampment grounds just south of town. At the same location on July 28 the one-day Brotherhood encampment will be held, G. G. Morehead, district president, said.

The next phase of the program shifted to the City Park where 653 people were served a barbecue dinner. This was perhaps the largest crowd ever to attend a reunion and exceeded last year's total by about 40 people.

In the program that followed, Jo Ann Forrest, who was reared in Stanton but now lives in Big Spring, was master of ceremonies. O. B. Thug Takes '5th' At Senate Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Louis Romano, alleged Capone mobster, invoked the Fifth Amendment today in refusing to answer questions at Senate hearings on the rackets infested Chicago restaurant industry.

The committee heard testimony Tuesday that Frank (The Enforcer) Nitti, an overlord of Chicago crime, forced Romano into the labor movement as boss of the downtown Chicago Bartenders Union Local 278, to serve as a right-hand man for the mob.

Romano, wearing dark glasses, refused to tell the committee even where he was born.

"I decline to answer on the grounds that it may tend to incriminate me," he said.

Romano had no lawyer with him while testifying as the leadoff witness in the second day of questioning in the committee's search for evidence of a nationwide underworld plot to muscle in on labor and industry.

Also scheduled to be questioned today is Abraham Teitelbaum, labor consultant to the Chicago Restaurant Assn.

Teitelbaum, onetime lawyer for the Capone family, subsequently became the $125,000-a-year counsel for the association.

The committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) voiced curiosity about Teitelbaum's reasons for hiring Romano as the restaurant association's labor expert after a state court had ousted Romano and placed Local 278 in receivership.

Teitelbaum was a major witness in a House investigation of tax scandals in the Truman administration, and now lives in Hollywood, Calif. Romano, the committee said, lives in Miami.

While proposing no specific projects, the report dwells at length on the plausibility of switching floodwaters from one Texas river basin over to another where the river may be at normal or below normal level.

Property damage was $4,650 or nearly $2,000 more than the May amount of $2,770. Three of the mishaps resulted in minor injuries to occupants of vehicles.

This brings the total accident for the year to 155 with 16 injuries. Property damage for the first six months has been estimated at $38,455.

Child Desertion Charges Filed In 'Swap' Case

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A preliminary hearing has been scheduled for Aug. 21 for three persons held on child desertion charges in the swapping of a 5-month-old boy.

Held in lieu of $5,000 bond each are Richard Readdy, 26, Shamokin, Pa., and his wife Helen Margaret, 20. They pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of child desertion.

Jesse L. Burger, 41, El Dorado Springs, Mo., is held on a $2,500 bond after pleading innocent to a charge of aiding and abetting the Readdys in their alleged offense.

Paul Andrew, 5-month-old son of the Readdys, is at the Tulsa Juvenile Shelter, his future still undetermined.

The Pennsylvania couple is accused of trading the infant to Burger for the man's 1957 pickup truck.

The swap allegedly occurred after Burger, en route to Tulsa, picked up the young, jobless, almost broke couple as they hitchhiked to California.

In Shamokin the woman's father, William Murphy, said he wants the child if granted custody. He added: "I will be glad to make a home for my daughter, her husband and the baby if they want to come home. I think they are confused and mixed up and need someone to look out after them."

IN FATAL ACCIDENT

Towerman Admits He Forgot Signals

STERLINGTON, N.Y. (AP)—A towerman who admitted forgetting to stop one of two Erie Railroad passenger trains that collided yesterday has been cleared of any culpable negligence.

Five persons died and 36 were injured in the head-on crash.

Towerman Fred Roth, 38, Glen Rock, N.J., was cleared in his admitted lapse of memory by Rockland County Coroner R. J. Moses.

However, Dist. Atty. John F. Skahen requested county officials to continue their investigation.

Roth said under oath that he had been ordered to stop the westbound train while an eastbound train bypassed a freight.

The train which was to have been held at Suffern, N.Y., four miles east of here, went through Roth's tower without receiving a signal to stop.

"I forgot it," he said.

Later, Roth said, he tried to warn the train by radio but received no answer. A freight train, Roth said, heard the call and answered before the crash.

The tracks parallel a stretch of Highway 17 where police cars have trouble receiving radio calls.

The wreck spot is about 40 miles from New York City. Police blame the difficulty on iron ore in rock cuts along the way.

Roth, with the railroad 11 years, was released from questioning after Moses completed his inquiry.

All the dead were aboard the eastbound train bound from Monroe, N.Y., to Hoboken, N.J., This four-car train met the six-car westbound train from Hoboken to Port Jervis, N.Y., with such force that the lead cars were all but fused to one another in a jagged mass of wreckage.

The dead passengers were Pauline Cronon, Tuxedo, N.Y., and Robert L. Yochman, 41, Warwick, N.Y.

The other dead were engineer Samuel Nardo, 50, Glen Rock; fireman Michael J. Walsh, 26, Jersey City, N.J.; and ticket collector Charles D. Mitchell, Union City, N.J.

State Hospitals Propose Budget Of 95 Million

AUSTIN (AP)—The Legislative Budget Board will look Sept. 15-19 at a proposed 1960-61 budget totaling 95 million dollars for state hospitals and special schools.

The Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools yesterday completed adoption of its budget, which is about 18 million dollars more than present appropriations.

The Legislature gets the last word starting in January when it must decide how much money the state institutions will get.

About 12 million dollars will go for construction and building improvements. The other 83 million dollars will go for improving present operations, including pay raises, the board said.

Included in the construction will be $1,250,000 for 300 of the proposed 2,000-bed state school for mentally retarded children at Denton, a 2½ million dollar 400-bed school in the Gulf Coast area and a three million dollar 500-bed mental hospital at Houston.

Out-patient clinics now operating in Dallas and San Antonio will receive $130,000 each and the new Houston State Psychiatric Institute for Research and Training will have a million dollar budget.

Eight new out-patient clinics are planned, with the final location to be left to the Legislature or the board. The board originally recommended the clinics for Austin, Fort Worth, Amarillo, El Paso, Lubbock, Harlingen, Corpus Christi and Beaumont.

Gas Price Wars Create Havoc

DALLAS (AP)—George Gregor, Magnolia Petroleum executive, says "The gasoline price war situation today is the worst since the 30s when the East Texas Oil field was producing so much."

He made the statement in the latest edition of "Magnolia News," employes' magazine.

Gregor said the supplying company is the biggest loser in a gas price war. But he said he'd rather have the wars than federal or state regulation to stop them.

"Such governmental regulation would be like stabbing yourself to get rid of an itch," he said.

He referred to a bill now before Congress which would make it illegal for an oil company to reduce prices to dealers in a price war location unless it made the same reduction in all areas.

"This would put two hard choices in front of you," the vice president in charge of the marketing division said.

"You could refuse to help your dealers in a price war, or you could reduce your prices everywhere to match those in a price war town. Doing this last thing would likely extend price wars everywhere, and it would be so expensive that few companies would consider it."

He said no one sets out to start a price war. "A dealer will cut the price for reasons of his own and pretty often it will 'chain react' over a whole town."

Anybody Can Write Poison Pen Letter In Red China

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China's "tatsepao" is a poison pen letter with a difference—it's legal.

It is a large piece of paper, covered with Chinese characters, written in red ink, and is a critical barb aimed at someone or something.

These tatsepaos are plastered on walls, bullentin boards and fences, in factories, on street corners, in universities, cooperatives and farms—anywhere where people will see them.

They are part of the current nationwide rectification campaign.

The rectification campaign is a sort of Communist school for socialism. The party encourages everyone to criticize everything—except the party. Unwilling or backward Socialist students are special targets.

Workers in the rail depot at Changhsintien "turned the workshop walls into a patchwork quilt of flaming tatsepaos, accusing the depot director of spending too much time in his office, and not enough in the shop," Communist press reports say.

Students use tatsepaos to accuse university professors suspected of being rightists or individualists.

In cities, housewives who have to line up for food write these open letters criticizing the butcher, the baker and the overworked civil servant. Some even write about their husbands.

Mrs. Hug Chia Ming in Hupeh province wrote a tasepao about her husband which got into the national press. She asked: "What shall I do with my lazy man?

"He isn't concerned with the co-op's plan."

The husband was seen a couple of days later working his head off, Communist press reports said.

DEAR ABBY

NEVER SATISFIED

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I'm married to one of those women who has a "green thumb." She's got the house, all the windows, and porch (front and back) so cluttered up with little tiny pots and plants there is no room to turn around in. The house smells like a funeral parlor and the place looks like a flower shop. She runs around watering morning and night and her conversations are full of African violets (she even belongs to a Club for this one) and the thirty varieties of ivy. How can I get her to give up her indoor gardening and pay me some mind? WILTED.

DEAR WILTED: Something other than the plants are turning green — appreciate your wife's talent and be glad she has a hobby that is down to earth and keeps her home.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am just an old man who watches the world go by under his window. I am 78 years old and sit in my rocking chair and see a great many things as my window faces a square where children play. Every morning at 10 o'clock one mother comes outside bringing a glass of milk to her 12-year-old son. I can see the poor little fellow turning red because his friends on the block make fun of him. He takes an awful teasing as he chokes down the milk as fast as he can. Doesn't this mother know that she is doing him more harm than good?

OLD OBSERVER

DEAR OLD: The milk of human kindness would give more nourishment to this sensitive twelve-year-old boy. Why don't you tell the mother to call the lad in and let him drink his milk privately?

* * *

DEAR ABBY: What makes a man want to grow a beard: It can't be because he dislikes shaving because he spends twice as much time trimming his beard as he would if he took a clean shave. My boyfriend has had his beard for two months now and I don't care for it. At first it was a noveity, but now every time I kiss him it is like falling face down on a broom. How can I get him to shave it off? NANCY

DEAR NANCY: Kissing a man with a beard must be a ticklish business. Tell him plainly that you are not eager for his beaver.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a mother of three children, 8, 6 and 4. My husband deals out very strict punishment when the children disobey and that is my problem. He tells them they are not to leave the house for a full day. That means he goes to work and leaves them with me to listen to their complaints and arguments and crying all day. I think if he is going to put this kind of punishment on the kids he should stay home and see that it is enforced and not leave it for me to do. I have plenty of work around here without being a policeman. Please tell me how to explain it to him.

NO POLICEMAN

DEAR NO: Explain it to HIM, as you have explained it to me. There must be a way your husband can punish the children without also punishing you!

CONFIDENTIAL TO B. B.: We have heads on us for the same reason that pins do. They keep us from going too far. Simmer down!

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT THE GENERAL ELECTION ON NOVEMBER 4, 1958.

SJR #3—Number Nine on the Ballot.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 4, 1958.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 3 proposing an amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 5, to provide that the Legislature may authorize the creation of a Hospital District coextensive with the incorporated limits of the City of Amarillo, Texas; authorizing the County of Potter to render financial aid to and participate in the operation of such Hospital District; authorizing the Commissioners Court of said county to assess and levy taxes on property outside the incorporated limits of such city; further authorizing a countywide Hospital District for Wichita County, Texas, and authorizing the creation of two districts in Jefferson County; and further providing that any enabling Acts shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas be, and the same is hereby amended by adding thereto another section to be designated as Section 5, which shall read as follows:

"Section 5 (a) The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of two hospital districts, one to be coextensive with and have the same boundaries as the incorporated City of Amarillo, as such boundaries now exist or as they may hereafter be lawfully extended, and the other to be coextensive with Wichita County.

"If such district or districts are created, they may be authorized to levy a tax not to exceed Seventy-five Cents (75¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation of taxable property within the district; provided, however, no tax may be levied until approved by a majority vote of the participating resident qualified property taxpaying voters who have duly rendered their property for taxation. The maximum rate of tax may be changed at subsequent elections so long as obligations are not impaired, and not to exceed the maximum limit of Seventy-five Cents (75¢) per One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation, and no election shall be required by subsequent changes in the boundaries of the City of Amarillo.

"If such tax is authorized, no political subdivision or municipality within or having the same boundaries as the district may levy a tax for medical or hospital care for needy individuals, nor shall they maintain or erect hospital facilities, but the district shall by resolution assume all such responsibilities and shall assume all of the liabilities and obligations (including bonds and warrants) of such subdivisions or municipalities or both. The maximum tax rate submitted shall be sufficient to discharge such obligations, liabilities, and responsibilities, and to maintain and operate the hospital system, and the Legislature may authorize the district to issue tax bonds for the purpose of the purchase, construction, acquisition, repair or renovation of improvements and initially equipping the same, and such bonds shall be payable from said Seventy-five Cents (75¢) tax. The Legislature shall provide for transfer of title to properties to the district.

"(b) The Legislature may by law permit the County of Potter (in which the City of Amarillo is partially located) to render financial aid to that district by paying a part of the expenses of operating and maintaining the system and paying a part of the debts of the district (whether assumed or created by the district) and may authorize the levy of a tax not to exceed Ten Cents (10¢) per One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation (in addition to other taxes permitted by this Constitution) upon all property within the county but without the City of Amarillo at the time such levy is made for such purposes. If such tax is authorized, the district shall by resolution assume the responsibilities, obligations, and liabilities of the county in the manner and to the extent hereinabove provided for political subdivisions having boundaries coextensive with the district, and the county shall not thereafter levy taxes (other than herein provided) for hospital purposes nor for providing hospital care for needy individuals of the county.

"(c) The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a hospital district within Jefferson County, the boundaries of which shall include only the area comprising the Jefferson County Drainage District No. 7 and the Port Arthur Independent School District, as such boundaries existed on the first day of January, 1957, with the power to issue bonds for the sole purpose of purchasing a site for, and the construction and initial equipping of, a hospital system, and with the power to levy a tax of not to exceed Seventy-five Cents (75¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation of property therein for the purpose of paying the principal and interest on such bonds.

"The creation of such hospital district shall not be final until approved at an election by a majority of the resident property taxpaying voters voting at said election who have duly rendered their property for taxation upon the tax rolls of either said Drainage or said School District, nor shall such bonds be issued or such tax be levied until so approved by such voters.

"The district shall not have the power to levy any tax for maintenance or operation of the hospital or facilities, but shall contract with other political subdivisions of the state or private individuals, associations, or corporations for such purposes.

"If the district hereinabove authorised is finally created, no other hospital district may be created embracing any part of the territory within its boundaries, but the Legislature by law may authorize the creation of a hospital district incorporating therein the remainder of Jefferson County, having the powers and duties and with the limitations presently provided by Article IX, Section 4, of the Constitution of Texas, except that such district shall be confirmed at an election wherein the resident qualified property taxpaying voters who have duly rendered their property within such proposed district for taxation on the county rolls, shall be authorized to vote. A majority of those participating in the election voting in favor of the district shall be necessary for its confirmation and for bonds to be issued.

"(d) Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such Acts shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at the general election to be held the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1958, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"FOR the constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to create a Hospital District coextensive with the incorporated limits of the City of Amarillo, Texas, and authorising Potter County to lend financial aid to and participate in the operation of said Hospital District, and further authorizing the Legislature to create a county-wide Hospital District in Wichita County, Texas, and Hospital Districts in Jefferson County, Texas."

"AGAINST the constitutional amendment authorising the Legislature to create a Hospital District coextensive with the incorporated limits of the City of Amarillo, Texas, and authorizing Potter County to lend financial aid to and participate in the operation of said Hospital District, and further authorizing the Legislature to create a county-wide Hospital District in Wichita County, Texas, and Hospital Districts in Jefferson County, Texas."

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the constitution and laws of this state.

L. JENKINS' ADVISOR ROLE IS SHORTLIVED

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

ARROWHEAD SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Former lightweight champion Lew Jenkins' role as advisor to heavyweight contender Roy Harris diminished almost before it got under way.

JENKINS

As things developed, Jenkins is still a member of the board of strategy for the big guy from Cut and Shoot, Tex., however. Peace of a sort was re-established today for Roy's crack at the champion, Floyd Patterson, in Los Angeles Monday night.

There was a slightly dizzy chain of developments Monday at Harris' training camp. It started when Roy's managerial advisor, Louis Viscusi of Houston, announced that Lew had been engaged to counsel Harris on the better use of Roy's willing right hand.

Jenkins was known as the "Sweet Swatter from Sweetwater," Texas, that is, and his best swat was a right-hand swat to the head or body.

Someone forgot to mention the appointment to Harris' veteran trainer, Bill Gore, who has been handling boxers for 30 years or more.

Gore hit the ceiling of Harris' $100-a-day bungalow at this plush resort hotel when Lew showed up to discuss right-hand punching with Roy.

"I was only trying to help," said Lew, an Army master sergeant on leave from Fort Ord, Calif.

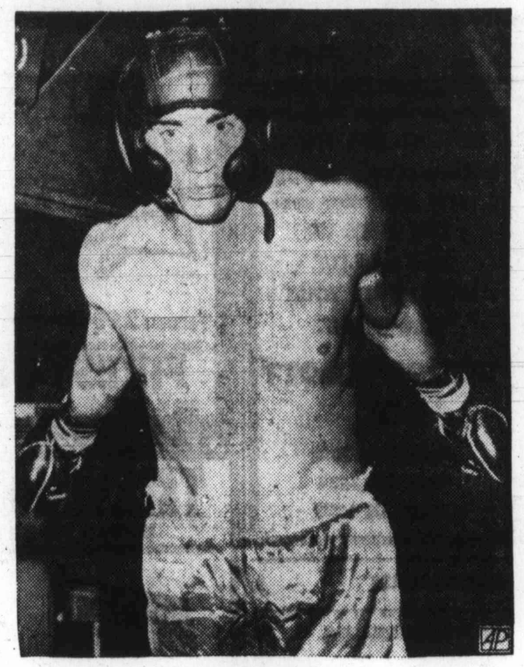

Later Gore delivered a severe lecture to visiting boxing writers, prompted when one inquired why Roy's scheduled boxing drill was called off.

"I don't want him to work," said Gore. "He's ready to fight right now."

Actually Gore was still sizzling about the Jenkins matter. But he soon cooled down, everyone was happy and Gore even sent word that Jenkins could talk to Roy some more.

But as one observer pointed out, there is at least one man ready for a fight and on edge.

"Bill Gore," he said, "is ready for Patterson right now."

Record 264 Provides Middlecoff With Win

By CHUCK CAPALDO
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Cary Middlecoff was at a loss today to explain his mastery of the back nine at the Tripoli Golf Club, a mastery that earned him the $5,300 first prize in the $35,000, 72-hole Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament.

The 37-year-old ex-dentist from Memphis, Tenn., who now plays out of Hollywood, Fla., posted a tournament record 16-under-par 264 yesterday.

He shot a 35-32—67 in the final round on Tripoli's par 35-35—70 layout, eclipsing by one stroke the tournament standard he shared with Ed Furgol.

Middlecoff, in ending a personal 26-month major tournament victory drought, played Tripoli's back nine as though he owned it. He finished 17 under par there, in marked contrast to the front nine where he was one over.

"I can't explain it," he said, "except to say I am not a very good starter, usually. They tell me 15 of the 18 birdies I shot during the tourney were on the back nine."

"Actually," he added, "there isn't much difference between the two nines. Normally, I play back nines a little better than front nines, but the difference here was just unbelievable.

"Part of it may be traceable to a couple of sad experiences I've had on this course the last two years. I guess I was just a little bit cautious on the front nine, not wanting them to happen again, and then opened up on the back nine. It just seemed like it belonged to me."

Second place and $3,400 went to Bob Rosburg, Palo Alto, Calif., who scored 266.

Bill Casper Jr., Apple Valley, Calif., was third with a 267. He won $2,200.

Rosburg, who was five back of Middlecoff when play started yesterday, caught and passed Casper on the final six holes as he shot a 4-under 31 for a 64, best round of the day. Casper shot a 67.

Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Bob Goalby, Belleville, Ill., tied for fourth place with 270. Each picked up $1,800.

Sports dialogue:

PERCY CERUTTY, coach of Herb Elliott, Australia's record-breaking miler:

"I never saw a boy with greater determination than Herb. he has unlimited capacity for self-punishment. He runs like an ostrich. He has thin legs and the mechanism of a weight-lifter above the hips. He is not unlike the old fighter, Jack Johnson, in build—like an upside down cone. Thus Elliott runs like an ostrich, letting the upper part of his body propel him forward. His legs become the wheels and his upper body the power machine."

JACK TIGHE, fired last month as manager of the Detroit Tigers, reporting from a fishing spot in Michigan:

"I never knew it could be so nice to live normally with one's family."

JOE BECKER, Los Angeles coach:

"A certain pitcher will wear out your catcher's mitt warming up. Then he'll wipe the sweat off his brow, change his shirt, go out on the mound and you can catch his fast ball with your bare hands. Where and how he loses his stuff between warmup time and the start of the game is a mystery. When Billy Loes was pitching for Brooklyn, he'd only throw about 60 pitches before a game. Don Newcombe would throw from 125 to 150 times before he took the mound. Then Newk would get by with from 98 to 110 pitches in a normal game."

* * * *

TONY CUCCINELLO, Chicago White Sox coach:

"The hitters take their eyes off the ball. You see them get in there and whoom! There goes the head turning before the pitch comes in. That's the big flaw in all hitters. Bill Skowron of the Yankees, even. He turns his head a mile but, for some reason he hits. The head is the big problem in every sport. In golf, they turn their heads a lot. But they're hitting a stationary object. These guys turn their heads with a baseball flying at them."

MARLENE BAUER HAGGE, the pro golfer:

"The girls are in the game because they love it. Men play golf for the opportunity the pro circuit offers to make money. Right now the best a woman can earn is $12,000 a year and the most she can take home is $7,500 because of expenses."

* * * *

BOB SCHEFFING, Chicago Cub manager:

"The National League schedule is the worst we've ever had. Geographically, Chicago and St. Louis are in the middle of the league, yet we do the most traveling. The Cubs and the Cards are the only clubs that make four trips to the west coast because we're "western teams." Here's another screwy angle to the schedule. We didn't play the Cards from early May until Aug. 8. Moreover, we're through with Milwaukee at home after July 20. Tie that one."

College Stars To Shoot Works

CHICAGO (AP) — The College All-Stars, fully aware they cannot "outmuscle" the Detroit Lions, are expected to employ a wide-open game when the two teams clash in Soldier Field Friday night.

"You can't run through these guys," says All-Star head coach Otto Graham. And Graham should know. For years he passed the Cleveland Browns to numerous professional championships.

"We'll play a wide-open game and try to win that way," added Graham. "You can't outmuscle your competition in pro football."

The All-Stars will be at least two-touchdown underdogs for this 25th annual midsummer classic.

The All-Stars have won 7 and lost 15. Two games ended in ties.

"Desire is the important thing," says Graham, who is satisfied with his team's general attitude. "They've worked hard and have not grumbled."

Graham's big problem is to make a group of individuals a team in a short time and offset the advantage the professionals have in playing together and winning the National Football League championship.

The 1958 edition of the All-Stars has size, speed and a taste of what to expect. Last week, Graham and his assistants took their squad to the Chicago Bear training camp for a scrimmage. The Bears won 24-7 but the Stars made a good showing in the second half.

Braves Kayoed By Pittsburgh

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Maybe Pittsburgh's persistent Pirates, pulling in fans and crowding the leaders, aren't just along for the ride after all in that National League pennant race.

The Bucs, usually scrapping to escape the cellar at this stage of the season, have paired pitching with a steady bat attack for a five-game winning streak and a share of second place with San Francisco, cutting Milwaukee's lead to six games.

They did it the hard way last night, knocking off the Braves and battering tough guy Warren Spahn 6-4 while reliever Elroy Face saved Bob Friend's 15th victory.

Cincinnati and Philadelphia split a pair in the only other NL games scheduled. The Redlegs won the completion of a June 1 suspended game 12-11 in 13 innings. The Phils won the regulation game 5-4 in 10 innings.

Friend, joining Spahn as the only NL pitchers to win 15 this season, outdueled the veteran lefty with ease before tiring in the eighth. He had the Braves blanked for seven, gave up a run in the eighth and was charged with 3 in the ninth.

Friend (15-12) gave up nine hits, walked three and struck out five. Spahn (15-8) was tagged for 11 hits and all six runs in his 6 2-3 innings.

Bill Mazeroski drove in three runs with a pair of singles and a triple for the Bucs. Hank Aaron had three hits for the Braves and lined a two-run single in the ninth before Face got Joe Adcock on a game-ending fly ball with the tying runs on base.

A throwing error by losing reliever Dick Farrell enabled Frank Robinson to scoot home from first with the tie-breaking run for the Reds in the opener. The game was tied 11-all with Cincinnati at bat in the ninth when the Sunday curfew fell in June. Joe Nuxhall won it in relief.

A walk, fielder's choice and Willie Jones' single gave the nightcap to the Phils after Ed Bailey's two-run homer had tied it 4-all in the ninth for the Reds.

RECORD AT STAKE

White Sox May Yet Finish In Second

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now that the big guns of his Chicago White Sox pitching staff have begun to fire, Al Lopez may yet extend his amazing record of never finishing worse than second as a manager.

Lopez hasn't much else to shoot for in his 11th year as a skipper. His usual hopes of swiping the American League pennant from the New York Yankees were junked long ago, when aces Billy Pierce and Dick Donovan and a trade-bolstered staff misfired.

Lopez was last two months ago, seven games shy of second, 14 back of the leading Yankees. Pierce, a 20-game winner in 1956 and 1957, was 4-5. Donovan was 2-7.

Now the White Sox have squeezed into a second-place tie with Boston. Donovan has won six in a row and Pierce 8 of 11 in that climb from the cellar.

Pierce pulled the White Sox even with Boston last night, winning 3-1 at Cleveland while the Red Sox lost 6-3 at Washington. It left the White Sox 15 games behind New York, however, despite Baltimore's 3-2 and 9-3 sweep over the Yankees in a day-night doubleheader.

Detroit defeated Kansas City 3-2 in the other AL game.

Pierce (12-8) gave up seven hits, walked but one and struck out seven. He had a two-hit shutout until the seventh, when ex-teammate Minnie Minoso slammed his 16th home run. Minoso, who also doubled, was the only Injun with an extra-base hit off the little southpaw.

Nellie Fox drove in one run for the Sox and scored another with a pair of doubles off Ray Narleski, now 11-10.

Jack Harshman and Connie Johnson delivered a pair of seven hitters as the Orioles won for the first time this season at Yankee Stadium. Harshman (9-10), carried by home runs from Bob Nieman and Joe Ginsberg, struck out nine in the opener. He had a five-hit shutout until Bill Skowron's two-out, two-run pinch homer in the ninth. Art Ditmar (8-3) was the loser.

The Orioles scored five runs in the nightcap first, three unearned, off loser Johnny Kucks (7-5) and rolled as ex-Yankee Gene Woodling went 5-for-5 and drove in three runs, one with a homer. Johnson blanked the Yanks after Mickey Mantle's two-run, fifth-inning homer.

It was the Mick's 32nd, keeping pace with Boston's Jack Jensen and Washington's Roy Sievers for the AL lead. Jensen and Sievers matched two-run shots in the fourth inning, but Sievers added a winning RBI single in the fifth off loser Bill Monbouquette.

The Tigers did their scoring on a walk and four singles with two out in the fourth and Jim Bunning (9-7) won his first since his July 20 no-hitter. Hank Aguirre saved it after Frank House hit a two-run homer in the ninth. Bob Grim was the loser.

Weaver Named Cup Captain

Judge R. H. Weaver has been named captain of the local Hall and Bennett trophy team and has announced that qualifying for the eight-man squad will begin immediately.

Linksters who plan to shoot for the team, which will meet a picked group of out of town linksters as a prelude to the annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament here on Aug. 29, must complete 72 holes of medal play in order to be eligible for the team.

The visiting champion has yet to be chosen. Weaver will assist in selecting him upon his return from a short trip.

The Hall and Bennett players pair off for competition in low ball and low total.

Qualifying for the big tournament itself will begin Aug. 29. Match play starts Saturday, Aug. 30 and winds up on Monday, Sept. 1—Labor Day.

Ell McComb is director of the tournament this year.

Reagan, Thomas Among Winners

An estimated 50 men and women took part in Sunday's shoot at the Western Sportsmen's Club Sunday.

Horace Reagan and R. C. Thomas, both of Big Spring, won laurels in the bench rest rifle firing. Lt. Wells of Webb AFB copped the prized in offhand shooting while another Webb officer, Lt. Perkins, was first in prone shooting with a small bore rifle.

A Mr. Tatum of Lubbock was tops in Class A shotgun, firing at 16 yards, having hit 96 of 100 targets.

V. W. Kemper of Big Spring had a 95 x 100 to take Class B laurels in the shotgun. Class C honors went to Tiny Goode of Barstow, with a score of 91 x 100. In class D., a Mr. Chandler broke 93 x 100 for a prize.

Among the women, Mrs. Loven of Lubbock had a score of 70 x 100 to win.

Jordan, Lannon Y Net Champions

John Jordan, who already had sacked up the singles title, teamed with Edward Lannon to win the doubles championship in the YMCA ping pong tournament. The award was announced Monday.

The winning pair won the opening game from Frank Hardesty and Betty Ellison before dropping the second match. They then went on to take the next two games and the title.

Consolation honors wen to Barton Grooms and Stephen Baird.

Cosden Meets Gulf Tonight

The Cosden Oilers return to softball play tonight, following a busy week in the ISL tournament at Odessa. The Oilers will compete in the Shaughnessy playoffs of the Midland Softball League, tangling with Gulf Oil of Midland at 9 p.m.

Cosden lost two games in the ISL tourney, one each to champion Union Furniture of El Paso and Manuel's Restaurant of Midland. However, Cosden had the distinction of toppling El Paso, handing the furniture company team its only loss of the meet, in a mid-week 16-inning battle.

A makeup game which was originally slated for Cosden in the Midland league was cancelled last night. The Oilers were to have played Manuel's.

Manager Ted Gross is now planning to take his Cosden club to Brownwood to play in a tournament there next week.

San Antonio And Edinburg Clash

LUBBOCK (AP)—Edinburg and San Antonio will settle the Region 7 Pony League baseball championship tonight.

Edinburg can sew it up with a victory but San Antonio will have to win two games in order to turn the trick.

SAYS MANAGER

Bucs Not Talking NL Pennant Yet

By GEORGE ESPER

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "Goodness gracious."

The man was talking to himself as he left Forbes Field Monday night. That's frequently a sign of the baseball ailment called pennant fever. The onset is apt to be particularly violent in places where it hasn't been seen for a long time — like Pittsburgh.

The Pirates had just stopped a ninth inning rally to defeat the Milwaukee Braves 6-4 and whittle the National League lead down to six games. Pittsburgh and San Francisco are tied for second.

Pirates fans are dazzled. Pittsburgh long has been accustomed to a tail-end club.

However, Manager Danny Murtaugh didn't have the fever — at least not yet.

"We're not talking pennant," Murtaugh said in the clubhouse. "We'll take our games day by day. Milwaukee has a terrific ball club."

A second record crowd of 38,938 — second largest for a night game in the history of Forbes Field — roared, cheered and sweated it out with the Pirates.

One of the fans, Joe L. Brown, the club's general manager, went to the dressing room to congratulate winning pitcher Bob Friend and others. He had to wait. Bob's teammates had the same idea.

"Gee, I felt good tonight," Friend said. "My fast ball was going good. I felt strong."

The loser, Warren Spahn, wasn't as talkative as Friend. He sat glumly at his locker, as did the rest of the Braves.

Pirates officials are looking for an even bigger crowd tonight.

Kosei Kamo Upsets Upstart In Newport Tennis Tourney

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—Ashley Cooper, seeded No. 2 in the Newport Invitation Tennis Tournament, with his fellow-Australian Mal Anderson rated No. 1, is free from one worry today.

He won't have to meet large John Crasston of San Marino, Calif., and he can thank Kosei Kamo for that. Kamo eliminated Cranston in the second round Monday, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3. It was Cranston who pulled one of the net upsets of the year in defeating Cooper in the South Orange, N. J., tournament last week.

The first round matches Monday resulted largely according to form, although Bill Talbert, who has nine of his junior Davis Cuppers here, said young Charley McKinley of St. Louis should have defeated Allen Roberts of Brooklyn. Roberts 1-6, 9-7, 6-4, but Talbert said McKinley hurried himself right out of the victory.

There was one other upset in the second round, Bob Bowditch of Worcester, Mass., eliminating Dave Harum of Coral Gables, Fla., 7-5, 6-2.

The center court at the Casino will feature two matches today, the first bringing together Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., and Rod Laver of Australia, and the second matching Ronald Holmberg of New York and Norman Perry of Los Angeles. Both are second round matches.

Six second round matches were played Monday. Bowditch and Kamo accounted for victories in two of them, and Alejandro Elmedo of Peru, who is national intercollegiate champion as a Los Angeles student, defeated William Cullen of Fairfield, Conn., in a third, 6-1, 11-13, 6-2.

James Schmidt of Beaumont, Tex., defeated William Bond of La Jolla, Calif., 6-1, 10-8; Earl Bucholz 6-3, 6-2, and Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., seeded No. 6, defeated Harry Hoffman of Philadelphia, 6-4, 6-3.

COLORADO CITY YOUTH COULD BE SWIFTEST OF ALL GIANTS

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—Don Maynard, rookie halfback from Texas Western and Colorado City, Texas, may be the fastest football player ever to wear a New York Giant uniform.

During camp work outs here Maynard has impressed Coach Jim Lee Howell. A 9.6 sprinter for 100 yards and Border Conference hurdles champion, Maynard was caught in 5.5 seconds for 50 yards—in football togs.

The next fastest Giants at 5.7 were defensive back Jim Patton, rookie backs Don Sutherin and Don Herndon and veteran end Ken MacAfee.

Maynard outsprinted such touchdown makers as Alex Webster and Kyle Rote who were timed in six seconds for 50 yards. If he gets to see action with the Giants he will give them a threat as a pass receiver and as a back who can go on wide sweeps.

Neighbor Awakens 2 Girls Sleeping In Burning Home

LAMESA—Fire which broke out shortly before 9 a.m. Monday destroyed the K. W. Mull home at 311 S. 3rd St.

Quick thinking by Lawrence Robinson, owner of the frame structure, undoubtedly saved the lives of 13-year-old Virginia Sue and 11-year-old Cynthia Ann, daughters of the Mulls, who were asleep in the back bedroom of the house. Robinson, who operates Lamesa Glass and Mirror next door, saw smoke coming from the roof of the house. He returned to his place of business, told an employe to call the fire department and ran in the house.

He found the back door locked and kicked it in. He found the girls asleep and got them out of the house. When he opened the door the flames spreead rapidly.

Mull was at work and his wife had gone to the bank when the blaze was discovered. Three other children were not at home. Mrs. Mull said she believes the fire must have started in the bathroom of the house.

Graham Points To Commies' Zeal

LAKE JUNALUSKA, N. C. (AP) —Communists, of all people, could teach Christians a lesson when it comes to zeal, says evangelist Billy Graham.

"The Communists," Graham said, "have become the greatest missionaries and evangelists in history, having reached the whole world in 40 years.

"The writings of Lenin are more widely distributed than the Bible in every country I visit."

Record Sorghum Crop Forecast For The State

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another huge grain sorghum crop for Texas was forecast yesterday by the Department of Agriculture.

This year's estimate of 253,855,000 bushels compares with last year's crop of 238,095,000 and a 10-year average of 91,020,000 bushels.

Other Texas estimates:

Wheat at 77,771,000 bushels, same as a month ago, compared with a 10-year average of 43,552,687,000 bushels.

Corn at 46,440,000 buehels, compared with 41,280,000 estimated a month ago, and a 10-year average of 43,687,000.

Oats at 43,552,000 bushels, about 10 million above the average.

Rice at 12,540,000 bags of 100 pounds, as compared with an average of 12,863,000 bags.

Nationally, the corn crop was estimated at 3,487,159 bushels and the wheat harvest at 1,420,725,000. The corn crop forecast was up 175 bushels from last month and the wheat 76,635,000 more than last month's forecast.

The sorghum crop was set nationally at 496,132,000 bushels, down 561,977,000 from last season. The sorghum forecast was the first of the season.

Other national figures: oats 1,345,157,000 this month and 1,255,244,000 last month; rice 46,977,000 this month and 43,130,000 last month.

The department said sorghums production this year is expected to exceed that of 1957 in Texas, California and a number of minor producing eastern and southern states. But less acreage caused a rather sharp drop in the central Great Plains states.

F104 Grounded Pending Check

HAMILTON AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The ultrasonic F104 Starfighter jet plane has been grounded, pending modifications.

The grounding order was issued Friday by the Air Defense Command and affects a squadron here, one at Westover, Mass., and one about to go into service at Larson AFB, Wash. About 25 planes make up a squadron.

The F104, which holds the world's known speed record of 1,400 miles an hour, is the same type of plane which carried prospective space pilot Iven Kincheloe to death July 26.

A spokesman here doubted whether Kincheloe's death had much to do with grounding the plane and said modification of the plane had been in the works for some time. There have ben four F104 crashes since last February, three of them fatal.

The plane's builders, Lockheed Aircraft Corp., of Burbank, Calif., said work is being done to improve "operational effectiveness" of the Starfighter's engine.

Mickey's Girl Friend Takes Overdose Of Sleeping Pills

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mickey Rooney has no thought of marrying a blonde starlet who took an overdose of sleeping pills in his house, says Rooney's manager.

"They're just good friends," said Red Doff of the four-times-married actor and 21-year-old Carolyn Mitchell, who swallowed the pills Thursday night while alone in Rooney's rented home.

Mickey is performing in a night club act at Lake Tahoe, a resort on the California-Nevada border, and has not been reached for direct comment.

Doff said last night there was no romance between Rooney and Miss Mitchell, who was Miss Muscle Beach of 1954, a title bestowed on the shapeliest habitue of a stretch of nearby beach favored by the biceps and barbell set.

"He has no thought of marriage," said Doff, "for one thing because he isn't free, and for another because he isn't going to be married again for a long time." Rooney's marriages to Ava Gardner, Betty Jane Rase and Martha Vickers ended in divorce and he is now estranged from Elaine Mahnken.

Police listed Miss Mitchell's pill swallowing as attempted suicide, but she insisted it was an accident. She also said she and Rooney plan to be married when he is free.

Texas Senators Help Vote Down Depletion Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough helped vote down two moves to reduce the 27½ per cent oil and gas depletion tax allowance last night.

The Senate defeated, 63-26, an amendment by Sen. John Williams (R-Del) to reduce the tax allowance to 15 per cent. It rejected, 58-31, another amendment by Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) to reduce the allowance on a graduated scale down to 15 per cent for larger operators.

Seasonal Increase In Farm Work

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Employment Commission reported yesterday a sharp decline in the number of non-farm job placements made last month and a seasonal increase in finding work for farm hands.

It filled 38,830 non-farm jobs compared to June's record 47,160 supplied and 75,670 workers for farms compared with 70,007 the previous month.

The jobs filled during July included 15,698 women applicants, 7,881 for veterans and 2,127 for physically handicapped men and women.

Third Dionne Quint Marries

MONTREAL (AP) — Marie Dionne, third of the Canadian quintuplets to marry, was honeymooning today with Florent Houle, a 33-year-old court clerk she met last March.

They were wed early yesterday in a secret ceremony to avoid the glare of publicity that surrounded the marriages last autumn of Annette and Cecile. The fourth sister, Yvonne, is a registered nurse. Emilie died in 1954.

Two altar boys witnessed the wedding ceremony and then assisted in a nuptial Mass in the Sacred Heart Chapel of Notre Dame Roman Catholic Church. Church officials would give no details on the wedding.

The couple's honeymoon spot also was a secret.

Marie, the shyest and frailest of the 24-year-old sisters, took preliminary vows of a nun but left the convent after eight months. She opened a small flower shop in downtown Montreal but closed it when more people came to stare than to buy. She reportedly has been housekeeping for Yvonne recently.

Goldwyns Have Son

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Film producer Sam Goldwyn Jr. and his wife, the former Jennifer Howard, have a new son. A boy, John, was born to the couple last weekend at St. John's Hospital, Santa Monica. They have a boy, 4, and girl, 7.
