Governor And Officials To Face Charges

Sterling, Allred And Several Other State Officials Made Defendants In Petition At Wichita Falls

Called Into Court

Judge William H. Atwell Says In Court Order That State Officers Must Be In Court Saturday, Nov. 28

(By The Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 26.—Gov. Ross Sterling, Attorney General James V. Allred, all state railroad and highway commissioners, and three Dallas county officials were named in an order issued by Judge William H. Atwell in federal district court Thursday afternoon ordering them to appear before the court here Saturday afternoon Nov. 28 in connection with an application filed Thursday for injunction against the enforcement of the Texas motor carrier law upon certain petitioning operators of interstate motor truck lines.

The principal issue advanced in the petition filed before Judge Atwell involves the alleged infringement upon rights of contract carriers engaged in intertsate business by enforcement of the law passed by the 42nd legislature to control operations by common carriers using motor trucks.

Twelve Bring Action

Twelve persons who declare themselves operators of interstate trucks lines as "contract carriers" brought the action through Daily and Keller, Dallas lawyers.

The petitioners charge their agent at Dallas has been arrested and charged with violation of the motor carrier law, and that trucks and other equipment of the plaintiffs are being held because of the owners' alleged failure to comply with requirements of the state law. Heavy losses due to inability to make promised deliveries are alleged.

Signers of the affidavit claim that the provisions of the law endow the state railroad commission with "arbitrary, capricious and discriminatory powers," and pleaded that regulations imposed upon common carriers within the state can not equitably be extended to "contract carriers" operating from Michigan, Ohio, and other distant points into Texas.

An emergency situation is pleaded by the applicants for permanan-

Turkey Replaces Chicken For Sing Sing Prisoners

OSSINING, N. Y., Nov. 26, (AP)—The chef made this Thanksgiving day a happy one in the state's "big house" even if he didn't get any cooperation from the Sing Sing football team.

For the first time in nearly 20 years turkey—roasted, brown and steaming—was served the prison population — now about 2,400. Chicken has been the regular holiday centerpiece.

More Than Score Dead In Freezing Winter Blizzards

Holiday Gaiety Is Not Without Its Tragic Side

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 26. —It was a white Thanksgiving day in the west.

Snow blanketed a wide area from the Pacific coast east to St. Louis, giving the traditional background for the holiday.

The snow scene was painted with a wide splash during the day across the Texas Panhandle, northern Oklahoma, Kansas, eastern Nebraska and Missouri for the first time this season.

Storm In Montana

A new storm was raging in Montana, which like other Rocky mountain states has been snow-covered since the first of the week. For the Pacific coast there was a white coating in the high mountain regions and in eastern Washington.

The gaiety lent to the turkey day festivities was not without its tragic side. More than a dozen deaths were charged to the snow and cold in the mountain regions and a party of five motorists drowned in a rain swollew creek near Tyler, Tex.

There was much suffering among persons marooned with little food and shelter, principally Navajo Indian pinion nut pickers in New Mexico, at least nine of whom froze to death.

Sheepherder Dead

John Moody, a sheepherder, was found dead from exposure near Glenrock, Wyom.

Among the missing were Robert Gordon and Billie Haines, 15-year old boys who were last seen leaving from school Tuesday. Searching parties combed snowdrifts near Columbia Falls, Mont., for the youths.

A flock of 900 sheep wandered onto thin ice on a reservation near Matla, Mont., during a snowstorm

For A Time There Was Some Hope For Lucille But With Second Crash She Was Dead

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. — For a time last night there was hope for the life of Lucille Scharf.

She was struck and injured by an automobile truck while playing in an alley.

The driver picked her up, put her in his machine and started for a hospital.

En route his car collided with another automobile and turned over.

Lucille was killed.

Mourning Wails Of Zunis Tell Of Tragedies

(By The Associated Press)

GALLUP, N. M., Nov.—Mourning wails of the Zuni Indians and sacred chants of their medicine men pierced the icy air of the Zuni agency throughout Thanksgiving day as bodies of their tribesmen were brought by relief parties from the snow blanketed Malpais mesas of the reservation.

Nine Indians, four of them children, have been found in three camps, frozen to death by the storm which has kept the Indians snowbound in small villages and pinon picker camps for six days.

Pushing Ahead

Pushing doggedly ahead against freezing winds and through deep snows, fifty horsemen trying to reach Santa Rita mesa where 500 Indians are snowbound, followed the same trail over which Coronado marched his men through a blizzard in the winter of 1540.

The particular goal of those horsemen is a camp where forty Indian men, women and children are sheltered only by five covered Zuni wagons. They will have to find the other scattered camps on the mesa. A wagon supply train to At-

GALLUP, N. M., Nov. 26. (AP)— A warm Thanksgiving day which melted heavy snow made it possible for hundreds of Navajo and Zuni Indians snowbound in northwestern New Mexico to make their way to shelter and obtain food and forage. Superintendent W. A. Trotter of the Zuni agency said tonight he had been informed that of the 1,300 Indians reported marooned, between 500 and 600 remained to be rescued.

Two Speakers Featured For Opening Meet

Miss Florence Hale And Dr. Willis A. Sutton Appear At State Teachers Session Now On In Amarillo

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Two nationally known speakers told teachers attending the Texas State Teachers association convention here today that false economy brought about by the depression was jeopardizing American education.

Miss Florence Hale, Augusta, Maine, president of the National Education association, spoke on "the challenge of the present crisis." and Dr. Willis A. Sutton, Atlanta, retiring president of the same organization, talked on the causes of the depression and the resulting effects on education.

Lived Too Well

"There has never been a time when it was more necessary to safeguard the welfare of the children of America tan it is today," Miss Hale said. "The present generation has lived not always wisely but too well, and we are now paying for these past years of fictitious prosperity.

"It will be a tragedy if we let our temporary misfortunes handicap the futures of our children."

Dr. Sutton said there were several causes for every business depression. "This is the first time we had suffered all of them at one time," he said.

He said depressions were brought about by American "Jingoism" or feeling of superiority, war, extravagance and speculation, the wasting of natural resources, and the limiting of population by immigration laws and birth control.

Culture Is Basis

"Culture," he concluded, "is the basis of all prosperity and at the bottom of all good business. We

Treason Plots Stir Germany

Treasonable Documents Found In Homes Of Socialists And Country Is Thrown In State Of Excitement

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Nov. 26. — Police of Dakmstadt announced today they had seized documents of a highly treasonable character in the homes of national socialist leaders in Hesse and tonight the whole country was in a state of political excitement comparable to that in England after publication of the Zinovieff letters in 1927.

The national socialists assert the documents are forgeries and that the party knew nothing about them until police announced their discovery.

Campaign Outlined

One version was that the documents outlined a plan of campaign to be adopted when the party comes into power. It calls for confiscation of foodstuffs, establishment of public kitchens, confiscation of private property and compulsory labor for all gentile Germans above the age of 16.

In some quarters it was said these orders were to be applicable only if communists should seize power and the national socialists could drive them out.

What interested the people more than anything else was whether the party actually advocates so extreme a program as confiscation of bank accounts and abolition of private property. Should the seized documents be proved genuine it probably would result in loss of many members of the party.

Man Must Undergo An Operation Each Morning In Order To Hold His Life

(By The Associated Press)

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 26. Earl Lanford Charlotte business man, must undergo an operation a day to keep himself alive.

His case is said by Dr. Gabriel Tucker, famous bronchoscopic surgeon of Philadelphia, to be the only one of its kind in the world.

Every morning Lanford must swallow a heavy one-inch metal ball, attached to a string and then pull it back again. Thus his esophagus is kept open.

Years ago Lanford found he was rapidly losing weight and a physician in Greer, S. C., told him his lower esophagus had closed and that he was starving to death.

Lanford then went to Dr. Tucker who performed an unusual operation. An incision was made in Langford's stomach and he was fed through a rubber tube for six months. Then his esophagus was opened by hydraulic pressure — by the weight of water and later Lanford was started to swallowing a small metal ball.

This was increased to its pre-

Exhibition Of Team Work And Brilliant Individual Play Makes Triumph Decisive For Local Collegians

(Special to the Avalanche)

ABILENE, Nov. 26.—Texas Tech's well oiled football machine ground out a 6 to 0 victory here this afternoon to end a three-year winning streak of the Simmons university Cowboys, who played before a homecoming crowd.

With an exhibition of team work and of brilliant individual play the Bullfighters made the triumph more decisive than the score showed. Shorty France galloped, Harold Crites and Nichols ripped the line for huge slices of the terrain, and the Tech interference left its opposition and the audience alike awed by its effectiveness.

Matadors Too Many

Always there was a wedge of Crimson running over the Cowboy tackles. About four in a group the Matadors would come, charging hard and irresistibly with their noses to the ground like bloodhounds on the scent of the fellow who killed cock robin or somebody.

In the wake of such destructive force the Lubbock ball carriers simply had to gain, or be charged with criminal negligence and shot at sunrise. More appropriately, they would have been fired at sundown by Coach Pete Cawthon.

Well there was no such negligence on the part of those pigskin luggers.

Bert Hinkler Dares South Atlantic Hop; No Word Received Since His Take-Off

(By The Associated Press)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 26. Bert Hinkler, who once held the speed record for a flight from England to Austalia, presumably was out over the South Atlantic tonight on his way from Natal to Africa alone.

First word that the flight had started came in an aero postal message from Natal that he had taken off there yesterday for Dakar, Senegal, French West Africa, and had not been heard from since the start.

Captain Hinkler made the Australian flight in 15 days three years ago, and the mark stood until Charles Kingsford-Smith covered the distance in 10 days last year.

In October the captain flew from New York to Kingston, Jamaica, in 17 hours 45 minutes, a record for that distance, and came on down across the Carribbean to Natal.

Should he succeed in reaching Dakar from there he would be the first man to fly across the South Atlantic from west to east. The distance is something more than 1,500 miles. Dakar is at the tip of Cape Verde on the African West Coast.

Amarillo Draws Bye And Will Meet Winner Of Clash Next Thursday; Sandies Grim And Determined To Win

BY COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche Sports Editor

BUTLER FIELD, AMARILLO, Nov. 26. — Amarillo's Golden Sandstorm gridders gained a tie with Lubbock and Pampa for the high school football leadership of District One here this afternoon by defeating the Lubbock Westerners 25 to 2, on a slippery field.

The sacred turf of Butler Field, muddied beyond recognition for the afternoon but perhaps serving its purpose at the same time, retained its prestige as having never been the scene of a Sandy defeat since the former baseball park was given its present name.

A capacity crowd of between 12,000 and 15,000 eager fans defied cloudy skies and mud-clogged approaches to witness the scramble. A coating of slick, heavy mud, saturated by water, covered the field and made playing a difficult task.

Crawford Breaks In

Still fighting even when victory was as impossible as a dry field, the Westerners, toward the middle of the fourth quarter, drove the tiring Sandies backwards from the latters' 20-yard line in two plays, Captain Bob Crawford, the district's strong bid for all-state center, falling on "Mite" Duriaway, substitute quarterback, far behind the goal line for a safety. It was Lubbock's only offensive showing that counted in the final score.

The final score, may we insist here and now, did not tell the whole story. It did not tell the story of how the Westerners played the Sandies off their unsteady footing for the entire first half, only to see "Chiggers" Enochs, one of the sweetest little halfbacks ever to trod on District 1 soil, scamper 29 yards for a touchdown early in the second "inning." Even after that, the Westerners came back and played the remainder of the period, with the exception of one play, on Am-

AMARILLO IS LUCKY

The Pampa High school Harvesters, thrown back into the District 1 championship race as a result of Amarillo's victory, will journey to Lubbock Monday for the first of a series of two play-off games to decide the title. This was announced last night as a result of a special meeting of District 1 executive committee. In the drawing, Amarille drew a bye and will meet the winner of the Lubbock-Pampa game next Thursday afternoon. If Lubbock defeats Pampa a second time, the Golden Sandstorm will come to Lubbock next Thursday, otherwise Pampa and Amarillo will fight for the crown at Butler Field on Thursday.

Story Of Blood-Signed Oaths And Secret Missions Is Told

Plainsman Not Yet Convinced

Charles A. Guy, editor and publisher of the Avalanche-Journal and known as The Plainsman, will answer the beck and call of Gene Howe, Amarillo columnist, for one full day of janitorial duties, but Guy is far from convinced the Golden Sandies are superior to the Westerners.

Following the game Thursday at Amarillo in which the Lubbock High school team was defated, 25 to 2, by Amarillo, Guy announced he would wager one week of the same kind of labor with Howe if the two teams met in the play-off for the district title on a dry field.

Guy must sweep out the entire building that houses the Globe-News offices in Amarillo, run errands, act as copy boy, and do anything for one day that Howe, known as the Tactless Texan, dictates. Had Lubbock won the game, Howe would have performed the same duties in the Avalanche-Journal offices in Lubbock.

Prosecution Witness Tells All In Trial As Echo To Harlan Coal Field Strike; Charges Of Floggings Aired

(By The Associated Press)

MOUNT STERLING, Ky., Nov. 26.—A story of striking miners' meetings where oaths were signed in blood and men who refused to go on certain missions turned their faces to the walls so as not to recognize those who volunteered, was related by a prosecution witness here today in the trial of W. Japan's Military Command To Rush Reinforcements Toward Tientsin; Cabinet Gathers To Pass On Decision

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Nov. 27. (Friday)—Japan's high military command decided this morning it was necessary to rush reinforcements to Tientsin, China, and the cabinet went into extraordinary session to pass on the decision.

Information received by the war office and from the other sources indicated heavy fighting was going on at Tientsin.

Italians Attacked

The Rengo (Japanese) News agency received a dispatch saying after the Chinese had attacked the Japanese concession they laid down a bombardment on the Italian concession, and the Italian garrison was responding.

The Rengo correspondent declared the Japanese concession was being raked by fire from machine guns and rifles together with some artillery shells.

The war office charged the Chinese had started the attack.

Truce Violated

Commanding Officer Kashii, in charge of the Tientsin garrison, reported the Chinese violated the truce of November 15 by launching an assault on the Japanese concession without warning.

"Whereupon the Japanese garrison exercised its right of self-defense, affording protection to the Japanese residents in the settlement," Kashii said in a message to the war office.

Tokyo was greatly stirred by news of the Tientsin fighting.

It Was A Real Thanksgiving For 65 Prisoners; Governor Gives Freedom

(By The Associated Press)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 26.—Staked by the state to $10 apiece and new clothing, 65 convicts with meritorious records stepped from the shadows of Alabama prison walls today into the bright sunlight of Thanksgiving day with the admonition of a generous governor to "make good citizens."

Touched by the spirit of the holiday, Governor B. M. Miller signed paroles for these prisoners whose records were "excellent" and with break of dawn, the gates swung open and they were away to their new freedom.

"Because it was Thanksgiving One of the convicts, an eged negro trusty at the state capitol, was so overcome by the good news he broke down and wept for joy.

Attired out and out in new clothes—underwear, suits, cap, socks and shoes—and the ten dollars the state gave each of them, the convicts went away rejoicing, some to be greeted by relatives and friends and taken home to a turkey dinner while others, equally as jubilant, set off to seek new opportunities.

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

HERE it is, the day after Thanksgiving, and all the p. w. g., except teachers, have to crawl out of bed and punch the clock again at 8 o'clock. That's one bad thing about holidays. We eat too much and then have to get back to work the next day just the same. One of the crying needs of the world now is a holiday after a holiday to be used in resting up.

Susie the Steno was among those present shivvering over on the east side of the Amarillo field. She hasn't arrived back in Lubbock while this is being written, but she vowed in that it was a good game during the first two quarters, anyway, and she is just as hoarse as if she had been yelling for victory. Susie and Percy celebrated yesterday as they both had a holiday and made the trip up on the special. Sometime next week when she gets over the holiday, she'll probably be over to tell me all the details.

In case you were among those in Amarillo or Abilene, things were kinda quiet around Lubbock Thursday. Even the picture shows were not overflowing with crowds but most of the radios were being pretty popular, in spite of the statistics that issued from those hooked up for Amarillo.

BE THANKFUL FOR

PERHAPS you were too busy to be thankful yesterday. Today, sitting around with a lot of retrospection, it might not be amiss to "count your blessings" and then forget that 1931 has been a year of so-called depression.

In spite of the walls of the last few months, you haven't starved to death and the chances are that you have thrown away enough to take care of the family during the remainder of the winter—if it become a matter of actual want. The more than 500 jobless of August have employment; several thousand people had enough surplus to throw away for a happy week-end and bought new clothes for the occasion. Things are brighter and they will remain that way if citizens pull together to make them so.

This isn't any Utopia but it is our country and the grandest in the world. It is what we made it and it is going to be what we make it in the future. There have been depressions before and most of us didn't know it until we heard of it this year. A boom may not be just around the corner—and that is something else we can be thankful for—but good times are in the future. We can be thankful that it is the better things we have to anticipate now instead of the dark days that have past.

We don't have to be Pollyannas to be thankful. One of our troubles is that we have been accustomed to too much and then when a little pinch came we howled all the harder for the change.

ASHAMED TO WORK?

ALL of which brings me back to one of the old wails of this column—the business woman. The other day someone was telling me a tale of some family that had been rich but now has next to nothing. The question of money is a grave one but men of the family have banded together saying that women in the family shall not work. They "would rather see them starved than working in public."

Gallantry, to be sure. But wasted and false gallantry and if the women in that family have any sense at all they will get into business college or some other place and learn to bring a pay check home every Saturday night.

There was a day when the good old aristocratic South "protected" women and kept them in the home doing fine seams. But, unless I am very much wrong, the women protested—along with women in the North, the East, West and across the ocean. Women saw an opportunity to do something more worthwhile than sitting around polishing their nails and waiting for the eligible man to walk over the horizon.

So today we have the business woman. If she has lost social prestige—then this prestige was worthless in the beginning. If her father, brothers and even her husband have anything to be ashamed of, I don't see it. There is something in having a career for the sheer joy of it. There is something else in having a career—even the career of pecking a typewriter in some man's front office—and helping the family along besides.

The woman who is ashamed to earn her money doesn't deserve it. Of course, if her father has plenty and wants her to stay home, it is his business and hers. If he has nothing and still doesn't want her to work, she will go ahead and work anyway, if she has the right sort of a slant on things. She should worry about her father's attitude. The chances are that it will be all right with him after a few months and in the meantime, he can smooth a few financial wrinkles out of his brow.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Swiftest, Easiest Way To End Bilious Spell

When you neglect those first symptoms of constipation—bad breath, coated tongue, listlessness, the whole system soon suffers. Appetite lags. Digestion slows up. You become headachy, dizzy, bilious.

It's easy to correct sluggish bowel action! Take a candy Cascaret tonight. See how quickly—and pleasantly—the bowels are activated. All the souring waste is gently propelled from the system. Regular and complete bowel action is restored.

Cascarets are made from pure cascara, a substance which doctors agree actually strengthens bowel muscles. All drug stores have Cascarets. 10c.—Adv.

(Special to The Avalanche)

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 26.—Depositors in the closed Plainview National bank, and others interested, are to meet Saturday afternoon to discuss ways and means of helping the receiver of the bank to settle the present situation.

Petitions prepared by H. H. Rodgers and T. L. Ball were widely circulated and signed. Property owners and taxpayers were urged to call the meeting in order to get at the facts in the case.

The petition said in part: "We, the undersigned citizens of Hale county, Texas, a number of whom are individual depositors of the Plainview National bank, now in the hands of a receiver for the purpose of winding up its affairs, and a number of whom are land owners of Hale county and interested in winding up the affairs of said bank in that a large sum of money, amounting to something like $200,000.00 was deposited in said bank and being the balance of the proceeds of the sale of $750,000.00 of the sale of $1,000,000.00 worth of bonds issued by Hale county for the purpose of constructing certain paved roads in the county, and creating a lien on our real estate, hereby call a meeting of such depositors and landowners at Plainview at 2 p. m. Saturday, November 28, 1931, for the purpose of taking such steps, collectively, through a committee, to aid said receiver in ascertaining any wrongdoing by the management of the bank, and to discover assets belonging to the bank in the way of notes given by individuals to the bank and payable to the order of the bank, and now held by individuals, partnerships or corporations, claiming such notes by transfer and are not in the possession of the receiver and being transferred at a time and under such circumstances as to be assets of the bank, and to aid the receiver in marshaling such notes in such a way and manner as that the notes will become available to help pay depositors and other creditors of the bank, and to such other and further things as may be necessary and lawful in the premises looking to the legal rights of the depositors and gathering information that might be material in aiding and helping said receiver in winding up the affairs of the bank; and to employ counsel to represent us in our legal rights and to aid and help in any and all legal and lawful matters as might appear and be necessary in the premises."

Many Farmers Are Planting Wheat In O'Donnell Section

(By Staff Correspondent)

O'DONNELL, Nov. 26 — With wheat that was planted before the recent rains showing up to a good stand, many farmers will plant more wheat within the next few weeks, according to J. L. Shoemaker, jr., cashier of the First National bank.

"Nearly every farmer has a little wheat, or will plant some for winter pasture," Mr. Shoemaker said. "I look for a bigger crop this year than last."

"If wheat makes next year, we ought to ship 25 or 30 cars of wheat from O'Donnell."

Wheat shipments here last summer were the largest in the history of the town. There was considerable held for seed and also to feed to livestock.

Police Investigate Affair In Which Woman Was Injured

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Nov. 26. (AP)—Phoebe Sorrel, who was taken off the liner Asturias with a bullet wound on Tuesday night, remained in critical condition in a hospital today while police investigated the shooting.

In the cabin which she occupied on a trip from South America they found a double barrelled pistol of unusual type. It was learned that the ship's surgeon, summoned by a steward who heard groans from within the cabin, found the door locked on the inside but was admitted by the woman just before she collapsed. At the time she was wearing the evening gown in which she had appeared at a dance earlier in the evening.

Her passport gave the address "Care of George Barbor, Douglaston, N. I." Today the steamship line received a cablegram signed Falkingham, New York City, asking for particulars of the affair.

WHEN FOOD SOURS

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomach. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless liquid; pleasant, efficient and harmless. But it kills excess acids, and has remained the standard with the doctors for more than 50 years.

It is the ideal remedy for constipation, headaches, heartburn, nausea, sick stomach, biliousness. It offers sure relief from the effects of over-indulgence.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know. Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, used by physicians for over fifty years in correcting excess acid, 25c and 50c bottles sold at all drug stores.

To Keep Teeth White

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia as a mouthwash in conjunction with Phillips' Dental Magnesia, a superior tooth-paste, offers the best possible protection from all tooth decay. It neutralizes mouth acids which eat through the tooth enamel. Your dentist will tell you he knows of nothing better for keeping the teeth and mouth in a fine, healthy condition.

BOWELS need watching

Let Dr. Caldwell help whenever your child is feverish or upset; or has caught cold.

His simple prescription will make that bilious, headachy, cross boy or girl comfortable, happy, well in just a few hours. It soon restores the bowels to healthy regularity. It helps "break-up" a cold by keeping the bowels free from all that sickening mucus waste.

You have a famous doctor's word for this laxative. Dr. Caldwell's record of having attended over 3500 births without loss of one mother or baby is believed unique in American medical history.

Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your drugstore and have it ready. Then you won't have to worry when any member of your family is headachy, bilious, gassy or constipated. Syrup Pepsin is good for all ages. It sweetens the bowels; increases appetite—makes digestion more complete.

Indiana Triumphs In Tournament Of Losers In Chicago Thursday; Four Big Ten Teams Appear In Exhibition

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

STAGG FIELD, CHICAGO, Nov. 26. (AP)—The tournament of the losers wound up in a 6-0 triumph for Indiana over Chicago.

The Hoosiers and Maroons played Illinois and Iowa, all trailers in the Western conference championship race, Today in the strangest football spectacle ever offered in the Big Ten for charity. Only about 8,000 spectators turned out for the Thanksgiving Day football festival, with receipts around $16,000. As a result about $15,000 will go to the governor's relief funds in the seven states comprising the western territory.

Play Two Periods Each

Under conditions of this unique round robin tournament Indiana was thrown into the field with Illinois, while Chicago was matched with Iowa. These teams played two periods with the winner meeting in another two-period game from the tournament championship, the only championship any of the contestants had a chance to win this season.

Indiana was the first to emerge triumphant, winning the decision over Illinois, although neither team scored. The Hoosiers however, were awarded the verdict on a basis of having registered eight first downs to four for the Illini.

Maroons Down Iowa

Chigaco battle Iowa in the real thriller of the afternoon, with Chicago snatching a 7 to 0 victory. The crippled, but game crew of Maroons seized the advantage of a break five minutes after their second period started. The Hawkeyes had been shoved back to their own 35-yard line, forcing Kritz to punt. The ball dropped into the arms of Pete Zimmer, who was standing on Chicago's 20-yard line. The Maroon's right halfback shook off three tacklers, darted first one way and then the other, and finally finding a clear path ahead of him dashed on for 80 yards and a touchdown. Hamberg kicked the extra point from placement .

The Maroons, although beaten by Indiana, outplayed the Hoosiers, registering six first downs to four for the invaders. After Indiana had scored Chicago rushed the ball to Indiana's 2-yard line on spectacular runs by Sahlin, Stagg and Zimmer, but a fumble ruined the golden chance of the Maroons to win or at least tie the score .

Indiana scored early in the first period, after one drive had been turned back, Sahlin punted to his own 38-yard line, and on the first play Stanley Saluski, Indiana's right halfback, smashed through center then reversed going to the right side of his own line for a 38-yard gallop and a touchdown.

Vanderbilt Loses To Crimson Tide In 4th Defeat Of Year

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 26—(AP)—Vanderbilt, among the great elevens of the Southern conference in years gone by, was defeated today in the final game of the season, as Alabama drove to a 14-6 victory.

It was the first time in 18 years the Commodores have lost as many as four conference contests in one season. Vanderbilt previously had lost to Tulane, Georgia and Tennessee.

Santa Clara President Calls Off Charity Game With A.&M.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 26 (AP)—The Reverend Cornelius J. McCoy, president of the Santa Clara university, halted negotiations today for a charity football game here between Santa Clara and Texas A. and M. college.

He said school officials feel the season has been long enough and players should spend more time on their studies. The Broncos have played ten games this season.

Coach Clipper Smith, whose team is playing Loyola at New Orleans today, was in charge of the negotiations.

Hill Billies Dash Hopes Of A. C. C. Eleven

Daniel Baker Crew Surprises Abilene Team To Capture Game On Muddy Field; McMurry In Tie For Lead

(By The Associated Press)

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 26. —Daniel Baker college blasted the Abilene Christian college championship hopes here today by winning 7-0 from the Wildcats on a muddy field.

It was the first loss this season for the Wildcats in Texas Intercollegiate Athletic association play.

Defeat of A. C. C. cut the list of undefeated T. I. A. A. teams to two, both of whom hold forth in the eastern division of the conference. North Texas of Denton finished yesterday undefeated for the season and Texas A. & I. of Kingsville concluded its schedule two weeks ago, undefeated.

"Spec" Smith, Hill Billy halfback, turned the tide today. Late in the second period he intercepted a Wildcat pass and wended his way 90 yards for a touchdown. Linkenhoger kicked from placement for the extra point, and the scoring was over for the afternoon.

However closing time found Daniel Baker living up to its reputation of being a dangerous eleven at times. The Billies were on the nine-yard line with goal to go. The Billy forward wall swept the Abilene forwards off their feet in the closing stages of the game.

Smith led out in a fierce and at times spectacular running attack.

Adams, Pippen and "Goober" Keyes were outstanding for the Wildcats.

A. C. C.'s left it in a tie with McMurry college, also of Abilene, for the western division leadership.

The lineups:

A. C. C.	Pos.	Daniel Baker
Pippen	l. e.	Harris
Adams	l. t.	Prescott

N.Y.U. Wins From Carnegie Tech, 7-6

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—Roundly outplayed for 30 minutes, the New York University Violets made a rousing comeback in the second half today to nose out the Tartans of Carnegie Tech, 7-6, in a sensational offensive battle before 25,000 fans.

A perfect placement kick for extra point by Jim Tanguary, big Violet halfback, after he had plunged across Tech's goal line in the opening minute of the final period to culminate a stubborn 52-yard march provided the margin by which Coach Chick Meehan's eleven triumphed.

Collins Stewart, Carnegie end, had missed a similar opportunity in the opening quarter after he had taken a 30-yard pass from Ewing and raced another 30 for the Tartan's touchdown. His kick sailed a few feet wide of the uprights and with it the tie that might have been Carnegie's.

Thanksgiving Day's Most Important Intersectional Game Turns Into A Riot As Pitt Smothers Huskers, 40-0

BY MILTON A. FISHMAN

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26. (AP) — Thanksgiving day's most important intersectional football game was turned into a rout today when the powerful University of Pittsburgh machine swamped the University of Nebraska, 40 - 0, before 23,000 spectators to enhance its claim to the eastern title.

The Big Six champions folded up like a tent before the Panthers' aerial offensive and line plunging. Only once did the Cornhuskers, who outweighed the Pitt eleven, threaten to score and that was in the second period when they advanced the oval 81 yards to Pitts five yard strip through a series of forward passes. Sauer, Nebraska's plunging fullback, made a mistake of trying another forward which Tormey, playing in place of Daugherty at Center for Pitt, intercepted and ran 23 yards before he was tackled.

Husker Line Falters

The strong Nebraska line did not click as the pony express Panther backfield went through gaping holes made for them by their own forward wall, impregnable except for one occasion during the contest.

Hugh Rhea, Nebraska's all-America tackle, saw little action, being removed in the first period when Heller crashed his left tacket for six points. He returned to the fray later however, only to be replaced again.

Statistical analysis of the game showed the superiority of the Panthers. Pitt garnered 23 first downs compared to the Cornhuskers' eight. The Nebraskans got only one first down through the Pitt line, the other seven coming through the air.

Alamo's lone tally came in the fourth period.

Big Colgate Eleven Triumphs Over Bitter Brown Defense

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 26. (AP) —A cold wind sweeping Aldrich field combined with an equally bitter Brown defense to hold the might of a big Colgate even through two periods today and then turned traitor with only two minutes of the annual Thanksgiving day classic left to play. The final score was 13-7 in Colgate's favor.

Not until the wind was at its back, with time almost gone, was Colgate, beaten only by New York university this fall, able to drive to the touchdown that brought the victory and closed the regular season for the Maroon.

Port Arthur Youth's Running Brings Victory After Steers Had Scored In First Period

That Victory Grin

The Aggies have been considered much weaker than the Steers and were conceded only a chance of holding down the score.

"Frenchy" Kicks Goal To Put Game On Ice After 60-Yard Touchdown Drive; Texas' Offense Is Throttled

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 26 (AP) —"Frenchy" Domingue, a maroon clad youngster who learned his high school football at Port Arthur and is showing his college wares at Texas A. & M., went on a wild running stampede here today to beat the University of Texas 7-6. It was the thirty-eighth annual game between the two schools and never has historic Kyle field housed a more superb offensive contest which left an estimated crowd of twenty thousand and more exhausted from excitement.

This Domingue boy, whose first name is Clifford and who started the current season like a whirlwind but faded down to a tame breeze, pulled the old comeback act this afternoon to lead his A. & M. mates on a sixty-yard drive that terminated with Domingue carrying the ball the final three yards for a touchdown. He then kicked from placement for the seventh point that was the difference between victory and a tie for the Aggies.

Kay Is His Rival

Yes a tie, for Texas offered a rival to this Domingue. He was the blasting, charging Ernest Koy, fullback, who plowed through the "thin red line of Aggie land" for touchdown yardage in the first period to eventually drive across the Aggie goal strip for a touchdown. Blanton missed placement kick.

Six down after the first period, the fighting Aggies started and they drove and drove like the crashing of a thunderoolt with Domingue the chief ball lugger. And up the field they soared, five, ten, fifteen and on for sixty yards and a touchdown. That tied the count. It was a cool Domingue who patted Spencer on the back as Spencer prepared to hold the snap-back. It was perfect, Spencer placed the ball on the ground, the Texas linemen charged hard, but the alert foot of Domingue was quick and struck with accuracy for a goal and the winning point.

Was Hard Old Battle

That was the football game. It was a hard old battle the remaining minutes. A battle in which Ernest Koy, Harrison Stafford, Captain Baumgarten and other Texas players fought a gallant and desperate fight but a losing one.

Domingue played only a part of the last half, but while in there he kept the Longhorns deep in their territory with his slashing off-tackle and brilliant end runs.

Texas, desperate to score, allowed Koy to pass from his own goal line late in the fourth period, but even this daring bid proved only another of many thrills for the fans. After their touchdown in the first period, the Longhorns only other scoring possibility was a drive to the Aggie thirty-eight yard line where it was halted when Malone intercepted one of Koy's passes.

Captain Carl Moulden, Charlie Malone and Davis played sterling football, Davis in particular who ran most of Domingue's interference and should share in much of the glory.

The victory gave A. & M. third place in the Southwest conference race.

Gaels Defeat Oregon, 16-0

Outplayed And Outfought And Unable To Pierce Oregon Line, St. Mary's Rallies In Final Periods

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Battering Oregon's defense to bits with a fierce second half attack, St. Mary's Gaels defeated the Webfooters 16-0 today while 20,000 fans cheered the comeback efforts of the Gaels.

Outplayed, outfought and unable to penetrate Oregon ground in the first two quarters the Gaels returned to put on a third period attack that was not to be denied.

Speedy Bud Toscani, brilliant right half back of the Gaels, led the assault with a thrilling 95-yard run from kickoff.

Not long after, unable to penetrate a stiffening defense at the five-yard mark, Fletcher called for a field goal and ordered himself in the king position. He took the place kick from the 15-yard line and split the uprights.

St. Mary's continued to dominate the play in the last period and smashed over a touchdown after getting the ball on Oregon's 35-yard line.

Crowd Of 70,000 Watches Youth Of Cornell's Backfield In 40-0 Triumph Over Penn; Viviano Leads In Victory

BY ALAN GOULD

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26. (AP) — Cornell's youthful backfield power house, Bart Viviano, proved too much for Pennsylvania to handle today for the second straight year. As a result Cornell whipped its ancient rival, 7 to 0, in a closely fought Thanksgiving day battle before a crowd of 70,000.

Viviano scored the only touchdown, early in the first period, as the climax of a brilliant 80-yard drive down the field. He then played a spectacular role in the Cornell defense that repulsed all of Pennsylvania's counter charges.

Although the Quakers, lacking a real punch, lost the holiday classic for the second successive year, they again saved their goal posts from being ripped up by the victorious Cornell rooters. Rivals adherents surged from one end of the field to the other in the demonstration after the game but Pennsylvania's superior numbers preserved the uprights. Many a head was punched, however, before the melee broke up.

The game was largely devoid of thrills after Cornell swept down the field at the outset to post its decisive margin on the score board. Jack Ferraro, fleet sophomore back, aided Viviano in the touchdown drive launched from Cornell's 20-yard line, tossing a pass to Dick Beyer that was good for a gain of 27 yards and planted the ball on Penn's 18. From three, Viviano took charge of the ball-lugging aided by a five yard offside penalty against Penn. The broad-shouldered Cornell back plunged across the goal line on the last of four line bucks from the 6-yard line. Les Handleman place-kicked the extra point.

Pennsylvania came back with a series of brisk counter charges, featuring some fine line plunging by Ford and Perina. The first and best opportunity for the Quakers to score in the early part of the second period went glimmering when Perina fumbled and Beyer recovered on Cornell's 17-yard line.

Thereafter Pennsylvania tried desperately to score through the air but so many aerials were intercepted that it looked as though the quaker tossers were using Cornell's defense men for targets.

Olney Cubs Win From Chillicothe

OLNEY, Nov. 26. (Special)—Olney High school blasted the title hopes of Chillicothe here today with a smashing 45 to 0 victory on a muddy field. After the first quarter which was scoreless, Albert Ackers' Cubs were masters of the situation.

Graves, Dickworth, Rue and Ellmore dashed off long runs with regularity while the line charged viciously to turn back the visitors without a score and only two first downs. Today's victory brought the fourth straight district three championship to the Olney Cubs and gave them the momentous task of stopping the Masonic Home team of Ft. T.C.U. Ready To Decide Grid Title Of Southwest With S.M.U. Saturday

Schmidt Puts Boys Through Final Practice

Same Backfield Which Played In Last Year's Victory Of Frogs Will Start Game; To Decide Conference Title

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26.—Forced to seek shelter from a steady, drizzling rain, the T. C. U. Horned Frogs completed their last hard workout for Saturday's championship game with S. M. U. under the T. C. U. stadium here today. The cramped quarters did not allow the Frogs to frisk about as they would have liked.

However, Coach Francis Schmidt put them through a stiff workout on both offense and defense. Friday, the training grind will be concluded with a rehearsal of plays and pass defense. The latter was scheduled for today.

Backs To Be Same

After today's workout it was apparent that the T. C. U. starting backfield would be the same as that which faced the Mustangs last year in Dallas and gained a 13-0 victory. Grassy Hinton will be at quarterback, with Red Oliver and Blanard Spearman at halves, and, Captain Harlos Green at fullback. Hinton and Green will be playing their last game.

There isn't much likelihood of a chance on the line with Dan Salkeld and Madison Pruitt, ends; Cy Perkins, and Foster Howell, tackles; Johnny Vaught and Standard Lambert, guards and J. W. Townsend.

Tulsa U. Downed By Oklahoma City Before Big Crowd

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 26. (AP)—Tulsa university's domination of the state Big Four conference came to an end in the mud of Skelly stadium this afternoon.

Before a crowd of 11,000 hardy spectators who braved the cold and drizzle of a murky Thanksgiving Day, the undefeated Oklahoma City university Goldbugs overcome the Tulsa Hurricane by a two-touchdown margin of 14-0.

The capital eleven thus gained official title to the 1931 Big Four crown and at the same time took a tight grip on the state collegiate championship, with only a post-season charity battle with Oklahoma university next week left to bar the way.

The Goldbugs vanquished the Hurricane with a touchdown that came from a big break late in the first period when Frank Green, Tulsa halfback, fumbled behnid his own goal line and Basil Wilkerson, giant Bug tackle, recovered for the score. Up to that moment and from then until well into the fourth period, the Hurricane decisively outplayed hte visiting firemen. But as dusk was settling over the field the Bugs launched a 67-yard drive against Tulsa's reserves that produced the second touchdown in eight plays.

Jess Davis Has A Close Shave

DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 26. (AP)—Jess Davis had a "close shave" when he stepped into Gordon Beee's barber shop at Bloomingdale, Ind., last night to get trimmed for Thanksgiving.

Davis dozed in the chair as the razor glided over his face. Charles Hester cranked a car parked outside for Mrs. Edgar Newlin, jr., who neglected to place the gears in neutral. As the motor started, the car bowled over Hester and rammed through the front of the shop, crashing into Davis' chair and tossing him atop a radiator, half shaved.

Hester, Davis and Mrs. Newlin sustained minor injuries. Beer the barber fled. Three children in the car were unhurt.

Oklahoma Aggies And Sooners Battle To Scoreless Tie At Norman; Aggies Threaten But Sooners' Defense Holds

(By The Associated Press)

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 26.—The Oklahoma Aggies and the University of Oklahoma Sooners splashed in mud and battled to a scoreless tie in their 26th annual Thanksgiving football game today.

Since the traditional foes first met on the gridiron, the Sooners have won eighteen games, the Aggies four and four games have been ties. This was the first scoreless tie, however.

Twice the Aggie Cowboys threatened the Sooner goal, only to be turned back by the hard hitting defenders. Once, near the end of the first half, the Aggies pushed the ball to the Sooner seven-yard line, but the defense wall stood firm and Eilstrom's punt from behind his own goal line wrote finis to the first Aggie threat.

Provides Little Thrills

Aside from the Aggie drive to within seven yards of a touchdown, the game provided little of the dramatic for the 3,000 shivering spectators. The heavy field balked aerial maneuvers of both teams and made the going slow. The Sooners played largely a defensive game, making only two first downs.

In yardage, the Sooners gained only 60, compared with the Aggies' 164.

Smith Watkins, Gordon Graalman and Paul Young, as three hard tackling musketeers, stood out as stars in the Sooners' defensive, and won much of the credit for stopping the flank plays of Hayden Trigg, the Aggies' flashy halfback, and his understudy, Sid Clarke. Most of the Aggie gains were made through the line.

King Of American Hoboes To Abdicate His Throne All Because Of A Woman

CROOKSTON, Minn., Nov. 26. (AP)—The "King" of American hoboes will abdicate his "throne" and all, because of a wee Canadian lassie.

"His majesty" is none other than Joseph Leon Cohen Segal Lazarowitz, who for four years has ruled with iron hand his chosen realm.

The monarch has called a meeting of the "bonafide hoboes union of the United States of America" January 2, at Grant Park, Chicago, for the purpose of relinquishing his crown and the election of a successor.

"Yes, there's a girl—she lives in Winnipeg," the ruler confided here today as he stopped en route to Chicago from the orient. "I'm going to settle down and work for her."

Police protection at the convention will be demanded, King Lazarowitz asserted in answer to Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago, who warned a "hot" reception awaited hoboes.

"Mayor Cermak places hoboes in the same catagory as bums and tramps," the monarch said.

"They are not, a hobo, in order to be a member of the hoboes union, must be an American citizen. As citizens, we demand police protection at the Chicago convention and ask that Mayor Cermak detail a squad of officers to see that no one disturbs us instead of running hoboes out of town."

Funeral Service For Young Woman Will Be Held Today

Funeral services for Miss Edna Williams, 28, who was killed in an automobile accident near St. Paul, Minn., last Sunday, will be held at the Rix funeral home chapel Friday at 3:30 o'clock. Dr. R. C. Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist church, will officiate, and burial will be in Lubbock cemetery.

Miss Williams was killed instantly when a car in which she and another nurse were riding skidded into a deep ditch. The car was swerved to avoid collision with another machine, said to have been driven on the wrong side of the road.

Pallbearers will be Drs. C. J. Wagner, Fred W. Standefer, Allen T. Stewart, J. T. Hutchinson, R. L. Powers and J. P. Lattimore.

Miss Williams, who formerly was employed as a nurse in local hospitals, is survived by a brother and two sisters.

Man Acquitted For Striking Pro Agent; Peeping Charged

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 26. (AP)—William Storm, of Appleton, Wis., pummeled a prohibition agent, Peter Whisnant, and was acquitted by a jury yesterday when he pleaded that he attacked the agent as a "Peeping Tom." Whisnant's jaw was fractured.

The assault occurred several months ago when Whisnant, Clarence Olson and John Yuemmerlein, agents, went to Storm's residence to investigate a report there was a brewery in the basement.

The agent, caught peeping in a window, contended they identified themselves as federal agents and said Storm struck Whisnant after arrest. This was denied by Storm, who said the agents showed him no credentials of search warrant.

Reverend Is Held In County Lockup

CLEVELAND, Nov. 26. (AP) — The "Rev. Dr." Alfred Ernest George Hall, voluntary "chaplain" of the county jail, was learning more about his charges today—as an inmate.

Hall was held for federal migration inspectors after authorities said he confessed a long criminal record that included two deportations and prison terms for confidence and bad check rackets. Immigration authorities will peruse his record with the intention of deporting him a third time.

"Dr." Hall came here October 10, introduced himself as a member of the clergy, conducted meetings at "the people's temple" and adopted the county jail as his parish.

Last Sunday Sheriff John Sulzmann endorsed the "good and noble reverend." Last night he announced that "no man can violate John Sulzmann's confidence and get away with it."

Files of the American Medical association revealed that Hall had been arrested in Vancouver, B. C., three times for obtaining money under false pretences and served six months in 1926, was twice ordered deported from Chicago in 1927, and 1929 and 1930 served two terms after being arrested in Toronto, Ont., on fraud charges.

Quiet Thanksgiving Observance Is Featured In Lubbock For Thursday

Football Calls To Majority; Two Teams Away

LUBBOCK quietly observed Thanksgiving here Thursday by a union service at the First Baptist church early in the morning, an all-day service at the South Side Baptist church and a dinner served for 181 transients by the Salvation Army.

Forapproximately 5,000 grid fans, it meant a day of strenuous support of their teams. More than 4,000 of this group went to Amarillo for the Westerner-Golden Sandies game, while others saw Texas Technological college Matadors defeat Simmons university, 6 to 0.

The Lubbock fans to Amarillo went on three special trains over the Santa Fe, by bus and by automobile. The train, christened The Westerner, carried students, and The Plainsman and the third train carried adults. The delegation began returning late in the evening and the specials about 10 o'clock. Upon arrival in Amarillo, the Lubbock group staged a huge parade through the downtown streets.

At Abilene, the Tech band led the Matador fans in a parade at 1 o'clock yesterday. The band also is booked for an appearance in Amarillo at the state teachers convention Friday.

Dr. W. Y. Pond, evangelist from Waco who is conducting a revival at the First Baptist church, was principal speaker at the union service yesterday morning at 8 o'clock at that church. A basket dinner was served at noon yesterday at the South Side Baptist church as part of the all-day service there.

Three meals were served at three long tables Thursday at the Salvation Army post, at Texas Avenue and Fourteenth street, before the 181 transients and others who came to the Army for Thanksgiving dinner were fed. Foods were supplied by local merchants.

In addition, food was sent by the Army to a number of poor and sick families here, Captain and Mrs. W. T. Wilson said Thursday night. "We wish to thank those merchants and others who made it possible for us to bring Thanksgiving cheer to this number of people," said Captain Wilson.

Collection Of Taxes Is Good

Finances Of Rural Schools In Dawson County Said To Be Good By Superintendent Of Schools Webb

(By Staff Correspondent)

LAMESA, Nov. 26. — Tax collections for the rural schools of Dawson county for the year 1930 amounted to about 78 per cent of the roll, according to W. T. Webb, county superintendent.

"Our school finances are in good shape," said Mr. Webb, "but the 1931 collections are not as good as we had hoped.

All of the rural districts and all districts under the supervision of Mr. Webb have been operating on a budget system. This is the second school year for the budget plan and Mr. Webb says the county board has found it to be a workable plan.

Plan Successful

"We started the budget a year before we had to, under the law," the school superintendent said. "We budgeted our 1930-31 term as well as our 1931-32 term. We found that we were able to do a number of things we had not thought we could, by the plan."

Each district board estimates its probable expenditures for all funds for the year. These are carefully checked, so that there are no possible duplications or omissions. All possible receipts are listed, whether an estimate or fully known, such as transfers, state apportionments, etc. The operations are kept below the possible receipts.

"Triplicate copies are made. The school district keeps one, I keep one and another is filed with the county clerk," Mr. Webb explained. "The budget can be changed, if something unexpected arises, but it takes a little time and extra work, so the boards do not do it unless absolutely necessary. The budget can be amended, but the new amount has to be sworn to and filed with the clerk and myself. It takes some red tape. The board members, having seen it work one year, are now heartily in favor of it."

Bandit Wave In Santone Is Felt

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Two men were injured and nearly $100 in loot was taken in a wave of banditry here during the night.

Tony Rodriguez was attacked by two bandits, being slashed about the face and arms by one of the men when he resisted them. The bandits left Rodriguez lying unconscious in the street and he was taken to a hospital by passersby. The robbers fled before robbing him.

A pair of men boarded the automobile of Jose Almaras but were thrown off the car as the driver swerved the machine. However, one of the men struck Almaras in the face, causing a deep cut across his forehead.

Shortly after midnight J. P. Golden was held up by two armed bandits and robbed of $91 cash, he reported.

A lone man held up D. E. Taylor, night manager of a filling station, and took $6 from the station till.

Fat Man

I don't care how fat you are or how much you hate to get out and walk a couple of miles. If you will take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning for 4 weeks and cut out pastries, sugar and fatty meats—

You will feel so good—so energetic and the urge for activity will be so great that you will immensely enjoy a daily walk of several miles—and lose fat.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in ambition. Your skin will grow clearer and your eyes will sparkle with the good health that Kruschen brings.

Just try one 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts; it will last you 4 weeks. After you have taken one bottle the old arm chair won't hold you any more—you'll want to be up and doing—you'll enjoy work—you'll sleep like a top and probably live years longer. Get Kruschen at Mark Halsey Drug, City Drug Store, Lubbock Drug Co., Bowen's Drug Store and Bowen's Hilton Pharmacy or any live druggist in America with the understanding that you must be joyfully satisfied or money back.

W. R. Daniels of Richmond Hill, N. Y. writes: "After 2 bottles of Kruschen, I've removed 3 inches from my belt, feel 25 per cent more active, mind is clearer, eruptions have disappeared. Am 46 yrs. old and feel 20 yrs. younger. I get up feeling 100 per cent. Kruschen sure is great!"—Adv.

O'Donnell Farmers Feeding Livestock

(By Staff Correspondent)

O'DONNELL, Nov. 26. — Many farmers of O'Donnell's trade territory are turning to livestock feeding for the winter to take care of their largest stocks of grain sorghums and other winter feeds.

Nearly every farmer in the territory, according to J. L. Shoemaker, jr., cashier of the First National bank, will have from one to four hogs to feed out for himself and perhaps a few to sell. Many farmers have a couple of sows that the litter will be fattened and the surplus sold. Others are going into the feeding more extensively.

Shipment of hogs for market is not expected to begin until after the first of the year. From then on there will be a good market for hogs.

C. H. Doak, who has extensive farms west of O'Donnell and who is known as the "daddy" of the town, being one of the founders, has both cattle and hogs on feed. He has a large supply of feed this year, he reports.

E. W. Hester, living southwest of O'Donnell and who is an extensive breeder of dairy stock, also is feeding some hogs.

J. N. Schooler, living east of town, has some hogs as does S. R. Schooler, living west. Other feeders include S. R. Tyler, C. L. Tyler, D. G. Phipps and D. J. Boss.

Among the cattle men feeding out besides Mr. Doak is W. T. Williams who generally feeds a car load or more.

Quite a few farmers are feeding their steer calves for canning and butchering later on. It is planned to have a number of community beef and hog killing demonstration during the winter.

Concerning Christmas Trees

WHILE we of Lubbock and the South Plains have more important problems to fret over than those erning reforestation we are interested in Christ- trees, chiefly because we have youngsters run- ng around the place.

The perennial question as to whether it is not a cking waste of our timber resources to cut down ndreds of thousands of spruce and other evergreens Christmas trees is again being discussed. And e more the American Tree Association defends use of young conifers for Yuletide ornamental rposes and advices those who are protesting against alleged waste to direct their energy to educating people as to the proper use of forests.

The American Tree Association's position on the tter is that taken by all the leading conserva- nists, who hold that conservation does not mean re shall be curtailment of the legitimate use of resources but that wasteful exploitation shall be pped. Christmas trees are a legitimate use of forest resources.

Some of these who are obpecting to the cutting rn of evergreens for this purpose are letting their otions get the better of their common sense. Thus person says: "Why not teach the children that ry Christmas tree may mean that some poor little d is without a place to sleep?"

It is assumed by those who are opposing Christ- trees that if they were not cut down all would w into tall timber suitable for saw-logs. But the umption is unwarranted. Both when planted by n and by Nature the conifers spring up in thick sters, so close together that there is no room for to reach maturity. Some must yield if others are have enough space and light. Foresters accordingly iberately thin out the stand by cutting some of the all trees to make room for those that are to be owed to grow. Trees thus removed may be used Christmas purposes. If they were not removed y would probably be killed in the struggle for stence with their neighbors.

But even if all the Christmas trees would grow if left undisturbed, the cutting of them would ll be justified because of the pleasure they give ldren. Making a fuss over the destruction of ristmas trees is a case of saving at the spigot and sting at the bung; for the loss of our timber ources from this cause is infinitesimal as com- red with the damage done to our forests by fire d insects.

As noted in the first paragraph, we of this part the country have more important things to fret r than reforestation, albeit we can see that con- vation of our timber supply is a sane idea. Yet can't agree with the more aggressive of the con- vationists in the Christmas tree angle. The kid- s have a right to their Christmas fun—no little which is due to the Christmas tree.

Practical Health Problems

INFANTS NOT BORN TUBERCULOUS

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
tor, Journal of the American Medical Association, And of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

N infant is practically never born tuberculous. As stated by Sir Robert Phillip, one of the greatest ish authorities on this disease, the old belief that ain children come into the world with the seeds tuberculosis is a fairy tale.

The sources of tuberculosis infection are widespread ause so many of our people have the disease. e child may not come into contact with it in its n family, but it goes early to school and is at the ne time associated with other children in motion ure houses, in play, and in other ways.

There seems to be plenty of evidence that the ma- ity of children, indeed as many as 75 per cent, e infected with tuberculosis by the time they are years old. Fortunately, most children overcome first infection, and thereafter, their resistance ing built up, they are not likely to develop a serious ection with the disease. On the other hand, some ildren, unable to overcome the first infection, de- op tuberculosis of the bones and joints, of the nds, and even of the lungs and intestines.

If however the first sign of infection is taken as a rning and the child is given every opportunity to ild resistance by the use of open air, sunshine, oper rest and above all adequate nutrition, it is ely to overcome its attack.

Thus far scientific medicine has developed no ans of preventive inoculation against tuberculosis at is safe and certain. Possibly the method now ing developed by Calmette, involving the inocula- n of living tuberculosis germs that have been ren- red non-virulent, may eventually be made safe and tisfactory.

Until such time as a preventive inoculation is ailable, however, our best means of protection in- de the building of proper resistance through suit- le hygiene, the guarding of the child against mas- e infection from other members of its family or om its immediate surroundings, and particularly e feeding to children of milk from cows that are e of tuberculosis.

Pinchot Was Confident

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot felt confident he would get from Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon the $1,000,000 contribution which he asked from the latter, to serve as the kernel of the $35,000,000 fund he hopes to raise for emergency relief of Pennsylvania's 900,000 unemployed.

Gifford Pinchot

"Because," explained the governor, following the interview terminated by the treasury secretary with his promise to "consider the matter further," "I don't see how he can get out of contributing it."

There was that in Governor Pinchot's manner which implied the reverse of confidence of an enthusiastic contribution by Mr. Mellon.

His intonation rather than his words gave this impression.

One of the newspaper boys had just inquired, "Did the secretary accede to your request?"

To which the governor answered, "He did not."

Had he said, "No, he didn't," or some such thing, while equally a negative, it would not have carried the same distinct emphasis as the deliberately uttered, rather peculiarly inflected, tri-syllabic, "He did not."

GOVERNOR PINCHOT frankly is a believer in publicity.

Having submitted his $1,000,000 plea to Secretary Mellon and obtained the secretary's pledge at least to "consider the matter further," on his way to the Senate Office building to see his friend, Senator George W. Norris, prior to departing for Harrisburg, he had stopped in at the press gallery in the Capitol building to tell as many correspondents as possible, all at once, of his call at the treasury department and its outcome.

That he did so under the impression that broadcasting the story might influence Mr. Mellon in the direction of liberality cannot be stated positively. Still, it is difficult to imagine that he visited the press gallery and spilled the yarn in the hope of hushing it up.

A few days later Secretary Mellon informed the governor that he could not make the loan.

Governor Pinchot had referred to $1,000,000 quite cavalierly, as if he had anticipated Mr. Mellon would take it out of his pocket and hand it over as soon as Pennsylvania's urgent necessity for it had been explained to him.

Some of the correspondents had regarded it quite a large sum.

"But you see," the governor had pointed out, "the state needs it only as a loan. My idea is that the entire $35,000,000 will be repaid, with 4 per cent interest, by a bond issue to be floated after a constitutional amendment authorizing it has been adopted in 1933. Unfortunately the bonds cannot be issued now, because Pennsylvania's unamended constitution limits its indebtedness and we are up to the limit. The amendment must come first and the unemployed cannot wait."

"But," suggested one of the scribes, "suppose the amendment fails. What becomes of Secretary Mellon's $1,000,000 then?"

"In that event," said the governor, with a broad grin, "the poor man will be impoverished for the rest of his life. But candidly," he added, "his risk is not one-half of 1 per cent."

THE PENNSYLVANIA executive's relief plan, he has made it clear, is supplementary to his employment plan.

Chiefly concerned for the moment in the success of his effort successfully to launch his $35,000,000 "loan-contribution" campaign, he touched only lightly upon the Keystone State's public works program in his press gallery chat, but the nub of it is available in his recent message to the legislature, to be found on every newspaper man's desk in Washington—the governor sees to that, or secretary Stahlnecker does; he overlooks no bets.

The gubernatorial recommendation, in brief, calls for a 2-cent additional tax on gasoline, 1 mill on each cigaret and a variable levy on billboards, to raise an estimated $75,000,000 for improvements on a scale to furnish jobs to all the able-bodied but involuntarily idle in the commonwealth.

So vast an emergency properly is a problem for the federal government to solve, the governor still insists, but since the federal government is not doing it, as he bitterly complains, the state, he agrees, must do its best.

THE NUMBER of the Pennsylvania unemployed, he explains, has been ascertained with what he believes to be more than approximate exactness, through questionnaires addressed to pupils in the public schools, as amounting to 450,000 in the state's big cities and as many more in the mines, throughout the countryside and in the smaller towns.

As for private charity? "Totally inadequate," says the governor.

"A dollar a week per person. Who is there who does not know that a human being at present-day prices cannot live on that? Besides, there are other necessaries of life in addition to food."

A RETIRED JOURNALIST

Not that their absence has left a great vacuum in the editorial sphere, but some people are wondering why former President Coolidge hasn't terminated that journalistic vacation begun last spring and reappeared in his role of daily columnist to pen some more of those Coolidgesque editorials.

Some wag has spoken up that "he has nothing more to say." As a satisfactory explanation that falls far short. Like most presidents, past presidents and future presidents, Columnist Coolidge wrote without having anything to say, and if all writers laid down their pens or closed their typewriters when they had nothing more to say there would be a great dearth of literary output.

It would take more than a famine of ideas to stop the pen of a thrifty New Englander where there is a high price on words, not on profound thoughts. Any popular author could easily overcome that handicap.

A much better guess would be that C. C. may choose to run in 1932 and does not want to commit himself, especially on paper. The first rule of a successful presidential candidate is to say nothing. Anything one says in politics can be used against him. For example, if Columnist Coolidge were sagely to observe "It won't be long till summer," Senator Borah would be certain to interpret it as a confession of designs upon the Republican national convention.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE TURKEY SHOULD BE THE U. S. EMBLEM:

Benjamin Franklin, probably the most learned American of his time, was a staunch advocate of the turkey as the emblem of the United States in preference to the bald eagle, and he was greatly gratified when, after adoption of the eagle by Congress, he was shown a poor reproduction of the kingly bird. In his letter dated Passy, January 26, 1784, which he addressed to Mrs. Sarah Bache, he comments on it with the words "I am on this account not displeased that the figure is not known as a bald eagle as it looks more like a turkey. There follows the excerpt quoted in my cartoon of yesterday, to the effect that the turkey is a native of America, and is far more respectable and courageous than the eagle. The letter is printed in full in John Bigelows "Life of Benjamin Franklin," Vol. 3, p. 253.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Rich MRS. JUPITER is robbed and murdered during the engagement party she gives her secretary, MARY HARKNESS. Mary's scrape-grace brother, EDDIE, may have been in the house at the murder hour, and has disappeared. The thief failed to get the famous Jupiter rubies.

Eddie is run down and killed as he goes to meet Mary. INSPECTOR KANE drops the case believing Eddie the murderer. MR. JUPITER and DIRK believe the same.

BOWEN of the Star discovers a racetrack gambler and crook called THE FLY to whom Eddie owed money. Bowen gives Mary a coat he found in the Jupiter house the night of the murder. It is her brother's. The butler recognizes it as having been worn by a "gate-crasher" he ejected that night.

Dirk forbids Mary to go on with the investigation because of the notoriety. They quarrel, make up and Mary promises to marry him at once. While shopping for her trousseau, Mary's taxi crashes into a building.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVII

When Mary became conscious someone was shouting, "Bring some brandy for this lady!" and moving her arms about and slapping her hands. This, she later learned, was merely an attempt to discover whether or not she had broken any bones. At the moment, however, the indignity of her position—she was lying on a couple of chairs—brought her upright and awoke more quickly than the burning liquor they were forcing down her throat.

She was in a restaurant, apparently. About her hovered anxious faces—a waiter, a fat man who turned out to be the proprietor, and a nice-looking policeman who kept saying "Just a little accident, you're all right. Take it easy!"

Well, she was taking it easy, she thought fretfully. Her head ached fiercely from the jar when the taxi crashed into the building but otherwise she was all right, and she wanted to go home.

She made this wish known to the policeman, who held her arm firmly as if he feared she might go faint and drop again.

"What happened?" she asked.

"Truck going the wrong way on a one-way street," he told her. "You can't go out that way, lady." He moved between her and the door.

"Why can't I? What's out there?"

"They're cleaning up the mess. The cab's all smashed, and there's a lot of broken glass. Besides, there's probably a mob of people waiting to see the 'corpse'—Say", he broke off, "you want to thank that driver, lady! He saved your life!"

"Oh, I will!" Mary exclaimed. "Where is he?"

"They've taken him home. He's not bad hurt, I'll give you his name, if you want—"

"Please do. Oh, but—my packages! Where are they?" The fat proprietor indicated a pile of boxes neatly stacked on a nearby table. They were crushed a little, but not damaged. She thanked the fat man profusely. How careful and kind they had all been!

"I can't thank you enough!" she told him happily. "Those are my wedding clothes!"

"Ah-ah! So!" He retreated as she tried to press a bill into his hand. "Nah, nah, give it to Tim, there—he has a big family!" The bill she pressed into the policeman's hand met no protest.

"Want to try it?" he indicated the front door. "I'll go first—"

"Oh, no! Isn't there some other way—"

The policeman called "Hey, Jack!" and the fat man bustled up again. He looked more than a little worried, as well as he might be, for the sidewalk in front of his place was a morass of splintered wood and shattered glass. The place was one of the innumerable speakeasies housed in the basements of old brownstone fronts. And the proprietor was hardly convinced yet that what had happened was a mere traffic accident. Accident in Mr. Jack Shay's life usually had a deeper significance. Fearing gang warfare as he did, it was no wonder he appeared far more nerve-wracked by the occurrence than Mary, the victim, did.

"Come this way," he invited, and Mary and the stalwart officer followed him to a door at the rear of the long room. Here the fat man knocked, entered, spoke a few words, and then held the door open to admit the others. "O. K., come on through."

The room was a small private dining-room. Half a dozen men sat about a wine-spotted tablecloth, smoking and drinking. A sudden silence, like paralysis, seized the group. As Mary and the officer appeared, one man, tall and foreign-appearing—or was he merely well-tanned?—rose from his chair abruptly, then sank back again.

Mary smiled slightly and inclined her head in perfunctory recognition of what she took to be an act of politeness.

They passed through the room, out another door into a black hole of a hallway, and entered the back door of a drugstore opening on a side street. Here the officer deposited her packages into a taxi, and helped her in.

"I'll give you that driver's name," he said, taking out a pad and pencil.

"Do. And the other man's name, and the address of his restaurant,"

Large Feeding Project Is Being Conducted At Tahoka

(By Staff Correspondent)

TAHOKA, Nov. 26.—The largest full feeding of cattle project in Lynn county, so far as has been announced, is being staged by the Wyatt brothers here in Tahoka. The brothers operate a coal and feed business.

Ninety-two head of Herefords, a majority purebred, are now being fed in the pens of Fontain and N. M. Wyatt in Tahoka. The animals are yearlings or two-year olds, and were purchased from New Mexico ranchers near Lovington, west of Tahoka. They were driven here.

Home-grown feeds, mostly maize heads and hegari, with roughage and corn, will be fed. Cottonseed meal will be mixed with this ration.

The animals will be fed about 120 days. The Wyatts say they have enough home grown feed for their project.

Enrollment At Tahoka Is 450, Superintendent Says

(By Staff Correspondent)

TAHOKA, Nov. 26.—Enrollment for the Tahoka schools, which opened early in November after being closed for a month, was 450 according to J. B. Pace, jr., superintendent of schools.

He reported about 140 in the high school and over 300 in the grades. "This is about 100 less than last year," Mr. Pace, added.

ON COLD DAYS

Phillips 66

"HIGHEST TEST" at the price of ordinary gasoline

NOW Controlled Volatility gives higher Winter Gravity 65° to 71.4°

Also Phillips 66 Ethyl — Phillips Ethyl — at the regular price of Ethyl gasoline

YOU'RE in luck if you have been using Phillips 66 . . . the greater gasoline, because cold weather brings you a tremendously important extra benefit—INSTANT STARTING.

Other drivers may be stalled by balky motors. May run down their batteries and run up towing charges. But your car will click into action pronto! when you press the starter.

That's what high test does. And the famous Phillips principle of CONTROLLED VOLATILITY insures that the colder the weather, the higher the test. All without a penny extra, since Phillips is the world's largest refiner of natural high gravity gasoline.

The easy way to make certain of carefree starting all winter long is to get gas only at the Orange and Black 66 shield.

she added. "Perhaps I can take a party there for dinner sometime and pay him back that way."

"Don't worry about Jack," the policeman replied. "He don't want anything you could give him—unless it's a bullet-proof vest."

"Oh! Why?"

The policeman had finished writing, and tore off the sheet and handed it to Mary without reply.

"I'll have to take your name and address as a witness," he said.

"Oh, keep me out of it!" Mary begged as she handed him her card. "My—the man I'm going to marry would be furious!" This wasn't quite true but it was true enough. The policeman did not protest when the taxi-driver drove off rapidly.

She was not much delayed, and felt no worse for the misadventure except a heightening of the sense of excitement that had been thrilling through her veins all day.

A glance at the clock on her mantel showed nearly 6 o'clock, and Dirk would come before she could freshen up and change unless she hurried. Fatigue vanished magically as she dashed about. Lured by curiosity, the lumbering Della came in to help, and to her own surprise as much as the maid's, Mary seized her about the waist and waltzed about the room with her.

"Della, Della, I'm going to be married tomorrow! But you mustn't tell a soul!"

"Tomorra is it? Oh, Miss Mary! And does Mr. Jupiter know?"

"I don't know how to tell him, Della. I promised to stay, but—oh, if Mr. Bruce would only come!"

"Ah, that young spalpeen!"

But the packages were a more potent attraction that the derelict Bruce—they forgot him in the joy of snapping string and burrowing into tissue paper. One simple little dress was all she was looking for, to wear this evening, but somehow it seemed necessary to open all the boxes.

One revealed a little black dinner dress that was a love, all cobwebby lace at the top with a skirt made of stiff ruffles of net. They both hugged it, held it off and caressed it with their eyes. Mary had bought it for dining and dancing on shipboard, but she was tempted to wear it tonight. After all, could any night of her life be more important? Her last "date". There were embroidered slippers to match, and a white evening wrap. Mightn't they be going out to dance a little? Dirk hadn't said.

Della made her decision for her by whisking away the empty box.

"You thing I should, Della?"

"Indeed, you should!" And that was that.

She had just taken a quick shower and given her hair a stiff brushing that made her whole body feel tingly and rested, and slipped the black dress over newly bought underthings of incredible softness, when the maid came in, quite breathless with chargin.

"Oh, Miss Harkness, I didn't hear you come in! A Mr. Bowen has been calling you repeatedly. He has some important inforamtion for you. He gave me his number and said he'd wait in until you called."

Mary took the card she proffered and went thoughtfully to the telephone.

Bowen's voice sounded very clipped and business-like over the wire—there was no sign of the wise-cracking companion of yesterday's meeting. His serious tone impressed her as much as his words.

"Miss Harkness, the man we were speaking of is in New York. Not hiding, exactly, but—in retirement, and seems to have a good deal on his mind."

"Yes?"

"The talk is that he did both jobs. And underworld talk is usually pretty accurate. At least, I think this is. We can safely assume he is the man we are after. You understand, don't you? Rotten trying to talk over the telephone—"

"What—what shall we do?" Mary asked. She sat down suddenly, surprised to find herself shaking with excitement.

"What can we do you mean," he corrected her. "God, I don't know. Several things. I don't want to muff this. Neither do you, I take it. Ordinarily I'd say take him in on the evidence we've got, and trust Kane to third-degree a confession out of him. But I'm afraid—Tell you frankly, this bird has a rep for being slicker than an eel. He's been in a good many tight scrapes and wiggled out, legally. He's got a record, but that was years ago. They haven't pinned anything on him lately.

"I don't know, but it seems to me we ought to tie him up so tight he can't get away before we try to make a pinch. That's what I want to talk to you about. I've got a swell idea—look, is there somewhere I can see you?"

"Why, I—" How could she see him tonight? Yet it might be her only opportunity. Tomorrow she would be married and gone.

"I'm just trying to think—I have an engagement tonight, but it may be quite late."

"I've got a night assignment or I'd come there. But I'd like to see you—something I want to talk over with you. Could you come in and have dinner with me some place?"

Mary thought rapidly. If Dirk was still at the office she could go in and meet Bowen and Dirk could call for her and bring her home. She would really see him much sooner that way. And so it was arranged.

"Then come to this address"—she wrote down the number he gave her. "Ill be there when you come."

Dirk had gone out to dinner, the bookkeeper said when she called his office, but would be back. Mary gave him the address of the restaurant.

Mr. Jupiter had not come in—Spence reported his master had stayed at the Yacht Club for dinner with some of his old cronies. He had Tom, but in deference to her new clothes she called on one of the other chauffeurs and drove into town in state. She had lost faith in taxicabs.

Bowen stepped out of the shadow of a flight of stone steps to greet her. It was not until they had entered the place that Mary recognized it.

"Why, this is where I was this afternoon!" she exclaimed as they threaded their way between tables to one in the angle of the wall. Half a dozen persons, all men, were scattered about the room, eating, drinking.

Mary was about to relate the story of the taxi accident, when she caught sight of an unforgetably ugly face reflected in a sideboard mirror. It was Mike, the waiter.

"Why, there's—" she began, but Bowen's gesture stopped her.

"Better not," he said. "Nothing to be scared of, I just don't understand all I know about this place, that's all. I'm hoping to find out something tonight."

Mike served them with an impassive countenance. The fat proprietor looked in from an adjoining room, nodded to Bowen, failed to recognize Mary in her evening attire, apparently, and slipped back.

"That's Jack Shay," Bowen told her in a low tone. "Jack's scared stiff. Somebody slammed into the front of his place this afternoon, and he hasn't stopped shaking yet. Jack can't figure out what they're after him for, Mike tells me, but he's gonna put the bum's rush on some guy he's got laying up upstairs. Thinks it's him they're after. Gang stuff, probably."

Mary burst out laughing and told about the accident.

"Well, keep it under your hat," Bowen advised. "Let Jack worry a little, it won't hurt him. Teach him not to let those bums hang around here the way he does. Jack's a right guy, but he's always taking it on the knuckles for some other guy. He's a regular grandma to all the crooks in Christendom. When they get in trouble, they take it on the lam for Jack's and he puts 'em up till they get out of town or it blows over. All I had to do was tell him Mike had a record, and he took him on. Heart as big as a beerkeg."

He grinned. "That's why we're dining in this dump tonight instead of in a joint that would fit those swell clothes of yours. I'm eating off the cuff this week." Then to avoid the solicitude in her eyes he added quickly, "I wonder who it is he's got upstairs? Vivian Gordon's murderer, of the guy that shot Rothstein?" He was being funny, now, and Mary smiled appreciatively.

Mike, the waiter, totaled up the bill, scribbled on a pad, and laid the sheet of paper face down on the table. Bowen picked it up and prepared to sign it. His face changed color as he read. He handed it to Mary.

"The Fly is here," she read.

day I felt urged to help those prisoners who were deserving," said Governor Miller. "Their records were excellent for good behavior and they have shown they wanted to start life over right. I believe they will make good citizens and will deserve my confidence in them."

sent size of slightly over one and one thirty-second of an inch in diameter and each morning Lanford goes through his torturous routine of swallowing the ball and pulling it back.

If his esophagus should close entirely as it did two years ago, it probably would mean Lanford's death.

Tech-Simmons

They went for fourteen first downs. Most of them made right through the central and forward section of the Rough Riders defense. As Simmons collected only five first downs and came out only about fifty-fifty on the breaks, it will be easy for the subscribers to understand that the Cowboys were on the defensive, most of this cloudy matinee, made only one serious scoring threat, and stopped the Bullfighters about four or five times inside the twenty yard marker.

France Starts It

Shorty France, the Bullfighters' safety, started his team off to its score with a sparkling broken field dash along toward the close of the second uarter. Marshall intentionally choked his kick short and high to France who grabbed it on the run at the 15-yard line. The Simmons boys were not tackling so well, and three of them who were down on the receiver missed him. He swept upfield forty-nine yards, and with a cordon of interferers past the midway parallel appeared to be gone. Only Carl Pee stood in the way of the runner and three teammates. Whether it was accidental or intentional, Pee made a smart play, dodging two of the blockers and shoving the third down to be fallen over by France on the Simmons 36-yard line.

France Stars Again

Simmons held 'em after a fashion for a couple of downs, and on the third play the bothersome Mr. France made a circus catch of Crites' pass, with which he fell on the ten-yard stripe.

The rest was soft for Nichols, another of those Tech backs, who rushed guard for six yards, the same guard for two more, and then slid off the Simmons right tackle for the touchdown. France tried for the point, but succeeded only in landing a foul punch with his placekick, which hit G. L. Huestis, the Cowboy left end below the belt.

Les Cranfill's ranchmen had made their largest gesture a short time before the Crimson tallied. Intercepting Close's pass, Nubbin Byron rushel thirty paces to the Tech 49-yard parallel. Creighton and Pee collected fifty yards in a brace of stabs, and Byron had to wait on the Tech ten-yard line for a lazy pass from Pee 25 yards across the line of scrimmage. He stumbled on to a first down on the five-yard line.

Yancy Gets Him

Pee made exactly nothing his first effort, and after that Yancy Price hurried back there and got him for a six yard loss. The third play was a placekick from the 17-yard line, also by Pee, and the Matador forwards were through so fast they knocked the football back to their 31-yard line.

The feature run from scrimmage was France's 43-yard gallop off tackle in the third. There looked like enough interference for a touchdown, but Sprabeery knocked him out of bounds at the 25-yard line. Moffett proceeded immediately around the Cowboy left end, whirling out of Creighton's arms and going to the five-yard line. The whole Simmons line and Huestis in particular became mean there, and on fourth down Nichols missed a lateral, which was covered by Clinton Murphy of Simmons.

Crites Breaks Through

Crites traveled 38 steps on a quick opening play in the fourth, but it did not amount to anything, for he started deep in his own territory.

Simmons had the edge in just one department. Captain Steve Marshall sent his punts high and long. Rarely did they come down less than forty yards past the line of scrimmage, and often they went sailing fifty yards or more. Marshall also was the principal part of the home defense.

The lineups:

Tech: Price and Hitchcock, ends; Langford and Baker, tackles; Durham and Ayres, guards; Tribble, center; Moffett, quarter; Close and France, halves; Crites, full.

Simmons: Jim Neely and Stafford, ends; Fitzgerald and Hamilton, tackles; Spray and Bentley, guards; Seed, center; Byron, quarter; McCullom and Creighton, halves; Marshall, full.

Decision Being Delayed In City

Judge Clark M. Mullican of 99th district court will not hand down a decision in the case of L. P. Jeffreys, Lubbock truck owner and contract carrier, against the Railroad Commission of Texas and its law enforcing officials and peace officers of Lubbock and Lynn counties, until he has studied the case more, he said Thursday.

"I do not know when I will announce my decision for I have not had time to study the case," Judge Mullican stated. "In fact, my court is so busy that I have to hold court Thanksgiving."

Some additional papers, including a supplemental brief filed by R. P. Maddox of Tahoka, personal counsel of Mr. Jeffreys and the arguments of the state as presented by Elbert Hooper, assistant attorney general in charge of work for the railroad commission, have been filed.

Jeffrey's suit is directed at the recently enacted state law regulating operation of trucks.

and drowned.

Blinding snow and low clouds caused cancellation of numerous air mail and air passenger flights, but some planes got through in the afternoon.

Most of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Idaho, northern Utah and a good portion of New Mexico were under from a few inches to two and three feet of snow in the mountains, with much deeper deposits where there was drifting.

The unexpected storm in the vicinity of Kansas City found an American Beauty rose blooming under heavy swirls of snow in the garden of Mrs. J. T. Bradshaw. Apple trees near Columbus, Kas., bore both blossoms and trimmings of snow. Temperatures were not severe.

The Kansas wheat belt received a protective covering of an inch to two inches.

"They whipped him just like they were horsewhipping him," the witness continued. "He went down on his knees and W. B. Jones struck him in the face with his hand or fist and then switched him."

At another meeting, Cawood said, he had heard Jones say his "happiest day" would be when he would "walk through the blood of Jim Daniels and E. B. Childers." Jones is on trial charged with murder of Daniels, a deputy sheriff, who was killed in the Evarts clash. Childers is superintendent of the Black Mountain Coal corporation mine.

NEWS BRIEFS

Although their automobile was turned over in a ditch between Slaton and Lubbock late Wednesday when Mr. Hubbard swerved to avoid hitting a parked car, Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Hubbard, 1815 Avenue K, were not injured, Mrs. Hubbard said. The couple had been to Slaton with their baby and were en route home. In the glare of an oncoming car, Mr. Hubbard saw a parked machine in the road just ahead, a tarpaulin over it and no lights. He slowed down and swerved into the ditch to avoid striking it or being hit.

Avelene Wilson, six-months-old, died at a local sanitarium Thursday afternoon following a short illness of pneumonia. The child is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvie Wilson of Hereford.

Admitted to the hospital early Thursday, the child died at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The body was taken to Hereford, where funeral services will be held Friday.

Members of the sheriff's department Thursday occupied new offices on the west side of the first floor of Lubbock county's new $125,000 jail building. Prisoners were moved Wednesday night to the jail cages on the top floor.

Deputy Sheriff Will Earnest and members of his family are to make their home in the living quarters on the east side of the ground floor

Mr. and Mrs. King Sides of Encino, N. M., are visiting in the home of Mrs. Sides parents, the Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Bickley of 1724 Broadway. The Rev. Mr. Bickley is presiding elder of the Lubbock Methodist district.

Lubbock Loses

arillo territory.

The second half saw a grim, determined Sandstorm blow back on the field and the tide of battle turned. From then on it was all Amarillo. Each team flashed clean jersies as it marched back on the field after the intermission. That was about all Lubbock did flash. Merrill returned the kick-off to his 27-yard line. Barnett, playing on an injured foot which he constantly favored, added eight on two plays and Merrill kicked. Taking the ball on their own 30-yard line, the Sandies sustained a 70-yard drive that resulted in the second touchdown. The fine thrusts of Bassett, Dunaway, La Barge and Carroll took the ball to the Lubbock 4-yard line.

Then the star of today's game, Bob Howes, whose work in the Amarillo backfield was bringing him much recognition until he was shifted to the line, pulled out from the guard position and smashed over for a touchdown. You gotta hand it to this Howes. He played a wonderful game in the line, did most of his team's punting and came out on two occasions for touchdown plays, one of them counting.

Punch Is Broken

That drive seemed to break down Lubbock's punch. Merrill, whose never-say-die spirit was a hot point in favor of Lubbock, returned the subsequent kick-off 20 yards but three tries at the line failed to net a first down. Merrill and Howes engaged in a punting duel, with Howes getting the best end of the deal for most of the remainder of the period.

Les Cazzell's 40-yard sprint after intercepting a pass was the high point of the chukker, after the touchdown, Lubbock's line tightened to prevent any more scoring in the third quarter.

Merrill punted as the fourth and fatal period opened and Kenneth Carroll, second string halfback, scuttled through the line, the secondary and over the goal line after a brilliant dash of 60 yards. La Barge plunged the last counter across a few minutes later from the Lubbock 14-yard line. Coach Blair Cherry sent in second and third stringers then and there were no more touchdowns.

Fumbles Important

The extremely muddy field caused fumbles to play an important part in the game, with Amarillo gaining more ground than Lubbock on the frequent exchange.

The playing of Amarillo's wingmen, John Lee and David Floyd, added to the beauty of the game, if you could call it beautiful. They outplayed Lubbock's ends in the last half, breaking away to smear the Lubbock backs again and again for losses and no gains.

Captain Crawford featured Lubbock's line work. The Sandies found out early enough that to smash over center was among the impossible things. They hit the tackles and guards hard and tough, and made end runs count for the greatest gain on running plays.

Merrill Is Threat

Mack Scoggin, the highlight of the first half, played a waning game as the second half rolled around. Merrill kept his courage and was Lubbock's most serious threat. Quarterback Britton played heady football but was unable to gain on the slick field.

From tackle to tackle the Lubbock line was a match for the heavier Amarillo linemen. Griggs and Welch at guards were rarely passed over and Williams and Spears and Abbott took care of the tackle posts with ability. Little Dalton Blagg at right end did some neat smearing in the first half of the game, evading his heavier opponent to break around and smear Sandy backs for losses more than a few times.

Reserve power as presented by the Sandies bowled over the fatigued Lubbock backs in the last quarter. Only Merrill being able to carry on and even his gains were accomplished by efforts in which his tiring body wavered and trembled.

arque was halted by huge snowdrifts and the food supplies were transferred to pack horses. Another party from Ramah tried to ascend the south slope of Cerro Alto Mesa.

1,000 Are Lost

More than 1,000 Indians remained to be accounted for.

Fear their tribesmen are starving and freezing on the mesas is written on the faces of the Zunis at the agency. They recall a prediction of their medicine men that impending catastrophe was foreshadowed by a storm of the past summer which laid bare an area of eighty square miles of Zuni reservation, destroying crops and sheep and flocks. Sacred ceremonies were performed today as prayers for the safety of the Zunis and Navajos marooned in the snow.

This has been the worst storm to sweep the Zuni and southeastern Navajo country since 1918 when several hundred Indians trapped on these same mesas by a blizzard, died of influenza.

The Santa Rita and Cerro Alto mesas stand at altitudes of 7,000 to 8,000 feet and are barren except for occasional flats bearded with stubble grass and scrub pinon trees.

At Zuni reports were received that between 3,000 and 4,000 Navajo sheep have been frozen to death.

John Gobbler Picked Up By Police And Case Disposed Of About Table

DETROIT, Nov. 26. (AP)—John J. Gobbler, a fine fat turkey whose offense was being at large on Thanksgiving eve, was arrested last night by Patrolmen Frank McClellan and Thomas Coughlin after a stern chase in their scout car.

On the way to the police station with their prisoner, the captors agreed on a charge of disorderly conduct, and a plea that the defendant be paroled to them.

Then Patrolman John Willow sued out a writ of habeas corpus, or said he did, so the case—and the defendant—was to be disposed of around three Thanksgiving tables, instead of two.

Robbers Fail In Attempt To Burn An Opening In State Bank At Richardson

DALLAS, Nov. 26. (AP)—Five young bank robbers equipped with acetylene torches, toiled for two hours early today in a futile effort to burn their way into the vault of the Citizens State bank at Richardson. They managed to burn a hole in the vault door but could not penetrate the inside safe, which contained about $3,000.

The robbers kidnapped the night watchman, George Huffines, 60, before entering the bank. They drove up an automobile and ordered him into the back seat at the point of a pistol. They took his pistol and tied his hands with ropes, then drove around to the rear of the bank.

Huffines was held prisoner for two hours behind the bank, then taken to a lonely point on the highway near Vickery, where he was shoved out of the car. The robbers continued their flight toward Dallas.

Officers found that the robbers had forced open a number of safe deposit boxes with a crowbar and taken the contents. A check was being made to determine the loss. The only bank cash taken was a sack of pennies and a supply of stamps, which were found on a shelf in a tellers cage.

Dr. E. E. Oberholtzer, superintendent of the Houston schools, said that America should revise its philosophy of education and give more attention to preparing students for participation in community life.

The teachers heard Dr. R. Thomsen, pastor of the Central Presbyteran church, Amarillo, attack the ideals of Thanksgiving day, and the incentives that brought early settlers to America.

"We have been taught to believe the colonists were all puritans and pilgrims who came to this new country for freedom of religion and education, but many of them came for money and greed," Dr. Thomsen said.

She Is going shopping . . . . WILL SHE VISIT YOUR STORE?

MRS. HOUSEWIFE has many interests competing for her attention. She can devote only a small part of her day to shopping. Obviously she cannot visit ALL the stores in an effort to shop to her best advantage.

Therefore she selects those stores which have given her advance information through the advertising columns of her daily newspaper. She has learned that it is always more efficient, and usually more economical, to do the greater part of her shopping right at home with her Avalanche and Journal.

It is not enough for you to give better values or service in your store. You must let Mrs. Housewife know about them. It is not enough to employ good salesmen. You must do your preliminary selling in Mrs. Housewife's own living room. The wise, modern shopper reads Avalanche-Journal papers for guidance. Is your message there?

State Mourns Alfred Taylor

One Of Most Colorful Figures In Tennessee Political Life Will Be Buried Today; Messages Are Received

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Nov. 26. (AP)—Tennessee mourned one of its most colorful political figures, former Governor Alfred A. Taylor, 83, today as preparations for his funeral were made.

Services for the "sage of Happy Valley" whose "war of the roses" gubernatorial campaign against his brother, Bob, back in 1886 still is fireside talk in the Tennessee mountains, will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m.

Dr. W. S. Neighbors of Chattanooga, Tenn., who conducted the funeral services for two brothers, Bob and Jim, and their father, Col. Nathaniel G. Taylor, will officiate. Burial will be in Monta Vista cemetery on the outskirts of Johnson City.

The old political leader died yesterday of complications following uremic poisoning that had kept him ill since 1929. His widow, six sons, and two daughters, survive.

A message from President Hoover, expressing sympathy to the family was made public today. It follows:

"Mrs. Hoover and I are greatly saddened to learn of the death of your husband, Alfred A. Taylor. In his public career as governor and as a member of congress, he served the public welfare with diligence and faithfully; and his was a high sense of honor and integrity in personal life. Please accept for yourself and members of your family our sincerest sympathy.—"Herbert Hoover."

Conviction Is Reversed By Court Of Criminal Appeals

AUSTIN, Nov. 26 (AP) — Because one juror made what another juror interpreted as derogatory remarks about two defense witnesses, the court of criminal appeals reversed and remanded the conviction of Jess Glassgow in Bowie county on a charge of robbery armed. Glassgow was sentenced to 25 years.

He was tried on an indictment charging he had robbed R. W. Hanks, a banker, of a pocket flashlight.

In the last two years 8,000 wild horses have been taken from ranges of Stanley county, South Dakota.

Southland Shows Interest In New Methodist Pastor

(By Staff Correspondent)

SOUTHLAND, Nov. 26. — Much interest is being manifested here by residents of this town as well as by members of the Methodist church over the new pastor, Rev. J. Hamilton "Ham" Wright, who comes here from the Sparenberg-Ackerly circuit in Dawson county.

Reverend Wright prior to his entry into the ministry in 1926 was a newspaper man. He was with the old Fort Worth Record, the Amarillo News and other papers. While a newspaper writer and editor Reverend Wright made a name for himself among the state papers.

The past two years he has been at Sparenberg. Before that he was a year at Draw, near Tahoka, in Lynn county. Frequently he is called upon to hold revival meetings and probably has half a dozen a year.

Once a year, at the annual Northwest Texas conference, the minister-newspaper man returns to his former vocation and for papers over the state writes interesting stories of the meetings. It is the one touch he maintains with his former life.

Total attendance at municipal opera productions in St. Louis during the summer of 1931 was 687,686, a new record.

How Good Doctors Treat Bad Colds

Medical writers agree that the important point in the treatment of a cold, or cough due to a cold, is to relieve the congestion in the nose and throat, thereby preventing serious complications which may follow a neglected cold. To stop this congestion calomel was the accepted and standard remedy until Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablet was introduced.

Now that science has robbed calomel of its nausea and danger, making it pleasant to take and perfectly safe for general use, over forty million Calotabs are consumed in the U. S. yearly with only the most pleasant and satisfactory results.

In millions of homes Calotabs have proven their superiority in the prompt relief of colds and coughs due to colds.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a glass of sweet milk or water. No salts necessary. No nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning the congestion has subsided, your cold or cough is relieved, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish,—no danger.

Get a family package of Calotabs, containing full directions, only thirty-five cents. Trial size, ten cents. At any drug store.—Adv.

Change May Be Made In Dates For I.C.A.A.A.A. Field Meet

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26 (AP)—Voicing the opinion that the 1932 intercollegiate A. A. A. A. track and field meet and the American olympic trials were scheduled for dates too close together, Avery Brundage, president of the Amateur athletic union, said today he would recommend a change in date of the collegiate championship.

The I. C. A. A. A. A. meet is scheduled for Berkeley Stadium, July 8-9, and the Olympic trials for Stanford University Stadium July 15-16. Such a short lapse of time, Brundage believes, would work to the disadvantage of those athletes competing in the collegiate event who also will try out for the Olympic team.

While Brundage has no connection with the I. C. A. A. A. A., he said he would telegraph officials in charge in an effort to have the date of the meet moved up to the latter part of June.

BOWEN'S DRUG

"I'll stand by it!"

"I'll stand by tobacco . . . in good times, in hard times . . . all kind of times . . . it helps a whole lot!

"I GREW up with tobacco. Mostly I smoke cigarettes now — but I've smoked plenty of cigars, and pipes, too. And I never got anything but good from tobacco in any form—pipe, cigar, or cigarette—and that goes for every smoker I ever heard about.

"Why, I remember as a boy, way back, how the old folks in the fall used to pick and cure tobacco from a little patch they'd raised, and save out the best for their own smoking. And my father fought all through the war, and lived to be ninety.

"He'd certainly appreciate what we get today, though. Just think about these CHESTERFIELDS of mine—fine tobaccos from all over the world, and cured and blended just so; you couldn't get anything purer or milder. Cleanest factories you ever saw, too—never a hand touching the cigarettes . . . everything up to date.

"A big improvement over the old ways . . . reckon that's why I like CHESTERFIELDS so much. I notice most of my friends get a lot of pleasure out of them, too.*

"But what I started out to say was, you can always depend on tobacco, no matter how things are going. Probably there was never anything in the world that meant so much to so many people, and cost so little, as tobacco—whatever way they smoke it.

"Yes, sir—I'll stand up for tobacco as long as I can strike a match!"

*NOTE. In the sections where tobacco grows and where people know tobacco, Chesterfield is usually the largest-selling cigarette.
