Democrats Will See Action Here

EXCITEMENT OFFERED AT CONVENTION IN CITY NEXT WEEK

BY R. W. BARRY

AUSTIN, Sept. 8 (AP)—Democrats who intend to go to the Democratic state convention at Lubbock expect plenty of action. It has been a long time, if ever, since a convention offered such excitement as anticipated.

One million Democrats have expressed a preference for governor and there is a margin slightly in excess of 3,000 favorable to one of two candidates. Both candidates have charged many votes were cast illegally. That is interesting enough.

There probably isn't much the state Democratic executive committee can do about the contention. As Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston lately said in the senate, the executive committee cannot be expected to do anything except recommend nomination of the candidate who received a majority on the face of the returns certified to the committee.

But there will be a great throng of Democrats there to see that done. There will be a large slice of partisans of Governor R. S. Sterling who is on the short end of the vote as unofficially tabulated. One may expect an outpouring of partisans of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, apparently the nominee, and her husband, James E. Ferguson, to see that "Ma" and "Pa" Ferguson, both former governors, the latter impeached and removed from office during his second term, get a "fair deal."

There will be other phases worth any one's attendance. The platform is to be drawn. Will it declare for a return of the convention system of choosing nominees? Will it propose repeal of the Eighteenth to the federal constitution and a junking of Texas prohibition laws? Those are interesting questions the Lubbock convention will answer. Will it be written for the high-heeled shoes of Mrs. Ferguson or the double last oxfords of the Sterling type?

Everybody in Lubbock bound Texas political history that probably shall make good reading for years to come likely is to be written there.

Who can tell, there may be two conventions at Lubbock. There are several contentions that might cause one faction to set up its own show. Which faction will it be, if a bolt is attempted?

WOODUL GIVES UP ATTEMPT FOR PROBE

MOVE IS DROPPED IN INTEREST OF SPEED IN LEGISLATURE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 8.—Senator Walter Woodul of Houston announced today that the move to have a Texas senate committee investigation of the August Democratic primary would be dropped.

Senator Woodul was one of the authors of a resolution proposing such an investigation.

Senator Woodul told his colleagues that in the interests of speeding up legislation and bringing about adjournment on Saturday if possible he was willing to "let the matter rest."

Cites Opposition

The Houston senator, close friend of Governor R. S. Sterling, said he still believed the investigation should be made, but that "those opposed to the resolution show that they are determined to prevent it from passing if it is possible for them to do so."

"I think the people now know who's thwarting this investigation," Senator Woodul declared.

The resolution had been the subject of several days of heated debate, with the close governor's race in which Governor Sterling apparently was defeated entering into the discussion time and again. Twice it was sent to committee, and the state affairs committee yesterday voted 9 to 6 to kill it. Senator Woodul had announced at that time, however, that he would move today to force the state affairs committee to report.

Fraud Claimed

Senator Woodul repeated today he had seen hundreds of letters from "bankers, newspapermen, lawyers, ministers and laymen" citing specific instances of alleged fraudulent voting. The alleged illegal voting was not confined to East Texas, but was done all over the state, Sen-

TEXAS LEVEES BATTERED BY RIO GRANDE

LOWLANDS INUNDATED AS CREST OF FLOOD PASSES MERCEDES

(By The Associated Press)

BROWNSVILLE, Sept 8 — The mighty Rio Grande battered levees in the lower valley with all its force today as the crest of its flood water coursed past Mercedes.

The stage at Mercedes was 21.5 feet equal to the highest mark on record. Weather bureau observers said it might rise a fraction of a foot more.

Lowlands Inundated

Although several gaps have been torn in the Hidalgo county levees and a vast area in the lowlands inundated, reports indicated comparatively little serious damage had occurred in the rich agricultural belt.

Breaks in levees caused a muddy torrent to spill over a wide strip between the levees and the river channel proper. The stream was miles wide in places. The overflow on the Mexican side was much more serious than on the American.

The strip flooded on the American side had been under cultivation by hundreds of ranchers who fled to high ground at the first flood warnings. Some of the land under water was waste territory.

Water was pouring into the floodway south of Mercedes and some was reported entering the arroyo Colorado river.

Levees Abandoned

Guards abandoned all levees except those of the north floodway in Hidalgo county at midnight last night on order of County Engineer

REQUESTS FOR LOANS MADE

FEDERAL BANK BOARD ALREADY DELUGED BY APPLICANTS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Opening of the 12 home loan banks still is a month off but already the federal directing board is scanning thousands of applications for direct loans.

The volume of requests from home owners was described today by Chairman Franklin W. Fort as a "deluge." But he said all are receiving attention and where the mortgage collateral appears sound the board is endeavoring to arrange the desired refinancing before the scheduled opening of its regional banks Oct. 15.

The procedure is to forward such applications to lending organizations in the various states. They go to building and loan association clearing houses where these organizations exist and the board is encouraging their creation throughout the country.

"When the regional banks open for business," Fort said, "those local financing institutions which have aided home owners in the interim may pledge these home mortgages as collateral to obtain funds to replace those thus used."

Fort explained that since banks, as a rule, lend less on homes than building and loan associations, their paper in many cases should be more easily refinanced.

Connecticut Demos Adopt Repeal Plank

EASTERN POINT, Conn., Sept. 8 (AP)—The Democratic state convention today adopted a platform calling for repeal of the 18th amendment, modification of the Volstead act, state aid for cities needing help in handling unemployment relief and a state fund for aid of closed banks and depositors.

The platform also asked a state oldage pension fund and unemployment insurance. It praised the national ticket and commended the candidacy of the governor to the people of the state.

FIFTH GERMAN BALLOT SEEN

VOTERS MAY BE GIVEN CHANCE TO DECIDE CABINET'S FATE

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Sept. 8—Adolf Hitler's Nazis and the centrist party of former Chancellor Heinrich Bruening have until Monday to decide whether they will support the cabinet of Chancellor Von Papen or go before the voters in what would be the fifth major election this year.

Actually the decision must be made between noon Saturday and 3 p. m. Monday.

If the decision of the coalition parties is not to support the government, the chancellor will invoke the decree already signed by President Von Hindenburg to dissolve the reichstag, and another election will be held, probably Nov. 6.

The president yesterday announced he would receive representatives of the proposed Nazi-centrist coalition at 10:30 a. m., Saturday. Newspaper comment generally held this reception will be merely a formality, after which the president will reject the coalition proposal to oust the Von Papen cabinet.

Then, the Nazis and centrists will have until the reichstag convenes Monday to decide their course. Most political commentators expressed the belief Von Papen would allow a day or two to debate the government's announcements but would promulgate the dissolution decree before an opportunity arose to vote on a question of non-confidence.

The government's willingness to face another election is based on its belief the Von Papen ministry is much stronger with the public now than it was at the last election.

Aviator Prevents Heavy Fire Loss

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 8 (AP)—Criticisms of an unidentified airplane pilot who awakened west-end residents by doing power dives in proximity of their roofs Tuesday night turned to praise today when it was learned that the performer was Gene Brown who flies the night mail between Richmond and Atlanta for Eastern Air Transport, and that he probably prevented a disastrous fire.

A resident awakened by the roaring engine and going to a window to investigate saw flames shooting from a residence nearby and telephoned an alarm which resulted in the fire being extinguished with damage estimated at less than $300.

TO DRIVE FOR CONTROL IN CONGRESS

PARTY LEADERS PLAN CAMPAIGN TO TAKE OVER COMMAND

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8—An intensive campaign for congressional control is being launched in the wake of the quadrennial presidential drive.

It included today consultations with leaders of both major parties over the contented command of Capitol hill.

Senator Swanson of Virginia, chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, was in New York for conferences with James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee. His next scheduled stop was Albany, where he said presidential and senatorial campaign plans would be reviewed with Governor Roosevelt.

Republicans Confer

Only yesterday Senator Watson, Republican leader, and Senator Hatfield, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, conferred with President Hoover and reported senatorial contests had been surveyed.

Where the parties will direct their principal efforts for the congressional elections still was a matter of speculation to capitol observers. But Watson, candidate for re-election in Indiana, gave it as his opinion that senatorial campaigns could be coordinated with the presidential drive.

The Republican leader further said he believed Indiana, Illinois and Ohio should be a major battleground. In the first two states, Republican senators are up for re-election. In Ohio the Democratic seat of Senator Bulkley is on trial this year.

Close Question

Watson also told newspapermen that whether a Republican senate majority would be maintained after November was "a very close question." To the same query Hatfield replied affirmatively, adding:

"Conditions are getting better right along."

Congress today is divided by the closest margin since the restless period of the war-time change from Democratic to Republican rule. Democrats hold the house by a narrow edge. Republican control of the senate has been cut to actual equality by the recent death of Senator Waterman of Colorado.

With congress so evenly divided, it is regarded as a possibility in discussions of capitol observers that whoever is elected president—Hoover or Roosevelt—may have a congress under domination of the opposite party.

COURTHOUSE DAMAGED

Local Lawyers Move To Prevent Separation Of Young Mother And Baby

HEARING SET THIS AFTERNOON ON MOTION TO KEEP SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL-WIFE AND FIVE-WEEK-OLD CHILD OUT OF JAIL

Three Lubbock law firms today prepared a defense to keep five-week-old Raymond Eugene Maynard with his mother and out of the county jail.

A hearing was to begin in 99th district court at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon on a motion by attorneys representing Mrs. Jimmie Lee Maynard, the boy's 17-year-old mother, to dissolve an injunction granted Wednesday afternoon giving the boy into the custody of Mrs. B. Maynard, mother of the girl-wife's husband, L. W. Maynard.

In a brief hearing in 99th district court this afternoon, young Mrs. Maynard was told she might keep her baby "and go home." Judge Mullican, who questioned her closely while she was on the stand, enjoined her from leaving the state during the pendency of the divorce trial.

The blue-eyed, red-haired boy went to county jail yesterday when Mrs. Maynard was ordered held on contempt of court charge by Judge Clark M. Mullican. The young mother had refused to give up the infant.

Attorneys who filed the motion at noon today were: Bledsoe, Crenshaw & Dupree, Lockhart & Brown, and Vaughn E. Wilson and Wm. H. Evans. The counsel was acting without fee.

Judge Mullican yesterday in speaking of the case explained that the refusal of the girl-wife was so strenuous and so positive that there was nothing else he could do but order her in contempt of court.

The defense motion filed today set out that Mrs. Maynard was married at the age of 15, and that when

ONE LONE GROUP OF FARMERS SEEK TO HALT SHIPPING

(By The Associated Press)

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Sept. 8—One lone group of farmers today attempted to forestall shipping of farm produce into Sioux City as midwestern governors or their representatives began to gather for a conference to work out an agricultural relief program.

These pickets maintained their stronghold on Highway 75 where yesterday they defied efforts of 100 deputy sheriffs to dislodge them and turned back a train of 27 trucks.

Other farmers, however, turned their attention to organization of a parade tomorrow—the date of the governors' conference—as a demonstration against low farm prices. Leaders declared there would be between 5,000 and 20,000 participants.

Olson Confers

Gov. F. B. Olson of Minnesota conferred today with 11 farm leaders of his state regarding Minnesota's part in the conference preparatory to leaving for Sioux City.

Gov. Phillip F. LaFollette of Wisconsin announced that Alvin C. Reis, attorney and former counsel for the state department of agriculture and markets, probably would represent him at the meeting.

WIDOW HELD TOO ILL TO ATTEND INQUEST SCHEDULED TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8—A conference between Jean Harlow, platinum blonde screen actress, and Henry Bern, New Rochelle, N. Y., ended at 1 a. m., today without a statement concerning the apparent suicide of Paul Bern, husband of the actress and brother of Henry.

Bern said there would be a statement "soon enough." He expressed a desire to confer first with relatives.

The conference was unattended by any other relatives, friends or police officers who have been investigating the death of the 42-year-old film executive who was found in his home Monday with a bullet wound in his head, a discharged pistol in his hand and nearby a note signed "Paul", addressed to "Dearest Dear" and confessing a "frightful wrong."

Given Records

Bern was given medical and police records of the case, together with personal effects of his dead brother, before leaving the conference. He said he wished to study the records.

"It is my wish to confer with relatives here and in New York before agreeing to a statement of any kind," Bern said.

"I am simply a man come to the funeral of his brother. There will be a statement made soon enough. I want no secrecy veiling the matter of my brother's death. He would not have it that way in life. I wish to do as he would have done. He never had secrets from anyone."

Bern was to be one of the witnesses at the inquest scheduled to be held later today. Miss Harlow, who married the film executive two months ago, was subpoenaed but on the report of her physician that she was in no condition to attend, was excused by Coroner Frank A. Nance.

"CORPSE" SO LIVELY HE RIDES TO HIS OWN FUNERAL—ON A HEARSE

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—As a corpse, Caesar Milt was so lively he rode to his own funeral—on a hearse.

Milt, who lives in South Chicago, was in a hospital expected to die by his many friends of the three burial societies to which he belonged, so his friend, William Peters, arranged with the directors of the three organizations to take care of the situation at the proper time.

Then somehow the word got about that Milt had passed on to his reward. Lee Capper, driver of a hearse went to the hospital. There he met Milt, alive and apparently recovered from his recent illness. Capper called one of the directors of one of the burial associations and said:

"This Milt corpse—" he began and got no further.

"Yes, yes," said the director, "bring it along. The funeral's waiting. We can't waste time jawing about it."

"But," objected Capper, but the director had hung up the telephone receiver.

In due course, the hearse, with Milt, arrived at the church, where several hundred mourners were startled to see Milt, climb out of the hearse and ask:

"What's this?"

No one waited to answer.

"Such popularity," observed Milt, "must be deserved."

Twenty Injured In Collapse Of Bridge

OPELOUSAS, La., Sept. 8 (AP)—Twenty workmen were injured near here today as a portion of a bridge they were building across the Atchafalaya river collapsed and plunged 30 people into the treacherous water. Two others were missing.

A pier on which they were working toppled over and all of the crew plunged into the swift current with the exception of Robert Tally. He was caught in the wreckage and rescuers removed him with his leg broken.

The pair unaccounted for was Lee Rollings and Zebe Rody. Fellow workers expressed fear they were swept downstream and were drowned.

FINAL ACTION IS NEAR ON BOND PLAN

DIFFERENCES ARE TO BE ADJUSTED BY A JOINT COMMITTEE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 8—The Texas legislature apparently was near final action today on a road bond reimbursement proposal designed to give millions of dollars of relief annually to property taxpayers.

Both the senate and house had passed bills to force the state to allocate a portion of the gasoline tax to retire the counties' outstanding bonded indebtedness on state highway. Property owners in the counties affected would be relieved of the burden of meeting the payments on the bonds.

Few Differences

The bills differed in a few details and a free conference committee likely will be called to adjust the differences.

The senate voted unanimously yesterday to pass the bond assumption bill offered by Senator W. R. Poage of Waco. The house had passed a similar bill Tuesday. A principal difference between them was that the senate bill would provide for assumption of bonds issued for procurement of rights of way for state highways, while the house bill would not make that provision.

The house passed a senate bill providing for a remission of penalties and interest on delinquent tax payments. The proposal was so amended, however, that it was considered likely the senate would not concur and would ask for a free conference committee.

Bill Amended

The house amended the bill to provide that penalties and interest would be released on all delinquent taxes paid by Jan. 31, 1933. The senate had fixed the final date at Dec. 31, 1932. Another house amendment would require cities to give the same relief to delinquent taxpayers as would be given in the senate bill to those who owed county, school district, road district and state taxes.

With the two major purposes of the special session nearing accomplishment, some of the legislators clung to the hope they might be able to go home Saturday night.

Farmers Heartened By Clearing Skies

Clearing skies and sunshine this morning heartened South Plains farmers who fear their cotton and feed crops have been deteriorating because of the excessive rainfall of the past 15 days.

Despite the heavy precipitation it is unlikely that 1932 will set a record. The total to date is 18.4 inches. Figures for other years include: 1915, 31.88 inches; 1919 31.63 inches; and 1914, 31.43 inches.

More Troops Asked To Prevent Thefts

KILGORE, Sept. 8 (AP)—A call for more troops to prevent theft of oil in this section was made by a group of East Texas landowners here yesterday.

They authorized a committee to present a resolution asking for additional troops to the railroad commission Monday.

New legislation was advocated to strengthen the powers of the commission if existing laws were found to be inadequate.

Endurance Fliers Forced Down Today

FONTANA, Calif., Sept. 8 (AP)—The endurance plane, "Spirit of '76," after being aloft about 96 hours, was forced to land near here shortly before 2 a. m., today because of a broken oil line.

The pilots, John Sheasey and Fred Murillo, brought the plane to a safe landing. The plane took off from Los Angeles last Sunday afternoon in an attempt to break the 647-hour endurance refueling record of Forest O'Brine and the late Dale Jackson.

REPORT HIKES PRODUCTION ESTIMATE

1932 CROP PLACED AT 11,310,000 BALES; PRICES PLUNGE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8—A break of $4.85 to $5.45 a bale from the best prices of the morning occurred in cotton futures today following publication of the government estimate for a 11,310,000-bale crop.

The figure, 4,000 bales above last month's estimate and more than 300,000 bales above the average guess of private agencies, apparently caught traders by surprise and a wave of selling swept the market immediately after its publication.

October contracts dropped to 8.15 and December to 8.20, or 97 to 109 points below the morning pre-bureau highs. The market rallied 30 points, or $1.50 a bale after the initial break, afterwards fluctuating in active trading.

At New York cotton broke $3 to $4 a bale on the government report. At the reopening of the market following the report, contracts were sold heavily.

Prior to the report the market was ruling slightly above the previous finals and its general firmness was attributed to expectations of a bullish government estimate. Due to reports of insect damage and deterioration, the trade had looked for an indicated yield of around 10,700,000 bales, or in line with some of the recent private estimates.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (AP)—A 1932 cotton crop of 11,310,000 bales was forecast today for the United by the Department of Agriculture's crop reporting board, based on conditions of Sept. 1.

LOCAL MAN IS FOUND DEAD

J. D. SMITH SUCCUMBS TO HEART ATTACK WHILE MILKING

J. D. Smith, about 72, died at about 7 o'clock this morning of acute heart dilatation while he was milking a cow at the back of his home at 310 Fourth street.

After eight-year-old Eliz Mae Speck had reported her grandfather was crying for he had "his head down," the Rev. B. B. Speck found Mr. Smith was dead. The aged man had not fallen; he had remained squatted on his feet, his hand dropped across a bucket half-filled with milk.

Physician Called

A physician called said death resulted from acute heart dilatation. The doctor said that Mr. Smith had been suffering of heart attacks for at least three years.

Moving to the South Plains nine years ago from Haskell county, where he had reared his family, Mr. Smith lived in Lamesa one year before coming to Lubbock to make his home. He was a retired farmer. Rev. and Mrs. Speck reside at 310 Fourth street.

Funeral arrangements are pending arrival of relatives, but burial probably will be in Lubbock cemetery, the Rev. Mr. Speck said today. Bynum-Stahler funeral home will direct arrangements.

Survivors are four daughters, Mrs. Speck, Mrs. Fred Stanfield, of Anton; Mrs. B. H. Barnett of Tahoka; and Mrs. Marvin McNabb, who lives eight miles northeast of Lubbock, and one son, Mark Smith of Lubbock. Mrs. Smith died about a year ago.

FRIDAY IS FELT HAT DAY IN CITY

Now that fall is near at hand, it is time to put on that fall felt hat.

The Lindsey theater is offering a "straw hat" specialty for Friday's shows, each person over 18 years of age who brings a straw hat to the box office will be admitted free to see Gary Cooper and Tallulah Bankhead in "The Devil and The Deep."

Styles Of Grandmother's Day Back

Back in the gay nineties—maybe mother can remember, certainly grandma can—sleeves were enormous. They were stiffened with crinoline and made to stand out like wings.

Coat sleeves had to be large, too, to accommodate the dresses.

Maybe grandma remembers, too, the bicycle jacket which also had leg-o'-mutton sleeves and ended at the waist.

Shakespeare never repeats, they say, but styles do. Styles run in cycles. If we live our allotted two score years and ten we are sure to see styles of our childhood returning. Not quite the same, of course. They are modified or changed by living conditions and ideas, but they greatly resemble those gone before.

And so the good old leg-o'-mutton sleeve returns. Jessie Shanks shows it in its smart 1932 version. At the left she is posing in a swanky sports suit of gray wool with black caracul capelet and trimming, and at right she shows the same puffed sleeves in a chic bicycle jacket of red Lyons velvet.

Another fashion of the gay nineties that is returning to favor is changeable taffeta. It is being used for evening dresses.

ENOUGH S'NUFF

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—A patrolman frowned as David Reiner hurried up to him and sneezed in his face. But he listened intently while Reiner gasped out his story. "I've just been—ka-choo—held up." Reiner blurted. "Two men forced me into an auto and—ka-choo—one of them threw a handful of snuff in my—ka-choo—face. They robbed me of $2.55 and my—ka-choo—watch." The officer wrinkled his nose (the snuff permeated the air). "Come along with me. I'll—ka-choo—report it."

PLANE PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON.—Col. Clarence M. Young, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics, reports that airplane manufacturers in the United States produced 722 craft during the first six months of the year. About 35% of these planes were built for civil use. The remainder were for military purposes.

HOOVER STAND IS ASSAILED

BUTLER, KEYNOTER AT DEMO CONVENTION, RAPS PLATFORM

EASTERN POINT, Conn., Sept. 8 (AP)—Robert P. Butler of Hartford, keynote speaker at the Democratic state convention, last night called President Hoover's statement on prohibition in his acceptance address "the most astounding proposal that has ever come from the lips of a president."

"Mr. Hoover and the Republican platform," said Butler, "solemnly propose another amendment to the constitution which shall give back to the states a limited power over liquor sales and distribution but shall reserve to congress some hazy and undefined power to veto the laws of any state whenever those laws do not conform to the terms of this amendment which has never yet been drafted, and whose scope and content nobody knows."

Says Split Sought

Butler charged Republicans with trying to "martyrize" Alfred E. Smith, who received the votes of the Connecticut delegation at the Democratic national convention. This was being done, he contended to try to split the Democratic ranks in the east.

"Our Republican friends may not like Franklin Roosevelt," he said, "they may fear him for his liberalism, they may not agree with him politically, but the man does not live who can successfully challenge his moral and spiritual courage."

Butler attacked the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill, Republican farm relief measures, and asserted the Republican party could not rightfully claim prosperity was dependent on a high protective tariff.

"Every one of these depressions," he said, "began or occurred in a Republican administration and every one—save that of 1921 in the war readjustment period—came under the regime of a Republican high protective tariff."

EVANGELIST IS HELD GUILTY

W. E. ELROY ASSESSED FINE OF $200 IN ADULTERY CASE

Found guilty by Judge E. L. Pitts of a charge of adultery, W. E. Elroy, itinerant evangelist, was fined $200 in county court yesterday afternoon at the close of a trial that attracted record crowds to the county courtroom. So crowded did the regular courtroom become that Judge Pitts adjourned the session to the third floor of the courthouse.

Elroy was unable to pay the fine and costs and was remanded to custody of Sheriff Hardy. He indicated that he wanted to appeal the case and Judge Pitts gave him instructions on the methods.

Many women and a number of children were in the courtroom for the trial.

Elroy conducted his own defense and cross-examined state witnesses as well as examining his own. He used six persons as character witnesses, all testifying as to their belief in his good name. The evangelist had refused the services of an attorney.

Vaughn Wilson, county attorney and William H. Evans, his assistant, represented the county. They used 10 witnesses, most of whom were members of the sect the evangelist claims to represent.

Elroy Makes Own Plea

Following the close of testimony Mr. Evans made a plea for the state and asked a minimum fine of $500.

Elroy then made a plea in his own behalf, declaring among other things, "I am not guilty in the eyes of God—but I may be in the eyes of man." He denied several times that statements of witnesses for the state made him guilty.

After Mr. Wilson had closed for the state, Elroy again made a brief plea, but in a less impassioned tone of voice. His first talk was more in the nature of a sermon. In it he quoted the Mosaic law of "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth", and pointed out that under that law one found guilty of adultery should be "stoned to death."

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

By The Associated Press

Prefers Steers

MEETEETSE, Wyo. — Young Jerry O'Leary would rather hang on to the tail of a wild steer any day than the tail of an airplane. Unknown to Pilot Bill Monday, the youth grabbed the tail of Monday's airplane and rode aloft 1,000 feet, hanging on grimly as the ship wavered with it's rear-end weight. When the pilot found out what was wrong he made a forced landing without injuring O'Leary.

Worth The Price

TRENTON, N. J.—A cow that cost Earl Kinney, 17, only five cents won him the premier showmanship dairy award at the state fair here. Kinney's father sold him Bossie several years ago to get him interested in dairying.

Built Good Pipes

NEW YORK — Aaron Burr built good water pipes. Workmen repairing a water main dug up a piece of several miles of wooden pipe which was the city's first water system 133 years ago. It was a white pine log, a foot in diameter, with a three inch bore and was in good condition. Aaron Burr was a member of the company which laid the mains.

Spirit Of Speed

NEW YORK—The liner Drottningholm apparently caught the spirit of speed from her passengers. Carrying the Swedish and Finnish olympic athletes back home, the Swedish-American vessel set a record of eight days, four hours for the New York to Gothenburg voyage. She broke her own record of eight days, seven hours.

SPOT WHERE RAIN "FALLS" UP PICKED BY GLIDER CHAMP FOR NEW ATTEMPT TO BREAK WORLD'S ENDURANCE RECORD

HONOLULU (AP)—Before the great wall of Nuuanu pali, Lieutenant William A. Cocke plans to ride again the surging air currents that bore him to a world glider endurance record last December.

In a 60-foot sailplane, Cocke went up at 3 p. m. on December 17 and remained aloft 21 hours, 34 minutes and 15 seconds, coming down only because of fatigue. This time, seeking to break his own record, he will carry an assistant pilot.

Giant Glider Under Way

A giant glider with 75-foot wingspread is being built under Cocke's supervision near his home at Santa Monica, California. It will carry two places, and if the wind holds out Cocke and his relief pilot may stay up for days.

In the flat valley nestling between the sea and the hogback mountain ridge that splits this island of Oahu, a giant pocket is formed. Into this pocket strong breezes blow and, striking the 1,200-foot sheer wall of the pali, rush upward.

At the top of the pali, or cliff, it actually "rains upward" as moisture-laden winds, rising swiftly, are cooled, condense and sweep the rain thus formed along with them.

Upward Currents Strong

So strong are these upward currents that Cocke, on descending last December, said on several occasions he set his controls for a dive and held them in that position for as long as five minutes without dropping more than a few feet.

It is a hazardous undertaking, cruising in this pocket, especially at night, where the strong winds may upset a light sailplane and hurl it against the mountainside. Both day and night the cliffs are often blanketed with clouds.

Experts have pronounced it, however, the most perfect setting for glider flying in the world.

Lieut. William A. Cocke, whose more than 21 hours aloft is a world gliding record, plans to better it soon in a new attempt for which he has chosen a spot on the island of Oahu, where winds from the Pacific aided him in his previous flight, here shown.

Two A.B.C. Members Attend Convention

R. E. Dick and Bill Kennedy, delegates from the Lubbock American Business club, attended the sixth district convention at San Angelo Monday and Tuesday. There were about 30 delegates from Lubbock, Amarillo, Oklahoma City, Ponca City, Tulsa, Enid and Fairfax, Okla.

G. T. Langmaid, Detroit, national president, and J. G. Crowley, sixth district president, and Delmar Anderson, district secretary-treasurer, both from Enid, were present.

Kennedy served on the credentials and expansion for Texas committees and Dick on the advisory committee.

Hurrying to a garage to have his lights fixed and avoid arrest, an Oklahoma City motorist was arrested and fined for running through a boulevard stop.

SIX MONTHS' DATA

WASHINGTON.—It is revealed by the Aeronautics Branch of the U. S. Department of Commerce that scheduled air transport services operating in the United States flew 2,201,395 miles during the first six months of 1932. Planes during this period carried 217,274 passengers and 441,137 pounds of express. The number of passengers represented an increase of 47,458 over the number carried the first six months of 1931.

RADIO AIR BEACONS

SAN FRANCISCO—A chain of direction radio beacons is to be installed along the 1206 miles of the Pacific coast air route from the Canadian to the Mexican border. The U. S. Department of Commerce has authorized the installation of 30 additional radio beacons, and five of these are to be erected on the Pacific coast route.

LEAGUE HEADS ARE CHOSEN

TEACHERS AT LUBBOCK INSTITUTE SELECT NEW DIRECTORS

Lubbock county school teachers, meeting during the annual South Plains Teachers institute the first of the week, selected leaders for the county interscholastic league work next spring, Miss Mae Murfee, county superintendent of schools announced.

Dates corresponding with the state schedule of league meets were decided upon. Because of the increase in athletic events, a director of athletics was named with a group of assistants to be named later.

E. P. Reeves, principal of the Acuff school, was selected as director general. He succeeds Sam B. Chatham of the Idalou school. Other officials, directors of the various departments were chosen as follows:

Athletics: E. F. Hawkins, principal Foster school.

Several other appointed leaders are to be announced by the director general later.

Princely Gesture

On the scene where 75,000 British officers and men died in battle, the Prince of Wales is shown here in a striking close-up picture taken at the unveiling of a war memorial in the little village of Thiepval, France, on the Somme. The British throne heir attended the ceremony in full military regalia, but his collar seems to have been a bit too tight.

TEXAS TECH MATADORS GATHERING HERE FOR TRAINING CAMP

THAT well-known little bird that goes busily about carrying tidbits of gossip from town to town was chirping noisily in our neighborhood the other day.

"Where have you been all summer," said the little fellow, "that you haven't printed the big news about the trades Mr. Connie Mack is going to make. Your ignorance is alarming."

An honest confession is good for the soul. I confessed that I had been trying to get the water out of my ears ever since suffering an early-season outdoor plunge on Decoration Day, and still wasn't able to hear very well.

"Why?" I asked the birdie, "what's doing, pal?"

"There's plenty doing," replied my feathered friend. "For one thing, George Earnshaw is going to be traded. Al Simmons is going to be traded. And, of all things, Mickey Cochrane is going to be traded. Don't tell me you haven't heard all about it!"

* * *

HEY! WHAT'S THIS?—

"TRADED," replied your correspondent, "to whom, and for what?"

"Traded to the White Sox," replied talkative birdie. "Well, not so much traded as sold. Mr. Mack hasn't been making money this year the way the Shibes over at Philadelphia are accustomed to see him make it. The club is in the red, and is losing caste. Would you believe it when I tell you that a large part of the A's following in Philly has swung over to the Phils?"

"How much money does Mr. Mack expect to make by selling Simmons, Cochrane and Earnshaw to the White Sox?"

* * *

THE PRICE TAGS

"WELL, you know as much about that as I would. How much do you think they would be worth to a team like the White Sox?"

"About half a million dollars."

"You don't mean that, of course. But they are worth $250,000 and there isn't a doubt in the world about it."

"Say bird—what is Mr. Mack going to do for a baseball team next year without those three people?"

"Mr. Mack is going to build up to take their places. He figures the team needs new blood. Simmons has slumped and needs a change. Big George is too familiar with the place, and instead of pitching just clowns around. And Cochrane isn't satisfied. Mickey feels that a change would do him good.

"The fact is, a team with a payroll like the A's has to win a pennant to make any money in a city the size of Philadelphia.

"But imagine the White Sox in the first division, fighting for the pennant! You can bet your last shirt that Comiskey Park would be filled all night before every home game."

* * *

COMISKEY ALL SET

"HAVE the White Sox enough money to buy these three players?"

"Well, Louis Comiskey says he isn't going to stop until he has the White Sox up there fighting for a pennant, and Louie has a pretty important bankroll to work with."

"Doesn't that mean more lean years ahead for the A's?"

"Not especially. Mack figures that he might as well have a fifth place club as one that runs second, so far as patronage at the ball park is concerned. And just look at the cut he will be making in the payroll! That's something to be considered, too, isn't it?"

"Well, yes, perhaps it is."

Indian Team Head Resigns After Row

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Sept. 8 (AP)—William "Chief" Wano, manager of the Holdenville, Okla., Indians baseball team, resigned last night after a dispute with A. E. Mannison, publicity manager of the team.

Wano said Mannison attempted to dictate the team's lineup after a game here last Sunday in which the Indians used two players of the Sioux Falls Canaries club. He added that Mannison objected to the South Dakota men competing with the Indians for the rest of the season.

The Holdenville team, which has been barnstorming in this territory since late in August, is owned by Ben Harjo, millionaire Oklahoma Indian. Wano formerly played in the Texas and Western leagues and Southern and American associations.

PRACTICE SET TO START ON SATURDAY

EXPECT ABOUT SIXTY TO VIE FOR PLACES ON VARSITY SQUAD

Should you chance to see a group of "huskies", burly young men with big shoulders, standing around on a street corner these days, it's not a group of bodyguards for delegates to the Democratic convention but more than likely it is a bunch of Texas Tech football candidates here awaiting the call for annual fall practice opening Saturday.

Sixty candidates for the Matador eleven are to report to Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith when practice starts Saturday. A majority of these men had already arrived in town early this week but a score or more are being delayed due to bad roads.

Fifteen Lettermen Back

Included in the candidates are fifteen lettermen, four reserve lettermen, six from the squad with previous experience, twenty-three freshmen from the 1932 squad and five junior college graduates who are eligible for varsity this season.

Reserve lettermen are: George Cowan, Seymour, end; Whacker Barton, Lubbock, tackle; Carl McAdams, Sherman, quarter, and Lefty Sollis, Sherman, halfback. Squadmen back are: Lawrence Priddy, Gainesville, guard; Cotton Welch, Lubbock, guard; Johnnie Beauchamp, Greenville, quarter; Billy Bush, Greenville, halfback; M. L. Fish Seek Varsity Parts

YANK HOME RUN KING BECOMES ILL AND LEAVES CLUB

DETROIT, Sept. 8 (AP)—The pennant-bound New York Yankees today were without the services of their premier slugger, Babe Ruth, who left suddenly for New York last night, explaining to Manager Joe McCarthy in a long distance telephone call that he was ill.

Mark Roth, club secretary, said Ruth told McCarthy, who had remained in Buffalo, N. Y., over the open date, that he had been seized with severe abdominal pains and feared he had appendicitis.

In New York, Roth said, the Babe will be examined and treated by the club physician. In the absence of definite information, neither Roth nor Arthur Fletcher, Yankee coach, would discuss the possibility that the club might have to go into the world series without its famous home run hitter.

Bishop Boaz Holds Plainview Session

PLAINVIEW, Sept. 8 (Special)—Bshop Hirman A. Boaz of Houston today met with pastors and laymen of the 60 churches of the Plainview Methodist district.

The conference opened at 10 o'clock with a devotional led by the Rev. E. E. White, presiding elder. Reports from the churches by pastors and laymen were to follow.

SLATON TO RE-ENTER CLASS B CIRCLES THIS SEASON

SLATON, Sept. 8—(Special)—The Slaton High school Tigers are practicing with renewed energy these days after getting back "in their own class" as the school board would have it. The board voted early this week to withdraw the the team from district one's class A race and re-enter class B circles.

Slaton played in class A last year for the first time.

Lack of a football field, expense, and stiff competition were understood to be reasons for the change.

Not To Affect Total

Slaton's leaving the A class will not affect the total number of teams in district 1, as compared to last year. Borger entered the A bracket this year, and other teams in the division are Lubbock, Pampa, Amarillo and Plainview.

No definite schedule has been worked out for the Tigers but games have been tentatively matched with Brownfield, Tahoka and Lamesa. Post will probably be on the schedule also. The winner of this quarter of the class B district meets the winner of the northeastern quarter of the district by October 27 and the finals come sometime near Thanksgiving.

LUCAS IS STAR AS FINISHER

PENNANT CHASE KEPT STEAMED UP BY THE CUBS, PIRATES

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Even though the Cubs and the Pirates are keeping the National league pennant race steamed up, there still is time to consider the case of Charles Fred "Red" Lucas of Cincinnati.

In his seventh season with the Reds, Lucas appears to have reverted to the days when a pitcher was expected to play almost as often as an outfielder and there was no big corps of relief boxmen waiting around ready to go in the minute he showed signs of faltering.

The husky redhead, who has fallen below the .500 mark in games won and lost only once in his six seasons with a usually weak club, may repeat in that respect again this year but he seemed certain to lead them all in the matter of finishing what he starts.

Loses To Giants

Lucas took it one the chin again yesterday although he hurled a fairly good game against the Giants. He had a 5-3 margin in the seventh inning then ran into a home run assault that brought three runs and cost him the decision.

Chicago ran into grief in Boston and took a double defeat, 11 to 4 and 2 to 0.

The Pirates clipped one game off Chicago's lead by splitting a two-ply program with Brooklyn. They won the first, 8 to 3, but Heimach's portside hurling proved too much in the nightcap and Brooklyn won 4 to 2.

Dizzy Dean, who had won his last four games for St. Louis, also felt the effects of going on the road and lost a 6 to 5 encounter to the Phillies.

There were no American league games.

Two Chinese Cafe Men Employed Here

Yee Sing, a chef of 35 years experience, and Tom Sheucgnom, 22, are the city's first Chinese restaurant men, having joined the staff of Blondie Puckett's cafe at 1116 Broadway. They will prepare and serve Chinese dishes.

All sorts of Chinese foods ranging from plain chop suey to almond chow mein and other specially prepared dishes will be served.

Yee Sing has been in the United States nearly all of his life, as has the younger man. Sheucknom returned to the United States only a few days before the Sino-Jap conflict began. He had been visiting in China three years.

NEW GENERATION LEADING IN POLO

WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—A new polo generation which has been rising steadily the past few years has assumed control of the open championship, bringing a final that will be, perhaps, less colorful than last year's international battle but in many ways more interesting.

Greentree against Templeton is the lineup for Saturday's final game and those famous names of polo such as Milburn, Hitchcock and Hopping are nowhere to be found on the two teams.

Templeton, which reached the final Tuesday, lines up with the two Guest brothers, Winston and Raymond, and two other young players, Mike Phippe and Stewart Ingleheart.

John Hay Whitney is the leader of the Greentree quartet, which eliminated the Hoppings and their Eastcott team after a terrific overtime struggle yesterday, but the featured players are two Texans, Cecil Smith and H. W. (Rube) Williams.

SCORING MARK IS MADE IN WILD TILT

BEAUMONT WINS OVER GALVESTON, 23-4, FOR NEW RECORD

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The very foundation of the Texas league was rocked yesterday by some of the heaviest bombarding ever to echo through the box scores but the second half race today revealed Dallas still two games in front of Beaumont with four scheduled playing days left.

Blasting Cromer and Woods of Galveston for 21 hits, including three home runs, two tribles, a double and 15 singles, Beaumont smothered Galveston, 23 to 4. The Exporters chased 12 runs across in the third inning. Rabbit Benton's homer with the bases full was the climax of that dizzy inning. The 23 runs established a new season scoring record. Paul Easterling led the Beaumont parade of hits with a double and three singles. He scored six runs and stole three bases.

Dallas Wins

An avalanche of base hits at Tyler yesterday enabled Dallas, with twenty hits, to win 12 to 1. The attack was led by Zeke Bonura, giant Dallas first sacker, who smacked a single, double and a home run to drive across five runs. Hal McKain hurled for Dallas and worked a smooth game and coasted in with a six-hit performance.

Scoring two runs in the second and one in the third off Tarzan Danforth, Houston beat San Antonio, 3 to 2. Fort Worth and Longview were rained out.

GEORGIA COACH LOOKS GLUM AS LINE MATERIAL BADLY HURT BY GRADUATION

BY DILLON GRAHAM
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 8 (AP)—Husky Harry Mehre, Georgia's football coach, looks glum these days as he watches half a hundred athletes prancing about under a burning September sun, readying themselves for the gridiron campaign.

"Not a crack lineman in the lot," he murmurs. "You know, we're liable to use five men in our starting line that have never played varsity football. Now, how're you going to go places with guards and tackles like that?"

Georgia lost 20 players from the 1931 squad, 14 of them lettermen. A complete backfield combination, two tackles, four guards, and two ends are among the missing.

"It's just a case of what my new men—sophomores and reserves—will do."

"Sullivan will make us a good quarterback. He's stronger than Downes and can stand more punishment, but he isn't as good a strategist," Mehre said, as he watched the husky 185-pounder toss passes down field to end candidates. "Mott, Key and Crouch are good halfbacks and the sophomore, Buck Chapman, at 195 pounds, is an excellent fullback prospect."

The schedule follows:

Oct. 1—Virginia Polytechnic at Athens.
Oct. 8—Tulane at New Orleans.
Oct. 15—North Carolina at Athens.
Oct. 22—Vanderbilt at Athens.
Oct. 29—Florida at Athens.
Nov. 5—N. Y. U. at New York.
Nov. 11—Clemson at Clemson.
Nov. 19—Auburn at Columbus, Ga.
Nov. 26—Georgia Tech at Atlanta.

SHIELDS GETS HIS CHANCE

MEETS HENRI COCHET TODAY IN NATIONAL SINGLES MEET

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—Frank Shields, the earnest tennis workman who went all the way to Paris with Uncle Sam's Davis Cup team only to be sidetracked on the eve of the challenge round, had a chance at vindication today when he faced Henri Cochet of France in the quarter-finals of the National singles tournament at Forest Hills.

Ellsworth Vines, jr., appeared to have trouble on his hands in big Lester Stoefen of Los Angeles. Another combat was that between Wilmer Allison and Sidney Wood, jr. Wood, dropped from this year's Davis Cup squad, is in the middle of a determined comeback that carried him yesterday to victory over Frederick Perry of England.

George Lott, jr., faced Clifford Sutter of New Orleans, inter-collegiate title holder, in the last of the quarter-finals.

THERE'S NO "LIFE" IN STALE GASOLINE

ONLY fresh GAS PACKS FULL POWER!

FRESH-MADE gas packs "life," punch, power. But as staleness increases — power decreases. The "light ends"—the "easy starting" elements—evaporate. Besides that, a chemical change takes place—making gas sluggish, weak and "dead."

And the staler the gas, the stickier it is—the more apt to foul your motor. And the more apt it is to knock.

The entire petroleum industry has long sought ways to overcome gas deterioration. Gulf, after years of study, now announces a system that assures you of FRESH, full-powered gasoline! Here's how . . .

By making the best possible gasoline and refining out certain complex elements that cause early deterioration. Thus Gulf postpones staleness.

And by rushing this FRESH gas to you like some perishable food—giving it no time to get stale.

Gulf has spotted its huge refineries in many sections of the country—so that every Gulf filling station is close to a source of FRESH-MADE gasoline. Gulf has geared its whole distribution system to high speed. Fast trucks speed FRESH gas to Gulf pumps every day.

Get your money's worth—get FULL power. Get FRESH gas—delivered FRESH. Get Gulf—exclusively.

GOVERNMENT MEASURES GRAVITY PULL AS AID IN QUAKE WORK AND SURVEYING; UNSEEN FORCE IS SORT OF X-RAY

BY F. B. COLTON
(Associated Press Science Writer)

WASHINGTON (AP)—The "master key" to an unseen force that some day may govern the accuracy of location of every street, city and real estate boundary in the United States is locked in a vault in the new Department of Commerce building.

Force is gravity, the same influence that keeps everything on the earth's surface from flying off into space.

Gravity Accurately Measured

The strange "pull" of gravity, which no one can see or explain, has been measured more accurately in this vault than anywhere else in the United States.

The strength of the "pull" in the vault is one of the master keys used in surveying the entire country with an accuracy of within half an inch per mile—the job of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.

Exact measurements of gravity are used in surveying because they show how much the surface of the earth curves within a given distance. Surveys over long distances have to take the earth's curvature into consideration. Gravity is a key to the curvature because it increases gradually in strength from the equator toward both poles.

Science puts gravity to work in various ways, one of them being in detecting heavy masses of material beneath the earth's surface (sketch) in connection with earthquake studies. The sensitive master pendulum device (photo) in the U. S. Department of Commerce building is the government's standard for calibrating other pendulums.

Like An 'X-Ray'

Gravity also is a sort of "X-ray" used in studying the inside of the earth and the causes of earthquakes. Heavy masses of material below the earth's surface can be located because they cause a stronger pull of gravity than normal at that point, while lighter masses exert a sub-normal pull.

Location of these light or heavy masses sometimes is the key to shifts of material that cause earthquakes and to oil wells that often are associated with "heavy" granite formations or "light" salt domes.

Gravity is measured by swinging a delicately-balanced pendulum for a certain length of time. The faster it swings the greater is the pull of gravity at that point. In the new gravity vault a pendulum can swing without being disturbed by vibration or other influences.

In the floor of the vault are two concrete piers which reach down into a bed of sand held within a concrete cistern. The sand insulates the piers from earth vibrations, and they are separated from the floor of the vault by cork and asphalt insulations that keep out vibrations of the building.

Pendulum devices used to measure gravity in various parts of the United States are calibrated by swinging them on the vault's piers where the exact value of the pull is already known.

Gravity's pull increases one and a half parts in a million for each mile northward within the limits of the United States. A man who weighs 200 pounds at the equator will weigh 201 pounds at the north or south pole because of the increased strength of gravity at these points.

No one knows just what gravity is, but it is defined as the attraction that one body exerts upon another.

SCHOOL TAXES UNCHANGED

SAME RATE RETAINED BUT VALUATIONS ARE CUT 20 PER CENT

Taxpayers in the Lubbock Independent school district for this year will pay 86 cents on each $100 valuation, the same as last year, the board of trustees decided at a meeting last night. Reductions in valuations of approximately 20 per cent will cut the cost that much under last year.

Valuation figures of 1931, amounting to $28,350,000, were slashed to between $22,750,000 to $23,000,000.

Budget of the board for the year will exceed $192,000, it is estimated. The same rate as last year will produce about the amount of the budget.

Final figures on the tax roll have not been computed, but will be in a short time. The board of equalization has just about finished its work.

Hospitalization Is Up

The question of hospitalization for members of the football squad was brought up. After some discussion the board decided to leave the decision of where to receive medical attention up to individual members of the squad.

Routine matters were also passed on by the board. Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, president, presided at the meeting.

Trains Delayed By Sweetwater Rains

Santa Fe trains from the south, including connections with the Texas and Pacific from Fort Worth, Dallas and the east, were delayed yesterday for 12 hours by heavy rains near Sweetwarter. High water went over the tracks about 20 miles north of that town and did not go down until late in the day.

No. 94, from Dallas, due here at 8:20 yesterday morning arrived 12 hours later. No. 92 from Houston arrived 10 minutes behind No. 94 instead of at 3:55 p. m.

South of Sweetwarter trains were detoured to San Angelo over the old Orient and thence to Brownwood over the G. C. and S. F. and to Houston and Galveston.

Thurber Brick Co. vs. Shaw and Thurber Brick Co. vs. Williams, Saturday.

New construction work, involving $2,750,000 will get under way in New Orleans this summer.

No commercial crop of cotton will be grown on state-owned farms of North Carolina this year.

VOTING STRENGTH OF DEMOCRATS AT STATE CONVENTION IS SET AT 1,731

Voting strength of the Texas state Democratic convention which meets here September 13 is set at approximately 1,731 individual voting delegates by James H. Goodman, former member of the state executive committee.

"The total votes are based on the last preceding second primary," he explained. "In this case it is the primary of 1930."

Voting Strength Shown

By senatorial districts, the delegates are as follows: 1—29 votes; 2—44 votes; 3—57 votes; 4—55 votes including 36 from Jefferson county; 5—45 votes; 6—63 votes including 19 from Navarro county; 7—49 votes; 8—44 votes; 9—50 votes including 25 from Grayson county; 10—41 votes; 11—76 votes, including Dallas county; 12—54 votes including 19 from Ellis county; 13—64 votes including 28 from McLennan county; 14—34 votes; 15—40 votes; 16—81 votes including Harris county; 17—43 votes including 14 from Galveston county; 18—45 votes; 19—28 votes; 20—62 votes including 28 from Travis county; 21—56 votes including 19 from Bell county; 22—48 votes including 13 from Denton county; 23—66 votes including 19 from Wichita county; 24—85 votes including 15 from Taylor and 13 from Eastland counties; 25—70 votes including 11 from Tom Green county; 26—59 votes including 54 from Bexar county; 27—55 votes; 28-59 votes including Tarrant county; 29—55 votes including El Paso county; 30—90 votes including 12 from Lubbock county and 31—84 votes including 12 from Potter county.

Some Arrive Friday

First reports of delegations for the convention to arrive were received late yesterday by the division passenger office of the Santa Fe when E. Kancher, division passenger agent, was advised that several sleepers from San Antonio would be in Lubbock Friday.

"I was advised by our general offices that there would be several Pullman cars in Lubbock on September 9," he said. "They are coming from San Antonio. There will be others here on the 10th and also the 11th."

The railroad company is planning to take care of the out of town delegations. Mr. Kancher and E. A. Tusha, traveling passenger agent, with I. M. Robinson, chief clerk and R. F. Bayless, local agent, will devote a good portion of their time during the convention to serving delegations in the way of railroad accommodations.

No indication of the probable number of extra cars expected in Lubbock on trains from down state, is available at this time.

Flays Uncle Sam

The farm depression was blamed on "the dog-goned interference of government in business" by Mrs. Ida Watkins (above), Kansas "wheat queen," when she appeared at Kansas City before the congressional committee probing Uncle Sam's alleged business intrusions. Mrs. Watkins, who seeds 4500 acres of wheat annually, said she had been "talking like a sailor" to keep bankers from foreclosing.

Slang's Place

Much of our modern slang is not beautiful to hear. But for crisp conciseness and clarity of meaning, some of it is remarkably fitting.

We have observed a great deal of usage of the expression, "So what?" Doesn't that express pretty clearly a satiric and sophisticated disinterest? And doesn't the querulous tone of it sound a sharp note of playful ridicule which is one of the most efficacious methods of light conclusion gives a humorous touch to the advancement of an idea or a plan, or helps to bring a smile after a joking story. It marks a bond of sophistication between speaker and hearer.

The world's slang is an interesting study. It seems that there has always been, for instance, a popular and imperative slang exclamation meaning "Go!" Nowadays the words are "Scram!" "Sneak!" The expression used to be "Beat it!" Early in the century there was the expression, "23, Skidoo." Shakespeare used, "Go to!" and "Go hang yourself." Many can remember when "Vamoose!" was widely used.

There is much to be said against slang grammatically, but it does carry advantages. Even phonetically, the word "boob" conveys its scornful meaning. Description of a foolish man by "squirrel," or a silly plan as "squirrelly," is humorous and picturesque.

The very fact that slang originating colloquially gets around to general usage is proof of its wonderful adaptability and efficacy. But then, we're not really defending it. This is merely a suggestion of its power.

AMONG other and various features of the forthcoming Democratic State convention here will be the appearance of six members of the State Ranger force, headed by Captain Frank Hamer. At least that is the unofficial report going the rounds at the present time.

Whether the rangers will have enough to do to occupy their time or not, is a matter for conjecture—in-as-much as local law-enforcement officers have always shown themselves to be able to maintain order. But they'll at least add color to the gathering.

* * *

There is an old, old story to the effect that it takes only one ranger to stop one riot—that being the case the Demo powwow may feature six riots, all at one time, and everything will still be under control.

Taking that idea as a basis, the Democratic convention must be the most dangerous undertaking in Lubbock's history, for the most rangers that have ever been here before was five and even then they were merely making this city their headquarters while looking into difficulties in this neighborhood.

* * *

THE convention will mark the first time in five years that Lubbock has received an official visit from rangers—the last time being when Captain Tom Hickman, Sergeant Lone Wolf Gonzaulas and three privates headquartered here during perilous times in Motley county. Several years prior to that, during the Ross-Good trials, there were two rangers on hand.

We've had 'em drifting through here in ones and twos upon several occasions; Ranger Edgar T. Neal makes his home here and former Sheriff Bud Johnston recently worked out of Lubbock while investigating nearby bank robberies. But the convention will mark the first big invasion of rangers since the Flomot shootings of 1927—which further makes it quite an event for us peaceful folks here-about.

The Plainsman is the proud and happy recipient of the first clam chowder he has had in 20 years—fotched all the way back from Boston by special permission of the copyright owners and Prof. J. H. Murdough, of Tech's school of engineering.

While lolling about New England for the past six weeks, Professor Murdough recollected that clam chowder would be a real treat for his old country boy friend so he gathered up a generous portion and lugged it on home.

It's fine eating, folks, it's fine eating and we all sure did appreciate it out at our house.

COMES now The Plainsman's old friend J. W. Lynch who, out of the kindness of his heart, offers to give your humble servant a Jimpson weed blossom to wear at the Democratic State convention.

"I'll sure furnish you one if you'll guarantee to wear it", Mr. Lynch sent The Plainsman word. "I imagine its fragrance will blend beautifully with your reactions to the convention!"

* * *

For the benefit of you folks who have never smelled Jimpson weed blossoms, be informed that they'll make any self-respecting polecat take out.

The Plainsman is much obliged to Mr. Lynch for his kind offer but out of courtesy to our guests must decline to wear the blossom to the convention.

He is seriously considering wearing it on November 8, however, when he intends to don a mental gas mask and "vote the ticket straight" from Roosevelt to 'Ma'!

REGARDLESS of who is victorious when the smoke of the Democratic run-off primary has all cleared away, Texans should have reaped a lesson which will stand them in good stead in the years to come.

The practice of permitting voters to 'sign up', instead of forcing them to show a poll tax or exemption receipt has been found wanting—and should be done away with altogether.

* * *

Like too many other citizens, The Plainsman never takes a poll tax receipt to the polls simply because it's too much trouble to dig it out of a desk or a lock box.

He could do it with very little trouble—and would do it if he had to, just like everyone else.

And if it were demanded that every voter show his receipt before being permitted to vote the chance for illegal balloting would be greatly diminished.

* * *

WHILE it is admittedly a matter of individual opinion, The Plainsman has never favored a poll tax—at least not a $1.75 tax, believing that the cardinal right of ballot shouldn't be based upon a person's monetary possessions.

What this column believes would be better is a period of registration, with no cost attached or at least no more than necessary for the bare payment of registration expense, during which prospective voters must prove their residence and right to vote—or else be barred from the polls on election day.

Force every voter to display his registration receipt before he is handed a ballot and you side-step most of the chances for illegal voting.

Unless you do, there will always be a certain amount of it.

Majority Of 1932 Electoral Votes Remains Very Much In Doubt; Trying To Figure Out Race Silly Business

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8—Trying to figure out at this time of year which presidential candidate is going to win just which electoral votes is a rather silly performance, but what of it?

Dutcher

There is even a o m e perfectly g o o d evidence that it is a relatively silly business almost any old time. One recalls that in the last week or so of the 1928 campaign some of the most expert and experienced Democratic politicians were talking very seriously about (not merely suggesting) the possibility of carrying for Al Smith such Republican states as Iowa and Pennsylvania.

And wasn't it Dr. Hubert Work himself, chairman of the Republican national committee, who publicly conceded the loss of Texas and other southern states which Hoover subsequently won.

* * *

The "Surge of Hope"

The party which is going to lose the election almost invariably experiences a surge of hope in the last two or three weeks before election. Possibly you remember the big "swing to Cox" just before the terrific Republican landslide of 1920.

Even after the votes are counted the realities are not always plain to the defeated faction. As astute a politician as he is—or was—Al Smith has been reminding us since 1928 that a few hundred thousand votes, "properly distributed," would have changed his defeat into victory.

He did not appear to remember or realize that the same had been or might have been said by most other defeated Democratic standard-bearers of the past and that two or three of them had lost out on the electoral count even after winning popular vote pluralities.

What with these evidence of the fallibility of politicians and the fact their predictions are never likely to be conscious underestimates, one is at least justified in asserting that state-by-state prognostications and the study of them at this stage of the campaign is merely a mild form of amusement.

* * *

Here's the Way to Do It

The more cagey political observers, consequently, confine themselves to stating certain very obvious facts and reporting the estimates others in or on the sidelines of the political business who are willing to compute. That's one way to keep readers from arguing with you now or giving you the razzberry later on.

Unfortunately, your correspondent cannot at this time report any obvious facts that have only recently become obvious and which may be described as brand new. The old ones, which still persist, are chiefly:

There are more states generally regarded as "doubtful" than in any recent campaign. The Democrats have opened their campaign with more assurance than usual and the Republicans with less, although the Democrats are not as cockily confident as they were several months ago and the Republicans are not as depressed.

Much depends, as you have doubtless heard until you wish people would stop bothering to mention it, on the extent, if any, to which business improves. The Democrats are rather certain of carrying the 113 electoral votes of the solid south and Hoover undoubtedly will carry such recognized Republican states as Pennsylvania, Maine, Vermont Michigan, Wyoming and Delaware.

* * *

Majority in Doubt

A majority of electoral votes, although some may now seem more likely to go one way than the other, can be regarded as in doubt until more evidence is available.

How great the doubt sometimes becomes among the master minds is indicated by tht instance when, after Democratic Manager Jim Farley had publicly conceded Hoover's home state of California to the Republicans, Candidate Roosevelt allowed that it was real fighting ground and that he was going out there with the intent of putting it in the bag.

SIR HARRY LAUDER, FAMOUS SCOTCH COMEDIAN, WILL APPEAR IN LUBBOCK

That world-famous Scotch comedian and gloom chaser, Sir Harry Lauder, will appear here Dec. 28 under auspices of Avalanche-Journal Publications, Parker F. Prouty, general manager, announced yesterday on receipt of signed contracts.

The feature will be staged in the auditorium at Lubbock Senior high school and advance ticket sales will offer opportunities for South Plains people to see and hear this widely known artist.

Tried To Leave Stage

The Scotch comedian, who tried to quit the stage in 1926 after amassing a fortune and traveling in the Far East and India found that the lure of the footlights was too much and he has decided to stay with his profession "right to the end" he says. Since he invaded the music halls of London in 1900 and brought the outside world to his feet with instant popularity he has gone through life with the title of the most prominent artist in his line on the stage. Only one great sadness has marked the happy days of this man who knows how to sing and talk of cheery days. That was when his son was killed at the battle of the Somme during the World War.

Is Golf Fan

His two diversions are golf and trout fishing and although he has accumulated a great fortune he has been the soul of generosity in many instances, his intimates recall.

Perhaps the most famous song for which he wrote both the words and music is "Roamin' in the Gloamin'." He has written comedies and books but his costume and his unmatched personality are the things which have made a world-wide hit for years and won him a Knighthood. During the war he entertained for the soldiers and headed a great fund for the maimed Scottish soldiers and sailors. Much of his money was made from the advice of his friend, Andrew Carnegie.

Sir Harry will fill three other dates in this immediate territory, his booking office reported. He will be in Roswell on December 26, Amarillo on December 27 and in Sweetwater on December 29.

ROTARY HEARS OF FEEDING

BRIGHT PROSPECT IS SHOWN FOR SOUTH PLAINS INDUSTRY

Lubbock Rotarians Wednesday at Hotel Lubbock were told that feeding of livestock on the South Plains is in its infancy and that the future holds much promise for the industry. The speakers were H. W. Stanton and W. L. Stangel, appearing on a program arranged by L. Wesley Read, chairman of the rural-urban committee.

Mr. Stanton, a feeder of livestock here for the past several years, spoke at length on his experiences in feeding young stock and predicted a great future for the industry.

"Livestock can be fed on grain sorghums grown on the South Plains very profitable," Mr. Stanton said, as he gave instances of how he had profited in feeding stock here. Calves weighing 473.9 pounds placed in the pens and shipped 85 days later weighed 706 pounds, Mr. Stanton pointed out. Calves shipped at 100 days weighed 713 pounds and at 115 days they weighed 736 pounds. He still has 160 head on feed which he expects to ship out in the next thirty days.

Mr. Stanton predicted someone would establish a large feeding plant in this territory in the future and declared the industry would open a new outlet for grain sorghums raised on the Plains. He said he had 2,117 head of cattle on feed in his pens north of Lubbock at the present time and had contracted to feed 10,000 lambs this winter.

"Ranchers from the Big Bend have told me," Mr. Stanton said, "that they could furnish us 100,000 head of lambs to feed out here."

He predicted that in the future, young stock fed here would be bought and paid for right on the ground.

Mr. Stanton was introduced by Don Jones, manager of the state experiment station, who declared that in all our times of stress, it has been our natural resources which have brought us out.

Citing the changes in livestock feeding and marketing, Mr. Stangel head of the Tech animal husbandry department, stressed the importance of the people of the town taking interest in the development of agriculture and stock farming.

"We're on the eve of a series of agriculture and livestock shows and everyone of us ought to go out and see the exhibits and meet the people," he said.

Mr. Stangel said the tendency to speed up production in livestock had made changes in methods until the stock raiser must watch his business as close as any merchant or professional man.

Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the West Texas State Teachers college, and Mrs. Hill were guests at the luncheon. Dr. Hill made a short talk in which he praised the spirit of co-operation exhibited by Lubbock citizens.

ROOSEVELT AT STATE FAIR

HATTERS PRECEDENT WHEN HE APPEARS IN VERMONT

RUTLAND, Vt., Sept. 8 (AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, the first Democratic presidential candidate to invade Republican Vermont, rode through its windswept hills in an open motor car Wednesday and paid a visit to the state fair.

Speaking impromptu at a luncheon, Roosevelt remarked:

"I said at Chicago after the nomination I would break precedents. I am breaking them today.

State Not Conceded

"I understand no Democratic presidential candidate ever visited this state after the nomination. I think a precedent also will be broken in November. That's why we are not conceding Vermont to the Republicans."

Vermont has always voted Republican in presidential years.

Mr. Roosevelt asserted that polls throughout the country showed 20 to 60 per cent of Republican voters would support the Democratic ticket this year. The same polls, Roosevelt added, indicate that very few Democrats propose to vote for the incumbent of the White House.

"This year there is a feeling among us Democrats," the Democratic candidate declared. "There is a unity, although some Republican newspapers are trying to make it out differently. The polls illustrate the existence of harmony."

Making his last scheduled trip into New England before the November election, Governor Roosevelt heard the prediction that Vermont would give him "the largest vote that any Democratic candidate for the presidency ever received in the Marble state."

Given Welcome

Riding in an open car on a windswept day which had the chill of early fall, Mr. Roosevelt was met at Whitehall, N.Y., near the state line, by National Committeeman Frank Duffy and a welcoming delegation who escorted him to the state fair grounds for a brief extemporaneous address.

It was Duffy who made the prediction that Roosevelt would draw record-breaking support from Democratic voters in Vermont.

Tonight he returned to Albany to get his state and personal affairs in shape for his departure Monday on a three-weeks campaign tour which will carry him to the Pacific coast and back.

BERN SUICIDE

Frank Webb to remove all mystery surrounding the death. They stated the physical condition of Bern was an all-important factor in the tragedy.

In a long distance telephone conversation with Louis B. Mayer, head of the studio where both Bern and Jean Harlow worked, Dr. Edward B. Jones, Bern's personal physician, said he "understood the motive."

"It is not a matter that I can discuss publicly," Dr. Jones, who is in Honolulu, told Mayer. "But I am returning to Los Angeles at once, arriving there Sept. 13, and I shall be glad to give whatever information I have to the proper authorities."

The autopsy report showed Bern was free of disease, but that his physical handicap was one that could prevent a happy marriage. His mother said Bern, although a bachelor until he married Miss Harlow, had another woman in his life previously.

MOTHER-BABY

She left her husband in April of this year she went to Dallas, where her child was born.

"The defendant would show to the court that her baby, whom she has been commanded to deliver to the plaintiff, is only five weeks of age," the petition set out. "That she is nursing such baby. That if it were separated from her, it would have to be artificially fed. That such a course could only result in harm to said child, and probably in its death, because of the sanitary conditions into which the plaintiff would take it.

"The petition alleged that Maynard and his parents live in a three-room shack, situated on the camp grounds in the city of Lubbock.

"The petition set out that if the court will dissolve the injunction she will properly care for said child during the pendency of this suit and will not remove same out of the jurisdiction of this court."

Maynard filed divorce suit Wednesday, asking an injunction to restrain the mother from removing the child out of the court's jurisdiction and asking custody of the infant.

Mrs. Maynard was subpoenaed to Lubbock from Dallas to testify for J. E. Elroy, evangelist, convicted Wednesday of adultery and fined $50. Mrs. Etta Black, mother of Mrs. Maynard, is at liberty on appeal bond for a conviction on a charge of adultery. Both Elroy and Mrs. Black were named in complaints filed by Maynard.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8 (AP)—Cotton experienced a firm and active opening today. Liverpool came in 11 to 13 penny points better than due, believed to be an account of a better prospect for settlement of the weavers' strike. First trades here showed gains of 10 to 11 points. The market continued to improve after the start on shorts covering and some trade buying. October trading as high as 9.04 and December at 9.22 or 11 to 13 points above yesterday's close. Later prices eased off 5 to 8 points on some belated pre-bureau liquidation. Near the end of the first hour the market showed a disposition to rally, again helped by opening firmness of stocks.

The market was extremely active during the second hour and prices advanced on trade expectations of a bullish government crop estimate. October advanced to 9.12 and December to 9.29, or 19 to 20 points above yesterday's close.

At the time the market recessed for the government bureau report, October had eased to 9.00 and December to 9.19, or 10 to 12 points under the earlier highs.

The government estimate of 11,310,000 bales, which was just 4,000 bales above the estimate of last month, apparently caught traders by surprise as it proved to be about 300,000 bales above the average of private estimates. The immediate effect of the report was a drop in October to 8.15, or 97 points down from the high of the morning, while December dropped to 8.20, or 109 points below the morning high. This represented losses of approximately $5 a bale.

After this early break the market rallied and December recovered to 8.50, or 30 points up from the lows. Near midsession, October traded at 8.39 and December at 8.42, or 14 to 22 points above the post-bureau lows.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—Cotton futures opened very steady, 12-18 higher on higher Liverpool cables and covering for over the government report.

Trade interests also were among the opening buyers but the demand was supplied by southern selling and realizing which was active enough to cause reactions of some 8 or 12 points during the first few minutes. December contracts after selling up to 9.25 at the start declined to 9.13, but buying continued and prices at the end of the first half hour were fairly steady at net gains of 9 to 13 points. Except for the higher Liverpool cables, no special feature was mentioned in connection with the early advance. Trade buying appeared just about sufficient to absorb the southern selling and business otherwise was attributed largely to the further evening up of commitments in preparation for the crop figures. Liverpool cables reported general buying and covering there.

Fluctuations were rather nervous and irregular during the morning but trade buying to fix prices and further covering developed in sufficient volume to turn prices upward after the early setback. Before trading was suspended to receive the government report, December was selling around 9.30 and March 9.50, or 20 to 28 points net higher. The official figures placing the condition of the crop at 56.6 and the indicated yield at 11,310,000 bales was above the average of recent private estimates and considerably above the average expectations of New York cotton exchange members as revealed by the recent canvass.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 8. (AP)—Influenced by stock market buoyancy, grain values average somewhat higher early today. Liverpool reported that wheat price declines had brought forward more buyers. Opening unchanged to 1-4 higher, wheat afterward held near the initial figures. Corn started at a shade decline to 1-4 advance and subsequently kept about steady.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—The bull market in stocks encountered some decidedly rough going today, receiving a particularly sharp jolt in a larger than expected government cotton crop estimate.

Speculators for the rise fought with determination against a large volume of profit-taking and after many of the leaders had lost 1 to more than 2 points in the middle of the day, in sympathy with a break in cotton, the list recovered somewhat in the early afternoon. Trading was in huge volume, but a number of prominent issues, notably U. S. Steel, had failed to make notable progress on the upside from the start.

Steel dropped 2 1-2 points to 50 in the midday selling, then recovered partially. American Telephone, Santa Fe, Dupont, Case and United Aircraft got down about 2 points and issues off a point or more at the lowest included American Can, Bethlehem, Consolidated Gas, General Electric, Westinghouse, Eastman and North American. Norfolk and Western sagged less than 2 points after a runup of 6. In the fourth hour, Southern Pacific was up 2 points and New York Central, American Radiator, Johns Manville, Lorillard and Corn Products were up 1 to 1 1-2.

cast last month. The production in 1931 amounted to 17,096,000.

Ginnings Announced

The census bureau placed ginnings to Sept. 1 at 865,232, running bales and the condition as of Sept. 1 at 56.6 per cent of normal.

Sept. 1 of last year the condition was 68 per cent of normal and the ten-year average, 1921 to 1930 was 55.1 per cent.

"The yield per acre indicated by condition, with allowance for prospective weevil damage, was 147.8 pounds," the board reported, "compared with 149.6 pounds indicated Aug. 1. The decline in prospective yield per acre during the month was entirely offset by the fact that abandonment of acreage is estimated to be somewhat below average.

"In the Aug. 1 report the crop reporting board used the ten year average of 3.1 per cent abandonment; in the Sept. 1 report the board used the abandonment of 1.8 per cent indicated by the reports made by crop correspondents as of Sept. 1. The acreage remaining for harvest is estimated at 26,611,000 compared with 40,693,000 acres harvested in 1931.

Less Than Average

The indicated crop is 5,736,000 bales less than the 1931 crop and 3,348,000 bales less than the average production of the last five years.

"During August prospects declined in practically all states in the eastern and central portions of the belt, where weevils have been quite active and weather conditions were mostly favorable to the crop. The forecasts for Texas and Oklahoma are considerably above the forecasts of Aug. 1, due largely to favorable moisture conditions in the western portion of these states."

Mississippi has 61,957 miles of public roads, of which 6,091 miles are in the state system.

Roosevelt To Plan For Western Tour

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—After a hurried trip through Vermont, Governor Roosevelt returned to his desk today to clear it of various matters before packing for his western tour. He leaves Monday at midnight and will be gone three weeks.

The governor now has been in Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Vermont, Illinois, Ohio and New Jersey. Before his nomination he visited St. Paul, Minn., and during his recent trip he conferred with Rhode Island leaders at Stonington, Conn.

VOTE PROBE

ator Woodul said.

"I've seen enough of that to believe that the election should be gone into," the Houston senator added.

The speaker said even the opponents of the proposed investigation admitted that there had been illegal voting.

"They say there are illegal votes cast every election," Senator Woodul said. "If that's true then it's high time we did something to stop the practice."

JIM SAYS NEW MOVE UNDER WAY

AUSTIN, Sept. 8 (AP)—James E. Ferguson, spokesman for his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, claimant of the Democratic nomination for governor, said today there was a movement on foot to have the state Democratic executive committee declare the runoff primary void.

"They are now scheming to bring political pressure to bear on the state executive committee and have them arbitrarily declare the whole primary election void and then attempt to name a candidate for governor other than Sterling (Governor R. S. Sterling) or my wife," Ferguson said.

"Sterling may not know it but they are planning to throw him overboard just the same as they would like to do my wife. The only fly there is in the ointment of the new proposition is that they can not agree among themselves who is to be the crown prince candidate. Walter Woodward wants it; Dan Moody wants it; and they say in order to get his support that they are talking to Clint Small. But the old boss Tom Love will tell them at the last minute that they must all get out of the way and let him run."

KIWANIANS HEAR WORLD TRAVELER

The United States, Texas and Lubbock people should wake up to the fact that other countries of the world are progressing and developing their resources about as fast as this country, Capt. H. W. MacDonald, world traveler who is here for a series of lectures, told members of the Lubbock Kiwanis club today noon at Hotel Lubbock. T. E. Buckner and J. C. Sanders had charge of the program.

"You'll find some of the smartest, most astute people in the world right among the natives of Africa," Capt. MacDonald told the club members as he outlined how agriculture and other industries dependent upon natural resources were being developed in that country. "Those people are waking up over there and they're going to top the world. They're becoming civilized and they can undersell the southern part of the U. S. five to one. You have hundreds and hundreds of miles of cotton and feed crops, thousands and thousands of cattle that you ship out to other parts of the world to be developed into finished products. You ought to be finishing them right here."

X-RAY GHOST PICTURES

PASADENA, Cal.—X-ray photographs in three dimensions are now possible through a development of Drs. Jesse W. M. Dumond and Archer Hoyt, of the California Institute of Technology. The scientists have succeeded by placing two X-ray tubes so that their beams intersect as they pass through the human body, in producing a ghostlike, transparent image of the body.

NOISELESS ENGINE

LONDON—Noisy flivvers may be missing in the future if Prof. A. M. Low's engine is adopted. The British scientist has invented an engine that is said to eliminate motor noises. It also eliminates gear shifting, there being only two gears, one for use in an emergency only.

Nine Shamrock, Tex., families listed 37 children of school age during a recent census.

Now is the time to attend college to "get ready while you can to meet the expanding prosperity of the new day", Dr. Bradford Knapp, new president of Texas Technological college, is advising.

Dr. Knapp is sending out correspondence to all former students and prospective students of the college, pointing out the importance of their attendance at college and completion of their education.

"This Is a Growing Country"

"This is a growing country," Dr. Knapp says in his letter and interview to students, "prepare yourself to grow with it and help in the task of guiding its future."

He praises the "great devotion of the people of this city to the institution."

"The fall of 1932 finds the world still in difficulty," Doctor Knapp points out. "The apparent change toward better times and a recovery from the depression seems to be coming slowly. We have been passing through experiences which have affected the whole world, as well as our immediate community. Jobs still are scarce, men are still out of employment, and prices are struggling to readjust themselves on a new basis.

What of the Future?

"In the face of such a condition, what is a young man or a young woman going to decide to do in the immediate future?" the president asks, and pointed to possible courses—taking a job while "there are so many applicants for every place available," or "taking advantage of this lull in world activities to prepare yourself better to meet the ultimate tasks of every day life."

"I am not one of those who think that a college education is everything," he explains, "but the facts still show that college trained men have a better chance in the world as leaders, to obtain some place of distinction, than have those who lack the college training. A college education ought to prepare the student to develop himself or herself, and, through such development, to increase one's capacity for work and one's opportunity in the world. It should enlarge one's vision. It should teach one where to find knowledge. It should improve habits of thinking and capacity to meet difficult situations.

More Important

"A college education is more important for leadership in these days of distress, and in the new day which is coming, than it was in the glorious days of optimism, when jobs were easy and money was plentiful. The question for the young man or young woman to ask themselves is this: What do you expect to be when you are 40 years of age? A college education is not necessarily a preparation for next year, or for four years from now, but it is a preparation for your ultimate place in life. We are in a complicated and increasingly difficult period of the civilization of the world. The world needs men and women who are morally straight, physically clean, and mentally awake. Such men and women have a place in the world. Texas will need that kind of leaders in business, in the professions, in commerce, transportation, on its farms and in its agricultural work, in its factories and engineering and construction work.

Even Greater Things To Do

"Do not believe for a moment that the world will not go forward. When we recover from this period of depression, there will still be great things to do, even greater than the things of the older days.

"Therefore, while wages are low and jobs are scarce, would it not be the best to make whatever sacrifices are necessary to devote your time to the task of getting a college education? Of course, a great deal depends on whether you have the money, or can get it. There are some opportunities at the Texas Technological college for students to earn their way in part. Look upon your college education as an investment for the future from which you are going to realize dividends through the next 40 years. The state of Texas, in common with her sister states, has been devoted to the ideal of education as the greatest safeguard to democracy. What the state puts into its state-supported schools is almost its only real investment for the future. How well these institutions perform their task is exceedingly important for the future of the state.

What Texas Tech Offers

"Where you should go to college will depend very largely upon what you intend to do. Texas Technological college offers some excellent opportunities. The field of its work includes many lines which lead to different callings in life. I prefer to state these upon the basis of the vocation for which they prepare you rather than to arrange them in terms of the college courses. Let me present briefly the fields covered by this institution:

"In agriculture: This institution has courses which prepare one to be a farmer, a livestock man, a dairyman, an ice cream manufacturer, dairy products manufacturer, a teacher of agriculture, a ranchman, a horticulturist, a nurseryman, and many other lines of work which are closely associated with the great basic industry of agriculture, including those of scientists and technicians needed in many of the service branches of the state, the government and agricultural organizations.

"In engineering: Texas Technological college can prepare students as electrical, mechanical, civil, highway, textile, chemical, architectural, construction, geological and petroleum production engineer.

"In science: This college prepares you for work as a chemist, a physicist, a biologist, a bacteriologist, an economist, or a mathmetician.

Need Preparation

"In business and business administration: As a banker, a merchant, or for other types of business men who need preparation in the field of economics and business administration.

"As a teacher: Texas Technological college prepares teachers in any of the subject matter courses presented in its catalog, by adding the professional courses in education necessary to meet the requirements of the state.

General courses: This institution has general courses leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts of Science. Where the individual is uncertain regarding what position he is going to take in life, a general education is a good preparation.

"In home economics: Texas Technological college presents courses for the preparation of teachers of home economics, dieticians in hospitals and schools, home demonstration agents, consultants or stylists in home decorating studios and department stores, designers in factories and dressmakers' shops, tea room or lunch room managers, technical writers on subjects relating to home economics and home problems, and that broad and splendid preparation as home makers.

Courses Broad and Comprehensive

"You will find that the courses of study are broad and comprehensive. They include general education, cultural education, languages, literature, arts, and the sciences, in combinations which give one a broad and expanding education in preparation for leadership in these various lines which I have attempted to cover so briefly.

"One important thing for you to consider is the economy with which you can obtain a college education. We believe that Texas Technological college presents wonderful opportunities for the students of this great section and state to obtain an education economically. With care, the expenditures can be made moderate.

"The beautiful city of Lubbock is located on the South Plains, where the climate is enjoyable. There are many local advantages brought about by the great devotion of the people of this city to the institution which is located in their midst. Here your life can be surrounded by the culture and refinement of splendid churches and excellent social life.

"For you, now is the accepted time. It is better to get your education now, while times are difficult, than it is to wait for a recovery of the world. Get ready while you can to meet the expanding prosperity of the new day. This is a growing country. Prepare yourself to grow with it and to help in the task of guiding its future."

Staging Their Own Oh!-lympics

While the champion women athletes of the world were vieing for honors in the Olympics at Los Angeles, these New York girls staged their own athletic meet at a nearby beach. Rosalind Benjamin (way up above) demonstrates that all the jumping talent was not on the Pacific coast.

TEXAS FLOOD

The break released a large volume of water between the floodway branches, making further patrol of the south levees useless. Dozens of families living between the branches were evacuated by boat immediately after the order was issued. Guards were doubled on levees of the north floodway.

A powerful current was reported to have cut a 150-foot gap in a road approaching the international bridge at Hidalgo. Backwater flooded streets to a depth of nearly two feet and submerged some houses.

There were about 200 inhabitants marooned at Hidalgo. Food and supplies were ferried across a stretch of water one-half mile wide to them.

ABILENE, Sept. 8 (AP)—Enormous damage to property was visible today in this vicinity as a result of an unprecedented flood on small streams which followed heavy rains.

The known toll of life remained at four dead. Mrs. George Mullens of Ontario, Calif., and three children were drowned when their automobile stalled in water over a highway near Abilene.

Meanwhile, a big rise on the Clear fork of the Brazos caused apprehension and a number of families left their lowland homes for higher ground.

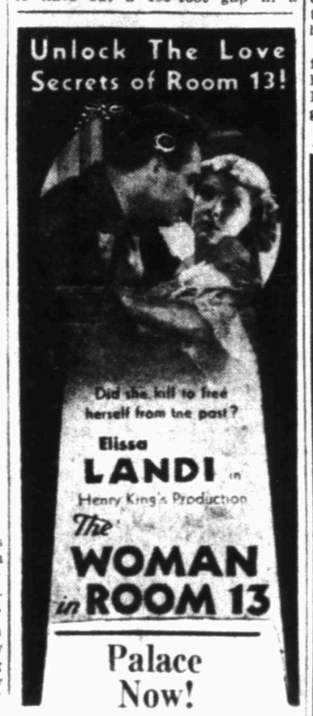

Rescue parties were summoned hurriedly last night after Col. R. L. Penick, pioneer of West Texas, a daughter and a neighbor were marooned in the Penick home on a bluff near Lueders, 20 miles from Abilene.

Many tourists, who had been delayed 17 hours by high water, continued their journeys as the water about Abilene receded.

PLANE SAFETY SEATS

LONDON—Safety seats for airplanes have made their appearance here. They consist of seats with parachutes attached. In case of an accident the pilot, by pulling a lever, can hoist the seats and their passengers over the side of the ship, the parachutes opening automatically to lower the passengers safely.
