Farmers in the Lamesa area, where the drought has really done great damage to the land, are being urged by soil conservationists and business men to plant a cover crop of some kind on their land this fall to keep it from further blowing during the winter and spring.

Such practice could be observed in this part of the country to a good advantage. It would keep the land from blowing in the spring and also help the fertility of the land. Land that is grown in cotton year in and year out becomes susceptible to wind erosion and loses its fertility for cotton. It needs to be built up again.

Loraine is to have a Community Fair on October 17. That will give soil conservationists and others an opportunity to show what grasses and legume crops will do for the land. It will give farmers an opportunity to show what their land will produce under adverse conditions, and also under irrigation. Let's all bring in something for the exhibits and help make the fair a real success in every way.

Sgt. Harris Hamilton To Undergo Surgery

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hamilton left Monday for Havelock, N. C., where they will visit their son, M. Sgt. and Mrs. Harris Hamilton and Charla, and be with Sgt. Hamilton when he will have major surgery on his back. The doctors have pronounced his trouble as double herniated intervertebral disc, and the operation to be performed as very delicate. Harris only recently returned from several months assignment with the Marines in Korea and the trouble seemingly developed there although doctors say it is of long standing. Harris is a veteran of 12 years service in the Marines.

Farm Road 644 To Be Extended

Farm Road 644 which is now paved five miles south of Loraine, is to be extended to a point at the old Landers school. Work will probably not be done on the extension until 1954-55, according to announcement by an official of the Highway Department.

The road will eventually be paved to connect with the Robert Lee highway at a point yet to be designated.

Survey work has been completed on Farm Road 1982 and contract for construction may be let in February according to an announcement made this week. The road will extend east from Buford and connect with Farm Road 644 seven or eight miles north of Loraine.

Rev. Leslie Honored On 80th Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Taylor hosted a picnic luncheon on the lawn at their home Sunday, August 23, honoring her father, Rev. C. E. Leslie on his 80th birthday. Others sharing August birthday honors with Rev. Leslie were his wife, Mrs. C. E. Leslie, and two sons, A. E. and J. B. Leslie, also two grandsons Tommie Leslie and Charles Walker. A great granddaughter, little Emily Elyse May, in Shreveport, Louisiana, would have shared honors had she been present. She is the daughter of the former Jane Leslie.

Sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, salads, cake, iced punch, tea and coffee were served at the noon hour. Home freezer ice cream was served in mid-afternoon after visiting and singing.

Present for the day were six of the Leslie children and their families: Messrs and Mmes A. E. Leslie and daughter, Mrs. Joan Gibson of Saint Jo, Texas; W. S. Leslie, San Angelo; J. B. Leslie, Jim and Tommie, Big Spring; W. W. Leslie, Billy, Bobby and Wanda, Sweetwater; Olen Walker, Charles and Shirley, Sweetwater; and the hosts Mr. and Mrs. Taylor. Others enjoying the reunion were Mrs. A. C. Leslie and Miss Thelma Leslie of Snyder; Mrs. Elira Gann and daughter Mrs. W. C. Driver of Odessa; Mrs. Leslie Bainer of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Patrick of Snyder; W. A. Cross, Hermleigh. Afternoon callers were Mrs. Adola Drennan and her mother Mrs. Lasiter, Hermleigh; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor and Gaylene, Loraine; Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Tidwell, Sweetwater; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Finley, California.

Mr. James T. Tucker, step son of Mr. Leslie, called from Long Beach, California, to wish him a happy birthday.

Three sons and families unable to attend were Comd. and Mrs. S. C. Leslie, Philippine Islands, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Leslie, Jr., Fontana, California, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leslie of El Paso, Texas.

Rev. Leslie, a pioneer in this section, was born in Norfolk, Va. His mother died when he was very young. At the age of 9 years he moved with his father and step mother to Ellis County, Texas, and later to Scurry County and settled near Hermleigh. His father was a pioneer Baptist preacher in this section. They made the trip to Scurry County in a covered wagon pulled by oxen. When a young man he farmed and worked on ranches. At the age of 19 he married Miss Ella Mae Cross, daughter of a pioneer couple of Scurry County. They established a home in the Pyron Community. To this union 7 children were born, three of whom are still living. After Mrs. Leslie's death he married the former Mrs. Noia Lynch Tucker. Six children were born to this union, one of whom is Mrs. Taylor. Mrs. Leslie died in 1929 and he later married Miss Timmy Golden. Seven years after their marriage she died and he married his present wife, the former Mrs. Lena Wilson of Hamlin, a few years ago.

Shortly after his first marriage he felt the call to preach and has made this his life mission, although retired the past several years, Rev. Leslie is still called upon to officiate at rites of long time friends and speaks on various occasions. He and his only living sister, Mrs. Elira Gann of Odessa, are the last of their family.

Cowan's resignation has been accepted by the Commissioners Court and Jack Burkhalter, now assistant county agent at Lamesa, has been named as his successor. Burkhalter is a 1949 graduate of Texas Tech. He is married and has two children.

Kindergarten Group Presented Friday

Mrs. Doris Martin presented her musical kindergarten group of pre-school children in a Fun For All program at the gym Friday evening, August 21, closing the eight weeks activity.

The children sang and gave little speeches and there were rhythm plays, action songs, ring games, folk dances and rhythm band activities. "Dainty Little Miss", a ballet for little girls was a charming expression of grace, and "John Brown Had a Little Indian", was a vigorous Indian war dance led by the boys. Children in the audience were invited to join in many of the action games and the future Bulldogs and Pep Squad of Loraine marched to the school song and gave a rousing cheer for the team as they waved shakers of the school colors, black and gold. Closing numbers were the song story of the Gingerbread Man and Mrs. Martin singing in the Land of Goodbyes.

The kindergarten children were surprised with gingerbread man cookies and his magic whistle and children in the audience had red lollypops from the Lollypop Tree. Virginia Templeton and Linda Linder assisted with piano, drums and musical bells accompanying and sound effects, and in serving the little guests.

Background decoration was a flower garden arrangement of elm and poplar tree hedge and a profusion of gay summer flowers.

Children of the musical kindergarten were Carolyn Sue Schroeder, Ann Compton, Rachel Beighs, Rita Ann Templeton, Byron Mote, Danny Tartt, David May, Kitty Forsythe, Susan Terry, Janita Harris, Sharon Byrne, Judy Tartt, Nancy Coffee Harold Ray Preston, James Marion and Jay Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Jones and children Vance and Vickie visited Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Miles Tuesday as they were enroute to their home in Rankin from Abilene, where Mr. Jones received his Masters degree at Hardin-Simmons University Monday night. Mr. Jones is a former coach of Loraine high school and is now coaching at Rankin.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lankford and children of Coahoma spent Sunday and Sunday night with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lankford.

Tea Honors Mrs. Jim Johnson

The oft repeated saying, "A prophet is without honor in his own country" was proved false Friday when the many friends of Mrs. Jim Johnson arrived at the Methodist Church to honor their "home town poet." Neighbors had cut their choicest blossoms and dressed up their prettiest pot plant to make the sanctuary and fellowship hall attractive for the occasion. The North Loraine Home Demonstration Club had met in the home of Mrs. Ralph Lankford where they baked and hand decorated 200 cookies in yellow and green. The tea table was laid with an imported lace cloth over yellow with a centerpiece of yellow zinnias. Frosted green punch was ladled from a festoon crystal bowl flanked with yellow blossoms and greenery. Crystal plates held pastel colored mints, and napkins were green and yellow. Members of Mrs. Johnson's Sunday School class and the H. D. Club served guests.

Mrs. Witt Hines, ex pupil of the honoree and former fellow teacher in the Loraine schools, was master of ceremonies. Patsey Green, organist, played a prelude of hymns and favorite melodies. She also accompanied Mrs. Doris Martin who sang, The Golden Key by Carrie Jacobs Bond, and Song of the Soul by Lock-Briar.

Mrs. Johnson, wearing a navy lace dress with shoulder corsage of pink carnations, was at her best as she spoke of how she was inspired to write various poems and the thrill of collecting them and having them published in book form. From memory she read several poems thereby demonstrating that she truly knew "The Art of Living" as her book is so aptly named.

Five of the seven grandchild, ren, to whom the book is dedicated, were present along with their mothers, Mrs. Jack Cook of Garden City, and Mrs. W. N. Porter of Denison. Other members of the family present were the daughter-in-law, Mrs. Raymond Johnson of Roscoe, and three sisters, Mrs. Will Rowland of Lubbock, Mrs. J. M. Foreman of Plainview, and Mrs. L. H. Whitacre and daughter, Carole Jane of Fort Stockton.

Mrs. Porter and her three children gave musical and novelty numbers with accordion, hum horns and bells, and Jo Cook played piano solo. Mrs. Porter played God Bless This House and Whispering Hope and mentioned them as favorites of the honoree. Mrs. Porter entertained further with humorous readings during the social hour.

Other out of town guests included Mrs. W. L. Hester and Mrs. Dewey Winstead of Lubbock, Miss Ethel Atwood, Fort Worth, Mrs. Preston Lee, Sweetwater, Mrs. Homer Richburg and Cynthia of Inadale, Mrs. John Wood, Stanton, Mrs. Lydia Collins, Abilene, Mrs. Margaret Powell and Mrs. Witt Hines, Westbrook, Mmes. J. C. Womack, Lon Strain and Claudia Langley, Cuthbert, Mmes. Frank Cleckler, Raymond Neel, John Ekston, T. A. Cooper, J. C. Braswell, Emma Land, M. A. Richburg and Misses Evelyn Woodard and Gladys Dodgion of Roscoe, Mmes. C. C. Thompson, Monroe Dawson, Mary Hooker, Jack G. Smith, C. P. Gary, T. R. Austin, N. J. Briens, J. L. Strain, J. G. Merritt and Emma, both Towery of Colorado City.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard and Reed during the weekend were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Ussery, and brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Ussery of Champion, and sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Petty of Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Lee and girls and Mrs. D. R. Smith returned Friday after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jernigan at Pampa, who joined them on a trip to Red River, New Mexico, and a visit with relatives at Santa Fe, N. M.

HINTS From Home Ec. Dept.

Do you want better protection and longer wear from your ironing pad and cover? Try placing a layer of aluminum foil between your ironing board pad and cover. The foil will not only prevent scorching or burning but will hold the heat from your iron, making your ironing easier.

Make your own chemically treated dust cloth. Take a soft rag, preferably cheesecloth, and dip it in a solution of turpentine and water (Put a teaspoon of turpentine into a pint of warm water). You can dip several cloths at a time, dry them, and store them in an empty coffee or shortening can. Keeping the cloths in an air tight can enables the chemical to remain in the material longer. You will find these cloths pick up and hold the dust better than an ordinary cloth and they will not lint your furniture. When cloth get filled with dust, wash them in warm suds and rinse, using the turpentine in the last rinsing.

Let us remember that our family is essential to the successful achievement of a democratic and peaceful world and that togetherness is an important ingredient to place in a family happiness pie.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the many acts of kindness and words of comfort at the death of our beloved husband and father and brother. We want especially to thank those who sent flowers and those who sent food. For every expression of kindness we shall always be grateful.

Mrs. Henry Beights and family and brothers and sisters.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Fuller this week are their daughter, Mrs. E. W. Logsdon and daughters of Upland, California, and Mrs. E. A. Stokes of Fort Worth. Arriving next week will be Mrs. Logsdon's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Claude French, Jr. of Omaha, Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Kegans and Rusty and Mrs. Wiley Walker accompanied Mrs. Jack Walker of Colorado City to Hot Sulphur Springs, Colorado, when she carried her nephew, Jimmie Morgan, home Friday after he had visited in their home. They plan to be gone this week.

Claude and Maggie Craghead and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hale visited Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Murry in Big Spring Sunday.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the kindness and words of comfort at the death of our loved one. We want especially to thank all who sent food and flowers.

Mrs. J. A. Crosby and family

CARD OF THANKS

I want to take this method of saying thanks to all who have remembered me in any way since I have been in the hospital. You will never know just how much your messages of comfort and concern for me have meant to me. If my condition continues to improve I expect to be sent to Oakland, California, before too long where I will be fitted for an artificial limb. Again I say thanks.

Orbie Ray Linder

M. Sgt. and Mrs. Leslie B. Stewart and two daughters Faye and Diana of Brownwood visited Thursday in the home of his aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Bruce. Sgt. Stewart recently returned from an assignment in Africa.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Butler Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dockery and son Jim of Westbrook, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Elliott of Colorado City.

Mitchell County Soil Conservation News

Grasses Classified According To Nature and Growth

Grasses are not only classified as to height of growth such as tall, mid, and short; and as to season of growth such as winter and summer; but they are classified as to nature of growth such as Bunch Grasses and Sod Forming Grasses.

The bunch grasses grow upright, increase largely from seed and spread at the base from crown tillers much like stooling wheat. The most common bunch grasses in this soil conservation district are: silver bluestem, little bluestem, hairy grama, tobosa, Arizona cotton-top, plains bristleglass, hooded windmillgrass, and others. Some bunch grasses react differently under different climatic environments.

For example little bluestem tends to assume bunch grass characteristics locally and throughout the semi-arid southwest but has extensive sub-surface shoots in the Gulf Coast region of Texas. Bunch grasses are more apt to be overgrazed than are sod-forming grasses because they are defenseless against grazing. Sod-forming grasses can send out runners which lie close to the ground and escape grazing and thereby continue to grow.

Sod-forming grasses are equipped to reproduce from seed and from surface runners or stolens from subsurface stems or shoots called rhizomes or underground stems. Some that have stolens are: buffalograss, bermudagrass, St. Augustine grass, and black grama. A few that propagate from subsurface shoots are: western wheatgrass, common saltgrass, sand bluestem, bermudagrass, Johnson grass, and others. Sod-forming grasses are usually good grazers and may increase under moderate grazing. They are the best for use in ditches, waterways, and other drainage ways which are forced to carry additional water.

Grasses are also classified as to length of growth such as annual and perennial. Annual grasses pass through the dry and cold periods in seed form. There is no living over or accumulation of aerial parts and they live only one year. Some annuals such as rescue grass, cheatgrass, brome, little barley, and Mediterranean lovegrass begin growth in the fall, live over winter, and produce seed and die the next spring. These are called winter annuals. When there is fall moisture to germinate the seed, they may still grow in the spring if conditions are right. This type of annual assists in furnishing some grazing usually at a time when very badly needed during the early spring months if conditions are favorable. Due to the undependability of winter annuals they are not considered in computing the safe stocking rate for a pasture.

There are some cultivated annual grasses which are very important to civilization such as the small grains, sudangrass, millets, corn, and sorghums. Johnsongrass is a pest perennial to the cotton farmer of the southern states but it is an annual in the northern states.

Perennial grasses are the ones important to the rancher and livestock farmer, because if properly managed they never have to be reseeded and they will continue to maintain their vigor and productivity. They begin life each year from root-stalk or crown buds that remain alive in the soil. These self-perpetuating types give the most dependable grazing. A landowner that has time is free of the cost, risk, and delay that is associated with sowing annual grasses for grazing. Some perennial tame grasses are: blue panic grass, bermudagrass, Johnsongrass, orchardgrass, K. R. bluestem, weeping lovegrass, and others. Some examples of wild perennial grasses are: tobosagrass, little bluestem, blue grama, buffalograss, sideoats grama, hooded windmillgrass, and others.

The breakdown given so far of grasses will enable most anyone to take any grass and be able to classify it as to its place in the plant world and its relative economic value. We should keep in mind that the mid and tall growing grasses yield far more leaves and stems for forage than do short grasses. The brittle leaves of dry short grasses quickly disintegrate in the sun and wind. They are also shattered by the hoofs of grazing animals more readily than mid or tall grasses. Any grass will then be a bunch grass or a sod-forming grass, and it will either be an annual or perennial. Using this classification as a guide on one of the common grasses found growing in the district such as buffalograss we find the following: it is a short, summer growing, sod-forming, perennial grass. Another grass such as sudan grass which is a tame cultivatable grass we find it is described as follows: a tall, summer growing, annual, bunch grass.

Veterans' News

Questions and Answers

Q. I want to take training under the Korean GI Bill, but the only way I can reach my goal is to take courses in two different schools at the same time. Would this be possible to do?

A. Yes. Concurrent enrollment and attendance at two schools is permitted under circumstances such as yours. But you'll need monthly certifications of training from each of the schools you attend.

Q. I'm planning to enroll in college under the Korean GI Bill this fall, and I want to know if I could get a part-time job in the evenings to supplement my monthly GI allowance. Also, would my allowance be reduced if I got a job?

A. There are no restrictions in veterans getting part-time jobs to add to the monthly allowance they receive while going to school under the Korean GI Bill. And they'd receive the same allowance regardless of how much money they earned on the side.

Q. If I interrupt my Korean GI Bill schooling some time within a month, would I receive my GI allowance for that entire month?

A. No. Your GI allowance would be discontinued as of the last date of attendance in school. It would not be paid to the end of the month.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rogers for a back yard watermelon feast Friday evening were Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Green, Rev. and Mrs. Lenard Hartley and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kling.

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST

Loraine, Texas

INVITES YOUR ATTENTION TO THE WORD OF GOD

Jesus said to the scribes and to the pharisees: "And ye have made void the word of God because of your traditions. Ye hypocrites, well did Isaiah prophesy of you saying,

"This people honoreth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me. Teaching as their doctores the precepts of men."

And he called to him the multitudes, and said unto them, Hear, and understand: not that which entereth into the mouth defileth the man, but that which proceedeth out of the mouth, this defileth the man. Then came the disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended when they heard this saying? But he answered and said, Every plant which my heavenly Father planted not shall be rooted up.

Let them alone: they are blind guides. And if the blind guide the blind, both shall fall into a pit. Matt. 23:2-14.

"But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another." (Gal 5:15.)

Paul warned, "Brethren, be ye imitators together of me, and mark them that so walk, even as ye have us for an example. For many walk, of whom I told you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ, whose end is perdition, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is their shame, who mind earthly things. For our citizenship is in heaven, whence we also wait for a saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ; who shall fashion anew the body of our humiliation, that it may be conformed to the body of his glory. Phil. 3:17-21

YOU ARE WELCOME TO ATTEND ALL THE SERVICES OF THE CHURCH THAT STANDS FOR THE WHOLE TRUTH OF GOD.

F. C. McCormick, Minister of Christ

Ed Preston of Andrews visited over the weekend with his mother, Mrs. J. H. Preston, and in the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Preston.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Mearse Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Edson Mearse of Colorado City and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mearse and children.

Guests of Mrs. Louis Knight Sunday were Mrs. T. W. Landry and daughter and Mrs. D. C. Jones of Abilene.

Leonard Hallman and son Jimmie of Neosho, Missouri, were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Hudgins Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Martin and Janie of Abilene visited relatives here Sunday.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Crutcher Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Livingston and children of Tucson, Arizona.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Martin Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Minyard and daughter Mrs. Ross Williams, and Mr. and Mrs. Reed from Snyder. Mrs. Minyard, the former Syble Williams, and the Martin's daughter Mrs. L. J. Burdine, lived together while their husbands were in service during World War 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hale of Sweetwater visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hale, Sunday.

J. J. Land, Dan Butler and Floyd Richey left Monday on a fishing trip to Possum Kingdom Lake this week.
