Advance Of 40 Miles Scored In 24 Hours

Nazi Armies Split As Russians Take Lublin And Lukow

BY DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, July 25—Swift Russian columns paced by churning tanks, Kuban Cossacks and swarms of planes were less than 50 miles today from Warsaw after splitting German armies in the heart of Poland by capturing Lublin and Lukow.

The Russian drive over the dusty, unobstructed plains carried the Red army 40 miles forward in 24 hours. More than 12 hours ago, they were on the approaches of Siedlce (which the Germans said they had evacuated), 50 miles east of the Polish capital.

The Soviets were less than 20 miles from the Wisla (Vistula) river, which flows by Warsaw and forms the last natural barrier to Germany itself. A swift crossing of the Wisla would outflank the Warsaw region and expose the garrison of the city of 1,265,700 to attack from the south.

In 150 Miles Of Silesia

German Silesia lies within 150 miles of advanced Russian forces which splashed across the San river.

Red pilots report scenes of panic around Warsaw, with roads choked with transport. The main frontal assault toward Warsaw was 50 miles wide and indications were that other army groups from the northeast Bug river and from Lublin were about to join in a coordinated assault on the capital, 319 miles from Berlin.

(The German communique reported bitter fighting continuing inside Lwow, third city of Poland already bypassed and 60 miles behind Red army vanguards. The Nazis asserted that their Lublin garrison still was resisting "superior enemy forces attacking from all sides.")

Reds Near East Prussia

Positions of other Russian army groups as shown by communiques were:

Within two hours forced march of East Prussia.

Frontally attacking by-passed Brest Litovsk, cut off and isolated far behind the front.

Less than 70 miles southeast of the Baltic port of Riga.

Frontally attacking Bialystok on

Arkansas And South Carolina Voting Today

'Cotton Ed' Smith, Mrs. Caraway Are Facing Opposition

(By The Associated Press)

Two southern Democratic primaries lead today's political parade.

In South Carolina, the vehemently anti-New Deal Senator E. D. "Cotton Ed" Smith is running for renomination against Gov. Glin D. Johnston, who says the war requires backing the Roosevelt administration, and these other candidates: Attorney General John M. Daniel, Augustus S. Merrimon of Sumter and Dr. Carl B. Epps, Sumter surgeon.

In Arkansas, the Senate's only woman member, Hattie Caraway, runs into opposition on her renomination try from Rep. J. W. Fulbright, author of the "lasting peace" resolution in the U. S. House; Governor Homer Adkins; Oil Man T. H. Barton of El Dorado, and J. Rosser Venable of Little Rock.

ARKANSAS NEGROES VOTE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 25 (AP)—Arkansas negroes voted in the state Democratic preferential primary today in the first reported tests of a new party rule making them subject to challenge on party loyalty grounds.

J. H. McConico, secretary of the Arkansas Negro Democratic association, was given a ballot without question at a Little Rock precinct shortly after poll opening time when election officials found his name in the poll book.

McConico said his voting attempt was a test and that word would be sent out to would-be negro voters in all counties. He estimated that the total negro vote today would approximate 10,000 in the entire state.

NEGROES DENIED VOTE

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 25 (AP) — Five negroes were denied voting privileges here today in the state's white Democratic party primary for nomination of candidates for the United States Senate, state and county offices.

Party membership rules provided that only "white Democrats" could participate. One of the negroes told newsmen that "this is just a token vote."

The negro citizens committee of South Carolina as raised a fund of more than $3,000 for a test case in federal court to determine the right of negroes to participate in South Carolina's Democratic party primaries.

Negroes Prepared To Vote

Negro sources reported that qualified negroes are prepared to vote in all Arkansas counties. But Secretary Harvey G. Combs of the Democratic state committee said he doubted that many could qualify under a new rule requiring a showing of party loyalty. Negroes voted in Texas' Democratic primary Saturday.

Hitler Names Goering Chief Of Defense Council For Reich

LONDON, July 25 (AP)—Adolf Hitler appointed Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering chairman of the council for defense of the Reich tonight and issued a decree ordering total mobilization of Germany and occupied teritories.

Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels was appointed Reich's commissar for the total war effort of the Reich. Earlier, Heinrich Himmler had been appointed commander in chief of the German home army in the aftermath of the announced bomb attempt on Hitler's life last Thursday.

A vast blood purge of the Prussian military leadership, from general officers down to majors, had been reported in progress in Germany since then.

Given Sweeping Power

The announcement by DNB, official German news agency, said Goering will supervise German railways, the German postal service, all public institutions and industries with the view of limiting or simplifying all matters not directly connected with the war effort. He may issue directives to the highest Reich authorities.

"Goering has to adapt the entire public life to the requirements of total warfare in every possible moment," the Berlin announcement said, "in particular, Goering has to look after all public meetings and institutions to be shaped according to the aims emanating from total war. No forces may be lent from either the armed forces or armaments."

Nazis Being Pushed Back

The government reorganization came with Russian army groups less than 50 miles from Warsaw, less than 150 miles from German Silesia, and within artillery range

Russia To Bypass Exile Group In Administration Of Poland

LONDON, July 25. (AP)—Russia announced tonight it would conclude an agreement with the Polish Committee of National liberation, rather than the exile government in London, covering relations between the advancing Red army and the civil administration of liberated Polish territory.

The Soviet's announcement, broadcast by Moscow and recorded by the Soviet monitor, said the Russians have no aims in acquiring any part of Polish territory and gave the view that the western Bug river is regarded by Premier Stalin's regime as the Polish-Russian frontier.

Russian forces are well across the Bug and are advancing swiftly.

Red armies drove this week to within less than 50 miles of Warsaw. Late in 1939 after the German invasion of Poland, the country was partitioned for the fourth time by a Russian-German agreement.

Today's statement, by the peoples commissariat for foreign affairs, was made because the Red army "has reached the state frontier between the Soviet Union and Poland" by crossing the western Bug river, the Moscow radio said.

The statement said the Red army had entered Poland "to help the Polish people in the task of their liberation from the yoke of the German invaders and for the restoration of an independent, strong and democratic Poland."

It said the Soviet considered the administration of liberated territory the "task of the Polish people."

The announcement followed a manifesto issued yesterday by the Soviet-sponsored national council of Poland setting up as a basic principle the transfer of pre-1939 eastern Polish lands to Russia. Describing these as Ukrainian, White Russian and Lithuanian lands.

Poles Want East Prussia

The committee said the Poles wanted East Prussia, most of Pomerania and other eastern German territory to the Oder river, which enters the Baltic sea at Stettin.

Prime Minister Churchill of Britain already has announced that he agreed with Premier Stalin on the recompensation of Poland with German lands for losses to

U. S.-British Talks On Oil Are Opened

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP) — Anglo-American talks aimed at a common postwar oil policy get underway today with both sides expecting quick agreement.

Lord Beaverbrook heads the British delegation, which is talking with an American cabinet group led by Secretary of State Hull.

The conversations are based on recommendations worked out by a group of British and American technical experts two months ago, and conclusions are to be set down in a signed agreement or exchange of notes.

The main goal is a permanent Anglo-American commission to study world oil resources and needs, so that production can be regulated accordingly.

Once an agreement is reached between this government and Britain, other countries interested in petroleum, such as Russia and several South American nations, will be invited to similar discussions.

The American plan to build a pipeline across Saudi-Arabia is not expected to come up, because this government has dropped the idea as a federally-sponsored wartime project.

Oil Industry Favors Straight Price Hike

FORT WORTH, July 25 (U.P) — The oil industry favors a straight out price increase rather than government subsidies on production for small wells, Ralph T. Zook of Bradford, Pa., president of the Independent Petroleum association of America, said today as the executive committee opened a two-day forum discussion here.

"While the program was not sought by us, and we believe a straight out price increase would produce greater results, we will discuss methods of making the subsidy do the maximum good for the industry and the public," Zook declared.

The IPAA president promised to present the industry's stand against subsidies and for a general price increase to members of Congress.

"Congress showed by their votes in June that they believed the situation must be corrected," Zook declared. "We have discovered no adverse sentiment among consumers. There is plenty of strength in the price campaign. We merely lost a battle, but not a campaign."

Other questions scheduled for discussion at the sessions which are closed to the public and press are the permanent differential in price favoring stripper wells in the interest of consefvation, the question of oil imports after the war, and depletion allowances.

HOPES FOR ACCORDS

ALGIERS, July 25 (U.P)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle told the French consultative assembly today that he hoped for the conclusion soon of practical accords with Britain and America regarding the collaboration of the French administration and Allied armies on liberated territory.

Robber Is Shot To Death In Houston

HOUSTON, July 25 (U.P) — A robber returned to the scene of one of his former holdups last night and was shot to death.

The robber, William A. Hays, 38, under indictment in a federal narcotics case, was slain in a wild melee at a watermelon stand which he successfully robbed less than three weeks ago.

The owner of the watermelon stand shot Hays with a shotgun as he reached for a pistol. Felled by the first blast, Hays scrambled to his feet and attempted to run away. He was cut down by more slugs from the shotgun and from a pistol brought to play by a clerk at the melon stand. A verdict of justifiable homicide was returned by Justice of Peace W. C. Ragan.

Slaton Moves To Offset Sweep By Anti-Roosevelt Delegates

SLATON, July 25 (Special) — Slaton's outspoken fear that Saturday's county Democratic convention, to be held at 2 o'clock in the county courthouse in Lubbock, may be packed with anti-Roosevelt delegates is reflected in the following copy of resolutions adopted at Saturday's conventions of precincts 8, 9 and 10 here.

(Similar fear has been voiced in Lubbock, and in some rural precincts).

The resolutions, offered this morning for publication, read:

"We the Democrats of the Slaton precincts, 8, 9 and 10, do hereby declare our endorsement of the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration and our support of the candidacy of Roosevelt and Truman for president and vice president, respectively, at the coming November election.

Approve General Principles

"We also approve the general principles and purposes expressed in the national Democratic platform recently adopted by the party in Chicago.

"And to achieve the election of these candidates and the accomplishment of the purposes of said platform, we now elect delegates to a county Democratic convention to be held at Lubbock July 29 and instruct them to labor for adoption by the county convention of these, or similar, expressions and to get delegates elected from the county to the September state Democratic convention who will work to get these expressions

Robot Bomb Attack On New York City Approved By Hitler

LONDON, July 25 (U.P) — A Madrid dispatch said today that Adolf Hitler has approved a plan for an imminent attack on New York City with robot bombs launched from submarines in the Atlantic.

A non-Spanish diplomat in Madrid told United Press Staff Correspondent Ralph Forte that the plan had been submitted to Hitler by Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, commander in chief of the German navy. The submarines would submerge after launching the flying torpedoes from specially-rigged platforms on their decks in the general direction of Manhattan skyscrapers.

The robot bombs used against London and southern England have a range of approximately 100 miles, but the Germans were said to have others with longer ranges and heavier cargoes of explosives than the one ton carried by those launched from France.

Reports reaching neutral countries said the Germans were experimenting with flying bombs loaded with five to 15 tons of explosives. An American air raid last week on Peenemunde, Baltic experimental station where the robot bombs first were developed, may have interrupted work on heavier missiles.

Shortage Of Big Tires Critical

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP) — A shortage of truck and bus tires so serious as to threaten essential civilian transport will be laid for solution before the full War Production board, reliable sources reported today.

The board will weigh a plan, approved yesterday by the WPB requfrements committee, under which about 145,000 of the big tires would be diverted to truck and bus operators from three sources: The Army, export quotas set aside for the foreign economic administration and supplies earmarked for new vehicles.

No Tires For Certificates

Truck and bus operators already hold tens of thousands of ration certificates but cannot cash them because their suppliers have no tires.

All agencies agree that the situation could result in transportation breakdown. John V. Lawrence, director of the American trucking associations, has estimated that the heavy trucks forced of the road for lack of tires can now be "counted in the thousands.

FT. WORTH DISTRICT HAS SMALLEST TIRE QUOTA

FORT WORTH, July 25. (AP) — Because of critical shortages, the entire 49-county OPA district served from Fort Worth will have only 782 large-size truck and bus tires during August as compared with 2,278 in the current month.

An emergency panel will control distribution of the meager August tire allotment.

With transportation agencies facing a crisis over the entire area, it was announced that the emergency panel will pass on all applications for heavy tires. Appli-

Yanks On Guam And Tinian Are Striking Inland

Hundreds Of New Guinea Japs Slain In Escape Effort

By J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor

The twin invasion of Guam and Tinian moved smoothly forward today, Allied troops killed more hundreds of Japanese trying to break free of the New Guinea death trap and in hard-pressed China the enemy was banging his head against a stonewall defense at Hengyang.

Tokyo radio was worried, telling the homefolks that the Marianas situation "is growing more serious every day," and that Adm. Chester Nimitz' airmen were constantly raiding Rota island, between Guam and Tinian. Rota's neutralization is in progress.

On newly-invaded Tinian, a Marianas island just south of Saipan, U. S. fighting men surged a mile inland to capture a third of the island's main airfield. Casualties, in contrast to the Saipan battle, were light. "The situation," said Admiral Nimitz, "is considered well in hand."

Airstrip Isolated

Marines and Army infantry met stronger opposition on Guam, 125 miles south of Tinian, but isolated an airstrip and hammered the approaches to Agana, principal city of the U. S.-owned island and its capital. Through July 22 U. S. casualties were 348 killed, 110 missing, 1,500 wounded. Enemy losses, said Nimitz, were heavy. Guam's Orote peninsula was cut off, trapping a Japanese force.

As on Saipan, most of Guam's 15,000 civilians hid out, pending the ending of fighting.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur told of three more lungas by trapped Japanese at Allied lines hemming them in near Aitape on New Guinea. In column of companies the Japanese drove head-on into the American lines. Artillery fire mowed them down. The enemy force of some 45,000 has met failure in previous attempts to smash a path to Japanese garrisons on the north end of the island.

Jap Fleet To Stay In Hiding

(By The Associated Press)

Several United States task forces "with powerful groups of aircraft carriers as the mainstay" are maneuvering in the waters of the Marianas, some 1,500 miles from Tokyo, and the "time is not yet ripe for our fleet to come out and attack the enemy," the Tokyo radio asserted today.

The broadcast by Domei, official Japanese news agency, quoted the naval commentator Masanori Ito as saying:

"Strategically speaking, the time to deliver the coup de grace to the enemy has not yet arrived."

Admits U. S. Superiority

Later, he asserted:

"Undoubtedly, our combined fleet is far inferior to the enemy's as far as aircraft strength is concerned. The fleet which loses command of the air is destined for defeat and immediate rout from the scene of battle."

Ito said the factors for "complete victory in a naval battle" were superior fleet strength, supplemental power needed to follow up the battle, and geographic considerations, as well as fighting technique and morale.

"Study" Holding Back Fleet

"Our combined fleet," Ito asserted in the Tokyo broadcast, "acting on the basis of cool reasoning and certainty, will not come out until an exhaustive study of the above factors has been completed."

The broadcast seemed to suggest that the fleet might remain in refuge of home waters near the protection of land batteries and land based planes until, per-

Allies Unleash Twin Assaults In Normandy

Strong Canopy Of Planes Is Supporting Heavy Ground Force Drives; Advance Is Reported Meeting "Heavy Resistance"

By GLADWIN HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, July 25. — Supported by a massive armada of some 4,000 warplanes, the American and British armies burst forth at both ends of the 100-mile Normandy front today, shoved the Germans backwards in probably the greatest coordinated ground drive since D-day.

Three thousand U. S. planes, including a record mission of 1,500 heavy bombers, smashed at the Germans opposing the new American offensive, location of which was not disclosed.

Hundreds of other planes supported the British-Canadian push south of Caen. In quick initial gains of more than a mile, British-Canadian tanks and infantry battling toward open tank country captured two towns, despite fierce resistance by at least two German SS armored divisions.

Fighting Is Stubborn

"Fighting continues very stubbornly on both the American and British sectors," supreme headquarters declared.

Throughout the day headquarters kept secret all details of the American land drive. The U. S. First army has been strung along a winding front from fallen St. Lo. to Lessay on the west coast.

(Berlin said the Americans attacked from the area northwest of St. Lo, and declared a small penetration had been sealed off.)

The British Second army, hammering along on a four-mile front down the road to Falaise, captured St. Martin de Fonentay and Verrieres and street fighting ranged in May-Sur-Orne. These towns are some five miles below Caen.

Close-Quarter Fight Rages

Fighting also swirled for the town of Tilly-La-Campagne. Front dispatches said there was savage, close-quarter fighting in indecisive battle after the British-Canadians cracked through the outer crust of German defenses and ran into a bristling series of anti-tank positions and machinegun nests. The Germans threw in batches of

Giant Air Fleet Is Aiding Drive

Record Set For Single Mission

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, July 25—Well over 1,500 U. S. heavy bombers, the greatest fleet of four-engined aircraft ever dispatched on a single mission, and an equal number of lighter planes were thrown against the Germans in the western sector of the Normandy front today to carve a path of advance for Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's new offensive.

The tremendous force, composed entirely of American planes, also was the largest overall fleet ever hurled into one operation, surpassing the great armada of just under 3,000 which unloaded nearly 8,000 tons of explosives on the Germans below Caen to support the Orne river drive of a week ago today.

TANK WORKS BLASTED

ROME, July 25 (AP) — Medium forces of heavy bombers smashed today for the first time at the Goering tank works at Linz, on the Danube near the Bavarian border, and another Liberator formation struck at rail yards in Villach, Austria.

Some enemy craft were shot down, headquarters said.

The Goering factory is not yet complete, but many branches are reported to be active. It is designed to produce millions of tons of iron and steel annually and to manufacture tanks and armored cars.

The bomb weight hurled on German strongpoints today probably will not reach last week's total, however, because the airmen used nearly all light and fragmentation bombs, designed to stun enemy troops and anesthetize them to a ground attack, without churning up the earth over which the doughboys expect to be advancing.

Bomber Record Broken

Supreme headquarters disclosed that the Flying Fortresses and Liberators participating in this second great display of Allied air might in direct support of ground forces in the past eight days wiped out the previous heavy bomber

U. S. Casualties Total 16,463 On Saipan

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—Navy Secretary Forrestal reported today that American casualties in the conquest of Saipan in the western Pacific Marianas group totaled 16,463 men, including 3,049 killed in action, 13,049 wounded, and 365 missing.

He told a news conference that more than 5,000 of the wounded already had returned to duty and are how participating in the attack against the Japanese on Tinian island, also in the Marianas.

"This reduces our net losses at Saipan by about a third," he said, "and it speaks volumes for both the morale of the troops and the effectiveness of the medical corps."

The enemy dead on Saipan, he said, totaled 20,000 known to have been killed—that many have been buried by American troops. In addition, he said, Japanese prisoners of war number 1,707 and that 14,192 civilians have been interned.

"The number of prisoners taken on Saipan is by far the greatest taken in any operations against the Japanese in the war to date," the Navy secretary said.

Change In Jap Offensive Seen

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 25 — Admiral Ernest J. King, Navy commander in chief, declared today that regardless of the change in the Japanese cabinet, the enemy "will continue to wage war with all the power he possess."

He told a news conference that obviously the Tojo cabinet did not fall unless there was dissatisfaction on the part of military leaders with the conduct of the war.

King stated that it is certain there will be "some changes in the methods of waging war" under the new Japanese cabinet.

"But whether this means they will go more nearly on the defensive or rather become more aggressive remains to be seen," King said.

Amplifies Reference

Asked to amplify his reference to Japan going "more nearly on the defensive" he said he meant possibly the "pulling in to inner citadels."

He added that he believed it was certain that under the new cabinet, Japan will adopt "a more defensive or a more aggressive" attitude toward the war.

King gave his opinions at a news conference also attended by Admiral William F. Halsey, jr., commander of the Third fleet in the

Two Escaped Federal Prisoners Captured

WHARTON, July 25 (U.P)—Two federal prisoners were back in jail here today after leaping to short-lived freedom from a U. S. marshal's van at Richmond yesterday afternoon.

Robert E. Walsh, one of the prisoners, surrendered to officers at Newgulf last night. The other, George E. Droddy, made his way to Houston, where four detectives captured him without resistance.

When they escaped, Walsh and Droddy were en route back to the Wharton jail after brief appearances in federal court at Houston.

KILLEEN MAN KILLED

MARBLE FALLS, July 25 (U.P)—A head-on collision of an automobile and a truck near here yesterday resulted in the death of Homer C. Cosper of Killeen, and slight injuries to A. L. Gibbs of Killeen and Arthur Fuege of Johnson City.

Robertson County Voters Elect War Prisoner To Legislature

AUSTIN, July 25 (U.P)—People of Robertson county, Tex., expect the war to be over by next January. They chose Lt. Herman Yezak of Hearne, reported to be a prisoner of war, to be state representative. Next session of the state legislature will open in January, 1945.

Unofficial reports received here indicate that all four women members of the present house have been re-nominated. They are: Miss Elizabeth Suiter of Winnsboro, Miss Rae Files of Waxahachie, Mrs. Neveille Colson of Navasota and Mrs. Florence Fenley of Uvalde.

War-Widow In Run-Off

Mrs. J. H. Hines of Nacogdoches, a war widow, is in a run-off for representative. Mrs. Marietta McGregor Payne of Austin, another war widow, was defeated in a race for the house.

Durwood Manford of Smiley, author of the hard-fought labor regulatory act of the present legislature, has been re-nominated as was Mainor Westbrook of Jasper, author of the act to license chiropractors. The act has been held invalid.

Approximately 30 run-off elections will be necessary to determine nominees for the house. Ten present members are in run-off contests. Best reports available here indicate that 85 of the 150 house members have been re-nominated.

Fourteen miles north of Stanislawow, gateway to the Carpathian passes into Czecho-Slovakia.

108 miles east of Krakow.

120 miles east of Lodz and 42 miles east of Radom.

New Drive Said Prepared

(The Germans said the Russians were preparing another offensive north of Iasi, 174 miles northeast of the Romania oil center of Ploesti.)

Southeast of Narva, the Russians resumed their attack from their bridgehead inside the Soviet Estonian republic in the 30-mile corridor between Lake Peipus and the Baltic sea. This seemed to be an offensive along the Gulf of Finland toward the Estonian capital of Tallinn.

Russia's seven great army groups moved westward with air support never matched in the east, brushing aside any obstacles encountered. It appeared that the next few hours would determine whether Hitler would attempt a stand on the Wisla. Fleeing groups of Germans were declared rushing for the closest bridges on the river.

Polish Council Active

Members of the new national committee of Poland went west with the Red army toward Warsaw, keeping contact with the seat of the temporary governing body at Chelm. In each captured Polish town (9,000 square miles of German-held Poland have been captured), the committee opened recruiting offices for the Polish army fighting beside the Soviets. Hundreds of administrations were established in liberated towns.

The fall of the rail city of Lublin was announced by Marshal Stalin in a special order of the day and shortly afterward a special communique was issued declaring that the Germans had lost 539,890 troops killed and captured since the Soviet summer offensive got under way June 23.

Unrest In Germany

of East Prussia. In France, American and British armies were on the offensive. In Italy, two shattered German armies were reeling back toward the Gothic line in the north.

The announcement said Goering himself appointed Goebbels to the post of commissar for total war effort of the Reich and could in the future "demand information from and give instructions to the highest Reich authorities."

(The wording suggested that he might indeed give orders to Hitler or Himmler, becoming in effect the de facto German dictator. Reports in the past few months from neutral countries have suggested that Goering might eventually head the German government in a Nazi effort to secure something less than unconditional surrender.)

A leader of the battered German armies in the east, Field Marshal Gen. Walther von Model sent a message of congratulations to Hitler today on his escape from assassination last week—perhaps in tacit admission that the Nazis at least temporarily control the armed forces of the Reich.

The message was broadcast by Transocean after the Nazis had hinted they were preparing even more drastic measures to tighten their grip on the war-weary home front and Hitler's henchmen apparently had gained complete mastery of the German army.

At the same time Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons the Reich government "had been at great pains" to prevent information on the upheaval in Germany from leaking out and that he was unable to estimate the full extent of the trouble "or to draw any inferences as to its likely development."

Of Middle Class Stock

Marshal Model, who was described as commanding two army groups, is of middle class stock and while he never has been actively identified with the Nazi party neither is he a representative of the blue-blooded Junkers class.

Out of a maze of reports of seething turmoil gripping the Reich it has become clear that as long as the Nazis are directing the war — and without question they are in the driver's seat now —they are prepared to carry on even though Germany herself becomes a battle ground.

Transocean news agency in a broadcast from Berlin said there were indications that "a great number of new decrees, some of them cutting deep into our everyday life, may be expected soon." It added that the Germans "shall become a people of fighters in the most literal sense of the word."

Few Revolt Leaders Touched

There were indications that the gestapo's purge of army conspirators whom Hitler said had tried to assassinate him had wiped out only a few of the top men in the movement. A reliable report to the Associated Press from the Reich frontier said the only member of a "high committee of opposition" who had been caught was the executed Col. Gen. Ludwig Beck, who had been warned of arrest and was taken by accident.

The crowning humiliation of the army, however, came in an order yesterday substituting the Nazi "heil Hitler" salute for the regular military salute. This emphasized pointedly the army's subordination to the Nazi party.

From the immediate military standpoint the full significance of what is happening in Germany will come with the revelation of the new front commanders. There were indications that Hitler was substituting political generals of known loyalty to him for professional staff college trained commanders.

To Name New Generals

(In a broadcast quoting Swiss dispatches, Absie, American transmitter in London, said that Hitler would confer at Berchtesgaden today to select new generals for the Russian and Baltic fronts).

way the Japanese covet. Enemy troops severely assaulted the southwestern outskirts of the beseiged city. The Chinese high command said Hengyang's defenders maintained their positions. U. S. planes shot up 5 aircraft in raiding an airdrome near Tungting lake north of Hengyang.

Another Chinese force broke into Siangsiang, 60 miles to the north. This city is a hinge of the Japanese drive sweeping down both sides of the railway. The Japanese drive from Canton northward seemed bogged 40 miles above that coastal city.

In Yunnan province, Chinese forces were reported assaulting Japanese positions dominating the Burma road. The positions were not named but recently the Chinese have been aiming at Tengchung and Lungling. These Jap-held bases must be cleared before the Ledo-Burma road from India to China can reopen.

states, have been replaced by SS men, the London Daily Mail said in a dispatch from the German frontier.

The whole Nazi counter plot appeared aimed at discrediting the old-line generals by attempting to place the entire blame on them for setbacks suffered by the German army in the east, south and west.

One thing stands out in the whole picture. There has not been even a rumor of any attempt by the German civilian masses to rise against the Nazis through strikes or other demonstrations. This indicated that any organized opposition centered almost entirely among the military.

Negroes Form Precinct Unit

HOUSTON, July 25 (AP)—Negro voters smacked tradition a double blow when they organized a Democratic precinct convention here Saturday and at another named negro delegates to the county convention July 29, says Chairman M. L. O. Andrews of the Harris county Democratic executive committee.

The precinct 25 convention, called by E. H. Harrison, a negro union official and vice president of the third ward civic club, was the first ever organized in the South by negroes, Andrews believes.

With three whites and 50 to 60 negroes attending, the convention elected Harrison temporary chairman. Miss Lottie Wallis, a white woman, was named to cast the precinct's one vote at the Democratic county convention. She is the precinct election judge.

Court Ruling Cited

Andrews, asked if this action means that the Democratic party is open to negroes, answered:

"This means that as a result of the Supreme court ruling (opening Democratic primaries to negro voters) political parties haven't got the right to say who can be a member. Churches and clubs can exclude individuals from membership if they desire but the Supreme court says political parties cannot do so."

Miss Wallis was named, Harrison said in an interview, "because the custom in the precinct was that the precinct judge be elected the first delegate and we were entitled to only one delegate."

Large Negro Population

Each precinct is allocated one delegate for each 25 votes. Precinct 25 is peopled 96 per cent by negroes, said Harrison, who is financial secretary of local 2457 of the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.)

Ten whites and 10 negroes were elected delegates to the county convention in the precinct 48 convention, said Andrews. Attended by a large number of negroes, this convention was organized by whites, he stated.

With negroes voting for the first time in a Texas Democratic primary, precinct 25 rolled up its heaviest vote in history, Miss Wallis said. Four hundred votes were tallied compared with 16 cast by all-white voters in the 1942 primary election.

Few White Voters

Andrews said the precinct had from 25 to 50 qualified white voters and about 1,000 eligible negro voters.

Harrison, stating that the precinct 25 convention was 100 per cent pro-Roosevelt, said that the group passed a resolution demanding that the state Democratic convention which meets in Dallas in September select electors who will support the party's national nominees in the electoral college.

Federal Aid Is Sought For Galveston Tunnel

GALVESTON, July 25 (U.P.) — Galveston county will seek an allocation of $100,000 in federal funds for assistance in preliminary engineering works on the prpposed tunnel linking the island with the mainland at Port Bolivar.

The county commissioners' court yesterday passed a resolution authorizing County Judge Theodore R. Robinson to appear beefore the Texas Highway commission on August 1 to present the application for the $100,000 from public works administration funds.

Galveston county already has authorized expenditure of a like amount and the survey of the tunnel route has already begun. The first boring rig was expected to arrive here within the week as engineers carry forward the survey program.

Quick-Thinking Yanks Capture Nazi Area With 'Sneak Play'

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS In The St. Lo Sector of France, July 12. (Delayed) — Quick-thinking American officers of one forward unit took 750 yards of Nazi front-line territory by a "sneak play" which left the Germans balked and furious.

"We found they weren't fully occupying the territory, but only holding on to it by patrols," said Capt. Raymond H. Hitchcock of Grand Forks, N. D. "They were trying that old movie dodge of moving a few men about in several places to try to give the impression they had a much larger force there.

Moved Patrols Regularly

"We checked and found they moved patrols in at a certain hour and they left the territory at another set hour. They were methodical as always and we capitalized on it.

"After the Nazi patrol finished its tour of duty and moved, we sent over a large combat patrol which checked and found the territory clear. Then at a plotted hour we simply moved over a whole unit. When the Jerries came back they got shot up because they didn't realize we were there in strength.

"When they did find out we'd called their bluff they got so mad they expended almost a week's supply of ammunition on us — and it was wasted.

"We gained about 750 yards at a total cost of three casualties."

Postwar "Air Parks" Outlined At Meeting

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP) — Plans for America's airports of the future—including such projects as "air parks" located near shopping and business districts—were outlined today at a National Aeronautic association meeting.

Termed the joint airport users conference, leaders said it was the first general meeting of its kind.

The "air parks" were described in an address prepared for delivery by Alfred MacDonald, Wichita, Kans., parks and airports director.

"Some cities are planning such close-in air parks at waterfront locations, in public parks and along river banks," he said. "Some would be only a single landing strip built in the direction of the prevailing wind, but others would provide hard-surfaced runways, hangars and serving facilities."

The projects, MacDonald declared, "are intended to meet the objection that airports heretofore have been located too far from and too inconvenient to the center of the community."

'Goldbrick Papas' Newest Group Among Boys Overseas

U.S. FIFTH AIRFORCE HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, July 14 (Delayed) (AP) — Soldier, you too now can rear your children by V-mail.

How? Simply by joining the "Society of Goldbrick Papas." You can get full particulars by writing to Brig. Gen. Warren R. Carter's troop carrier command at Fifth Airforce headquarters here.

Of course there are a few by-laws that must be observed. Members must be overseas and must never have seen their progeny. They must be experts on washing diapers, treating measles, silencing midnight howls and inducing baby to take his or her food.

Possession of such knowledge is essential. How otherwise is the little wife to realize fully the benefits and advantages of objective advice via V-mail?

Membership in the society rapidly is approaching a hundred, representing more than half the states. The members meet frequently, informally, to exchange suggestions on child-rearing problems and to admire snapshots of baby-in-the-bath.

As one charter member expressed it "this society is long on advice and short on work." Thus he explained the "Goldbrick" in the title.

Boosters of the society urge "join now and help swell the growing roster of dads coolly contemplating the responsibilities of fatherhood —from a safe distance."

Iron Guard Leaders Sent Into Romania

ISTANBUL, July 23 (Delayed) —The Germans have sent back to Romania a group of Iron Guard leaders who had been hiding in Germany since the spring of 1941, it was learned today. The guardists arived in German uniforms and under German protection—apparently as a broad hint from Berlin that any Romanian move for peace would result in an Iron Guard seizure of the government.

It is confirmed that the Germans are evacuating both the Bulgarian Black sea ports of Varna and Burgas, and the question arose here whether the withdrawal might be the first step in a general withdrawal from Bulgaria and Greece.

Many residents of Iceland heat their homes with hot water piped from geysers.

Allied Forces Near Florence

ROME, July 25 (AP)—Steadily driving the Germans from one defensive position after another, Allied armies pushed within 10 miles of Florence and made limited gains elsewhere today along the Italian battlefront.

Official reports from the battle sectors said the tempo of the fighting had dwindled as the Germans gradually gave ground while preparing their defenses along the north bank of the Arno river between Florence and the west coast. However, a brisk fight developed east of San Miniato when the Germans launched two counterattacks in an unsuccessful effort to prevent the Fifth Army from extending its lines eastward toward Florence.

Threat From South

American troops have cleared the enemy from the south side of the Arno along a sector from the west coast to a point within 18 miles of Florence.

The greatest threat to the Nazi defenders of Florence, however, was from the south. Fifth and Eighth Army units steadily drove the enemy back on an arc running southwest to southeast of the historic city.

Units moving up highway No. 2—main artery to Florence from the south—seized the town of Strada. To the east of Strada South Africans seized Monte Fili and their armored cars pushed on against brisk opposition.

Collapse Seen For Southern Revolt

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 25 (AP)—Governor Chauncey Sparks predicted today that the insurgent movement among Southern Democrats would collapse and that all of the electoral votes of the Solid South would be cast for the Roosevelt-Truman ticket.

The governor, back from the Chicago convention where he was chairman of the Alabama delegation, said he believed the South would come to realize "we have a good ticket and a fine platform."

Sparks was one of the leaders of what he termed the "middle of the road Democrats," opposed to the renomination of Vice President Wallace but not so vehement in their position to some policies of the national administration as delegations from some Southern states.

The Alabama governor said the state's delegation to Chicago had not been approached by insurgent groups after the convention. He also predicted that Texas, Mississippi and Louisiana would "get behind the national ticket."

Dallas County Drys Map Election Drive

DALLAS, July 25 (AP) — With about 200 pastors present, including one negro, the United States Dallas County Drys today behind closed doors mapped strategy for a campaign by which they said they hope to win the local option election here Aug. 5.

Dr. T. C. Gardner, Baptist educational director and chairman of the Dallas County Drys, took charge of the meeting.

"We have some very important matters to discuss," Dr. Gardner said, "and we don't want anyone from the other side listening." He ordered a row-by-row check on the identity of all present, and asked a reporter to leave.

Later, Dr. Gardner said nothing went on at the meeting that could not be made public and that the secret meeting had been recommended by the strategy committee of the drys because some pastors did not desire to be quoted.

Roy Coffee, head of the Dallas County Legal Control council, plans to make a radio talk tomorrow night to present his group's plea for the status quo. He said "our organization is neither wet nor dry. Thinking people will come to the conclusion that we should not have county-wide prohibition at this time. Voters in dry precincts should vote against county-wide local option and be fair to the precincts that do not desire it."

Dewey Plans Trip Into The Midwest

ALBANY, N. Y., July 25. (AP)—Agricultural and other problems of the midwest, where his backers look for strong support of his presidential candidacy, will occupy much of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's attention on his trip to and from St. Louis conference of Republican governors.

Aides of the GOP presidential nominee, announcing the itenerary of next week's trip, said today Dewey will confer at Springfield, Ill., with the state's Republican congressional delegation and labor, industry and agricultural leaders on problems of that area. Conferences with Missouri leaders will be held in St. Louis after the governors' session.

Dewey will leave New York City Sunday night, after a week-end at his Pawling farm, and arrive in Pittsburgh, Monday, July 31, for similar discussion of several matters including the post-war reconversion of industry.

Now... With Texas Made Steel

TEXAS WILL DEVELOP ITS OWN NEW INDUSTRIES FASTER!

Steel is the B vitamin of industrial growth. Most every kind of industry flourishes in regions where steel is made.

Somewhere along the line, steel plays a vital and economic role in providing the necessities and conveniences of better living. It makes the tools, machinery, and other equipment which help produce, process, and deliver the meat, grain, fruit, vegetables, cotton, wool, lumber, and oil for which the South-Southwest is noted.

For the most part, the tools, machinery, and equipment needed in these basic industries heretofore have been made in other regions possessing the keystone advantage of steel production.

Now, the South-Southwest has its own fully integrated steel making industry. In itself this new industry calls for the mining of more native iron ore, coal, limestone, and other raw materials. It requires four tons of these to make a ton of molten iron. And, to make a ton of steel requires more than a ton of this iron, steel and iron scrap, and other materials.

More than 80% of every dollar spent for making Texas steel is re-spent right here at home. As a matter of fact, ten times more of the cost of making a ton of steel in Texas stays in this South-Southwest region than remained here when this steel was shipped in.

Today—Texas steel is being used for ships and munitions. After the war, it will continue to supply our Gulf Coast shipyards, and our Southwest armament factories which will resume production of steel products for oil, mining, railway, agricultural, and other industries.

With Texas-made steel, the Southwest and the Gulf region will attract and rapidly develop other new industries. More and more of the things the South-Southwest needs will be made right here at home. It always happens where steel making is soundly and permanently established.

Nazi Generals Urge Surrender

MOSCOW, July 25 (U.P.)—Sixteen captured German generals issued a joint appeal today to German officers still in action against the Allies to break at once with Adolf Hitler and refuse to carry out Nazi orders and thus bring the war to its end.

All veterans of both the present and last world wars, the officers expressed their conviction that further struggle by Germany was hopeless.

"All the generals and officers who realize their responsibilities face the alternative either to wait until Hitler leads the German army to catastrophe and drags the whole German people down to the grave, or to answer with force—resist Hitler, refuse to carry out orders, break with the Hitler regime, thus finishing off the war," the appeal said.

Prompt Action Urged

"Don't wait until Hitler brings you to disaster. To fight Hitler is to fight for Germany."

The appeal was signed by Generals Voelckers, Gollwitzer, Mueller, Amler, Klammt, Steinkeller, Conrady, Trowitz, Enbel, Michaelis, Mueller-Buelow, Gehr, Gottfried Von Ermandsroff and Schmidt.

Each was identified with his former command, which included that of army corps, divisions, and fortified regions. They represented the command of the former central group of the German army on the eastern front.

Early Victories Discounted

Reviewing the initial course of the war, the generals characterized the preliminary victories of German arms in Poland, Norway and France as "cheap."

They sharply criticized the German offensives of 1942 into the Caucasus and Stalingrad, pointing out that the operations overstrained available German forces and opened the way for the Russian counter-drive from Stalingrad.

They also criticized the Orel-Kursk offensive a year ago, in which they said the Nazi command expended picked divisions in a futile attack rather than holding them in reserve to meet the Russian offensive which it knew was being prepared.

All-American Crew Operating Captured Railway In France

By WM. R. HIGGINBOTHAM
United Press War Writer

NORMANDY, July 25. — An all-American crew is operating a multi-nation railroad with a right of way winding through bomb craters and wrecked towns where only a few days ago the battle of France raged.

It is the first captured railway in western Europe to be put back in service.

Four passenger trains run on schedule daily. You can't always be sure where the eastern end of the line will be because it changes daily as the battle scene moves forward.

Cpl. Kenneth Kieffer of Willard, O., who used to be a fireman for the Baltimore & Ohio, gave the line a touch of "Home" by making a shrill engine whistle that sounds thoroughly American.

It is a multi-nation railway because it is run by American soldiers over French soil which only recently was held by the Nazis. The freight cars are French, Italian, Belgian and German. Only four or five serviceable passenger cars have been found.

Lt. Col. Ralph O. Jensen of Maywood, Ill., said that his men were able to put the line into operation because they were American railroaders—from dispatchers to machinists — before going into the service. Jensen is commander of the transportation corps operating the line and a veteran railroader.

The train we rode had only two passenger cars and a baggage car. Many of the windows were broken. But it was equal to many I have ridden — back in the states or England.

Fireman of the crew is Cpl. Billy J. Morgan of Huron, Kans., formerly of the Missouri-Pacific railroad.

Any man in an Allied uniform rides free. The French have to have a special permit.

A conductor arriving in New York's Grand Central station, could have done no better than Booth when he stuck his head in our car and yelled:

"Ten more minutes before the station, gentlemen."

We had reached the end of the line—the end, at least, for today.

Fighting In France Follows Pattern Of World War I, But Power Is Far Greater

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Lloyd Stratton, president of the Associated Press, Ltd., overseas affiliate of the Associated Press, has been making a tour of the Normandy battlefront visiting Associated Press news and photo correspondents. A veteran of the first World war, he holds the Croix de Guerre).

BY LLOYD STRATTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE ALLIED FORCES IN NORMANDY, July 25 — The pattern of war in France, 1944 model, follows much the outline of World war I, but the comparison ends there.

I saw nothing massed on the Western front in 1918 that in magnitude and power equalled the concentration of military might that in this short time already is bulging the relatively small Normandy front. Whether in troops, equipment or rolling stock, the stupendous proportions were evident.

Infantry Still Force

Despite the striking strength of armor, heavy guns and aircraft, however, the infantry has shown it still is the force that puts it over. In no other branch of fighting is the comparison between the two wars so distinctly the same.

Troops carry out the same tasks. But now there are more of them. The soldiers are like walking arsenals, and they are better skilled.

The fury of the air force, whether in combat or employed as artillery, prostrates the enemy as completely as the prolonged barrages flattened him before.

No Animals In Service

The size, number and firing power of artillery batteries in many sectors resembles more the lay-out of machine gun emplacements in the other war.

The mechanized aspect of the Allied armies at no single front has been so impressively exhibited as here. Throughout the entire area not one animal was in Allied military service. Every man and woman was riding motor vehicles right up to forward positions.

And more of all material is on the way. It seemed one could walk from ship to ship across the channel. Traffic is as dense as a Sunday motor car caravan on a popular country highway.

Air Fighting Changed

The Germans too, have higher-powered and more rapid firing guns, and lobs mortars shells around in a fashion that in the last war we would have called extravagant.

The air war fighters are clear out of this world in comparison with 1918. Then we would spend hours watching a few clumsy, low-flying planes dog fight or raid, all within view. An ordinary example today leaves only the ears to hear and then, often, faintly.

Each army, American, British and Canadian, has taken in certain spots less of life unmatched by any similar circumstance in the last war. Yet in others are thousands who have been in all the toughest of engagements and have suffered nothing more than near suffocation from dust or being encased in mud.

Leather tanning, shoe, shirt, wooden furniture, cigaret and cigar manufacturing and rum distilling are the main industries of the Dominican Republic.

Tiny Passengers Lose Plane Seats But Arrive Safely

ST. LOUIS, July 25 (U.P.)—Stephen and Sharon Bair, 21-day-old son and daughter of a Long Beach, Cal., war worker, landed in St. Louis early today after being "bumped" off their plane on a priority in Kansas City.

The twins, said to be the youngest to travel half-way across the continent by air, left Los Angeles early yesterday accompanied by two maternal aunts and a five-year-old sister, Autumn Ann. They traveled in a plane especially equipped with 14 bottles of prepared milk, refrigeration for the milk, countless pins and diapers, and a special airline hostess.

Lloyd Bair, father of the twins, sent the children to live with his brother, Lynn Bair, Elkhart, Ill. The babies' mother died five days after their birth. Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Bair, who have two grown children and are caring for the 11-year-old son of her sister, met the infants at the St. Louis airport and started immediately for Elkhart. Mrs. Bair said the twins' father was unable to care for the children himself and they would stay in Elkhart indefinitely.

Wreckage Of Plane Found; Flier Dead

GREENVILLE, Tex., July 25 A basic trainer which carried 2nd Lt. Ira B. Chandler of Sinton to his death in a crash Sunday was found 15 miles northeast of Centerville late Monday by searching planes from Majors field here and Ellington field, Houston. Col. Herbert Newstrom, commanding officer of Majors field reported today.

Lt. Chandler, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Chandler of Sinton, was returning from Ellington on a routine combat training flight when the crash occurred, Col Newstrom said.

The flier was a former student of Texas College of Arts and Industries, Kingsville.

'Coddling' Of Italian POW Is Assailed

BOSTON, July 25 (AP) — The 101st Infantry Veterans association, AEF, has sent a resolution to the War department criticizing Army authorities and private citizens for what it terms "pampering and coddling," Italian war prisoners should be restricted.

The 101st infantry veterans' resolution contended that the war prisoners should receive "only such rights and courtesies as are provided under international law."

While the resolution was being prepared a group of Italian war prisoners from Camp McKay, in the Dorchester district of Boston, were guests of a club in suburban Somerville which enterained them with a picnic and a ball game.

A veteran of both wars, Barry said that American boys received no such enterainment as prisoners in Italian and Nazi camps.

Assistant Farm Agent Authorized By Court

Employment of an assistant county farm agent at $200 per month whose duties will include supervision of a Johnson grass eradication campaign now in progress was approved at the semi-monthly meeting of the county commissioners' court Monday afternoon.

Belief was expressed that the action did not conflict with the recent opinion by Attorney General Grover Sellers that the court does not have authority to employ someone assigned exclusively to grass eradication. Members of the court said they expect to fill the new job at once.

Several Races Still Undecided

DALLAS, July 25. (AP) — Three congressional races in Saturday's Texas Democratic primary remained undecided today but there was no doubt that Gov. Coke Stevenson swept the field in his victory over eight opponents.

Still ahead in the final 6:30 p. m. reports issued yesterday by the Texas Election Bureau were Reps. Ed Gossett and Lindley Beckworth but Rep. Nat Patton was trailing.

In the balloting, Texas negroes cast their vote for the first time under a supreme court ruling granting them that right, but no unusual incidents were reported.

Gossett Leading

Rep. Gossett of Wichita Falls led State Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe by 358 votes in district 13 voting, with 13 of the district's 15 counties complete as of the 6:30 election bureau report. Gossett had polled 24,815 votes and Moffett 24,457. The lead had switched six times in the course of tabulation since Saturday at 6 p.m.

In district 3, Rep. Beckworth of Gilmer showed a majority of 769 votes over two opponents: Capt. D. S. Meredith jr., stationed in the South Pacific with the Army's judge advocate general's department, and A. E. Martin of Longview. The report of six complete counties out of 8 in the district gave Beckworth 22,504 votes; Meredith 18,810 and Martin 2,925.

In district 7, Palestine's District Attorney Tom Pickett had 17,742 votes to Rep. Patton's 14,363 and Andrew Brannen's 4,304. Patton is from Crockett, Brannen from Groveton.

Ten Renominated

In the 21 congressional districts, ten incumbents were renominated, one was defeated, two face second-primary runoffs, one did not seek re-election and four had no opponents.

Gov. Stevenson's vote total surged farther ahead with the 6:30 p.m. tabulation which gave him 632,786 ballots of the 751,022 cast, while the election bureau listed Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith as a certain winner with a majority of 10,504 over three opponents.

A runoff election was slated between Attorney General Grover Sellers and Jesse Martin of Fort Worth, with a second runoff scheduled between Incumbent Richard Critz and Col. Gordon Simpson of Tyler in the state supreme court race. Other incumbents in state races appeared to have been renominated.

Lyle Defeated Kleberg

Capt. John Lyle, a mobile anti-aircraft officer in Italy, defeated Rep. Richard Kleberg in district 14.

In district 2, Judge J. M. Combs of Beaumont defeated Sgt. Hugh Wilson of Port Arthur and Camp Swift by a wide margin for the seat held by Rep. Martin Dies, who did not seek re-election.

In district 9, a runoff was certain between Rep. Joseph Mansfield, Columbus, and State Senator L. J. Sulak, La Grange, while a second runoff was slated in district 17 between Rep. Sam Russell and Former Rep. Clyde Garrett.

Yesterday's final tabulations showed Charles L. Walker of Beaumont had defeated State Senator Wardlow Lane of Center for the Ninth court of civil appeals at Beaumont.

The ten Texas congressmen apparently safely renominated were Speaker Sam Rayburn and Reps. Hatton Sumners, Wright Patman, Lyndon B. Johnson, Bob Poage, Fritz Lanham, Eugene Worley, George Mahon, Luther Johnson and Albert Thomas.

OPA Investigating Widespread Racket In 'New' Radio Sales

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 25—OPA is investigating a racket in new radios from coast to coast. Some of it is strictly black market. Some is price-cheating. Some of the new radios are made and sold honestly.

The radios are new in the sense that they have been assembled from various radio parts. This kind of radio-making must first have authorization from the War Production board.

From that point on the radios are under OPA price controls.

Some assemblers ignore WPB and OPA. They make the radios and sell them where they can for what they can. They operate completely outside the government. They are the worst type of black marketeers.

Some Ignore OPA

Others get WPB approval and then ignore OPA altogether. Others get WPB approval, pretend to obey OPA and then chisel on price controls.

The main OPA drive is against these chiseling assemblers and wholesale dealers. But several department stores, including one of the largest in the country, are under investigation for alleged selling in violation of OPA prices.

This is a city slicker racket. One OPA official says the crooked assemblers are pretty well concentrated in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles. The cheating has reached into other cities.

Big Plants Not Involved

The big peacetime radio manufacturers are not involved in this OPA probe by government order they have made no civilian sets since July 1942.

But since that time OPA officials say 100,000 of the new assembled sets have been placed on the market at a retail sale value of 15 million dollars.

After the July 1942 ban on the big manufacturers, promoters were able to buy from them many parts for home models. This was a legitimate transaction.

Buy Auto Radios

They were also able to buy many automobile radios complete. By some changes the auto type could be made into the home type. They accumulated cabinets either complete or made to order by furniture manufacturers.

These wartime radios had to be put together from the parts of various peacetime makes. They were turned out as table or floor models. They still are being made.

Take an example of an assembler who has WPB approval to make radios:

He decides on what type he'll make. He gives OPA a list of what the parts cost him. OPA knows the actual cost of the parts. The prices are in the catalogues published by the big manufacturers before shutting down in 1942.

Prices Of Parts Checked

So, if an assembler tries to boost the cost of the parts mentioned in his list of parts he is told to reduce them to the correct price. With that settled, OPA considers his cost for parts and labor together, the two becoming his total cost.

Then OPA allows him a certain percentage of profit and tells him the price at which he must sell to the retailer, the man from whom you'd have to buy. At the same time OPA figures out the ceiling price at which the retailer must sell to you.

OPA tells this to the assembler and instructs him to put the retailer's ceiling price on a tag attached to the radio before he sells it to the retailer. That tag must be on the radio when you see its before buying on the retailer shelves.

Various Tricks In Racket

There are various tricks in the racket.

An assembler gets WPB permission to make a number of radio model types and carefully complies with OPA regulations so he will appear honest. But on the side he makes other types about which neither WPB nor OPA knows anything. He sells them for whatever price he can get from a retailer. The retailer in turn sells them to you for whatever he thinks you'll pay. They don't bother about price tags.

Or an assembler reports to OPA but lists fictitious parts. That is, he tells OPA he is using much more expensive parts than he is. Not seeing the radio, OPA goes by the catalogue, sees that his figures check, and unknowingly sets his ceiling at a price higher than that particular radio calls for.

Methods used to catch the cheats are astonishingly simple in some cases although they can not be disclosed here.

Bullock Forges Ahead In Race For Senate

ABILENE, July 25 (AP) — Senator Pat Bullock of Colorado City today gained what appeared to be a decisive lead of 796 votes over Lieut. Ted Miles of Selman Field, La., in the race for the Democratic nomination for state senator from the 24th district.

The count was 17,059 for Bullock and 16,263 for Lt. Miles, with returns from four of the 12 counties complete and only scattered votes to be counted.

The 30-year-old air forces officer's candidacy was handled by friends in his hometown, Stamford. Early Sunday Miles held a three-vote lead but Bullock had gained an 11-vote lead early today and this trend continued in late counting.

American Republics Agree On Argentina

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP) — Secretary of State Hull indicated today that the American republics have reached general agreement on their attitude toward the government of Argentina, but he declined to discuss its details.

At a press conference, Hull recalled that conferences had been going on for some time concerning the Argentine situation. Recently, some of the conferring ministers had sought to clarify the situation because of confusion created, Hull said, by sinister and subversive elements.

He did not define those elements nor say in what way they had been sinister and subversive.

Control Of Aviation Gas Is Tightened

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP) — Control of high-octane aviation gasoline and its components has been tightened by the Petroleum Administration for War and the aviation petroleum products allocation committee with "directive 77," effective July 24, Deputy Petroleum Administrator Ralph K. Davies announced today.

"The increasing tempo of the war in the sky and the mounting military demands for high octane aviation gasoline makes it necessary to have complete control of the manufacture, blending, transfer and delivery of finished aviation gasoline," PAW said.

The new order makes it possible for PAW to rewrite its directive to meet current needs by incorporating an old recommendation made three months before Pearl Harbor, PAW said. These recommendations in effect called on refiners to concentrate on manufacture and blending of high octane aviation gasoline.

WFA Claims Farmers Get Extra Egg Money

AUSTIN, July 25 (AP) — Texas farmers received about $6,500,000 additional income from their egg production in April, May and June because of the War Food administration's egg purchases under its support price program, C. B. Hodges acting district representative of WFA's office of distribution, said today.

Egg production in Texas for the three months amounted to approximately 5,000 cars. When the price of eggs dropped to below support levels WFA launched a buying program stabilizing the market at 26 cents, for current receipts. Graded eggs were also purchased by WFA at comparable higher prices.

Lubbock Boy Is On All-America Team

Magazine Honors Burl Gene Moore

Look magazine hit the news stands from coast to coast today, and with it went fame for Burl Gene Moore, the blonde comet, and Lubbock High school. A letter received yesterday from the publishers of the magazine told that Moore was being placed on its first team of an All-American track and field squad.

Moore, who as a senior in Lubbock High school this spring, set the best time for 440 yard dash in the state this year when he stepped off the distance in 49.5 seconds, a mark just .5 second above the state record. His time at the state meet in Austin finished the year as the tenth best time of the nation.

Entered National AAU

Bad weather at a number of the meets in which Moore was entered greatly hampered his showing, but he hit his peak in the state meet. He later represented Lubbock at the National AAU meet in New York.

Moore was beaten at the national meet after being bottled in the race, but evidently showed enough merit in his lone Eastern appearance to catch the eye of Look's critics and land him a place on the "dream team."

Enrolls At Rice

Moore left Lubbock last Saturday for Houston where he was scheduled to enroll Monday, the day that Look announced the naming of Moore to the All-America honor roll, in Rice Institute.

Moore was a popular member of the local track team and had many well wishers among Lubbock fandom as the youngster was bringing fame to both himself and Lubbock on a national scale.

Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst, Lubbock Westerner track coach, was highly pleased when told Monday night of the honors, and said, "I congratulate Burl Gene on this honor, and believe him a truly All-American boy and athlete. If he follows track in college, this should be only the beginning of a great career."

Hayhurst was pleased with his first All-America product, and said that Burl Gene would rank alongside of two other great athletes that performed under Hayhurst as a high school coach, and later became All-Americans. They were Jim Neal, little All-America halfback at Texas Tech, and Gilliam Graham, at one time one of the nationally ranked javalin throwers. Both got their ground work at Brownfield High school under Hayhurst.

Sooners Given Good Chance To Repeat As Big Six Champs

NORMAN, Okla., July 25 (AP)—The little man with the big smile around Oklahoma university's campus these days is Dewey Luster, head football coach who says "no comment" when anyone asks him about the Sooners' chances of repeating as Big Six champions this fall.

But three all-Big Six stars, seven other lettermen, and a prospective 50-man squad make prospects bright in Soonerland, even if the bespectacled Luster won't make any predictions.

Derald Lebow, halfback; J. W. (Dub) Wooten, end, and Bob Mayfield, center are the three all-Big Six boys who will report September 1 for fall practice.

Forty Men Reporting

Forty men are reporting for summer drills, learning the single wing and Luster's version of the T formation.

V-12 enrollees, and a healthy sprinkling of topnotch high school stars will bolster the Sooner squad.

The Sooners will open their season against the Norman Navy Zoomers September 30.

The remainder of the schedule includes games with three Southwest conference schools:

Oct. 7—Texas Aggies at Oklahoma City (night).

Oct. 14—Texas at Dallas.

Oct. 28—Texas Christian at Oklahoma City (night).

Flight B Keeps Lead In LAAF League

Flight B retained a stranglehold on the leadership in the Lubbock Army Air field softball league race Monday afternoon by roaring to a 3 to 0 win over Section F in the feature game. Flight B has been beaten only once this season.

Hayes turned in another well pitched battle in blanking the Section F club, and aided his own cause with a homer. Freeman pitched for the losers.

Hollis also pitched a shutout in league play Monday as he blanked Hanger, 2 to 0, in another close pitching duel with Loevell.

Baker pitched Section B to a 6-1 victory over Finance with Smith doing the chunking for the losers. Other games on the card were more one sided affairs with Section E blasting out an 11-4 victory over Section A with Squires pitching for the winners and Koeling for the losers. The Flying Officers won 14-3 over the Administrative Officers in the remaining game on the card. Lt. Siedzlack pitched for the winners and Lt. Morgan toiled for the losers.

New Mexico U. Has Grid Squad Of 62

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 25 (AP)—Coach Willis Barnes, whose New Mexico university Lobos went to the Sun Bowl last year, has a "promising group of 62 players" for his 1944 football squad.

The coach termed the boys who answered the first call to practice yesterday "a mighty nice bunch—not so heavy but they are fast."

Although releasing no names, Barnes said most of the candidates have had high school experience and a few have played college ball.

New Mexico university opens its schedule here against the Amarillo Army Air base on Sept. 13.

All-St. Louis Series Seen

Browns Split Even With Red Sox

(By The Associated Press)

St. Louis was in a good spot today to start planning for that all-Sportsman's park World series.

The Cardinals were 13½ games out in front of the National league traveling at a pace that should clinch the flag by Labor day. If the Red Birds don't falter they will win 110 games and crowd the all-time record set by Frank Chance's Chicago Cubs who won 116 in 1906. The best since then was the 110 taken by the Yankees in 1927.

Luke Sewell's Brownies broke even in two important four-game series with Boston and New York and now entertain seventh and eighth place Washington and Philadelphia while the Yanks and Red Sox tangle with the surging Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers.

Browns Split Even

While the Brownies were hard pressed to split even with their closest contenders, Cleveland took seven of eight from the other eastern visitors and moved to within four and a half of the leaders.

The Tribe steamrollered Washington, 10-1 yesterday as Ed "Specs" Klieman stopped the Nats with four hits for his eighth victory. Mickey Rocco drove in five runs to help Early Wynn blow his sixth straight and 13th of the year.

Denny Galehouse took Nels Potter's turn for St. Louis and whipped Boston, 6-5, although relief help from George Caster was needed when the Sox spurted for four in the eighth. Potter, suspended for 15 days after the "spit ball" incident, will not be available until July 31.

Bonham Scatters Hits

Ernie "Jumbo" Bonham scattered 10 Chicago hits while Johnny Lindell set the slugging pace with four hits in an 11-5 Yankees triumph over Buck Ross.

Dizzy Trout whitewashed Philadelphia, 1-0, for his 14th win to move Detroit back into the .500 circle at Bobo Newsom's expense. Rudy York's double scored Rog Cramer to break the ice in the fourth.

Teddy Wilks, husky Cardinal rookie, continued his sensational success story by whipping Boston's Jim Tobin, 7-1, with the help of three successive doubles by Martin Marion.

Brooks Stage Big Rally

Brooklyn had its biggest inning of the year, scoring nine times in the lucky seventh, including a 2-run homer by Dixie Walker, to rout Rip Sewell and defeat Pittsburgh, 12-7. Charley Fuchs, recently acquired from the Browns, was credited with his first victory.

The New York Giants exploded on Claude Passeau for four runs in the eighth to pull out a 5-3 nod over Chicago with Phil Weintraub's double providing the tying and winning run for Reliefer Rube Fischer.

Cincinnati and Philadelphia was rained out.

Federal Employes Win 2-0 Over Induction

The 23rd street and Avenue W softball diamond was the scene of a bitterly fought softball battle Monday evening as the Federal employes nosed out a 2 to 0 victory as Howard outpitched Williamson for the win over the Armed Services Induction Station.

The Federals pushed over runs in the second and fifth innings, but could muster only three hits off the delivery of Williamson. The Induction Station ten combed only two hits from Howard's delivery.

DYKES SIGNED

CHICAGO, July 25 (AP)— Baseball's rumor-peddlers scurried for cover today as James J. (Jimmie) Dykes signed a new contract extending his managership of the Chicago White Sox through 1945 and 1946.

McSpaden And Nelson Setting Blistering Pace In Golf Play

CHICAGO, July 25 (AP) — The most intense competitive rivalry in golf is found in the stroke-by-stroke record this season of Harold "Jug" McSpaden and Byron Nelson. Their remarkable scoring has given them the strongest monopoly on titles in the game's modern history.

In 52 rounds of tournament play only five strokes separate the two pros—Nelson with a total of 3,613 and McSpaden with 3,618.

Nelson has clipped 84 strokes off par to average 69.50 per round; McSpaden has beaten par by 84 strokes for a 69.57 average. Out of their reach, however, is the coveted Harry Vardon memorial trophy for low scoring, which has been retired for the duration.

Four Tournaments To Go

But which of the two rightly deserves to be known as the No. 1 golfer of the year? They still have four major tournaments to go on the summer circuit—richest in golf history—the national P. G. A., the Tam O'Shanter and the Nashville, Tenn., and Dallas opens.

On the basis of number of titles won and amount of war-bond earnings, McSpaden has an edge over his Toledo opponent. Jug has finished first five times, second four times and third twice. Nelson has won three titles, placed second six times and third twice. The former has accumulated $19,650 in war bonds, maturity value—an amount which surpasses the all-time money winnings record of $19,354 by Sam Snead in 1938. Nelson has bagged $16,841 in bonds.

Sears Beats Purina Mills In Slugfest

Sears and Roebuck's junior baseball nine broke into the win column Monday afternoon at Chapman field by outslugging Purina Mills, 12-9, by quelling an uprising in the sixth inning that threatened to turn the tables of the game.

Charles Pressley blanked the Millers for the first three innings, gave up two runs in the next two innings, and appeared to be coasting in with an easy win when the fireworks started.

Purina Mills opened up the big guns in the sixth and when they had been repulsed, seven runs had trickled across the plate, but darkness halted the ball game before the Millers had another chance at the bat.

George Brewer started the Sears nine off to a running start in the first inning when he blasted out a home run after Sikes had walked and Wall had doubled. They added three more in the second, and scored in pairs in the fourth, fifth and sixth.

Other seeded players won their opening matches with ease. Ed Ray, Sinton, Tex., seeded No. 2, defeated Walter English of Hamtramck, Mich., 6-2, 6-1, and Robert Davis, Chicago, seeded No. 4, defeated Richard Johnson of Ironwood, Mich., 6-0, 6-2.

Hutson Leads In Golf Meet

Five Complete 36-Hole Rounds

The Optimist club inter-civic golf tournament got into motion Sunday and Monday at the Meadowbrook golf course with Truman Hutson takeing a 21 stroke lead over H. M. Chick in the championship flight match as the pair reached the halfway mark in their 72 hole battle.

Hutson turned in a score of 155 over the first 36 holes Sunday afternoon and appeared to be within easy sailing of the championship. This bracket will be the only 72-hole match on the program.

Five Finish Up

Five golfers completed their 36-hole rounds over the weekend with Guy Wheatley setting the pace in Flight B, A. A. Marchant in Flight C, and Sloan Fortenberry in Flight D.

Wheatley toured the 36 holes in 162 strokes to set a target for the others in this flight to shoot at. It is the only Flight B match completed.

The crowded third flight race produced two finishers with Marchant nosing out Louis Kerr by three strokes as Marchant shot a 186 and Kerr a 189.

Fortenberry finished his 36 holes in Flight D with a score of 198, and Cliff Cummings came in with a 208 in the only finishers in this bracket.

Seven Half-Way

Seven others reported scores for the first half of their rounds with Charley Young shooting an 85 over the first 18 holes in the Flight B race. Harry Delaney, the sole Flight D performer, finished the first half of his match with a score of 100.

Two serious threats in Flight C loomed in the early scores posted by L. O. Neill and Powell McWhirter who finished the first 18 holes with scores of 88, which leave them well in the running for the championship.

Other Flight C golfers who completed the 18 holes reported in with scores of 94 for Cliff Widner, 97 for Jack Diamond and 100 for Grady Knight.

The golfers have until Friday to complete their rounds, and are urged to get this done as early as possible for there can be no extension of the time.

Rotary Club Wins Over Jaycees, 8-4

Walter Higginbotham had a bad first inning Monday afternoon at Tech field, and was touched for four runs and three hits. But there was nothing bad about the rest of the ball game as Higginbotham let the Junior Chamber of Commerce down without a run or a hit and pitched the Rotary club to an 8 to 4 victory.

Higginbotham was hit hard and often in that first inning as the Jaycees bounded away to an early lead, but the youthful mound artist settled down nicely and his mates came from behind to take the lead in the third inning, then push ahead in the fourth.

B. K. Boyer took the mound for the Jaycees, and limited the Rotary club to four hits, but wildness marred his work as he walked 11 men. He struck out eight men.

Higginbotham walked four men and struck out six.

The new director was a major league baseball umpire for many years and until two years ago was umpire-in-chief of the National League.

An estimated two million homes in the United States are still lighted by kerosene lamps.

Guy Bush Is Planning Comeback In Sports

Bush arrived here yesterday for a trial with the faltering Chattanooga Lookouts and was busy discussing a contract with Club President Joe Engel today.

To The Voters of Precinct 4:

I desire to express my thanks and my gratitude.

In Saturday's Primary I felt complimented by the substantial lead over my nearest opponent. All the more do I feel grateful of the primary results because I had four as worthy opponents as any man could have. The campaign was conducted by them in keeping with the high type of men they are known to be.

In the second primary to be held in August I trust that I may be worthy of the support of those who gave their loyalty to my opponents now eliminated and to the continued support of those who favored me.

Jet-Power Turbines To Be Manufactured

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., July 25 (AP) — The General Electric company announced today plans for production of jet propulsion aircraft turbines for the War department. It also revealed it had perfected electronic equipment which can measure the speed of projectiles within 1/100,000th of a second.

The concern said 600,000 feet of floor space, built two years ago to make war equipment no longer needed by the Allied forces, was being converted for production of jet-propelled turbines, and that jet propulsion specifications prepared by General engineers also had been turned over to another company formrly engaged in making conventional airplane engines.

Harry A. Winne, engineering vice president, said that in the substratosphere the propellerless jet turbine works better than an airplane propeller because:

"The air resistance in the plane is less, and the jet power plane doesn't have to air to push against—the jet of gases moves in one direction; the inevitable reaction pushes the plane in the opposite direction."

The electronic equipment announced by General Electric already is in use at the Army's Aberdeen, Md., ordnance research center proving grounds. It automatically measures the speed of a magnetized shell fired through a series of electric coils spaced 100 feet apart, and records it on an electric typewriter.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, July 25 — The uncensored diplomatic pouch from London reports that the proportion of Americans being killed by Hitler's robot bombs is greater than the proportion of British. This is because Americans in London haven't learned to adjust themselves to living in a city where death lurks at every corner.

Since the number of Americans in London is less than the number of British, the total number of Americans killed is naturally less than the number of British killed, but proportionately American lives lost are greater.

PEARSON

What happens is that a Britisher walking down a London street instinctively looks for the nearest lamppost, pillar, pile of bricks or anything that will serve as protection. He does this before there is any explosion or even any noise of an approaching robot. He has been trained to do it for four long and perilous years during which death was constantly dropping out of the sky, in the same way that a single-engine airplane pilot flying from Washington to New York is constantly on the lookout for emergency landing places such as cow pastures, even when his motor is whirring perfectly.

Because Americans aren't trained in watching for means of protection in the street, they lose that split second's time necessary to get out of the way of flying glass and bricks.

In addition, American troops suffered one unhappy accident when a robot bomb landed in the middle of a detail of men who were getting ready to leave in trucks. Lined up in a London street, they were wiped out.

DESTRUCTION OF THE ROBOT

AUTHENTIC London reports are not too encouraging regarding destruction of the robot bomb. Greatest success has been in knocking it out in the air with fighter planes. However, it takes a robot just 3 and ½ minutes to cross the channel, so the fighters have to work with terrific speed. (Total time from the bomb's launching until the time it hits London is estimated at 10 minutes).

If they knock the bomb down over London, it explodes with just as much damage as if they had let it alone, so there is only one place to go after it — over the channel.

Once a robot escapes the fighters and passes over London, antiaircraft fire is stopped and the only thing to do is to let the bomb take its course and explode wherever it hits.

Furthermore, it is not easy to knock down a robot over the channel. Gunfire must strike its nose in order to explode it. A cannon ball in the body of the robot plane, however, will usually knock it out. Some intrepid fighters have flown up very close — the robot cannot fire back — and tipped up its wing with the wing of the fighter. When the robot's wing is tipped more than 45 degrees, the gyroscope which keeps it on balance fails to function and the robot goes into a dive.

If the fighter is too close when a robot explodes in the air, the repercussion is so great that the fighter sometimes is knocked to pieces.

Bombing the robot launching platforms is also extremely difficult because they are protected with tons of concrete. About the only way to blow them up is to place a bomb squarely in the mouth of the launching platform. However, since the mouth of the platform slopes into the concrete at a gentle angle, like the entrance to a hillside coal mine, it is difficult to drop a bomb inside.

NOTE: The Germans recently have perfected a clock which goes off inside the robot about ten minutes after it leaves France, or about the time it is over London. This clock turns the robot's tail rudder so that it makes an eerie, graceful curve as if someone were inside piloting it, or as if it were radio-controlled. This sudden turn is calculated by the Germans to send it in a different direction from that in which the British are preparing to receive it.

NEW CABINET FOR 4TH TERM

IF the President makes the grade next November, those who have talked to him say you can expect some sweeping cabinet changes before he is inaugurated for the fourth time.

Inside fact is that the Dewey taunts about "old men" running the Roosevelt cabinet have nettled the man who appointed them. Having caused a national convulsion over old men on the Supreme court, the President knows he is on weak ground in keeping 70-year-olds in key cabinet jobs during war-time.

Actually, if it were not for the fact that it would be interpreted as bowing before Dewey, Roosevelt probably would dump over some cabinet ballast this summer.

However, you can mark it down as certain that, if the President is re-elected, the resignation of every cabinet member will be submitted; and if not voluntarily submitted, they will be asked for. Out of the list, close friends say, the following resignations will be accepted:

Secretary of War Stimson, age 78.

Secretary of State Hull, age 72.

Secretary of Commerce Jones, age 70.

In addition, it is likely that the resignations of several others will be accepted, regardless of age — among them, Secretary of Labor Perkins, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and Secretary of the Navy Forrestal.

Miss Perkins submitted her resignation Jan. 20, 1941, but it has lain in the President's files ever since. Morgenthau is not in the best of health and would like to retire at the President's convenience. All in all those in the White House circle swear that, once the campaign is over, there will be a lot of new faces in Washington.

BOSSES ANGERED DELEGATES

THE smoke-filled room at the Democratic convention turned out to be Ed Flynn's suite in the Blackstone hotel. (Leo Crowley's might have been also, except that he doesn't permit smoking).

It was from Ed Flynn's room that the big-city bosses put in the telephone call to "the boss in the White House" which got the delegates up in arms against city-boss dictation.

The boss in the White House wasn't in the White House at the time, but at another point, not easily accessible by telephone. However, FDR was finally reached by phone, and several of the big-city bosses took turns talking to him. Those present with Flynn were Boss Hague of Jersey City, Boss Ed Kelly of Chicago and Boss Bob Hannegan of the Democratic national committee.

Kelly and Hannegan did most of the talking. They wanted the President's O. K. on Senator Truman of Missouri for vice president — and they got it. In fact, the President, according to what they said after they hung up, wanted Truman to the exclusion of Wallace, Senator Barkley or any other vice presidential candidate.

It was after word of this dictum percolated out that Senator Barkley of Kentucky threatened to withdraw his speech nominating Roosevelt for a fourth term. Barkley indicated that, if the President didn't want him as vice president, then he didn't want F. D. Roosevelt as President.

Barkley's nominating speech had already been mimeographed and sent to the press, so the idea of his recalling the speech sent shivers up and down the spinal columns of the bosses.

Barkley didn't resent the letter Roosevelt wrote for Wallace. But he did resent the fact that the President, after telling the convention to debate "the pros and cons," then turned around and instructed the bosses that he definitely wanted Senator Truman. Barkley was spurred on by his son-in-law, Max Truitt, and by Max's law associate Bill Stanley, former assistant to Attorney General Homer Cummings. Nevertheless, he was pretty sore on his own.

However, "Dear Alben" was not the only one who was sore. When word leaked out that the big-city bosses had talked to the White House boss and were swinging the convention to Truman, plenty of other delegates were sore too.

"What planet to astronomers know most about?"—From quiz column. The earth, perhaps?

Feminine Viewpoint

BY RUTH MILLETT

(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

WOMEN are supposed to be the ones concerned with personal appearance.

But have you noticed how seriously men are discussing the appeal of Thomas Dewey? They speak and write of his personal "oomph" or lack of it.

MILLETT

They discuss his height with as much concern as though they were trying to fix him up a blind date — instead of trying to get him in or keep him out of the White House. They talk about the appeal of his radio voice, and from the conversation you might think they were discussing Frank Sinatra. They talk about his smile.

And in all these aspects he is compared, either favorably or unfavorably, with the man in the White House.

THIS IS DIFFERENT

Doesn't it sound for all the world like a bunch of women discussing a candidate for president of the women's club?

But don't laugh. When men go in for this kind of comparison it isn't silly, or inconsequential. It is mighty important. They even have a high sounding phrase for it. They call it a candidate's vote-getting ability.

If it were women discussing two women candidates, it would be just so much feminine chatter and cattiness. But this is entirely different. If you don't believe it just dare to smile when you hear a group of men arguing over who has the more thrilling radio voice, Dewey or Roosevelt. You'll get put in your place, and fast. After all, that's mighty important!

Today's Journal Editorial

OUR LENGTHENING LIFE SPAN

From one of the major insurance companies came a report recently which is given an especial interest at this time because of the proposed national public health program now pending before Congress.

The insurance company started a four-point health campaign among its wage-earning policyholders in the United States and Canada in 1909. The report made the other day discloses that, at the end of 35 years of the campaign, the expectancy of life of the wage-earning, or industrial policyholder has been increased more than 17 years.

In 1909, according to the report, the expectancy of life of such policyholders at birth was 46.6 years. In 1943, it was 64 years.

During the same time, the expectancy of all policyholders was increased about 11 years, from 55 years in 1909 to 64 years in 1943.

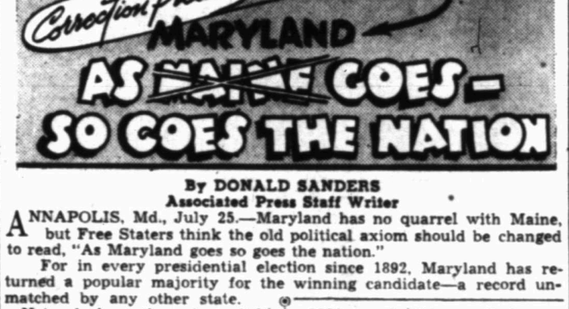

No explanation is offered for the greater increase in expectancy of life of the industrial policyholder. However, at least one of the important reasons is readily apparent. Undoubtedly it lies in the fact that working conditions of wage-earners taken as a whole have been improved very greatly within the past 35 years. Safeguards for the health and safety of workers are required today which would have seemed fantastic in 1909.

Also credited with an important part in lengthening the life span have been campaigns like that which the insurance company report has conducted. These, for the most part, have been campaigns of education and preservation.

It goes without saying that everyone gives approval to such campaigns. Their records of achievements offer the complete proof that they are very much worthwhile.

They have been so successful that the question might be pertinent: Could those programs have been any more successful if they had been directed by a government agency and financed by the taxpayer? Many taxpayers might be inclined to doubt it.

If they do have doubts, then they might be in favor of continuing health activities which have obtained such outstanding results without costing them one red cent. Taxpayers might be more reluctant to approve a program for which an initial appropriation of two billion dollars is asked to put it into operation.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., July 25.—Maryland has no quarrel with Maine, but Free Staters think the old political axiom should be changed to read, "As Maryland goes so goes the nation."

For in every presidential election since 1892, Maryland has returned a popular majority for the winning candidate—a record unmatched by any other state.

Not only have the voters of this state had their money on 13 consecutive winners, but in many of the elections the percentage of their ballots given the candidates has almost matched that in the nation as a whole.

Started In '92

Maryland started giving majorities to presidential winners on a consecutive basis with Grover Cleveland's second election in 1892. The state previously had given him a majority when he won in 1884 and again in 1888 when he lost to Benjamin Harrison, and the latter election was the last in which the Free State voted for a loser.

In the years that followed, Maryland returned popular majorities for McKinley twice, Theodore Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson twice, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover and for Franklin D. Roosevelt three times.

Neck And Neck

In recent elections, this is how Maryland's popular vote compered with that of the nation:

1920—Harding polled more than 55 per cent of the Maryland vote as compared with 60½ per cent in the nation;

1924 — Coolidge polled more than 44 per cent in Maryland, 54 in the nation. This was the year in which the elder Robert M. LaFollette ran on a progressive ticket, polling 13 per cent of the ballots in Maryland as compared with 16½ per cent in the nation as a whole;

1928—Hoover polled 57 per cent in Maryland, 58 in the nation;

1932—Roosevelt polled 61½ per cent in Maryland, 57 in the nation;

1936—Roosevelt polled 62 per cent in Maryland, more than 60 per cent in the nation;

But In '44?

1940 — Roosevelt polled more than 58 per cent in Maryland, about 55 per cent in the nation.

This entrenched habit of backing winners—perhaps born of the long hours Marylanders spend on trying to pick race track winners—won't provide a tip-off on the outcome of this year's election.

The state administration is solidly Democratic, although Baltimore city, with half the state's population, now has its first Republican mayor in more than a quarter of a century.

Germans Hope For Negotiated Peace, Correspondent Says

By JOHN COLBURN

(Associated Press Correspondent who has just returned after 14 months at Stockholm, crossroads of northern Europe and a hotbed of intrigue, spies, diplomats and refugees.)

NEW YORK, July 25.—The best information reaching Stockholm recently from besieged Germany indicates that both the people and the high command know the war is lost, but that they still have strong hopes of mitigating the result.

They still think they have a chance for a negotiated peace.

The information comes from varied sources, and with regularity.

Anticipate Losses

Germans who want to see an Allied victory told me before I left Stockholm that Wilhelmstrasse officials and the Nazi high command know this is the decisive summer—perhaps the last summer of the war in Europe. They anticipate battlefield losses and retreats, but hope to accomplish two things:

(1) Wage such a bitter, definsive warfare—the indiscriminate bombardment of southern England with the new flying bomb is an example—that enormous casualties will create on the homefronts of Britain and America a wave of peace sentiment.

(2) Continue ceaseless propaganda in an effort to spread distrust among the Allies and so wreck the "unconditional surrender" program.

The best information available in Sweden provided this picture of conditions inside Germany as the Allied armies in France, Italy, Russia and Yugoslavia tighten their ring of steel:

Eat Fairly Well

Germans still eat fairly well, except for fats and fruits. However, the agricultural situation, aggravated by the loss of the Ukraine, is growing worse and the outlook for the winter is not good.

German people are tired of war. Thousands of homes have been wrecked and families dislocated by bombings. Battle casualties mount daily. The people no longer have faith in Propaganda Minister Goebbels, but neither do they believe the Allies, describing their information as "all lies."

Still Have Sports

However, they continue to work in the war factories, although many must arise as early as 4 a. m. because of bad transportation. They support the war because they are imbued with the idea that their own lives depend on it.

Germany still has its thronged horse tracks and athletic arenas. Germans spend freely, putting little stock in money. Black markets flourish.

One black market dealer operated like this. He advertised that he'd lost a billfold containing the equivalent of $30. He offered the finder a pound of butter. Often he distributed four or five "rewards" a day until his butter supply ran out.

Life still goes on in Berlin, Hamburg, Cologne and other bombed German cities. Often people make their homes in basements. There is no glass to replace shattered windows. Soap is almost impossible to get. Tooth paste tastes like sand. There is a critical shortage of medical supplies.

Hold Everything

"The sergeant certainly speeded up the show with his double time!"

Walter Winchell

ON BROADWAY

(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

THE Big show every four years, the Democrats and the Republicans gather in some large city for the ostensible purpose of selecting candidates for the Presidency and the Vice-Presidency and to formulate a "party platform." Before the date of the convention is announced, the back-roomers have already written down the names of the standard-bearers, and the double-talkers are already at work on the platform. But every Presidential convention has actually served several purposes, of which these are a few:

1—It brings hundreds of delegates thousands of miles from comfortable homes to perspire in hotel rooms which they cannot rent.

WINCHELL

2 — It increases the consumption of liquor in the convention city by 300%, putting bathtubs to very unconventional use.

3—It fills nite clubs to overflowing with visiting firemen and burning curiosities.

4—It gives little men an opportunity to carry big signs and exchange midget ideas.

The greatest problem at these conventions is not the selection of a candidate, but the selection of sleeping quarters. At the recent G.O.P. conclave, one delegate asked another: "Did you get a room?"

"What do I want with a room?" asked the other. "I'm only going to be here three days!"

A political convention attracts more hangers-on than the circus. A newspaper reporter, in Chicago to cover one of the conventions, asked his cab driver about a crowd of men he spotted congesting a busy corner. "Oh, them," said the cabbie, "they're durliks."

"Durliks?" queried the reporter. "What's them?"

"Durliks," said the driver. "You know—bums!".

How does a Persidential candidate feel just before the convention? On June 17, 1912, ten days before his party's caucus was scheduled to meet in Baltimore, Woodrow Wilson wrote to a friend: "What we now look forward to with not a little dread are the possibilities of the next fortnight in politics . . . I find myself dreading it and wishing most devoutly that I may escape. Not that I dread what would be really big and essential and worth while in the whole thing, but all that would go with it—all that is non-essential, not of the business, merely distracting and exhausting and hateful without counting the excessive personal tax of a campaign. May the Lord have mercy on me!"

The lack of clear-cut issues in the current campaign is nothing new. In 1840, there was little difference between the party planks of William Henry Harrison and Martin Van Buren, yet the ensuing struggle for power, termed the Log Cabin and Hard Cider campaign, was one of the most hectic in American history . . . The Democrats differed with the Republicans on only one issue in 1924—the League of Nations—yet the campaign which followed the naming of Coolidge and John W. Davis ignored this issue completely.

SO DULL are the much-ballyhooed political conventions, that newspapermen are frequently at their wits-end to dig up an interesting story to send back on the wires. The frantic efforts of radio commentators and feature writers to inject a note of suspense and excitement into the dismal proceedings of one such convention reminded some of us of a world series ball game some years ago. It was one of the dullest contests on record. The crowd was apathetic. The occupants of the press box sat twiddling their thumbs. The late Graham McNamee, however, reporting the game over the radio, was beside himself with excitement, literally shrieking the details into the microphone. "We're seeing history made here today," said Grantland Rice to a confederate. "It's the first doubleheader ever played in a world series."

"Whaddaya mean?" asked Dan Daniels idly.

"You don't believe," said Rice, "that this game we're watching and the one McNamee is describing over that mike are the same?"

In the 1940 Democratic convention, a reporter's interest was attracted to a pair of over-size McNutt campaign buttons worn by a pair of over-size Hoosier matrons in the Hotel Stevens lobby. The reporter asked the women whether they knew if McNutt was out for the Presidency or the Vice-Presidency. One of them inclined her head confidentially close to his ear and whispered: "He's for vice—he's out for vice!"

* * *

The term "Grand Old Party" was used to designate the Democratic Party. In 1879, Sen. Hill of Georgia said: "We come back to the grand old party (the Democrats) of the north, that never went off after secession" . . . In 1888, the term G.O.P. appeared in the Congressional Record via an unidentified Congressman, who said: "A proposed protection tax is the doing of the G.O.P.—the Grand Old Party—the Republican Party!"

Ernie Catches Up On "Odds And Ends" Of Invasion

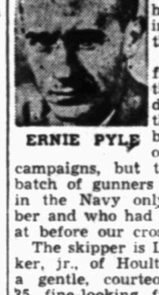

Morale Is High Among U. S. Invading Forces

By ERNIE PYLE

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE, (By Wireless) — I'm sending this column for some rainy day when the regular piece doesn't get through on time.

This one contains a few odds and ends which I didn't get down before about our invasion voyage across the channel to France.

I came on a Navy LST which was a veteran of Sicily and Italy. She went up to England during the winter and had just been lying around since then.

ERNIE PYLE

She has a very fine crew, from the captain on down. Most of the crew have been through other amphibious campaigns, but there is a new batch of gunners who have been in the Navy only since December and who had never been shot at before our crossing.

The skipper is Lt. John D. Walker, jr., of Houlton, Me. He is a gentle, courteous bachelor of 35, fine-looking, fine-minded, and beloved by his whole crew. Morale is high on this ship. A sailor will get you aside and tell you what a fine ship it has been since Walker took command.

Walker ran a Chevrolet and Cadillac agency in his home town, but he is not the high-powered-salesman type at all. Aboard ship his discipline is the kindly rather than the Simon Legree variety.

"Worries All Time"

For example, there was a little exchange that I witnessed between him and the table waiter in the wardroom.

We had so many Army officers aboard that they practically crowded the Navy staff out of its own ship. At mealtime the few Navy colored boys were hard put to keep the tables waited on.

One of these was a little sailor nicknamed Peewee, who hasn't been out in the big world very much. At first you think he is sullen, but later you learn it is just a facial expression and he means all right. One day he went to Captain Walker and said:

"Captain, I guess you think I'm grouchy, but it ain't that. It's just that I'm worrying all the time."

CAPTAIN Walker had been trying to teach Peewee some nice diningroom manners. Trying to teach him to put things before his guests delicately, and not to jostle the guests or throw things at them.

One day I was eating next to the captain, and an Army colonel was at the same table. Peewee wanted the colonel to get up and make room for somebody else, so he just reached over the colonel's shoulder and started mopping the tables with a wet cloth, sort of pushing the colonel out of the way as he did so.

The colonel took the hint and got up and left. The captain saw it, and was a little embarrassed. So he said to Peewee, in a very kindly voice:

"Peewee, you kind of bruised the colonel, didn't you?"

And Peewee, not getting the subtle hint, and taking the captain literally, replied:

"No, sir, I didn't push him hard enough to hurt him."

The captain just shook his head in despair and went on eating.

Capt. Pershing Aboard

Among the Army personnel aboard our ship was Capt. Warren Pershing, son of General Pershing. The captain, who is not a professional soldier at all, started out as a private in this war. He is in the engineers.

He is a tall, blond, regular fellow and everybody likes him. He leans over backward not to trade on his father's name. He doesn't speak of the general unless you ask him.

I ASKED if the general was still at Walter Reed hospital. He said yes, and that his father was very excited because they had just built him a penthouse on the hospital roof.

I have been told that despite his age and poor health General Pershing is very close to this war, and that some of our general staff call on him almost daily for advice and counsel.

On the way across the channel, Captain Pershing's commanding officer gave him a mission to perform the moment he hit the beach. His mission was to steal a bulldozer at a certain spot, right away.

I checked up a couple of days later to see if he had succeeded. He not only showed up with the bulldozer but with a hundred men as well. He even got the bulldozer without stealing it. Just talked somebody out of it.

French Village Burned To Ground By Nazis

BERN, July 25 (AP)—The French section of the village of St. Gingolph straddling the border with Switzerland was burned to the ground yesterday by Nazis in swift retaliation for a raid by French patriots, and 350 elderly men, women and children fled across the border to Swiss soil.

Several civilians were summarily shot. A number of persons were arrested.

The Nazis moved in quickly in motor vehicles and turned flamethrowers on homes and nearby farms.

Reports from France yesterday said members of the French maquis had raided the village, cleared out the German garrison, then retired.

Argentina Recalls Ambassador In U.S.

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, July 25—Troubled relations between the United States and Argentina appeared entering a new period of strain today with the recall to Buenos Aires of Dr. Adrian Escobar, the Argentine ambassador here.

Argentina's decision to recall Escobar caused no surprise in diplomatic circles here since the United States ambassador at Buenos Aires, Norman Armour, was recalled last month.

It was considered significant, however, that the action came only a few hours after Secretary of State Cordell Hull confirmed a United Press report that he had redefined the U. S. policy regarding Argentina in a memorandum to the other American republics.

Clarification Indicated

The memorandum was understood to be an indirect reply to various messages transmitted to the United States by Argentina in an effort to clear up what she considers "misunderstandings" of her foreign policy.

Hull told his news conference yesterday that confusion being created by subversive and sinister elements around the Argentine issue prompted him and other American statesmen to clarify that situation. Hull differentiated between American nations supporting the United Nations and that nation—presumably Argentina—supporting another cause.

It was learned reliably that the memorandum made clear to friendly American nations that the United States maintains that the Argentine government has failed to carry out the obligations she assumed voluntarily at the Havana conference of July, 1940.

Mutual Support Agreed

The United States, it was said, takes the position that nations signing resolution XV of the Havana meeting agreed to support each other when attacked by a non-American state, and that Argentina should have joined her sister republics in breaking with the Axis immediately after Pearl Harbor.

While Argentina did subsequently announce a break with the Axis, it was said, the United States position is that her government has not taken adequate steps to implement the break.

This country and other republics, together with Britain, have placed the government of President Edelmiro Farrell in a state of diplomatic isolation by recalling their ambassadors and ministers for "consultation."

U. S. Policies Criticized

Many persons in this country, including Former Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles, have criticized the State department's policy of non-recognition toward Argentina, charging that it constitutes intervention in the internal affairs of another country.

The department's policy, however, received a strong vote of confidence today from the National Lawyers guild, which charged that Welles' views were "without merit" and based on "utter fallacy."

A guild committee on inter-American affairs, headed by Judge John Gutnecht of Chicago, sent Hull a letter saying his policies with regard to Argentina "had the overwhelming support of the American people as well as the people and nations of the entire western hemisphere." Welles, the committee said, "seems bent on concealing the Fascist character of the Farrell regime.'

Home Town People Congratulate Truman

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., July 25 (U.P.)—Standing under a rose arbor in the back yard of his rambling home here, Sen. Harry S. Truman yesterday greeted thousands of friends, townspeople, former associates, war buddies and school chums who gathered to extend their congratulations to the Democratic nominee for vice president.

With the senator was his wife and 20-year-old daughter, Margaret.

The long line of well-wishers gathered early and at least 200 persons were standing in line throughout the evening to greet the family.

Mayor and Mrs. Roger T. Sermon of Independence were among the guests. Other visitors included members of battery D, 129th field artillery of the old 35th division in which the senator was a captain in the last war, and members of the American legion.

MARKET COMEBACK SLOW

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP) — Stocks rallied behind rails, steels and motors in today's market and the only fly in the pleasing ointment was to notable slowness of the comeback.

The direction was forward from the start, with the ticker tape frequently halting. Gains of fractions to 2 points or so were well distributed near the close. Transfers of around 800,000 shares were among the smallest for a full session in almost two months.

In front the greater part of the proceedings were Santa Fe, Southern Railway, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Goodrich, International Harvester, Dupont, Allied Chemical, Sears Roebuck and Pepsi-Cola. Pacific Tin edged into new high ground for 1944.

Aerial Assault

record for a single mission, set June 14.

On that day the U. S. Eighth Air force also put up something more than 1,500 heavies and they attacked a variety of objectives in Germany and France.

The heavy bombers were escorted by 500 fighters, which found the skies entirely free of German planes and were able to swoop and add their bullets to the attack.

Fighters Join Assault

Five hundred medium and light bombers followed the heavies into the attack from British bases, and they were supplemented by another 500 fighter bombers flying from bases in Normandy.

The bombardment began at about 10 a. m. (3 a. m., Central War time) and lasted for two and one-half hours.

Earlier, RAF mediums cracked down on enemy troops concentrations southeast of Caen, and RAF Mustang fighter bombers lashed at ground forces in the same area in support of the second army's new thrust toward Falaise.

American fighters, meanwhile, ranger as far inland as Paris, shooting up German ground installations and transport. They downed at least 12 enemy planes. Three of their own number failed to return.

The Allied aerial assault in support of the Normandy ground forces followed far-flung night operations by the RAF which included an attack on Stuttgart by a fleet of perhaps 1,000 heavy bombers and a Mosquito raid on Berlin. Other RAF bombers hit at Frankfurt and Aachen, attacked flying bomb sites in northern France, laid mines in enemy waters and attacked German shipping in the English channel.

Report 25 Planes Lost

From these and other operations 25 planes were reported missing.

Heavy bombardment by all types of Allied bombers preceded the forenoon drive by the American First Army against the Germans in the Lessay-Periers-St. Lo line, which field dispatches said was moving ahead in the face of stiff enemy opposition.

On the other end of the front RAF medium bombers blasted German concentrations in the La Hogue wood only 2,000 yards ahead of Allied positions southeast of Caen.

Southern France also was under attack last night for the second time in less than 24 hours as Italian-based bombers struck a German airfield in the Rhone valley in a quick followup to daylight blows yesterday on airdromes in that area by heavy bombers, which also smashed at targets in northern Italy and Yugoslavia.

these and other matters with his running mate, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, at Albany tomorrow.

Brownell Cites Enthusiasm

Herbert Brownell, jr., Republican national chairman, told a news conference at Washington that he has found "more enthusiasm, cooperation and spirit of victory in the party than there has been in a generation." He contrasted this with what he called "dissension, backbiting and confusion" among Democrats.

Brownell, mentioning no names, said that in control of the Democrats are "the bosses of the corrupt big city machines and the radical left wingers who are closer to communism than to any other political philosophy."

Truman Plans Campaign

Senator Harry S. Truman, the Democrats' choice for vice president in place of Henry Wallace, said at Kansas City that he would return to Washington after Aug. 1, "ready to campaign whenever and wherever the President wants me to."

Truman said he would be very happy to see President Roosevelt in Missouri "or anywhere."

Censorship restricts all information of the President's movements, and Truman said he hadn't heard from Mr. Roosevelt since the President telegraphed congratulations on Truman's nomination.

But Missouri Democrats think that Truman and the President may meet soon, possibly somewhere in the Middlewest, to discuss their plans.

Any employers and employes desiring information on the plan may attend the meeting, Waldron said. Waldron explained the priority-referral plan sketchily in his talk to the Lions. He was introduced by Raymond Burford, program chairman. Congressman Geo. Mahon spoke briefly following Waldron's talk. C. F. Boone was introduced as a new member of the club. Out-of-town guests included Joe Mott of New Orleans and C. Duke of Iowa Park.

Russia in the east. Russia also claims the Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania; parts of Finland and pre-war Romania.

The exiled Polish government in London, with which the Russians severed relations more than a year ago, was by-passed by the latest turn of events and refused comment on the new Moscow declaration, saying it was awaiting recreation in the United States and Britain.

The exiled group has been pinning its hopes in the Russian-Polish dispute on support of the people inside Poland.

The announcement of the post-war aims of the council and the establishment of a Polish Committee of National Liberation as the organ of executive power was interpreted to mean that so far as the Russian government was concerned the Polish government-in-exile in London no longer represents Poland.

Manifesto Issued

In a manifesto released yesterday but dated at Chelm, Poland, July 22 — the day the city was liberated from the Germans by the Red army — the council said the "basic principle" of Poland's postwar foreign policy would be "a firm alliance with our direct neighbors, with the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia" and that the "blood shed in joint battles against German aggression will further consolidate our friendship and strengthen our alliance with Great Britain and the United States . . ."

(The London Polish government, which has been recognized by the United States and Britain, declared the formation of the liberation committee was "an attempt by a handful of usurpers to impose on the Polish nation a political leadership which is at variance with the overwhelming majority.")

DEATH RATE LOW

LONDON, July 25. (AP) —Maj. Gen. Paul R. Hawley of the U. S. Medical corps, reporting an "excellent achievement," said today the death rate among wounded American soldiers admitted to U. S. Army hospitals in Britain had been four of every 1,000 patients. Among wounded treated by medical units in the combat zone, the rate was less than three per cent for the period from D-day, June 6, to June 30, he said.

LONDON, July 25. (AP)—London again was the target of German flying bomb attacks during the night. A number of the robots also fell at scattered points in the southern counties. The attacks were on a lesser scale than recent nights, however.

Two Nominees For Electors Face Fight

DALLAS, July 25. (AP) —Maury Hughes of Dallas told the Times Herald today a fight to remove Mrs. F. R. Carlton and E. B. Germany of Dallas as nominees for Texas Democratic electors would be made in Saturday's Dallas county convention.

Hughes was a member of the regular delegation to the national Democratic convention in Chicago, but was one of those who remained in the hall after the convention seated both the regular and Pro-Roosevelt groups. He voted for nomination of Roosevelt and Truman.

Hughes said the only way the two nominees could avoid facing a fight was to recant public statements made at Chicago that the national convention, by failure to meet certain conditions, had left them to vote against candidates it nominated.

Mrs. Carlton and Germany were named by the regular state convention May 23, which told its electors they would not be bound to vote for national nominees unless the conditions were met.

"The issue was clearly drawn in Texas by the nomination of President Roosevelt and Senator Truman by the Democratic national convention," said Hughes in a statement.

"We are going to fight in the county conventions, and at the state convention that meets in Dallas Sept. 12 to remove all so-called Democratic electoral nominees who will not agree to support the party's national ticket, and replace them with nominees who will do so," he added.

Normandy Fighting

tanks to hold their lines.

The British jumped off before dawn, and the American attack opened shortly before noon. Huge artillery barrages supported both drives.

Breaks 4-Day Stalemate

The double offensives broke a four-day stalemate in France.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, side-stepping a formidable German anti-tank screen southeast of Caen, sent his forces piling southward on the road to Falaise along a four-mile front, heading toward firm, open ground excellent for tank battles.

The ridge highway which the British and Canadians were following leads to Falaise and to Paris. In the early hours of the push, while the advancing troops still were shielded by ground mists, the British and Canadians reached May-Sur-Orne for an advance of 700 yards and Verrieres for a gain of 1,500 yards. They also reached Tilly-La-Campagne, nearly a mile east of the road. All these points are about five miles below Caen. Bad weather checked Gen. Montgomery's offensive last week.

Attack Is Shifted

Falaise is 20 miles southeast of Caen and 110 air line miles west of Paris.

Montgomery achieved an element of surprise — although the Germans for two days have been forecasting a drive — by shifting the weight of his attack during the lull five miles to the west. This shift was from the southeasterly highway toward Vimont and Paris, 120 miles away, to the more southerly highway to Falaise.

British ground troops signalled the air force that last night's bombardment concentrated in the La Hogue wood southeast of Caen and been "most effective." The weather today was described as good with virtually a cloudless sky.

Sidestepping Wall

It appeared that Montgomery was side stepping the hidden wall of anti-tank guns just southwest of Troarn which Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had managed to implant during the recent days of bad weather.

The assault along the Falaise road was authoritatively described as a resumption of the push from Caen which started just a week ago today and bogged down after two days in the face of torrential rains, mud and the concentrated fire power Rommel had assembled.

Supreme headquarters warned against premature interpretation of the new British drive as a break through and said it had "limited objectives," but this is a non-committal term which would cover a thrust as far as Montgomery's powerful and keyed-up fighting machine could press it.

(While the Allies said the new drive was preceded by only limited aerial bombardment, the German radio broadcast that "a burning veil of destruction covers the land" and said that Nazi troops underwent a terrific artillery and aerial bombardment.)

Brownell Charges Misuse Of Power

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP) — Herbert Brownell, jr., Republican national chairman, today charged President Roosevelt with cloaking in wartime secrecy of a conference with a "high Democratic leader" in Chicago on the President's trip to the West coast.

Brownell did not identify the party leader by name.

(After the President accepted renomination in a radio address from a Pacific coast naval base to the national Democratic convention in Chicago, it was revealed that Robert E. Hannegan, national Democratic chairman, boarded the President's special train five days before the opening of the convention as the train stood at a Chicago siding for a service stop).

At a press conference Brownell asserted the secret meeting was "misuse of an important wartime regulation for partisan New Deal purposes and it is thoroughly objectionable to the American people."

Brownell said that he conceded that "every precaution should be taken for the President's safety in wartime" but that "no wartime powers should be misused."

Japs Still Obstinate

Pacific, and Navy Secretary Forrestal.

Willing To Kill Them

Halsey, asked about the attitued of the Japanese fighting men whom he has defeated in the South Pacific, declared that "the Japanese still are like rats and fight until they are exterminated. We are perfectly willing to exterminate them. If they want to die for the dear old emperor we are still perfectly willing to kill them."

Forrestal, asked about recurrent reports that the war is ahead of schedule, said that the overall war picture does not "lend itself to schedules." He added that the enemy plans have much to do with progress of the war and "in order to have schedules you would have to have conferences with the enemy."

Hopes For More Action

Halsey, who told of fighting himself out of the title of commander of South Pacific areas, said that he hoped to see plenty more action with his Third fleet, which has not been identified in connection with any recent engagements. He declined to comment upon whether the fleet has struck the enemy since his formal assignment was announced.

King, who has just returned from a visit to the Pacific, expressed satisfaction with the progress of the war there and said he found everyone everywhere "determined to get on with the war."

Asked about the possibility that the American advances plus the pounding of American submarines against Japanese shipping lanes may cut enemy supply lines, he said that it could not be done entirely even with occupation of the Marianas. "They can move," he said, "between Formosa and the mainland. Our submarines are steadily at work interfering with those supply lines."

Jap Fleet Hiding

haps, the American fleet struck directly at Japan.

Jap Fleet Whittled

American submarine, air and naval blows have whittled the Japanese fleet appreciably since the Pearl Harbor attack, particularly in cruiser and destroyer strength. Last estimates placed Japanese naval strength at 10 or 11 battleships, seven to nine heavy cruisers, 30 to 35 lighter cruisers, 70 to 90 destroyers and 80 to 100 submarines.

American naval strength is more than double and the great bulk is believed based in the Pacific. Two days ago, Navy Secretary Forrestal said the U. S. Navy had 1,149 fighting ships in service and many more under construction, exclusive of then of thousands of landing craft and auxiliaries. Present strength of naval aircraft was estimated at 35,000 many times the number of planes available in all Japanese armed services. Scores of the Navy's fighting ships are carriers, and about 25 or more battleships are in service.

UAW Asks Roosevelt To Seize Big Plant

CINCINNATI, July 25. (AP)—The United Automobile workers (CIO) asked President Roosevelt today to "order immediate seizure" of the huge Lockland plant of the Wright Aeronautical Corp., scene of a dispute in which union officials declared they had been "locked out" and that "production had actually ceased."

The plant is one of the largest airplane engine factories in the United States.

Robert Spitzmiller, president of the UAW local at the huge plant, telegraphed Mr. Roosevelt that the company had suspended all union officers, committeemen, and 150 shop and chief stewards, the latter the union members' direct representatives.

Spitzmiller said later that as many as 5,000 to 6,000 of the plant's 35,000 employes had left their jobs "in a mass reaction to company injustice."

Both union and company officials said the dispute was the result of suspension last night of a union committeeman.

Anti-Roosevelt Demos In Alabama To Meet

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 25 (AP)—Anti-Roosevelt Democrats in Alabama will gather here tonight to discuss entering a slate of "Independent Democrats" on the ticket in November.

R. DuPont Thompson, Birmingham attorney and member of an organizing group which met here in preliminary session July 12, said similar activities were underway in Texas, Louisiana, and Mississippi.

If a second Democratic party is formed in Alabama, Thompson said it would enter a list of presidential electors pledged to an anti-administration Democrat.

Fate Of Hungarian Jews With Horthy

LONDON, July 25. (AP) — The fate of some 500,000 Jews left in Hungary rested today on decisive action by the regent, Adm. Nicholas Horthy. The Vatican and the International Red Cross are understood to have interceded in an effort to halt handing them over to the Germans, and Horthy was reported last week in Bern to have promised to stop forcible evacuation of the Jews.

There has been no official announcement of the pope's intercession but Jewish sources widely credited the pontiff with diplomatic negotiation.

Auditor Reports On Texas Centennial

AUSTIN, July 25. (U.P.) — Total expenditure for the 1936 Texas centennial celebration was placed in excess of $5,700,000 in an audit report on the observance filed here today by State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

Cavness noted that there never had been filed a required audit report on the Texas centennial central exposition at Dallas and that no money had been paid into the state treasury under the provision by which the state was to receive 15 per cent of net receipts up to $3,000,000 remaining after payment of debts of the exposition.

Cavness' report said the total amount of state funds provided for the various centennial activities included the exposition, historical markers and celebrations outside Dallas, was $3,139,750. Of this $3,103,056 was expended.

Total federal funds provided were $1,905,566 of which $1,795,835 was expended. Donations amounted to $50,000 and interest on the funds before expenditure amounted to $1,577.

Gossett's Lead Safe, Returns Indicate

WICHITA FALLS, July 25. (AP) —State Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe, running slightly behind Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls in the 13th district congressional race, said today "the official tabulation conceivably could change the result."

Figures of the Texas election bureau gave Gossett a lead of 358 votes in the two-man contest. The Wichita Falls Times' tabulation gave Gossett a 378 majority.

(The Texas Election Bureau said its figures showed 13 of the 15 counties in the district complete; only one small box out in Knox county which it estimated had less than 100 votes, and about 15 votes out in Wise county.)

Moffett said he would withhold a final statement until official returns were made.

DENVER, July 25. (AP) — Detective Capt. James E. Childers said Ernest Herring, 31, escaped Texas convict, was being held here after a fight in which he and Railroad Agent Harry Flint, 34, both received severe head injuries.

Childers said a message from Texas prison authorities reported Herring had been serving a 101-year sentence for murder when he escaped the state prison at Huntsville.

Herring was sought by Grand Junction, Colo., authorities for escaping jail Saturday after being arrested for Price, Utah, authorities in connection with a burglary and breaking jail there April 22.

Marvin Jones Cites Big Farm Production

WASHINGTON, July 25 (U.P.)—Eggs might be selling for $1 a dozen and other foods at equally inflationary heights if the American farmer had not stepped up production to a historic pace, War Food Administrator Marvin Jones said today.

Only the amazingly high rate of food production has enabled the government to adhere to its "hold the line" policy, Jones declared in an interview.

He described the overall food situation as "unusually good" with the U. S. army the best fed in history, the American people consuming more food than ever before, and millions of dollars worth of food moving overseas daily to Allied nations.

The 56-year-old Texan is now in his second year as boss of the government's war food program.

Present reports indicate that some 25,000,000 tires are being recapped per year.

Big Show May Be On In Normandy

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Here's hoping the renewal of the Allied offensive in Normandy this morning is the big show!

This is the crucial moment when a concerted Allied onslaught might tear through Hitler's revolt-weakened defenses. In fact that would seem to be the acid test to tell us whether we may expect a quick end to the European war.

Air Is Fourth Front

On that basis one would expect the western Allies to extend their drive in Normandy to the utmost at the earliest possible moment in conjunction with the terrific assault by the Red armies, which are going all-out for the kill. United Nations forces already are surging northward in great strength against the powerful Nazi Gothic line which defends the upper third of Italy. The Allied fourth front — the air — continues to tear at the vitals of Germany.

A mighty Allied drive in Normandy would complete the ring of death about Hitler. Today's offensives might be the beginning but we can't gauge the operations yet because the British and Canadians on the left flank, and the Americans on the right, slipped into gear so quietly in the dawn that it isn't apparent whether the war machine is to be thrown into top gear.

Fresh Effort Presaged

The Germans have said a big offensive was boiling up in Normandy. Many Russians have taken British Prime Minister Churchill's visit to that front as presaging a fresh effort. Perhaps that's wishful thinking about Churchill's mission, but there certainly have been mounting signs that the Allied volcano on the peninsula is about ready to erupt. It's no secret that huge quantities of materiel, and great numbers of troops, have been pouring into France.

It presumably is this picture which encourages the Russians to expect a mighty effort in Normandy. They believe that Hitler's eastern and western fronts will blow up if simultaneous pressure is put on them in a big way. Judging from his disaster in the Russo-German theatre, this might happen.

Hubbard Is Elected Legion Commander

New officers headed by Chester A. Hubbard as commander were elected by members of Allen Bros. post of the American Legion at their semi-monthly meeting Monday night. W. M. Ryan also was a nominee for commander.

The new officers include three veterans of World War II. They are Troy Davidson, second vice commander; R. A. Powell, adjutant; and Dixie White, sergeant at arms.

Other officers selected were H. J. Kendrick, reelected as first vice commander; Jim Reid, third vice commander; Glen Hess, finance officer; A. C. Lamp, service officer; Rev. Jeff D. Welch, reelected as chaplain; H. D. Woods, reelected as historian; Hugh Slagle, reelected as mess officer.

Davidson, Lamp, Rev. Welch and Woods were unopposed.

Delegates were appointed to the state department convention to be held Aug. 15-16-17 in Fort Worth.

New officers will be installed at a meeting Aug. 7, which will be held one week earlier than the usual time.

Entertainment consisted of a program of musical numbers and readings.

Gen. Walker Returns To Fort Benning

FORT BENNING, Ga., July 25 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Fred L. Walker, former commander of the 36th division in Italy, returned today as commandant to the Fort Benning infantry school where he himself was a student nearly two decades ago.

General Walker assumed his new duties at once after conferring at post headquarters with Brig. Gen. William H. Hobson, post commander. He held conferences at the infantry school headquarters with Brig. Gen. George H. Weems, assistant commandant, Col. Harold E. Potter, executive officer, and members of his staff.

"I was stationed at the infantry school in the early 20's as a student and an instructor and so am not unfamiliar with its operation and doctrine," General Walker said.

"The school has done and is doing a very important and valuable job in the war and I am greatly pleased to take a part in it."

Concerning his experiences overseas, General Walker recalled a statement he made recently to Lt. Gen. Ben Lear, commanding general of the Army ground forces.

"I have observed our soldiers in battle on the Italian front over a period of ten months and I am convinced our soldiers are better than the Germans," he told General Lear. "Our soldiers are more cheerful, more confident and better marksmen. After having seen our men going through the hardships of last winter during which they were subject to almost continual rains, mud, cold rations and a continual artillery and mortar fire, maintaining a cheerfulness far superior to the enemy, I feel confident they are capable of being made into the best soldiers in the world."

Allies Cheered By Nazi Crisis

BY EDWARD W. BEATTIE
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 25 — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden revealed in a carefully-worded statement to Commons today that the British cabinet met last night to consider the sudden crisis inside revolt-shaken Germany, and declared that Allied powers "might justly draw encouragement" from the split between the Nazi regime and elements of the German high command.

Eden refused to elaborate on the scope of the cabinet discussions or on steps which he said have been taken for an exchange of information with Russia on the situation in Germany.

Warning Issued

He warned the house soberly against drawing too optimistic inferences from the dramatic crack in the enemy front.

"While we might justly draw encouragement from the recent news, it should spur us to further activity to insure Germany's final defeat in the field at the earliest possible date," he said.

Eden said the government was not yet in position to make a considered statement on the Nazi crisis because the information available was insufficient to permit an estimate of the "full extent of the trouble or to draw any inferences as to its likely development."

Information Limited

"The German government not unnaturally has been at great pains to prevent information leaking from the country," he said. "They have great experience and skill in the machinery of repression and secrecy and we therefore for the present are mainly dependent upon our assessment of various and often contradictory public statements."

Eden said the cabinet decided at its meeting last night to strike a note of "caution" in all official comment on the German crisis.

His statement came as German broadcasts said the Nazi regime would introduce within the next few days "very decisive" measures to tighten its control over the nation.

Swiss reports said one of these measures would be the mobilization of all able-bodied veterans of the last war for service in a new Nazi home guard.
