VOL. 33 NO. 137 SNYDER, TEXAS (79549) TUES., OCT. 13, 1981 10 PAGES 20¢

SWARMING MONARCHS—Monarch butterflies in unusual numbers have been visiting in the Snyder area the past few days. This is a swarm of the colorful creatures that descended on trees at the John Zalman place southwest of Hermleigh. The Monarchs are supposed to be on their way south at this season. They should return northward in the spring and lay their eggs on milkweed plants, says Billy Roach, county extension agent. They migrate seasonally as far as 1,000 miles twice a year. Although far from unusual here, local observers report they never saw so many here at one time. (SDN Staff Photo)

State Of Emergency Declared...

Heavy Rains Flood Abilene

Associated Press

More than 150 families in Abilene and several North Central Texas communities have been evacuated as slow-moving thunderstorms drifting across the state dumped up to 8 inches of rain, trapping families inside their homes.

Stephens County was one of the hardest hit by floodwaters. The National Weather Service reported that about half the town of Breckenridge, northeast of Abilene, was flooded, with more flooding expected today.

The town was without power, telephone service, water or sewer service. Most roads into Breckenridge were closed.

Waist-high water was reported in parts of Abilene, where residents of seven neighborhoods, including near Fairway Oaks Golf Course, were evacuated this morning. Police said a woman and her three children were trapped by high water in the second floor of a house in the exclusive Lytle Lake area.

Abilene Mayor Elbert Hall declared a state of emergency and requested that National Guardsmen stand by for possible assistance. The emergency declaration will enable them to seek outside disaster assistance, City Manager Ed Seegmiller said.

A spokesman for the governor's office in Austin said a state disaster declaration had not yet been made.

Flooding forced the evacuations of residents to nine emergency centers as police patrolled flooded areas in buses to rescue homeowners from their waterlogged houses.

Police reported Catclaw, Little Elm and Lytle Creeks were over their banks, and rescuers in boats were evacuating residents from a trailer park in east Abilene.

Five evacuation centers have been set up at Abilene schools, which were closed today.

At Potosi, five miles south of Abilene, relief workers used boats to rescue several persons trapped in their homes.

U.S. highways 180 and 183 near Abilene were barricaded. Two people were hospitalized there when their cars were swept into creeks, police said.

Fire fighters also manned boats to rescue a family trapped in a trailer home southwest of Henrietta in Clay County, fire spokesman Bryan McKee said.

He said rescuers had requested that a helicopter be placed in readiness for possible evacuations. Authorities said some residents were reported stranded on top of their houses.

On the north side of Graham, 35 miles northeast of Breckenridge, about 30 families were evacuated from their waterlogged houses.

"Breckenridge is supposed to be pretty well blocked off from the outside world," Young County sheriff's spokesman Doug Greathouse said in Graham. "We have some flooding in Graham also. It is just a lot of rainfall."

Texas 67 and Texas 380, where a pickup truck was swept off the road by cab-high waters at 3 a.m., have been closed, Greathouse said.

Farther west, in San Angelo, firefighters had to rescue several people from a tree after their car got standed in high water. Police ran out of barricades as streets became flooded.

About 130 families in the Brazos River communities of Bennett and Horseshoe Bend spent Monday night in Red Cross shelters or with friends. Police in Mineral Wells said about 75 people were forced from their homes there. About 25 residents in Cool had to leave their trailer homes because of the threat of rising water.

In Archer County, authorities said the only road open is Texas 79, from Olney to Wichita Falls.

In Ranger, a woman was swept off her feet by water rushing rapidly down Main Street and had to cling to a pole until help arrived. One elderly man was rescued from a house trailer when water reached 4 feet deep.

Turkey Creek, near Decatur in Wise County, was reported "running wild" late Monday night, and roads and highways were closed from Decatur 40 miles west to Jacksboro.

About 90 band students from Jacksboro High School escaped injury early Monday after one of their two buses floated into a ditch near the North Texas town of Boyd, officials said.

Tuesday update

Oil Magnate Dies

HOUSTON (AP) — John W. Mecom, who built an oil and financial empire from a $700 investment, died at his home following a lengthy illness, a family spokesman said.

Services were pending for the 70-year-old Mecom, who died Monday at his fashionable River Oaks mansion where he lived for more than a quarter century.

Mecom, the father of John Mecom Jr., owner of the New Orleans Saints of the National Football League, built his empire on oil and gas holdings in Texas, Louisiana and the Middle East.

He was born Jan. 13, 1911, in nearby Liberty. His family later moved to Houston where he attended The Rice Institute, now Rice University. He also studied at the University of Oklahoma and received an honorary degree from St. Bonaventure University in New York.

Boa Found In Dryer

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — When Vivian Touchstone felt something move inside her clothes dryer, she slammed the door shut and ran.

She called a neighbor over for courage, cautiously opened the door again and shuffled the sheets and towels aside. Coiled inside was a 10-foot boa constrictor.

"When we touched it with a hanger, it moved and we slammed the door shut (again)," said Ms. Touchstone. "It scared me half to death."

She was still shaking when two police officers answered her frantic telephone call. Later when the snake's owner, Richard Nichols, came to claim his pet boa, Ms. Touchstone refused to budge from her porch to make Samantha's acquaintance.

Refuse To Bar Quarantines

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today refused to bar five Southern states from imposing special quarantines due to California's Mediterranean fruit fly outbreak.

All but one of the states have already backed off from their restrictions.

At issue were quarantines on California fruits and vegetables that were more stringent than the quarantine now enforced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Takeover Gets Green Light

HOUSTON (AP) — Now that President Reagan has approved Texas International Airlines' bid to take control of Continental Airlines the first order of business must be a united effort to make Continental profitable again, said the winners of the corporate struggle.

U.S. Will Not Allow Overthrow Of Sudan

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Sudan's President Gaafar Nimeiri says the Reagan administration has promised to protect him from the Soviet Union and Libya, and he may wage a "preventive war" against his Libyan neighbors.

Nimeiri said in an interview Monday that Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. told him the Soviets and Libyans will not be allowed to undermine his regime.

"I have been assured by Secretary of State Haig that the United States is not going to let such an act happen," he told The Associated Press and four American newspapers.

In another interview published today in the independent Beirut newspaper An-Nahar, the Sudanese leader said, "It is possible defense could be best ensured by attack; I mean carrying the battle into Libya."

The paper's Cairo correspondent said he asked Nimeiri if he meant Sudan would wage a preventive war inside Libya, and the president replied: "This is correct."

He stressed, however, that he had never discussed a preventive war against Libya with the United States or Egypt, the Lebanese report said.

Nimeiri told the American reporters Libya's leader, Col. Moammar Khadafy, is planning to invade Sudan with Soviet support.

"We don't know the time," he said. "We don't know the direction it will come from, but it's coming. If you hear Khadafy talk ... you'd think they are going to attack tomorrow. You would think they are already attacking."

Sudan accuses Libya of daily bombing raids on Sudanese villages bordering Chad, where Libya maintains an estimated 12,000 to 15,000 troops to support President Goukouni Oueddei. Sudan and Egypt support Goukouni's foe, former Defense Minister Hissene Habre.

Nimeiri, one of the few Arab leaders who openly supported President Anwar Sadat's peace treaty with Israel and his alliance with the United States, was in Cairo for Sadat's funeral.

From Khartoum, Nimeiri's capital, Sudan's official news agency SUNA reported some U.S. military equipment would be sent immediately to Sudan as a result of talks there between U.S. State Department counselor Robert McFarlane and Defense Minister Abdel Magid Hamid Khalil. Mcfarlane left Khartoum Monday, but three U.S. experts stayed to work out details of the U.S. shipments, SUNA said.

In Washington, State Department spokeswoman Anita Stockman said U.S. military advisers might be sent to train the Sudanese how to use some of the equipment.

Two contestants with six misses each will split the combined $17.50 prize money for this week's football contest. They are Debbie Sanders, 3011 38th Street, and Stanley White, 2301 Avenue I.

Four other contestsants tied with seven misses each.

College Tax Rate Cut To 8.1 Cents

The Board of Trustees of the Scurry County Junior College District last night approved a resolution setting the college district's 1981 tax rate at 8.1 cents per $100 valuation.

This represents a 21.3 percent reduction from the 1980-81 tax rate of 10.3 cents per $100 valuation. A rise in total valuation and a $157,572 decrease in local funds required for the new budget were cited as reasons for the rate reduction. All board members were present at the meeting and all voted to approve the action.

In other business, the board approved the small class report for the current semester and voted to allow WTC to host a college rodeo at the Scurry County Coliseum during the week of April 19, 1982.

The board also voted to accept bids for purchase of a number of items for the school. Purchases approved included: Carpet for the lobby of the Fine Arts building for $2916.50 from Teal Carpet of Snyder, a greens aerator from Colonial Motors in Dallas for $1979.63, a turf utility vehicle for $4,840, also from Colonial, and a sod cutter from Asco Inc. of Lubbock for $1,534.

The board also approved the low bid of $8,253.85 from Clark Lumber Co. of Snyder for materials for the duplex construction project, and voted to have Gilliland's Publishing of Arkansas City, Kan., print the next issue of the college catalog at a cost of $4,710.00 for 5,000 copies. In addition, the trustees agreed to enter into a lease-purchase agreement for the purchase of 40 IBM typewriters for classroom and office use. The board rejected a bid for a tractor due to a lack of competitive bids,

The meeting closed with a report from Dr. Don Newbury, president of WTC, on efforts to coordinate the college and public school holiday schedules. He reported that progress is being made. Both systems have now scheduled their spring breaks for the same time in 1983.

Bill Wilson, president, presided over the meeting. Other board members attending were Howard Sterling, R. C. Patton, Dr. Robert Hargrove, Edwin Parks, Bill Jones and Wacil McNair.

The next scheduled meeting for the board is Nov. 9.

County Tax Rate Set At 13 Cents

Scurry County Commissioners set the county tax rate for 1981 at 13 cents per $100 valuation Monday.

Last year's rate was 13.7 cents.

The county's budget for the coming year totals slightly under $11 million. This includes the $5,712,656 budget for Cogdell Memorial Hospital, which is largely self-sustaining, plus $628,000 for the final payment on hospital construction bonds.

In other business Monday, the county commissioners nominated three candidates for the Scurry County Appraisal District. The county nominees are Pete Hester, Mike Graves and Billy Huddleston.

Although each taxing entity may nominate as many as five for the appraisal board, the commissioners decided to nominate only three. The board has five members, and all five places are to be filled this fall for the coming year.

Earlier, John Reed and Bill Hairston had advised that they did not wish to serve again, while the other three members, Hester, Ross Blanchard and Kenneth Wilson, had agreed to renomination.

The City of Snyder last week nominated Hester, Blanchard, Wilson, Mike Graves and W. T. (Pat) Falls. Snyder School Trustees are scheduled to make their nominations tonight. The slate of nominations must be completed by Thursday.

Rains Here Are Lighter

Rains continued last night and early today, but the immediate Snyder area apparently continued to miss the heavy downpours that caused flooding in other parts of the state.

The official gauge at the city water plant measured .45 inch here during the 24-hour period from 7 a. m. Monday to 7 a. m. today.

Also, the Lake Thomas watershed apparently had missed the heavy rains. No significant inflow had been reported and overnight rains at the lake itself amounted to only half an inch.

School Board Sets Session

Snyder School Trustees are due to make their nominations for members of the Scurry County Appraisal District Board at their regular meeting tonight.

The meeting is set for 7:30 p. m. in the board room in the school administration office.

The board is scheduled to receive a report on the pre-kindergarten summer program at Northeast Elementary School.

The SDN Column

Mrs. Don Baremore says she has wanted to visit the nation's capital for a long time, but now she isn't so sure.

The other day, the Baremores received a notice from the District of Columbia Government Department of Transportation Bureau of Parking and Enforcement. It advised that they were a year delinquent in taking care of a parking ticket issued on Oct. 16, 1980. Moreover, the fine had gone up from $10 to $20.

The Baremores were more than a little surprised at receiving the notice, because they have never been to Washington, D. C. Yet, there was no doubt that the notice referred to their car. It had the correct license number and the correct address.

"I had told my husband several times that I would like to go to Washington, but I never dreamed that anything like this would happen.," said Mrs. Baremore.

The notice indicates that a ticket was issued at 1:25 p. m. Oct. 16, 1980, for overparking at a 20-60 minute meter in the 100 Block of V St. Southwest.

We asked Police Chief Bill Stone if he had any idea how such a notice could have been sent to someone who had never been there. Maybe those District of Columbia officers have a lucrative thing going that Snyder should look into.

Stone said he had never heard of such an incident, but noted that it was possibly a computer error. Someone sending out notices via computer would enter the wrong code and no telling what license number from what state might come out.

As for Snyder looking into it, Stone said the time is coming. The local police department is due to be hooked up to the computer at city hall in the future and it will handle similar notices, along with other records. But they plan to be very careful how they use it.

Did Conrad Hilton ever own a hotel in Snyder? A recent column by Jim Trinkle in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram indicates that he did, but we have never encountered any information on it. Trinkle quoted Walter Douning, who used to manage Lawrence Welk's band "when Welk's Champagne music was closer to Kool Aid than wine," and also worked for Hilton. He recalled that Welk and his band got stranded in Abilene at the height of "the great depression," and they stayed at the Hilton Hotel there, playing nightly in the dining room for their meals.

"Connie had hotels in Abilene, San Angelo, Snyder and El Paso," Trinkle quotes Douning.

If anyone knows about Hilton owning a hotel here, we would like to know more about it. Cisco has got a lot of publicity mileage out of being the site of Hilton's first hotel.

BARBARA MANDRELL

GEORGE JONES

Mandrell, Jones Repeat As Big Country Music Award Winners

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Barbara Mandrell, the only country music star with a prime-time television show, triumphed at the Country Music Association's awards gala by becoming the first person ever named entertainer of the year twice.

The 32-year-old singer also was named for a second time as top female vocalist during the nationally televised ceremony Monday night at the Grand Ole Opry House.

"God's good; I'm proud," Miss Mandrell said. "This means the people like the TV show. The work is worth it."

The top male vocalist award went to 50-year-old George Jones, a veteran who won the same award last year and who sang with Miss Mandrell on her biggest hit this year, "I Was Country (When Country Wasn't Cool)."

Miss Mandrell's victory cost her $20.

She had bet country music disc jockey Ralph Emery of Nashville that she wouldn't win. After the show, she was clutching a $20 bill and searching the backstage area for Emery.

"It's unbelievable," said Miss Mandrell, who also was a co-host of the program along with Mac Davis.

Alabama, a fast-rising four-piece band that was playing for tips just 15 months ago, joined Miss Mandrell as a double winner. The Fort Payne, Ala., group was named vocal group of the year and instrumental group of the year. The honor for top vocal group had gone to the Statler Brothers eight of the last nine years.

Until Miss Mandrell won entertainer of the year for the second straight year, the Country Music Association had never given the award twice to the same person in its 15-year history. Miss Mandrell was named top female vocalist in 1979.

"Barbara Mandrell and the Mandrell Sisters" is broadcast Saturday nights on NBC. The variety show, starring Miss Mandrell and younger sisters Louise and Irlene, had just gone on the air last year when Miss Mandrell was first picked entertainer of the year.

Jones is a former house painter whose off-stage battles with booze and bankruptcy have nearly overshadowed a successful singing career.

His seven-year marriage to country queen Tammy Wynette ended in divorce in 1975, he received hospital treatment for alcoholism about two years ago and he filed for bankruptcy in 1978, citing alcoholism for much or his financial trouble.

Pioneer singer Vernon Dalhart and veteran Grand Ole Opry announcer Grant Turner were chosen for induction into the Country Music Hall of Fame. Dalhart, who died in 1948, recorded country music's first million seller, "The Prisoner's Song." Turner, 69, who has been an Opry announcer for more than 30 years, said, "I want to be a guide at the hall of fame when I'm 92."

Other winners were "Elvira," by the Oak Ridge Boys, single of the year; "I Believe in You," by Don Williams, album of the year; "He Stopped Loving Her Today," song of the year, honoring songwriters Bobby Braddock and Curly Putman; David Frizzell and Shelly West, vocal duo of the year; Chet Atkins, top instrumentalist; and Terri Gibbs, horizon award for a promising newcomer.

17-Year-Old Gives Calf Away

In honor of his 17th birthday, Daryl Joe Nachlinger of Hermleigh gave a present to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center—his only calf.

The red heifer was sold at the recent Cattlemen's Roundup for Crippled Children cattle sale, which was held the day before Daryl's birthday.

The Cattlemen's Roundup for Crippled Children was well-established by the time Daryl was born. "Everybody knows about it," the Hermleigh High School junior said. "My daddy mentioned something about it and I thought it was a pretty good idea."

He called a family friend, Charlie Henderson, vice president of West Texas State Bank who also is an area chairman for the Cattlemen's Roundup.

"He just decided it was a good idea. He called me and told me he wanted to do it," Henderson said. Surprised that the boy would give away his only calf, Henderson asked him if he was sure that he wanted to to it.

Nachlinger's mother, Mrs. Butch Nachlinger, said they are also quite familiar with the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

"One time several years ago, we had to take Daryl to the Rehab Center in Abilene for hearing tests, and of course they wouldn't let us pay. They helped us and we wanted to help them," she said, adding that the tests were all that was needed.

The heifer was orphaned shortly after birth and Daryl raised it.

"She was't doing me any good," he said. "So, I thought she could help someone else."

Judge's Ruling Is Postponed

LIBERTY, Texas (AP) — Faced with circumstances he called unique, a state district judge has put off until today his ruling on whether testimony Vickie Daniel gave during a child custody case will be allowed as evidence in her murder trial.

Attorneys said Monday that Judge Leonard J. Giblin Jr., of Beaumont, is faced with precedent-setting circumstances. They said Texas has never held a child custody case stemming from events that led to a murder trial.

"It is a new area that's never been explored before," Giblin said after a hearing on a defense motion to disallow the testimony. "Something this unique, I felt, should be studied overnight."

Defense attorney Jack Zimmermann contends that Mrs. Daniel waived her 5th Amendment right not to testify in an April child custody suit filed by her sister-in-law because she was led to believe she would lose her children otherwise.

"If you let this in, the government is being allowed to call a criminal defendant to the stand and make her testify against herself," Zimmermann said. He said Mrs. Daniel's attorney in the custody case, Richard "Racehorse" Haynes, told her he didn't think she could keep her children if she did not testify.

Testimony in Mrs. Daniel's murder trial is expected to begin Wednesday. She is charged in the Jan. 19 shooting death of her husband, former Texas House Speaker Price Daniel Jr.

Mrs. Daniel retained custody of her two small sons after Daniel's sister, Jean Daniel Murph, of Richardson, sued, saying Mrs. Daniel was an unfit mother.

District Attorney Carroll Wilborn said he wanted to keep his option to read Mrs. Daniel's testimony into the criminal trial record in case she does not testify or so he can use it to impeach conflicting statements.

"I'm not even saying I would do it," he said, adding that Mrs. Daniel had sworn her previous testimony was the truth.

Haynes testified that although he was not directly coerced, he felt he had no choice but to let Mrs. Daniel testify, which he believed hurt her chances in the criminal case.

"I'm not Merlin the magician," he replied when Willborn asked if he couldn't have won his case without her testimony.

Dear Abby

Gum Addict Needs To Chew Cold Turkey

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1981 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am writing about an unusual problem I acquired about six years ago. I am a chain gum-chewer. I chew about 15 to 20 packs of gum every day (after I get off work, that is). I usually chew one piece about five minutes, then I will put another piece in my mouth. I became addicted to chewing gum when I was 17 and trying to lose weight. I chewed gum instead of eating, which was a very unhealthy thing to do. Now that I am slim I can't break the habit of chewing gum. When I try to quit I get dizzy, sick, weak, and my teeth get sore!

I must quit chewing gum because the guy I'm in love with says it will give me diabetes. Is that true? I really hate the habit. It's dirtier than smoking, it's also more expensive, and it's embarrassing for a woman my age to go into a store and buy $3 worth of gum. The other day I put $4 in dimes into a gumball machine and some onlookers stared at me like I was crazy. Also, disposing of chewed gum is gross!

Can you help me, Abby? Sign me...

THE SIOUX CITY CHEW-CHEW GIRL

DEAR CHEW-CHEW: First, diabetes is not caused by eating too many sweets. (Get "The Diabetic's Book — All Your Questions Answered" by Biermann and Toohey.)

You are wise to recognize your gum-chewing habit as an "addiction" because that's exactly what it is.

Try to quit cold turkey — it's by far the best method. If that fails, find a therapist who specializes in behavior modification.

DEAR ABBY: I've heard of students having crushes on their teachers, but have you ever heard of a teacher having a crush on a student?

There's this 15-year-old girl in one of my classes who is a rare beauty. I can't keep my eyes off her. I wonder if other teachers have problems like this. What's to be done? I'm twice her age, and my class is her favorite class. I don't believe in anonymous letters so I will sign my name, but please don't use it.

GOT A CRUSH

DEAR GOT: Teachers have crushes on students for the same reason students have crushes on teachers: immaturity. What's to be done? Admire her from afar, and keep your eyes, your thoughts (and everything else) off her. Small wonder your class is her "favorite." You've telegraphed your feelings to her, and she got the message.

DEAR ABBY: Does my husband have a problem? He has 83 (I counted them) shirts in his closet and claims he needs them all. He has several sets of "twin" shirts, and several that would pass for triplets.

I took an inventory yesterday, and he has 44 shirts with short sleeves, 21 with long sleeves (lightweight), 15 flannel and three wool! There is no room in the closet for his pants, and I dare not give (or throw) away even one shirt. Any ideas on what to do?

JEAN IN ORANGE, CALIF.

DEAR JEAN: Why do anything? Let him live like the pack rat that he is, and when he's sufficiently crowded or inconvenienced, he'll remedy the situation.

Food Shortage Will Have Impact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The impact of food shortages during this decade could surpass that of the oil shortages of the 1970s because of the severe loss of topsoil in the United States and other nations, according to a Worldwatch Institute study.

"Perhaps the most serious single threat humanity now faces is the widespread loss of topsoil," says Lester Brown, head of the non-profit research group.

His study, announced Saturday, is being published as a book, "Building a Sustainable Society."

If you have ever done any gluing around the house, you know there is a big difference between gluing two things merely to hold them together and bonding them so they can withstand stress.

Since the rungs of a chair are there specifically to add strength to the construction of a piece of furniture which must resist the strain of considerable weight, they necessarily must be in good condition. When a rung shrinks and becomes loose, as often happens after a period of protracted dryness, it loses all or part of its effectiveness. Tightening the rung at once can prevent much worse structural damage, but more important, it can prevent injury.

The main ingredient in the repairs of a loose chair rung is glue — not just any glue, but one that is powerful enough to hold up at a point where stress is inevitable. Before going any farther, it must be pointed out that this discussion is about chairs used inside a house, not outside. For exterior chairs, the glue must be waterproof, a term that makes resorcinol glue the logical choice. If it is used, the two parts of it must be mixed exactly according to the instructions on the label.

For inside chair rungs, epoxy is a good selection. It, too, usually comes in two containers, the contents of which must be mixed. Plastic resins and caseins also are good. Also, consider the use of glue injector and similar small assistance tools for getting the glue in hard-to-reach areas, such as the ends of rungs which are loose but cannot be pulled out far enough to spread the glue properly.

The popular cyanoacrylate adhesives, which can bond your fingers together if not handled carefully, lose some of their strength when used on porous materials. But a new version of them is especially for woods and leathers and can be used for chair rungs, although it is a bit expensive if very much is required. In using any adhesive in this category, follow the directions carefully in regard to the limited amounts that must be applied as well as to whether the adhesive must be applied to one or both surfaces to be bonded.

New glue seldom holds well to old glues. Scrape off as much of the old glue as possible from the part of the rung that can be reached. Most of the time, by working firmly but slowly, you can pull back one leg of a chair just enough to apply the glue to the rung end.

There are regular chair clamps to wind around the legs of the chair to keep the rungs tightly in place while the glue sets, but ordinary clothesline or something similar can be used in their place. Whichever you use, be sure to put cushions or pads under the clamps or clothesline to prevent marring the furniture finish. One way to make a homemade clamp is to wind the clothesline around diagonally opposite legs so that it crosses in the center. Place a large screwdriver or dowel between loops of the line and use it as a twist stick, but be careful to brace it in some way so that it doesn't come spinning out. When a purchased strap clamp is used, it comes with a gadget to hold the strap tightly in place.

After the glue has dried and the clamps are removed, there is a special satisfaction in sitting on the chair you have made solid again.

France won the 80-board final match of the Olympiad by the score of 131 IMPs to 111 for the United States. This low IMP total shows what a fine match it was. There were swings, but hand after hand reflected the skill of both teams at arriving at proper contracts and then playing the hands to identical results.

Here we see both teams at the same four-heart contract against the same four of clubs lead. Each dummy played the jack and South's ace won over East's queen.

Each declarer studied the hand for a while and finally decided that he couldn't afford to try a trump safety play. So the ace and king of hearts were led. When both opponents followed the hand was a laydown.

Each declarer tried for an overtrick by leading the eight of clubs but each West player went right up with his king to foil that attempt. Then he cashed the queen of trumps on which each East discarded the three of spades. Not that anything mattered at that stage. Each West was going to take a trick with his spade ace and each declarer scored his game.

Unusual and unusually good.

Cut 4 small sweet red peppers (1 pound) in half lengthwise and remove and discard seeds and membranes. Drop peppers into a saucepan of boiling water; boil for 5 minutes; drain. Crush together 2 cloves garlic and 4 flat anchovy fillets (from a 2-ounce can); mix with 2 tablespoons chopped capers, 2 tablespoons golden raisins, 2 tablespoons pine nuts, 1/4 cup minced parsley, 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup soft bread crumbs and 2 tablespoons olive oil; spoon into pepper cavities. Add 2 tablespoons olive oil to a 10 by 6 by 1 3/4-inch baking dish and arrange the stuffed peppers in it. Bake, uncovered, for 10 minutes; using a bulb baster, baste with the oil in the dish and continue baking 10 minutes longer. Serve hot or at room temperature. Makes 8 servings. In AWACS Battle...

Carter Joins Ronald Reagan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jimmy Carter, joining President Reagan in his battle over AWACS radar planes for Saudi Arabia, says the sale is "a litmus test of America's reliability" and is needed for peace in the Middle East.

"I think it's very important that once the president makes a commitment of that kind to a valuable friend like the Saudi Arabians that the Senate approve what the president has proposed," Carter said Monday as he arrived for a two-day stay in Washington — his first extended trip back since he was president.

"A lot of foreign countries can't understand the intricacies of American law and they look upon a promise by the president as being a commitment on the part of our own nation," he added.

Carter was to meet with congressional leaders at a Capitol Hill luncheon today and then visit for a half-hour with Reagan, who defeated him last November.

Meanwhile, former President Ford, who lost the White House to Carter in 1976, said he also will join Reagan's lobbying drive for the sale.

"I can assure you that if the Congress turns down President Reagan on the AWACS deal, it will have a devastating effect on our attempt to pursue the process of peace in the Middle East," Ford told reporters Monday in Arizona.

The $8.5 billion arms sale, including five Airborne Warning and Control System planes and F-15 jet weaponry, is in jeopardy in Congress. The White House has made some gains since the assassination of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, but an Associated Press count last week showed the Republican-run Senate lined up 57-31 to veto the deal.

Rejection in the House this week is considered inevitable. The Senate is scheduled to vote next Tuesday.

In a letter to Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., that was made public Monday, Carter said, "In many ways, this has become a litmus test of America's reliability" and added that "the beneficial influence of the moderate Arab nations is a valuable resource which we should nourish whenever it is practical to do so."

"For the well-being of our own country, for the continuing security of Israel and for the peace and security in the Middle East and Persian Gulf area, I hope that you and other members of the Senate will give him (Reagan) this support," Carter wrote.

Opponents of the sale have expressed fear that the AWACS could be used against Israel and could fall into unfriendly hands if the Saudi monarchy is overthrown.

Carter said the Saudis "are strong and influential moderates in an area where moderation is vital in circumscribing fanaticism and violence."

Marijuana Would Not Burn

CONWAY, S.C. (AP) — No matter how hard he tried, Horry County Police Chief Gordon Harris couldn't get his problems to go up in smoke last week.

Harris was trying to burn 832 bales of marijuana seized the week before in a drug raid at Little River.

The four truckloads of pot were transported to the Santee Cooper Power Plant on U.S. 501 in Conway. But police said the marijuana jammed up in the incinerators on the plant's burners.

The illegal weed was then taken to the Red Hill Chip plant, but those burners also clogged when the 50-pound bales of marijuana were fed into them.

Mid-Texas Gets One Ski Resort

BIG SKY, Mont. (AP) — Mid-Texas Oil and Gas Inc. announced Monday it had acquired controlling interest in the Big Sky Ski Resort.

The resort, formerly a wholly-owned subsidiary of Boyne USA Resorts of Boyne Falls, Mich., is northwest of Yellowstone National Park.

The 8,000-acre resort includes a 204-unit lodge, four chairlifts, a gondola, about 35 miles of downhill ski trails and the 18-hole Arnold Palmer Golf Course.

The late network newscaster Chet Huntley, a Montana native, was the driving force behind creation of the resort until he died in 1975.

Under the new arrangement, Big Sky will be controlled by a limited partnership comprised of Mid-Texas, John A. Barnett of Big Sky, Boyne USA Resorts, William R. Dixon of Denver and Dick Moebius of Snowmass, Colo.

Barnett, a condomonium developer, said the partners did not wish to disclose either the purchase price or the size of the controlling interest acquired by Mid-Texas of Eastland, Texas.

Mid-Texas will operate the resort, and plans an aggressive campaign to promote Big Sky's facilities and development of the area, said a statement issued by the partners.

Jim Farrar, a spokesman for Mid-Texas, said "Big Sky is the best kept secret in the American West. We already have the personnel and we intend to spend the money necessary to see that the word gets out."

Boyne acquired the resort in 1976-77. Its original backers included Chrysler Realty, General Electric Pension Fund, Continental Oil, Montana Power Co., Northwest Airlines and Burlington Northern.

Chou En-lai, the premier and one of the architects of modern China, died in 1976 at the age of 78

at wits end

by erma bombeck

Sometimes in the morning when I look in the mirror and discover the souffle of my youth has fallen, I think about a face lift.

When this happens I say, "Mirror, mirror, on the wall, who is the most cowardly of all?" and the mirror answers, "You are, chicken neck!"

Face lifts are not a matter of vanity anymore. they're simply a matter of something that has bothered some individuals about themselves for a long time...and very likely something that no one else has ever noticed about them.

The American Nasal and Facial Surgery Institute published a rundown recently on the "parts" of celebrities that were requested the most. They may surprise you.

I would have been willing to bet that when someone looked at Dolly Parton, it would take them weeks to get to her nose. Yet, that is the nose most sought after by those wanting theirs changed.

And how about this? For ears, they wanted replicas of those worn by Bo Derek. There are five million Americans walking the streets today who do not know Bo Derek has ears.

Let's talk philtrum. never been crazy about yours? Never knew where you left it? It's that area between the lower part of the nose and the lips. And according to the face arrangers, Lena Horne and Alexander Haig have the best-looking philtrums around.

I have to confess, I haven't thought about spare parts since high school when we used to put together a composite of the most desirable characteristics for the school yearbook.

Eyes: Ginger Easy
Mouth: Iris Rosebud
Teeth: Maria Capps
Hair: Wella Cascade
Nose: Suzie Pert
Sense of Humor: Erma you-know-who.

I saw all of those people a few years ago at the class reunion and you wanta know something? Ginger's eyes looked empty and bored. The sparkle was gone. Iris' mouth never stopped and she had language like a sewer. Maria's teeth had shifted; Wella's hair was grey; Suzie's nose was in everybody's business.

Erma's you-know-what was the only thing that saved her. It was still intact.

Reprocessing nuclear fuel saves energy . . .

let's quit wasting it.

Reprocessing aluminum cans reduces waste problems and also saves energy. So would reprocessing nuclear fuel.

We Americans have a well-earned reputation for finishing whatever we begin. But today there's unfinished business delaying our progress toward energy independence: We don't yet have a national policy for reprocessing nuclear fuel and storing nuclear waste.

When the used fuel is removed from nuclear power plants, less than three percent of the volume is waste. The remainder makes substantial amounts of fuel available for future use, after the wastes are removed in a reprocessing plant. A large commercial reprocessing plant has been successfully operating in France since 1976. In America this same process can help us extend our supplies and ease the problems of waste disposal by making it possible to store only the wastes.

We know how to reprocess the fuel and how to store wastes safely. When to start reprocessing, and where to store the wastes, are decisions the Federal Government is responsible for. And they still haven't been made.

At your electric company, we believe the decisions should be made. And we believe that the users of the reprocessing and storage facilities should bear their expense. Volleyball Here Tonight

Three down and five to go and Snyder can cut that number to four tonight as it hosts rival Lamesa in a District 2-AAAA volleyball match.

Snyder, first-half loop champion, is 3-0 for the second round, needing five more wins to secure an uncontested 2-4A championship. The Tigers have already secured at least a district playoff berth, should one be necessary.

Tonight's agenda here opens at 5 p.m. with a freshman tilt. A junior varsity match will follow at 6:30 - then the varsity encounter at 7:30.

Unlike past meetings between the Tigers and Golden Tornadnes, tonight's match might be tougher for the host team to get ready for.

"We've played Lamesa twice, once in a tournament and once in district, and we haven't had a whole lot of trouble with them when we've been playing well," said Coach Joyce Elrod, who then stressed, "But we have to be playing well."

"They are capable of giving us a real tough match. To win, we're going to have to play our kind of ball, good defense and smart offense. Like a lot of other teams in the district, Lamesa has been playing more consistant ball lately that early in the season. We're expecting a good match."

The week is a crucial one in Snyder's run for the crown. Besides Lamesa tonight, the Tigers must travel to meet top contender Monahans on Saturday. Monahans' only first-round loss was to Snyder, and the Tigers need another win over the Loboettes to avoid a district playoff situation later in the season.

Tickets for this evening's triple-header are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Tigers Looking To Correct Miscues For Lamesa Tilt

Snyder's Tigers begin a "second season" here Friday night - only their second home game of the season - as they challenge the winless Golden Tornadoes of Lamesa High School.

The Tigers will be looking to eliminate past mistakes and gain some momentum, as well as pick up that first victory of the year.

"Our kids still have a good attitude," said Coach George Byerly this morning. "We're working hard to try and make something out of the season, so this is like a first game as far as we're concerned. Lamesa's is in the same shape we're win (no victories) so they're going to be after it as much as we are."

Those who witnessed Snyder's 33-6 loss to Lake View last weekend realize the score was not indicitive of the way the Tigers performed most of the way. But it was the same old problem - giving up the big play - that hurt the visitors against the Chiefs.

"I thought we had a good game plan going in," said the coach. "We drove the ball down the field and scored on them. Later we were driving the ball and got to about their 20 and we fumbled the ball. I felt like that kind of killed our momentum, and after that, we began to make mistakes."

Snyder held Lake View to only 18 yards in the first quarter, but the Chiefs scored four TDs in the second to lead 26-6 at halftime.

"Defensively, we played well again, other than giving up the big play. I thought in the second half our defense came back and did a real good job."

Snyder allowed over 180 yards passing on just six completions - most in the second quarter - as Lake View took advantage of a leaky secondary.

"We're still learning," said the coach. "The kids we have back there are all juniors and sophomores. But we can't use experience or age as an excuse because if they're playing back there they've got to do the job. Of course there are a lot of things, the pass rush and several different things, that have to do with that."

Snyder will work to cut down on its mistakes, both offensively and defensively, for the Lamesa game, and hopefully come up with a win that could still key a good finish for the Tigers.

Contenders Now Four In District Grid Race

District 2-AAAA football contenders were apparently reduced to four last weekend, when Pecos lost its second conference game of the season to fifth-ranked Andrews, 19-7.

Though no can be mathmatically eliminated from the race until Friday night, it is generally thought that the eventual district winner will not have more than one loss.

Currently, Andrews and Monahans are the only undefeated teams in the conference. Andrews is 6-0 for the season and 4-0 in loop play, while Monahans, idle last weekend, is 5-0 and 3-0.

Other games last week saw San Angelo Lake View stay alive at 4-2 and 3-1 by stopping Snyder, 33-6 and Sweetwater remain in the running at 4-1 and 2-1, by dropping Lamesa, 31-7.

In the only other game, Odessa Ector blanked Fort Stockton, 18-0 on Saturday.

Snyder and Lamesa are both winless on the season, while Ector is now 2-3 and 1-2 and Fort Stockton is 3-3 and 1-3.

This week Lamesa and Snyder fight it out at Tiger Stadium, while Monahans travels to Fort Stockton, Sweetwater entertains Pecos and Ector goes to Andrews.

Andrews overcame determined Pecos last weekend with a strong defensive effort. Both Jaime Vela and Brent Petross blocked Pecos punts and recovered them in the end zone for 12 of Andrews' points. The district's leading rusher, Keith Brooks, was held to just 27 yards on 25 carries, but had a big night defensively as he picked off two passes and recovered a fumble.

Danny Williams scored 26 of his teams' 31 points to help Sweetwater spoil Lamesa's homecoming festivities. Williams ran for two TD's caught a pass for another and kicked a couple of PATs and a 46-yard field goal.

At San Angelo, Snyder started strong in limiting the Chiefs just 18 offensive yards in the first quarter, but Lake View roared back for 24 second-quarter points to put the game away. San Angelo scored twice in the final 59 seconds before the half, to build a comfortable 26-6 advantage.

Ector's defeat of Fort Stockton came at a great time - homecoming for the Eagles.

Duster Defense Strong In HSU Scrimmage

ABILENE – Coach Joe Cushing's Dusters continue to look impressive in scrimmage work, tying up Hardin-Simmons for the second time in less than a week here last evening.

The Dusters return here Thursday for their third intersquard scrimmage of the term to take on Abilene Christian University at 4:30

"It went real well. I was very pleased," said Cushing of the workout. Defensively we ate them alive in the first half. They had just 16 points and four of those were on freethrows."

Though officially no score is kept in scrimmages, WTC out-pointed the hosts 40-16 at the half and 85-43 for the entire 40 minutes.

"We played man defense early in the (first) half, then used our press for the final 10 minutes and I think they only got down the floor one or two times on that," said the coach.

Offensively, the Dusters did not perform quite as well as Thursday's scrimmage with HSU, but Cushing was still pleased.

"We had two girls in double figures and a bunch with four, six and eight points. That indicates we can shoot the ball as a team and that means we're capable of winning a lot of ballgames," Cushing said.

One reason the team has looked so strong this early is the play of the freshman, who as a group are "doing a little better than I anticipated at this point," said the coach.

WTC expected to return a good group of sophomores, and talentwise had recruited well. The maturity and intelligence of the freshmen was something of a bonus however, since it usually takes more time for those characteristics to begin to develop.

"You hope they (the freshmen) will be able to come in and play with the intensity and maturity of a sophomore," said Cushing. "I know we'll have our troubles later on. No good team is without some adversity, but I think these girls are mature enough and intelligent enough to where we can handle those situations."

Buffalo Hooks Miami Dolphs

ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. (AP) - Don Shula had admitted before the game that the Buffalo Bills would be Miami's first big test of the season.

The Dolphins flunked it.

"We hadn't played a team as good with or without the ball all year," Shula said of Buffalo's offense and defense. "We knew this was going to be a pretty good indication of how good we were."

If that's the case, the Dolphins weren't anywhere as good as the 4-0-1 record they took into Monday night's game. The 31-21 victory by the Bills - and it was a lot easier than the score indicates - proved it.

The outcome not only left the Dolphins with their first loss of the season (Philadelphia remains the National Football League's only unbeaten team), it also left their record against American Conference East teams at 1-1-1. And Buffalo, 4-2 overall, is 4-0 against the rest of the division.

By halftime the score was a near-runaway 31-7 with Miami's only touchdown coming on Fulton Walker's 90-yard kickoff return. It wasn't until the final 18 minutes that the Buffalo defense relented and gave up Tony Nathan's 12-yard scoring sweep - the first rushing TD against the Bills this year - and Don Strock's four-yard touchdown pass to Joe Rose.

Buffalo quarterback Joe Ferguson, given all the time he needed, completed 20 of 29 passes for 338 yards. And that was after he'd hit on 11 of 15 for 221 in the first half, when the outcome was all but decided.

Wide receiver Jerry Butler got 28 of them on one touchdown pass and 25 of them on another and running back Joe Cribbs, who rushed for a game-high 60 yards, got another 65 on a touchdown pass.

Cey Gains Start Against Montreal

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Ron Cey stood in the batting cage with what looked like a catcher's shin guard on his left forearm. There was a dull pain gnawing at his confidence. Several swings resulted in several foul balls.

Then, he sent an offering into center field on a line. It seemed to indicate he was ready to return to the starting lineup of the Los Angeles Dodgers - and none too soon.

The Dodgers - fresh from an historic comeback over the Houston Astros in the division series - will represent the West Division in the National League championship series against the East Division champion Montreal Expos beginning today at Dodger Stadium.

Dodgers Manager Tom Lasorda announced at a workout Monday that he would start Cey at third for the first time since he broke a bone in his right forearm when he was hit with a pitch by San Francisco's Tom Griffin on Sept. 8 at Dodger Stadium. Reactivating Cey will move Pedro Guerrero back to right field, and Rick Monday will take a seat in the dugout, Lasorda said.

Right-hander Burt Hooton, who won Los Angeles' first game of the series with Houston last Friday, 6-1, was named to start today's game. Hooton was 11-6 during the season with a 2.28 earned run average.

Manager Jim Fanning, who took the Expos helm when Dick Williams was fired on Sept. 8 and guided the team to its first postseason berth, will counter with 22-year-old right-hander Bill Gullickson, 7-9 during the season with a 2.80 ERA.

Like Lasorda, Fanning had an addition to his lineup Monday. After watching rookie basestealing sensation Tim Raines take a few batting practice swings, he named Raines to start in left field. Raines broke his hand on Sept. 13 in Chicago while attempting to steal second base. Raines stole 71 bases and hit .304 before he was sidelined by the fracture.

Billy And George Already After It

NEW YORK (AP) - The American League Championship Series between the Oakland A's and New York Yankees gets under way tonight. The Billy & George Show, which both sides said would be put on hold, began Monday.

Martin, the A's headline-making manager, had barely finished telling the media that "it's not Billy against George, it's my team against his team," when Steinbrenner, the Yankees' headline-making owner, fired the first salvo.

Steinbrenner disclosed that he had met with AL President Lee MacPhail and asked that the league support the umpires in upholding the rules on spitballs during the best-of-five series. Opposing teams charged all season that several of the A's pitchers were not adverse to wetting the baseball now and then.

The Yankees were one of them. In May, the umpires examined the ball time and again in a game at Yankee Stadium pitched by Mike Norris, Martin's starter for tonight against New York's Tommy John.

"George intimidated the umpires and the American League," Martin said angrily. "It bothered Mike so bad that he couldn't pitch a good game. All the money in the world couldn't get it to happen now. I know how George works. I know the Yankees have a CIA on the club. But his power and money and influence stops right there.

"I guarantee you I won't allow it to happen again. I'll go out there and stop it.'" Martin's wrath abruptly subsided. "Otherwise," he said with a grin, "I'll have to run for commissioner and get rid of him."

Reeves Among Tech's Injured

LUBBOCK (AP) - Texas Tech starting quarterback Ron Reeves may be lost to the Red Raiders for two or three weeks with an undiagnosed knee injury, head Coach Jerry Moore announced Monday.

"There is a little swelling, but right now it is hard to put a timetable on it," Moore said. "Hopefully, he will be back two or three weeks. If he comes back sooner, then that's a bonus for us."

Senior Richy Ethridge will start as quarterback when the Raiders host Rice Saturday, Moore said.

Texas No. 1 In AP Poll

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas, leapfrogging into the No.1 spot in college football with a 20-point victory over Oklahoma, now faces an even more important game.

Texas defeated Oklahoma 34-14 in a nationally televised game at Dallas on Saturday and next travels to Fayetteville, Ark., for a regionally televised Southwest Conference contest with Arkansas.

Texas received 35 first place votes for 1,274 points to 24 first place ballots and 1,262 points for Penn State in voting by a nationwide panel of 66 sports writers and sportscasters.

Theft, 4 Mishaps Logged By Police

One theft and four minor traffic mishaps highlighted Monday's calls for the Snyder Police Department.

At 4:30 p.m. Billie Randell reported the theft of a C.B. radio and antenna valued at $148. The items were removed from her car sometime between 5:20 p.m. Sunday and 4:30 p.m. Monday.

A two car collision in the 3200 block of Ave. E involved a 1973 Dord driven by Maria Bryand and a 1980 Cheverolet pick-up driven by Dionicio Ubando. Only minor damage was reported. Later in the the evening, another two vechicle collision involved a 1973 Cheverolet Blazer operated by Raul Rodreguiez and a 1973 Toyota driven by Jerol Martin. Lunch, Recess

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recesses and lunch periods that last too long and classes that are ended too early are shortchanging American school children of daily classroom instruction, says the dean of the UCLA School of Education.

In a paper previewing his study for the National School Board Association, John I. Goodlad says that some elementary schools spend as little as 18½ hours a week on instruction, although others spend as much as 27½ hours. The average for all grade schools was 4½ hours a day.

"If there's one thing we've learned in the last decade, it's that you don't learn anything if you don't spend any time on it. I'm not asking for a longer school year... I'm asking that we use the time we've got," said Goodlad.

Getting Ready For State Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan is spending the Columbus Day weekend, a three-day holiday for government workers, preparing for Tuesday's state visit by King Juan Carlos of Spain, according to spokesman David R. Gergen.

Reagan watched portions of American television summaries of the Anwar Sadat funeral and asked that video tapes of the event be sent to him at Camp David, the presidential retreat in Maryland, said Gergen.

Nominations Are Made By Board At Ira

IRA—The board of trustees of Ira Independent School District nominated five persons to serve on the Scurry County Appraisal District board at their meeting last night.

The Ira nominees are Kenneth Wilson, Pete Hester and Ross Blanchard, incumbents, and Mike Graves and W. T.(Pat) Falls. If elected to the appraisal board, Graves and Falls would replace John Reed and Bill Hairston who asked that they not be renominated.

Routine reports made up the remainder of the agenda for the Ira School Board meeting.

The Chinese calendar, which begins with 2637 B.C., was supposedly invented by the legendary Emperor Huang-Ti. Each month begins at a new moon.
