GENEVA, Feb. 10 (AP)—Reaction at Geneva to President Coolidge's recommendation for a supplementary five power naval accord was two fold. TEXAS TECH AND W. T. C. C. WORKING HAND IN HAND FOR DEVELOPMENT OF BEAR GRASS FOR COMMERCIAL USE

The West Texas chamber of commerce and Texas Technological college working hand in hand, hope to bring about the development on a commercial scale of the fibre bearing plants which grow in West Texas.

These plants, commonly referred to as the "Bear Grass" family consist of the lechiguilla, sotol, maguey, Mexican dagger bear grass, and yucca. They have for centuries been known to produce a high grade fibre similar to jute and manilla hemp.

The school of technology of Texas Tech will experiment with these products supplied by the West Texas chamber of commerce in an effort to determine the commercial possibilities of the fibre.

Millions of acres of land in the southwestern United States is considered semi-desert and practically worthless for agricultural purposes.

However, this land, particularly in West Texas is literally covered with the fibre bearing plants named which grow wild in profusion without care.

It is thought that a process can be discovered by which this lechiguilla or bear grass fibre can be used alone or in conjunction with cotton fibre manufactured from low grade cotton in such a manner that all of these products can be made from native material.

In some sections experiments have already been made with machinery designed to separate the fibre from the pulp, and the fibre secured was a high grade closely resembling manilla hemp.

Best Is Last in Gene Porter's Case

The best is the last! This phrase came vividly true in the case of Gene Stratton-Porter, the noted novelist who met her death in a tragic automobile accident in Los Angeles some two years ago.

Early in 1924, the famous writer finished a novel that would outstrip all her previous well-loved books, such as "Lilac", "The Girl of the Limberlost", "The Harvesters", "Freckles", and "Michael O'Halloran".

Slowly it grew and developed; the first draft was finished early in the fall and the final version was completed and the last page typed on December first. Her comment was that this was her best novel.

And then, five days later, while motoring through Toluca, a street-car crashed into her machine and she was instantly killed.

Objects to Fine for Having Been Robbed

Calamity never stalks alone and Sylvan Sanders, surveyor, probably is opining that the jinx is a possessor after him.

According to the laws of the state, Mr. Sanders purchased license plates for his car this year and subsequently missed them from the vehicle. This week, he paid for another pair of license and threw them on the car seat while he went in search of bolts with which to affix them to the machine.

In his absence the law passed by noted the lack of tags and summoned the surveyor, demanding that he "ante up" the necessary fine for being without 1927 license tags before doing this.

MERTON TELLS HOW HE GOT CLAIM PAID

SAYS GAVE BONDS WHICH IT IS CLAIMED, DAUGHERTY GOT

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The government played its "ace" in the Daugherty-Miller trial today. Richard Merton, German natural citizen, once indicted with Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general and Thomas W. Miller former alien property syndicator for conspiracy to defraud, was called to tell his story of the transfer of the $7,000,000 assets of the American Metal company, seized during the war as enemy-owned property, from the alien property custodian to the Societe Suisse.

King, he said, told him he could help him and that services of a lawyer would not be necessary in having the claim allowed. Then King introduced him to Jess W. Smith, Daugherty's family man. Later on, Merton said, he saw introduced to Miller, but he could not recall whether King or Smith did the introducing. Miller, he said, told him he had just been installed as alien property custodian and didn't know much about the affairs of that office, but that if he would come to Washington he would be turned over to an authority of an alien property matters.

WE CONGRATULATE THE TEXAS LEGISLATURE

The recent action of the Texas Legislature in expelling from the body two of its members after an investigation of bribe charges, is to our mind very commendable. Too often these offenses are taken too lightly by the members, and those who want to be crooked are allowed to continue with their work, and influence legislation that sometime is anything but for the good of the State.

The members of the legislature evidently felt the same way about it as the vote for the expulsion of these two offenders was very decisive. Only about four of the number voting to allow them to remain. This takes us back to the contention that has often been expressed in this paper about voters knowing their men, and knowing who they are voting for when the opportunity is given them at the polls.

The recurrence of Abraham Lincoln's birthday on February 12 reveals memories of our first martyred President, now revered in the South as well as in the North. So rich in human interest was Lincoln's life that it presents almost unlimited material for the writer—material of which wide use has been made during the past sixty-odd years.

Politics as a whole seems to be rather rotten, and for that reason it is necessary to have strong men in the law-making bodies, in order that we may be able to trust them, and depend upon them to weed out all the undesirable, and finally work the body down to a desirable type of men that will give us fair and just laws that will represent the best interests of the people of the State.

THE CHANGING OF THE PLAINS

The changes on the Plains have been fast and varied during the past few years, so rapidly has the development been along agricultural lines that the need of more railroads has been felt for some time, in order that this development may go forward as it should.

Twelve construction camps have been opened since last Tuesday on the South Plains, where the new 200-mile Fort Worth and Denver railroad extension will connect Lubbock and Plainview direct with Fort Worth.

out there since we won the right to build into this great undeveloped South Plains empire. There were a few celebrations tendered our party, but I declined any pomp or ceremony at this time. The trip was purely business—it is a big job to build a railroad and every minute counts. Our engineers went over every section of the line with me. We collected deeds for the right-of-way, all of which was pledged to the road some time ago.

One of the problems now being worked out is the water supply from Estelline to the caprock. Wells must be sunk at many places because the scarcity of water and the alkali below the Plains is worrying engineers. On the Plains, however, plenty of water for farms, towns and the railroad is available.

As the construction camps are opened, it is necessary to build temporary roads into the section. Heretofore, a few trails existed, but outside of highways into Turkey, Lockhart, Petersburg and a few other towns the larger part of the section has had no adequate means of transportation.

OUT OUR WAY

SO THINK WE

We think that wives, most of them at least have a remarkable memory. Nearly any of them can remember the day and date of certain things that we husbands have done that displease them.

We think Poland possibly holds the records for wooden wedding. When two Poles are united, what else could it be.

We think if it is correct that there are 17.8 people to the square mile in Texas, some of us sometimes feel like we are the fraction, especially when we forget to pay our poll tax or get our car license plate and the traffic department picks us up right when a bunch of our friends are looking on.

We think that if most of us would practice letting the other fellow have a right to his opinion in matters, no doubt there would not be so many ties of friendship broken.

We think there is one good thing about this cold weather it will have a tendency to give speakers poetry—a set back.

We think there can be substitutes successfully in nearly everything, except substitute speakers.

We think now that a married woman has swum California's channel it is now up to the flappers to try it.

We think we need more law observance, and there would be little need for law enforcement.

We think a fellow is not a good American citizen who will exceed the speed limit on the highways and the stress of a city, when the traffic cop is off in the other part of the beat.

We think that selfishness is foreign to good citizenship.

We think that many of the trees in Lubbock should be trimmed high enough from the sidewalks to keep the drooping limbs from striking people in the face as they pass under them on the side walks.

We think the people of the twelve South Plains counties grouped together for the support of the boy scout movement should not hesitate to put on the necessary funds to keep the work going forward. It is a great thing for the boys of this country, and naturally when it benefits the boys it benefits the girls and the grown ups, and the community and the state and the nation.

DIVERSIFICATION BEING PROVEN

Butter fat production from an average dairy cow is worth as much on the local market as 20 bales of cotton in one year, it was pointed out here last night by E. G. Cherbonnier of St. Louis, widely known expert in dairy cattle feeding, who inspected several local herds and advised with dairymen on the feeding problem.

West Texas dairymen are favored with excellent climatic conditions for butter and milk production and a strong market, but they are not feeling enough hay or providing sufficient shelter for their cows, he declared.

Mr. Cherbonnier is chief of the dairy chow department of the Ballston Farms Mills, St. Louis. He does much experimental work with state agricultural colleges and private herd owners.

The annual profit from dairying in the United States is greater than that from the entire crops of oil and oats. The industry is in its infancy in this region but the first necessary factor, a strong market, is present. Moreover, dairymen in this section do not have to contend with excessive heat and flies and can more easily produce pure butter fat, he said.

The dairymen here have an opportunity to lessen the expense of production if they will feed more "roughage." There is not enough hay being fed. Cane and Johnson grass are excellent for this purpose," he continued.

"Another thing necessary here is more shelter for the cows. In the north weather conditions make it necessary to have a stall for every cow. In this section a dairyman may easily milk two or three cows in each stall. But there ought to be more sheds, preferably facing south with the other sides closed. In these there should be hay racks where the animals may feed at all times. Use of such racks would effect a great saving in hay, also," he declared.

West Texas dairymen are very progressive, the St. Louisian added.—Abilene Reporter.

The Criminal's Deadly Weapon

Chicago Daily News: Many well-meaning persons regard the task of depriving the criminal of his pistol or machine gun as very simple. It would be easy enough, they assert, provided Congress and the State Legislatures enacted suitable statutes.

Forbid the private manufacture, transportation and sale of firearms, impose severe penalties on violators of these prohibitions, and, it is argued, the desired results will be accomplished.

The National Crime Commission does not take that optimistic view of the problem. It has a special committee on firearms whose duty it is to ascertain the opinions of experienced police superintendents, Criminal Court Judges, men of affairs and scientific criminologists as to the feasibility of various antipistol proposals, and to draft uniform legislation for adoption, after due deliberation, by the several States.

One conference on the subject was held in the east a few months ago. The second conference has just been completed in Chicago, and a third will be assembled in the West. Handy conclusions are not desired and crude legislation will not be sought. Legal as well as practical phases of the problem must be considered.

The program of legislation and administration to be devised and followed will reflect the mature judgment of the officials and experts best qualified to give advice in regard to the most effective method of disarming the criminal, or the potential criminal, without the danger of depriving the law-abiding citizen of the means of proper defense guaranteed him by the Constitution.

Shanghai's Dazzling Luxury Rests on Basis of Misery and Poverty

By W. H. PORTERFIELD NEA Service Writer SHANGHAI, Feb. 10.—Nowhere else on earth is contrast, between vast wealth and horrid poverty more apparent than in China.

The big hotels are crowded to capacity with well-dressed, steady-smoking and more or less hard-drinking foreigners of both sexes. In the afternoon tea is made the occasion for the "parade of peacocks" in the lobbies of the principal hostesses, only in the human species the female wears the gaudy finery. The dazzling apparel of our women, however, is largely explained by the desire to show off their new Chinese shawls and brilliant Mandarin coats. Nowhere else, I think may be found raiment so beautiful.

Walker Gets $2.5 Million. An American naval officer, with his wealthy and generously proportioned wife, sails into the lobby of the Astor, accompanied by a bevy of chattering young birds of paradise, adorned like Solomon in all his glory. The milk-mannered Chinese who brings the tea and cakes gets $5 Mex. per month and what tips he can procure, and feeds himself. He likes Americans best because they are the most liberal tippers.

Presently the lobby is filled, likewise the great dining room, now turned into a ball room, where, to the accompaniment of an excellent orchestra, dancing continues from five until seven.

At eight-thirty comes dinner: At nine-fifteen Rudolph Valentino in "A Sinned Devil" or some other equally ancient picture at Broadway prices. The pictures are the only high-priced articles in Shanghai, however, for the tea daintiest is one dollar, Mex., and if you do not dance the cost of an elaborate afternoon tea is 23 cents. This is at the four big hotels.

In contrast I visited Wush, 50 miles up the Yangtze, the other day, and walked through one of the dozen silk filature mills of that teeming city of 300,000. A filature factory is one where the silk threads are taken from the cocoons, which have first been placed in boiling water so as to kill the worms. The silk is picked up by the dainty fingers of the operatives and threaded on slow-moving reels just behind the worker.

MATADORS DEFEAT BEARKATS AGAIN, 40-21

ALMA PACE TOTALS 19 MARKERS TO AID IN SWEEPING TWO-PLY SERIES FROM SAM HOUSTON TEACHER QUINT

Usually after a basketball game in which one player stands out offensively... ALMA PACE TOTALS 19 MARKERS TO AID IN SWEEPING TWO-PLY SERIES FROM SAM HOUSTON TEACHER QUINT

Sideline Chatter

A faster and more interesting exhibition of basketball was shown last evening than the previous evening. The teams leaped into the game with more aggressiveness and more punch.

The first counter registered in the last game of the series between Sam Houston and Texas Tech was made by Alma Pace. Flashy forward of the Higginbotham machine, with a free toss, he added another counter with a sideline sinker putting the homelings into a lead of three points before the Bearkats registered a point.

Hollman, the only visiting eager to approach the Matadors in ability in glancing field goals was first to chalk up a counter for the Houstonians.

Again inaccuracy in finding the basket was the downfall of the visiting crew. The Bearkats were baffled by the stubborn defense of the flashy jersied homelings and were forced to take their loop attempts from long distances.

Alma Pace, fleet Memphis lad of the Matador crew, topped the field in scoring with nine sinkers and one free toss. Six of the field tosses registered by the flashy forward were counted in the initial period. Even though the number of Pace's goals would indicate that a number of the goals were crisp shots it was not so in this case—many of the Pace sinkers were difficult attempts and sensational.

Percy Walker, stalwart guard for the scarlet clad cagers, followed Pace in scoring honors for the Higginbotham with five field tosses and one free count. Walker was more constant in his attempts last evening than he has been in any previous encounter.

Captain Dennis Vintant, Lamessa's contribution to the scotchly clad Tech warriors, and Handsome Hansome Walker, of football fame, again did their stuff to the delight of the enthusiastic, cheering spectators. Walker, at the offensive drive by the Bearkats into a stellar Tech defense and then a substantial forward smash, to woo victory from the Gods of Chance. George 'Buck' Weaver, disregarding his vaccination, was inserted into the lineup after Kenneth 'Andy' Gump. Hemphill had again performed nobly at the pivotal position, and fitted well into the renegade Matador machine. Melvern Hunter, Pleasview, Cordell Reeves, Sweetwater, and Leon Fisher, Memphis, were also interested in the official score while the majority of the string athletes were still in action, and all three gave good accounts of themselves. With so many minutes to play as there are positions on a team Coach Higginbotham sent in Smythe, Reeves, Dean and Teague, relieving Reeves, Walker, Hunter and Weaver to bear the scarlet and black standard and while they did not score the total score they held the highly touted Teachers to a brace of goals from the playing court.

Coach Jimmie Jones' crippled tonight experienced the same trouble last night which they did on the evening previous in that offense fell short with in shooting range. 'Buddy' Hardy, guard, and Hollman, forward, however, showed to good advantage in spite of close and accurate Tech guarding. Hollman scored his last point in scoring evenly up with Walker, of the Tech, for second honors with 11 points. The Matadors again made 5 personal fouls, the same as during the first game of the series, while Sam Houston's tappers whacked 1 off their total of three made during the initial encounter. Leslie 'Al' Jennings, while he gave way to Hunter early in the second half, worked well and added a field goal during his section of the party.

The Bearkats, who incidentally split games with Rice Institute and Texas A. and M. earlier in the season, will take off early this morning for Abilene, where they will attend a housewarming scheduled on two consecutive evenings by the Christian college there. They have been on the road a week. The homelings will take a rest until Monday of next week when they will board a stage-coach for Canyon to contest the fast Buffalo aggregation on Monday and Tuesday nights.

County Tournament to Start Tonight

This evening the county tournament will begin for the championship title to represent Lubbock county in the district meet here on February 18th. One more evening has been added to the meet and for that reason the officials are staying in the tournament this evening. A round robin system in determining the champs; heretofore this has been the means of elimination. By having the championship determined this way it will give the teams a better chance to stay in the contest longer and thereby allow every club to meet the other. The quintet having the highest percentage for the entire meet will be awarded the title.

The first game will be called this evening at the Tech assembly hall for seven-thirty o'clock. Coach 'Froggy' Lovren, mentor of the Ralls Jack-rabbits, will referee all games during the tournament. The four teams that will take part in the meet are: Elton, Malou, Acuff and Lubbock. Drawing for the games will be conducted early this evening. Officials of the tournament stated last evening that the final game will be played Saturday evening at the assembly hall.

Hardware Men Give Play Equipment

As their part in the campaign for playground equipment being conducted by the Parent-Teachers of the Dupree school, the Sherrod Brothers and Myrick Hardware company donated two basket balls to the school to be used on the playground yesterday. The girls are to receive a ball from Sherrod Brothers and the boys one from Myrick Hardware. The donations were announced at a business meeting of the association at the school yesterday.

CITY COMMISSION

...last year. It was the sense of the commission that the board last year was exceptionally active and accurate in their work, and although it was said that at least one or two of the men probably would not be willing to serve this year, the commission strongly urged acceptance of the places by them.

New Audit is Ordered
Other business of the commission included unanimous approval of the employment of H. V. Robertson, company, of Amarillo to make the annual audit of the city's books and accounts. This audit to be made around May 15, when resignations of W. H. Perkins, city manager, and F. W. Groce, city secretary, take effect.
The city manager was instructed to purchase a circulation pump for use at the water plant at a cost of a little over $2,500. This is to be used in softening the water used in cooling engines, and to keep the water used at an even temperature. A motion was adopted that the city purchase gasoline in tank car lots, by which a saving of nearly five cents per gallon can be made. A storage reservoir is to be constructed out of equipment already on hand, for the purpose, and the reservoir construction will cost only about $25 or $30, according to Mr. Perkins.

HARRY FENNER

Harry Fenner, back guard on Ohio State's basketball team, never tried his hand much at animal training, but he has succeeded in getting a basketball to do pretty much everything but talk.

Fenner can take a basketball, any one will do, and spin it on the end of his finger. If you think it's easy try it some time.

Babe Ruth Stands Pat in Salary Tilt

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10 (AP)—Rather than accept $52,000 for playing baseball in 1927, Babe Ruth announced today he will enter the business world by opening a string of gymnasiums and starting a correspondence course on how to keep fit physically, and how to play baseball. Coupled with the announcement was the statement that he would regret having to quit baseball but he would stand in the light of a success in the business world if he accepted the contract offered by the New York Americans. Ruth would have as his partner in the gymnasium Arthur A. McGovern, of New York, a well known physical instructor.

Antelope Wins in So. Floyd Tourney

SPECIAL TO THE AVALANCHE
FLOYDADA, Feb. 10.—In an elimination basketball tournament for the south portion of Floyd county held here Saturday, Antelope rural school, won first honors by defeating Baker by a score of 27-19 and in the final game taking the long end of a score of 41-12 from the McCoy quintet. Lakeview, eleven miles southeast of Floydada, won class B honors by defeating the Sandhill squad by a score of 48-15. Winners of these honors will meet the winners of the north portion of the county at Lockney Saturday to decide the county championship.

ESCOBA IS SOLD TO BROWNLEE OF AUSTIN

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 10 (AP)—Escoba, son of the great 'Broomstick' out of Christmas star, and therefore a half brother to Mars, has been sold by John S. Borbee and associates to Houston Brownlee, of Austin, Texas. The sale was made by Tracy and Waller of the Kentucky sales company. Mr. Brownlee is a prominent Texas attorney.

Yanks Think Sultan of Swat Will Sign

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—Officials of the New York Yankees, including Col. Jacob Ruppert, Secretary Ed Harrow and Manager Miller Huggins, observed a diplomatic reticence for the most part today with regard to Babe Ruth's 1927 contract, but indicated, nevertheless, that they are confident the Big Hitter will swing his fourtaint pen on the dotted line within the next month.

The Yankees, baseball men believe, are ready to increase the Babe's salary substantially beyond the figure of $22,000 in the contract which expired with the 1926 season.

When Ruth comes back east after finishing his picture work about February 25, he is expected to get down to brass tacks on the salary issue and reach an agreement with Colonel Ruppert.

The same observers who figure this out are skeptical of Ruth's getting a $100,000 salary, such as it is reported he wants. A compromise at around $75,000 is regarded as most likely.

QUITS NATIONAL LEAGUE TO COACH AT CISCO

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Feb. 10 (AP)—J. Monroe Sweeney, youngest of the national league umpires, has quit baseball to become football coach at a small Cisco Texas college. His resignation has already been forwarded to John Hegdler, president.
Sweeney, a graduate of Bethany College, and prior to his appointment as a major league umpire, he was a grid mentor.

Spencer Wells of the Hemphill-Price company, returned to Lubbock yesterday from a buying trip to New York.

"Nothing to the reports from Amarillo," said Sled Allen the dean of baseball in Lubbock last night when approached on the matter of his playing ball at Midland. Mr. Allen said that he had only been consulting with the men at Midland regarding the management of the team there this summer and that he had no intention of moving away from Lubbock. Lubbock is his home and he plans to stay here in business.

Razorbacks Win Conference Title

FORT WORTH, Feb. 10 (AP)—Arkansas' Porkers were automatically given the southwestern conference basketball championship tonight when the T. C. U. Horned Frogs defeated Texas University, the only team which had a chance to head off the Hogs, 23-27. The victory was won in an extra period of play.

Texas, Too Ill To Laugh, Now Happy, Healthy Again

San Antonio police officer, wrecked in health and spirits, for many months "Forgot how to laugh." Tanlac toned up his system, gave him back glowing, radiant health.

Officer A. Valdez is well known in San Antonio, Texas, and lives at 2015 San Luis St. Speaking of his distressing experience, he said: "For many months I was rundown by stomach trouble and acute indigestion. My weight dropped from 170 to 135 lbs. in that time. Biliousness, constipation and dizzy headaches combined to keep me in misery. My liver, too, was sluggish and gave me a lot of trouble. Just as a policeman stops a lawbreaker, Tanlac arrested all those troublesome symptoms and drove them out of my system. And they haven't come back. I'm feeling as energetic and active as an officer of the law should be. My wife, too, has been helped greatly by Tanlac. She and I are enjoying the best health of our whole lives. I'm up to 176 lbs. now—a gain of 41 lbs!"
Glowing health is the birthright of every man and woman. Overwork and neglect are the enemies of health.

If they have sapped your vitality, build it back with Tanlac. It is nature's own remedy, made from roots, barks and herbs. Your druggist has it. Get a trial bottle today. Over 22 million bottles sold.

WHY

Did the Standard Milling Co., of Lubbock Sell a Quarter of a Million Pounds of Mixed and Ground Feeds During The Month of January????

The Standard Milling Company is owned and operated by H. W. Stanton, practical farmer for many years, a resident of Lubbock County.

THE "WHY'S" OF THE STANDARD MILLING COMPANY

The Plains is recognized as one of the world's finest feed-growing sections. It is likewise equally known as a section where feed plentifully grown is wasted to an extent that it has become one of the farmer's greatest sins.

The Standard Milling Company is a result of thought and research work on the part of W. H. Stanton who has found cotton farming unprofitable; who has recognized the terrible waste in feeds and a man who has found formulas for milling balanced foods that will produce equal or better results as other branded, analyzed feeds—at a MUCH LOWER COST.

Properly mixed, ground feeds, grown right in this section, government analyzed and tagged, may be had from the Standard Milling Company for all feeding purposes and it is the willing offer of the Company that should any feed sold by the Company fail to give the results above stated, no charge whatever for the product will be made.

Mr. Farmer--

PRODUCTS NOW READY FOR LARGE DISTRIBUTION

The Standard Milling Company, only five weeks old, but having done a quarter million pound business in the month of January, is now equipped and ready to mill and distribute approximately one million pounds monthly! The Company, therefore feels that it has created a market for bundle feeds, feeds in heads, grains, that will prove a lasting blessing to every farmer of this section. The Company is now in the market for bundle feeds of all kinds as well as grains.

Mr. Banker--

The Standard Milling Company invites the attention of bankers of the Plains to the mill and the products turned out by it. We feel that once you have investigated the products and know of the savings made possible to the farmer by the STANDARD process of using the great Plains' feed crop, you will feel a kindly interest in the development of the plant and in the market made possible by it. We especially invite South Plains' bankers to make a personal inspection of the Mill and to investigate the results given by the feeding of its products.

Mr. Merchant--

It's to the merchants of the South Plains we ask for their interest in the STANDARD MILL process of utilizing ALL the feed raised on the farms and the turning out of a more palatable, more result-getting, properly balanced feed, and thereby making a good, stable market for these feeds and MAKING DIVERSIFICATION—a PRACTICAL FARMING PLAN! We seek your interest in the project for no other reason than to awaken you to the possibilities right at home in the conservation of our important crops, in the practicality of diversification and the resulting sound prosperity caused thereby.

Everybody--

Dairymen, farmers, stock-feeders, of the vicinity are using STANDARD MILLING COMPANY products. We could and do refer you to the best known of these for further proof of the satisfaction given by our products. For increasing milk supply at a LOWER COST—for fattening cattle and sheep QUICKER and AT A LOWER COST—FOR KEEPING working stock in the best of condition AT A LOWER COST—for chicken feed that will give better results at a LOWER COST—WE INVITE INVESTIGATION. Our Mill is modern. Our products are Government analyzed and inspected. Everyone in Lubbock and on the South Plains is invited to come and visit our plant.

The Standard Milling Company is ready to accept orders for the following ground products: Milo Meal, Horse and Mule Feed, Dairy Feed, Chicken Feed. Orders filled either retail or in car lots.

DAILY MARKET

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 10. (AP)—Cotton prices mixed today under the weight of disbelief in the passage of the farm relief bill, poor Liverpool cables and belief by traders that a reaction was due. The zone found them negotiating steadily toward higher ground, however, nine to ten points below yesterday's close.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Security of offerings resulted in price upturn today for wheat. Reluctance to sell was accompanied by talk about falling off in demand for exports and by speculation that reserves southwest are as low as present as they generally are around April 1. Wheat closed unsettled 5-8 over bushel packages were added to the load during the morning until shortly before noon March had traded down to 13.82, May to 13.97 and July to 14.13; 37 to 19 points under the previous close.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—Reaching attracted by yesterday's advance was considered chiefly responsible for reactions in the cotton market today. The disposition to take profits on recent purchases probably was promoted by the uncertainty of pending farm relief legislation, and there may have been some selling for local and southern account. On the whole, however, offerings were not heavy, and after selling off to 13.94 for May contracts, or 21 points net lower, the market rallied several points in late trading. May closed at 14.08, the general market closing steady at net declines of 7 to 19 points.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE CALLS NATIONS OF WORLD TO COMPLETE WITHOUT DELAY NAVAL DISARMAMENT PLAN

(By the Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The great powers were besought today by the American government to complete without delay the naval limitation program they began in 1921 at the Washington arms conference.

In a diplomatic note touched with anxiety lest the world again drift into an era of competitive navy building, President Coolidge invited the governments of Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan to join with the United States in negotiating an agreement that would place all classes of war-craft under limitations similar to those put upon first class ships by the Washington treaty.

Announcement of the proposal was made by the president in a special message to congress which received it with general expressions of approval. "There shall be no sign tonight, however, that senate or house leaders would recede from their plan to override repeated previous recommendations of the White House and authorize the addition of three more cruisers to the American navy."

No direct reference to the three cruiser proposal was made in the presidential message, although it did contain a warning against being led into any semblance of a building race with other nations. After declaring it was his desire to see the spirit of the Washington treaty extended to cover construction of cruisers, destroyers and submarines, Mr. Coolidge continued:

"The desirability of such an agreement has been apparent since it was only to be expected that the spirit of competition stifled as regards capital ships and aircraft carriers by the Washington treaty, would, sooner or later, show itself with regard to the other vessels not limited under the treaty. Actually, I do not believe that competitive building of these classes of ships has begun. Nevertheless, far reaching building programs have been laid down by certain powers, and there has appeared in our own country, as well as abroad, a sentiment urging naval construction on ground that such construction is taking place elsewhere. In such sentiment lies the germ of renewed naval competition."

"The added that the time for a supplementary diplomatic conference, when delegates from most of the world had been in session at Geneva discussing the general subject of disarmament and were to renew their work late next month. He pointed out, also, that the Geneva conference apparently was approaching a deadlock in its effort to find a formula for arms limitation that would apply to all classes of armaments everywhere, and that the only apparent promise of accomplishment lay in the direction of such agreements to cover special subjects or special regions.

So far as land air armaments were concerned, the president said, the United States could not be considered a factor in any limitation discussion since the nation's army and air strength already have been reduced to a minimum and "constitute a threat to no one."

Both the presidential message and the note to the naval powers, a copy of which also was sent to congress, were made public simultaneously in Washington, London, Paris, Rome and Tokyo shortly after noon today under a carefully prepared plan designed to place the president's views directly before the people's concerned. Copies of the note also had been sent to the governments of Brazil, Argentina and Chile, constituting the personal navy groups in Latin America, for their information. Few members of congress knew of the diplomatic proposal in advance of the arrival of a White House messenger of the cabinet to present the message and the note to senate and house. The senate listened to the reading of both shortly after convening at noon, and then without applause and comment from the floor referred from the papers to the foreign relations committee. In the house the reading was held up by the firm bill debate until in the day. Less than a quorum listened in silence to the president's pronouncement but there was a short burst of hand clapping when the reading was concluded.

Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee, always an advocate of arms limitation, was one of the first to express his unqualified approval of the step taken by the president. He was seconded by Senator Curtis of Kansas, the republican floor leader, chairman Hale of the navy committee, and many others.

Some of them expressed doubt whether the move for further limitation would succeed, however. Senator Reed democrat, Missouri, describing the plan as a "don't ask" which would come to nothing, and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, declaring that while he favored naval limitation, he had been unable to decide whether under present conditions a conference such as that suggested by the president would be calculated to accomplish wholesome results.

Speaker Longworth, who delivered an address here last night favoring the cruiser building plan, declared his utterance were "in line" with the president's proposal, and representative Tilson, the republican floor leader like wise couched praise for the president's message, with a renewal of his own support of the cruiser program. Chairman Butler of the house naval committee, who recently has expressed disappointment at the outcome of the Washington conference, put it this way:

"I am most thoroughly in accord to limit these ships, and I believe the American congress should sustain the president by placing in his hands a large building program for the United States navy."

State department officials refused to disclose whether any of the four powers address by Mr. Coolidge had recently indicated in advance that such a proposal would be pleasing to them. The plan has been in the making here for weeks, however, and it would not surprise diplomatic observers if informal feelers already had shown that the president's views are shared in some of the interested capitals, at least.

KIWANIANS HEAR OF PRESS TROUBLES

AVANANCHE JOURNAL STAFF ENTERTAINING CLUB WITH 3-ACT PLAY

"A Day in the Newspaper Office" was the subject of the skit presented by members of the Avalanche-Journal publishing company to the Lubbock Kiwanis club in their regular weekly luncheon at the Lubbock hotel. The lighthearted features of the newspaper work were presented to the club and in the end drew a hearty applause from the members.

The program opened with a short talk by Mr. D. Hodrick, which was followed by the first act of the skit showing a staff meeting which was interrupted many times by the telephone ringing, people wanting to know the time and various other inquiries and requests which are made. Act two presented the paper's part in the highway squabble which resulted by agreement to build a tunnel under the State Fe depot, the Texas Utilities plant and then out into the canyon, making the only direct route. "Taxes are too low anyway," the members pointed out in their agreement. Act three portrayed the trade subscriber and the circulation manager, Jimmie Dow, explaining the situation and showing the man what he was getting by reading the "We Think" and "It Is Reported" columns.

Members of the organization taking part in the program were: D. D. Hodrick, James L. Dow, Charles A. Guy, Orin B. Jarvis, Joe Griffith and Daniel Penley.

Re-connects His Meter; Is Fined

Two men were fined $20 each in the city court yesterday for gambling, and another was fined $5 for connecting up his water meter and light meter after they had been cut off for non-payment of bills. It was alleged that he tied his city light meter into a Texas Utilities line. He told the court that he did not know he was doing anything wrong; that he had lived in many cities, and had never had to pay for light and water.

COLLEGE INN TO ENTERTAIN TONIGHT

The girls of College Inn will entertain their friends tonight with a Valentine party at the dormitory. Preparations for a grand time have been made and a great amount of surprise is in store for the guests.

STUDENTS VISIT HEREFORD FARMS

Ray C. Mowery, professor of Animal Husbandry at the Texas Technological college, together with 8 members of the junior class in his department left Lubbock early this morning for Kress and Hereford where the students will study stock judging.

The eight students are getting ready for tryout for the first Tech stock judging team.

The party will stop at Kress at noon today and spend some time with the Shorthorn herd of J. W. Elliot there. They will arrive at Hereford late today and will spend the night and most of the day Saturday there, arriving back here late Saturday night. At Hereford, the students will see the famous Herefords on the Tom Ivey, D. L. McDonald and Ed East stock farms.

TECH TO BE REPRESENTED AT N. E. MEETING IN DALLAS

Texas Tech will be well represented at the meeting of the National Educational association which meets in Dallas, February 22, according to reports from the various faculty members. More than a dozen Tech faculty members are to attend, including all the deans, President Paul W. Horn, and E. L. Dohoney. The meeting will last a week.

The meeting is recognized as one of the feature conventions of the year as all of the leading school authorities of the southwest are to be in attendance and many important problems are to be brought up. The Tech will have a representative in most every departmental meeting.

STUDENT CONVOCATION TODAY

At the call of the student council, the first convocation held solely for discussion of the affairs of the students will be held this morning at 9 o'clock in the stock judging pavilion. Every student in the college is urged to be present as matters concerning activities for both this year and next year are to be passed upon.

The question of adding $4.50 to the student activity fee and including the annual will be the main topic and much discussion is expected. It is the plan of the student council to submit the question for the vote of the student body. Other important matters are to be brought up also.

Jack Lockwill at Rocklake Academy

Jack was unsteady and wild at first, and the sophs might have compelled him to force in runs if they'd been contented to "wait it out." Though they filed the bases with only one out, a double play stopped them from scoring. "I'll do better next inning," Jack told Bevin. "I'm getting-straightened out all right now. The buzz-planer in my head has stopped."

Before long he was mowing the soph batters down with dazzling speed and sharp-breaking curves. The game became a thrilling pitchers' duel. "There are two promising pitchers for next year's team," said the varsity captain.

Jack batted in terrible luck until the last of the eighth inning. Then, with the sacks loaded and two out, he caught the ball fairly and drove it over the head of the center fielder for a homer, putting the freshmen in the lead by one run.

He went to the slab for the last time, and struck out three batters in a row. The final one was his enemy, McNally. Then the triumphant and rejoicing freshmen took him on their shoulders and marched around the field, carrying him at the head of a wild, roaring procession. With the girls of the class who cheered the victors as they passed them was Betty, her eyes filled with admiration and pride.
