Final Census Count Totals 4,648

Wellington's final census count has been set at 3,043, and the county's total population is 4,648, a spokesman for the U.S. Department of Commerce Dallas office told The Wellington Leader Thursday, July 16.

This is only 10 more than was reported in the preliminary figure, and down 107 from the 1970 final figure of 4,755.

Of the county's total population, 3,989 residents listed themselves as white.

The second highest group is those of Spanish origin, 554.

Those who listed themselves as black on the census form numbered 341. There were 34 who are listed as American Indians, a category that also includes Eskimos and Aleuts.

Eight persons are listed as Asian and Pacific Islanders.

The remainder, 276, come in a category listed as "other."

The Department of Commerce spokesman said some residents of Mexican ancestry list themselves as being of Spanish origin, others as white. The final number in these categories depends on how the individuals answered the questions.

Wellington had 2,482 listed in the white category, 415 Spanish origin, 317 black, 24 American Indian, 8 Asian and Pacific Islander, and 212 "other."

In the housing portion of the census, Collingsworth County is listed as having 2163 housing units and Wellington with 1367.

There are 1790 households, with an average of 2.56 persons per household.

Households, the spokeswoman explained, was the total of houses, apartments, and single rooms when occupied as a housing unit.

There are also 72 individuals in "group quarters," and this, it was explained, includes persons under care or custody in institutions. In this are two groups at opposite poles, aged or ill in a nursing center and those in custody of the sheriff's department in jail.

Some counties have a third category of persons in non-institutional group quarters, such as those living in college dormitories.

Preliminary census figures released earlier in the year showed that among other area counties Briscoe dropped 216 from 2,794 to 2,578, or a 7.7% loss and Hall County, down 444 from 6,015 to 5,571 or 7.4%.

Court House Elevator Low Bid is $135,475

The contract for renovating the third floor offices of Collingsworth County Courthouse and installation of a new passenger elevator apparently has been awarded to Wardrup and Associates on a complete bid of $135,475, according to County Judge Bob Watson.

This was one of 5 base bids submitted, ranging from a low of $135,475 to $204,000, County Judge Bob Watson said.

The Texas Department of Human Resources, which has had this project on its books about four years, had allocated $90,000 for the work, according to the judge.

Alternates to the base bid provided for options that would have lowered the price by omitting or changing the types of materials used such as carpet, or door, heating and air-conditioning options and others.

This improvement is mandated in order to bring the court house into compliance to federal requirements that the handicapped have access to all offices in public buildings.

The renovated space will be occupied by the various offices of The Texas Department of Human Resources which serve the county. They are located along the west side of the third floor, behind the old district court room.

The county's portion of project includes providing the elevator shaft, the inside and outside ramps over the steps on one side of the building and a short stretch of sidewalk, Watson said.

When bids were called for on the elevator shaft, the lowest was $45,000 and the commissioners court elected to plan the work themselves and hire local workmen. The shaft cost the county $11,005.41.

The $3,000 earmarked in the 1981-82 budget should be more than enough to finish the ramps and sidewalk, the judge believes.

1982 is the deadline for compliance with federal law requiring that the handicapped have access to all offices in public buildings.

Ex-Students Gather For 1981 Reunion Saturday

Ex-Students of Wellington High School will hold their 1981 reunion Saturday, August 1, with activities centered at Bura Handley Community Center. Between 450 and 500 ex-students, their families and other guests are expected to attend.

In addition to general reunion, six class reunions and one annual luncheon are scheduled either Friday evening, July 31, or Saturday.

Jerry Manuel, president, has announced plans.

"A major concern for this year is to get Wellington people and those ex-students living in the county to come to the reunion," he declared. We have people who travel hundreds of miles to see classmates still living here--and all too many of those who are here don't show up at the reunion," Manuel declared.

"I wish there is some way we could get to those who have continued to live here since graduation the fact that you are the ones the visitors want to see to know how important you are to those who have moved away."

Two major pieces of business will be placed before the ex-students at the business meeting, slated for 3 p.m. in the community center.

They will be asked to decide if they want to continue holding the reunions on an annual basis, or to change the reunions to once each two years.

The other business will relate to the process of officer selection.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. and close at 5 p.m., with Granvel Harrison of Dodson as chairman. The registration fee is $1.50 per person.

There will not be a program so that ex-students may spend more time visiting.

The Saturday evening meal will be a barbecue in Ellison Park, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. with Jerry Duncan and Dr. W.P. (Bill) Estes as co-chairmen.

Tickets may be bought at the time of registration and are $5.00 each for adults and $2.50 for children 12 and under.

Closing event will be the alumni dance, also at the community center, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets are $5.00 per person. Manuel is dance chairman.

Class reunions include 1941, at Carroll's Dining Room, 3 to 5 p.m.; 1946 an ice cream supper Friday evening and luncheon at noon Saturday, both in the Farm Bureau Hospitality Room.

1951: a catered dinner Friday evening, all-day visitation at the Heritage Room of Wellington State Bank, starting with coffee at 9 a.m. and a noon buffet.

1956: all day visiting Saturday in the directors room of Greenbelt Electric Co-operative.

1961: A catered luncheon at the VFW building at noon.

1971: a cookout at Pioneer Park Friday evening and visiting at the home of Betsy Castleberry Lemons from 3 to 5 p.m. Saturday.

For the families of ex-students, Manuel points out that there are a number of things to do.

The annual Wellington tennis tournament will be in progress at Ellison Park, where spectators may watch the play in the shade of the park's trees.

Marian Airport Swimming pool, located one-fourth mile east of the US 83-FM 338 intersection, will be open from 1 to 6 p.m.

By special arrangement, Collingsworth County Historical Museum will be open Saturday, with members of the 1954 Study Club as hostesses. There is no admission charge.

Pioneer Park, 7½ miles north of Wellington on Highway US 83, on the banks of Salt Fork River, offers hook-ups for campers, picnic tables with barbecue grills and playground equipment for children.

Wellington Country Club golf course is open to non-member players with payment of a greens fee. This club, only a few years old, is located two miles east and one-fourth north of Wellington on Highway 203.

Ex-students not attending class luncheons will be on their own for the noon meal Saturday.

C-C Rodeo Winners Announced

Rodeo cowboys from 6 states competed in the 1981 Chamber of Commerce Rodeo in VFW arena Friday and Saturday nights, July 24 and 25, coming from as far as West Virginia.

There were others from Nebraska, Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas, competing for the silver belt buckles.

Crowds were larger than in several years, although the number of rodeo competitors dropped a little. This has been true in several rodeos in this part of the country.

Winner of the buckle as all-around cowboy was Ernie Messer of Amarillo.

Other winners, announced by Mary Ann Lowe, include:

Calf Roping: 1st, Jim Reimen, Stinnett; 2nd Fred Goad, Mobeetie; 3rd, Clifton Smith, Tell and 4th Wayne Rowan, Knox City.

Bareback bronc riding: 1st, K. Kenner, Amarillo; 2nd Landon Carter, Hereford; 3rd Ernie Messer, Amarillo; 4th Larry Marrs, Canyon.

Saddle Bronc Riding: 1st Sam Betts, Adrian; 2nd, Donnie Sloer, Paducah; and 3rd, Mike Mitchell, New Castle.

Team roping: 1st, Bud Brenham of Shamrock and Vance Vest of Childress; 2nd, Frank Bridwell and Cliff Bradstreet of McLean; 3rd, Ted Harris and Joe Harris of Wellington; and 4th, Rex Long and Bud Breashears of McLean.

Bull riding: 1st, Billy Carney, Amarillo; 2nd, Darren Hale, Canyon and 3rd, Mark Jack, Clarendon, 4th (tie) Bobby Adcock of Canadian and Ray Mataska of Wichita Falls.

Senior barrels, Friday: 1st, Leisa Wilson of Harmon, Ok.; 2nd, tie, Judy Morris of Pampa and Susan Wilson of Odell.

Senior barrels, Saturday: 1st Kathy Hill, Canyon; 2nd C. Elliott of Northfield; 3rd, tie, Kelly Moore of McLean and Ann Hooper of Mangum.

Junior barrels, Friday: 1st Cindy Morris of Pampa and 2nd Tammy Cole of Sentinel, Ok.; Saturday night: 1st, Tammy Cole; 2nd, Tammy Henard, Wellington.

TENNIS TROPHIES

Lynn Bartlett, left and Brent Long show the 42 trophies that will be awarded to winners in the annual Wellington tennis tournament that is now under way in Ellison Park.

Exes Can Play In Tournament

The annual Wellington tennis tournament opened Wednesday morning, July 29, when boys and girls 14 years of age and under go on the Ellison Park tennis courts.

It will continue through Sunday, when champions of the mixed doubles division will be determined.

Ronny Williams, tournament director, said that all divisions will be left open and we will accept entries, even after the tournament starts if the division is not past the first round.

Because a large crowd of Wellington High School ex-students will be in town for the 1981 reunion activities, this announcement will enable these visitors to compete. They are urged to contact Lynn Bartlett, 806/447-2612 or Brent Long, 806/447-5434 as early as possible.

Finals in the 14 years and under division will be played Thursday morning, and the division for 17 years and under (high school) will begin Thursday afternoon, according to Williams.

"We hope to finish that by Friday around noon," he said.

Open division play will be Friday afternoon and Saturday.

Mixed doubles will be played Sunday.

Entries in the high school division have not been up to the number expected. The mixed doubles division, however, is due to be the strongest division.

"It looks tough. We have some good doubles teams already entered, and there are a lot of Wellington ex-students who went to regional in tennis when they were in high school. There's not a weak team in mixed doubles," Williams said.

There will be competition in boys and girls 14 years and under; singles and doubles; boys and girls 17 years and under singles and doubles; open division, men's and women's open division, singles and doubles, and the mixed doubles division.

Historical Commission Sets Tape Recording Project

Members of Collingsworth County Historical Commission have selected as a project for the upcoming year tape recording reminiscences and other information of early settlers of the county. Their goal is to preserve the first-hand accounts of some who watched the county's early history in the making.

A meeting of the Commission was called Friday, July 24, by County Judge Bob Watson, Mrs.

L.C. Hill was selected to serve as chairman of the meeting.

Names of additional commission members were proposed and these will be brought before the commissioners court for appointment at the next meeting of Commissioners Court Monday, August 10.

Three dates of major interest to Collingsworth County were brought before the commission.

The 50th anniversary of construction of the Collingsworth County Court House is approaching (It was begun in 1931 and finished in 1932); In 1986, Texas will observe the 150th anniversary of its independence from Mexico; and in 1990, Collingsworth County will be 100 years old.

Present at the Friday meeting were Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Murray Dodson, John Robert Henard, Mrs. Ed Henard and James Sullivan.

Alcohol Plant Working at A&M

When the availability of fuel becomes more important to agricultural producers than the price, Texas A&M engineers will be able to tell them all about an available alternate fuel—ethyl alcohol or ethanol.

The engineers have been running a research and demonstration ethanol production plant for the last five months. It produces 184 proof alcohol from grain through a series of fermentation and distillation processes. It's just a matter of cooking the alcohol up, as Henry O'Neal explains.

"To this point we have used only grain sorghum and corn as the feedstock for making alcohol," O'Neal says. "The general process is to, first, grind the grain, put it into a cooker, add water and add an enzyme to keep the mixture liquid during the heating process."

"This mash is heated to just below boiling and cooked for about an hour. Then it is cooled down to between 95 degrees and 100 degrees F. Another enzyme is added to change the starch to sugar, then yeast is added to begin the fermentation of the sugar."

It's allowed to ferment for three to four days, after which we have an alcohol concentration of about 10 percent," explains O'Neal. "Finally, the alcohol is distilled so we can get a high enough proof to use as a fuel."

The production plant at Texas A&M is a small-scale model and has less cooking and fermenting capacity than an actual on-farm plant would have. The demonstration model has four cooking tanks, each with a 12%- bushel grain capacity, which gives the plant a 30-gallon per day production rate. Its distillation capacity is 10 gallons per hour.

"There are some residues left which are a good protein source for feeding livestock," O'Neal says. "We are easily recovering 8 pounds of 27 to 28 percent protein per bushel of grain that went into the cooker."

Many products can be fermented to produce ethanol, including wheat, potatoes, sugar cane, sweet sorghum and sugar beets. The engineers plan on testing the production potential of several feedstocks. Thus far, they have found that grain sorghum and corn produce 2% gallons of 184 proof ethanol per bushel.

"We will be using the alcohol we produce in a 1,000-hour engine test," O'Neal says, "so we can get a feel for any out-of-the-ordinary wear or maintenance that might have to be taken into account if we're going to use this alcohol as a fuel under long-term conditions."

The energy requirements of the plant and environmental and safety aspects of alcohol production are also being studied.

Texas A&M Medical School Accredited

Texas A&M University's medical school has received full national accreditation for five years, a period longer than expected and said to be "highly unusual" for a newly established program.

GTE Using Experimental Electric Cars

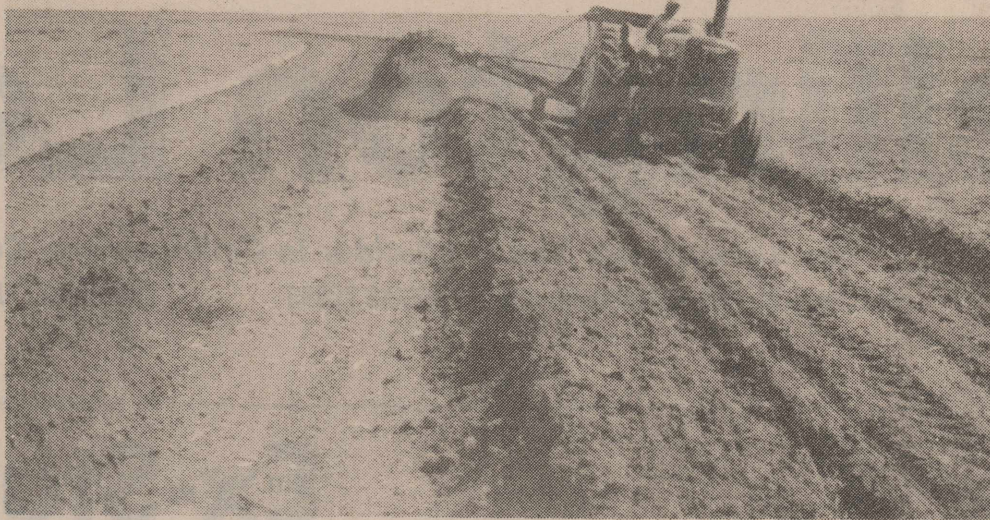

SAN ANGELO--Fifteen small trucks and five compact automobiles which run on electric batteries instead of gasoline have been put into service by General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Ten of the quarter-ton pickup trucks are part of the fleet at the company's operations at the Dallas/Fort Worth Regional Airport. The other five trucks are used by the Irving Division. The automobiles will be part of the motor pool at the company's general office in San Angelo.

The electric vehicles will be operated under regular working conditions as part of the electric and hybrid vehicle demonstration program conducted by the U.S. Department of Energy.

Each motor runs on 20 large storage batteries according to R. Rex Bailey, vice-president of General Telephone Co. of the Southwest.

The batteries can be recharged over a period of six to eight hours from a charging unit connected to a 220-volt wall outlet. This provides for a cruising range of at least 50 miles at speeds up to 5 miles per hour.

Land Heritage Program For '81 Kicks Off

AUSTIN--"This year we're hoping to surpass the 1,500 mark in the total number of Texas families registered in our Family Land Heritage Program," Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said recently.

"And we certainly hope individuals interested in history or agriculture in Texas will help us by bring as many qualified applicants into the program as possible."

Since 1974, the program has honored 1,392 Texas families.

The Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) is entering its eighth year in sponsoring the program which honors, "those families that have persevered for a century or more in the cultivation and production of food and fiber," said Brown. "Undoubtedly, these families, with their unfaltering determination have been the backbone of Texas agriculture."

The registration period will extend from May 15 to August 15.

Those who qualify are honored in state ceremonies and receive a certificate and a copy of the Family Land Heritage Registry. The publication has a brief history of each farm or ranch and includes old photographs of the family and homes as well.

Basic requirements include the following: Continuous agricultural production on the farm/ranch for 100 years, land ownership within the family, complete operation or supervision of the farm/ranch production by family members who are Texas residents, and a size of at least 10 acres with a minimum of $250 income from farm or ranch products. TDA is the final judge of eligibility.

Persons who meet the basic qualifications and wish to enter can obtain an application from the county judge, county historical commission chairman, the nearest TDA district office, or by writing to Commissioners, Reagan V. Brown, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Break-Bone Fever Returns to Texas

COLLEGE STATION--A mosquito-borne virus called "break-bone fever" not only threatens to invade Texas again this year but also other portions of the South, warns a Texas A&M University entomologist.

Called dengue (dan-gee), the disease has been described as "so painful you wish you could die." The disease is known as break-bone fever because it's extremely painful in the joints.

Olson had predicted the disease, carried by the yellow fever mosquito, Aedes aegypti, would come into Texas. Last year, cases were reported not only in Texas, but also Louisiana, and Florida.

The eloquence of flowers.

There are times in our lives when we are faced with emotions that transcend words. These are the times when a smile, a touch, a special gift can express our feelings more eloquently than we could ever say them.

For centuries the universal tribute has always been flowers. Carefully chosen for their unfailing ability to say love and respect and farewell more eloquently than any words ever spoken.

Class of 1971 Plans Two Reunion Events

The Wellington High School class of 1971 will celebrate the 10th anniversary of its graduation Friday and Saturday, July 31 and August 1, Betsy Castleberry Lemons reminded this week.

Working with her on the arrangements committee are: Phyllis Thomas Killian and Beth Peters Molsenbocker.

A cook-out will be held at Pioneer Park Friday at 7:30 p.m. Hamburgers and ice cream will be served "with everything that goes along." Class members and their families will visit as long as they wish.

Tickets are $4 for adults and $2 for children.

The four class sponsors have been invited, Charles Floyd, now of Lubbock, Ann Long, Jolene Wilson and Jim Forrester.

On Saturday, the day of the 1981 Wellington Ex-Students Reunion, the 1971 class members will meet at Mrs. Lemons home, 1604 Ellison Street, from 3 to 5 p.m. There will be refreshments and visiting.

All former teachers are invited to join the group at that time.

Anyone wanting more information about this the 1971 reunion should contact Mrs. Lemons at 447-2517 or 447-2867 evenings or Mrs. Killian at 447-2130.

These two, along with Mrs. Molsenbocker, have located all but four of those who graduated.

The names are listed here and in parenthesis are the names of spouses if that information is available.

All-Stars Defeat Friona, Lose Finals to Borger

After Wellington Senior League All-Stars lost their first game in the play-off series, after traveling across the Panhandle to meet Friona on Monday night, July 20, then returned Thursday, July 23, to win the second game of the series.

They were finally eliminated by Borger Friday, July 24.

Friona, the host team for the District 5 All-Star tournament, was eliminated from tourney play by Wellington Senior League All-Stars 15-14 Thursday.

The game was close all the way, with the Wellington group tying the score 14-14 in the bottom of the 7th and final inning.

The go-ahead run brought the game to an end with the 15-14 victory for Wellington.

Pitching was Aaron Barton, with Darren Hall in relief. Coaches were Ray Cozad and Don Reeves.

The All-Stars were entertained by the Wellington League with a pizza supper at Hereford after the game.

Those taking cars and attending were Mrs. Glen Warrick, Mr. and Mrs. Don Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. John Barton and Herbert Bearden, Mrs. Bill Hall, Kevin Hall, Mrs. Reed Souder, Danny Gray, Mrs. Ray Cozad and Greg Cozad.

THIRD GAME

A car-weary group arrived in Friona Friday for the championship game against Borger, a town that draws its all-stars from 27 senior league teams.

The late hours and travel time proved to be the doom of the Wellington players, who lost to Borger 16-2.

This win advanced Borger to the Section I Regional tournament, to be held in Abilene July 27 through August 1.

Coaches for these three-game district series were Ray Cozad, assisted by Danny Gray, Don Reeves and John Barton.

All-star players are Aaron Barton, Rodney Saldana, Joe Bill Munn, Darrel Hall, Tony Guzman, Mark Hunnicutt, Michael Souder, Jay Warrick, Eddie Trimble, Bill Reeves, James Benton, Neal Duncan and Chuck Brown.

Among those who went to this game and furnished cars were Mrs. Warrick, Mr. and Mrs. Barton, Stephanie Barton, Mark Myrick, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hall, Mrs. Cozad and Greg.

Classes of 1928-29 to Hold Luncheon

The Wellington High School graduating classes of 1928 and 1929 will hold their annual luncheon at Carroll's Saturday, August 1 at 12 noon.

It will be a Dutch lunch, and both Wellington residents and those who are here for the general 1981 Ex-students Reunion are urged to come, said Bessie Jean Willis West, who is helping with plans.

There will be time afterward for visiting.

The luncheon will be in the small dining room of Carrolls, which is located on US 83 South.

Mrs. M. Webb Dodson Civic Leader, Dies

Mrs. Maggie M. Webb, 88, a civic and community leader in the Dodson area for more than half a century, died in Presbyterian Hospital, Oklahoma City on Saturday, July 25.

She had been hospitalized there and at Altus 6 weeks.

Mrs. Webb was a charter member and past president of Dodson Civic Club, which was organized in 1938. With other members, she helped to establish a park in Dodson, worked for town beautification, and sponsored many projects for the school and for the community.

A 50-year member and past worthy matron of the Order of Easter Star, she belonged to chapters at Hollis, Dodson and now at Wellington. She was a charter member of the American Legion Auxiliary and belonged to First United Methodist Church, Wellington.

Much of her community work was on an individual basis, and she gave her support in behalf of those projects that were meant to improve the town.

A native Texan, Mrs. Webb was the former Maggie M. Farris and was born March 19, 1893, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Farris. The family came to the Dodson area in 1916.

She was married to Ben T. Webb in 1920, and the farm to which they moved a short distance east of Dodson had been her home for the 60 years which followed. He died in 1939.

She was talented in creative handwork of many kinds, and another interest was in growing and arranging flowers.

Services for Mrs. Webb were conducted at the Church of the Nazarene in Dodson, with the Rev. Howard Smith of Olton, a former pastor, and the Rev. Tom Thomson, pastor of First United Methodist Church, officiated. Burial was in Dodson Cemetery under the direction of Patterson Coley Funeral Home, Hollis.

Pall bearers were Howard Hunt, Howard Jarvis, Weldon Sexton, Tom Birchfield, Tommy Hightower, A.D. Lewis, Truett Holland and Lonnie Roberson.

Members of the three Eastern Star chapters to which she had belonged were seated in a group.

Survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Ima White of Mesa, Ariz., and Mrs. Irene Tudor of Waco; two brothers, J.H. Farris of Leonard and Olan Farris of Dodson, and a number of nieces and nephews.

ties during the month of August, according to Kurt Verlei, Director of Public Relations. The Company will display collection canisters in all 207 Allsup's Convenience Stores throughout New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma. "This is a very important part of fund raising prior to the telethon," said Verlei. "The Association receives no tax supported grant nor does it seek or receive fees from patients or their families." Verlei added, "Their programs are funded almost entirely by private contributors and corporations and, of course, through the Labor Day Telethon."

The Muscular Dystrophy Association is currently seeking causes and cures for 40 crippling neuromuscular related disorders. Free diagnostic services, therapeutic and rehabilitative follow-up care are provided by Muscular Dystrophy Association's 320 clinics at no cost to any individual suffering from one of the diseases covered by the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Allsup's will also be conducting the Allsup's Doorbell Brigade. Area youngsters are encouraged, on August 29 and 30, to visit their local Allsup's store and pick up a collection packet. After collecting donations for Jerry's kids and returning them to the store, Allsup's will give them a free fountain drink of their choice. Verlei said, "We thank our customers in advance for their generosity and look forward to working with area youngsters in the fight against Muscular Dystrophy."

Miss Ingram To Lions Club Diabetes Camp

Vivian Ingram, 11, of Wellington, will attend Texas Lions Camp for Children with Diabetes August 3 through 14 at Camp Rio Vista near Hunt, Texas.

She is among 32 children from the Texas Panhandle who will attend the camp for diabetic children aged 6 through 16.

The cost of the camp is paid for by Lions of Texas and is free to campers. Applications are submitted by local Lions Clubs.

The major goal of the camp is to assist the diabetic child in achieving maturity in a healthy, producted manner. The camp is staffed with 23 doctors and nurses in addition to counselors. Miss Ingram is the daughter of Mrs. Christine Cummings.

The first umbrella was invented by an Englishman, Samuel Fox, in 1852.

Clarence Darrow, the famed lawyer, went to law school for only one year. He finished his education on his own.

Area Smoking Cessation Program Proves Successful

PRPC--Eighteen Wellington area residents are no longer smoking after completing a program sponsored by the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

Wellington housewife Treva Stallings' experience is a good example of the success of the program. "I had smoked for 30 years and now I've quit smoking because of this program. I feel much better now and I can sleep better," she said. Ms. Stallings was a two and a half-pack a day smoker prior to enrolling in the program that ran February 20-23 in the Collingsworth County courthouse.

Her reaction isn't unusual according to Jimmie Sessions, who coordinated the Wellington program for the PRPC. "Everybody in the class said they were successful in one way or the other," she recalls. She said some of those enrolled had smoked once or twice since the end of the last 90-minute class but the majority had quit altogether and those who had been smoking sporadically thought they would also be able to quit.

The program includes two follow-up sessions held a week and two weeks after the class. Those follow-up sessions give those who have quit a chance to compare notes with their classmates and reinforce each other's change in life style.

The program was originated by the American Health Foundation, an organization based in New York City. In the past three years the system has been responsible for helping hundreds of people kick the habit. National statistics show that over 90 percent of the enrollees in the AHF Stop Smoking System have quit smoking at the end of a class week and over 75 percent are no longer addicted to nicotine at the end of six months.

The Panhandle version of the program is an activity of the Health Promotion Center Task Force of the Panhandle Health Systems Agency, which is a division of the planning commission. Over 100 area citizens have benefited from the program that began in January. The average person enrolled has smoked for 20 years and consumed about two packs of cigarettes a day.

A second American Health Foundation's Stop Smoking System will be presented in Wellington as a direct result of this successful program.

Wellington area residents are reminded that if they want to stop smoking, they are urged to attend the introductory session which will be held in Collingsworth County Courthouse Monday, August 3, at 8 p.m.

Wellington is only one of a number of Panhandle towns in which the Stop Smoking program has been given.

Class of 1941 Plans Afternoon of Visiting

Observing the 40th anniversary of their graduation from Wellington High School, the class of 1941 will hold a reunion from 3 to 5 p.m. at Cherokee Inn Saturday, August 1.

Although most of the time will be given over to visiting and remembering school experiences, there will be a short memorial service for the 7 who have died.

A large group of mothers and two fathers of class members still live in the Wellington area and these are encouraged to attend. They will be recognized.

There will be a table holding school annuals, scrapbooks and pictures where the class members and their husbands wives may browse. Evelyn Ball King heads the arrangements committee, and helping her are Bill Hatch, Ruth Jackson Derryberry, Juanita Crane Owens and Margie O'Rear Uselton.

Only five class members have not been located, and an attempt to find them will continue, said Mrs. King. They are Billy Hicks, Andrew B. Hill, Maureen Self, Mildred McEachern and Margie Claibourne.

This was the last peacetime class to graduate before the United States entered World War II the following December.

Two County Girls Model in District 4-H Fashion Revue

Lessons in fashion and clothing construction were put on parade as 53 4-H Club members representing 20 Panhandle counties competed in the district 4-H Fashion Revue Thursday, July 16, in the Sunset Center Mall, Amarillo.

Lesa White and Stacy Knoll represented Collingsworth County 4-H.

Lesa, representing Junior I division, received a blue ribbon for her two piece suit, which consisted of a blue and yellow plaid jacket, and yellow accordion pleated skirt.

Stacy represented the Junior I group. Her outfit was an orange and white striped jumpsuit. She received a red ribbon.

The competition is quite rigid, Extension Agent Jean Chandler pointed out.

Those who attended the fashion revue were Mrs. P.J. White, Lesa White, Stacy Knoll and Miss Chandler.

Four young women, modeling apparel they had created, took top honors and will represent the Panhandle District in the State 4-H Fashion Revue, September 14-18, in San Angelo.

They are Karen Kay Kenney of Hansford County, Kim Watson of Moore County, Marie de Keratry of Potter County and Lisa Harris of Sherman County.

Special awards were presented to Darla File of Lipscomb County for best all-cotton outfit and to Miss Harris for best all-wool outfit. Awards for best models went to Miss Watson in the Senior division and to Mike Brown of Oldham County and Tiffany Hedgecock of Hutchinson County in the Junior Divisions. Miss Watson also received an award for the best project record book.

Miss Kenny modeled a garnet, ultra suede outfit with a lined, semi-fitted jacket and A-line skirt. With it she wore a pink polyester blouse with pointed collar and full length sleeves.

Miss Watson's ensemble included straight-legged wool pants in dark blue with a top-stitched wool jacket and long-sleeved burgundy silk shirt. The jacket has a detachable sherpa lining.

Miss deKeraty modeled a jade outfit featuring a circular skirt and a short waisted jacket with a standing collar. It was complemented by a soft, tied blouse.

The award winning wool outfit modeled by Miss Harris included a purple, tent-shaped, lined coat; lined, straight legged pants and lined, buttoned vest, both of a plaid in shades of purple, tan, gray, blue and rust, and a long-sleeve blouse of purple polyester.

Miss Miller exhibited a loose-fitting, fully lined camel color coat and matching fabric hat. Her wool pullover dress in deep wine was fully lined and accented with contrasting bias binding of the same camel color as the coat.

White-on-black sheer of polyester and cotton was the choice of Miss Ramp for her dress with loose fitting bodice and flared skirt. A detachable white lace collar added versatility.

The award winning cotton outfit of Miss File spotlighted the traditional western look. It included trim-fitting, straight-legged jeans accented by red top-stitching and layered pockets, and a red calico print blouse with a solid blue yoke and red piping. A white cowboy hat and boots were accessories.

Contestants are judged on sewing skills, clothing construction, overall appearance, modeling abilities and their 4-H record books.

The awards were announced by Mrs. Sue Farris, district director with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and presented by Joe Richardson, Amarillo, a member of the Texas A&M University Board of Regents.

VFW, Auxiliary Hold Supper

The VFW and Auxiliary members met on Tuesday evening, July 21, for their monthly social with hosts for the evening being Mr. and Mrs. Don Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Barney Glenn.

A summer salad supper was held and visiting followed. Door prizes were given and the lucky individuals included Bobby Wilkerson, Jake Meadows, Hobart Smith, Raymond Horton, Louise Orr, Edna Rudy and Louise Henard.

Members and guest attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Barton, Dennis Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Smith, Babe Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Meadows, and Mrs. Jack Sanford, Mrs. Treva Stallings, Edna Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Woolldridge, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Henard, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones, Samantha and Dana Jones of Amarillo, Bobby Wilkerson, Louise Orr, and Edna Rudy.

Hosts for the August social will be Mr. and Mrs. Bob Barton and Mr. and Mrs. Kenyard Poteet, while Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Horton, Babe Leach and Mrs. Louise Orr will serve as hosts for the September social.

In the next ten years, one of the fastest growing needs will be for skilled mechanics and repairers.

MR. AND MRS. ERNEST McNABB

Amarillo Couple Tours in Europe

Ernest and Sherry McNabb of Amarillo have returned from a three-week tour of several European countries.

Leaving June 27, they were in London, England and the surrounding area for almost a week.

They saw all the usual tourist attractions, and also of special interest to them were the stores and shops, which they enjoyed comparing to those in the United States.

They also visited Basingstoke and Dover.

From Dover the McNabbs went by passenger ship to Amsterdam, the Netherlands.

The remainder of their trip was by train. For a couple that has relied on the automobile for their transportation, this was an interesting and unique experience.

In Germany, they visited Karlsruhe, Augsburg and Garmisch.

Garmisch is a small mountain resort town in which tourists may stay in private homes if they wish. The McNabbs found the two elderly women in whose home they spent time to be kind and interesting people. They said their stay in Garmisch was one of the most interesting and enjoyable of the trip.

In Austria, they stopped at Innsbruck, famous for its winter sports.

During their stay in Rome, they visited the Pantheon, the ruins of the Colosseum, the Sistine Chapel and St. Peters. Michelangelo's art was impressive, they say.

In Italy they also visited Verona, Florence and Venice.

From Zurich, Switzerland, they rode a ski lift up into the Alps, where large herds of cattle grazed in the meadows. Each animal had a bell about its neck. "The sound of the bells in the still mountain air was beautiful and almost symphonic," the couple said.

Their interest in the agriculture as they rode across Europe was to be expected. Hillside vineyards in France were of special interest.

McNabb is a graduate of Wellington High School and West Texas State University, Canyon. He is an engineer with Pantex.

This trip, therefore, was a combination of work and vacation and his duties took him into conferences with similar interests in England.

Mrs. McNabb, the former Sherry Bounds, also graduated from Wellington

Shower Honors Darla Seitz, Fiancee of Kent Riley

Darla Seitz, the fiancee of Kent Riley, was honored at a shower in the Heritage Room Saturday morning, July 25.

Sharing hostess duties were Mrs. Denzil Lacy, Mrs. Joe Wood, Mrs. Raymond Hodges, Mrs. William O'Rear, Mrs. Wayne Cummings, Mrs. B.M. Sims, Mrs. Melvin Kiker, Mrs. Mickey Kendrick, Mrs. Bob Weatherly, Mrs. Earl Lynn Feemster, Mrs. Ernest Harwell, Mrs. Elmer Haralson, Mrs. Lyman Daniel, Mrs. Rufus Sweat and Mrs. Dudley Phipps.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. Lacy, Miss Seitz, her mother, Mrs. J.W. Seitz, and Mrs. Buck Judd of Amarillo, aunt of the prospective bridegroom, and Mrs. Macy Sanders, grandmother of the bride to be.

Mrs. Calvin Green, twin sister of the honoree, registered the guests.

The refreshment table was covered with a white hand-made cloth from China. The centerpiece was of blue, yellow and white silk flowers. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

The honoree's sisters, Mrs. Glenda Vaughan and Mrs. Yates Parker, alternated at the punch bowl.

Approximately 50 guests called between 9:30 and 11 a.m.

Coming from out of town were three aunts of the prospective bridegroom, Mrs. Judd, Mrs. D.E. Herring of Panhandle and Mrs. Morris Brown of Bethany, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Templeton and Lee Templeton and Jan Phipps have returned from a vacation to Lake Isabel, Colorado and Red River, N.M.

Wedding Shower Honors Lisa Nix on Saturday

Lisa Nix, the fiancée of Bobby Wyatt of Texline, was the honoree when a group of hostesses entertained with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Farris Wood Saturday afternoon, July 25.

Joining Mrs. Wood in this festivity were Mrs. Joe Wood, Mrs. Leon Hartman, Mrs. Paul Spillman, Mrs. Duggie Jameson, Mrs. Jack Campbell, Mrs. Benson Long, Mrs. Robert Lacy, Mrs. Ray Peeples, Mrs. Ernest Nunnelley, Mrs. James Williams, Mrs. Denzil Lacy, Mrs. Carl Wischkaemper and Mrs. Dudley Coleman of Dozier.

Guests were received by Mrs. Wood and presented to Miss Nix, Mrs. Jerry Nix, mother of the bride-to-be, Mrs. Curtis Wyatt, of Texline, mother of the prospective bridegroom; and Mrs. Kerry Wyatt of Spearman, his sister-in-law.

Hostesses alternated in showing the gifts. The refreshment table was laid with an ivory Army and Navy linen cloth, inset with square lace motifs and enhanced with hand embroidery. The centerpiece was a brass bowl holding ivory and yellow silk roses, brown chrysanthemums and sprays of foliage. A crystal bowl holding punch was at one end of the table and a silver coffee service at the other end.

Just inside the dining room, the registry table was covered with a matching cloth and accented with a brass bud vase holding yellow and brown silk flowers.

Members of the house party who rotated at duties here were Dana Jameson, Lisa Hartman, Lynette Spillman, Debbie Bergvall, Amy Williams and Vanda

Wood.

Approximately 50 guests called between the hours of two and four o'clock.

Coming from out of town were Mrs. Curtis Wyatt of Texline, Mrs. Kerry Wyatt of Spearman, Carol Blain and Laurie McCabe of Lubbock and Mrs. Mike Criswell of Canyon.

Q. My baby's appetite during his first year was huge—but now, without any apparent reason, he barely touches his food. I'm worried that he isn't eating enough. How can I get him to eat the way he used to?

A. You don't want to! What you and your baby have experienced—both during the first year and now—is perfectly normal. Most older babies don't need as much food as in the first year simply because their growth is slower. It's quite common for a baby's appetite to diminish, and even continue at a low level for a year or two.

There are several things you can do during this "low ebb" that will ensure your baby's continued health:

- Plan healthy snacks as part of the daily food intake. Make sure they are nutritious and varied additions to the diet.
- Try serving small portions. Seeing too much food on the plate can turn off the baby's appetite. Offer second helpings after he or she has finished.

- Check the baby's diet to make sure it is well-balanced. Sometimes foods too high in fats or sugar or too low in certain vitamins can reduce appetite.

- Make sure enough time is allowed for a small child's lack of skill in eating.

Remember too that toddlers go through a normal period of saying "no" to everything, sometimes when

GN Club Meets Friday

Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch invited the Good Neighbor Club into her country home Friday, July 17.

The hostess kept the group laughing by telling several short stories.

A refreshment plate was served to Mrs. Melvin Kiker, Mrs. Anna Mae Thomas, Mrs. Ruby Ball, Mrs. Charles Cason, Mrs. Janie James, Mrs. Earl Alexander, Mrs. Mary Karnes and the hostesses Mrs. Barjenbruch and Mrs. Violet Potter.

Joe Tiptons Host Family

Joe and Betty Tipton were hosts for a Tipton family get-together at their new home west of Quail recently.

First, the group attended a class reunion in Altus, Okla., on Saturday, then everyone came to the Tipton home.

Included were Tipton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tipton of Ft. Worth; and his sisters and brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hudson of Ft. Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cason and Dorian of Summerland, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tipton of Arvada, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tipton, with Terry and Linda of Ft. Worth.

Present also was the Joe Tiptons daughter, Patsy Gilley with Kim and Kerry.

they don't even mean it. Saying no at mealtime can turn into a game if it attracts attention.

Finally, remember that babies are great imitators. And if you make it known that you don't like a particular food, your baby is bound to follow suit.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The Texas Senate, bogging down in debate on the controversial congressional redistricting bill, slowed action in the Legislature considerably last week.

The Senate finally approved, 16-15, a plan which creates a black minority district and a primarily Republican district in Dallas.

Also included is a new South Texas district in which a Mexican-American candidate stands a good chance of election.

The Senate, slowed down by parliamentary maneuvering, also dimmed hopes of finishing business early in the first special session. Many legislators had hoped to complete work on the governor's five called topics so that he could include other issues.

For the most part, other issues are not likely to make it into this special call. One that might, however, is the regulation of social psychotherapists.

The issue, of importance to Sen. Chet Brooks of Houston, failed to pass during the regular session... but a House committee chairman told his panel to expect the announcement to come from Gov. Bill Clements.

Redistricting Tradeoff

This slip of information, coming one day after the Senate passed the redistricting bill by a one-vote margin, set off speculation of a tradeoff by Brooks. On that final vote, it was Brooks who switched sides to give the Republicans and conservative Democrats the winning margin.

Regarding redistricting, most of the basic plan was worked out during the regular session, although it failed to pass. Left to be resolved was the Dallas issue: whether to create a black district and, in the process, alter two liberal Democrat districts into GOP districts. To say the least, it has been an exercise of raw political power against power. Postures of fair play have been replaced by partisan politics and, in some cases, pure self-advancement. The essence of politics.

A good example is in the House, where redistricting committee chairman Rep. Tim Von Dohlen has surprised by fair play have been replaced by partisan politics and, in some cases, pure self-advancement. The essence of politics.

Ad Valorem Repeal

Another issue, which two weeks ago seemed a sure bet but is now in turmoil, is the repeal of the state ad valorem tax to fund college construction.

In the first week, the House took about 30 minutes to approve complete repeal and send it to the Senate. Last week the Senate Finance Committee altered the plan somewhat by lowering the ten-cent tax to three cents, avoiding a repeal.

The ad valorem tax is dedicated for construction at 17 state colleges not included in the Permanent University Fund, and a repeal would leave those colleges without construction revenue.

Although a repeal is politically tasty, no acceptable plan for replacing those college funds has been derived. Suggested plans have included sharing the PUF, a severance tax, and general revenue.

At three cent per hundred dollar valuation, a $50,000 home would be taxed at $15 a year.

Clements is likely to oppose this plan publicly, but its success may depend on his private acceptance.

Medical Practice Act

The bill to renew regulation of medical doctors was passed by the Senate and sent to the House, where a compromise over the last sticking point has been worked out.

Optometrists, who had wanted to use diagnostic eye drugs over the objections of ophthalmologists, got half a loaf. They may be able to use the drugs under a doctor's standing orders, if the House votes to approve the compromise. The House is not likely to buck the plan, since the chief optometrist in the action was also campaign manager for House Speaker Bill Clayton.

Water Trust Bill

Clayton's own water trust bill may be in trouble in a Senate committee. At the beginning of the session, hints abounded that Clayton might hold other bills hostage until his own water trust bill was given full passage. Now his own bill could meet the same fate in the Senate, where legislators are not as responsive to his wants.

Property Tax Reform

The issue which almost everyone agreed would be the most difficult, property tax reform, has yet to make it out of the starting gate. The major revisions are expected to clear House and Senate committees this week. The leadership had hoped to resolve the session's other issues first, but now they might all come together in a logjam in floor debate.

Speaker Clayton's Water Trust Fund bill passed the House and is now pending in the Senate. The Medical Practice Act has passed in the Senate and was passed on Friday, July 24, in the House. A compromise was worked out between Speaker Clayton and the medical doctors. After a short conference between the House and Senate versions, the bill will

Tax Cuts

Congressman Jack Hightower was in the middle of the political storm this week in Washington. He was one of the Southern Democrats—"the boll weevils"—who had jumped party lines earlier in the year to support the Reagan administration's budget-cut proposals.

But after being courted by the administration and by House Democrats on the tax cut issue, Hightower said he would support the Ways and Means Committee version after an exemption for small producers from the windfall profits tax was added to the bill.

Later the Republicans added a similar provision to their bill, and Hightower figured he had scored some points for his district: "For the first time in a long time, conservatives are being listened to and are being presented with two good legislative alternatives instead of two bad legislative alternatives. Some liberal members of the House are finally having to accept some political and economic realities about energy and taxes. The fact that we will pass a significant tax cut is also a victory for President Reagan and those of us who have supported him," Hightower said.

Hightower said that he thought whichever version of the tax cut bill passes, "the people of the 13th district will be the winners."

And that's true, because a year ago Congress wasn't even considering a tax cut. Now the big fight is over where and how much to cut. It's a clear example of how much the Reagan administration has changed the political climate in this country in half a year.

It seems from here that the fight now has more to do with political egos than with the difference in dollars that citizens in Collingsworth County might expect to see. But either way, our wallets should look a little better next April 15.

We Want Your Letter

The Wellington Leader encourages readers to comment on issues of local, regional, state, national or international interest with letters to the editor. The best letters are brief and discuss only one topic. All letters to the editor must be signed. The letter must include the signer's address and phone number, although this information will not be published with the letter.

According to folklore, if you dream of eating white grapes, it means that it will surely rain the next day.

FROM HIS WORD...

Have you ever gone to a friend's house and knocked on the door, to only have no one answer the knock? Yet, you could hear the television playing and people talking, but no one would answer the door bell? And the next day your friend said: "We did not hear your knocking, nor the ringing of the doorbell." He continued by saying that they were so involved with what they were doing at the time they just did not hear your knocking at the door.

Jesus said: "Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me." Rev. 3:20.

I wonder if Jesus will really buy the excuse that we were just to involved with other things, we did not know that He was knocking on the door of our lives?

Silver Anniversary Class Plans Reunion Saturday

This year's silver anniversary class, the 1956 graduates of Wellington High School, will hold its reunion in the Directors Room of Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc., Saturday, August 1.

But John Alvin Horton, the man who single-handedly made plans for the reunion and had located most of its "lost" members, won't be there.

On the staff of General Dynamics at Ft. Worth, he is a member of a four-man team that was sent to Australia for several weeks. He left Thursday, July 23, and will be in Sidney and Melbourne.

General Dynamics makes the F16 plane.

Members of the class who still live here have been asked to serve as hosts and these include Patsy Bawcom Dodge, Gayle Young Jameson and Duggie Jameson, Sallie Parsons Crelia, June Reynolds Jones, Troy Gene Thomason and Phillip Cobb. Horton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Horton are assisting.

The Directors Room will be open all day for visiting. Cookies and drinks will be served, but those who attend will be on their own for lunch.

As Greenbelt is immediately across the street from Bura Handley Community Center, where the 1981 Ex-Students Association Reunion will be held, those at the class reunion will have the opportunity to visit with friends from other classes.

It is emphasized that not only are those who graduated in 1956 urged to attend, but everyone who was ever a member of the class is included, as well as former teachers and parents of the group.

Those wanting more information may contact Mrs. Dodge, 1203 Arlington St., Wellington, Phone 806-447-2972.

Only one member of the class is deceased, Gus Drake.

Other members with the married names of the girls in parenthesis, include:

Patsy Bawcom (Mrs. John Dodge); Sharon Bettis (Mrs. Darryl Morris) Heidelberg, Germany; Sandra Boyd (Mrs. Dennis Simmons) Amarillo; Bill Bratten, Del City, Ok.; Buddy Dodson, Plainview; Nancy Elliott (Mrs. Jack Parkhouse) Richardson; Warner Ford, Amarillo;

1961 Graduates Plan Luncheon on Saturday

Graduates of 1961 who attend their class reunion Saturday, August 1, will learn what has happened to their classmates during the 20 years since they received their diplomas.

A 1961 Class "Annual" will be distributed, giving pertinent information about all class members who returned questionnaires sent out for the project.

A luncheon will be held at noon Saturday at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Building on Highway FM 338 one-fourth mile east of the U.S. 83 intersection (Lucky Corner).

Carroll's Restaurant of Wellington will cater the dinner and tickets are $5.00 per person.

Judy Hall of Wellington is handling this part of the reunion and those wanting more information may contact her by calling 806-447-5667.

Assisting Mrs. Hall are Dr. W.P. (Bill) Estes in Wellington and Celia Anderson Meadors, Patricia Sullivan Phillips and Lynda Orr Davis of Amarillo.

Six of the 1961 graduating class still live in Wellington. Only one member is deceased. Two could not be located by those working on the reunion.

Present addresses of the class with married names of girls, includes:

WTU Asks Certificate of Convenience for New Plant

An application has been filed with the Texas Public Utility Commission for a certificate of convenience and necessity for a coal-fired generating plant to be built in North Texas by West Texas Utilities Company and two other operating companies in the Central and South West Corporation.

The certificate is required before actual construction can start on the plant, which will be built on a 1,937-acre track which WTU purchased from the fabled Waggoner Ranch eight miles southeast of Vernon and three miles southwest of Oklaunion. The application is for Oklaunion Power Station Unit No. 1, which will have a net capacity of 640 megawatts.

Ultimately, three units with a total capacity of 1,920 megawatts are planned.

Cooling water will come from Lake Diversion, 20 miles south of the site. WTU purchased water rights in 1977 from Wichita County Water Improvement District No. 2 and the City of Wichita Falls. Boiler fuel will be low sulphur western coal, probably from Wyoming mines.

Oklaunion will be the first power plant to be jointly owned by CSW operating companies. WTU, the managing partner, will own 350 megawatts, Central Power and Light Company of Corpus Christi 115 megawatts, and Public Service Company of Oklahoma 175 megawatts. The other CSW operating company, Southwestern Electric Power Company of Shreveport, will not participate. PSO's participation hinges on a favorable ruling by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission regarding an agreement between the CSW System and members of the intrastate Texas Interconnected System to install direct current interconnections across state lines.

The application states that the plant is needed to satisfy load growth of the companies and to reduce dependence on natural gas as a boiler fuel. Unit One is scheduled for commercial operation by December, 1986. Total cost is estimated at $675,104,000.

WTU Transmission Lines Placed in Service Here

New transmission lines and related facilities designed to strengthen electric reliability in West Texas Utilities Company's Panhandle service area have been completed and placed in service, Tommy Hudson, WTU's local manager in Wellington, has announced.

The main part of the project was the conversion of the transmission line from Childress through Wellington through Shamrock from 69 kilovolts to 138 kilovolts, which makes it as large as any line the company's system.

Also completed was a new substation at Wellington, and new stronger interconnections with Southwestern Public Service Company at Shamrock and north of Clarendon. The new 115 kV intertie near Interstate 40 north of Clarendon provides loop service to the Panhandle area, so that if the main line goes out, service can continue without interruption.

"This should greatly improve electric reliability to the Wellington area," Hudson said.

At Wellington, Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, which purchases electric energy from WTU, modified its substation to accept service from the new 138 kV line. At Shamrock, WTU built a new 69 kV line from the local terminal to the co-op's substation southwest of the city.

The entire project required about 15 months to complete. A major obstacle was the Red River crossing, which was described as "very difficult" by Mike Moran of Abilene, WTU's manager of System Maintenance and Construction.

"That river bed looks firm until you take heavy equipment onto it," Moran said. "It's really a sandy quagmire. But we now have double deadend structures on the hills on both sides of the river and a fortified structure in the riverbed itself.

The new 138kV line covers 57.9 miles, and follows the route across the river of the original line, which was built in 1927.

49th Guard Division Called Combat Ready

Wellington's Texas National Guard Unit, Detachment 1, Combat Support Company, 2nd Battalion of the 142d Infantry, returned Sunday, July 26, from two weeks intensive field training at North Fort Hood, where they participated in exercises with other units of the Second Brigade, 49th Armored Division.

"Overall indications are that all the division is combat ready in the event of a mobilization of the reserve forces," according to M-Sgt. Vernon Day, full time sergeant in charge at the National Guard Armory.

Four men of Detachment 1, including two from Wellington received commendations for outstanding performance of duty.

Lt. Col. Edgar J. Murphy, Battalion Commander, presented the commendations at a battalion formation Friday morning, July 24 to Staff Sgt. Epifanio Castillo, Jr., and Sgt. Harold W. McKinney of Wellington; Sgt. Charles E. Jones of Kelton and Sgt. Donald L. Lane of Childress.

Sgt. Dallas Holland was selected to present colors in battalion formation, according to Pfc. Mike Yazbek of Lubbock.

Governor Bill Clements, the Division Commanding General, and the 2nd Brigade Commanding General, upon visiting the Brigade in training exercises, had highly favorable comments regarding the personnel combat readiness and the performance of duties in training.

Regular Army evaluation teams observed the various sections of the Brigade in action and remarked that the National Guard is obviously well-trained and could be used in combat within a minimum of delay in the event they were needed, according to Day.

Detachment 1, Wellington, consists primarily of three sections: the Mortar, Redeye Missile and Ground Surveillance Radar. Each of the three sections spent the first week in training for simulated combat conditions during the second phase of the training period.

The Mortar Section is responsible for providing indirect fire support with 107 MM M-30 Cannons for the battalion. The mortars are effective in destroying fixed and moving targets, and unfriendly troops at a range of up to approximately 4 1/2 miles.

This section was evaluated by Regular Army personnel during firing exercises for ability to occupy primary positions, accuracy of firing, ability to move to new positions in daytime and nighttime conditions and received a high outstanding report from this team of evaluations.

The Redeye Missiles are weapons to destroy low altitude aircraft. This section trained in land navigation, map reading, and simulated live tracking and identification of aircraft; and like the mortar section, received high praise from their evaluators for their skills and performance.

The Ground Surveillance Radar Section gathers intelligence information and reports to central command headquarters sizes, numbers and types of vehicles and troops pinpointing location of these so that action can be taken for aggressive actions.

Many personnel in the section received their initial training at this summer activity. The Radar Section also functions as forward observers to direct firing missions for field artillery and air strikes.

For the second year, Wellington guardsmen with 1st Lt. George S. Collingsworth of Shamrock as detachment commander, "swam their tracks" across 70-foot-deep Belton Lake, located on North Fort Hood. These vehicles are armored personnel carriers and although each carrier weighs in the neighborhood of 20 tons, they ride high in the water.

"Swimming a track" is fairly easy, the men say, with the aid of a special plate that is attached to the front of the vehicle. When the plate is placed in forward position, it changes the angle of slope on the vehicle so that it takes on a more boat-like shape, and causes water to be pushed underneath the monstrous machines, thereby making them float.

"I have been with the National Guard 22 years and worked with many men, but this is by far the best unit. Our people did a good job and our morale was good. The Wellington bunch always excels.

"Trained leadership accounted for the overall high performance of training and field exercises, resulting in high praise and comments from observers of all command levels," said Day.

Men from Detachment 1 who were in camp included:

From Wellington: John R. Henard III, SSG Andy E. Henard, SGT Ronald M. Blanton, SGT Jeffrey W. Hanna, SP4 Israel C. Sanchez, SGT Dallas L. Holland, SP4 Harold W. McKinney, SGT Grady L. Castillo, SP4 Richardo Rodriguez, SGT Harrell L. Lowe, SSG Tony Stephens, SSG R.L. Hunnicutt,

From Childress: SSG Alvin C. Harper, SGT Kenneth R. McClendon, SP4 Randy G. Pilcher, SP4 Willis G. Moran, SP4 J.C. Kelley, SP4 Loyde G. Rascoe, SP4 Jesus Dominguez, SGT Donald D. Lane, SP4 David M. Wyatt, SP4 Walter H. Brown, SP4 Kenneth R. Nicholson, SP4 James A. Gray, SGT William O. Hindman, SGT Jackie W. Matthews,

From Memphis: SP4 Johnny R. Maynard, SSG Ronald L. Maddox and SGT David D. May.

Others were SSG Darrel R. Franklin of Amarillo, SGT Charles R. Jones of Kelton and SFC Bobby O. Barringer of Borger.

COMMENDED

SP4 Harold McKinney, left, and SSG Epifanio Castillo, Jr., members of Detachment 1, the Wellington National Guard unit, were awarded commendations for outstanding performance of duty during the annual summer camp which ended Saturday. Other detachment members honored were SGT Charles R. Jones of Kelton and SGT Donald L. Lane of Childress.

Small Private Lakes Offer Good Fishing Potential

AUSTIN--Texas has about 1.6 million acres of private stock tanks, ponds and lakes, according to U.S. Soil Conservation service estimates.

However, only about 72,000 acres currently are being managed effectively for fisheries. Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologist Joe Toole of Marshall said successful small lake management requires year-round attention to keep them productive for fishing.

"Many landowners become interested in pond management in the spring when the weather gets nice, but forget about doing anything during the rest of the year," Toole said.

Toole said the main elements of pond management include chemical eradication of undesirable fishes, vegetation control, fertilization, supplemental stocking and water quality improvement. New ponds or those drained for renovation also can be made more productive by leaving standing brush or trees in the lake bed or by placing natural or man-made structures in the areas to be inundated.

To learn the most effective methods for improving your pond, contact one of the Parks and Wildlife Department's fisheries biologists in your area, or write the department's Austin headquarters for free literature. The address is Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, Texas 78744, or call toll-free 1-800-252-9327.

Two Events on Tap For Class of 1946

An ice cream supper Friday night, July 21, and a catered luncheon at noon Saturday are planned for the WHS Class of 1946 as it celebrates the 35th anniversary of its graduation.

Headquarters for the reunion will be the Farm Bureau Hospitality Room at the corner of Highway US 83 and 9th St. Both events will be held here.

This is one of two classes that has an annual get-together.

Carroll's of Wellington will cater the luncheon and the cost will be $4 per person.

Those who graduated in 1945 are invited to meet with the class of 1946 again this year, as those classes had much in common when they were in school, said Bethine Adkins Wolf, who heads the arrangements committee.

Gay Reeves McAlister is in charge of decorations and there will be old annuals and other mementoes to be browsed through.

Copies of the baccalaureate and commencement programs will be given as souvenirs.

Parents of the students will be special guests. Mrs. Joe Terry class mother, is expected to attend and Mr. and Mrs. Logan Cummings of Austin have been invited. He was superintendent of schools.

Only one graduate has not been located, Ruth Jesse.

Tom Bolton, Former Pastor, Teacher, Dies

The Rev. Tom C. Bolton, who for 50 years was pastor of rural Baptist churches in Collingsworth County and southwest Oklahoma, died in Mangum July 18, after an illness of 10 years.

He was a brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Maxwell.

Rev. Bolton, who was born October 27, 1902 at Hollis, Indian Territory, moved with his parents, the late Sherd and Elizabeth Kenney Bolton, to Wheeler County, then the family came to the Salt Fork community in 1928.

He was preaching at that time and also was principal of the Lillie School in 1930-31, as he further prepared himself for the ministry.

His final pastorate was at Reed Baptist Church for 10 years before moving to Mangum in 1972.

Rev. Bolton attended Oklahoma Baptist University, Shawnee and Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, where he received a bachelor's degree.

He was married to Tula Maxwell of this county on August 7, 1928, at Plainview.

Funeral services were held Monday, July 20, at First Baptist Church, Mangum. Officiating were Rev. Thomas J. Spencer, pastor of Russell Baptist Church, Rev. Martin Hawkins, of the Baptist General Convention, Oklahoma City, and Rev. Walter Know, pastor of First Baptist Church, Erick. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery, Mangum.

Survivors are his wife; two sons, Jack Bolton of Davis, Ok., and Gene Bolton of Mustang, Ok.; two daughters, Ann Bolton of Oklahoma City and Mrs. Joyce Disheroon of Allen, Ok. 12 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Gracie Mize of Sayre, Ok., and Mrs. Sarah Fields of Childress.

Selective Service Seeks Local Boards

Selective Service has begun a program to recruit and train civilian volunteers for possible future local boards throughout the nation. This is a part of the Congressionally approved and funded total revitalization of Selective Service. The boards themselves would not be established unless Congress directed a return to the draft. However, pre-selection and training of board members in peacetime will be beneficial in several ways:

Mangum; A.B. Smith, Jr., Borger; Jimmie Scott, Dallas and Margaret Davis Harwell, Childress.

(1) It will assure that people selected will be representative of the communities they serve.

(2) It will give Selective Service time, in the relative calm of peacetime, to train the board members in Selective Service policies and procedures. This will assure uniform treatment, should the draft ever be resumed, of individuals requesting postponements, deferments and exemptions.

By law, local board members are nominated by each state governor and appointed by the President. To be eligible for consideration, an individual must:

-Be a citizen of the United States between the ages of 18 and 60,

-Not be a member of the armed forces (including reserve or retired status, but not excluding veterans of military service),

-Not already have served as a local board member for a total of 15 or more years,

-Be willing to participate in a national training program; and, if the draft is ever resumed, be willing to serve without pay in making difficult but important decisions concerning applications from local residents for deferment or exemption from the draft.

The law also contemplates that the make-up of each local board be representative of the racial and ethnic backgrounds of the registrant population under its jurisdiction. A major goal of this selection program is to generate sufficient citizen participation to ensure such balance. The full national program to be undertaken over the next few months will bring total appointments to approximately 10,000. Volunteers for Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam and Trust Territories are included in this figure.

The average lifespan of the average eyelash is about 150 days.

Hollingsworth 1981 Pharmacist of Year

AUSTIN. Lonnie F. Hollingsworth, R.Ph. has been named 1981's "Pharmacist of the Year" by the Texas Pharmaceutical Association. He received his state professional organization's highest honor at the President's banquet at the conclusion of TPA's 102nd Annual Meeting in Houston July 21.

HOLLINGSWORTH

Hollingsworth, a native of Wellington, served in the U.S. Navy from 1950-54 in Korea as Storekeeper First Class. After his honorable discharge, he attended The University of Texas College of Pharmacy, graduating first in his class with highest honors in 1957. He was active in various student organizations and remains an alumni member of Phi Delta Chi and a life-time member of the Texas Ex-Students' Association.

Included in the many ways he has served his city are such diverse areas as Lubbock City Councilman 1968-72 and Lubbock Mayor Pro-Tem 1971-74, city Council representative to the Lubbock Drug Abuse Council 1969-79, Planning and Zoning Commissioner 1967-68, director of the Texas Municipal League 1968-69, and chairman of the Lubbock Power and Light Electric Utility Board. He has also served his community by working with the Multiple Sclerosis Society, Boy Scouts, his church, the Shriners, Lions Club and Elks, just to name a few.

The recipient has served his fellow pharmacists by being a tireless, enthusiastic participant in many phases of the profession. He is currently secretary-treasurer of West Texas Pharmaceutical Association, member of the Executive Committee of Texas Pharmaceutical Education and Research Foundation and member of the Executive Committee of National Association of Retail Druggists. He has been a member of TPA for twenty-two years, has chaired several committees and held many offices in his professional organizations, including the presidency of TPA, WTPA and Lubbock Area Pharmaceutical Association.

The diversity of his business interests and his hobbies shows that he is a well-rounded individual. He is President of L & H Pharmacies, Inc., a member of the Board of the Lubbock Security National Bank, owner of rentals and investment businesses, president of 5 Points Corporation and president of L & H Horseshoe, Inc. His non-business interests include hunting, coin collecting, gun collecting, private aviation and sports.

An extremely important part of the Pharmacist of the Year's life revolves around his wife, Nancy, and their two children, Heather Lea and Lonnie, Jr. Heather is now an actress living in New York City and Lonnie, Jr., a May graduate of the University of Texas at Austin, will soon be entering law school.

Veterinarian For Area 1 Appointed

Dr. Vernon Reif, practicing veterinarian in Dalhart since 1975, has been named area 1 veterinarian for the Texas Animal Health Commission.

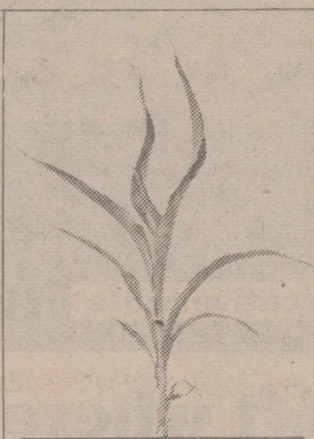

Headquarters of area 1 is in Amarillo, and it includes these counties: Armstrong, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Collingsworth, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Gray, Hansford, Hartley, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Lipscomb, Moore, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher and Wheeler.

Dr. Reif is a native of New Mexico. He attended New Mexico State University, and received his veterinary degree from Colorado State University in 1974. Before coming to Dalhart, Dr. Reif practiced in Clayton, New Mexico.

He is married and he and his wife have two daughters. The Texas Animal Health Commission is one of the oldest state agencies; it was created by the Legislature in 1893. Its primary function is to control and eradicate animal and poultry diseases which are dangerous and communicable to other animals and in some cases to humans.

Brucellosis, scabies, screwworm eradication, fever ticks, poultry and swine diseases, sheep and goat diseases, and tuberculosis among animals are among concerns of the Texas Animal Health Commission.

The giant anaconda snake can reach up to 35 feet in length.

THOMAS NURSING CENTER NEWS

By Ilene Brinkley

We want to welcome our new resident first of all, Palo C. Cummings. He is in room 2 on B hall.

Our game winners this week were Mrs. A.Y. Bell and Mrs. Eva Needham.

Volunteers for our games were Mrs. Marie Gollighugh, Mrs. Morie Smith, Mrs. Mary Fulcher and Mrs. Susie Crawford.

Tuesday morning Mrs. Juanita Smith, Mrs. Irene Loving, Mrs. Anna Lovett, and Mrs. Addie Phipps came and helped our residents in the craft room.

Tuesday afternoon Sing-a-long was conducted by Mrs. Ola Parker, leader, and Mrs. Ruth Wilhelm accompanying her on the piano.

Wednesday afternoon Bible study was conducted by Rev. Tom Thomson of the First United Methodist Church. Accompanying him was Mrs. Shirley Henard.

Wednesday evening Associate Minister David Hall led the Church of Christ children in singing hymns.

Friday evening the singing of the Lighthouse Quartet was enjoyed by our residents.

Sunday morning Bible study was conducted by Minister Garell Forehand and other members of the Church of Christ.

Sunday afternoon Bible study was conducted by Rev. Joe Jernegan and other members of The Abundant Life Fellowship.

OUR VISITORS:

Visiting Mrs. Ethel Ray were her sister, Mrs. Ruth Savage of Oklahoma City and her sons, Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Ray of Childress, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ray and Richard of Estelina, and her son Denzil Ray of Childress.

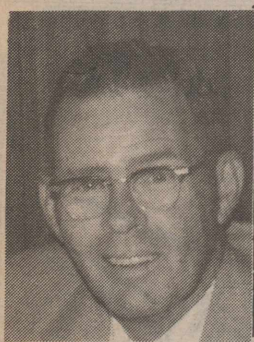

Child Support: A Serious Concern

AUSTIN--Child support--its lack or meagerness--is becoming a serious social problem, says a University of Texas social worker.

Dr. Judith Casetty reports that most children eligible for support from absent parents get nothing or very little of what the courts have determined.

Stating that "the public can no longer afford to subsidize parental irresponsibility," she suggests that society needs to take a hard look at the costs of not enforcing the "support obligation." Her research shows absent fathers--without becoming worse off than the households in which their children live--could pay $3,000 per year more in support than they do now.

Take it easy at 65 on retirement income.
