FREAK WINDS ripped through Ira last night tumbling this windmill onto a parked car, and directly across the street a water tank was ripped from place and hung in the opposite direction from the way the windmill fell.

Elements Put On Show For Summer

The elements put on a show to officially launch the summer season, and Scurry County was in on the action as the longest day of the year closed on a damp note.

Welcome rains dotted the county, but for the most part they fell in spotty showers. Meanwhile, freakish winds took a toll in several areas, leaving their marks particularly at Ira and in a few places in Snyder.

The winds at Ira caused some damage in the midst of the community, but it was not known whether they were of the twisting variety or not. However there was evidence that the wind went in two directions at Ira. A tank near the Ira Church of Christ was bowled over and left suspended in one direction, while another water tank across the street near the Ira Post Office was blown down in the opposite direction.

Some damage was reported from high winds in and around Snyder, and plate glass window was blown out at Galloway Motor Co.

Snyder firemen answered two calls, one to the Beacon Lodge and the other to a tank battery which apparently was hit by lightning southwest of Ira. No fire was found at the Beacon Lodge. Firemen went to the tank battery fire in a driving rain. The tanks belonged to Cresland Oil Co.

Rainfall reports over the Scurry area varied. The official gauge at the city water plant was out of commission, but estimates in the area ranged up to .75 inch. Rains up to 2 inches were logged near Ira and in one area of South Scurry County rainfall up to 3 inches was reported. A fall of 1.5 inches was reported at Camp Springs, but only .15 of an inch fell at Lake J. B. Thomas. Rainfall in the northwest part of the county also was reported light and there apparently was little rainfall on the lake's watershed.

Big Spring Area Hit By Destructive Wind, Hail

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Destructive wind, rain and hail smacked the Big Spring area in West Texas during the night, and showers continued today at many points along the path of the latest cool front.

Across the state as much as 2.5 inches of badly needed rain fell around Texarkana, which had measured only .02 previously this month.

More than three inches poured down in short order at Big Spring, flooding some homes and sending water over roads to Moss Creek Lake for a time. Civil defense workers helped occupants from one house and families left several others unaided.

Sheriff Aubrey Standard figured property damage in the Big Spring vicinity would run close to $100,000 from the downpour, plus hail and wind gusting up to 75 miles per hour minimum hurricane force. He said crop losses also were heavy.

Just as the vicious thunderstorm ended, an explosion rocked a unit of the Sid Richardson Carbon Black Plant two miles east of Big Spring, causing further damage but no injuries. The plant manager, Grant Boardman, blamed a series of power failures during the storm for causing the blast.

At Sand Springs, eight miles east of Big Spring, the wind overturned a house trailer. Residents of Coahoma, a few miles further east, reported sighting a tornado funnel which did not touch ground.

Showers continued through the night and into this morning near the weak cool front, which came to a near standstill along a line linking Paris, Brownwood and San Angelo.

The turbulence developed over much of West Texas in the evening as the last day of spring ended and summer officially arrived.

Thermometers made it clear that the hot weather season had arrived at numerous points, although there was some cooling behind the cool front.

Readings ranged up to a scorching 108 degrees Wednesday afternoon at Presidio in far West Texas. Wichita Falls recorded 103, Wink 102 and Junction, Laredo and San Angelo 100. Dalhart was the coolest reporting station with a high of 77.

Forecasts called for isolated thunderstorms again by evening near the cool front from across Northeast and North Central Texas westward into the sector east of the Pecos River. Occasional showers were expected in extreme West Texas and on the coastal plains.

Red Loss Heavy In 2 Big Battles

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — U. S. forces reported killing 143 Communist troops in two battles in the central lowlands Wednesday while waves of U. S. jets ranged over a wide area to pound North Vietnam's rail network and its biggest iron and steel works.

American casualties in the lowlands battles 300 miles north of Saigon were six dead, 22 wounded and four missing, the U. S. Command said. It said there was light, scattered contact in 2 other U. S. and allied ground operations.

With good weather prevailing, U. S. Air Force and Navy pilots flew 133 missions against the Communist North. They hammered 11 railroad yards and rail lines from the demilitarized zone to more than 50 miles above Hanoi.

The attacks on the rail network were a continuation of a two-month-old campaign against Hanoi's rail routes. U.S. planes raided the Thai Nguyen steel works north of Hanoi for the eighth time, and a U. S. spokesman said an Air Force RF101 reconnaissance plane was shot down, the 587th U. S. combat plane reported lost over North Vietnam. The pilot was rescued.

Hanoi Radio claimed three U.S. planes were shot down Wednesday, including two pilotless reconnaissance craft.

The U. S. Command announced that 143 Americans were killed in combat last week, the lowest for any week since early February. American casualties for the week totaled 1,112 — seven less than the week before — and included 953 wounded and 16 missing.

The U. S. Command reported a big jump in Communist dead, from 1,153 the week before to 1,832. The South Vietnamese government reported 213 of its troops killed last week, 556 wounded and 14 missing, compared with 215 killed, 496 wounded and 38 missing the week before.

U. S. troops from the 3rd Brigade, 25th Infantry Division, reported they suffered no casualties in one of the ground battles Wednesday eight miles southeast of coastal Quang Ngai City.

The U. S. Command said 70 Communist troops were killed in the 90-minute fight, but only one weapon was captured. The Army said helicopter gunships firing machine guns and rockets accounted for 51 of the dead.

South of Quang Ngai, in neighboring Binh Dinh Province, a company from the 1st Cavalry Airmobile Division ran into an estimated battalion of Communist troops, perhaps 300 to 400 men, in well fortified positions.

Two other companies were rushed in while jet bombers and artillery pounded the Communist positions. The U. S. infantrymen reported 73 Communist troops killed in the day-long battle, while American casualties were six dead, 22 wounded and four missing.

In the air war, U. S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs and F4 Phantoms concentrated on key railroad yards northwest and northeast of Hanoi through which military supplies are funneled from Red China to Hanoi, then sent through the southern panhandle and across or around the demilitarized zone into South Vietnam.

The aircraft carrier Intrepid, one of the last ships to pass through the Suez Canal before the Middle East war closed it, returned to the Vietnam war. Its planes attacked a rail yard 28 miles southwest of Thank Hoa.

Inquiry Is Underway

SAN ANTONIO (AP)— Dist. Judge Archie Brown issued a call for witnesses to testify at a court of inquiry into alleged police brutality against Negroes and promised protection for the witnesses.

The judge's statements came during an organization meeting for a court of inquiry requested by the San Antonio City Council.

Brown said there was a need for witnesses "to throw light on the problem."

"Anyone coming before the court...will be granted all protection possible under law," he said. "Anyone intimidating or attempting to retaliate will find that this court will do all within its power to deal harshly with anyone doing this."

The council requested the court of inquiry last week. A group of Negroes last month told the council police were using unnecessary force in many instances.

French Join U. N. Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — France entered the U.N. debate on the Middle East today as President Johnson and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin kept the world wondering whether they would meet during the Soviet leader's brief visit to the United States.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville's speech to the U.N. General Assembly was expected to expand on a statement by President Charles de Gaulle Wednesday which parceled out support to both sides in the Arab-Israeli dispute.

For the Arabs, De Gaulle said Israel started the war and France does not consider any Israeli territorial gains to be final. For the Israelis, he said every Middle East state, "notably Israel," has a right to live and he condemned the Arab threat to destroy the Jewish state.

U.S. and Soviet sources indicated that Johnson and Kosygin may decide today whether to meet in the brief time left before the Soviet premier's departure.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko discussed summit possibilities at a three-hour dinner meeting at Rusk's Waldorf Tower suite Wednesday night. But they left the final decision to their chiefs.

Gromyko told newsmen Kosygin would return to Moscow soon but probably not before Friday. Johnson had a full schedule in Washington today, and it appeared that if even a brief courtesy meeting was arranged, it would be Friday or during the weekend.

In the General Assembly Wednesday, Israel quickly rejected Britain's warning not to claim all of Jerusalem as a prize of war.

British Foreign Secretary George Brown declared Israel would isolate itself from world opinion if it held onto Old Jerusalem wrested from Jordan. Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban replied that his government had expressed determination to see that Jerusalem would never again become a divided city and a war arena.

Earthquakes Hit Fairbanks

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Residents were sweeping up, mopping floors, and repairing broken glass today in the wake of seven earthquakes that rocked this area Wednesday.

It was the worst shaking this inland Alaska city has felt in three decades, but did not approach the devastation caused by the March 1964 earthquake in the Anchorage area.

There were no reports of injuries here but some structural damage was reported in the state court building and at the Alaska 67 centennial exposition grounds.

Seismograph stations in Alaska and Washington State rated the three heaviest shocks at an intensity of 6.7 to 7 on the Richter scale. The 1964 Good Friday tremor measured 8.3, strongest recorded in North America.

Dallas Man Is Held In Iowa Case

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — A Dallas man was arrested today on suspicion of murder in the apparently unprovoked killing of three persons and kidnaping of two young girls.

Joseph Carter, 42, was seized after a motorist reported another driver had rammed his car and shot at him.

Police found in the trunk of the car Carter was driving Christine Schwab, 11, of Belle Plaine, Iowa, and her cousin, Julie Bracksie, 11, of Elberson, Iowa. They were unharmed.

Authorities pieced together this story:

A car driven by Mrs. Charles Schwab of Belle Plaine, Christine's mother, was forced off the road Wednesday night. The woman was shot to death, and the killer forced the two girls into his car.

The gunman soon wrecked the car. Leland Skoog, a farmer, arrived at the accident scene with his teen-age son, Garith.

Skoog and his son were forced to accompany the killer 15 miles west toward Tama. The two apparently were slain along a side road. Their bodies were found several hours later.

Carter was driving Skoog's car when he was arrested here, police said.

Low Farm Prices Decried By GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Republican task force on agriculture said today the United States cannot play an effective role in feeding the hungry world, and fight a war, unless U.S. agriculture is assured that its efforts will be equitably rewarded.

The task force recommended the establishment of a bi-partisan world food study commission.

"Present low farm prices, the alarming increase in agricultural imports, and the extent to which American agriculture was short-changed by the Kennedy Round Trade agreements at Geneva point up the urgent need for a penetrating inquiry into all aspects of the approaching world food shortage," the task force said.

Its chairman, Rep. Odin Langen of Minnesota, said the U.S. farmer could use this opportunity to flex his productive muscles and improve his financial position if wise plans are made.

"Our proposed commission could well be the catalytic agent that would help provide food to the hungry mouths of the world, while maintaining our food strength during time of war, and bring economic vitality to American agriculture," Langen said.

The task force said the world is rapidly losing the race between an adequate food supply and a growing population.

"At the same time," it said, the American farmer is fast losing out as his production costs and farm debt hit record-breaking highs.

"Today's low farm prices, further aggravated by a deluge of agricultural imports that usurp vital domestic markets, threaten the future of our productive capability. Consequently, we can't afford to rush blindly into a gigantic feed-the-hungry-world project."

Aid Studied For Big Loser--Jordan

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is quietly considering what it can do to help Jordan, which appears to be the big loser in the Arab-Israeli war.

There are three key reasons for special U.S. attention to the plight of Jordan, officials explain.

—Jordan's loss of relatively more territory than Egypt or Syria, and of important sources of revenue, including income from tourism with such tourist attractions as Jerusalem and Bethlehem now in Israeli hands.

—The problem of refugees who left their homes west of the Jordan River in panic when the Israelis advanced.

—The belief that despite his participation in the war against Israel, King Hussein, Jordan's ruler, is still the best friend the United States has in the Arab world. Hussein, with Saudi Arabia's King Feisal, can again represent moderation against the leaders in Damascus and Cairo, U.S. officials hope.

Hussein, officials recalled, departed from the Arab propaganda line when he admitted at a June 19 news conference he had no proof of U.S. or British air support for the Israeli side.

Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser used charges of such air support as one excuse for the Arab defeat. The Johnson administration hopes this charge eventually will be discredited in the Arab world.

Hussein, it is believed in Washington, virtually became Nasser's prisoner when the Egyptians took control of the Gulf of Aqaba after withdrawal of the U.N. peacekeeping force. Jordan's only outlet to the sea, the Port of Aqaba, is in the Gulf and Hussein seemingly had no choice but to fall in line with Nasser.

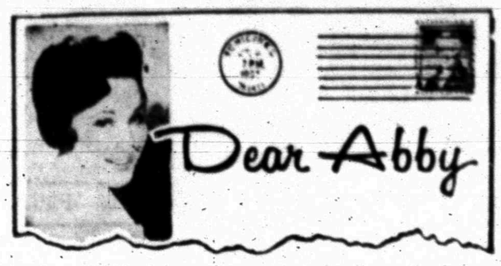

Jordan's military hardware is believed to have been almost destroyed during the war with Israel. It consisted exclusively of British and American equipment, including about 300 modern tanks and about 50 planes.

What the United States will do to help Jordan is not clear. There is no hurry in rearming Hussein, though sources say eventually this must be done — with a proper ceiling — to prevent the Soviets from becoming exclusive arms supplier of the Arab world.

Some economic assistance, however, must come soon, officials acknowledged.

Officially, aid to Jordan is under review. Before the war broke out Jordan was expected to receive $30 million in "supporting assistance" from the United States for the next fiscal year.

A House Foreign Affairs subcommitee is reported drafting a call for review of U.S. aid policies toward Middle East countries which cut diplomatic relations with the United States during the war. Jordan did not sever relations.

DEAR ABBY: I have been employed as a secretary by the same man for nine years. I was only 21 when I came to work here, and I was green as grass.

My boss is in his late 50s and his wife is about his age. They have children and grandchildren, and he is an important man in this community.

Over the years I noticed that he took an interest in women. He took them to lunch, cocktails, dinner, and bought some of them gifts. I figured this was none of my business.

He used to compliment me on my hair, clothes, etc., but I paid no attention.

I recently announced my engagement and told him I wanted a month off for my honeymoon, but would return to work for a while after that. He then asked if he could "kiss the bride," so I told him he could, at my wedding. Then he broke down and started to cry like a baby, telling me he had been "in love" with me all these years. He said he and his wife hadn't lived as man and wife for 20 years, blah, blah . . ." I was stunned.

Then he got over it real quick and said he was only "kidding." (Kidding? With real tears?)

Now I ask you, should I quit my job for good when I marry? Or should I come back and pretend all this never happened? It's a good job and he needs me.

IN A QUANDARY

DEAR IN: When you quit, stay away. He may need you, but you need him like a kangaroo needs a brief case.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a very high-class man I have been dating for over a year. Cal gave me a nice pearl engagement ring which he had sized for my little finger. I never knew an engagement ring could be worn on the little finger. He doesn't want me to tell anyone we are engaged as he doesn't want it to get back to his mother. Here's the background:

I have been married, divorced, and have a child, and Cal hasn't told his mother about that yet. I've met his mother a few times and she seems to like me okay, but she thinks I'm just another one of Cal's girlfriends.

I told Cal if he didn't tell his mother about me and the baby I was going to tell her. He keeps saying he will in time. How long should I wait? I am 26 and Cal is 33. I've had this ring since last December and I want to make some plans.

WAITING

DEAR WAITING: Set a "deadline" (one week) and if Cal doesn't tell his mother about you, consider your "engagement" dead.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Our son is a professional photographer and one of the best in town. He snaps everything and everybody but his own mother and father.

From the time he was a small boy he was interested in photography as a hobby so his Dad and I always saw to it that he had the best equipment.

Now that he is a professional with a fine studio you would think he would offer to take our pictures, but he never has. Even at family gatherings when he's busy taking candid shots, if we don't stick our faces in a couple of pictures we'd be left out entirely.

We are average looking people and wouldn't break his camera. It would be nice to have some good studio pictures of ourselves before we get old and gray. We haven't had a decent picture taken in 15 years!

What do you suppose is the matter with him? Any suggestions?

ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: He's thoughtless. Call his studio and ask for an "appointment."

Great-Grandmother Finishes 8th Grade

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A great - grandmother graduated from the eighth grade Wednesday.

Edith Britt, 67, of La Canada, Calif., was the oldest member of the eighth grade and high school graduating classes at Cambria Adult School.

Mrs. Britt's formal schooling was interrupted in 1914 when her mother became ill and she dropped out of school to help on the farm. The 53 intervening years haven't been bookless. Last year she studied braille to help with the blind.

Her daughter, Lera Bradley, also of La Canada, said of Mrs. Britt: "She's always been good at books. She reads everything she can get hold of."

Mrs. Bradley herself a grandmother, is student council president at Carhbria.

Linda Lutes Fights Men

NEW YORK (AP) When Linda Lutes was a little girl, living out in Alpena, Mich., she never dreamed she would be fighting in Madison Square Garden. And against men, no less.

No, the boxing commission hasn't changed the rules to give licenses to women fighters. Linda is a karate expert who will be competing in the open championships Saturday night.

Can a women compete with men? Does weight make a difference?

"It's all a matter of skill," said 5-foot-3 inch Linda, who weighs 120 pounds. "It's the class that counts, not the weight."

Linda, in home life, the wife of Nelson Howe, a design teacher at Newark, N.J., College of Engineering, practices with her husband about an hour and a half a day, seven days a week.

Who wins?

"My husband is a purple belt," said Linda. "I'm a green belt."

To those who may not know the difference between karate and bocci ball, the gradations of superiority in the sport start with white belt and range upward through yellow, green and purple to black.

"Master Cho (head of the sponsoring Karate Institute) says after the fourth broken toe it doesn't hurt much," said Linda. "So far, I havent broken anything. Just a few sprains and bruises."

How would Cassius Clay do against a karate expert?

"He wouldn't have a chance against a black belter," said Linda. "He has only two weapons, his fists. The karate expert has five weapons—his feet, his hands and his head—not to mention his knees."

In her more relaxed moments, Linda is an abstract painter.

Black Eye Patches Come To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) The Moshe Dayan look is hitting Congress.

Black eye patches like those worn by the Israeli defense minister and director of the lightning-fast military victory over the Arabs are coming to congressmen in the mail.

There's no hint to the sender's identiy except for a Santa Ana, Calif., postmark.

Some recipients figure the "Win in Vietnam" card enclosed with each eye patch is a broad suggestion for the United States to employ Dayan's brisk offensive tactics in Vietnam.

Seeding Committee Has Red Faces

LONDON (AP) — The seeding committee of the Wimbledon Tennis Tournament was slightly red-faced today as their hand-picked players soiled their reputations.

The committee chose eight seeds for the men's singles in the big tournament, which starts next Monday. Six of them entered for the London Grass Court Championships at Queen's Club this week — and by today four of them were eliminated as the tournament reached the quarter-finals.

The humiliated Wimbledon seeds are Manuel Santana of Spain — the Wimbledon titleholder — Roy Emerson and Bill Bowrey of Australia and Cliff Drysdale of South Africa.

All of them fell to players who have been given no special consideration for Wimbledon.

Emerson went out Wednesday, beaten 3-6, 4-6, by the brilliant forehand driving of Tom Okker, a private in the Dutch Army.

Drysdale was outgunned by Roger Taylor, the British left hander, 2-6, 13-15.

Okker is going to town and is being talked about as a Wimbledon dark horse. He conquered Bowrey, too, in an earlier round.

Santana was defeated by Ray Moore of South Africa last Monday.

The quarter-finalists at Queen's Club are Okker, Taylor, Ronald Barnes of Brazil, Owen Davidson of Australia, Tony Roche of Australia, John Cooper of Australia and Alexander Metreveli of Russia.

Newcombe advanced by defeating Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif. — The last surviving American — 4-6, 6-1, 6-4. Mc Manus went on the court less than two hours after defeating Nikola Pilic of Yugoslavia 4-6, 6-2, 12-10 in a strenuous match in the previous round.

Aid Sent To Boat Following Blast

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—The Coast Guard sent help Thursday to three crewmen aboard a 72-foot shrimper out of Freeport who radioed there had been an explosion in the engine.

The men said no one was injured.

The shrimper is, the "Mr. Mike."

A cutter plane from Galveston and a rescue plane from Corpus Christi were dispatched to the scene, 38 miles south-southeast of Sabine Pass.

John Chapman roamed about Ohio and Indiana in the early 19th century preaching the gospel. As he went he dropped apple seeds, thereby earning himself a new name: Johnny Appleseed.

Dilly In One Shot Tournament Lead

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Long-driving Joey Dills of Muskogee, Okla., took a one - shot lead today into the second round of the Texas Oklahoma Junior Golf tournament thanks to a pair of eagles he made Wednesday on the first and fourth holes.

Dills, 15, chipped in a 7-iron for an eagle two on the first hole and followed it with a driver, a 2-iron and a 20-foot putt for another eagle on the 500-yard par 5 fourth. His round of three-under-par 68 put him just ahead of Don Brown of Wichita Falls, Gary Wolf of Arlington and Tom Kite of Austin. All were 69 shooters.

The championship flight of the 1-hole tournament is being played over the par 71 Wichita Falls Country Club Course.

BABY BRUSSEL SPROUTS from the freezer are given elegant treatment when they are prepared the French way with savory additions.

If You Could Taste These Sprouts

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

PRESIDENT FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT once claimed that when it came to cooking Brussels sprouts, Americans were the real experts — even though, in England that Tom Thumb vegetable is met with oftener than in this country.

Well, if FDR could see what present-day American ingenuity has done to the little sprout, we wager he'd be full of praise.

Now one of our frozen-food packers has taken uniform-size baby sprouts and put them into packages so these tiny members of the cabbage clan can be on hand for use all the year around.

As an introduction to these frozen sprouts, we think the following recipe is a fine one. Prepared the French way, with butter, onion, celery, carrot, lemon and bouillon, this vegetable dish is good enough for your most epicurean friends.

What to serve with the sprouts? Here you have a wide choice. This sprout dish tastes delicious with any kind of roast meat or poultry; it's good, too, with fish — baked, broiled, poached or fried. Or try it with creamstyle poultry or fish dishes. At lunchtime it makes a delightful help-yourself platter along with broiled or baked tomatoes, sweet potatoes and strips of crisp bacon; add a basket of hot buttery biscuits and no one will be able to resist this course.

SAVORY SPROUTS

1 package (10 ounces) frozen deluxe baby Brussels sprouts
3 tablespoons butter
¼ cup finely chopped onion
¼ cup finely chopped celery
½ cup finely diced carrot
1 chicken bouillon cube
½ cup boiling water
¼ teaspoon salt
White pepper to taste
2 thin lemon slices, quartered

In a saucepan, cook the Brussels sprouts according to package directions, using the amount of water and salt called for. Drain, but leave the sprouts in the saucepan.

Meanwhile in an 8-inch skillet over low heat, melt the butter. Add onion, celery and carrot; cook, stirring several times, until wilted — 5 to 10 minutes. Add bouillon cube, boiling water, salt, pepper and lemon; stir to dissolve bouillon cube. Pour over drained sprouts; mix gently but thoroughly. Reheat if necessary but do not boil so as not to over-cook the sprouts. Makes 4 servings.

What's Cooking For Lunch?

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

IF YOU sometimes rack your brains wondering what to prepare for lunch on a weekday or Saturday, for the family or drop-in guests, you might consider offering wilted lettuce salad with bacon and hard-cooked eggs.

For this salad, which is dressed with a hot mixture of oil and vinegar plus seasonings, iceberg lettuce is an excellent choice because it stays crisp even after it is cooked in the hot dressing for a minute. Crumbled crisp bacon goes into this salad, too, and wedges of hard-cooked egg garnish it. These additions make the salad hearty enough to serve as a main course. When we served it at our house we also offered hot homemade wholewheat rolls; for dessert we served a filled and frosted layer-cake.

Wilted Lettuce Salad With Bacon and Eggs

1 head iceberg lettuce
3 tablespoon corn oil
¼ cup cider vinegar
1 tablespoon sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon caraway seed crushed
8 strips bacon, crisply cooked and crumbled
6 hard-cooked eggs, cut into wedges

Whack the lettuce, core side down, on a cutting board. With your fingers, twist out the core. Rinse the head, core side up, under cold running water; place in a colander, core side down, to drain thoroughly. Dump the head into a plastic bag or cover with transparent plastic wrapping and chill.

At serving time, tear enough of the lettuce into bite-size pieces to make 2 lightly packed quarts. In a 12-inch skillet, stir together the oil, vinegar, sugar, salt, pepper and crushed caraway seed; over medium heat, heat until bubbly. Dump in the lettuce and bacon; toss well for 1 minute. Remove from heat. (Taste and add more salt if needed.) Turn into a salad bowl and top with egg wedges. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Use a mortar and pestle to crush the caraway seed; or on a board with a sharp heavy wide-blade knife, chop the hard little caraway seeds until they are crushed.

Good Club Wellington Towers

4 1-inch slices roast turkey roll
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 teaspoon salt
4 large fresh mushrooms
3 tablespoons butter
2 slices Swiss cheese, cut in half
1 large tomato, sliced ½-inch thick
4 slices Canadian - style bacon
4 pineapple slices
1 can quick crescent dinner rolls
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon light cream
2 tablespoons honey
12 stuffed green olives
OVEN 375 degrees YIELD 4

Place turkey slices on ungreased cookie sheet. Season with poultry seasoning and ½ teaspoon salt. Saute mushrooms in butter. Top each turkey slice with Swiss cheese, tomato, sprinkled with salt, Canadian-style bacon, pineapple, and mushroom.

Open can refrigerated crescent dinner rolls, unroll and separate into 8 triangles. Cut ½ inches off point of triangles. Place one triangle on each side of each tower with base of triangle on cookie sheet and overlap narrow ends at top. Press overlapping edges together. Combine egg yolk, cream and honey; brush on triangles. Cut small diamonds from remaining dough. Place on sides of triangles and brush with egg mixture.

Bake at 375 degrees for 15 to 18 minutes or until golden brown. Top each tower with 3 olives, each on a wooden pick.

Kidney Bean Relish

1 can (15 ounces) red kidney beans, drained and rinsed in cold water
3 tablespoons sweet pickle relish
¼ teaspoon curry powder

In a bowl lightly toss together all the ingredients. Makes about 2 cups.

Backyard Barbecue

Serve barbecued chicken, corn on the cob, fresh fruit salad, and hot refrigerated biscuits - (keep them hot on the edge of your grill wrapped in foil) - sure to add that special touch.

LUNCHEON SALAD — Made with iceberg lettuce and a slightly sweet-and-sour dressing plus bacon and hard-cooked eggs.

Negro Violence Retarding Civil Right Effort In US

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) Last year President Johnson's civil rights program was massacred in Congress and the one he asked for this year looks headed for the same fate. The reasons are about the same because nothing much has changed.

Negro violence is one.

After the House passed Johnson's civil rights bill in 1966, the Senate killed it with a filibuster. And Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic majority leader, indicated why.

He mentioned "marches, shootings and inflammatory speeches" and said "there is no place for mob mentality and its deliberate stimulation." Already this year there have been riots, shootings and inflammatory speeches before Congress got down to work on Johnson's 1967 program.

Johnson has been conscious of the effect of street violence on the Senate, which has been apathtic about civil rights ever since it passed the 1965 act.

When he offered this year's proposals in a special message Feb. 15, Johnson, noting the 1966 riots' chilling effect in the Capitol, sounded pretty much like Mansfield.

"Lawlessness," he said, "cannot be tolerated in a nation whose very existence depends upon respect for the law." As an antidote he suggested creating "conditions for public order based upon equal justice."

Riots weren't the only deadening effect last year. It was an election year and by the time the bill came up in the Senate the members were anxious to get home. And there was the influence of antagonistic, individual senators.

This was particularly true of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, leader of the Senate Republicans. He gagged totally on the open housing section of the bill.

This section was intended to prevent discrimination against Negroes in the sale and rental of housing even though its reach was limited since it would have banned discrimination in only about 40 per cent of the nation's housing units.

Dirksen called it unconstitutional, an invasion of private rights— an argument which had a lot of echoes around the country, although one Negro leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., called Dirksen a hypocrite.

Another rigid antagonist last year was the chairman of the Senate's powerful Judiciary Committee, Sen. James O. Eastland, a Mississippi Democrat. He has been against civil rights legislation all the way.

He is against this year's bill, too, predicting it will meet the same end as last year's. And Mansfield says he doesn't see much difference between the 1966 and 1967 bills.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People this year, as in the past, has worked zealously to get new legislation on the books but some of the senators most sympathetic to its efforts think the oulook is dim.

Perhaps some sections of what Johnson asked for may go through, but there seems little reason at this moment to think so. He offered a seven-point program whose open housing section went further than his 1966 suggestion.

He asked for legislation which would wipe out housing discrimination altogether by 1969.

These are his other six points:

Strengthen present laws againt interference with civil rights workers and others.

—Do the same with state juries.

—Authorize the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to issue enforceable cease and-desist orders against racial discrimination.

—Strengthen the 1964 Civil Rights Act ban on discrimination in hiring, promotion of workers and membership practices of labor unions.

—Extend the life of the Civil Rights Commission another five years.

—Put more money into the Community Relations Service which tries to settle community disputes before they erupt into riots.

Actor Tries To Do Good, Have Fun

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —"Life," said George Peppard, "is a piece of time as long as a gnat's blink.

"That makes it important to live it the way you feel it should be lived—to do as much good as you can and have as much fun as you can."

But when Hollywood stardom beckons to a young actor, it's hard for him to go on living the way he prefers. The big dollar makes big demands.

And some of them seem a bit inordinate to George, who rang Hollywood's golden cash register in "The Carpetbaggers" and is now completing his 15th picture, "What's So Bad About Feeling Good?"

For one thing, George, who worked hard to become a star, finds he doesn't like the public attention that success has brought. He doesn't like giving interviews, doesn't enjoy being pointed out when he goes into a restaurant.

"I realize it's part of the business, and I don't resent it," he said. "But I simply don't get any pleasure out of public attention, except so far as it applies to my work."

It isn't that the tall, handsome blond actor finds the fruits of success bitter. He just isn't the extrovert, life-of-the party type, and never has been.

He always has been something of a loner, one who likes to study others but keeps himself a bit apart.

"Sometimes I require solitude," he said, "just to read and think. That's why I enjoy going hunting or boating, or flying an airplane."

Recently George took a long step toward privacy by buying a 13,000-acre ranch in northern California, which he soon hopes to stock with 6,000 cattle.

"I'm rather practical," he remarked. "I expect the cattle to support me, rather than vice versa."

Peppard, son of a Detroit building contractor, became interested in the theater while studying engineering at Purdue. Later, after an 18-month hitch in the U.S. Marines, he won a degree in fine arts at the Carnegie Institute of Technology. He worked part time as a disk jjockey and radio station engineer.

Before making his mark on Broadway, George attended the Actor's Studio here. He kept alive by employment as a bank clerk, taxi driver and motorcycle mechanic.

Those days of deprivation—even then, George valued his privacy so much he kept an unlisted telephone number—still hold a luster for him.

"I lived in a $40-a-month cold-water flat in Greenwich Village," he recalled. "When I wasn't looking for an acting job, I used to play chess in Washington Square Park. It was a great life."

Junior Editors Quiz on TURTLES

QUESTION: Why do certain kinds of turtles live to such a great age?

* * *

ANSWER: Scientists tell us that about 175 million years ago, when various kinds of cold-blooded reptiles had appeared, one kind (lower left) developed a remarkable way of protecting itself from enemies. Its backbone and ribs appeared outside the soft body and fused into a strong outer shell. A similar shell appeared underneath. So arose the tribe of turtles, among the most successful of animals, for their unique shells have given them security ever since. Because of these protective shells, and also because turtles have an ability to stay alive under difficult conditions, sush as lack of food or water, turtles live longer than other backboned animals. Many of our small American turtles may live 50 years or so. On the Galapogos Islands, which lie off the coast of South America, the giant Galapogos Tortoise lives even longer, to 150 years or perhaps more. These great creatures, weighing up to 500 pounds, were nearly exterminated when men came to the islands. Now they are being carefully protected.

Debt Ceiling Hiked

By EDMOND LeBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats, reversing a stunning administration setback of two weeks before, pushed through a $22-billion boost in the national debt ceiling.

Sent to the Senate on a 217-196 vote was a measure to raise the debt from a temporary $336 billion to a permanent $358 billion.

The action eased fears the Treasury might face a severe money shortage.

Failure of Congress to reset the debt limit by July 1 would see the ceiling drop to its permanent $285-billion level. The actual debt as of Wednesday was $330.57 billion.

But while the Senate still has to act on the measure — and won't start work until it has disposed of the censure resolution against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. — Democrats hold a comfortable margin in that chamber and are confident of getting speedy approval for the bill.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Senate Finance Committee scheduled hearings on the measure for next Monday and Tuesday. Long said he hopes it can be brought to a floor debate Wednesday.

It had been another story in the House, which stunned President Johnson's administration June 7 by defeating 210 to 197 a bill to increase the borrowing ceiling to $365 billion.

Republicans voted solidly both times, insisting Johnson provide more information on the fiscal outlook and scale down domestic spending.

The GOP's initial victory was possible through the help of Southern Democrats and a sprinkling of Northern Democratic liberals, some of whom claimed their opposition resulted from Johnson's Vietnam war policies.

But the House leadership reclaimed 14 of these votes Wednesday, splitting the dissident Southerners about in half and picking up all but a handful of the antiwar faction.

The White House said later Johnson "congratulated the House leadership for this act of fiscal responsibility."

In addition to the $358-billion ceiling provided by the new measure, a $7-billion cushion goes into effect July 1, 1968. Intended to provide for the fluctuations in income and outgo during the year, the cushion is to be renewed annually. It will expire, however, one day before the end of each fiscal yar.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, argued this device would provide a brake on spending.

The bill also would allow the Treasury to issue notes with maturities up to seven years, instead of five. The notes are exempt from the 4¼ per cent intrest limitation that has halted the sale of longer-term securities.

It also would include in the national debt for the first time the participation certificates, or interests in pools of government-held loans, sold to private investors. This was a point strongly pushed by Republicans, who accused the administration of using the certificates to hold down the debt.

Last Hearing On Zephyr

DENVER (AP) A railroad official said Wednesday the Fort Worth & Denver Railway has done all it could to provide good service on the Texas Zephyr between Denver and Fort Worth-Dallas.

John Terill, vice president of the parent Colorado & Southern Railway, testified at a hearing on a railroad petition to discontinue daily passenger service by the Zephyr.

Railroad passenger service between Denver and the Texas cities would end if the request is granted.

Terrill said that the line has kept up standard maintenance procedures on coaches of the Zephyr to insure passenger comfort.

The hearing at Denver is the last in a series that began this month in Dallas.

Salt Study Is Approved

AUSTIN (AP) — A federal agency has granted the Texas Water Development Board $50,000 for preliminary studies on desalting underground water for municipal and industrial purposes in parts of West Texas.

Joe G. Moore Jr., board director, announced the grant from the U. S. Department of Interiors Office of Saline Water.

Moore said the state will be helped by the California engineering firm of Ralph M. Parsons Co, Los Angeles. Moore said he expected the study to be completed by May 31, 1968.

Aeas to be studied include El Paso County; Winker, Ward and Reeves Counties; Ector and Midland Counties; Crane, Upton and Reagan Counties; Taylor County, a section from Childress south, including the city of Vernon, and several areas to be selected later.

Mobile Dredging Contract Is Due

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A Port Lavaca firm submited the apparent low bid of $144,984 for dredging the Chickasaw, Ala., Creek Branch in Mobile Harbor, the Army Engineers announced Wednesday.

King Fisher Marine Service of Port Lavaca made the bid.

Solstice Sounds On Twin Peaks

By HAROLD V. STREETER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Flower Children climbed a mountain, swarmed a polo field and crowded a beach to welcome the arrival of their "summer of love."

"A solstice happening," one bearded hippie termed the turnout for the first day of a season which the nonconformist disciples of love predict will bring 100,000 hippies to San Francisco.

In the chilly predawn Wednesday, scores gathered on Twin Peaks — 900-foot mountains in the city's center—where they chanted and meditated until the sun rose.

"It was a sort of Buddhist yogi," explained bearded Bill Thomas, his arm crushing a red-haired girl in filmy gown against his suede jacket.

Wailing electric guitars and booming drums assaulted the ears of upwards of a thousand at the "happening" at Golden Gate Park's polo field.

Tribal groups clustered about small combo bands — the Grateful Dead, Quicksilver Messenger Service, the Mad River, the Phoenix, Big Brother and the Holding Company.

One tribe squatted under fluttering flags with the Star of David and the Cross, keeping time with a tabla — a bongo-type drum — a tambourine and a portable reed organ.

"This is a krishna, an Indian ceremony," one explained.

"This draws energy by clearing one's state of mind."

Nearby, a youth with hair hanging over his face ardently kissed a blonde.

The gathering ran the gamut of garb — miniskirts, shawls, black leather jackets, even a male wrapped in the royal purple of a Chinese Mandarin coat. Most of the males dangled bead necklaces. And everywhere were the paper flowers.

On squatting couple shielded a flickering candle from the wind with a sack, while they sipped wine from a silver chalice.

Grownups blew bubbles, while their children romped.

At the beach Wednesday night the moonlight ceremony focused on a 63-year-old witch.

"She's freaking out a few people," a hippie told a bystander.

"Freak out?"

"Well," replied the hippie, fumbling for words, "that means blow out a few minds."

That's how summer came to Twin Peaks.

Little Change Here In Car Risk Rates

Proposed changes in automobile insurance rates would have little effect in Scurry County, based on charts prepared by statisticians of the Insurance Department.

Scurry County is included in the "West Texas Oil Field" territory for automobile insurance purposes. Other counties in this territory are Howard, Midland and Ector.

The proposed premium changes would increase the fees for bodily injury by $4 and property damage by $2, but would reduce the premium on $100 deductible collision insurance by $2 and would reduce that for full coverage comprehensive by $6. This would result in a net decrease of $2 per premium.

These estimates are based on popular-priced model cars that are not used in business, but are driven to and from work, with no male operator under 25 years of age, and with 10-20-5 liability coverage, $100 deductible collision and full coverage comprehensive.

State - wide, the indicated changes range from an increase of $8 in Jefferson County (Beaumont) to a decrease in aggregate premiums of $13 in Lubbock.

RUDYARD KIPLING

Rudyard Kipling appreciated better than most the making and meaning of a man.

And if he were alive today, he'd undoubtedly have applied the famous quote above to America's newspaperboys.

By faithfully delivering the news day-in-and-day-out, fair weather or foul, a newspaperboy learns responsibility at an early age.

He learns enterprise. Dedication. Dependability. How to fill an important place in the community.

And he learns the value of money and saving, too . . . and of looking ahead to the future. That's why many a newspaperboy develops the habit of buying U.S. Savings Bonds regularly. Maybe to help put himself through college someday.

More than that, newspaperboys have done their communities and their nation a real service since 1941, not only by buying Bonds themselves, but by helping to promote and sell Savings Bonds and Stamps, too.

The nation's brothers and dads in Viet Nam thank you. The Treasury Department and Uncle Sam salute you. And someday, when you're a Man, my son . . . you'll thank yourself for having been a newspaperboy.

Outfielders Are Problem For All-Star Selections

NEW YORK (AP—If outfielders were allowed to play other positions in baseball's All-Star Game, the major league players would have an easier time in making thier selections.

The players went to the polls today to vote for the starting American National League lineups for the summer classic to be played in Anaheim, Tuesday, July 11.

Just what outfielders not to vote for was the number one problem facing the electorate.

In the National League seven outfielders are among the top 10 hitters and six are in first place in six of the seven individual categoies kept by statisticians.

Six outfielders are among the top 10 hitters in the American League, and Baltimore's Frank Robinson not only is the No. 1 batter but he also leads in home runs and runs batted in as he bids for a second straight Triple Crown.

Roberto Clemente, Pittsburgh right fielder, leads the National League hitters; right fielder Hank Aaron of Atlanta is tops in homers and runs scored; Jim Wynn, Houston center fielder, leaders in RBI, and St. Louis left fielder Lou Brock leads in hits and stolen bases.

The only nonoutfielders among the first 10 NL hitters are St. Louis first baseman Orlando Cepeda, catcher Tim McCarver of St. Louis and Philadelphia third baseman Richie Allen. Cepeda, who has played the outfield, is tops in doubles.

The American League nonoutfielders who rank among the top 10 in hitting are Detroit catcher Bill Freehan, Minnesota second baseman Rod Carew, California first baseman Don Mincher and Boston shortstop Rico Petrocelli.

Outfielders Cesar Tovar of Minnesota and Rick Monday of Kansas City are not among the first 10 hitters, but Tovar leads in doubles and Monday is tied for first in triples.

The players in each league vote for three outfielders, without designating any positions, four infielders and a catcher.

The managers — Hank Bauer of Baltimore for the American League and Walt Alston of Los Angeles for the National—name the reserves and the pitching staffs.

American League President Joe Cronin named Chicago Manager Eddie Stanky and California skipper Bill Rigney as coaches Wednesday.

The AL starting lineups, except for pitchers, will be announced Tuesday and the NL on Wednesday.

Clay Free On Appeals Bond

By B. F. KELLUM

HOUSTON, (AP) — Attorneys for Cassius Clay said today it probably will be 18 to 24 months before the appeals are settled on the heavyweight champion's conviction on a charge of refusing to be inducted into the U.S. Army.

Meanwhile, Clay, free on a $5,000 appeals bond, said he soon plans to embark on a series of speaking engagements at colleges and in slum districts.

He said he wasn't thinking about future ring bouts although "everybody knows I'm the best."

Hayden Covington of New York City, Clay's chief lawyer, said it probably will be six months before all records of the trial are transferred to the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans and another three months before arguments are heard.

He indicated the final outcome will be determined in the Supreme Court, a decision he predicted is 18 months to two years away.

Clay was convicted Tuesday by an all-white federal court jury. Judge Joe Ingraham assessed the maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Clay, who refused to take the oath as a draftee April 28, contended he should be exempt because he is a Black Muslim minister named Muhammad Ali. Judge Ingraham instructed the jury, however, to only consider whether Clay knowingly and unlawfully refused to be inducted.

The champion gave no indication of concern Wednesday as he accompanied his attorneys, Covington and Quinnan Hodges of Houston, to the Federal Building for the formal notice of appeal and renewal of the bond he posted following his indictment May 8.

The bond conditions stipulate that he cannot leave this country without permission of the court.

The champion said he plans to go to Chicago soon and then begin his speaking engagements. He mentioned Atlanta; Jacksonville, Fla.; Cleveland; Detroit, and Washington, D.C.

Boston Downs Yanks As Fight Breaks Out

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Lonborg, once a friendly, smiling giant, has forsaken his winning ways for a winning fast ball that rises high and tight and now has hitters ducking him like he had bad breath.

The Boston Red Sox new mean man of the mound blew his latest innovation by New York for an 8-1 victory Wednesday night, but the Yankees did not go down without a fight.

Lonborg's lively fast ball and one thrown by the Yankees' Thad Tillotson that wasn't so lively started a brush back, bean ball contest that emptied both benches in a second inning free-for-all.

Tillotson hit Joe Foy on the helmet with a pitch in the top half of the inning, then one of Lonborg's high hard ones struck Tillotson in the shoulder. Words were exchanged between the two pitchers, then between Tillotson and Foy, the benches emptied, a wild melee began and it took 12 special policemen to restore order.

Elsewhere in the league, the leading Chicago White Sox quietly swept a doubleheader from Washington 5-2 and 2-1 on the hiting of Tom McCraw and Gerry McNertney, and reliever Eddie Watt saved Baltimore's 5-4 triumph over Kansas City.

Detroit and Minnesota played to a 5-5 tie in a game halted in the ninth inning by rain and Cleveland and California were rained out before they started.

In the National League, St. Louis blanked Los Angeles 2-0, Cincinnati nudged Houston 3-2, Atlanta bombed San Francisco 9-2, the New York Mets tripped Philadelphia 2-0 and the Chicago Cubs tumbled Pitsburgh 5-3.

No players were ejected in the brawl at Yankee Stadium, the second there in recent weeks, but Joe Pepitone of the Yankees was decked by one punch and had to leave the game with a sprained wrist.

In the next inning, Tillotson hit Lonborg and Lonborg later brushed back Charley Smith and hit Dick Howser before the umpires summoned both managers and laid down the law.

Howser and the Red Sox agreed the pitch that hit him on the helmet was an accident, but it left Lonborg with 10 hit bats men this season, tops in the league.

Asked later if he threw at Tillotson, the 6-foot-5 right-hander answered "that do you think? I have to protect my own players."

It's all part of the new Lonborg, who has changed his friendly atitude for a strictly business manner on the mound hat discourages hitters from digging in at the plate.

"I want to be the best in my business," the 24-year-old college graduate who once had ambitions to be a doctor, said earlier this year. "I'm not going to let anything interfere. The batters took too many liberties with me my first two years. I don't throw at anybody, but I can't let them do it anymore."

Lonborg, who was 9-17 as a rookie and 10-10 last year, allowed seven hits — Yankee hits — as he ran his record to 9-2, lowered his earned run average to 3.03 and struck out seven to raise his league lead to 105.

Tony Conigliaro's three-run homer and three-run scoring hits by Carl Yastrzemski led the Red Sox attack against Tillotson.

McNertney also slammed three hits, driving in two runs and scoring a third as the White Sox won their opener on the shutout relief pitching of winner Bruce Howard and Hoyt Wilhelm.

McGraw's leadoff homer in the seventh inning gave Jim O'Toole the triumph in the nightcap with relief help from Bob Locker.

Watt entered in time to strike out Bert Campaneris with the bases loaded in the eighth inning and protect Pete Richert's victory for the Orioles.

Frank Robinson hit his 21st homer with a man on and Dave Johnson drove in two more runs to build Baltimore's lead.

Two-run homers by Al Kaline and Dick McAuliffe of Detroit matched Harmon Killebrew's 20th and 21st homers and a shot by Rod Carew of the Twins in their game that was delayed by rain an hour at the start and then stopped four more times before it was called.

All records count and the game will be replayed from the start.

Cleveland Open Favors Nicklaus

By HAL PARIS

CLEVELAND (AP) — Newly crowned U.S. Open king Jack Nicklaus was a heavy favorite today to capture the $103,500 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament.

But the big belter from Columbus wasn't likely to carry a smug attitude into the first round of play.

The blond power-hitter won the National Open in record-shattering fashion last weekend with a crafty performance. His five- under-par 65 Sunday at Baltusrol Country Club in Springfield, N.J., included eight birdies.

It was the second Open crown for the 27-year-old Buckeye pro who owns every major title in the book.

But Nicklaus, who has won more than a half million dollars in slightly more than five years, has never come out on top here. Observers figure he may find the $20,700 first prize interesting enough to apply the pressure.

Nicklaus had been anything but impressive until his decisive triumph last week and may be ready to attack the Aurora County Club's tight 6,611-yard layout where par is 70.

In the first Cleveland Open in 1963, Nicklaus finished seventh while Arnold Palmer prevailed.

In 1964, Jack finished in a tie for third while the late Tony Lema topped Palmer in a playoff for the title.

Nicklaus skipped the '65 tourney, a move that drew criticism in these parts. He finished well back in the pack last year with a 278.

Nicklaus has had trouble before winning on Ohio courses. Even before turning to a lucrative career as a professional, Jack failed to win the Ohio Amateur, an event annexed twice by Palmer when the millionaire Pennsylvanian was in the Coast Guard stationed near here.

Still, based on the form he displayed at Baltusrol, Nicklaus has to be the man to beat. Stiff competition should come from Palmer, Billy Casper, Julius Boros, the tour's only three-tournament winner, and R.H. Sikes, last year's champion.

Nicklaus tuned up for first-round action with a nine-hole score of 34 n Wednesday's rain-curtailed pro-am event.

AAU Championships Feature Hurdlers

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) The 9th Annual National AAU Track and Field Championships get under way tonight with a competing cast of almost 500, topped in the first of two nights by the nation's finest dashmen and high hurdlers.

Defending champion Charlie Greene of Nebraska and Jimmy Hines of Texas Southern, who have equaled the world record of 9.1 vie in the 100-yard dash.

Clashing in the 120-yard high hurdles final will be Willie Davenport of Southern University, the 1966 champion, and the 1-2 finishers in the National Collegiate at Provo, Utah, last week, Earl McCullouch of Southern California and Richmond Flowers of Tennessee.

Other defending AAU champions on view tonight include Ralph Boston in the long jump and Al Oerter in the discus. And little Gerry Lindgren of Washington State, the national collegiate champion, tries for an AAU brass ring in the three-mile run.

ABA Will Do Well Says Hagan

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Yes, Virginia, Maryland or whoever, there is an American Basketball Association and Cliff Hagan, the old National Basketball Association star who will coach one of the teams, says it is going to do right well.

Reminiscent of 1960 when the American Football League was organized and had to struggle seven years before the National Football League recognized it except in court, Hagan says the ABA won't attain the stature of the NBA for several years.

But, says the man who is now geting the Dallas team together, the ABA has an advantage over the NBA that the AFL didn't have over the NFL—it will start producing the superstars on an equal status.

"The superstars of the NBA, fellows like Wilt Chamberlain, Bill Russell, Oscar Robertson, and Jerry West, all are over 30 years old and only have a few years to go," said Hagan. "Meanwhile we will develop our own superstars and be ready to start competing in those few years."

Hagan, the old Kentucky star who played 10 years with the St. Louis Hawks of the NBA and helped them win a flock of championships, is making his first effort as a coach as he sends the Dallas Chaparrals through their paces.

Preseason Games Feature AFL, NFL Battle Royal

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League and the American Football League will get together to play 16 preseason games this year during the period between Aug. 5 and Sept. 3.

Regular season play between the two leagues is not expected to start until 1970. The only previous meeting of the leagues was in the Super Bowl at Los Angeles where the Green Bay Packers of the NFL defeated the Kansas City Chiefs of the AFL.

The first inter-league test will be Saturday, Aug. 5, with Detroit at Denver.

Detroit will play three AFL rivals—Denver, Buffalo and San Diego—and the Philadelphia Eagles and Los Angeles Rams each will play two AFL teams. St. Louis, Green Bay, New York and Cleveland of the NFL will not play any games with the other league this year.

Each of the other teams, except Detroit, Philadelphia and Los Angeles, will play one each.

All of the AFL teams will play NFL teams. San Diego will take on Detroit, Los Angeles and Pittsburgh. Buffalo, Boston, Kansas City, Miami and Denver each will play two and Houston, the New York Jets and Oakland one each.

Although there will be no Giant-Jets meeting of the two New York teams, there will be a Sept. 3 battle at Oakland between the San Francisco 49ers and the Oakland Raiders. An all-Texas game will be played Sept. 2 when the Dallas Cowboys invade Houston to play the Oilers.

The San Diego Chargers, who used to make Los Angeles their home, will face the Los Angeles Rams Aug. 27 at San Diego and the newest expansion teams, Miami of the AFL and New Orleans of the NFL, will meet Sept. 2 on the neutral ground of Charleston, S. C.

The NFL's preseason schedule, announced by President Art Modell, Cleveland owner, calls for a total of 51 games including the 16 with the AFL.

"The fact that nearly a third of our games are with AFL teams makes this an especially interesting prelude to the new NFL season," said Modell.

Under the terms of the merger agreement each AFL team was guaranteed at least one game with an NFL rival.

Six of the NFL games will be carried on national telecasts, starting with the Green Bayd College All-Star game at Chicago, Aug. 4 on the American Broadcasting Company. Five other nationally televised games will be carried by the Columbia Boadcasting System.

The regular NFL season opens Sept. 17 but the regular AFL season opens Sept. 3. The NFL 51-game preseason schedule compares with only 37 in 1966.

AFL president Milt Woodard announced the league's longest preseason schedule, 29 games stretching from July 29 to Sept. 3. The first game will send Miami against Denver at Akron, Ohio Saturday, July 29.

Parley Urged For Reagan, Richard

By JACK BELL
AP Political Affairs Writer

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — If Republican conservatives are sliding away from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon toward California Gov. Ronald Reagan for the party's 1968 presidential nomination, Barry Goldwater is not doing anything to stop them.

Goldwater, at a news conference during the Young Republica National Federation Convention, suggested Wednesday that Reagan and Nixon sit down together soon. He said they should chart their courses to avoid a political collision that might permit a moderate like Michigan Gov. George Romney to be nominated.

The 1964 GOP presidential nominee said that while he is commited to Nixon, he and other conservatives would back Reagan "with everything we've got" if Nixon is eliminated as a contestant.

Goldwater indicated in an interview he fears Nixon may run into trouble in presidential primaries, particularly those in which potential candidates can be entered without their consent.

"I wish he could stay out of all the primaries, but I guess he can't," Goldwater said.

Reagan has indicated he expects to be California's favorite son candidate and will not withdraw his name from free-for-all primaries where it is entered.

Goldwater's credentials as still the spokesman for a large group of party conservatives were demonstrated when he got a rousing, chanting, "We want Barry," welcome at an appearance before the Young Republican Federation which conservatives have dominated since 1963.

One sign read: "Barry, you will always be our hero."

Goldwater's message to the group was not to let themselves be so submerged by the senior party organization that they have no voice in GOP affairs.

Among delegates there has been considerable hoopla for Reagan and Romney, with not a Nixon hat or banner in sight.

Goldwater reiterated his theme that Romney had a right to choose not to support him actively in 1964, but said he doesn't know how much backing Romney should expect now from those who campaigned for the 1964 national ticket.

But Goldwater added he thinks President Johnson has better than an even chance of beating any Republican opponent. He added that as a third party candidate, former Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama might contribute heavily toward this result.

Goldwater said Johnson's political position has been bolstered because the Vietnam war is going better, economic signs look good and because the president acted commendably in the Middle East crisis.

"The people are thinking that when the chips are down, this fellow produces," he said. "You can't beat men like that."

Stassi Trial Continuing

HOUSTON (AP)— Testimony continued today in the second trial of Joseph Stassi Sr., 60, of New York, charged with conspiring to smuggle heroin into the United States from Mexico.

Defense lawyer Percy Foreman spent the entire day Wednesday cross-examining Milton Abramson, another New Yorker and the prosecution's prime witness.

Abramson, 60, was named in the same indictment returned against Stassi in 1963. Abramson pleaded guilty and is now serving a 14 year prison sentence.

Foreman atempted to shake Abramson's testimony that he met Stassi while trying to get a legitimate mining proposition in Mexico and that the heroin importation was Stassi's idea.

Stassi was tried and convicted last March at Corpus Christi, Tex., but the conviction was reversed and a new trial was ordered when it was discovered that a government witness talked to locked-up jurors during the trial.

A 10-man, two-woman jury is hearing the testimony in U.S. Dist. Judge Ben C. Connally's court.

Everything Is Going Well For Patrick Lyndon Nugent

By FRANCES LEWINE

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Luci Johnson Nugent gave her baby his first bottle of sugar and water, and doctors reported everything was going well with the President's daughter and his first grandchild.

Patrick Lyndon Nugent was reported making perfect progress in the maternity wing of Seton Hsospital, where he was born Wednesday morning.

"Everybody's happy," said father Patrick J. Nugent as he gave an interview Wednesday night, 12 hours after the birth of his first child.

The baby was wheeled in his bassinet into Luci's hospital room for a first feeding of water and glucose, Nugent said.

The 23-year-old Nugent smilingly confessed he found fatherhood an enjoyable experience.

He reported his 19-year-old wife "gay and cheerful." She had received a telegram from her father, the President, in which Nugent said Lyndon B. Johnson sent word that "his prayers were with her."

There was a continuing flow of flowers for the President's daughter at the hospital, where she and her baby were occupying the fourth-floor maternity-wing hospital rooms under Secret Service guard.

One of the floral displays, moved into Luci's room, came from New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a White House spokesman here said.

Nugent handed out cigars and candy as he announced with tears in his eyes and a cracking voice early Wednesday that his wife had given birth to an 8-pound, 10-ounce baby boy, 21 inches long.

"It's an elephant, isn't it?" Nugent commented to reporters with a big grin.

Toward the end of the day, Nugent confided he chose the name for his first offspring. It was a combination of his own name and that of his paternal grandfather with a middle name of Lyndon after his father-in-law, the President.

He also confided he had expected his first child to be a girl—"I don't know why."

The President and First Lady expressed their happiness and Mrs. Johnson said she was relieved as well that the birth went without a hitch.

Luci was in labor at the hospital for six hours and her delivery team of five doctors said it was a perfectly normal labor and delivery.

Family and friends were notified and Nugent said he called his brother, Gerard P. Nugent Jr., in San Diego, Calif., whose wife, Phyllis, is expecting a baby any time now.

Meanwhile things were settling into a routine at the hospital for Luci and her newborn son.

Visiting with her during the evening, Nugent decided what his wife should choose from the hospital menu. Instead of the dinner offerings, he picked hot cereal, to the surprise of the nurse on duty.

The family left to Nugent the announcement of the birth of his first son, and he offered reporters cigars and candy and a beaming report on his wife's progress.

After the grueling day, Pat said he wanted to sleep and headed for the fashionable, $70,000 Nugent home about four miles from the hospital.

Her doctors said they thought Luci would remain in the hospital "approxmately five days."

The President was scheduled to travel to Los Angeles to attend a President's Club fund-raising dinner Friday night and speculation was he might stop off to see Luci and his grandson.

Mrs. Johnson said she had no plans to join her husband for the California trip. She continued commuting between the LBJ Ranch, Seton Hospital and the Nugent home, a circuit of some 65 miles.

Luci's family doctor, Charles W. Bailey, stopped by the hospital Wednesday night and reported she was "doing beautifully." He said he was extremely pleased with her progress.

And a pediatrician, Dr. B. Phillip Kocen, said young Patrick Lyndon was "doing fine" after making an evening call on the baby.

"There are absolutely no problems," Dr. Kocen declared.

Some Biminians Now Think Adam Should Go Home

By AUSTIN SCOTT

BIMINI, Bahamas (AP) — There are no "Adam Go Home" signs in Bimini, and with the praise that flows every time representative-elect Adam Clayton Powell's name is mentioned, there aren't likely to be any.

Nonetheless, some Biminians are beginning to ponder the same question being asked in some Harlem circles: Why doesn't he go home, at least for a vsit?

"Adam Powell is a nice man," said one of the young men who works near the two bars which Powell most often frequents. "But I don't think he's being fair to the people who elected him."

Several groups in Harlem have voiced the same opinion since Powell, a Democrat, won a landslide re-election April 11 to the House of Representatives seat from which the House excluded him March 1.

Powell has said he is afraid there will be civil disturbances if he returns to Harlem and is arrested. Two contempt-of-court arrest warrants still threaten him if he sets foot in New York State.

Several Harlem groups have sent telegrams to Powell urging him to come home. Most point out that even if he is arrested, he would simply be joining the ranks of such Negro leaders as Dr. Martin Luther King and CORE's Floyd McKissick.

A telegram sent last month by a group of Harlem ministers, said "the fight is on the streets of Harlem," not in Bimini. It was liberally quoted in an editorial in the New York Courier, one of Harlem's two weekly newspapers.

Two weeks ago J. Raymond Jones, formerly head of Tammany Hall, a Negro and once a strong Powell supporter, surprised everyone with a statement that Powell, veteran of 22 years in Congress, could never regain the power he once had.

It looked to some like the opening of a "get-Powell" campaign. The Rev. R. M. Kinloch, chairman of Harlem's Protestant Council and a signer of the ministers' telegram, said he knew of several persons who were considering running against the congressman-elect in the next election, a little more than a year away.

"We stood up and fought for him," Kinloch said. "Now the question is, will he stand up and fight for us?"

Jones blamed Powell's downfall on his alliance with "extremist" groups, particularly those supporting black power.

Some Bimini residents also question what they say is his constant discussion of black power and being black.

"He talks about it all the time," said one of a crew that transports tourists around the two small islands that make up Bimini. "Don't put my name down in no newspapers," he said, in a reaction common among islands when asked about the visiting politician.

Even the Sunday sermons that Powell used to give regularly often dealt with black power, islanders said. One of the four-man instrumental group calling itself Adam's Disciples said Powell had explained in a sermon three weeks ago that "anybody can be black, it's a frame of mind."

A group of a dozen or so young men hang around Powell and usually see him only when he docks his boat. Adam's Fancy after a day of fishing in the clear Bahamas waters.

He talks the same as he's been doing since he came down here," one of the group said. "I just talked to him yesterday, but I still don't understand why he doesn't go back. What would a day in jail mean to him?"

"Maybe there would have been riots Palm Sunday," said another, "but not now."

He referred to a promise Powell had made to return to Harlem in triumph on Palm Sunday, then broke, saying he wanted to avoid possible riots.

A trip across the narrow strait to the almost unpopulated island of South Bimini, where Powell lives in a tiny blue and white house set on a treeless hummock of land, resulted in a brush-off of such questions.

The bus driver refused to go beyond Powell's property line, explaining that the congressman-elect had ordered the bus company to keep away anyone who did not have an appointment, especially reporters.

A tall man rushed out of the house to intercept a visitor about 50 feet from the house.

"The congressman will have nothing to say," he said, as Powell's voice rose in an unintelligible shout from the house.

The next day Powell went fishing, as usual.

AMA Stand On Abortion Is Reversed

By PHILIP WECHSLER

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) —After nearly a century of silence, the American Medical Association has reversed its stringent position on abortion and adopted a more liberal policy.

With a minimum of opposition Wednesday, the House of Delegates, the AMA's policy-making body, adopted a report recommending new guidelines under which abortions could be performed.

The guidelines, which became the AMA recommendation for legislation, go much further than the vast majority of state laws, which permit abortion only to save the mother's life.

The AMA, also noting the opposition of the Roman Catholic Church to abortion, said it "respects the right of this group to express and practice its belief.

"However, the AMA believes that physicians who hold other views should be legally able to exercise sound medical judgment which they and their colleagues feel to be in the best interest of the patient."

The 215,000-physician organization said it favors abortions when documented medical evidence shows:

"That continuance of the pregnancy may threaten the health or life of the mother.

That continuance of a pregnancy, resulting from rape or incest, may constitute a threat to the mental or physical health of the patient.

"That the infant would be born with an incapacitating physical deformity or mental deficiency."

Three states—Colorado, North Carolina and California — have adopted abortion laws this year similr to the new AMA policy.

More Rural Loan Funds Available

The Farmers Home Administration has been authorized to insure an additional $148 million of rural loans according to word received by L. J. Capplernan, Farmers Home Administration Texas State Director.

This action, announced in Washington by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, will enable USDA's Farmers Home Administration to commit an additional $30 million in Farm Ownership loans and $118 million in Rural Housing loans to low and moderate income families.

Previous allocations of funds were exhausted in February. There are some 20,000 applications and unfunded loan dockets currently being held by the Farmers Home Administration.

Funds for Rural Housing loans to low and moderate income families were exhausted in April. The Farmers Home Administration is now holding some 42,000 applications and unfunded loan dockets for Rural Housing loans.

Both the funds for Farm Ownership and Rural Housing loans are being made abailable immediately.

Farm Ownership loans are made to buy land, construct or repair buildings, improve land and refinance debts. They are repayable over 40 years and bear 5 per cent interest.

Rural Housing loans are made to farmers and other rural residents in open country and small rural communities with populations of not more than 5,500. Loans are made to construct and repair needed homes and essential farm buildings, purchase homes or buy sites on which to build homes. The maximum term is 33 years. The interest rate on loans to families with low and moderate incomes is 5 per cent.

Farmers Home Administration services are made available through more than 1,600 county offices serving the 3,000 rural counties in the United States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

The county office for Scurry County is located at 3423 Avenue T. The county supervisor is Joe Box. Office hours are from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. every Monday. Box will be glad to discuss the Farmers Home Administration loan programs with interested individuals.

Dodd Issue Slows Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prolonged debate over a resolution to censure Sen. Thomas J. Dodd has put an already slow-moving Senate even further behind on normal business.

But if the Senate leadership is concerned, it's not showing it. Still scheduled is a 10-day July 4th recess to begin a week from today.

Appropriations, civil rights, antipoverty, foreign aid and labor bills are among many caught in the midsession logjam.

A ban on commitee meetings while the Dodd case was being considered has halted, with few exceptions, the flow of bills through hearings, subcommittee consideration, full commitee deliberations and then to the floor.

Urban Development Projects Listed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Funds to help finance three Texas projects were announced Wednesday by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The funds total $985,746 and include:

Grand Prairie—$400,000 grant for water and sewer facilities.

Luling—$579,746 loan for construction of 40 units of low rent housing for the elderly.

Aransas Pass—$6,000 loan for planning 40 units of low rent housing for the elderly.

There are some 2,500 different types of mineral to be found in rocks. They range from the popular finds such as mica, pyrite, calcite and quartz to sulphur crystals so delicate that the heat of a hand will crack them. Recently a Colorado woman picked up a 50-carat white topaz worth $2,000.

Film Scene Looks Real

NEW YORK (AP) Actor James Coburn—known to movie buffs as Our Man Flint, the karate chopping nemesis of enemy spies—stands ready for his scene. Lights! Camera! Action:

Flint takes off up McDougal Street in Greenwich Village as the cameras grind and two Chinese agents pound in pursuit. The only question is how our hero will befuddle his foes.

Or is it? Enter Patrolmen Melvin Schwartz and David Mahan, unaware that the fleeing Flint is only filming a scene. Schwartz reaches out an arm and—CRASH! Cut! Cut! Cut!

A police sergeant assigned to the film scene Wednesday night rushes up with the city's apologies to Coburn. The startled Schwartz had assumed he was stopping some mischief.

Coburn, 39, suffered two small cuts on his face, and a Paramount Pictures spokesman said the filming probably would be delayed a day to let the star's wounds heal.
