RAF Makes Forays Into West Germany

All Planes Return Safely; Fires In Berlin Still Burn

LONDON, Jan. 4. (AP) — United States heavy bombers attacked objectives in northwest Germany today. Eighteen bombers are missing.

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 4—United States Marauder medium bombers heavily attacked military objectives in the Pas de Calais area of France today in the wake of RAF Mosquito forays into western Germany. All planes returned from both operations.

The Marauders were escorted by RAF, Dominion and Allied fighters.

As the day advanced the German-controlled Danish radio left the air followed by the Norwegian long-range transmitters at Oslo and Tromsoe. This sometimes is an indication that British or American aircraft are overhead in those areas.

Site Of Rocket Guns

Shortly after 10 a. m., (4 a. m., CWT) a force of medium bombers, strongly escorted by fighters, swept out across the English channel in the direction of Pas de Calais, rumored site of emplacements for Germany's "rocket guns."

The attack on western Germany last night by the speedy Mosquito formations was the second successive night raid on this general area by these planes and was carried out without loss, the air ministry said.

Fires, meanwhile, were reported still burning in Berlin from the two previous night assaults on the German capital and advices relayed from neutral Sweden said that traffic within the city remained virtually paralyzed.

Hundreds Thought Trapped

Two fires were raging yesterday in Hitler's reichs chancellery, and hundreds of persons were believed trapped in shelters beneath the ruined building, these advices said.

The main administration building at Berlin's great Tempelhof airdrome also was reported dam-

Lt. Col. Durette Gets New Post

Maj. Lee Given Command Here

A change in command of West Texas Recruiting and Induction station, under which Maj. Emmett C. Lee succeeds Lt. Col. Marvin B. Durrette, was announced here this morning.

Major Lee, who has been commanding officer of the Lafayette, La., station the past five months, already has reported for duty and is engaged at the moment in house hunting.

Colonel Durrette plans to leave Thursday for Brownsville to assume his new post as commanding officer of Fort Brown, a cavalry post. He has commanded the West Texas Station, which embraces 89 counties for induction purposes and 74 counties for recruiting, the past 18 months.

Got Commissions Together

It was a coincidence they did not discover, until Major Lee reported for duty here, that he and Colonel Durrette were members of the same class which was graduated from the second officers' training camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., on Nov. 27, 1917.

A twice-wounded veteran of World War I, during which he spent more than a year overseas, Major Lee is a native of Louisiana who, as he said, considers himself a Texan. He is a graduate of Louisiana State university and received a master's degree in science from the University of Illinois shortly before the entry of the United States into the other war.

Criticism Of Labor Endorsed By Sen. Reed

Essential Industry Strikes Called Form Of Treason

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 — Sen. Clyde M. Reed, (R., Kans.), today endorsed the week-end criticism of labor, which he attributed to Gen. George C. Marshall and said that President Roosevelt would have said the same thing long ago "if he had Marshall's intellectual integrity, courage and candor."

"Strikes in essential industry in time of war are a form of trason and should be so regarded and treated," Reed said in a statement.

"As between Gen. Marshall and witless Bill Green I shall support Gen. Marshall 1,000 per cent."

Green Flays Statement

His reference was to President William Green of the American Federation of Labor, who denounced the "informed source" statement that labor disputes such as that which led to the seizure of the railroads were giving the Germans a psychological lift and thereby prolonging the war.

Several senators agreed with Green on one point—that primary responsibility for the series of labor crises was due to fumbling of the situation by the administration.

Nearly all senators who were reached regretted, however, that the week-end comments had been made anonymously.

Reed said it was "unfortunate" that Marshall, in saying "what should have been said, felt circumscribed by a sense of loyalty to his only superior officer to remain anonymous."

REACTION RISES IN CAPITAL ON STATEMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP) — Demands were intensified today that the recent statement that Axis propaganda based on American rail and steel disputes had prolonged the war and cost Allied lives be supported publicly or recanted by the anonymous author.

Authorship of the statement was

'Forts' Smash Bearing Plant In North Italy

Railway Yards At Turin Are Battered; British Driving Inland From Adriatic

BY WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 4—U. S. Flying Fortresses knocked out the bearing plant at Villa Perosa in northern Italy yesterday and battered the Turin railway yards, it was announced today, while aground Eighth army Indian troops seized a hill and advanced inland from the Adriatic.

Soggy terrain stymied large-scale land fighting, but American troops probed defenses of San Vittore guarding the Rome road, and other patrols also stirred up the Nazis.

Allied fliers wrecked or damaged dozens out of hundreds of German supply trucks found snow bound in mountain passes, and bombed the Yugoslav ports of Split and Sibenik.

New Commander

The Fortresses of the 15th Air force, soaring out for the first time under command of Maj.-Gen. Nathan Twining, wrecked the main building of the Villa Perosa plant producing eight per cent of the Nazis' output of bearings. Villa Perosa is 23 miles southwest of Turin.

(A Berlin broadcast declared a "terror attack" was made yesterday on the communications center of Pistoia, 21 miles northwest of Florence).

On the Eighth army front, Indian forces captured a hill a mile and a half from recently-won Tomasso, and advanced up the road from Ortona almost to Tollo, five miles inland.

Nazis Shell Mignano

The Nazis replied to American patrol stabs on the Fifth army sector with a shelling of Mignano.

Jap Toll Heavy As Yanks Get Firmer Holds

Allies Bomb Key Enemy Points; 4 Warships Damaged

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
Associated Press War Editor

The Japanese are paying an increasingly heavy price to fight off thrusts at their hemmed-in bases in the Southwest Pacific while American troops are building up invasion-won wedges in the enemy's own defense system.

Allied planes, striking in the New Guinea-New Britain-New Ireland sector, bombed key enemy points, damaged four warships and destroyed at least 33 Nipponese planes.

Mitchells Raid Taroa

In the Central Pacific, a Japanese broadcast said, 14 Mitchell bombers struck at Taroa in a continuation of the regular aerial assault on the Marshall islands. Two of the raiders were reported shot down.

Secretary of the Navy Knox said today American air forces are encountering weak opposition in the air in "continuing to soften up" enemy bases at Wotje, Kwajalein, Mili, Jaluit and elsewhere in the Marshalls.

"We are putting the enemy on the defensive throughout that region," he declared.

The picture on the Allied side was one of progress and development of facilities seized from the Japanese in three recent landing operations.

U. S. Marines widened their beachhead at Cape Gloucester on the western end of New Britain as patrols advanced from the eastern and western flanks. The first American plane, a flying boat, landed at Borgen bay to deliver vital equipment. Seabees, meanwhile, rushed work on the smashed Japanese airdrome.

Firm Grip On Saidor

Soldiers of the American 32nd division established a firm grip at Saidor on the northeast coast of New Guinea. The Japanese made their first aerial attack on the beachhead, nearly 38 hours after the unopposed New Year's day landings, killing one man on the ground. Road building proceeded in advance of probable reconstruction of the captured landing field.

The Japanese also raided U. S. Sixth Army holdings on Arawe, on the southwest coast of New Britain, but the attack was termed ineffective. Outpost clashes occurred on the right flank, with 14 Japanese killed.

Set Fire To Ships

South Pacific carrier-based planes caught two Japanese heavy cruisers and two destroyers in the Kavieng, New Ireland, harbor New Year's day and set both cruisers and one destroyer afire. The enemy lost a total of 13 planes in the accompanying air battle which cost the American force three air-

Soviets Pouring Into Poland On 50-Mile Front

Two-Pronged Drive Threatens Greatest Disaster Of War For Germany; Highway, Rail Junction South Of Kiev Captured

(By The United Press)

LONDON, Jan. 4 — Powerful Russian armies were reported sweeping across the pre-war Polish frontier on a 50-mile front today and fanning out through the western Ukraine in a two-pronged drive that threatened to trap 1,000,000 Nazi troops in Germany's greatest disaster of the war.

The northern wing of Gen. Nikolai F. Vatutin's 1st Ukrainian army was reported rolling swiftly into Poland in pursuit of a disintegrating German army, opening the way to the flat plains bordering Germany itself.

Simultaneously, Vatutin's southern wing lashed out south of Kiev to capture the highway and railroad junction of Balaya Tserkov in a thrust aimed at closing off the last escape routes open to the huge Nazi forces pinned in the Dnieper bend.

Front reports indicated that German resistance was collapsing everywhere in the path of Vatutin's triumphant advance and that the hard-pressed Nazis [illegible] straining to extricate the bulk of their forces from the rapidly-closing Russian trap.

An estimated 1,000,000 or more German troops were believed pinned down inside the Dnieper bend and in the Crimean peninsula, with only two main Russian railroad lines still open for a possible withdrawal.

The destruction of these armies would mean a disaster for Germany three times as heavy as that suffered at Stalingrad, where 300,000 men were killed or captured.

Soviet Premier Josef Stalin announced the fall of Belaya Tserkov in an order of the day and ordered Moscow's 124 victory guns to fire a 12-salvo salute to Vatutin's victorious troops.

There was no official tribute, however, to the more spectacular Russian surge across the borders of pre-war Poland—borders which Moscow already has claimed as Russian territory

Destroyer Toll May Reach 50

Navy Department To List Casualties

(By The United Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 — A death toll of at least 50 was feared today in the explosions which shattered and sank a United States destroyer in the icy waters of lower New York bay off Sandy Hook, N. J., yesterday.

The Navy said 163 members of the crew were rescued, and that 108 of them were injured, six seriously.

The number of persons aboard was not disclosed, but in peacetime the normal complement of such a destroyer was 200. In wartime, however, the number is higher, but pending a complete check of records the Navy said the exact complement could not be ascertained. It was estimated generally at 230.

An official announcement from the Third naval district last night said that "following established naval practice the number of dead, casualty lists and other related data will be made public through the Navy department at Washington."

The Navy gave no explanation of the blast, stating merely that "there was no indication of the cause."

Secretary of Navy Frank Knox said at his press conference in Washington today that he had no definite information on the cause of the explosion.

Vessel Was At Anchor

Berlin Denies Bulgaria Crisis

LONDON, Jan. 4 (AP) — While the Berlin radio dismissed today as "inventions" reports that the pro-German government of Bulgaria had been overthrown, dispatches from Turkey said the belief persisted there that Premier Dobri Bojilov's cabinet was on the verge of collapse if it has not actually fallen.

The exact situation in Bulgaria, however, Istanbul advices said, was obscured by continued interruption of normal means of communication with Sofia.

Telephone and telegraph communication between Bularia and Turkey was broken off suddenly yesterday without explanation.

May Attempt Revolts

The Istanbul advices said it was freely predicted by persons in contact with Bulgaria and Rumania that popular movements in both countries might attempt organized revolts against the Germans within the next two weeks if the Russian southwestern advance continues. The Red army's drive, it was said, already has exerted a powerful influence in Bulgaria, which is not at war with Russia and whose people have

Newspapers To Aid Bond Drive

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (U.P.) — In spite of newsprint shortages, the nation's newspapers have pledged their full cooperation in the fourth war loan drive, Thomas H. Lane, newly appointed director of press and radio advertising for the Treasury's war finance division, said today.

"The newspapers will go all-out for the drive as they have in the past—although the ads may be somewhat smaller," he said in an interview.

He said several meetings have been held here with representatives of the American Newspaper Publishers' association and other newspaper groups to discuss promotion for the forthcoming drive, which starts Jan. 18.

Regional Meetings Held

Lane has just returned from a series of regional meetings in Buffalo, Chicago, San Francisco, St. Louis, and Memphis at which the publicity campaign was discussed with representatives from the 48 states.

"All reports are very encouraging, and I am confident that the individual goal of $5,500,000,000 will be reached as well as the overall goal of $14,000,000,000," he said.

A new feature of the fourth loan promotion will be greatly increased bond promotion by the large national advertisers, according to Lane, who was formerly af-

Cold Wave Forecast For Area Tonight

(By The United Press)

The Panhandle and South Plains section of Texas prepared today for a renewed onslaught of winter as a cold wave expected to bring 15-20 degree weather and snow to those sections moved out of the Rocky mountains.

Cloudy and colder was the forecast for most of West Texas today except for the Del Rio-Eagle Pass area and the Pecos valley where it called for partly cloudy weather and little change in temperature.

The cold wave was expected to bring freezing weather or below to all but the Del Rio-Eagle Pass sections during the night.

East Texas was not expected to feel the new frigid blasts until late tonight and then only in the extreme northwest section. Light rains and colder weather was the East Texas forecast for tomorrow.

OPA Files First Suit About Gas Coupons

DALLAS, Jan. 4 (AP)—The Office of Price administration has filed in federal district court here what it said was the first injunction suit in the United States in its national campaign to enforce observance of the requirement that gasoline ration holders must validate coupons by writing their license number and the name of the state thereon.

The suit is against Foy O. Wilemon and Amos E. Wilemon, operators of the Good Luck Oil company of Dallas, and asks an injunction prohibiting acceptance of unendorsed and improperly endorsed coupons.

Judge William H. Atwell set hearing on a preliminary injunction for Saturday.

Pay-As-You-Go Gas Tax Urged

AUSTIN, Jan. 4. (AP)—A pay-as-you-go method of taxing natural gas production in Texas with the dual purpose of aiding industry and the state was recommended today by Dr. E. P. Schoch, university of Texas chemical expert.

Dr. Schoch, testifying before the Senate's general investigating committee, advanced a theory that an adequate tax on natural gas could be used by the state to finance research in development of processing to the end that methods discovered should encourage industry to use gas for chemical purposes at home and make its export for fuel purpose unprofitable.

He compared his proposal with the state's method of taxing gasoline sales for road financing purposes.

Pipeline Investigated

The committee was investigating a proposed pipeline which will transport gas from South Texas to West Virginia for fuel purposes.

Dr. Schoch emphasized that he did not consider the pipeline "in any sense a black beast to be pointed to" but that he was taking the long view toward development of gas which he said must be the foundation of industry in Texas.

He explained that state financed experiments in the production of acetylene — basis of gasoline, plastics and a large range of other products—from discharging electricity in natural gas at low pressure at the source of supply should be continued and broadened to be derived from gas.

The University of Texas has been assigned patents on the

Protein Feed Probe Delayed

Inquiry Postponed Until January 12

AUSTIN, Jan. 4 (AP)—The state Senate's general investigating committee today voted to postpone its resumption of an inquiry into the reported acute shortage of livestock feed in Texas until Jan. 12.

Chairman Houghton Brownlee announced that the committee today received from the National Cottonseed Products association's director of educational service in Dallas a request that the association be heard during the investigation. Brownlee said the association asked that the committee thoroughly investigate all aspects of the feed outlook.

To Investigate Railroad

The committee also voted to investigate at the Jan. 12 meeting the affairs of the state-owned railroad which operates between Palestine and Rusk under lease. The committee voted to leave the way open for a possible look into a reported dispute between Houston and Beaumont steamfitter's union groups. Brownlee said that while he had notified a Houston group which recently sent him a telegram bearing on the situation that the committee would meet this week, he had thus far heard no further word from them.

TEXAS MUST INCREASE COTTON OR CUT LIVESTOCK

DALLAS, Jan. 4 (AP) — A. L. Ward, director of educational service, National Cottonseed Products association, said here today Texas must increase its cotton acreage or cut its livestock production.

"There's no use investigating what's happening to all the protein feed," Ward said. "The answer is that there wasn't much to

Marine Gen. Warns People About Japs

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (AP)—A grim-talking Marine general from the bloody battle beaches of the Pacific implied today it was time for Americans at home to remember that Japan still holds all she had at the start of the war and intends to go down scrapping for every inch of it.

Brig. Gen. Merritt A. Edson, chief of staff of the valiant Marine force which captured Tarawa, cited these observations as "a few things that might be straightened out" in the public mind about the war with Japan:

"Japan still holds what she held before Pearl Harbor—we haven't taken a single thing from them that they had before the start of this war."

The enemy in Asia has suffered shipping losses, but casualties to manpower are very light compared with total strength.

There must be no negotiated peace—"we are fighting to keep off the devastation and desolation we have in Europe and China and if we can't defeat the Japanese to the point that they can't start this business again, sooner or later we will have the same thing right here in this country."

Early Start Urged On Political Activities

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (AP) — An early start for the presidential campaign with June conventions for both major parties was advocated today by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) to facilitate absentee voting by members of the armed forces.

Vandenberg, who supported the Senate-rejected Green-Lucas federal ballot bill, told a reporter he is convinced that if service men are to vote in November, presidential nominations must be made by July 1 at the latest.

"The idea of late national conventions and a short campaign, which has been advocated by some persons as a wartime measure, collides squarely with the whole theory of soldier voting," the Michigan senator declared.

New Prices Posted On West Texas Oil

HOUSTON, Jan. 4 (AP) — The Texas company announced today that effective Jan. 1 prices for crude oil purchases in West Texas and Lea county, N. M., would range from 70 cents a barrel for below 20 gravity oil to $1.12 for 40 gravity and above.

The postings provide a two cent differential upward for each degree of gravity from below 20 to 40 and above.

Previous postings for West Texas and New Mexico crude oil began at 80 cents a barrel for below 25 gravity and increased two cents for each degree of gravity up to 36 and above, posted at $1.04.

The new prices in effect represent increases in the lighter crudes and decreases on the heavy end.

In addition to Lea county, N. M., the counties affected in West Texas are Winkler, Cochran, Hockley, Terry and Pecos.

Hearings On Liquor Legislation Are Set

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (AP) — Bowing to demands of more than 100,000 individual petitioners for immediate legislative action, a House judiciary subcommittee will begin public hearings next week on national prohibition legislation.

Chairman Hobbs (D-Ala) said the hearings probably would start on Wednesday, two days after Congress reconvenes, with prohibition advocates as the first witnesses.

The hearings will be on legislation introduced last March by Rep. Bryson (D-SC) to outlaw beverages containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol by volume, the prohibition to remain in effect until "the termination of demobilization" at the end of the war.

Its professed purpose is "to reduce absenteeism, conserve manpower and speed production of materials necessary for the winning of the war."

FACTORY HEAD DIES

DALLAS, Jan. 4 (AP)—Ellis W. Wright, 48, in charge of factory training at the Lockheed modification plant and prior to that head of the Dallas national defense school which trained thousands of workers for war jobs, died last night.

WPB Lifts Ban On Razor Production

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (AP) — The War Production board today authorized unlimited production of razors and razor blades.

The order revoked previous regulations which limited the manufacture of metal safety razors to orders for the armed forces, and lifted an absolute ban on production of straight razors and severe limitations on fabrication of safety razor blades.

BERLIN CLAIMS SINKINGS

LONDON, Jan. 4. (AP)—The Berlin radio said today that Nazi U-Boats had sunk "six more" Allied destroyers in the Atlantic and added that "this brings Allied losses in destroyers during the last 10 days to 21." There was no Allied confirmation of the claim.

1944 Crucial Year For Automobile Owner

Civilian Car Transportation Problem Has Five Factors

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of two articles in which one of The Journal's Washington correspondents discusses the tremendously important civilian transportation problem).

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. — Whether or not passenger automobile transportation — now an essential part of the American economic system — will be seriously impaired or break down completely in 1944 will depend upon five main factors:

1. The manpower supply for auto repair work. 2. The supply of auto repair parts. 3. The supply of tires, the adequacy of tire repair and particularly recapping. 4. The used car market and the possible requisitioning of cars from non-essential drivers. 5. The gasoline supply and the enforcement of gas rationing.

EDSON

Take them one at time. Many localities have already reported that the supply of garage mechanics has declined as much as 40 per cent since the war began. Approximately one man out of six lost is replaced. The Army has taken many thousands, more thousands have gone into war industries where the pay scale is higher. The closing of thousands of filling stations and tire repair shops has meant that many of the service stations where the simplest jobs could be performed simply don't exist, and this has thrown a heavier burden on the shops that stayed in business. The number of garages is estimated at 8 per cent less than a year ago.

MANPOWER IS PROBLEM

THE fact that men in key positions in auto repair work are in one of the 35 industries considered essential occupations, and as such are entitled to consideration for deferment by Selective Service boards may have helped relieve the manpower shortage somewhat. Still, most of the delays which people experience in getting auto repair work done are caused by lack of manpower to clear the work as fast as it comes into the shop.

The supply of steel and other metals and alloys allocated for the manufacture of auto parts under War Production board's Controlled Materials plan is now considered adequate for the repair parts demand. There is, however, a reluctance on the part of many

Reward Is Offered On Youth's Whereabouts

Seeking to aid distressed parents, A. D. Hamilton, manager of a local manufacturing plant, today offered a $50 reward for information leading to the whereabouts of Billy Joe Nelson, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Nelson, 412 Avenue K.

The boy was last seen in a downtown all-night cafe early on the morning of Dec. 7, but one youth reported later having seen him boarding a cattle truck with another Lubbock boy, who is also reported missing.

The Nelson youth is four feet, six inches tall and weighs 105 pounds. He has light brown to blond hair and brown eyes. He was wearing a khaki suit and khaki corduroy coat with a blue toboggan cap when he left home.

Anyone having information on the youth may telephone Hamilton at 7111.

Bank Deposits Here Increase Five Million Past Two Months

Increasing $5,000,000 in the past two months and $12,000,000 since June 30, deposits in Lubbock's three banks hit a new all-time record at the close of business on Dec. 31 with a total of $40,182,034.15, statements revealed today.

Savings and investment accounts in First Federal Savings and Loan association ran total deposits in banking institutions here to $41,531,565.61.

Loans and discounts totaled $2,955,955.15, a decrease of $314,405.76 from the $3,470,360.91 on Oct. 18. Loans totaled $2,582,818.23 on June 30, and $2,592,909.93 on Dec. 31, 1942.

13 Million Increase

Deposits on Dec. 31, 1942, totaled $27,211,041.09, a total of approximately $13,000,000 under deposits of the same date a year later.

The four banking institutions hold a total of $17,607,275.06 in U. S. government bonds of various issues, the majority of them the sum being invested in War Savings bonds.

First Of Year Programs Are Conducted By Church Units

Lecture by Miss Lillie Hundley, Baptist missionary to China who spent the last seven months as a prisoner of the Japanese in a "civil assembly center," Bible studies, plans for special church programs and social hours were features of first of the year meetings of church women's societies Monday.

Miss Hundley addressed the First Baptist Women's Missionary society and others. About 150 gathered at the church chapel to hear the missionary who spent the last 20 years in and near Shanghai. She returned in November on the Gripsholm.

In opening her speech Miss Hundley thanked the local circle for choosing her name. She continued by telling the assembly that civilian prisoners were not allowed at any time to associate with prisoners of war; therefore, she knew nothing of American boys who are captives there.

The foreigners there, American, French, German, Dutch and others, were given a few weeks notice before being taken to the prison camp in order that they might dispose of all furniture and articles other than the bed, chair, food, personal clothing and bedding they were allowed to carry with them. Crowded conditions in the camps resulted in unsanitary conditions; the prisoner's only luxury being a shower bath behind the two dormitories they occupied just outside Shanghai.

"Perhaps even a greater thrill to those returned to the States than their liberation was that experienced when the group was met by the Gripsholm with mail from home that they had not been able to receive during their seven months' imprisonment," she continued.

As a parting remark, Miss Hundley told of the courage and kindness of the Chinese people and pointed out the need for added support of the missionaries during the present crisis.

Preceding Miss Hundley's speech the First Baptist WMS conducted a brief meeting at which time Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson read a devotional and J. D. Riddle sang. The women presented the speaker with a corsage of white carnations in appreciation of her appearance.

For Christian Council

A program of music and Bible study led by Mrs. Jeff Watson was presented at a meeting of First Christian Woman's council. Mrs. Bill Roberts presided for business followed by numbers presented by Mesdames Ben Eskridge and Mule Davis. Mrs. Homer Pharr gave the devotional. Mrs. George Sessums, accompanied by Miss Ruth Towne, sang. In conclusion Mrs. John W. Broome conducted "Hidden Answers."

Complete Bible Study

Eleven members of circle 1 of Central Baptist WMS meeting at the church completed a study of the book of Revelation. Mrs. W. L. Adkins and Mrs. W. B. Lamb appeared on program.

There is to be a meeting of executives of all circles Friday at 2:30 p. m. in the home of the president, Mrs. Boyd Crooks, 2602 Twenty-eighth street. Plans for a yearbook will be discussed.

Rev. McCarty Is Teacher

Chapters one and two of the book of Mark were discussed by Rev. C. J. McCarty at a meeting of Arnett-Benson Bible class in the home of Mrs. A. R. Pendley. The group will meet next week in the home of Mrs. J. W. Gollihugh, 2517 Elm.

Attending were Mesdames J. D. Klepper, I. T. Weed, L. W. Parker, L. W. Sumrow, E. O. Lidia.

Plan Parish Dinner

There was an executive meeting of St. Paul's Episcopal Woman's auxiliary Monday afternoon with Mrs. Robert J. Allen, 2408 Thirteenth street, with Mrs. J. C. Allensworth assistant hostess. Plans were made for a parish dinner Jan. 13 at 7 p. m. at Seaman hall.

Sixteen women were present. Mrs. Allensworth presided.

It was announced district convocation will be held here Jan. 15-17.

A social hour was held after the business session.

Service Aires Plan Socials

Plans for spring, which will include a Valentine dance, were discussed Monday night when Service Aires met at the USO with Miss Avey Leeth Smith presiding. Twenty-five young women were in attendance.

The club is to have a "hen" party Jan. 17 at the home of Miss Faye Hutchings, 2513 Twenty-third street.

The young women serve as hostesses at the USO Wednesday nights.

Mrs. Hitch Is Lesson Leader

Mrs. Sam Hitch was leader for the program at an evening meeting of First Cumberland Presbyterian Lydia circle Monday at the church. She discussed the fourth chapter of the study book which was based on Acts VIII.

Mrss. Voyd L. Smith reported for the visiting and finance committee for the past quarter.

Miss Maurine Fewell, vice president, presided.

Bookman Unit To Change Meeting For Wednesday

Unit 5 of the AAUW Bookman group is to change its meeting place from the home of Mrs. L. C. Craven to that of Miss Stella Thurman, 2206 Seventh street, Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock. Miss Thelma Davidson will be the reviewer.

DFD Alumnae society members will be the guests of Mrs. E. S. Waldrep, 1526 Hill, for a covered dish supper tonight at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. King Is Gift Honoree

A wedding shower was given Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. T J. George, 2221 Fifteenth street, as a courtesy to Mrs. Cecil King of Amarillo, who was Miss Mary Louise Revier before her marriage. Mrs. Robert Shipp, jr., was assistant hostess. Thirty guests called between 4 and 6 o'clock.

The honoree was dressed in a shell pink wool dress with deep pink corsage of carnations. Other members of the house party wore white carnation corsages tied with red, white and blue ribbon. A further patriotic motif was carried out in table decorations of red white and blue candles. A wreath of white carnations surrounded a three-tiered wedding cake that was topped with the bride and soldier bridegroom and tiny American flags. Plate favors were fashioned with wedding bells tied with the three colors of yarn.

Mrs. F. F. Revier, Mrs. King's mother, presided at the guest book. The honoree cut and served the wedding cake while Mrs. M. E. Casey poured punch. Others in the house party were Mrs. Frank Revier, jr., and Virginia Bess Tubbs.

Jerry Dan Shipp, wearing a train and gold crown as that worn by a "king," presented gifts from a red, white and blue cart. Those attending were Mesdames T. T. Tubbs, A. N. Gamble, J. W. Ross, H. R. Fluke, C. H. Tubbs, E. F. Alford, Fenner Tubbs, T. E. Patterson, R. I. Tubbs, C. C. Lane, Sid Parnell, W. B. Lane, Eric Shipp, James Sims, jr., E. R. Haskins, L. M. Hargrave, Ben Smith, Floyd Jackson, Cecil Stanton, Frank Lovelace, J. G. Sims, C. A. Tubbs, Hester Purdy, W. G. Lofland, and Misses Mavis Fluke, Gladys Ruth Parnell, Isabelle Burrus and Bobby Goodman.

Two Will Be Tea Honorees

Mesdames R. Clayton Carter and W. Avery Fix are entertaining with a tea Thursday afternoon in the home of the latter, 3106 Twenty-second street, as a farewell courtesy to Mrs. Mark Allen and to Mrs. Carter's house guest, Mrs. J. Virgil James of Hamilton.

The Mark Allen family is moving to Loop at the close of the winter school semester.

Receiving hours are between 3 and 5:30 o'clock.

Bridge, Golf To Follow Luncheon At Club House

Members of the Ladies Country Club association are to play bridge and golf following a covered dish luncheon at the club house Wednesday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock. Mrs. W. H. Freeman, president, stressed the organization's desire to have all women who are members of the Country Club to attend the luncheon meetings; the only requisition being to bring a covered dish.

Personals

Mrs. R. A. Shands and daughter, Marguerite Pauline, have returned to their home in Oklahoma City after a holiday visit with Mrs. Shands' mother, Mrs. C. M. Whipp, 812-A Avenue K.

Mrs. Wayne Townsend and baby son, Glenn Lee, 518 Eighteenth street, have returned from Abilene where they visited their husband and father, Pvt. Wayne Townsend, who is stationed at Camp Barkley.

Brief Bits Of Local News

A 13-year-old boy who Saturday had been paroled to his parents after admission in juvenile court he had accepted $25 of the loot taken in a November burglary of Plamor Lanes, a bowling club here, was taken before Judge G. V. Pardue again this morning on a charges of forgery. His parole was revoked and he will be sent to Gatesville reform institution. The boy, according to juvenile officials, went to Plainview after accepting loot from the Lubbock burglary and wrote three forged checks totaling $34. When arrested, he had two other checks he had filled out but not cashed. Monday, in Lubbock, he appeared at a grocery store, cashed a $10 check to which had been forged the name of J. A. Peel, one of the Plamor owners, took two cartons of cigarets and $6.50 in money. A boy with him grew suspicious and informed grocery clerks he believed the check forged, leading to the suspect's arrest. Parents had "paid off" the Plainview checks, and no prosecution resulted from those offenses.

Earl C. Sullivan, about 41, of Hobbs, N. M., suffered mild shock and a contusion above the left eye and about the nose in a fall about 10:15 o'clock this morning in front of the Lubbock Hotel Drug store. He was taken by Rix ambulance to Lubbock General hospital where he was semi-conscious. Police investigating said Sullivan's head apparently had hit the curb causing bruises when he collapsed. Reason for the collapse was undetermined by physicians late this morning and his condition is being observed, it was reported. Identifications on Sullivan revealed he is in oil lease business.

Tickets are on sale at John Halsey Drug store on Broadway and at Mark Halsey Drug store No. 2 on College avenue for the Mondro, the Magician show to be sponsored at Senior High school auditorium next Monday night, Jan. 10, by Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce members. Tickets are 55 cents including tax.

Condition of R. O. Smith, 79, of Slaton, who suffered a fractured right leg above the knee in a fall Monday afternoon in Slaton, is reported "good" this morning by attending physicians.

Information pertaining to Thursday morning examinations for clerk-stenographer and clerk-typist positions may be obtained from the secretary of the civil service office in Lubbock postoffice, it was announced Monday.

Theft of $90 from a pocketbook in a residence of 15-block Ninth street was reported to police Monday by H. Flannnery. Description of a suspect was given to officials.

Judgments on file this morning in county court showed that $100 fine and costs had been levied against Morgan Hooks and M. C. Harper, respectively for carrying a pistol and for violation of state liquor laws. Both pleaded guilty.

None was reported injured in two Monday wrecks. Police said a Domino taxicab driven by A. C. Hall, 38, of 2109 Avenue J had struck a machine driven by M. D. Cowart, 20, of Lubbock route 6, at Sixteenth street and Avenue R; and Oscar D. Weil, 31, of O'Donnell and Wilburn L. Richardson, 17, of Idalou were drivers of machines in collision at Fifteenth street and Avenue J.

Mrs. J. Will Moore, accompanied by her son, J. W. Moore, and wife of Amarillo and Mrs. Charles G. Moore of Lubbock, has gone to Whitesboro to attend today's funeral services for G. T. Sumny, a pioneer druggist and undertaker who died Sunday.

An invitation to the public to attend prayer services for men and women overseas in the Armed Forces at the semi-monthly meeting of Lubbock post of Veterans of Foreign Wars in the basement of the Myrick building Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock was extended Monday by post officials. Representatives of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths will participate in the services.

Reflecting the virtual wartime paralysis in building, Lubbock building permits during 1943 totaled only $262,961, according to a report Monday. The figure compared with $2,072,334 in 1942 and with an annual average for the five years through 1942 of approximately $3,500,000.

WHY GOD PERMITS WAR

Why does God permit war? Why does He permit cruelty, injustice, pain, starvation, sickness and death?

Thirty years ago, in Forbidden Tibet, behind the highest mountains in the world, a young Englishman named Edwin J. Dingle found the answers to these questions. A great mystic opened his eyes. A great change came over him. He realized the strange Power that Knowledge gives.

That Power, he says, can transform the life of anyone. Questions, whatever they are, can be answered. The problems of health, death, poverty and wrong, can be solved.

In his own case, he was brought back to splendid health. He acquired wealth, too, as well as world-wide professional recognition. Thirty years ago he was sick as a man could be and live. Once his coffin was bought. Years of almost continuous tropical fevers, broken bones, near blindness, privation and danger had made a human wreck of him, physically and mentally.

He was about to be sent back to England to die, when a strange message came—"They are waiting for you in Tibet." He wants to tell the whole world what he learned there, under the guidance of the greatest mystic he ever encountered during his twenty-one years in the Far East. He wants everyone to experience the greater health and the Power, which there came to him.

Within ten years he was able to retire to this country with a fortune. He had been honored by fellowships in the world's leading geographical societies for his work as a geographer. And today, 30 years later, he is still so athletic, capable of so much work, so young in apparance, it is hard to believe he has lived so long.

As a first step in their progress toward the Power that Knowledge gives, Mr. Dingle wants to send to readers of this notice a 9000-word treatise. It is free. For your free copy, send your name and address to the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. H-566 Los Angeles, 4, Calif. Write promptly. (Adv.)

Hitler Probably Is Walking Last Mile

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The happiest thought I can bring you today is that this probably is the beginning of Hitler's last year of life—or anyway of liberty.

You see, it's like this: If our General Eisenhower is correct in his prediction that the war will end in 1944—and there's widespread agreement among the experts with this forecast — then Hitler's fate is likely to be sealed in one of three ways. The fuehrer will (1) Commit suicide in the despair of defeat, (2) Be eliminated by his own followers, or (3) Fall into the hands of the Allies who will execute him, unless they inflict the more terrible punishment of life imprisonment.

Is Walking Last Mile

Of course there are other ways he might meet his deserts. He might be killed by bombs or on the battle-front. However, we needn't speculate that far. The important thing is that one of the greatest war criminals of all time is walking his last mile.

That's where Hitler is headed, but how about other war criminals? The Allies have agreed that war-guilt shall be punished, but they haven't said just how or when. This problem has been simmering, and getting hotter, until now the question has arisen of whether the accused should be dealt with summarily as they are made prisoners, or whether their trials should be postponed until after the war.

Our Soviet Allies recently convicted three German soldiers and a Russian traitor for atrocities.

The Russians are direct actionists—one of the admirable qualities which is winning this war. If they want to punish war-guilt as they go along, that would seem to be their business. The quarrel, if any, over such punishment is between them and the Germans.

Might Lessen Terrorism

All other aspects aside, it's possible that a few executions such as were carried out at Kharkov might lessen the Nazi terrorism against Soviet citizens, or the hangings might cause reprisals. In any event, that's for Moscow to decide.

The other Allies haven't yet held any war-guilt trials, and there has been no indication thus far that either America or Britain intends to make a move in this direction until peace comes. However, there's small similarity between the situations of the western Allies and Russia as regards German war guilt. The way things look, the Hitlerites have inflicted some of the most awful barbarities of history on the Russians.

While we're on the subject of war guilt, it's good to hear from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek that FDR approved at Cairo the generalissimo's idea that "all Japanese militarists must be wiped out and the Japanese political system purged of every vestige of aggressive elements." President Roosevelt some time ago declared Prussian militarism must be destroyed.

Retail Sales Pushed To Record Estimate

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (AP) — Americans bought everything they could lay their hands on in 1943 —from paper-soled shoes to wooden springed mattresses — and pushed up the sales of all retail stores to a record-smashing estimate of $63,000,000,000.

But, says the Department of Commerce, old man inflation caused consumers to put out about one-third more money in 1943 than they would have paid for similar merchandise in peace years.

"After allowing as far as possible for price changes," said the federal agency, "the 1943 total is reduced to 47.7 billion 1935-39 dollars, only 1 per cent larger than in 1942."

On a dollar value basis, this year's sales were estimated at 9 per cent higher than the revised 1942 total of $57,800,000,000 — previous high record.

Apparently there will be no letup in 1944 if the stores can help it, although they are warily buying wartime substitutes on a hand-to-mouth basis as much as possible because they feel the public will drop such merchandise like hotcakes the day peace arrives.

Broad Rate Authority Given Power Group

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP) — The Supreme court today gave broad powers to the Federal Power commission in fixing public utility rates, declaring the commissions rate orders are not subject to federal court interference unless their "total effect" is "unjust and unreasonable."

Reaffirming a previous decision that the commission is not limited to any single method of evaluating utilities for rate-making purposes, the court's 5 to 3 opinion declared that it is not the valuation theory underlying a rate order "but the impact of the rate order that counts."

Specifically, the court upheld the commission's use of the so-called "prudent investment" method of valuing the Hope Gas company in ordering a $3,609,856 annual reduction in the rates on natural gas used in Cleveland and Akron and the Pittsburgh area.

Approval Of Vets' Education Plan Seen

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP) — Early congressional approval of a billion dollar yearly expenditure for educating veterans of the present war was predicted today by Senator Thomas (D-Utah).

Thomas, chairman of a Senate subcommittee studying the problem, said a bill would be ready for Senate consideration this month. The measure would provide $50 monthly for veterans seeking to continue their education.

The Utah senator predicted approval would be obtained in both houses so that terms of the bill could be extended to 75,000 men being discharged from the armed forces monthly.

State boards of education would certify institutions at which training would be given to veterans.

Servicing Of Planes Speeded By Device

MARFA, Tex., Jan. 4 (AP)—Sgt. Giles Lieberger of Marfa Army Air field has invented a device to speed servicing of planes here.

His invention is a breaker point for magneto timing. Formerly, the metal top that covers the magneto had to be taken off and a paper inserted under the magneto points to make the timing test. Now, inspection plates are quickly removed from the breaker points and the sergeant's timing device is applied.

The invention saves an hour in the servicing of each plane.

RECORD HOG RUN

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 4 (AP) — The Kansas City stockyards Monday had en estimated run of 13,000 salable hogs, biggest supply since 1933. The inflow of porkers reflected seasonable marketing held back somewhat by the holidays and the weather.

A jute bag is a gunny sack.

"Sulfa, Please!"

A WOUNDED AMERICAN BOY lies on a jungle trail in New Guinea. A companion stoops over him. "What can I do, fella?" "Sulfa, please. They got me pretty bad." And into the stricken man's wound goes the wonder drug that will fight off infection.

Few American women know that the same used cooking fats they save in their kitchens to provide this boy with shells and bullets also help to make sulfa drugs, vaccines and scores of other battlefield essentials. No material of war that you can help provide means more in terms of his life or death. Are you saving your used cooking fats? Even the blackest fat yields crystal-clear glycerine. The need is so urgent that for every pound of fat you turn in, your butcher will give you 4¢ and two meat ration points, free. Save them in any kind of tin can, not glass. Rush them to your meat dealer. Start doing it today!

Tax Forms Are Being Mailed

Income tax report forms are being mailed to prospective tax payers in Lubbock district of the bureau of internal revenue according to report Monday by L. B. Barkley, deupty in charge.

While March 15 is the deadline for filing the returns, he urged that they be made at once.

May Get Assistance

Many taxpayers, especially those who use the 'short' form will not need assistance in making their returns. However, any taxpayer needing help may obtain it by calling at room 213 in the Lubbock National bank building.

Barkley explained that, under the pay-as-you-go system, all current tax payments through withholding from wages or by means of payments on "declarations of estimated tax" are only approximate. Therefore, it is necessary to file a return at the close of the year to determine the exact amount of each person's tax liability and to determine whether he underpaid or overpaid his taxes. In instances where the current payments were less than the tax payable March 15th, remittance of the difference will be necessary at the time of filing the return. THIS AMOUNT CANNOT BE PAID IN INSTALLMENTS. In instances where the current payments were larger than the final tax, the taxpayer will be enabled to secure a refund merely by filing his return.

Substantial payments will be necessary in certain instances because (a) most individuals who had a 1942 tax must pay at least one-half of the unforgiven portion of that tax in addition to their 1943 tax, and (b) during the first six months of 1943 only the victory tax, but not the income tax, was withheld from wages.

Should Determine Liability

Particularly, persons who took jobs for the first time in 1943 and those whose wages increased sharply from 1942 to 1943 may have substantial payments to make, Barkley said. As an illustration, he pointed out that a single person who earned $2,000 wages in 1943 but had no 1942 tax, will owe nearly $130 on March 15, or nearly three and one-half weeks' wages. Since this payment must be made in one sum at the time the 1943 return is filed, the collector pointed out the advantages of determining the liability and saving for it in advance.

In the past, many taxpayers have postponed filing returns until the last minute in order to delay the payments which had to be made with the returns. However, this year a great many taxpayers will find that, under the pay-as-you-go system, they are already substantially current in their tax payments. These taxpayers, especially, ought to find it convenient to file as early as possible.

In any case, early filing will help the taxpayer know where he stands, how much he owes, or how much refund he should expect; it will assure him of any assistance he may need without standing in long lines; it will help the government and the war effort.

Who Must File

A return must be made by every individual who during the taxable year 1943—

Was single and had $500 or more income.

Was married and had more than $624 income.

Was married and together with wife or husband, had $1,200 or more income.

In addition, a return must be filed by everyone who paid or owed a tax on 1942 income.

A return should be filed likewise by anyone claiming a refund of taxes withheld from wages.

The requirements for filing 1943 returns on or before March 15, apply to civilians and personnel of the armed forces alike, except that postponements or extensions are allowed those who are on sea duty or outside the continental United States. If a member of the armed forces is on sea duty or outside of the continental United States, his wife may also postpone her return if her own income is less than $1,200. There are several ohter special provisions applying to members of the armed forces, and Collector Thomas invited any service personnel needing tax advice to contact his office.

Forms To Use

As in past years, there are two income tax forms. Form 1040, commonly called the "long form," may be used by any individual. Form 1040A, called the "short form," may be used by individuals who (a) are citizens or residents of the United States, (b) had in 1943 $3,000 or less income, and (c) received all their income from salaries, wages, bonuses, commissions, or other forms of personal compensation, or from dividends, interest and annuities. In the case of husbands and wives filing separate returns, each must use the same kind of form. The short form may be used as a joint return for a husband and wife, if, in addition to the other conditions for using that form, they were living together on July 1, 1943, and their combined income for the year did not exceed $3,000.

On or before January 31, 1944, every employer is required to give to each employee a receipt on Form W-2, showing how much wages were paid the employee during 1943, and how much tax was withheld. These receipts supply two important figures needed for making the annual return and the best time to prepare and file the return is as soon as the employee gets his receipt.

Barkley also pointed out that along with the tax blanks, mailed to all taxpayers who filed taxable returns in this district for 1942, notices showing the amount of each individual's 1942 tax and the amounts paid on that tax are also included. These are two additional figures which income taxpayers will need in the preparation of their returns for 1943. The notices should be sent back to the collector along with the return.

Heifer Carries Out Implication Of Name

DALHART, Tex., Jan. 4 (AP) — There is something in a name, after all.

A three-year-old heifer, named Twin Sister, has given birth to twin calves on the Ernest Guilloud ranch, southwest of Dalhart.

Twin Sister received her name when, as a calf, she shared her mother with an orphan calf.

WAC Promotions At SPAAF Announced

Several WACs have been promoted, several changes in officers' duty assignments have been made and several new officers have been assigned to the field recently, it was announced Monday from South Plains Army Air field.

Among the WACs who received boosts were eight to corporal from rank of technicians fifth grade, and one to sergeant from technician fourth grade. Sgt. Georgia V. Fluharty of Farmington, West Virginia, was promoted from technician fourth grade. Those receiving promotions to corporal from technicians fifth grade included Phillis Abry of Princeton, New Jersey, Margaret E. Christie of Indianapolis, Indiana, Mildred N. Elkins of Greensboro, N. C., Priscilla Famous of Street, Harford county, Maryland, Florence H. Hewitt of Valley Park, Missouri, Helen M. Zikos of New York City, Nina F. Dent of Eudora, Arkansas, Helen S. Dursch of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Classification Officer

Lieut. Neil B. Ryan of Keokuk, Iowa, is now classification officer at the big glider pilot training center, succeeding Lieut. Robert W. Gilmore of San Francisco, who has been transferred to another station.

Returning to the field to assume duties as adjutant of the guard squadron and police and prison officer is Lieut. Richard C. Elliott of Elkhart, Ind. He takes over duties which have been handled in his absence by Lt. Oroon D. Palmer of Sanford, N. C., who has assumed duties as adjutant of a maintenance squadron at the field.

Lt. Stephen H. Ronay of South Bend, Ind., who recently returned from a successful WAC recruiting tour through Northern New Mexico with the SPAAF WAC recruiting team, has taken charge of duties as assistant intelligence officer, added to his duties as a member of the ground school staff.

Col. Franke Back At Desk

Capt. Joseph Severance, jr., of Louisville, has now assumed duties as assistant tech inspector.

Lt. Col. Frederick W. Franke of Chevy Chase, Md., has returned to his desk as quartermaster officer after a brief tour temporary duty at another field.

Among the more recent arrivals at the field heretofore not reported are Capt. Jack G. Brannon of Houston, now with the SPAAF post hospital, Liet. Edward Degginger of Chicago, Lieut. Dayton E. Mast of Columbus, Orio, and Lieut. Erma M. Maheffey of Schneider, Ind., a nurse who has been at the post for more than a month.

London Press Flays Two Latin Nations

LONDON, Jan. 4 (AP) — London morning newspapers expressed deep concern today over developments in Argentina and Bolivia, and the laborite Daily Herald bluntly accused both countires of working with the Nazis.

The News Chronicle, comparing the military revolts in Argentina and Bolivia, said the resemblance "affords considerable justification for suspicions that a common inspiration has been at work behind the scenes in both. And there is some fear that the same influence is also at work in other South American countries."

Westerners To Play LAAF Five Tonight

Soldiers Have Won Three, Lost One

The Lubbock Westerners return to the basketball court tonight, facing the 498th School Squadron five from Lubbock Army Air field in the high school gym for the third test against service team opposition for the season. The game starts at 7:30.

The soldiers, coached by Norman Volz, former Texas Tech star, have won three games and lost one this season, losing this after an overtime period, and is made up of mostly high school stars, most of which are from Texas schools.

Besides Volz, one other college experienced man is listed, Clark from Sam Houston State Teachers college at Huntsville. Volz, however, indicated that his work tonight would be largely confined to coaching the team and would play very little, if any.

Two of the players are listed from high schools outside of Texas, and include Henry Moldreski from Roosevelt High school at East Chicago, Indiana, and Robert Sellers from Concordia (Kansas) high school.

The Texas high school boys on the roster include Revis Harris from Lockney high school, H. E. Taylor, Fort Worth Northside, Lovell from Martinsville, Lyons from Oldton and Slemmons from Caddo. Another member of the team, Verne Johnson is listed as an unexperienced member.

Coach Dixie White put the Westerners through a stiff scrimmage session Monday afternoon as a final tuneup for the game with the LAAF cagers, and pronounced the team ready for the battle.

The Westerners have played nothing to date but Army teams from the local bases, splitting even in two games.

White indicated that he would probably start Jerry Crawford, Billy Cope, Marion Manderson, Billy Joe Walker and George Brewer for the Westerners.

The Westerners will get another stiff test this week, and the first appearance against high school opposition, when they clash with Volney Hill's Lamesa team at the local gym.

Lamesa, winners of the Tahoka invitation basketball tournament, is rated one of the best high school teams in this area and will give the Westerners a rigid test.

LAAF Finance Dept. Cagers Win Pair

The 498th TEFTS and Finance Department cagers of the Lubbock Army Air Field Squadron Basketball league turned in court victories Monday night at the recreation hall at the field, while the 84th Base Headquarters team remained unbeaten on the basis of a default victory from the 355th Colored Squadron five.

In the opening game, Revis Harris led the 498th to it's third victory of hte season by a spurt in the last five minutes to gain a 35-to-29 win over the 495th Squadron.

Harris dropped in six from the floor and three from the foul line for 15 of his team's points. Grieser paced the losers with four field goals and one free toss for nine points.

The Finance Department team had little trouble in winnng 55-to-29 over the 1017 Guard Squadron with McNeily and Reece leading the way for the winners as McNeily poured in 11 baskets for 22 points and Reece accounted for seven for 14 points. Ensor was the leading scorer for the Guardsmen.

LONGHORNS WIN

AUSTIN, Jan. 4. (AP)—The University of Texas quintet defeated Bergstrom field 47-33, last night, Jeff Kemp of the Longhorns looping 15 points for high score honors.

Local Schools Add 2 Coaches

Hayhurst, Barrett Signed On Staff

Acting Supt. R. W. Matthews announced Monday that the first steps in the far-reaching enlargement of the athletic setup for Lubbock schools had been taken with the signing of two new coaches. Martin R. "Shorty" Hayhurst and Curtis Barrett are first to be added under the new program, but others will be added soon.

Hayhurst started on his new job Monday, taking over the duties of physical education instructor at the senior high school. Barrett will not report until the start of the second semester, Jan. 17, and will teach woodwork in the junior high school.

Both men are married and each has one child.

Hayhurst has been coaching at Seminole for the past two and a half years, winning the Region 2 championship there this season in football, snapping the 22-game winning streak of the Wink Wildcats in the final game.

Hayhurst graduated from Texas Tech in 1928. Following his graduation from Tech, he coached five years at Brownfield before moving to McCamey in 1933 where he was coach until 1940 when he moved to Seminole.

Hayhurst will coach track and assist in basketball and football, working in the latter sport with the Cowhands.

Barrett is a graduate of Sul Ross State Teachers College at Alpine, where he was a football letterman. He graduated in 1940, and coached in Brownfield from 1940 to 1942 and has been at Seagraves for the past year and half.

Barrett will coach in junior high school.

The hiring of Hayhurst and Barrett is only the first step in the proposed enlargement of the coaching staff in Lubbock, and at least two more coaches are expected to be added in the near future.

Play To Begin Friday In Los Angeles Open

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4. (AP) — The 36-hole qualifying round will be held tomorrow for the $12,500 Los Angeles open golf tournament, for which medal play will begin Friday.

The approximately 200 entrants include six former title winners and the hot shot Toledo, Ohio, marksman, Byron Nelson, who has never won the open but has been among the first ten four times in past years.

Ben Hogan now holds the Los Angeles crown. Former title holders who will compete are Mac Smith, Harry Cooper, Ed Dudley, Craig Wood, Jimmy Hines and Jimmy Thompson.

Baseball Will Solve Manpower Problem, League Head Believes

BY WILLIAM HARRIDGE
(President Of American Baseball League)
Written For Associated Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 4 — Baseball's biggest problem, as the game approaches the 1944 season, is one of manpower — and I am confident the sport will meet this problem as successfully as it has met many others which developed in baseball's first two wartime seasons.

About 25 years ago, the game was preparing for another wartime season — that of 1918 during World War I. A check of the rosters at that time discloses that the eight American league clubs then had 250 players under contract — 10 fewer than the league now has on its reserve lists for the 1944 season.

We know that scores of players, many of them stars, will join the armed forces between now and opening day next April. But our league owners are confident that, despite these anticipated departures, their clubs will be able to field teams and again do a good job of providing entertainment and relaxation.

190 Players In Service

The American league now has approximately 190 of its players in the armed forces — and they are part of a legion which is baseball's biggest booster. During the 1942 and 1943 seasons, baseball went to our fighting men all over the world via radio and the American league motion pictures.

Only recently the newest American league movie — "The World Series of 1943" has gone to our boys in every theater of war.

Some 600,000 of those servicemen watched our teams in 1943 as guests of our eight American league clubs. The past season saw almost 4,000,000 other fans attend American league games —a total only slightly under a banner 1942 season attendance. The 1943 attendance was backed up by a World Series ticket demand which was the greatest in years and which saw the largest series crowd for a single game — 69,990.

$308,000 For Charities

That World Series raised more than $308,000 for war charities, to which can be added other thousands of dollars raised during a regular season war relief program which will be repeated — in some manner — next summer.

The fans know the calibre of baseball is down — it could not be otherwise with so many great American league stars now in service. Yet four of our clubs showed attendance gains.

Major league teams again will train at northern bases. This is just one of many wartime adjustments necessary — all of which are incidental to the game's only aim — keep baseball alive so long as it is in line with our country's only objective — the winning of this war.

Six Entered In Golden Gloves

Promise Of 10 More Received

Entries for the Lubbock district Golden Glove boxing tournament, scheduled for Jan. 14, 15 and 17 at the Texas Tech gymnasium had been doubled today after receipt of three additional names for the event. Entries now total six, with promises of "about 10 more" received in the mail Monday.

A letter received Monday from Wiley McCarty, defending bantamweight champion said about 10 more boys from Littlefield planned to enter the tournament with him. Entry blanks were mailed to them Monday.

The list of six which have sent in entries include two defending champions already announced. They are McCarty, defending bantamweight champion, and Billy Bracken, defending flyweight champion from Slaton.

Others include Lawrence Balch, Lamesa, Marion Harper, Anton, Thomas Miller, Portales, N. M., and Eugene Conger, Lubbock.

The only possible pairings from this list will come in the flyweight and welterweight divisions, each with two entries. Other divisions represented are middleweight and bantamweight.

Balch and Bracken are the flyweights, Harper and Miller the welterweights. McCarty is the veteran of the group, and is 26 years old. All others are teen agers, with Conger the oldest at 19. Balch, Miller and Bracken are 17 with Harper the youngster of the boys at 16.

Lulu Constantino To Clash With Beau Jack

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—Lightweight Champion Beau Jack, the ring's No. 1 wartime drawing card, meets Lulu Constantino of New York at Madison Square Garden Friday night in a 10-round non-title bout that features this week's national boxing schedule.

Jack, who is recognized as champion in New York and affiliated states, will not be risking his title because it's an over-the-weight match.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 4—The subject hasn't been fully explored yet, but it's possible that baseball's post-war expansion program will help solve the most serious problem that will come up when the "planning" committee meets sometime within the next couple of weeks . . . that is what to do with athletes returning from the war . . . Already a dozen or more have been discharged and they'll be coming back with a rush once the fighting stops . . . Many of them won't be able to play big-league ball again, but if baseball does a lot of promoting in minor league, semi-pro, college and school territory there ought to be jobs for everybody . . . It looks like a "natural" for such men as Hank Greenberg, Luke Appling, Hugh Mulcaht and, of course, Zeke Bonura . . Zeke might even promote a camel race between games of a doubleheader.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Panama fight promoters, who have Chalky Wright down there now, have offered Lou Salica $3,500 for two bouts in February. But Salica already is booked for featherweight title scrap with Manuel Ortiz in Fort Worth. . . . The National Collegiate A. A. basketball tourney will be held this year, but maybe not as usual . . . There's talk of shifting the finals to New York.

SOONERS LATER

Bennie Owen, intramural sports director and former football coach at Oklahoma U., saved up his card gas this fall for one good hunting trip . . . . And Bennie really likes to hunt . . . He lost an arm in a shooting accident years ago but learned to handle a light shotgun with one arm and hasn't missed a season since . . . But this year, after that careful preparation, he reached the scene of the hunt and found he had left his gun at home . . . At that, Owen didn't fare any worse than Athletic Director Dale Arbuckle, who bagged his limit of quail one day only to discover when he reached home that he didn't have a feather to show. All the birds had dropped out through a hole in his hunting coat pocket.

Price Hikes Laid To "Show-Off" Spending

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 4 (AP) — Recent sharp price increases in Mexico are due largely to reckless spending by the public, the national confederation of chambers of commerce said in a bulletin.

The organization asserted yesterday that there are many newly rich "who like to distinguish themselves by their suandering and are always willing to pay double or triple the reasonable price. Vanity is the accomplice of inflation."

Take a close look at the man who's on top and you'll find he's at the bottom of a lot of good things.

IT so happens that one of The Plainsman's closest personal friends is George W. Cottingham, sr., chairman of the Texas Safety commission and vice-president and editor of the Houston Chronicle.

Mr. Cottingham is a very great gentleman. His mind is one of the better minds in Texas. Through his own energy and unusual talent, he climbed from cub reporter to editor of the largest newspaper in Texas, filling every important editorial post in his ascent. He is the kind of man that gives a job everything he has. As his record proves, he accepts responsibility and follows through.

A man of Mr. Cottingham's type naturally is on the side of law enforcement. Add to his natural inclination the fact that he is chairman of the Texas Safety commission, which, by way of the ranger service and the highway patrol, is charged with upholding the law. Thus, it may be flatly said that Mr. Cottingham is very much interested in aiding solution of the mysterious murders of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunt in Littlefield last October 26.

Since the Hunt murders, Mr. Cottingham, by telephone, has discussed with The Plainsman various aspects of the crimes.

We know that as far as he is officially concerned, no stone will be left unturned in the drive to find and punish the guilty person or persons.

But Houston is a long way from the South Plains and Mr. Cottingham has other things on his mind; therefore cannot keep in closest touch with the Hunt case.

So we have taken the liberty of writing him a letter, in his official capacity, setting out for him some of the angles of the case as they apply in this section.

The letter follows:

DEAR GEORGE: Eleven weeks have passed since Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunt were found brutally murdered in bed in their Littlefield home.

During those eleven weeks, much good, hard spade-work has been done by officers in various parts of the state. This work has been aided in by various local officers, but the greater part of it has been done by the rangers, with some help of the highway patrol. Thus far, one suspect is being held but, as is understandable if you know the background of the case, it has been quite difficult for the proper officers to tie up all the loose ends.

No one I know is criticizing the officers for failing thus far to "crack" this most difficult case. Everyone who has given the matter solid thought, recognizes the difficulties involved. It is generally agreed that the officers have done their best. Yet the fact remains that the case still is unsolved and, in my judgment, all the police power and talent available must be brought to bear if the mystery is to be solved and the guilty punished to the full extent of the law.

It so happens that the Hunt murders comprise the second unsolved capital offense in this particular section. Back on April 29, 1940, a fine young man named Irvin Bownds was knifed to death by a bank robber who fled the Lorenzo State bank, of Lorenzo, at bright-noon-day with loot totaling $1,487.98. That murder still is completely unsolved, although South Plains officers were joined in their work in that regard by the highway patrol and the rangers, and the FBI, as well.

People in this vast section of West Texas naturally have begun to wonder if the state has as much and as able police protection as it should have against those who rob and kill. Two unsolved mysteries, comprising three brutal murders, have struck within 70 miles of each other and, although much time has passed since commission of the crimes, no one yet has been punished.

In short, George, the officers' best has not been good enough. Therefore, something more is needed. I don't know how much attention Col. Homer Garrison, director of the state safety department, has given these cases. I don't know how much time he can give them and still keep up with his other duties. Yet it seems to me, and, I suspect to you, also, that the time has come for the safety department to throw all of its available talent into the job of solving these murders. The Hunt killings, being the more recent, doubtless should be tackled first. But whenever time and manpower will permit, the Bownds murder case, too, should be reopened and worked upon harder than ever before.

Of course, I realize that these two dastardly examples of brutality, comprising three murders, some day may possiby fall into the category of "perfect crimes." But even if they should—and heaven perish the thought—I believe you will agree that it is too early in the game to recognize and tabulate them as such; that before they are given up as impossible of solution much more hard work must be given them—and over a period of many years.

This letter, as doubtless you recognize, is more of a communication from a citizen to a public official, than from one old friend to another. Certainly, I do not want to be considered in the position of nosing into your business. But I know the thoughts expressed in this letter mirror the opinions of more than a quarter-million lawabiding citizens on the South Plains—good Texans who will not be satisfied until the Hunt and Bownds murders are cleared up and those responsible given the maximum punishment.

Looking forward to seeing you and Mary again soon, and with the kindest of personal regards, I am,

Faithfully yours.

Quick Smile Dept.: "Price, $1 down—the rest in uneasy payments." . . . "She's the kind men look at twice— they don't believe it the first time." . . . "What this country really needs most is a feud administrator." . . . Sign in a restaurant: "Watch your coat and hat — and girl friend!" . . . "My sister has got herself a second lieutenant. The first one got away!" . . . What's the name? Did you say "Franklin Deleanor Roosevelt?"

AS Vice-President Wallace, Harry the Hop, Mrs. Roosevelt and the rest of the "do-gooders" push their plans to put the American pay scale in force in the backward countries, they might well ponder over the following true occurrence:

Recently, in Iran, our engineers required large quantities of cement for a construction job. Natives filled buckets with the mixture and carried them on their heads—a picturesque but slow mode of progress.

To speed up the work, the bosses gave the Iranians wheelbarrows, which they used eagerly for one full day. But the next morning, every Persian laborer appeared with his barrow, again filled with cement—but this time minus its wheel and perched atop his head!

In other words, world labor isn't worth the same as American labor, nor do the economies of other countries demand it be paid as much.

The Doctor's Daughters

BY FAITH BALDWIN

(Copyright, 1943, NEA Service, Inc.)

THE STORY: When Jim Thompson becomes Doctor Hall's assistant, he joins the Hall household. Nancy Hall, spoiled and bored, is flattered by his attentions but cannot forget Drew Warner. Mrs. Hall would like Nancy to encourage wealty Frank Edgar. Edgar however, seems more interested in the other daughter, Emily, a Visiting Nurse intent on her job.

LOVE AND HATE

CHAPTER XV

Jim slept late the next morning. Emily, going in to see her father, found him sitting up with his tray across his knees. "Ellen tells me Jim was out from about one o'clock till a little while ago," he said, "on the Sonderson case. Seen the lad yet?"

"No, he hasn't come over."

"Let him sleep," said her father. He looked at her sharply, under shaggy eyebrows. "You look like the devil," he said, "washed out. What's the matter?"

"I didn't sleep well," she replied truthfully.

"That makes two of you. Going to the Club tonight, arn't you?"

"Yes . . . at least I was," she said hesitantly.

"You go. Change will do you good. One way to get over being tired from work is to tire yourself out playing."

"You're a fine one to prescribe that."

"Never mind, I know. When you get home today take yourself a long hot bath and a nap. Lock your door. Don't let Nancy or your mother bother you. Keep yourself to yourself. And go to your party and dance your feet off. You'll be a new woman.

He caught her hand as she stooped to lift the tray— "Good girl," he said, smiling.

She was following his advice, lying, after her tub, with cotton pads soaked in witch hazel on her eyes, naked under a thin covering with the shades drawn, when Nancy knocked on the door. Emily roused herself, and stirred.

"Who's there?"

"Me . . . may I come in?"

She hadn't locked the door after all. She said, "All right—"

Nancy came in and dropped down in the slipper chair beside the big bed.

"I'm not going to the Club," she announced.

Emily turned over on her side. She said quietly:

"If you're not going because Frank and I—"

"Don't be absurb," said Nancy. "We had a quarrel last night. I'm not stirring out. Dad's getting up today . . . I thought he and mother, Jim and I could play contract."

Emily said after a long minute. "That will be very nice."

"In the old home tradition," said Nancy lightly.

"You were rather silly, weren't you," asked Emily, "to spend most of last evening over in the apartment?"

"Darling," said Nancy, caressingly, "I love you, you're my only sister, and I think you're quite beautiful but must you moralize as well as minister? There wasn't anything very reprehensible in it, was there?"

"No," said Emily, "there wasn't. I wasn't thinking of you."

"That's interesting," said Nancy alertly. "Of whom then? The neighbors?"

"I was thinking of Jim. He's a pretty fine person. He's very much attracted by you. If—if you're not Nancy, it would be decent to let him alone."

"How do you know I'm not?" Nancy asked. She rose and went to the door. "Thanks," she said lightly, "for an instructive five minutes."

Closing the door she stood there a moment, frowning. So that was it. Perhaps Emily had been in love with Jim before he came to Cranberry.

But if Nancy were any judge, Jim's interest in Emily was purely friendly.

He'd caught Nancy, at the garage door, as she was leaving for the house and kissed her. Kissed her hard and thoroughly, said, "You'd better not do this again, Nancy," before he let her go. She had let him kiss her. She had let other men kiss her this summer, just to see if—But it was no use. They kissed her, they said the things they were expected to say and her heart cried Drew—and her lids closed and she imagined. . . . But it wasn't Drew Warner, it was Dan Graham or Bill Spencer, or Jim Thompson. Never Drew.

Never Frank Edgar, as a matter of fact.

What if she had gone out after him, hammer and tongs well concealed? What else was there for her to do? It was expected of her, wasn't it, at least by her mother? And Elsie Edgar wouldn't mind, she'd like it in fact. As a youngster Nancy had been her pet, not Emily.

Nancy and Frank had quarreled about Emily, last night at the beach party. She'd teased him a little, not thinking, and he'd been short with her. What was it he'd said finally, there on the sand with the moonlight cold and remote on the water, the beach fire high, making dark shadows on the wet hard sand.

"Leave her out of this, she's worth two of you and you know it. If I thought for a moment that she'd look at me—"

I love Emily, Nancy thought, astonished, moving away from the door, and I hate her. At the moment I hate her more than I love her.

Silly mixup. Last night she had realized that Frank was in love with Emily — who wouldn't care, who'd turn him and the mills down, gently — but mean it. And this afternoon she became aware that Emily was in love with Jim.

But Jim, at the drop of a hat, or a hairpin, would be in love with me, Nancy thought.

ANSWER: New York.

Today's Journal Editorial

LET'S GET AT THE FACTS

Few people will pretend to have the information on which to base a judgment as to the merits of recent criticisms from Texas American Legion sources of the steps that have been taken to provide jobs for returned and discharged veterans of World War II.

But there seems obvious merit in at least two points which recent critics have made.

One is that, if there is confusion in the placing of the occasional veterans who are returning now, then nothing short of chaos is to be expected when men are being discharged by the millions.

The other is that, if this job is being divided among numerous bureaucratic agencies, then the outlook for the future certainly is not encouraging. Americans know from experience what happens when groups of government agencies are put in position to pass any sort of "buck" around among themselves. When this happens, the work by any one agency usually is undone by another. If such agencies have the ability to work together in harmony and with efficiency, they certainly have not proved it.

Even so, this does not suggest that all the recent criticisms have been meritorious. But, obviously, there never will be a time as good as now to seek the weaknesses and the flaws in any plans considered for the solution of one of the most difficult problems this nation ever will face—the problems of jobs for returned fighting men.

Speedy Tractor To Play Part In Drive

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 4. (AP) —Uncle Sam's big guns will depend on the M-4 prime mover in their march on Berlin, officials of the tractor division of Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company and the U. S. Army ordnance department said today.

Hitherto a closely-guarded military secret, the M-4 mover is described as an 18-ton tank-type military tractor, and has already seen front-line action.

Officials described it as a radically new high speed artillery tractor, which in addition to providing high speed motive power for hauling the heavy guns also carries the gun crew and initial rounds of ammunition. It is armed with a .50 caliber machine gun for the crew's protection.

Barcus Is Named To Argue Texas' Case

AUSTIN, Jan. 4 (AP) — George W. Barcus, assistant attorney general, was designated today by Atty. Gen. Grover Sellers to go to Washington to argue the Texas white primary election case before the U. S. Supreme court.

Barcus assisted in preparation of the brief supporting the Texas election law which has been filed by the attorney general's department in the Supreme court. Arguments are to be heard next Monday.

The suit was brought by Lonnie E. Smith against S. E. Allwright and other Harris county election judges because Smith was excluded from a Democratic primary election.

Beat your plowshares into swords, and your pruninghooks into spears: let the weak say, I am strong.—Joel 3:10.

Fighting men are the city's fortress.—Alcaeus.

Walter Winchell

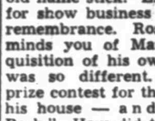

ON BROADWAY

(Copyright, 1943, For The Journal)

ROBERT BENCHLEY'S Christmas greetings are not acceptable. His announcement that he is through writing, considering himself no longer funny, is the only thing he ever wrote that failed to amuse his fans. If Mr. Benchley will only read the humorists who think they still are funny, he will repudiate his abdication and get back to his typewriter.

We've never lacked admiration for Gen'l Eisenhower, but it grew a lot when we read his answer to the arm - chair strategists who've been flapping their jaws on what's wrong with the campaign in Italy. The General said the only method he had was to kill German troops, which he is doing the best he can. The implication was he'd be glad to know if the smart stay-at-homes had any better ideas . . . Billy Rose, who just shelled out $630,000 for the Ziegfeld theatre, showed good sense when he decided to let the old name stick. Ziggy did enough for show business to earn a little remembrance. Rose's decision reminds you of Martin Beck's acquisition of his own theatre — it was so different. Beck had a prize contest for the best name for his house — and chose "Martin Beck." How did the winner ever hit upon that name?

YOU can still scare the holy daylights out of an audience by opening a door suddenly. Leo G. Carroll pulls it off in "Angel Street," and Victor Jory's bust-in via the window to slay E. Bergner in "The Two Mrs. Carroll's" collects another screech of terror . . . The beguilingest of the newcomers to the cavorting sector is Sono Osato, the dancer in "One Touch of Venus." There is a gal with the trick of putting an audience in her hip pocket, but she finds better use of her hips than making them support pockets.

The National Board of Review of Motion Pictures gave itself a Christmas present of self-respect by its choice of the best flicker of the year. It made a monkey of all the other "bests" by naming "The Ox Bow Incident" as the topper. This is a powerful drama, but (more important) it pictured lynching as the criminal, senseless business it has always been. At a time when so many lunatic fringers want a hand in the government—most of them lynchers in spirit —this was a swell pick.

ACE Reporter Cecil Brown in a recent Collier's revealed that too many Americans do not know the meaning of Fascism. His definition is worth adopting: "A Fascist is a person anywhere in the world who wants special privileges for himself and denies to others the simple rights of a human being" . . . Add Picturesque Reporting: Edwin Lahey, is the staid and dignified Chicago Daily News: "From the witness stand Willie Bioff started to gurgle like a broken lavatory."

Some of the reviewers nh-nh'd Kit Cornell's new drama, "Lovers and Friends," on the complaint that it read like a magazine serial . . . Is that supposed to be n.g.? Lookit the others that not only read like mag serials but, as a matter of fact, were: "Junior Miss," "My Sister Eileen," "Having Wonderful Time," "Pal Joey," "Claudia," "Life with Father,' to name just a few . . . All those were stoop-shouldered from the orchids the reviewers piled on them. Now boys, you mustn't bless and curse with the same words.

ONE of the news broadcasts, which used to be the gutsiest and newsiest, is gradually having all the life namby-pambied out of it. It's flabbiest in its Washington bulletins — so much so that even its raps at the New Deal are almost apologetic . . . Some of us were listening to it the other sundown and wondering if the sabotage was planned or whether the program makers were just natural born milquetoasts. Finally a man with a hunch chirped up: "You know," he guessed, "I've an idea they're sweetening it up so they can sell it as a starring film for Fay Bainter."

Russell Birdwell, who has been hired to de-odorize King Carol of Rumania and get him across the U. S. borders, told newspapermen in Mexico City, according to dispatches, that only "Winchell and PM" oppose the entrance of the Fascist-adoring king . . . Well, sir, we've never been more flattered, but as usual Birdwell is talking King Carol instead of sense . . . A very large section of the American public wants Carol locked out. They don't even want his voice on the air, as they showed when sentiment forced his cancellation from a broadcast. Americans are at war with some of the crowd Carol played footsie with in Europe and, big as our country is, it can't hold Carol and democracy at the same time.

As press agent for the runaway king, you can't blame Birdwell for plugging his unwanted client . . . Thats what he gets paid for, 35,000 clams per year, reports state . . . Birdwell showed vast surprise when a reporter hinted that Carol might be trying to come in to get the royal paws on 80,000,000 Rumanian dollars frozen here. "Perish the thought," said Birdwell. "That dough belongs to the Rumanian people, whom Carol loves to the point of distraction" . . . Well, so did the lives Carol's Iron Guard snuffed out belong to the Rumanian people, but Birdwell didn't go into that.

Smart Italians Hid Souvenirs Until Yanks Arrived On Scene

Cigaret Shortage Reported On Italian Front

BY ERNIE PYLE

Journal War Correspondent

IN ITALY, Jan. 4.—(By Wireless) —As far as we can observe, the Italian people have more to eat, and more goods, than the French did when we hit North Africa.

There is more in the shops to buy, and the better-off people seem to have a greater variety of food. Of course the poorest people of both countries are pretty close to starvation, but that's not a new experience for them.

ERNIE PYLE

The first American troops to hit Naples could buy fine watches and sweaters and carpenter's tools and real silk stockings—I know of one officer who bought 50 pairs for $1.50 a pair. Good liquor is now almost exhausted and there is considerable bootlegging of very dangerous booze in the cities. But as time goes on other types of merchandise come out of hiding and go on sale.

Waited For Yanks

It seems the Italians hid a great deal of stuff while the Germans were here. Not that the Germans would steal it, but the German army regulates prices strictly and the German price standard was below what the Italians wanted. So they waited until we came.

They say the Germans didn't go in much for buying souvenirs and jewelry, as we do, but instead bought clothing and food to send home to their families.

Out of their fear of the Germans these people hid strange things in strange places. The other day I talked with a soldier who said he had helped clean out the sewing machine an Italian family had buried in the bottom of the manure pile in their barnyard.

SOME of our front-line troops, for the first time in many months, are not getting enough cigarets.

In the middle and latter days of Tunisia we were issued up to five or seven packs a week. One outfit I've been with recently said that since hitting Italy they've been averaging only 3½ packs per man per week. Another unit not five miles away was getting more than a carton a week. Nobody seems to know the reason for it.

And speaking of cigarets, the boys wonder why after all these months they must still be cursed with those three obscure brands that nobody likes. Washington could do several million soldiers a favor by either cutting them out entirely or else explaining why they have to be in.

War Has Good Points

One night before coming to the front I went to a USO show in one of the rest areas and was put in the bald-headed row up front, sitting next to a two-star general.

As part of the program a girl came out and sang "Pistol Packing Mama." The applause was scattered, and you could tell the tune was not too familiar.

The general turned and said, "That's a new one on me; I never heard that before."

To which I replied: "You're a fortunate man. I never heard it either until I went home last fall, and then I had to listen to it 30 times a day. It was coming out of trees and water faucets. Even my dog was howling it at night."

So you see there's one advantage in being overseas and out of touch with things.

ONE night recently when I was with the artillery we were routed out of our blankets an hour before dawn to put down a barrage preceding an infantry attack.

Every battery for miles around was firing. Batteries were dug in close together and you could get the blasts and concussions from other guns as well as your own. Every gun threw up a fiendish flame when it went off, and the black night was pierced like a sieve with the flashes of hundreds of big guns.

Standing there in the midst of it all, it seemed the most violent and terrifying thing I'd ever been through. Just being on the sending end of it was staggering. I don't know how human sanity could survive the receiving end.

Strange Pot Of Gold

When it was all over and daylight came with a calm and unnatural quiet, a rainbow formed over the mountain ahead of us. It stood out spectacularly against the moist green hillsides and drifting whitish-gray clouds. One end of it was anchored on the mountain slope on our side of the valley, while the other disappeared behind a hill on the German side.

And, as we watched, that latter end of the rainbow became gradually framed by a rising plume of white smoke —set by the shells we had just sent over. The smoke didn't obscure the rainbow. Rather it seemed to rise enfoldingly around it, like honeysuckle climbing a porch column.

Men newly dead lay at the foot of that smoke. We couldn't help thinking what a strange pot of gold such a beautiful rainbow was pointing to.

O'Daniel Says FDR To Seek 4th Term

HOUSTON, Jan. 4 (AP) — United States Senator W. Lee O'Daniel (D-Tex) asserted today that "I don't think anything but death will prevent President Roosevelt from running for a fourth term" and declared that "a striker in wartime should get the same penalty that a soldier gets when he throws down his gun on the battlefield."

"If we had the right men in Congress we could settle the question of strikes in two weeks," O'Daniel said in an interview.

Referring to a possible fourth term bid by Mr. Roosevelt, O'Daniel observed that "the president appears to be in pretty good health" and added that "his chances are pretty good."

"There is a possibility of more parties arising," he said. "Willkie may bolt and split the Republican party if he's not nominated. But, get this straight. The opposition is mostly taking form to the conditions existing in the land today."

Stockholders meetings of the banks are scheduled next Tuesday at which time officers and directors will be elected and dividends declared. All institutions are expected to declare dividends.

Wooden "Fire-Proof" Lifeboat Perfected

LONDON, Jan. 4 (AP)—Construction of a wooden lifeboat which does not catch fire even when passing through 40-foot flames fed by burning oil was announced here today.

An asbestos hood sprayed by 30 gallons of water a minute covers the boat, the British information service said. The craft is intended especially for use by crews of torpedoed tankers.

Statement On Strikes

attributed to Gen. George C. Marshall by AFL President William Green who said the chief of staff "was reported" to have made it, and he challenged him to prove it. There was no immediate comment from Marshall.

Following a vague reference to the source by White House Secretary Stephen Early as "a little bit more military" than President Roosevelt, a storm of protest arose over the statement and the anonymity of it.

Should Assume Responsibility

In Congress, one Republican, two Democrats and Senator LaFollette, Wisconsin progressive, joined in voicing a belief that the unidentified personage should assume the burden of responsibility for the statement.

LaFollette asserted that the charges "are far too serious to be permitted to remain anonymous," and that the unnamed spokesman "should have the courage and common decency to step forward and voluntarily identify himself." He termed the charges "dastardly" and "tantamount to treason."

Fourth War Loan

filiated with Young and Rubicam advertising agency.

The war finance division has asked 500 leading national advertisers to sponsor bonds ads during the drive, rather than their usual institutional and product advertising, and the response so far "has been terrific," Lane said. More than 350 national advertisers have agreed to that all or part of their advertising in all mediums would be devoted to selling bonds during the drive, he said.

Advertising will be directed much more to individuals during the drive and everyone will be asked to buy "an extra $100 bond."

Lane said that the Treasury was conducting surveys on war bond redemptions and that evidence thus far indicated that most people redeeming bonds did so because of "real emergencies."

French Area Raided

aged heavily by fire and destruction was said to be widespread in factory districts in the southeastern part of the city.

The air ministry announced that RAF, Dominion and Allied fighters and fighter bombers had been active over northern France yesterday, bombing military objectives and carrying out extensive patrols. Two enemy aircraft were shot down and seven Allied planes were missing in these operations.

Blizzard Hits Yanks In Italy

By REYNOLDS PACKARD
United Press Staff Writer

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, Italy, Jan. 2. (Delayed)—A line of shivering pack mules labored up icy trails to the Fifth Army's mountain headquarters today with extra blankets, gloshes and wool-lined combat suits for American troops caught in one of the worst storms in years in the San Vittore area.

Even the sure-footed mules, practiced in mountain climbing, made slow headway in the slippery going. Several somersaulted to their destruction.

Not Ready For Storm

The Americans thought they were ready for anything after weeks of desperate mountain fighting, but they weren't prepared for the blinding blizzard of sleet and snow that descended on them shortly after midnight new year's eve.

It was more than a real old-fashioned blizzard. Accompanied by a 70-mile-an-hour gale that swept away many of the soldiers' pup tents, it whipped the snow into drifts from six to 12 feet deep in some mountain reaches.

The natives of the area, even less prepared for the storm's intensity, suffered worse than the soldiers. In a cave in the no man's land between the front lines, one patrol found the frozen bodies of an old Italian woman and 10 small children. Apparently seeking to escape the crossfire of the battlefield they had been unable to escape to shelter from the weather.

Coming when it did, the blizzard put a crimp in any New Year's eve celebrations, but that was all right with the battle-hardened veterans. The front-line soldiers and officers had only one double-barreled New Year's resolution: To get Jerry licked quickly and then get home.

"As a matter of fact," asked one private, "what other resolution is there for us to make? We can't smoke too much, and we can't drink too much over here."

Perhaps the most-appreciated New Year's gesture in this area was made by a group of officers who volunteered to take the place of enlisted men scheduled for patrol duty on the holiday. Fighting wind and snow, the officers slogged back and forth across no-man's land all day.

Col. Durette Leaves

fronts in France followed his graduation by a few months. Serving with the 4th infantry in the 3rd division, Major Lee participated in six major engagements, including Chateau Thierry, San Mihiel and the Muese-Argonne. He was wounded once by shrapnel and was gassed on another occasion.

From Corsicana

He resigned from active service in December, 1919, but two months later accepted a commission as captain in the Army reserve, which he retained until his recall into active service Jan. 16, 1942. During the 15 years prior to that time he operated a drug store in Corsicana.

His first assignment after his recall to active service was to recruiting duty in the Dallas station. He then became, successively, second in command of the Tyler and Santa Fe. N. M. stations, commanding officer of the Abilene station until it was closed five months ago and then to the command post in Lafayette.

Like Colonel Durrette, Major Lee is a 32nd degree Mason, a Knight Templar and a Shriner.

Mrs. Lee and their son, E. C. jr., 15, a high school junior, will join him in making their home in Lubbock.

Colonel Durrette, a native of Georgia, remained in the Army after World War 1, until his retirement from active service in October, 1938. He was recalled into service June 1, 1940, in San Antonio, where he made his home after his retirement. He was transferred to the University of Akron, Ohio, for a year of special training, then was assigned to headquarters of the 8th Service command at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, until his assignment to the Lubbock post on July 17, 1942.

Crisis In Bulgaria

been traditionally friendly with the Russians.

Both Bulgarians and Rumanians were said to be anticipating an Allied landing somewhere along the Adriatic coast simultaneously with the expected Soviet breakthrough from the east.

A correspondent for the Turkish paper Aksam, writing from Budapest, said it was believed there that a democratic government would replace the present Bulgarian regime during the first two weeks in January, but that a change in Bulgarian foreign policy was not expected.

Gunner Keeps Firing At Japs From Severed Tail Of His Bomber

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP) — The War department today revealed the story of courageous Staff Sergeant Ben P. Colecchi of New Castle, Pa., a tail gunner who continued firing at strafing enemy Zeros from the severed tail of his bomber until it disappeared in the ocean.

Witnesses on the September 11 Paramushiru-Shimushu bombing mission brought back the word.

One Killed, Another Injured In Explosion

AUSTIN, Jan. 4. (AP) — A. V. Rhodes, 29, was killed instantly and his companion, Clarence Lee Peel, was injured critically today when an acetylene welding tank they were filling exploded.

Peace Justice Tom E. Johnson said the tank exploded after Peel struck a match to determine how far the filling had progressed.

Henry Kaiser Envisions Great Developments Following War

By WILLIAM MULLIGAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

OAKLAND, Calif., Jan. 4. (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser, specialist in translating dreams into deeds, scanned the future today and saw a "courageous and truly competitive economy" in which capital and labor would join in an adventurous march to peace and plenty.

New ventures into the field of chemistry, metallurgy and machine tools; great clinics of medicine; development of the Orient; modern rolling stock for railroads; more ships for all the seas — his vision was unlimited.

And the foundation for such developments "should be laid immediately to avert a desperate crisis."

It was Kaiser who spurred his West Coast shipyards to the greatest production record in history; who started new steel mills, who took over plane factories and turned out vital magnesium. Yet it was apparent in this interview that the man himself didn't think he'd yet started.

"New economy must spring from new venture," he said. Money must be made by financing production not only by exchanging pieces of paper; we must get healthy by developing a credit structure that is willing and able to take risks."

The energetic industrialist was referring particularly to his proposed "risk credit pool" which he said was needed "immediately" to prevent a "disastrous crisis" in the transition from war to peace.

He said that labor "individually and collectively must invest its money in the credit pool and thus partake the risks and profits of this adventure into the future."

"In the year 1930, Texas harvested over 16 million acres of cotton It is estimated Texas harvested less than eight million acres in 1943. On January 1, 1930, Texas had on its farms and ranches 6,500,000 head of cattle and 6,387,000 head of sheep and lambs. On January 1, 1943, Texas had on its farms and ranches 7,518,000 head of all cattle and 10,677,000 head of sheep and lambs.

"It isnt surprising that with 1,000,000 more head of cattle and 4,290,000 more head of sheep and lambs—not to mention the tremendous increase in poultry and hogs—and 8,000,000 acres less of cotton, that we are having difficulty in securing protein.

Time To Study Question

"It is time for all leaders to study the question. With an ample dependable supply of protein, at a cost in keeping with livestock prices, the ranges of Texas can easily carry 50 to 75 per cent more cattle, sheep and goats than they can without protein.

"The problem of how many acres Texas should devote to cotton next spring—not for the sake of the lint, but for the sake of the protein—must be decided very soon.

Bearing Plant Hit

livered against Villa Perosa, and photographs showed the main building, 600 by 1,200 feet, at the bearing plant was hit directly. Other hits were scored on nearby buildings apparently housing workers. There was little doubt the plant making bearings for airplanes, tanks, submarines and other war vehicles would be out of operation some time.

Two waves of bombers struck Villa Perosa, meeting fairly heavy anti-aircraft fire, but no fighters.

Turin Rail Yards Hit

Two other formations simultaneously pounded the rail yards at Turin, meeting nearly 30 German fighters. A good concentration of bombs hit the yards, sidings, warehouses, and industrial objectives, starting fires, and severing the main line railroad.

Medium bombers ranged across the Adriatic to blast docks and railway installations at Split and Sibenik on the Dalmatian coast. While other raiders attacked a "large concentration" of troops at Prijedor in Yugoslavia.

Light bombers and fighter bombers lashed at the Germans in the battle area throughout the day, hitting at motor transport in the Avezzano area, gun positions near Cervara and also carrying out another raid against the port of Civitavecchia, northwest of Rome

Seven enemy planes were destroyed for a loss of three Allied aircraft.

Students On Program At Optimists' Meet

Five Latin-American students at Texas Tech college highlighted interests in their various countries at a juncheon of Lubbock Optimist club members today noon in Lubbock hotel.

The students, four boys and a girl, are from Chihuahua City, Chihuahua, Mexico, Costa Rica, Mexico City and Monterrey, Mexico. They were introduced by Major Frank Hangs.

A board meeting of the club will be held at 7:30 o'clock Friday night at the home of Dr. Ralph S. Underwood, 2220½ Broadway.

New Price Revisions For Rayon Hosiery

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (AP) — An over-all revision of the price regulation for women's rayon hosiery was announced today by the Office of Price administration which said, however, that consumers generally would not be subject to increased prices.

OPA said the new simplified regulation climaxed months of discussion with hosiery industry representatives and continued the dollars-cents pricing methods endorsed by consumer groups. Price increases for some types are just about offset by decreases for others, OPA said.

News Briefs

Students and teachers in George R. Bean school bought $1,850 in war bonds and $59.30 in stamps today in the weekly sale sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association, said Mrs. Ernest Mader, reporter. Sales included one $1,000 and one $500 bond, boosting totals since the sales were started to $4,725 in bonds and $801.95 in stamps. Mesdames Acie Cope, C. H. Burton and R. L. Ingram conducted the sale.

Condition of C. A. McDonald, 222 Avenue U, who underwent major surgery recently in St. Mary's hospital, was reported satisfactory today.

Friends here received word of the birth of a son this morning to Cpl. and Mrs. Lloyd J. Haley, former Lubbock residents, who now are residing in Boise, Idaho while Cpl. Haley is stationed there. Cpl. Haley was employed at Baldridge bakery here before entering service more than a year ago. They resided at 1918 Avenue L.

Probation Officer Talks At Lions Club

Broken homes, lack of parental control, crowded schools and lack of wholesome recreation are factors in the increase of juvenile delinquency here, John W. Wilson, county probation officer, declared in a talk before members of the Lubbock Lions club today noon in the Hilton hotel.

Wilson, who has handled more than 1,000 juvenile cases in the past 12 months, declared 177 out of 190 cases before the juvenile court in a certain period last year were from broken homes. He blamed failure of parents "to take children to the woodshed" as one of the principal causes of delinquency. "About the only thing not controlled by a switch in the home now is the child," he said.

He cited numerous specific cases of delinquency and told of 15 juveniles being picked up in a 24-hour period last October who hadn't enrolled in any school. Wilson said a recreation program in the schools after hours and the completion of the Lubbock Boys' club building would go along ways toward solution of a recreational problem.

Wilson was introduced by County Judge G. V. Pardue.

1st. Lt. Burl Huffman of Biloxi, Miss., former member of the club, was a visitor at the luncheon and spoke briefly. Capt. Herschell Murphy of the Salvation Army at Pampa was also an out-of-town visitor at the luncheon.

A fleet of 90 American bombers and fighters bombed and strafed the Lakunai airdrome at Rabaul, New Britain, just south of New Ireland, and destroyed 20 out of 90 intercepting planes. The Solomons-based raiders lost one Liberator and one fighter.

With Australians advancing north up the Huon peninsula and with American troops entrenched at Saidor, Allied planes flew in over the big Japanese base of Madang again to drop 55 tons of explosives. Madang is 55 miles north of Saidor.

On another front of growing importance, Maj. Gen. Daniel Isom Sultan, 58, received appointment as deputy commander in chief of U. S. Army forces in China, Burma and India under Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell.

Grain Receipts Set Record At Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, Jan. 4 (AP)—Receipts of grain on the Fort Worth market last year set an all-time record of 46,296 cars, exceeding by 620 cars the previous record year of 1929 when 45,676 cars reached this biggest grain market south of Kansas City.

Secretary E. B. Wooten of the Fort Worth Grain and Cotton exchange, said in his report that the 1943 figures topped the 1942 receipts of 25,234 cars by 21,062 cars.

Remarkable in the report of Secretary Wooten are the 8,626 cars of grain sorghums which represent the most profitable yields of milo and kafir ever produced in Texas and the arrival of 556 cars of soybeans—the first beans ever to reach a Texas market.

Two Texas Cadets Are Killed In Arizona

LUKE FIELD, Ariz., Jan. 4 (AP) —Aviation Cadets Dwight C. Day, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Day, San Benito, Texas, and James E. Payton, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Payton, Electra, Texas, were killed yesterday when their training planes collided in flight and burst into flames five miles southwest of the Gila Bend Army gunnery range.

Mitchell Child Dies In Hospital Today

Ronnie Martin Mitchell, 8, died in West Texas hospital at 11 o'clock today following major surgery several days ago. His condition had been serious several days.

The youngster is survived by his father, R. H. Martin, jr., his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. W. James Mitchell, 3007 Twenty-second street, and a sister, Betty Mitchell.

Funeral services will be held in Rix Funeral chapel at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with Dr. Jack M. Lewis officiating. Burial will be in Slaton cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral home.

Pallbearers will be Scott Ballard of Lubbock, and W. E. Smart, E. N. Dickens, and J. A. Elliott, all of Slaton.

Missing Brother Is Found Dead In Well

TRENTON, Tex., Jan. 4 (AP) — Sheriff Talmadge Moore today was investigating the death of Ira Tilder, 55-year-old bachelor whose body was found late Monday in an abandoned well on a farm three miles northeast of this Fannin county town.

Tilder's body was found by his brother-in-law, Cleo Mitchell of Trenton, after Mrs. Mitchell had asked him to start a search for her brother.

Relatives told Moore that Tilder, who lived with his brother, Herman, on a farm about a mile from the well, had gone to Greenville about three weeks ago and had not been heard from since.

Million Nazis Facing Trap

today after capturing the former frontier town of Olevsk and smashing their way across the pre-war Russian-Polish border.

Fall of Olevsk and Novograd-Volynski, 42 miles to the south, was announced last night in a Russian communique which declared that 170 villages had been recaptured in the swift Soviet advance. Front line dispatches disclosed that Russian vanguards, pushing on rapidly from Olevsk along the Kiev-Warsaw railway, had crossed the old frontier a short time later.

The spearhead advancing from Olevsk, a former customs station 135 miles northwest of Kiev, was supported on the left by another column which had occupied Emilchino, 28 miles to the southeast.

The point at which the Russians crossed the old pre-war Polish border is approximately 150 miles east of the frontier from which the Germans launched their invasion of Russia after the partition of Poland, and is about 300 miles from Warsaw.

(The Russians made no official comment on the crossing of the old border, which no longer is recognized by Moscow as an international boundary line).

The southern wing of Vatutin's army, meanwhile was plunging on from captured Dzerzhinsk, 35 miles southwest of Zhitomir, in a drive which Marshal Fritz Erich von Mannstein's rearguards have appeared unable to check ever since eight Nazi tank and 13 infantry divisions were defeated in the battle of the Kiev bulge.

The Stockholm newspaper Svenska Dagbladet, in a dispatch from Moscow, said the Russians also had captured the town of Gorodnika on the Sluch river, 30 miles southwest of Olevsk).

At no point along the 60-mile wide drive on old Poland, apparently, was Von Mannstein able to rally his fleeing, demoralized troops for a stand against the slashing Russian offensive. More than 6,000 Germans were reported slain yesterday — the 11th day of Vatutin's unchecked onslaught. The Nazis, said the Russian communique, were surrendering by the hundreds, throwing down their arms and going "over to the side of the Red army" by entire companies.

Tremendous quantities of war equipment of every description was gathered up by the advancing Red army forces.

While Premier Stalin signalized the Red army advance by an order of the day announcing the capture of Novograd-Volynski, other spearheads of Vatutin's army were pushing toward the Rumanian border, slightly more than 80 miles to the southwest. They slashed the Kazatin-Zhashkov and Kazatin-Uman railways serving the 500,000 Germans believed to be still in southern Russia, including those now threatened with encirclement in the Dnieper bend.

Destroyer Death Toll

made. We are awaiting a report from the Third naval district."

Fears that the death toll may be high were based on survivors' stories of seeing their comrades burned and hurled into the water as the first blast rocked the ship as she prepared to set out on a mission.

As nearly as the rescued seamen, who were taken ashore by the Coast Guard, could make out, the blast killed all or most of the officers.

The first explosion came a few minutes after most of the crew had left the forward mess, thus sparing the lives of many who might have been killed when the blast wrecked the forward part of the ship.

It toppled the mast, smashed the bridge and radio room, sent a five-inch gun hurtling end over end into the air and tore a huge hole in the ship's port side near the bow.

Survivors said the first explosion, which caused vibrations as far as 35 miles from the unidentified destroyer, may have been followed by one and possibly two more.

They also said the ship appeared to break in two near the number 2 gun turret before she sank.

The Navy last night identified three more survivors. They included Radioman 1/C David E. Merrill, Henrietta, Tex., and Anthony Vallo of El Paso.

Nazi Propaganda In U. S. Is Under Fire

By KARL R. BAUMAN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (AP) — Two women and 28 men were under indictment today in a widening investigation of what the Justice department called a Nazi propaganda campaign to incite mutiny in the armed forces and set up a Fascist regime in this country.

The defendants, some of whom were named in a previous indictment charging sedition, were accused by a federal grand jury of conspiring "with each other and with officials of the government of the German Reich and leaders and members of the Nazi party" to:

"Advise, counsel, urge and cause insubordination, disloyalty, mutiny and refusal of duty by members of the military and naval forces of the United States."

Viereck In Group

The defendants include George Sylvester Viereck, long a German propagandist in this country, and already under sentence for violating the foreign agents' registration act; Joseph E. McWilliams, organizer of the Christian Mobilizers; Elizabeth Dilling, author of "The Red Network" and other publications; William Dudley Pelley, leader of the Silver Shirts, who is under a 15-year sentence for violating the sedition act, and George E. Deatherage, organizer of the Knights of the White Camellia.

Lois de LaFayette Washburn of Chicago, described as organizer of the National Liberty party, is the second woman defendant.

Conspiracy Alleged

The new indictment alleges the defendants, in conspiring to "accomplish the objectives of the Nazi party in the United States," printed and circulated numerous newspapers, magazines, books, leaflets, circulars, pamphlets, cartoons and photographs, including Hitler's "Mein Kampf."

Here are some of the statements the defendants are accused of having spread:

Democracy is decadent; a national socialist (Nazi) government should be established here.

The government of the United States, the Congress and public officials are controlled by Communists, international Jews and plutocrats.

"Tools Of Jewry"

The Democratic and Republican parties are tools of international jewery, and do not represent the American people.

The Axis powers are fighting to free the world from domination by Communists and international Jewry, and to save Christianity.

The Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor was deliberately invited by the public officials of the United States, in order to involve the country in a foreign war.

Conviction carries a maximum penalty of 10 years imprisonment, a fine of $10,000, or both.

Auto Breakdown

auto parts' manufacturers to make parts for old cars in any great quantity, first because there is a good chance of being stuck with them, second because parts are now under price ceilings which limit profits and make other manufacturing jobs more attractive.

Many parts are interchangeable as to light trucks and passenger cars, and as to various makes of cars. But expanding military requirements for heavy duty truck parts get higher priority than is given to the manufacture of parts for lighter civilian vehicles. The Truman committee report on transportation recommended upgrading priority so as to develop a greater supply of parts. Many millions of usable parts were lost in the big scrap drive, though such scrapping is now prohibited. Distribution of what parts there are is poor.

TIRE SHORTAGE SERIOUS

THE one shortage which may develop first and most seriously, putting many cars off the road, is a tire shortage. At the present age of six million new tire casings. Production of new synthetic rubber tires cannot possibly keep up with the 1944 demand, for more tires are wearing out faster. By the end of 1944 there may be an accumulated shortage of 11 million tires. The only hope for avoiding a transportation breakdown is through more extensive recapping and the salvaging of every available carcass, even if it is used only a few hundred miles.

Office of Price Administration and Office of Defense Transportation have toyed with a plan to put ceiling prices on used cars, but at the present time have given up on this idea. First because the supply of used cars on the market is now good, second because prices are not too excessive, and third because the imposition of maxmum prices below existing levels might stop all sales, which would be disastrous.

Similarly, there are no definite plans for forcing the sale of cars by non-essential drivers still on the road under an A gas ration. And only the gravest emergency would cause any effort to be made for government requisition of cars from non-essential drivers.

Gasoline rationing has definitely lengthened car and tire life by cutting down the average car mileage from 9000 to less than 5000 miles per year. But military demands for gasoline are still increasing, leaving less and less for civilian uses. There have been threats from Ickes, Bowles and others that gas rations might have to be further cut if a war emergency develops. Certainly gas rations will not be increased.

The gas ration system, in fact offers the one most effective means for policing the entire auto transportation crisis, saving it from breakdown by limiting it to essentials.

Accident Record In Air Forces Good

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP) — The Army Air forces said today that "basically, the accident record is good" in its huge program of training pilots to fly warplanes.

General H. H. Arnold, commander of the Army Air force flying, said the rate of accidents per 1,000 hours flown did not increase as anticipated in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1943, but was, in fact, reduced fractionally from .739 to .716. This rate of accidents was lower than the average rate for the 10 peacetime years of 1931-1941, although more than three times more miles were flown last year than in the whole preceding 20-year period.

"As a result of the increased proportion of larger and heavier planes carrying more personnel, of faster military aircraft, and of newly trained pilots, the rate of fatal accidents was up fractionally from .077 in 1943 to .083 for the full fiscal year of 1943. The trend near the end of the year was downward and in the last quarter the rate was below that of 1942."

The AAF, Arnold said, uses every means to teach accident prevention in the course of training its fliers. He commented, however, that "combat flying is a grim and dangerous business."

Air Supremacy Turning Point

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP) — The present struggle for air supremacy, says General H. H. Arnold, chief of the Army Air forces, is the major turning point in the war.

"What American and Royal Air force bombers can do the whole German war machine once the German fighter force is rendered impotent needs no comment," he asserts. "The issue hangs now on which side first falters, weakens and loses its punishing power."

In a report on the operations of the United States Air forces, Arnold left little doubt as to his conviction that it would not be the plane power of the Allies which would fail. His report, similar to a recent summary of Army activities by Gen George C. Marshall, chief of staff, made these disclosures:

(1) Allied fliers are concentrating on the enemy with a two-fold objective — destroy the facilities for making fighter planes and shoot down the planes themselves;

Largest Air Force In World

(2). The U. S. has the largest air force in the world, manned by an army of 2,385,000 officers and men;

(3). The weight of heavy bombers to be produced in the next 18 months will exceed that of all types of planes produced in the first 18 months of the war;

(4). Up to last Oct. 1, 26,900 planes had been flown to our Allies under lend-lease, of which Russia received 7,000.

(5). American planes now can bomb enemy cities through overcast or in darkness, with accuracy, as a result of developments in navigation aids;

(6). Flight weather forecasting has progressed to such an extent that preparations now can be made 30 days in advance.

Hitler Won't Live To Face War Trial, Czech Predicts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP) — Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovakian foreign minister, predicted today that Hitler won't live long enough to be tried as a war criminal.

"He'll either be taken care of by the military or commit suicide," Masaryk told an interviewer.

People seem to forget, he went on, that there is cowardice behind the Nazi strategy.

Masaryk, who plans to return to London shortly, has been in this country as chief of the Czech delegation to the United Nations relief conference at Atlantic City.

Two Kinds Of Trials

Discussing the trials of war criminals by Allied nations after the war, he said there will be two kinds:

The important ones will be taken care of quickly, the others may drag on longer.

But the British and Americans will have to help clean up Nazi terrorists, the son of Czechoslovakia's first president, declared. He added:

"There must be a firing squad of British grenadiers in Prague."

Funeral Set Thursday For Mrs. Kinnebrew

Funeral services will be conducted in the Rix Funeral chapel at 11 o'clock Thursday morning for Mrs. Annie Carden Kinnebrew, of San Francisco, who died in St. Mary's hospital Monday night. She is an aunt of Carden L. and George Green of Lubbock. The body will be sent to California for burial.

She was visiting relatives here, and had been ill only a short time.

Survivors other than the nephews here include two brothers, George A. Carden of Washington, D. C., and D. Frank Carden of Dallas; and a sister, Mrs. F. W. Moore of San Francisco.

Columbus in 1942 described sweet potatoes he found in the western hemisphere as resembling carrots "with a savor of chestnuts."

Change Due In School Laws

AUSTIN, Jan. 4 (AP) — Recodifying of Texas school laws will be undertaken by a joint legislative committee meeting here Jan. 17.

"The present laws are so complicated and confusing they have hindered the progress of education," said Sen. Karl Lovelady of Meridian, committee chairman.

Lovelady said he had invited the state board of education and State Supt. L. A. Woods to confer with the committee. Legal assistance will be given by the attorney general's department.

Special Need Cited

"There is a special need to revamp the laws concerning the course of study for the public schools since they have changed from a 11 to 12 grade system," Lovelady added. "It is the purpose of this committee to formulate a well-rounded curriculum."

The recodifying is expected to be completed before the next general session of the legislature in 1945.

Committee members besides Lovelady are Reps. Newton W. McCann, Texarkana; R. L. (Bob) Proffer, Denton; Claude Callaway, Crowell; Sen. Wardlow Lane, Center.

NEW STAMP RACKET

DALLAS, Jan. 4 (AP) — Young men with a new racket—that of begging housewives for food stamps so they could work their way throughou college—will get pointless meals, if they can be found. Police want them to try the city jail diet.

The Afterglow

THE INNERMOST FEELINGS of the heart cannot be revealed by outward display. Nor can the reverent faith of those who attend the funeral be expressed in words. But the ceremony seems to give pause to the passing of life even as the sunset's afterglow lingers to mark the passing of a bright day.
