Heavy Blows Rain On Japs

Finschhafen Cut Off; Japs Cleared From Arundel Isle

By WILLIAM F. BONI
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Thursday, Sept. 23.—Two new blows have been smashed at the Japanese in the accelerated Pacific offensive—a seaborne landing in force, under fleet and air protection, of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's troops north of Finschhafen, New Guinea, and the complete destruction of the enemy garrison on Arundel island in the Solomons.

The Finschhafen stroke, delivered Wednesday only six days after the fall of Lae 60 miles to the southwest, was aimed at capture of a base which would give the Allies complete control of the Huon Gulf—a potential springboard against nearby New Britain.

In Range of Vila

The destruction of the garrison at Arundel, which is adjacent to American-held New Georgia, puts forces of Admiral William F. Halsey within artillery range of the large Japanese garrison at Vila across the Blackett Strait on Kolombangara.

The landing above Finschhafen occurred at dawn Wednesday six miles north of that base in the vicinity of peacetime mission headquarters and just below the Song river.

There were no details on this action except that the landings were opposed by the enemy.

"Our ground forces have destroyed all remaining enemy forces on the north shores and on nearby Saga Karasa island," the communique reported on the Arundel action.

Japs Sense Peril

The Japanese, sensing the peril to Vila, had been moving in reinforcements at night across the narrow strait on barges but in the mopup six of these barges were sunk by infantry weapons and artillery.

The enemy on Kolombangara then apened up with its artillery, inflicting some American casualties.

Complete control of this sector, roughly a triangle bounded by the Salamaua air base, captured Sept. 12, the Lae air base, captured Sept. 16 and Finschhafen, once the enemy supply depot for the other two points, would pose a grave menace against New Britain with its enemy stronghold of Rabaul.

This landing beyond Finschhafen followed quickly the seizure by airborne Australians of the enemy base of Kaiapit north and west of both Finschhafen and Lae.

Patrol Kills Japs

Headquarters today disclosed that a patrol of the troops which

Reds Storm On To Edge Of Kiev

Columns In North Nearing Smolensk

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Thursday, Sept. 23.—The Red Army stormed down a railroad toward Kiev to capture the village of Lyeski, 18 miles from Russia's fourth largest city, Moscow reported today, as the towers of Kiev, high on the banks of the Dnieper river, loomed in Soviet gunsights.

Far to the north, in one of the bitterest battles of the summer, Soviet forces captured Demidov, 42 miles northwest of Smolensk and only 21 miles from the border of White Russia. Premier Stalin issued an order of the day to commememorate the victory, saying the defenses fell Tuesday after a 48-hour fight.

Nazi Division Routed

The Germans launched 12 counter-attacks in their desperate attempt to hold Demidov, said the Moscow midnight communique, but they could not hold out against the Soviet attack and one Nazi division was routed.

More than 8,000 Germans fell in the fight, 300 prisoners were taken and large quantities of war material were seized by the Russians.

In another area of this sector one German battalion was completely wiped out and another regimented routed.

Other Soviet spearheads were last reported 18 miles from Smolensk, once Adolf Hitler's headquarters in the east.

The Russians won back 864 hamlets and villages, moved in to within five miles of the middle Dnieper river at one point and peeled German protective layers from Dnepropetrovsk, Zaporzhe and Gomel.

Far to the south, the Nazis backed up to the Kerch Strait in their last foothold in the Caucasus, already doomed by other So-

Tojo Warns Subjects To Tighten Up Belts

(By The United Press)

Premier Hideki Tojo of Japan broadcasting a warning to the Japanese people today that the government is tightening its control over all aspects of life.

A report on Tojo's speech was relayed by the British radio after it had broadcast a German-relayed report from Tokyo that the government was preparing for the evacuation of the large Japanese cities because of the serious war situation.

Tojo announced a drastic intensification of the Japanes war effort, in which the entire home front is to be mobilized.

Among the specific measures he announced were intensified state control of all industry, enlargement of the air force, strengthening of home defenses, extension of military service, higher taxes and "the complete mobilization for the war of the entire Japanese people, without regard to rank or occupation."

Man Who Falls From Plane Unidentified

SELINSGROVE, Pa., Sept. 22 (AP)—Naval intelligence officers joined today in an investigation of the death of a man who fell from a high-flying airplane near here and landed in a meadow.

The plane continued wastward without slowing and there was no indication of its identity, point of departure or destination.

At Philadelphia, the fourth naval district reported that two service identification tags were found on the body, one bearing the name of a naval officer and the other the name of a coast guardsman.

A district spokesman added, however, that "we know no more about the man's identity than we do about the plane, which is nothing."

Allied Bombers Slash Naziland

11 Nazis Downed As Brest Is Raided

LONDON, Sept. 22. (AP)—U. S. Eighth Air force Marauder bombers made their deepest penetration of Hitler's Europe today, striking the German airfield at Evereaux-Fauville, 45 miles west of Paris, during Allied forays across France, Belgium and the Netherlands.

The Berlin radio said that strong forces of British bombers had raided northern and northwestern German towns early this morning.

There were no Allied reports that bombers were cut at that time. Berlin, which often mentions nuisance raids never announced in London, said: "enemy bombers penetrated northern Reich territory in several waves. Apparently Berlin was to be the target but this attempt failed completely."

Punny German Effort

In a puny retaliatory raid tonight a few German planes dropped incendiaries over a northest England coast town. The bombs all fell in fields near a farm and were extinguished before causing any damage.

Hundreds of American Thunderbolts hit targets in other parts of France and in Belgium and Holland.

RAF and Canadian airmen attacked the Nazi airfield at Brest on the Bay of Biscay.

The Germans sent up a flock of fighters in an attempt to ward off the Allied blows and eleven Nazi planes were reported shot down. Allied losses on all of the missions were two fighter planes.

All of the Marauders returned safely, keeping their remarkable record down to 12 losses in 74 raids.

Four Jap Bases On Gilbert Hit

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Sept. 22. (AP) — Adm. Chester W. Nimitz disclosed today that four Japanese bases were bombed and damaged heavily in the raid last Saturday night and Sunday (east longitude time) on enemy-held territory in the Gilbert island area.

Nimitz, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, revealed also that a carrier task force collaborated with land-based Army and Navy bombers in the coordinated operation, which covered 500 square miles of Japan's equatorial outpost holdings in the central Pacific.

The Navy and Army bombers made more than 200 sorties against Tarawa, Makin and Apamama islands in the Gilbert group and against Nauru island 400 miles southwest of Makin.

Four U. S. Planes Lost

(A bare announcement that the raid had taken place came previously in a communique issued by Admiral Nimitz last Sunday, but no mention was made at that time that the attack had been carried out by air, nor was it then disclosed that Makin and Apamama, as well as Tarawa and Nauru, had been among the targets.)

Four fighter planes shot down were the only losses suffered by our striking forces in the attack, despite heavy anti-aircraft fire and attempted interception by enemy fighters and night fighters, Nimitz said.

Motley County Hits Bond Drive Quota

MATADOR, Sept. 22. (Special)—Despite a dark crop outlook brought on by one of the worst drouths in recent years, Motley county, with less than 4,000 population, today reached its quota of $253,800 in the Third War Loan drive. It is believed here that this county is the first outside of Lubbock in the South Plains area to attain its goal in the current drive.

Elmer Stearns, vice-president and cashier of the Matador First State bank, is county war bond chairman.

The county's quota in the third drive is approximately two and a half times more than in the second drive.

Survivors Of Enemy Torpedoing In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (AP) — Survivors of a medium-sized United States merchant vessel damaged by an enemy torpedo early in May in the southwest Pacific have arrived at San Francisco, the Navy reported today.

There were no casualties. After the submarine attack, the vessel was towed to an Allied southwest Pacific port.

Strong Opposition Develops For New Income Tax Boost

Plan Sets Eight Billion More Income Levy, Hikes Withholding Ten Per Cent

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Congressional opposition developed swiftly today to the idea of an $8,000,000,000 boost in income taxes—to be accompanied by a rise to 30 per cent in the withholding levy on taxable portions of wages and salaries.

By such a plan, 13 per cent additional tax would be levied at the first bracket surtax level—on taxable income between $2,000 and $4,000. The 13 per cent would be refunded after the war.

Some tax sources heard that the suggestion had been submitted to President Roosevelt by the Treasury, as part of the tentative administration proposals for a new general revenue law, but Rep. Robertson (D-Va) said the treasury denied to him it had made such a proposal.

Deeply Concerned

As a result of the report, there were expressions of deep congressional concern for persons with fixed incomes — the so-called "while collar" workers.

"I am unwilling to believe," said Robertson, a member of the Ways and Means committee, "that the Treasury would recommend a tax program that would be so harsh and unjust to the millions of white collar workers who have not shared in the new war income. Nor do I believe the President would approve any such program."

Rep. Knutson (R-Minn) commented that "you've got a 20 per cent tax now that's very burdensome on the white collar class and they can't stand another 10 per cent." He added:

Would Increase Salaries

"It would mean we would have to increase salaries, and this would contribute to inflation. We are still waiting for the Treasury to present a sane tax plan. It would seem that the time has arrived for the President and his administration to cut all government spending to the lowest possible level consistent with our war effort and efficiency in government before talking about placing additional tax burdens upon our people."

Rep. Carlson (R-Kas), another Ways and Means member, said that he believed that if the added revenue was needed so badly a sales tax would be less burdensom than a hike from 20 to 30 per cent in the withholding levy.

The plan attributed to the Treasury would call for individual income taxes to yield at least $8,000,000,000 of the $12,000,00,000 in new 1944 revenue asked by Mr. Roosevelt, with the remainder to be found in increased corporation and excise levies.

Boosts All Brackets

Under such a plan, income taxes would be increased in all brackets, but chiefly in a 100 per cent hike in the present 13 per cent first bracket surtax, with the present 3 per cent (net) Victory tax being absorbed in that bracket. Thus the present 22 per cent basic rate (6 per cent normal, plus 13 per cent first bracket surtax, plus 3 per cent net Victory tax would be raised to 32 per cent (6 per cent normal, plus 26 per cent).

Of that amount, however, 13 per cent would be refunded to the individual taxpayers after the war. Thus it would amount in effect to a 13 per cent compulsory savings plan, without any appreciable increase over the long haul, for persons in the income level affected by the added 13 per cent.

OPA Grants Ginning Price Hike; Maximum For Lubbock District Is Set At 35½ Cents

DALLAS, Sept. 22. (AP)—The Office of Price administration said today that effective immediately ginners within Region Five were permitted to raise their prices to the average of all the prices of cotton gins within their particular district.

Ginners whose prices permitted by the present regulations are higher than the average price in the ginner's district may continue to use these higher prices, OPA said in an announcement from its regional office.

Action providing for establishment of alternative ceilings for cotton ginning by any ginner within the limits of Region Five, as authorized recently by OPA in Washington, was made effective by general order No. 1, under mpr 211, as amended, issued by Regional Administrator Max McCullough.

OPA estimated that the order permits some 2,000 ginners in nine districts in Region Five to raise their prices to the average level. The districts are Lubbock, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Dallas, and Houston, in Texas; Shreveport and New Orleans, La.; Little Rock, Ark., and St. Louis, Mo.

Prices By Districts

The alternative ceiling price by districts, as released by OPA included:

District	Seed Basis Per Cwt.	Lint Basis Per Cwt.
Lubbock	35½c	$1.02
San Antonio	38	1.18
Fort Worth	36	1.00
Dallas	30½	.88
Houston	33½	.91
New Orleans	32½	.88
Shreveport	30	.80

In its announcement OPA explained:

"The alternative ceiling price is a price based upon the average price for cotton ginning within the boundary lines of any OPA district office. The regional office finds that cotton ginning is substantially similar within the boundaries of any OPA district office when taking into consideration the type of cotton ginned within that district, the type of machinery used in ginning the cotton within the district, the type of harvesting method used within the district, and the wage rates of gin labor in the district.

District Disparities

"Because of the fact that the alternative ceiling is based upon the average currently prevailing rate within each district, there will be found certain rate disparities between districts. However, these rate disparities will not adversely affect the ginning industry because of the fact that historically the industry has always operated with rate differences in different parts of the cotton belt. Today's action only recognizes these historical differences in charges and does not attempt to either reduce them or magnify them.

"The new order recognizes no differential for the ginning of snaps or bollie cotton. This difference is not recognized because the average rate within an area historically ginning snapped or bollie cotton will have already recognized the increased cost for such service: consequently to add a differential for the ginning of snapped or bollie cotton would be to, in effect, increase a price which was already set at a sufficiently high level for such services by the industry itself.

Order Restrains Union Organizer

AUSTIN, Sept. 22. (AP)—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann today obtained a temporary restraining order in 53rd District court to prevent R. J. Thomas of Detroit, president of the United Automobile Workers union (CIO), from soliciting union memberships in Texas without first obtaining an organizer's card as required by state law.

The order, issued by Judge Harris Gardner, instructed Thomas to appear at 10 a. m. Sept. 25 to show cause why a temporary injunction should not be granted. The temporary restraining order expires in ten days.

Mann's Statement

Mann in a formal statement following the action said:

"Our action in this matter is not an attempt to prevent Mr. Thomas from addressing the meeting at Pelly tomorrow night.

"We recognize his right to speak on any question he desires. It is not the purpose or the intention of the law to interfere with the constitutional guarantees of free speech.

"Our action is based upon the laws of this state which prohibit anyone from soliciting membership in a labor union without an organizer's card issued by the secretary of state as required by the recent act of the legislature."

Production Of Meat In 15 Per Cent Rise

CHICAGO, Sept. 22. (AP)—The War Meat board announced today that federally-inspected plants produced 321,000,000 pounds of meat last week, a 15 per cent increase over the previous week.

The board pointed out, however, that the previous week had included the Labor day holiday.

Beef production for the week was estimated at 127,000,000 pounds, veal at 17,000,000 pounds, pork at 153,000,000 pounds and lamb and mutton at 24,000,000 pounds.

War Production Shows Big Gain

Output Of Planes Still Under Goal

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP) — Battle equipment—especially arms for invasion — rolled out of American war plants last month at a rate represented the biggest gain since April, the War Production board reported today, but output of warplanes still lagged behind schedule.

In a report so optimistic its tone reportedly caused Army concern, WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson said "the August showing indicates that production is regaining its momentum" after a slow summer.

The report's release coincided with Nelson's arrival in London where he is to integrate further munitions making of the United States and Britain.

7,612 Planes Built

It showed August arms production was up four per cent over July. With an 11 per cent gain in heavy bombers and a five per cent increase in fighter planes, overall aircraft production—7,612 planes—gained three per cent, but remained behind schedule because of manpower problems and design changes.

WPB took an optimistic view of the plane output, however, because the weight and value of new aircraft increased seven per cent over July, a figure which the report said "dramatizes the trend toward heavier models, especially bombers."

"Our (plane) production rate now has grown to a poine where interruptions for design changes can be made without seriously threatening the flow of planes to the fighting fronts," the report said. "When performance in battle indicates weaknesses in design x x x it is far better to adjust the design and take a temporary loss in production than to continue to produce planes with

Law Denies Moody Named A & M Head

HOUSTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—F. M. Law, president of the board of directors of Texas A and M college, denied today that former Gov. Dan Moody had been named president of the school.

Law emphasized that a report of Moody's election was "news to me" and added:

"I can assure you that the board has not yet made any selection. The choice of a new president is still wide open. There are at least two dozen men being considered by the board.

"The board does not meet again until Oct. 8 at College Station, and I don't know whether the subject of a new president will be brought up even then. Finding the right man is a big job and we don't intend to be rushed."

Allies Slash Nazi Barriers

Germans Leaving Corsica; Hold Tightening On Italy

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 22.—The American Fifth Army in Italy drove slowly tonight into the last mountain barrier before blazing Naples as U. S. "Commando" troops joined the French in mopping up the island of Corsica and the British won Potenza and control of all south Italy below an arc from Salerno to Bari.

The Germans were evacuating Corsica after leaving 1,000 dead on the battlefield and several hundred prisoners. A French communique said enemy survivors of their original 12,000 men were being compressed into the northeast corner of the French island in retreat from the Levie and Bonifacio-Porto Vecchio region in South Corsica.

Escape Routes Blasted

The German escape route and its terminal ports of Bastia on Corsica and Leghorn on Italy were bombed heavily by American Liberators recently transferred to this theater from Britain.

"An American Commando unit (probably Rangers) is fighting by the side of patriots and regular French troops," Gen. Henri Giraud's command said. "The Germans left more than 1,000 dead on the battlefield. Several hundred of prisoners fell into our hands."

Sardinia, the big Italian island seven miles south of Corsica, apparently was under control of American and friendly Italian troops. (German broadcasts repeated that Sardinia had been evacuated.)

American and British troops of the Fifth Army captured Campagna, San Cirpriano and Montecorvina-Rovella—all strategic points on the widening Salerno front 20 airplane miles below Naples.

Fifth Moves Forward

The Allied communique said "the Fifth Army continues to regroup and move forward."

A funeral pall of smoke shrouded the great metropolis of Naples. Allied troops 12 miles across the bay on the Sorrento peninsula could see large fires burning in and near the city of 925,000. The Germans appeared to be burning, destroying and looting anything that would be valuable to the oncoming Allies. The enemy had established strong defense lines on the southern and eastern approaches of Naples, which were under constant pressure.

The British Eighth Army captured Potenza, which an Allied spokesman likened to "a man's heart so far as that part of Italy is concerned—it is the center of everything."

Legion Assails Hamilton Fish

OMAHA, Sept. 22. (AP)—The 25th annual American Legion convention adopted a resolution late today charging that Republican Representative Hamilton Fish of New York "with certain other isolationist members of Congress" permitted use of the congressional frank by George Sylvester Viereck and the American First committee in disseminating propaganda "inimical to the United States."

Naming of Fish in the resolution drew strong objection from Ellidor Libonati, Chicago attorney and Illinois Republican leader, who urged the convention to adopt a resolution not mentioning Fish.

Such a resolution, Libonati said, was passed at the last convention in Kansas City. Libonati's motion to eliminate the name of Fish, whom he described as "a good Legionnaire," lost by voice vote. The report of the Americanism committee, which contained the resolution, was adopted.

The resolution charged that "it has been proved by documentary evidence" that on April 14th of this year a franked envelope of Fish was mailed from San Diego, Calif., to persons on the mailing list of C. Leon De Aryan.

The resolution identified De Aryan as editor of "The Broom," and declared he was under indictment for sedition but now was out on bail.

Yank Squadrons Move To Africa

Dual Blows Facing Nazis This Winter

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 22.—The transfer of American Liberator squadrons from England to the North African war theater may foreshadow a winter aerial siege of Germany from the Mediterranean perhaps surpassing the effort made from Britain.

The B-24 Liberators, which previously operated with the British-based U. S. Eighth Air force, joined the Northwest African Air forces yesterday and in their initial action in this area bombed the Corsican harbor of Bastia and the Italian mainland city of Leghorn, leaving troop-crowded German ships and other small craft in both harbors aflame.

Galaxy Of Bombers

The Northwest African Air forces under the command of Lt. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz now have a galaxy of heavy bombardment groups unequalled in any theater except the home-based Royal Air force fleets in England.

Winter weather already is hamstringing operations from Britain. During the winter it is considered good if heavy air bombardment fleets can get out in force eight times a month. In the Mediterranean, even during the worst winter months, it is possible to send out large bomber groups more than 15 times a month.

As a matter of fact, the bomb tonnage totals of the Northwest African Air Forces have dwarfed the U. S. Eighth Air force effort even during the past summer.

Splits Nazi Defenses

Bombing Germany from this side has obvious advantages. It splits the Nazis' thin fighter defenses, opens new territories in Germany to attack, makes it possible to hit the Nazis twice as often.

Bombing fleets ranging over Rome, Turig, Milan and Naples by day and night did more than any other factor in cracking the Italian will to resist. Hitler's wobbly but vital Balkan Axis partners now face the same medicine. Every part of Hungary, Bulgaria and Rumania is well within bombing range from Italian bases.

Polio Kills Woman, Unborn Baby Lives

DALLAS, Sept. 22. (AP)—Physicians at Parkland hospital here reported today that a girl born yesterday three minutes after her mother died of infantile paralysis showed no ill effects from the disease.

Mrs. Freida Miller, admitted to the hospital Sunday afternoon, died early yesterday morning. Within a minute after her death, physicians said, a Caesarian operation was started.

The child weighed 6 pounds 10 ounces.

While deliveries after death of mothers are commonly known to science, a disease as serious as the fatal type of poliomyelitis usually will kill the child before the mother dies, physicians explained.

City Approves Additional Salary Bonus For Workers

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

INCREASE amounting to approximately $10 per month in the cost-of-living bonus paid city employes was voted by members of the city commission at a special meeting Wednesday night.

The increase was made retroactive to Sept. 15 and means that, during the period from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, all full time city employes will receive a bonus of approximately $27 above their usual salaries. The bonus paid part-time employes will be in proportion to the time they work.

Members of the commission emphasized that the bonus may be expected to vary from month to month. If the cost of living, as estimated and reported by the U. S. Department of Labor, should continue to rise, the bonus will go higher. If living costs decline, the bonus will be smaller.

In a general way, the plan is the same, but more liberal, as the bonus system that the city put into effect last November.

Under that plan, the first bonus paid to city employes amounted to $11 per month. This amount climbed from month to month until it reached a peak of $19 last August. But for September, the figure dropped to $17 because the federal department of labor's report showed that living costs had dropped.

This was a report with which large numbers of city employes disagreed with varying degrees of vigor and sarcasm. Several resig-

Eden Reveals Hess Flew To England With 'Peace' Plan

By WILLIAM SMITH WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 22. — Rudolf Hess, Germany's former deputy fuehrer sitting now in dejected obscurity in Britain as a prisoner of war, brought with him six specific proposals for peace on his weird flight to Scotland on May 10, 1941.

He proclaimed that Hitler wanted "to stop fighting," but was prepared to smash Britain and put her in perpetual bondage unless she took the opportunity of calling off the war.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the story in Commons today in a government statement after two years of official silence.

The peace proposals formed the central disclosure of the story of the strangest diplomatic mission in history — a one-man mission that descended in a parachute from the skies to a Scottish farm and was met, not by gold braid and striped pants, but by a popeyed plowman with a pitchfolk.

Eden's story disclosed that from first to last Hess' pourney was one of almost fantastic ineptness, and that he had tried three times before to fly to Scotland, the first time in December, 1940, "but had been turned back by weather or various other reasons."

It revealed also for the first time why Hess sought out the Duke of Hamilton, a young and thoroughly patriotic RAF wing commander, but a man of no political importance in Britain. Hess told the duke that his friend, Dr.

Marshall Disproves Military Prophecy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (AP)—Nomination of General George Catlett Marshall for the job of commanding all Anglo-American forces of land, sea and air lends a supreme touch of irony to the description given of him as a young man when he entered Virginia Military institute.

In his early days as a plebe at V.M.I., the "West Point of the South" which had graduated such fighters as Stonewall Jackson, Marsall was classed as "a clumsy, unpromising recruit, ill-looked upon by the exacting faculty of the ancient institute."

Early critics were destined to eat their words quickly, however. Marshall graduated from V.M.I. in 1901 with the highest military rank in the cadet corps—and a few years later, a high ranking American officer in the Philippines said of the then young Lieutenant:

Called Military Genius

"Keep your eyes on George Marshall; he is the greatest military genius of America since Stonewall Jackson."

This bouquet was the result of Marshall's efforts in working out a practice plan for the defense of Manila. Marshall's commanding officer even recommended that he be promoted to brigadier general in one jump—a promotion that might have appeared almost "global" in its proportions to young Marshall.

But the recommendation was not acted upon. Marshall was destined to move up slowly into the military hierarchy.

Although he was described by General Pershing as "the finest officer of the first World war"—principally because he organized a secret movement of more than 800,000 men in 14 days in preparation for the Meuse-Argonne offensive—it wasn't until 1939 that Marshall won the rank of general.

It was then that he was appointed to the nation's military "hot spot"—Army chief of staff in a country where the rumble of Europe's guns already were being heard.

No for long was the nation left in doubt as to what the rangy, lean six-footer thought about America's military condition.

"We are not ready for war. We are not even ready for defense," announced the blue-eyed field soldier with the short, pugnacious nose.

But Marshall did much to change that. Under him, the Army grew from a "security force" of 174,000 to the present size that will reach 8,500,000 by year's end. Under him the armed forces changed from units with obsolete or obsolescent equipment, to streamlined legions which fight on a half a dozen fronts throughout the world and employ the world's finest weapons.

Rubber Program Is Threatened

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (U.P.)—Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production board said in a letter to Sen. Harry S. Truman, (D., Mo.), made public today that the 1944 rubber program threatens to be seriously retarded by inadequate supplies of both cotton and rayon cord.

"I believe that only by the most vigorous efforts will we be able to supply the enormous quantities necessary," Nelson wrote Truman, chairman of the special Senate committee investigating the war effort.

Meanwhile, William O'Neill, president of the General Tire & Rubber Co., issued a statement calling for "immediate launching of a huge expansion program" to enable the industry to meet civilian demand for 30,000,000 passenger care tires in 1944.

Confers With Dewey

O'Neill and other leading tire makers conferred with Rubber Director Bradley Dewey on conditions in the industry which, O'Neill said, would make it impossible to meet civilian demands next year unless the present rate of synthetic tire production is trebled.

Although plenty of synthetic rubber will be available, the industry lacks machinery and manpower, as now utilized, to meet both military and civilian demand in 1944, O'Neill said.

Nelson described as superfluous the controversy over whether rayon or cotton cord was better.

"Our problem from now on is not one of deciding whether to use rayon or cotton," he wrote. "But rather of being able to provide a sufficient quantity of both rayon and cotton."

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 22. (U.P.)—An editorial appearing in the Peoria, Ill., Journal-Transcript and written by George W. Barrette, editor, won the 1943 American Legion editorial appreciation award today.

The Los Angeles Times and Editorial Writer Ed Ainsworth were given special honorable mention. Honorable mention was given to Herbert G. Gray of the Medford (Ore.) Mail Tribune; Frank S. Hoag of the Pueblo (Colo.) Star-Journal and Chieftain, and Paul Martin-Dillon of the Cumberland (Md.) Evening Times.

Brief Bits Of Local News

A card from Cpl. Horace B. Kershner, former Texas Technological college student, stating that he is a prisoner of the Japanese in Burma was received Tuesday by his brother, Randall Kershner, who lives on Slaton highway. The soldier was a member of the 131st field artillery which was lost in the Battle of Java. The card brought the first news concerning him since he was officially reported missing in action. It stated he was in good haelth. Cpl. Kershner is the son of L. Kershner of Clovis, N. M.

A 31-year-old Groveton man was held Wednesday afternoon by police, for drunkenness and for investigation into his draft status.

The War department announced Wednesday that Second Lt. Jack W. Rogers of 1002 Avenue X, is missing in action. He was engaged in the European area.

Firemen were called to extinguish two fires Wednesday. One was at Fourteenth street and Texas avenue where a sack of cotton was afire, and the other at 810 Avenue J. The damage was slight in both cases.

A county court jury Wednesday decided that N. H. Hintor, a negro, was innocent of aggravated assault on a negro girl. C. E. Gray of 1802 Avenue H reported his 1934 Chevrolet sedan, license 965-855, stolen from a filling station at 802 Avenue H. A young woman reported to police a boy "grabbed" her in an alley of 1300-block Avenue M. Police arrested a boy and a girl in connection with an attempted automobile theft Mrs. Opal Hall Davis, 35, pleaded guilty of drunk driving and was fined $50 and costs, court officials reported.

Four new officers, including two Texans, have reported for duty at Lubbock Army Air field. The Texans are 2nd Lt. Joyce R. Aly from Houston who graduated at LAAF with class 43-G and who returned with his wife, also a Houstonian, to live here at 3022 Twentieth, and 2nd Lt. Louis E. Richards, jr., from Fort Worth, a new weather officer. Other new officers are 2nd Lt. Warren R. Lindermann ,another 43-G graduate who has returned to LAAF to be a flying instructor; and 2nd Lt. George W. Trickett, a new weather officer from Washington, D. C., where he was formerly an ordnance inspector at the Washington Navy Yard.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Thomas of Anton received a post card Monday from their son, Claude A. Thomas, member of the "lost battalion," advising them that he was now at Hakodate camp, Jap prison camp. This hand-written card was the first news received from Thomas since February, 1942. He stated that he was "well and all in one piece."

KATE SMITH SELLS BONDS

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. (AP) — Radio Songstress Kate Smith completed a 17-hour, one-woman bond selling spree over the Columbia Broadcasting system today and counted a total of $30,407,550 in war bond pledges.

Badoglio Says People Are Faithful To King

ALGIERS, Sept. 22. (AP)—In a statement of the policy of his government, Marshal Pietro Badoglio declared today that the king and royal house of Italy express the will of the Italian people and the nation's armed forces remain faithful to King Vittorio Emmanuele, obeying him exclusively.

Other points in the Italian premier's speech broadcast by the United Nations radio were:

The Italian people wish to have nothing to do with Fascism, be it called republican or monarchic.

The Italian people have not betrayed the Germans but have instead been betrayed themselves by the Nazi-Fascist gang.

The citizens and population of the north will never forget the thousands of their sons who were sent to die in Russia and the African deserts in the sole interest of Germany.

Cattle Stockyards In Oklahoma Jammed

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 22. (AP)—Streets about the stockyards were jammed today as Oklahoma farmers rushed more than 10,000 head of cattle and calves to market, bringing to 30,000 the number disposed of in the past three days.

The total, more than double the ordinary run, was ascribed by market observers to the prolonged Oklahoma drouth which has cut sharply into potential feed production.

The movement continued despite assurances from President Joe C. Scott of the state board of agriculture that emergency feed would be made available by the government to maintain Oklahoma herds through the winter.

23 TREASON CONVICTIONS

BERN, Switzerland, Sept. 22. (AP) A Swiss military court today sentenced 23 persons on charges of treason committed between November, 1941, and October, 1942. One defendant was given a life sentence, the others terms of from several months to 15 years.

Nearly $60,000,000 worth of equipment was distributed by the Office of Civilian Defense in 1942.

Ultimate Goal Of Allies Made Clear

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press War Analyst

Both President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, in reporting respectively to Congress and Parliament, have made clear the ultimate goal of Allied strategy in Europe and the Far East.

That is to strike in the end directly at the heart of Germany and Japan by the most direct route. Churchill was unequivocal when he said:

"I have never regarded the African operation as a substitute for a direct attack upon the Germans in France and the Low Countries."

President Roosevelt was less direct, but implied that the main assault on Japan will be through Burma and China. Declaring that we are "determined to take the offensive" in Burma, he mentioned preliminary air operations in Burma and China and concluded:

To Hit Heart Of Japan

"That process will continue until we are ready to strike right at the heart of Japan itself."

Both executives gave the impression that the main blow will not be delivered until the preliminary operations have progressed to a point satisfactory to Allied strategists. President Roosevelt particularly stressed this when he said:

"The Japanese hold firmly established positions on an enormous front from the Kuriles through the mandated islands to the Solomons and through the Netherlands East Indies to Malaysia and Burma and China. To break through this defensive ring we must hit them and hit them hard, not merely at one point but at many points, and we must keep on hitting them."

Part Of Broad Pattern

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's statement on Pacific strategy may best be considered with reference to the President's declaration. The President evidently considers the New Guinea and Solomons offensives and the naval-air operations in the south-central Pacific and the Kuriles as integral parts of a broad pattern.

There is no reason to suppose that grand strategy in Europe differs greatly from that in the Pacific and Asia. Thus the Allied campaign in Italy may be expected to be pushed to the limit, and it is highly probable that an offensive in the Balkans is in the making. Allied occupation of several Aegean islands and the successful activities of Jugoslav guerrillas on the Adriatic coast point to the latter.

However, it is evident that the Allied high command does not envisage a march on Berlin through the Alps from Italy, or up the long, mountainous road of the Balkan peninsula. Only a prior German collapse could forestall an invasion of western Europe, and even then that would undoubtedly be the route of Allied forces of occupation.

JUDGES MEET FRIDAY

AUSTIN, Sept. 22. (AP)—Appellate and district judges of Texas will begin a two-day annual conference here Friday. Chief Justice James P. Alexander of the state supreme court will preside.

Artist Course Here Outlined

The artist course series sponsored by Texas Technological college twice bring two Metrolopitan singers, a dance ensemble and a Russian chorus to Lubbock during the 1943-44 season.

Two concerts are scheduled in October. Charles Kullman, tenor, who returns from a South American tour late this month, will come directly to Lubbock for a program Monday, Oct. 4, before going to the Pacific coast to begin a United States tour. The General Platoff Don Cossack chorus, which will appear here Oct. 25, is under the direction of Nicholas Kostrukoff and was organized in Prague in 1926. The chorus is made up of 27 Russians from the region of the Don. Their program will include Russian liturgical music and folksongs, Cossack melodies, battle songs, and dances. They presented 224 concerts in the United States in 1942-43.

Mia Clavenska, of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, will appear with her dance ensemble of Music in Zagreb. She later studied in Paris under Madame Bronislav Nijinska of the Russian School of Ballet. Mia Slavenska became known to the American public when she appeared in the motion picture, "Ballerina." Her first American trans-continental tour is booked for January, February and March of 1944.

Eleanor Steber, soprano of the Metrolopitan Opera association, will conclude the series with a performance in April. She has made concert tours to many states and in the Canadian provinces. Last winter she was soloist with the New York Philharmonic Symphony orcrestra. She studied at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston and later coached with Paul Althouse, leading Metropolitan tenor. She was awarded first honors in the spring of 1940 when she entered the Metrolopitan Opera auditions.

Season Tickets On Sale

All performances will be held in the Lubbock Senior High School auditorium, beginning at 8 p. m.

Season tickets are to go on sale this morning at the B. E. Adair Music company at 1012 Main street. Price is $5. Admission price to individual performances will be $1.25 for non-reserved seats for Tech and public school students and $1.50 for others.

DIRECT MOVIE DRIVE: Three Southwestern showmen, two well known here, are directing the national campaign of the motion picture industry in the current Third War loan drive. Shown above are, center, L. C. Griffith, of Oklahoma City, one of the partners in the extensive Lindsey Theater Enterprises in Lubbock and head of the sprawling Griffith theater chain in the Southwest, who is general chairman of the campaign; Cecil B. "Brownie" Akers, Oklahoma City, campaign director; Ray Beall, left, of Dallas, Interstate Theaters executive, publicity manager. Akers, assistant general manager of the Griffith theaters, is a former manager of his concern's interests in Lubbock and while a citizen here was prominent in business and civic circles. The trio makes New York headquarters and from there routes travels of the various movie stars in connection with the War bond drive and charts numerous other features carried on by the movie industry to promote success of the bond campaign.

Three Good Motives Spur House Hunter

HOUSTON, Sept. 22. (U.P.)—Sgt. Zoilo Ortiz of Ellington field was a house hunter today with three good motives for finding a home in a hurry.

Sgt. Ortiz yesterday became the father of three girls, currently the tenants of the Pasadena hospital's incubator and named "A," born at 10:28 a. m. and weighing four pounds, six ounces; "B," born at 10:42 a. m., four pounds, four ounces, and C, born at 10:45 a. m., three pounds, 12 ounces.

Sgt. Ortiz, already the father of a 21-months-old daughter, said he was certain their present small apartment wouldn't be large enough to handle the homecoming.

Geo. Lawley Writes From Prison Camp

Pvt. George P. Lawley is a prisoner of the Japanese at Moulmein, Burma, he informed his mother, Mrs. Rachel Lawley of 2622 Twenty-fourth street, in two cards received here Wednesday.

Pvt. Lawley, who was employed by the American Optical company here before entering active duty, was a member of the "Lost Battalion" of the Battle of Java. The cards were the first communication his mother had received from him since a letter written Jan. 24. 1942. He stated he was unwounded and in good health and working for 10 cents a day.

Post Milk Situation Worse As Herd Sold

POST, Sept. 22. (Special) — Sale Tuesday at Lubbock, through the auction ring there, of one of the two dairy herds which have been supplying Post with its raw milk has reduced the local supply to an estimated 100 quarts a day, according to James Dietrich, local dairyman and bottler who is left to fight the problem out with local citizens.

Post citizens consume normally 100 gallons of fresh milk daily, but since war conditions have existed the public has been cut to about half this amount, even with two producers furnishing the limited supply.

Kenneth Davies of Southland, farmer and dairy producer, retired from the milk business, disposing of his entire herd. Davies said he was losing money at prevailing prices and had to quit.

Third Court Martial At Field Is Monday

SELFRIDGE FIELD, Mich., Sept 22. (AP)—The third court martial growing out of charges of irregularities at this Army air base will open Monday and part of the proceedings may be conducted in private "for reasons of military security."

Col. William L. Boyd, field commandant, said today Major George A. Hartford, former intelligence officer, would be the defendant.

The charges against Major Hartford, still officially undisclosed, were said to have no direct connection with the accusations against Col. William T. Colman and Lt. Col. Charles G. White. Colman, former base commandant, was ordered demoted to captain by his court martial. White was ordered dismissed from the service.

Amazing results in building STURDY BODIES!

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach

2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

YOUNG people, especially those of grammar and high school age, are prone to be deficient in stomach digestive juices and red-blood.

A growing-person who is operating on a 45 to 70% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 30 to 60% normal is severely handicapped.

In such cases Nature needs extra help. Organic troubles or focal infection, if they exist, must be corrected. Tissue foods must be digested and rich, red-blood must be present to build sturdy bodies.

SSS Tonic is especially designed to build-up BLOOD STRENGTH when deficient . . . and to promote those STOMACH JUICES which digest the food so the body can make proper use of it in tissue building and repair.

These two important results enable the body to make use of the food as Nature intended. Thus you may gain a keen appetite . . . firm flesh . . . body energy . . . mental alertness!

Build Sturdy Health and Help America Win

Thousands and thousands of users have testified to the benefits SSS Tonic has brought to them and scientific research shows that it gets results—that's why so many say "SSS Tonic builds sturdy health—makes you feel like yourself again." At drug stores in 10 and 20 oz. sizes. S.S.S. Co.

"My old Sahara Jeep was never like tourin' this way, Mom"

When Johnny comes sailing home again, he'll be more than ready for soft seat cushions. Through the windows he'll eye that super-colossal feature, the grand old U. S. A. It will look all the better because you—Johnny's loving proud folks—are with him again. After your nights of volunteer war work—and coupons—and questionnaires—you could easily stand as much touring as Johnny.

You'll need a car that can stand it. But since the conversion from war production must take time—just as conversion from peace production did—you'll fret a long while for any new Victory model. Better preserve your present car for the duration and beyond.

One big thing working against this, plainly speaking, is engine acid! After combustion stops, and your car stands long, the acid always formed in any engine can keep gnawing undisturbed. Gone are the big mileage, ample speed and resulting engine heat that formerly kept down acid damage. Today's opposite driving conditions could multiply acid damage, except that you can have the interior of your engine protectively OIL-PLATED by the simple economical change to Conoco Nth motor oil.

There is a synthetic in Conoco Nth oil that makes it "magnetically active," as it were, attracting OIL-PLATING to inner engine surfaces. OIL-PLATING resembles other anti-corrosive plating in not all draining down at a standstill, and in maintaining interference against such a dangerous corrosive as acid. Today—and for many tomorrows—OIL-PLATE with Nth at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Co.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

YOU SHOULD have your traditional orange in the Christmas stocking this year, for there is a big citrus crop. You will probably enjoy it more than ever because other fruits will be scarce.

Apples are 28 per cent fewer than last year and the armed services are using more. Peaches are down and prunes and raisins will be the civilian dish in dried fruits, other dried fruits being taken for the fighters.

WAR MARRIAGES

"I DIDN'T know whether you wanted a report of it; it was just a war marriage," a friend said the other day and that set us to thinking for a time. If the couple is known in Lubbock or in our South Plains area reading range we want the story, whether it's a "war" marriage or a ceremony uniting two citizens.

Moreover, the Woman's Angle doesn't like the implication hinted when one mentions a "war marriage." It sounds too much like the "gin marriages" we heard about back in the days when a three-day marriage law was passed and so many couples treked to Clovis, rather than declare their intentions three days ahead of time. Almost all of the young men of marriageable age and intentions today are in uniform of one branch or another and somehow or other someone started the expression "war marriage" for those who decided to ask their favorite girl to share their name and quarters such as can be found in most overcrowded camp centers.

Because there is a so-called "war marriage" in our family and may be another one before too long we resent the slighting remarks sometimes heard about couples who marry during wartimes. We think young people who are unafraid of the future and are willing to make plans under the circumstances should have all of the encouragement possible.

And the psychologists and educational leaders who are always moaning about these marriages and predicting that many of them will end in the divorce courts should be ashamed.

IN THE MAIL

DEAR MARGARET TURNER: You are so good at giving helpful information. Is it possible to send a fruit cake overseas to the boys in service? I have heard we are permitted to send them but wanted to be sure. I know my husband would appreciate that more than any Christmas gift I could send.

Sincerely,
Mrs. H. O. Bear,
1621 Twenty-second street.

DEAR MRS. BEAR: A call to Postmaster Amos Heward brought the information that one is permitted to send fruit cake in boxes going overseas; at least he says he knows of no ban against it and he knows that a number of the Christmas parcels mailed from the Lubbock office have contained the cakes. As he said, a package isn't very Christmasy unless it contains a bit of fruit cake, although those who make the rules discourage sending perishables overseas.

Be sure to get your parcel off before October 15, Mrs. Bear and remember the rules about the size and weight of the box and good luck with your baking.

DEAR MADAM: In regard to to sponsoring a nursery for children whose mothers work: I think it would be a grand thing. In fact, in a few months I believe there will be many mothers FORCED to work and they will be frantically trying to find a reliable place to leave their children. I am speaking for myself since I have a son who will be 2 next month.

I surely hope it is possible to have a nursery in Lubbock very soon.

Yours truly,
Mrs. R. A. Dempsey,

Delegates Attend Hospital Council

Mrs. H. G. Stinnett of Plainview presided at a meeting of Llano Estacado chapter, Camp and Hospital council, in the hospital at South Plains Army Air field Tuesday afternoon with 26 delegates representing 14 counties attending.

Talks were made by Mrs. Ralph E. Holmes and Mrs. Chester A. Smith, coordinators for SPAAF and LAAF who present military needs that may be met by the council; Major J. B. French commanding officer of the LAAF hospital who thanked delegates for contributions made to the maternity ward at LAAF and stated services soon will be available for wives of men stationed at LAAF and wives of soldiers serving over seas.

Also Capt. James S. Binder, special services officer at SPAAF who thanked the council for its work in helping soldiers and Lt. Ben C. Cowling of SPAAF who described the recreational program at SPAAF hospital and told what the hospital day room means to the soldiers.

C. D. Doggett was elected treasurer to succeed W. C. O'Mara who resigned because he has been elected Red Cross chairman for Lubbock county and Mrs. Bryan Edwards was elected Lubbock county representative on the council to succeed Mrs. C. P. Carlock who resigned.

It was announced that present needs the council is asked to supply include outfittings for the baby wards at LAAF hospital, potted plants for hospitals at both fields; a divan, chairs, a piano, floor lamps and six bugles.

Allegro Club Features American Music

American Music was the theme carried out in a program presented by members of Allegro Music club meeting in the home of Mrs. Elliott Taylor Wednesday afternoon.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Marshall, opened with the singing of the National Anthem. "Ecstasy" (H. H. A. Beach), a vocal solo, was offered by Mrs. C. N. Hallmark. Mrs. Jerry Dye played the piano selection, "Polonaise Americaine" (Carpenter), Mrs. Joe Melton rendered the vocal solo "Holiday" (Scott), and Mrs. Lloyd Croslin played a piano solo, "Mardi Gras" from the Mississippi Suite (Grose).

The next meeting is to be in the home of Mrs. Marlin R. Smith, jr., with Mrs. Chester Elliott assisting as co-hostess.

Personals

Milton Adams, pharmacist mate second class, and Mrs. Adams are visiting relatives in Lubbock. Mr. Adams is stationed in San Diego.

Sgt. and Mrs. Ted Alkire, jr., are spending a few days in Lubbock visiting his parents. Sgt. Alkire is stationed at Kearney, Neb.

Rush Week For Girl's Social Clubs Is Highlighted By Dinners, Coffees And Teas

Rush week for girl's social clubs at Texas Technological college closed officially Wednesday afternoon at the final convocation where pledges signed preference slips.

This convocation terminated a week activities with each of the five clubs sponsoring two rush parties during the week beginning Sept. 15 and ending yesterday.

Ko Shari opened rush week with an air corps party. Model airplanes decorated the tables and on the walls were banners with LAAF and SPAAF written on them. As guests left through a door marked "Thunderbird Field," they were handed small wings and commissions. Manuals about the club were also presented to those present. Small pottery dishes served as plate favors at the Indian dinner given Saturday night.

"Come Dressed As Your Secret Ambition" was the request of members of Las Vivarachas club of pledges who attended the first party sponsored by that club Wednesday evening. Brides, cowgirls, housewives, etc. were represented at this unique masquerade affair.

As a second event the club entertained with a Mexican dinner at the Hilton hotel Monday. There a program entitled "Ferdinand the Bull" was presented by pledges.

The country home back yard of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Cone was the scene of a carnival party which followed a hay ride given by members of DFD Saturday. A miniature carnival was constructed there with a fortune teller, lemon aid stand, and miniature merry-go-round adding to the merriment.

As a second rush activity the club sponsored the annual traditional Swedish smorgasbord dinner Tuesday evening. A large table centered the dining room decorated with a large mirror in the center surrounded by flowers. Around the table were arranged small appetizers. Smaller tables seating six and lighted by candles were scattered about the room where members and guests were seated.

Sans Souci entertained for the first time Friday night with an informal lawn party in the home of Marijo Turner, 2805 Twenty-second street. Betty Houston sang songs and later was joined by members and rushees. Games of bridge were played and a nickelodian furnished music.

A large coarnucopia from which poured fruit, maze, and autumn leaves formed the centerpiece of the table at annual Gold and White dinner given as the last entertainment by Sans Souci. Plate favors were small white packages of matches with the name of the club printed in gold on them. Miss Helene Blattner and Mrs. J. N. Michie, sponsors, attended.

A hobo party at the home of Mrs. George P. Livermore, 1713 Thirty-first street, was the first party given for rushees by members of Las Chaparritas social club. The sweatheart theme was carried out at a dessert-coffee Monday evening by a huge red quilted satin heart resting on a background of gardenias and white chrysanthemums. Mesdames George Langford and Arch Lamb are sponsors of the club.

Lubbock Woman's Club And Tuesday Night Readers Group Hear Reviews, Lectures

"Japan" was the topic discussed by Dr. O. A. Kinchen of the history department at Texas Technological college at a meeting of Lubbock Woman's club at the Hilton hotel Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Kinchen explained that imitation is characteristic of the Japanese and after the "open door" was started they sent representatives to many countries to study plans in various phases of living. As a consequence they had a form of nobility borrowed from the English; military and education from Germany; judiciary from the French; parliament and ministry from the English and navy from the British. The imitated civilization they evolved, however, lacked the spirit of the nations from which it was borrowed, Dr. Kinchen explained. Life and labor in Japan have always been cheap, he said.

Roll call was answered with naming "My Hero." During a business session, Mrs. Frank Gaines was elected club representative to the City Federation and it was voted to continue a drive for old hosiery and junk jewelry.

Mrs. Gladys Sims reviewed the story "Yes Ma'm" written by Aux. Elizabeth R. Pollock at a meeting for Tuesday night Readers group in the home of Mrs. A. H. Leidigh, 2101 Seventeenth street. Mrs. R. S. Rodgers was assistant hostess.

Fall flowers decked the table. The bride-elect was presented with a gift of china from the hostesses.

Guests were Mrs. Jim Floyd, mother of the honoree; Mrs. Leete Jackson, mother of the bridegroom-elect; Mesdames Bill Coker, Jack Boren, Misses LaNelle Hurlbut, Shirley Parsons, Sara Daviss and Dorothy Wright.

Evacuation Plans Show Jap Jitters

(By The United Press)

Japanese broadcasts reflecting heightened fear of attacks on the homeland and concern over the war situation said today that the government had made plans to remove government offices from Tokyo and other cities and that conscription for military service or war work was being put on a "universal" footing.

Premier Hideki Tojo took to the radio to tell the people that a "time of emergency" existed and that the government was moving to intensify the country's defenses and utilize its entire strength for war purposes, direct or indirect.

Radio reports from Japan, recorded by government monitors and other sources, told of plans for the evacuation of Tokyo and other Japanese cities against the threat of bombing raids and for the "total mobilization" of civilians, including women.

A Domei news agency dispatch said that among the measures on which the cabinet had agreed was one calling for "the removal of various government establishments, the location of which is not necessary in the capital and important cities, to other localities and the readjustment of these establishments."

Dispersion Of Buildings

"In this connection," the dispatch added, "redistribution and dispersion of various government buildings will be undertaken, concentrating government business in those with satisfactory air defense facilities and abandoning those which are vulnerable."

The Japanese information—or propaganda—board issued a long announcement regarding the measures to be taken for the "utmost strengthening of aerial defense in nationally important areas, military establishments, factories and mines."

The scope of the planning was such that it appeared to call for a fundamental reorganization of governmental methods and procedure, perhaps constituting an admission of failure.

Full Mobilization

Calling for the "thorough mobilization of the people," the government ordered universal conscription and the abolition of what it called exceptional cases other than those engaged in special or technical fields.

Adjustment and simplification of the administrative structure, intensification of official discipline, and abolition of half day work on Saturday were called for as measures to increase the efficiency of the government itself.

Don't Throw Can At Buyer, Grocers Told

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (AP) — The Commerce department advised the nation's grocers today:

"No matter how much you may want to throw a tin can at an overbearing customer, it is much wiser to smile and take it."

It is one of more than two-score suggestions by the department in a "wartime guide for retail grocers," a 24-page publication which tells the grocer he is just as essential to civilian life as the soldier is to military success.

ENVOY IS APPOINTED

LONDON, Sept. 22. (AP)—Soviet Russia has appointed high ranking Andrei J. Vishinsky, vice commissar of foreign affairs, as envoy plenipotentiary to the French national committee at Algiers, an authority said today.

War To End Suddenly Some Day, Duke Says

BOSTON, Sept. 22. (AP)—A belief that the war would end with "unexpected suddenness one day" but that that day would not come in the immediate future was expressed by the Duke of Windsor today.

The former King of England, now governor-general of the Bahamas, in Boston with his duchess to visit her invalided aunt, Mrs. D. Buchanan Merriman, who is hospitalized with a broken hip, also expressed regret over the "heavy casualties" which the American Fifth Army suffered in the invasion of Italy. He warned in a press conference, however, that the Allies must be prepared to suffer even more heavily before Germany is brought to its knees.

The Duke emphasized the Bahamas' exportation of labor to the United States. He said that about 5,000 laborers already had been sent to the "states" and that his information was that they were doing "a very good job."

Non-Com Promotions In Guard Announced

Recent promotions in non-commissioned ranks were announced Wednesday after a regular meeting of the headquarters detachment of the 39th battalion, Texas State guard. First Lt. C. M. "Chick" Trout, commanding officer, presented non-commissioned officers warrants to those promoted.

Warrants were presented to Tech. Sgt. Sam E. Stewart, sergeant major of the battalion; Tech. Sgt. Wm C. Myers, section leader of communications; Tech. Sgt. Wm. J. Stewart, section leader of first aid; Staff Sgt. James M. Moreau, supply section leader, Staff Sgt. Lester O. White; Staff Sgt. Burl L. Akers; Sgt. Harold Kendrick; Sgt. John C. Hughes; Sgt. Grady West, company clerk and message center chief; Cpl. Paul S. Williams; Cpl. Wallace Dix; Cpl. Royal Furgeson and Cpl. Steve Etter.

Cpl. Williams will leave this week to join the Seabees, U. S. Navy, as first class petty officer, electrician's mate. For several months men have entered the armed services from the detachment.

Headquarters detachment is composed of one commisisoned officer and twenty-one non-commissioned officers and enlisted men. Twenty one men are carried as additional supernumeraries.

25 "Boys In Blue" At GAR Encampment

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 22. (AP) — The light tramp, tramp of the feet of veterans of another war was not heard today when the 25 "Boys in Blue" attending the 77th encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, meeting in conjunction with five afficiated organizations, held their annual parade.

The veterans, near or past the 100-year mark rode in automobiles to the reviewing stand and witnessed the remainder of the parade of most of the 1,600 attending the reunion.

Franco Warned About Using Spanish Troops

LONDON, Sept. 22. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden disclosed in the House of Commons today that Sir Samuel Hoare, British ambassador to Spain, had warned Generalissimo Franco that the presence of the Spanish Blue division on the Russian front was a "serious obstacle to development of cordial Anglo-Spanish relations."

"The Spanish government have undertaken to look into the complaint," Eden added, "and we look to them for an early improvement in the situation."

Motorists Get Keys Back, 400 At Once

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 22. (AP) Complaints flooded police headquarters when scores of motorists were stranded downtown without ignition keys. One parking lot owner yelled for a locksmith while customers milled about 16 idle cars.

Then police nabbed two youngsters with more than 400 assorted keys in their possession. All the frenzied motorists have to do is pick out the right one.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. (AP) — Frank M. O'Brien, 68, who rose from an $8-a-week proofreader's helper to become editor of the New York Sun, died today. He had been editor of the Sun since Dec. 1, 1926.

Local Group Aid Milk Price Plea

Officials of the Lubbock Grade A Milk Producers association, the association's attorney, Lloyd Croslin, and Kenneth M. Renner, professor and head of the dairy manufactures department at Texas Technological college, attended a meeting in Amarillo Tuesday, they said, at which a large number of producers and processors of raw milk attended, the purpose being eventually to present evidence to the OPA of the critical situation which it is said the producer faces regarding the cost of production and the fixed price of his product.

The Lubbock association represents 54 producers in the local milk shed. Producers and processors from Dalhart, Dumas, Borger, Pampa, Canyon, and Amarillo attended the meeting, Croslin said. He said the presence of processors is significant, inasmuch as they will be vitally affected if the producer fails to produce. Many of the small herd owners already have quit feeding for milk, authorities say.

Renner Was Observer

Renner said he attended the meeting as an observer to learn what he could, and to pass along to the producers information already has been compiling from operations of the Texas Tech dairy plant, which has its own herd, produces its own feed, and sells the college farm production of milk the same as does private enterprise. Renner said he has no solution to the dairyman's problem.

Producers in the Lubbock area, who have been joined by producers in the Panhandle and elsewhere in their plea for an increase in the price of milk, openly have said the OPA's plan of a rollback in the cost of feed they must buy, or raise, will not solve their problem inasmuch as feed is only one item of cost among many. They pointed to the 180 per cent increase in cost of labor as one of the many other items which would not be relieved in the OA's plan to roll back the cost of dairy feeds.

Croslin said the petition for higher prices and the data accompanying it, will be sent to the regional office of OPA in Dallas during the next week. It also will be sent to Marvin Jones, he said.

Kickoff Preview By SPAAF Set Tonight

South Plains Army air field will broadcast a "kickoff preview" of the football season at 7:30 o'clock tonight over Station KFYO on the field's weekly radio show at the SPAAF service club.

Capt. Nathan B. Eubank, coach of the Commando football team, will be interviewed on his team's prospects for the coming campaign. The Commandos open their season at Tech Stadium Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock against the 51st General Hospital at Fort Bliss.

Adding to the color of the thirty minute program will be a rousing medley of college football songs by the SPAAF band under the direction of Warrant Officer Harry Dunham.

Judge Orders Release Of Pittsburgh Heiress

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22. (AP) —Judge James Gay Gordon, jr., today ordered the Pennsylvania hospital's department of mental and nervous diseases to discharge Cecelia Grant McCormick, 31-year-old Pittsburgh steel heiress who says she has been virtually a prisoner in mental institutions for 14 years.

"The court finds under the evidence presented that the relator is not insane," the common pleas jurist said after a short hearing on her writ of habeas corpus proceedings, "and she does not require for her own good retention and hospitalization."

Miss McCormick's foster-mother, Mrs. John McCormick, had said in a formal statement that the heiress was committed "voluntarily" and that she was welcome home at any time. The hospital also said she signed voluntary commitment papers.

Long Time Resident Near O'Donnell Dies

O'DONNELL, Sept. 22. (Special) —Nicholas M. Maness, 88, of route 1, a resident of this area for the past thirty years, died this morning at 11 o'clock at his home.

Funeral services are to be held at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the First Methodist church at Draw. Burial will be in Draw cemetery under the direction of Plains Funeral home of Lubbock.

Survivors include 4 daughters, Mrs. Janey Ellis and Mrs. Belle Phillips, both of Cooper; Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson of Greenville; Mrs. G. F. Rittenberry of Pecan Gay and 3 sons, John and Bill Maness, both of Cooper and Grover Manes of O'Donnell.

Advertisers To Aid Anti-Inflation Drive

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. (AP)—Advertisers will use thousands of newspaper advestisements in December to aid the government in its anti-inflation campaign, T. S. Repplier, of Washington, general manager of the war advertising council, told the insurance advertising conference at the Hotel Roosevelt yesterday.

Repplier said that as one of the 41 campaigns being assisted by the war advertising council, the anti-inflation drive would profit from 100 per cent backing of private industry in selling the government's plan.

A human being at rest needs about 1,680 calories daily to maintain life.

New Tax Plan Being Studied

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (AP)—The treasury is working on a tax proposal that would boost the annual income tax bill of individuals by 50 per cent, or $7,000,000,000, it was learned today.

It was estimated in th erecent budget revision that present rates would yield almost $14,000,000,000 a year in income taxes.

The proposal to increase individual income tax rates by 50 per cent is one of several alternative tax programs being considered by the treasury in its search for $12,000,000,000 in additional annual revenue.

Other Proposals Studied

Other proposals include an enforced savings program, which would be on a graduated scale to bring in about $5,000,000,000 a year, and a broadened cradle-to-the-grave social security program which would boost the present $1,250,000,000 yearly total of social security taxes to more than $6,000,000,000.

The widened social security program would increase present payroll deductions for that purpose from one to six per cent.

To Boost Withholdings

The proposed $7,000,000,000 hike in individual income taxes would boost current income tax payroll withholdings from 20 to 30 per cent. The enforced savings plan, on the average, would add a little more than seven per cent on top of that.

Under the proposed $5,000,000,000-a-year enforced savings plan, individual taxpayers would receive a postwar refund of about seven per cent of the amount collected from them during the wartime life of the plan.

Eastern Bottleneck On Oil Is Widening

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. (AP)—Use of pipelines and conversion from railroad to truck transportation is widening rapidly the bottleneck on the movement of petroleum products to the eastern seaboard, Office of Defense transporattion officials said today.

R. W. Schields, associate director of the pipeline section of the ODT, told the 41st annual convention of the National Petroleum association that 350,000 barrels of crude and product petroleum were being delivered to the east daily, compared with 41,000 barrels in January, 1941.

"Well over 600,000 barrels per day" will be delivered with the completion of the 20-inch and the "Big Inch" pipelines, Schields predicted.

S. F. Niness, associate director of the tank-truck section of the ODT, told the convention that the conversion from rail to truck had been so successful that no tank cars were delivering petroleum products to destinations less than 200 miles from loading points.

"REGULAR" AGAIN AFTER 2 WEEKS!

"Cereal Brought Relief from Long Siege of Purgatives!"

Here's a sincere, unsolicited letter every disappointed "doner" will want to read:

"I was a sufferer from constipation. Took pills or medicines of some kind, but got no lasting relief. Finally, I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Have been eating it about 2 weeks now, and have stopped taking pills and things. My bowels move regularly every day. I am a KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN eater from now on!" Mr. Burl Brown, Warren, Ark.

How do scientists explain KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN'S gentle-acting, amazing relief, so familiar to thousands? Simply this: Lack of certain cellulosic elements in the diet is a common cause of constipation. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's richest sources of these elements—which help the intestinal flora lighten and fluff up the contents of the colon, for easy, natural elimination. ALL-BRAN does not "sweep you out." Not a purgative. It is a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If this is your trouble eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if it doesn't give you the relief you've dreamed of. Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Aggies Question Status Of Tech Backfield Star

STILLWATER, Sept. 22—(Special)—Oklahoma A. and M. college's Cowboys prepared this week for their season's inaugural Friday night against the Red Raiders of Texas Tech. The night game will be played in Taft stadium, Oklahoma City.

The Raiders have been Aggie guests twice before in Taft stadium, winning 16-6 in 1941 and tying 6-6 in 1940.

Tech is expected to prove a tough opener for the inexperienced Cowboys. The Raiders looked impressive in downing the Lubbock Air Force 26-14 last Saturday.

Meanwhile, A. and M. officials were surprised to note the presence of Freddie Brown, one-time Cameron Aggie (junior college) player, in Tech's backfield.

Brown spent the spring semester at Oklahoma A. and M. He had looked like the starting tailback for the Punchers in spring practice. When he failed to return to Stillwater this autumn, Coach Jim Lookabaugh assumed that he had been called to the service.

Aggie officials' eyebrows are raised because Brown apparently would list as a transfer student. Even in the lax war-time eligibility requirements, transfers from schools which have not abandoned football, and are not located on a given campus as a man in uniform, are not deemed eligible for varsity competition.

To care for tailbacking chores, the Aggies are depending chiefly upon a freshman from Woodward, Oklahoma, Bob Fenimore, one of the brightest halfback prospects the Cowboys have had in some seasons.

If there are circumstances of which the Aggies are not aware in the Brown case, Fenimore and Brown should have quite a duel in Friday night's game.

Against Tech, Coach Lookabaugh's all-freshman Aggies will get their first test under fire. Several all-staters are in the Aggie ranks, but the Cowboys are so shy of experience with not a man back who ever played collegiate ball, that the first game will have to be played before any evaluation can be made of the Aggie eleven.

NO WITNESSES?

PETERSBURG, Va., (AP)—John Charles Smith, playing at the Petersburg Country Club, watched his ball slice viciously off to the right, zip through the foliage of a tree, strike a limb, bound back onto the course and streak directly onto the green and into the cup for a 142-yard ace.

Tech Squad On Way To Battle

Freddie Brown To Be In Aggie Game

Freddie Brown, the Texas Tech star of last week's 26-14 victory over Lubbock Army Air Field will be in the starting lineup against the Oklahoma Aggies Friday night in Oklahoma City's Taft Stadium, Coach Dell Morgan said Wednesday evening.

Questions of the eligibility of Freddie Brown was hinted in a press dispatch from Stillwater yesterday. These dispatches were the first that Morgan had heard of the matter, and the Texas Tech coach branded the statement as "looking like an advance alibi."

Brown came to Texas Tech as a junior college transfer and never participated in athletics at Oklahoma A. & M. After graduating from the Burkburnett High School, Brown played last year at Cameron Agricultural College, a junior college at Lawton, Okla. As a junior college transfer, Brown is eligible to play at Texas Tech under Southwest Conference rules.

Coach Morgan said Wednesday that he planned to start the same lineup that opened the game last Saturday night. A traveling squad of 26 men was named to make the trip to Oklahoma City.

The team is scheduled to arrive in Oklahoma City at 7 o'clock Thursday evening and will headquarter at the Biltmore Hotel in that city.

Floydada Drills For Battle At Levelland

FLOYDADA, Sept. 20. (Special)—With two practice games behind them and an open date next weekend Floydada High School Whirlwinds will be given a lot of new plays, in addition to stiff toughening up exercises by Coach Floyd Murry in anticipation of their game October 1 at Levelland.

Murry's team is composed of all new boys with the exception of three seniors, one of whom was a first stringer last season. In spite of their inexperience Coach Murry said the Whirlwinds did well at Crowell last Friday night when they lost 13 to 0, after holding for 55 minutes and threatening to score twice.

The Levelland game will be the last practice game on Floydada high's schedule for the season. They begin conference play in District 4-A on October 15, taking on Lockney for the first conference try on October 15 on Wester Field.

COWBOY ACE—Star of the Oklahoma Aggies is Bob Fenimore, who will match skill with Texas Tech's Mighty Mite, Freddie Brown, in the ninth meeting of the two clubs, scheduled to clash Friday night in Taft Stadium in Oklahoma City. The tailback star of the Oklahoma Aggies hails from Woodward, Okla., and is a Freshman.

LAAF Given Chance To Play Tech Again

The Lubbock Army Air Field will get a chance to even the score against the Texas Tech Red Raiders on October 23. The Fliers were named Wednesday to replace the University of New Mexico Lobos on the schedule of the Red Raiders.

When the announcement was made this week that New Mexico had cancelled the game they had with Texas Tech, the Army eleven requested they be allowed to fill the vacated date on the schedule. The game was arranged.

The more experienced Army eleven staged a real battle with the faster, younger collegians and another match between these two teams will be welcomed by the fans.

Yanks Closer To AL Pennant

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. (AP)—The New York Yankees edged closer toward the clinching of another American League championship today with a 4 to 2 victory over the Detroit Tigers as Charley Keller collected his 29th homer.

The blow by Keller came with two aboard in the first inning and turned out to be all the Yankees needed with Hank Borowy pitching seven-hit ball for his 13th triumph and sixth in succession.

Borowy kept the Tigers scoreless until the sixth when Joe Wood tripled and came home on an infield out. An error by Frank Crosetti and two singles gave Detroit its other tally in the seventh, but in the maintime the Yanks had added a final run in their half of the sixth as Crosetti rolled into a force play with the bases loaded.

Altogether the Yanks made 11 hits off Virgil Trucks and Hal Newhouser.

CHISOX WIN TWO

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox took both ends of a swing-shift double header with the Philadelphia Athletics today, taking the second game 2 to 1 on Ralph Hodgins' two-run double in the ninth after winning 6 to 0 in the first.

SENS STREAK STOPPED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (AP)—The St. Louis Browns nipped the Washington Senators' victory streak at 10 straight tonight by walloping the Senators 9-1 in the second game of a doubleheader after being shut out in the opener 4-0, before a crowd of 7,000.

New Stars Add Punch To Bryan Air Field

BRYAN, Tex., Sept. 22. (AP)—Stimulated by the presence of several new candidates previously unable to turn out for daily practice, and stepped up defensive work, the Bryan Air Field is pointing for its second football game of the season—with the Texas Aggies at College Station Saturday.

Backfielder Mike Arcienga, Tackle Loren Proudfit and several other men slated for regular duty who had been slowed up by injuries probably will be ready for action against A. and M.

The team lost its opening game of the season to Randolph Field

Texas is the leading cotton-producing state in the union.

Lubbock Man Recovered from Ear Infection

CASE HISTORY NO. 248

Patient was suffering from pressure on eardrums, he had visited four specialists, and without results. Decided to try chiropractic treatments, and after coming to our clinic an X-ray was made to determine the exact cause, which showed a severe pressure on the nerves leading to the ear drums, causing the drums to swell thereby causing a continuous roaring and pressure discomfort to the entire head.

The first adjustment showed results, and after a few visits to our clinic the condition was relieved and the patient dismissed.

Westerners Drill On Defense For Bobcats

The Lubbock High School Westerners put in a long session of tackling practice Wednesday and will taper off today with a lighter workout before leaving early Friday morning for San Angelo.

The team came through the Tuesday scrimmage in fine shape and the only injury reported Wednesday was a back injury to George Brewer, but this is not expected to slow him down Friday.

The Cowhands' game with Cooper this afternoon at Chapman Field will not slow down the working schedule of the Westerners and drills will go on as scheduled.

Coach J. Mule Davis said Wednesday night that he would probably start the same lineup he started against Odessa last week.

Musial Provides Edge In Series Outfields

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. (AP) — Stan Musial, the ace of the St. Louis Cards, dominates the outfielders in the World Series this year just as Joe DiMaggio did in the past.

The presence of the rosy-cheeked young slugger in rightfield gives the Cardinals a clear-cut edge over the New York Yankees in any comparison of the two outfields despite the Bronx Bombers' Charley Keller.

Musial was a subdued figure in the Cardinals' conquest of the Yankees last year, batting .222 with no hit longer than a double and sometimes acting like a frightened rabbit on fly balls.

Last year in the regular season Musial hit .315, including ten homers, ten triples and 32 doubles, and batted in 72 runs. This year he is a 50 per cent better ball player than he was as a rookie. With two weeks to go he is batting .356 and already has collected 13 homers, 18 triples and 44 doubles and knocked in 75 runs. ,

ADDED TO VMI STAFF

LEXINGTON, Va., (AP)—Joseph Daher, former Bucknell athlete, has been added to the football coaching staff at Virginia Military Institute.

Cardinals Win Over Brooklyn

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Cooper brothers proved too much for the Brooklyn Dodgers to handle today as the St. Louis Cardinals squeezed out a 4-3 triumph that shaved Brooklyn's second place margin in the National League to half a game.

Mort Cooper acquired his 21st victory against eight defeats by holding the Dodgers to nine hits while Walker Cooper drove in three runs with four hits, one of them a homer with one on in the fourth.

This clout, Cooper's ninth of the year, put the Cardinals in front 2-1 and caused Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers to remove his starting pitcher, Kirby Higbe, for a pinchhitter in the fifth.

The maneuver brought a pinch single from Paul Waner, scoring a run, and Frenchy Bordagaray singled across another to tie the score. But it also brought rookie Rex Barney to the mound and his wildness gave the Cards the two other runs they needed.

CUBS-PHILS DIVIDE

CHICAGO, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Phillies and Cubs divided the spoils of a double header today with Chicago winning the first game, 5 to 1, and Philadelphia the second, 3 to 0. Claude Passeau won his 15th game of the season in the opener while Al Gerheauser won his tenth in the nightcap.

GIANTS-REDS SPLIT

CINCINNATI, Sept. 22 (AP)—The New York Giants scored five runs in the seventh inning to take command of the Cincinnati Reds 10-4 in the second game of a doubleheader today after losing the opener 4-3 to Elmer Riddle inspite of a four-hit pitching job by rookie Bill Voiselle.

BRAVES EDGE BUCS

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22 (AP)—Butch Etchison's double, after an error and a walk, and Nate Andrews' single drove in three Boston runs in the eighth inning today to give the Braves a 5-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Andrews gave up eight hits after the Braves had scored twice in the first inning, but couldn't stop the Pirates from scoring in the fourth and sixth to take a brief 3-2 lead.

NOT DEFENDING

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — A year ago, Coach Carl Voyles' William and Mary football team won the Southern conference in a breeze. This year Voyles and the Indians are without a team.

Cowhands Open With Cooper High Today

Lubbock football fans will be given a preview of future Westerner teams at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Chapman Field where the Lubbock High School Cowhands will clash with Cooper High School in the first game of the season for the local lads.

Coach Howard Price has been putting the younger Cowhands through the paces since the start of practice and has whipped together a squad that has been looking very promising on the practice field.

Black Hubbers Close With Airmen Sunday

The Lubbock Black Hubbers will close the season Sunday afternoon at Hubber Park in a game with the Negro nine of Lubbock Army Air Field. The game will start at 3 o'clock.

The Hubbers have had a very successful season here this year and have formed a large following among the baseball fans of this area.

The LAAF nine may have trouble finding enough wood to play the season's finale. Lt. John E. Johns, who commands the colored troops at LAAF, is still looking for new bats to replace the dozen bats his team broke last week in coming from behind to nose out their bitter rivals, SPAAF in an 11 inning thriller.

Admission charges for the game will be 25 cents for adults and officers and 10 cents for children.

A Universal Labor Draft

EVEN before Pearl Harbor, many New Dealers urged enactment of an universal labor draft law. They have persisted in their efforts despite many rebuffs. They are active with a present vigor which suggests consciousness that it is now or never so far as this law is concerned. If Congress does not approve such draft now, then the law probably never will be passed.

Naturally, advocates urge the measure as one of war necessity. Their efforts could not be justified in any other way. If they can show convincingly that the success or shortening of the war demands it, then it should be passed. But, and emphatically, Congress and the people should be satisfied that it is a measure of war necessity before it is approved.

At the moment, dozen of reasons justify most serious doubts as to the need for the universal labor draft.

Let's consider some briefly: Charges that labor now is being used most inefficiently in many war plants; the retention of hundreds of thousands of employes on government payrolls in spite of congressional charges that they represent a waste of manpower; the established fact that present production exceeds shipping capacity to move materials to fighting fronts; the charges that this nation now is building up such tremendous surpluses of war materials of almost every kind that they are sure to add seriously to the post-war unemployment problem; the undenied fact that plants which would benefit most from a labor draft are, in the great majority of cases, located in areas faced with the most serious problems of over-crowding; and the self-evident fact that the geographical distances involved, together with relative spareness of population, would be a forbidding, if not impossible, handicap to overcome in making such a draft workable. Despite the contentions of labor draft arguments, the fact that such a draft may have worked in small and densely populated England does not mean it would work in the sprawling United States.

Add to these are the reasons which have been chiefly responsible for refusal to enact this law in the past. There still is a most serious question as to whether people of this nation are willing to entrust to bureaucrats the power to move every man, woman and child in this nation to any place and job the officials choose at any time they choose. Yet that is the sort of power they seek when they urge passage of the Universal labor draft law.

THE motives of the administration in supporting the law are open to serious question. The operation of such a draft would require either another vast bureau or tremendous enlargement of existing agencies—which would mean more voters on federal payrolls and, more tax-bought support for the administration next year. Then, too, the existence of such a law would put the administration in position to shift voters from one state to another in such a way that hundreds of thousands of them would, to all practical purposes, be disfranchised in the 1944 election.

Possibly the administration would not be guilty of such abuses. But the fact also remains that, in the final analysis, the administration is the most powerful political machine this nation ever has seen. It is alert to and conscious of political opportunities, as has been proved repeatedly in the past. If it could use the universal labor draft for selfish political purposes, then one must be a blind optimist indeed to imagine that the opportunity might not be used.

Even now, the chances seem against the adoption of this law. But probably there is a stronger possibility of its enactment tha never before. Certainly, the administration is leaving no stone unturned as it attempts to high-pressure Congress into passage of the universal labor draft.

As already remarked, most Americans would accept such a law if a reasonable doubt could be raised in their minds that it might hasten victory. But, unless such doubts can be raised, they should oppose it with all the vigor at their command, and they should see to it that the men who represent them in Congress are informed concerning how the masses of Americans feel about this business.

"Economy is the only thing now that will save civilization," declares an editor. Well, so long, Civilization; in some respects it was nice having known you.

SYNOPSIS: Settled in Farmington, Lita—now Ann Marshall—goes to church, meets Ken's mother and dislikes her. She expects Ken to call, but he has to take his mother visiting and to church again. Ann sees herself sitting alone, while Ken escorts his mother.

COUNTRY CLUB SURPRISE

CHAPTER VII

At last Farmington had recognized Ann. Slowly, fearfully, as if afraid it might do the wrong thing, it had taken her in. Neighbors had called. She had been invited to parties. And Ken had made it evident for all to see, that he was interested in her. Only his mother did no more than greet her at church. So far, the much-sought-after invitation to tea had not arrived.

"That's just Mother, darling," he explained. "It takes time . . ."

"Time," snorted Ann as she looked into his eyes. "I came here the first of February and now it's March. Have you told her yet that you expect to marry me?"

"Darling," he protested. "You know I haven't. She would be horrified to know I could be engaged to a girl I had known less than two months. I have to go slow. I want her to like you and approve of everything we do.

"Which reminds me. I'm taking you to the Country Club, darling, to the opening spring formal. You will get to know everybody you haven't met. There are a lot of members in the smaller towns around and then they invite people from Richmond. It really is quite an affair. After that you won't need to worry about what people are going to say."

"I'm not worrying." She laughed up at him as the car slid along through the March night. The moon was full and it made the landscape into a fairyland. The faint fragrance of spring was in the air.

"I have you and whether your mama likes me or not doesn't make any difference. I cared at first, because she was so snooty and all, but I don't now, because I don't think she would ever like any girl you were interested in. She'd always try to keep you from marrying her, and she wouldn't think anybody who didn't have an army of illustrious ancestors was good enough for you anyway. So I don't really care any more."

"I'm glad, darling, because I can't change her, but one of these days she'll unbend all at once and ask you to tea."

Ann snuggled down against him, her head against his shoulder. Why argue about Ken's mother?

Why argue about anything? She was beside him, his arm was about her shoulders, they were driving through a perfect moonlit night, and that was all that mattered.

"It may be too late when she does." She laughed as she spoke. "I might have another engagement. But forget about her. Kiss me and tell me you love me and let's think about the dance and what a good time we are going to have."

Ann planned for the dance eagerly, bought a new dress for occasion. As she sat before her dressing table that night, giving a final touch to her makeup, Sally stood back and surveyed her.

"You look lovely. I do believe you get more beautiful every day. And say what you will, this rest has done you a world of good. I hadn't realized how tired you were; now you look as fresh as a spring day."

"Thanks. I hope Farmington thinks so," answered Ann as she stood up and for the twentieth time looked at the full view reflection of her self to see that everything was right. Her hair was rolled high in front and hung in a mane of gold about her shoulders. Her dress was white satin, a slim gleaming sheath that revealed her white throat and shoulders, that fell in a swirl of folds about her ankles, with a lovely jeweled belt and clips.

She hadn't realized that she could look so young. Her eyes were shining. She had never looked better in her life.

She caught up her velvet wrap. "Bye, darling. Wish me luck."

She ran down the steps to meet Ken. This was as she had dreamed, the wide curving staircase, the stately hall, Ken waiting, watching her as she came toward him.

"You're lovely, sweet." He caught her as she reached the last step. "Lovelier than I've ever seen you. Everybody will be crazy about you."

The car sped over the highway, into the Country Club driveway. The echo of laughter floated out from the clubhouse, the music of an orchestra, gay voices. So this was Farmington's society at play.

It seemed strange to be dancing with Ken. She had danced with him only once before.

"Do you like to dance with me?" she teased, her eyes laughing up into his. "Remember I'm the nation's best."

"Like the breath of thistledown. I'll have to struggle to hold my own. See all those men looking at you. I can feel a rush coming on."

"I hope so," she murmured, her eyes dancing.

The music had stopped. People were crowding about; men were asking for dances. Ann had never known this kind of dancing, this way of being rushed, had never heard this kind of compliments. Always before they had been of tribute to her talent—but now they were the compliments of gallant southern men paying tribute to a beautiful woman. They made her dizzy, they went to her head like wine.

At intermission she walked out on the veranda with Ken, clinging to his arm. It was chilly, but she did not even feel the cold as she stood by the porch railing looking out over the rolling fields toward Farmington, twinkling in the distance like a tiny jewel. The stars were so close she felt she could reach up and touch them. Cold—she wasn't cold, not when her heart was warm and glowing.

"You've gone over big, Ann, my sweet. You're perfect. Everybody is crazy about you."

Cars were racing into the driveway. There were shouts, more laughter as the occupants came up the steps.

"Who are they?" Ann asked as she watched from the shadows.

"The crowd from Richmond, I guess. They're always late. No telling who it is. We'll go in as soon as the music starts and see."

The music was beginning again. Couples were drifting into the ballroom.

As Ann and Ken stood a moment at the entrance, watching the scene before them, there was a startled exclamation from a tall, rather handsome, middle-aged man standing in the stagline just a little beyond them. He was staring at Ann.

"Jean! Am I seeing things? Am I crazy? Jean darling!"

He rushed toward Ann, catching her shoulder, peering into her face. She had a glimpse of dark blue eyes, straight, good-looking features, black hair springled liberally with gray, but she couldn't think, for he was flinging words at her.

"Jean . . . you aren't . . . you can't be Jean Ann. . . Why it's been 25 years. . . . I—I thought you were dead."

"I—I'm sorry." She stumbled for words. Her head was spinning.

"John, you're crazy!" Ken spoke quickly. "What's the matter? Did you have too much to drink before you left Richmond, or after?"

"I'm not drunk, but I'm crazy, I think, seeing ghosts. She's the image of Jean—my first wife. But it couldn't be. Who are you?"

"I'm Jean Ann Marshall." Ann found words at last. "But why? Who are you?"

"I—I'm John Marshall from Richmond. I—I think I must be your father," he said.

Martin Van Buren was the first president of the United States to be born an American citizen.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

ONE of the most disgraceful sights I have ever seen is the Honor Roll in White Plains, principal city in one of the country's righest counties, Westchester, just 22 miles from New York.

From this city more than 5,000 people commute to New York every day. It is the shopping center for the whole county, the county seat, and inhabited by well-to-do, home-loving Americans.

Yet here in this prosperous town, and in the very center of it for all to see, is this monument to neglect, cheap politics and a complete lack of civic spirit.

There are several hundred names on the Honor Roll, all local boys, all beloved by the folks.

More than half of the name plates are hanging down askew, quite a few have fallen off completely, the paint is cracked and peeling, a lot of the names can't even be read any longer.

The local paper has had several editorials on the matter, the builders of the horrible example have promised remedial action, additional money has been appropriated to fix the mess (although I know not why) but every day the thing looks worse.

What is there about people like us who can be so patriotic and so sloppy at the same time?

Why don't the citizens of White Plains rise up in anger at the desecration of their boys who have gone to give their lives, if need be, in the service of your country, theirs and mine?

When the Honor Roll was unveiled, there were hifalutin speeches, flags were waving and the band played stirring tunes.

Two weeks later all that was forgotten. A proud monument had become a pink pile—a symbol of honor had turned into an ugly blot of shame!

AREN'T all of us too eacy-going, too matter-of-fact, too changeable?

Maybe it's all the same characteristics that make us go on strike when the house is burning, that makes us go joy-riding when the gasoline is needed to bomb Europe, that makes us think the war is won when it has just begun.

That White Plains Honor Roll is a symbol.

Before we can honor others we must first be people of honor ourselves.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

MILITARY cheftains, hungry for oil to feed their planes, tanks and ships, cannot understand administration officials' delay in framing a program that will induce greater exploration and production. Requirements for every major operation have been filled so far. Their concern is the maintenance of a continuous flow as the theater of activity expands and becomes more intense.

The prolonged debate furnishes one of the serious and spectacular examples of the blunders on the domestic front so viciously assailed by the folks back home and returning Congressmen.

Harold L. Ickes proposed a 35-cent a barrel increase for the operators of April 7th in a letter to OPA Boss Prentiss Brown. That was turned down on May 1st. Ickes' second plea was dated June 10th. Not until August 7th did Brown forward another rejection slip to the cabinet member.

This memo was not made public because James Byrnes thought the intramural discussion was assuming the shape of controversy banned by the President. The problem was honded to Economic Stabilizer Fred Vinson for final decision and he is embarking on still another study of the matter.

Army, Interior, Price administration, the industry—all are agreed that boosting petroleum reserves through sinking new wells and probing capacity is an acute need. Everyone recognizes that a start must be made immediately in the event the conflict should last several years, especially the Japanese phase. The differences are only in the mechanism to be employed. Ickes favors a direct upping of prospective profits, while Brown holds out for a subsidy as more economical.

Since the extra cost involved would amount to only a few hundred million—and even that figure is in dispute—the men in charge of winning the war are yelling for action. In desperation, they have been forced to drill in Canada.

WILDCATTERS: Some experienced Washingtonians suspect that a mite of partisanship, as well as economics, lies behind the Ickes-Brown disagreement.

New Dealers cite huge profits of the enormous old-line corporations as an argument against a price increase. But the secretary, who has never been accused of being a pal to big interests, replies that the higher return through his scheme can be recouped by the excess profit tax.

FDR's politically-minded aides concede that some inducement must be given, but they are afraid the cabinet member's plan would affront millions of voters by shoving up gasoline bills. The Brown financing cost would be hidden. Ickes' figures show that the boost per gallon would be less than one cent.

Interior files do reflect one dangerous trend. The number of wildcatters—those imaginative and daring individuals largely responsible for discovering new oil fields—is dropping. Harold had estimated that drilling must total at least 4,500 in 1943 to maintain an adequate future supply. For lack of financial opportunities the figure is currently running to only 3,100 and the men are not tapping so large a volume of the precious battle product as had been anticipated.

EXPLAINED: The unhappy experience of Canadian publicists in announcing demobilization of their domestic forces sparked sympathetic grins on the faces of such American colleagues-in-verbiage as Elmer Davis, Lowell Mellott, Archibald MacLeish et al. The incident demonstrated that making major errors in this difficult field is not a national trait.

The failure of our neighbor's War Information board in Washington to explain the situation properly precipitated explosions from Capitol Hill to Ottawa. Senator Burton K. Wheeler cited it as an argument against a fathers' draft; Premier Mackenzie King's party associates telephoned desperately for correction of this apparent slight to their military contribution—and implied possible damage to his political fortunes.

It remained for FDR, as he has often done on behalf of his own propagandists, to save his old friend's skin. The first story appeared in morning newspapers in the District of Columbia. At his 4 o'clock press conference the President amended the accounts with a few additional facts. FDR explained that the decision merely meant mustering out a home guard that was no longer needed and could not be sent overseas in any event. King's harassed representatives issued an elucidative release that evening, but it did not hit the headlines in force or volume.

BATTLEFIELDS: The generally unknown fact is that the Maple Leaf quota of fighting troops is larger than our own, proportionately. The dominion sent about 300,000 to the various fronts out of a population of less than 12 million. Only volunteers can be shipped into the danger zones.

Even this exposition does not present the true picture. The French-Canadian province of Quebec has not provided its share of the contingent abroad, and that area has almost 3,000,000 residents, leaving the other 8,000,000 to furnish the recruits. On the same percentage basis the United States would have around 4,500,000 men on the battlefields now.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

NEWEST smearing of businessmen in government is the imputation by Left Wingers that the head of WPB's Lumber division demands that Sitka spruce shall be exclusively used in mosquito bombers because he is a former employe of the corporation said to have a monopoly.

The smirch is part of a campaign to undermine faith in private industrialists working for Uncle Sam. The radicals do not believe that such men can be dis-interested public servants. They suspect that if an authority is appointed by the government to manage a branch for which he is trained, this man will feather the nests of his old associates.

Rather than select square pegs for square roles, the pinks prefer to have Washington pick a professor to handle meat and a butcher to teach. Whenever this theory is disregarded, the muckrackers—as in the case cited above—spatter both the federal specialist and the firm from which he has been drawn.

LOGS: Target for this latest sinister slur is the Weyerhauser Timber company. The plant in Longview, Washington—largest in the United States—a few days ago was awarded the Army "E," the first ever bestowed on a sawmill.

Significantly it won the honor by turning out great quantities of Noble fir and hemlock, alternates of Sitka, the wood it is alleged to have cornered. In the last year the Longview unit shipped only 8,000 feet of Sitka for aircraft manufacture compared with 16 million feet of Noble and Douglas fir, and hemlock for the same purpose.

A spruce cutting project has been inaugurated on government-owned land in Alaska. The stumpage is near the water, simplifying the transportation problem. Axmen employed through Federal contracts raft the logs to Washington mills but none goes to the Weyerhauser concern.

WOOD: Forestry experts say that although Sitka is highly rated for plane making because of its strength-weight ratio, only six per cent of a first class trunk can be utilized. Its growth is like that of mahogany, single trees scattered among other species, often on mountain peaks.

The United States has millions of feet of this valuable material. Large tracts are located in the Olympic National park. But all sources are isolated or in inaccessible or restricted areas. Chopping and hauling are expensive and the labor shortage is an additional drawback.

To keep up British and Canadian mosquito bomber deliveries, the WPB sought a substitute for the elusive lend-lease commodity. It decided to try Noble fir and hemlock, long considered second-rate timber by western hewers. Disregarded for flying machine use two years ago, these trees—not the scant Sitka spruce—sustain U.S. aircraft wood production.

Here And There In Texas

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Sept. 22 —Texas faces further dislocations and discomforts in meeting the wartime demand for manpower.

The challenge to place more men—and women—where they properly belong in relation to the war effort raises numerous problems which a reorganized War Manpower Commission administration is seeking to solve.

Realizing that Texas was too big for centralized administration of this, the state has been split into 12 areas, each with its own director.

This is because no two communities have the same difficulties and facilities, explains Acting State WMC Director Everett R. Speer.

Although Speer will continue to co-ordinate the state wide program through his Austin office, the area directors, aided in each instance by a management-labor committee, will have complete authority after Oct. 15 to operate their own programs.

Need Is Increasing

As the war progresses and the need for workers on the home front continues to increase, important changes will be wrought in the lives of many citizens, Speer predicted.

He added, significantly:

"Out program thus far has been one of voluntary cooperation and with complete understanding it will continue to be operated on that basis."

SPEER believes Texans will arise to the occasion.

He declared:

"Texas has a far greater understanding of the manpower problem than many of our adjacent states. He have had the war brought closer to us by reason of the imposing heroic deeds of courage and accomplishments by Texans, and because of our shipbuilding facilities, aircraft plants and munition factories, and because of the preponderance of military personnel located in the state.

"Our job is clearly defined and I am sure that, although the War Manpower Commission is charged with the responsibility for operating the program, Texas and Texans will shoulder their share of the responsibilities in a patriotic cooperative manner consistent with Texas traditions."

Situations Are Varied

One of the immediate problems before area directors is switching workers from areas with surpluses to those with shortages.

This means that Austin, Longview, Waco, Abilene, Brownsville and San Antonio must help furnish labor quotas for Beaumont, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth and to a lesser degree for Amarillo and El Paso and even for out-of-state areas with shortages.

Yet in no two cities in the same categories are conditions identical, said Speer, adding:

"The rules in Dallas are not applicable in Houston. Amarillo and El Paso are secondary demand areas but their problems are not similar in any respect."

THIS is precisely why administration has fanned out on a 12-area basis so that rules can be made and enforced by men living within the affected community and familiar with local people and conditions.

Speer said the new problem will call for the recruiting of "many thousands of women workers not now in the labor market," among other things.

He declared it will demand also employment of minority racial groups, extensive training for new workers, transfer of workers from less essential occupations and employment of handicapped and part time workers.

He cautioned that solution of these problems will bring into play many forces affecting the community life including housing, transportation, public schools and all civilian activities.

Only One Objective

"The War Manpower commission has but one objective," he said, "and that is to maintain war production at the highest possible level and to keep the civilian economy operating.

"If we upset normal life in Texas in some respects it must be remembered that we are not operating under normal conditions—we are in a total war.

"We will win it or we will lose it according to how well we do our jobs on both fronts."

Unusual War Record

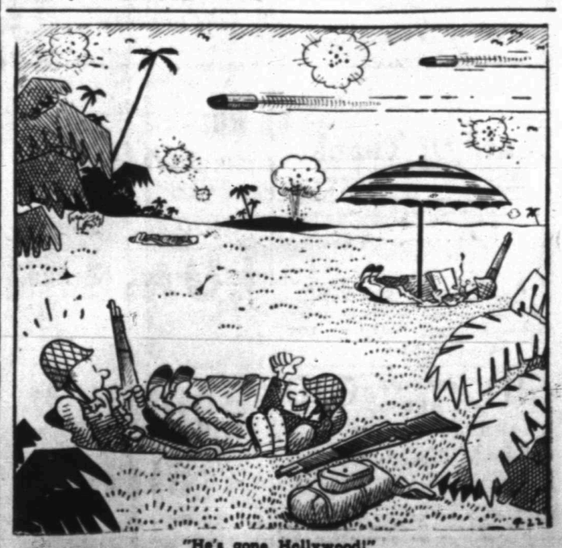

If Denison is typical of other Texas towns, the Army can put up recruiting posters like the one the Marine corps uses which reads: "Join the Marines and help Texas win the war."

Of the 17 ranks in the Army, Denison is represented in 16. They need a three-star general for complete representation.

Heading the list is Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander of United Nations Forces in the Mediterranean area, who was born here Oct. 14, 1890. Denison's two other generals are Maj. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, assistant chief of staff in the Army Service Forces, and Brig. Gen. Walter A. Dumas, commandant of the Tank Destroyer Division at Temple.

Denison also is the home of colonels, three lieutenant colonels, ten majors and 18 captains.

REAL MONEY MAKERS
On account of the owner having to leave Lubbock, I can sell two of the best businesses in Lubbock. One of these places is clearing over $600.00 month, $1000.00 cash will handle it, balance easy terms. The other place is clearing over $300.00 month, and $750.00 cash will handle it, balance good terms. They are first class businesses, no junk, and priced right. If you are experienced in feeding the public, you will buy one or both places. Let me show you.

U. S. Contracts For Cuba's 1944 Sugar

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (AP) — The United States agreed today to buy a minimum of 4,000,000 short tons of 1944 crop Cuban sugar at 2.65 cents a pound f.o.b. Cuban ports.

The new contract, the largest ever negotiated with Cuba, was signed between the Commodity Credit corporation (CCC) an agency of the government, and the Cuban Sugar Stabilization institute.

The 1944 sugar crop is the third successive crop to be sold by the Cuban government to the United States government. In announcing the deal, the State department asserted it was "further significant evidence of the cooperation of the two countries in the joint war effort."

The price paid was the same as last year. The crop is larger by 1,000,000 tons than the 1942 crop.

STOCKS IN DECLINE

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—Stocks declined fractions to a point or more today as the market absorbed a moderate amount of profit selling inspired by last week's rise.

Down .2 of a point, the Associated Press 60-stock composite closed at 51.3. Of 855 stocks traded, 205 advanced, 408 declined and 242 were unchanged. Transactions to total: 661,060 shares against 743,366 yesterday.

Among the wider losers were Bethlehem Steel, American Can, Dow Chemical, United Air Lines, Pan American Airways and American Airlines.

Fractionally lower were General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Oliver Farm, Douglas, Johns-Manville and Texas Co. Rails were mixed with preferred shares of Alleghany corp. in some demand at better levels. Other gainers included Pepsi-Cola, Standard Oil of California and Cerro de Pasco.

Oils made progress in an irregular curb market, with Venezuela Petroleum, Creole and Humble leading. American Cyanamid, Aluminum, Ltd., and Pittsburgh Plate Glass lost ground. Transfers were 204,800 shares against 232,840 the day before.

Cotton..

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, Sept. 22(AP)—Cotton futures today closed 40 to 65 cents a bale lower. The market was adversely affected by tapering in the recent volume of trade price fixing and a moderate increase in hedge selling.

Traders heard more talk of a holding movement in the south but some quarters expressed doubt as to whether the movement of new crop cotton under the loan program would prove to be as large as expected in view of reports of limited warehouse facilities in some southern sections.

Futures closed (old contracts) 40 to 65 cents a bale lower.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22 (AP)—The average price of middling 15-16ths-inch cotton today at ten designated southern spot markets was 40 cents a bale lower at 20.47 cents a pound; average for the past 30 market days 20.36; middling 7-8ths-inch average 19.45.

Allies Advance

Potenza. The city of 25,000 lies 56 miles east of Saleno, 64 miles southwest of Allied-held Bari on the Adriatic.

Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's American and British troops of his Fifth Army fanned out steadily and cautiously north and northeast of Salerno. They encountered heavy German artillery and mortar fire. East of Salerno, only small rearguard detachments were encountered.

The Germans were in strong mountain position guarding Naples. Their continued control of volcanic Mt. Vesuvius and its bottleneck coastal routes presented Gen. Clark with much the same strategic problem that Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery had in Sicily in the final coastal drive upon Messina past Mt. Etna.

First Phase Over

"The first phase of the Salerno battle now is definitely over," the military spokesman said, "we have inflicted upon the enemy heavy losses in killed and captured and in equipment. Many prisoners have been taken who were Poles, Czechs and others impressed into Hitler's Army. This would appear to indicate a serious German manpower shortage. The terrain we now have entered is more difficult than anything we encountered in Tunisia or Sicily."

The frantic German demolitions in Naples and nearby showed the enemy was well aware of the importance of the last mountain barrier he holds before the broad lowlands leading directly into Naples. Approaches to the city were heavily mined. The present fighting area was so rugged that Allied troops had to haul their heavy equipment by hand up steep sides of mountains, through gorges and ravines.

Hess Peace Plan

Karl Haushofer, German geopolitical theorist who is believed to have greatly influenced Hitler's ideas, had told him (Hess) that the duke was "an Englishman who would understand his point of view."

The Duke of Hamilton since has been commended officially for his loyalty to Britain.

Giving his "word of honor" that Hitler had never entertained any designs against the British empire, that he would "sincerely regret" its collapse, and that he did not aspire to world domination, Hess proposed these six peace points:

1. Germany should have a free hand in Europe.

2. England should have a free hand in the British empire; ex-German colonies should return to Germany.

3. Russia should be included in Asia, but Germany had "certain demands" to make of her which would have to be settled either by negotiation or war. It was not true that Hitler planned an early attack on Russia. (He attacked Russia the following months.)

4. The British should evacuate Iraq.

5. The peace agreement must contain provision for reciprocal indemnification of British and German nationals whose property had been expropriated as the result of the war.

6. The proposal could be considered only if it were negotiated by a different British government from the present one, because "Churchill, who had planned the war since 1936 and his colleagues who had lent themselves to his war policy were not persons with whom the fuehrer would negotiate."

MacArthur's Remarks Termed Unfortunate

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 22. (AP) — Newspapers here, featuring prominently the statement of Gen. Douglas MacArthur indicating he felt his role in the Pacific was being subordinated, commented today that the statement was unfortunate.

The Mirror asked a clarification of the commands of Gen. MacArthur and Vice Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten in southeast Asia.

The Herald said it "regrets that MacArthur has seen fit to comment publicly on rumors recently circulated in the United States regarding future strategy in the Pacific."

Three Die, Fourth Parachutes Safely

YUMA ARMY AIR FIELD, Yuma, Ariz., Sept. 22 (U.P.)—Two instructors and an aviation cadet were killed late yesterday afternoon and a fourth parachuted to safety when two training planes collided in mid-air 15 miles southeast of the Yuma field it was announced today.

The dead included Aviation Cadet Robert Hall Hanna, Brownwood, Tex., whose wife survives at Winterhaven, Cal.

Ten U. S. Divisions Said About Salerno

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP) — The Berlin radio said today in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press that Allied forces operating in the Salerno area in Italy have been expanded in strength to 10 divisions with the arrival of three new divisions—including the 82nd airborne and the Third U. S. infantry divisions.

August Crude Output Highest On Record

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Crude petroleum production in August rose to the largest volume on record, the Federal Reserve board reported today, while lake shipments of iron ore also reached a peak level.

In its monthly summary of business and financial conditions, the board said industrial activity and war spending "were maintained in August at a high level," adding that commodity prices showed little change and that retail trade continued in large volume.

Output of manufactures and minerals showed little change, the summary said, and the board's seasonally adjusted total index of industrial production remained stationary.

Reporting a $900,000,000 mid-September gain in lendable reserves of member banks, the board said commercial loans, which increased $100,000,000 in July and August, jumped $250,000,000 during the week ending Sept. 15.

known defects."

Nelson said "we are still short of current aircraft schedules" and insisted "further rapid increases in the volume of production and further improvement in quality are required."

The WPB report said there were significant gains in the production of naval craft and in equipment vital to a land invasion. Self-propelled artillery increased 32 per cent over July, small arms, infantry weapons and anti-aircraft guns went up four per cent. Motor vehicles gained 10 per cent.

Production of combat vehicles, including tanks, declined six per cent, reflecting a cut in tank schedules.

New Ship Record

Deliveries of Navy vessels hit a new record by increasing 40 per cent over July. Production exceeded the one-billion-dollar mark. Minor combat vessels increased 61 per cent, major combat vessels 41 per cent and landing craft 10 per cent. Merchant ship construction held about level.

Ammunition was about unhanged—no increase was scheduled—but the report said "by next spring this category is expected to become one of the outstanding Army ordnance programs, emphasizing the shift from capital to expendable items throughout the war program."

August production on the WPB index was 618 points, which means munitions manufacturing for that month was more than six times that in the pre-Pearl Harbor month of November, 1941.

"Fakir" Nailed To Board 21 Days Dies

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 22. (AP) — After apparently being nailed to a board by his hands and feet for 21 days in a theater, a 36-year-old Swiss died last night of a heart attack.

The man, Harry Wickley, had announced he would remain nailed for one hundred days, but illness interrupted his performance this week. He had appeared in many parts of Latin America billed as a "fakir."

Churchill Quiet On Gen. Marshall Rumor

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill declined to comment in the House of Commons today on reports from Washington that Gen. George C. Marshall had been nominated as global commander in chief of the Allied offensive forces.

"No, sir," was the prime minister's reply when Major Charles Taylor asked him if he had any statement to make on the matter.

Two Blows Hit Japs On Guinea

captured Kaiapit have killed 120 Japanese.

The Allied air arm struck heavily north of the new operations scene around Madang, making 46 bombing and strafing passes. Nine Japanese planes were downed at Hopoi.

Hopoi is an enemy air strip 20 miles east of Lae, or between there and Finschhafen. The planes shot down were in a formation of escorted medium bombers "attempting to attack shipping," possibly indicating they were trying to interfere with the sea units of the Finschhafen operation. From Finschhafen, for which General MacArthur now is bidding, it is only 70 miles across Dampier Strait to New Britain.

Jap Cargo Ship Sunk

Today's communique also announced the sinking by air bombardment of a Japanese cargo ship in the Bismarck Sea.

Utilization of land, sea and air elements in the Finschhafen attack emphasized the type of warfare which General MacArthur believes will fold up the Japanese the quickest. It has only been recently, however, as in the pincer envelopment of Lae, that the fleet has been able to play much of a role.

The two enemy airdromes on New Britain nearest to Finschhafen—Cape Glochester and Gasmata—were heavily raided. Sixty tons of bombs were dropped by four-engined units on areas at Cape Gloucester where planes are dispersed. The planes, including two-engined Mitchell bombers and attack planes which hit Gasmata at dawn, encountered no interception and all got back.

Coastal Supply Road

The main target in the Madang sector, northeast of Finschhafen was Japan's coastal supply road. Four more bridges were added to the four blown to bits in raids there Monday. Points where troops are bivouaced and supply installations also were hit.

These planes, bombers with a fighter escort, likewise met no enemy air opposition, attesting to the effectiveness of recent raids on enemy airdromes aroung Wewak.

The cargo vessel sunk was a 1,500-tonner spotted off Kavieng, New Ireland. At the other end of New Ireland, a 5,000-ton Japanese merchant-vessel was bombed and set afire off Capt St. George by an Allied reconnaissance plane.

The communique announced the loss of the Allied transport-freighter John Penn at Guadalcanal. It was bomber and sunk while returning there recently after landing troops and cargo at a forward base.

tin against Thomas' soliciting union memberships in Texas without obtaining an organizer's card as required by state law. He was not immediately available for comment on the restraining order.

Sheriff Plans Action

Before the order was granted in Austin Sheriff Neal Polk of Harris county had said Thomas would be arrested if he asked anybody to join the oil workers. Assistant District Attorney W. K. Richardson had said Harris county prosecutors were ready to press the case, and Assistant Attorney General Fagan Dickson sent word he would be in the audience at the Pelly gathering.

"I have the utmost respect for the Texas Rangers and the Texas sheriffs. I didn't come down here to challenge them. But I am sure that this law is unconstitutional," Thomas told a press conference.

Will Use Occasion

"I have been invited by Texas representatives of the oil workers union," he said, "to speak at a meeting to organize employes of the Humble Oil company.

"I shall certainly urge that those present join the union. The right of any American to speak freely in Texas or anywhere in the United States and to urge workers to join a union is guaranteed by the constitutions of the United States and of the state of Texas."

In addition to his union office, Thomas is a member of the War Labor board and of President Roosevelt's labor advisory committee.

"I haven't been in jail much," he said. "Just one time—and only two hours then."

447 U. S. Bombers Lost Over Europe

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP)—British Air Secretary Sir Archibald Sinclair told Commons today that 1,651 British and 447 American bombers, based in England, were reported lost over northern Europe during the eight months ended Aug. 31.

He added that 306 British and 100 American planes were lost during August and 195 British and 108 American craft in July.

Berlin Radio Reports Loss Of Allied Ships

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Berlin radio reported today that German submarines had sunk three Allied destroyers and two other ships in the Mediterranean, but failed to say when these alleged successes were achieved.

The report was not confirmed by Allied disclosures on shipping losses.

Pacific Claimed Not Under Mountbatten

LONDON, Sept. 22. (AP) — The command of Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, new Allied southeast Asia commander-in-chief, will range from the waters off Madagascar east to Sumatra and will span French Indo-China, Thailand, Malaya and Burma, Reuter's far eastern affairs writer said tonight.

News Briefs

Capt. Elmer L. Tarbox, Higgins, Texas, former football luminary at Texas Technological college, and Capt. James O. Roebuck, Olton, Texas, have been awarded the Aid medal, according to an announcement of the Tenth United States Air force based in India, the Associated Press reported Wednesday night. Capt. Tarbox was awarded for meritorious achievement while participating as a pilot, in a bombardment squadron. He completed a total of 100 hours flying time on combat missions during which exposure to enemy fire was probable and expected, the dispatch said.

C. E. Gray of 2823 Elm street, reported to police Wednesday afternoon the theft of an automobile, a black '34 Chevrolet sedan, license 965-855. The vehicle had a "for sale" sign in red paint on the glass.

Mrs. J. E. Brooks of 2629 Twenty-first street notified police that a gladstone bag valued at $25 had been stolen Wednesday afternoon from a parked car.

Capt. Harold Cocanougher, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cocanougher of 1711-B Fourteenth street is home on a 30-day leave after serving for about a year in Australia with the U. S. army.

Eckhart Transferred To Oklahoma City

Capt. Gabriel A. Eckhart, commanding officer of the 60th subdepot, the supply and engineering branch of the Air Service command at Lubbock Army Air field, Wednesday was ordered transferred to the Oklahoma City Air depot, regional headquarters of the ASC.

Successor to Capt. Eckhart, who assumed command when Major James Postlewaite was transferred to the Ardmore, Okla., sub-depot July 20, will be Capt. Clifford F. Turner from Saginaw, Mich., who has been sub-depot supply officer at LAAF since last November. A native of Toronto, Canada, Capt. Turner was a cost accountant and motor car dealer in Michigan before he was commissioned in the Air Corps.

Col. Ralph E. Holmes also announced Capt. Walter P. Schattel, former farmer of the Hermleigh community in Scurry county, as successor to Major Norman E. Borden as director of aircraft maintenance. Major Brown recently was transferred to South Plains Army Air field.

Capt. Schattel reportedly built the first plane ever to fly over Scurry county. He has been in the Air corps since 1928.

Plane Hits Aircraft Plant, Three Killed

OMAHA, Sept. 22 (AP)—A B-25 medium bomber crashed through the roof of the Martin-Nebraska aircraft plant today, killing three of the plane's four occupants, and critically injuring the fourth man.

The dead include the pilot, 1st Lt. E. D. Walborn, 21, Enid, Okla., Elmer Murphy, Omaha Army Air forces inspector assigned to the plant, and a man tentatively identified as James J. Leach, Omaha, employed at the plant.

Thomas Paul Zinekevich, Omaha, an armorer at the plant, received critical injuries.

The accident occurred during the lunch hour. Plant officials said had the accident occurred while employes were on duty the lives of many workers would have been endangered.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Francis of Spur on birth of a son weighing 8 pounds 5 ounces at 1:55 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in St. Mary's hospital. Mr. Francis is the owner and operator of a cotton gin.

Ranchman Walter W. Whitehead Succumbs

DEL RIO, Tex., Sept. 22, (AP)—Walter W. Whitehead, 83, pioneer ranchman, died today after a long illness.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow (6 p. m.).

Whitehead rode horseback to bring the first ballot box to Del Rio, during the Cleveland administration. He also was credited with having sat on the first jury here.

Long prominent in ranching affairs, Whitehead was a member of the Texas Sheep and Goats Raisers association, the Texas Trail drivers, and the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association.

Five sons, two daughters, 14 grandchildren and six great grandchildren survive. His wife died two years ago.

City Approves Bonus Increase

nations occurred, although officials expressed the opinion that they would have occurred anyway and that the reduction in the bonus merely was used as the pretext for quitting. But the result was a sudden call late Wednesday for the special meeting of the commission.

Entire Board Present

The entire membership was present, consisting of Mayor Carl E. Slaton and Commissioners W. B. Price, Hub Jones, Garland Newsome and J. O. Jonse. They were unanimous in the opinion that the cost of living bonus has ceased to be sufficient under the conditions existing. Although they discussed the problem and alternative solutions at length, they were in agreement almost at once with the plan outlined by City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., which finally was adopted officially and which will mean the boost of approximately $10 per month in the bonus.

The factors used in computing the bonus from month to month are somewhat involved. But it starts with a base figure of 100, which represents the cost of living during the five year period, 1935-39, inclusive. Then the department of labor's monthly estimates of changes in living costs, as compared with the base period, are obtained. For September, that figure was 123—which means that, according to the federal labor department, the living costs in September, 1943, compared with those of 1935-1939 as does 123 to 100. The difference in these figures is 23 per cent.

Another Figure Also Used

Then the city will take into consideration another figure, also from the U. S. department. It is $120, which is supposed to represent the cost of a reasonable standard of living during the base period. Twenty-three per cent of $120 is $27.60, which becomes the bonus for the Sept. 15-Oct. 15 pay periods for Lubbock city employes.

In computing the bonuses to be paid in future months, the figures 100 and $120 will remain static. But the figure which this month is 123 may be expected to vary from month to month, although the expectation is that these month changes will be very gradual. But the figure, whatever it may be, will represent a percentage change above the base 100. That percentage of $120 will be the bonus for that month.

Under the system employed in the past, the city has used the base figure of 106, which was the Department of Labor's index figure for living costs as of August, 1941. The amount of the bonus has been arrived at by subtracting this figure, 106, from the federal department's figure representing living costs for each month. As mentioned, that figure was 123 for September. The difference between 123 and 106 was 17, which meant a bonus of $17 under the old plan.

The city manager announced that the increased bonus will be included in the paychecks issued Oct. 1 for the previous half month.

The commission also approved salary increases two other city employes. B. C. McCasland, assistant to the city manager since the position was created about six months ago, was boosted from $200 to $225. Salary of Lewis Kittrell, police traffic sergeant, was hiked from $160 to $175. Each also will receive the cost of living bonus in addtition.

Critical Disaster Hangs Over Nazis

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Possibilities of critical disaster hang over the German troops east of the upper Dnieper. The Russian break-through to the Chernigov gateway to Kiev and Gomel leaves open to the Nazis no more than four meagre, inadequate crossings of the river. And two of those are already in grave danger.

It seems obvious that something has gone radically wrong with Nazi high command's plans for a deliberate, orderly withdrawal behind the Dnieper for a winter stand. The eastward bulge of the Desna river from its rise southeast of Smolensk, through fallen Bryansk, then southwestward to Kiev confluence with the Dnieper apparently was heavily relied upon to safeguard the great retirement.

SIMPSON

Russian forces have broken across both the northern and southern arms of the Desna triangle, however. They appear to be converging from the south and east on Gomel, only 70 miles above Chernigov. Its fall would leave pone for Nazi retreat from the Desna bulge only the Mogilev crossing below the Orsha bend of the Dnieper, and the Orsha crossing itself.

The Nazi situation to the north, with Russian forces closing in on Smolensk and already threatening the Vitebsk gateway westward, is hardly less dangerous. If they are to withdraw by the old Napoleonic route to Moscow, the Moscow-Minsk railway and the off-shoot via Vitebsk to Polotsk, heavy detachments must pass across the front of Russians columns everywhere pushing into the Desna bulge.

Emphasis Is Shifted

Moscow advices indicate that the Russians have already shifted the emphasis of their attack to the Smolensk-Vitebsk sector. The Vitebsk gateway was the scene of the Nazi initial break-through above the Stalin defense line on the Dnieper to drive perilously close to Moscow. With the tables turned by the massive Russian summer offensive, that gateway could now become a bloody trap for the invaders.

Red troops are not only within easy gun range of the Smolensk bastion by current Moscow reports. They have been holding Velizh 40 miles or less above Vitebsk for a week or more. North of that a Russian spearhead has been poised in the Velikie Luki-Nevel triangle for months.

It is in this sector, above the Orsha bend of the Dnieper, that the possibility of an ultimate major Russian offensive to turn the Nazi Dnieper river line from the north has always seemed greatest. The Russian surge to Velikie Luki Luki months ago looked like a preliminary move to that end.

Planned For Winter

It is highly possible, however, that the original Moscow plan contemplated the Vitebsk-Nevel sector as the scene of a winter attack rather than as a part of the summer offensive. Winter will close in first, and in a few weeks, on that sector of the active front in Russia. Winter successes have so clearly demonstrated the superiority of Red armies over their Nazi foes under cold weather conditions that it is quite likely Moscow expected originally to reserve the attack which would crack the Dnieper line itself until the chill season was at hand.

In the summer offensive, however, a critical Nazi weakness between now-fallen Bryansk and Kharkov developed. It has permitted the Russians to stab 200 miles westward to within sight of Kiev and at the same time threaten the whole Desna bulge from the south.

Package Lifted From Deputy Marshall Here

Police Wednesday afternoon were called to Dunlap's to investigate the case of a "shabby individual" who eased out of the store with a bundle of merchandise when the purchaser turned his back to make another purchase.

Owner of the two shirts, a tie and two pairs of socks was C. E. Luce, deputy U. S. marshal.

Luce laughed with police.

"I didn't have by gun on—or I guess he'd have got that too."

The man had not been reported arrested late in the day.

Advisory Service Aids Small Texas Plants

DALLAS, Sept. 22. (AP)—A technical advisory service to serve the interests of small plants in this region has been established by the smaller war plants corporation, Morton R. Harrison, regional director, announced today.

Wayne H. Bovee, who spent the past six weeks in Buffalo, N. Y., studying an indoctrination course of problems that small business concerns frequently face, has been appointed technical advisory consultant for the new service, which will put at the disposal of the small manufacturer, requiring technical research in solving production problems, information drawn from governmental agencies, trade associations, technical and scientific organizations, technical magazine editors, and the research of educational institutions and private industry.

The list of typical inquiries, Harrison said, include technical information on how to overcome porosity in castings; how to prevent sewing machine needles from overheating; how to find a market for scrap rayon; where to find a special adhesive to cement heavy fabric to metal; and a varity of questions regarding developments in wood, metallurgy, plastics and electronics.
