State Capital NEWS
by Vern Sanford

Austin. — A massive emigration from the state capitol, followed by a major overhaul and interior remodeling of the historic building, is about to get under way.

Unfortunately, the big reshuffle will take place at the peak of the tourist season, so visitors may be dodging carpenters. painters and movers for awhile.

Soon ofter July 1, the new $6.6 million State Finance Building will be ready for occupancy. Employees of the State Treasurer and Comptroller will move immediately from their capitol quarters into the state's largest office facility.

As the finance departments vacate their space in the capitol, remodeling contractors will move in to re-do their quarters.

Between late July and next January when the Legislature convenes, office space for all 150 state representatives, enlarged quartrs for many state senators and new committee rooms hopefully will haev been built into the vacated space.

A $1.5 million appropriation was set aside by the Legislature last year for the renovation and a new elevator is already being drilled thriugh the northern end of the capitol.

A painting contractor also is at work on the Senate chamber (a $32,580 face-lifting job), and approximately $40,000 more will be spent on 1,200 yards of new green carpet for the senators' floor.

A model committee room is among the Senate's plans. It will include a raised dias for members, individual microphones and theater seating. Senators expect to gain two or three other commttee rooms.

Those who will stay in the capitol aren't too happy about the branch postoffice moving to the new finance building, but they are assured removal of a lot of temporary, makeshift structures in hallways will restore much of the old building's original basic architecture and dignity.

PENAL LAWS BEING REVISED — Texas' 1856 "frontier" penal code is being rewritten by a State Bar Committee for submission to the Legislature.

Major overhaul would eliminate duplicate articles covering the same crime and overlaps.

Proposals further seek to weed out so-called "unenforceable" laws including those against sexual acts between consenting adults. A strong new paternity law is recommended to identify fathers of illegitimate children and make them responsible for financial support.

Bar's draft would leave sentencing of convicted persons to judges instead of juries except in cases where the death penalty is involvd. But it would permit judges to refuse to impose the death penalty though assessed by jurors.

Instead of general sentences for crime, the revision would substitute four degrees of felony and three of misdemeanors, leaving prison terms to be fixed according to the specific nature of the offense and circumstances.

Code redraft also would make corporations criminally liable (as in pollution cases), establish a general trespass article (covering such offenses as college disruption) and define prohibited conduct short of completed crime.

University of Texas Law School Dean Page Keeton said the code. if adopted, would be the "best in the nation."

GALVESTON ISLAND PARK BOUGHT — State closed its deal to buy the 1.781-acre Maco Stewart Ranch on Galveston Island for a seashore park, paying $890,875 (half to be reimbursed by the federal government).

Actually, Maco Stewart Jr. willed the land to the state in 1950 pending continuing use by his heirs for their lifetimes. Parks and Wildlife Commission agreed to pay three heirs $500 an acre so full title could be obtained immediately.

First development will be on the Gulf beach side, although no date has been set for opening. Galveston County clerk's office will conduct purchasing details.

LEASE SALE SET — Second oil and gas and sulphur lease sale of 1970 will be held here at 10 a. m. August 14, Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler announced.

Two hundred and four tracts will be offered in the Gulf of Mevico, sixty-four in uplands and riverbeds.

Twelve sulphur tracts are located in far West Texas. Minimum bonds is $25 an acre ($20 for uplands and riverbeds), delay rental $4 a year, royalty of one-sixth and primary term of five years.

NURSING HOME RULES TOLD — Public Welfare Department sent 800 to 900 nursing homes regulations implementing new rates they can collect from the state and federal government and supplements collectable from patient's families.

"Skilled" care homes will get a raise from $360 to $381 a month, with no supplement. Intermediate Care III facilities will be cut from $300 to $294 and ICF II homes from $210 to $198, but the latter two groups can collect family supplements of $25 a patient.

Welfare Department served notice, however, that it will not serve as a collection agency, and homes cannot deny care to any patient for lack of a supplement Supplementation cannot be collected from patient's assistance checks.

SAFETY DEVICE REQUIRED —Railroad Commission ordered all flowing wells in bays, estuaries, lakes, rivers or streams to be equipped with "storm chokes" or similar equipment to prevent pollution spills.

Rule goes into effect October 1 and is aimed at preventing disasters like the Chevron well spill off Louisiana. Commission also adopted a form to be used by oil companied in reporting immediately (by telephone or telegram) all spills of as much as five barrels.

Barbecue, Bond Burning At Talco Monday, June 29

June 15, 1970 is a date The City of Talco has been looking toward for many years. To be exact, since December 15, 1936. It was on that date that Talco voted upon itself an obligation of $200,000.00 to build a water and sewer system. June 15, 1970 the last bond of this indebtedness was paid.

It all began during the height of the Oil Boom of 1936 in Talco. It was the belief of our citizens of that day that a $200,000.00 debt would be easy to repay. After all, there were some 4,000 to 5,000 people living in and around our community at that time. However, the population began to dwindle and as early as 1940 it appeared that the debt was just too much. The City began to miss some payments. In 1942 the bonds became so far delinquent that the bondholders forced the City into Bankruptcy. In six years the city had paid only $5,000.00 of these bonds and something had to be done. $195,000.00 in bonds were refunded and re-issued under a Federal Bankruptcy Act on December 11, 1942.

The City Water Department was able to meet its obligation for only a few months. Therefore,, it wasn't long until the bonds were delinquent again and all semed hopeless. The water department began supplying water on a flat rate basis and the revenue dwindled to a point that it took all the revenue to maintain the system. Occasionally a few bonds would be paid from what surplus money was available.

In early 1958 the officials of the City went into Federal Court in Tyler, Texas again with a plan to retire the bonds and asked the Court to consider the plan and authorize another refunding of the bonds. On June 30, 1958 the Court authorized the refunding of $142,000.00. This was done and the new bonds issued. The new issue was to be paid at $800.00 per month with the final payment due July 15, 1975. The City was able to meet this obligation and also from time to time able to call additional bonds for payment. On June 15, 1970 the City called the last bond of this issue, thereby, paying the obligation 5 years before it was due.

Without the cooperation of all the citizens of Talco this would not have been possible. The City Officials and Employees of Talco have worked very diligently during the past 12 years to bring this about and everyone deserves a word of appreciation for their efforts.

The City Officials decided several years ago that when the bonds were paid in full that they would sponsor for Talco Citizens a free barbecue in appreciation of their efforts. The barbecue will be held at 7:00 P. M., Monday, June 29th at the football field in Talco. All citizens of Talco are cordially invited to attend. They are to register at the City Hall in Talco before June 27th and pick up the free tickets.

Ernie's Barbecue and Catering Service of Greenville, Texas will cater the meal. Everyone come bring your families, enjoy a good meal and participate in the burning of the bonds.

Spotlight on HEALTH

Are You "Growing" Hay Fever in Your Garden?

Ragweed is the chief source of pollen causing our most common allergic disorder – hay fever.

Common ragweed can be identified by its hairy green stems, feathery, parted leaves, and long spikes of green-to-yellow flowers that produce the pollen. It grows almost anywhere, and the pollen is widespread from mid-August until the first frost.

The hay fever victim is easily recognizable, too. There is sneezing, tearing, congestion, itching of the eyes and ears, runny nose, and breathing difficulties.

Signs and symptoms of ragweed hay fever resemble those of a cold and the two are sometimes confused. The hay-fever victim may be unaware that his problem is in his own backyard where a patch of ragweed flourishes undisturbed.

Hay fever should be diagnosed by a physician – and treated. Neglected, it can develop into more serious illness such as sinus and ear infections, chronic asthma, and even lung and heart disease.

Once the diagnosis is made, the physician may prescribe treatment to reduce sensitivity to the pollen. Desensitizing injections have helped many victims, but should be given each year before the hay fever season.

Neo-Synephrine nose drops or spray or other decongestant is often recommended to relieve the distressing symptoms. A nasal spray, combined with an antihistamine (NTZ) gives relief to many. There are also a number of decongestant-antihistamine tablets which should be checked out with the physician. He may also prescribe eye drops.

An air conditioner or dehumidifier with a good filter is useful.

Common Ragweed

Community action is important, too. Ragweed can be controlled by eliminating the weed from roadsides and vacant lots.

Even your own vegetable and flower gardens should be checked for ragweed and the plant destroyed.

The best way to prevent the spread of ragweed, one health department bulletin suggests, is to keep idle land covered with heavy growths of grass or other harmless plants.

Miss Haynes Is Shower Honoree

Miss Ramona Haynes, bride-elect of Jim Diles, was honored Friday evening from 7:30 to 9:00 p. m. with a miscellaneous bridal show in the home of Mrs. Jerry Russell. Co-hostesses being Mr. Nadine Caldwell, Mrs. Lyndon Reed, Mrs. Charles Roberts and Mrs. Rickey Roberts. Receiving the guests were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. J. W. Haynes and Mrs. Russell. Mrs. RickeyRoberts presided over the registry.

The serving table was laid with white lace over mist green and centered with a huge arrangement of white daisies and fern in a milk glass bowl, flanked by milk glass candelabras holding mist green tapers. A mist green satin runner on the table held the names of Mona and Jim in silver lettering. The bride's chosen colors were also carried out in the cake squares decorated with green and yellow rose buds and mint green frosted punch in a milk glass punch bowl, served by Mrs. Charlie Roberts, Mrs. Reed and Miss Brenda Alexander. Green and white mints were also served.

Arrangements of white daisies and fern also accented the mantel in the living room and the two bedrooms where the gifts were displayed. Gifts from the hostesses were a beautiful jade green swag lamp and carnation corsages for the mother and honoree.

Out of town guests were the bride-to-be's grandmother, Mrs. Leona Stewart, her aunts, Mrs. Ida Croley and Mrs. R. C. Ewing all of Cooper, and Ramona's college roommate, Miss Kay Craig of Gladewater.

Entertainment was the making of polaroid pictures throughout the evening.

What's right about America?

Today, the surest means of a book becoming a best seller is for the author to highlight and denounce bitterly the faults of this country. The same can be said of television and the movies, which prefer in these modern days to depict the seamier side of life in America.

But there's hope. As I have moved across this state, I have sensed that our people are growing weary of gloom. It's becoming easier to strike up a conversation on what's right about America.

I always suggest that there are a lot more level heads in this country than we are sometimes led to believe. There are a lot more decent, law-abiding citizens than there are criminals and cheats and sharks. There are a lot more young people in the "now" generation who want to improve America than the handful of radicals who want to burn it to ashes and start all over.

I can understand why the "majority" has broken its "silence." There's a growing impatience with agitation and controversy. But I feel we should continue to approach our nation's problems with a cool head and an open mind.

I've listened to the voices of dissent. I think I know what they're asking of their government.

One thing they want is confidence. They want the assurance that their public officials have the courage to meet the issues of the 1970s with imagination and integrity, and not with some form of "old politics" that thrashes around with problems but never quite locates the workable solutions.

It was my desire to answer this urgent need that prompted me in January to seek the office of United States Senator.
