Showdown On Abandoned Property Bill

79 Persons Perish As Two Netherlands Trains Collide

WOERDEN, Netherlands (AP)—Two passenger trains collided in dense fog near here today and Netherlands Railways announced that 79 persons perished. It was the worst train disaster in this country's history.

The Dutch news agency reported earlier that 50 persons had been injured. A farmer's wife living near the disaster scene said ambulances had streamed away carrying at least 200 injured to nearby hospitals.

Priests, nuns, firemen, police, soldiers and uninjured passengers helped in rescue work.

Metal workers used acetyline torches to cut into the tangled masses of coaches, which were reported to have carried about 500 passengers.

Fifty doctors toiled over the casualties.

Watch dogs were used to guard piles of luggage.

One of the trains was an express en route from the northern Dutch town of Leeuwarden to Rotterdam. The other was a commuter train headed in the opposite direction from Rotterdam to Amsterdam.

The express was due to reach a switching point at 9:19 a.m. and the commuter train at 9:21. It was in this three-minute interval that they hit. Visibility was about 20 yards.

Most of the victims were reported in the crowded train from Leeuwarden. The express is usually crowded on Monday mornings by people returning to work in the metropolitan area from weekends in the northern residential provinces.

It was unlikely that many foreigners were involved.

The Dutch radio canceled all light programs and it played serious music, interrupted at times by news bulletins on the crash.

Nine coaches were derailed—six from the express and three from the commuter train. One mowed down a transformer station as it rolled down an embankment.

The fog was so heavy that persons living near the scene were puzzled when they heard the collision.

"We could see nothing in the dense fog," said the farmer's wife, Mrs. Van Oosterom. "We thought at first a plane had crashed, but later we heard iron grating and realized that two trains had crashed. Almost immediately afterward, crying people came stumbling toward our farm."

Officials speculated that one of the engineers may have missed a warning signal in the fog

House Takes Up Measure

AUSTIN (AP) — The House moved today toward a showdown vote on Gov. Price Daniel's abandoned property bill. Speaker James Turman predicted a close vote.

Turman placed the measure by Rep. Charles Hughes of Sherman on today's calendar.

"Dewey Lawrence of the Texas Bankers Association was in here and told me the bill is acceptable to him as it is now written," Turman said. "I told Mr. Hughes if I were in his position I'd run with the compromise bill."

Gov. Price Daniel has stated he wants the bill changed to get rid of language that would allow a depositor to agree in writing to service charges on his bank account, even should it become dormant. The bill's intent, according to other sponsors, however, is to prevent such charges on inactive accounts.

Turman said the bill would have a better chance of passage if left as it now is. "It's going to be close as it is," he said.

The House Tax Committee approved the bill Saturday.

House employes worked through Saturday to get the bill printed and in order to meet the rule requiring a major bill to be on members' desks 24 hours before it can be brought up for debate.

Also, the tempo of committee action will quicken today with one Senate and two House committees meeting to consider two other major topics.

A subcommittee met for almost five hours Sunday night and approved two major changes in a bill to restore $15 million for farm road construction in the next fiscal year.

The amended measure will be presented to the full House-Agriculture Committee for consideration this afternoon.

One major change approved was a $25 million minimum from all sources which will be used for the construction of additional miles of newly designated farm roads. The original bill set the figure at $23 million.

The subcommittee also changed a provision which would have permitted the highway department to use up to 50 per cent of the road-bond assumption surplus—$17.5 million—for maintenance of the farm roads.

The amendment sets the maximum at 30 per cent for the first fiscal year and permits a 2 per cent increase per year thereafter up to 50 per cent.

Gov. Price Daniel met with the committee for nearly an hour and urged that the measure not be changed from its original form.

If the measure is approved by the full committee today, and printed later in the day, it can be debated Wednesday. House rules require that bills be printed and on members' desks 24 hours before debate. The rule can be suspended however by a two-thirds vote.

Sukarno Unhurt, But 3 Die In Explosion

By PETER ARNETT

MAKASSAR, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno escaped unharmed from a bomb explosion Sunday night while winding up a four-day barnstorming tour to whip up support in the Celebes for his plans to seize West New Guinea from the Dutch.

The bomb killed three persons and injured 25 others in a crowd watching the president arrive for a speech. It exploded a few hundred yards behind his motorcade. Visibly shaken, he addressed a student rally shortly afterward. This morning he inspected a military base outside this South Celebes city.

There were no indications of any arrests but military precautions and security were strengthened in Makassar, the probable jumping-off point for any invasion of Dutch New Guinea.

Until recently, the Makassar area also was a center of rebels opposing Sukarno's government.

The president attacked Dutch Foreign Minister J. M. A. H. Luns for his statement in a magazine interview recently that West New Guinea's Papuan population should not come under Indonesian domination because they are racially different from the Indonesians.

"Luns is always full of lies. He knows nothing about nations or scientific theories about nations," said Sukarno, who was trained as an architect.

"The Papuan people of West Irian (West New Guinea) are part of the Indonesian race. A desire by people to live together creates a nation. Indonesia is of many peoples and the West Irian people are part of it," Sukarno said.

Sukarno attacked Luns' statements that the Papuans are so uncivilized they need Dutch support and training, and that the Netherlands had put more into its colonies than it had taken from them.

"What have the Dutch done in New Guinea and what have the Dutch given us?" he demanded. "Our progress is not because of their doing. The Dutch were here 350 years and left virtually nothing here."

Reinforcements poured into the South Celebes as Sukarno toured the area. A source close to the president said guerrilla "volunteers" are expected to begin hit-and-run attacks soon in West New Guinea, which Indonesia has claimed ever since the nation gained independence from the Netherlands in 1949.

In a speech at the fishing village of Bonthian, Sukarno told a crowd Indonesia will invade the territory unless the Dutch hand it over and "we don't care about world opinion."

Former Head Of FHA Succumbs To Cancer

MCALLEN (AP)—Robert McLeaish Sr., 62, former national administrator of the Farmers Home Administration, died of cancer here Sunday night.

McLeaish also was the first manager of the Rio Grande Valley Planning Commission, now known as the Valley Chamber of Commerce.

He was appointed national administrator of the FHA in 1953 by President Eisenhower and resigned in 1956.

Survivors include his widow and three sons, Robert Jr., Hidalgo County auditor; John, Air Force officer at Houston, and James, with the U. S. Coast Guard at Port Arthur.

However, he said his policy has the support of the Communist, Asian and African world. "Two billion people support us," he said. "How many people support Holland?"

At one point, Sukarno said he had learned the Dutch plan to send the 15,802-ton aircraft carrier Karel Doorman to New Guinea waters. She can handle 35 warplanes.

Nine foreign ambassadors, including U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones, were in Sukarno's party. The president turned to them and said: "I want you to tell your governments we are not afraid of the Karel Doorman. What can she do to stop us? If, during one dark night, thousands of tiny fishing craft full of Indonesian fighters creep across the waters to West Irian (West New Guinea), what can the Karel Doorman do to stop them?"

At the Hague, the Dutch navy said the carrier and two destroyers will leave Friday for a show-the-flag trip in the Netherlands West Indies, Caribbean and South American waters. There was no mention of any trip to New Guinea.

Belgians Say Reds Force Plane Down

By GARVEN HUDGINS

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — A Belgian Sabena jet airliner, carrying 27 persons from Tehran to Istanbul, landed at a Soviet airfield today after radioing "We are being pursued by Russian planes."

Sabena authorities in Istanbul and in Brussels, the line's headquarters, said the plane was forced by Soviet jets to put down at the city of Yerevan, near the Soviet-Turkish frontier.

However, the line's manager in Tehran, Walter Devros, said a radio compass had failed and the pilot, Cmdr. Freddy Moureau, requested permission to make the landing.

By Devros' account, the Soviet craft merely escorted the liner to Yerevan. He said plans are for it to proceed to Istanbul, 850 miles west of Yerevan, as soon as repairs are completed.

The plane carried 19 passengers and eight crew members.

Devros said all were reported safe.

Among the passengers was one American, identified only as a Mr Howen, flying to Europe from the Far East.

Sabena authorities in Brussels said the Russians had buzzed the airliner and that at least two fighters were involved.

While Devros insisted that the plane landed voluntarily, other airport sources at Tehran, Iran's capital, said they had heard the pilot radioing distress calls.

They reported he radioed Ankara Airport that he was being followed by four Soviet MIGs and, repeating that message three times, then said the MIG's had ordered him to follow them down.

"They are armed and we are ..." the pilot was quoted as saying.

Soviets Say Molotov Is Returning To Job

MOSCOW (AP) — Ex-Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, denounced as a Stalinist by the latest Communist party congress, is returning to his atoms for peace post in Vienna, the Foreign Office announced today.

The announcement startled the diplomatic colony in the Soviet capital and led to speculation that Stalin's old lieutenant may have won his battle against expulsion from the party.

One of the leaders of the futile putsch against Premier Khrushchev in 1957, Molotov at 71 was seen headed for oblivion after his recall in November from his job as head of the Soviet delegation to the International Atomic Energy Agency.

Molotov and other prominent figures under Stalin were on trial by the party, and expulsion generally had been expected. He was never seen in public after his return Nov. 12 and the press continued to denounce him.

Khrushchev was asked about Molotov only two weeks ago and told reporters the party machinery was dealing with the case.

A Foreign Office spokesman said he knew nothing of the status of the party trial.

"Molotov has never been removed from his post on the atomic energy agency and has now returned to it," he said.

The spokesman said Molotov left Saturday. That would mean he should arrive in Vienna some time today, traveling by train.

The Austrian Embassy said Molotov had not applied for an Austrian visa but that one issued in Vienna might still be valid.

It was the first time that anything like this had happened in the Soviet Union. Normally when a Soviet leader has been, faced with such serious accusations he is not allowed to leave the country.

Diplomats and others had expected Molotov and other associates would suffer degradation after the attack in the party congress last October.

Molotov had attempted to fight back against the charges by sending a letter to members of the Central Committee just before the congress opened last Oct. 15. The letter was not published in full although extracts were read.

But speaker after speaker at the congress accused him and his confederates of responsibility for hundreds of deaths among the thousands of army and party leaders caught in Stalin's purges. The purges began in the 1930s and continued through and after World War II.

After his denunciation at the party congress, Molotov and two other former Soviet leaders were ordered put on trial before the party for leading the antiparty group against Khrushchev in 1957.

Snow Is Due In Panhandle, South Plains

By The Associated Press

The Weather Bureau forecast snow from 2 to 4 inches deep in the Panhandle and South Plains during Monday night with temperatures dropping to a bitter 9 degrees above zero in the northernmost part.

The snow is expected to reach into the northern portion of North Central Texas in the form of flurries.

Forecasts called for as low as 14 degrees along the Red River.

The midmorning forecast indicated the snow would end during Tuesday morning.

The predictions called for considerably more moderate temperatures in the southern part of the state with only near - freezing temperatures in the northern portions of Southwestern, South Central and Southeastern Texas.

The new cold wave was to end the bright and comparatively mild weekend weather in the state which saw maximum temperatures Sunday afternoon ranging from 46 degrees at Amarillo to 74 at Brownsville.

10-Power Pact To Bolster Money Stability Announced

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 10-power agreement to bolster the stability of the dollar and other moneys of non-Communist nations through a $6-billion currency pool was announced today by the International Monetary Fund.

Subject to ratification by Congress and the other parliaments, the pool will give the IMF a huge reserve from which any of the 10 nations may draw to meet temporary and unusual drains on their gold and foreign exchange reserves.

The United States was the foremost sponsor of the plan and would be a major beneficiary if the dollar should again come under such speculative attack as took place in 1960.

The agreement calls on the 10 participating nations to pledge to the IMF—but not to put up in cash until and unless some of the funds are needed—these amounts in dollars:

United States, two billion; Britain, one billion; Germany one billion; France, 550 million; Italy, 550 million; Japan, 250 million; Canada, 200 million; Netherlands, 200 million; Belgium, 150 million; Sweden, 100 million.

The agreement represents the third and next to the last step in a plan to provide through the IMF, international borrowing arrangements which — in IMF's words—"should make it possible to mobilize quickly large additional resources in defense of the international monetary system."

The U.S. Treasury, in a simultaneous announcement, said: "The borrowing arrangement could be of great assistance to the United States, as well as to any of the other participating countries, in meeting temporary balance-of-payment difficulties."

The final step will come when at least seven of the countries, whose pledges total not less than $5.5 billion, notify the IMF of their adherence to the pact. The supplemental fund then will be ready for use.

Court Makes Appointments

The Scurry County Commissioners Court made the necessary yearly appointments to the various county boards at their meeting this morning.

The resignation of G. B. Clark, Jr., from the Airport board was accepted, and Lyle Alexander was appointed to fill the one-year unexpired portion of his term. Other members of that board whose terms had expired were reappointed. They are H. C. Denson and Theo Lamb. Members of the board whose terms expire next year are Jimmy Thompson and Bill Atwood.

The commissioners accepted the wishes of Pat Falls that he not be reappointed to the hospital board. They noted with appreciation that Falls had served since 1951. Herman Doak was appointed to fill the place vacated by Falls. Other members reappointed were Howard Hogue and Hugh Taylor. Members whose terms expire next year are Dawson Moreland, Sam Chorn and Lester Moore.

Members of the library board whose terms expired were all reappointed. They are V. T. Tracy, Mrs. R. R. Patterson, Mrs. Gene Dulaney and Mrs. Paris McPherson. Holdover members are Mrs. J. C. Ezell, O. B. Paty, Frank Patterson and Jake Green.

Positions on the Welfare board had never been officially designated. That was done this morning with the Rev. Jack Dean in place 1; Mrs. Earl Donaldson in place 2; Mrs. Carrie Line in place 3; Delbert Johnston in place 4; the Rev. Walter Lentz in place 5; Jim Sterling in place 6; and Simon Best in place 7. According to procedure the even numbered places come up for appointment in even numbered years. The persons holding the even numbered places were reappointed. The odd numbered places will come up next year.

In other business the commissioners approved the fourth quarter financial report; reappointed Dr. Robert B. Pierce as Scurry County Health Officer for 1962; officially designated counter-clockwise traffic inside the courthouse square; and authorized Jay Ramsey, Park Superintendent, to hire a manager for the Towle Park pool.

Joe Chapman, who was assistant pool manager last year, will be employed at a salary of $350 per month. The pool will open June 1 and close Labor Day, Sept. 3.

Concerning the crow problem along the Scurry-Mitchell line the court heard a report that the Fish and Game Commission office in San Angelo was also interested in the problem. They reportedly have contacted the demolition team at Dyess Air Force Base with the idea of dynamiting the roosting areas. No definite plans have as yet been made.

Senior Status For Colleges Is Urged

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Commission on Higher Education recommended today full senior College status with full state support for San Angelo College and for Pan American College in Edinburg.

An effective date of 1965 was placed on the recommendation.

In recommending to the legislature that these institutions be fully supported by the state, the commission acted against the advice of its permanent staff.

The commission staff reported that the need for four-year status with full state endowment at San Angelo College "is very limited . . . The cost per unit would be unjustifiably high if not prohibitive."

Almost identical wording was used with regard to Pan American College, which already is a four - year institution receiving state support for the first two years of its program as junior college aid.

Proposals that would have made these two schools state institutions died in the legislature last year after hearings late in the regular session by the house state affairs committee.

In moving that the commission recommended four - year status with state support for San Angelo College, commissioner member R. T. Waddell said "I'm convinced there is need for a four-year school at San Angelo."

Julian Montgomery, another commissioner, said the commission should consider the needs of the 20 state supported schools next year. He said action on other proposals for new schools should be deferred until a statewide plan for higher education could be made.

1961 Rains Dull Demand For Water

Water demands declined slightly from a year ago during December, but the year's total still exceeded nine billion gallons for the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

The regular monthly prodution report by O. H. Ivie, assistant general manager, showed 555,985,000 for December of 1961, or 6.2 per cent under the 580,260,000 gallons for the same month a year ago. This brought to 9,020,621,000 the deliveries during 1961, or 3.57 less than the 9,354,417,000 for all of 1960. The difference was largely due to a lesser consumption in Big Spring and Snyder where an unseasonally generous rainfall dulled domestic demands. The oil companies also took less for oil repressuring. The city of Odessa showed an increase in its water draw for the year.

In December, the member cities took 330,772,000 gallons, only about two and a half million less than for the same month a year ago. Odessa took 192,124,000 gallons; Big Spring 125,939,000; Snyder 32,709,000. The oil companies took 205,213,000 gallons, as compared with 227,670,000 in the previous December. SACROC took 145,638,000 Sharon Ridge 34,938,000, Lion Oil 22,896,000 and Texas Gulf 1,741,000

For the year Odessa took 3,927,802,000 gallons, a gain of 1.37 per cent; Big Spring 2,172,582,000, down 7.97 per cent; Snyder 948,558,000, down 19.91 per cent; SACROC 1,645,945,000, down .9 of 1 per cent; Sharon Ridge 404,512,000, down 4.79 per cent; Lion Oil 277,994,000, down 9.3 per cent. Texas Gulf 43,220,000, down 11.5 per cent.

TO ALL THE PEOPLE WHO FAVOR THE LEGAL SALE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES IN SCURRY COUNTY:

PLEASE PAY YOUR POLL TAX

Since the last election in 1959, twenty one businesses in Snyder have closed. 1,032 people have left Snyder. Approximately 18,000 gallons of alcoholic beverages have been consumed here, at a cost of approximately $300,000.00.

To the East of us, near Stamford, one precinct of the County, the home of the noted dry speaker, has voted WET, since our last election.

To the North of us, Lubbock County, has voted a wet precinct, since our last election, and Post has been WET.

To the South of us, Big Spring, has been WET all the time, and to the West 120 miles, New Mexico is WET.

A recent traffic survey in Snyder showed 3,990 cars traveling South on U.S. Highway No. 84; 3,881 cars traveling East on U.S. Highway No. 180, and 3,110 cars traveling West on U.S. 180. 2,480 cars were traveling North on U.S. 84.

By this count, 13,461 cars pass through Snyder every twenty four hours on a yearly average. With an average of 2½ people per car this amounts to approximately 33,000 people.

Most of these people are from WET areas and are accustomed to the convenience of taverns and lounges where alcoholic beverages are served. Either we must explain to these people how our "bootlegging" system works, or furnish with these conveniences in order to get them to stop here.

If 2,000 of these cars could be stopped over-night in Snyder, and they averaged spending $10.00 each, it would mean a $600,000.00 payroll, every 30 days to the town.

'Magic Of Music' Presented To Art Guild Study Club

The Art Guild Study Club met at the Martha Ann Clubhouse Jan. 2, with Mrs. Bill Teaff as hostess and Mrs. Robert Patterson as program leader.

A salad plate was seryed to 14 members.

After a brief business meeting the program, "The Magic of Music" was presented by Mrs. Patterson. She said in part:

"Now the spirit of the Lord departed from Saul, and an evil spirit from the Lord tormented him. And Saul's servants said to him, behold now, an evil spirit from the God is tormenting you. Let our Lord now command your servants, who are before you to seek out a man who is skillful in playing the harp; and when the evil spirit from God is upon you, he will play it, and you will be well—and when the evil spirit from God was upon Saul, David took the harp and played it with his hand; so Saul was refreshed, and was well, and the evil spirit departed from him.

"There is much in recorded history to justify an investigation of the influence of music upon the human mind and particularly its possible uses as an adjunct to therapy. Music has been prescribed and used for various ailments for centuries.

"Confuscius not only loved music but ascribed to it social virtues. He believed that ritual and music were the clues to harmonious living.

"Plato states that health in body and mind which controls and improves the body is to be obtained through music and gymnastics and should continue throughout life.

"Aristotle ascribed the beneficial and medicinal efforts of music to an 'emotional catharsis', a view subscribed to by many psychiatrists today.

"Pythagoras gives us probably the most explicit explanation of the application of music as therapy in ancient times. He recorded experiences in the field, furnished the inspiration for this approach applicable to modern man and geared to his needs. Pythagoras was of the opinion that music contributes greatly to the health if used in an appropriate manner.

"A second devastating world war, which left our neuropsychiatric wards filled with patients pathetically out of gear with reality, spot lighted the urgent need for discovering and developing new methods of controlling human emotions and behavior. To the end that music's potentialities be authoritatively investigated. Music Research Foundation was organized and its initial studies were begun in 1944 at Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D. C. upon authorization of the Surgeon General's office.

"This research program has triggered other research programs at hospitals and universities. The potential value of music as a re-socializing agent in treating mental patients is immeasurable. Music is capable of changing moods; it overcomes depressed feelings and calms over active patients. It can change a dissatisfied and destructive mood to a satisfied and constructive one. Since music has this power it is being used quite widely on mental patients to bring them out of seclusion, relieve tensions and afford contact with reality by relaxation and the creation of an emotional outlet.

"Dr. W. Simon in 1945 organized a program of music therapy which was carried out with great success in one of the veterans hospitals.

"Music in addition to the psycho-

Network Television Show For Girl Scout Roundup

NEW YORK—The 1962 Girl Scout Senior Roundup, a major event of the organization's 50th anniversary celebration which will bring together 10,000 teen-age girls and adult leaders, will be filmed for an hour-long telecast over a nationwide network.

The 60-minute program will be produced by General Foods Corporation in cooperation with Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. and presented on CBS-TV stations in September. Following the television broadcast, General Foods will present color prints of the film to the Girl Scouts for local showings in communities across the country.

Mrs. Charles U. Culmer, national president of the Girl Scouts, called the film project "a fitting tribute" to the Scout organization on its 50th birthday, and "an extremely effective way" to bring the Girl Scout story to a wider public.

"It is gratifying to us that General Foods, which is well known for its sponsorship of commercial television programs, is devoting prime evening time from its busy broadcasting schedule to present this public service project," Mrs. Culmer said.

The Roundup film will bring an on-the-spot report of Girl Scouting's biggest meeting to a nationwide audience, as well as to members and friends in thousands of towns and cities across the country.

It is held every three years, with girls from every state and a score of foreign counties participating. The 1962 gathering is scheduled for July 18 through 31 at Button Bay State Park on the Vermont side of Lake Champlain. Some 8,500 Senior Scouts from age 14 to 17 will meet with a staff of 1,500 adults in the largest encampment of teen-age girls in this country.

Roundup will offer them a chance to see the country at first hand and to develop new interests and hobbies. Scouts will live in a "city" of 6,000 tents and rough it out in the open. They will prove their resourcefulness under primitive living conditions; practice the techniques and art of self-government; and meet girls whose backgrounds, customs and interests differ from their own.

Show time at the Roundup will see more than 1,000 camp fires burning simultaneously as the girls organize in groups of eight to cook meals for themselves and adult leaders, most of whom are experienced campers taking time off from their homes and jobs to serve at the Roundup as volunteers.

Because good food plays such a vital role in the life of active teen-agers, Roundup menus will offer high nutritional value for the campers, with well-balanced meals that can be prepared over charcoal fires in a minimum of time.

The theme for the 1962 Girl Scout Senior Roundup—"Honor the Past, Serve the Future"—is also the theme of the golden anniversary celebration throughout the year in recognition of Girl Scouting's 50 years of service. The Girl Scout movement began in Savannah, Georgia, in 1912, and has grown from a troop of 12 girls to an organization of 3,500,000 girls and adults.

From me to you
A DAILY VIEW
by Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"And nations shall come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your rising."

Isaiah 60:B (read verses 1-7)

In this portion of scripture, Isaiah, the prophet, is proclaiming the glories of Israel. He says that all the nations of the world will come and bow down before her; they will rejoice because of Israel; they will respect her, and pay tribute and honor to her.

Any nation that has the least bit of national pride would like to hear words like these. But of very few can they be spoken. Our own nation today would like for these words to be said about us. We would like for the world to come to us and respect us. But, alas! They don't.

Why did Isaiah laud his nation? It was not because they "deserved" it; nor did they have the power and prestige to demand it. It was because of their national faith in the one God of all the Universe, their complete trust in Him, and their willingness to be His servants. Only when a nation places its faith in God will the world bow "to the brightness of your rising."

Alas, Inflation Has Made Inroads In Seed Catalogues

BY INEZ ROBB

What is so rare as a day of June-in-January? Especially with the temperature some eight degrees below freezing?

But June is bustin' out all over my desk in the form of seed catalogues delivered in the past 48 hours by a mailman in earmuffs and other suitable winter raiment.

For these of us in city pent at this season, a seed catalogue in living technicolor is far more solace than a travel folder. It's possible that the seed catalogue may be the opiate of the city dweller. And it is certain that it is the repository of more glowing optimism than a five-foot shelf of Pollyanna.

In the bright lexicon of the seed catalogue there is no such word as "failure." Within its folds, all lawns are as eternally green and velvety as a billiard table, and equally free of crab grass. The herbaceous borders bloom in perpetuity and no chickweed doth enter in to corrupt their perfection.

When the W. Atlee Burpee Co. catalogue arrives, I quickly thumb to the section on marigolds to discover if this old firm has yet succeeded in its noble quest for a pure-white marigold. For years, Burpee has pursued this quest with the single-mindedness of Sir Galahad in search of the Holy Grail.

Alas, 1961 saw man in orbit around the earth and artificial satellites crowding the stars, but no white marigold. Oh, there was progress in the marigold field in 1961. Burpee reports that some flowers were found that were "almost white". But the breakthrough is still to come.

So the Burpee standing award of $10,000 for the development of a white marigold still stands. If you have the seeds of a white marigold in your hip pocket, for heaven's sake, don't write me! Write Burpee, Philadelphia, 32, Pa.)

As a seed-catalogue devotee from way back, I cannot help but be impressed with what inflation has done to both flora and their cost. Zinnias are now as large as salad plates and tomatoes as sizeable as old-fashioned cantaloupes (modern cantaloupes are as big as melons and twice as handsome in cinemascope). The price tags have kept pace.

Gone with the snows of yesteryear is the 10-cent packet of flower or vegetable seeds. There are still a few packages retailing for 25 cents, and containing approximately enough seed to plant a window box. But if you want to be the first on the block with a lively row of the new scarlet zinnia, it'll cost $1.50 for one-eighth ounce of seed. A comparable amount of seed for the new curlicocks aster requires $2.25, or more than my mother ever spent in any one year for seeds for a quarter-acre of flowers.

Papa's vegetable garden was as fiotable as Mama's flowers. But if anyone had ever asked Papa for $7.50 in exchange for one eighth-ounce packet of tomato seeds—even a new, giant hybrid type—he would have felt not that the republic but that the world was coming to an end. But such is the price of seed for a new giant tomato that may, for all I can tell from the illustration, be as large as a football and certainly as radiant as a new fire engine.

And just 30 seeds of a new hybrid cucumber are pegged at 50 cents, which is enough to make any dill-pickle economist quail. I foresee the day when there will be no free pickles with the ham-on-rye. Or maybe a time when the customer buys the pickles and gets the sandwich free.

Inflation or no, for the city dweller there is no tonic or cheer-upper to compare with the mid-winter seed catalogue with its larger-than-life promissory notes packed from cover to cover.

COURCHEVEL, France (AP)—Italian newsmen and photographers converged on Brigitte Bardot's ski chalet Sunday demanding pictures and interviews.

Vacationing BB refused. The press insisted and started trying to break down the door.

A swarm of the French movie star's friends emerged and fought off the invaders, who had swarmed across the border from the Italian side of the Mt. Blanc area when they heard Miss Bardot had arrived for a vacation.

Police broke up the fight. The only casualty was a camera tossed into a snowbank.

Junior Editors Quiz on SQUIRRELS

QUESTION: After squirrels hide their nuts, how do they find them again under the snow?

• • •

ANSWER: Squirrels are among the most common animals in the United States. Chances are you have seen them in the park or in the woods, scurrying about with newly found nuts in their mouths.

Thrifty animals, they spend much of their time during the fall looking for nuts and hiding them so that they will have something to eat during the winter.

It is doubtful if a squirrel finds the same nuts in the winter that he has hidden away in the fall. But so many squirrels have hidden nuts that a hungry squirrel is sure to find one when he needs it.

There is one squirrel, however, that does not store up nuts for the winter. This playboy of the squirrel world is called the "kaibab." Kaibabs get very hungry in the winter.

JIM GAFFORD

Gafford Steps Down; Bound For Vernon

Announcemeht was received here this morning of the resignation of Coach Jim Gafford, who will leave the Snyder System at mid - term in order to accept the coaching job as first assistant to Coach C. R. (Pat) Pattison at Vernon High School.

Pattison will be assuming the head coaching post there himself at mid - term. A veteran mentor, he was coach at Lubbock High during the 1951-52 seasons when he led the team to two state championships. Gafford played for him during that era, and was an all-stater as a guard.

Gafford was added to the local staff in August of 1960, and has coached and taught here during the three semesters since. He served as B team coach along with Jim Stehley in 1960, and the past season he worked the team with Bill Hartsfield, who had moved into the position following the elevation of Stehley to the varsity staff.

A graduate of East Texas State, Gafford coached at Port Neches before coming to Snyder. He teaches driver education at Snyder High.

School superintendent T. E. McCollum indicated this morning that he has not as yet had time to "even think about a replacement" for Gafford, but that he will give consideration to applicants for the vacated position.

Gafford plans to assume his duties at Vernon, a member of District 4-AAA, on January 22.

South Speed Given Credit For Victory

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys, who coached the losing North squad in the 13th Senior Bowl football game, says the speed of the southerners made the difference.

The South beat the North 42-7 Saturday, taking an 8-5 lead in the series.

Landry, making his first appearance as a Senior Bowl coach, said his North squad was ready, 'But the South must have been readier. Their running game opened it up for them."

The South was in complete command, as the statistics show. The Rebel stars had 21 first downs to 9 for the Yanks, 301 rushing yards to 90 and 133 passing yards to 117.

Baltimore coach Weeb Ewbank, who directed the South, turned back to the woes of the professionals. And chief among his worries are Ronnie Bull of Baylor and Earl Gros of Louisiana State, who sparked the Rebel team.

Bull, a 198-pound halfback, was the No. 1 draft choice of the Chicago Bears. Gros was the top pick of the NFL champion Green Bay Packers.

They were key players in the fast Southern attack which Landry talked about.

"They're both great runners, and they ought to do well in the National Football League," said Ewbank.

Bull gained 133 yards on 16 rushes and Gros carried 19 times for 114 yards. Each scored two touchdowns.

Paul Dietzel Man Of Hour At West Point

By JIM HACKLEMAN

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Paul Dietzel is a man with a mission and he is eager to get started.

The 37-year-old Ohioan gave up the promise of continued success and security at Louisiana State University to accept the challenge of the job he always has wanted—head football coach at Army.

There is little doubt the broad-shouldered young coach is approaching this new job with zeal and confidence, touched with considerable boyish enthusiasm.

At LSU, Dietzel left a wealth of talent, a lucrative job and some bitter feelings. His $18,500-a-year contract still had four years to run and more was offered. When reports cropped up he wanted out, there was vehement criticism. After much sound and fury, the LSU Board of Supervisors granted his release in a meeting Friday. His salary at Army presumably will be $18,500, with a 5-year contract.

In seven seasons at LSU, Dietzel's Tiger teams won 44, lost 23, tied 3 and had a 3-1 mark in bowl games. His 1958 squad was national champion with a 10-0 record and he was Coach of the Year. LSU was 9-1 in 1959 and again this past season, and his finale with the Tigers was their 25-7 victory over Colorado in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day.

At Army, Dietzel succeeds Dale Hall, who was dismissed after three seasons on Dec. 9. In three tries, Hall's teams failed to beat Navy—and Navy's recent superiority has rankled Army deeply.

"We decided we wanted the best man available, and we're sure we got him," said Col Emory Adams, the academy's athletic director. "There's a great enthusiasm here now. We're all anticipating fine things. Paul's an exceptional gentleman as well as a brilliant coach. He can't help but be a wonderful influence."

Dietzel's first step in a highly successful career began at West Point in 1948 when he gave up plans to go to medical school and became an assistant plebe coach, shortly after he graduated from Miami of Ohio. In his second tour at the Military Academy the World War II bomber pilot was offensive line coach under Earl (Red) Blaik.

SWC Taking Usual Shape; Owls, Mustangs Grab Lead

By The Associated Press

Rice and Southern Methodist pace the Southwest Conference basketball race, each with a perfect 2-0 conference record.

Close behind, however, are Texas Tech, Texas, Texas A&M and Arkansas, all with 1-1 loop records. These teams, all tied for second place, were the four top squads in season play before the rugged conference competition got underway.

Texas Tech, the defending conference champion, lost its conference game 70-61 at the hands of A&M Saturday. In round robin fashion, A&M was beaten by Arkansas in Fayetteville in the conference opener for the two teams.

In other Saturday night games, Texas snapped a 9-game winning streak of Arkansas in a 73-59 drubbing of the Razorbacks.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs meanwhile ran away from the Baylor Bears to rack up a 73-60 victory to keep an unmarred conference record.

With the four second-place teams, the week's competition was win one, lose one. Arkansas beat A&M and Texas lost to Tech. Then A&M downed Tech and Texas clobbered Arkansas to break it's 9-game winning streak.

For the season, Rice is 6-4 and SMU is 8-3. Arkansas, which leads the conference in season standings with a 9-2 record, is one of the four second-place teams conference-wise.

Baylor and Texas Christian share the conference cellar and also rank at the bottom of the season standings.

Texas Christian has won only one game in 11 starts, and is 0-2 in conference play, but boasts the leading scorer since conference competition started. He is Phil Reynolds who racked up 55 points in two games.

Stiffer competition is in store for the loop leaders Tuesday night when Southern Methodist travels to Fayetteville to take on Arkansas and the Rice Owls meet Texas Tech at Lubbock. In other Tuesday night games, Baylor hosts the Texas Aggies and Texas travels to Fort Worth to meet TCU.

Friday, the Mustangs collide with the Aggies at College Station, Texas Christian hosts Arkansas and Rice entertains Texas at Houston.

A Saturday night game pitting Baylor and Texas Tech at Lubbock is the week's finale.

TV Package Tops Agenda

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A $9 million plus television contract will be the main topic when the National Football League opens its annual meetings today under Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

The final details of the new TV contract still are being worked out. It will be a package deal with a single network (CBS) for exclusive rights to all regular season games for two years at about $4,650,000 a year. Each of the 14 clubs will share equally. Each will get about $320,000.

Congressional action paved the way for single network contracts by pro football, baseball, basketball and hockey leagues last summer after a federal judge ruled an earlier contract violated anti-trust laws.

The league also will consider a proposal to increase the player limit from 36 to 38 as it was before the Minnesota Vikings franchise was activated last season. Most of the coaches favor the increase but there is some opposition among the owners.

Travis Home For C-City; Lamar Away

Travis 9th, a one-point decisioning by Lamar being the only blemish on its record, goes after victory number five here this evening in the Travis Gym, with Colorado City furnishing the opposition at 8 p.m.

Travis 8th (1-4) and 7th (0-4) will see action against the visiting Colorado Citians, with the 7th grade game slated for 5 p.m. and the 8th for 6:30 p.m.

All three Lamar teams will be trying their hands on the road, when they take the jaunt to Sweetwater for three games beginning at 5 p.m. Lamar 9th, with a spotless 6-0 mark for the campaign, ranks as the only undefeated team within the system.

In an earlier joust with Sweetwater, the Texan 9th won by 52-34, while the 8th won by 24-17 and the 7th by 18-13 to make it a clean sweep.

Undefeated List Trimmed To Two

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State and Mississippi State ruled the roost today as the only two undefeated major college basketball teams in the country—but there may be trouble ahead for the Bulldogs from the Southeastern Conference.

Ohio State (11-0) has only one game on tap this week, against Michigan on Saturday. Mississippi State (10-0), the defending Southeastern champions, entertains Alabama Tuesday night and that should be no problem.

But on Saturday, State runs up against Vanderbilt on the Commodores' court and that's giving Coach Babe McCarthy and his crew some uneasy moments.

Vandy has only a 6-5 record, but around the conference Mississippi State is known as a pretty soft touch for the northern division teams in their own lair. Vanderbilt is in the northern division and, despite its mediocre record, has hopes of winning the title.

Even more nerve-shaking is the future. State must journey to Georgia Tech, Tennessee and Kentucky, the other three members of the northern division.

The Bulldogs, a tight defensive outfit, polished off Auburn, 51-48, Saturday night for No. 10, while Ohio State, No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, opened defense of its Big Ten title by sailing past Northwestern, 85-62.

The Buckeyes can look to the future with a lot more confidence than Mississippi State. They didn't lose a game last season until they bumped against Cincinnati in the final of the NCAA tournament. This time around, there doesn't appear to be a team in the Big Ten that might even give them a close tussle. The rest of their schedule is against league opposition.

Cincinnati (11-1) has a big one on tap Wednesday night against Bradley, its top rival for the Missouri Valley Conference title. Bradley (8-2) is rolling with seven straight victories including last Saturday's 70-63 decision over Wichita, the only team that has beaten Cincinnati. The Bearcats meanwhile steamrolled Tulsa, 72-43.

Kansas State (10-2), fourth-ranked in the country, and Duke (9-2) eight-rated, also toppled, Colorado, which made good on 25 of 27 free throws, took the measure of K-State, 75-62, while North Carolina State nipped the Blue Devils, 61-60, on John Punger's last-second field goal.

Southern California (11-2), the class of the West Coast, cemented its No. 6 spot with a 79-52 victory over California. Duquesne (9-1), ranked No. 7, trounced St. Bonaventure, 73-52, while Bowling Green (10-2) No. 10, barely squeezed past Ohio University, 62-60, in a Mid-America Conference game.

Arkansas (9-2) and Texas Tech (7-2), both prime hopefuls for the Southwest Conference crown bit the dust. Texas turned back Arkansas, 73-59, and Texas A&M dropped Texas Tech, the defending titleholder 70-61.

Princeton, with high hopes of winning its third straight Ivy League crown, fell before Penn, 64-56, in its opening league game. Penn, which finished second to the Tigers last season, now assumes the favorite's role.

Blanda Experiences Miserable Afternoon

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Houston quarterback George Blanda has a hair problem called Charlie McNeil.

"He's always in my hair," muttered Blanda after the West swiped five of his passes and battered the favored East 47-27 Sunday in the first American Football League all-star game.

Blanda said West linebackers Sherrill Headrick and E. J. Holub, both from Dallas, and pass defenders McNeil of San Diego, Fred Williamson of Oakland and David Webster of Dallas all combined to give him a miserable afternoon.

The West converted four of the thefts into touchdowns in the bruising struggle. Williamson ran one back 34 yards for the next-to-last West score.

Oddly, Blanda lost six passes two weeks ago in the AFL title game, but it didn't hurt him as the Oilers whipped San Diego, 10-3.

San Diego and West coach Sid Gillman, who gained a degree of revenge over Oiler and East mentor Wally Lemm, credited Dallas quarterback Cotton Davidson with reversing the game's tide — "He picked up the team and got it rolling."

Davidson, billed as an understudy to Charger Jack Kemp, took the reins in the second period after Kemp hadn't engineered even a first down.

Davidson quickly threw 44 yards to San Diego's Don Stone as the West took a 7-5 lead. The East regained the edge at 12-7. But then Abner Haynes of Dallas ran 34 yards for one score and Davidson threw 24 yards to San Diego's Dave Kocourek to decide the issue before halftime.

A crowd of 20,973 in Balboa Stadium got its prime second-half thrill when Haynes ran a punt back 66 yards to a touchdown.

West squad members got $700 each. Each loser took home $500.

SETS MARK — Donna de Varona, swim champion at 14, set world record in winning National AAU Women's outdoor 400-meter individual medley title in August.

GRID STANDOUT — Ernie Davis, Syracuse All-America back, holds Heisman trophy awarded to him in December as nation's outstanding college football player.

ON THE BALL — Cincinnati's Paul Hogue takes rebound in NCAA title game with unbeaten Ohio State at Kansas City in March. Cincinnati won, 70-65.

ACE HURLER — Veteran Yankee lefty Whitey Ford led the majors in 1961 with 25 wins. He capped the season by breaking Babe Ruth's World Series pitching mark.

RUN FOR THE ROSES — Carry Back (10), piloted by Johnny Sellers, beats Crozier to the finish line by three-quarters of a length to win 87th running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs. Carry Back is the top three-year-old of the year.

TOPS IN TENNIS — Australia's Roy Emerson raises his racquets after beating Rod Laver for U. S. men's singles crown at Forest Hills, N. Y., in September.

PRO SCORING PUNCH — Green Bay's Paul Hornung (5) dives into end zone to score against Baltimore in October. Hornung, drafted into the Army in midseason, played with Packers on weekends and became National Football League's highest scorer.

Middle-Of-Road Session Forecast

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pretty much the same as last year's middle of the road—is a reasonable prediction of what to expect at home this year from the combined efforts of President Kennedy and Congress.

When Kennedy delivers his State of the Union message Thursday to Congress, which opens Wednesday, no sensations are expected. He has already given previews of his programs and what he will do about them.

The previews not only indicate he isn't going to get fighting mad but that he has even backtracked on at least one of his last year's proposals. That's on federal aid to education.

Last year he asked for a broad aid to education bill, including school construction. The opposition seemed to take the steam out of him on this one. This year he'll pitch for aid to higher education.

He may try harder for a program of medical care for the aged. How much harder remains to be seen. Last year this one ended in the soup.

Last year he failed so completely to make good on his campaign pledge of 1960 to push fast for new civil rights legislation that he didn't even offer any. He'll probably skip it this year, too.

There will be a real contest on his forthcoming request for more freedom in cutting tariffs so this country can deal better with Western Europe's Common Market.

On this one he has the support of some of the country's top Republicans.

There are two good tests of how hard a president is willing to push on any given issue:

1. His willingness to make some members of Congress so angry that, in retaliation, they may gang up on him to slaughter some other program. So far Kennedy's policy has been to keep peace in the family.

2. Appealing directly to the people to put pressure on Congress. Last year Kennedy did little of this. There is no sign he'll do differently this year.

Kennedy has used two other methods: talking directly with key members and having his aides buttonhole them steadily in the Capitol.

If some of the issues mentioned above don't get through this year —medical care, aid to education, civil rights—they'll be issues in the 1962 congressional elections.

How failure to pass them could help Kennedy is hard to see. The Republicans can argue that the Democrats, who have huge majorities in both houses of Congress, must take responsibility for the failures.

The death of Speaker Sam Rayburn, who was a kind of patriarch in the House, will probably be a loss to Kennedy in some ways. But Rayburn's successor, John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, is less conservative than the old Texan, may be on Kennedy's side on more issues than Rayburn was.

South Dakota Cattle Drive Crisis Ends

WINNER, S.D. (AP)—A swirling snowstorm that brewed a temporary feed crisis for Don Hight's cattle drive turned out to have its helpful side.

"It'll cover all the winter wheat we have to travel across," Hight said as he readied his 1,800 Herefords for the final 17 miles of a 60-mile walk to a cattle auction house at Winner.

Hight's trucks from his Westover ranch got stalled in the snow for a time but he was able to buy hay from a rancher and the trucks pulled in Sunday with a concentrated protein feed for the animals.

Much of the remaining distance is in more settled country than the cattle range where the animals grazed before heading to market.

They are hoofing across numerous farms and Hight had to agree to keep them along fence lines to avoid plowing through more wheat than is necessary.

Publicity about Hight's unusual enterprise in modern-day cattle operations created a circus atmosphere Sunday. Hundreds of motorists drove out to watch the herd cross U.S. Highway 183 northwest of Winner.

At times, the herd has stretched out a mile and a half. The 40-year-old rancher lets the cows set their own pace.

Hight expects to have the cattle in pens at the sales ring Tuesday night. He'll separate the cows and calves, the steers to go by the pound and the cows by the head when the auctioneer's cry rings out Thursday.

His mainworry now, Hight says, is shrinkage. He expects to save $7,000 by trail-driving the beef as against the normal method of trucking them, and expects to pocket around $360,000 at the sale.

Hight runs a 16,000-acre spread at Westover, near White River, S.D.

Special Tools Required For Space Work

By JACK STILLMAN

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A space mechanic working in zero-gravity could turn a flip simply by twisting a screwdriver. A monkey wrench could throw him for a loop.

Weightlessness in space requires special tools that are being developed at the Marshall Space Flight Center.

To keep a space mechanic from having to handle ordinary tools, the space agency is experimenting with new push-button and quick squeeze hand tools.

In an orbital launching operation, separate stages of a manned space vehicle would be launched, assembled and possibly fueled while in a 300-mile-high orbit. All of this would take place on the second leg of a round-trip flight to the moon.

Space mechanics may have to connect these rocket stages.

Experiments are being conducted jointly here by the Manned Space Craft Center, Langley Field, Va., and the Space Flight Center to determine over-all space vehicle maintenance problems.

In simulated space tests, an engineer wearing a pressurized space suit and standing on a frictionless platform riding on air pressure, carries out maintenance jobs that a space mechanic might encounter. The floating platform simulates, to some degree, the unstabilized condition found in space. Gravity, however, is normal.

Standing on the platform, a space mechanic tests the newly developed antitorque tools that space mechanics of the future may use.

One is a screwdriver that can be turned by squeezing rather than by twisting. Another is a combination of pliers and wrench, also operated by squeezing.

A third tool, called a spunfit, is a wrench operated by a trigger.

Job Absenteeism Is Deplored By Cuban

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Cuba's economic chief Ernesto Guevara says job absenteeism must be wiped out and production increased in every industry.

Guevara warned workers they will have to have an excuse to stay away from their jobs. His speech, broadcast from Havana, was monitored at Key West.

Old Coins Are Found

CAIRO (AP) — A schoolgirl playing in a ditch found a jar containing 288 gold coins dating back 10 centuries, and archeologists speculated it may be part of the treasure of a caliph who ruled Egypt in the 10th century A.D.

The girl, Aida Mohammed, 9, said she found the gold while playing hide and seek with her 7-year-old brother.

The director of the Islamic Excavations Department, Dr. Gamal Uddin Mehrez, ordered the site guarded. He said there was a possibility the treasure of Caliph Al Moezz, who conquered Egypt 10 centuries ago, might be discovered.

SNYDER BUSINESS NEWS

FARM AND RANCH LISTINGS ARE A SPECIALTY of Jack and Jack Realty Co. Preston Wilson, who is in charge of listings and sales of farm and ranch lands for the firm looks over a few of the listings he has from a five-state area. Through a Multiple Listing service, listings of other realtors are carried by Jack and Jack, and local listings are distributed to these other realtors for the widest possible coverage.

Multiple Listings Are Aid To Jack And Jack Clients

Jack and Jack Realty Co. is one of Snyder's oldest and most experienced real estate firms. L. A. McClanahan, owner, purchased the firm in 1950, and has continued to serve the people of Snyder and Scurry County with competent service since that time.

Noting the increasing interest in farm and ranch lands in recent months, McClanahan obtained the services of Preston Wilson, himself a Scurry County farmer. Wilson knows farms and farming, and now specializes in that field for the firm. As an added service to prospective buyers and sellers Jack and Jack is a member of a multiple listing service.

With multiple listing, Wilson explains, the buyer and the seller both benefit since the widest possible coverage is given to each listing. At present the group is formed of 16 realtors offering listings in Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado. Listings include dryland farms, irrigated, or combination. Somewhere in the listings is a farm or ranch which will fill anyone's requirements or desire, Wilson said.

The group of realtors who belong to this multiple listing service is being increased as time goes by and soon will cover all of the states west of the Mississippi. Wilson pointed out that those who list their farm or ranch lands with Jack and Jack automatically get the benefit of this multiple listing. And it works too—Wilson has had prospects from as far away as Arizona interested in Scurry County farms.

Also at the present time in addition to their wide selection of residential listings Jack and Jack have available several choice commercial lots. Suburban properties with small acreages near town also are offered by Jack and Jack.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. McClanahan and Wilson, Geneva Williamson and Ruth Keenan are on the staff to assist buyers or sellers. All arrangements for FHA, GI, or conventional loans may be made at Jack and Jack Realty. Their office is located at 611 East Highway; their phone, HI 3-3452.

Pawn Ticket Is Unhappy Symbol

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A pawnshop receipt is to Aquilino Carreon an unhappy symbol of the Dominican economic situation.

A 46-year-old dock worker, Carreon hocked his best pants for $2.50 last June 14 and hasn't got them back yet.

"I'll bet they're gone," he said as he put the receipt back into his work pants. "Or they'll be rotted by the time I get enough money to get them out."

Carreon and his friends sat listlessly at lunch on the shady side of a steel and concrete pier at San Pedro de Macoris. A German freighter rode at anchor in the steaming tropical heat, waiting for the group to resume loading.

San Pedro de Macoris is a once-thriving sugar center and port of 22,000. The majority of the work force is unemployed even in the live season, the weeks of the sugar cane harvest.

Carreon shared a tinful of rice and corn stew with Juan de la Cruz, 44.

Miguel Rodriguez, 46, father of five, said "This moring I had a biscuit and some cocoa. My family? I left before they got up. I don't know if they ate. We here on the docks eat maybe twice a day, maybe once. Chapita (a nickname of the late Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo) said he'd teach us Negroes to live without money."

"And he proved it, for 31 years," Carreon commented. "We owe practically everything we're going to make on this job, maybe $90 or $70. I had a work turn in February for four days. Then no job until now. When we don't work we do all we can to eat; borrow, fool people, eat sugar cane and coconuts. That's how I lost my pants."

One trouble at San Pedro is that there are 384 longshoremen and few ships to work on. Planters say another is that Dominicans won't cut cane on the ground the pay is too low. It used to be 45 cents a ton, now it's going to be 30 cents. A good cutter can fell from 1½ to 2 tons daily. About 14,000 Haitians are imported for this work.

Henry Williams, 47, loading supervisor, makes 90 cents an hour for an eight-hour day.

But no one works continuously. Work has to be parceled out. The laborers' pay was increased recently from $5.60 to $7.20 for an eight-hour day.

Williams said, "If these fellows made $100 a week, they'd still be hungry and would want $200."

Rodriguez pays $8 monthly for rent. The others pay somewhat less. All complained about food prices.

"Rice is 12 cents a pound for the good kind and 10 cents for the bad," Carreon said. "Chicken is a luxury at 50 to 60 cents a pound."

Primate Of Greece Dies

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Theoclitos, archbishop of Athens and primate of all Greece, died today. He was 72.

The head of the Greek Orthodox Church had been in ill health since he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage almost two months ago.

Funeral services will be held in Athens Thursday.

Archbishop Theoclitos was born at Dimitsana, a small town in the central Peloponnesus. He graduated from the University of Athens as a doctor of divinity.

He displayed unusual preaching ability and in 1924 was ordained as assistant bishop. He became bishop of Calavryta in 1931, bishop of Patras in 1944, and was elected archbishop of Athens in 1957.

His life was dedicated to philanthropy and to his church and was marked by exceptional administrative ability and devotion. He was noted also for his adherence to national and ecclesiastical tradition and his abstemious way of life.

His monthly income ranged between $2,000 and $2,350. He distributed a third of this to poor priests, disabled intellectuals and men of letters in need.

He is survived by two brothers, a professor of the University of Salonika and a physician.

25 Seamen Feared Lost In Sinking

DOVER, England (AP)—Twenty-five seamen were feared lost in the sinking of the Yugoslav freighter Sabac after a midnight collision in the fog-shrouded English Channel.

Eight survivors and 10 bodies were recovered. The other 15 men aboard the 2,811-ton Sabac were believed dead. The ship and the 6,222-ton British steamer Doringfontein collided [illegible] cut in two, sank in six minutes.

Seamen said the missing men had almost no chance of survival after so many hours in the icy water with its swift currents.

'Giants' Are Midgets On Broadway

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — A vast amount of nervous energy is lavished by the cast upon Broadway's new play, "Giants, Sons of Giants."

Eyelids quiver, lips tremble, legs stamp, arms flail, and explosive pathces of dialogue pop. The net result is a crescendo of tedium on the stage of the Alvin Theater where it opened Saturday night.

Claude Dauphin and Nancy Kelly are the principal victims of the labored work, written and directed by Joseph Kramm. Others in the cast are Alfred Toigo, Franklin Cover, Paul McGrath, Tom Shirley and John Call.

Kramm, who won a Pulitzer Prize for drama in 1952 with "The Shrike," again is concerned with the perils of human obsession.

His main character is a prominent doctor who wants to establish a million-dollar clinic in a small Midwestern city. Having obtained the entire sum, Dr. Brisset (Dauphin) throws over the undertaking and collapses in psychopathic derangement.

The explanation, darkly embroidered with abnormal drives, is muddled and dramatically unsatisfactory. Nothing that occurs stimulates spectator sympathy for anyone on stage. What we have are a few isolated vignettes of stereotypes, as banal as Peter Larkin's living room set.

Kramm, who took over the direction midway during the tryout tour, keys the performance at a level of tension that becomes tiresome.

The title, should you wonder, derives from the Biblical book of Numbers. In lucid moments, Dr. Brisset uses it to help reassure his children that there really are no giants.

"Giants, Sons of Giants" is an unfortunate dramatic midget.

Pilot, 80, No Quitter

AMITYVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — William S. Read doesn't believe a man should clip his wings at any age.

He learned to fly an airplane five years ago—just for the fun of it. A real estate broker, he also uses his single-engine Cessna to fly prospective clients over likely bits of Long Island land.

When the weather cleared Sunday Read took a friend, Vincenzo Sesti Jr., 34, of Huntington, out for a pleasure spin.

After a leisurely ride Read headed homeward. Suddenly he realized he was coming in too low, right above some power lines.

"I saw those power lines ahead of me," he said. "I revved up the motor, but for some reason it didn't take. I didn't want to knock out those power lines. It would have caused a lot of trouble. I could have landed in a yard, but then I saw a street, and I set it down good."

Read pancaked the plane in. The craft wound up with damage to the wing tips and undercarriage—but Read and his passenger walked away without a scratch.

Does Read intend to stop flying?

"Oh, no!" he exclaimed. "The idea! Of course I'll keep flying."

Read is 80 years old.

At least 22 persons met violent deaths in Texas during the weekend.

Most of the deaths were blamed on fires, plane accidents, shootings, stabbings and miscellaneous accidents.

The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Two Dallas men were found dead Sunday night in an aluminum house boat on Lake Tawakoni, 25 miles southeast of Greenville.

Justice of the Peace W. R. Shields ruled that Arthur Ray Thompson, 33, and Doyle Howard Guffey, 23, died of suffocation. He said a charcoal burner was burning inside the tightly closed boat.

Mildred Horton, 30, was stabbed to death with a paring knife during an argument in a Dallas cafe early Sunday. Police held a 37-year-old woman.

A 46-year-old Abilene man, Berlin M. Hackney, was found shot to death at his home Sunday. Officers who went to the Hackney residence found Hackney lying on a bed, a .45 caliber gun in his hand.

Mrs. Otto Seggern, 64, burned to death Sunday as she was preparing Sunday dinner for her husband and son in their home three miles from Taylor. Her husband and son, Milton, suffered face and hand burns in their futile attempt to save Mrs. Seggern. Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Three-month-old Nancy Lyn Smith was strangled to death in Weslaco Friday. Her grandmother, who was first charged in the death, was ordered sent to a state hospital for sanity tests.

Mrs. Lucy Briscoe, 82, died when flames destroyed a 5-room house in which she was the only occupant at Rule 55 miles north of Abilene, Friday night. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Robert G. Sanchez, 29, of Colorado City, was killed Friday night when struck by an automobile on U.S. 80 three miles east of Big Spring.

A 20-year-old Negro expectant mother, Mrs. Jesse May Burett, was killed in Fort Worth Friday night from the blast of a 12 gauge shotgun.

Two aged Negroes burned to death in their home Friday night at Corsicana. They were Frank Gibbs, 79, and Liller Gibbs, 88. A kitchen stove was believed to have exploded.

V. E. Baker, 53, died Friday night in a fist fight with another farmer at West Point.

A West German flight student and a U.S. Air Force captain died Saturday when their training plane exploded about 50 feet off the ground near the West Texas town of Suday. No identity of the German was released. The captain was Thomas P. Sexton, 34, of Glen Allen, Va.

Mrs. Stella Murphy, 66, was killed by a car Saturday near her home just northeast of Tyler on the Longview highway.

Jose Vargas, 45, died Saturday shortly after a pickup truck in which he rode and a car collided one mile west of Clyde on U.S. 80.

Two persons were killed Saturday and 5 injured seriously when a butane gas heater exploded in a service station in Spur. Killed were A. H. (Burt) Cherry, owner and manager of the station, and 10-year-old Lynn Kidd.

A pilot died when his fighter plane crashed in Mountain Creek Lake near Dallas Saturday. He was Lt. Anthony F. Balamonte, 28, of Dallas, a naval air reservist.

The driver was killed and his 15-year-old son injured critically Saturday night when their car missed a bridge on farm road 247 near Huntsville. Dead is Ira Winford Click, 41, of Terrell.

San Antonio's first traffic fatality of 1962 was recorded Saturday night when an airman's car smashed into a railroad overpass stanchion. The dead man is 31-year-old Staff Sergeant Lonnie Shelton Jr. of San Antonio.

Secunvio Murrilo, 21, of Muleshoe was injured fatally Saturday night while working on a gin press at Muleshoe.

Bizerte was a haven for pirates during the Turkish rule of that country, from the 16th to the 19th Centuries.

Merchants Buoyed By Buying Spree

By SAM DAWSON
AP Busines News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—First they gave all the credit to Santa Claus. Now the nation's merchants are hopeful—even confident—that the big jump in retail sales of late means that the consumers have had another change of heart, a change toward spending instead of saving.

Bearing this out, they say, is a large hike in outstanding consumer credit. They expect the new consumer psychology to carry on time buying still higher this year.

If the switch holds up as expected, it could mean more to the conomy even than the counted-upon rise in defense spending this year or the moderate increase anticipated in business spending for plant and equipment.

That's because consumer spending is the biggest item of all, because it is the most contagious, and because a change to more spending by individuals is felt quicker than the other two spending forms, which have a time lag between intention and outlay.

The Federal Reserve reports department store sales in the final four weeks of 1961 rose 8 per cent over a year earlier. This brought total sales for the year 3 per cent above 1960.

And more new cars were sold last month than in any December since 1955. Some other forms of durable goods also were getting better consumer play.

Altogether retail sales near the end of the year were running at a record annual rate of $221 billion.

Retail optimists stress that, unlike previous advances in the last year or so, consumer spending this time didn't shy away from the durables to concentrate on soft goods and services almost exclusively.

The Federal Reserve reports installment credit rose by $300 million in November, the biggest jump since June 1960, to a total of $42.4 billion outstanding. The November gain in auto credit was $152 million. It had turned up in October after nine months of decline.

Further increases in installment credit are predicted for 1962. The total should rise to about $47 billion, in the opinion of Alan G. Rude, president of Universal C. I. T. Credit Corporation.

All of this would add to the total of retail sales.

Consumer psychology is notoriously fickle. It can change quickly if frightened by international dustups or if it senses a swing in the domestic business cycle.

But right now the public seems to be in a buying mood. Businessmen hope it stays that way.
