Second Summit Talk Set At Glassboro

Crude Flow Factor Is Highest Ever

By ROBERT HEARD

AUSTIN (AP)—Because of the Middle East crisis, the Texas Railroad Commission has jumped the oil production allowable for July to 42.9 per cent of potential, the highest factor ever set.

The commission set the new factor Friday. It had postponed setting a July factor at its regular statewide hearing on June 15 so it would have more time to study the effects of the Middle East crisis.

The July factor is 7 per cent above the 35.9 per cent factor set for June at the June 15 hearing. The original June allowable, set at the May hearing, was 33.8 per cent, but it was amended at the June hearing because of the Middle East crisis, which resulted in greater demand.

The July factor will permit maximum production of 3,512,042 barrels a day, and increase of 399,851 barrels a day over the amended June allowable.

It may mean as much as $1.5 million in additional tax revenue for the state for Julyy.

The commission said Louisiana and Texas each are expected to produce as much as 400,000 additional barrels a day in July just to meet increased domestic demand caused by the Middle East crisis.

It feared an oil glut, however, if state and federal officials do not keep a careful watch on the supply situation in this country and also the import program.

It said Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall has been asked for "executive assurance" that total U.S. stocks will be reduced to normal working levels before imports from Middle East areas where the flow has been cut off are restored to former levels.

Since changing over from a day-allowable system to a percentage factor system in January 1963, the factor had never been above 37.5 per cent, where it peaked last January. Under the day-allowable system, however, a higher percentage of potential was allowed aftere the Suez crisis, reaching better than 50 pr cent.

Oil Production Big Factor Here

More than $87.9 million a year of economic stimulation for Scurry County flows from its oil and gas wells each year, an annual study by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association shows.

"As one of the 206 producing counties in Texas, Scurry County's economy is sensitive to fluctations in the oil industry generally," commented W. A. Landreth, Fort Worth, Association president. "Long range, the demand for oil looks strong and current production rates continue to provide Texas a major source of its income. On the other hand, Texas operators are beset by competition from other oil producing areas, government ceilings on natural gas and a price for crude oil that is insufficient to encourage the amount of exploratory drilling that is needed to find future reserves."

Based on latest U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, Scurry County in 1965 produced 28.7 million barrels of crude oil, valued at $85.1 million and 21.4 billion cubic feet of natural gas valued at $2.8 million, and ranks 7th among Texas counties in production.

In addition, plants which process natural gas for liquids such as natural gasoline, butane and propane in 1965 produced more than 249.5 million gallons of liquids valued at $12.0 million.

A major distribution of income from sales of oil and gas went to county landowners in royalty payments totaling more than $11.0 million.

In 1966, a year that saw drilling in Texas fall to its lowest level since 1947, oil and gas operators drilled 65 wells in Scurry County. Of these 8 were wildcats seeking new fields.

The Association estimated that operators in the county spent more than $5.1 million in drilling last year, of which $1.0 million was lost in dry holes.

Sharing heavily in the county's production each year is the State Treasury, which received $4.1 million in production taxes in 1965 paid by the producers and royalty owners. Crude oil production paid $3.9 million and natural gas production, $193,963.

Texas Employment Commission figures for 1966 show that some 663 workers directly employed in oil and gas operations accounted for a payroll in excess of $4.5 million.

Additional value is given oil and gas from the eoperation of processing plants. The Oil and Gas Journal lists 4 natural gasoline plants in the county with a capacity of 199.0 million cubic feet per day.

W. A. Taylor Service Set

Funeral service for W. A. Taylor, 90, who died Friday morning, have been set for 3 p.m. today (Sunday) at the Dunn Methodist Church.

The Rev. Jesse Dea, pastor of the church, will officiate, and burial will be in the Dunn Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Lome.

Nephews of Mr. Taylor will be pallbearers.

Hint Sabotage In Crash Of Airliner

BLOSSBURG, Pa. (AP) — The president of Mohawk Airlines has asked FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to investigate a "strong suggestion of sabotage" in the crash of a jetliner Friday that killed 34 persons near here.

In a telegram to Hoover Friday night, Robert E. Peach, Mohawk president, said "evidence has developed in course of notification of next of kin of crash victims which leads to strong suggestion of sabotage."

He did not give any details of the evidence.

The plane — a BAC111 on Flight 40 bound from Syracuse, N.Y., to Washington, D.C. — plunged in a ball of flames onto Blossburg Mountain in north-central Pennsylvania at 2:50 p.m., shortly after it took off in overcast from Elmira, N.Y.

Investigators from several federal agencies, local authorities and state police met this morning to coordinate their investigations, which one spokesman said probably would take a week to 10 days.

Witnesses said the wreckage was scattered over a wide area and that nearly all the bodies were mutilated and dismembered.

"I was in World War II and I never saw anything like that," said Raymond Smith, 48, who visited the scene.

Before Peach sent his telegram, a Mohawk spokesman said the FBI was routinely investigating any possibility of sabotage. FBI agents also were sent to the scene to help identify victims, and the National Transportation Safety Board, a newly established unit in the Department of Transportation, sent investigators.

Former Maine Gov. John H. Reed, a member of the board, said Friday night the airplane's flight recorder tape had been found, intact and would be sent to Washington for analysis.

Red Strikes In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP)—Communist-called strikes crippled Hong Kong's public transport today as this British colony on Red China's border counted one dead and scores injured in a night of rioting.

Bus, streetcar, and cross-harbor ferry services were cut in half in some areas. Only a few taxis were on the streets.

Communist leaders also called strikes at gas, water and electric power plants but service was being maintained.

In Friday's rioting, police shot and killed a Chinese man when they opened fire on a Chinese mob beating two unarmed detectives.

Today's public transport and utilities strike cost Hong Kong's Communist leadership an estimated $175,000.

The Communists had offered salary reimbursement, a month's supply of rice, and a bonus payment of $87 to each worker who struck.

LONDON (AP) — Actor Sir Laurence Olivier, who is undergoing treatment for prostate gland cancer in London's St. Thomas Hospital, was reported today to be "progressing very well."

Infantry Company Has Heavy Loss

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — An American infantry company on a search-and-destroy mission was caught in a deadly crossfire of North Vietnamese automatic weapons and small arms and lost 76 killed and 24 wounded high in the central highlands, the U.S. Command disclosed today.

The bloody action near Dak To, 270 miles north of Saigon, took place Thursday, the command said, but the news was held up for "security reasons."

The badly mauled company of perhaps 150 men was part of the 173rd Airborne Brigade, the first Army combat unit to arrive in Vietnam; in May 1965. The company included many newcomers sent in as replacements for men rotated out of South Vietnam. It had been looking for the enemy since last Sunday but had had no contact until the surprise Red assault Thursday.

The company's two lead platoons apparently were sucked into trap and isolated halfway up a heavily forested 4,000-foot ridgeline. The North Vietnamese attackers reportedly wore black berets, indicating they were elite troops.

The two platoons, totaling about 80 men, apparently became confused and disorganized. About 75 of these men were found dead on the battlefield, the others wounded, spokesmen said.

The heavy fighting raged for seven hours.

Two other companies maneuvered to reinforce the embattled and battered unit. The 59 men accounted for at the time the reinforcements linked up were evacuated to the base camp at Dak To.

Fighting was reportedly so close that air strikes on the Communists had to be greatly limited; even so, fighter-bombers flew what tactical strikes they could and armed helicopters were pressed into action.

Early today B52 bombers, each of which carries 60,000 pounds of bombs, blasted the area where the airborne troops took a beating Thursday.

Troopers sweeping over the area Friday reported skirmishd es with small groups of North Vietnamese troops. They said they found 75 Communist bunkers, more than half of them spattered with fresh blood.

U.S. headquarters said no significant fighting had been reported since midnight Friday.

Interpreter Flying In

MOSCOW (AP) — America's top interpreter of Russian, diplomat Alexander Akalovsky, 44, flew to the United States today to serve at the second meeting Sunday between President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

The Yugoslav-born American was summoned by a telephone call from Washington Friday night after the first meeting in Glassboro, N.J.

Akalovsky interpreted for President Franklin D. Roosevelt at the 1945 Yalta conference with Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin. Since then he has participated in many high-level meetings.

Hussein Flying To U. S. For Session

ROME (AP)—King Hussein of Jordan is flying to New York today to attend the emergency meeting of the U.N. General Assembly on the Middle East crisis.

Hussein piloted his own plane from Amman to Rome, then transferred to a Pan American plane for the transatlantic trip.

Follow-Up A Surprise

By LEWIS GULICK

GLASSBORO, N. J. (AP) — American diplomats mixed optimism with caution today over prospects that two summit meetings at Glassboro will open the way toward solving major international issues. The fact that President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin met for five hours Friday, including three hours with no aides except interpreters—then agreed on another parley Sunday—was in itself regarded as a good omen.

Announcement of the follow-up session Sunday afternoon came as a surprise to the array of experts who figured the Friday meeting could only be a token one at best, considering how much difficulty the chiefs had all week over whether or where to get together.

As it turned out their first session at Hollybush, the brownstone residence of the Glassboro State College president, began with a handshake and ended with Johnson and Kosygin smilingly facing newsmen and a cheering crowd.

Kosygin concurred with Johnson's statement that their talks ranged over such issues as the Middle East crisis and Vietnam and that "we agreed it is now very important to reach international agreement on a nonproliferation treaty."

Presidential press secretary George Christian said the two leaders developed an understanding on the central question in the Middle East dispute—that "Israel does, of course, exist as a nation" — although they disagreed on other points.

Christian said Johnson hopes for a consensus on the other Middle East issues. He also reported that Secretary of State Dean Rusk, assigned to meet next week with Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, is optimistic about chances for U.S.-Soviet concurrence on the draft of a proposed treaty to bar the spread of nuclear weapons.

The two private meetings by the chiefs plus the business lunch attended by their top advisers at the tree-shaded campus site Friday produced a sudden improvement in the tone of U.S.-Soviet relations.

Since Kosygin's arrival in New York a week ago for the U.S.-opposed U.N. General Assembly special session on the Middle East, the atmosphere had soured amid his public denunciation of American as well as Israeli policy and the arguments over a summit meeting.

But after the Glassboro parley, Johnson hailed "the spirit of Hollybush." He told a Democratic group in Los Angeles that this is the spirit of "reasoning together."

Johnson declared that he and Kosygin had agreed they both want "a world of peace for our grandchildren."

But the President added a note of caution that "deep and serious differences" remain. 'One meeting does not make a peace," he said.

"We reached no new agreemnts—that does not happen in a single conversation—but I think we understand each other better," he said.

Kosygin At Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) —Soviet Prmier Alexei N. Kosygin, flying in a U.S. Air Force jetliner, landed at Niagara Falls at 10:08 a.m. today for a whirlwind look at the American and Canadian falls.

A majority of the crowd estimated at 1,600 at the airport applauded as he left the plane. Kosygin waved once and smiled.

He was greeted by Mayor E. Dent Lackey, who presented him with a gold key to the city, which the mayor said was worth $7. He also gave Kosygin a silver coin marking the 75th anniversary of the incorporation of Niagara Falls.

Kosygin and his party then headed by motorcade toward the cataracts.

The party took off in a Boeing 707 jet from Kennedy Airport at 9:06 a.m. for the Niagara Falls Municipal Airport.

He was accompanied by his daughter, Ludmila, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin.

There were 49 persons in the party, including State Department personnel, Secret Service men and diplomats.

On the trip also was Ambassador James Wadsworth Symington, chief of protocol for the State Department.

July 4th Events Take Shape Here

Plans for special events at the Towle Park Pool have been completed and other activities are taking shape for the annual Independence Day celebration here.

The big July 4th event is held each year in Towle Memorial Park, with a full day of activities coming to a climax with a gigantic fireworks display in the evening.

The events at the pool on July 4th will include swim meet competition, followed by the Miss Towle Pool competition.

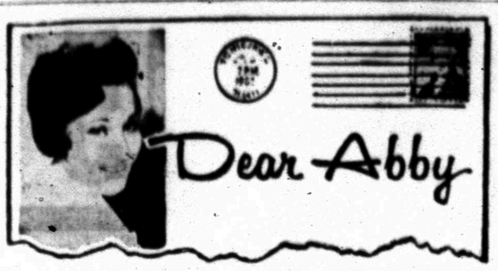

Qualifications for entries in the Miss Towle Pool contest include the following: Must be a resident of Scurry County; must be 14 years old or older; must register before July 1 at the pool; must be at least of sophomore classification in high school; must be in Snyder and available to appear in person at the contest July 4; must be single.

Those planning to enter the swim meet competition must sign up before July 3. The competition is open to all ages between 8 and 18, but each entrant must be able to swim at least one length of the pool (50 meters).

The swim contests will begin at 2 p.m. and will be reeled off in age groups. There will be groups for those 10 and under, 11 and 12, 13 through 15 and 16 through 18. Events will include 50-meter and 100-meter breast stroke, freestyle and backstroke. Also there will be individual medley events by age groups, and underwater swim contests for all age groups.

Other events being planned include baseball games, a tennis tournament, etc., along with the parade and opening festivities. Don Wooten, President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and Chairman of the Board of the Roscoe, Snyder and Pacific Railway, will be the guest speaker at the opening ceremonies on the morning of July 4th.

The day-long celebration is expected to attract the usual thousands of persons to Towle Memorial Park.

DEAR ABBY: You really opened your big mouth and stuck both feet in it when you advised the wife of the man who was brought up in the Catholic church, and got fed up with it, to send her husband to a head-shrinker. Religion is so much superstition and hokum which, in itself, is a form of a "mental disease."

Those who believe that a cracker, which comes out of a bakery like any other cracker, becomes the "flesh of God" when they eat it, are sick, not those who don't believe it. I could go on pointing out the absurdities of religion, but I doubt that it would do any good as most religionists are so completely brainwashed they can't think straight when it comes to religion.

Religion serves a good purpose for people who need a crutch. But when they no longer need it, they are well, not sick. I always thought you were half nuts. Now I'm sure of it.

NOT SUPERSTITIOUS

DEAR ABBY: You religious believers can make all sorts of remarks about us nonbelievers in the public press, but the opinion of the nonbeliever is never expressed without censorship or distortion.

If there is truly freedom of religion, and freedom of the press, then a person has as much right not to believe as one has TO believe. And the nonbeliever's opinions should be printed alongside the believers'.

This is one letter that will never make your column, but I had to write it.

ANTI-RELIGIONIST

DEAR ABBY: Just because a man has suddenly found out that religion is one of the biggest rackets going on, you say he's a mental case.

And what do you base your opinion on? A poor guy got tired to putting food on the table and hearing his wife and kids thank "God" for it.

I once knew a man who never rose from the table without thanking his wife for the meal. Would you send him to the head doctor, too?

NONBELIEVER

DEAR ABBY: So now you are a psychiatric diagnostician yet! I refer to the man who suddenly got this "thing" about religion, as his wfie put it, because he refused to go to church, ridiculed her and the children when they did, wouldn't let the priest in the house, and when his wife said grace at the table demanded, "Don't thank God for the food — thank ME!"

With no more than that to go on, you say the man has a symptom of mental illness and ought to see a doctor. E. S. P. maybe you have, Abby?

This man would find many a kindred spirit in a Unitarian church where there are many well - blaanced, sane, educated people who formerly belonged to an orthodox church, but developed a "thing" about what they were taught there.

P.M.P.

DEAR ABBY: I go along with your answers about 99 per cent of the time, but this time I disagree that the man who has "lost" his religion is mentally ill.

Isn't it possible that he came to the stage that he could no longer swallow some of the precepts of the church, and he is acting that way because his wife is trying to ram it down his throat — sending a priest around when he doesn't want to see one?

I've seen many supposedly "sane" people who are anti-religious. It is the religious communicant who does not mean what he says, who uses religion to maintain his status of advance his career, and who, having in reality little or no faith himself, demands it all the more loudly of others.

SURPRISED AT YOU

DEAR ABBY: You advised a wife, whose husband turned his back on religion, to consult a doctor because he had this "thing" about religion.

Aw, come on, Abby, many people quit believing in Santa Claus and fairy tales when they are seven years old, and they aren't referred to doctors.

Pvt. Powell Graduates

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. — Marine Private Woodruff L. Powell, son of Mrs. Lois D. Powell of 3008 Avenue K, Snyder was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here.

He will now undergo about three weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45-calibre pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects hygiene; first aid and sanitation: and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join Marine combat forces.

Architect Dies Friday

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Llewellyn William Pitts, 60, an internationally known architect, died at his home here Friday night following a long illness.

Funeral arrangements were pending late Friday night.

Pitts was a former president of the Texas Society of Architects and was a member of the College of Fellows of the American Institute of Architects.

Buildings which he designed include the U. S. Embassy in Mexico City, the State Office Building No. 1 at Austin, Tex.; the Science Building at Baylor University, Waco, Tex.; and the Texas Employment Commission Buildings in Austin and Beaumont.

He had spent much time on the design for the projected $47.6 million Labor Department Building in Washington, D. C.

Survivors include the widow and one daughter, Mrs. James Stokes of Los Angeles, Calif.

Moorman Is Sentenced

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Frank Roswell Moorman III, who supposedly told a draft board clerk to "go to hell," was sentenced to five years in prison Friday.

Moorman, 24, was described by a prosecutor as wanting his draft board to send him an "engraved invitation" for an Armed Forces physical examination at the time of his choosing.

He was found guilty Wednesday by a federal court jury. U.S. Dist. Court Judge Joe E. Estes sentenced Moorman to five years on each of five counts of violating the draft law. The sentences will run concurrently.

The defense said it would appeal. Moorman contended during the two-day trial that he loved his country and wanted to serve. His lawyer said Moorman's three failures to appear for physician examinations were the result of honest errors.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Tim Timmins reminded the 10-man, two-woman panel in closing arguments that a witness testified Moorman once told a draft board clerk to "go to hell."

Refugees Claim They're Deported

By ELIAS N. ANTAR

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Palestinian refugees charged today that Israeli troops occupying the Jordan River's west bank are systematically deporting inhabitants of villages along the 1949 armistice line between Jordan and Israel.

Refugees, interviewed in their temporary quarters in an Amman school building, claimed villagers are being removed by force, intimidation and trickery.

Several refugees said they were threatened with death if they tried to return to their homes.

They said at least two villages on the western edge of the Israeli-occupied west bank region have been leveled by Israeli demolition crews and bulldozers.

Other villages were partly destroyed and some of their young men taken away by the Israeli troops, the refugees said.

They said the Israelis used "terror tactics" to frighten the villagers, then forced them to leave in buses and on foot for the River Jordan marking the truce line.

Thousands of these refugees have crossed into east Jordan since the cease-fire.

The villages affected are in an area from which the Israelis claimed Arab guerrillas staged raids into Israel before the six-day war.

The two villages which the refugees said had been razed were Qalqilye, an agricultural community of 12,000 about 30 miles northwest of Jerusalem, and Imwas, a village of 3,000 12 miles west of Jerusalem. Both villages are near the former Israeli-Jordan armistice line which bulged westward from the Jordan River.

An Israeli spokesman in Tel Aviv has denied charges that Israeli forces had evacuated Qalqilye and demolished the town. He admitted the town was badly damaged, but said this resulted from the fighting.

The spokesman also denied that Palestinian refugees were being herded across the Jordan River by Israeli soldiers.

The refugees who were interviewed said they came from Qalqilye and Imwas and from the mall village of Kafr Jmml north of Qlqilye. Others said they came from Tulkarm, a town of 25,000 inhabitants 10 miles north of Qalqilye.

A 75-year-old farmer and landowner from Imwas said the Israelis tricked him and his family into leaving the village by saying they were being taken to the nearby town of Rammalah for two hours.

Jaycees In Session Here

The Snyder Jaycees met Friday at noon for their regular weekly meeting.

President Dave Harlin presided over the meeting and Bobby McMullen gave the invocation. Daid Beckett led the Jaycees in the creed.

Jim Johns reported on the "Speak Up" project and the Jaycee Toastmasters Club. He stated the next meeting would be held at 8 p.m. June 27, and the club voted to meet every second and fourth Tuesday.

A report was given on the Jaycees planned activities for July 4. They will have their annual fishing rodeo, and in addition, will operate six game booths and concessions.

It was requested that the Jaycees drive new cars carrying visiting and local dignataries in the July 4 parade. The new cars will be furnished by Les Frances Chevrolet, Wilson Motors and Thomas Chrysler - Dodge - Plymouth.

A report was given on the ads in the Rodeo program.

President Harlin circulated a letter of support to the American personnel in Vietnam. It is a Jaycee state project, and members of the community are also being asked to sign the letter. The letter and all signatures will be published in a Austin newspaper on July 4.

The Jaycees voted to sell fireworks, and to provide a barbecue dinner for the American Field Service students that will be in town next Saturday.

City Firemen Are Called Out Twice

The Snyder Fire Department answered two minor calls Friday afternoon.

A car fire was reported at 4:15 p.m. The car was owned by J. Stubblefield, Dorsey and Avenue O. It was a 1960 Plymouth.

At 9:50 p.m. the Fire Department answered a call at the B&B Parkway Store on Avenue F and the East Hwy. Only minor damage was reported.

Two Vehicles Are In Mishap Here

The Snyder Police Department investigated a two car accident Friday afternoon.

The cars involved were a 1963 Ford driven by Joe Lynn McDonald, 2112 Forty - second Street, and a 1967 Pontiac driven by James Walter Rannefeld, 4507 Denison Avenue.

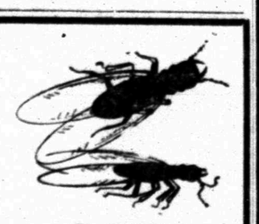

Damage to the McDonald car was estimated at $100, and $150 in damages was estimated to the Rannefeld car.

Helicopter Crash Worst In History

JACKSONVILLE, N.C. (AP) — The in-flight collision of two helicopters that killed 22 Marines was described today by Marine Corps officials as the worst tragedy in the history of the helicopter-troop training program.

Twenty-one of the Marines died in the fiery collision Friday. One of 14 injured died at a hospital hours after the mid-morning crash.

The collision occurred 500 feet in the air. The two craft fell in a small clearing on the wooded New River Marine Air Facility, a base in eastern North Carolina used to train Marines in Vietnam-type helicopter operations.

A CH53A Sea Stallion, a large, fast helicopter carrying four crewmen and 29 Marine troopers, tumbled to earth and burst into flames.

The other copter, a HU2E Huey, had two pilots aboard. Both were killed.

Col. Thomas Tulipane, commander of Marine Air Group 26 to which the copters were attached, said the Sea Stallion was coming in for a landing. The troopers were to leave the helicopter quickly and assault a simulated pillbox, a maneuver practiced many times.

The Huey, practicing landings and takeoffs, came up from the runway and smashed into the tail of the troop-carrying copter and both plunged to earth, Tulipane said. The copters crashed about 1,000 yards apart.

The two pilots in the Sea Stallion escaped with minor injuries.

Hours after the crash Lance Cpl. John Ritter of San Leandro, Calif., one of the survivors, stood near the charred wreckage of one copter. His nose was split in two places.

Newsmen were permited to ask him only one question—how he felt as a survivor of the tragedy.

Ritter answered, "I'm awfully darned glad. I'm glad I can still walk. That's about all I can say about it."

A Marine spokesman said several troopers in the larger helicopter were thrown clear. Others were trapped in the flaming wreckage.

Tulipane said the weather was fairly clear at the time of the crash and there was no visibility problem. A Marine board of officers is investigating.

19 Cents Awarded In Shreveport Suit

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — William Carter of Bossier City won 19 cents in his suit against T. B. Friday.

Carter is the father of a newsboy who delivers the Shreveport newspapers. Claiming that Friday failed to pay for four papers, Carter sued the Bossier City man for 26 cents.

However, Bossier City Municipal Court determined Friday that Friday received only three newspapers. Judge Louis Lyons awarded Carter 19 cents.

PATTY SMYTH, 16, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smyth, and Evelyn Feather, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Feather, left Midland Friday to enroll in Swope Hawaiian Summer School at Lihu, Kauai, Hawaii. Students from 10 states will meet in Los Angeles and San Francisco, Calif. From there they board Pan American to Honolulu. The group then fly by Hawaiian Air line to Lihu Airport where they will receive an official Hawaiian style greeting.

The Swope students arrival on the island is usually marked by a massive "Welcome" luau presented by the people of Kauai and the island students.

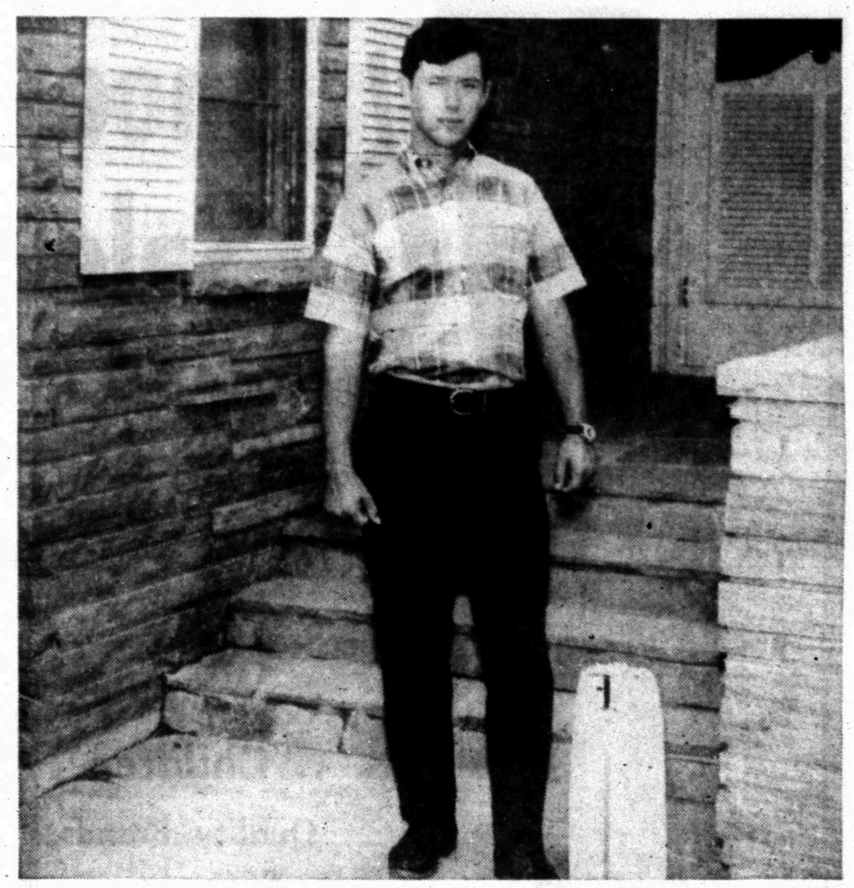

The Swope Summer School occupies the Kauai High School on the island. Evelyn will take geometry and Patty will take chemistry.

Before returning home the students will take a helicopter ride to The Valley of the Lost Tribe.

Brumley Reunion Is Held

The descendents of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Henderson Brumley celebrated a family reunion in Snyder at the Northeast community center June 18, with 40 members represented from 13 towns of Texas. Ten of the descendants were grandchildren of Marion Henderson Brumley who was a Texas Ranger, coming to West Texas in the early days to help protect the frontier from the Indians, and eventually establishing a home and rearing a family in Scurry County, but who died in Abilene, Texas at the age of 96.

The late George Brumley and the late J. N. Brumley married daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Conro, another early settler of the county and all of their living descendents were present. Four generations of the late George Brumley were: Mrs. George Brumley, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brumley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lear and their children, Teri and Ronnie. Descendents of the late J. N. Brumley include Mrs. L. L. Lewis, Snyder; Lee Brumley, Temple; both present with their families; and Leonard Brumley, who ranches west of Snyder.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Newsom, Jackie and Patricia, Dimmitt; Roy Lee Brumley, Mesquite; Marion Reid Brumley, Munday; M. H. Brumley, Lynn Paul Brumley, and Miss Lucille Brumley, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Holland, Mrs. Fay E. Holland, and Mrs. Noramae Newsom, Dimmitt; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Young, Lockhart; Mr. Craig Shook, Corpus Christi; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lear, Teri, and Ronnie, Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brumley, Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Cox, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Leake J. Ward, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. James Lear, Monahans; Mrs. Alvin Lear, Dallas; Mr. Don Lewis, and Mrs. Rodger Blackard, Lonnie, and Audra Lena, Snyder.

For weight - watchers add stewed tomatoes to chicken broth for a hot soup. Pass the freshly ground pepper.

Drippings from a beef or veal roast, when they are not used for gravy, may be put in the freezer and used to enrich meat sauces.

DRUG FACT 9 9 1

Although some prescriptions cost more, and some less, the average price is only $3.25 — less than the cost of a good dinner. But regardless of cost, modern prescription drugs are your best health value today, because they do so much for you. In almost every case, they help reduce your total cost of illness. Prices at our Prescription department are always uniformly fair.

Canned Foods Bring Interesting Summer Menus

When temperatures rise, it's time for some cool thinking on the subject of meal planning. With the wonderful selection of convenience foods available today, plus the season's option of dining indoors or out, you can retain your family title of "best cook in the world" and remain cool and unruffled in the process.

Here, for instance, is dinner made into an occasion — carried out to the porch — to a table graced by the flicker of candlelight and cheery fresh flowers. The star of the menu is Summer Beef Stew, made in minutes from meat-rich, expertly seasoned canned beef stew. Simple additions of chopped cucumber and dill enhance its goodness. For an extra touch of flavor, serve Summer Beef Stew with a garnish of dill-sprinkled sour cream.

• • •

SUMMER BEEF STEW

1 can (1 pound 3 ounces) beef stew
½ cup chopped cucumber
¼ teaspoon dried dill leaves, crushed
Sour cream

In saucepan, combine stew, cucumber, and dill. Heat, stir now and then. Garnish with sour cream. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

• • •

Here's a new approach to corned beef hash — tasty rounds of canned corned beef hash, browned, and covered with canned spaghetti sauce with mushrooms. It's a family-pleaser that can be prepared on stove or grill in hardly any time at all.

SAUCEY HASHBURGERS

2 cans (15½ ounces each) corned beef hash
1 can (15½ ounces) spaghetti sauce with mushrooms

Cut hash into slices as directed on label. Brown in skillet (use 2 or transfer to heated platter). Remove slices; add spaghetti sauce. Heat, stir now and then. Serve sauce over hash. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Cartwheel Grapefruit

Grapefruit
Honey
Candied orange peel
Toasted slivered almonds (from a 5-ounce can)

Use a half grapefruit for each serving. With a small sharp knife, cut away sections from dividing membranes. If grapefruit is seedless, use a kitchen scissors to snip out center membrane. If grapefruit has seeds, use a small sharp knife to cut out center. Dribble honey over grapefruit. Arrange alternate strips of orange peel and almond slivers around the surface of the grapefruit like spokes of a wheel.

Ham Sandwich

Roll thinly sliced cooked ham in refrigerated quick crescent dinner rolls. Bake at 375 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes. Pour heated crushed pineapple over baked crescents. Serve for a spring luncheon with a marinated vegethale salad made with canned mixed vegetables.

Meringue With Strawberries

1 cup milk
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1-4 cup flaked coconut
½ cup egg whites
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
Sweetened sliced strawberries

In a medium saucepan, gradually stir the milk into the cornstarch, keeping smooth. Cook and stir constantly over medium heat until mixture is smooth and thickened and comes just to a boil; remove from heat. Stir in sugar, salt and coconut; cool slightly. Beat egg whites and cream of tarter until stiff; fold in cooled sauce. Turn into 8 ungreased (6 ounce) custard cups. Place in a pan of hot water. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until puffed and slightly browned—about 40 minutes. Cool; chill. Run a small spatula around edges and turn out; do not try until after chilling. Serve with sweetened sliced strawberries. Makes 8 servings.

Beef And Beans

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 small onion, chopped
½ to 1 pound ground lean beef
2 cans (each 1 pound) barbecue-style beans

In a 10-inch skillet over moderately low heat, melt the butter; add onion and cook until golden. Add beef; cook until meat loses its red color, crumbling meat with a fork. Add beans and heat. Serve with rice in true south-of-the-border style. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

The Casual Eisenhower

AT EASE. By Dwight D. Eisenhower.

In military lingo, to be at ease is to be more relaxed than in the rigid posture of attention. And so it is that in this volume Eisenhower is more personal, colloquial and anecdotal than in "Crusade in Europe" or "The White House Years."

The author relates a good many details about his family and his boyhood in Abilene. He gives an amusing account of his plebe days at West Point, including his many demerits, his poker-playing and the "football knee" that nearly stopped his career.

He tells about his days as a second lieutenant in Texas, and his first meeting with Mamie Geneva Doud; his admiration for an early mentor, a general named O'Connor; his first association with purple - prosed MacArthur in the Philippines. His first acquaintance with George Patton was a hair-raising incident on a target range; years later he had to bail Patton out of some loudmouth indiscretions.

His many war stories include a rough landing in a beat-up bomber, a scene in which he expressed his misgivings about the Russians to President Roosevelt, a funny story about a prophecy by his friend George Allen, and some recollections of Churchill and other high British officials.

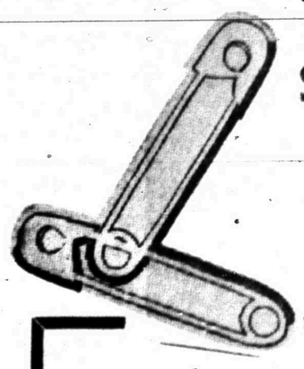

His post-war yarns include an incident when he got lost in the Pentagon, and similar embroglio when he was president of Columbia University and a guard nearly gave him the bum's rush. He records how his wife was the chief planner, somewhat amateurishly, of the Gettysburg home where they now live.

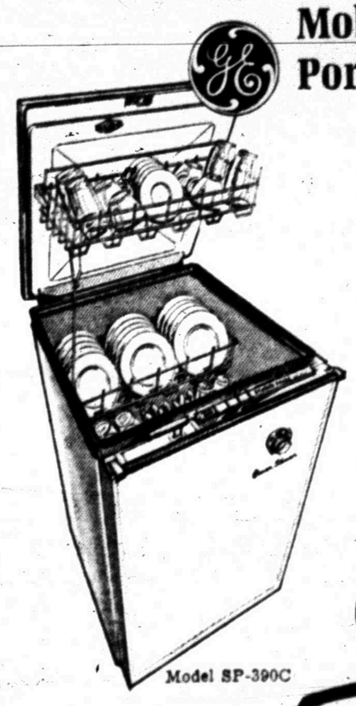

Just to give you an idea of the informality of the book, the notes at the back of the text include his fond directions for preparing vegetable soup — which, in the spring, may be enlivened by a tablespoonful of nasturtium stems.

This is a relaxed, congenial, plainly folksy talk about how things were for an obscure American boy who rose to eminence.

Tomato Chutney

1 can (1 pound and 12 ounces) tomatoes in tomato puree
1 large onion, chopped (1 cup)
¼ cup freeze-dried diced green pepper
2 tablespoons diced candied ginger
1 cup raisins
1 cup sugar
½ cup cider vinegar
⅛ teaspoon cayenne

In a kettle, mix together all the ingredients. Let bubble gently on low heat, stirring occasionally, until thick —about 1 hour. Pack boiling hot into sterilized jars and seal. Makes about 3½ pints.

White-Rye Loaf

1 package active dry yeast
1½ cup warm water
1 tablespoon sugar
1 cup stoneground 100 percent whole rye flour
1½ teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon margarine
2¾ cups (about) unsifted regular flour

Dissolve the yeast in warm water; add sugar, rye flour, salt and margarine; stir well to blend. Stir in 2½ cups regular flour and work in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead until smooth and elastic — 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl; turn to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm draftfree place until doubled — about 1½ hours. Punch down dough; let rise as previously until doubled — about 1 hour. Shape into loaf; place in greased 9 by 5 by 3 inch loaf pan. Cover; let rise until double — about 45 minutes. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 50 to 55 minutes. Turn out on wire rack.

Mulled wine tastes wonderful on a cool rainy night — especially if you serve it to guests gathered around the wood-burning fireplace! To make the wine, simply heat dry red wine with sugar to taste and a bag of cinnamon sticks, cloves and blades of mace.

Clippers Smash Sweetwater Blues

It was like a July 4 celebration for the Snyder Clippers as they put eight hits together to defeat the Swewetwater Blues 13-0 in a Senior Teenage League game in Towle Park Friday.

Bobby Clardy and Dink Foree combined to throw the four hit shutout at the Blues. Only in the focrth inning were the Clippers in trouble. The Blues loaded the bases, but Jose DelaCruz flied out to end the inning.

The Clippers didn't click until the fourth inning when they scored two runs. The Clippers had their big inning, howewver, in the sixth frame when they pushed across eight runs on three hits by Mickey Almond, Larry Wadzek and Bobby Childress.

Almond sparked the Clippers with a fine performance by collecting two singles and a double, and scoring two runs. Wadzek also scored two runs.

Clardy and Foree struck out 11 Blue batters in the game. Almond made a spectacular play in the field in the second inning when he made a diving catch on a popped up bunt.

The win for the Clippers put them back in the winning ways after losing their last outing against Colorado City. They now have a 6-1 record and lead the Senior Teenage League.

Yates Has Two Stroke Lead

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Armed with a new set of clubs and wielding a precision putter, modest Wayne Yates has a lot going for him.

The 25-year-old Georgian carried a two-stroke lead into today's third round of the $103,500 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament, with veterans Gardner Dickinson and Arnold Palmer in hot pursuit.

Yates, who admited Friday after shooting his second straight 66 that 'the pressure is pretty good," was likely to feel it a little more today.

He was to play in the same threesome with Palmer, the game's all-time leading money-winner.

Arnie, had said he didn't know the pro from Atlanta after Yates led the first round.

The rangy Yates had a 36-hole total of 132, two strokes better than Gardner Dickinson and three ahead of Palmer, who fired a 68 Friday.

"I don't know what I'm doing," Yates said after his four-under-par round. "Everything I hit just went to the hole."

The son of a golf pro, Yates has earned only $3,781 in this, his second year on the tour.

His iron game Friday was erratic but an accurate putter proved the difference. Two of his five birdies came on putts of 15 and 25 feet. He needed only 26 putts in his sizzling round.

Jim Ryun Bests Mile Mark Again With 3:51.1 Speed

By FRANK O'REILLY

BAKERSEIELD, Calif. (AP) — Amazing Jim Ryun, without collaborators, wrote another lustrous chapter in his continuing series of world mile records with a 3:51.1 in the National AAU Track and Field Championships.

Ryun, the lean but powerful Kansan, had to set his own pace Friday night and did so in exemplary fashion. But it was the 20-year-old running star's blistering 53.5 on the final lap that enabled Ryun to break the 3:51.3 he ran last July in Berkeley, Calif.

Pole vaulter Paul Wilson climaxed the two-day competition at Memorial Stadium with another world record—17 feet, 8 inches. The Southern California sophomore wiped out the mark of 17-7 established by teammate Bob Seagren just two weeks ago.

But the modest, smiling Ryun captured the sentiments of the 11,600 fans who thrilled to his solo virtuosity.

"I wanted the pack to go a little faster in the first lap," said Ryun. "When it lagged a little, I decided to go out on the pace by myself. I knew it would be harder, but it was the only way.

"When I heard the timers say 1:59 at the first half, I didn't think I would get the record," Ryun added but he turned in a 58.6 third quarter, then sprinted away from the field, bringing the screaming crowd to its feet with his classic finish.

Ryun's quarter-mile splits were 59.2, 59.8, 58.6 and 53.5, compared with 57.7, 57.7, 59.6 and 56.3 in his 3:51.3 last year.

Incredibly, the next six finishers also broke the once-formidable 4-minute mark.

Jim Grelle of the Multnomah Track Club was second in 3:56.1; Dave Wilborn of Oregon, 3:56.2; Tom Von Ruden of Long Beach, Calif., 49ers track club, 3:56.9; Roscoe Divine of Oregon, 3:57.2; Sam Bair of Kent State, 3:58.7, and high school sensation Martin Liquori of Essex, N.J., 3:59.8.

Grelle, a 30-year-old veteran of 19 sub-4-minute miles, said admiringly of Ryun: "He's the only runner today who can go out and set his own pace like that."

Wilson, who still holds the national prep record of 16-6¾, set in 1965, was understandably pleased about orbiting into national prominence. But the Downey, Calif., youngster was as realistic about his mark as pole vaulters must be in this space age.

"The 17-8? It could fall in the next week," Wilson reasoned after missing by inches on two of his three unsuccessful attempts at 18¼.

Cards, Sox In FL Wins

The Cardinals slipped by the Braves 13-11 and the White Sox pounded the Athletics 19-4 in Farm League games played Friday.

The White Sox erupted for 18 runs in the second inning to easily take the victory over the A's.

Randy Gressett, Robert Toombs and Mike Simpson were outstanding for the White Sox.

The Athletics scored two times in the second inning and twice in the third for their scoring threats, but they could never close the large White Sox gap.

The White Sox now have a 6-4 record on the season while the Athletics have a 2-8 season mark.

The Cardinals scored six times in the fourth inning and six times in the fifth inning to take their win over the Braves.

The Braves took an early lead in the first inning when they tallied six times, but could never generate that much power again in the game.

Jal Dennis, Walter Caddill, Richard Cornett and Ronnie Payne were outstanding for the winning team.

Caddill and Dennis had the only extra base hits for the winners. Caddill tripled and Dennis doubled.

The Cardinals have a 6-4 mark and the Braves have a 1-8 season record.

Daughter Is Given Away From Hospital

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Raymond Scott gave his daughter in marriage from his hospital bed Friday.

Rather than postpone the wedding, Nancy Ann Scott, 19, and James Springer, 20, went through the ceremony at her father's bedside in Trinity Lutheran Hospital.

Scot broke his neck in a fall from a ladder while trimming trees in his yard at Mayview Mo., five weeks ago. He has been in traction since and cannot leave the bed.

CHANCE FIRES THREE HITTER

Chance, Killebrew Top League Leaders

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cal Ermer, feeling the pinch of the pitching shorts, got a welcome shot in the arm from Dean Chance, who benefitted from a similar shot by Harmon Killebrew.

Chance pitched a brilliant three-hitter and Killebrew provided the game's only run with his 22nd homer of the year as the Minnesota Twins nipped Chicago 1-0 Friday night.

It was a change of pace for Ermer, the Twins' new manager. In 15 previous games, his staff had managed just three complete games and had allowed four or more runs 10 times.

Chance's effort was the top individual pitching job in the American League where California blanked Kansas City 2-0, New York dropped Detroit 3-1, Washington nipped Baltimore 3-2 and Boston battered Cleveland 8-4.

In the National League, Atlanta ripped New York 12-4, Chicago edged Houston 9-8, Pittsburgh toppled Cincinnati 4-2, St. Louis dropped Philadelphia 3-2 and San Francisco battered Los Angeles 7-1.

Ermer and Twins' President Cal Griffith huddled before the game and discussed the possibility of promoting some pitching help from Denver of the Pacific Coast League. But the idea was rejected.

Chance then made the talk academic by outduelling Joel Horlen, who lost his first game after eight victories.

The victory ended a three-game losing string for Chance and made him the American League's first 10-game winner at 10-5. He was knocked out four straight times before Friday.

Killebrew's 375-foot shot in the seventh inning gave the muscular veteran the major league home run lead over Baltimore's Frank Robinson, who has 21.

Until he connected, the Twins had not moved a man past first base against Horlen and had left only one man on base as the White Sox choked off a pair of rallies with double plays.

Rickey Clark and Minnie Rojas teamed up for California's three-hitter over Kansas City.

Rojas bailed Clark out of an eighth inning jam and then drove in an insurance run with a ninth inning single. Jim Fregosi had driven in the game's first run against loser Jim (Catfish) Hunter with a single in the eighth after Jay Johnstone's double.

Al Downing pitched a six-hitter for the Yankees and belted one of three solo homers that accounted for all of New York's runs against Detroit's Denny McLain.

Steve Whitaker and Tom Tresh had the other Yankee homers as McLain's total for the season ballooned to 22. He allowed 42 last year, the most in Tiger history.

Paul Casanova ripped a three-run homer off Steve Barber, giving the Senators all their runs against the Orioles.

Casanova's shot followed singles by Frank Howard and Cap Peterson after Barber had retired the first 11 Senators in order. Those were the only hits off Barber, who worked five innings.

Baltimore knocked out winner Phil Ortega in the eighth inning but Dave Baldwin and Darold Knowles choked off the late rally.

Joe Foy hammered two triples and two singles as the Red Sox clawed the Indians. Foy scored three runs and drove in another in the 13-hit Boston attack against four Cleveland pitchers

Maris Socks Homer To Lift Cards To Sixth Straight

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roger Maris figures you don't need much pull to go places . . . from 10th to first, for example . . . in a hurry. All it takes is a little extra push.

Maris socked an eighth inning homer that lifted St. Louis' streaking Cardinals past Philadelphia 3-2 Friday night and stretched their National League lead to three games.

The Cardinals struggled to their sixth straight victory on the strength of Maris' tie-breaking shot and the four-hit pitching of rookie Dick Hughes after arriving in St. Louis at 5 a.m. on a flight from the West Coast, where they'd completed a 10-game road trip.

"These are the kind of days when you've got to push yourself, when everybody's got to work harder," Maris said, explaining that most of his teammates had gotten little or no sleep before taking on the Phillies.

"It's nice to be in first place," added the slugging outfielder, who finished 10th in the American League with the New York Yankees last season. "I'm certainly glad I'm on a team capable of being in first place."

In other NL action, Pittsburgh scored three runs in the ninth inning for a 4-2 victory over second place Cincinnati, Atlanta ran its winning streak to four games by trouncing New York 12-4, San Francisco smacked Los Angeles 7-1 and Chicago nipped Houston 9-8.

Boston trimmed Cleveland 8-4, California blanked Kansas City 2-0, Minneseota edged the Chicago Whie Sox 1-0, the Yankees beat Detroit 3-1 and Washington shaded Baltimore 3-2 in American League play.

Maris' fifth homer of the season left him 56 short of the all-time record he set with the Yanks six years ago. But home runs, and home run records, are of little interest to the 33-year-old veteran now. He'd rather point to his .302 average and 25 runs batted in for the Cards.

"When you're in a big park (Busch Stadium), you concentrate on making contact with the ball," he said, "and that's much better than trying to pull everything.

"I was just trying to get on as a leadoff hitter (in the eighth) because Cepeda was up behind me. We're all pulling for one another. One or two guys aren't going to do it. The whole team has to be working together."

After Maris' homer snapped a 2-2 tie in the eighth, the Phillies loaded the bases in the eninth before Hughes struck out pinch hitter Doug Clemens, completing his seventh victory against two setbacks. Hughes blanked the Phils after giving up consecutive homers to Rich Allen and John Callison in the first inning.

The Pirates broke loose in the ninth inning at Cincinnati after Jim Coker's eighth inning homer gave the Reds a 2-1 edge. Pinch hitter Maury Wills delivered the tying run with a single and reliever Bob Lee wild-pitched another across before Jose Pagan's sacrifice fly capped the rally.

Gene Alley homered for the Pirates, who handed the Reds their fifth loss in six games.

Mack Jones drove in three runs with two singles and a double and Felipe Alou had three hits and scored two runs as the Braves buried the Mets under a 13-hit barrage.

Winner Ken Johnson gave up a first inning homer to Cleon Jones, but the Braves shelled Met starter Bob Shaw for five runs in the first two innings and breezed the rest of the way.

Left-hander Mike McCormick scattered nine hits and rapped a two-run homer as the Giants trimmed the Dodgers for the sixth time in seven meetings this year. Willie Mays also homered for San Francisco, marring the pitching debut of Jim Hickman, an outfielder called in from the LA bullpen to hurl the last two innings.

McCormick, who yielded a bases-empty homer by Jim Lefebre, boosted his pitching record to 7-3 while loser Don Sutton slipped to 4-9.

Lee Thomas' pinch hit single in the ninth drove in the winning run for the Cubs, who tied the score at 8-8 with a two-run rally in the eighth. Billy Williams and Ernie Banks each hit his 12th homer for Chicago while Houston's Jim Wynn walloped No. 18. Rusty Staub, Jim Landis and Julio Gotay also connected for the Astros.

Racing Future Dim For U.S.

By WHITEY SAWYER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROI ' (AP)—A ruling cutting down the size of prototype sports cars racing for the manufacturers championship "may well knock the United States out of long distance racing," Carroll Shelby said today.

Shelby, whose Ford-powered Cobras won the World Manufacturers Championship in 1965, said, "As far as I'm concerned it's kind of a kick in the face for America."

The International Sporting Commission, which sets the rules for the manufacturers competition, announced the decision Friday. The decision was made in Paris June 13, just two days after a seven-liter Ford prototype won the 24-hour Le Mans race.

Seven-liter Fords finished 1-2-3 at Le Mans in 1966.

A spokesman for the International Automobile Federation, the sporting commission's parent group, said the French Government was concerned about the speeds—more than 214 miles an hour—reached by th Fords on the long straights.

Stating next year, engine sizes will be limited to three liters, or 183 cubic inches. Ford and Chaparral—the other major American entry—have been running with seven-liter engines, 427 cubic inches.

Shelby said Ford and Chaparral were knocked out, since neither had an engine small enough to run.

"Jim Hall and Hap Sharp (builders of the Chaparral) are completey knocked out unless General Motors, which has been building their engines, wants to build a three-liter," Shelby said. "I imagine Ford will quit, too.

"The big Ford engine that we've gone over there and won with is very similar to the ones that power passenger cars on the highways. It has push rods, like most production cars.

"We took it over there and made it live and work when they said it couldn't be done. We learned something about building reliability into the type of engine we use every day," Shelby said.

"Ferrari's engine is a racing engine from the gound up.

"Besides, cutting down the engine size won't help. They'll just build lighter cars and they'll go just as fast," Sheelby said.

Irwin To Challenge Shawnee Golf Course

SHAWNEE - ON - DELAWARE, Pa. (AP) — Someone asked Hale Irwin if he planned to challenge the Shawnee Golf Course in today's final round of the 70th annual NCAA Golf Championships in the same freewheeling manner he bolted to a five stroke lead with a third round seven-under-par 65.

The bespeckled University of Colorado All-Big Eight safetyman in football, put it this way: "You know I think Arnold Palmer is the greatest offensive player in golf. He doesn't concede a thing when he makes one of his charges. He doesn't know how to play differently.

"I admire Palmer and pattern my offensive style after his, but I'm not going out there today and blow a seven stroke lead the way Palmer did in the U.S. Open last year."

The 22-year-old marketing major said he had no intention of being a "tiger, charger or bull" in the final 18 holes.

With a five stroke lead over Florida's Steve Melnyk, the 5-foot-6 native of Boulder, Colo., said he would think twice before gambling as he tours the 7,025-yard par 72 course.

Irwin certainly resembled Palmer as he charged around the Shawnee course Friday. He carded nine birdies, and a hole-in-one on the 220-yard 14th, his first in competitive golf. Four times he lost a stroke to par and played four holes in regulation.

Amarillo On Top In TL

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Even the wind can't bother Amarillo in its drive to stay atop the Texas League.

Friday night windblown fly balls accounted for five of Arkansas' seven runs yet Amarillo won 9-7 by bunching 10 of its 14 hits in two innings.

And Dallas-Fort Worth, getting out of the cellar for the first time this season, gave Amarillo a boost by beating El Paso 7-5. That dropped El Paso 4½ games back of Amarillo.

Arkansas, in third place, is six games away from the Sonics.

The Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs climbed out of last place by a half-game margin because Austin took a 12-1 thumping from Albuquerque.

So first and last places got all the help for the night.

Dallas - Fort Worth pushed across three runs in the seventh to break a tie and then sat back as Don Larsen pitched two innings in relief in which he gave up only one hit and no runs to protect the Spur lead.

Dennis James and Joe Robinson combined on a four-hitter and struck out 16 batters between them as Albuquerque romped on Austin.

Austin again is at Albuquerque, Dallas-Fort Worth at El Paso and Amarillo at Arkansas tonight. Amarillo and Arkansas play a double-header.

Lamm, Rippy To Meet In Tennis Tourney

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—California's Pixie Lamm and Texas' Patsy Rippy meet today in the finals of the Women's National Collegiate Tennis Championships.

The UCLA lass, seeded third, whipped Julie Anthony, No. 2, in a 1-6, 6-1, 6-2 contest in the Friday semifinals. Favored Miss Rippy, of Odessa Junior College, defeated Janie Albert, No. 4, 6-3, 6-3. Both losers are from Stanford.

Hayes Tourney Champ

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Mark Hayes of Stillwater, Okla., held his second Texas-Oklahoma junior golf tournament championship today. He is the only player ever to take multiple titles.

Hayes made up five strokes in 36 holes Friday to fashion 283 for 72 holes and win the title by a shot over Tom Kite of Austin.

Hayes, who won his first championship in 1965, had 139—three under par— for the final 36 holes.

145 New Oil Wells Reported In Week

AUSTSIN, Tex. (AP) — Wildcatters posted 18 gas and 12 oil strikes in Texas the past week, the past week, the Railroad Commission reported Saturday.

The commission said 145 new oil wells and 39 gas wells were completed, bringing the year's totals to 3,177 oil and 1,306 gas well completions. This compares with 3,656 oil and 1,044 gas wells during the same period last year.

Eight gas wildcats were in Dist. 7-B, seven in Dist. 7, and three in Dist. 7-C. Five oil strikes were in Dist. 5, three in Dist. 7-C, two in Dist. 7-B and one each in Dists. 2 and 8.

The commission said 113 wells were plugged, including 56 dry holes.

Baseballers Killed In Lightning Storm

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — David McCartin, 12, and two other boys were catching fly balls batted by a baseball coach Friday afternoon when the boys were struck by lightning. McCartin was killed.

The Baltimore Fire Department said a sudden rainstorm passed the park and the three boys were struck by a single bolt of lightning. Another of the boys was knocked down.

Kansas City Baseball Fate Rests On City Bond Issue

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) The future of major league baseball in Kansas City may be at stake next Tuesday in a $102 million Jackson County bond issue election, which includes $43 million for a two-stadium sports complex with a unique two-section roof on wheels.

A 2-to-1 margin is needed for the stadium bonds to pass. Backers are certain passage of the bonds would assure major league baseball here, even if owner Charles O. Finley asks the American League for permission to move the club when his four-year lease on Municipal Stadium expires at the end of this season.

In that event, backers believe passage would lead to American League assurance of an expansion franchise.

Finley has made no comment but there has been wide speculation ever since the league forced him to sign the four-year pact, that Finley would seek to move the club to Oakland after his lease expires.

Failure of the bonds to receive the needed 66.7 per cent approval wouldn't automatically kill the city's chances. A strong 60 per cent approval, leading to resubmission in November, plus continued increased attendance doubtless would influence the league club owners.

A 2-to-1 margin, required under state law, is one of the highest anywhere and unusual in the nation's recent stadium-building spree. The bonds have no organized opposition and have the backing of many major groups.

The $102 million bond issue isn't a package deal. Voters may vote for or against each of seven propositions on the ballot.

One of propositions is for the sports complex, which includes a triple-deck 75,000-seat football stadium, a triple-deck 45,000-seat baseball stadium, the roof on rails and lighted parking for 18,000 cars.

Lamar Hunt, owner of the American Football League champion Kansas City Chiefs, has offered a 35-year lease at $510,000 a year for the first 20 years. The last 15 years the rent would be $255,000, but the Chiefs would pay all maintenance, upkeep and improvements.

Dempsey 72 Years Old

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Dempsey, the famed Manassa Mauler and world heavyweight boxing champion in the 1920's, was 72 years old today. As a birthday present he was elected to Madison Square Garden's Boxing Hall of Fame along with other former champions, Joe Louis, Sugar Ray Robinson, Benny Leonard, Rocky Marciano and Henry Armstrong.

CFL Has Pension Plan

TORONTO (AP) — Canadian Football League players Friday voted to accept a pension plan proposal which should be in operation this year. The 17-point proposal, earlier approved by the league's nine clubs, calls for each team to pay $300,000, to be matched by the players, into the fund each year.

Athletics, Braves In LL Victories

The Athletics stopped the hard rushing White Sox 8-7, and the Braves continued to roll with a 8-2 victory over the Cardinals in Little League action Friday.

The Athletics scored five runs in the sixth inning to send the game into extra frames, and then scored the winning run in the eighth when Joel Price walked and scored on a White Sox error.

In the A's big fifth inning, they collected six of their 10 hits on the night with big blows coming by Daryl Stokes, Barry Keller and Delvin Jones.

Stokes also drove in two runs in the first inning for the A's with a double. Stokes scored once and hit safely three times and Keller scored twice and hit twice to lead the A's to victory.

The White Sox appeared to have the game won in the fifth inning when they broke the ice with a four run frame, and came back in the top of the sixth to score another run, but the A's exploded in the bottom of the sixth.

There were 20 hits in the game. The White Sox are now in a tie for second place with a 5-5 record and the Athletics are now 2-8 on the year.

The Braves won their tenth game in a row when they came from behind to rip the Cardinals.

They exploded in the fourth inning, when they were down 1-0, with seven runs and five hits. Key hits were registered by Greg Godair, Mark Bostick and Mark Hargrove.

The Cardinals went ahead in the third inning in what appeared to be a pitching duel. Allen Knight scored for the Cards on a hit by Fred Liner.

Knight had a fine day for the Cards as he scored twice and collected three base hits.

Hargrove was the winning pitcher for the Braves as he allowed only two runs and six hits. He only struck out four.

The Braves are undefeated in league play with a 10-0 record while the second place Cardinals lost ground with a 5-5 record.

Narcotics Charges On Lucius Dropped

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Felony narcotics charges against UCLA basketball star Lucius Allen have been dropped in Los Angeles Municipal Court.

Judge Vaino Spencer ruled Friday that Allen had not been properly advised of his constitutional rights by policemen who questioned him May 23 after saying they found four marijuana cigarettes in his car.

The judge also ruled that there was no evidence that the basketball player had any knowledge of how the marijuana got in the car.

UCLA had waived disciplinary action pending the court outcome.

TWO HEADS ARE MORE CONFUSING THAN ONE

Research In Oral Health Booms After Long Neglect

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

During most of his recorded history, man has been plagued by mighty miseries with his mouth, teeth and gums.

Egyptian pharaohs in 150 B.C. often had severe tooth and gum disease, X rays of royal mummies show.

England's Queen Elizabeth I had nearly constant toothaches during her reign from 1558 to 1603. George Washington was fitted with false teeth carved from wood and ivory.

Even until fairly recently, dentists mainly plied an art of plugging holes and pulling teeth. Visiting the dentist conjured fears of pain.

In health care, the long neglected stepchild, like Cinderella, was the human mouth and teeth.

But now Cinderella is leaving her scullery.

"Except for oral cancer, people don't die of dental disease. That's one reason why major research into oral health was dormant until 10 to 15 years ago," remarks Dr. Harvey Lyon, clinical director of a new research facility of the American Dental Association in Chicago. "Now it is all changing."

Dental researchers now have hopeful leads toward developing a vaccine to prevent tooth decay. New fluoride treatments apparently are reducing decay by 50 to 80 per cent. New defenses are rising against pyorrhea, the disease that destroys gum and bone tissue and which, after age 35, is the main cause of loss of teeth.

Other research augurs tooth banks to supply healthy human teeth as living transplants for lost teeth.

Better, longer-lasting, more attractive filling materials are coming from laboratories.

Dentistry is becoming a new health science through vigorous research enlisting the skills of many types of scientists. Human volunteers and barcacles—the supertenacious clinging barnacles hold a secret for a superior cement to hold fillings in place—are all playing roles.

Prevention of oral disease is a prime goal of dental research. "We'd like to put ourselves out of business," says one dentist who recently turned to full time research.

Prevention is urgent.

The nation has only 97,000 practicing dentists, about one for every 2,000 Americans, and the ratio has been growing worse. Half of U.S. children under age 15 have never been to a dentist. More than 20 million American adults have no teeth left at all, a U.S. Public Health Service study indicates, and the rest have 2¼ billion decayed, missing, or filled teeth.

To the Great Lakes Naval Training Station north of Chicago each year come 100,000 seemingly healthy young naval recruits averaging 18 years of age — healthy until they open their mouths for inspection.

"Sixty to 70 per cent need urgent dental care. They average seven open cavities apiece, meaning 700,000 cavities to be filled each year at this post alone. And 20 per cent have serious periodontal gum disease," says Capt. Gordon H. Rovelstad, director of the Dental Research Institute at Great Lakes.

The recruits are lucky. They receive good reparative and preventive care, for the armed forces cannot afford to have men become dentally crippled on small ships or during critical duties.

If corrective care is still out of everyone's reach, there is an air of optimism now in major research centers that the worst mouth ailments can be prevented.

Tooth decay — caries — affecting 98 per cent of Americans, is one. Gum disease, afflicting 67 million Americans, is another.

A major advance has come through adding tiny but precise amounts of sodium fluoride to drinking water. This is credited with reducing decay among children by 50 to 60 per cent.

And in young men, serving in naval units, the rate of new decay has been slashed 50 to 80 per cent by triple use of stannous — tin — fluoride over the last two years, Navy dentists report.

This involves an initial brushing with a stannous fluoride pumice mixture, application of a solution of the chemical directly to the teeth, and regular brushing with a stannous fluoride toothpaste. This technique, if its value continues to be proved out, could be adapted to general use.

An even simpler method is showing astounding results an 80 per cent decrease in caries — in early tests among school children, reports Dr. Harold R.Englander of the National Institute for Dental Research — NIDR.

In a town where water was not fluoridated, for only six minutes each school day the children wore a plastic mouthpiece, molded individually to fit their teeth and gums, that was impregnated with a sodium fluoride gel. After two years, 300 youngsters using the mouthpieces had an average of only one new cavity, compared with over four new cavities among untreated youngsters.

Some tooth-saving foods may be developed from two-year studies, still continuing, in which children are eating presweetened breakfast cereals fortified with sodium dihydrogen phosphate.

Youngsters consuming the phosphated cereals had 20 to 40 per cent fewer new cavities than those eating the same cerals without the phosphates, report Profs. George K. Stookey and Joseph C. Muhler and Dr. Roger A. Carroll of Indiana University. The cereals——or potentially other foods similarly fortified—are not yet on the market.

Fluoride strengthens tooth enamel, making it more resistant to acids produced by bacteria. Stannous fluoride apparently can even stop the spread of tiny cavities or prevent new ones by putting a kind of plating over teeth. Phosphates may act by increasing the ability of saliva to neutralize acids. Continuing studies to pinpoint precisely how these agents work could lead to more effectve protection.

Since bacteria are involved in decay, one of the hottest quests in research is for a vaccine. There are provocative leads.

At Great Lakes, one in 550 recruits arrives with perfect teeth. Each year, Dr. Rovelstad and associates seek out about 30 of them to volunteer to spend their first year of duty at the base, so scientists can observe what happens to their teeth.

In their new environment away from home, half or more of these "immune" young men soon begin to develop cavities.

From their mouths, Dr. Irving L. Shklair, a microbiologist, and colleagues have isolated streptococcus germs that they believe to be important in the causing of decay. These streptococci are similar, but distinctly different from other bacteria that have been implicated in the decay process. Most of the organisms that are important in dental decay have the unique ability of developing a sticky capsule around themselves so they can cling to tooth surfaces, after feeding on sugar.

The once-immune men who get decay are found to have far more abundant quantities of these "strep" bugs than men who continue to be immune.

Junior Editors Quiz on SOCRATES

QUESTION: Why was Socrates so important?

* * * * *

ANSWER: Socrates was the first of a group of three ancient Greek philosophers who made outstanding contributions to our modern way of thinking. He was born about 469 B.C. and lived in Athens at a time when the Greeks were producing masterpieces of art and architecture. Socrates was a simple, humble man. He liked to ask questions. (He was a kind of senior Junior Editor.) As people replied to him, they were learning to reason and think. Socrates was interested in the many problems people had. He sought truth and wisdom, but in a humble way—he once said: "One thing only I know, that I know nothing." Believing in God, Socrates taught that goodness was all important. But Socrates did not write his sayings down. One of his pupils, however, the famous Plato, preserved Socrates' conversations and turned them into books which we still read today. Plato's great pupil, Aristotle, who advanced learning in many fields, had a profound effect on modern thought. He is called the "father of biology."

Texan Urges Use Of Electric Car

Editor's Note: An Amarillo inventor has come up with a solution to one smog problem with an electric car, with a new appreach for highway driving that may overcome some of the objections to present experimental electric car problems. It isn't for speed demons yet, unfortunately or fortunately.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—D. L. (Cotton) Whatley, an Amarillo oil salesman and part-time inventor, has built a car he believes may ease the smog problem and overcome some of the objections to electric automobiles.

Whatley's solution is simple. His car has two motors, one using electricity and the other gasoline.

The inventor says the average commuter would spend only 50 cents a week on fuel. Instead of driving into a service station for gasoline, he would plug his car into his home electrical system during the night to recharge the bateries.

His car, which he called the EMVMI for "electrically motivated vehicle mark I," cost him an estimated $1,800.

The electrical power would eliminate much of the city smog generated by gasoline engines. On the highway, with a flip of a switch, he can change to the gasoline engine. Presumably, no one is worrying at the moment about smog in open country.

The gasoline engine, with 28 horsepower and weighing 64 pounds, gives him a speed of 50 miles an hour. The electric engine has a top speed of 35 miles an hour and a range of 70 miles, sufficient for most trips to the office and home again or to the grocery store.

"People over the country will be doing this in a few years," he says. Some of them, he hopes, will be driving Whatley-made cars.

"An Amarillo man is ready to go into production with this if there is enough enthusiasm," Whatley said in an interview.

Whatley's model, largely made in his garage, weighs 1,900 pounds. He says he can produce a 1,400 pound car with a fiberglass body. The car would retail for $1895.

One of the main differences between his car and some others being developed is that it has four speeds forward.

"Four forward speeds, I think are essential since you need more power to get up a steep incline," he said.

The car is equipped with two banks of batteries. Each bank of six 6-volt batteries operates a 4.5-horsepower electric motor.

The batteries, which cost $18 each, would likely have to be replaced in three years. The $125 motor is expected to last almost forever like the one in a home refrigerator.

Surprising to most people is the absolute quiet when the car is not in motion.

"At a red light, the power is idle and there is no noise," Whatley points out. "Of course, this (at red lights) is where a lot of gas is spent.

He says it is particularly popular among young persons.

"They never have gas money," he explains.

Judge Doubtful Of Llama Report

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Criminal Court Judge Warren Edwards wasn't sure he heard his wife correctly Friday when she telephoned to report a llama in the backyard of their Orlando home.

His doubts dissolved a little later when she called again to report the beast's capture.

It turned out to be a pet llama which belonged to neighbors. The judge said he wasn't upset at having to return the animal to its owners. He already has a goat, cat and dog.

Cheap Food In Cities Hurts Production In Some Nations

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cheap food for the cities as a governmental policy may stand in the way of more abundant food production in many developing countries.

This view is emphasized by President Johnson's Science Advisory Committee in its study of the world food problem.

The study foresees widespread hunger, famine and unrest within 20 years unless a huge effort is made by the developed nations to help shortage areas build better agricultures.

The committee says it is an unfortunate tendency in most developing countries to base pricing of farm products more on the need for low food costs in cities than on the production incentive needs of farmers.

"Some countries that export farm commodities impose substantial export taxes on food and other farm commodities either to hold prices to domestic consumers below world market prices or primarily for revenue purposes," the report says.

Other countries require their peasants to sell part of their production at substantial discounts.

Others have used commercial import or commodities obtained through American and other concessional food-air programs in a way that has held prices paid to their domestic producers below those paid producers in country from which food was imported.

The committee reports some countries foster a cheap food policy in the hope that low food costs will encourage industrial development.

Leaders in some of these countries are said to have argued "the historical fact" that the present developed countries—including the United States—followed agricultural policies emphasizing low prices for food and agricultural raw materials during the early stages of their industrial development.

"In the United Kingdom the 19th century free trade movement in relation to the price of manufactured products," the committee says.

"In Japan agriculture was taxed heavily to finance industrial development.

"In Russia," the report adds, "collectivization of agriculture had as an important objective the extraction of surplus production from agriculture."

The committee argues, however, that conditions in these countries differed from those in the developing nations of today.

"Certainly, any developing country faces conflicting needs in trying simultaneously to industrialize and to increase agricutural productivity," the report says.

"But one of the things it cannot afford to do is to ignore the considerable responsiveness of market - oriented farmers to price incentives."

In stressing a need for better prices to encourage greater food production, the committee acknowledges, however, that incentive prices alone would be ineffective in some regions.

In addition to favorable prices there will be need for large supplies of fertilizers, pesticides, improved seed and the like as will as better sharing of returns between landlords and tenants. Too, if says, there will be need in many parts of the world for more effective marketing systems.

Business In May Shows Texas Gain

AUSTIN (AP) — Weddings, graduations and Mother's Day spurred Texas retail sales to a 10 per cent increase in May, but this should not be viewed as the start of a trend, a new business survey says.

The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research said May sales of $1.5 billion were 10 per cent above April and 7 per cent above May 1966.

For five months, sales rose 3 per cent over 1966.

"It should be remembered that this upward movement, though consistent on both state and national levels, and greatly encouraging, indicates only one month's activity in a proverbially unpredictable area, and was probably impelled in large measure by unusual seasonal factors. For these reasons it cannot be considered even the beginning of a trend," concluded research associate Dr. Graham Blackstock.

May had two more shopping days than April.

Blackstock said May sales of durable goods were "generally higher than the normal seasonal increases," growing 13 per cent over April and 8 per cent over May 1966, bucking the January-May trend of a 2 per cent decline from last year.

Car dealers reported a 14 per cent increase in sales. Lumber and building were up 11 per cent over April. Both categories also increased over last May—motor vehicles up 13 per cent and lumber and building materials up 1 per cent. But for the year so far, motor vehicle and building material sales are below 1966, Blackstock noted.

Sales of nondurables gained 9 per cent over April and 7 per cent over last May. For January May, they are up 5 per cent.

Blackstock said increases over April in nondurables ranged from 2 per cent for food stores to 46 per cent for jewelry stores. Gains over May 1966 ranged from 2 per cent for men's and boy's clothing stores to 24 per cent for liquor stores.

Class Begins In Twirling

First Session of the Girls Recreation Program twirling classes is underway at the Towle Park Barn. The twirling classes began June 19 and the first session will continue through June 30.

Beginners classes are held at 2 p.m. and advanced twirlers meet at 3 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The second session of twirling lessons will be from July 3 to July 14.

Girls who have not already registered for the Girls Recreation program may do so at the Stanfield, East and Travis gyms, from 9 a.m. to noon and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. The registration fee is 50 cents and girls from 8 to 18 may register.

Report 2 Texans Dead In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Defense Department announced Friday Army Spec. 4 Samuel W. Fielden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Fielden, Route 1, Sherman, Tex., had died from hostile action in Vietnam. He had been listed as missing.

It reported that Army Pfc. Donald D. Morris, son of Mrs. Edna Morris, 8420 Gibbons, Houston, died of non-hostile cause.

SUNBEAM DAY CAMP—Rev. Gene Wise, missionary to Brazil, is shown teaching some Sunbeams about the country he lives in. More than 40 children were present for the Associational Baptist Day Camp near Dunn Wednesday. The children ate a typical Brazilian meal, and made several souvenirs to take home with them.

Dodd To Seek Third Term

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, censured by his colleagues for personal use of campaign funds, vows to serve out his current term and seek vindication from Connecticut voters by running for a third term.

"I will be here tomorrow," the white-haired Connecticut Democrat told the Senate after it passed judgment on him Friday. "I will be here every day, doing my work as best as I can do it. Senators need not worry about me running away."

Dodd told newsmen he had not planned to run for a third term in 1970 and had promised his wife he would not. But now, he said, "Everything's changed. I've got to."

The Senate rendered its decision on the ninth day of debate, climaxing an agonizing period for the 60-year-old Dodd and his fellow senators.

He became the sixth senator in the nation's history to have his conduct censured or condemned by his peers.

The Senate, by a 92-5 vote, upheld a finding of its ethics committee that Dodd converted to his personal benefit at least $116,083 in campaign and testimonial funds.

But two hours later it voted 51 to 45 to drop the bipartisan committee's second charge—that Dodd double-billed the Senate and private groups for the same travel expenses.

Dodd earlier said this second count was the one that "gnawed at my heart" the most. If he had practiced fraud against the government, he said, he should be expelled.

Dodd was the second member of Congress this year to be punished for financial misconduct. Earlier the House refused to seat Adam Clayton Powell, a Harlem Democrat, on grounds he misused government funds and was contemptuous toward a House committee and New York courts.

For Dodd, the punishment of censure will be whatever hurt it does to him and his career. It does not deprive him of any of his rights and privileges as a senator, nor will it take away his chairmanship of the Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee.

He said during the debate he would rather be dead than dishonored.

But after the final vote was taken Friday he rose from his seat and, looking about at his colleagues, said he would continue to serve.

"I think the only reason I can do that, however," Dodd added quietly, "is because in my heart I do not have any feeling of wrongdoing. If I did, I do not think I would show up here again."

He said he felt no bitterness toward any of the senators, adding he did not think they intended any injustice to him.

But he said, "I think a grave mistake has been made, and I am the one who must bear the scar of that mistake for the rest of my life."

Two Churches Set Vacation School Here

The Bible In the Midst of Life will be the theme of the Vacation Church School to be held by First Christian and First Presbyterian Churches June 26 through July 1.

The school will be held at First Christian Church each morning from 9 to 11:30. There will be classes for children aged 3 through the 6th grade. A special program is planned for the juniors of grades 4 through 6. Of particular interest will be folk music and children may bring guitars or ukeleles if they wish.

Teachers and high school students of both churches will participate. Teachers for the nursery department will be Mrs. John Boren, Betty Boren, Kathy Boren and Kay Nell Feather. Those in kindergarten will be Mrs. Dave Harlin Sr., Mrs. M. R. Richter, Janet Womack, Cylvia Westbrook, Celia Westbrook and Vickie Mize.

Teaching in the primary department will be Mrs. Dave Harlin Jr., Mrs. Herb Reed, Marsha Ainsworth, Patsy Ainsworth, Cheril Stevenson, Debbie Raines, Jacque Stehley and Judy Terrell.

Instructors for the juniors will be Mrs. Joe Solari, Mrs. O. K. Clark, Cynthia Westbrook, Emily Kincaid, Gary Terrell and Jay Hodges.

There will be an informal closing program at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, July 2, in the sanctuary of First Christian Church. All interested children are invited to enroll in the school.

Texas Highway Dept. Marks Half A Century Of Service

By ROBERT HEARD

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Highway Department is 50 years old this month. That's all the time it took to go from no paved highways to 67,000 miles of hard-surface roads.

That's better than 2½ times around the earth.

There are those who think if all those highways were placed end to end around the earth, the beauty of a lot of countryside would be restored.

But there is a lot of reason to feel proud of a highway system that is the envy of many states.

It cost money: $4.9 billion for construction. If that sounds like a lot, consider that the amount would pay for the war in Vietd nam for about two months, maybe.

Nearly half of this money came from the five-cent gasoline tax. Most of the remainder came from auto licenses and the federal government.

The beginning — on June 4, 1917 — was inauspicious.

The legislature set up a 10-man office behind the House chamber the year after congress passed the federal Aid Road Act. That act specified that federal funds had to be administered by state highway departments.

Before 1917, Texas highways, such as they were, and they were dusty when it was dry and quagmires when it was wet, were built and maintained by counties.

The federal act was amended in 1921 to require matching state funds and substituting "direct control" by state highway departments for simple "administration" of federal funds.

The legislature in 1925 relieved counties of construction and maintenance responsibilities, and the Highway Department immediately went into its black period.

This was during the first administration of Gov. Miriam "Ma" Ferguson, and the Highway Department became a political football.

Ten commissioners came and went in a two-year period. Every division chief save one and every district engineer lost his job. Four different men occupied the post of state engineer — top executive officer of the department.

And Dan Moody, 31-year-old attorney general, charged many of the construction contracts let by the department were fraudulent. His prosecution of contractors recovered more than $1 million in state money.

Moody defeated Mrs. Ferguson in 1927, reorganied the highway department and the per-mile cost of highway construction was cut by 50 per cent.

By 1935, the state had 19,800 miles of paved highways. This increased to only 20,359 miles by 1940, then jumped to 41,673 miles in 1950 and 61,979 miles in 1960.

The 10-man staff in 1917 grew to 17,000 employes, including State Engineer DeWitt Greer, who is held in such high esteem by nearly everyone connected with state government that no one even bothers anymore to praise him in the fulsome way they do other officials.

Greer, who will be 65 next month, has held his post since 1940, and is given a large portion of the credit by many for the excellence of the state's highway system.

More than half of Texas' highway mileage — 38,000 miles — is in farm-to-market or ranch-to-market roads. The department's master plan calls for 50,000 miles of such roads.

And 3,025 miles of the 41,000 mile interstate highway system has been allocated to Texas.

The remainder of the mileage is in U. S. and state primary highways.

The department will celebrate its 50th anniversary with a party in Austin during National Highway Week this September.

Even if the party isn't any good, it will be easy to get to.

Acreage For Wheat Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal planting allotments for the 1968 wheat crop will be reduced 13 per cent from those of the current year, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman announced Friday.

The department offers payments to growers who plant within their individual allotments.

The national allotment in 1968 will be 59.3 million acres compared with 68 million this year and 51.6 million in 1966.

The agriculture secretary told a news conference that a smaller acreage in 1968 would produce sufficient wheat to meet both domestic needs and anticipated foreign requirements.

Freeman said that the government has set targets of 750 million bushels of wheat for export from both the 1967 and 1968 crops.

This target compares with about 735 million expected to be exported from the 1966 crops and with a record of 867 million from the 1965 crop.

Austin Manager, Assistant Resign

AUSTIN (AP)—City Manager W. T. Williams Jr. and his assistant resigned in tandem Friday.

Williams, city manager here since 1955, has been under fire by the City Council, which scheduled a meeting today on the matter.

Neither Williams nor Asst. City Manager Jim A. Wilson would give any reasons for the resignations. Williams was effective July 14, Wilson's Aug. 17.

Williams was hired by Austin in 1948 as city attorney. His administration has been under fire by a three-person majority on the current council, which took office May 15.

San Antonio Priest Quits Post To Wed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Catholic church officials confirmed Friday that a San Antonio priest had quit his post and was married to a member of his parish.

The marriage of the Rev. James Malone, 37, and Penelope le on June 8 at Seguin was ound in Guadalupe County court records.

Bishop Stephen Leven, auxiliary to the San Antonio archbishop confirmed the marriage of the former priest.

Malone, a native of Grand Rapids, Mich., has been a priest at San Antonio for four years. He was a member of the Order of Redemptorist Fathers.

Body Recovered After 3 Years

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — For more than three years the body of a pretty, 15-year-old Tucson girl lay in a shallow grave southeast of Tucson, apparently bothered only by the elements.

She was Alleen Rowe, a high school sophomore who had been studying for her final exams the last time she was seen May 30, 1964.

For a year police thought Alleen had run away. The fact that she had disappeared wearing only her bathing suit and a shift seemed puzzling, but police records show many 15-year-old girls run away under puzzling circumstances.

Then in November 1965, police arrested Charles Schmid Jr. 23. A short time later, John Saunders, 19, and Mary Rae French, 19, were arrested, Saunders in Massachusetts and Miss French at Belton, Tex.

Saunders pleaded guilty to murdering Alleen and was sentenced to life in prison. Miss French, who admitted she was an accessory drew a four to five year term. Both implicated Schmid, saying he killed the girl.

Schmid maintaned he was innocent until last month when, on advice of his attorney F. Lee Bailey of Boston, he pleaded guilty to second degree murder.

Alleen's mother, Mrs. Norma Rowe, a registered nurse from Dallas, Tex., drove her car to the desert and searched along with her two other children, but to no avail.

Then Friday, Schmid decided he would lead officers to Alleen's remains.

Schmid walked unerringly to a spot in the desert, reached down with his hands still cuffed, and uncovered Alleen's bathing suit.

Her skeletal remains were a few inches deeper.

A month ago, Mrs. Rowe said she hoped Alleen's remains could be found so she could have a funeral and a decent burial.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

Three Workers Are Hurt In Explosion

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — An explosion in a laboratory at the Houston Cehmical Co. Plant at the east edge of Beaumont injured three workers slightly Friday.

A spokesman for the firm, Don Price, said the cause of the blast was not determined immediately.
