

Krush Says Triumph Inevitable

New Program Is Discussed

By STANLEY JOHNSON
Moscow (AP)—Premier Khrushchev told the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress today that the triumph of socialism on a world scale is inevitable.

The premier said the Soviet people's living conditions have been radically altered as a result of these "colossal transformations"—that unemployment had been wiped out long ago, work and real wages have risen 400 per cent, and the real incomes of the peasants have risen more than 500 per cent.

Khrushchev listed what he called three historical factors of the 20th century.

"The formation of the world socialist system is the principal result of the progressive development of society in our epoch," he declared.

"The crumbling of the colonial system is the second in historical significance among the results of world development.

"The third result of world development is an acute all-around weakening of capitalism and a fresh sharpening of its general crisis."

The party program before the congress was published July 30, and many Westerners immediately called it a plain-theory scheme.

With a target date of 1960, it calls for free rent, medical care, education, utilities, local transportation and factory lunches by then.

It also pledges to overtake the United States in per capita production, to maintain peaceful co-existence between socialist and capitalist states, to support independence movements throughout the world, and to keep Soviet military forces at top efficiency.

"American capitalism has passed its prime and is declining," Khrushchev declared, asserting that the "American financial oligarchy does not have the strength or the means to implement its claims 'to the role of savior' of capitalism and its claims to world domination."

The premier said two intertwining trends are operating in the "imperialist camp": a trend toward joining all forces against socialism, and a trend toward mounting rivalry "between the imperialist powers and the other countries of the capitalist world."

"The United States has not succeeded and will not succeed in overcoming the latter trend," Khrushchev asserted.

He charged that imperialism is compelling mankind to spend at least $100 billion annually for military armaments.

If only 20 per cent of that sum were spent annually on helping the underdeveloped countries, he continued, power stations could be built to produce 250 million kilowatts, steel works could be built to produce 185 million tons a year, 247 million acres could be irrigated, and many other big things could be done to improve the lives of the peoples.

"All this demonstrates once again how urgent the struggle for disarmament is to all the peoples," Khrushchev said.

Turning to the new party program, Khrushchev said it was a concrete, scientifically motivated program for the building of communism, marking a new stage in the development of the revolutionary theory of Marx, Engels and Lenin.

He boasted that communism no longer has to contend with capitalist encirclement but rather is being built "under the conditions created by the existence of the increasing supremacy of the socialist forces over those of imperialism."

Within 30 years, Khrushchev asserted, "a Communist society will be in the main built in the U.S.S.R."

"Once the Soviet Union will have become the first industrial power," he continued, "once the socialist system will have fully become the decisive factor of world development and once the peace forces the world over will have grown still greater, the scales will once again be in our favor, for the forces of peace and the barometer of international relations will show 'Clear. The menace of world war is gone never to return.'"

EIGHT CONTESTANTS IN TIE FOR GRID PRIZE

The enormous popularity which is being enjoyed by the weekly Snyder News Football Contest may be noted when it is observed that some 700 entries were received the past week, which developed into a mad scramble for the top and subsequent eight-way deadlock for the laurels.

Splitting the combined prize money of $12.50 will be Robert Short, 3001 Quincey Street, Paul McBeth of Route 2, Box 63; Carl Fore of 108 Milburn; Phillip A. Hicks of 2310 Forty-first Street, Roland Davis of 116 Twenty-fourth Street, Ruth Hicks of 2310 Forty-first Street, Gloria Todd of 208 Thirty-fifth Street, and David Glen Allen of Arch Route.

Each of those winners missed out on a total of five games of the week. A multitudinous number of contestants were one shot away with six wrong guesses. Included on that list are John Flynn, Frankie McCravy, L. B. McCravy, Willie T. Morrow, Mrs. Howard Crenshaw, Mrs. Bobby H. Burney, Mrs. John Burnett Jr., W. E. Wright, Joe Block, Eunice Davis, Dean Staton, John Lovolo, Maxie McNew, Guy Browning, Arturo Espinoza, Rick Bruyere, Tom Kincaid, Tom Bennett, Mrs. T. V. Early Sr., Cleorece Zimmerman, Forrest Beavers, Mrs. Ronald Bratton, Mrs. J. D. Fields, Charlie B. Morrow, and Robert Fore.

Cancellation Of Big Blast Urged

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House has asked the Soviet Union to reconsider its decision to explode a 50-megaton nuclear bomb, charging that the test would be unnecessary and could "only serve some unconfessed political purpose."

It said the United States had the materials and know-how to produce bombs in the 50-100 megaton range—and higher—but that such weapons are not essential to U.S. military needs and that full-scale tests are not necessary to develop them.

A 130-word statement was handed to newsmen Tuesday night by press secretary Pierre Salinger, who said it should be attributed to the White House and not to President Kennedy personally.

The statement was the only official U.S. comment so far on Premier Khrushchev's announcement Tuesday that the Soviet Union would explode a 50-megaton weapon at the end of this month.

A 50-megaton blast is equivalent to the force of 30 million tons of TNT and about 2,500 times more powerful than the U.S. atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

U.S. strategists hoped the White House statement, citing the lack of military purpose for such a test, would rally world opinion against the Kremlin.

From a diplomatic standpoint, Khrushchev's Moscow speech was seen as combining the carrot of a stick technique with the flick of a whip—mixing the lure of negotiations over Berlin while brandishing a mammoth nuclear threat.

A task force of State Department experts—including the U.S. ambassador to Moscow, Llewellyn E. Thompson—gathered to scrutinize all available textual matter to weigh the significance of what Khrushchev said, and what he didn't say.

The State Department said there would be no official assessment of the speech until Secretary of State Dean Rusk holds his press conference this afternoon.

U.S. officials, however, reserved any enthusiasm for the Soviet leader's conditioned offer to lift his Dec. 31 deadline for signing a separate treaty with East Germany until they are certain that he means it. They indicated that his speech seemed to contain no basic change in his views on Germany.

Salinger said earlier that the President would "have absolutely no comment" Tuesday on Khrushchev's 6-hour and 20-minute oration before the Communist party congress.

A few hours later Salinger said that the statement which said: "It is reported that the Soviet Union plans to explode a giant nuclear bomb—the equivalent of 50 million tons of TNT."

"We call upon the Soviet Union to reconsider this decision, if in fact it has been made. We know about high-yield weapons. Since 1957 the United States has had the technical know-how and the materials to produce bombs in the 50-100 megaton range and higher. But we also know that such weapons are not essential to our military needs. Furthermore, full-scale tests are not necessary to develop 50-megaton bombs."

"We believe the peoples throughout the world will join us in asking the Soviet Union not to proceed with a test which can serve no legitimate purpose and which adds a mass of additional radioactive fallout to that which has been unleashed in recent weeks."

8-Day Crude Flow Endures

By BOB ROOKER
AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission set an 8-day November oil allowable today using the 1960 series of seven straight months of the record-low production pattern.

The eight-day scale set at the commission's statewide proration hearing puts the allowable for next month at 2,706,095 barrels daily, an increase of 48,548 barrels a day.

It was the 13th month in 19 that the oil regulatory commission has held Texas wells back to 8 days. All but 3 of the 12 major purchasers of Texas crude nominated at today's hearing asked the commission to retain the 8-day scale. Two companies asked for an increase to 9 days and 1 day for a 2 day pattern.

The 48,500 barrels per day rise in allowables for November is caused by the one-day shorter calendar month from October.

Total nominations for Texas Texas crude were 2,511,131 barrels daily, up $3,366 from October.

The Bureau of Mines forecast a November demand for Texas crude totaling 2,495,000 per day, an increase of 35,000 over this month's forecast.

William King of Phillips Petroleum Co. was the lone major purchaser requesting a reduction to a seven-day pattern. King said his company was concerned about the excise crude oil currently above ground.

"This is erratic and short-sighted and contributes to waste," he said.

King said his company felt the solution to excess reserves is a reduction in the amount of oil produced and decreased refinery runs. Phillips, he said, already has reduced its refinery runs in the past months even though the company's sales were up about the same as the national average.

U. S. Troops In Berlin On Maneuvers

By JOHN FIDIN
BERLIN (AP)—Nearly half West Berlin's 6,500-man U.S. garrison—about 3,000 men—will take part in a three-day test of combat readiness.

Tanks rumbled through the streets at daybreak, followed by armored personnel carriers packed with steel-helmeted troops.

There was a cold fall wind under blue skies as the columns wheeled out of their barracks and headed for the Grunewald Forest, in the American sector southwest of the city proper, where the mock battles will be staged.

Berliners on their way to work waved to the Americans, who grinned and waved back, especially at the girls. An Army spokesman emphasized that the war games—dubbed Ever Ready II—were planned in July, well ahead of the Communist closure of the East Berlin border Aug. 13.

Approximately 3,000 men are taking part under the overall leadership of Brig. Gen. Frederick C. Binkley, the U.S. commander in Berlin.

The purpose of the major fall exercise is to practice attack and delay against an aggressor, to test the troops' ability to hold off an invading force until help can come from West Germany.

Taking part in the maneuvers are the 2nd and 3rd Battle Groups of the 6th U.S. Infantry Division, Col. John R. Deane Jr. commands the 2nd, Col. Wayne M. Winder the 3rd Battle Group.

Since the Berlin wall went up Aug. 13 the U.S. garrison has been augmented by an additional battle group from West Germany, but it is not involved in the maneuvers.

Gen. Binkley said Ever Ready II will emphasize squad and platoon tactics in offense and defense. It will be a two-sided free maneuver, apparently with the red and blue sides alternating in attack and repulse.

Congo Showdown Due

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Harried United Nations officials trying to function without a secretary-general face a showdown today over the Congo.

The U.N. Congo command's cease-fire agreement with breakaway Katanga Province.

Both the Soviet Union and the Congo government warned they would challenge any attempt by the secretary to ratify the agreement. President Mobutu Tshombe's Katanga government would seek Soviet aid to smash the cease-fire agreement.

Western diplomats predicted that if the agreement were ratified, the Russians would go before the Security Council and challenge the action as an illegal seizure of power by secretariat officials.

In a letter to Council President Turgut Menemencioglu of Turkey, Zorin declared that now that a central government has been formed in the Congo U.N. forces have no choice but to take action to insure the strictest enforcement of the cease-fire agreement.

Contract Let On School Repairs

T. E. Shelburne and Son of Snyder submitted the low bid last night on a repair project for the Stanfield Elementary School.

The Snyder firm submitted a bid of $34,235, which was the lowest of six proposals opened by the school board. The board then voted to award the contract to the low bidder.

Bids on the project ranged from the low to $49,000. The Shelburne bid was approximately $3,500 lower than the next best bid.

The contract calls for repairing and reconstructing the south wing of the Stanfield building, which was damaged by fire last Aug. 18. The remainder of the Stanfield building still is in use and the south wing will be put back into service when the repair project is completed.

The repairs are covered by insurance. The school and insurance underwriters will share the architect's fees with the underwriters to pay for the school and the school one-third of the six per cent fee, according to an agreement reached last night. The one-third to be paid by the school is for supervision of the construction work, while the other two-thirds is for preparations of specifications for the work.

Clear, Mild Weather Continues In State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Clear and mild weather prevailed over Texas Wednesday with slightly cooler weather predicted for the northern part of the state.

Pro-dawn temperatures ranged from 38 degrees at Junction to 69 at Galveston. Lufkin reported 60 at 6:45.

Maximum temperatures Tuesday ranged from 76 at Galveston to 85 at Pecos.

Except for the slightly cooler weather in the Panhandle, no major temperature changes are expected in other sections through Thursday.

No rain has been reported in the state and the U.S. Weather Bureau said none was expected.

TUSTIN, Calif. (AP)—Dianne Baker, 19, a pretty blonde, is suing Playboy magazine; Publisher Hugh M. Hefner, and six others for a million dollars.

She charged, in a complaint filed Tuesday, that the magazine had used her bathing suit picture without permission; that the picture was run along with those of nude females, and that the accompanying story implied she allowed herself to be picked up by tourists, allowing them to "tarry with her overnight."

Tropical Depression Is Kept Under Watch

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Weather Bureau kept watch today on a tropical depression moving north from Cuba and showing signs of intensifying.

If it does become a tropical storm, it will be the season's seventh and will be called Gerda.

Heavy rains hit the Bahamas, and above-normal tides struck the east Florida coast.

Explosion Shakes Big Chicago Area

CHICAGO (AP)—An industrial explosion shook a wide area of the West Side today and at least 60 persons were reported injured.

There were no fatalities confirmed immediately but Francis Levele, deputy police superintendent, said two persons were unaccounted for.

Persons were injured in the mixing room of the Helene Curtis Industries plant, 4401 W. North Ave., occupying an entire city block. Levele said 30 persons were injured in a Zenith Radio Corp. plant nearby.

A heavy odor of sulfuric acid spread over the site and impeded rescue work. Heavy plate glass windows were blown from buildings in a radius blocks from the site of the blast.

The most seriously injured victim brought to Walther Memorial Hospital was a man painfully burned on the face.

Most of the other injured suffered shock and minor burns.

Dr. Samuel Grant, research director for Helene Curtis Industries, said he believes the blast was caused by a chemical reaction to mixtures involving alcohol. The workers were making resins for use in cosmetics, he said.

All first-aid windows in the four-story Zenith plant across the street were blown in and flying glass struck workers at desks and benches along the windows.

Police cleared an area a block around the explosion site as a precaution against further explosion of chemicals stored in the plant.

The Curtis plant is the main factory of the Chicago-based company that employs 2,500 persons in several plants. It makes beauty salons supplies and equipment and retail toiletries, primarily shampoo and hair spray.

Strike Talk Is Soft-Pedaled

By DWIGHT PITKIN
DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Walter P. Reuther indicates he is trying to wind up labor contract negotiations in the auto industry without striking the little brother in the Big Three automotive family—Chrysler Corp.

Reuther said he would not identify soft-pedaled strike talk Tuesday when he personally took command of the final round of bargaining with Chrysler.

Reuther disclosed a new bargaining strategy designed to avoid at Chrysler the strikes over local issues that shut down General Motors Corp. for two weeks and Ford Motor Co. for 13 days.

Chrysler and the UAW agreed, Reuther said, to give priority to reaching agreements on working conditions at both the national and local levels.

In negotiations with GM and Ford, agreements first were made on a national economic contract covering wages and extra benefits. But local unions insisted on striking to back up their demands on non-economic matters.

Reuther said wages and benefits will be taken up last at Chrysler. But he said the UAW will insist that Chrysler accept the wage and benefit pattern established in settlements the union now has with GM, Ford and American Motors Corp.

This gives UAW members an annual wage increase of 2 1/2 per cent or 4 cents an hour, which would be larger, and a cost-of-living wage increase tied to the government's consumer price index.

The GM, Ford and AMC settlements provide fully company-paid hospital-medical care insurance, higher pension levels and expanded supplemental unemployment compensation benefits.

The AMC contract has a profit-sharing plan, but the union is not insisting that other companies follow suit on this.

Reuther was asked by reporters if he expected any difficulty in getting Chrysler to go along with GM, Ford and AMC on wages and benefits.

"I assume Chrysler knows how late the hour is and that three competitors have made a settlement," Reuther replied. "We do not intend to have Chrysler workers become second-class economic citizens. Chrysler is obligated to meet the basic economic pattern."

Chrysler, harassed by management problems earlier this year, now has a new top-level management trying to get the company on a money-making basis. Chrysler had a net loss of $15.7 million in the first six months this year and is expected to show a loss in the third quarter.

Reuther said: "We don't intend to have Chrysler workers subsidize the corporation by accepting substandard conditions. When Chrysler buys a ton of steel, it doesn't get a discount because the company has problems."

In efforts to expedite negotiations, the bargaining committees split up into subcommittees to study non-economic problems before reconvening in full session at 2 p.m. today.

The UAW represents 53,000 production workers and 7,000 sales and service employees at Chrysler.

How To Get Dressed In A Hurry

By JEAN SPRAY WILSON
AP Newfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Men weary of waiting for the woman in his life while she dresses idealize the fashion model who can switch costumes in 90 seconds. Yet any woman can be a quick change artist if she is willing to employ the speed techniques models use, claims Betty Stewart, a blond veteran from Texas. Betty now a professional photographer and fashion model in New York once operated a modeling school in Dallas. She makes these suggestions: Shop with speedy dressing in mind. Limit your wardrobe each season to one basic color and several interchangeable ones. Betty chose green, beige and black as her colors for fall and winter. Limit hats, shoes and gloves to a few which look equally well with each costume. Avoid dresses with side zippers, if possible. Purchase bras and foundation that fasten in front. Betty usually always wears strapsless bras and half slips to avoid fumbling with shoulder straps when switching to dresses with plenty of décolletage. Arrange your closest grouping suits and dresses according to color. Place hats harmonious with each group on the shelf above, line up suitable shoes beneath. Arrange dresser drawer in units so that each stack contains a slip, bra, panties or girdle and a pair of hosiery. Thus by removing one stack you have all the lingerie you need at one time. Arrange jewelry, gloves and handbags together in separate drawers marked according to color. Keep garments in good condition. Check hosiery for snags before putting them away. Test shoulder straps on slips and bras. Examine underarm seams, buttons and snaps for potential disasters. Never put anything away without looking if over carefully for soiled spots. Keep shoe heels capped. Choose a medium length, simple hair style. It can be changed in appearance with a pin curl here and there, or dressed up quickly for evening by adding a matching coronet or chignon hairpiece. Put your make up on slowly you save time here by taking your time so that it only has to be done once. Tie a scarf over your head to preserve your hairdo and to avoid getting makeup on your clothes. Certain clothes have to be put on over your head. To avoid wasting time straightening your slip underneath, while slipping on your dress by holding it down with your knees. Betty admits that without a wardrobe mistress to hook her up in back and a hairdresser to brush up stray wisps, she can't change quite as quickly at home as at a show. But by planning ahead as fashion show directors do, she can dress in five minutes instead of one or two. And so can you.

NEWS OF BOOKS

AWAKENED CHINA By Felix Greene
The author is an American lecturer and resident who formerly was with the British Broadcasting Corp. Because he was born in England, he was able to visit China on a British passport, whereas American natives cannot. He made his first trip to China in 1927, but most of this book is devoted to the four months tour he made in 1940. His account is a curious combination of reporting and argumentativeness. His main theme is that the Chinese have made tremendous progress behind the Bamboo Curtain, and that the people are not being driven by fear or the brutality of a police state. Greene visited many factories, "chungking" schools, hospitals, construction projects and government offices. He also gathered information on labor, economics, social legislation and other subjects. Most of his data had to come from official sources, which he could be unbiased, and he acknowledges that many people are leery of Chinese statistics. His viewpoint is that America has been badly misinformed about China in recent years, though "lacks information would seem a more accurate term. In a chapter titled "The Chinese Case he sets forth what he says is the basis for Chinese hostility toward America, and frequently in other chapters he consciously inserts the "good" side of the Chinese case. First hand reports from inside China are scarce, and Greene has performed a valuable service in compiling this book, but it may be well to remember as you read that it is difficult for both authors and readers to be objective on this subject. Cone - Shaped Fashions In Show Room

NEW YORK (AP)—In this age of space cones it was only fitting and proper that somebody should introduce a cone-shaped fashion figure. So couturier Edward Abbott did it. "This will be the look for '56," he hopefully announced to buyers crowded into his elegant show room for the first view of his spring collection. "It's not high-tailed," Abbott said Tuesday before anyone could accuse him of just another fashion-inspired style. "But it's high-busted."

At any rate, Abbott's new all-hosette rips in quite properly at the waistline and fits snugly all the way in the bosom, where a belt or a well-sewn seam accents the latter. Shoulders are made skimpier taper in wide at the hem. During the show, Abbott's models usually were properly covered with choker necklines and sleeves reaching the elbows. "The covered-up look is well bred," he pointed out. But since a summer fashion is useless without a bare back for display purposes, Abbott took some exception to the season by introducing a few costumes with deep scoops or V's in back. Still, tiny jackets slipped over this flesh in a flash in order to redeem the well-bred appearance. But fastening them up wasn't simple. Abbott, by taking a total of five minutes to manipulate the button-down-back jackets for the models, drove home the point that any woman with back buttons and zippers should think twice before divorcing a man. As for the highly controversial sleeveless, collarless nothing dress made popular by Jackie Kennedy, Abbott has made something of it. He added beads, embroidery, ball fringe and bright sashes.

Now CHEVROLET A New World of Worth from Chevrolet

New Impala Sport Sedan—fresh-shaped elegance with Body by Fisher craftsmanship

Jaunty new beauty with a road-gentling ride! JET-SMOOTH '62 CHEVROLET

In came the new '62 Chevrolet—and out went the days when you had to plunk down a big bundle to ride around feeling like a king.

Look at that fresh styling—clean, graceful, tasteful, isn't it? Imagine opening one of those big solid doors, slipping in, sinking down into those sofa-wide seats and taking in the rich new decor. Now, you switch on your engine—a fuel-shy 135-hp. Six or a bustling 170-hp. V8 (both are standard)—or your choice of new V8 vigor up to an optional at-extra-cost 409-hp. whirlwind—and go, man, go.

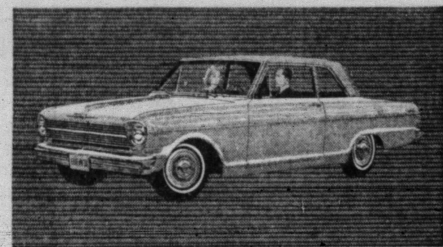

Sturdy, stylish and a stickler on savings!

THE NEW CHEVY II

How ruggedly simple and dependable can a car get? Here's the answer in a sprightly new line of new-size cars—nine models including sedans, station wagons and the soon-to-be-available hardtop and convertible. They're packed with all the dependability you know you can count on from Chevrolet. And they sport many a neat engineering feat. For instance, sturdy easy-riding Mono-Plate rear-springs that eliminate the rubbing and squeaking of multi-leaf springs. Front fenders that bolt on for easy, economical replacement. A low-weight, high-strength body. A fuel-saving 90-hp. 4-cylinder engine or a sasser 120-hp. 6. You have a choice in most models. If you're ready to do some plain and fancy saving, just have your Chevrolet dealer talk Chevy II to you.

Isn't that Jet-smooth ride something, though? At each wheel a big steady coil spring turning the road into cream and over 700 sound and vibration insulators turning the car into one big quiet zone.

Ahead of you are front fenders with steel underskirts that give extra protection against rust, slush and stones. Behind you there's that goods-gobbling deep-well trunk that loads at bumper level. Really, about the only thing the new Jet-smooth '62 Chevrolet leaves to be desired is—a prompt powwow with your Chevrolet dealer.

Civil Defense Is A Public Responsibility In Cities

BY INEZ ROBB

In the past 15 years, the American people have heard, and have seen, from every self-appointed expert and pundit an estimate of just how many Americans will die in the event of an all-out nuclear war.

The estimate has ranged as high as 100,000,000 citizens, although recently "Life" magazine declared that more than 40 percent of us can be spared if properly protected.

But where is the proper protection? Who, in the highest government circles, has shown any real or intelligent or thoughtful concern for the protection of the nation's men, women and children?

The backyard shelter program, except in rural neighborhoods and small villages, is a farce. No intelligent person in this country believes that by some miracle of togetherness families are going to be miraculously united in a backyard shelter in the few minutes between the alert and the impact.

If we, the people, are worth saving and so far three Administrations have made no decisive affirmative, then the population of this great, fundamentally urban country can only be saved by a series of large shelters, built and financed by the government, in which people can take shelter in a matter of minutes.

It is nothing short of criminal to believe that millions of school children, especially in urban centers can be dispersed to their homes between the alert and the bomb blast. And even if those children can reach their apartment-dwelling families in New York or Chicago or Los Angeles, where there are to seek shelter? There aren't any back yards where millions of Americans live. There isn't any rear garden in which the majority can burrow.

We have been told repeatedly that it will cost too many billions to erect shelters to save the civilian populace. Then what is to save the nation? This is the richest country in the world, rich beyond the dreams of avarice of man in any century, yet we are not rich enough to save ourselves.

For shame that we refuse to face reality; that we dupe ourselves with a backyard-shelter program and that we are unwilling to raise the taxes that would produce a meaningful national effort, undertaken by the Federal government.

Pollution Control Lab Project Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $2.5 million water pollution control field laboratory project will be located near Ada, Okla., the Department of Welfare said Tuesday.

The facility will be staffed by about 150 engineers, scientists and supporting personnel. The laboratory will handle research, investigation experiments, field demonstrations and studies. It will have training activities relating to the prevention of water pollution and establishing and maintaining water quality management.

Between 1950 and 1960 Americans increased their life insurance ownership 150 per cent while population rose 19 per cent.

Columnist Quoted In Dictionary

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — I can see my high school English teachers getting the news now.

"You mean to tell me," says the first one, "that Harold Boyle, that big-eared little boy who always came to class in his tennis shoes, is quoted twice in the new unabridged dictionary?"

"I know it sounds impossible, but it's true," says the second. "This is the blackest day for literature since William Shakespeare died."

Many of my editorial coworkers couldn't believe it either when the massive, 2,728-page new dictionary arrived in our office.

But there in bright clear print—both on page 224 under "black-and-white" and on page 288 under "bum"—was the defining quote "black-and-white world where a guy is either your pal or probably a bum"—Hal Boyle.

How did this disaster happen to our beloved language? asked a jealous confrere.

"Oh," I replied, "the editors decided to modernize the dictionary. So they threw out some of the explanatory phrases of a bunch of old-mossback writers like J. Milton and Alex. Pope, and replaced them with new quotes from 14,000 contemporary notables."

"What's a contemporary notable?" he inquired.

"Well, according to the dictionary itself you're looking at one of them, Buster," I told him coldly.

Actually, I'm in a pretty classy crowd. Among the other contemporary notables are such renowned literary figures as Willie Mays, Ethel Merman, Ted Williams, and Dina Shore.

They also managed to find room for quotes by Mickey Spillane, Winston Churchill, Douglas MacArthur, W. Somerset Maugham, and Ernest Hemingway.

The quote from Willie Mays is one of my favorites. Defining one meaning of "puff," it says, "Hit too many homers and people start puffing you up."

The new unabridged dictionary is the first new edition in 27 years, cost $35 million to prepare and has 450,000 entries, including 100,000 new terms.

"How does it feel to be quoted in the dictionary?" asked one of my coworkers.

"It doesn't really leave you much to live for, does it?" I jeered.

But I'll tell you how it felt. To a boy who started throwing newspapers at the age of 10 and has loved words all his life, being quoted in the dictionary was like—well, it was like one who, lost in a wilderness, looks up and sees an airplane, and suddenly the airplane writes his name in giant letters against the eternal blue sky, and the letters hang there, fadeless and fine.

There's only one thing wrong. The dictionary costs $47.50. That's a lot of money—even for a "contemporary notable."

But the next time you drop into the public library, be sure and look me up. Page 224! Page 288!

Chiefs Big, Fair, Formidable

Overall, it was by far our best defensive effort of the year. The Chiefs have been playing a brand of football that is new to the area. They are playing a brand of football that is new to the area. They are playing a brand of football that is new to the area.

He added, however, that the Chiefs have been playing a brand of football that is new to the area. They are playing a brand of football that is new to the area. They are playing a brand of football that is new to the area.

He added that he was anxious to see what the Chiefs would do when the Tigers "spread out," but that there was no way of knowing a feeling of even advancing theories on the subject.

He closed his comments by making mention of the fact that they use their same basic personnel on defense as are employed on offense, and that "those big boys go all the way for them."

The Tigers won out over the visiting Lobos in a season and they, in turn, won the game being the final non-district clash of the year for the Bengals. They went to San Antonio Friday to engage the Lake View Chiefs in a league matchup.

Receiving recognition as line man and back of the week, respectively, were tackle Larry McNair and quarterback Tim Marcum. It was the second week in a row in which Marcum was so honored.

Following presentation of certificates to McNair and Marcum by coach Harrison, the team was addressed by both McNair and Marcum.

He said that he was proud of the team's performance and that they were a credit to the school. He also mentioned that they were a credit to the school.

"I think Larry played the best ball game he's ever played in high school," he noted. He also mentioned that they were a credit to the school.

Concerning Marcum, he specifically mentioned that "Tim did a very good job of running the ball. He's one of those boys who has that type vision that few of us have—who can see the play ahead of him. He used his blockers extremely well."

Bostick added that the team blocking was "the best we've had in a long time" and made mention of several other backs who had showed up well in the running department.

It was also brought to attention of the club members that as a result of the interscholastic league shakeup that Brownfield (currently a member of 3AAA) has been added to 3AAA, which will expand the district into a six-team conference.

Another injured member of the team—tackle Jackie Stewart—attended the meeting and was recognized and applauded by the assembly.

Reports were heard from the system's junior high coaches in relation to past and future games. Coach Charley Sparks of Travis 4th announced a time change for his game in Lamesa, Thursday.

Coach Ned Underwood of Lamar 4th also announced that his game Thursday will be at 6 o'clock rather than 6:30. It will precede the Travis 4th game of 6 o'clock.

Coaches Bill Hartford and Jim Gafford of the "B" team gave scouting reports on the offensive and defensive aspects, respectively, of Lake View. The Chiefs have played Class AA schools for the most part, and it was on their most recent victories over Ballinger (24-8) and McCarney (41-13) that they commented.

Hartfield specified that "they have a large ball club and he's as hard as any we've seen." Fullback Mike Sanders was described as their outstanding running back (note: he has accounted for 71 points in six games and is averaging 7.5 yards per carry on 76 yards gained in 102 carries).

He added that "they have a very good offensive line and he's a very good offensive line." He also mentioned that they were a credit to the school.

He added that "they have a very good offensive line and he's a very good offensive line." He also mentioned that they were a credit to the school.

He added that "they have a very good offensive line and he's a very good offensive line." He also mentioned that they were a credit to the school.

Right half Rodney Dupluis, although utilized sparingly in the running game, is the favorite passing target of quarterback Jim Hayvik, a sophomore who was described as an adequate, but not exceptionally fine, thrower.

The biggest show of the running game is assumed by Sanders, a big 180-pounder, with his favorite play being the fullback trap up the middle. He can also be expected to slant in and outside tackle.

Hartfield took particular exception of the Chief running attack, commenting that all Lake View touchdowns against Ballinger were via the ground route, while four of the 10 takes marked up against McCarney were of the same nature. Two of the TD's scored in the McCarney game were on runs of 19 and 20 yards, while the other two were on runs of 10 and 11 yards.

He added that "they have a very good offensive line and he's a very good offensive line." He also mentioned that they were a credit to the school.

Tigers Hovering On Brink Of District 3-AAA Play

Having completed their foreign trip (bring for the season, District 3AAA members this Friday settle down in the really important business at hand—that of vying for the coveted yearly playoff berth.

Interestingly, 3-AAA has done itself proud, having won 16 and lost 13 against a rugged brand of competition. Lamesa leads the pack with five victories as against a single loss.

Said Terasenos have their work cut out for them Friday, however, as they will be attempting to enlarge upon their record against always-tough Sweetwater, which has won three and lost two to date.

END OF SLIDE—After releasing the ball, Phyllis Notaro always ends her follow through with her right hand forward. The hand ends up near eye level.

First Of Four Steps Important

By PHYLLIS NOTARO
Women's Bowling Champion

Written for AP News Features

I always follow the four-step delivery for new and advanced bowlers in clinics all over the country.

The first step, the pushaway—Start off on your right foot, pushing the ball smoothly out in front of you the length of the first step. The motion must be synchronized. This is the most important step in bowling and is called the "point of no return."

The second step—As your left foot moves forward, the ball descends in a straight line and is even with your right thigh. Don't hang on to it with two hands, it will throw off your timing.

The third step—On the right foot the ball ascends to the height of the backswing, no higher than shoulder level.

The fourth step—Slide on your left foot. The ball completes its arc, still in a straight line and continues a few inches past the foul line. It is released simultaneously with the end of the step.

After releasing the ball, the hand continues forward and upward to about eye level height during the follow through.

Being a spot bowler, I do not look at the pins, but roll the ball over the second arrow from the right, about 15 feet down the lane.

Practice the four-step delivery, and you'll soon see your game improving.

Porkers Picked Over Longhorns

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—After barely surviving last week's flock of 702 these college football selections are made by the tried and true hat-pin method—just stab and forget.

Michigan State over Notre Dame. For the second straight weekend Michigan State participated in one of the schedule's best games.

Mississippi over Tulane. Mississippi doubled the score on the Greenies a year ago.

Arkansas over Texas. Arkansas' new attack will prevail over the Longhorns.

Iowa over Wisconsin. The Hawkeyes have too much for Ron Miller's passing to overcome.

Alabama over Tennessee. The Alabama defense is about as stingy as they come while Pat Trammell, the team's quarterback, is about as good as they come.

Ohio State over Northwestern. Bob Ferguson gives the Buckeyes the edge.

Colorado over Kansas State. The Buffaloes now are determined to go all the way.

Wynn Aiming At 300 Mark

CHICAGO (AP)—Early Wynn, the star pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, is aiming for a 300 victories next season.

Wynn, 41, had his ailing pitching arm checked by club doctors this week. They found the swelling in his right elbow almost disappeared, and Wynn was able to straighten out his arm, something he was unable to do most of last season.

The doctors said it appeared Wynn can resume pitching next spring. He now owns 260 major league victories, needing 40 to reach the 300 mark.

Junior Editors Quiz on ARCHITECTURE

QUESTION: What keeps an arch from falling?

ANSWER: In (A) John and Carl are trying to climb two ladders which they have tied together at the top. They can't do it because their ladders are showing the ladders apart at the bottom. In (B) they have driven two posts into the ground to prevent the ladders from spreading apart and they are now able to climb them. This is the principle of the arch. In the stone bridge (C) the weight of the masonry on top is trying to force the sides apart but it can't do this because the sides of the bridge are built down into the ground and are too strong and heavy to be moved. Notice that the top of the stones making the bottom of the arch are a little wider on top than on the bottom. This helps to lock them in place so they can't slip down. The center stone is called the "keystone" and it is made extra big and strong. The Romans were the first to make much use of the arch. A series of arches close together making a tunnel shape is called a barrel vault and this was much used by the Romans in buildings.

FOR YOU TO DO: Using balsam wood, which is easy to carve, make yourself a set of building blocks and see if you can build the bridge in our picture.

Hope, Dismay In Khrushchev Speech

LONDON (AP) — Premier Khrushchev's speech to the Soviet Communist party Congress aroused conflicting feelings of hope and dismay in the capitals of Western Europe today. The fearful Europeans elated at the straw he held out on Berlin. The announcement he had lifted his deadline for signing a peace treaty with East Germany. But some noted that was the only change in his Berlin stand. Dismay was widespread at his announcement that in less than two weeks the Russians will explode a 30-megaton hydrogen bomb, the biggest man-made bang the world has ever known. Four British pacifists invaded the Soviet Embassy in London and announced they would stage a sit-down there until the Russians called off the bomb blast. British policemen carried them out of the building five hours later.

British newspapers exhibited more concern at the prospect of the massive Soviet nuclear blast than relief over the possible delay in a Berlin showdown. "There is no supreme military advantage to be gained in touching off so large a bomb," said the Times of London. "The purpose behind the announcement is largely political. It is meant to fill the Western peoples with fears of what may happen unless their governments concede points to the Russians over Berlin."

The Manchester Guardian said Soviet plans to explode the super-bomb "has destroyed the prospect of freezing weapons development and so limiting the arms race. It has also destroyed the attempt to start a pilot scheme for international control over disarmament. It has added to the pollution of the earth's atmosphere with new radiation. And it has brought Russia neither extra influence nor greater security."

The Conservative Daily Mail said Khrushchev "has not budged an inch" on the future status of Berlin. On Berlin, said the Laborite Daily Herald, Khrushchev spoke "with moderation and hope," but when he spoke about his new bomb he was "back at his old game of trying to make our flesh creep."

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express viewed the speech through rose-colored glasses, calling it "an important and welcome contribution to maintaining peace."

"By postponing the signing of a treaty with East Germany, the Russian leader shows his willingness to negotiate," said the Express. "He also shows courage. For it is not easy for a man in supreme power to retire from a position he has taken up. Yet that is what Khrushchev has done."

To West German newspapers, the high spot of Khrushchev's speech was naturally his announcement that he would postpone signing an East German peace treaty.

Oil Property Sale Okayed

DENVER (AP) — Directors of Argo Oil Corp. have approved a plan to sell most of the firm's oil and gas properties to Atlantic Refining Co. President Gilbert Mueller said today.

Argo owns properties in 17 Western and Southern states and last year had a net income of $4.9 million. Mueller and A. E. Johnson, Argo chairman, said a meeting will be held Dec. 5 to allow stockholders to vote on an offer by Atlantic Refining and other unidentified firms to buy Argo's properties.

They said the offer would amount to a purchase price of about $150 million, or about $7.50 a share.

Included in the proposed sale are stocks in other oil companies held by Argo, amounting to about $11.5 million.

Argo Oil stock closed on the New York Stock Exchange Tuesday at $69.62 1/2, a share, an increase of nearly $30 a share since July.

The firm last year produced 4,884,215 barrels of crude oil. Its properties include 764,303 gross acres of developed and undeveloped royalties and 885,439 gross acres of developed and undeveloped leases at the end of 1960.

Houston Store Is Destroyed By Fire

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Fire destroyed one of the South's largest discount stores, causing damage estimated at about $5 million. The fire, which started at a loading dock Tuesday, destroyed practically all the merchandise in Globe Discount City in southeast Houston. Several firemen had slight injuries from smoke and from a collapsing roof. About 200 customers left the store when the fire erupted. Charles Beck, manager of the store owned by the United Mercantile, said the stock was worth more than $5 million. The building cost $3 million a year ago. Fire Chief C. M. Bullock called for a big wrecker to bash in a wall. The windowless building kept firemen choking. The fire started near an incinerator.

Moonlighting Not Robbing Jobless

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—

Workers holding down several jobs are not robbing fellow toolers of a chance to earn a living, the Labor Department suggested today. It made public a new survey on the prevalence and characteristics of dual jobholding—or moonlighting—as it is commonly called.

Over three million persons, or 4.6 per cent of all those employed in the country, held more than one job when the survey was taken in December, 1960. This means nearly one out of 20 held second jobs.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said, however, that the number and proportion of dual jobholders has not been increasing in recent years. Also, it was found for the first time, he said, that moonlighting is a misnomer.

More of the dual jobholders, contrary to popular belief, work on their extra jobs during daylight hours rather than at night.

Only 34 per cent of the dual jobholders were reported as working mostly at night on their extra jobs; 42 per cent worked mostly during weekday working hours, and 24 per cent primarily on weekends.

Goldberg had some comments on the agitation from jobless workers during periods of heavy unemployment, of there ought to be a law banning anyone from holding more than a single job.

"The results of this survey give little support," the secretary said, "to the notion that the unemployment problem could be solved by prohibiting extra jobholding."

"The hours worked on the second jobs are usually very short, and a great many of these jobs—for example those in farming and the professions—would be unsuited to the unemployed or of little interest to them."

Only about 100,000 of the three million dual jobholders worked full time on both jobs. Typically, the total hours worked by the multiple jobholder added up to 50 on both jobs, with 11 hours devoted to the extra job.

Some examples of extra jobholding: The factory worker with a side job working evenings in a drug store, a postal clerk devoting off hours as a gas station attendant, and the office secretary doing weekend clerking in a department store.

About 850,000 of the extra jobholders had extra jobs operating their own farm or business. These are positions, the Labor Department said, that unemployed could not reasonably be expected to fill.

All in all, it was estimated that some 1.2 million of the 3 million dual jobs wouldn't be suitable for unemployed for one reason or another.

Understandably, because of their family responsibilities, three-fourths of all multiple jobholders were found to be married men. Only two per cent of women workers held extra jobs.

Finally, although unemployment has been heavy among factory workers, only four per cent of them are multiple jobholders, and the extra jobs were generally outside the factories.

New Surplus Is Looming

WASHINGTON (AP)—New farm surplus problems rising to plague producers and federal farm officials are in livestock, relatively free of such troubles for a couple of years.

These problems are appearing just as a little headway is being made to bring crop surpluses under control. Wheat and livestock feed grain production is running below a year ago under the influence of federal programs and had weather in some wheat areas.

Milk and dairy production is increasing faster than consumption. As a consequence, the Agriculture Department finds it necessary to step up price support activities in the dairy field.

Turkey production is up 26 per cent over last year's record crop. The result has been a sharp drop in producer prices and appeals from the industry for government assistance.

The broiler industry also has increased production and is pushing for lower prices. It, too, wants federal help.

The beef cattle and hog segments have kept out of trouble, but a drought in cattle areas could cause heavy marketings and a glutted meat market.

Tower Asks About Walker

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara was asked Tuesday by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., if Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker is being pushed for his "expression of anti-communist views."

Walker, relieved of command of the 24th Division in Germany, last spring, has been assigned to Pacific Army headquarters in Hawaii as assistant chief of staff for operations, plans and training.

The Texas senator wrote McNamara asking if this new assignment "is commensurate with Gen. Walker's distinguished past record and command experience, and whether he has in any way been penalized for his candid and forthright expression of anti-communist views."

Walker was found to have violated Army regulations by making what the service said were "inflammatory and derogatory statements" about public officials and to have attempted to influence troops in their voting in the 1960 congressional election. He was reprimanded.

Walker is a constituent of Tower. Walker lists Center Point, Tex., as his home.

National Food Cache Urged

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP)—A California scientist suggests the United States build up a national food cache so that food enough for two years would be available within easy walking distance of every American in the event of nuclear war.

Dr. Perry R. Stout of the University of California, speaking Tuesday to a component institute of the National Research Council, said a $15-billion emergency food supply should be widely distributed.

Stout said: "It will not be too much to follow the Biblical admonishment that the seven-year years will follow the good. As with the ancient Egyptians, let us take 20 per cent of each year's crop and store it—assuming we can get agricultural production up to such a level."

He added: "In this age of nuclear weapons, the United States is perhaps the most vulnerable of the large nations because of the dependence of her agricultural complex upon industrially supplied fertilizers, fuels and machinery."

"Consequently, in case of large-scale nuclear combat with primary targets being our concentrated industrial establishments, agriculture, even though highly dispersed, would become paralyzed immediately."

Adding that agriculture in the United States could not be reestablished until its industrial base was reestablished, he said food enough for two years should be cached for these reasons:

1. It would take a year to restore industry and transportation after a full-scale nuclear attack.

2. Another year would be required to allow new crops to come in and be harvested.

The agricultural scientist said a "two year survival kit" of food would require: supplies of animal protein, dehydrated, and compacted; carbohydrates and fats similarly treated; plus the vitamins necessary for adequate diets. And, "as for our present surplus grains, they must be gotten out of the warehouses and converted to animal protein."

He said the resources of agricultural experiment stations and food preservation industries "must be called upon for all-out research programs to develop methods for keeping foods stored for indefinite periods in the future."

Governor Refuses To Set U. N. Day

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Gov. Donald G. Nutter said Tuesday that until the United Nations becomes "something other than a forum for the enemies of this country," he will not proclaim U.N. Day on the ground "this would constitute an endorsement of the present activities of the U.N."

The wartime bomber pilot told a news conference the United Nations has turned into a debating society, particularly since the death of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

From me to you A DAILY VIEW

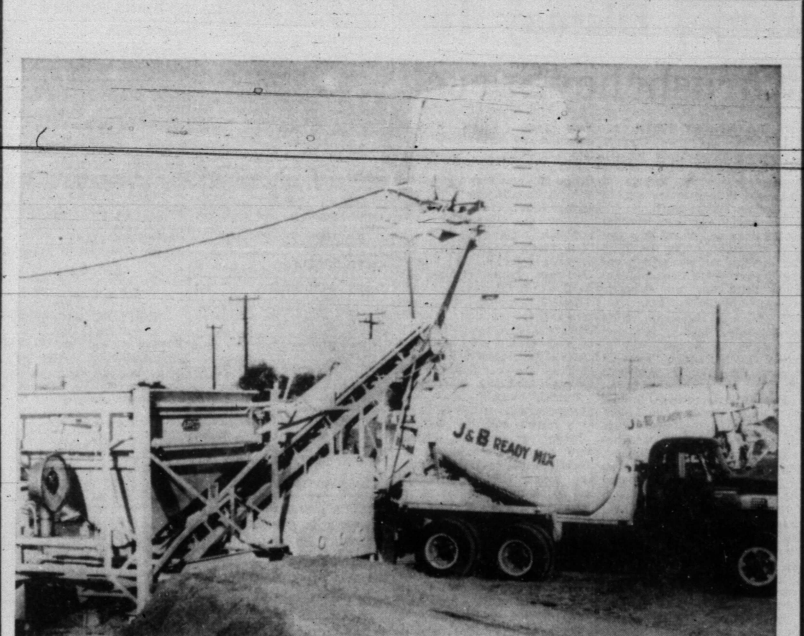

By Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"I saw in the night visions, and behold...there came one like a son of man...And to him was given dominion and glory and kingdom, that all peoples nations, and languages should serve him."

Daniel 7:13-14 (Read Chapter 7)

This vision reads more like a nightmare, and one wonders what Daniel had to eat before going to bed. "Yet the truth of the matter is that Daniel was given inspiration by God to see the coming of Jesus Christ, and the Kingdom of God set up upon earth. The things that Daniel saw in that night vision have come true, up to the point of our own times. If he saw a right concerning times past, we can feel confident that the future is also to be as he saw it. And that future is simply that the whole world will bow at the feet of God to give Him the honor and the glory and the praise."
