Wolves honored at football banquet

Reggie Gardner and Ralph Gonzales were co-recipients of the Outstanding Wolf Award as presented by head coach and athletic director Tom Ramsey during the annual Colorado High School football banquet held Thursday night in the middle school cafeteria.

Gonzales also won the Hustling Wolf Award presented by coach Rick Robinson.

The Sportsmanship Award went to Roger Iglehart. Presenting the award was coach Jerold Epperson.

Marty Cleckler accepted the KVMC Fighting Heart Award from coach Robinson.

The Colorado City RECORD "E" Award was presented by coach Larry Hudson to Larry Mayes.

The special award presentations were next to last on the banquet program. The banquet ended with the singing of the school song as led by cheerleaders Kellie Beights, Renae Whalen, Lisa Lamb, Marnie Spivey, Misty Strain and Shuefoot Cindi Ingram.

Wolverine president Sally Mendoza welcomed everyone and CISD superintendent Charlie Useilton gave the invocation.

Following the dinner and a speech by guest speaker Jerry Larned, all CHS football players were recognized.

Coaches Mike Hart and Raymond Zamarrappa introduced the freshmen football team, coaches Hudson and Epperson the junior varsity and coaches Robinson and Epperson the varsity squad.

Varsity football captains Gonzales, Cleckler, Gardner and Danny Salazar revealed Holly Tarter as the team's choice for Football Sweetheart.

Wolverine president Mendoza announced Terry Jackson as Wolverine Beau.

Guest speaker Larned, retired from the coaching profession and is now superintendent of Monahans schools, said he was most disturbed by the "Me" attitude prevalent in this country.

"People don't want to share," said Haskell native Larned. "They say 'If there's not anything in it for 'Me', leave 'Me' alone."

Larned outlined five categories of what it takes to be successful.

The first one was spiritual soundness. "Speak not against any man. Pray every day. Do not be ashamed of your religion."

The second dealt with goals. "You've got to have goals."

Thirdly Larned spoke of the importance of courage. "Cour-

Maynard gets fame honors

Any Colorado City resident that has the opportunity to visit the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio will find there the name of a native son.

Don Maynard, a 1953 graduate of Colorado High School, was recently elected to the Hall of Fame for his accomplishments as a receiver with the New York Jets.

Maynard, also a track standout and collegiate star at Texas Western (now UT-El Paso), completed his National Football League career with 634 catches and 11,834 yards. Both were career records just recently surpassed by San Diego's Charlie Joiner.

Maynard was the first to surpass both 10,000 and 11,000 yards receiving.

Maynard visited Colorado City a few times late last year and said his biggest professional accomplishment was fumbling only once in his 17 years in the NFL.

"The memories go on," said

Maynard.

Maynard will be inducted into the NFL Hall of Fame August 8 along with John Henry Johnson, Len Dawson, Jim Langer, Mean Joe Greene, Larry Csonka and Gene Upshaw.

Britton's announces closing

Two more empty storefronts will be added to downtown Colorado City following the announcement of the closing of Britton's Furniture.

J. C. Britton, owner, Friday said the store will remain open for the next few months, but unless a buyer can be found in that time, the store and its annex will be closed.

Britton's has been in its downtown location for 12 years. Prior to that Britton owned Western Auto and a furniture business on Walnut Street for 10 years.

Britton said the decision to close was not an easy one and he and his wife's plans for the future are not certain.

"We're still very much interested in Colorado City and we're not writing Colorado City off," said Britton.

"It's been a good 22 years," he said. "We raised our boys and formed a lot of good friendships."

They have two sons, Lynn, 26, who works for Dillard's in Lubbock, and David, 20, a junior at Texas Tech in Lubbock.

Candidates file for city posts

Two more candidates have tossed their hats into the ring for the April 4 city election.

Jonnie Weatherly has filed for mayor and Dan Johns for the one-year unexpired council term.

Weatherly joins Jim Baum in the race for the mayor, the position currently held by Elmer Martin who has announced he will not seek re-election.

Johns is seeking election to the council vacancy created by the resignation of Tom Lovell last year who moved out of the city limits.

Three other council seats, currently held by Don Webb, Tom Carlock and Dee Hearn, are also up for re-election. Filing deadline is Feb. 18.

The fourth category was "you've got to have a burning desire to excell. There's no place like first place. Anybody can be ordinary." Larned disagreed with "It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you played the game." He said "Don't settle on being average. Average is the best of the worst and the worst of the best. Disgrace is in not using every bit of talent God gives you."

In closing, Larned stressed the importance of respect. "Respect your parents. Respect your body and don't do anything to hurt it. Don't put anything in your body to hurt it."

Art Lawler

I've always suspected some people of claiming atheism just to get attention. But Jasper Carrington, now 20 years removed from my life, was - or is - anything but ludicrous.

Jasper never forced his non-belief on anyone. Never challenged others to defend their beliefs, either.

If you ask him, he'd give you his thoughts on the subject, usually with an admirable show of reluctance.

"I just don't believe there is anything out there," he'd say. "I respect your faith, and I could be totally wrong, so don't listen to me. It's just that I can't make myself believe the stuff in that book."

Even though he didn't believe it, Jasper appeared to practice the book's teachings. He was less judgmental than most - in my judgment, anyway. He was more tolerant, it seemed, and less neurotic. At least I never saw him break out in a philosophical rash.

He was, in fact, a polite man. A man who rarely lost his temper. A man who had good manners and compassion and all those qualities normally reserved for the good guys.

I've described my old acquaintance to some of the staunchest of believers, and a few explained Jasper away by saying "there are a lot of good men in the world, men who don't know God."

That, they say with finality, is too bad.

Jasper, it seems, is just another good man doomed to hell. I'm never quite sure, though, whether it's God, or man, who provides so much enthusiasm when these powerful pronouncements are rendered.

Jasper's pleasant, if doomed soul, is obviously a problem for me. Not that I'd argue if you told me there are 20 faithful followers who have the same qualities, for every one Jasper. But I would feel better if all atheists were fat and loud, like Madalyn Murray O'Hair.

It's hard to visualize a Supreme Being, especially like the one described in the Good Book, torturing Jasper throughout eternity.

From a practical standpoint, you figure God brings his creations into heaven and then has to live with them for all eternity. So you ask yourself, "Would he rather sit next to Jasper for all eternity, or next to some of the people like we've all shared pews with on forgettable Sunday mornings?"

If the decisions were left to us, we might just let Jasper in, then slam the gate on someone with 38-years of perfect Sunday School attendance who never shuts up about it. Some of God's loudest and most visible followers - not to mention his best fund raisers - could wear thin after just the first billion years.

It's silly to ponder such things, I guess. But you can't help thinking people like Jasper would be more enthused about dying and getting to heaven if they weren't afraid of the company they'd have to keep after getting there.

No amount of reassurance that God will repair all personality quirks at the entrance gate, could impress Jasper.

Given his druthers, Jasper would have opted for a quiet, conservative eternal existence. A kind of non-existence after death. No golden streets, to be sure. But no loud voices in white suits with perspiration problems, either.

There are worse thoughts than a future after death that would match the one before birth, it seems. At least I've never met anybody who has had pre-birth memories.

All of this brings us back to interpretation and the great theological debates of the day.

Just because some guy has disciplined his mind in biblical rote work and declares something is so, probably doesn't mean he can't be over-ruled, even if he is a deity in his own mind.

No, if God wanted to over-rule his own book, I don't see why he couldn't just step right in and do it? If He wanted to change his mind and allow Jasper into heaven in spite of his non-belief, I'm not even sure Jimmy Swaggart could stop him.

What it all comes down to is this: Is it more important to "know God" to the satisfaction of a television evangelist, or to live the kind of life He's quoted as saying He prefers in the Good Book?

Only a no-good suspected secular humanist would ask such a miserable question, of course, but I think it deserves an answer, nonetheless.

It'd be interesting to look up Jasper one of these days - just to see how it all turned out.

King, Savaria united Nov. 26

Debra King and Michael Savaria were united in marriage Wednesday, Nov. 26 at 8 p.m. in San Angelo.

Judge Jerry Jennison read the vows in a double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rice of Westbrook. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Savaria of Savannah, Ga.

The bride wore a white silk printed ankle length gown. It was fashioned with a high rolled collar, long sleeves and a draped cummerbund and a bow that attached at the waist. The full length veil, made by the bride, featured a cluster of white roses and of illusion net and lace. She carried a bouquet of red and pin, roses intermingled with baby's breath and pink streamers.

Her "something borrowed" was her wedding dress. For the "something old", she carried a pink handkerchief belonging to her late Grandmother Rice. She wore a garter for "something blue". "Something new" was her watch given to her by the groom.

The bride gave her mother a single red rose.

The marriage vows were exchanged before a floor length white and mauve Chinese lantern. They stood under white hanging wedding bells with pink and white streamers. Two large pictures of pink Chinese vases accented the wall.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Scott Craig of San Angelo. She wore a blue dress designed as the bride's. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The best man was Scott Craig of San Angelo.

A reception followed. The bride's table was covered with a white floor length cloth. A pink flamingo oil candle with white candles in crystal holders on either side and a mauve vase with pink Chinese flowers accented the table along with the bride's bouquet. A two-tiered wedding cake with pink roses was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Pink sherbet punch was served from a crystal punch bowl.

The bride's sister, Julie Whitesides, served.

The groom's table featured a carrot cake and a flower arrangement of gold mums sent to the couple by the groom's parents. Almond bark wedding rings and candy kisses were also served. Gold candles and a brass duck completed the setting.

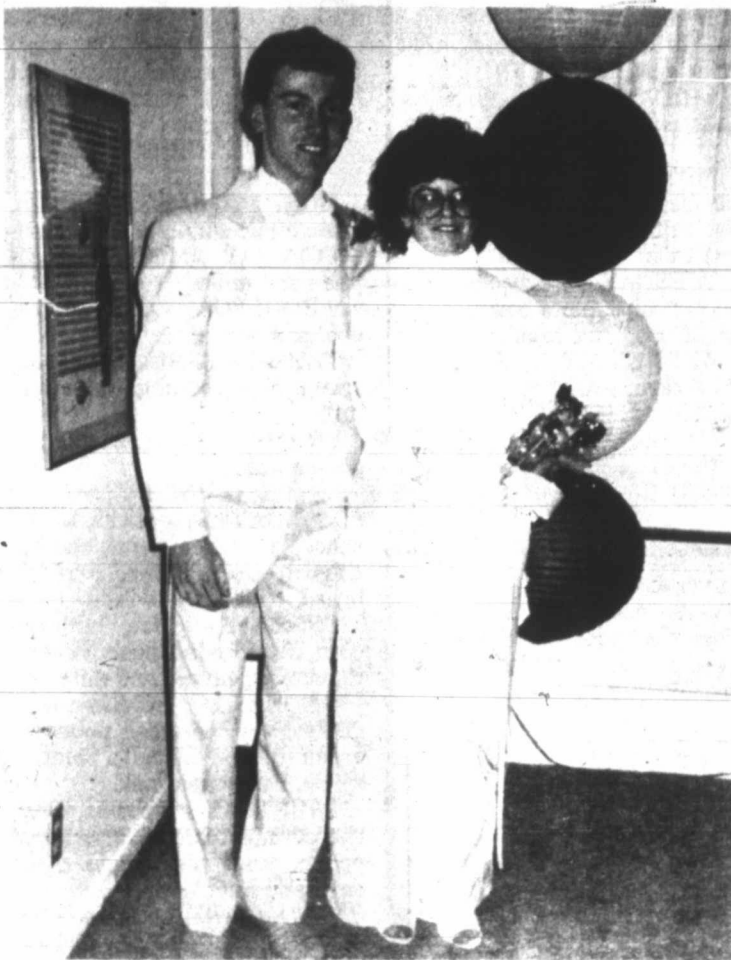

The couple honeymooned in Orlando, Fla. at the Epcot center and Disney World and in Savannah, Ga. where they attended a Cindy Loper concert.

The bride is a graduate of Westbrook High School and Aladdin Beauty College of Big Spring.

The groom is a graduate of Benedictine Military High School and attended the University of Georgia and Georgia Southern. He is in the U.S. Air Force, stationed at Goodfellow Air Force Base, San Angelo.

The couple presently resides in San Angelo but will start a tour of duty May in Oahu, Hawaii.

Out of town guests from Westbrook were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rice, Charles Rice, Julie Whitesides and Russell.

When Jesus talks about not putting new wine in old wineskins, I wonder if He isn't talking about the glorious new wine of God's Spirit that needs to be put in new skins. The new wine will expand and therefore needs new skins that will be flexible. Jesus is saying to people that the expansive and freedom of Christianity cannot be safely confined in old unyielding forms. God creates something new--and new work and a new skin to contain it.

Maybe-just maybe-Jesus wants His followers to become more flexible instead of staying trapped in the old (almost dried up) ways.

Norman is host to Lake Club

The "C" City Lake TEHA Club met Tuesday, Jan. 27 at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Bobbie Norman, hostess.

The meeting was called to order with Dorothy Sneed leading the club prayer. Vada Carlile read the minutes of the previous meeting. Marie Harlow gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Sneed was nominated delegate for the district meeting in Abilene April 7.

Mrs. Carlile gave the program on home safety. She stressed that security is the main concern, adding that burglaries usually occur between 11 a.m.-2 p.m. with 50 percent of these entries made through the front door.

She said a metal door or solid wood door is best and should be locked from the inside. Sliding doors are not very safe. Devices can be purchased to go on windows to keep them secure. She said neighborhood watch programs are effective and police telephone numbers should be kept where they can be reached easily.

Refreshments of cookies, lemonade and coffee were served to Vada Carlile, Lily Farrar, Helen Wright, Helen Oglesby, Bea Harlow, Opal Long, Marie Harlow, Belle Snider, Artie Crabtree, Dorothy Sneed, Billie Woods, Bobbie Norman and Clydine Kimbrell.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Feb. 10 at 1:30 p.m. at the Golden Age Club in Westbrook.

Green to speak at local church

Marcus Green will be guest speaker at First Assembly of God, 830 E. 17th, on Wednesday, Feb. 4 at 7:30 p.m., according to Rev. Fred Johnson, pastor.

Green and his wife Evangeline are newly appointed Assemblies of God missionaries to Equatorial Guinea.

Located on the west central coast of Africa, Equatorial Guinea is somewhat smaller than the state of Maryland and has two widely separated provinces: the western Africa mainland area of Rio Muni (where three-fourths of the 310,000 population live) and the island of Bioko about 29 miles off the coast of Cameroon. Spanish is the official language here and about 60 out of every 100 people are Roman Catholic.

"Equatorial Guinea has been totally untouched by the Pentecostal message of the gospel," says Green. "We plan to lay the ground work for the Assemblies of God work there by starting discipleship groups and training them so that we can see the beginnings of an indigenous work in this country." Mrs. Green will be teaching the women of Equatorial Guinea in classes concerning hygiene, sewing, childcare, and relationships.

Both the Greens already have missions experience. Marcus has participated on missions assignments with Ambassadors in Mission (AIM) and the Mobilization and Placement Service (MAPS) program, both of which are auxiliaries of the Assemblies of God, providing short-term missions service.

Mrs. Green is the daughter of veteran missionaries to Africa.

Prior to missionary appointment, the Greens pastored in Dell City, Texas. Both are graduates of Southwestern College of the Assemblies of God in Wixom, Michigan, where Green served two years as president of the campus' Missions Association.

The Greens have two children, Marissa and Carrick.

Stew is an economical dinner

By Debbie Christian County Extension Agent

Isn't it nice to come home from work to find dinner ready? Or to have an opportunity to enjoy a few extra minutes soaking up a good book while dinner cooks by itself? With this simple, slow-cooking stew, you can incorporate economical cuts of meat into a full meal that takes very little time.

Since 97 percent of red meat is digestible, the dieter does not get that "hungry" feeling between meals. In addition to B-Complex vitamins, iron, and zinc, beef is an excellent source of the other trace minerals selenium, chromium, molybdenum, magnesium, phosphorus, potassium, copper, and aluminum.

Accent the stew with some wonderful buttermilk biscuits. Not only is this an economical, time-saving meal, but it provides abundant sources of protein, iron, vitamin A, thiamin, and riboflavin for your daily nutritional requirements.

STAYABED STEW
Combine in a 3-quart casserole with a lid.

2 pounds cubed stew beef
1½ cups frozen green peas (or 15 ounces canned)
1 cup sliced carrots
2 onions, chopped
1 large raw potato, sliced

3 fingers garlic
1 bay leaf

½ cup water
1 can tomato soup
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Put lid on casserole and place in 275 degrees F. oven. Cooks itself in 5 hours. Or, place all ingredients in crock pot, cover, and cook on low heat for 8-10 hours. Serves 8.

Coahoma Bulldogs beat Wolves at home

The Colorado City Wolves scored just four points in the third quarter of their district 5AAA basketball game at Coahoma Tuesday and the Bulldogs used the opportunity to build a 14 point lead that carried them to a 59-43 victory.

Tuesday's loss marked the end of the first half of district play and gave the Wolves a 1-5 record and a 3-16 season mark. Coahoma finished the first half 2-4.

Colorado City trailed Coahoma only 26-21 at halftime but the Bulldogs scored six unanswered points to begin the third period. Wolves sophomore Darwin Jackson stopped the Bulldog run with an offensive rebound and follow-up that left the Wolves trailing by nine at 32-23. A goal by junior Ken Woods kept it a nine point game at 34-25 but Coahoma ended the third quarter with the last five points to lead 39-25.

Coahoma jumped out to an 18 point, 43-25 lead with the first two goals of the final period. Two free throws by sophomore

Paul Ausbie and a goal and free throw by Terry Jackson cut the Bulldog lead to 13 points at 43-32 with 5:38 left.

DeeJon Douglass, Coahoma's second leading scorer with 14 points, scored to make it 47-32 before six straight points by the Wolves made it a 10 point 47-37 game with 3:40 left. T. Jackson started the rally with a goal and finished it with two free throws after Larry Mayes added a goal. That was as close as the Wolves could get despite three late goals by Ausbie.

The Wolves kept the Bulldogs from pulling away during the first half.

T. Jackson assisted Woods on two goals that gave the Wolves a 4-0 start. Douglass got Coahoma back into a 4-4 tie that the Wolves broke on a Woods goal assisted by Bubba Bailey. Colorado City held two different first period leads on goals by Bailey and fellow sophomore Pat Ridge and ended the quarter with a 12-11 lead on an offensive rebound and follow-up by junior Guy Compton.

Coahoma scored first in the second period but D. Jackson answered with two free throws for Colorado City's last lead at 14-13 with 7:08 left in the first half.

The Bulldogs scored the next seven points to lead by seven at 21-14 with 4:15 left in the half. Woods made a free throw and was assisted by T. Jackson on a goal to make it 21-17. T. Jackson then sank a free throw to make it 21-18 with 3:10 left in the half but the Wolves could get no closer for the rest of the game.

Musser led Coahoma with 19 points.

The loss by the Wolves came despite their dominance of the boards. Ausbie got 13 of Colorado City's 50 rebounds. T. Jackson, D. Jackson and Woods added 9, 8 and 7 rebounds, respectively.

The Wolves committed 36 turnovers, made 11 of 27 free throws for 48 percent and 15 of 56 shots for 32 percent. Scoring totals were Bailey 1, Mayes 2, T. Jackson 8, Marty Cleckler 2, Ridge 2, Woods 14, Ausbie 6, D. Jackson 4 and Compton 2.

The junior varsity Wolves continued their winning ways with a 47-38 win that gave them a 4-1 district record and a 9-5 season mark.

Dennis Smith and Ismael Silva both scored 12 points for the Wolves. Smith scored six in the first period while Silva led the Wolves late with 11 fourth quarter points. Also scoring were George Rivera, Tracy Ausbie and Hal Morren 5 and Mark Russell and Duane Jones 4.

Lady Wolves falter at line

Poor free throw shooting stuck out in the Colorado City girls 72-36 district 5AAA basketball loss at Coahoma Tuesday.

"That was probably our best game of the year," said coach Will Gollihar. "We were getting hurting us, but when you make only 6 of 32 free throws you're not going to beat too many people."

"When you consider that you missed over 20 free throws and most of them were at the front end of one and one situations you've missed out on a possible 40 points. They (Coahoma) didn't shoot that well either at the line, but they could go to Fowler and she'd score."

Shanna Fowler scored 24 points for Coahoma including 14 in the first period—to lead the Lady Bulldogs in their 36 point win.

The loss dropped the Wolves to 1-22 on the season, 0-8 in district and 0-2 in the second half.

Coahoma remained in the thick of things in the playoff hunt.

Jo Hudson added 11 for Coahoma.

Coahoma led 22-11 after one period, 47-23 at halftime and 65-30 going into the final period.

Scoring for Colorado City were Denise Lowrance 13, Jennifer Monroe 8, Holly Tarter 8, Misty Strain 2, Jodi Mitchell 2, Cami Redwine 1, Amy Chitsey 1 and Monica Hamilton 1.

Lowrance added 4 steals, Tarter 3 assists and 2 blocks and the two got 9 and 8 rebounds, respectively.

The Lady Wolves made 15 of 48 shots while Coahoma made 14 of 30 free throws and 29 of 84 shots.

Scoring for the junior varsity girls in their 49-44 loss were Sheila Monroe 10, JoAnn Ornelas 7, Christabel Molina 7, Melissa Rivera 6, Stacy Miles 5, Brittany Bridgford 4, Mendy Conner 3 and Dianne Green 2. Leigh Riley and Laura Cobb scored 14 and 13 points for Coahoma.

The Wolves made 10 of 23 free throws and 17 of 58 shots while Coahoma made 15 of 37 free throws and 17 of 61 shots.

Monroe added 4 steals and with 3 steals were Ornelas and Sandra Harris. Bridgford, Miles and Molina got 5, 5 and 4 rebounds for the Wolves.

Wildcat boys winning

The Westbrook Wildcat boys have the early edge in the district 17A basketball race after beating Ira 56-49 at home Tuesday night.

That win plus a 52-50 win at Hermleigh two Friday's ago gives Westbrook a 2-0 district mark and a 7-12 season record. The Wildcats were to travel to Loraine Friday for the last of first round district games.

Ira beat the same Loraine team but Loraine already owned a tournament win over Westbrook. Loraine and Ira are 1-1 while Hermleigh stands at 0-2.

"We won by our press," said coach Jim Hill about the win over Ira Tuesday. "We did a real good job and caused turnovers. We fouled too much. They scored 17 points at the free throw line."

Frankie Fuentes led the Wildcats with 22 points. Clayton Cannon added 15 points and 10 rebounds.

"Ramiro Fuentes is really making a difference," said Hill. "He's hitting the boards and scoring about 10 a game. Scooter Hines is rebounding and getting a few points. Ruben Cantu and David Blauvelt are doing a good job of ball handling. We're playing so much better. The kids are working hard and want to win bad."

The Wildcats have won three of the last four ballgames.

F. Fuentes and R. Fuentes led Westbrook in the 52-50 win over Hermleigh with 26 and 10 points, respectively.

"It was nip and tuck," said Hill. "We were down by 5 at one time in the fourth quarter. We had a four point lead with four seconds left but they never got a shot off on two inbounds passes."

The Westbrook girls lost to Hermleigh 70-36. Scoring were Stephany Pierce 6, Veronica Lopez 8, Angie Griffin 2, Lisa Putman 6, Rachael Simon 8, Mikki Sullivan 4 and Kerre Baker 2.

Loraine bounces back

After losing their first district contest at Ira, the Loraine Bulldog boys stayed in the thick of the 17A basketball race by bouncing back for a 53-46 win over Hermleigh at home Tuesday night.

"We led the whole way," said coach Tommy Meredith. "It got tied up in the third quarter but we were able to pull away again. We couldn't get away early. They're pretty tough to beat. We got a 6 point lead and were able to run out the clock."

Scoring for the Bulldogs, who made 3 of 9 free throws and 25 of 59 shots, were Eddie Benitez 12, Freddie Benitez 7, Joe Vasquez 17, Luis Leija 11, Shawn Finley 4 and Quentin Merket 2.

The Loraine girls lost to Hermleigh 44-42 in double overtime. "Beverly Griffin scored at the buzzer to tie the regulation at 40-40," said coach Jim Nau. "Both teams were trying for the last shot in the first overtime. We missed two free throws. Earlier in the game we missed 3 or 4 easy layups."

Jill Roemisch scored 40 points for Hermleigh. Beverly Sandifer added 4.

Scoring for Loraine were Griffin 14, Terry Munoz 8, Michelle

Williams 7, Cheryl Alvarez 6, Jolinda Trout 5 and Leticia Garcia 2.

Card Of Thanks

Card Of Thanks

Our thanks to each one of the many friends whose loving expressions of sympathy helped so much during our recent sorrow. A special thanks to Kiker-Seale Funeral Home for all their special help on behalf of Jimmy Smith. Also a special thanks to Rev. Roy Byrd. We are especially grateful.
Mr. & Mrs. Ernest Smith of Crane, TX

Card Of Thanks

Dear Friends,
It may have been a visit or a call, a card sent or food brought to our home. It may have been the way you honored his memory with flowers or a memorial contribution. It may have been your presence at the service we held to celebrate his life, a comforting word or touch, or the tears you have shed with us. For any of these, for all of these, and especially for your prayers for God's healing presence with us now, we will be forever grateful to you. And now our prayers are for God's richest blessings in your lives.
The Family of Don Bolon

Card Of Thanks

We, the Family of Buddy Lopez, want to acknowledge with sincere appreciation the kind expressions of your sympathy. We want to thank Dr. Terry and the staff of Mitchell County Hospital. We appreciate the memorials, flowers, food, cards, visits and prayers. A special thanks to Father Busch, Steve H. Rivera, Anastacio Alvarez, Juanita Mendoza and to all the people that brought food to the Golden Age Club and most of all for your love and concern.
Mrs. Buddy Lopez & Family

The Fairview Extension Homemakers Club met Thursday, Jan. 22 at 10:30 a.m. at the home of Peggy Faulkenberry, hostess.

D'Dee Morris led the club prayer and Sherry Autry led the recreation. Edna Pace spoke on boiling cabbage.

The council report was given by Sherry Autry and Peggy Faulkenberry gave the secretary-treasurer's reports.

Livestock Show. Club members were to work Jan. 22 and bring food for the event.

Blondie Hamilton, guest speaker, gave a report on safety and health and on home safety. She gave helpful tips on how to make our homes safer. She said an escape plan should be worked out in advance in event of a home fire.

Mrs. Hamilton gave the members a list of emergency numbers to have by their telephones. The speakers also urged members to buckle up whenever they're in an automobile.

Nine members and two guests attended. The other guest was Jane Smith.

The next meeting will be Feb. 12 at 2 p.m. at the home of Velma Hester.

Chamber members recruited

"The results are still rolling in", said Chamber Manager Penny Solomon. "The Headhunters keep bringing in more members each day. As of today (Thursday, January 29, at 4 p.m.), the total membership investments pledged is $4,296.00 and $2,234.00 of that is in cash. This represents a 22 percent increase in our annual membership investments."

The six Headhunters divided into three teams of two each and canvassed Mitchell County on Wednesday, Jan. 28, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. At noon they had already exceeded their goal and they are still searching for more interested and concerned business and professional people in the county to join the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce. The teams are Travis Turner and Tom Lovell; D. M. Smith and Mark Waldrup; and Eddie Piland and Mike Ratliff.

"The efforts of these gentlemen will be greatly rewarded," explained Solomon. "The winning team gets the pleasure of throwing a pie in the face of each of the four men in the two losing teams. This spectacle will take place at the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet, March 14. I am the only person with the knowledge as to which of the six will receive a pie in the face in front of approximately three hundred people."

Thanks to the efforts of these Headhunters the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce has added to its list of members the following people and businesses. Under businesses: Thomas N. Aguilon, M.D., Don R. Bennett, D.C., Big John's Buffalo Burgers, BoJo's, C C Athletics, Colorado Veterinary Hospital, Col-Tex Station, Cox Quality Meats, Inc., Cox Welding, Custom Ag Services, Dairy Queen, Mike Fuller Barbecue, Michael S. Roach, M.D., S & S Water Store, Schaffer Chiropractic Clinic, Clay Strange, Attorney, Tom's Paint and Body Shop, and White-way Motel.

Individuals who joined include: Dell Barber, Tandy and Lovess Curlee, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Froneberger, Donna K. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Hardee, Mr. and Mrs. Hank Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. Rob Holman, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. McCauley Jr., Susan McCauley, F. W. Merket Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nelson, Gaylord Price, Ray Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Strain, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Turner and Jerry Wilbourn.

'Second Chance' offered

If you did not complete your high school education or just didn't learn basic skills such as reading and writing as well as you would like, "Second Chance" may be just what you need.

"Second Chance" originated in WalMart Stores, when Sam Walton urged all employees and customers to get a High School Diploma by taking advantage of Community Education GED Classes. The Wallace Community Education Advisory Council and the Colorado City Area

Chamber of Commerce have joined Sam Walton in his project for better educated employees and customers.

On Monday, Feb. 2, council members will be at Fuller Foods to help interested persons sign-up for the GED classes and Adult Basic Education classes, both available at the Wallace Center at no charge. There is a small fee for the test for High School Equivalence Diplomas. Financial Aid is available from local employers, private individuals, and service clubs.
