Six Kidnapers Caught After Heated Search

Leonard Cassidy Arrives At Vera Cruz After 30 Hours In Hands Of Bandit Gang; In State Of Exhaustion

Taken for Ransom

Employee Of Fruit Company Is Given Freedom As Bandits Flee To Remote Depths Of Jungle Along River

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, April 17. (AP)—Leonard B. Cassidy, American employee of the Transcontinental Fruit company, arrived here today freed from captivity of thirty hours in the hands of a group of bandits. Six men who kidnapped him have been captured by the troops of General Gonzalez at Esperanza, near Tuxtepec. They have been turned over to the civil authorities.

MEXICO CITY, April 17. (AP)—In a state of nervous exhaustion Leonard B. Cassidy today was reported on the way back to Tuxtepec, state of Oaxaca, from a wild section along the Popocatepec river, following a harrowing 30 hour kidnapping adventure in the hands of bandits. It is not known if Cassidy, who is an American citizen, from Peabody, Mass., is unharmed. It is known, however, that he is in bad physical condition because he asked for a conveyance to take him from the Sebastiano Belmont farm to the nearest rail point. Patrick O'Hara, president of the Transcontinental Fruit company and employs Cassidy, told the American embassy today of Cassidy's appearance at Tuxtepec. It was assumed that Cassidy was kidnapped for ransom and a search by 150 soldiers, apurians and enraged banana growers grew so hot the bandits released him, fleeing to the depths of the remote jungle along the Popocatepec river.

Davis Is Held On Pro Charge

Prisoner Denies Identity On Arrest By Local Officers; Still Raided Here In Fall; Letter Found On Person

Claude Davis, under indictment by a Lubbock county grand jury on charges of violation of the prohibition law, was arrested late Thursday by Lubbock county officers as he arrived in the city from the south. At time of his arrest the man denied that he was Davis and stated that this is the first time he has ever been in Lubbock. A search of his effects, however, revealed a letter addressed to Claude Davis and written by a Lubbock party in which Davis was instructed to return to this city and steal a "still" which was said to be held by county officers. The letter stated that the equipment was in the jail yard and could be easily stolen. A raid was made on Davis' home in west Lubbock last fall by local officers but at that time the man made his escape. Officers confiscated about 30 gallons of whiskey and the still in the raid.

Death of Lee Is Thought Certain

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—It was announced at the emergency hospital tonight that the death of Representative R. G. Lee, democrat, Texas, was only a matter of a few hours, probably before morning.

Lee was stricken with paralysis five weeks ago today. He appeared to be recovering until he suffered a relapse last night, and his physician announced today that they had given up all hopes of his recovery.

Lee was elected to the seventy-first congress from the 17th district of Texas, succeeding former Representative Tom Blanton, who was defeated for the senate by Senator Tom Connally. Lee was born at Colebrook, Miss., January 12, 1880. He moved to Texas when a young man and made his home at Cisco, where he has been engaged in ranching and banking and in the oil and railroad business. He was formerly president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He was elected to congress in 1928 without opposition. His wife and children are in Washington.

Hotel Housekeeper Claims Alsup Invited Her To Take Part In Fake Bank Robbery In Fort Worth

(By Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, April 17.—That John Alsup, former policeman, invited her several months ago to participate in a frame-up robbery of the Polytechnic State bank was the first testimony in Justice J. H. Paulkner's court this afternoon by Mrs. Maud Baines, hotel housekeeper.

Mrs. Baines was one of the witnesses in the examining trial for Alsup and A. P. Boyt, barber, who are charged with murdering Will Tate and George Terrell, negroes, in their attempt to rob the bank Thursday of last week. Boyt has made a statement that he helped "frame" the two negroes so a "dead bank" would be robbed of $5,000 could be collected on cash.

Tate and Terrell were killed in a drive without bond, a third person was implicated in the alleged murder plot today when Will Vincent, negro

Slaying of Washington Girl Probed

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—Discovery of new evidence in the murder of Miss Mary Baker was announced today by detectives seeking the man who assaulted and shot the 28-year-old navy "charment" employee last Friday, but little optimism was in evidence as to prospects of an arrest.

Miss Baker's body was found Saturday in a culvert near Arlington National cemetery with three bullet wounds in her head and body. Her blood-stained automobile was found a quarter of a mile away.

Authorities are confident she was killed by a man with whom she was on close terms. Miss Baker pointed out in his talk that the present system was very unjust to the small West Texas counties, while the bond issue would bring about a just equalization of the expenditures of funds for paying and give a complete system in a much quicker time.

Damages Suit Is Filed Here Against City

Trustee For Bankrupt Grain And Coal Company Seeking $17,643 As Outgrowth Of Underpass Construction

Alleging damages in the sum of $17,643, Leonard Pearson, trustee, yesterday filed suit in the 72nd district court against the city of Lubbock in behalf of creditors of the Lubbock Grain & Coal Company, Inc., bankrupt.

The suit is an outgrowth of construction by the city of the Broadway underpass, during which time trustee for the bankrupt company charges that no business could be carried on as the street was torn up. Costly improvement which could not be picked up and moved to another location were said to have been idle. The suit also charges that by virtue of the construction work going forward no way of ingress or egress to the property could be obtained.

In the petition Pearson declares that though the city has control over all streets it could not impair the value of property without making compensation to the injured person or persons owning said property.

Thomas Love's Plea Given To Supreme Court

Arguments Are Completed In Attempt Of Senator For Mandamus To Place Name On Ballot For Governor

(By The Associated Press)
AUSTIN, April 17. — Senator Thomas B. Love's application for a mandamus to compel the state democratic executive committee to place his name on the 1930 democratic ballots as a candidate for governor was under consideration by the supreme court, after the last of six attorneys presented arguments today.

A full court listened to five hours of argument in two days. The closing address was made by Cullen P. Thomas of Dallas. Senator Love's law partner, in support of Love's contention the state committee had exceeded its legal right when it ruled that persons who failed to support the democratic presidential electors in 1928 could not qualify as candidates in the primaries.

C. C. Renfro of Dallas and Lillian H. Burges of El Paso added arguments to that of Judge P. A. Williams of Galveston, given yesterday, in opposition to the mandamus. J. W. Hassell of Dallas and Senator Love previously had spoken in favor of the mandamus.

LONDON, April 17. (AP)—Senator Joseph T. Robinson, member of the American delegation to the naval conference, this afternoon issued a statement outlining terms of the safeguarding clause in the naval treaty. His statement read:

"The so-called safeguarding clause in the naval treaty will provide in general that if during the term of the treaty the requirements of national security of any of the three powers whose auxiliary vessels are limited are, in the opinion of that power, materially affected by new construction by any nation whose auxiliary program is not limited by the treaty, that power will notify the other two of the amount and kind of building it requires. Thereupon those other powers shall be entitled to make a proportionate increase in the same category or categories."

Unique programs were given by children from the rooms of Miss Agnes Priddy and Mrs. Avon English when the Central Ward Parent-Teachers association met Thursday afternoon at the school building. How I coaxed him to eat

"ONCE I was worried. Meal-time was getting on my nerves. I prepared many appetizing dishes, but John simply would not eat—just 'mimed' at his food. Perhaps sometimes a little grouchy. I began to fear he was 'slipping.' What was I to do? Love, home, happiness, business success—all depended upon an improvement in his condition. The blood-boosting idea suggested itself to me. My Druggist recommended S.S.S. He told me that S.S.S. was a great blood tonic; that it had been successful for over 100 years; that it was made from strictly fresh vegetable drugs and was beneficial to the most delicate system. Also that it would build up the blood and improve the processes by which the body is nourished. I brought home a large size bottle. John agreed to try it. Well, in just a few days I could see the difference. His improvement has been so rapid he is going to take several more bottles, and not only that, but he is now telling his friends to take S.S.S."

It is a known fact that when a man's system gets "run-down," he hasn't the resistance to ward off diseases. Loss of appetite is only a symptom. General weakness pervades the entire body. There is no desire to work or play. It is dangerous to let the red-blood-count remain below normal.

S.S.S. is daily helping people to regain their strength. Thousands of users have testified to its benefits in unsolicited letters of gratitude. It promotes a keen appetite, gives vitality to the body, clears the skin and wards off diseases. All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

Millions Damage In Lake Storms

TOLEDO, Ohio, April 17. —(AP)—Lake Erie was settling back toward normal today after driving scores of families from their homes and causing thousands of dollars of damage along the western shore. For two days, strong northeast winds shoved the waters up over the shore line, and summer property between here and Detroit, especially at Point Place, Toledo suburb in Maumee bay, was flooded. Many families, lured to their summer homes by the warm weather of last week, were forced to retreat to higher ground, and fishermen from here to Sandusky feared heavy losses through inability to reach their nets.

INDIANS DISSATISFIED

Seneca National Council in Move Against Trial

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 17. —(AP)—The council of the Seneca nation of Indians at a pow wow at Salamanca which ended this morning expressed dissatisfaction over the manner in which the recent Marchand murder case was handled. The Indians held no briefs for Nancy Bowen, the old woman who hampered the Buffalo artist's wife to death, or Lila Jenson, the Cayuga spinster who pleaded guilty to second degree murder before her case went to the jury, but were emphatic in their conviction that all the evidence in the case was not uncovered and all the guilty parties not brought to justice.

"No Pedaling Allowed"—Oh, Yeah?

Both tireless and tired, these Harvard pedalers are making the collegiate wheels go round on a race between Cambridge, Mass., and New York. Here you see them, garbed in the very best bicycling mode as they set out from Harvard at the crack of the top-hatted starters' gun. Two students started on a tandem wheel and two others rode single-seats.

Spaniards Titter at Prank Played on Duke of Spoleto by King Alfonso XIII

SEVILLE, Spain, April 17. —(AP)—Spaniards tittered today at the prank played by their sovereign, King Alfonso XIII, upon the Duke of Spoleto, youthful nephew of the King of Italy, who, rumor has it, soon will become engaged to the Infanta Beatriz, Alfonso's eldest daughter.

In the presence of the Infanta Beatriz and other members of the royal family, King Alfonso led the young man to a trick bench in the palace gardens of Alcazar, where the family and their suite are remaining during holy week. The duke was invited to sit on the bench, and did so, his weight releasing a spring which controlled a concealed fountain. He was drenched with the water from the spray, while King Alfonso, the Infanta,

Plains Athletes Invade City Today For District Meet

Eighteen Counties Will Send Best Performers Here For Two Day Track And Field Contest

Approximately 350 Contestants Expected To Compete In District Two Event At Tech Field; Preliminaries Start This Afternoon At 2 o'clock

Lubbock will be flooded with high school athletes from 18 Plains counties today as the visiting horde begins its annual assault on the existing District Two records. Beginning at 2 o'clock this afternoon, preliminaries in the two-day track and field meet will begin, with approximately 350 contestants in line for the trophies and medals to be presented the winners by Texas Technological college.

Two marks fell by the wayside last year and even more are expected to fall this season. Previous meets indicate competition in all events will be much stronger than it has been in several years. The battle for points will be waged throughout this afternoon and Saturday afternoon.

Three Teams Stand Out

Advance speculation shows Plainview, Slaton and Lubbock to be the outstanding favorites. The Lubbock speed merchants captured first honors in the 1929 meet but will be hard pushed to retain their title.

Other schools are certain to figure in the point winning. Lamesa, Orlan, Floydada, Tahoka, Littlefield and Dickens will bring their star performers.

E. Y. Freeland, director of athletics for the district, has completed his list of officials for the two-day event and has made special arrangements to handle the crowds. All spectators and coaches will be forced to stay in the stands. Contestants will be asked to stay off the field until their event is called.

To Follow League Rules Intercollegiate League rules will be followed throughout the meet. No athlete can compete in more than five events; of this five, not more than three can be track events. Neither can a contestant enter more than one running event longer than 440 yards.

Divisions of entries into heats in the running events will start promptly at 2 o'clock this afternoon as will preliminaries in all field events.

Pete W. Cawthon, director of Tech athletics for 1930-31, will be the official starter and referee.

Leaders Listed

Below is a partial list of the outstanding men in the various events:

Hurdles—Hooper, Orlan, Nowell and Austin, Slaton; Laird, Plainview; Watkins, Presley and O'Hair, Lubbock.

Javelin—Austin, Slaton; Jones, Tahoka; P. Carter, Littlefield; McCampbell, Post; Ritchie, Watkins and Price, Lubbock.

Plainview, Lamesa and Slaton appear to have the edge in the mile relay.

All-Putter Golf Course Is Opened

Lubbock's first all-putter golf course was opened to the public yesterday when work was completed on the new miniature 19-hole layout, located on the corner of Broadway and Avenue X.

Play began on the diminutive playground last night and the operators, Bannister Walker and Hank Morgan, plan a grand opening tonight. The course is lighted to allow night play.

Laid out with a variety of banks and trick shots, the outlay is played altogether with the putter. Numerous hazards will also be found on the Pee-Wee course.

Golf clubs and balls are to be furnished by the management, according to the owners.

Unemployment Relieved, Says Barnes Report

Chairman of Hoover's National Business Survey Committee Reports Conditions
Show Improvement

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)— Julius Barnes, chairman of President Hoover's national business survey committee reported today that unemployment throughout the country had been relieved to a marked degree by activities in repair work, addition to and alterations of plant and factory since the beginning of the year.
Commenting on this "contributing factor in the stabilization of business," he said that "since the early part of the year the average daily permits for additions, alterations and repairs have increased 30 per cent. The stimulus given these activities was aided appreciably in reviving unemployment."
He forecast as the "next logical step" a resumption of home building and a consideration of the requirements for residential building.
The resumption of prudent building activity in the residential field will aid materially in bringing employment back to normal," he concluded.

Holy Thursday Is Observed in Rome

ROME, April 17. (AP)—The bells of St. John Lateran, "Mother Church of Christendom," rang out this morning, answered by those of all Rome's 400 churches on the occasion of commemoration of Holy Thursday, first of the institution of the Eucharist, recalling the last super of Christ with the apostles.
What is claimed to be the very table used at the repast was brought forth from its repository in St. John Lateran and exposed for the veneration of the large congregation. Two skulls, regarded as those of Saints Peter and Paul, were also on view there, as well as a reputed portion of the pillar to which Christ was bound when scourged in the house of the high priest and a bit of the holy sponge, mentioned in St. Matthew's account of the crucifixion.

Fog Is Blamed in Fatal Air Mishap

HAYS, Kas., April 17. (AP)—Fog, the enemy of aviation, has claimed at least two additional lives, the result of a plane crash here yesterday.
A. J. Lacey, 37, of Wichita, Kan., pilot, and his wife, 29, died following the fall of a plane piloted by the aviator. Russell Guild, 22, of Holyoke, Colo., is in a critical condition in a hospital. Dr. H. C. Hill, also of Holyoke, fourth occupant of the plane, is receiving hospital treatment.
The pilot apparently lost his sense of direction in a dense fog, and headed the airplane into the ground.

Giving Amazing Results

The world progresses. Today all-ments that took weeks to cure can now be ended in a few days. If you have varicose veins or bunions you can start today to bring them back normal size, and if you are wise you will do so.
Just get an original bottle of Dr. J. C. Emerson's Oil at any discussing pharmacist and apply it night and morning as directed to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrating, and only a little is required.

After a few days' treatment the veins will begin to grow smaller and by regular use will soon reduce to normal.
People who want to reduce varicose veins or get rid of running sores and ulcers, should not hesitate to get a bottle at once. It is so powerful that a small bottle lasts a long time. Any pharmacy can supply you and sells lots of it.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

A MISGUIDED SYSTEM

GOVERNOR RITCHIE, of Maryland, will be opposed in the next primary of his party in spite of the fact that dissatisfaction with his administration does not exist. The members of his party who do not favor another term for him are actuated by the belief that he has held the office long enough and that it is somebody else's turn now. That is to say, they are willing to sacrifice his acknowledged ability in the office he holds to what has come to be known as the escalator system in politics and government; the system which assures you that if you climb aboard at the bottom and never once jump off you will get to the top.

It is a misguided system. What it results in is the elevation of mediocre men to high office and the degradation of able men to the dumping ground of public life. It would operate exactly that way this time in Maryland, for the aspirants to Governor Ritchie's office are county politicians whose only claim to the honor is that they are county politicians.

One of the reasons why state governments are so notoriously inefficient is this custom of dropping the pilot at every bend in the river. Some states do not permit their chief executive to succeed himself. In others the political leaders, with public approval, see to it that there are frequent changes. The net result is that just when a governor has mastered his big job he is fired.

Improvement might come by adoption of the European administrations or method of election of prime ministers. Let them serve until their administrations no longer meet with public approval.

Right here in Texas we operate under a system equally as disconcerting—if not more so—than Maryland. Just now, in the rumored third-term candidacy of Governor Dan Moody, one hears on every side, "Well, Texas never has elected a governor to a third term." Dan's got a real handicap there, all right!

Let it be duly chronicled here that this editorial is not an advocate for the re-election of Governor Moody; in fact, as yet, The Morning Avalanche has discovered no reason for holding a brief for the present state executive in his efforts to cling to the state-house. But the situation, as it now portends, gives us a bright and shining example of what might happen some day, to the detriment of the State of Texas.

Let us suppose, for a moment, that one of these days Texas elects a Governor, who through ability and conscientious service, gives this state the greatest era of public and political progress it has ever seen through two terms under any administration. Let us suppose that he has a program not quite finished—one which means much to the advancement and future of this commonwealth—and upon his record of successful undertakings, asks for another term. What will Texas answer be?

Will it be the hidebound "Well, we never have elected a governor to a third term. Maybe we'd better not?"

This newspaper hopes not. Instead, it hopes that Texas politics will be placed upon a basis where successful operation and service will mean more than any misguided and moss-backed tradition which has happened to take root in this great state of ours.

The same principles of private business, where a successful executive is retained because he is successful and is not dropped because years of service have made him successful, should invade our public life from the presidency down to the meanest precinct office.

After all, it is results which should count most and a public employee should be given a portion of the fruits of his labor should his record entitle him to it—all tradition not to the contrary. Our public officials should not be passed out as plums to those who "stand hitched" in political harness whether they have any right or ability to hold the office, or not.

SENATOR HOWELL OF NEBRASKA CONSIDERS WAR SHIPS AS INSURANCE. YET FAVORS REDUCTION IN EVERYBODY ELSE WOULD REDUCE

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—"Skimping on insurance is dangerous," said Senator Robert B. Howell, "but nobody likes to pay for any more of it than he has to."

"A navy," continued the Nebraskan, who is congress' lone Annapolis graduate, "simply is insurance."

"America has to carry a naval policy, for adequate protection. However, if we can reduce its cost and still make it protect us just as effectively, naturally we want to do it. Insurance yields no dividends. We know of plenty of places where we can profitably invest whatever it is safe for us to have on war vessels."

"And so," proceeded the Omaha lawmaker, "I am in sympathy, in principle, with international armament reduction or limitation suggestions."

"One argument is that they make for world peace."

"I have no fault to find with that viewpoint. Nevertheless, even though that were no consideration, all around naval reduction or limitation would be economical—provided it can be arrived at on a fair basis."

"But the difficulty is," complained the Cornhusker statesman, "we Americans are almighty poor international bargainers."

"We consider ourselves extraordinarily hard-bodded."

"So, indeed, we are—among ourselves. For that matter, we are equally hard-bodded in our dealings with individual foreigners."

"Yet when it comes to a question of official dickering, nationally or internationally—my! how liberal we can be!—with other people's cash and interests."

"Our diplomats can see, as plainly as anyone," said the senator, "that mutual naval curtailment, for example, is economically desirable."

"Accordingly they propose it—in perfectly good faith, undoubtedly."

"But they start for the conference chamber with no very clear program, obviously, in any of their minds. In a general way, they know what they hope for, as to details they are hazy."

"They meet a tableful of rival conferees whose plans are mapped out in advance, to the last purification point."

"Do these old world negotiators get right down," demanded the Nebraskan, "to discussion with our representatives of the main issue which our folk are prepared to settle?—international naval reduction."

"Not so anyone could notice it."

"The first thing they do is to lead our delegates into an interminable wrangle over the possibilities of future quarrels in their own old world neighborhood—the last kind of a squabble that we ought to allow ourselves to be dragged into; these neighborhood quarrels are deadly to an outsider."

"As soon as it becomes evident," proceeded the corn belt legislator, "that no disarmament or reduction or limitation compact is ever going to be arrived at on any terms, except greatly to our disadvantage, what should our representatives do?"

"Why, they should come home, of course—and report," "We were fooled; those chaps don't want to disarm or reduce or limit."

"I venture the assertion that the American people would answer, 'You did exactly right,' and give them three cheers, as a delegation of gritty stand-pats."

"But no; they are so bent on a pact that they will take any pact they can get rather than return empty-handed."

"I wish we could have naval reduction," concluded the senator, "but I am getting downright afraid of naval conferences."

"If our crowd would merely confer and fail and come home and admit it, it would be all very well, no matter how many times they tried it. They might accomplish something worth while sooner or later."

"But sending them over after one thing and never knowing, all the time they are gone, what they will bring back with them, is too risky."

"I wish we could have naval reduction," concluded the senator, "but I am getting downright afraid of naval conferences."

"If our crowd would merely confer and fail and come home and admit it, it would be all very well, no matter how many times they tried it. They might accomplish something worth while sooner or later."

Murder Backstairs

by ANNE AUSTIN AUTHOR OF
"THE AVENTING PARROT"
"THE BLACK PIGEON," ETC.

"I've brought Wickert along to identify Johnson," Dundee told his chief when he arrived at Police Headquarters. "You sounded a bit mysterious over the telephone. Where is Johnson?"

"On his way here now, escorted by a couple of the finest," Captain Strawn grinned. "I told you that unless he staged the cleverest disappearing stunt of the century we'd have him here within 20 minutes."

"Where did you find him?" Dundee asked, still puzzled.

"Right here in Hamilton!" Strawn chuckled. "Wasn't he hiding at all. In fact, he was as conspicuous as a wart on a nose. He's been making Hamilton regularly for six months as a traveling salesman for a Chicago silk hosiery manufacturer. Always stops at the Stuart House, which, if you don't happen to know, is Hamilton's most popular commercial hotel. A pretty good salesman, too!" Strawn added admiringly. "After the robbery and the murder Friday night he made his rounds Saturday morning, as usual, and booked a string of big orders from department stores, shoe stores and specialty shops."

"But if you found him at the Stuart House," Dundee objected.

"We didn't," Strawn chuckled. "The boys picked him up 10 minutes ago on the municipal golf course. But I'll tell it from the beginning."

"About 12 o'clock today into this office walks a dame who says she's Hattie Schneider, chambermaid at the Stuart House. Wants to know if there's any reward for information about Harvey Johnson. I tell her to spill her story and let me see what it's worth. She opens a bundle and I'll be damned if she doesn't pull out a navy-blue polka dot bow tie and a white shirt with blue pin stripes. Says they belong to the gent in 312, one of the rooms she cleans. Young man by the name of Cartwright—Hubert Cartwright. She describes Johnson to a T, except that this Cartwright wears hornrimmed glasses and has his hair in the middle instead of on the left side. But if you remember, Johnson's description would fit about four out of 10 young men you see on the streets any day, and shirts and ties like the ones she showed me are pretty apt to be in every man's wardrobe."

"Yes," Dundee agreed.

"But I wasn't taking any chances," Strawn went on with immense satisfaction. "I went to the Stuart House myself, and had a talk with the manager. He gave Cartwright a swell sendoff. Said he'd known him for six months, ever since Cartwright had taken over this territory for the hosiery manufacturer, and that

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

"Just picture a Spanish bungalow with modern piping and kitchen equipment, and maybe a couple of kiddies in the yard."

butler edged diffidently into the room.

"If he will kindly take off his glasses."

Sergeant Turner cut short Cartwright's angry protest by jerking off the horn-rimmed spectacles himself.

Wickett studied the face conscientiously for a moment before replying. "Yes, sir," he said to Captain Strawn. "I have seen him before. I know him as Johnson, the man Mrs. Lambert hired on Friday to serve as Mr. Crosby's valet."

"Thanks, Wickett. Sorry to have had to yank you away from your work like this," said the chief of detectives. "Payne, have one of the boys drive Wickett back to Hillcrest."

"Now, Johnson—or is it really Cartwright?—what have you got to say for yourself?"

"Am I under arrest?" the man asked coolly.

"Arrest? Oh, no. Not yet," Strawn retorted genially. "You're just here for a nice, quiet little chat. . . . See here, Johnson!" he snapped, abandoning all pretense. "We've got you cold on the burglary business, and if you insist, I can put you under arrest right now; you can stand on your rights, demand a lawyer and refuse to talk. But I'm trying to be decent to you. I'm going to give you a chance to come clean on the whole rotten mess you got yourself into Friday night. I'm going to listen to your story with an open mind, then advise you honestly, as man to man, whether I think you have a Chinaman's chance to get a minimum sentence for second degree murder or maybe just manslaughter if you plead guilty. Otherwise, Johnson, I'm going to book you right now for first degree murder as well as grand larceny."

"You haven't got anything on me, except that I happen to look something like a man named Johnson," the man retorted, but his voice shook a little.

"Yeah?" Strawn grinned. "Life's just full of funny coincidences, ain't it? You happen to look something like a man named Johnson; you happen to sign the Stuart House register in a handwriting that happens to look like Johnson's writing on his application for work filed Friday with the Hamilton Domestic Employment Bureau; you happen to own a navy-blue silk bow tie with white polka dots and a white shirt with blue pin stripes—just like Johnson's; and you happen to have had in your possession about $75,000 worth of jewelry just like the stuff Johnson stole from the Berkeley home Friday night."

As he spoke Strawn opened a drawer of his desk and pulled out the shirt and tie; then, still grinning at the white-faced young man, he opened another drawer and exhibited the rumpled stack of silk stockings.

It was the last exhibit which completely shattered the megalomania of the prisoner. He made no more dramatic lunge toward the chief of detectives; he did not curse or snarl. He merely collapsed to a complete heap, his head buried in his hands, but not unkind eyes, had a momentary fear that the man had died of a heart attack. His eyes were closed and his lips had, with amazing suddenness, taken on the grayish-lavender pallor of death.

Captain Strawn must have been alarmed, too, for he jerked open the bottom drawer of his desk and poured a stiff dose into a smug glass.

"Tend a hand, Dundee!" he dared, "Force his jaws apart. That's right. . . . Ah! Well, that's all right. Johnson's eyelids fluttered weakly. "Ready to tell now?"

"Give him time, chief," Dundee begged compassionately. "Till he's sobered up a bit. Whisper feebly. "Make a statement."

"You're darned tootin' you'll make a statement!"

Mart Weakens From Rally In Early Session

Cotton Largely Controlled By Pre-Holiday Influences As Cause of Evening Up

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 17. (AP)—Pre-holiday influences largely controlled cotton today, the three-day lay off prompting traders to even commitments and this formed most of the business done. After rallying from an early decline, the market weakened on realizing but the lower prices brought out covering and the market rallied. In final trading there was some liquidation and last prices showed a small net loss for the day. July after trading up to 15.94, dropped to 15.73 and closed at 15.79, or 8 points net lower. The general market closed steady at net declines of 6 to 8 points.

Reactions Follow Cotton Advances

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—Reactions in cotton today followed yesterday's sharp advance. Pre-holiday realizing and liquidation sent the price of May contracts off from 16.15 to 15.92 or 16 points net lower. May closed at 15.99, with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 2 to 11 points. The lowest prices of the day were touched in the late trading when July sold at 16.04 or 17 points net lower, and new October at 16.02 showed a net decline of 11 points. Closing quotations were a shade up from the lowest on covering, in the nearer months.

The large spot sales in Liverpool attracted considerable attention. Sales of all kinds there for the day amounted to 22,000 bales which included only 4,000 bales of American.

Grain Prices Drop Thursday

Announcement of Complete Relief To Drought Wheat Areas of Northwest Kansas Cause of Declines

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN Associated Press Market Editor CHICAGO, April 17. (AP)—Prices of all grains today were despite strong rallies at times because of preholiday evening up of accounts. The chief dominating factor was authoritative announcement of complete drought relief in Northwest Kansas, where the drought of areas of wheat have been without rain for months.

Closing quotations on wheat unsettled 1-8 to 3-4c a bushel lower than yesterday. Corn closed 1-4 to 1-8c down, oats 3-8 to 5-8c off, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 2c.

Estimates that there were yet 2,000,000 acres of wheat in Kansas which have not had any rain received attention.

Today's export business in North America totaled 600,000 bushels compared with 2,000,000 bushels the day previous.

Departure from Chicago of the first lake vessels laden with corn helped give some strength to the corn market, but the end was more than counterbalanced by wheat weakness and by progress of corn planting, with Iowa the earliest in years. Rains favorable for the new oats crop tended to ease oats values. Provisions were firmer, responsive to upturn in the value of high.

Lower Prices on Cash Grain Mart

FORT WORTH, April 17. (AP)—Conditions on the cash grain market showed little change today, wheat slightly lower, but fair demand from mills was reported with bids running 1.12 to 1.13 1/2c, basis No. 1 ordinary hard milling delivered Texas common points. Coarse grains were about unchanged. Barley and oats were unchanged in fair demand with offerings light.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid: Corn: No. 2 mixed 95 to 96; No. 2 white 98 1/2 to 99 1/2; No. 2 yellow 98 to 100. Trading Drops To Low Levels In Dull Mart

Price Trend Confusingly Irregular Most Of Day In Thursday's Session; Net Gain Is Revealed

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER Associated Press Financial Writer NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—Trading dwindled to the lowest levels in a month in today's stock market. Price trends were confusingly irregular most of the day. Short covering and rapid up of several pool favorites gave the market a fairly strong appearance in closing transactions. Sales totaled 3,940,560 shares, the smallest for a full session since March 17.

The price index of 90 leading shares showed a net gain of 1 1/2 points, cancelling yesterday's loss. The weekly brokerage loan statement disclosed an unexpectedly large gain of $131,000,000.

Merger rumors continued to absorb Wall Street. Rumors of discussions looking to a merger of Sears Roebuck and Montgomery Ward were revived and there was also talk of a combination of Montgomery Ward and J. C. Penney. The proposed merger of National Dairy Products and Kraft Foods appeared close to consummation.

Judges Meet

lead to the large cities: Dallas, San Antonio and Fort Worth. It is time for farmers, business men and officials out here to wake up to the fact that you are furnishing the money to build the roads when you could be building yours.

Through the gasoline tax those who use the gas must pay for road building, and he said, under the bond plan, the funds derived from the gasoline tax would be used to pay off these bonds, and at the same time a complete highway system could be built and put in use.

The convention opened at 10:30 this morning, G. C. Orider, Lynn county judge, delivering the address of welcome. Judge R. R. Patterson, Fisher county, responded.

Judge Bean presided. In opening the meeting Judge Robt. H. Bean, president of the association, who is presiding at the meeting, spoke briefly on the need of legislation to help relieve the growing burden on county general funds and suggested means of remedying this problem.

Judge Horace Holley, Snyder, spoke on "Rural Roads," emphasizing their importance. "Our system of building highways," he said, "should be based on the security of our highways. We have 98 miles of state highways. We have paid out $140,000 in gasoline taxes for the upkeep and building of highways. We have 600 miles of lateral roads, which would be used to pay off these bonds, and we had only $90,000 from taxation with which to keep them up."

Farrish Wires Support. Judge Holley was appointed chairman of a committee to draft a set of resolutions. A telegram was read from Sen. F. L. Parrish stating that he could not be present on account of another engagement and pledging his support in the passing of any legislation the association wished passed.

At a luncheon held in the basement of the Baptist church at noon, C. H. Cain, former Lynn county judge, acted as toastmaster. E. I. Hill, editor of the Lynn County News, made a talk. Music was furnished by Mrs. Bessie Mae Blinn, pianist; Lucille Slator, soloist; Coughran Ketter, soloist, and a quartet composed of Jim Jackson, Clifton Jank, Robert Benson and Boswell Edwards.

Judge W. M. McGeehee, Floyd county, secretary of the association, spoke this afternoon following by on the handling of general fund finances.

Judge E. C. Abernathy, Hale county, told of their highway building project and financing relative to the same.

Cochran Asks Relief. Cochran county, which is the youngest organized county in Texas, is having difficulty, Judge J. L. Winder stated, because of the fact that that county did not inherit any school lands, and he desired that some legislation could be passed relieving such cases.

The first day session closed with a talk from Judge Thos. K. Eplin, Abilene, Taylor county, which was filled with information on the handling of paupers and delinquent children.

Sen. Clint C. Fennell, Wellington, a possible candidate for governor, but who has not yet announced, will be one of the principal speakers Friday morning. D. H. Bandeen, manager of the W. T. C. C., will also speak Friday.

Special badge, registration expenses, and secretarial services are being furnished through the courtesy of W. Dow Perry of the Western Metal Manufacturing Co.

evening with instructions to deliver it to his cousin after midnight Thursday. Glasse also was said to have asked the appointed messenger if he had any 38 calibre shells and when told that he did not, asked for some money to buy some stating that he "was going to get revenge."

Investigation yesterday by officers revealed that the missing man has a wife working on the "666" ranch near Guthrie, Tex. As the two, however, have not lived together for some time, Glasse was said to have been run away from the ranch one time when he tried to get his wife to come back to him and she refused.

Officers last night discredited the theory of suicide but indicated that the man might have ideas of revenge toward his estranged wife or other parties.

Testimony Is Ended In Hugh Wiley's Trial

Murder Case Is Expected To Be Given To Jury By Noon Today; State Seeks Death Penalty Against Defendant

LINDEN, April 17. (AP)—Testimony was completed today in the murder trial of Hugh Wiley, 50, charged in the slaying April 2 of Rube Huff, 40, after a quarrel over a dice game at Queen City, near here. Arguments were set to begin tomorrow, and the case was expected to reach the jury by noon, the state seeking the death penalty.

Wiley testified today that Huff was shot to death by his son, Drew Wiley, 22, after Huff approached the witness with a revolver pointed at them. The state's rebuttal sought to prove that Huff's revolver was never taken out of its scabbard.

Children Testify
A son and daughter of the defendant, Winston, 15, and Annie Bee Wiley, 10, took the stand in their father's defense. The state failed to call as a witness Morris Yates, 18, said by District Attorney R. G. Waters to have confessed knowledge of the part the Wileys took in Huff's slaying.

Wiley, on the stand three hours, testified he went to a party on Sulphur river, on the day of the shooting. A dice game was started, he said, but he asserted he did not play. He testified that his son, Drew Wiley, awaiting trial on murder charges in Huff's death, engaged in the game, and that an argument arose over a point while Drew had the dice.

GIRL FOUND GUILTY

Olga Edwards Is Convicted Of Extortion Charges

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—Olga Edwards, who came out of the west thirteen years ago a young girl with glittering dreams of theatrical stardom and acquired only luxurious tastes that were eventually to lead her into trouble, today was convicted of attempted extortion.

The charge was brought by the wealthy, middle-aged business man who gave her first glimpse of the material satisfactions that money could buy. She heard each of 11 jurors today solemnly say he believed her guilty of having threatened to "extort" Nathan L. Amster to the father of her six year old son, Lee, unless he acceded to her demands for money.

FLOMOT MAN ELECTED

TAHOCA, April 17. (Special)—Alexander Taylor Flomot, has been elected principal of South Ward school here for next year. His wife will also teach in the school.

$350,000,000, he stating that the $350,000,000 annual average is the amount also favors abandoning the present prison system and of spending millions of dollars of a new centralized plant. He stated that any common sense farmer could make the prison on farms pay their way, the use of free labor in raising foods for the prisoners and inmates of other state institutions.

One of the principal platforms of the candidate favors the reduction of the tax but that the average citizen by a uniform, just and equitable distribution of the tax to the individual tax resources.
