LAST BANK IN HUGO, CLOSING, MAY MERGE 3

Oklahoma Town Finds Itself in Embarrassing Financial Position

HEAVY WITHDRAWALS

As Much as $9,000 Cleared In One Day by Uneasy Depositors

HUGO, Okla., May 27.—(AP)—Citizens of Hugo were attempting tonight to find a way out of the financial difficulties that resulted today in the closing of the third and last bank in the city.

The City National bank surrendered after a hard fight and a sign on its closed doors today informed the public it was not open for business. Industry of all kinds in the city virtually stopped when business men were left with only the money in their cash registers and their pockets on which to operate.

Only two banks are operating in Choctaw county, small state institutions at Fort Towson and Boswell. The Hugo National bank and the Hugo State bank, unable to liquidate old cotton loans despite a bumper crop last year, closed May 6. The Soper State bank at the nearby town of Soper, with the same directors as the Hugo National, was closed the same day by the order of O. B. Mothersead, state bank commissioner.

Possibility of merging the assets of the three Hugo banks into one large institution was being discussed by local business men. Under this plan, it was proposed that depositors of each bank should accept proportionate losses.

Heavy withdrawals during the last three days were attributed as the cause of the City National bank's closing today by W. E. B. Leonard, president, in a statement issued this afternoon. While there was no direct run on the bank, it was said that depositors were going to nearby cities and issuing checks on their accounts. Clearance of such checks yesterday alone amounted to approximately $9,000. The bank could have continued operation on borrowed money, Leonard declared, but the board of directors did not wish to assume the appearance of dissipating their assets.

Eight Residents Of Childress Patients At Hospital in Week

This week there have been eight citizens of Childress in Wichita Falls to go through the medical clinics or for operations in the General hospital. Wichita Falls is building up a great reputation in Northwest Texas as to its clinics and hospitals. Many thousands of dollars are being spent here by patients and others who come with them or to see them while receiving treatment. A few years ago the afflicted either went to Fort Worth or Dallas clinics or hospitals. Many even went as far away as Rochester, Minn.

AMERICAN PRODUCER TO EXPAND INTO ENGLAND

LONDON, May 27.—According to the newspapers this morning, the American theatrical firm of Lee & J. J. Shubert, Inc., has acquired a half share in a company owning three big London theatres. It is stated that the deal involved about 150,000 pounds sterling or roughly $727,500.

ELEVEN STATE HIGHWAY OFFICIALS HOLD MEETING

KANSAS CITY, May 27.—(AP) Representatives of highway departments of eleven Mississippi Valley states met here today with Elwin J. James, chief of design of the United States bureau of roads, to evolve a uniform marking system for the major interstate highways of that area.

The meeting which was the first of six group sessions on good roads will continue through tomorrow. States represented are Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota.

Vets to Get New Percentage Rates

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—Director Hines has issued an order effective Friday under which world war veterans having non-compensable degrees of service disablity will be assigned two percentage rating to add to any other rating so that they may receive compensation.

The order also will permit veterans compensable degrees of disability to increase their compensation rating, if, in addition, they have an ailment which may be given a rating under the new order.

WICHITANS TO DALLAS WITH DENVER TRAIN

First Through Passenger To Dallas Will Carry Local Men

Wichita Falls will be well represented at Dallas Monday, June 1, when the first train of the Fort Worth and Denver railway enters Dallas. The Dallas chamber of commerce has sent out a large number of invitations through the Denver road territory and the attendance is ging to be quite large.

There will be a change in schedules when trains are operated into Dallas but so far timecards have not been received by officials of the road in this city. It is said that the southbound passenger, known as No. 2, will be the first train to enter Dallas. This train now arrives in Wichita Falls at 2:35 o'clock afternoon. It is believed the new timecard will place arrival time here just an hour earlier, permitting the train to arrive in Dallas at the same hour it has reached the Fort Worth terminal.

Invitations have been received by the First National bank, Security National bank, Wichita State bank and the City National bank. Local newspapers and the chamber of commerce have been invited to send representatives. J. T. Harrell will represent the City National, Lester Jones the Wichita State, C. C. Caviness the Security National and W. U. McCutcheon will perhaps represent the First National. But to Saturday being a national holiday others of the banks will be unable to attend.

Dallas is preparing a big banquet and a watermellon feast for the visitors, who will come from all over Northwest Texas and from towns that will build west from Childress. Hale Holden, president of the Burlington system, and other high officials will be present. F. E. Clarity, vice president and general manager of the Denver road, with all men accupying important positions, will attend.

ELIMINATE SPECIAL APPEALS

Presbyterian Budget is Fixed at Over $4,000,00.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 27.—(AP)—Elimination of all special appeals for funds and concentration upon the budget was voted today by the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States. The budget for benevolences for 1926-27 was fixed at $4,750,000.

In considering the report of the standing committee on stewardship, the assembly heard that since inauguration of present policies the church budget has grown from $1,500,000 for benevolences in 1915 to an amount around $4,000,000 this year, "putting our church in the very forefront among the churches in America in benevolences."

AN EDITORIAL

WICHITA FALLS citizens are offered the pleasure today of hearing Douglas Malloch, poet extraordinary. Yet that is not all. They likewise have offered them the opportunity of doing something worth while for the Wichita Falls Junior college. The poet, known as "the business man's poet" and one who has already won for himself a place in the hearts of Wichitans through a former visit here, speaks at the Junior college auditorium tonight as a headliner of a program calculated to raise funds to clear financial encumbrances upon certain Junior college equipment.

The program is fostered by a group of Wichita Falls women whose uppermost thought is the advancement of the city's educational institutions; women who have given exclusively of their time and effort to making the program a success. A responsive citizenship, it is assured, will greet their endeavors tonight. Admission for the program is small, an admission calculated to correspond to the pocketbooks of every person in this city.

The Record News is moved this morning to make this comment for two reasons:

First: The tireless efforts of this group of Wichita Falls women in such a worthy cause should be rewarded.

Second: Wichitans who omit to hear Douglas Malloch are cheating themselves of a rare opportunity.

Second Trial Of Quanah Man Ends In a Hung Jury

QUANAH, May 27.—The second trial of R. F. Doty, of Quanah, charged with the fatal shooting of Coster Hilton, 17-year-old boy here last August, resulted in a hung jury, which reported itself unable to agree after many hours of deliberation.

The first trial of Doty was ordered stopped by the judge after a jury had been selected. The mistrial was ordered due to a defect in the indictment against Doty. Doty is alleged to have fatally shot Coster Hilton when he found him in his watermelon patch one night. In his first trial Doty plead insanity. A third trial has been set for the October term of court. Doty is out on bond.

R. I. INCOME INCREASES

Road Shows Big Gain for the Month of 1925

CHICAGO, May 27.—(AP)—Net railway operating income of the Rock Island lines for April showed an increase of $226,136 over the corresponding month last year. Railway operating revenues for the month totalled $9,887,513, compared with $9,801,181 for the same month in 1924 Railway operating expenses totalled $8,271,077 for April, 1925, against $8,460,328 for the same month of 1924.

Auto's Battery Was Charged With Juice Of Unexpected Kind

J. A. Scott, 1200 Indiana, was having trouble with his Dodge yesterday on arrival at Yoder's garage from a lease 10 miles northeast of the city. Engine was hot; terribly hot.

Got into the thingamagigs around the motor; everything O. K.

Still she was hot; hot something awful.

Looked at the fan belt; fan belt had slipped off.

Couldn't figure it out.

Called a negro to get down under the car and make a minute inspection.

Negro monkeyed around the timer, then crawled his way to the battery.

Negro let out a yell and disappeared over the horizon.

Mechanics looked where they last saw the negro looking, just under the floor boards over the battery and—a five-foot bull snake—coiled.

DEMOCRAT NOT TO RESIGN

National Chairman Denies Rumor of His Quitting.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Clem L. Shaver, chairman of the democratic national committee, said today at the Waldorf that he had not intention of resigning his post at this time. Reports from Washington indicated that Mr. Shaver was expected to step out to make way for the election of Representative William A. Oldfield, of Arkansas. Mr. Shaver made it clear that so far as he is concerned the proposal has no existence.

Wilbarger Highway Recognized by State

VERNON, May 27.—Highway No. 231 has been officially designated as a part of the system of highways from Seymour through Vernon to a point on Red river, according to a telegram received here today by Judge Jas. V. Townsend, from Joe Burkett, member of the state highway commission. The new highway will cross the county from south to north.

It will enter the county by the way of Lake Kemp coming practically due north through the oil fields to Vernon. The route of the highway from Vernon, north to Red river is yet to be selected but it is generally agreed that the route will lead to the bridge across Red river east of Odell. The designation will make the highway eligible for federal and state aid.

VALLEY TOUR PLANNED FOR C-C. OFFICERS

Special Trip to Lakes Will Be Treat For Visitors

HERE ON JUNE 11

Directors And Officers Will Meet Here For Day Session

Officers and directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, who will meet in Wichita Falls, Thursday, June 11, are going to be shown the wonderful irrigated valley of the Wichita river in a way that will impress them of the magnitude of the project as well as to convince them irrigation is not only being successfully done but will pay many times more than dry farming in western Texas.

Work Out Route.

Guy R. Jones, county farm agent, and Fred L. Haskett, assistant manager of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, worked out a route Wednesday afternoon that is new and will show the valley at its best. The trip will be made on Friday, following the close of the meeting Thursday evening. The visitors will be taken in automobiles and the route selected is on the Seymour paved road to a distance of four or five miles, turning to the right on the road that leads north to Iowa Park. This road crosses the river on a steel bridge and shows one of the prettiest pieces of woodland in northwest Texas. Many beautiful farms and truck patches are to be found along the river. The road is followed until the experiment station farm is reached, just south of Iowa Park. A short stop will be made at the station. The route continues west from the station and the river is again crossed and the Vallew View community is reached. This is the garden spot of Texas, even more beautiful than the valley of the "Silver Rio Grande." It is a little Garden of Eden tucked away in Texas.

Dam and Locks Shown.

From Valley View the road leads to KMA and the diversion dam. The dam and locks will be shown and explained to the visitors in detail. From the diversion dam the party will proceed to Dundee and Mabelle across to Lake Kemp. Boat rides will be provided the visitors so that they can really see and appreciate the greatness of Lake Kemp. A cold luncheon will be served. The return trip will be made over the Seymour road to Wichita Falls. This will enable the visitors to see the wonderful oil fields at Holliday and the irrigated fields southwest of Wichita Falls. The route, as planned, also gives the visitors an excellent view of the city and through the prettiest residence sections.

Seth B. Hollman, editor of the Hereford Brand, away out near the New Mexico border, has sent word that he is coming and wants to see the irrigated valley. Porter Whaley, general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in telephone conversation with a chamber of commerce official, stated he expects every officer and director to be in Wichita Falls, many coming especially to go over the irrigation project so that they can learn first hand what Wichita Falls and her progressive citizenship have accomplished.

CLARITY SAYS SANTA FE OUT FOR MONOPOLY

Denver Vice-President Issues Statement Regarding Extensions

DALLAS, May 27.—A charge that the Santa Fe railroad is attempting to monopolize sections of the Panhandle and South Plains country which might result in loss of direct connection into Dallas and Fort Worth over a 200-mile extension of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad was made here today in a statement by F. E. Clarity, Fort Worth, vice-president and general manager of the Denver lines.

His statement was in the nature of a retort to representations of the Santa Fe before the interstate commerce commission that estimated tonnage would not justify the proposed extension.

"The Santa Fe serves in part this North Texas territory which we are prepared to invade at an expenditure of $6,000,000, and they want to retain their monopoly. We intend to create enough to justify our investment."

Hearing by the interstate commerce commission in the controversy might be held soon in Austin, he predicted.

Presbyterians End Session Amid Split Threats of Factions

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 27.—(AP)—The 137th general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., ended here today with the modernistic faction asserting that if its actions are ratified by the church body generally a split in the denomination is inevitable.

Thought to have been settled yesterday, the controversy flared up anew again in the closing session with both sides takking an unequivocal stand.

What its eventual outcome will be rests in the hands of a commission of 15 which is to be appointed within the next two weeks by Dr. Charles R. Erdman, moderator of the assembly, and which is empowered to study the whole issue and report to the next assembly.

GOVERNOR OF TEXAS, WHOSIT S. F.-L. ARGUES

Reference to Jim Instead Of Ma Precipitates Lengthy Debate

WARRANTS "SWORN"

Delegates Served With "Arrests" to Report In Wichita, 1926

BULLETIN.

AUSTIN, May 27.—If the labor convention at Amarillo meant to charge the board of control with ignoring state labor laws as to hours women may be employed, R. B. Walthall, member of the board Wednesday night said that the legislature and not the board is responsible for requiring 12-hour shifts in elecmosynary institutions.

"I know of no way," he said, "in which the question of union labor is involved in the operation of state institutions under the board of control."

AMARILLO, May 27.—(AP)—Charges that the state board of control and state highway commission are disregarding union labor, both as to hours and wages, were made by the Texas State Federation here today and Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson was urged to hold a conference to "re-establish friendly relations" with union labor.

The resolution calling for the conference praised the administrations of former Gov. James E. Ferguson for his attitude toward labor, but declared there had "been a general tendency away from the principles labor is struggling for."

Debate Governors.

This reference to James E. Ferguson precipitated a lengthy debate on who is governor. William J. Moran of El Paso demanded to know why the resolution should refer to Mr. Ferguson when Mrs. Ferguson is the governor. After considerable discussion George H. Slater, executive secretary, explained that this was the first federation convention in six or seven years that a governor of Texas has been invited to address. Neither Governor Ferguson nor Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller, both of whom are invited, could attend.

"In the last six or seven years we haven't had just the friendly relations which we should like to have with the governor," said Mr. Slater. He explained that this was the reason Mr. Ferguson was referred to as having given a fair consideration to labor.

Kaxal for President.

Nomination of H. Kaxal of Denison for president without opposition insures his re-election tomorrow. The election will be tomorrow noon. George H. Slater of Galveston, executive secretary, was nominated for re-election without opposition. His office is in Dallas. He has held the position nine years. William J. Reilly of Dallas was nominated as a delegate to the next American Federation of Labor convention.

Wichita Falls and Houston were nominated for next year's convention. I. T. Saunders nominated Houston and W. J. Nelson and L. M. Adler, all of Houston, seconded that city. Wichita Falls was nominated by H. M. Newman and seconded by R. E. Newman, both of Wichita Falls.

Chief of Police Clark Cain and Patrolman R. Hamon of Amarillo "arrested" the convention with a warrant to appear in the corporation court at Wichita Falls May 26, 1926. The Houston delegates raised the point that the policemen had no jurisdiction to carry the convention to Wichita Falls.

UNKNOWN SOLDIER HONORED

Gold Star Mothers of Paris Place Wreath on Grave

PARIS, May 27.— (AP) —The group of American gold star mothers, whose ranks have been slightly depleted by attacks of grippe caused by the fickle temperature of Paris and today's showers, placed a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier this afternoon. They were accompanied by a party of French women representing the Souvenier Francais association, who are their sisters in sorrow.

The ceremony was brief and informal, but impressive.

MACCABEES INITIATE 300 AT BEAUMONT MEETING

BEAUMONT, May 27.—The Maccabees in Texas, in annual session here tonight initiated 300 candidates for the order. The class was gathered from Beaumont, Port Arthur, Sour Lake, Orange, Silsbee and other points in the Beaumont district and the initiation marked the chief event of the state convention of Maccabees being held in this city.

Denver Road to Cut Freight Rates, June 1

Lower freight rates from Dallas to Wichita Falls and all points on the Fort Worth and Denver railway will prevail after June 1, when the Denver road enters Dallas. The report was given out in Wichita Falls this week but so far no official announcement has been made. The lower rate comes from a direct haul by the Denver road, which in the past has applied a two-line haul. If the report be true it will mean a great saving to jobbers, wholesalers, retailers and the farmers of Northwest Texas.

Amundsen

OSLO, Norway, May 27.—(AP)—The Norwegian minister of defense, Rolf Jacobsen, in an interview published by the Shipping Gazette today expressed the opinion that steps ought to be taken soon to organize an expedition for the relief of Captain Roald Amundsen, and his party. He suggested that that the naval authorities might be asked whether two airplanes could be sent to Spitzberger to begin a search for the explorers. Weather conditions are reported much more favorable in northern Spitzbergen where there is sunshine with a gradual rising temperature.

NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—Today is the sixth since the Amundsen-Ellsworth polar flying expedition hopped off and the whereabouts and welfare of the six adventurers remain as much of a mystery as ever.

When their two planes disappeared from view, all communication with them ceased as Captain Amundsen went without wireless equipment so as to carry as much motor fuel as possible.

Having reached the pole or its vicinity, the explorers may be spending some time in verifying their position.

Again they may have discovered a new land in the Arctic and be engaged at present in exploring it.

BLAST IN MINE ENTOMBS 71 IN SANFORD, N. C.

All Believed to Have Died As Rescuers Sight Six Bodies

RALEIGH, N. C., May 27.—Seventy-one men, all of whom are thought to be dead, were entombed by a gas explosion at the mine of the Carolina Cpal company, eight miles northwest of Sanford, N. C., shortly before noon today. None of the bodies had been recovered tonight, but workers had penetrated the shaft far enough to see five or six. All were believed to be dead. Gas fumes, however, prevented close approach. The interior of the mine at that hour was said to be on fire.

Nine Texas Convicts Are Remembered By Ma in Pardon Lists

AUSTIN, May 27.—(AP)—Nine Texas convicts were remembered today by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson in varying degrees of executive clemency, including a parole of a man convicted in Dallas county, to Mayor Oscar Holcombe of Houston. A full pardon, one conditional pardon, two paroles, three furloughs, and two extensions of furloughs were issued.

MRS. WOOD TO TAKE STAND AT 8:30 THURSDAY

Court Faced Possibility Of Instructing a Verdict Of "Guilty"

A UNIQUE SITUATION

Three Physicians Declare Witness Physically Able To Testify

HASKELL, May 27.—Mrs. Frank Woods of Wichita Falls will take the stand at 8:30 Thursday morning to tell a Haskell county jury what she knows of statements alleged to have been made by Mrs. Frank Collier regarding the relationship of Mary Francis Collier and Elzie Robertson, for whose death the wife of the former Wichita Falls mayor is now on trial here. Mrs. Wood's testimony will be given in a courtroom to which only the jury, attorneys, court officials and newspaper men will be admitted. The huge crowd that has jammed the room each day of the trial will be denied admittance, until the 17-year-old girl has finished.

From Three Physicians

Announcement that Mrs. Woods would be able to testify in the morning was made by Judge Bruce Bryant at 4 o'clock, after a report had been handed him by three physicians, Rr. J. C. A. Guest of Wichita Falls, Dr. E. P. Bunkley of Stamford, and Dr. D. L. Cummings of Haskell, who were asked by the court to make a thorough examination of Mrs. Woods and advise him concerning her ability to appear in court. After the examination the physicians stated she had shown marked improvement Thursday and unless unforseen developments appeared over night would be able to take the stand tomorrow. They recommended, however, that she be not excited by the big crowd.

Defense attorneys C. I. Francis, B. Y. Cummings, and W. H. Murchison, waived their client's constitutional rights to a public trial in order that Mrs. Woods might give her testimony for the state.

Wednesday was a day of inactivity in the case with court in almost constant recess pending the outcome of Mrs. Woods' break in health. The girl fainted while on the stand Tuesday morning and was unable to reappear during that day nor at any time Wednesday. Her continued absence started varied legal moves and speculations as to what might be done in case she was unable to testify.

Planned Unique Step

The most interesting angle came this morning when creditable reports had it that if she were not sufficiently strong to take the stand, an instructed verdict of guilty would be called for. Not because the court thought her guilty but to clear up legal mesh into which the trial might find itself. Then a new trial would be asked by the defendant after the jury had assessed punishment, and it would be granted immediately and thus have the case back at its original status. This would permit the hearing at some future date when Mrs. Woods had fully recovered.

The court could not terminate the trial once it was started, it was pointed out; neither could the court instruct a verdict of "not guilty," since a defendant once adjudged "not guilty" can not thereafter be tried on the same charge.

With the probability of her testimony tomorrow morning, however, it seems this will not be resorted to. Such a situation has existed before, it is said, although instances of that nature are very rare.

Court At Standstill.

Court proceedings Wednesday morning were at a standstill and entire interest in the case shifted to the private residence here where Mrs. Woods is recuperating from an attack of illnss that struck her low in a faint as she was on the witness stand Tuesday morning. Her fainting spell, followed by her slow recovery the balance of the day necessitated a complete postponement of all activity in the case.

Mrs. Woods spent a restful night Tuesday, although she found difficulty in retaining food. She slept well, however. The house was guarded throughout the night by two deputy sheriffs posted on order of Judge Bryant in order that the patient should be undisturbed.

District Attorney Allred obtained a court order late Tuesday afternoon restraining Frank Collier, Mary Francis Collier Robertson and Mrs. A. R. Duke from visiting Mrs. Woods, and later, after a personal visit to the sick girl, Judge Bryant posted the guards with instructions that no one except her husband and an attendant was to see her. This included attorneys on both sides.

Wednesday morning Mrs. Wood complained of a pain in one side and it was feared for a time that symptoms of appendicitis were appearing. These fears were allayed later in the day when, after taking a substanial breakfast, she improved rapidly. She remained in bed all morning with an officer on guard in front of the house to see that the court's instructions were still respected.

Meanwhile attorneys for both sides were in consultation with Judge Bryant at the court house. The jury was brought into the jury box at 9 o'clock and was informed that Mrs. Woods was still unable to appear as a witness. The jurors then left immediately while a part of the capacity crowd in the court room also remained.

See Instructed Verdict.

HUMBLE MAKES TWO LOCATIONS NEAR MASTERS

Reiter And Foster Starting Up on Their No. 2, Stubblefield

KING NEARLY DRY

Two Pipelines Building To Southeast Throckmorton Pool

By A. HALLMAN.

The Humble Oil and Refining company has made two locations in the Stubblefield area between Woodson and Masters, Throckmorton county, and has material moving in, and possibly one or both rigs being built.

No. 2 Stubblefield is in the southwest corner of the northeast of block 991, Premium survey, same quarter as the producing well, making about 35 barrels a day now from a depth of 3,290 feet. This producer has made something like 12,000 barrels of oil since last October, all of which is on the lease in storage and will be run as soon as the 17-mile pipe line is completed.

Humble Wild One.

The other Humble location is No. 1, Rozelle-Harrison in the southwest corner of the northwest quarter of block 2354, Premium survey, about a mile northwest of the present producer.

Reiter and Foster are starting up on their No. 2 Stubblefield in the northeast of the southeast quarter of block 991, a south offset to Humble's No. 2 Stubblefield. It is just east of the No. 1, a producer of from 50 to 85 barrels a day from sand at 2,974-2,987 feet, a shallower pay than that from which the Humble well is producng.

The new work marks the frst real development of any one secton, any one pool, in Throckmorton county ince prospecting first started there, and may be regarded as definitely placing Throckmorton county in the role of a producing area.

Humble, King.

Humble's No. 1 King, in the southeast corner of section 232, BBB&C RRCO survey, western Throckmorton county, and four miles northwest of the town of Throckmorton is drilling past a last reported depth of 2,160 feet in gray shale. Humble is undecided whether to continue this well or not, their contract calling for only 1,600 feet. They may plug and abandon.

Two pipe lines are building to the area, Humble with a four-inch and Prairie with a three-inch. Prairie will take the production of Reiter and Foster.

Garber Crude Is Raised To $2.85 a Barrel For Oil 47 Degrees Gravity

Lesser Grades Are Given $2.60 Cent Posting Yesterday in Oklahoma Advance.

A crude raise in Oklahoma materialized yesterday when the various Garber grades were advanced to $2.85 a barrel for oil measuring 47 degrees gravity and over and $2.60 a barrel for stuff measuring less. The Garber area has a daily production of about 10,000 barrels a day from eleven different sands, ranging from 1,100 to 4,400 feet. The deepest sand has only lately been opened and much drilling is headed toward it.

Oklahoma refiners were yesterday asking 12½ to 13 cents for new navy, 58-60, 437 end point gasoline, fuel oil being quoted at 95 cents to $1.05.

The Oklahoma raise, while it is the result of a special condition is heartening to more of the Mid-Continent than Oklahoma alone. It may be that the 47 degree gravity oil of Garber will be the first crude in the Mid-Continent to reach the ideal "three dollars."

News of the Fields

Patnam Area

The shallow production of the Putnam district is pushing out its barriers and it now appears that Cisco may have its own "grass roots" well almost at its very doors.

The newest developments are about nine miles west of Cisco and the newest well is but 230 feet over the line in Eastland county from Callahan county.

Mahan, Harris and associates No. 1 Abrams has found a good oil showing at 390 feet in the southwest corner of the northeast quarter of section 7, block 7, BBB&CR survey, which may be a pool opener. A packer an diner have been set to shut off water from above and the hole is being washed and cleaned out preparatory to a satisfactory test of the wildcat.

L. A. Warren No. 1 Abrams, in the northwest quarter of section 1, is rigging up, an offset to the Mahan No. 1 Abrams. It is two miles from the Putnam southeast field.

About one mile due north towards the little town of Dothan, eight miles west of Cisco and off the paved road, J. T. Anderson No. 1 Sublett, GC&SF survey, abstract 2072, has about 14 feet of sand at 285 feet which is expected to develop a new pool also.

It is 300 feet north of No. 1 Sublett, which had but seven feet of sand and is rated at three to five barrels. The No. 2 is expected to do between ten to fifteen barrels.

No. 1 Sublett is but 30 feet north of an old dry hole which had nothing more than a slight showing.

While the new wells are not yet on the pump and nothing definite enough to base positive statements upon them is known, much interest is attached to them and the shallow oil operators of this district are keenly attentive for a new play with the old stuff fairly well drilled up.

Wood, McGill

G. C. Wood et al No. 1, Mrs. T. G. McGill, located just south of the intersection of the Pease river and the west Wilbarger county line in Wilbarger county, is still shut down at a depth of 965 feet. The well is in the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter section 11, block 9, H&TCRRCO survey.

Kennedy, Woodrum

Young Brothers and Kennedy are building a derrick for their No. 1, Woodrum, in block 35, MEPRRCO survey, abstract 296, lot 35, some 1,300 feet west of an old Kennedy dry hole, southwest of the first Waite Phillips pool in northwest Archer county.

McLester, Spillman

Jerome McLester No. 1, Waggoner, in the center of the east half of section 19, H&TCRRCO survey, block 14, eastern Wilbarger county, is reported drilling below a last reported depth of 1,560 feet.

Wells, Waggoner

W. D. Wells et al are reported starting up again at 1,500 feet after being shut down for several days in their No. 1, Waggoner, located in the southwest of the northwest of the southeast of section 21, H&TCRRCO survey, block 14, eastern Wilbarger county.

Wheeler County

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company's No. 1, Jackson, (Texhoma-O'Brien) near Shamrock, Wheeler county, is reported showing 75,000,000 cubic feet of gas now from sand and lime at 2,186-2,235 feet with the bottom of the hole in a crystalized sand and lime at that depth.

Texhoma, Reynolds

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company's No. 1, Reynolds, lot 57, Comanche Indian reserve, southern Throckmorton county, is reported drilling past 794 feet with the casing set in a red bed at 779 feet.

Texhoma, Flanicken

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company's No. 1, Flanicken, in the northeast of the southwest of section 5, block 15, H&TCRRCO survey, north Wilbarger county, a mile east and north of Tolbert, is drilling below a last reported depth of 2,029 feet.

Suggest-O'Neall

Sugget and O'Neall have made a location for a test and will get started in a day or so in the northwest corner of the Winkler farm, Holeman survey, just north of the railroad and east of the highway, north Young county.

Cranfill, Mills

Cranfill Brothers Oil company were rigged up and expected to spud yesterday on their No. 3, Mills, 600 feet west of the No. 2, TE&LCO survey, block 2413, southwest of Megargel in southeast Baylor county, Cranfill pool.

The well is the only activity in this area at present with the exception of the Richard No. 1, Mills, just northwest, drilling below 1,000 feet and expected on the sand sometime this week.

Simms, Carpenter

Simms Oil company has made a location for its No. A-3, Carpenter, 150 feet each way from the northeast corner of the A-lease, TE&LCO survey, block 237. The test is rigging up. It is far enough away from other Litchfield pool production to make its outcome inteserting.

Refiners Keep In Good Humor With Market Still High

Mid-Continent refiners were in a very good humor Tuesday and Wednesday at the news of tank wagon advances in Louisiana, the New England and the New Jersey territories, with the big independents accepting the increases. All that remains to make the enjoyment of the refiners being 100 per cent is for the Roxana Petroleum corporation and the Standard Oil company of Ohio to patch up their scrapping in the Buckeye state. In that state the present tank wagon price is 17½ cents, admittedly one cent a gallon too low.

Indications are promising that the Standard of Indiana will shortly advance the tank wagon in the Indiana territory from one to one and one-half cents, thus allowing Mid-Continent refiners to advance their present spot prices for petroleum products.

There was a report in circulation from Chicago that the Carter Oil company was after 500 cars of U. S. motor grade gasoline for the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, but it could not be confirmed, and inquiry showed few refiners willing to consider entering into any deal to fill such an order now, at a time when all refiners are enjoying good business from the Central Mississippi valley jobbers.

Simms, Cheeves

The Simms Oil company is drilling past a last reported depth f 840 feet and due on the sand today or tomorrow in its No. 1, W. B. Cheeves, in the southeast corner of its forty acres, H. Bakles survey, abstract 5, between the Kentucky and Moore dry holes.

Gulf, Cheeves

The Gulf Production company has a derrick up for a test and is moving a rig in in the southwest corner of its Cheeves lease, H. B. Akles survey, north side of the Litchfield pool, north Young county, to offset to the east the Simms test.

Simms, Wilson

The Simm-Woodburn No. A-18, Wilson, lot 8, section 27, ATNCL, was reported yesterday drilling at about 1,450 feet.

Simms, Collins

The Simms Oil company is reported drilling at about 1,150 feet on its No. 1, Collins located in the northeast corner of the southwest quarter of section 7, block 10, H&TCRRCO survey, two miles and one-half south of Odell, north Wilbarger county.

Kennedy, Wilson

Young Brothers and Kennedy have spudded and are drilling on their No. 1, Wilson, located in lot 2, section 58, ATNCL, northwest of Huff Station, north Archer county.

Montague County

Texhoma, Howard

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company's No. 5, Howard, Finis Robertson survey, north Montague county, 75 feet north of the No. 1, was drilling yesterday at a depth of 1,153 feet in sandy lime.

Daniels-Rutis, Salmon.

Daniels and Rutis have set and cemented casing at a depth of 930 feet on the sand in their No. 2, Salmon, 291 feet east of their No. 1, in the northwest corner of the Panhandle 77 acres, Chambliss survey, north Montague county.

Oil Gossip

Bill Lourcey of the Gulf Production company and Lee Wilson are planning to leave this week on a long vacation to Florida and Virginia. The trip is to be made Overland in the Wilson hoopie, with a trailer on behind. It is planned to carry a darkie in the trailer with wireless telephone connections to give the signal when the coupling breaks and let the two in the car keep the trailer with them.

Ray Mounts, formerly of the Simms Oil company, is going into business for himself. He has purchased the Trinity Drilling company, lock, stock and barrel and four rigs from the Simms Oil company for a cash consideration and will do drilling contracting from now on.

He will have all of the Simms work, it is said.

Daniels and Rutis have in their office two small cores from the Humphrey's Oil corporation's No. 1, Howard, north Montague county, showing a formation from which the well is making some 35 barrels a day, sand record below 800 feet. The cores are of a conglomerate, pebbles, bits of lime, chalk, cemented by oil sand. This formation, Nocona operators say, is found in most of the wells, but so far as is known this is the only well producing entirely from it. Scientists classify the stuff as old beach or river bottom gravel.

F. W. Suggett of Graham has gone into the drilling contracting business in Wichita Falls and will move his effects from Graham to start north Texas work proper. Mr. Sugget has taken offices in the Morgan building.

T. B. Cranfill of Dallas, Cranfill Brothers Oil company, is in Wichita Falls for a few days.

MONTH'S RAIN AID TO TEXAS REVIEW SHOWS

Cattle Greatly Benefitted By Passing of Drouth, Says Report

DALLAS, May 27.—Substantial improvement in business, agricultural and livestock conditions has followed rains during the past month which broke the drouth, it is declared in the monthly business review of the eleventh district federal reserve bank of Dallas made public today. Farming operations have resumed and farmers are rapidly completing planting and are making good progress in cultivating crops, it said.

While rains came too late to benefit large portions of the grain crop, due to heavy abandonment, that part remaining shows improvement, according to the report.

The heavy movement of livestock to outside pastures has been checked, the supply of stock water replenished and the ranges are rapidly improving.

Buying in rural section, as reflected in distribution of wholesale merchandise, evidenced a further slowing down in April but since the rains some improvement was reported. A marked expansion of trade is not anticipated by some trade leaders until good crops are assured. Retail buying, however, improved, gaining over the previous month and increasing 8.0 per cent over April last year.

Further seasonal decline of deposits of member banks was approximately $26,000,000, due to withdrawal of funds for agricultural purposes.

The expansion in the volume of new construction work was marked, the report concluded.

Clarendon Scouts To Attend Amarillo Meet

CLARENDON, May 27.—The Clarendon troop of Boy Scouts are planning to participate in the Panhandle encampment which will be held at Amarillo June 2 to 16 and a number of the scouts are making arrangements to attend. The movement is being sponsored here by a citizens committee which will provide transportation and arrange for the boys to earn the money required for their exenses in accord with Scout rules. It is estimated that approximately 20 boys will go from here accompanied by two adults.

Clarendon Camp Is One of 17 Approved

CLARENDON, May 26.—Word has been received here that the local tourist camp ground is one of the seventeen in the state to be inspected and approved by the state board of health. A certificate to this effect was received Tuesday by the chamber of commerce which fostered and constructed the camp last summer and has it under supervision. A caretaker is provided by the organization and city commission jointly who keeps the grounds in a sanitary condition.

FIGHTING IN U. S. PROVINCE.

Moros Reported to Have Stormed Fortress in the Lanao Province.

MANILA, May 27.—(AP)—Governor General Leonard Wood today received a dispatch from Major Johnson, governor of Lanao province, announcing the assault of the fortress from which Sultan Raya and other Moros have been defying the authorities for some months.

After a preliminary shelling with field guns and mortars the fortress was stormed by the constabulary. Seven Moros are known to have been killed. Some escaped. The constabulary suffered loss.

Three Leaders In Sofia Bombing Are Hung Before Crowd

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 27.—(AP) Three of the leaders in the recent bombing of the Sveti Kral cathedral, in which 160 persons were killed, were hanged here today. The men executed were Zadgorsky, custodian of the cathedral; Friedman and Koeff.

The men were executed in a public square in the presence of thousands of persons. Troops formed lines about the execution place which was just behind a Jewish cemetery.

Koeff mounted the scaffold first and a gypsy executioner adjusted the noose around his neck.

Zadgorsky came second, tottering up the steps with difficulty.

Friedman, the last to mount the scaffold, approached the hangman with his head held proudly erect.

BOND BANDITS CAPTURED.

Two of Thieves Are Captured in Tulsa, Okla.

TULSA, Okla., May 27.—Two members of the party of three negroes who held up a loan office in the business district today and escaped with $20,000 worth of gems were captured a few minutes later by police and citizens. More than 100 persons joined in the pursuit of the robbers who fled waving pistols. Policeman J. P. Brown grabbed the negro with the gems and held him until help arrived. Both negroes said they were from Kansas City.

ITALY CAN'T PAY DEBTS

Italian Newspaper Makes Protest to United States

ROME, May 27. — Protests that Italy is at present unable to pay her war debts to the United States were made today by the newspaper Messagero. Intense interest in the question of settlement of war debts continues.

The Messagero says that under present circumstances Italy is not even in position to pay interest on her war debts and that even payment stretched over a period of three generations would be a tremendous strain upon Italy's resources.

It declared that Italy's budget now is balanced but that the country's financial status still is precarious because of the absolute necessity of spending much money for public works and other domestic needs.

ANOTHER STEP IN FORD EXPANSION.

It is hardly probable that Henry Ford has entered Wall tareet merely to frighten his old enemies who were willing to help him in the period of depression if he would mortgage everything he had. It is still less likely that he has only a single object in view in acquiring a foothold in the world's financial center. It has been suggested that the Guardian Detroit company, a New York branch of the Guardian Trust company of Detroit, has been established to aid the sale of stock in some new venture connected with Ford's interest in railroads, ships or airplanes. But the suggestion seems rather farfetched. Men do not buy banks to float an issue or two of stock or bonds. Ford must intend to add finance as a regular enterprise to his many other undertakings.

Under the new plan of creating credits for prospective buyers of his cars, Ford has the use of considerable money which does not represent any immediate liability. He is already a banker with funds at his disposal, and like all bankers must seek investment opportunities. As Wall street handles the surplus funds of the country, it is most logical for Mr. Ford to go there with his money. His bank will enable him to share in the operations of the "street," and will be useful to him if he needs to finance any of his industrial enterprises.

Mr. Ford is literally the greatest "trust magnate" of our age, as well as the richest man in his own right. His factories dot the world. He has gone into almost every kind of industry supplying materials for automobiles. What he does not own in this way he dominates, for his supply houses are absolutely dependent upon him. He owns a railroad and is thinking of acquiring a considerable string of ships. He has just begun to vision aviation as a branch of the motor industry. And now he becomes a financier.

The growth of Mr. Ford's properties has been vertical, practically connecting consumer with producer and comprehending all the processes of manufacture and distribution. This is the kind of trust which is most complete and perfect. Hitherto regarded as the most dangerous sort of combination, in Mr. Ford's hands it meets with the people's approval. Ford's ability to gain the favor of the public is as remarkable as his ability to construct vast inter-related enterprises. Perhaps his extraordinary popularity may be explained on three principal grounds:

First: Every one feels that Mr. Ford has deserved and earned his phenomenal success by his unique ability as an inventor. He has created something, and no one questions the right of the creator to the creature.

Second: He has proceeded upon the sound business principle of not only furnishing a valuable article to the public but of supplying it at a steadily falling price. It is hard to believe that a man receives profits which are not his due when he continues to cut his prices to the public. If he is making more than he should have, the public is at least receiving its share of benefits and is not in a position to criticize.

Third: He lets labor share in his good fortune. Without any set system, his employes are enriched and accordingly are more contented than those of almost any other manufacturer.

There is much for business in general to learn from Mr. Ford. If each great plan, corporation or industry could make a genuine contribution, instead of merely dealing in something already in existence, if each could keep its workers well paid and content, and give the public service at reduced cost, we should hear very little of an unfriendly public attitude toward business.

DAVIS OF KANSAS.

Johanthan Davis of Kansas, while governor, did not solicit a bribe in exchange for a pardon. This is the verdict of 12 good and true Kansans. They wrestled with the evidence and the law and the facts four hours, and then they gave the ex-governor the benefit of the doubt.

He has to face another indictment in which he is charged jointly with his son in soliciting a bribe in exchange for a pardon. Johanthan may win another vindication, but the son was caught with the goods on him. A bunch of newspaper men are responsible for his downfall. They lured him to Kansas City where the friends of a pardoned convict forced $1,250 into his hands or his pockets, and then the newspaper men came out of their hiding places and scored a great scoop for their newspaper.

It is a very nasty case from beginning to end. It covered with slime the former governor who had been elected to high office because he was the soul of honor and a man without price. Johanthan had a defense. He said his political enemies had framed him. Convicts that he had pardoned gave testimony against him, not direct, but testimony that was vague and conflicting.

There are independent newspaper writers in Kansas who say that Davis, the younger, is a weakling, and that it was easy for the enemies of the old man to dig pitfalls for the son of the father. Regardless of his vindication Davis of Kansas, like the bird with the broken wing, will never fly high again.

RATTLING THE PAN.

Very often it seems as if a man had no more original ideas and when he talks he is simpy rehearsing what he has said before, or he is making an empty sound.

It is like rattling the pan when all the contents have been spent.

The reason why so many people give out and their source of supply cease is because they cease to take in.

We must receive as well as give.

The novelist must have material constantly if he is to keep on writing novels.

Many a mother has found her task irksome and tiresome because she is constantly giving out of recreation or study, or something by which she can lay in the supplies which she is supposed to and never taking in. She ought to have some means give out.

Teachers also run dry. They become bores and repeaters of platitudes simply because all their energy is spent upon teaching. They are constantly giving out and never taking in.

The preacher ceases to be a source of inspiration to his congregation when he gets no inspiration himself. He cannot pass on what he has not.

This reasoning applies to us all. Those who are able to help others are the strong, not the weak.

There was a play not long ago that stirred New York called "The Fool,' in which a man quit a good job where he was getting a good salary and went to helping people by giving away overcoats. In this he was supposed to be like Christ. What the play did not show, however, was that when his overcoats gave out he would have to beg for overcoats himself. His actions were all right as long as the supply lasted. When his abundance ceased his charity would have to cease and he would have to be a burden to others.

It behooves every human being to remain strong and capable in order that he may be of assistance to others about him. The weak man is of no aid to himself or anybody else.

The Golden Rule which says that we should do to others as we would be done by implies the fact that we insist upon our own rights. Self-sacrifice is based upon self-preservation. If there is no strengthening of one's self by a constant intake there is no help of others by a constant outgo.

A PATRIOTIC BRITON.

Great Britain has a statesman who loves his country. The statesman is Prime Minister Baldwin, who is one of the foremost captains of industry in the British Isles. The news has just been made public by a London editor that Baldwin gave a fifth of his fortune, $600,000, to the nation at a time when its financial needs were urgent and gloom was wide spread. That is, he gave 20 per cent of all he had. He purchased war loan bonds and presented the bonds to his government for cancellation.

He did not advertise his generosity. He did not have a publicity agent to spread the news over the pages of British newspapers. He enjoined secrecy and the secret was kept for four long years until a noted British writer ran down the story and then gave it to the people of the empire. Prime Minister Baldwin cherished a belief that his example would be followed generally by other people, but his theory was not vindicated.

All in all the British treasury received only $2,500,000 of the war loan for cancellation, and Baldwin's gift was the largest, despite the fact that there are many Britons who are in the multi-millionaire class with yearly incomes greater than the entire fortune of the prime minister.

It must be true that when you touch the pocket of an individual you touch his patriotism as well as his religion.

Uncommon Sense

MENTAL ARMAMENT.

While keeping the golden rule, it is just as well to remember that everybody doesn't keep it.

A man or woman can be alert without being suspicious.

It is better to get acquainted with people first, and trust them afterward, if they are worthy of trust.

The youth on the threshold of life will find a good many very crafty and greedy people on the other side of the door.

And before he confides to these worthies that mother sewed up a hundred dollars in his jacket when he came to town, it is wise to know just how this news is likely to affect them.

There is nothing so unpleasant as a youngster who is always suspicious. But on the other hand there is nothing so pathetic as a youngster who is always trusting.

This well known world is on its way to concord and harmony and unselfishness, but as yet it has not traveled very far.

There still are a great many people in the world who will be glad to show you nice easy ways to make money—and will wind up by making it themselves, and leaving you without yours.

There will be no lack of traveling companions as you go down the high road, but some of them are going to try to tempt you into the woods where certain highway robber friends of theirs are waiting for you to be delivered.

To avoid this kind of people nothing is necessary but ordinary caution and good judgment.

This is not a stage in the history of the world when it is necessary, for self protection, to carry weapons, or to hide behind trees when you see strangers coming.

But it is necessary to take on sufficient mental armament to resist the kind of people who believe it their duty to take your money away from you, if you have any, before somebody else does.

Between twenty and sixty you can have at most ten or twelve real friends, and of these ten or twelve you will be lucky if there are more than two who would stand by you through thick and thin.

Naturally you haven't any right to ask any friend to do that, even if you would be willing to do it for him if necessary.

But it is comforting to know that they would do it if it came to a pinch, and if you can make the right kind of friends there ought to be two among them who would help you to the limit.

The study of human nature is very important. It is extremely difficult, and it requires deep thought and study.

But it is worth the effort, for it does in time provide the mental armament we spoke of, which is sufficient protection against most of the wiles of the world.

This may sound like pessimism, but it is true. We do not believe that half or a quarter of the people you meet are crooks, but some of them are, and if you are watchful and alert minded and thoughtful you will soon be able to know them and avoid them.

And when you have gained that knowledge you have fortified yourself against a great deal of quite unnecessary trouble.

Irrigation

How $35 per Acre Compares with Costs on Other Projects.

Yesterday we gave some figures on the cost of maintenance on other irrigation projects as compared to the proposed charge here. It is certain that our charge is lower than the average.

Let us take the cost of water. Not the cost of maintenance but the amount the farmer has to pay on other projects for his water right, his share in the canals, dams, etc. Here it is $35 per acre payable in amortized payments over a period of 34 years at the rate of $2.45 per acre per year.

The government projects are forced to keep very accurate accounts. The projects are built with no profit and no interest is charged the farmers. They should be models of cheap and efficient construction. Let us look at a few figures taken from widely separated projects.

The Tieton division of the Yakima project in Washington reported in 1921 that the building charge was $93 per acre plus a supplemental charge of $11.63, or a total charge to the farmers of $104.63 per acre. Compare this with $35.

One of the nearest big government projects is the Elephant Butte at El Paso. In 1921 they reported a net construction charge of $10,645,885.68 with a reported irrigable area of 150,000 acres. This makes a cost of something over $70 per acre. More than double our cost of $35.

The Grand Valley project in Colorado covers 45,000 acres. The net construction most to June 30, 1921, was $3,725,098.92 and the project was estimated to be $4.3 per cent completed at that date. The actual cost to he farmers was about $83 per acre with a probable ultimate cost of around $100. Our $3 per acre compares very favorably.

And so it goes. The cost of water here is exceedingly low.

POEMS THAT LIVE

SPIRITUAL LOVE.

What care I though beauty fading
Die ere time can turn sis glase?
What though clocks the graces braiding,
Perish like the summer grass?
Though thy charms should all decay,
Think not my affections may!

For thy charms—though bright as morning—
Captured not my idle heart;
Love so grounded ends in scorning,
Lacks the barb to hold the dart.
My devotion more secure
Woes thy spirit high and pure.

You're wrinkled on your brow;
Go dig some bait—
Don't hesitate—
Go fishin'—do it now.

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

Gemini.

The favorable planetary aspects that prevailed yesterday afternoon are strongly accentuated today, and very closely denote success for any conservative project or undertaking that may be initiated. They indicate that aggressive action and forceful effort, used in any worth while enterprise, free from speculation of hazard, will reap a reward commensurate with the amount of intelligence used and the extent of the energy applied. Optimism and faith will be the emotions experienced, and difficulties or obstacles will only increase your determination to succeed. It is an excellent occasion for marriage, and those who are joined together today, will not be put asunder by strife or discord.

Normal health is assured, according to the signs, the child born today, and any slight ailments from which it may suffer, will readily yield to careful treatment. This child promises to have a sunny disposition, and a temper very difficult to arouse. It will be absolutely fearless and reveal its best characteristics in the face of a great danger. It will be very resourceful, and more prone to depend upon its own efforts, than on those of others. It will not possess any remarkable intellectual gifts, but that which it learns it will, having a very retentive memory, never forget.

You, if your birthday falls on May 28th, are ambitious, but your supreme self-satisfaction, excessive stubbornness, and unwillingness to heed the advice of others, are often responsible for your repeated failure to attain the goal of your desires. You overlook the fact that you are not endowed with a monopoly of brains, and yuor way—no matter what you may think—is not always the right way. You are intellectually gifted, and are capable of accomplishing big things. Your egoitism, however, stands in the way of capitalizing your ability to its fullest capacity.

You are always anxious to shine socially, and generally acquit yourself well, although the rewards of your efforts along these lines are meager and unsatisfying.

HOW IT STARTED

"SHEEP'S EYES"

To say that he is casting "sheep's eyes" is a popular characterization of a lovesick swain. Naturally, it is assumed that the reference is to the vacuous and seemingly helpless expression that is the sheep's! We learn however that this is merely a coincidence, the phrase having had its origin in an ancient Welsh wedding custom.

Beginning centuries ago it was long the practice among the country people of Wales, for the groom at a wedding to present the bride with a sheep's head. A substitute, when the young man's means did not permit of this, was two bright buttons called "sheep's eyes."

It is now long since this custom went into oblivion, but we have a relic in the expression "sheep's eyes" applied to lovers or those who act as if they might be thinking of going together to the altar!

More Truth Than Poetry

JUST AS WELL OFF

If children were not children,
But kangaroos instead,
They'd take no thought of when they ought
To rise or go to bed.
Nobody would annoy them
By saying it was rude,
When dining out, to lark and shout
Or throw about their food.
But though this would be pleasant,
Whatever would they do—
If they were trapped and roughly clapped
Inside the high-fenced zoo?
If children were not children,

But tadpoles in a pool,
They's never need to learn to read
In any tedious school.
They'd wriggle through the waters
Of swamps and fens and bogs.
Content to know that soon would grow
To be fat pudgy frogs.
But only for a season
They likely would abide
In that glad state, and how they'd hate
To have their legs all fried!

If children were not children,
But birds that fly aloft
Quite unconfined, they think they'd find
Existence pretty soft.
They'd cheerfully trade places
With foxes, wolves, or bears,
Which seem to be extremely free
From sordid human cares.
But when they had the troubles
Of beasts that roam the glen—
Or frogs or fish, perhaps they'd wish
That they were kids again!

SHALL SHE MARRY TO ESCAPE OLD-MAIDHOOD?—SHOULD A HUSBAND CONFESS HIS PAST LIFE TO HIS WIFE?—WHY A STINGY MAN IS WORLD'S MOST AGGRAVATING HUSBAND

Dear Dorothy Dix—Should I marry just because every one tells me what an affliction it is to be an old maid? I don't care to marry, but the everlasting slurs thrown at old maids are getting on my nerves. I have a chance to marry a man whom I do not love, but who would save me from being an old maid. I await your reply. SUSIE.

Answer—My dear Susie, I did not know that there was anybody left in the world so behind the times that she thought it was any reflection on a woman to be an old maid.

In olden times, when marriage was the only reputable business in which a woman could engage and wifehood the only career that offered any reward, women had to marry whether they wanted to or not. Otherwise, they were compelled to eat the bitter bread of dependence and occupy that back seat.

Then, when it was obvious that every woman would marry if she possibly could, to be an old maid was to advertise the fact that a woman lacked all personal charms. So it was no wonder that she was looked upon as more or less of a failure and became the gib of fools.

Also, because she had no life of her own, no interest of her own, no work, no occupation on which she could spend her energies and employ her brain, the old maid naturally became a pest. Because she had nothing to love, the milk of human kindness soured in her. Because she was dependent, she became bitter and envious. Because she had no pie of her own, she stuck her fingers in other people's pies. Because she had no interests of her own, she pried in to the affairs of others.

So she became what circumstances made her, gossiping, curious, meddling, bitter, and was disliked and feared accordingly. But now we have changed all that.

Every avenue of human endeavor is open to women. They can do whatever they want to just as much as men can. They can make money, indulge their own tastes, set up their own homes, amuse themselves, and the unmarried woman is happy and prosperous, and contented. She is no longer a sinister figure in the community. She is the good angel in it.

Nobody slurs at old maids in these days. They are envied.

If a woman finds a worthy man she loves, she does well to marry, for married happiness is the nearest approach to heaven we ever get on this earth. But to marry to escape being an old maid is the height of folly, and is sure to precipitate disaster upon you.

Don't be silly enough to do such an idiotic thing. Just tell those who twit you on being an old maid that it is better not to be married than not be glad because you are married, and that they are envious because they don't stand in your shoes.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I married a man believing him to be everything that was fine, and clean, and noble. After we were married he told me some stories about his past life that were very shocking to me. Affairs with women. It almost broke my heart, and when he saw how shocked I was he told me that these stories were not true. But I cannot forget them. What shall I do? SAD WIFE.

Answer—What is past, is past. You cannot undo it or change it, and the only thing you can do is just to forget it.

It takes a strong effort of the will to do this, but it can be accomplished. Whenever you find your mind dwelling on these dark stories your husband has told you, wrench your thoughts away from them and force yourself to think of something pleasant and gay.

There is no profit in holding post-mortems. Simply refuse to dig up your husband's past sins. Reflect that, after all, it is use to what he has done in past days that matters to you. It is not what he treats you that makes or mars your happiness. Nor does it how he treats you that makes or mars your happiness. Nor does how he what women he has loved in the past. It is whether he loves you at present that counts.

Alas! few men bring unsullied lives to their wives. But most men have enough sense to draw a veil over their pasts and do not reveal to the woman they marry the things that it does them no good to know and that it tortures them to know.

For it does not suffice to tell a woman that a thing is finished, that it is over and done with. She is bound to remember it. She is bound to let her imagination play with it until she exaggerates it out of all proportion She is bound to make herself morbidly miserable over it.

If a man or woman has anything in his or her past life that can reach forward into the life of the person he or she is going to marry and injure him or her, then he or she is in honor bound to tell the other one, and so give him or her a chance to withdraw safely from the proposed alliance. But if either one has made a mistake or done a wrong that has been repented and atoned for, and that cannot affect the future life of the one her or she marries, then he or she should lock the secret in his or her breast and never, never, never tell it. The man or woman may forgive, but the knowledge poisons their lives and fills them with unnecessary suspicion and distrust.

Confession is nearly weakness. It is a bid for sympathy. It is asking some one to help us bear our burdens. DOROTHY DIX.

SOCIETY

PRESENTING a group of the most prominent and accomplished pianists in the city in concert, Ernest Katz closed a highly successful season in Wichita Falls, with his advanced pupils recital at the Junior college auditorium, Wednesday evening, May 27.

Solo numbers of a high degree of ability expressed the individuality of the various performers in an enjoyable musical event. Many of the performers have appeared extensively before local audiences during the past season, and several were presented in private recital, during the past few weeks.

Seldom has the city heard such a brilliant and accomplished array of talent on one concert program. Notable advancement has been made by the advanced pupils since last year's recital, and the type of work now being done bespeaks a promising future for several of them.

Especially enjoyable were the three "two piano" numbers on tre program when four players, two at each piano, interpreted specially arranged eight-hand selections. Great ensemble skill in expression, rhythm, and tonal quality was displayed by the highly trained performers, as they portrayed the unusual effect.

The evening's program which proved of exceptional interest, follows:

Two pianos, eight hands, "Wedding Music" ..... Jensen
Misses Isabel Stone, Bessy Petty, Harriet Peterson, Mabelle Sonnamaker
Piano solo, "Krakowiak" ..... Paderewski
Miss Mary Ferguson
Piano solo, "Hurcesque" ..... Tschaikowsky
Miss Thelma Adams
Piano solo, "Pulcinello" ..... Allette
Miss Katherine Ashford
Piano solo, "Spring's Awakening" ..... Frimi
Miss Margaret Gerhardt
Piano solo, "Valse de Concert" ..... Schuett
Miss Letrice Wefford
Piano solo, "Rustle of Spring" ..... Sniding
Miss Doris Brown
Piano solos, "Varie Pastorale"—Mozart "Marche" ..... Frimi
Miss Eleanor Fleming
Edward Smith
Piano solo, "Polonaise Militaire" ..... Chopin
Edward Smith
Piano solos, "Prelude Op 48" ..... Schuett "Polonaise Op 26 No. 1" ..... Chopin
Miss Eula Lee Gribble
Piano solo, "Concert Valse" ..... Frimi
Miss Evelyn Frances Lyle
Piano solo, "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" ..... Rachmaninoff
Mrs. R. D. Thorn
Two pianos, eight hands, "Ventre A Terre" ..... Kowalski
Misses Gladys O'Neill, Mary Rhader, Sarah Mansfield, Mr. Leon Winn
Piano solo, "Wedding Day at Troldhaugen" ..... Grieg
Mrs. H. A. Waller

FIRST BAPTIST READY FOR PICNIC FRIDAY.

PLANS are complete for the annual picnic of the First Baptist Sunday school to be held at Scotland park Friday, May 29, beginning promptly at 10 o'clock a. m. Athletic events for the young people will feature the morning; these to include sack races, three-legged races, potato races, fifty-yard dash and many other interesting games and stunts, even tug o' war. Dinner will be spread at 12:15, and all members of the church congregation and Sunday school are expected to be present for this event. Business men and women from the offices and stores who can not spend the whole day on the grounds are asked to come directly from town to dinner.

From 2:30 to 3:30 in the afternoon, under the supervision of representatives from the various departments of the Sunday school, games for the departments will be played, there being something for each department.

The closing feature will be the baseball game between the First Methodist team and the First Baptist team to be called at the Jalonic street municipal Sunday school grounds near the Barwise school, promptly at 5 o'clock.

From 9:30 to 10:30 in the morning cars will be at the church, corner of Ninth and Burnett streets, to transport the picnickers to the grounds. In the afternoon transportation from the grounds to the church will be furnished.

MISS LEWIS WILL BE PRESENTED FRIDAY.

WICHITA FALLS is manifesting an ever increasing interest in the violin. Anyone having squeezed into the over-crowded and enthusiastic audience at the Kemp ball room for the recent pupils recital given by Ethel Allen Nelson will readily acquiesce to this.

And now the many music lovers of the city are looking forward to the violin recital to be given by Miss Monterey Lewis Friday evening when her teacher, Mr. Nelson, presents her at the First Christian church.

Mastering the violin and finding its noble beauty is no small undertaking, and this young artist is to be commended for the strides she has already made. A highly interesting and well balanced program will be her offering to the public. Some of the numbers will call forth a goodly amount of both bow and left hand technique, at the same time supplying a real test for the conception and interpretative powers of the artist. Her many friends are biding her appearance with pleasure.

She will be assisted at the piano by her mother, Mrs. A. M. Lewis. A diversion on the program will be a group of three piano numbers contributed by Miss Katherine Kilander. Miss Kilander is well known to Wichita Falls and another opportunity of hearing her will be welcomed by the public.

The following program will begin at 8:30 o'clock and the public is cordially invited:

Program

1. Legende (Wieniawski); Concerto No. 9 (de Beriot); Allegro Maestoso; Adagio.
2. Romance (Svendsen); Dance Satanic (Ethel Allen Nelson); Prize song (from Meistersinger), (Wagner); Canzonetta Capricciosa (Ethel Allen Nelson).
3. Scherzo in C sharp minor (Chopin); Serenade Op. 3 No. 5 (Hachmanioff); Imps (Sturkew Ryder)—Miss Kilander.
4. Mazurka (Fuchs); Meditation (from Thais), (Massenet); By the Waters of the Minetonka (Lieurance); Liebesfreud (Krissler).

ATTRACTIVENESS A DUTY

Lecturer to Talk On Beauty Culture And Body Building Here

"A PRETTY face is only one element of beauty that fades into oblivion if the body is ungainly or awkwardly handled. The body is the expression of the soul and its form, movement and action help to make or mar that expression," says Mrs. La Salle Booth.

Mrs. Booth will give lessons in strengthening the chin and neck muscles; how to lift the corners of the mouth and preserve the youthful contour of the face, how to clarify a sallow colorless complexion in a series in Wichita Falls beginning June 2 under the auspices of The Record News. The lecture series will be free.

* * * *

HOW to walk, how to breathe, how to sleep, the manner in which the chin and shoulders should be held; these and other valuable hints are available for local feminity. The beauty culture expert gives demonstrations along wtih her lectures so that there may be no mistaking her advice.

"If a girl is not pretty at 16 it is not her fault, but any woman who is not charming at 40 has no one to blame but herself," says Mrs. Booth. "Grace and charm are nature's most priceless gifts to the human race. The cultivated body is supple, responsive to mental impulses and in all ways a cherished thing."

* * * *

MRS. BOOTH proposes to teach these attributes in a way that they may become the possession of all. She has lectured extensively throughout this country and her files contain a number of congratulatory letters from leading authorities of the United States.

Lectures will be given Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings at 10 o'clock, Olympic theatre. The same evenings at 8 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Roy Baker who has preceded Mrs. Booth to Wichita Falls is now registered at the Kemp hotel and will be glad to discuss with Wichita Falls women plans for the lecture series which Mrs. Booth will deliver here.

IKIYA CAMP FIRE GIRLS ENJOY TUESDAY SWIM.

MEMBERS of the Ikiya Camp Fire group, under the chaperonage of their guardian, Miss Nell Smith, enjoyed a picnic and swim at the Havener's park Tuesday.

Girls' Reserve of Junior College to Have Part In Coronation of Methodists

A CEREMONIAL of the Girls' Reserves of the Junior college will be given Friday evening as a feature of the coronation of the queen of the Methodist young people to be given Friday evening.

The girls will march in singing "The Light Builders," kneel before the queen. Then Miss Mary Tancred will give the salutation to the queen; Misses Dorothy and Velma Newman and Marjorie Bright will present her with gifts from the entire group, "as a symbol of love, youth and service."

Sing Reserve Song.

"Follow the Gleam," the national Girl Reserve song, will be sung as their girls march out. On Saturday afternoon the Girls Reserve of Junior high school plan their ceremonial at the Haven park. "Follow the Gleam" will be sung as the girls march in and out, all entering with lighted candles. Then comes Marjorie Vincent with a reading, "We Are the Future," followed by Virgie Mae Adams explaining the purpose of the Girls' Reserve, after which 12 of the girls respond with the Girls' Reserve code.

Then the ceremony of lighting the candles will be followed by a reading by Virgie Mae Adams. The entire group will sing "The Blue Sky Above Me." Sylvia Smith will read "I Would Be True" and Berneice Shell "The Girl Reserve Way."

Worth While Things.

Those who will take part in the ceremonial are Misses Marjorie Vincent, Louise Haney, Mary Virginia Barron, Virgie Mae Adams, Sylvia Smith, Elizabeth Lanford, Catherine Weldon, Eunice Jenkins, Catherine Douglas, Robbie Kemp, Berneice Shell, Rose Buchanan and Sara Creath.

Miss Ivo Willis is directing the girls and states that they are going to do some worth while things, not only in this but in many other things.

On Thursday evening the Junior girls are going to have a party on the pretty lawn of the Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Fain home, 1309 Buchanan. The affair will begin at 8 o'clock. A good time for all has been planned. Anyone wishing to attend may do so by bringing with them a box of eats. George Hodgins will auction the boxes off. The girls bringing the boxts will be weighed and the ones buying the boxes must pay a penny a pound for the weight of the girl. George Taylor will play several numbers on his banjo and will sing. Several other things have been planned.

WOMAN HATERS EXTINCT-GRIFFITH

So Producer Offers "Night Club" In Proof Thereof

RAYMOND GRIFFITH
In "The Night Club" Starting Today At the Olympic

A BORN woman-hater? There is no such person.

Authoirty for this statement is Raymond Griffith, who in Paramount's "The Night Club," plays the role of a young man who professes to have a strong dislike for all women.

"It is only a question of meeting the right girl," Griffith claims. "Many men never meet this girl, however, and go through life believing they hate the whole feminine sex.

"Men become professed women haters for numerous reasons.

"One reason is illustrated by the young idealist who places all women—or one in particular—on a figurative pedestal, at the base of which he prostrates himself in worship. When he becomes disillusioned he goes to the opposite extreme, as I do in 'The Night Club,' and renounces womankind.

Picks Up Another.

"FOR a long time he may shun women and denounce them bitterly. Then, as the wound to his sensitive feelings is healed by time, he picks out another girl whom he thinks to be 'absolutely different' and again starts at the bottom of the cycle. He probably will suffer another disillusionment in course of time and again temporarily renounces women. Some men spend their whole lives blundering blindly along the various stages of this idealists' cycle.

"THEN there's the man whose character, personality and appearance are so offensive to women that he can find no one who will marry him. This type of man often lessens his disappointment—if he is sensitive—by telling himself and other people that he wouldn't marry under any consideration. But let him find a woman whom he thinks he can marry and he will change his mind.

"Many men shun marriage because they think it would check their self-indulgence and their free and easy manner of living.

"SOME of these constantly seek the companionship of women, although they may say they hold them in low esteem. To add to his feeling of superiority this type of man may declare that he despises women. But as soon as the right girl comes along, his conception of women will undergo a complete change.

"OTHER men are thought of—or think of themselves— as women haters for still different reasons. But I believe that a study of their lives would reveal a shock, or a series of disappointments that would account for their misogyny. There was a time in their lives—though it may have been only when they were very young—when the feeling towards women was the same as other men's. All of this is assuming, of course, that the men are normally minded. If they are mentally unbalanced it is a different matter."

FEATURED with Griffith in the cast of "The Night Club," which comes to the Olympic theatre on Thursday are Vera Reynolds, Wallace Beery and Louise Fazenda. The picture is based on the William de Mille's stage play, "After Five," and was directed by Frank Urson and Paul Iribe, who made "Forty Winks."

Lion Principle Is Discussed by S. A. L. Morgan Wednesday

"Intelligence is not mere learning," declared S. A. L. Morgan in an address on "Intelligence" before the Lions club in their weekly luncheon at the Kemp hotel Wednesday noon. "It is worth very little to know the principle of a thing if you cannot do it. Industry then is useless. Learning, without the ability to direct the industry of the world is worthless."

The lecture was delivered as the second in a series on the three principles of Lionism—"liberty, intelligence and our nation's safety." The speaker declared that success did not consist of what men did, but rather what they became in the doing.

"As a club, we should decide on what we want to do, set a definite goal, learn the best way to achieve our end, then achieve it intelligently."

MALLOCH WON WICHITANS IN RECITAL HERE

Famous Poet to Appear At Junior College Tonight

Douglas Malloch, "the business man's poet," who is to appear this evening in concert at the Junior college auditorium under the auspices of the Musicians' club, won completely the hearts of the hundreds of men who heard him in January at the annual chamber of commerce dinner given in the college cafeteria. The hour for his address, which came at the end of a long and detailed entertainment program, found the great room, thickly crowded and restless, settled in a heavy haze of cigar smoke. Following his introduction, Malloch's first statement brought a roar of laughter that continued through his address, broken only by quiet attentiveness to a bit of poetry or serious verse, as the brilliant speaker entertained his listeners, and retired in rounds of applause.

Fine Speaker.

Local business men declare Malloch the finest after dinner speaker they have ever heard, and praise his poetry and his likeable manner of speaking in the highest terms.

"Douglas Malloch's talk was the most inspiring thing I have ever heard," Oral Jones, cashier of the City National bank, declared. "His philosophy, clothed as it was in every day language, has done me a lot of good. I've thought of things he said that night many times and snickered to myself over them. To my mind, his poetry and his likeable way of saying things equals that of Edgar A. Guest. I look forward to Thursday night's entertainment as an hour of refreshment."

Carter McGregor, cashier of the First National bank, liked especially Maloch's wit and repartee. "There was nothing dry or dull about Malloch's hour," Mr. McGregor said. "He is a very fine public speaker. His address was light and witty, and his philosophy humorous. He entertained a large audience and kept them in an uproar from the time he started until the close of his enjoyable talk. Anyone who goes to hear him Thursday will be more than pleased with Malloch."

"He's the best after-dinner speaker I ever heard," Wilkie Talbert, manager of the Wichita Falls Building and Loan association, declared, "and I've heard 'em all from William Jennings Bryan on down. He's a good poet and a good speaker, a rare combination. He speaks plainly and hits the spot; his philosophy is sugar-coated common sense, and he makes you like it."

Good Entertainer.

"Malloch is an entertainer," Dr. W. L. Parker states. "He's a speaker of the finest type, and he presents some wonderful thoughts, but he keeps his audience laughing all the time. He certainly jumps from the sublime to the ridiculous in masterful fashion."

"All the business men I've talked to are glad to hear that Malloch's coming back to town," Dan Lundien, secretary-treasurer of the Wichita Falls Building and Loan company, says. "I never heard anyone his equal in my life, so far as holding a crowd and entertaining them. His poems are delightful and go straight to the point. He's a man's man, and a forceful speaker. Anyone who misses hearing him Thursday evening is missing a real event."

"Douglas Malloch is undoubtedly the best and most entertaining speaker that we've ever had here," is the opinion of J. C. Mytinger, prominent grain and real estate man. "He's the best I ever heard, and has caused more comment among business men than any former speaker in my experience. His poems and his pleasant manner of talking make you forget yourself entirely. He's worth anyone's time and money for two hours."

Things to Know Before Baby Comes

YOU may learn the probable date of baby's birth. What you should have and what baby will need. These and many other important things are fully explained in a wonderful booklet sent free to all expectant mothers.

This booklet also tells when and how to use "Mother's Friend"—the much talked about rubbing preparation which relaxes the muscles and prepares the way for a comfortable period during expectancy and for a more natural delivery at child-birth. "I think 'Mother's Friend' saved my life," wrote one enthusiastic mother. "I was sick not ever fifteen minutes," declared another. ECZEMA

You will be compelled to admit that the results of S.S.S. are really amazing!

MANY people imagine that eczema or tetter needs only some external application on the skin in order to get relief. This is because the attention of the sufferer is so violently directed to the intense burning and itching which accompanies this disease. Try as they may—permanent relief will never be theirs until the disease laden blood is thoroughly cleansed.

We know there is one thing that stops eczema and that is more red-blood-cells! S.S.S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it. Skin eruptions, eczema, with all its fiery, skin digging torture, and its soul-tearing, unreachable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of Nature! S.S.S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826.

S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body strengtheners known to us mortals! When you put these facts together,—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. S.S.S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S.S.S. does build red-blood-cells, it routs eczema, clears the skin, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, and gives you that more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

WEAK, RUN-DOWN NERVOUS, DIZZY

Mrs. Lee Suffered From All These Troubles, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well

Terre Haute, Indiana.—"I was weak and run-down and in such a nervous condition that I could hardly do my work. I was tired all the time and dizzy, had no appetite and could not sleep. I tried different medicines for a year but they did not help me. Then my husband saw the ad. for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and had me take it. I regained my strength and never felt better in my life. It completely restored me to health. I had practically no suffering when my baby boy was born and he is very strong and healthy. I know that the Vegetable Compound is the best medicine a woman can take before and after child birth for health and strengh. I would be willing to answer letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. WM. J. LEE, Route E, Box 648, Terre Haute, Indiana.

The GILDED ROSE

by May Christie

Who's Who in the Story

Rosilyn Ridgeway learns on her wedding day from idle gossip that she has been married for her money. Before her enormous fortune was left her, she had been an overworked little drudge in her father's inn.

Landis Ridgeway her husband is a brilliant, fascinating man, who was forced into the marriage by his mother.

Florence Ridgeway, an aristocratic old lady, who saw poverty staring her in the face, and chose the easiest way out. Rosilyn loving her husband, knows that he is still in love with Lydia Harbrook, a beautiful, cold society girl who is bent on marrying.

Stevie Van Vorst, a wealthy old roue, although she is really fond of Ridgeway. She is in Paris when the news reaches her of Landis' marriage, and she hastens back to the United States. With her goes Rupert Briscoe, a dissipated man of the world, who has seen Rosilyn but once, and yet is deeply interested in her. Lydia learns of this interest, and when the two reach New York, she suggests that they ask the young Ridgeways to dinner. She and Briscoe concoct a plot whereby through an apparent misunderstanding Rosilyn and Briscoe will be left alone together, while she will be with her beolved Landis.

Landis finding himself alone with Lydia falls under her spell once more. Some hours later that evening, Rosilyn who is bewildered to find herself spending the evening in the company of Rupert Briscoe, sees her husband dancing with Lydia—in his eyes a look of rapture. She believes he has seen her but is too rude—or ashamed — to speak. Briscoe asks her to go on to a night club, and in a mood of recklessness she consents.

In Paris meanwhile Van Vorst, realizing the reason for Lydia's sudden trip to America and hungering for her love, decides to use Marietta, a dancer and sweetheart of Briscoe's in connection with a plan. The two arrange to come to New York where Marietta is to vamp Landis away from Lydia, leaving a clear field for the elderly schemer.

Landis continues philandering with Lydia while Rosilyn to help forget the pangs of jealousy, allows Briscoe to pay her more flattering attention. The next day the latter drives her to the station where she is to meet her husband before they leave for their country home.

Soon after, Landis meets Lydia and while riding with her refuses to comment whether or not his wife "goes her own way," as he quite evidently does.

They found their seats in the big chocolate-and-cream-demorated structure, with its hanging baskets of flowers.

It took Lydia quite 15 minutes of her most persuasive efforts to coax her escort back to sunniness.

Later, they were at luncheon, and some wine Landis had brought with him made Lydia gayer than ever.

"To our future!" she tilted up her glass.

Landis hesitated to respond. That chagrined her.

"Won't you drink with me?" she cooed, very gently.

There was a moment's pause, and then he said, gruffly:

"It strikes me that some of you women are drinking a lot more than you used to do. Go easy Lydia!"

Her eyes flung a laughing challenge at him.

"Old sobersides!"

"It's true," persisted he. His glance roamed to a nearby table, where a party of young girls were quaffing highballs. "Debutantes!"

"Oh, don't be stuffy!" Lydia drained her glass, and then filled it again with Veuve Cliquot. "Haven't we both had lots of luck already? You won quite a good bit, Landis."

Money! Bitterly ashamed of the part that he had played, he felt a cad because of this resentment towards his mother, who no doubt had acted—as she thought—in her son's best interests).

They finished lunch. It was hot in the marquee, and he suggested getting outside for a breath of air.

They went into the paddock.

Lydia was chattering gaily when she saw her escort's glance wander across the paddock toward a stoutishly-built, middle aged man in a grey hat and tightly buttoned gray frock coat, a white flower in his buttonhole and white spats on his feet.

But it was towards the man's companion that most eyes were turning. She was a slim, dark young woman, magnificently clad in a cream lace gown that fitted the lovely lines of her figure like the fish-scales on a mermaid. A yellow Spanish hat whose wide brim was completely covered with varied brilliant flowers was stopped by a striking sunshade on which was painted a flaming bird of Paradise.

Lydia gazed.

"Look, Landis! See that woman!

"I'm looking at her escort. Don't you recognize him?"

"Who? What?" The sun was in Lydia's eyes for a moment as she peered round at the porky figure a pace or two behind the charmer. Then her gaze widened. "Heavens! It's not Steve Van Vorst, is it? It can't be! He's in Paris!"

"It's none other." Landis was looking down at her with a little quizical twist to his lips.

CHAPTER XLVI.
Hard Luck

"Let's move away before they see us." Lydia touched Landis' arm. This 'contretemps' must be avoided. 'Steve' was mighty jealous, and the imminent meeting did not suit her book at all. Tiresome of him to have returned like this from Paris, without giving her a hint!

But no doubt he's done it just on purpose. He was sly and stealthy in his ways.

The couple were upon them before there was any chance of flight.

"How do, Lyddy!" (Annoying how possessive the rich man's tone could be!) "How do, Landis? You've met Miss Fernandez before? Lyddy, may I present my friend?"

Miss Harbrook favored the dancing girl with a cool patronizing nod, then—with a dazzling smile—turned to the latter's escort.

"I might have known you'd turn up here, though you didn't give me a hint of your arrival in New York, you bad, naughty man!" She shook a playful finger at him "But, how well you look. And I do believe you're slimmer!" (Flattery was Lydia's long suit.)

"Pining for you, Lyddy!" Van Vorst gave his loud and throaty chuckle.

The Spanish girl had meantime turned the gamut of her charms on Landis' Ridgeway. She had known him for some time, but only in a casual way.

"Come on over. I'll show you my horse, Lyddy," Van Vorst was insisting. And then he whispered in her ear:

"If you're a good girl, and stop flirting with handsome young men, and are kind to me, I'm going to put a cool three hundred for you! So there!"

That broke the ice round Lydia's heart as nothing in this world could do.

She beamed on Van Vorst.

"I'm with you." Gaily she touched his arm with her gloved finger tips. "Come on."

"Missed me, eh, Lyddy? I'm hoping the absence has made the heart grow fonder—but it seems as though it had made it grow fonder of someone else!"

"Speaking of your dancing girl, are you?" Old Steve caught her by the elbow as they walked along.

A stable boy and the jockey were with his horse, which was indeed a magnificant animal.

Then the best were made.

"I've put on twenty-five hundred for myself, and three hundred for you," announced the horse's owner. "The odds are seven to one."

Lydia thought, greedily:—

"Twenty-one hundred if I win! And Steve will make seventeen thousand five hundred! He'll be in such good humor—not because of the money, for, unlike me, he doesn't need the money—but because of the prestige such a triumph would give him!"

He coaxed her to go with him to his own car, which was parked at some distance from the grand stand.

Lindstrom Hurls Spudders To Victory Over Shippers 5-3

Ed Hughes' Column

A HARD BOILED SAILOR OF LONG AGO.

Tom Sharkey first loomed on the fistic horizon in '94. An unknown off the ships, he bobbed up at a little fight club near Frisco one night. Tom scrambled into the ring unexpectedly and requested Billy Jordan, the famous announcer to give him a "knock-down" to the crowd. This Jordan did i nthe following words: "This is Mr. Sharkey of the navy and he wants to fight. He isn't particular who he goes against." And the strange looking sailor corroborated Billy with a wild wave of his arms: "Sure, I'll fight anybody. I don't care!"

Sharkey's menacing appearance, his funny antics, and most of all his implicit faith in himself made a hit with the crowd.

He was given some small bouts, and the sun-bronzed sailor made good by slamming his foes out in short order. Then came the affair which first attracted real attention to Sharkey as a fighter. It was with Joe Choynski, then one of the most formidable of the light heavies. The fray bristled with amusing as well as thrilling incidents.

Choynski agreed to stop the awkward sailor within eight rounds or forfeit the verdict. Most people viewed the match as fistic poison for the deck scrubber. Choynski was an experienced and skilful performer. Also he could hit like sin. Joe started out in a manner which presaged a quick ending for the unpolished tar. But, after several rounds of monotonous punching at every inch of the sailor's anatomy above the belt line Choynski becme arm weary. He even got to the pass where he was obliged to feign a foul in order to get a rest. And the referee let Joe "get away" with it.

harkey sopped up an astounding amount of punishment- inj this bout. Choynski pulled every trick a veteran campaigner could against a tyro. He would back Tom's head within a few inches of the old-fashioned wooden ring posts and then jab the sailor's solid skull against it. Choynski did this at least a dozen times before the slow-thinking Sharkey got "hep" to the thing. The next day Sailor Tom had difficulty fitting his derby on over the lumps the ring posts had grown on his cranium.

Choynski looked a sure winner at one stage of the battle. He clipped Sharkey a solid clout on the chin and tumbled Tom out o fthe ring. Sharkey slid to the floor head first with a resounding impact. No one expected to see him continue fighting. But to the surprise of all Sharkey pulled himself together, grabbed a ring post and climbed up it into the ring. Choynski failed to stop Sharkey, who was awarded the verdict. Sharkey became famous over night when the news of his victory over the renowned Choynski was wired throughout the country.

After that, Sharkey made rapid progress towar dthe top. Every fight brought him new honors, additional fame. Shortly after the Choynski affair Jim Corbett, then heavyweight champion, visited the home folks in Frisco. A bout was arranged between the champion and the newcomer. Sharkey—more to show off the skill of Corbett than anything else. As in the case of Choynski, Sharkey upset the "dope" again.

Corbett, viewing the match lightly, didn't bother to train, Sharkey, who was mighty fast with his hands and on his feet, in addition to being a furious rusher, almost scored a knock-out over the champon. He roughed the soft Corbett all over the ring, completely discounting the magnificent skill which humbled the great John L. Sullivan. At one time Sharkey bowled both Corbett and the referee to the floor in a rush. The last round ended in a mysteriously short manner, some folks claim. The supposition was that Corbett and the referee were in league to save Jim's title.

Sharkey's ext big fight was with Fitzsimmons, and it proved disastrous for the sailor—in one respect. Fitz knocked him senseless with his deadly "solar plexus" wallop. However, Wyatt Earp, a notorious gunman, who refereed, jobbed Fitz of the verdict, handing the scandalous decision to Sharkey on a "foul."

After that Sharkey fought draws with Joe Choynski and Peter Maher (good there); won from Joe Goddard and battled Jeffries to a draw in their first fight. Jeff was not champion then. Following this Sharkey scored a one-round knockout over Gus Ruhlin and triumphed over Corbett in nine. Then he produced one of his best battles by a knockout over Kid McCoy in nine rounds.

The championship battle with Jeffries and its questionable decision followed. Sharkey was never any good after that. Ruhlin twice knocked him out, and Fitzsimmons turned the trick again—this time in two rounds.

Sharkey was a wonder in his day—which is no wtwenty-six long years back into the mists of the past.

TWO STANZAS JUST ENOUGH TO WIN GAME

Tanner Gang Mops up On Fillingim in Second Frame

BEAUMONT, May 27.—Wichita Falls came through with a five to three game here Wednesday afternoon, in a battle spotted with brilliant fielding on both sides. Axel Lindstrom's slow ball was plenty effective after the first three innings, laying the Exporters down with a row of goose eggs from the third inning on. Larry Pinto allowed but four hits and one tally in the seven innings that he worked, and the one tally was left on third by Fillingim, who was knocked out of the box in the second inning.

The Spudders scored once in the opening stanza and then iced the game in the second, scoring four.

That first Spudder run came indirectly through singles by Callaghan and Bodie after there was one out. Fitzgerald forced Bodie at second, but Callaghan scored.

The home crew got to Lindstrom in the last half of the first for two runs. Osborne, first man up, walked. Woerbs doubled to left, sending him to third. Leach pushed a two-bagger over the right field fence, and both scored. Beaumont got no further for the inning. Kirke flied out to Bodie, and Leach was thrown down at third, trying to make the base after the catch. Bernsen grounded to White.

And then the visitors went wild. On five safe blows and a wild pitch, the Spudders counted four times in the second. Dorman led off with a double to center. Golvin followed with a single to right, scoring Dorman. White doubled over the right field fence, scoring Golvin to third Query grounded out to short, and Golvin was held at his base. Lindstrom singled to center, scoring Golvin and White. He took second shortly after on a wild pitch. Distel popped out to Osborne in right and Lindstrom went to third after the catch. Pinto relieved Fillingim, and Callaghan greeted the left hander with a single to right, scoring Lindstrom. Bodie flied out to center.

The Exporters scored one off Lindstrom in the third, after which neither team crossed the plate. Singles by Osborne and Kirke, a walk and an infield double play accounted for the run.

Lindstrom and Pinto were invincible the remainder of the route.

Harris' two homers, one in the fouth with none on and one in the fifth with two on, helped batter Slim Harris from the slab and his triple in the eighth gave the visitors a tally that prevented the Athletes two runs in the eighth tying the score.

* With the passing on of Murrell, spitball artist of the Texhoma club, Skipper Gordon is up against it for pitchers and will have to get by with Temple Allen and O'Dell McDuffy until his new man arrives. Gordon announced Tuesday that he had a new man coming out of west Texas to do a share of his hurling. This gent, Thompson, by name, is a former Baylor university heaver.

No Post-Season Series.

Some folks are talking about an after-season play-off with the winner of the Sunday school loop and the Twilighter winners. Should the First Methodist and Texhoma win this there would be a great confusion of players. Of these two clubs there are Rabbit Gordon, Gerard Boone, O'Dell McDuffy, Ward, Johnnie McMahon, and Temple Allen that are with both teams. In case the Grace Methodist and the American Refiners win out there would be Dudley Skeen, Ronnie Glidewell, Bill Andree, and Raymond Windham with both clubs. Anyhow, it was agreed more or less tacitly at the beginning of the seasbn that there will be no post-season series between champs of the two leagues.

TEXHOMA VOYAGE

Texhoma is to make a trip to Electra Saturday afternoon to play an all-star club of the Electra sand lots. The funds raised from the game will go toward the erecting of a public library in Electra. Rabbitt Gordon plans to use O'Dell McDuffy on the hillock. It was O'Dell who turned back the Security bankers Sunday in such fine style.

Monroe's Travelers and Ludlam and Riggs are scheduled to hook up today on the Twilight diamond for the last scheduled game of the week. Hatton or Crites will do the chunking for the Travelers while Len Smith likely will go again for his club.

Ronie Glidewell has a mighty good style of picking runners off the bags. The American Refinery twirler picked a pair off in the game Tuesday with the Wichita Falls Electric company. Whatley was nipped in the first inning off first and Coolidge was caught off second in the third.

BASE-RUNNING BREAKS

The Electric company lost several runs on poor base running. Coolidge followed Whatley's nipping with a three-bagger that should have let the runner over the pan for a counter. This made one out that should never have been registered. Patterson hit what should have been a three-bagger in another inning but failed to touch second. After a pop up Coolidge sent a hit to the infield that should have scored the runner. In the third inning Coolidge had reached second when he was caught off. A bit batsman, two singles and an error let in two tallies and Coolidge should have been the third marker.

Shadie Hale and Hood Kizzire, Texhoma infielders, have joined the Floral Heights Methodist nine, also.

YANKS TRIM BOSTON.

NEW YORK, May 27.—New York staged a slugfest in the sixth inning today scoring four runs and defeated the Red Sox, 4 to 3. Bob Meusel's tenth home run of the season with two on base featured the Yankkees' productive inning.

Summary: Two-base hits, Andree, Gordon; three-base hit, Horton; stolen bases, Skeen, Kizziar; sacrifice fly, Horton; hit by pitcher, Taylor, Glidwell; struck out, by Andree 5 (M. Bullard 2, V. Bullard, Adams, Timmons), by Brooks 3 (M. Bullard, Parker, Adams), by Parker 8 (Neal, Windham 2, Whatley 3, Coolidge, Hicks); bases on balls, off Andree 2 (Harris 2), off Brooks 1 (Harris), off Parker 1 (Gordon); passed ball, Horton 2; wild pitch, Parker. Time of game, 1 hour, 30 minutes. Umpire, Mosley.

The Grace Methodists pushed into a tie with the First Methodists and shoved the Floral Heights Methodists back a notch Wednesday afternoon by defeating the Heights crew by a 6 to 3 tabulation.

Hits were bunched off Jimmy Parker in the first round and four scores were counted on as many hits. The first inning ruined the day for the Heights gang.

Clarence Adam's catch of Red Hick's pop fly back of first was the fielding feature of the game. Adams took the ball off his shoe tops and turned two complete somersaults before coming up with the pill in his hand.

Glenn Coolidge's string of safe hits was broken at five consecutive bingles when after beating out an infield hit in the first inninf, an error let him on in the third. Ronie Glidewell ran his string up to six before he was stopped on a fielder's choice.

After the first inning the game settled down to a pitchers' battle between Parker and Bill Andree. Andree went out of the box in the sixth after holding the Floral crew to no runs and no hits for four innings. He had to go to work.

Gordon and Glidwell both came through with two bingles in three times at the bat.

Taylor opened the game by stopping one with his elbow. Gordon hit to Parker who forced Taylor at second. Glidwell singled to center, sending Gordon to second. Windham beat out an infield hit to third, filling the bases. Whatley fanned. Kizziar and Harris ran together in left field and let Coolidge's pop fly fall safe, Gordon and Glidwell scored. Coolidge took second on the throw to the plate. Coolidge romped home for the fourth tally on Skeen's single over second.

The Floral Heights lads fought hard to overcome this lead, but found the task too hard. Two singles, a sacrifice fly and an error let in the two in the sixth. Horton's triple and Hale's single in the first counted the first marker.

Singles by Gordon and Glidwell, a passed ball and an error let in the Grace Methodist tally in the second. A double by Andree, a walk to Taylor, and Gordon's double netted the Grace nine their score in the fourth.

21 ELIGIBLES FOR INDIANAPOLIS RACE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 27.—The field of eligibles to start in the thirteenth annual 500-mile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway Saturday was increased at 21 today with the qualifying of Ralph de Palma, L. L. Corum and Ira Vail.

De Palma made the best time of the day for the ten miles' trial, his average being slightly over 108 miles an hour. Vail pushed his mount around at a 104-mile clip and Corum showed 103 miles. Corum was co-winner with the late Joe Boyer of the 1924 race.

Four or five other drivers said they would be ready for their trials tomorrow afternoon—the last day for the test—unless the rules are set aside.

Torres Has His Hands Full With Duke and Clyde

Mexican Meets Trammel In Bout Here Next Thursday

Renato Torres, the flashy Mexico City welter battler who has been going great guns on recent Wichita Falls fistic programs, is due to find the going rougher from here on out if you believe the fight dope.

Renato hooks with Clyde Hull, St. Paul scrapper who has whipped almost everything in the southwest, tonight at Vernon. That's a tough assignment itself. Then next Thursday Torres is to tangle with Duke Trammel, the Fort Worth murderer, on the local legion card.

What makes the outlook not so bright for the Mexican in the Trammel frolic this Duke declares that from now on he intends to tear in for a knockout first and always. That is, Duke doesn't intend to let any of his bouts go the limit, he says. "I'll either knock 'em out or get knocked out."

Promoter Wofford intends to use Vincente Aguilar, Monterey middleweight, if he can find a man of his calibre to match him.

It is more than likely that Blas Rodriques, midget Mexican who gave Tabby Levine wits in a four-rounder Tuesday night on the Denton benefit card, will be matched for an eight-round go with the Wichita Falls youngster. Blas declares he will knock Tabby out if given eight rounds in which to do it.

Manna Grabs Off England's Derby For Sixth Time

With Donoghue up Victor Pulls Down on Last Turn

EPSOM DOWNS, England, May 27.—(AP)—Manna, by Phalarie, out of Waffles and owned by H. E. Morriss, won the Derby today. Steve Donoghue had the mount and passed the winning post a full eight lengths in advance of a field of 28 runners, winning for the sixth time this most highly coveted of English turf classics.

Donoghue pushed his mount in front from the start and kept him theme, even rounding the difficult Tatterham corner with such east that he completed the mile and a half course pulling up, while those behind him were using whips and heels.

The much fancied Zionist of H. S. Aga Khan, was second, and two lengths farther back in third place came the Sirdar, the entry of the American, A. K. Macomber. The time for the distance was 2:40 3-5.

Lord Astor's Crossbox, which reigned favorite for the last week, and Lord Derby's Conquistador, second favorite, and the French hope, Ptolemy, Runnymead and others fought for places, but the soft track kept them well in the rear. A drenching rain had softened the course.

The king and queen saw the race and watched the king's entry, Runnymead, go down in defeat. The American and French ambassadors, on special invitation, joined the royal party.

This evening the king, following his custom, gave a dinner at the palace to the leading sportsmen.

OPERATE ON DENTON

Joe Denton, Amarillo welter who was seriously injured in a bout with Clyde Hull here week before last and has been bedridden ever since, underwent a minor operation on the spine Wednesday. At a late hour last night Denton was improving rapidly, and feeling better than at any time during his confinement.

Denton had been bothered at intervals with severe headaches, and at times slight lapses of memory.

Smith Sets Pace In Eastern Trials

LONG BEACH, N. Y., May 27.—(AP)—Seventy-four leading golfers of the east and Emmett French of Youngstown, Ohio, who had no fears of the difficult Lido course and came east to qualify, passed their first test in the eastern district trial rounds of the national open golf tournament today. They played their 18 holes allotments in 83 or better, thereby assuring their participation in the second half of the necessary 36 which will be played on Friday.

Tomorrow 65 or more will be selected for the final play of the qualifications.

MacDonald Smith set a furious pace today, posting an exceptional 70 in which he scored six birdies. He was two under par for the round, breaking the competitive record of 71. Martin J. McLoughlin of Plainfield, N. J., had a 73, and stands tonight second to Smith. John Curley of Nantuckett, Mass., and P. C. Lagerblade of Bristol, Conn., each turned in 74, while the veteran Pat Doyle drove his way to a 75, sharing that score with Walter Hagen.

Then came some other names well known to every follower of golf: Joe Kirkwood Ouimet and Fred McLeod, with 76.

Less than half the field conquered the sand dunes and lakes of the windswept Long Island course to get within 86.

They don't see how we can give so much quality and so much style for so little money.

We couldn't if profit making was our object in this sale. It isn't. It's a matter of policy with us.

We must close out every suit before the season ends. When this sale closes this week, you can come into this store sure that you'll see only fresh new arrivals.

As it is, most of these suits are so fine we could put them right in with our new fall stocks and you'd never know the difference; but we won't.

Bolivian Attache Ends Career After Sandwich Incident

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—Don Jorge Blacud Jofre, attache of the Bolivian legation, has decided to cut short his diplomatic career—the decision coming soon after he was accused by a policeman of having been undiplomatic in trying to force the law-enforcement representative to eat an egg sandwich.

The incident occurred in a restaurant when the policeman attempted to remonstrate because a suspicious bottle was seen going around. A plate glass door was broken during the proceedings. A report was made to the state department, at which time it was indicated that Don Jorge's days as a diplomat were numbered.

Optimists Enjoy Musical Program At Noon Luncheon

Members of the Optimist club enjoyed a musical program at their regular weekly meeting Wednesday at the Grace Methodist church.

Joe Robinowitz, young artist violinist, student of Eithel Allen Nelson, delighted the audience with several numbers. Mrs. W. L. Parker, accompanied by Mrs. R. E. Shepherd, sang several numbers and R. D. Ford also sang several songs. He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ford. Miss Katherine Kilander accompanied Master Robinowitz.

It was announced that the proceeds from next week's luncheon club will go towards the Day Nursery fund It was voted that the members bring their wives and friends to the meeting next week, so that the fund will be doubled for the nursery fund.

President Bert King appointed Rev. Leslie Miller chairman of the social committee for the next month. Miss Katherine Kilander and Judge B. D. Sartin were also named on the committee.

A new member, A. R. Westfall, was introduced to the club. Several guests were present at the meeting.

DENY JUDGE'S INJUNCTION

U. S. Court Refuses Petition Against Oklahoma Official.

ST. PAUL, May 27.—(AP)—Petitions to prohibit Federal Judge Franklin E. Kennamer from sitting as judge in the recently created northern district of Oklahoma were denied by the United States circuit court of appeals here today.

STOCKS.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Strength and activity of the motor shares, a dozen which broke through to new high levels for the year, was the outstanding feature of today's irregularly higher stock market.

The day's sale again totaled about one and one-half million shares.

Reports of record breaking production and largely increased earnings provided the ground work for the advance in the automobile stocks which was led by the Maxwell issues. Maxwell Motors B, which was reported to harbor a large short interest, was run up nearly eight points to a record top at 106 and then slipped back about a point from the high. The B certificates closed 5¼ points higher at 102¾ and Maxwell A and the A certificates advanced 3 and 1¾ points respectively. The B stock had sold as low as 33¾ this year.

Revival of a demand for Mack Trucks sent that issue up over four points to a new peak at 154½. Other automobile issues to top their previous high prices were Peirce Arrow common, preferred and prior preferred, Studebaker, Hudson, Paige Detroit and Eaton Axle, buying of the last named being stimulated by a resumption of dividends on the common stock.

The establishment of a new 1925 record in car loadings for the week ended May 23 stimulated the demand for the railroad shares with the best gains being recorded by the coalers. Reading climbed 2¾ points to a new top at 85⅝, and net gains of a point or more were recorded by Baltimore and Ohio, Chesapeake, Delaware-Hudson, Lackawanna and Missouri-Pacific preferred.

Oils showed moderate strength with a continuance of good buying of oils. Most of the oils improved fractionally.

Moderate improvement also was shown by the Standard industrials. American Can closed more than a point higher at 189¾, and Baldwin and U. S. Steel showed fractional gains at 114⅜ and 118, respectively.

Call money again held steady at four per cent. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged with business quiet.

Foreign exchange rates were irregular. Demand sterling held fairly steady just under 4.85, but French francs broke below 5 cents to a new low record for the year. Reports persisted that the French government was planning to "peg" francs at 200 to the dollar.

AUSTIN, May 27.—There was a fair demand for tomatoes today in jobbing centers with the Jacksonville offerings moving actively to the trade on a slight premium over offerings. Potatoes were also in good inquiry and movement, many markets jumping to higher levels under the light offerings of triumphs and other new crop stocks.

AUSTIN, May 27.—Egg receipts: New York, 38,413 cases; Chicago, 26,846 cases; Boston, 8,420, and Philadelphia, 7,634 cases. Storage movement a net gain to coolers of 43,528 cases, making holdings this morning; New York, 1,038,197 cases; Chicago, 1,044,625 cases; Boston, 299,892 cases, and Philadelphia, 289,211 cases.

Dressed poultry receipts: New York, 751,741 pounds; Chicago, 91,702 pounds; Boston, 188,165 pounds, and Philadelphia, 134,496 pounds. Storage movement a net loss to cooler stocks of 246,222 pounds, leaving holdings this morning: New York, 17,957,047 pounds; Chicago, 20,571,821 pounds; Boston, 6,742,737 pounds and Philadelphia 2,763,,194 pounds.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, May 27.—The cotton market today was a quiet affair, about the only spurt of activity taking place right at the close, when there was considerable selling on a report of rather general rains in Texas. After opening a few points down on the disappointing Liverpool cables, the market promptly recovered the initial loss, July trading at 23.51 and October at 22.22. These were the day's highs. After the weekly crop report, the market eased off some and there was a further slight decline to 23.32 and 22.06 for October on the official forecast for unsettled and showery weather in the west. These figures remained the day's lows until just before the close when July broke to 23.27 and October to 22.05. The close was at the bottom, showing net losses for the day of 22 to 24 points.

In the absence of any definite weather developments, the market, following the moderate break on the weekly weather report, which was considered slightly better than expected and the forecast of showers for the west, ruled almost stagnant all day. There was little disposition to enter upon new commitments on either side of the account in advance of the forthcoming government condition report. Even the publication of several more private condition reports failed to excite interest as most of them were in line with most of those issued yesterday.

In the last quarter hour a wave of selling developed, based on reports of rain in Texas and said to be engineered by those seeking to force a reaction and all active months were forced down to new lows for the day.

Four private condition reports were issued during the day, the first making the condition 75.2 and the acreage increase 6 per cent. The second made the condition 74.8 and the acreage increase 1.4. The third made the condition 73.1 and the acreage gain 6.3, while the fourth made the condition 74.9 and the acreage 42,666,666 acres, no per cent of gain being given.

Exports today 6,354 bales, all from Houston.

LONDON SCIENTIST DIES.

LONDON, May 27.—(AP) — Sir William Fletcher Barrett, scholar and scientist, died here today at the age of 81.

COLLIER

tion came of Judge Bryant's determination to order an instructed verdict of guilty in case Mrs. Woods was not able to appear as a witness within a reasonable length of time.

In connection with this indication it was pointed out that the law gives to the defendant in a case the right to withdraw his plea of ready, should a witness necessary for his defense become ill or be unable to testify for any reasonable cause. This fully protects the rights of a defendant and, in effect, results in retrial of the case.

Such a course of proceedure is not granted the state, however, and it was this fact that lends such great importance to Judge Bryant's order if he should do what creditable reports indicate he will. Attorneys here were of the opinion it would be an unprecedented ruling that would go to the high courts of the land for confirmation or rejection.

The assumption is that, with a guilty verdict ordered and a penalty of imprisonment inflicted by the jury, the defense would ask for a new trial and be granted it. That would necessitate complete retrial of the entire case at a future date when all witnesses were able to appear.

A court room packed to overflowing greeted the jury when it filed in a few minutes before 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. As was the case in Wichita Falls at the trial of Mr. Collier, a larger majority of the audience was composed of women. Tuesday night the balcony around the room was braced with heavy timbers to insure its safety. Under the unusual load of humanity It was being forced to carry.

It was nearly 2 o'clock before Judge Bryant mounted the bench and informed the jurors that still another delay was necessary. He hoped by 3:30, he said, to be able to proceed with the case. He indicated Mrs. Woods was apparently in condition at that time to appear in court but that a consultation of physicians was being held and he wished their opinion on Mrs. Woods' health before requiring her to submit to the ordeal of examination on the stand.

Specialists Called.

A specialist was called here from Stamford Tuesday morning to confer with local physicians and Dr. J. C. A. Guest of Wichita Falls, who is here as a witness and who examined Mrs. Woods Tuesday night and again Wednesday morning. It was at this time that, on motion from Mr. Francis of defense counsel, Judge Bryant indicated he would require the state to submit to him a report on the nature of the testimony it expected to elicit from Mrs. Woods, when she did not take the stand provided she was unable at 3:30 in the afternoon to go on. Francis asked that a full and complete statement be required from state's counsel relative to Mrs. Woods' testimony, in order that the court may determine whether or not it was material and thus justify any further delay in the hearing.

With that court was recessed for an hour and a half. The large number of witnesses here from Wichita Falls are finding time hanging heavily on their hands. Attorneys for both sides, as well as Judge Bryant, have expressed regret at the long and tedious delay, but it is conceded by all that under the circumstances nothing can be done but wait.

District Attorney Allred stoutly maintains that his case is incomplete without the evidence Mrs. Woods will offer and he declines to rest before she is heard. The defense, of course, refuses and cannot be expected to proceed with its direct evidence until all direct evidence of the state is completed.

Assuming that Mrs. Woods takes the witness chair within the next 24 hours, the case cannot possibly be completey before the end of the present week. Mr. Francis announced Tuesday that at least two days would be necessary to introduce defense testimony. Preparation of the court's charge will probably require half a day and argument will take a day or more.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, May 27—The cotton markket opened quiet, first trades showing losses of 5 to 7 points owing to lower Liverpool cables. After July traded at 23.46 and October at 22.15 the markket rallied backk to yesterday's closing levels and then became quiet waiting for the weekly weather report. There was little disposition to enter upon new commitments in advance of the government report due June 6.

Thaw Did Not Have Wild Time—Attorney

NEW YORK, May 27.—Some one is taking advantage of Harry K. Thaw's presence on Broadway to press agent himself, according to Bartholomew B. Coyne, Thaw's attorney.

Coyne denied today that Thaw showered tips recklessly in a cabaret Sunday as reported in several newspapers. The attorney said Thaw merely dropped into the place for a little recreation. He declared that while patrons of the cabaret may have had a heetic time, Thaw himself described it as dull.

One investigator of Thaw's cabaret visit reports that only one $100 bill was produced and that to pay the check for $91. When the change came Thaw gave a tip of $2 to the waiter, who was transfixed with indignation, this account says.

Another report says that Fawn Gray, dancer, credited with having been entertained by Thaw in the cabaret, is wearing a bracelet with two rows of diamonds.

Bolivian Attache Ends Career After Sandwich Incident

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—Don Jorge Blacud Jofre, attache of the Bolivian legation, has decided to cut short his diplomatic career—the decision coming soon after he was accused by a policeman of having been undiplomatic in trying to force the law-enforcement representative to eat an egg sandwich.

The incident occurred in a restaurant when the policeman attempted to remonstrate because a suspicious bottle was seen going around. A plate glass door was broken during the proceedings. A report was made to the state department, at which time it was indicated that Don Jorge's days as a diplomat were numbered.

Optimists Enjoy Musical Program At Noon Luncheon

Members of the Optimist club enjoyed a musical program at their regular weekly meeting Wednesday at the Grace Methodist church.

Joe Robinowitz, young artist violinist, student of Eithel Allen Nelson, delighted the audience with several numbers. Mrs. W. L. Parker, accompanied by Mrs. R. E. Shepherd, sang several numbers and R. D. Ford also sang several songs. He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ford. Miss Katherine Kilander accompanied Master Robinowitz.

It was announced that the proceeds from next week's luncheon club will go towards the Day Nursery fund It was voted that the members bring their wives and friends to the meeting next week, so that the fund will be doubled for the nursery fund.

President Bert King appointed Rev. Leslie Miller chairman of the social committee for the next month. Miss Katherine Kilander and Judge B. D. Sartin were also named on the committee.

A new member, A. R. Westfall, was introduced to the club. Several guests were present at the meeting.

STOCKS.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Strength and activity of the motor shares, a dozen which broke through to new high levels for the year, was the outstanding feature of today's irregularly higher stock market.

The day's sale again totaled about one and one-half million shares.

Reports of record breaking production and largely increased earnings provided the ground work for the advance in the automobile stocks which was led by the Maxwell issues. Maxwell Motors, which was reported to harbor a large short interest, was run up nearly eight points to a record top at 166 and then slipped back about a point from the high. The B certificates closed 5¼ points higher at 103¾ and Maxwell A and the A certificates advanced 2 and 1¼ points respectively. The B stock had sold as low as 23¼ this year.

Revival of a demand for Mack Trucks sent that issue up over four points to a new peak at 184½. Other automotive issues to top their previous high prices were Peirce Arrow common, preferred and prior preferred, Studebaker, Hudson, Paige Detroit and Eaton Axle, buying of the last named being stimulated by a resumption of dividends on the common stock.

The establishment of a new 1925 record in car loadings for the week ended May 1½ stimulated the demand for the railroad shares with the best advancing recorded by the coalers, Reading climbed 2½ points to a new top at 85⅝ and net gain of a point or more were recorded by Baltimore and Ohio, Chesapeake, Delaware-Hudson, Lackawanna and Missouri-Pacific preferred.

Oils showed moderate strength with a continuance of good buying of oils. Most of the oils improved fractionally.

Moderate improvement also was shown by the Standard industrials. American Can closed more than a point higher at 119⅝ and Baldwin and U. S. Steel showed fractional gains at 114⅝ and 118, respectively.

Call money again held steady at four per cent. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged with business quiet.

Foreign exchange rates were irregular. Demand sterling held fairly steady just under $4.86, but French francs broke below 4 cents to a new low record for the year. Reports persisted that the French government was planning to "peg" francs at 100 to the dollar.

AUSTIN, May 27.—There was a fair demand for tomatoes today in jobbing centers with the Jacksonville offerings moving actively to the trade on a slight premium over offerings. Potatoes were also in good tradedemand and movement, many markets jumping to higher levels under the light offerings of triumphs and other new crop stocks.

AUSTIN, May 27.—Egg receipts: New York, 38,413 cases; Chicago, 26,846 cases; Boston, 8,420, and Philadelphia, 7,634 cases. Storage movement a net gain to coolers of 43,528 cases, making holdings this morning: New York, 1,038,197 cases; Chicago, 1,044,625 cases; Boston, 290,892 cases, and Philadelphia, 280,211 cases.

Dressed poultry receipts: New York, 751,741 pounds; Chicago, 91,702 pounds; Boston, 188,165 pounds, and Philadelphia, 134,496 pounds. Storage movement a net loss to coolers of 246,223 pounds, leaving holdings this morning: New York, 17,957,047 pounds; Chicago, 20,571,821 pounds; Boston, 6,742,737 pounds and Philadelphia 2,763,,194 pounds.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, May 27.—The cotton market today was a quiet affair, about the only spurt of activity taking place right at the close, when there was considerable selling on a report of rather general rains in Texas. After opening a few points down on the disappointing Liverpool cables, the market promptly recovered the initial loss, July trading at 23.51 and October at 22.22. These were the day's highs. After the weekly crop report, the market eased off some and there was a further slight decline to 23.33 and 22.06 for October on the official forecast for unsettled and showery weather in the west. These figures remained the day's lows until just before the close when July broke to 23.27 and October to 22.00. The close was at the bottom, showing net losses for the day of 22 to 24 points.

In the absence of any definite weather developments, the market, following the moderate break on the weekly weather report, which was considered slightly better than expected and the forecast of showers for the west, ruled almost stagnant all day. There was little disposition to enter upon new commitments on either side of the account in advance of the forthcoming government condition report. Even the publication of several more private condition reports failed to excite interest as most of them were in line with most of those issued yesterday.

In the last quarter hour a wave of selling developed, based on reports of rain in Texas and said to be engineered by those seeking to force a reaction and all active months were forced down to new lows for the day.

Four private condition reports were issued during the day, the first making the condition 76.2 and the acreage increase 6 per cent. The second made the condition 74.8 and the acreage increase 4.4. The third made the condition 75.1 and the acreage gain 6.3, while the fourth made the condition 74.9 and the acreage 45,606,000 acres, no per cent of gain being given.

Exports today 6,354 bales, all from Houston.

LONDON SCIENTIST DIES.

LONDON, May 27.—(AP) — Sir William Fletcher Barrett, scholar and scientist, died here today at the age of 81.

tion came of Judge Bryant's determination to order an instructed verdict of guilty in case Mrs. Woods was not able to appear as a witness within a reasonable length of time.

In connection with this indication it was pointed out that the law gives to the defendant in a case the right to withdraw his plea of ready, should a witness necessary for his defense become ill or be unable to testify for any reasonable cause. This fully protects the rights of a defendant and, in effect, results in retrial of the case.

Such a course of proceedure is not granted the state, however, and it was this fact that lends such great importance to Judge Bryant's order if he should do what creditable reports indicate he will. Attorneys here were of the opinion it would be an unprecedented ruling that would go to the high courts of the land for confirmation or rejection.

The assumption is that, with a guilty verdict ordered and a penalty of imprisonment inflicted by the jury, the defense would ask for a new trial and be granted it. That would necessitate complete retrial of the entire case at a future date when all witnesses were able to appear.

A court room packed to overflowing greeted the jury when it filed in a few minutes before 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. As was the case in Wichita Falls at the trial of Mr. Collier, a larger majority of the audience was composed of women. Tuesday night the balcony around the room was braced with heavy timbers to insure its safety. Under the unusual load of humanity it was being forced to carry.

It was nearly 2 o'clock before Judge Bryant mounted the bench and informed the jurors that still another delay was necessary. He hoped by 3:30, he said, to be able to proceed with the case. He indicated Mrs. Woods was apparently in condition at that time to appear in court but that a consultation of physicians was being held and he wished their opinion on Mrs. Woods' health before requiring her to submit to the ordeal of examination on the stand.

Specialists Called.

A specialist was called here from Stamford Tuesday morning to confer with local physicians and Dr. J. C. A. Guest of Wichita Falls, who is here as a witness and who examined Mrs. Woods Tuesday night and again Wednesday morning. It was at this time that, on motion from Mr. Francis of defense counsel, Judge Bryant indicated he would require the state to submit to him a report on the nature of the testimony it expected to elicit from Mrs. Woods, when she did not take the stand provided she was unable at 3:30 in the afternoon to go on. Francis asked that a full and complete statement be required from state's counsel relative to Mrs. Woods' testimony, in order that the court may determine whether or not it was material and thus justify any further delay in the hearing.

With that court was recessed for an hour and a half. The large number of witnesses here from Wichita Falls are finding time hanging heavily on their hands. Attorneys for both sides, as well as Judge Bryant, have expressed regret at the long and tedious delay, but it is conceded by all that under the circumstances nothing can be done but wait.

District Attorney Allred stoutly maintains that his case is incomplete without the evidence Mrs. Woods will offer and he declines to rest before she is heard. The defense, of course, refuses and cannot be expected to proceed with its direct evidence until all direct evidence of the state is completed.

Assuming that Mrs. Woods takes the witness chair within the next 24 hours, the case cannot possibly be completey before the end of the present week. Mr. Francis announced Tuesday that at least two days would be necessary to introduce defense testimony. Preparation of the court's charge will probably require half a day and argument will take a day or more.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, May 27—The cotton markket opened quiet, first trades showing losses of 5 to 7 points owing to lower Liverpool cables. After July traded at 23.46 and October at 22.15 the markket rallied backk to yesterday's closing levels and then became quiet waiting for the weekly weather report. There was little disposition to enter upon new commitments in advance of the government report due June 6.

Thaw Did Not Have Wild Time—Attorney

NEW YORK, May 27.—Some one is taking advantage of Harry K. Thaw's presence on Broadway to press agent himself, according to Bartholomew B. Coyne, Thaw's attorney.

Coyne denied today that Thaw showered tips recklessly in a cabaret Sunday as reported in several newspapers. The attorney said Thaw merely dropped into the place for a little recreation. He declared that while patrons of the cabaret may have had a hectic time, Thaw himself described it as dull.

One investigator of Thaw's cabaret visit reports that only one $100 bill was produced and that to pay the check for $91. When the change came Thaw gave a tip of $2 to the waiter, who was transfixed with indignation, this account says.

Another report says that Fawn Gray, dancer, credited with having been entertained by Thaw in the cabaret, is wearing a bracelet with two rows of diamonds.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE BY SHERIFF.

Notice is hereby given that under and by virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the office of the clerk of the district court in and for Wichita county, Texas, on the 5th day of May, 1925, in cause No. 16634-B, entitled John Hirschi, plaintiff, vs. J. W. Ray et al, defendants, authorizing and commanding me to seize, levy upon and sell the hereinafter described real estate as under execution towit:

Situated in Wichita county Texas, being seven and one-half (7 1-2) acres out of the northwest quarter of J. A. Scott survey number eighteen (18) abstract No. 300, described by metes and bounds as follows:

Beginning at a point which is 1320 feet south and 1612 feet east of the northwest corner of said survey for the northwest corner of this tract; thence south 430.5 feet; thence east 223.5 feet; thence south 430.5 feet; thence east 253.5 feet; thence north 430. feet; thence east 30 feet; thence north 430.5 feet; thence west 507 feet to the place of beginning.

Said sale being made to satisfy a judgment rendered in said cause on the 16th day of March, 1925, in favor of the plaintiff, John Hirschi, against the defendants, J. W. Ray and Mrs. Ada Ray, for the sum of seven thousand, seventy-six and 30-100 ($7,076.30) dollars, with interest from the 16th day of March, 1925, at the rate of eight per cent per annum and costs of eighteen and 5-100 $18.05) dollars, and all accruing costs, and where in vendor's and deed of trust liens on the above described lands were foreclosed—

I will offer for sale and sell at the court house door in the city of Wichita Falls, Wichita county, Texas, for cash, to the highest and best bidder therefor, the above described property on the first Tuesday in June, 1925, the same being the 2nd day of June, 1925, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Witness my hand at Wichita Falls, Wichita county, Texas, this the 6th day of May, 1925.

DAY AND NIGHT PART OF LIFE; ESTES CLAIMS

Bitter And Sweet Also A Part of Life, Baptist Evangelist Says

"The sweet and the bitter, the day and the night, the good and the evil—such is life," stated Dr. R. L. Estes, Shawnee evangelist who is conducting the revival of the Floral Heights Baptist church, at the Wednesday night service.

"It seems pretty hard sometimes to have the day covered up by the folds of darkness," the pastor continued, "but perhaps in the end it is better. We would not know how to appreciate the sweet if the bitter was not there too.

Good and Bad.

"In life there are the good people and the bad people, the evil, I believe, is far less than th good, but aftr all we still are too worldly, still too far from God. It is our duty in this day when we have no ironclad laws to obey, no tyranny to suffer, nothing to do but work and be happy, to accept Christ for himself and prepare ourselves for the final day.

"Perhaps you are like so many others who have gone on before you, think that you are prepared to answer to your deeds here on earth. No matter how good a citizen you are, how respected you are in your community, if th hand of God has not touched you, you are not ready to die, not fit to stand before the Lord. I am like the rest of you. I am not good. I am doing my best, though, I have broken all the laws of God and have sinned like all the rest of you,-and I am hoping that the Lord on the judgment day will remember the good things I have done, though they are only too few, and will allow them to stand in payment for the evils I have tolerated in my life.

Ends With Plea.

The pastor concluded his sermon with a plea to those present to come forward and accept the Lord. "You cannot keep the law—Jesus kept that; you cannot be good—Jesus is good—the Lord has to do the saving, you can't. Come to Jesus. Secret orders may turn you down, society may turn you down, but Jesus will never do so. I come to you with a Saviour who can save to the uttermost. Will you accept Him?"

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crawford of Childress, are in Wichita Falls for a few days. They are here to go through one of the local clinics. Mr. and Mrs. Crawford are registered at the William-Mary hotel.

The Old Home Town

A fire box, pulled at the corner of Thirteenth and Travis street, about 10:30 o'clock last night brought out the trucks from two stations. No blaze was found however.

Mrs. J. H. Mowrey of Childress, is here for a brief visit with friends. Mrs. Mowrey is registered at the William-Mary hotel.

L. R. M. Waggoner left Wednesday afternoon for Houston, where he is transacting business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weddington and little daughter, Francis, of Childress are in Wichita Falls, stopping at the William-Mary hotel. They came down to have their little daughter's tonsils removed at the General hospital.

Lewis Levine, prominent merchant of Childress, was a business visitor in Wichita Falls, Wednesday. Mr. Levin stated he is amazed at the growth of Wichita Falls and believes the city will reach a hundred thousand before 1930. Mr. Levin also spoke of the rapid progress being made by Childress and predicts when the new railroad is built from Childress to the South Plains that it will prove beneficial to both Childress and Wichita Falls.

METHODIST WORKERS ARE ENTERTAINED WEDNESDAY.

THE presidents and workers council of the Wichita Falls district Methodist women were entertained Wednesday in an all-day meeting at the Floral Heights Methodist church. Circle five of the Floral Heights church were hostesses. Representatives from eight or ten different towns were present at the meeting.

The church parlors and long banquet table was artistically decorated in baskets and vases of pretty spring flowers. The place cards and mint cups were used to further the spring decoration scheme.

District Secretary Present.

Mrs. S. E. Trevathan, district secretary, was chairman of the luncheon. After the invocation by Mrs. Frank Richardson, Mrs. Trevathan introduced Mrs. W. B. Gutherie, president of the Missionary society of the Floral Heights church. Mrs. Gutherie made a short address, welcoming the visitors to the luncheon.

This was followed by a talk from Mrs. W. W. Silk. Her subject was "Our Presidents. Who Are they?" Mrs. Louella B. Thompson followed the talk with a song, "Have Thy Own Way Lord," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. John C. Kay.

In the afternoon following the luncheon the meeting was again called to order by Mrs. Trevathan who gave the devotionals, followed by a prayer from Mrs. Lillie Groves of Henrietta. Mesdames S. M. Gose, Jr., and C. R. Eyssen played a violin duet, accompanied by Mrs. Lester Jones. Mrs. John Kay talked on "Bible and Mission Study." Mrs. T. R. Boone discussed "Social Service Work" and Mrs. S. A. Barnes told the members about the plans for the young people's work. Mrs. T. C. Montgomery of Burkburnett told of "Our Children's Work" and Mrs. W. S. Curlee discussed, "The Junior Missionary Society." Mesdames Fred Schemann and J. B. Hopkins, accompanied by Mrs. Kay, sang several numbers. Mrs. W. L. Ellis talked on "The Baby Division." Mrs. S. C. Anthony of Thrift outlined "How the Larger Auxiliaries May Help the Smaller."

Raybon Porter Sings.

Raybon Porter sang "Somebody Knows" and "Even Me." Mrs. J. B. Hopkins accompanied him. Mrs. Bob Gafford of Burkburnett talked on "Mission, Voice, Literature and District Star." Mrs. R. E. Schoolfield took for her subject, "Connectional Work." Mrs. Merle Waggoner sang several numbers and Mrs. W. W. Cook closed the discussions with a paper on "Standard and Excellency and Loving Cup."

At the close of the meeting conference minute books were given to Mesdames S. C. Anthony, Thrift; C. L. Bowers, T. C. Montgomery, Burkburnett; Lillie Groves, E. H. Looking Back on 41 Years Of Service

Tomorrow, May 29, this bank is 41 years old.

It opened for business May 29, 1884, a little bank in a little frontier town.

We are glad to be able to look back on the years with pride; gladder still to look to the future with confidence and with a determination to serve and build still more pridefully.

MEMORIAL DAY

Their Memory Our Heritage!

Midst the aching heart, the trembling lip and the tear-dimmed eye there is intermingled the pride and the love for those we cherish that have passed on before.

That pride and memory is ever green in our hearts and can be best expressed and perpetuated by keeping their last resting places green and blooming on Decoration Day.

We have prepared for this day of days by ordering the choicest of cut flowers, artificial wreaths and metallic and everlasting decorations. Wreaths for distant graves can be sent by the Florists Telegraph Delivery service. Let us have your prompt order two or three days in advance to insure prompt and the best of service.
