By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld raced to the Congo today to personally lead a U. N. task force of Swedish troops into secessionist Katanga Province.

The secretary general had assurance from Katanga's chief of state, Moise Tshombe, that his force of 300 soldiers and two generals would be "received in an orderly manner" when they come Friday.

Tshombe dropped his threat to make war on U. N. troops entering Katanga to replace Belgian forces after the U. N. Security Council pledged they would be used only for police duties and keep hands off his row with the central Congo government of Premier Patrice Lumumba. The Katanga premier tried to put conditions on the U. N. action but Hammarskjöld rejected these and Tshombe acceded.

Hammarskjöld's mission is to speed the withdrawal of the 7,500 Belgian troops who are now patrolling the mineral-rich province. The Belgians said they would remove their soldiers when they could be sure the U. N. forces could protect the 12,000 Belgian civilians still in Katanga.

The secretary general took off for Leopoldville at 12:20 a. m. in a special Boeing 707 jet put at his disposal by President Eisenhower when commercial transport was not readily available. Refueling stops were scheduled in the Azores and at Accra, Ghana, and the plane was due in Leopoldville tonight.

Parents Of Powers Off To Moscow

NEW YORK (AP)—The parents of Francis Gary Powers, American U2 pilot, departed aboard a London-bound plane today for his Moscow trial on espionage charges.

Newsmen at Idlewild Airport asked the father, Oliver W. Powers, of Pound, Va., whether he felt optimistic about the trial which starts Wednesday.

"Not a bit," he said.

His wife, Ida Ford Powers, when asked the same question, replied: "I can't say." She expressed hope she and her husband could see their son before the trial.

Mrs. Powers, a cardiac sufferer, was pale. She was accompanied by Dr. Lewis K. Ingram, her physician. To a question whether she felt well enough to make the trip, she said: "I think I can make it. I'll try."

She wore a blue-press dress and a black shawl.

An airlines representative said Life magazine made the reservations for the Powers and paid for their tickets. They are scheduled to leave London Friday.

Powers, who visited Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Washington Wednesday, said he expected Nixon would "do all he can" for the flier.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers arrived at the airport in a private limousine. They and the doctor were accompanied by Sgt. W. Cury, a friend of the family.

Some Belgian residents, who play an important part in the economic life of Katanga, were reported getting ready to leave, but there was no indication of a mass flight being sparked by Tshombe's decision to admit U. N. forces into the province.

Hammarskjöld delayed his takeoff 24 hours for urgent negotiations with Belgian Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny and a Congolese delegation headed by Vice Premier Antoine Gizenga.

The secretary general reported "complete harmony of views" with the five Congolese ministers, who left for home ahead of him last night. Earlier Katanga had threatened to invade Lumumba with his own army, but he backed down Wednesday.

Fiery Castro Rejects Criticism By Church

By RICHARD VALERIANI
HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro today rejected criticism of his government by the Roman Catholic Church, asserting that those who condemned his revolution "would be capable of crucifying Christ himself again because Christ preached what we are doing."

In a boiling rage, the bearded Prime Minister charged that traitorous clergymen directed by the U. S. Embassy were provoking his revolution with church demonstrations. He also accused the United States of getting Spanish Generalissimo Franco to pressure Spanish priests in Cuba into attacking his regime.

Shouting, waving his arms and giving seeming proof of his announcement that he has completely recovered his health, Castro spoke for 3 1/2 hours to a post-midnight labor rally that roared approval of his attacks on the "out" and "to the execution wall."

It was Castro's first public appearance since Cuban Catholic hierarchy in a pastoral letter Sunday warned that communism is advancing in Cuba. The revolutionary leader was as angry as he has ever been in public.

"He who condemns a revolution like this one betrays Christ," Castro rasped. "They are not only traitors to Christ but to their people and to the fatherland."

"There is no doubt that the American Embassy has thrown into the battle its final pawns," he declared. "There is no doubt that the imperialistic partner of Spanish Generalissimo Franco and his fascism has influenced Franco so that Franco can mobilize against our countrymen as many fascist priests as they can count on in our country."

He issued a veiled warning that his government would retaliate if the church does not halt its criticism.

Castro attacked the "scribes and pharisees who did not raise a voice to protest against the crimes of (Dictator Fulgencio) Batista, the scribes who were photographed with the tyrant baptizing the children of the tyrant."

"Some of the church's highest ranking prelates baptized Batista's children, but at least one leading Catholic prelate, the Most Rev. Enrique Perez Serantes, archbishop of Santiago, once intervened to save Castro's life from a Batista firing squad."

Castro said that his government has been "generous up to the maximum" in allowing the church to continue to operate its own schools and has respected all creeds.

"I would like to see a pastoral letter where the crimes and murders of Batista are condemned," he shouted. He demanded the church also condemn "the crimes of imperialism, the horrors of imperialism, the plans of invasion, of imperialism."

Newsmen at Idlewild Airport asked the father, Oliver W. Powers, of Pound, Va., whether he felt optimistic about the trial which starts Wednesday.

"Not a bit," he said.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic presidential candidate, stood today in the political glare of the current congressional session.

Since the session began Monday, Kennedy and the Republican candidate, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, have kept in the shadows, letting others catch the spotlight.

But, Kennedy pushed forward Wednesday night, fighting for a minimum wage bill.

Liquor Election Petitions Ready

The petitions asking for a liquor election in the City of Snyder were to be issued by County Clerk Dan Cotton this afternoon. Cotton received the petition forms this morning from Austin and estimated he would be through stamping them this afternoon.

An application signed by 12 Snyder voters asking for the petitions to call an election on "the sale of all alcoholic beverages for off-premise consumption only" in the city was presented to Cotton Saturday morning.

This would be the first election to take place involving only the City of Snyder in the history of the county. There have been six county elections previously, with Seccury County going "wet" only once. This occurred in 1892 when only six votes proved to be valid after canvassing, one vote against and five votes for.

The county went "dry" 345 to 451 in 1902 and has voted "dry" in four option elections since. Two proposals for the sale of beer only failed, one in 1934 being defeated 866 to 558 and one in 1950 being defeated 2,479 to 494.

Two election proposals for the sale of all alcoholic beverages were also beaten, 3,212 to 2,264 in 1932 and 3,732 to 1,636 in 1955.

The petitions for a "wet-dry" election to be circulated in Snyder will have to be signed by over 500 legal voters and returned to Cotton as clerk to the commissioners court and then all names will be checked to determine their status as voters or non-voters.

The petition must be returned to Cotton within 30 days.

Speeches Set By President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will make some "non-political" speeches on a flying one-day trip to Philadelphia and New York on Monday, Sept. 26, the White House announced today.

Two appearances scheduled for Philadelphia and one in New York bring to four the total of out-of-town speaking engagements announced for Eisenhower during the political campaign period.

Eisenhower will fly to Philadelphia to make an informal address about 10 a. m. to some 3,000 delegates to the convention of the National Institute of Certified Accountants.

Next, still before noon, Eisenhower will go to the Bellin Hotel in Philadelphia where he will make informal remarks to trustees and guests of the Eisenhower Exchange Fellowship, a privately endowed international exchange group which has headquarters there.

New Attempt To Recover Capsule Set

DISCOVERER XIII was launched at this West Coast Missile facility Wednesday through a fog bank into a perfect polar orbit. On the satellite's 17th trip across the top of the world late this afternoon, a radio signal is set to trigger an operation the Air Force has tried six times without success: recovery of a capsule of instruments from a vehicle in orbit.

Recovering a capsule is a key step to the puzzle of how to send man safely on a roundtrip visit to the inky void of space. Space scientists hope Discoverer XIII is their lucky number. If the capsule is recovered safely, monkeys—and eventually men—will follow, they say.

Here is how scientists plan to retrieve the capsule:

Forward-firing rockets will slow the speed of the capsule as it falls toward the earth in a long, curving trajectory. When it hits the air parachutes will check its fall. Planes trailing trapeze-like snares will try to catch the falling capsule, and ships will wait below in case they miss.

Addison Operation Labeled Fantastic

DALLAS (AP)—Texas legislators called the "fantastic" and "incredible" the "whole families were uprooted, selling all their worldly goods to provide money for the cause." Children disappeared, sisters turned against sisters, followers lived in communes, daughter turned against mother, the faithful lived for weeks on deer meat and cabbage, and a weird religion became a way of life, said the report.

The 1,500-word report issued Wednesday covered the operations of John Milton Addison, a 36-year-old promoter who has had of borrowing more than $1,250,000 from persons in 38 states to develop his mining interests.

The Texas House General Investigating Committee recommended that provisions of the Texas Securities Act be amended to increase the penalty for violators to a maximum of 10 years in prison.

Addison is presently charged in a 24-count federal criminal indictment with fraud and conspiracy and he faces two state charges of theft and securities violations. He has also been adjudged bankrupt.

The report was released by Rep. Tom Jarrard of Dallas, a committee member, and committee counsel David Witts of Dallas.

"From the witness chair came statements about the world's largest uranium mine, the world's richest nickel deposit, the 'Benyon upgrade' which somehow mesmerized low grade ore into a daily net profit of $86,000, 'timber resources so valuable they would earn a million dollars a year forever,' the 'Dolly O' Hotel' (a projected resort near Denver, Colo.)

Matches Save Railroad Man

GARSWOOD, England (AP)—A brakeman lay injured and helpless on a main railroad line Wednesday night with a thundering freight train minutes away. He managed to strike matches and the light of the tiny flames saved his life.

Brakeman Reg Ellis, 55, had fallen backward onto the track from a slow moving train and fractured his leg.

After a few cries for help, he thought of a half-empty box of matches in his pocket. He began striking them and tossing the little specks of light into the air.

The fireman of a train moving on the adjoining track saw the strange flares. The train was stopped.

Titan Roars 5,000 Miles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—After two failures, the Air Force has successfully fired the first operational prototype of the Titan intercontinental range missile.

The giant 86-foot Titan covered a 5,000-mile course Wednesday and passed a significant milestone in its development program. The Air Force timetable calls for the missile to be operational next year.

An announcement said the missile achieved all flight test objectives in striking a pre-selected target zone off the South Atlantic island of Ascension. A data capsule carrying performance recording instruments was recovered from the nose cone.

The first of 14 Titan squadrons expected to be operational at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo., by mid-1961. Each squadron will have nine missiles.

Young Priest Is Indicted

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—A Hidalgo County grand jury Wednesday indicted a Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. John B. Feit, 27, on a charge of assault with intent to rape.

Dist. Atty. R. L. Lattimore filed a charge naming Father Feit last week on a complaint signed by Miss Maria America Guerra, 20, a student at Pan American College.

The district attorney said the girl told him a man seized her March 2 as she knelt in prayer in Sacred Heart Catholic Church. She bit his finger as they struggled, she said, and the man fled.

Sheriff's officers have been unable to find Father Feit. Fred Seaman, told Lattimore he was representing the priest and would deliver him to authorities in "about three weeks."

Red Chinese Group Leaves Japan Meet

TOKYO (AP)—A 15-man Communist Chinese delegation left for home today after two weeks in Japan attending meetings of the Sohyo Labor Federation and the Sixth World Conference Against Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs.

The Reds' Japanese hosts had asked the government of Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda to allow the Chinese another two weeks in Japan to tour the country. The government refused despite a warning from Peiping that this would be considered a test of the "sincerity" of Ikeda's new regime in dealing with Red China.

El Paso Streeter Line Is Going Out

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—The last international streeter line in North America appears headed for the scrap heap.

El Paso City Lines Co. has received permission to replace the streeter line between El Paso and Juarez, Mexico, with trolley buses or buses.

The Juarez City Planning Commission approved the removal of the streeter Wednesday, provided the company's route along 16th of September Avenue in downtown Juarez be abandoned.

No date was set for abandonment.

"SHOOT 'EM UP"—Sandra Hill, 16, appears to really be "shooting up" Jerry Dickerson, 19, in frue western style against a backdrop of tall trees and sky in Dallas. The pair aren't suspended in air and the picture isn't a composite. Actually they are trampoline artists going through their workout, clad in western garb for the benefit of the photographers. Laos Rebels Say Goal Is Attained

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—The armed forces declared themselves ready to serve the country, religion, monarchy and constitution and cooperate with the revolutionary movement.

The rebels' 40-member executive committee will govern "on a temporary basis," the communique said, adding that the rebellion "was not promoted by any political group or party but rather to fulfill the people's desire."

"The movement has received no material or moral help from any foreign power whatsoever but was created thanks to the spirit of sacrifice of the committee itself," it said.

The rebel claim that all army officers were cooperating was contradicted by reports that high ranking officers were still loyal to the government of Premier Tiao Samsonth and by an unconfirmed report that the minister of defense, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, was planning to mount a resistance movement against the rebels.

Man Sentenced On Check Count Here

Tommy Earl Lindsey of Snyder pleaded guilty in district court this morning to a charge of forging a check and was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary.

District Attorney Wayland Holt stated that Lindsey has another charge pending in district court.

He was sentenced earlier this week in county court to 90 days in jail for swindling with a worthless check. District Judge Sterling Williams allowed the two sentences to begin and run concurrently.

Hollywood Director Frank Lloyd Dies

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Frank Lloyd, 73, one of Hollywood's best movie directors and winner of three Oscars died Wednesday at St. John's Hospital. He had been ill with heart and lung ailments many months.

His academy awards were for directing "Divine Lady" in 1929, "Cavalcade" in 1933 and "Mutiny On The Bounty" in 1936.

Lloyd was born in Glasgow, came to Hollywood in 1913. His widow, writer Virginia Kellogg, survives him.

Antarctica Treaty Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has ratified a treaty with the Soviet Union and 10 other nations designating the icy vastness of Antarctica as a field for scientific exploration.

Approval was voted 66-21 late Wednesday, although Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, protested that the pact posed a grave and direct threat to American security.

Proponents countered that the treaty's inspection provisions not only would prevent such threats, but might set a pattern for cooperation elsewhere.

The vote margin was eight above the two-thirds needed for treaty ratification.

The pact pledges the 12 nations to peaceful pursuits in Antarctica and forbids use of the continent for military activities of any kind. It also bans nuclear explosions and the dumping of radioactive waste there pending the conclusion of international agreements.

Treaty nations include the United Kingdom, Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Chile, France, Japan, New Zealand, Norway and South Africa.

West Germans Want New Naval Weapons

BONN, Germany (AP)—The official publication of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government urges that West German naval units be equipped with the most modern weapons capable of firing conventional and nuclear rockets.

The government bulletin said Wednesday that NATO naval forces in the Baltic Sea lack the minimum defensive power to keep the Soviets from breaking out into the Atlantic in case of war.

Nazi Student Is Disciplined

BERLIN (AP)—A student accused of trying to revive nazism has been ordered to take a special one-year course in history and pass a strict test on it before he can continue his studies at West Berlin's Technical University.

The university's disciplinary body prescribed the course Wednesday for Wilderich Heising, one of the leaders of the Nationalist Student Federation, which is banned by city authorities for Nazi activity.

Cool Cutie Steals Show

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A cool cutie from Iceland is stealing the show at the midway point of the International Beauty Congress.

Blonde, blue-eyed Sigridur Gerisdofur, 22, has walked off with three honors in preliminary judging of the 52 beauties from all over the world. Her latest triumph was winning the speech honors Wednesday night with a monologue ending, "God Bless America."

The language and philosophy student from the University of Iceland also has taken a trophy in

Quick Tricks For Summer Cooking

Summer potlucks "got you down"? Too hot to cook? Too little time to prepare appetizing meals? Then you will appreciate a pantry helper such as the packaged herb-seasoned stuffing. With a package of the prepared stuffing on hand, leftovers can be turned into savory and satisfying dishes. Try these suggestions for adding texture and flavor to tired meats and bland dishes.

CREAMED SURPRISES: Toss ½ bag herb-seasoned stuffing with 4 tablespoons melted butter. Brown in shallow pan in medium oven 10 minutes. Use as a crisp base for individual servings of creamed chicken, eggs or vegetables.

STUFFED FRANKS: To ½ bag herb-seasoned prepared stuffing, add ¼ cup finely chopped celery and enough water to moisten slightly. Split 8 frankfurters with mustard. Press stuffing into slits and bake 20 minutes in moderate oven.

CRUNCHY MACARONI: When making macaroni and cheese, butter bottom and halfway up sides of dish. Dust with crumbs from package of herb-seasoned stuffing. Also add crumbs to top layer of macaroni and cheese before sprinkling with paprika.

Speed's The Secret For Tasty Corn

"Bring the water back to boil."

All lovers of corn on the cob and all discerning cooks, respect the above rule. They know that quick boiling makes the difference between tender, succulent sweet corn and tough, flavorless ears. Why is the word "quickly" always stressed by experts in cooking fresh corn?

The answer comes from food authorities. They point out that when a large amount of cold food is added to a pot of boiling water the temperature of the water drops considerably. When the heat under the utensil does not respond quickly to the temperature change, the food just soaks in hot water. This dilutes the flavor, toughens protein and extracts juices. The same applies to cooking of potatoes, shrimp, lobster and frozen vegetables.

What can a cook do to avoid such a catastrophe?

We suggest using the top burner heat control on the range. That burner has a sensing element (a thermostat) that "takes the temperature" of the food in the utensil. When there is a sudden drop (as in the case of adding several ears of fresh corn) the thermostat instantly signals for more heat. You can actually see the flame rise quickly to compensate for the heat loss.

This "burner with the brain" has temperature designations on the control. When cooking corn it is best to set the temperature at 225 or 250 degrees. This setting insures fast boiling and allows the cook to time the cooking more accurately.

The experts recommend the following directions for cooking corn: Husk the corn and remove the silk.

Drop the ears into a large saucepan with a few inches of boiling water. Cover the pan and quickly bring the water back to boiling.

Cook 5 to 6 minutes. Corn is done when the milk is barely set and the kernels will slip away from the hull when pricked with a fork.

If you like to cook corn in a waterless way, we recommend this method: Preheat the oven to 400 degrees. Place each ear on a square of aluminum foil and add a pat of butter or margarine. Wrap securely by making a double lengthwise fold on top of the ears. Turn the ends up and fold smooth against the corn.

Roast for 20 to 25 minutes in the oven. It is not necessary to turn the ears (which is important when cooking over an open fire). Heat is much more evenly distributed in the insulated oven.

Sister's Banana Cake

Ingredients: 3 cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup butter or margarine, 1½ cups sugar, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 1 cup mashed ripe banana, 2 tablespoons milk, 2-3 cup chopped walnuts, juice of 1 orange.

Method: Sift the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Cream butter and 1 cup sugar with vanilla and orange rind; beat in eggs thoroughly one at a time. Stir in flour mixture alternately with banana and milk. Fold in nuts. Turn into buttered pan 8 by 8 by 2 inches. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 40 minutes. Mix remaining ½ cup sugar and orange juice; pour over cake in pan as soon as it comes from oven. Cool in pan on rack; loosen edges and turn out.

Designs Of The Times Theme For Tonights Fashion Show At School Auditorium

Tonight's the night when about 35 models will parade across the High School auditorium stage to show the people of this community the latest in fall fashions. Back-to-school costumes, football attire, Halloween, and etc. will be carried out in five settings of the show. Designs of the Times will be carried out in this special show presented by the Parent-Teachers Association. A mysterious fortune teller, will chant the narrations as he peers into his illuminated crystal ball. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Blueberry Sauce

INGREDIENTS: 1 to 1 ½ cups blueberries, ½ cup water, 1-3 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cornstarch, teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

METHOD: In a small saucepan bring ½ cup blueberries and water to a boil; simmer 3 minutes. Stir together sugar, cornstarch and salt; stir into hot berries. Cook and stir constantly until thickened and clear; boil 1 minute. Add remaining blueberries and simmer a few minutes. Stir in butter and lemon juice. Serve warm or cold but do not refrigerate. Makes 1 ½ to 1. cups sauce.

Libertating The Back Yard

Gas disposers might well be called emancipators. They eliminate unsightly garbage cans and trash burners from the back yard. The new disposers are smokeless and odorless and many new economies now can be seen. Removal of food waste and rubbish.

Biscuit goodness: Roll out rich biscuit dough and sprinkle with nippy grated cheddar cheese; roll up as you would sponge cake for jelly roll. Slice and bake.

Physicals Are Slated For HS Gridders

Tiger Coach John Conley announced today that team physicals for both varsity and B team prospects will be administered tomorrow at the field house.

All members of both of the above teams are to meet there at 12:30 tomorrow afternoon for that purpose.

Workouts for these teams will begin Monday morning at the high school practice field.

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

In some sports you "rate" teams such as in football. Others you "rank." Some, such as horse racing, have a "favorite's role."

Tennis? Inexplicable, but we're prone to "seed."

Somewhat of an unusual designation, and applicable almost exclusively to the tennis-playing world, this seeding. Roughly, what it entails is the rating of all the participants in a given tournament and the placing of the top players in separate brackets of play so that should they come through "on schedule" they will eventually meet in the finals.

Good system, especially from the spectator standpoint, as the fans can always look forward to a showdown battle as the climax of the tournament.

Of course, seeds of injustice and prejudice sometimes accompany this seeding process. More times than not they are unintentional, but they nevertheless have been known to recur. For this reason the local net tournney which is slated to begin tonight has been set up strictly on a "draw from the hat" basis, with no planned pairings being among them.

An exceptionally fine array of talent will be on hand for the meet, as all indications. It ought to be a "corker" in every respect.

Now for a few inconclusive, haphazard, and unofficial "seedings" as seen from this corner of the court.

Whether he realizes it or not, Uncle Sam has played a big hand in the process this time, in that the top-seeded performer in the men's division of play is at present stationed in Korea with the army. His name is Eddie Strayhorn, and he's probably the finest racket wielder to ever come out of Snyder.

Los Angeles moved into a tie for third place with the Braves by its victory over Milwaukee. Ed Matthews hit his 25th home run in the fourth inning and Frank Howard hit one with a man aboard for the Dodgers in the fifth.

Stan Williams got the victory.

Cards Hotter Than Pistol; Eyeing Bues

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The sizzling St. Louis Cards, just five games off the National League pace, clash with the front-running Pittsburgh Pirates tonight in the first of a five-game series.

The Cards have won 12 of their last 14 outings and are considered by some as the main threat to Pittsburgh's bid for its first pennant since 1927.

The Pirates, meanwhile, are riding high on a seven-game winning streak and have copped eight of their last nine contests.

"As I've said before and I'll say always, we're just going to play one at a time," said the cautious Danny Murtagh, manager of the Pirates.

"Bob Friend goes tonight, and George Will buris tomorrow. After that we'll just see what happens. One thing I can say though, I sure hope the good pitching we've been getting of late keeps up."

Perkins scored an impressive seventh-round technical knockout over Joey Lopez of Sacramento, Calif., Wednesday night to justify his National Boxing Assn. ranking as the No. 4 contender.

Perkins caught his opponent with a right at the start of the seventh in the nationally televised bout from Chicago Stadium. Lopez was slammed against the ropes by combination blasts and was unable to escape the flogging.

McDaniel Key Cog In Redbird Surge

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals are yapping at the heels of the high-flying Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League, and a tall, rawboned relief pitcher has a lot to do with it.

His name is Lindy McDaniel, and he's rapidly becoming the Joe Page of the circuit. Joe Page was a New York Yankee reliever who made the ball pen practically a parlor a dozen years ago, bringing the erstwhile unused denizens into the public eye.

McDaniel who came up from Hollis, Okla., won't get an immediate success, and two years ago he was optioned to Omaha in the American Assn. for a spell. He came back later in the season, finishing with a 14-1 record.

This year he is just like money in the bank for the pennant-contending St. Louis club.

Wednesday he won his 10th game in 13 decisions, pitching the 8th and 9th innings in the Cards' 6-5 victory over the Phillies in 10 innings. He was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the 10th when the Cards scored the winning run.

In other National League games Los Angeles defeated Milwaukee, 3-2; Pittsburgh beat Chicago 3-1 and Cincinnati downed San Francisco 5-2.

In the American League New York blanked Chicago 6-0, Boston defeated Detroit 4-2, Baltimore Cleveland 6-1 and Kansas City smothered Washington, 13-1.

Losing pitcher Dick Farrell walked in the winning run as the Cardinals won their 12th game of their last 14. Bill White's three-run home run in the four-run fourth inning was the big blow.

The Phillies loaded the bases in the 10th, but couldn't squeeze in a run.

The Pirates, with Vernon Law pitching a neat four-hitter for his 16th decision, defeated the Cubs, 3-1. It was the seventh straight for Pittsburgh.

Los Angeles moved into a tie for third place with the Braves by its victory over Milwaukee. Ed Matthews hit his 25th home run in the fourth inning and Frank Howard hit one with a man aboard for the Dodgers in the fifth.

Stan Williams got the victory.

All-Stars Hoping To Spring Upset

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO (AP)—Today was the quiet before the football storm in Soldier Field where the College All-Stars meet the heavily favored Baltimore Colts Friday night.

The champion Colts of the National Football League are rated three of the nation's top college seniors in 1959.

All-Star Coach Otto Graham, trying for his second victory in three years at the collegiate helm, pronounced his squad in good shape. However, lost earlier because of injuries were such standouts as halfback "Jim" Montgomery of Arkansas and Don Perkins of New Mexico and guard Roger Davis of Syracuse.

If the All-Star defensive platoon can somehow slow down the Johnny Unitas-keyed Colt attack, the collegians conceivably could spring an upset such as they did against the Detroit Lions in Graham's All-Star debut in 1958.

The All-Stars have a trio of fine passing quarterbacks in Don Meredith of Southern Methodist, George Izo of Notre Dame and Pete Hall of Marquette. They also have a flock of capable receivers, such as end Don Ellersted and Gail Cogdill of Washington State, Monty Stickles of Notre Dame and Hugh McGinnis of Mississippi Southern.

They also have backfield speed which may be utilized in the type of quick passing game that might catch the big pros flatfooted. Dick Bass of College of Pacific, Walter Beach of Central Michigan, Prentice Gaunt of Oklahoma, Ed Kopye of Cincinnati and Frank Mestnik of Marquette are all lads who can ramble with the ball.

Put The Blame On Bill, Boys

CHICAGO (AP)—President Bill Veeck of the Chicago White Sox shouldered the full blame for Wednesday's costly 6-0 loss to the New York Yankees, which dropped his club into third place.

Veeck said he had failed to produce bench strength in the catching department. Regular catcher Sherm Lollar missed the three-game series with the Yankees because of a knee injury, leaving the entire catching burden on Joe Ginsberg.

In the seventh inning, Manager Al Lopez was unable to lift Ginsberg for a pinch hitter against lefty Bobby Shantz. The bases were filled when Shantz replaced Eli Grba and faced left-handed hitting Ginsberg. Ginsberg struck out.

"It never would have happened if I had provided Lopez with another catcher," said Veeck.

Ted Loses Two; Passes Up Ott

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ted Williams has won his race with age to claim a baseball bonus—home run No. 312 and 313 for third place in the major league rankings.

Just a few days away from his 42nd birthday, the Boston Red Sox slugger passed the late Mel Ott's 511 total Wednesday night with a two-homer salute to an almost incredible story of stamina and conditioning.

Are baseball's keenest eyes now focused on runnerup Jimmy Fox's 534 in the home run derby? Williams says no. He has no wavered from his statement, made after hitting his 500th here earlier this season, that 1960 marks the end of his playing days.

Ten cannot get the 22 homers needed to tie Fox by the end of the current campaign. Number nine has indicated to intimate friends he goes through agonies to get in shape and stay there.

Two services hitches plus injuries have prevented Williams from having a chance at the lifetime mark of 714 homers hung up by Babe Ruth. No one is more aware of the fact than Williams who, because of his oft-interrupted career—never set a home run goal for himself beyond the 500.

It was a tired Williams—complaining of a return of the neck pains which dogged him last season and this spring—who said before Wednesday night's game "I better hurry up and get the 512th before I collapse."

As the Sox beat Cleveland 4-1 Williams hammered No. 312 with the bases empty in the fifth inning off loser Barry Lutzman. He tagged Johnny Klippstein for another in the ninth with a mate aboard.

The Phobos were Greek goddesses of destiny, charged with spinning the threads of fate determining its length and finally cutting it.

'Wild Bull Of The Pampas' Was Man Of Unusal Charm

BY INEZ ROBB
It was with real regret that I read of the death of Luis Angel Firpo, the "Wild Bull of the Pampas," at his home in Buenos Aires where, just 14 years before, I had talked and had tea with him. I remember him as a big man, full of charm, instinctive kindness and gentle manners, presiding inconspicuously enough — behind a massive silver tea service.

But what I shall always remember best about him, and many of my conferees will never let me forget, was the strange conduct he imposed when he granted my request for an interview.
When I went to Buenos Aires in the summer of '46, I carried with me a letter and a stack of neckties for Firpo from Damon Runyon, who had initially nicknamed him the "Wild Bull of the Pampas." In those days when I traveled, I was always happily laden with neckties for Damon's friends, who ranged from Lord Beaverbrook to ambassadors.
Firpo was devoted to Damon; any friend of the latter was a friend of the Angel. His case was my case. Only, he called the Buenos Aires office of my employer and requested that when I came to interview him, I be accompanied by a chaperone. It was too good to keep. Even at cable rates, Buenos Aires wired New York the condition. It was the best joke in the factory for months.
The long and the short of it is that I went to see Firpo well chaperoned by an interpreter and a duenna, with the office in hysterics and predicting that it would be the first time a chaperone ever turned up on an expense account. (It was.) We went to Firpo's substantial town house, in a fashionable residential area, and there he apologized that his wife was absent, visiting friends and relatives in Uruguay.

A servant staggered in under the weight of the tea service—Firpo presided and poured as if he were blood brother to Mrs. Vanderbilt. There was no stumblum or broken-down sparring partner, but a rich and substantial citizen owning a handsome town house and four big estates, or cattle ranches, where he raised both beef cattle and blooded "boots."

For an Argentine prize fighter to move up into the proud estancia class was comparable to Gene Tunney's espousal of Shakespeare and a Standard Oil heiress. Firpo said 90 percent of the money that had enabled him to become a substantial landowner and cattle raiser was earned in the United States. No wonder he loved Uncle Sam, and he did.

He had a fantastic memory for New York places and persons. But the two men about whom he asked the most questions were his favorite Americans and good friends, Damon and Jack Dempsey. He and Jack corresponded. He repeatedly promised to come to New York to visit the man whom he had knocked out of the ring in one of prize-fighting's most dramatic moments 37 years ago.
I never saw Firpo except that one afternoon, and I thought him delightful. If I had met him under different circumstances, I would instantly have classified him as an opulent wind-burned Texas rancher. He was a tremendous man, standing six feet four inches. He then weighed 245 pounds, 30 more than his average ring weight when he fought in this country. But he did not look fat and there was no sign of paunch or bay window.

Firpo was far more interested in beef cattle than the current state of prize fighting. In 1946, he had not seen a fight in three years. Although he is unknown to a generation of fight fans, he and Dempsey, too, are certain of immortality. The late George Wesley Bellows, one of this country's greatest contemporary artists, produced a lithograph of the extraordinary moment when Firpo sent Dempsey head-over-teacup through the ropes.

It is a singular fragment of action caught on paper, a magnificent lithograph that will preserve Firpo and Dempsey in their prime as long as men treasure art, and simply titled "Dempsey and Firpo."

Nixon Using Own Campaign Formula

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP). — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's presidential campaign is following a coolly deliberate line he worked out for himself months ago.
It can be summed up like this: He's going to play up Nixon, not the Republican party.
As long ago as last April acquaintances — meaning people he talked to — said he would try to run as an individual if he got the Republican nomination.
He got it. So what did he do? A number of newsmen who made the trip to Hawaii with him last week, watching him campaign and talking with him, reported.
The Republicans who trooped along with him wherever he went paraded the Republican banner.

How To Ire Clerk In A Supermarket

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP). — Remarks that a supermarket clerk gets tired of hearing:

"Do you have a health food department for dogs? The doctor has put our pooch on a salt-free diet."

"Hey, Jack, I wheeled all the way to the beer cooler and back in 47 seconds and from a standing start. Is that a track record?"

"The boss and his wife were supposed to come for dinner last night but they didn't show. Can you take back this 12-pound rib roast? We don't eat meat that expensive ourselves."

"Why is it your hamburger always looks red on top but not at the bottom?"

"You seem to stock everything except B-grade movies. When are you going to put them in?"

"I want that woman arrested. Just because I beat her to the last jar of pickled relish, she deliberately ran me down with her shopping cart."

"Hey, Jack, I just saw a bad head-on crash over by the stack of canned peaches. Better call an ambulance."

"Twenty-three dollars and 46 cents? Your machine must be broke. I figured it in my head at $23.44. You better add 'em up again."

"Yeah, get the buns and baked beans here, Mabel, and we'll get the frankfurters at that new supermarket 10 miles down the road. They're a penny a pound cheaper there."

"We just got back from our honeymoon, and my husband says he wants a nice home-cooked meal. Can you lend me an ice-pick and a can opener?"

"I don't know when your junior climbed into your frozen food compartment, but his teeth are chattering and he looks kinda blue. Don't you have any place where I can thaw him out in a hurry?"

"I own the drugstore up the block. Now that you people are selling aspirin, I don't suppose you'd mind if I put in a grocery counter."

"I was just standing by that big stack of canned grapefruit when this woman comes along and, naturally, being a woman, she has to pull out the bottom can. No, I don't want a bandage — I want a lawyer."
