wholly disapprove of what you say, but I will defend unto death your right to say it."—Voltaire.

A Meeting? Was Held!!

Monday night in the District Courtroom of the Courthouse a meeting was held... one at which it was hoped that the merchants and professional men of the city of Silvertown would join together in an effort to organize some sort of an active club for the betterment of the town and the people of its trade territory.

The thirty-five or forty merchants and professional men of this town interested men attended the meeting. Could it be said of these men, who did not attend, that they are perfectly satisfied with their town, with themselves and their business running as it is... hoping for anything better? No! Such a question could not be asked in the affirmative. Our merchants are interested but some of them just forgot that such a meeting was to be held. Others were busy on business while some had sickness in their families and did not attend.

Monday night absolutely nothing was accomplished toward the organization of an active club for this city. There will never be anything accomplished until the cooperation of all the merchants is fully secured.

Monday night there will be another meeting held in the District Courtroom of the Courthouse at 8:00 p.m. for the same purpose as the last one was held. Every merchant and professional man in this city should show enough civility and incentive to be present at this meeting.

Will you be there?

How Nice It Would Be....

Some of the things that is apt to make a small town outstanding in the eyes of "passers-by" is cleanliness—clean streets, alleys, lawns, and vacant lots. These things reflect initiative and progressiveness on the part of the town's people and its leaders. Some of the vacant lots in Silvertown have weeds and grass that are very waist high and some of the sidewalks are almost impassable to grass, weeds and enormous sunflowers. Is this reminiscent of a town's progressiveness?

Commendation, on the part of the city of Silvertown, should be extended to Theron Crass this week for his efforts in the "slaying" of weeds and grass, both around his place of business and the nearby vacant lots... lots that did not belong to him. In Mr. Crass' one-man campaign against weeds he engaged the use of a mower from some fellow farmer in the country, a tractor from some other source and paid men to do the work. This is truly a deed that is worthy of a commendation.

How nice it would be if all the merchants and people of our town did do just as Mr. Crass has done. How nice it would be if this deed, in some way, be brought up at the next meeting of the City Council. Maybe the entire town could be made to look as clean as the lots around the Crass Implement Company.

Persons named Head of County Good Roads

B. Persons, prominent Briscoe county good roads advocate, has been chosen chairman of the county good roads amendment campaign committee, as announced this week by E. Simons, executive president of the Texas Good roads association.

Appearing on the ballot in the November 5th General election Amendment number three, the GOOD ROADS Constitutions amendment guarantees the availability of motor vehicle registration fees and gasoline taxes exclusively for road purposes, with the exception of one-fourth of gas tax which will continue to be allotted to the available free road fund.

His deep interest in better and improved highways and farm-to-market roads was the primary factor in his selection as head of the Briscoe county campaign," Simons said.

Simons also pointed out that the Texas Safety association, Texas Farm Bureau Federation, the board of education and many other state organizations have adopted resolutions strongly endorsing the amendment.

"With so many outstanding organizations backing the amendment," Simons continued, "we feel that every citizen in Briscoe county should be fully informed of the provisions of the measure and the benefits they will derive from it. For this reason, we have selected Persons to head the county good roads committee and direct a vigorous educational campaign to point out the merits of this amendment." Chief purpose of this proposal, as emphasized by the Good roads association executive vice-president, is to assure the ultimate construction of rural mail school bus routes, and all-weather farm-to-market roads. So, it will insure improvement, maintenance and policing of all roads and urban traffic-ways.

New Combine Milo Shows Possibility Of Good Production

A new selection of combine milo, known as No. 7078 is showing good production possibilities in Taylor county, reports county agricultural agent, Elmo V. Cook.

No. 7078 was developed by the Lubbock Experiment station, and two Taylor county farmers, Holland Teaff of Merkel and Billie McCasland, Eradshaw, believe that the new selection may out-produce Martin's combine milo, which is the most popular combine grain sorghum in Taylor county.

McCasland obtained a small quantity of pure line seed from the Lubbock Experiment station two years ago. He has multiplied the supply and has distributed quantities of the seed over a large portion of the county, where the crop is showing much promise.

General Gouraud's Death Revives Legion Memories

PARIS, France—The death of General Henri Gouraud, 78-year-old, one-armed hero of World War I, brought a rush of memories to many leaders and members of The American Legion here and in America.

National Commander John Stelle appointed James L. McCann, national executive committeeman of the Department of France, to represent The American Legion at General Gouraud's funeral.

As commander of the 4th French Army, General Gouraud led several American divisions in World War I, including the 36th and the famous 42nd Rainbow divisions. As military governor of Paris, General Gouraud was the guest of the 12th national convention of The American Legion in Boston, Mass., October 6 to 9, 1930. At that time he presented the Gouraud Membership Trophy to The American Legion, awarded annually to the department which first exceeds its national enrollment quota each year. It is now held by the Department of North Carolina. General Gouraud also attended the 1923 and 1929 reunions of Rainbow Division veterans in the United States.

"There are still 125,000 Texas men in service. We must see to it they have the 'home away from home' that the USO provides," Governor Coke Stevenson, General Chairman, Texas USO Campaign Committee.

Blindness Doesn't Hinder Lubbock Boy's Education

Randolph Greene, 23-year-old Lubbock war veteran who was almost totally blinded when a land mine exploded in his face in the Dutch East Indies, is a freshman student at Texas Technological college.

His wife will read his lessons to him and he will write assignments on a typewriter. Choosing poultry husbandry as his major, he plans to operate his own chicken farm after graduation.

SWING OF THE SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

Poultry and eggs, cotton and some grains went up last week, livestock remained steady to firm, but some vegetables showed weaker prices, reported USDA's Production and Marketing Administration.

Rains hampered grain shipments last week and helped improve prices. Oats, barley and corn gained one to three cents a bushel. Wheat held steady. Sorghums lost around two cents a hundred early in the week but later regained these losses.

Cotton advanced two to three dollars a bale last week. Spot market activity increased. Sales in the 10 spot markets totaled 129,800 bales compared with 92,300 bales the week before and 103,600 bales for the corresponding week last year.

Hog receipts totaled 6375 head at southwest markets this past week compared with 5525 head the previous week. Hungry demand quickly cleared all classes and weights at ceiling prices. Stocker and feeder pigs were generally scarce and good kinds brought $17 to $18 per hundred.

Sheep and lamb receipts were heavy with ewes at most southwest markets last week. Prices were up 25 to 50 cents per hundred with most medium to choice ewes bringing $7.25 to $8.25. Trading was active and prices steady to strong for light supplies of spring lambs. San Antonio quoted medium spring lambs $14.50 per hundred. Medium and good spring lambs brought $14 to $16. Fort Worth and $16 to $17.25. Denver, Oklahoma City moved good and choice springers at $17 to $17.50.

More cattle arrived at southwest markets last week than the

Final USO Drive To Be Headed By Tulia Man

Allen Heard, of Tulia, has accepted the appointment by Governor Coke R. Stevenson, general chairman for the next and final Texas USO drive, to lead Briscoe, Hall, Swisher and Floyd counties in the coming campaign it was announced this week.

Texas, with a quota of $800,000 in the "See-It-Through" campaign which will continue USO activities through 1947, has been divided into six regions and 66 districts. Robert L. Anderson, of Vernon, is chairman of the Northwest Texas region, who will work with Mr. Heard and the county chairmen in this district.

Col. Carl L. Phinney, president of the 36th Division association and State campaign chairman, commenting on the appointment of the new district officer, said: "We need the leadership of men like Mr. Heard to help Texas go over the top in this final USO drive."

"General Jonathan Wainwright has pledged his support in the Texas campaign, saying that many of the USO services which helped immeasurably in keeping morale of our armed forces at a high level during the war should be continued through the present difficult transition period.

"We owe an inestimable debt to our Purple Heart veterans. The least we can do is continue the USO hospital service activities which mean so much to those still under treatment for war injuries," said Colonel Phinney.

"Nor can we forget the armies of occupation, the men still overseas striving to maintain the hard-won peace, or the young boys now in training. These men need more than ever a 'home away from home'."

"General Eisenhower has said, 'We want as much of USO as we can get as long as we can get it.' Now every Texan has the privilege of seeing it through."

Health Officers Say Pyorrhea is Curable Disease

Contrary to the popular belief that pyorrhea is incurable, this is only true in the most advanced cases. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State health officer, advises those persons who even suspect the presence of pyorrhea to take time by the forelock and seek an early diagnosis from their dentist so that proper treatment can be instituted while the disease is still curable.

"Early detection and proper treatment of pyorrhea represent the formula for a successful cure. This means that the dentist must have an opportunity to discover the presence of the disease at the earliest possible moment since the symptoms are often so vague that the patient is unaware of its existence," Dr. Cox said. "Regular visits to the family dentist are therefore extremely important."

The treatment of pyorrhea is not an involved procedure. In the average early case one of the main therapeutic features is the proper hygienic care of teeth and gums as outlined by any reputable dentist. Carelessness regarding mouth hygiene is usually the basic cause for the condition.

The family dentist can usually remove the cause of the trouble, Dr. Cox said, and when this has been done, intelligent routine home-care of the mouth by the patient will effect a cure in the majority of early cases.

Concern regarding pyorrhea should not be based upon the misguided notion of its incurability, according to the State health officer, but rather that it be discovered by the dentist when still in a curable stage.

Mrs. Ida Claunch of Oklahoma City, returned to her home Monday, after an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. Luther McJimesey.

Fire Threatens You . . .

As part of its intensified fire prevention efforts in 1946—an intensification made necessary by the fact that fire loss is now at record levels—the National Board of Fire Underwriters is distributing an enormous number of pamphlets and posters pointing to the menace of fire, and showing ways in which fire can be prevented.

These publications go to fire insurance agents, adjusters, fire chiefs, fire prevention organizations, parent-teachers clubs and similar groups and are displayed and redistributed through them. Every American, unless he is a hermit in the hills, will have a chance to read them. And every American, if he is to do his part to control a destroyer which takes 10,000 lives a year, should give them his strict attention.

This year, Fire Prevention Week, which has been an annual event since it was first initiated by President Wilson, is to be observed from October 6 to 12. During that week, everything humanly possible will be done to dramatize the vital cause of fire prevention. But a week of such work isn't enough—It's only a starting point. The experts can show you the dangers and the means of ridding your home and business of them. Then it's up to you. Make every week fire prevention week so far as your property is concerned.

Have We Strength of Character?

"The government, contrary to popular conception, has nothing of itself except the power to tax and the credit based thereon," said J. J. Hunter, President of the Bank of California recently. "Thus far the thrifty savers of the nation have accepted the obligations of the government at face value—even at a premium, but it is my opinion, unless an earnest attempt is made to balance the budget by cutting down expenses rather than taxes and take a long step to reduce the debt by regular amortization, the fear of insolvency will come upon the people as a 'thief in the night' and the wreckage will be colossal with none escaping. Neither Congressmen, Senators, nor the Executive branches of government can provide food, clothing, or shelter except by slave labor with lost economic and spiritual rights.

"Is there strength of character enough in the supposedly free American people to draw in their belts and produce? Or will they look to their Congressmen and Senators to do the impossible?"

The government will spend close to $40,000,000,000 in this, a boom year, when employment is at its all-time high. What would happen in some future depression year, when revenues drop and at the same time the pressure for more and more governmental pump-priming is turned on at white heat? Never in its history has this nation pursued so potentially ruinous a fiscal course. That fact, unwelcome as it may be, constitutes the greatest problem facing the country today.

"Rebuilding soils and forests is repairing war waste," is the theme of this year's Texas Forest Festival being held in Lufkin, Texas, October 7-12. Miss Jane Eagle, lovely 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Eagle of Lufkin, is comparing the sizes of a short-leaf pine seedling and a 35-year old mature tree, stressing the fact that forests can be rebuilt.

Miss Eagle, whose father is president of the Texas Lumber Manufacturer's Association, is official sponsor of the 1946 Texas Forest Festival and will join with the Lufkin Junior Chamber of Commerce in inviting all East-Texas towns to enter a contestant for the title of "Queen of the Pines," the said Queen to be selected the night of October 7. Last year, Miss Eagle was named as one of the ten most beautiful co-eds attending The University of Texas.

Received by "March Much Money is of Dimes" Drives

An audit of the 1946 March of Dimes shows $8,184,595.80 was realized by the National foundation for infantile paralysis to carry on its programs in research, education and emergency epidemic aid, and $7,797,554.86 by chapters for care and treatment of patients, making a total of $15,982,150.66. Basil O'Connor, president of the national foundation announced this week.

"The American people," Mr. O'Connor declared, "may well take satisfaction in the knowledge that their generosity will help save lives, alleviate pain and bring hope to thousands, mostly young children, who have been or will be stricken by this dread disease, which seldom kills but frequently cripples for life.

"The highest praise must also be accorded to the 55,000 volunteer workers who gave unstintingly of their time and effort to make the 1946 March of Dimes such a huge success.

"The press, radio, stage and screen industries, the sports world, industry and labor groups, who so ardently backed the efforts of the national foundation can also feel proud of the added impetus their assistance gave the March of Dimes."

Mr. O'Connor paid a special tribute to the motion picture theatre owners of the country not only for the large amount of money raised in the motion picture theatres but also for the invaluable assistance given in all those theatres in publicizing the March of Dimes campaign.

Mr. O'Connor said that the highly successful drive will make possible greatly increased efforts in the field of research that were, of necessity, curtailed during the war years when hundreds of scientists and the nation's laboratories were mobilized for military projects.

The highest total for any state was contributed by New York which donated $2,506,653.52. Mr. O'Connor disclosed. The next was California with $1,382,270.52. Third was Pennsylvania with $1,006,563.36.

Highest per capita contribution based on the 1940 U. S. census was from the District of Columbia which donated almost 32 cents per person. Nevada was second with more than 27 cents per capita. Third was Oregon with more than 26 cents.

This year the number of cases reported through August 17th were twice the number of cases reported for the same period in 1945. The states showing a substantial increase in the number of cases this year are Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska,

Religious Education Week To Start Sunday, Sept. 29th

Recognition of moral principle is necessary if "we are to win permanently domestic and world peace in the twentieth century," is the belief of Clinton P. Anderson, secretary of the U. S. department of agriculture, expressed in a statement giving his endorsement to the 16th annual Religious education week, September 29-October 6, to be observed in rural and urban communities of the United States and Canada.

"Throughout American history, religion has been the basis of our fundamental law," Mr. Anderson declared. "The rights to 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness' are 'inalienable' only because they are not man-made but God-given."

Eddie Rickenbacker, president and general manager of Eastern Air Lines, Inc., in endorsing Religious education week pointed out that "the Pilgrim Fathers, the pioneers and settlers, made this country great because they had the strength to work, the ability to think and faith to pray."

Even as strong bodies, able minds and sturdy souls were needed to build order out of the Wilderness of yester-year, so those very traits are required now to create order out of the economic, social and spiritual Be-Wilderness of today," Mr. Rickenbacker maintained.

Ninety per cent of American Protestantism will take part in church and community-wide observances of Religious education week, through the 40 denominations and 173 state, city and

North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

If you have a boy, take up his hobby NOW!

Parent-Teacher Associations, psychologists and child guidance clinics agree on one thing. If a boy takes up a hobby, and his father follows in his son's footsteps, both will profit from their experiences. Each will find himself more anxious to please the other and a life-long partnership of confidence, trust and love will follow.

Most fathers are busy men; but no father can be too busy to neglect the most important single thing in his life—the building of a fellowship with his sons and daughters. If your youngster has a hobby—building a ship, engine, auto or airplane models; collecting stamps; raising pigeons; or anything else, ask him to teach you what he learns. You'll never have to worry about juvenile delinquency if you make a hobby out of your boy's hobby.

Women Drinking More Than Ever Statistics Show

Women are drinking more now than ever before. And the percentage of alcoholics among them is increasing even more rapidly than it is among men.

Especially among older women drinkers is the problem of eventual alcoholism liable to become acute, according to an article "Why Some Women Should Not Drink" by Maxine Davis, noted medical reporter, in the September issue of Cosmopolitan magazine.

Two years ago the Yale Plan Clinics (for alcoholics) reported that the percentage of men to women among their patients was five to one. Last year Dr. D. B. Rothman of the Municipal Court of Chicago stated that the one-third of the city's alcoholics were women. FBI figures from 1932 to 1944 show drunken driving by women increased 226 per cent.

How this increase in women alcoholics affects the home and future of the country is shown by the fact that alcoholic women remain married only half as long, are separated six times as frequently and their divorce rate is 32 times that of comparable non-alcoholic women.

"The most conspicuous characteristic of women alcoholics is secret drinking," the article states in part. "Long before they are actually confirmed alcoholics, women often drink alone. The woman who is terrified of parties discovers that a pre-party drink helps her face an evening of gaiety and even enjoy it."

Because of the many social taboos which force women to drink secretly, their descent into alcoholism is much faster than that of men.

"Women who have an alcoholic tendency become confirmed drunks in a comparatively short time," the article states. "It usually takes the average man ten or fifteen years to develop into a full-fledged alcoholic, but a woman, as a result of her intensive solitary drinking, is likely to reach the ultimate stages of the disease in fewer years."

"Women who take up excessive drinking when they are older become alcoholics even more quickly than those who begin their drinking careers in their youth. They imbibe with such gusto that they skip a number of the stages—and years—through which younger women progress before they become confirmed inebriates."

Seven clear signposts of danger for women drinkers are listed in the article as follows: (1) Drinking to obtain social ease or to overcome a feeling of inferiority. (2) Drinking to escape from worry or troubles. (3) Drinking to dispel the "blues." (4) Drinking when overtired to "brace up." (5) Need for a drink at definite times through the day. (6) Desire for a drink in the morning. (7) Drinking alone.

"Women drunkards, however, can and do recover," the article states. "They respond to the same types of treatment that men do. I met quite a number of formerly alcoholic women who are now

Mary Dee Minyard Honored With Shower Saturday

Mrs. Ray C. Boman's home was the setting Saturday afternoon for a lovely miscellaneous shower given in honor of Mrs. Edward Minyard, nee Mary Dee Mercer. Lovely arrangements of pink rosebuds and white dahlias were used throughout the reception rooms.

The guests were greeted by the honoree and her mother, Mrs. H. C. Mercer. They were then shown to the gift room by a former schoolmate, Mrs. A. G. Tadlock.

The bride's chosen colors of blue and white were carried out in an artistic arrangement of white snapdragons and blue asters which centered the lace covered table and was reflected in a mirrored reflector.

After the guests were shown the gifts and served delicious refreshments, they were directed by Mrs. Boman to the register where Mrs. Peter Hoyt presided.

During the afternoon, the many callers were entertained with soft musical selections by Miss Thelma Gean Mercer, a niece of the honoree.

Mrs. Monroe Carver presided at the punch bowl. Miss Frances Tennison served dainty individual cakes decorated with tiny blue rosebuds.

Mrs. Boman was assisted by Mesdames Richard Hill, Clifford Allard, Fred Eliston, Peter Hoyt, and Theron Crass.

Braised Pork Chops Are Center of Many Tasty Meals

MENU Pork Chops and Noodles in Casserole Buttered Carrots Fresh Spinach Waldorf Salad Baked Cherry Cobbler Hot Coffee

You can always rely on pork chops to please hungry people! They have such richness of flavor, and a satisfying quality that's hard to match.

What's more, pork chops are a very valuable food from the point of view of good nutrition; for pork supplies more thiamine (formerly known as vitamin B1) than any other food, on the basis of an average serving.

It's quite natural, then, that pork chops should be included frequently as the center of the dinner menu. That means two things. First, the homemaker should know the correct way to cook the pork chops, so as to serve them at their best on every occasion. Second, she will want to know a number of ways to vary the chops, so they will always be welcomed with the enthusiasm they deserve.

The best way to cook pork chops is by braising. This is a moist heat method of cooking that is generally used for less tender meats. It is recommended for pork chops (which are tender) because it cooks them thoroughly and, at the same time, keeps them juicy. Pork should always be cooked well done, to bring out the full, rich flavor. Broiling, panbroiling and frying are not so satisfactory for cooking pork chops because they tend to dry out in the time needed to cook them.

Braised pork chops in their simplest form are prepared this way: First, they are placed in a heavy frying-pan (no extra fat is needed) and browned slowly on both sides. Then seasonings are added, and the pan is covered tightly. This usually provides enough moisture so that no extra liquid needs to be added. The chops are then cooked over low heat until done; or they may be finished in a moderate oven.

Now for a few variations. One good idea is to "smother" the chops with sliced onions and green pepper. A small amount of liquid should be added after the chops are browned, and the vegetables laid on top of the meat. If desired, they may be cooked for a few minutes in the drippings before the pan is covered. They are served with the meat, of course.

Another suggestion is to make a pocket in the chops and fill them with a moist stuffing; or bake them on top of apple dressing. Still another idea is to bread the chops—dipping them in crumbs, then eggs, then crumbs again. When they are prepared this way, a small amount of fat should be melted in the pan in order to brown the chops properly.

Pork chops also lend themselves readily to use in casserole dishes. The drippings from the meat do wonders for almost any mild-flavored food. Try them with baked beans, scalloped potatoes, or succotash. Another excellent combination is pork chops with noodles, as given below.

Pork Chops and Noodles in Casserole 5 or 6 pork chops (loin or rib) Salt and pepper 1 8-ounce package noodles 2 quarts boiling water 1 tablespoon salt

Brown chops on both sides in their own fat, using a heavy frying-pan. Add seasonings. Cook noodles in boiling water to which salt is added, for 10 minutes or until tender. Drain and rinse. Put noodles in greased casserole and place browned pork chops on top. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 45 minutes to 1 hour.

Putman-Penn Wedding Vows Exchanged Recently

Arrangements of pink and white gladioli, palm and fern, flanked by lighted cathedral tapers in branched candelabra, formed the setting for the marriage of Miss Helen Sue Putman, daughter of Mrs. C. W. Hutchinson of Wilson, and George Truett Penn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Penn of Lubbock Thursday, September 19. Rev. G. A. Elrod, pastor of the First Baptist church, read the impressive double ring ceremony at 4 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Douglas.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Mary Del Johnson played nuptial selections and accompanied Miss Thelma Gean Mercer, who sang "An Hour Never Passes" and "O Promise Me". Toby Penn, brother of the groom, sang "Always". "Indian Love Call" was played during the ceremony.

Mrs. Haskell Turner, sister of the groom, attended the bride as matron-of-honor. She wore a rose colored suit with an orchid corsage. Mrs. Gilmer Denison, who wore a navy crepe dress with a gardenia corsage, was bridesmaid. Haskell Turner served as best man with Bill Trimble, brother-in-law of the bride, serving as groomsmen.

The bride wore an aqua street length dress. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid which was tied with white satin streamers.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The table, which was laid with a rare lace cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake on a mirrored tray and was surrounded by pink and white carnations. Mrs. Bill Trimble, sister of the bride, presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Gilmer Denison served the cake. Jopi Douglas and Jane Turner, cousin and niece of the groom, presided at the register.

Out of town guests included Mrs. C. W. Hutchinson, mother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Trimble of Slaton; Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Turner and daughter, Jane, of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Jake Penn of Lubbock; Mrs. Gilmer Denison of Idalou; Mr. and Mrs. Art Hodges of Canyon; Mrs. Orin Stark of Quitaque; and Mrs. Irene Ayers of Lamesa.

Mr. Cook says one advantage of this type terracer is the inexpensive construction cost and the small additional cost in maintaining terraces from year to year.

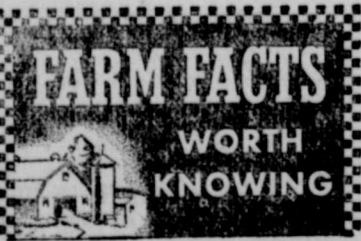

Merle Graham, a cooperativist of the Cap Rock Conservation Group, is constructing a trench silo to store his surplus sorghum forage feed on his farm. Joe Mercer has one hundred and fifty-five acres of alfalfa up to an excellent stand on his farm southeast of Silverton. Mr. Mercer finished seeding his alfalfa just before the recent rains. Subdivision No. 3 is bounded on the North by the Silverton-Tulia Highway (86), on the East by the Silverton-Floydada Highway (207), on the South by the County Line and on the West by the County Line.

Q. How soon after birth should a dairy calf be removed from the mother?

A. A calf may be removed immediately, but many prefer to have the calf nurse the mother for the first three days, because the first milk called colostrum, is especially needed by the calf. It is a laxative and supplies essential vitamins and factors which build up disease resistance. After the third day, the calf can be started on a dry feed, with limited quantities of milk for the first month.

Q. Is there any way to prevent turkeys flying from the roosts at night and injuring themselves?

A. Stomping at night may be partially controlled by placing lights about the roosting area. Auto truck flares, kerosene lanterns, or electric lights may be used. Only enough light to make a dim glow need be used. The premises should not be brightly illuminated. Moving shadows should be avoided.

Q. How can we get rid of red mites in our pullet house?

A. The Ralston Purina Company puts out an insect oil which when thoroughly painted or sprayed over the roosts, floors, and walls of pullet shelters should eliminate the red mites and keep them down for about a year.

Q. Should mineral supplement be fed to range cattle during the fall and winter months?

A. The New Mexico Experiment Station has found that it is better to feed minerals all year round. Cattle which were fed minerals continuously produced an average of 41 pounds more calf from each cow than those which were fed minerals during the fall and winter only. Moreover, range cattle will consume almost as much minerals during the fall and winter season as when it is supplied the year round. This rapid seasonal use is not as efficient as year round consumption, and, therefore, continuous feeding of mineral supplements will result in a greater net profit at the end of the year.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By EUGENE WORLEY

We landed at Atsugi Airport which is thirty miles from Tokyo but the closest landing field. Traveling from the airfield we went through Yokohama which was the most heavily industrialized section of Japan. Practically every industry had been completely smashed by incendiary and explosive bombs. One proof of the desperate shortage of steel during the last days of the war could be seen in the removal of steel rails across numerous Japanese bridges. The Japanese people are living in any kind of shelter they can find. General McArthur stated there is not an inch of tillable soil in any part of Japan which is not being cultivated and in spite of these efforts a relatively large number of Japanese are still starving to death daily.

The attitude of the Japanese people themselves is hard to evaluate. We were told that during the war and due to the propaganda of the war lords the whole populace was united practically 100% behind the war effort. Since the government controlled all means of information, the Japanese thought they were winning the war even when they were being defeated on every hand. Today, however, they seem to have learned just how badly they were fooled and are very bitter toward their former leaders. General McArthur gave the committee a detailed report on the success of the current occupation but it was significant to note that again a rather large number of Russians were trying to incite dissatisfaction among the great masses of Japanese laborers. It might also be interesting to point out that Russia has at least a million Japanese prisoners of war for which they never have accounted to anyone. It is assumed, of course, that these prisoners have been taken into the interior of Russia as slave labor and will never come back.

A good part of downtown Tokyo is largely untouched by the war. The Emperor's Palace surrounded by a moat was not damaged and most buildings in that area are being used by the American occupation forces. The buildings are very modern. However, the area between Tokyo and Yokohama is about as near wiped out as it can be. Hundreds of thousands of Japanese civilians met death when the war lords MISSION SUNDAY OCTOBER 20—Announcing Oct. 20 as Mission Sunday in a message to the Diocesan Director here, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas J. McDonnell, national director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, gives the 1946 theme as Reconstruction.

"The ravages of war have destroyed to an alarming extent the mission schools, hospitals and churches in many parts of the world," says Msgr. McDonnell. "We must therefore cooperate in a mission spirit with the heroic missionary priests, sisters and brothers, who are bearing daily the heats and burdens in home and foreign mission fields."

told them not to build bomb shelters because there was no danger of Tokyo ever being bombed by our forces. When our air raids began, it was too late for them to build any defenses and now the Japanese people are living in anything they can throw together for shelter.

The War Crimes trial was still dragging on while we were there and when I say dragging, I mean the procedure was very, very slow and tedious largely because each statement had to be translated into several different languages. For example, the American prosecutor would read a short statement and then be compelled to wait until his statement had been translated from English into several other languages. All of those charged with war crimes were arranged in boxes similar to our jury boxes and among those present was Tojo who sat unmoved throughout the proceedings. There are eleven judges holding the trials with a representative from each of the following:—India, Netherlands, Canada, Great Britain, United States, Australia, China, Russia, France, New Zealand, and the Philippines. The proceedings had been going on for months and it looks as though they will keep on for months to come before a verdict is arrived at.

Our own GI's seem to be getting along very well as they generally do most anywhere. A good many new soldiers are in the occupation forces. The Japanese people, being usually small in stature, build their houses in proportion with beds a little too short for a six footer and doors too low to walk under without stooping, and the average Japanese looks dwarfed when standing alongside one of our average sized Texas.

FARM MARKETS

(From Page 1) week before, our supplies were still light and made up largely of stockers and feeders. Meat slaughter grades were scarce and brought steady to stronger prices. Stockers and feeders were firm to stronger at Texas markets but some weakness showed up at other terminals. Medium to good stocker calves brought $13 to $14.50, Houston; $13.50 to $15.50, San Antonio and Oklahoma City. Fort Worth sold common and medium stocker and feeder steers, yearlings and calves at $11.50 to $14. Denver quoted common and medium stocker cows $8 to $10.25. Medium and good light stock steers and yearlings realized $14 to $16, Wichita. Continued shortage of red meats increased demand for scarce supplies of eggs and poultry last week. Eggs, hens and fryers were up one to three cents above the previous week's close. Straight run current receipt eggs brought up to 43 cents a dozen at some places. Heavy hens realized 23 to 25 cents a pound, Denver; 26 to 28 Dallas; 27 to 30, Fort Worth and 40, New Orleans. Light shipments of southwest apples and cantaloupes brought steady to stronger prices last week, but onions and potatoes were dull and slightly weaker. Louisiana and Texas sweetpotatoes remained about steady but were down from the previous week's top. Cooler weather moved more sweetpotatoes into storage.

FURNITURE FASHIONS—Smart interior decorating often consists of turning a debit into an asset. Here is a bit of interior decorating which shows what can be done with windows which are unattractive in themselves and also front on an unattractive view. Behind these candy-striped shades is the blank, brick wall of the neighboring apartment building... certainly not a view to inspire or charm. Moreover, the windows themselves are awkward—long, narrow, and off-center. By using draperies and window shades in attractively colored stripes, the decorator has achieved not only a sense of harmony but has made provision for a necessity... keeping the window shades lowered full-length most of the time.

The stripe in the window shade and the studio couch cover are in turquoise. The draperies are of a mustard-yellow felt.

JESUS AND THE LAW OF LOVE
LESSON TEXT—Psalm 119:33-38; Matthew 5:43-48.
MEMORY SELECTION—Love worketh no ill to his neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.—Romans 13:10.

Love fulfilled the law—in Christ. God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son (John 3:16). The law of love is therefore appropriate as the subject of our closing lesson on the general theme, "Jesus Interprets Old Testament Laws." Love is the heavenly gift of God, who is love, to man who so much needs its grace and power for his own life and for his living with others.

I. The Mind of Love (Ps. 119:33-35).
Eight times in this psalm there is found the cry of verse 33 for instructions in the laws of God. Man not only must know them, but he must know how they operate. The picture here is that of a man who wants to get in step with God, marching out to spiritual warfare and being prepared to respond in prompt obedience to the commands of his divine leader.

Here we have the true mind of love. The one rightly instructed in the principles of God's rule in the world sees that love is the basic requirement, but that it expresses itself in a life that is in accord with the will of God. The thought of this passage is well expressed by Dr. W. R. White: "The psalmist had the highest possible conception of love before the revelation in Christ. He saw it as the basic order of things. He conceived it as identical with the will of God. He viewed it as the safe, happy path for man. He considered it as the way of wisdom. He passionately desired to embrace it and order his life by it. He saw it imparting to the naive and simple the benefits of extraordinary judgment. To measure up he knew that he had to be quickened or made alive to it by the power of God."

II. The Manner of Love (Ps. 119:36-38).
Love operates not from necessity, but because of an inner urge which will not be denied. The psalmist prays that his heart may be so inclined toward the Lord and so quickened within that he may be eager to do the will of God.
Love has a technique, if you will, a manner of operation. It avoids certain things which would hinder or prevent its full function and seeks out those attitudes and experiences which will encourage and enlarge.

Covetousness must be avoided, for this is idolatry (Col. 3:5). We noted in our lesson of two weeks ago that covetousness makes a man stingy, envious, selfish, proud and foolish. That means that love must rule out this destructive element. Love cannot live in such an atmosphere.

Love turns away from vanity. The vain things of this world are usually presented in such attractive dress that to look at them is to be tempted. The answer is to turn your eyes away, or better still, ask God to give you special grace not only to turn away, but to stay turned away. The vain passions of this world destroy real love, even while using the word to describe their base counterfeit.

The positive side of the matter is also clear. The manner in which love best expresses itself is in the fear of God, in the established order of a life according to the law of God (v. 38). By being inclined to his testimonies it finds the right way—God's way (v. 37).

III. The Measure of Love (Matt. 5:43-48).
How far does love go? Does it have a limit? Does it choose those toward whom it will express itself, loving the lovely and ignoring or hating the rest? In answer to these questions let us first ask, What is the general attitude of the world? The answer is evident. The world has established its own principle of conduct based on selfish advantage. It pays to be polite to those who can favor you, to cultivate their good will by acts of courtesy and kindness. Your neighbor may be able to help you in an hour of need, so do good to him as you have opportunity.

But an enemy—what can you gain from kindness to him? Hate him, and treat him like an enemy. Christianity knows nothing of such a spirit. Even though it be necessary to oppose wicked men in order to hinder their evil plans, we need not lose our love for them. Even those who despitefully use us may be loved for Christ's sake.

"Consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself (and went right on loving them) lest ye be wearied" in your own love for those who bear the sad name of enemies (see Heb. 12:3).

This is admittedly a high standard, but it is not too high for those who know the love of Christ.

Warning in Regard Scarlet Fever

The State department of health has issued a warning in regard to scarlet fever as the number of cases usually increases during the fall months. The number of deaths from this disease occur from October through February.

The first symptoms appear. If your child has contracted scarlet fever, the first signs you may notice are that he seems tired, restless and out of sorts. Usually, there is a sore throat, chills, vomiting or convulsions and fever. His skin is dry and hot. His tongue is furred, and, under this white covering, it is red and swollen. In ordinary cases, these early signs are followed in a day or two by a rash. Little flat red points, close together, appear first on the neck and chest and soon the rash, very red in color, spreads over most the body.

officer will give you, since a severe or fatal case of scarlet fever may develop from contact with some one who has only a light attack. Children who have had scarlet fever, or who have been exposed, must not return to school until permission is given by the health officer and physician.

Cotton Picking Contest to be Held In Arkansas Soon

Texas entries in the National cotton picking contest October 3, to be held in Blytheville, Arkansas, will stand to "lose their citizenship in the Lone Star State" if they get beaten again this year, C. Hohn, state farm labor supervisor for Texas, has written contest officials.

"If the Texas boy lets a fellow from Arkansas beat him, he will never be able to come back to Texas," he wrote. "Please don't come and cry on my shoulder when the Texas boy walks off with the honors."

The contest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Blytheville, has grown to nationwide prominence. It emphasizes quality picking. Hence, the person who picks the most cotton may not necessarily win first prize. Cleanliness of the cotton picked and the completeness with which the picker's row is stripped of all mature cotton are given equal credit with total weight picked.

Last year, 154 persons entered the contest. This year, more than 300 are expected on the basis of entries already in according to William Wyatt, contest chairman. Deadline for entrance is midnight, October 2. The contest starts at 10 a.m. the next day and lasts two hours. There are $2500 in prizes, including awards for the best women pickers, although women are eligible for the open contest.

Dallas Rodeo To Be Held October 5th to the 20th

The first annual Southwest amateur championship rodeo will be held in Dallas, October 5 to 20,

The glamorous Gypsy Rose Lee, actress and authoress, is bringing her own company of girls to the State Fair of Texas auditorium October 5-20 and will be a feature of the Tommy Dorsey Show during the State fair, announced Julius Schepps, chairman of the entertainment committee of the State fair association.

Miss Lee, prima donna nuda of the American stage who finds time in her strips about the country to write first rate detective novels with a burlesque background and to study the writings of Marcel Proust, has been starred both on the Broadway stage and in Hollywood movies.

The engagement of Gypsy Rose Lee and company for the star-studded auditorium show marks her first State Fair of Texas appearance.

at the grandstand on the State fair grounds, it has been announced, and dates run currently with those of the 61st annual State fair of Texas.

Contestants and champions from famous cowboy reunions such as those held at Stamford, Snyder, Matador and other Texas towns, as well as the famous ones of Oklahoma, will compete for the Southwest championships. Entries of more than 200 "cowhands from Oklahoma", have been made, according to Pat Hamilton, proprietor of the famous Hell's Halfacre Ranch at Fargo, Oklahoma, who will produce and direct the championship contests. Mr. Hamilton said that he expected more than 500 contestants in the championship events. Any cowboy wishing to enter the contests may do so by registering with the entry department of the Dallas rodeo association, Fair Park, Dallas 10, Texas.

An Indian Village will be included in the rodeo presentation, it was announced. The Indian Village will be open at all times during the day. Special presentations of Indian riding, lassoing, and other events will be included in the special features offered during the rodeo programs.

Little Loyd Wayne Nance arrived Sunday at the Tulia hospital and will make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nance. Mother and baby are getting along fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brown of Ft. Worth are the proud parents of a baby girl born September 23. The mother and daughter are doing fine.

Miss Wanda Teague of Plainview, spent the weekend with relatives here.

Contracts with the Louisiana and Texas state medical societies to provide home-town medical care for veterans with service-connected disabilities are in the final stages of negotiation, the Veterans Administration revealed this week.

At the same time, VA, through its central office in Washington, D. C., is seeking contracts with state hospital associations in the Southwest on a standard schedule of hospital costs so that VA can utilize more private hospital facilities for veterans with service-connected ailments.

Signing of these contracts will enable eligible veterans to get good medical care in their own communities and in many instances will eliminate the necessity of making long trips to VA hospitals for treatment.

More than $7,000 worth of movies equipment especially designed for bed-ridden patients, has been donated to Veterans Administration hospitals in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi by the Texas Variety Club.

The organization, made up of Texans in the entertainment industry, raised the funds and purchased the equipment so that veterans confined to their beds by war injuries or sickness would be assured of entertainment at all times.

The Variety Club's gift included 22 light and portable projectors with prismatic lenses to throw movies on the ceiling or an overhead screen. Each projector is equipped with three headphone sets which enable selected patients to listen to the movie dialogue without disturbing others in the ward.

Institutions of higher education in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi are expecting a record enrollment of about 133,000 students this fall, according to preliminary reports reaching VA. Former service men and women are enrolling in tremendous numbers, these reports indicated.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Perry, of Amarillo, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Perry.

Mrs. James Patton and children and Mrs. L. McMurtry and children were in Foydada on business Saturday.

Mrs. Robert McJimsey, the former Miss Avanel Brown, submitted to major surgery in the Plainview hospital last week. She is reported to be doing fine.

"Be slow in choosing a friend, slower in changing."

Ray C. Boma was in Plainview on business Thursday.

WITHOUT THESE BASIC FEATURES NO MACHINE QUALIFIES AS AN ALL-PURPOSE FARM TRACTOR

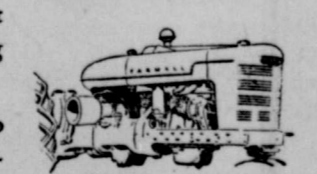

A SHORT TURNING RADIUS is vital for row-crop farming. Farmalls turn in 7 to 9 feet. Tricycle design, and individual wheel brakes that enable tractor to pivot on either rear wheel, are indispensable features.

FARMALLS HAVE AMPLE clearance for cultivating a large variety of crops. Rear wheel treads can be set to accommodate practically any row spacings. On every job the operator has a clear view of the work he is doing.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE for the Farmall's versatility. It is built to operate with the greatest variety of quick-attachable implements ever known. The hydraulic "Lift-All" provides easy implement control.

FARMALL'S POWERFUL engine gives you record-breaking fuel economy. Correct gear ratios transfer maximum engine power to the drawbar. This is the secret of Farmall's low fuel consumption. A variable-speed governor controls all operating speeds. Oil and air cleaners and dirt seals insure long wear. The power take-off and belt pulley complete the Farmall's unsurpassable utility as an all-purpose farm power unit.

FARMALLS ARE FIRST

ANY MAN WHO BUYS A TRACTOR buys it for one big reason: the work the tractor will do. The quality of work, the volume, and the variety are the real measures of tractor value. Couple these factors with original cost, plus upkeep and operation, and you have the whole story.

That's the way most farmers figure it out when they make this important investment. The answer has turned out to be a Farmall tractor more times than all other makes combined.

That doesn't happen by chance. It happens because these famous tractors are designed and built to do more work, better work, and a bigger variety of work per dollar of cost than anything else on wheels.

At the right are a few basic reasons behind Farmall tractor performance. We will be glad to demonstrate how Farmalls, with their complete line of related tools and machines, make up the most efficient system of power farming in existence.

Those are the big things to remember when you plan the purchase of farm power equipment. Word from the factory tells us that with all possible manufacturing speed, THE FARMALLS ARE COMING!

You can assure yourself of the benefits of the GI Bill of Rights if you enter the Army on or before October 5, 1946. See your nearest Army Recruiting Station for details.

The Vet's Friend

Q. If a disabled veteran completes his on-the-job training and is unemployed can he draw unemployment compensation?

A. Yes, under Public Law 346, he can draw adjusted unemployment compensation up to a period of 52 weeks provided he is able and available for work at the time and has not drawn compensation previously.

Q. Do disabled veterans have any preference over other veterans in purchase of war surplus materials?

A. No. The War Assets Administration has classified all veterans in one group. The WAA gives veterans first choice on a number of items, and veteran priority is topped only by the federal agencies of the U. S. Government.

Q. Is a veteran disabled in occupation service or during the present emergency period eligible for membership in the Disabled American Veterans?

A. Yes. Until the President declares World War II and the present emergency officially at an end all members of the armed forces who are disabled or handicapped in service are eligible for membership in the DAV as wartime disabled veterans.

Q. Is it possible for a disabled veteran taking vocational training under Public Law 16, the disabled veterans bill, to make a loan from the government?

A. Loans not to exceed $100 may be made to disabled veterans approved for vocational rehabilitation training when need is shown.

Q. Has the Veterans Administration approved the plan to issue prosthetic service cards to amputee veterans?

A. Yes. Veterans wearing arti-

Everyone wants a suit that can be worn by day and by night such as the one shown above as pictured in the September issue of Good Housekeeping magazine. A black, soft wool, unlined, with well cut jacket, braid frog fastenings, it goes well with a bright blouse or scarf by day, softer shades by night, with tailored hat and jewelry or leathers and veiling.

The issue is refusal of the Stabilization Board to approve an increase in pay won by the seamen in collective bargaining with the ship owners.
