CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS CHANGED

Christmas holidays for students in city schools will be extended so that they may attend the Texas Tech-St. Mary's Cotton Bowl football game in Dallas, Jan. 2, according to announcement this morning by W. B. Irvin, superintendent.

It will be strictly a case, he explained of first come, first served. The best seats will go to those who buy them first.

All city schools will operate on early schedule that day to permit students to attend the game, the superintendent announced. Classes will begin at 8 a. m. and will turn out at noon. Buses will operate early to conform with that schedule, he said.

Five Escape Howard Jail

(By The Associated Press)

BIG SPRING, Dec. 5—Five prisoners who sawed their way out of the Howard county jail yesterday were at large today.

They were Newman Brownman, 34, sentenced to 10 years for theft; Clyde Linney, 29, four years for forgery; James Earl Hicks, 23, five years for robbery; Ernest Carter, alias R. S. Strong, 30, two years for forgery, and Bernie Thompson, held in a misdemeanor case.

Three Youths Arrested In Fort Worth Early Today

FORT WORTH, Dec. 5 (AP) — Police arrested three youths today in a small hotel as suspects in four robberies and two kidnapings, but said they probably were not the men who broke from the Big Spring jail last night.

The trio gave up without resistance when officers found them in a third-story room of the hotel. Officers said they had abandoned an automobile stolen in Austin after escaping from two police cars here.

Fort Worth police said the same three men were believed to have kidnaped two service station attendants at Georgetown a short time later. The men were beaten and stripped of their clothing. Police also said the men were wanted for holdups at Waco, West, and Hillsboro.

Two radio patrol cars were outdistanced in separate chases in residential sections here shortly before 6 a. m., today after the fugitives entered Fort Worth on Hemphill

At Least Ten Billions May Be Doled Out

Defense Program And Added Relief Costs May Swell Appropriations Total

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. — A prediction that the 1939 congress will spend at least $10,000,000,000 and may equal or surpass this year's peace-time record of $11,361,815,000 came today from some of the members already here for the January session.

The administration's defense program and continuing relief costs were among the factors they cited as tending to prevent any substantial cut in appropriations.

President Roosevelt's budget recommendations will not be disclosed for another month, but a house subcommittee went to work today on the first of the ten regular appropriations bills. It covers funds for independent federal agencies.

Rep. Woodrum (D-Va), chairman of the group, said he saw little chance of saving much money in those agencies, adding that "expenditures for veterans and Social Security benefits are going to keep increasing."

Armament To Cost Much

There have been unofficial estimates that the projected armament program would cost $1,500,000,000. Some legislators have suggested tax increases to meet the expense.

Mr. Roosevelt has talked with congressional leaders about defense need, as well as farm legislation, relief, and other problems, but has given no indication of the administration's intentions on any subject.

One usually well-informed congressman predicted that dissatisfaction with the crop control program, as evidenced in the November elections, might lead the administration to recommend parity payments on major crops.

Jimmy Roosevelt Is Appointed To Goldwyn Vice Presidency

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 5 (AP)—Smiling, baldish Jimmy Roosevelt, 30-year-old former secretary to his father, the president, reported for work today as Movie Maker Sam Goldwyn's new hired hand and got his first assignment. A press conference.

This was like being a member of the White House secretariat again for Jimmy, but the salary was several times better than the $10,000 a year he earned in Washington.

The stipend was not announced, yet Hollywoodians guessed it would compare favorably with the $27,000 to $49,000 annually that Roosevelt made in the insurance business before he joined his father's staff.

Announcement that Roosevelt had been appointed vice president of Goldwyn, Inc., broke the Sabbath calm in the film city yesterday.

The sketch of Miss Jamison's career reads like a modern Cinderella story. We gathered early details this morning at a hotel coffee shop, talking to her business manager, and later the attractive young singer and her accompanist, Richard Tetley-Kardos, joined us for coffee and to supplement details.

Miss Jamison is definitely Irish. She was born in Belfast, Ireland, the daughter of a British officer. When she was three, her father was transferred to India, returning to Ireland when she was seven years old. There

Dies Lauded In Legion Session

(Special To The Journal)

SNYDER, Dec. 5—Plainview was selected as site of the spring convention of 19th District American Legion and Auxiliary at the closing session of the winter convention here Sunday afternoon.

The 125 visiting delegates and an almost equal number of local buddies and their wives unanimously approved a resolution that commends Congress Martin Dies for his investigation of un-American activities in the United States.

Followed Danforth Address

The resolution came on the heels of an address by Dr. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth, national executive committeeman, who affirmed the American Legion's enmity for all things un-American, especially for subversive activities of foreign agitators.

Dr. Danforth was also principal speaker at the morning service, held at the First Methodist church. He took the place on the program originally assigned to Attorney General Bill McCraw, who advised at the last minute that he could not attend the convention. He stressed the legion's continuous striving "for God and country," and declared the organization believes that American peace can best be preserved by adequate preparation to protect our shores.

Mrs. Higbee Speaker

Other speakers at the afternoon business session were: Mrs. William A. Wyatt, San Marcos, state Auxiliary president; Mrs. Fred Higbee, Lubbock, 19th District Auxiliary president; Lou Roberts, Borger, 18th District committeeman; Alex C.

O'Daniel's Board Of Advisors Meet Today

FORT WORTH, Dec. 5 (AP)—Gov.-Elect W. Lee O'Daniel's board of advisors assembled here today for their first meeting after O'Daniel yesterday in a radio address replied to critics.

To a charge that the board is made up of millionaires, O'Daniel mentioned as members "a dirt farmer who scratches for a living" and "the wife of a tenant farmer who gets out in the field and toils."

He admitted "I did choose some wealthy folks. Most people who operate railroads, or oil companies, successfully, are wealthy."

He said the establishment of the board was the fulfillment of a prenomination campaign pledge. Two additions brought the total membership to 46. The new members announced yesterday were P. P. Butler, Beaumont, representing the rice industry, and S. Maston Nixon, Corpus Christi, representing the chemical industry.

Strike Ends In Stock Yards

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—More than 600 stock handlers returned to work in Chicago stock yard pens today, ending a strike which had tied up the nation's largest meat animal market for two weeks.

Striking members of the CIO Stockhandlers local No. 567, who quit work Nov. 21, gave final acceptance yesterday to a peace proposal submitted by the Union Stock Yards and Transit company.

Workers Vote Sunday

The Packinghouse Workers Organizing Committee approved the peace terms late Saturday night, and yesterday the stockhandlers voted almost unanimously to return to their jobs of feeding and caring for the animals in the yards.

The company submitted its proposal to the union through Mayor Edward J. Kelly. The agreement covers the following points:

That the company recognizes the CIO as the sole and exclusive bargaining agent; that it will continue negotiations on wages, hours and working conditions and that it will put the agreements reached in writing.

Henry Johnson, assistant national director of the PWOC, said union members voted to reserve the right to strike again unless the company signed a contract within 10 days. A resolution also was adopted, Johnson said, stating that unionists would not work if 17 present employes did not join the CIO.

Tiny Twins Cling To Life Today In Incubator In Hospital Here

Tiny twins, one weighing less than two pounds, clung to life in an incubator at Plains hospital this morning.

The twin daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Myatt of Abernathy at 9:45 and 10 o'clock Sunday night. One weighed 1 pound 15 ounces; the other, 2 pounds, 8 ounces.

The infants are fed by a "modified formula" with a medicine dropper every two hours, said an attending physician.

The law of averages in such cases is against survival of both infants.

Mary Ann Alsup of Clovis, N. M., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Alsup, weighed only 2 pounds 11 ounces when born July 10. She and a twin weighing the same were rushed to Lubbock to a hospital. Her twin died en route. She survived and weighed 6 pounds 8 ounces when she was taken home by her parents Oct. 16. She lived in an incubator 79 days.

Chances for survival of the Myatt infants can better be determined in a few days, said the physician.

Declaration By Daladier Adds To Trouble

French Premier Announces Nation Has No Intention Of Giving Up Territory

(By The Associated Press)

Premier Daladier's blunt declaration that France had no intention of giving up any part of her territory today highlighted the Franco-Italian controversy, currently the most dangerous friction in a troubled world situation.

The French premier announced his intention of visiting early in 1939 Tunisia and Corsica, figuring in Italian clamor for French territory.

Question Is Asked

Meanwhile France asked, "Where is the trap?" as police guards restored peace in Tunisia and Corsica, where angry anti-Italian demonstrations yesterday replied to Italian agitation for these territories.

Heavy police reinforcements were thrown around the Italian consulates in Tunis and Susa-Tunisie after riotous marchers had demonstrated, shouting "Down with Italy!" yesterday in both cities.

TO MAKE DEMANDS

ROME, Dec. 5 (AP) — Virginio Gayda, who frequently is spokesman for Premier Mussolini, indicated today that Italy would make demands on France at some future date. The authoritative Fascist editor, however, did not disclose precisely what the demands would be or when they would be made.

The mayor of Ajacio, Corsica, appealed to the populace for calm on the Mediterranean island after demonstrations last night in the streets of Ajaccio, Bastia and other Corsican cities.

Both Corsica, a department of France, and Tunisia were made goals of the Italian campaign by Fascist deputies who demonstrated Wednesday in Rome. Also named in the Italian agitation were Djibouti, port of France Somaliland, Savoy and Nice.

To Block Any Attempt

Daladier, authoritative sources said, was preparing to block any attempt by Germany to use the French-Italian tension as a lever to further the Nazis own colonial demands.

Rome stepped up the tempo of demands for redress of "wrongs" attributed to France in the past. The newspaper Il Piccolo echoed shouts of Italy's "natural aspirations" and declared developments in the new Italo-French issue raised an "intolerable situation."

Final Session Of Training For Den Leaders To Be Tonight

Final session of a training course for den mothers, den chiefs, cubmasters and fathers preliminary to the organization of new Boy Scout Cub packs in Lubbock will be held in room 218 of the Junior High school at 7:30 o'clock tonight, according to information given this morning by Earl M. McClure, council executive.

Additional to organization of new packs, leaders are needed for expansion of those already organized, McClure said. The meeting tonight, he said, will determine how many of the approximately 30 enrolled will receive certificates.

Participating in the final instructions will be Dr. C. C. Schmidt, council cub commissioner, Lon C. Ingram, neighborhood commissioner, Donald A Petersen, field executive, and McClure.

The invitation to attend, according to the announcement, includes anyone interested in the cub movement.

Panhandle Osteopathic Society To Meet In Plainview Tuesday

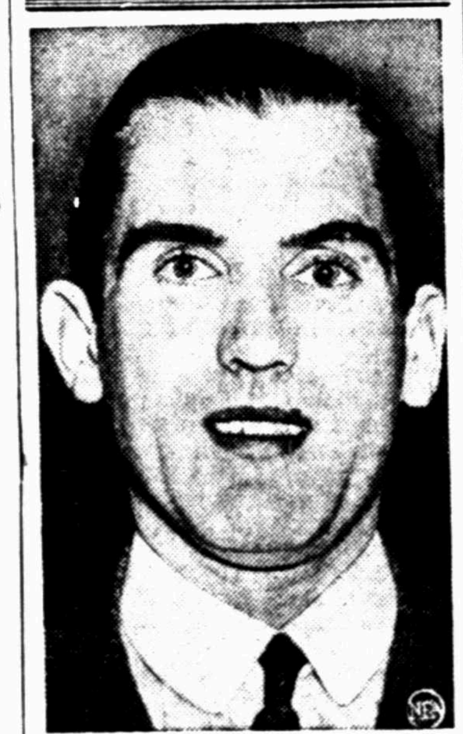

Quarterly meeting of the Panhandle society of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons will be at a dinner in Hilton hotel at Plainview at 6 o'clock Tuesday night, according to announcement this morning by Dr. R. P. Reeds, president.

Dr. Ralph J. Moore of Amarillo is in charge of arrangements and Dr. Lester J. Vick, also of Amarillo, will be principal speaker, delivering a paper on the topic, "Osteopathic Care of Pneumonia Patients."

Third-Term Talk Given Impetus By Senator Guffey, Promising Support From Pennsylvania

Date Is Spoiled

Arrested in New York on a charge of perpetrating an international bond swindle, Broker William P. Buckner, below, had to telephone Hollywood to break a date with Loretta Young, film actress.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Third term talk received an impetus today from Senator Guffey (D-Pa), who declared the Pennsylvania delegates to the 1940 Democratic convention would back President Roosevelt for renomination.

"The one man to justify the Roosevelt record is Roosevelt," said Guffey in a statement. "Pennsylvania does not want and will have nothing to do with any so-called 'middle-of-the-road' candidates.

Liberal Democracy Issue

"The issue will be the liberal democracy of Franklin D. Roosevelt versus the camouflaged fascism of powerful financial and industrial interests masquerading under the colors of the republican party."

Guffey's announcement was given particular attention by capital politicians because of the important role he will have in Pennsylvania Democratic politics during the next two years. As a result of the Republican victory in the state last month, he is one of the few Pennsylvania Democrats remaining in a major elective office.

Dallas Men To Visit In City

(Special To The Journal)

DALLAS, Dec. 5 — Cotton Bowl took a back seat momentarily in favor of the Friday meeting of Lubbock and Breckenridge grid teams.

It was announced by Dallas Chamber of Commerce that 25 of Dallas' top flight business men who had planned a courtesy call in Lubbock Thursday would delay their arrival so as to see the schoolboy thriller before expressing personally to Texas Technological college, Lubbock and the South Plains "Dallas' enthusiasm over having the Red Raiders represent the Southwest in the Cotton Bowl."

Plans Completed Today

Plans for the visit were completed this morning, with George Sergeant, mayor pro tem, placing final flourishes on a speech he will make in presenting the keys of Dallas to Lubbock and that section.

B. F. McLain, director of the chamber, was elected general chairman of the trip. In the party will be Dan Rogers, president of the Cotton Bowl, J. Curtis Sanford, director general of the classic, James H. Stewart, member of the executive committee of the bowl association, and others.

The group will leave Thursday night, traveling in two chartered Pullmans, and will arrive in Lubbock at 8:40 o'clock Friday morning.

J. E. McDonald To Speak Here Tuesday

The domestic allotment plan, of interest to all farmers and most business men ranging from the lower to the higher brackets, will be discussed at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in Senior High school auditorium by J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture.

The commissioner is one of the most outstanding advocates of the plan in Texas.

Attendance of county agents, ginners, vocational agriculture teachers and a considerable cross-section of professional and business men is expected, said R. L. Burdette, who had mailed letters to such persons in numerous South Plains towns.

One thousand farmers were expected to be in the audience, which would stamp the meeting as one of the most widely attended of any meeting in recent years on the South Plains.

Tickets On Sale Here Tuesday

Ticket sales for the Cotton Bowl game Jan. 2 in Dallas will begin Tuesday morning at four Lubbock agencies, it was announced this morning.

Only 1,000 tickets were sent out over the surrounding Lubbock territory.

"It will be a policy of 'first come, first served'," said Williams, who quoted the following scale of prices:

For seats between the 30 yard lines, $4.40; between the 30-yard lines and the goal stripes, $3.30; in the end zones, $2.20; for box seats (in the high, upper ramps) $4.40.

Two-Year-Old Child Dies While Asleep Here This Morning

Two-year-old Don Eldon Owens, son of Mrs. Betty Owens of 1701 Avenue Q, died about 8:30 o'clock this morning at the residence.

The child died when asleep. He had been in apparently good health Sunday, except for what appeared to be a slight throat ailment. A physician said the death was due to tracheobronchitis, inflammation of the throat and bronchi.

Funeral services were tentatively set for 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the residence. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery, under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

Survivors include the mother; one sister, Peggy Jim Owens; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hamilton of 1701 Avenue Q; and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Owens of Pampa. The paternal grandparents plan to come here for the funeral.

Condition Of Two Lubbock Men Considered Satisfactory Today

LEVELLAND, Dec. 5 (Special)—Condition of both Ben F. Maxey and Park Druhot of Lubbock, who were injured in an automobile collision a mile north of Levelland Saturday night, was considered satisfactory here this morning, said an attending physician at Phillips-Dupre hospital.

Both were expected to be able to be removed home within a week.

Maxey suffered fracture of the right leg, scalp laceration, and slight concussion. Druhot suffered fracture of a vertebra in the lower back, a broken nose and shock.

Maxey and Druhot are associated with Texas-New Mexico Utilities company.

Two negroes were seriously injured in the accident. The negroes, cotton pickers, were going to Marlin.

Thousands Of Colored Lights To Be Lighted In City Tonight

Lubbock lights up for Christmas tonight.

The stringing of strands of ornamental globes will be virtually completed before the day is over, according to information given this morning by J. J. Graham, superintendent of the city light plant, who is supervising that work.

At late dusk, the more than 3,000 colored lights upon the more than five miles of strands will be flashed on. They illuminate an aggregate of more than a mile of downtown streets.

Many of the lights were strung up and were kept lighted nightly during the Panhandle-South Plains fair. Only a portion of the downtown streets, however, were ornamentally illuminated during that event.

The lights, officials explained, were bought last year when merchants in each block contributed the money with which to buy the equipment to ornament portions of the thoroughfares fronting their establishments. The city supplies the elec-

Reverses Not To Affect New Deal, He Says

Implied Warning Is Made To Dictators By Roosevelt In North Carolina Today

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Dec. 5. — President Roosevelt served notice on the South and the nation at large today that he would go forward with a "liberal" program of government despite New Deal election revers[es].

Addressing a university of No[rth] Carolina student forum, he also [de]clared what America does or f[ails] to do in the next few years "ha[s] far greater bearing and influe[nce] on the history of the human race [for] centuries to come than most of [us who] are here today can ever conceiv[e]."

Implied Warning To Dictators

In an implied warning to dicta[tor]ships, he asserted the United St[ates] was "not only the largest and m[ost] powerful democracy in the wh[ole] world, but many other democra[cies] look to us for leadership that w[orld] democracy may survive."

He reaffirmed his faith in [the] political philosophy of liberalism saying: "You have read that a[s a] result of the balloting last Nov[em]ber, the liberal forces in the Un[ited] States are on their way to the c[em]etery—yet I ask you to remem[ber] that liberal forces in the Un[ited] States have often been killed [and] buried—with the inevitable re[sult] that in short order they have c[ome] to life again with more stren[gth] than they had before."

Adopts Cardozo Theme

The president adopted as [his] theme a contention by the late [Su]preme Court Justice Benjamin Cardozo that "We live in a worl[d of] change," hence there can "be [no] constancy in law."

"I am speaking not of the ex[ter]nal policies of the United Sta[tes]," Mr. Roosevelt said. "They are [ex]erted on the side of peace and [they] are exerted more strongly than before toward the self-preserva[tion] of democracies through the as[sur]ance of peace.

"What I would emphasize is maintenance of successful demo[cra]cy at home. Necessarily democ[ratic] methods within a nation's life [and] change—the kind of change thr[ough] local processes described by Mr. [Jus]tice Cardozo—the kind of chang[e to] meet new social and economic n[eeds] through recognized processes of [gov]ernment.

Must Be Met Today

"Because we live in an era of [ac]celeration, we can no longer [leave] to the evolution of future dec[ades] to meet these new problems. [They] raise before us today and they [must] be met today."

Contrasting the American for[m of] government with dictatorshi[ps] without mentioning minority p[erse]cutions abroad—he asserted:

"There may be those in the w[orld] who believe that a revimented [peo]ple, whose every thought and a[ct] is directed by one man, may [give] some people a type of sec[urity] which is pleasing to them.

"But whatever convictions I [have] none is stronger than my ab[iding] belief that the security and [well] being of the American people [can] best be served by the democ[ratic] processes which have made [this] country strong and great."

On Affirmative Action

He added, however, that thei[r fu]tures rested "not on change a[lone] not on mere conservatism, [not on] smugness, mere fatalism, but on affirmative action which we ta[ke in] America."

Placing his hope in the you[nger] generation and pleading for t[oler]ance and a national point of vie[w] against sectionalism, Mr. Roo[sevelt] told the students he was still [a be]liever in capitalism despite [what] they read in their newspapers [or] heard on the air.

Whereas the latter had pic[tured] him as about to plunge the n[ation] into war, as the "inventor of [eco]nomic royalist," and as breakfa[sting] every morning on "grilled mil[lion]aire," actually, he said, he wa[s] "exceedingly mild-mannered p[...]

Silver bowls of white stock and daisies stood near either end of the table.

The announcement was made on engraved "handbills" presented to each guest. They bore a picture of Miss Price and Mr. Prude and read, "Starring Frances Elaine and Johnny in 'Wedding Day,' Tuesday, December 6, 1938."

Miss Price will be attended by her sister, Katherine, and Mr. Prude will be attended by his brother, Carey Prude, Jr. Miss Price will wear traditional white satin with a bodice of white lace. The high neckline will have a Peter Pan collar, and the leg-o'-mutton sleeves will be button trimmed. The skirt, made princess style, will have a fan-train. The finger tip veil of white illusion will form a halo ruffle around her head, being held in place with orange blossoms.

A reception will follow the ceremony. For travel the bride will wear a tailored brown tweed suit with luggage tan blouse and accessories. After a short wedding trip, the young couple will be at home in Colorado.

However, at recent meetings held in Lubbock, Plainview and Amarillo at the call of the state committee, resolutions were adopted vigorously opposing including of the area in any such legislation which might be proposed. Contention was that the territory is not facing a problem of that kind.

Farm Payments Will Be Distributed Earlier This Winter

First Checks To Be In February

BY OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 — Agriculture department officials said today that benefit payments under the 1938 crop program would be distributed this winter and spring — several months earlier than similar payments have gone out in past seasons.

The earlier payments were decided on, they said, with the objective of increasing farm purchasing power at a time when market receipts are low.

To Distribute $500,000,000

About $500,000,000 in benefit payments are to be distributed. Officials said grower applications for payment would be received during December and January and the first checks would go into the mail in February.

The bulk of payments made under the 1937 program went out during the past summer and fall.

When the 1938 checks reach farmers, congress may be debating proposals to substitute some other type of farm legislation for the present law.

Low Prices An Issue

Low farm prices were an issue in agricultural areas during the recent political campaigns.

Most of the 1938 benefit payments will go to producers of cotton, corn, wheat, rice and tobacco for planting within acreage allotments and for following specified soil-building practices.

Later next year, possibly in September and October, the department will distribute $212,000,000 in price adjustment payments to growers of the major crops who comply with the 1939 program. An additional $50,000,000 will be distributed to sugar growers during the spring and summer.

Will Boost Cash Income

These payments, totaling $762,000,000, will be the largest amount ever available for one year. Officials said they should boost the 1939 national cash farm income above the $7,625,000,000 estimated for this year.

Farm economists said preliminary reports indicated that gross farm income — cash receipts and products retained on the farm for home consumption — would total about $8,875,000,000 this year, compared with $10,003,000,000 last year and $5,284,000,000 in 1932.

This year's cash income by major commodities was estimated as follows: grains, $830,000,000; cotton and cotton seed, $710,000,000; fruits and vegetables, $900,000,000; tobacco, $285,000,000; meat animal, $1,900,000,000; dairy products, $1,450,000,000; chickens and eggs, $575,000,000.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling germ-laden phlegm.

The Medical Profession has for generations recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Creosote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Creosote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a good dose of genuine Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and may be taken frequently by both adults and children.

Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund your money. Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Red Jackets Go To Town

By Collier Parris

THANKS A MILLION, fellers, and welcome to the Red Jacket squad. You sure showed speed getting lined up, because you play ball that way. Boy, if a college coach could step out and recruit a squad of gridders as heavy and spirited as the Red Jacket "coaches" rounded up Saturday night and Sunday, there wouldn't be enough "bowls" to go around.

A team is just as strong as its reserve power, and this Red Jacket outfit has plenty of reserve power. So evenly balanced is it that the coaches are making no effort to rate the various teams up according to ability and speed. We'll just list three teams, any one of which is likely to start, and some replacements:

Team No. 1:

Right guard.....A. Nonymous
Right tackle.....Fred Standefer
Right end.....George Kuykendall
Quarterback....J. A. "Judge" Raley

Right guard.....C. C. Caldwell
Right tackle.....Sam G. Dunn
Right end.....Anony Mous

The club manager, trainer and waterboy—Jake Hancock.

Oh, yes, the coaches. You really have something there: Head coach, Parker Prouty; line coach, The Plainsman, and freshman coach, Sportometer.

That's a fair-sized squad, and they're going to look mighty fine in those flashy red leather jackets. Of course when they get the jackets on, their names will be George Webb, Abe Murphy, Rex Williams, Dixie White, Elmer Tarbox, etc., but they'll still look mighty fine. You're going to be quite proud of 'em, because they, the jackets, will enhance Texas Tech's reputation as one of the best dressed football squads in the nation, on or off the field.

Thanks again, and you may now approach the altar and shell out!

COTTON BOWL CHATTER: It seems safe now to crawl out from behind Villanova and other embarrassing situations and announce definitely that Texas Tech will play St. Mary's of California in the Southwestern New Year's classic . . . Tech and the Cotton Bowl authorities are to be congratulated upon this selection, of course; it is a break for both parties—Texas Tech breaks into the Big Time proper, and the Cotton Bowl grabs off a hot attraction . . . So hot, in fact, that already the ticket situation has become grounds for viewing with alarm . . . Not that they're worried about packing the place—more about how to hold back a few choice pasteboards for favorite uncles and cousins . . . .

Whereas the Tech dean of tickets, Bo Williams, sailed down to Dallas last weekend to ask for 15,000 ducats, he came back with a measly five thousand . . . . These will no doubt go like hotcakes, but there's a chance of getting some more for West Texas distribution — there'd better be . . . The tickets go on sale here tomorrow, so you'd better step lively . . . .

The funniest circumstance—to us West Texans——to develop so far in the Cotton Bowl business is the Dallas-Fort Worth controversy . . . In a way, it's not so funny, at that. . . . Dallas seemed to be upset because the Horned Frogs didn't accept the Cotton Bowl bid . . . . Fort Worth retorted with "what do we owe Dallas? . . So Dallas grabs up Texas Tech and says: "Yah, yah, Cowtown. Now watch the West Texans blare through Fort Worth—and watch us throw a party for them!" . . . And Fort Worth says: "That's okay; we're for Texas Tech, too, and West Texas will know about it." . . . So there they are, and we're the innocent bystanders, which makes it lovely . . . They do say that Dallas is falling all over itself whipping up big things for the Cotton Bowl Jubilee; that Dallas is determined to fill up the Bowl just to show they can do it without the Frogs or a similar "big name" team . . . But there'll be a lot of Fort Worth friends of Tech in the stadium . . .

Hotel Adolphus has been selected as Lubock and West Texas headquarters at the Bowl . . . And Dallas scribes probably will do some scouting of their own . . . "Are you folks in Lubbock sore at the Frogs for 'running out' on the Cotton Bowl?" Tolbert asked us over the phone, quite anxiously, the other night . . . The reaction, of course, was "H—— no! We love the Frogs. Where'd we be if they had accepted the Cotton Bowl bid?" . . . Isn't that right, Elmer?

Two More Oklahoma Players Are Injured On Saturday

NORMAN, Okla., Dec. 5 (AP)—Oklahoma's 28 to 0 victory over the Washington State Cougars of the Pacific coast conference proved costly Saturday as two more regulars limped to the sidelines.

An examination disclosed that Bill Jennings, sophomore right halfback, suffered a broken ankle in the second quarter.

Jerry Bolton, junior guard, left the game with a twisted knee which no one thought at the moment was serious, but hospital attendants said an operation on the knee might be necessary.

Howard "Red Dog" McCarty, fleet halfback, suffered a broken leg in the Oklahoma Aggie game the week before.

Waco High School Is Arranging For Game With Chicago Champs

WACO, Dec. 5 (AP) — Waco High school is arranging a football game here with Fenger High school, Chicago champions, with a view of making a similar contest an annual event here.

The proposal is to match annually a representative Texas High school, or the state champions, with a prominent undefeated team of the Middle West or East.

Waco and Fenger plan to play here Dec. 26 or Jan. 2, contingent on the Waco school's athletic council, which meets this week.

BASEBALLERS TO MEET

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 5 (AP)—Minor league baseball chieftains from 37 circuits gathered in hotel lobbies here today while the "hot stove" league sputtered.

Hundreds of them arrived for the 37th annual business session of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, which begins Wednesday.

STURDY SOLE OWNER

MARSHALL, Dec. 5 (AP) — Guy Sturdy, manager of the Marshall East Texas league baseball club last year, became sole owner of the team yesterday. The transfer was announced after he conferred with Marshall business men and Willard Coker, franchise holder.

Temple-Tyler Contest Stand-Out Of Quarter-Finals

Site Will Be Decided Today By Officials

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff Writer

Tyler's unbeaten Lions and Temple's unbridled Wildcats will clash this week in the feature game of the Texas schoolboy football quarter-finals, but the site of the battle was undecided.

Officials of the two schools were unable to agree on a location after a lengthy session at Dallas yesterday and negotiations were due to be resumed today.

Others Are Arranged

Meanwhile sites and dates of the three other games had been arranged with Lubbock playing Breckenridge at Lubbock Friday, Highland Park (Dallas) engaging Masonic Home (Fort Worth) at Dallas Saturday and John Reagan (Houston) tangling with Corpus Christi at Houston Saturday.

Five of the teams left in the race have been finalists in the race, one of them has won a state championship and two others have tied for it.

1930 Upset Recalled

Tyler in 1930 staged one of the greatest upsets of interscholastic league history to beat Amarillo for the championship. John Reagan tied for the first championship ever played for in league annals. Reagan was known as Houston Heights in 1920 when it battled Cleburne to a scoreless tie in the finals. Breckenridge in 1929 played Port Arthur to a scoreless tie at Waco. In 1932 Masonic Home played a scoreless deadlock with Corsicana but lost on penetrations. Corpus Christi lost to Amarillo in the finals of 1934.

Lubbock, always a Panhandle power, advanced as far as the quarter-finals in 1931. Highland Park has been in the quarter-finals three times. Temple has been in the quarter-finals two times, losing to the state champion Longview Lobos last season.

Lubbock Among Favorites

Lubbock, Highland Park, Tyler and Corpus Christi enter this week's games as favorites but all face hard games, especially Tyler, which goes up against a Temple team that did an about-face in mid-season and right now looks capable of giving the Lions opposition as tough as any they could expect to face.

Lubbock's Westerners, conquerors of a fine Amarillo team and winners over a Vernon team that pushed the state runner-up Wichita Falls Coyotes out of the race, meet another up-and-coming outfit in Breckenridge, which lost two games—one of them to Vernon—but which has completed a reversal of form that has the critics stumped. Last week Breckenridge smashed Bowie (El Paso) 40-0. The Bucs have run up 355 points in 11 games.

Masons Beat Them Once

Highland Park meets a rugged Masonic Home team that had little trouble pushing unbeaten Sunset out of the race last week. The Highlanders played Masonic Home in their second game of the season and lost to the Masons 14-13.

Jonh Reagan staged a mild upset by beating Port Arthur 16-14 last week.

Corpus Christi, undefeated but tied once, has a much better season's record than Reagan. As a comparison Reagan lost to Jefferson (San Antonio) 14-0 and Corpus Christi beat Jefferson 26-6.

Border Conference Teams Look Good In Intersectional Tilts

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 5 (AP)—Border conference teams looked over their season records today and found evidence that football in the cactus country is coming up in the world.

The seven members of the loop played 30 games with intersectional foes, won 20 and lost 10.

The total included six wins by undefeated, untied Texas Tech, which played only two conference games this season and so did not qualify for the loop title.

The University of New Mexico showed the next best record, with three wins in as many shots at intersectional opponents.

Texas Mines and New Mexico Aggies each won two of three outside games. University of Arizona, kicked around by conference foes, got three for six in intersectional play, trouncing Loyola of Los Angeles, Marquette and Centenary.

Duke's Blue Devils To Begin Training For Rose Bowl Today

DURHAM, N. C., Dec. 5 (AP) — Duke's unbeaten, untied and unscored-on Blue Devils, who broke training November 26 after trouncing mighty Pitt 7-0 in the last game of their regular schedule, were called back to the practice field today to get ready for their Rose bowl game with the Southern California Trojans, Jan. 2 in Pasadena.

The "Blue Devil special," carrying the Duke team, officials and supporters, to the Rose bowl will pull out of Durham on December 20, arriving in Pasadena December 24.

Conference Commissioner Is Named For The Big Six

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 5 (AP)—Big Six faculty representatives created and filled the post of conference commissioner and approved the limited training table for football players they inaugurated Oct. 1 in sessions here Saturday.

Reaves Peters, for 15 years an official in the Big Six and Missouri Valley conferences, was named the commissioner. He will appoint the arbiters for future football games but must forego officiating.

Sports Roundup

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 — What ever happened to those wolves who were howling for Howie Jones' scalp at Southern Cal. not long ago? . . . Did he—or did he—have those Trojans way up just when that one-bad-day-a-year jinx caught up with the Irish! . . . This corner reported two weeks ago that Howie already had signed his '39 contract — and we'll stick by that one after the 13-0 kayo . . . By the way, have there been any reports from Duke about it yet?

S'pose you all noticed those Orange bowl buddies, Oklahoma and Tennessee, only rolled up 75 points against Washington State and Ole Miss . . . This department could go for that Miami party in a big way . . . Anybody need a good water boy down there?

Battling Bozo, the old battler, is slowly coming around after a series of operations to regain his sight. . . . Birmingham fans (bless 'em) chipped in to a $1,685 purse for him in a benefit show . . . Final figures just in show Davey O'Brien gained 2,459 yards rushing, passing and returning kicks for Texas Christian . . . And Parker Hall picked up 2,067 for Ole Miss. . . . Hall outrushed L'il Davey, but the Froggies ball of fire was Mr. Big in passing, tossed 19 touchdown pitches and intercepted half a dozen . . . Incidentally, don't let 'em kid you that Davey made Sammy Baugh's record look bad. . . . When everything wound up, Sammy still was 770 yards better pitching that apple for his college career.

The golf pros are shooting at purses totalling $100,000 on the grapefruit circuit this season (November to April) and that, as the farmer says, ain't hay, boys.

Westerners To Bear Down For Buckaroos

The Lubbock Westerners, schoolboy grid champions of Districts 1 and 2, return to their practice field this afternoon to start a four-day session of preparation for next Friday afternoon's quarter-final game here against the Breckenridge Buckaroos.

Lubbock won the bi-district title by thumping Vernon, 26 to 6, on the Vernon field last Friday, while Breckenridge was disposing of Bowie High (El Paso) by a more decisive score.

Site of the quarter-final game was determined Saturday when Lubbock and Breckenridge school officials met at Snyder. Business Manager Pinky Lowrey of Lubbock called the coin toss to settle the issue. Invitations by Wichita Falls, Sweetwater and Abilene to use either as a neutral site were rejected.

Tickets for the contest were to go on sale at three Lubbock offices early this afternoon—Hub Clothiers, Hotel Lubbock Drug store, and Mark Halsey Drug No. 2. Prices are 50 cents for students, $1 for all reserved or non-reserved seats, $1.25 for box seats.

The Westerners emerged from the Vernon game in fair physical condition, although two players, Milton Hill, end, and Jerry Nash, tackle, suffered painful bruises. Both are expected to be ready to play this week.

New Pro Champs To Be Crowned Sunday

CHICAGO, Dec. 5 (AP) — A new professional football champion will be crowned next Sunday in New York and it will be either the touchdown-stingy New York Giants or the high-scoring Green Bay Packers.

The lineup for the title battle was definitely decided yesterday. The Giants completely crushed the Washington Redskins, 1937 champions to capture eastern division honors. The Detroit Lions, Green Bay's only threat in the western division, dropped a 21 to 7 decision to the lowly Philadelphia Eagles and eliminated the possibility of a playoff with the Packers.

A crowd of 57,461, largest New York audience since Red Grange made his pro debut 15 years ago, watched the relentless attack which carried the Giants to a 36 to 0 rout of the Redskins.

This game, the Detroit-Philadelphia tilt and Clevelands' 13-7 victory over Pittsburgh completed the league's regular season of play.

Tech Is Third Ranking Scorer In Unbeaten, Untied Teams

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 — Two teams which had waded through their October and November opposition without a hitch, Notre Dame and San Jose (Calif.) Staff, were beaten in their final games of the season Saturday to reduce the nation's list of undefeated and untied football teams for 1938 to 16.

Notre Dame took a 13-0 thumping from Southern California. The University of Hawaii gave San Jose its first setback in 12 games at Honolulu, 13 to 12.

Tennessee's Volunteers swamped Mississippi, 47-0 and Oklahoma's Big Six champions, who meet Tennessee in the Orange bowl at Miami Jan. 2, whipped Washington State, 28-0.

Final records of the undefeated and untied teams, as compiled by the Associated Press included:

Team	Won	Pts.	Opp. Pts
West Tenn. T.	10	281	41
Tennessee	10	276	16
Texas Tech	10	274	35
Tex. Christian	10	254	53
Oklahoma	10	185	12
Duke	9	114	0

Look! One Sports Group Is Found Not 'Bowl Hunting'

"Bowl-nutty" fans and overjoyed players are still tossing the football all over the nation but out Texas Tech way in the Red Raiders' big rambling gym there is another determined group of boys throwing a pigskin here and there—a basketball to be exact.

And that squad of Berl Huffman's has just about decided to take up where their gridiron mates leave off—giving the fans one of the most colorful shows in the Southwest. In fact, court fans are going to be reminded of the hilarious squad of 1937 if this edition keeps up the determination and hustle it now has.

Prospects Are Good

What are the prospects? The immediate assets are two lettermen, six junior college transfers who have really knocked fire in their conferences, two former squadmen, and 11 of the most colorful sophomores ever to walk on a Tech court. Add to that plenty of spirit in every workout and there is Texas Tech's 1939 basketball team.

Pacing the team will be F. M. (Butch) Sachse, 6 foot forward. Last year the Quitaque flash averaged 16.8 points per game and was high scorer of the Oklahoma City tournament. The other letterman available for opening of the season is Coleman Williams, hustling forward.

Those six junior college aces include Bauman Roper, all-state player from Lon Morris college; T. L. (Suppie) Gilley, captain last year of the state championship Tyler Junior college squad who can drop them in from "way out there;" Marshall Brown, teamed with Roper last season to land an all-state berth; Robert (Trotter) Percival, all-state forward with the Cameron Aggies; and Allen Gentry, great scoring guard from Portales Junior college.

Those are the "experienced" boys now in practice. And, incidentally, after Jan. 10 Coach Huffman will have at his services Elmer Tarbox, Rex Williams, and G. L. Webb, regulars and lettermen from last year. Observers believe those lads will help the Raider cause.

Play In Oklahoma City

And Coach Huffman's team is going to need something if they march through a schedule of the toughest competition in Southwest basketball to win the Border conference pennant. New Mexico's Aggies have their greatest squad in several years and other members of the loop boast good teams. The Raiders begin the season officially in Oklahoma City Dec. 27-30.

A scheduled game with Tulane has been called off. Conference play begins Jan. 6-7 when Texas Mines visits Lubbock. Meanwhile the freshmen players would like to schedule games with surrounding high schools.

But until the Bowl season is over the Red Raider basketball team will continue practice—in peace at least!

Tractor Is Scheduled To Make Run From Amarillo To Lubbock In Three Hours! Is Latest In Farm Equipment And Comfort

For the love of gosh!

That thing you see speeding along from Amarillo to Lubbock today, a sleek, powerful, streamlined modernistic vehicle, won't be anything from Mars, after all!

It will be a tractor, even though it does have soundproof safety cap, cushioned seats, radio, heater, self-starter, electric lights, windshield wipers, safety glass, electric horn, fan, cigar lighter, ash tray, sun visor, rear vision mirror, clock ignition and cab door locks and a handy group of instruments on the dashboard.

Built By Minneapolis-Moline

It will be the new MM Comfortractor, a new power unit for farm and industry designed and built by Minneapolis-Moline.

The cowling looks like the instrument panel of an airplane. Ammeter, oil, temperature and gas gauges, speedometer, ignition and light switches, throttle control and choke knob are there.

Appearances Are Deceptive

Appearances sometimes are deceptive. The luxurious surroundings will fool one. The tractor is capable of performing any task required of three or four-plow power.

Long hauling jobs won't bother the farmers any more, for the machine has five forward speeds and will make 40 miles an hour.

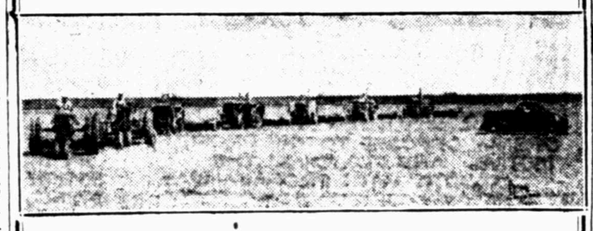

George Smith of Smith Implement company, at 2608 Avenue H will display the tractor after a run against time Monday.

The machine will speed away from the Amarillo Globe-News office to the Avalanche-Journal in Lubbock, and its progress will be clocked closely.

Approximately three hours will be required for the trip.

Ain't that something!

Here's What One Man Thinks OF MINNEAPOLIS-MOLINE

In His Own Words . . .

"These seven tractors all in operation at same time in same field plowed 700 acres in 24 hours.

With one M.T.A. Twin City and another tractor of comparative size, both pulling the same load, the M.T.A. showed a noticeable difference in power in favor of the M.T.A. and 5% more speed and consumed one gallon per hour less fuel.

Again MINNEAPOLIS-MOLINE steps ahead and OPENS THE DOOR to a revolutionary advance in farm tractors. OPENS THE DOOR and seats the farmer in a cab as comfortable as that of his modern automobile. Of course, the MM is more than a tractor with a cab — it's a "COMFORTRACTOR" with a cab as much a part of it as the cab on an automobile. There are comfortable cushion seats for two in the roomy air ventilated and temperature controlled cab with a hot water heater in cold weather and air circulation in hot weather. COMFORTABLY seated away from the dust and elements, the farmer has at his command FIVE SPEEDS forward — from a crawl to 40 M. P. H. Gears can be shifted "on the go". The variable speed governor is controlled like a footfeed. Before the operator are the speedometer, ammeter, oil pressure gauge, and water temperature gauge. Almost any convenience he may name is at his command including such luxuries as a radio and a cigar lighter. A self-starter and powerful electric head lights obey his touch. For night work there is a powerful spot light controlled from the cab that can be turned in any direction. Naturally, POWER and UTILITY have not been sacrificed to modern conveniences, and the new Special DE LUXE Model MM Tractor promises performance records as astonishing as its comfort features. SAFETY, TOO, has been a watchword — the Cab is made of Steel. Safety glass has been used throughout. Vision is excellent.

Tested and proved for several years in the Mohave Desert and under many other tough farming conditions we offer you this modern MM tractor that has every modern feature of the modern automobiles. Windshield wipers, and an electric horn respond to a touch. Big Bendix "self-energizing" brakes and smooth action clutch are foot operated. See the heavy duty bumper, fenders, front and rear, and many other features you'll want to read all about. HIGH COMPRESSION for using regular "leaded" gasoline is standard equipment for this 3-4 plow tractor with speed and power for every need on belt, power-take-off and on the drawbar in the field and on the highway.

CAPITOL PRESSROOM, Austin, Dec. 3.--Down here poking into this and that, The Plainsman dropped by the second floor, airconditioned suite the outer door of which is marked "Governor's Reception Room."

While fooling away time before an appointment with Gov. James V. Allred, your humble servant had an opportunity to do something he long has wanted to do, namely, watch Texas' No. 1 confidential secretary in action.

She is Mrs. Alma Albert, formerly of San Angelo, about whom reams of newspaper copy have justly been written.

Petite, dark and vivacious Mrs. Albert is known as "The Judge," not only by the capitol newspaper crew but by Governor Allred's official family, senators, representatives, state department heads and officials—and last, but not least, by the governor, himself.

Mrs. Albert, who insists she's still a bride although she has been married to a Taylor farmer for nearly two years, came over to the governor's office with Mr. Allred when the latter moved from the attorney-general's department.

Although cordial, agreeable, accommodating and polite, she has machine-like efficiency and among various and sundry other duties takes all the governor's personal letters.

There is little doubt that she knows more about the governor than anyone outside of his family and is the best posted member of her sex on Texas politics and "inside" governmental matters.

AMONG her multifarious talents, "The Judge" is a telephone juggler of note and considerable ability.

She has a knack of hanging the transmitter-receiver part of a phone set between the left side of her jaw and her shoulder, thus leaving both hands free to type information she receives over the wire, or to look up telephone numbers.

Texans with political aspirations and those who have reason to want to be close to the governor rate highly a friendship with "The Judge."

Whether correctly, or not, many believe that if "The Judge" will say a good word for them to the governor, her suggestion is likely to carry considerable weight.

This much is certain: the governor thinks a great deal of Mrs. Albert's ability and integrity; he appreciates her as a loyal employe and assistant; and she is a warm personal friend of the Allred family.

And it wouldn't surprise many people hereabouts if "The Judge" changes jobs along about the middle of January, when the governor is scheduled to take the bench of the new South Texas federal district court, to which he was appointed last summer in Wichita Falls—with appropriate showmanship—by President Roosevelt, in person.

The idea around here is that "The Judge" will continue to be personal secretary to "The Judge"—Judge Allred.

THE present gubernatorial suite has only been in use a couple of years.

Before the switch was made, Texas governors used to office downstairs, in the southeast corner of the capitol in rooms now occupied by Secretary of State Ed Clark.

But Governor Allred liked the second floor better, so the present three-room layout was fixed up, airconditioned and decorated.

One enters through a large and ornate reception room capable of seating probably 20 persons.

As the visitor works his way toward the governor's office—assuming he has no "connections"—he moves next into the office occupied by "The Judge" and First Secretary Dero Cowley, from Hill county. From there, if he's lucky, he goes into the adjoining office used only by the governor.

The Albert-Cowley office and the governor's private sanctum originally made up one big room which was divided when the remodeling was done. Hence neither room is any too

The secretaries' room is probably 20 feet and the governor's office slightly smaller, being about 12x

As one sits in the secretaries' office he frequently can hear snatches of the governor's rather high-pitched voice as he talks to a visitor or over the phone.

Most striking thing about the gubernatorial suite is its high ceilings which tower about 25 feet, and the big windows, framed in oak, which reach almost from floor to ceiling.

Heavy drapes of black and gold hang in the windows.

Proving that the governor "had his head up" when he directed the laying out of the suite, there is a private exit from his office to a private stairway which leads to the first floor—and the free air beyond.

Thus a governor who is sick and tired of being worried to death by callers can slip out without the waitingroom crowd noting his departure.

Nobody has ever accused Governor Allred of being a chump!

THE governor's own office has a half dozen chairs, a heavy leather couch capable of holding four or five visiting firemen, his desk and chair, and a bookcase.

On the Allred desk, in addition to 9,000—more or less—telegrams and letters rests a Bible, left to his successors in office by former Governor Pat Neff, and some books between a pair of book ends marked with the monogram "TTC."

The "TTC" stands for Texas Technological college, of which the governor has been an outstanding friend and supporter, and the ends were made on the campus by students and presented to Texas first citizen, current edition.

Only a few pictures—of close friends, Mrs. Allred and the three Allred boys—are displayed in Jimmie's office.

Only official looking frame holds his honorary degree of doctor of laws, presented the governor by Texas Christian university.

While sightseeing here and there about the country, The Plainsman has gawked at several other gubernatorial layouts and while some are more costly and ornate than that of the governor of Texas, none are more dignified.

There is something of a simple honest, vast air about the Allred suite which seems typical of the state as a whole.

PERSONAL nomination for the two most outstanding things in the offices:

A miniature of Pike's Peak, "won" at the Cotton Bowl football game at Dallas last January by Governor Allred in a wager with Gov. Teller Ammons of Colorado when Rice beat Whizzer White & Co., with Texas' Big Bend National park as the other part of the bet. The miniature is marked with a placque reading "To Governor James V. Allred, of Texas, Your Pike's Peak."

And:

A clipping under the glass top on the desk of Secretary Cowley, reading "You can hardly make a friend in a year, but you can lose one in an hour."

Governor Allred is very high on Mark McGee, his new appointee to the directorate of Texas Technological college who succeeds President Clifford B. Jones.

"The people of Lubbock and West Texas," the governor declared, "as well as Tech's friends everywhere, are going to like Mark McGee. He is one of the finest and most able men in Texas and I predict he'll make one of the best directors Tech ever had—or any school, for that matter. Not only is Mr. McGee a good lawyer and business man, but he's a fine speaker and has the good of the West at heart. I'll personally under-write him."

Governor Allred is a great friend of Tech; he has shown that on many occasions. Since he feels that way about Mr. McGee, all the rest of Tech's friends will be glad of the appointment. Governor Allred's selection is certain to be a good one.

THE Plainsman hasn't been in Austin in something like a year but notices, sadly, that "The Friendly City" has been caught in the "sweep of progress" which has marked the rest of the state.

Many of the old store fronts, which were of an earlier Texas architectural flavor, have been torn down and have given away to the modernistic trend.

This swing, as we see it, eventually will rob Austin of much of its charm.

Many of the old residential and downtown landmarks of 50 years or more ago still stand, to be sure.

Yet slowly, but surely, they are being removed and it is not hard to imagine that the Austin of a few decades hence will be a much changed city—from a standpoint of outward appearances—than the Austin Texans have known for so long.

MYRNA DOMBEY—heroine, Wife of the sensational swing band leader.

ROBERT TAIT—hero. Newspaper photographer—detective.

ANNE LESTER—Myrna's closest friend.

DANNIE FEELEY—officer assigned to investigate Ludden Dombey's murder.

Yesterday: Knocking Rogers out, Tait obtains the band records, delivers them to Feeley. They show Dombey spent $200 in one month for flowers for one woman.

CHAPTER XIII

Tait laughed at Dannie Feeley's reference to the flowers which Dombey had ordered. "If you start looking up the women for whom Lud Dombey bought flowers in the month of May it will keep you plenty busy. I have an idea you'll run across a lot of florist's bills in this bunch of stuff."

Tait was right. There were bills from florists by the dozens—and sometimes there were letters from florists, very pointed ones, inquiring as to when payment could be expected. There were the same kind of letters from tailors and jewelers.

"This guy Dombey certainly let loose of a lot of change whenever his creditors caught up with him," Feeley said.

Tait did not answer at once. In his hand he held a sheet of yellow paper and he was studying it intently. "Here," he said at last, in response to Feeley's inquiring gaze. "Now we're getting at something."

"What is it?"

"It's the contract with the fellow who wrote the song 'The Cat's Meow.'"

"Well, what about it?"

"Just this: Ludden Dombey was supposed to have written the song. It's made a big hit. But he didn't write it. An unknown, down-and-out musician wrote it, and he made a contract with Dombey to use it under Dombey's name—for a royalty. But Dombey got behind in those payments, too."

Feeley's eyes narrowed. "How'd you know that, and why in the hell didn't you tell me?"

"I haven't known it long enough to tell anybody. But Harris Rogers told me, and that's why I was anxious to get hold of these records."

"Now maybe we've got something," Feeley cried, snatching at the yellow sheet. "Does it give the guy's name?"

Tait nodded. "I take that signature to be George K. Weeks."

Feeley grabbed for the telephone. "They ought to have his address at the musicians' union." He whirled a mechanical number pad on his desk, began dialing furiously. Then into the 'phone he barked. "Let me talk to Jamison . . . Hello, Jamie? . . . . This is Feeley down at headquarters. Have you got the address of a musician by the name of George K. Weeks?" Feeley drummed the desk, waiting. Then: "Okay. Thanks, Jamie." He replaced the instrument in its cradle and turned to Tait. "Hasn't paid his dues for a year and isn't a member any longer. The address they have for him is the south end—lodging house district. He may still be there." Feeley reached for his hat. "Want to leave this a while and see what luck we have?"

"Sure thing."

The two climbed into one of the headquarters' cars and sped toward the south end. Feeley was a demon at the wheel, and his police siren effectively took care of the traffic. "How long do I have to work for the force before I can have a police siren?" Tait asked humorously.

Feeley spat overside. "You got to get a car to put it on first."

"I've had cars," said Tait. "I've had cars a darned lot better than this crate. Of course right now I'm renting one."

"Say—" Feeley began hesitantly. "That is, I probably could get you on the payroll, photographing evidence and that stuff." The big Irishman was embarrassed at his own kindness.

"Thanks, pal, I'd rather stick to a newspaper. And right now I'm too busy to find a job."

Feeley looked at him. "What you going to get out of this? A girl?"

"Listen, Dannie. You're the second guy that's made that crack to me. The first one who made it almost got a sock in the puss. Only the fact that I love you so much saves you from the same fate."

"Also the fact that I'd take all your wheels out and scatter them down the road," mentioned Feeley imperturbably. He wheeled toward the curb. "This is the block."

They stopped in front of a dingy gray flat with the inevitable badly-lettered sign: Room to Let. Feeley and Tait got out, and in another moment were rapping at the weather-beaten door.

The woman who answered looked amazingly like the place she kept. "Wanta room?" she said, somewhat suspiciously.

"No, thanks," Feeley told her. "We want to see an old friend of ours by the name of Weeks — George K. Weeks.

The woman snorted. "He ain't been here for a long time. And he owes me rent, too!"

"Do you know where he went?"

"If I did," snapped the woman, arms akimbo, "I'd be getting what he owes me or know the reason why."

"When did he skip?"

"On the night of the 14th, it was," said the landlady. "Sometime between 11 and 11:30 when I was over visitin' Mrs. Kremer. I know when it was exactly, because I'd been keepin' an eye on him. I thought he was still in the room, but he must have got away on me. And he owes me seventeen dollars and eight-five cents. I ought to charge him two dollars for scuffing the table, but I'd be satisfied to get my rent and bid goodby to him."

"Well, we want him, too, sister," said Dannie Feeley. "And if we find him we'll remind him about the rent."

"I'll bet you will," answered the woman, her tone plainly indicating that she would wager quite the contrary.

* * *

As they climbed into the car, Feeley said: "He beat it on the 14th, between 11 and 11:30. Did you get that?"

"I did. That was about when Ludden Dombey took his last bow."

"Yeah. Looks like you hit something hot, son."

Tait nodded. "Only we don't know where it is. Mind if I ask a question, professor?"

"Shoot," said Feeley, shoving the car into gear.

"Why didn't you ask that woman what Weeks looked like?"

Feely grunted. "Never ask a landlady about the appearance of a bird who's run away owing her money. She'd say he was a weazened, sneaky-looking guy with cross eyes. I'd rather trust a description from Jamie—and maybe he's got a picture. Suppose you go back to Dombey's records, and I'll bust over to the union office?"

"Right. There's another skeleton I want to find among those papers."

PROBLEM WORTH CONSIDERING

SOME food for thought for Lubbock parents and for men and women interested in the future of the boys and girls of this community:

From 1931 to date a total of 587 juvenile cases have been heard in the juvenile courts of Lubbock county, witht 95 per cent of the cases arising in Lubbock, according to records of Judge E. L. Pitts.

In 1937 there were 77 juvenile delinquency cases in the county. So far in 1938, to Dec. 1, 117 cases, an increase of 40.

Since Sept. 1, 1936, Judge Pitts said, he had handled 156 juvenile cases in the 99th district court; of these, 127 were white boys; 13 were white girls; 14 were negro boys; one negro girl and one Meximan boy and no Mexican girls.

There are, at present, 17 boys and 3 girls from this county in the state reform schools of Texas.

These facts were presented Thursday by Judge Pitts to the Kiwanis club. The figures speak for themselves.

Hitler Regime Is Certain To Crack Up, Says Economist; "When?" Only Question About It

BY JOHN T. FLYNN
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

New York, Dec. 5.—One of the questions most often asked about Germany is, "How long can the Nazi regime last?" It is a question, of course, which has two aspects—economic and political.

FLYNN

First, the economic. Economists have predicted that Germany running in violation of most economic laws, would crack up sooner than this. Without an adequate gold reserve, with foreign trade ruthlessly cut, with capital investments drying up, how does she manage to operate?

The answer is reasonably plain. In 1933 Germany found herself in much the same position as we found ourselves. Hitler came into power about the time Roosevelt did. Both adopted the plan of raising funds by heavy borrowing. In six years Roosevelt borrowed nearly 20 billion dollars; Hitler borrowed 10 billion. This later figure is a minimum estimate. It may be as high as 12 1-2 billion. This is an enormous figure for Germany—proportionately greater than the United States. Of course this has supplied and continues to supply a continuous flow of fresh funds into the economic system.

But Hitler and Roosevelt adopted very different financial plans from this point on. Hitler pegged both prices and wages at the point at which he found them in 1933. Roosevelt announced his intention of doing everything in his power to raise both prices and wages.

Tax, Tax, Tax

Then Hitler proceeded to tax. He taxed everybody, from the lowest workman to the richest capitalist. He literally drained everyone. Thus, when Roosevelt borrowed a billion and spent it, it went into private hands and remained there. When he wanted to spend more money he had to borrow another billion. When Hitler borrowed a billion it went into private hands and there he immediately recaptured it by means of drastic taxation so that he got it back and had it to spend again.

We need pursue the comparison no further. Hitler thus kept the spending power of the people at the lowest point by keeping wages down, but he spread the income over a larger number of people. Soon there were no unemployed because all had work—work in the armament plants supported by this enormous borrowing and taxation.

But these people have little to spend even out their low wages and high profits, because the government withdraws it all from them by taxes. All this requires an immense amount of regulation of the minutest variety.

But one effect of this is slowly to dry up all capital investment. The business men can make large profits, since everybody is employed and wages are low, but he is allowed to keep so little of his profits that you cannot imagine him investing any of what he does retain to make further profits which will do him so little good. Therefore, investment ends.

And as investment comes to an end the government must step in to supply its place by government supported industries. The effect of this will be gradually to extinguish the capitalist system entirely and thus what started out to be a last-ditch fight to save capitalism, ends by growing into a collective state. But it is a collectivist state built upon the complete expropriation of the capitalist and middle classes without correspondingly emancipating the worker. It has in it the seeds of disintegration not only because of its economic weaknesses, but because of its political weaknesses, for presently all classes will oppose it.

On the purely political side, the regime is founded on violence and scarcity. The scarcity is bound to increase and, with it, the discontent. The German is a person accustomed to a better life, unlike the Russian who never had anything. The German stomach becomes a factor in the question. But also the men at the top inevitably will fall out. Already there has been one falling out and one bloody purge. There will be others. No revolutionary regime based on brutal violence has ever escaped the quarrels of the leaders.

These two factors, plus the spiritual forces at work—the resentment of Catholics and large numbers of Protestants, added to the economic factors—makes the crack-up of the regime inevitable. No one, of course, can put his finger on the date of the crack. But it must come.

The Plainsman

itol's front door, where Congress avenue runs into the great, guant building which houses most of Texas officials, the state owns a beautiful lot.

When the land was purchased a few years ago, the idea was that before many years the state would build a big skyscraper into which overflow offices of its departments and bureaus would be housed.

The idea was practical, but the state today is no nearer its skyscraping annex than it was the day the lots were purchased.

The more cynical of the folks around here say it will be a long time before any such annex is erected.

Reason: Owners of Austin downtown property, a great deal of which is rented to the state to care for overflow offices, have too strong an organization fighting the plan.

They don't like the idea of losing their tenants.

If it were left to a vote of capitol correspondents, Texas Tech could go into the Southwest conference right now.

Howard Marshall, Ray Neumann, Farrell Lee and Bill Kevs, of the Associated Press; Gordon Shearer of the United Press; Dick Vaughn of the Houston Press; Ed and Lecta Rider of the Houston Chronicle and Dawson Duncan of the Dallas News all tried to pick an argument with the Plainsman, as if it were a personal matter and that we had something to do with keeping Tech out!

They're interested in the Cotton Bowl game—and hot for Tech to take the Galloping Gaels.

American exports of chewing gum in 1937 totaled $8,182,000 pounds valued at $1,177,000, or more than double the 1933 figure.

Anne Jamison

was a seige of rebellion, the child witnessed a political murder and shortly afterward the family came to Canada, settling at Guelph, Ontario, home of Edward Johnson, manager of the Metropolitan Opera association.

Financial reverses followed the days after the World war in which her father was seriously wounded and the young woman, who had hoped to study voice, found that she must go to work. After studying a business course, she obtained a position as secretary to the crown attorney on Toronto and immediately began a study of music at the Toronto Conservatory, graduating with flying honors. Realizing that she lacked "voice placement," even after completing the music course, Miss Jamison went to England when she was fortunate to sing before William Shakespeare, tutor of leading artists of the world. She was "scared to death because Mr. Shakespeare told me I had a voice but I didn't know how to sing." He accepted her as a pupil, however, and for one year she sang only one note for him. His contention was if one couldn't sing one note well, he couldn't sing. When Miss Jamison said goodbye to her great teacher, he named her his last great voice of five singers he could call great in his entire career.

Went To New York In 1933

She returned to Canada, appearing over the CFRB network as star soprano and in 1933 came to New York to audition with 152 other singers for feature place on the Palm Olive Beauty Box, a program that had presented Gladys Swarthout. After her audition, Miss Jamison went to the movies to relax and late that afternoon discovered the manager had been searching frantically to sign her. She has appeared with Frank Black in "The Pause That Refreshes Hour," and sang in the "Hollywood Hotel" program with Dick Powell for three years. On the opening night of the "Hollywood Hotel" program her father heard his talented daughter for the last time.

Other outstanding radio work has been with Fred Astaire in the Packard hour series, on the Lucky Strike programs, with Rubinoff on the Chevrolet programs, on the Magic Key hour and with Bing Crosby whom she describes as "one swell guy."

Critics' raves over Miss Jamison's Town Hall Recital in March of this year extended to the West coast and Maestro Merola of the San Francisco Opera company signed her for two operas. She sang the role of Yniold in "Pelleas and Melisande" (Debussy) and Musetta in "La Boheme," starring with such figures as Gigli, Bonelli, Pinza and the new find, Favero. She has been invited by two conductors to come to the Metropolitan but because the season is completed leaving only minor roles, she has decided to wait until next season, in the mean time singing as many concerts as possible.

State Leaders Attend

Leading legionnaires outside the district who took leading parts in the convention included Ed Riedel, San Angelo, 5th Division commander; Walton Hood, San Antonio, past state commander; and George Hughes, Groesbeck, past state adjutant.

The convention opened Saturday afternoon with a parade through the Snyder business district. A dance scheduled at the legion hut Saturday night was so largely attended that the site was moved to a skating rink.

Local Auxiliary members were hosts to visiting women at a Sunday morning breakfast, followed by the Auxiliary business session.

An old-fashioned outdoor chuck wagon feed was given for the visitors Sunday at noon, with Harrie Winston, veteran cattleman, as chief cook. Son-of-agun, steak, red beans and other typical outdoor food was on the menu.

Sam O. Nations, commander of the local Will Payne Post. No. 181 said more than one-half of the district's 58 post's were represented at the convention.

towns. It is one of the most important high school games ever played in West Texas and the chances are that it will be the last appearance of the Westerners on the home field.

Even should they get past the Bucks, the flip of a coin will decide the scene of the semi-final contest. The winner here will meet the winner of the Masonic Home-Highland park quarter-final. The championship final is almost certain to be played on a neutral field.

It is fairly definite, Irvin learned, that Breckenridge will not attempt a special train because it would be necessary to operate over three different railroads. They probably will be here in chartered buses, he learned. Included in the party, according to present indications, will be the band and 500 students.

FDR's Speech

—a practitioner of peace, both domestic and foreign, a believer in the capitalistic system, and for my breakfast a devotee of scrambled eggs."

Others Had Protested

He said other men in public life had protested against certain forms of economic control and epithets far stronger than any he had ever used had been employed by other presidents.

"Those of us who knew Woodrow Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt and Grover Cleveland could hardly call them mollycoddles," he said. At another point he asserted:

"It is only the unthinking liberals in this world who see nothing but tragedy in the slowing up or temporary stopping of liberal progress.

Only "Headline" Mentality

"It is the unthinking conservatives who rejoice when a social or economic reform fails to be 100 per cent successful."

"It is only the 'headline' mentality that exaggerates or distorts the true objectives of those in this nation whether they be the president of the University of North Carolina or the president of the United States, who, with Mr. Justice Cardozo, admit the fact of change and seek to guide change into the right channels to the greater glory of God and the greater good of mankind."

The president quoted at length a letter written in 1908 by President Theodore Roosevelt to a friend who was "fighting for social and political decency" on the Pacific coast and who faced the opposition, as "T. R." put it, of men of wealth and social standing.

"Keep Up The Fight"

"Do not get disheartened; and keep up the fight," the former president wrote.

What "T. R." had said in effect, said the president, was the American people must have definite objectives for improvement of government and social and economic conditions; second, these must be carried out by "definite" action, and third the government and the people must have two essential qualities—first a sense of proportion and perspective and, second, good will and a sense of humor.

"Almost every crisis of our history since 1789, he said, "has become a crisis because of a lack on the part of leaders or on the part of the people themselves, or both, of some of these essentials."

In accepting an honorary degree of doctor of laws from the University the president paid tribute to the school for its "liberal teaching."

Magician To Appear At Slaton Tuesday

SLATON, Dec. 5. (Special)—Mondro the Magician Tuesday night will be presented in the Slaton High school and auditorium for an exhibition under the auspices of the school yearbook staff. It will be a two-act, two-hour performance "highly endorsed by colleges, schools, theaters, service clubs and ministers," school officials said.

Forty per cent of the money received will go to the annual fund.

Mondro was presented in a 20-minute performance at a meeting of the Slaton Rotary club at a luncheon at noon Thursday. Tricks include telepathy, card tricks and blind-fold acts.

Contract Awarded

Contract for publishing the annual was awarded to the Steck Engraving company of Austin, according to Joe E. Webb, superintendent, the company printing last year's volume. Two hundred copies will be ordered and sold for $2 each.

Truman Shelton, editor, said "dummies" are partially complete.

"As a means of adding more interest to the book this year," Webb said, "instead of only one view of each student, each is having a regular photo as well as snapshot. More life is being put into the advertising by putting pictures of students into "ads."

Special pages and sections will be devoted to the administration, board of trustees, superintendent and principal, faculty members, administrative facts, several classes, snapshots and the school calendar, activities, and features, it was pointed out.

Take Calotabs to Help Nature Throw off Colds

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of any virus-laden mucus and toxins. Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which may be needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package.—(adv.)
