KLAN CROSSES BANNED

Police Are Now Seeking Safe Cracking "Fagin"

"MASTER MIND" IS STILL FREE IN SAFE CASES

Detective Chief May Given Full Credit For Solving Mystery

DREW CONFESSIONS

Youths Arrested Were Aided By Veteran Blower Who Is Known

With the solution of the recent burglary cases by Detective Chief Dave May, the arrest of five men wanted, the solving of 10 local burglaries, the recovery of the missing Swift and company safe and other stolen loot, the discovery of a "master mind," which directed the robberies, is all that remains to bring to an end one of the most effective pieces of detective work ever accomplished in Wichita Falls.

Detective Chief May, who has since the attempted burlary of the People's Ice company safe six weeks ago, the first in a long series that followed almost nightly, been giving his entire time to the solution of the affair, has been rewarded. The satisfaction of solving and bringing about the arrest and confession implicating three of the men in the case is his.

Refused To Talk.

A week ago the Coca-Cola plant of Corsicana was broken into and $650 cash and some jewelry stolen. The same day two men, C. S. Taylor and Henry Berry, were arrested at Fort Worth and charged with the Corsicana robbery. Detective Chief Jackson notified May that the two men said they were from Wichita Falls. May wired Jackson a description of the property stolen here and a list of the burglaries. Jackson quizzed the boys about the Wichita Falls burglaries and they refused to divulge anything other than to admit they were in Wichita Falls at the time the burglaries occurred here.

The two men were then taken to Corsicana and held for the burglary of the Coca-Cola plant there. Sunday May left for Corsicana to find out what the two boys knew about the local case. "I'll get a confession if I have to stay a month for I have every evidence that Berry and Taylor know all about the local robberies," May said as he left for Corsicana.

On arrival at Corsicana Monday morning May went at once to the office of Police Chief Knight. "These may be the right boys you are after but we have not been able to connect them with anything yet, not even the local burglary," the Corsicana chief said. Dave asked that Berry be brought into the office.

May Gets Busy.

For two hours May questioned Berry and brought before the latter all about the local burglaries. After awhile Berry began to weaken and soon to admit a few burglaries. A gun stolen from the L. and M. Auto Market here was identified first. Finally Berry made a complete confession. He told all of his accomplices' names and the location of some of the stolen loot. "How about this Corsicana burglary?" May asked Berry. "We pulled it too," Berry replied. So the two burglary mysteries were solved by the Wichita Falls detective chief at the same time.

May next had to find some way of getting Berry back to Wichita Falls. District Attorney George of Navarro county hesitated to allow May to take the prisoner away. May insisted that he wanted to bring Berry back and locate some of the loot and find out whether the man was telling the truth or not. On promise to turn Berry back to Corsicana as soon as the local situation was cleared, May was allowed to return with Berry. Berry also confessed to helping highjack a man at Corsicana of $75.

Find Safe.

On arrival here late Monday night with the prisoner, May on Tuesday with Police Chief Hodgins, Commissioner Young, other members of the department, went with Berry to where he said the Swift and company safe had been planted. About six miles out on the Jacksboro road, it was found in a secluded ravine. A number of papers and checks were there. It had been dismantled. Among the papers was found 67 cents in cash, all that had been overlooked of the $250 originally in the safe.

When the dismantled safe was brought back to the city hall about 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon a number of persons crowded around and knew that part of the burglary loot had been recovered. At the request of the police department officials, no publication of the finding of the Swift and company safe and the verbal confession of the theft, was made Wednesday morning.

During Wednesday District Attorney Bernard Martin and May spent the most of the day quizzing Berry and getting his confession in writing. Albert Funston, implicated by Berry as one of the five men in the burg-

Judge Refuses A Continuance In Shooting Trial

By The Associated Press.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 19.—Judge Wade, in circuit court today refused to grant continuance for 60 days in the trial of Emery Connell and Joe Sullivan, charged with murder in connection with the killing of L. C. Hay, a city detective last July, sought by counsel for Connell to assemble evidence to combat a declaration by Ralph Morey, chief of police at Sapulpa, that Connell was also the slayer of John Lung, a Sapulpa policeman.

Morey identified Connell as the man who shot Lung.

Attorneys for Connell said they could prove that Connell was in Chicago at the time the Oklahoma officer was killed and that Morey has identified two other men as the slayer of Lung.

Judge Wade ruled that, as Lung was not on trial for the Oklahoma killing, the continuance was not warranted

Argument over the admission of a statement made by Hay after he was mortally wounded occupied much of the morning session of the court. The court held, however, that part of Hays statement which declared that "the little fellow (Connell) did all the shooting," was admissible.

Hay was shot and fatally wounded while he was attempting to arrest Connell and Sullivan.

BIG PARADE OPENS WILBARGER'S FAIR

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Sept. 19.—The opening day of the Eleventh annual Wilbarger county fair dawned cloudy and with a light rain falling and for a few hours the directors despaired thinking the plans of months had been swept aside by the elements but Odd Sol routed Jupiter Pluvius about 11 and the mammoth parade was held though a few hours late.

A. O. Youngblood, marshal of the parade, began at noon to assemble the parade and soon the greatest local talent procession ever held in Wilbarger county was in motion. Down main street came the fire department the city officials in specially decorated cars, an American Legion float, a number of private cars, and floats representing the boys' and girls' clubs. Every commercial and civic organization of the city was represented in the parade.

The crowds followed the parade to the fair grounds the stores of the city closing during the opening hours of the fair. The rain kept a number from the rural districts from attending the opening day and for that reason the running horse racing events were postponed until Thursday. The exhibit buildings this year have the greatest agricultural display ever shown and the livestock exhibits are excellent.

Tonight the style show, the main event of the fair, is expected to be the climax of the annual exposition

KLAN INVOLVED IN FLOG TRIAL

Grand Jury Declares Assault as the "Greatest Stigma"

By The Associated Press.

GEORGETOWN, Texas, Sept. 19. The jury in the case of Murray Jackson, charged with an assault on R. W. Burleson on the evening of April 1, was completed this evening. Witnesses, numbering more than 100, were sworn in immediately.

Burleson, on the stand, recited the happenings of the day on which he received the beating in or near the bottoms of the San Gabriel and later bleeding and weak, was found chained to a tree on the city hall square in Taylor.

"Do you see any one in this court room who got out of the car which stopped you and beat you with a pistol?" he was asked.

"I do," Burleson replied and complying with a request from the district attorney, he pointed out Jackson, the defendant whom he identified and said that he was the one hit him with the pistol.

The assault made on Burleson was "the greatest stigma ever placed upon the fair name of Williamson county" The grand jury declared in its final report upon the case before adjournment today. The report follows

"We have further investigated the assault made on R. W. Burleson on April 1, 1923, which we believe to be the greatest stigma ever placed upon the fair name of Williamson county. While it is not our opinion that this deed was planned and executed by the ku klux klan as an organization, yet the preponderance of evidence brought before the preceding grand jury and the present grand jury shows that members of the klan did this piece of work.

"We believe that there are good men in the klan, men who do sanction flogging or other crime. On the other hand we are sure that there are those in the klan who would welcome a chance for such an adventure. If the good men in the klan wish its skirts to be cleared of such crimes, they should use their influence to assist the grand jury in bringing the guilty ones to justice. This grand jury has not had the assistance of a single member of the klan in its endeavors to ferret out this case.

"We recommend to the court that this case be called to the attention of the next succeeding grand jury and we call upon all good citizens of Williamson county to volunteer any information they may have that will assist in the ferreting out all violations of the law."

MISSING PASTOR HOME SAFE

Desired To "Get Away From It All"

By The Associated Press.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 19.—"I simply could not stand the strain; some men might have, and I thought that I could, but I found that it was too much," Rev. John T. Renfro, Baptist pastor whose disappearance has been puzzling friends and officials since August 22, when his hand baggage was found upon the banks of the San Antonio river, said today. "I was giving all my time and energy to the campaign for the Fred Roberts memorial hospital, driving from 50 to 250 miles a day, six days a week, to return home at the end of the week, where I preached two sermons, taught a Sunday school class, and posted the hospital accounts.

"I was constantly threatened with letters coming through the mail. Tongues wagged. My standing in the community was hurt, and my credit was impaired. I was unable to meet my indebtedness. My wife had been ill for weeks and was in the hospital. A desire to get away from it all—to rest, overcame me and I yielded to it. I am going to stay in Sinton, although I am going to rest until I am strong again," the Rev. Renfro said.

The pastor asserted that he had bought a ticket from San Antonio to Philadelphia Wednesday August 22, and had arrived in the Pennsylvania city the following Saturday; there he secured a room in a hotel, but soon left, and went to a private boarding house. Two weeks from the following Tuesday, Rev. Renfro said, secret service operatives found him and took him to Washington, where he was placed in a rooming house. He stayed there confined to his bed, until last Saturday, when he received word that his wife and son were ill. He immediately bought a ticket to Corpus Christi, but before he left he received a telegram that his wife was on her way to Atlanta, so he bought another ticket to that city, where he met his wife last Sunday afternoon. They remained in Atlanta until Monday afternoon, then from there came directly to Sinton, arriving there yesterday morning.

SOONER EDITORS ISSUE ADDRESS

Declare to Nation They Are In Favor of Law and Order

By The Associated Press.

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 19.—An address "to the people of the United States" declaring that "the supreme issue in Oklahoma today is constitutional government or despotism," was made public tonight by a group of Oklahoma daily newspaper publishers following an all-day meeting called by a local editor with a view of "placing the true situation before the country."

Publishers of several of the largest dailies in the state signed the statement.

"Governor Walton, by his own acts, has attempted to nullify rights guaranteed under our constitution, and to halt the lawful processes of republican government," the publishers declared.

To Legislation.

A second declaration addressed to "members of the legislature" said:

"The editors of Oklahoma urge that the legislators meet immediately."

Referring to recent events in connection with the declaration of state wide martial law, which were termed instances indicative of Governor J. C. Walton's "despotic conception of his legislative powers," the public address said "these acts create an intolerable situation in Oklahoma—one which the people can not endure and the press can not condone."

The following personally signed the address:

E. K. Gaylord, the Daily Oklahoman and the Oklahoma City Times; E. S. Bronson, El Reno American; Richard Lloyd Jones, the Tulsa Tri-

RECORD SLASHES BY THE PRAIRIE MADE IN CRUDE

Reduction Ranges From 15 to 70 Cents Per Barrel

SINCLAIR OPTIMISTIC

Local Men Believe Bottom Is Near With Rejuvenation Ahead

All records in slashes of the posted price of crude oil are believed to have been smashed yesterday when the Prairie Oil & Gas Co. announced a reduction of from 15 to 70 cents in the price of crude in the Mid-Continent fields. The drastic cut of 70 cents is said to be a record-breaker for the big companies. Sinclair immediately met the price.

Although no official announcement was made, it is believed the Texas, Magnolia and other big companies in north Texas will immediately meet the new price.

The new schedule also reduces the grades from 8 to 3.

The new quotations are:

Below 33 degrees 90 cents; 33 to 39.9 degrees $1.30; 40 degrees and above $1.75.

While a cut in crude by the Prairie has been expected in oil circles, due to recent reductions by the Magnolia and other purchasers, the reduction was not expected to be so large and the change in grades was not looked for.

Bottom Near.

That crude oil prices will drop to the bottom soon, to be followed by a rejuvenation of the oil business, was the general opinion of oil operators here yesterday upon the reception of news of the new cut made by the Prairie Oil and Gas company. Very little was said in regard to the new system of grading by that company.

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company will probably follow this cut with a like decrease in their prices, it was stated by Jackson, manager of the sales and traffic department of that company, and it is expected that the smaller companies will follow this lead.

As far as can be learned here the Prairie company is continuing to prorate the runs under the prices now set. If these prices are met by local companies, the rates will be the same for the lower grades. As to the highest grade or that over forty degrees, there may be no cut in price here. This grade, over degrees as graded by the Texhoma comapny, is now selling for $1.80, and it may be left standing when that company sets its new prices, according to Mr. Jackson.

The price cut by the Prairie Oil and Gas company, so far as concerns prices in north Texas at this time, is as follows: ten-cent reduction on all gravities from 30 to 36; thirty-cent reduction, 37 to 38.9; fifty-cent reduction on 39 to 39.9; five-cent reduction on 40 and up.

Sinclair Optimistic.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—H. F. Sinclair, chairman of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation, in a formal statement today expressed the belief that "with today's adjustment, crude oil prices in the mid-continent field are at the bottom and should result in early stabilization of the industry.

"Pessimism in the petroleum industry," he said, "had been carried to ridiculous extreme. Conditions in recent months have been bad but they certainly have not been as bad as we have been led to believe.

"The prices we are now paying for crude oil do not cover the cost of production, except from perhaps 5,000 out of 285,000 producing wells of the United States.

"Obviously such a condition cannot last and the sooner it is corrected the better. If the decline in California's production is as rapid as now expected, there will be a shortage of crude oil which must necessarily mean higher prices."

NAVAL DISASTER MAY BE SOLVED

Navigation Officer Is Suddenly Made a Defendant

By The Associated Press.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Sept. 19.—Dead certainty that they were right and a radio compass station on Point Arguello was wrong, led navigators of destroyer squadron 11 to plot a change of course that hurled seven ships upon the rocks off Point Honda and cost the lives of 23 enlsted men, a naval court of inquiry was told here today by Lieutenant Laurence F. Blodgett, navigation officer of the squadron's flagship, Delphy.

The frank admission that "little weight was attached" to radio signals from Arguello furnished the chief sensation of the hearing today and ended in the interruption of the witness' account by Admiral W. V. Pratt, presiding member of the court, long enough to make the witness the thirteenth defendant in the case.

Lieutenant Blodgett was the first new defendant to be named in connection with the disaster under investigation since Monday when 12 naval officers were cited in the precept of the court of inquiry as "interested parties in the status of defendants." He told his story leaning over a large chart of the waters about Santa Barbara channel, plotting painstakingly with rule and dividers the Delphy's course as laid out by himself and the commanding officer of Delphy, Lieutenant Commander Donald T. Hunter.

About him clustered the naval officers conducting the inquiry, eagerly scanning the chart as the witnesses indicated his course of the squadron, the point which he thought the Delphy was at 9 o'clock the night of September 8 and the point where she actually was at that time.

WALTON ORDERS FIERY CROSSES BE STRUCK DOWN

Tulsa Representative Says Legislature Will Meet Next Week

GRAND DRAGON BACK

Senator Nichols Comes Out Flat Against Meeting at This Time

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 20. Fiery crosses of the ku klux klan which have blazed nightly over Oklahoma since Governor J. C. Walton declared war upon the secret organization were ordered struck down in a proclamation issued here early today by the executive.

"The fiery cross is the pagan emblem of fear, hatred and rebellion," declared the governor. It now is high aloft as an emblem of fear in many public places, evidencing recroachment upon the civil government of the state."

Declaring that the issue is clearly drawn—"Our government under the Stars and Stripes or the 'Invisible Empire' under the fiery cross," Governor Walton called upon all civil authorities and military forces of the state to dismantle the emblems of the ku klux klan whereever they are found in public places.

By The Associated Press.

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 19.—"The Oklahoma legislature will meet next week—even if the members have to convene in Arkansas or Texas," representative John H. Miller, Tulsa, told newspaper men tonight following his return from Oklahoma City where he had been active several days in secret endeavors to organize a majority of the lower house.

Admitted that armed guardsmen might prevent a meeting in the statehouse at Oklahoma City, the legislator declared that those who are behind the move are prepared to gather elsewhere, in Oklahoma if possible, or beyond the borders of the state if necessary.

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 19.—Governor Walton's threat to prolong military rule over Oklahoma a year "if that is necessary to clean it up," assumed foremost importance today as the state passed quietly its fourth day under martial law.

Declaring in an interview with a local newspaper that he will keep martial law in effect until county officials show a willingness to enforce the laws, the executive asserted.

"I am not short of money as has been reported. I can hold out a year with the military operations at their present strength."

N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Oklahoma realm of the klan, returned here today after an absence of several days. He neither would affirm nor deny reports that he had conferred with high officials of the order concerning the local situation and declined to say where he had been.

A new element was injected into the situation today when Senator Clark Nichols, of Eufaula, came out in flat opposition to the attempt now being made by certain legislative opponents to Governor Walton to call a special session with a view to impeaching the executive. In an open letter to his colleagues in the upper house, Senator Nichols asked:

"Isn't this the very worst time to have a session of the legislature?"

"Legislatures are prone to go wild in ordinary times; what then could you expect at this time?" the senator said. He urged his coborets to "wait for the cooling time."

In defiance of the governor's threat to jail all legislators who attempt to convene in special session, leaders of the movement continued today their efforts to obtain a majority of the lower house so that an immediate call for the extraordinary session can be filed. It is expected that definite action in the matter will come before the end of the week.

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 19.—More than a score of specific charges, all alleging that Governor J. C. Walton has misused his official power, are enumerated in a call for a special session of the lower house of the Oklahoma legislature, copies of which were made early today.

It was announced that signatures of 45 house members have been obtained on the call. Only nine more names are needed to give a majority of the house membership.

ARIZONA PARTLY ISOLATED; FLOOD

Efforts to Communicate With Flood-Swept Holbrook Vain

PHOENIX, Arizona, Sept. 19.—Northwestern Arizona, drenched by the heaviest rains in many years, was still isolated today while work was under way on railroads and highways to restore traffic to the storm struck area.

Efforts to communicate with Holbrook, Arizona, which was reported swept by flood waters last night, were unsuccessful again today, as all telephone and telegraph wires to that district were down.

One life was reported lost in the flood at Holbrook, a town of about 400 persons, in the far northeastern part of the state.

No estimate of the damage resulting from the rain, which fell for more than 20 hours and sent rivers and streams to flood stage, could be obtained today, because of the demoralized state of communication systems.

Westbound trans-continental Santa Fe passenger trains were being routed southward through Deming, N. M. and Phoenix today, while undermined roadbeds and washouts were being repaired. Numerous washouts were reported last night between Flagstaff, Arizona, east to the New Mexico state line.

jury ring, was arrested Wednesday and is still being quizzed by the district attorney in an effort to find out his participation in the affair.

Berry told May how the August burglaries were perpetrated here. He said there were five in the crowd who agreed to pull the jobs and split the profits. Berry said their first attempt was to break into the People's Ice company's safe. The burglars, on breaking the big safe, did not know how to get the little safe on the inside. "The master mind," a man still being sought by the police, was then consulted.

Master Mind.

This man told the four boys, none over 21, how to get into the inside of such safes and helped them shape some special tools. The next safe they tried was the Swift and company strong box and with the instructions from the "master mind" the boys had no trouble in getting the safe away. They tore it to pieces with the tools and did not open it the same night, but from the local press the next day learned how much was in the safe, $250. They went back that night with this information and got all of the $250 except 67 cents.

The "master mind" who Berry implicates in the case has gone to the penitentiary three times for safe breaking. He served three years of a term in Texas and was pardoned and served two terms in Oklahoma, having spent about eight years altogether in the penitentiaries. He is well known Texas and Oklahoma police circles and May says there is scarcely any question but what he will be picked up.

The man got Berry, Taylor, Lunsford and another young man to pull the jobs and he made the tools and planned the robberies.

Berry is 20, Taylor is 21, Lunsford, arrested here yesterday is 19. The "master mind" and the other member of the gang is in Oklahoma. Berry told May that the leader of the gang and the other member notified him at Corsicana that the two were going to Ponca City, Oklahoma, last Saturday night and rob a large market house there. The robbery did not materialize and the leader and his accomplice are thought to be in Oklahoma.

The three boys, Berry, Taylor and Lunsford, all now, under arrest and Berry having signed a complete confession, are just youths. The main leader of the gang is said to be a seasoned safe breaker and all around thug and about 40 years old, who has made a specialty in training young criminals.

The next move of the police department is to get the leader of the gang and the other member of the crew. District Attorney Bernard Martin and May are still striving to get more confessions and developments of a new nature come almost hourly. Berry's bond on the three cases he is charged with at Corsicana, is said to total $3,000 or $1,000 for each case. He will not be released here until he can make his bonds in the other cases, police officials said last night.

MEET MAY HALT PAPER TIE-UP

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Steps to end the strike of newspaper pressmen took definite form today when it was announced a conference would be held tomorrow or soon after between spokesmen for the pressmen and newspaper owners. Metropolitan dailies have been issued spasmodically and abbreviated form since the beginning of the walkout just after midnight yesterday.

The afternoon papers, appeared in the combined form adopted yesterday and many smaller papers, unaffected by the walkout, assumed unprecedented pep and sold like hot cakes.

Pickets remained at affected plants throughout the day, but little disorder was reported. Five men who identified themselves as pressmen for the New York World, were remanded to jail for sentence Saturday after pleading guilty to having seized 50 bundles of papers from an elevated train and carried them in a taxi cab to the East river to destroy them. Detectives prevented the destruction.

The wage scale proposed for arbitration specifies $60 a week for master pressmen, $54 for senior pressmen, $42 for junior pressmen and $33 for fly boys.

COOLIDGE TAKES UP FARM PROBE

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—President Coolidge and his advisors will be energetically occupied for the next ten days in seeking a solution of the situation confronting agriculture in the West, Senator Borah of Idaho said tonight after an hour's conference with the executive at the White House.

Senator Borah said the question of calling an extra session of congress to deal with the situation was discussed, but added that he was entirely in agreement with the president that "we ought to undertake to determine upon a remedy and define a program before an extra session is called."

"If we cannot find a remedy before such a session," the senator said, "we probably could not find one afterwards."

Senator Borah told the president he regarded the whole agricultural situation west of the Mississippi as serious as any within his recollection or in his reading upon the subject. He declared that not only the wheat growers, but producers of other crops were facing difficulties. The trouble is, he continued, that they are selling on a pre-war basis and buying on a war basis with the further necessity of paying many times the amount of taxes they did before the war.

LEAGUE IS "OFF" REPARATION NOW

Resolution Adopted to Interpret Famous Article X

By The Associated Press.

GENEVA, Sept. 19.—"Hands off" the reparations problems for the moment at least, was the decision reached today by one of the main commissions of the league of nations. This declaration it is believed will affect the entire attitude of the league assembly on this problem. It was not reached without some murmurs.

A second important feature of today's league activities was the adoption of a resolution interpreting Article X of the covenant. The commission adopted a new compromise formula replacing the Canadian amendment. It begins by emphasizing the extent of a general desire for precise meaning of article X and recommend that the assembly adopt several clauses in the form of a resolution.

The first clause is that in case the council of the league deems it necessary to recommend the application of military measures because of an aggression or a menace of aggression, the council will take into account the geographical situation and special conditions surrounding each state. The second clause declares that it is in the right of constitutional powers of each member state to decide the nature and the extent of it obligation to maintain the dignity and integrity of territory of members and to what extent it should furnish military assistance.

CORPUS CHRISTI—Cotton gin receipts in Neuces county this year are over 83,000 bales, which is 10,000 bales more than the county's previous high mark. Rains recently have halted ginning activities somewhat.

Papers For Law.

"The newspapers of the state uphold rigid adherence to all the laws and they are united in demanding that constitutional rights of assembly, free press, civil courts, grand juries and jury trial by law be preserved inviolate," the statement concluded.

A third statement addressed to the editors pledged legal assistance to "those editors who may have censorship imposed upon them because of their efforts to fairly represent the best interests of the state."

The legislators were urged by the journalists to convene in special session as soon as possible "to ascertain the truth or falsity" of charges "made" in the past few months that the chief executive of the state has been guilty of specific violations of the laws and constitution of the state." All three statemens were signd by h samlacec statements were signed by the same men.

The meeting today was called by Victor Barnett, managing editor of the Tulsa Tribune, after conferences extending over several days with editors throughout the state. Mr. Barnett presided.

The public address in part follows:

"The governor of Oklahoma, J. C. Walton, has invoked martial law for the entire state of Oklahoma, proclaiming that a state of insurrection and rebellion against the laws and constitution and constituted authorities of Oklahoma does exist within and throughout the state of Oklahoma.

"This declaration must not go unchallenged. We, the undersigned editors of daily newspapers in Oklahoma, make the following statement to the people of the United States:

Editors' Statement

"The governor's declaration is a libel against the state of Oklahoma. There has not been a riot, insurrection nor rebellion in any part of the state, nor have the civil authorities been defied or overthrown. No group of citizens nor civil officers have made a request for military intervention.

"The criminal records of counties and cities in Oklahoma show that there has been less crime during the past year than in any year since the war. Almost without exception the communities of the state were as peaceful and law abiding as any normal community in America when this proclamation was issued. Since August 14, when martial law first was invoked in Tulsa county, the forces of the National Guard have not been used in a single instance to quell any riot or civil commotion.

"Governor Walton by his own acts has attempted to nullify rights gained under our constitution, and to halt the lawful processes of Republican government.

"First, he has stationed armed guards before the legislative chambers at the state capital to prevent the legislature from peaceably assembling and he has threatened to arrest any legislators who attempt to assemble and to keep them in jail during his term of office.

"Second, he has ordered the dissolution of a grand jury which was about to convene in a lawful manner for the purpose of investigating some of his official acts, and he had a machine gun trained on the grand jury room of the court house.

"Third, by his own fiat, he ordered the writ of habeas corpus suspended, although the constitution of the state specifically declares that the privilege of the writ of beabas corpus shall never be suspended by the authorities of the state. The federal constitution also guarantees this right to American citizens.

"Fourth, he established censorship over the newspapers and threatened other newspapers with the same treatment, thus suppressing the freedom of the press, another federal right guaranteed by both national and state authorities.

"Fifth, he has ordered the military to take over the courts and law enforcement branches of the civil government in Tulsa and Oklahoma counties, in conflict with declarations of the state supreme court, which provided that the military forces of the state shall at all times be subordinate to the civil authorities.

Sixth, although posing as the champion of law enforcement, he has released from the state penitentiary nearly 300 convicts, including murderers, rapists, bandits and lynchers during the nine months of his administration. In some instances criminals who have been tried, convicted and sentenced in our courts were immediately freed when they produced pardons or paroles signed by the governor in advance of the sentences.

"These instances clearly indicate Governor Walton's despotic conception of his legislative powers. Under his administration our visible or Republican form of government has been set at naught, our civil courts supplanted by military inquisitorial bodies. Our officers of the peace replaced, our grand juries charged with ferreting out crime disbanded-oned under the threat of machine gun fires and our legislature elected under our democracy, forbidden at the point of bayonets, to peacefully assemble."

RUSS NOBILITY LANDS NEW JOBS

Many Make Living By Menial Work In Los Angeles District

By The Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES.—Building new American careers out of the wreckage of prosperity wiped out in the Russian revolution is a task optimistically undertaken by former subjects of Czar Nicholas who have found themselves stranded in Los Angeles, according to Elizabeth Beglaroff, Russian secretary of the International Institute the Young Women's Christian association.

There is tragedy and pathos, says Miss Beglaroff, in the frequency with which well educated, refined and talented Russians of noble birth have found all occupations closed to them but those of menial sort. Some, however, are more fortunate. For instance, there is a former military officer who has found success as a college instructor in mathematics. Another a former general in Kolchak's army, conducts a school for Russian-American children, but a third former officer of high rank, an aristocrat of the old regime, is unable to find even menial work. His wife packs cosmetics in a local factory.

A former count, after serving as a chauffeur for a wealthy family, lately acquired enough capital to buy a taxicab of his own. Another refugee of noble lineage works as a lineman for a power company, while a former military leader under the Romanoff's earns his living as a factory hand.

Despite the heart-aches attached to such reversals of fortune, Miss Beglaroff says these refugees frequently exhibit a cheerfulness that is surprising. In the words of a former statesman under Kerensky, who is now working here as an electrician, "All happens for the best in a man's life."

New Primary Laws Make Candidates Come Forward

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The presidential primary, now the vogue in a full score of states, not only has become the bug-bear of many old-fashioned political bosses, but is also accomplishing the route of the time-honored practice of delaying the announcement of candidacies until the last possible moment. Today in many states candidates must climb down off the fence many weeks before the national conventions, and say whether they will or won't.

The beginning of the 1924 primary season now is a bare six months away and the filing of papers required of candidates in many cases already has become a burning question among those who cannot decide whether they hear popular comanding call for their services in public office. Such decisions must be made much earlier than in times gone by, as a consequence of the spread of the primary system the next few weeks are expected to see the crop of candidates reach a stage much more advanced than the average for the pre-presidential years in the past.

The first primary, that in New Hampshire, will be held March 11. North Dakota will follow a week later, and seven additional states, controlling some of the largest delegations that sit in a national convention, will have voted before the end of April. Here are the full list of those having presidential primary laws, with the dates for the primary elections of parties:

California, Tuesday, May 6.
Florida, Tuesday, June 3.
Georgia, to be fixed by state committees.
Illinois, Tuesday, April 8.
Indiana, Tuesday, May 6.
Maryland, Monday, May 5.
Massachusetts, Tuesday, April 29.
Michigan, Monday, April 7.
Montana, Tuesday, May 27.
Nebraska, Tuesday, April 15.
New Jersey, Tuesday, April 22.
New Hampshire, Tuesday, March 11.
North Carolina, Saturday, June 7.
North Dakota, Tuesday, March 18.
Ohio, Tuesday, April 29.
Oregon, Friday, May 16.
Pennsylvania, Tuesday, April 22.
South Dakota, Tuesday, May 27.
West Virginia, Tuesday, May 27.
Wisconsin, Tuesday, April 1.

The presidential primary law of Florida does not apply to a party polling less than 35 per cent of the total vote in the previous general election. This eliminates the republican party from a presidential primary and leaves its delegates to be chosen by convention in that state.

$10,000 Will Buy Island And a Brace of Titles

By The Associated Press.

CAGLIARI, Sardinia.—Why marry a worthless prince when you can buy an island principality together with the title, and bestow them on a husband of your own choice? is the argument an enterprising Sardinia realtor has used in trying to sell a Mediterranean island to an American woman.

The woman was not in the market for a title, either with or without a prince, but she promised to mention the alluring prospect to some of her friends, and thus extracted further information about the property from the enterprising real estate man. He withheld the name, but assured her the island is well located and is highly desirable both as a summer and winter residence. It has an old castle which is in need of repair, several hundred acres of vineyard and farmland badly in need of modernization, and two villages, also badly in need of repair, with about 500 inhabitants.

The entire property is offered for $10,000, the princely name included, with a guarantee that the present holder of the title will legally sanction its transfer.

German Letters Covered With 1,000 Mark Stamps

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—In the days before the war Germany, conforming to the standard practice of international mail transmission, could send a letter to New York, for instance, for the customary blue stamp of 20 pfennings, one-fifth of a mark, or approximately 5 cents.

Letters are now coming to New York from Berlin bearing six one thousand mark postage stamps.

Speaking of the latest 1923 model bathing suits judges at the fourth annual marine fashion show at Renondo Beach, Calif., had a tough job when it came to picking prize winners. Really it's a wonder they didn't just award first to this group and let them split the prize.

NUDENESS SPOILED SCENERY
South Sea Maids Fat, Says Trotter

By The Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO. — The South Sea Islands have been ridiculously overrated, according to a statement made here recently by Mrs. Whitney Sperry, San Francisco society woman and globe trotter, who has just returned from a 75,000-mile jaunt, including a tour of the Orient, the South Seas and the Antipodes.

Mrs. Sperry said she visited the South Sea Islands, expecting to find a land of dreams and romance. "I found beautiful scenery ruined by fat, half-naked men and women," she continued. "There was every sort of mixture of race and drink. Prices were three times higher than they should have been. The place was full of half-dressed artists who have 'gone brown,' and everything I ate gave me indigestion. The food was responsible. The South Sea Islands have been ridiculously overrated."

In Java, Mrs. Sperry said, husbands may be plucked from the trees, bushes and the roadside. These are not human wrecks of doddering derelicts, but fine, handsome and charming men from Holland who go to Java to make their fortunes.

"The heat is so intense that most women refse to live there," Mrs. Sperry went on to say, "so the only alternative these men have, if they wish to exchange single blessedness for harnessed ssedness, is to marry the native women. So you see what a golden opportunity there is for single white women.

"In Hongkong I met many American and English women stranded without a cent, whose real reason for going to China was to get married. Most of them were more than 30 years old, and more or less unattractive. They had heard, incorrectly, that there were so many more English and American men than women in China. Once there, they couldn't return. Java should have been their goal."

Mrs. Sperry entertains a bitter and hearty grudge against those gowing word pictures of the South Seas and the maidens thereof. She says: "I received the biggest disappointment of my life when I landed in the South Sea Islands. The scenery is beautiful, yes, but nothing startling. Java is more beatiful. And those beautous maidens one hears of, they are fat, nearly all of them, and loppy. Voluptous, yes but oh, so broad! There are derelects of every race and nation, gone to seed. Of course there is quite a colony of writers and artists, but even a large number of these have gone to seed. What struck me particularly was the number of white men, educated and cultured, many of them successful writers and painters, who have married the native women."

Many Million Dollars Hidden Away in France

PARIS—All over France men and women for years have been hoarding American currency. It became available in large quantities with the coming of American soldiers during the war, and the French were quick to see its value. Today people are wondering how many dollars are concealed in the "woolen socks" of the republic.

The estimates run from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000. Recently a Frenchman living in Chaumont, who kept a candy store during the war, disclosed to a friend a strong box containing over $12,500 in American bills of various denominations, which he said he would sell when the franc reached 20 for one dollar. "There are a good many men in this town alone who have more than I," this man declared.

The exact amount of American currency left in France by American soldiers and officers will probably never be known, but many believe that if a thorough canvas of Brest, Saint Nazaire, Bordeaux, Le Mans, Tours, Chaumont, Aix-les-Bains, Vichy, Dinard and the surrounding localities were made, the total would be nearly $5,000,000.

Roaring Planes Encircle London's Busy Airdrome

By The Associated Press.

LONDON.—For the first time since its creation many Londoners who stayed in town on bank-holiday discovered London's great airport at Croydon, and were duly surprised to find it very like a main line railway station.

There is a level crossing near the entrance where a flagman holds up the road traffic while big Handley-Page and other planes roar across the roadway prior to leaving earth for Paris, Rotterdam, Cologne or Hamburg. Once past the flagman, the visitor comes to a compact village in which headquarters of various air services are situated round an up-to-date hotel, adjacent to a postoffice, meteorological office, air administrative headquarters and customs establishment.

Enormous charts are set up on which the progress of various services are flagged by an official who is in constant wireless touch with planes on their way to and from various capitals. Should any particular plane be arriving late, it is ordered to wait and taxi around until an outgoing liner is clear and so avoid risk of a collision.

On the ground there is a rush of porters and interpreters to meet incoming and outgoing planes. After being in the heavens several hours, conditions, on alighting, are very similar to those at a railway station.

BRITISH LAUNCH A NEW LIFEBOAT

With New Equipment Is Last Word In Life-Saving Craft

By The Associated Press.

COWES, England.—A strange motor-boat painted red and blue, bulky in the beam, with a single mast and peculiar contraptions on her deck, came out of Cowes Harbor at dawn recently and made her way through Spithead at 11 knots. She was the William and Kate Johnston, described as the largest and most complete lifeboat in the world.

The new craft is fitted with every device man's ingenuity can conceive for fighting storm and saving life. Her length is 60 feet, and she is 15 feet wide. She is driven by twin propellers in protective funnels, and her engines are two six-cylinder 90 horse-power motors.

The engines are encased in separate water-tight compartments. In their rigorous tests they were run with these compartments full of water for three hours, and kept going full speed all the time. Forward and aft of the engines are cabins, each capable of holding 25 people. One has a stove, and for the first time the rescued will have shelter, warmth and food immediately they get aboard. The life-boat can hold 150 persons in cabins and on deck.

The most notable "gadget" on deck is a life-saving net of stout rope erected amidships into which people on ships can jump for their lives with a reasonable chance of success.

There are also on deck a line-throwing gun with a range of 200 yards, a powerful searchlight, and a screen to protect the helsman and engineer at the motor controls.

In addition the boat has nearly 100 buoyant air cases. She cannot capsize, and is practically unsinkable. She will be stationed in the Mersey, but to thoroughly test her she will first be given a tour of 2,700 miles round Great Britain.

DISPUTES SETTLED BY ARBITRATION

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO. — Satisfactory settlements were reached in a large majority of the cases of grievances and controversial questions arising under the employe representation plan of the Pennsylvania railroad system for the first half of 1923. This was accomplished at conferences between the local officers and representatives of the employes without recourse to any higher authority, according to a report made by the Northwestern Region headquarters of the system.

"During this period a total of 3,066 cases were taken up with officers below division superintendents," the report says. "Although appeal is provided for to superintendents, general superintendents, general managers, and finally to a joint reviewing committee equally representative of management and employe, the number of cases carried to the general manager totalled 123 and those reaching the reviewing committee, 84.

"Of the controversial questions taken up originally or on appeal with the local officers, superintendents, general superintendents and general managers, almost half were adjusted or compromised in favor of employes. Of cases appealed to the reviewing committee, about half were decided in favor of the management."

The Pennsylvania plan was formulated and established by joint action of the management and employes about two and one-half years ago. The report concludes that under its operation local settlement of disputes has reached a new high level of success.

Social News Relayed From Arctic Circle

By The Associated Press.

NARVIK, Norway.—Never ask a Laplander how many reindeer he owns, is the initial bit of advice which Dr. W. H. Gantt of Baltimore has to offer travelers who wander off the beaten path and invade the primitive territory occupied by the Laplanders. This question is equal to asking an American the size of his salary or the extent of his holdings in stocks and bonds. Riches with the Laps are measured in reindeer. Some few of them, the Henry Fords of the Arctic circle, have as many as 3,000 animals, but they dislike talking about their wealth.

Sweden has protected the Laps against invasion and exempted them from taxation, so they are able to carry on their life in northern Sweden much as their ancestors did centuries ago. Their villages tre extremely primitive and mobile. Families follow their flocks into the mountains in the summer and wander again into the lowlands in the winter.

One elderly Laplander told Dr. Gantt with great pride that he has a son living in America who recently eloped with an extremely wealthy girl and married her. The young Laplander was serving as chauffeur when he and his employer's daughter became enamored of each other and found an accommodating justice of the peace before the angry father caught up with them.

DRUGS HOLD SWAY IN HAWAII NOW

By The Associated Press.

HONOLULU, Hawaii.—Federal officials here are continuing intensive efforts to curb the traffic in illicit drugs, which is reported to be increasing appreciably, with large supplies of opium secreted here, as evidenced by the fact that the price of the poppy is quoted lower than it has been for years.

In addition to attempting to induce steamship operators to mount machine guns on the after part of their vessels, in order to frighten away the small boats which pick up packages of the drugs thrown from the trans-Pacific ships as they are entering or leaving port, the federal officials also are enforcing that portion of the narcotic act providing that alien violators may be deported to their native land.

One oriental, convicted of violating the narcotic laws, has been deported already, and several other orientals, also convicted, are being investigated by the immigration department with a view to obtaining their deportation.

Illicit drugs valued at $9,000, the largest shipment ever sent from the Honolulu office, have been dispatched to the bureau of technology, as the result of seizures during the first six months of 1923. The shipment consits of 10 pounds of opium, valued at $4,000, and cocaine valued at $5,000. Opium pipes, lamps and other paraphernalia valued at $5,000 were destroyed by the narcotic squad here during the semi-fiscal year.

AMERICAN WHEAT

Bread should be a cheap article of food this winter, that is if the doctrine of supply and demand has anything to do with the case. North America has five hundred million to five hundred and fifty million bushels of wheat for export this season, according to trade estimates, made on the basis of Canadian and American crop reports, after a liberal carry-over at the end of 1923-24 crop year is allowed for.

Canada is a great wheat producing country and the Canadian crop is officially estimated at 470,000,000 bushels, or seventy million bushels more than were harvested last year and the largest on record. With this tremendous surplus of North American wheat, Senator Magnus Johnson and his followers would have the Congress of the United States appropriate money for the buying and storing of half a million bushels of wheat until a lean crop year comes.

There is an over production of wheat on the continent of North America. All the countries on the continent of Europe which grow wheat report increased production this year. Russian peasants planted a large acreage and the harvesting of a bumper crop with a large surplus for export has been announced.

France harvested a larger crop of wheat than in any year since the coming of peace. This shows that all the war ridden countries are coming back. The first step in the comeback of any country devastated by war is to produce crops for home consumption with a surplus for export and this is what the countries of continental Europe are doing this year.

There are thousands of American wheat growers in the northwest who paid fabulous prices for land in war time and they gave mortgages on their holdings for the payment of their acquisitions. When wheat slumped from $1.25 to as low as ninety cents a bushel it meant financial loss or disaster for the grower whose farm was plastered with mortgages.

It would be impossible for the government to fix the price of wheat in peace time or purchase the surplus and store it for a year or years to come. It is not the province of government to fix prices on wheat or corn or petroleum or lumber or any other commodity.

This Senator Magnus and his followers will discover early in December when the new congress begins its grinding.

PINCHOT AND HIS SENATORS

Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania may let the bee bite him and then travel a long way. Pinchot forced a settlement of the anthracite strike. That settlement placed thirty-two million dollars in the pockets of the miners and eighteen million dollars in the pockets of the mine owners.

Now the hard coal dealers are furious. They have a national organization. This organization declares that Pinchot did not treat the dealers right. In the settlement they received none of the velvet.

They were not ignored. Governor Pinchot notified President Coolidge that the eye of the nation was on the dealers or should be on the dealers and that drastic action should be taken to prevent the dealers from gouging the hard coal buyers this winter.

Why should Pinchot worry? When he was a candidate for governor the mine owners and the hard coal dealers gave their votes to his rival. They declared that Pinchot was erratic, that he was headstrong, that he was dictatorial and had scant respect for vested rights.

On the other hand eighty-five per cent of the coal miners of Pennsylvania cast their ballots for Pinchot and thus enabled him to win a remarkable victory over the candidate of the bosses and the corporations of Pennsylvania.

THEY SPEAK IN DEEDS

There is no land like this. There are no people like ours. They always give and never ask the reason why. More than eight million dollars have been contributed through Red Cross sources to Japanese relief and the money continues to roll into national headquarters.

Incidentally, New York is often called a foreign city or a city of foreigners by narrow eyed critics who dwell in the provinces. Let it go at that, but the people of New York, high and low, rich and poor, contributed more than four million dollars of the eight million dollars for the relief of Japanese victims of disaster.

New York may be a city of foreigners or a foreign city, but its heart appears to be in the right place. Whenever there is any giving to be done for the relief of stricken humanity an appeal never falls on deaf ears in the metropolis of America. They give and they give generously, regardless of nationality or creed or color or condition.

BRIGHT FOR LABOR

Plenty of work for everyone during the coming winter is forecast by the Federal Department of Labor. Industrial employment in the United States today is said to be on a satisfactory and sound basis and the outlook for the future is one of the brightest in recent years. The department bulletin says continuation of tremendous building programs is noted in almost every center; in very few sections is an abatement noticable and vast numbers of building tradesmen and common labor are at work on projects of sufficient magnitude to insure permanent employment for months to come; there is no sign of let up in construction of state and county roads and in some sections the demand for road labor can not be met.

This must be what is known as Coolidge luck.

WHO'S TO BLAME?

Presidents are made by able managers and not by the people. This is the verdict of the political editor of the New York Times. If this be true why blame the managers? Why not blame the people? They tolerate the managers, they obey the managers, they plump their ballot for the managers and are entitled to just what they get.

So Goes It

By B. H.

One difference between a town and a city is that a new hat attracts more attention in the town. The smaller the town the greater the sensation. Likewise, the more the comment.

One of our objections to a great city, say Chicago or New York—is the fact that the folks in them live almost alone. If you have any friends you have to put in the day finding them and if you are so reckless as to want to make them a visit, another day is required. A man can become famous and his next door neighbor won't know it.

The question most frequently asked in New York is "Who are you?" "What do I get out of it?" is a close second.

Most of us have lived in a small town some time or other. Those who haven't have missed something. There is a far better opportunity to study human nature in a small town than in a city, the reason probably being that there is more of it.

And you have to watch your step in the village. Every time you turn a corner, someone makes note of it. "They" know when a new girl arrives, who she is visiting, how long she is going to stay and who is giving her the rush, how late he hangs around, etc, etc.

Everything that happens in a small town is checked up to "they." "They" say that", and so on.

But don't get the idea that the folks in a small town are any different from their city cousins. They just have a closer personal contact by reason of the fact that the town is small—that is all.

And incidentally, if you will look over the records, you will find that most persons who have achieved success, got their start in a town where they had a curfew and turned out the street lights at 9 a. m.

WHAT TODAY MEANS

Act on your own impulse today, for it is one on which the best that is in you will assert itself, and you should therefore succeed in any undertaking, whether of business or recreational nature. A marriage contract today will be happy and enduring.

A child born today will be kind, sympathetic and extremely imaginative—a sensitive personality which must be trained with love rather than discipline.

Yours is the spiritual way of life, if today is your birthday, no matter what betides you, you will experience more keenly in the mental plane than in the material. You fee within yourself two personalities, your own self and the self visible to the world.

You are both psychic and intuitive and you understand others better than most of them do themselves, and usually a great deal better than you do yourself. With more resolution than you are naturally gifted with you might bend others to your will and have a career in public life.

However your tastes run more to the literary and the artistic for both of which you have abundance of talent. You have a great gift of expressing your ideas tersely and succinctly and in the language of your audience.

You are religious in temperament and in philosophy. You are an idealist with a plan of application. You wish to do the right thing for the race and you have a good ida of how it ought to be done.

You have a profound emotional nature. Actual experience of doing a thing is necessary for your appreciation of its significance.

For the same reason your are powerful and magnetic. You know people instantly and accurately and they trust your leadership.

You are rather easy going in disposition but you can be easily moved by the emotions of service, such as patriotism.

You have a strong passional tendency, but one that you shall always make the best of, and eventually develop into a noble love, for you are essentially portic and artistic in all that you do and feel.

SEYMOUR TO HAVE MOTOR SERVICE

Mr. P. E. Boet, general superintendent of the Gulf, Texas and Western railroad met with the members of the chamber of commerce last evening to discuss the probability of extending the motor car service into Seymour, which has been in operation from Mineral Wells to Megargle for some time.

Mr. Brock asked the members of the chamber of commerce if they would allow him the privilege of discontinuing the service should it become necessary in the operation of the motor car, which they readily agreed to.

Mr. Brock further stated that the service would be inaugurated Thursday, September 20, reaching Seymour about 11:30 a. m. and leaving at 11:45, reaching Mineral Wells at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, making connection with the Texas & Pacific trains for Fort Worth.

This service will prove very beneficial to the citizens of this city, enabling them to leave Seymour later than the regular passenger schedule and reach Fort Worth at approximately the same time.

400 YEARLINGS FROM HENRIETTA

HENRIETTA, Texas, Sept. 19.—Twelve car loads of yearlings comprising 400 head were sold here this week at $40 per head by Ferd Halsell of Fort Worth, Texas, to a northern buyer. This is the highest price paid for yearlings in this country for several years, they were well bred and in excellent condition and were raised on Mr. Halsell's ranch southwest of Henrietta. These cattle were shipped to St. Louis and were distributed to cattle feeders in that section.

Saying It With Pullets.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 19.—The Texas trade believes in concrete expressions of appreciation for the market news service, according to J. Austen Hunter, Market News specialist of the markets and warehouse department, who today was presented with a pair of fine fat fryers, by the H. C. McVey Produce company of this city, which had benefited by the market news service on eggs furnished by this state department through the co-operation of the federal bureau of agricultural economics. According to Mr. Hunter so great has been the appreciation for the extended service that producers and shippers from practically every section of the state have sent in good things to eat. Grape fruit from the lower Rio Grande valley, onions from Laredo, spinach from Austin, watermelons from Bellville and from Weatherford, pears, grapes, and plums from the El Paso valleys and now fryers from the appreciative member of the Austin trade.

THE NEW WAY

The flivver has replaced the horse for range riding in the cow country

"The steers is millin' up the range!"
The troubled rancher cried.
"I got a couple shoes to change,"
Two-fingered Pete replied.
"Jest lemme get these rims in shape,
An' Liz'll show sech speed,
Thart won't a single steer escape,
However they stampede!"

"Git out an' ketch that sheep man, Hank,
An' shoot the scoundrel dead!"
The boss observed. "I gotta crank,"
The bold vaquero said.
"But when I git Liz started up,
An' o'er the plains she rolls,
I sure will stop that orn'ry pup,
An' fill him fulla holes!"

"Them Mexicans is here again!"
The rancher cried, in fury;
"Go out an execute 'em, men,
You don't need judge ner jury!
An' when you've hung 'em, see they're burned!"
His voice shook as he spoke.
"We can't," the gallant men returned,
"Our differential's broke."

"Go rope them calves!" exclaimed the boss,
"That's in the Bar Z lane,
I'll have to stand a heavy loss,
Ef they don't ketch this train.
They got to be there while she stands
Up yonder in the pass."
"It can't be done," replied the hands.
"Ole Liz is out o' gas!"

TODAY'S POEM

IN THE AMPHITHEATRE OF LIFE
The Famed Beauty.

I was beautiful
The artist painted me
And my portrait hung in the Paris Salon
Then the world claimed me
As one of its famous beauties.
O! unrelenting life
That ever demands a balance!
I had that reputation
To live up to.
I had to hold my beauty
I spent my life preserving it.
Never like the rose
Did I open my heart
And throw its perfume to the world
In an estacy of giving.
Then one day
Death knocked at the door
And demanded admittance.
And he found my life
Still guarded there.
Even as I flickered out
I saw in that sudden illumination
That I had never lived.
Life is the time for giving
Life is blooming
Therein lies the seed of rebirth.
Only in the emergonic state
Is there virtue in hoarding.

—Clara Dillon Holt.

STAGE AND SCREEN

By JOSEPHINE FISK

AMUSEMENT CALENDAR.

Olympic—Norman Kerry and Mary Philbin in "The Merry-Go-Round."

Strand—D. W. Griffith's "White Rose" with Mae Marsh.

Empress—Claire Adams in "Where the North Begins."

"The Merry-go-round" is drama. It is a magnificiently big picture rich in emotional and character work. Mary Philbin does some portrayal of feeling through facial expression that is nothing short of wonderful. The supporting cast have been carefully chosen, and each character is a personality, faithfully characteristic.

Norman Kerry is superb. As he first appears, a young influential count from Austria's finest aristocracy, there is nothing in his face but egotism, sleek self-satisfaction, extreme good looks, joviality, and perhaps a glint of smiling cruelty. Years later when he comes back there is love, gentleness, fineness and character accented by a pair of clear steady eyes, and grayed temples.

It is not necessarily the splendid cast that makes the picture so great, nor the setting, nor the story, but the master mind of D. W. Griffith, who has the power to present to the world an idea of his, with genius and skill known to no other director in the industry. If you are a lover of good plays of artistry in dramatics, see the "Merry-go-round," before it closes its successful week's run at the Olympic.

The role of "Zaza" probably has been played by more actresses in stock companies than any other part of the American stage in the last 25 years. Mrs. Leslie Carter originated the role here in January 1899, just a few months after Mme. Rejane created the role in Paris. In the operatic version of the play, Geraldine Farrar was the star and in the first screen production of the play, which was made in 1915, Pauline Frederick was "Zaza."

Gloria Swanson will be the fourth "Zaza" to be given the public in a big production. She has just finished work at the Paramount Long Island studio under the direction of Allan Dwan in what is expected to be her greatest picture. For lavish settings and picturesque investiture, the present production of the famous French play, which, according to reports, was suggested to M. Simon, one of the authors by Sarah Bernhardt, will surpass anything Miss Swanson has ever done on the screen.

Miss Swanson's interpretation of the role will be different from her three predecessors. She gives a "Riki" touch to the famous "Zaza" and plays her as a gamon rather than a wicked woman. She was in love with the part and played it with a fire that will surprise her screen followers.

Gallagher and Shean, famous comedians, now making their first William Fox feature, "Around the Town," say they think movies are first rate. As the "World's Greatest Detectives" in this film, the popular merry-makers ought to know of what they speak.

Tom Mix and Dustin Farnum, William Fox movie stars, met in a desperate struggle at Santa Barbara lately, when they stood at the wheels of their power boats, Vixen and Jing, and raced 12 miles around the yacht course of that California city. Mix set a fast pace, while Farnum was only a trifle slower. There were several other boats in the race, but the movie stars left them all far in the rear.

The filming will start shortly in "Daddies," a screen adaptation of Belasco's Broadway hit of the same name. Mae Marsh is to be the star of the production. Among those already selected to play important roles are Monte Blue, Harry Myers and Claude Gillingwater. William Seiter will handle the megaphone for the Warner Classic.

More than six months were spent in research, in revising the plot and in selecting the cast for Thomas Meighan's new starring vehicle, "Woman-Proof" before a single scene was filmed. The story was written by George Ade and was revised again and again.

This Paramount picture is being directed by Alfred E. Green. While the screen drama is filled with comedy situations, it has a vein of seriousness which mirrors modern American life.

That motion picture making is perhaps the most truly American of all industries is the statement of Cecil B. De Mille, producer of Paramount pictures bearing his name.

"While most motion pictures are made in Hollywood," said Mr. De Mille, "it only needs a glance over the cast of almost any production to satisfy oneself that this monopoly as a matter of locality only and has no bearing on the original source of the talent of the many hundreds of players who swarm the film capital.

"Truly a modern motion picture is a composite of interpretive and artistic genius drawn from every nook and cranny of these United States.

"Take my present production, 'The Ten Commandments,' for instance. Leatrice Joy and Robert Edason are from New Orleans. I was born in Massachusetts. Richard Dix is a native of Minneapolis. James Neill was born in Savannah, Georgia, under the shadow of Fort Sumter. Theodore Roberts first saw the light of day in San Francisco, while the birth places of Nita Naldi and Rod La Rocque are, respectively, New York and Chicago. Jeanie Macpherson, the author of the story, was born in Paris, France, but spent a large portion of her early life in Detroit, Michigan.

"Anyone who doubts the ability of motion pictures to faithfully reflect the life and attitude of people in various sections of this country should scan carefully such a list, which indicates the wide range of states and district representations which one finds in the average motion pictures."

NORMAN KERRY

Norman Kerry necessarily possesses a wonderful personality to portray so convincingly the role of Count von Hohenegg in "The Merry-go-round" playing this week at the Olympic theatre.

BEAUTIFUL TO SOME—BUT NOT ALL

Most every girl who is pretty is under the delusion that she appears beautiful to everyone.

Beauty comes in different grades like sugar, or any other commodity; it can be refined, coarse or medium—but beautiful, nevertheless.

Some men will think a girl beautiful on account of the fineness of her skin and the delicacy of her features. Another man who admires a more vivid, coarse type of beauty will not even think her good-looking.

A woman with thick lips, passionate eyes and dark skin will be admired by a certain class of men, and disliked by others.

A woman is beautiful to people only of her own class. That is one reason that so much trouble arises when a girl marries a man in a sphere of life other than her own.

Every race has its own type of beauty—and every class its Venus.

ZONA GALE

In Collaboration With Russell Gore Writes On

FACES.

She is a woman of 60 who for years has had a group of boys, who were, as they grew up, replaced by other boys, to whom she has taught parliamentary law. But parliamentary law is just the name of it. With the things they learn besides, without knowing that they are learning, are the things that most matter. The things they learn in the hour which follows the parliamentary law lesson.

For example, on a piece of canvas she has asked the artist of the law class to sketch some faces. Then some eyes, noses, ears, mouths and hands. And these he has drawn at her dictation are contours of which long study, in life and books, has given her the general significance.

Types, showing general characteristics: The idealistic, the materialistic, the sympathetic, the studious, the sly, the brutal, the base. Eyes long, eyes round, eles near together, Bad mouths and good mouths. Ears set low on the head, or high. The hand of the predatory and the open hand.

Roughly indicated, but yet indicative, these are all spread out on the canvas, and the boys look on. And when they begin to say, "There's so-and-so's chin or forehead," this woman answers: "All these drawings are done in the first person singular, please!"

So much for contours, the characteristics with which people are born which the study helps them to meet and overcome instead of being victimized by.

But there are also lines—the lines and curves and expression which the face manufactures upon itself. For this she has a little chart, showing three faces: One of a youth at 18, and two of the same youth at 50. At 18 there is the clear open normal face, unlined.

One of those at 50 shows the same face, the same in contour, but filled in by a life of high purpose, right intention and sturdy fulfillment of the best, as he has seen it. The third face is the first face filled in by 30 years of me-first living, me-first at whatever cost, and given whatever that was desired by that me.

Neither need be described—everybody knows these faces. Everybody recognizes them all day long on the street. The faces of those who have tried and have succeeded somewhat, have tried a little, haven't tried at all, have tried and failed. And the occasional face of the one who has tried hard and has emerged from it radiant.

It's all very well to talk about whim and impulse and self-expression making for human freedom. But some way the evidence of these faces tell one without speech, that there is something else to human freedom besides living my own life."

"I wish I knew more about it, so that I could teach them," says the woman of 60. "But wouldn't you think such a study would be as important as the exports and imports of something-in-Asia?"

And she added:

"Even mortals aside—wouldn't you think this would be a practical study for the school boy or girl who is going to grow up to hire men to work?"

Heart and Home Problems Solved

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a boy in my teens and am desperately in love with a girl. I think she likes me but everybody teased her about me and we broke up. She goes with two other boys now. She went away and I received a card from her and wrote her a letter back about three weeks ago, but have not received an answer.

Please advise me whether to keep on or quit for a time. I really love her.

LONESOME TRIBE.

You will probably gain more by quitting for a time. If the girl had been really interested in you she would have answered your letter. I presume, however, that she is busy on her vacation and she did not feel sufficient urge to write.

After she has been home about three or four weeks invite her to go somewhere. If she goes with you continue your friendship with her but if she does not go, you might as well find another girl.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a friend who lives in a city near me and she is to be married soon. Her friends are giving her some wonderful showers and I am invited to one of them but I cannot go. She has met only a few people in our town and I do want her to know my friend, here and I want to have some kind of a party for her. Would you give her a shower, a bridge party or just a reception?

If I give a bridge would it be all right for my fiance and me to give her a picture as she is the honor guest? If some one else were to win the bridge prize would she be supposed to give the prize to the bride or should she keep it? IGNORANCE.

A reception is apt to be stiff and the honor guest does not feel she has become acquainted with any one after the reception is over. A shower would hardly be fair because your friends in town do not know the out of town friend and would probably feel little inclined to shower her. It seems to me, therefore, that a bridge party would be just the thing to help your out of town friend to become better acquainted with your other friends.

A picture as a prize for the honor guest would be most acceptable. The guest winning the bridge prize should keep it since the honor guest also received a gift.

HELP FOR GIRLS WHO WORK

Mrs. Lodic Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Tyrone, Pa.—"A friend told my husband how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped his wife, so my husband bought me a bottle because I was so run-down, had a nervous weakness, no strength in my body and pains in my left side so bad that I could hardly do my work. Before I was married I used to work in the factory, and I had pains just the same then as I have had since I have done my housework. I would not be without a bottle in the house now. It has stopped the pains all right and I have found out that it is a wonderful body builder, as it has made me well and strong. It is going to be the 'old reliable' with me hereafter, and I am always willing to tell other women how it has helped me. You can use this letter as you wish as I can honestly say that my words are true."—Mrs. M. LODIC, R.F.D. No. 4, Box 40, Tyrone, Pa.

Letters like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

2 Former Title Holders and Jones Eliminated

STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS AND THRILLING UPSETS ARE FEATURES OF GOLF CLASSIC

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Two former national amateur title holders and the national open champion, Bobby Jones of Atlanta, were eliminated today in the second round of the national championship tournament at Flossmoor, the defeat of Jones by Max Marston of Philadelphia, furnished the thrilling upset of a day replete with startling development.

Jess Sweetser of New York, kept in the race to defend his title by overcoming Dave Herron of Chicago, a former title holder, 4 and 3, and Bob Gardner of Chicago, twice holder of the crown, ousted Bill Fownes of Pittsburgh, another former champion, 2 and 1. In another close match that kept the crowd on edge for hours Francis Ouimet of Boston, formerly national open and amateur champion, finally outgolfed Willie Hunter of Los Angeles, erstwhile premier golfer of Great Britain, and won 3 and 2.

Another former titleholder to survive was Jesse Guilford of Boston, who had a comparatively easy time in defeating Dexter Cummings of Chicago, inter-collegiate champion, 7 and 6. In the other two matches, George von Elm of Salt Lake City, playing superlative golf at times, defeated Jimmy Manion of St. Louis 6 and 5, while Joe Wells of East Liverpool, Ohio, ousted H. K. B. Davis of San Francisco, 4 and 3, thus removing all the far west contenders except von Elm. Densmore Shute of Huntington, W. Va., eliminated Ned Allis, of Milwaukee, 6 and 5.

The defeat of Jones following that of Evans who had tied with Jones for low qualifying score at 149, caused the greatest excitement of the day, although the prospects for a time Hunter would down Ouimet as he had Evans, kept the followers on edge until the Boston golfer by shooting even par on the third nine and three better than perfect golf on the last quarter up to the finish finally disposed of the Briton. Jones' downfall was all the more impressive because he not only shot a record 70 for the 6,704 yard course in the morning, breaking par by four strokes and adjourning for luncheon 2 up, but he kept within two strokes of par on the afternoon round, only to lose to a collection of birdies that netted Marston the advantage.

Although Marston had shot a splendid 73 in the morning, few of the hundreds who followed the contest expected anything but a Jones victory and even the loss of the 20th hole where Bobby took a four to Marston's par 3 did not change the opinion. Jones halved the next two holes in par but failed to win the next one, although Marston got trapped and went one over perfect figures, and was still one up.

Then the overthrow of the national open champion took place and he was never able to regain an even keel. Marston unleashed three birdies in a row, he did not need SHRDL SHRIII row, making the 357 yard 24th in three and the 126 yard 25th in two, although he did not need this for Bobby dropped into the pond and the 335 yard 26th in 3, and the Pennsylvania champion was 2 up. Marston would have got his fourth straight birdie if Bobby had not laid him a stymie on the 27th to halve in par four.

FIRPO REFUSES TO CONTEST DECISION

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The decision of the referee is sufficient for Luis Angel Firpo, and despite the protests of his friends and many spectators of his fight with Jack Dempsey, that he was unfairly treated and fouled, he asks "nothing more than another match" with the world's champion.

Dempsey was declared by thousands of spectators not only to have struck Firpo viciously after the call of time and to have disregarded the referee's instructions as to retreating to a neutral corner during a knock down count, but to have technically lost the fight on a foul when he was assisted back to the ring by reporters, after having been knocked through the ropes by Firpo in the first round. Referee Gallagher also is declared to have neglected starting a count until Dempsey had been returned to the ring.

MARKET SHOWS STRENGTHENING

Slight Upward Trend Is Shown Despite Dull Session

Financial Market Features.

By The Associated Press.

Total stock sales 824,200 shares.

Twenty industrials averaged 89.16, net loss .42.

High 1923, 105.38; low 89.92.

Twenty railroads average 81.16; net gain .37.

High 1923, 90.51; low 79.53.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Stock prices developed moderate strength in today's fairly active market on subsidence of selling pressure in the oil group. Alternate periods of weakness and strength characterized the morning session, but the general list turned unmistakably upward later under the leadership of the so-called pivotal industrial stocks.

Buying today was reported to have been influenced in part by the statement of H. F. Sinclair expressing the belief that mid-continent crude oil prices had hit bottom, that the peak of California production was passed and that an early stabilization of the industry should result.

A drop in the call money rate to 3 1-2 per cent, the lowest this year, and a sharp rally in cotton prices which carried contracts 63 to 103 points upwards, also were regarded by some as contributing factors.

New low records were established in the oil group by Marland at 20 1-4, Conden at 22 3-4, California Petroleum at 17 1-8, the preferred at 91, Pierce Oil preferred at 18 3-8, Atlantic Refining at 38 3-4 and Pacific at 31 1-4. Atlantic Refining closed at its lowest figure of the day, off 5-8. Pierce preferred recovered its loss and closed unchanged at 19 and the others showed net gains on the day of 5-8.

Leading industrial stocks showed a dispostion to break away from the depressing effect of pressure on the oil shares, Baldwin Locomotive, Gulf States, and Studebaker showing net gains of 1 to 1 3-8.

Rubbers were heavy in the afternoon on reports that the big companies were not making much money on account of low tire prices.

Foreign exchanges were strong. Deman Sterling was quoted around 4.54 1-4, up 3-4. French francs advanced nearly 20 points to 5.91 cents. Belgian francs and Italian lire also showed good gains while German marks jumped from 35 to 65 cents for 100,000,000.

Call money opened at 4 1-2, but dropped to 3 1-2 later. Time rates also eased, being quoted at 5 1-2 for all maturities as against a recent rate of 5 3-4 for the longer dates and a few short time loans at 5 1-2.

Cottonseed Nervous.

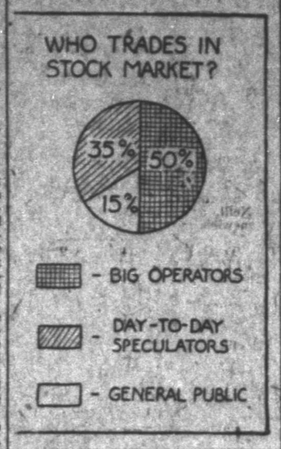

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—After advancing 7 to 17 points on the bullish census report cottonseed oil declined sharply under scattered liquidation and pressure from local bears, prompted by the heaviness in lard and reports of easier crude. Closing bids were unchanged for March and 5 to 18 points net lower for other active months. Sales 12,800 barrels. Tenders 300. Prime crude 10.00@10.25; prime summer yellow spot 11.30, bid; September 11.30; December 10.35; March 10.52, all bid.

Sperle to Survey.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 19.—Chas. Sperle, truck crop specialist of the U. S. bureau of agricultural economics will return to Texas in the next two months to make a survey of the truck crop acreages of the various deals, according to the co-operative state and federal market news office at this point. Mr. Sperle made an enviable reputation last year for his accuracy in estimates, and was very popular with the fruit and vegetable growers and shippers.

MONEY At Work

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

The public is not the largest factor in the stock market, as is sometimes assumed.

It is often said that the stock market is dead because the public is not buying. Just what percentage of stock transactions come from the public? Of course we can't tell exactly but somewhere near the correct figure can be estimated.

Probably half of the transactions on the New York stock exchange can be traced to the large operators. Syndicates, banks, insurance companies, directors and capitalists in general are in this class.

About 35 per cent more come from the day-to-day speculator, the professional, like Jesse Livermore.

Evidently, then, the public accounts for only about 15 per cent of the sales on the New York stock exchange. (Copyright, 1923, Associated Editors)

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Early declines in today's cotton market were followed by one of the most rapid and excited advances witnessed so far since the beginning of the present bull movement. The advance carried prices above the long talked-of 30 cents level, October deliveries selling up from 28.85 to 30.30 or 145 points from the lowest and 130 points above yesterday's closing quotation. That month closed at 29.90, with the general market closing at net advances of 65 to 103 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 9 to 17 points. Active months soon showed net advances of 25 to 30 points. For a time during the middle of the day, the market appeared to be rather unsettled with prices working off to 28.48 for December and 27.90 for January, or about 10 to 15 points net lower on the more active months. Offerings grew lighter on the decline, however, and the market became sensationally strong late in the afternoon on reports of very heavy rains or floods in Oklahoma and North Texas, a more favorable view of the European political situation, and reports of a further advance in the spot basis. December shot up to 29.90, and January to 29.10 and the general list showed net advances of 107 to 132 points. There were more contracts for sale at these figures and the close showed reactions of 20 to 40 points from the best. Exports today 21,306 bales making 589,031 so far this season. Port receipts 32,731. U. S. port stocks 427,175.

New Orleans Cotton.

By The Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19.—It was a market for wide fluctuations in cotton today with the most violent changes in the late trading when prices suddenly swung upward more than a cent a pound but in the last few minutes of the day, crumbled away again, under realising sales from the long side and finally closed at net gains on the session of but 38 to 65 points, closing sales on October ranging from 28.75 to 28.90 cents a pound.

In the early session the continued rainfall in the northwestern section of the belt caused enough buying to completely offset a poor Liverpool and to put prices 23 to 30 points higher, but after the crop reports were out of the way a great deal of liquidation appeared and the market commenced to fall off. Soon after mid-session, the market was at its lowest, down to 28.16 on October and at lower under yesterday's close of 4 to 19 points.

The market was suddenly electrified into activity by favorable rumors regarding the Ruhr situation and the heaviest kind of buying set in, much of it being for short account. October was shot upward to 29.30 and all months made new high levels for the season. At this stage prices were 110 to 128 points over yesterday's close and the improvement tempted a great deal of selling-out on the part of old longs.

GRAINS SHOWING MODERATE GAINS

Gossip to the Effect That Europe Was Buying Responsible

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Gossip that European buying of wheat was in progress on a larger scale than most traders were aware of, led to moderate gains in price today. The close was firm, 1-8 to 5-8 cent net higher, with December at 1.02 5-8@1.02 3-4 and May 1.08 1-4@1.08 5-8. Corn finished unchanged to 1-8@1-4 cent lower, oats varying from 1-8 cent off to 1-8@1-4 cent advance, and provisions unchanged to 17 cents down.

Demand for corn and oats was without much energy, despite government reports confirming frost damage to corn.

Provisions were weakened by a break in hog values.

Fort Worth Livestock.

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Sept 19.—Buyers were bidding lower on practically of all classes of cattle Wednesday and the movement scaleward was rather sluggish. Desirable light calves were unchanged, but heavy and medium weight calves lost 25 to 50 cents, most of the run having to sell at the 50 cent end of the decline.

Midweek receipts amounted to 4,000 head of cattle, 1,800 halves, 1,500 hogs and 700 sheep.

Although the steer market was slow, the top end of the run cleared during the morning at values that were about steady, some cattle selling at 6.50. Fair to moderately good steers were slow and 10 to 15 cents lower.

Another downward revision appeared in butcher stock division, cows losing 10 to 15 cents. Medium heifers and yearlings were lower, also, but the best kinds remained steady. Canners sold at steady values. Fat cows brought $4,000@4.25, medium to good cows went at 3.00@3.75, cutters brought 2.00@2.75 and canners were taken at 1.50@175. A car of choice heifer yearlings brought 9.75.

Stocker buyers paid steady prices. Late Tuesday a car of choice steer yearlings sold at 6.50.

The best calves in car lots went at $7.00.

Hog buyers forced a decline of 15 to 20 cents, but the market was fairly brisk. Shippers took over a few cars, but the best hogs went to packers at 8.40. Most of the run was disposed of at a spread of 8.15@8.30.

Traders called the pig market steady. Fat pigs sold at 6.35, at 6.50, but most of the stockers cleared at 6.00@6.25 with a few making 6.25.

Feeder lambs again constituted the chief quotation of the day's receipts in the sheep house. Two double decks sold at 11.00, a price that was steady. Not enough fat sheep was here to make a test of the market. A few fat lambs went at 12.00, a value that looked about in line with recent deals.

Chicago Livestock.

CHICAGO Sept. 19.—Cattle 12,000; very uneven; dull closing weak to 25 lower; top matured steers 12.90; yearlings 12.50; bulk fed steers 9.50@11.25; Western grass steers 7.40@7.50; stockers and feeders 6.25@7.50; vealers 12.75@13.50.

Hogs 27,000; uneven; mostly 15 to 25c lower. Lights 8.55@8.75; top 8.75; butchers 8.20@@8.50. Pigs 6.75@7.25. Estimated holdover 17,000.

Sheep 30,000; steady to 25c lower. Western fat lambs 13.80@14.00; natives 13.25@13.65; yearlings wethers 9.50@11.00; fat ewes 5.50@6.50. Feeding lambs 13.50@13.75.

Pope Strengthens His Edict Against Immodest Dress

By The Associated Press.

ROME.—As a result of the recent sensational incident when 150 women, forming a part of a deputation to the Pope, were turned back from the Vatican because their dresses were low cut at the neck and had short sleeves, the Papal Majordomo has issued a new set of regulations for dress when being received by the Pope.

Women must wear dresses covering the arm to the wrist and the neck to the chin, says the regulations. The dresses must be made of thick material and not transparent and be long enough to reach down to the ankles of the wearer. Dresses giving undue prominence to the figure are discouraged.

Gloves must not be worn and only wedding or engagement rings may adorn the fingers of intending visitors to the Vatican, who are now submitted to three examinations, viz., first at the door, second at St. Damaso Courtyard, and if they pass these posts their invitation card is crossed with a blue mark. The third examination is made in the Papal antichamber, where successful candidates receive a red cross on their cards.

Make-up of any description is strictly forbidden. Hair dye is tolerated provided it is not of the conspicuous peroxide tint.

Connecticut Merchant Left Valuable Violins

By The Associated Press.

NORWICH, Conn.—Four specially valuable violins are in the collection of the late Archibald Mitchell, dry goods merchant, whose death occured here recently.

They are the "Bott" Stradivari (1722.) the "Earl" Stradivari (1722.) the "Jarnowick" (1741.) and the "Healy" Stradivari (1711.) The "Bott" is regarded as one of the most widely known instruments in the United States. It was at one time owned by the duke of Cambridge, and afterwards by Louis Spohr, passing later into the hands of the late Prof. John Bott, who as a young man, had been a pupil of Spohr.

The "Earl" is of exceptional size and weight, which distinguishes it from any previous or later work of Stradivari. It was purchased about 1820 by the founder of the London Royal Academy of Music, the earl of Westmoreland, while he was ambassador at Vienna.

The "Jarnowick" is a splendid specimen of the last type of the master. It is contemporary with the "Paganini" Guerneri (1743.) now preserved in the Municipal palace at Genoa, which, in the hands of the great Maestro, delighted so many thousands in Europe.

The "Healy" is one of the very few perfect Stradivari violins in existence. Mr. Mitchell was one of the founders of a dry goods concern here, which has stores in Portland, Me., and in Grand Rapids, Mich., and which at one time operated stores in Fort Wayne, Ind., Detroit and Saginaw, Mich., and Middletown, Conn.

Stamp Collectors Deny Old Fad Is on the Wane

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON.—The old fad for collecting postage stamps is not only in not on the wane, but is going stronger than ever, according to members of the American Philatelic society, who recently concluded here what they characterized as the most successful gathering since the organization was founded 43 years ago. More than 250 attested to the popularity of collecting when they bid quick and lively at an auction in which several hundred stamps and groups were put up.

In all, more than $6,100 was paid over as a result of the bidding. The highest price paid was $560 for a 4-cent blue stamp issued by British Guiana in 1856, and which was considered a rare specimen. The fact that such a price was paid for a stamp not in best condition was regarded as indicative of the interest collectors still retain. This stamp in prime condition is listed at a catalogue price of $4,000.

Stamp collecting, though, isn't what it used to be, the "old timers" say. There are too many "wise ones" in the field, and it is no longer possible to pick up valuable rarities for a song. Even children, they declare, now know a good one when they see it. They all hark back to the time when such and such a stamp could be got anywhere for a few cents but is now quoted and bought for as many dollars.

One of the interesting specimens which stroked a lively minute of bidding and finally brought an exceptional price was a pink 3-cent United States stamp of the issue of 1861, the cancellation on which was a devil with a pitchfork. This type has come to be known as the "Old Boy Hinself" issue.

FAIR ADVOCATES BLOODED STOCK

Association Plans to Stop Slaughter of Pure Bred Cattle

The Texas-Oklahoma Fair and Exposition to be held here the first week of October, has joined with other large fair and exposition associations in a movement to halt the waste in the slaughter of pure bred bull calves of dairy breeds.

According to the inflexible law of averages, there are about as many bull calves born each year as there are heifer calves. And despite the acknowledged value of a pure bred sire, 75,000 pure bred calves were killed for veal or fattened for beef last year. It is to stop this practice that the Texas-Oklahoma Fair and Exposition and of the fairs of the nation are placing so much emphasis on the cattle shows this year.

About 300,000 Holstein-Friesian cows were registered last year. Bulls of this breed totaling 50,000. The difference, 30,000, represents the approximate number of bull calves not registered most of them presumably having been killed for veal or fattened as steers.

The Jersey breed registered about 30,000 cows and 12,000 bulls, a loss of 18,000 pure bred sires. Guernseys and Ayshires totals are less, but the percentage is heavy there, too. In face of this waste, it is estimated by government experts that five grade or scrub bulls are in use for every pure bred bull.

To stock the farms of the country with pure bred live stock of all kinds is one of the big aims of the fair. To further encourage the good work that is being done along this line, the management is offering several thousand dollars in premiums for the live stock show.

SEVERAL COUNTIES TO HAVE DISPLAYS

Several counties in Oklahoma and Texas will have exhibits at the Texas-Oklahoma fair and exposition to be held here the first week in October. One entire section of one of the hangars will be assigned the counties for their various displays. Visitors to the exposition will be able to see there what their neighbors grow and how they grow it, according to C. H. Verschoyle, fair secretary.

Farm advisors and representatives of the various farm bureaus in the several counties will be in charge of the exhibits. They will answer all questions concerning farming and stock raising in their individual counties.

To the farmers the county exhibits will be one of the most interesting departments on the grounds. In the booths there a farmer or stockman may see just what the farmers and stockmen are doing in the adjoining counties. There will be specimens of the seeds and principal grains from each of the counties.

The farm bureau members will show the soil in the different counties. They by maps and surveys the condition of will show how high the corn and wheat grow and how long it takes to mature. Ideas will be exchanged by farmers and ranchmen from the different counties and all will benefit, according to Verschoyle.

YOUNG LOSES HIS SENATE CONTEST

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 19.—Secretary of State S. L. Staples today notified Henry Young of Waco, alleged candidate for United States senator on the state rights democratic party that no further recognizance of his contest of last year's general election will be taken. Staples said the state supreme court denied Young's application to compel the secretary of state to include his name on the election ballot and in view of this fact the contest will not be considered further.

Started $5,000,000 Relief Fund

Left to right, Ambassador Hanihara, Japan; James L. Fieser, acting chairman of the American Red Cross; Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, and Elliot Wadsworth, assistant secretary of the treasury.

As reports of the mounting death toll and destruction wrought by the earthquake continued to pour into Washington, D. C., Red Cross and government officials met with Ambassador Hanihara of Japan and agreed to raise a $5,000,000 relief fund to aid the starving survivors.

Sir Roderick's inspection trip will occupy about nine months. He will be accompanied by Lady Jones.

RICKSHA YANKEE INVENTION.

That useful two-wheeled vehicle, the ricksha, known to every Yankee who has followed the tourist trail from Yokohama around to India, was bestowed on the east by a Yankee missionary, Jonathan Globe, says an article in the Saturday Evening Post.

That he might the easier give his invalid wife the air, he built a crude two-wheeled contraption, to be hauled by his cook. His odd looking wagon was cheap, comfortable and easy to haul where roads were bad and narrow. Result, others soon imitated it and in time countless thousands were in use.

For millions it takes the place of the tram car and motor. Gradually the demand in China for American materials for use in ricksha construction developed into a profitable trade.

RETIRED EMPORER SEEKS SECLUSION

By The Associated Press.

DOORN.—Instead of time softening the seclusion of the former German emperor, he is about to retire even more completely from the gaze of the sightseer, for he has ordered the erection of a barricade to prevent his residence from being overlooked from the high road. The framework for the new screen, which is eight feet high, will successfully prevent anyone from getting even a fleeting glimpse of the fretful monarch as he walks in his garden.

The recent publicity given to a bonfire celebration in the grounds of Doorn House is said to have been the motive for the greater privacy.

By The Associated Press.

LONDON.—Foreign visitors to London have arrived in such numbers this year that the transportation companies have been forced to hire conductors for their buses and trams who are able to speak foreign languages.

Many of the new men are former army officers who are unable to find other employment.

Brass Plate Marks Last Pew Occupied By Harding

By The Associated Press.

JUNEAU, Alaska.—A brass plate now marks the pew in the Indian Presbyterian church at Sitka where the late President Harding attended public religious services for the last time before his death at San Francisco. On the plate are inscribed the words: "President Harding occupied this pew on Sunday, July 22, 1923; his last attendance at public worship."

Only a few members of the president's immediate party accompanied him to the church, and it was not generally known that he was to attend services there. When the collection plate was passed the president dropped in a gold coin. The sermon was preached by the Rev. R. A. Buchanan.

Russia Difficult to Enter.

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN.—Although the Soviet government has announced that admission to Russia would be facilitated for the purpose of accommodating visitors to the commercial exposition in Moscow, Americans desiring to enter the Soviet republic still find it difficult to obtain permission from Moscow.

The Berlin embassy says it is unable to grant permission without communication with the central government in Moscow and delays are as prolonged as they were before the announcement of a change in policy.

Boy Hit By Auto; Little Hope Held For His Recovery

Pat Cochran, 6 years old, is in a local hospital suffering from a fractured skull, and may not live, after being accidentally struck by an automobile in the 2200 block on Eleventh street yesterday afternoon. The car which was driven by a woman, did not run over the boy, witnesses say, but it is thought the fender brushed him, throwing him to the pavement.

Persons who saw the accident say the driver of the car was not to blame for the accident, as the boy came from behind another motor, car, too late for the oncoming car to stop. The driver of the car took the injured lad to the hospital immediately.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cochran, 1305 Britton street. Mr. Cochran is connected with a local real estate concern. Attending physicians entertain little hope for the boy's recovery, it was said at the hospital last night.

Pacific Shipping Increased By 100 Per Cent in 10 Yrs.

By The Associated Press.

HONOLULU—The growth of commerce and shipping on the Pacific in the past ten years is shown by the fact that the tonnage of ships arriving here increased in the fiscal year 1923 by more than 100 per cent over the total of 1913, according to the annual report of the harbor master.

The total tonnage for 1913 was 2,724,424 and the aggregate for 1923 was 5,202,575, an advance of 3,507,852 in the decade. The number of ships also was much larger, 478 entering in 1913 and 716 making this port in 1923.

The harbor master's report recommended that better and larger facilities be provided here for handling the vessels in view of the increase and in anticipation of a further growth.

Cotton Leaps To Dizzy Level Of Over 30 Cents

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Thirty cent cotton became a reality today when October contracts on the New York cotton exchange crossed that level and went 30 points farther, or to 30.30 before the decided advance and covering movement was checked by active realizing sales.

Today's violent upturn to new high levels for the season marked the culmination of a strong bull movement which has been almost continuous since the end of July, government report made it plain to the cotton world that the supply of the fleecy staple this year would fall considerably short of earlier estimates.

It stimulated a demand from American and foreign mill interests that readily absorbed the weight of first new crop receipts, in connection with the speculative buying that ensued and started an advance that has added fully nine cents a pound, or $45 per bale, to the value of the south's crop.

The immediate cause of today's sensational rise was a report of floods in northern Texas and Oklahoma, together with predictions for cooler weather and a higher basis in the southwest, which seemed to forecast an even greater reduction in the crop promise, besides injuring the grade.

Over half of the motorcycles, that have been used in Japan were of American make.

Why have BOILS?

IF you have never experienced that uncomfortable, soul rending, heart tearing, nauseating feeling that boils carry with them you are truly fortunate. The boil lodged securely—hiding away, ashamed, so to speak—behind your collar—just where you can't reach it and you want to so bad. Every time you turn your head—oh! that scraping pain—that agony.

Boils the same as all skin disorders—pimples, blackheads, eczema—are caused by a run-down state of health. The human motor is not hitting on all cylinders—the spark of vitality is low—rich red blood is not surging through your veins. The human carburetor is clogged up. When the lead from the gas tank of the automobile is filled with particles of dirt the engine does not respond properly. So, too, when the system is clogged with impurities, skin disorders—pimples, eczema, or boils appear.

S. S. S. builds new blood cells. As blood cells increase in number impurities vanish. When impurities vanish boils and other annoying skin disorders disappear. S. S. S. is the conqueror of skin eruptions. It is the greatest blood cell builder, blood cleanser and body builder known. It is foolhardy to suffer from boils and skin disorders when by putting your system in order these uncomfortable hindrances to well-being will be done away with.

Mr. V. D. Schaff, 557 15th Street, Washington, D. C., writes:

"I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S. S. S. I am now absolutely cured, and it was S. S. S. that did it."

S. S. S. is sold at all leading drug stores. Try a bottle and get rid of your boils and other skin eruptions. The large size is the more economical.
