State Launches Attack On Walker's Alibi Defense

Witnesses Declare Walker Sat In Domino Game At Hotel Here On Night Brown Was Murdered

State Tries To Tear Down Testimony Friday; Completion Of Defense Case Expected Today; Hotel Owner Tells Of Man And Woman Visiting Establishment; Identifies Latter

HUGH WALKER, charged with murder in 99th district court, was alleged to have been playing dominoes in the lobby of the Commercial hotel, 1206 Avenue G, when the siren of an ambulance screamed as it started for F. V. "Leather Hat" Brown's body at Woodrow on the night of May 30, two witnesses for Walker's defense testified in his trial Friday afternoon.

But upon questioning by prosecution attorneys, both witnesses admitted they were "not positive about the time" and "couldn't say for sure" whether Walker was in the game or not.

The witnesses were: Phil Williams, Corpus Christi, and John Berry, Fort Worth, both cotton buyers. Both men testified on direct defense examination that they were playing dominoes with Walker on the night Brown was killed and that the sound of the ambulance siren "broke up the game". Williams said Walker was his partner for "two or three games."

Part Of Defense Alibi

Their testimony was a part of the defense alibi that Walker was not at the T. B. Hilton residence at Woodrow around 9 o'clock when the pioneer county stock farmer was shot to death by three men.

Several witnesses had testified Friday morning that Walker and Jess Covington were at the Frank Robinson home, 2018 Sixth street, that night between 9:30 and 10 o'clock, each varying in their estimate at to the exact time. Three witnesses were put on Friday afternoon to strengthen the alibi.

State attorneys apparently broke through the alibi testimony with admission from both men that they were not positive as to the time and that they "didn't know where Hugh Walker was around 9 o'clock."

17 Witnesses Heard

Defense counsel started Walker's case shortly before noon yesterday after the state had rested at 10:42.

Seventeen witnesses gave testimony for the defense yesterday, the day's proceedings climaxing with the appearance of Mrs. Earl Harris, operator of the Harris hotel at 1105 1-2 Avenue G.

Mrs. Harris testified that a man who said his name was Leather Hat Brown had registered at her hotel on several occasions and at one time a lady came to the hotel and asked for Mr. Brown and on another occasion, she came there and registered herself. She testified she had been told the woman

Hoover Urges All Women To Offer Support

Declares Upon Their Voting On Election Day Rests Big Measure Of Responsibility For The Future

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—President Hoover today urged "every woman everywhere who believes in our cause" to enter actively into the political campaign. He asserted that upon their voting on election day "rests a large measure of the responsibility for the future of our country."

The president spoke by radio from the cabinet room of the White House, his address forming part of a "Hoover Day" celebration arranged by the women's division of the Republican national committee.

Invites Comparison

He invited women to compare the Republican record with Democratic proposals during the past three years. The chief executive named various proposals sponsored during the last session of congress by those he called "our opponents," and asserted "had we not been able to stop these measures they would have destroyed recovery; they would have thrown us from the foundations of 150 years of careful upbuilding."

Mr. Hoover said the election would be one "of deep seriousness in its consequences to the future."

"It will not only determine," he said, "whether proven measures now winning this battle against depression shall be exchanged for unknown experiments, but it will determine the course to be pursued by the nation for many years to come in the solution and advancement of these great questions."

Hawkins Jury Is Given Discharge

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 7 (AP)—The jury trying the case of Joe Hawkins, charged with the murder of his father-in-law, S. M. Walker, failed to agree today and was discharged.

It was the second mistrial of Hawkins and was the third time he had been tried. Sentenced to 50 years at the first trial in Crosby county, he appealed and the case was reversed and remanded. A mistrial followed another trial in Hale county.

Attorney Asks Fergusons To Give Proofs Of Allegations

CLEBURNE, Oct. 7 (AP)—County Attorney Penn J. Jackson has asked Mrs. James E. Ferguson and her husband to give him the names of the more than 500 voters in Johnson county the gubernatorial nominee claimed cast illegal ballots in the August Democratic primary.

Penn was informed the allegations of irregularities had been made by the Fergusons in answer to a suit filed by Gov. R. S. Sterling contesting the right of Mrs. Ferguson to a place on the ballot for the general election in November.

The attorney said no violation of the voting law in his county had been brought to his attention.

Postal Receipts In City Show Increase For Quarter

Postal receipts for the quarter year ended Sept. 30 totaled $26,121.95, as compared to $24,916.66 for the same period of 1931, Postmaster John L. Vaughan said yesterday.

Total for September, however, fell below that of the previous September. Last month's total was $8,284.95, as compared to $8,637.55 for the same month of 1931.

Nazarenes To Meet In City

Nineteenth Annual Assembly Opens In Lubbock November 8; Between 300 And 200 To Visit In City

Lubbock's next major convention will be held Nov. 8 to 13, when the 19th annual district assembly of the Abilene district of the Nazarene church will be held here, chamber of commerce officials announced last night.

The assembly was invited to meet in Lubbock in 1930 at the meeting at Wellington, however Sweetwater was successful in securing the 1931 meeting, where the Lubbock delegation secured the convention with the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and other local organizations extending invitations.

From three to four hundred people are expected here for the meeting, Rev. R. M. Hocker, pastor of the local Church of the Nazarene estimates. There were 330 at Sweetwater last year.

To Furnish Rooms

In extending an invitation to the assembly last November, Lubbock offered to furnish visitors here complimentary rooms. A committee of six with Rev. R. M. Hocker as chairman will begin activities Monday to secure a sufficient number of rooms for the delegates, it was announced

Twenty-Seven Unemployed Persons Sent To Fields

The Lubbock Salvation Army headquarters, 1404 Texas avenue, Friday sent 27 unemployed persons to cotton fields to pick bolls, Capt. W. T. Wilson, commander, reported. It increased to 64 the total of persons receiving cotton picking jobs through the welfare agency since it began registration of growers needing pickers, and pickers needing jobs, Wednesday.

Captain Wilson said farmers in the Shallowater vicinity told him Friday they would need a considerable number of picekrs soon. Several jobless men, willing and with cotton sacks, were at the Army quarters late Friday, the commander said.

Odgen Mills Loses Bet; Check Of $100 Donated To Democrats

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Ogden Mills, secretary of the treasury, lost a bet, Democratic national headquarters announced tonight, and as a result his personal check for $100 has gone into the Roosevelt-Garner campaign fund.

OGDEN MILLS

"Last fall," the announcement said, "Mr. Mills made a bet with a prominent Maryland society matron that Governor Roosevelt would not be nominated for the presidency. . . .

"Recently Secretary Mills paid his bet and the lady winner promptly endorsed the Mills check over to the Democratic national campaign committee with the request that it be added to her previous contribution.

"For once Mr. Mills' faculty for wrong guessing has done some one some good, which is more than can be said for his desperate efforts last spring to guess how much money would be needed to balance the federal budget."

Exciting Race For Governor's Chair In Texas Believed Near End As Court Ponders Details

All Legal Questions Passed To Highest Tribunal And A Decision Is Expected Today Or Early Monday

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—Decision that will either end litigation involving the Texas Democratic gubernatorial nomination or force continuation of trial in the Travis county district court of a contest suit to determine who is the legal nominee was believed near tonight.

All current legal questions involved in the struggle being waged for the nomination by Governor R. S. Sterling and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson had been passed to the state's highest tribunal for adjudication and a decision was expected tomorrow or Monday.

Study Court Decision

The supreme court had before it the question of whether District Judge W. F. Robertson acted properly in dismissing a suit filed in his court by Governor R. S. Sterling in which the nomination of Mrs. Ferguson was attacked as unlawful and the application of Mrs. Ferguson for leave to file a petition to mandamus Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, to certify her as the nominee.

Judge Robertson's holding that only the legislature, in joint session, could try a contested election involving the office of governor was sent to the supreme court by the third court of civil appeals on certified question.

If the supreme court holds that Judge Robertson was in error, it would be incumbent on Judge Robertson to resume trial of the case he ended so abruptly by his decision.

Certification Withheld

A holding that Judge Robertson was correct in his construction of the constitution would end the suit.

Certification of a Democratic nominee has been withheld by Mrs. McCallum until the election con-

Local Woman Is Named Chairman

Mrs. Zina Young, 2514 Twenty-Third street has been named chairman of the Bullington-for-governor woman's club of the 30th senatorial district. Mrs. Hucie Gutzler, state organizer for women supporting Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls for governor announced.

Mrs. Gutzler of Fort Worth, in Lubbock a short time Friday, conferred with John L. Vaughn, Republican leader here. An organization office for this senatorial district will be opened downtown beginning Monday. Location of the office had not been determined last night.

Governor's Son Says Goodbye; Heads For Jail

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 7. (AP) — Governor and Mrs. Arthur Seligman were at the railroad station here today to say farewell to their son, Otis, as he left with six other former employes of the First National bank of Santa Fe for Leavenworth prison.

Otis Seligman and the others were convicted recently on conspiracy to violate the national banking laws. The prisoners were in custody of United States deputy marshals.

Mrs. Seligman had to be supported by the governor as the train pulled away from the station. She was in tears but despite her sorrow she threw a kiss at her son and waved at him.

A small crowd of friends and spectators were at the station as the prisoners boarded the train.

Clements Asks Citizens' Aid

City-Wide Drive For Clothes And Food Will Be Staged In Lubbock Today In Behalf Of Salvation Army

Mayor J. J. Clements late Friday issued an appeal to Lubbock citizens to respond in a city-wide drive today for contribution of food, apparel, cots, and bedding for use by the Lubbock Salvation Army corps in its welfare work. Mayor Clements, chairman of the Boy Scout civic service committee, sponsor of the campaign, also asked that automobile owners able to drive or otherwise lend their cars in the canvass do so.

Fearful that Lubbock's citizenry would not respond as freely as had been anticipated earlier, volunteer leaders late Friday asked that residents having articles to donate put them in bundles on porches where they can be seen. Boy Scouts will assemble at City hall at 9 o'clock this morning to be assigned to automobiles to collect the bundles. To late Friday afternoon, only one person, a woman, had telephoned City hall to report she would drive her car in the canvass.

"Happy Warrior" Will Take To Stump In Four States And Campaign For Demo Victory In November

Plans Idefinite

Standard Bearers Of '28 And '32 Have Re-Cemented Their Friendship And Will Battle Side By Side

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—"Al" Smith, the "Happy Warrior," will take the stump in four states, it was learned definitely tonight, and campaign for a Democratic victory in November.

He plans at present to speak in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island and New York.

Delegations from these states supported him in the Chicago convention. Massachusetts and Rhode Island gave him their electoral votes in 1928.

Undecided On Illinois

It was announced in Illinois Smith would speak there but he has not yet added that state to the list.

The possibility of Smith entering the campaign was seen by Democratic leaders after he brought 10,000 cheering men and women to their feet at the state convention last Tuesday by grasping the governor's hand.

It was a fight against Tammany Chief John F. Curry's attempt to withhold the gubernatorial nomination from Herbert H. Lehman that brought them together.

Membership Re-Cemented

With the realization they had won the nomination for their friend, the standard bearer of 1928 and the standard bearer of 1932 recemented a friendship that had been interrupted by their fight against each other for the presidential nomination.

Forty-eight hours later they saw James J. Walker, whom both had opposed for renomination as mayor, fade at least temporarily from the political picture.

Smith was out of the city tonight. There was no indication of when a formal announcement of his speaking plans would be made.

Is Likely Mayor

Smith's friends already were talking of him as a likely Democratic organization candidate for mayor next year.

At the same time friends of Walker, who declined to run for mayor in a dramatic radio message to Curry, said they believed he might be interested in running for the senate at some future time.

New York is electing one senator this year and the Democrats already have selected U. S. Senator Robert F. Wageper, a friend of Smith.

The other senatorial post becomes vacant in two years.

Office To Be Vacant

The office of mayor will become vacant again next year and another election will be held in November 1933.

Libby Holman Gets Nothing From Reynolds

Albert Walker, Charged With Murder Of Young Heir, To Receive $50,000; Others To Also Get Share

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Smith Reynolds left a will bequeathing $50,000 to Albert Walker, the friend now charged with his murder but did not mention his widow, Libby Holman Reynolds blues singer whom he had not married when the will was drawn. She is a co-defendant with Walker. The will was filed for probate late today.

It was executed late in August, 1931, a few days before he left Long Island for a perilous solo flight to the far east. It left young Reynolds share in the Reynolds tobacco millions largely to his brother, Richard Reynolds, and to his two sisters, Mrs. Mary Reynolds Babcock and Mrs. Nancy Reynolds Bagley.

Others Are Benefitted

There was $50,000 listed for Walker, $50,000 for Mrs. Anne Cannon Reynolds, who divorced Reynolds shortly after the will was drawn, $50,000 for their daughter, Anne Cannon Reynolds, II, $50,000 for Mrs. Maxie Smith Dunn, an aunt, and $50,000 to John S. Graham of Winston-Salem, N. C., where Reynolds was fatally shot in the palatial Reynolds home, Reynolda.

The will shows Reynolds' intention that his brother and sisters should not only share what might be left over from his personal estate after payment of specific bequests but also some $15,000,000 in trust funds established for him by his parents. He would not have received the principal for another seven years.

Mother Of GOP Candidate Dying

BROWNWOOD, Oct. 7 (AP)—Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, Republican gubernatorial nominee, left for Weatherford tonight on receiving word that his mother was dying. His speaking engagement here was cancelled.

A crowd already had gathered in the district court room when Bullington was informed of his mother's critical condition. She had been ill for several weeks.

Accompanied by his cousin, Grover Bullington, the candidate started for Weatherford by automobile at 8:15 p. m. The Rev. John Power, rector of the Episcopal church, who was to have introduced Bullington, informed the waiting audience of the death call.

THREE ARE KILLED

GREENVILLE, Me., Oct. 7, (AP)—Joseph Gagnon, 60, his wife and three year old grandson were shot to death here tonight, police said, by Roland Willer, 22, Gagnon's son-in-law. Before he could turn his rifle on three other members of the Gagnon family, including his wife, Willer was knocked unconscious by Gagnon's two sons.

Eight Persons Are Charged In Passing Of Bogus $100 Bills, Source Of Big Supply Unknown

Six Of Alleged Gang Under Arrest While Capture Of Others Is Expected Today; Paducah, Dickens And Ralls Men Are Facing Charges; Whereabouts Of Woman Unknown

EIGHT persons, including a woman, were charged with conspiracy to pass counterfeit $100 bills late Friday, and federal officers believed they had crushed a gang allegedly responsible for appearance of at least 33 bogus notes.

Under arrest were: Roy D. Fox, Paducah grocer, in whose possession officers said they found 15 false federal reserve notes; J. W. Johnston, C. C. Combs and his father, W. E. Combs, all of Dickens; C. C. Stephens, and A. O. Bybee, both of Ralls.

Fugitives were Mrs. Rena Massey, who allegedly passed three $100 bills to Hub Motor company late Tuesday; and Ben F. Overstreet, Dickens, who allegedly attempted to pass a bogus note at Littlefield the same day.

Source Is Not Tapped

Source of the notes had not been tapped, it was reliably reported. That the spurious bills were brought in from a "large plant" outside the state was presumed.

Heaviest bonds of the sextet held were set in Fox's two cases. In addition to the conspiracy charge, he was charged with having certain counterfeit $100 federal reserve notes on the Federal Reserve bank in Chicago, Ill., in his possession. His bond in both cases was set by U. S. Commissioner Victor H. Lindsey at $5,000.

Bybee, a Ralls sewing machine salesman, the first man arrested, also faced two charges. A second complaint charged him with passing a bill to Kuykendall Chevrolet company here.

Other Bonds Set

Besides bail set for Fox, other bonds were: Bybee, $2,000 in the passing case and $1,500 in the conspiracy case; Johnston, Stephens, W. E. Combs, and C. C. Combs, $3,500 each.

Federal officers said that 15 of the false bills were found in Fox's possession when he was arrested Thursday night at Paducah. Another bogus note had been found in Lubbock. It was revealed last night C. P. Beauchamp, a filling station operator, received one of the notes from Western Union Tuesday when he cashed a money order. Western Union last night said they had received the bill from First National bank.

Held At Littlefield

Overstreet, a Dickens cafe operator, was reported to have been held in custody a short time at

State Opposes Insull Release

Assistant State's Attorney Says He Will Do Utmost To Prevent Freedom; Search Is On For Second Brother

(By The Associated Press)

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 7 — John Hampton assistant state's attorney of Cook county, Ill., announced today he would do his utmost to prevent the release in bail of Martin Insull, former utilities magnate, who is in jail at Barrie awaiting the outcome of an extradition action.

Hampton left by airplane for Chicago to further the work of getting both Martin Insull and his brother Samuel Insull, who is abroad, back within jurisdiction of the Illinois court.

"We are going to concentrate now on Sam Insull," Hampton said.

"We hear he has left Paris and gone somewhere else, but we are going to find him and we are going to get him back. I don't know whether I myself am going over. That will be decided when I get back to Chicago."

Total Of 134 Persons Are Registered For Road Work

A total of 134 persons registered for work in connection with the construction of highway No. 24 east of Lubbock to Idalou, it was said at the chamber of commerce office last night. Members of the committee are J. B. Maxey, J. H. Bryan, and W. B. Atkins.

Under a federal regulation the committee will compile a list of eligible applicants, and the contractor, Panhandle Construction company of Lubbock, will select his workmen from the list. Work will begin on the grading and drainage of the project Monday. The contractor will use about 30 men in two crews of 15 each.

Brutal Story Of Sweat Box Told To Jury

Details Of Torture In Prison Camp Are Related In Trial Of Two Officers By Fellow Convicts Of Victim

(By The Associated Press)

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 7. — Stories of stark "brutality in the Sunbeam prison camp and of guards roaring with laughter at a convict's agony were related today in the trial of two former camp officials charged with murdering Arthur Maillefert by slow torture in the sweat box.

E. L. Smith, a fellow prisoner of the youth from Westfield, N. J., who robbed a filling station and was sent up for nine years, testified Maillefert was placed in a barrel as punishment for trying to escape. Both ends were knocked out and it was hung over his shoulders by means of straps and planks.

Placed In Sweat Box

They placed him in the sweat box, barrel and all, the convict said and the youth spent the night in the narrow upright confinement that Florida law provides for unruly convicts.

Next morning they let him out, Smith related, and Maillefert tumbled out on the ground.

The convict said that struck Captain George Ceurson, one of the defendants, as comical and he and several guards laughed uproariously.

Bore Whipping Marks

He made no mention of Solomon Higginbotham, the other defendant.

Smith testified Maillefert's body bore the marks of a whipping, although Florida law prohibits use of the lash in prison camps.

County Detective W. H. Gasque related how he demanded to learn details of Maillefert's death after a justice of the peace had held an inquest would be necessary.

GETS LIFE TERM

HARRISBURG, Ark., Oct. 7 (AP)—Herman Ledbetter, 31-year old farmer, has been sentenced to life imprisonment for whipping his 2-year-old stepson to death. He was convicted of first degree murder last night.

Alabama Goes "Wet" And Before Set Of Sun, Airplanes And Trucks Are Enroute To State With Consignments Of Near Beer To Quench The Thirst Of The "Cuhnel" And His Guests

(By The Associated Press)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 7. —Possession of near beer now is legal in Alabama today, but the legality of its sales is wrapped up in a blanket of doubt woven with a lot of technicalities.

Legality of possession was established yesterday when the legislature over-rode Governor Miller's veto and passed a law to repeal a clause of the state prohibition statutes that forbade the possession or sale of anything that looks, like, tastes like or smells like beer.

Before set of sun, airplane and trucks were en route to Alabama from neighboring states with consignments of near beer. At Birmingham a hotel ordered two cases by air express.

But Representative Massey Edgar, author of the repeal measure, admitted today the beer could not be legally sold without license stamps.

Tax Commissioner S. R. Butler has all sorts of stamps except beer license stamps and he says he has no authority to have any printed and issued.

"I don't know whether they can sell it or not," Butler said. "I think they can give it away now but it couldn't be sold."

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

HERE is something that should make the women happy—that is, if they can convince the men that it is a proper formula. Josias Iverson, who celebrated his fiftieth wedding anniversary the other day at in San Francisco, thinks that "arguments are the basis of most marital troubles" and "if you want to have happiness, let the women have her say and take it smiling."

In other words, "when there's an argument, take it on the chin and give in to the so-called weaker sex." And Josias' formula should be worthy of some consideration. It, or something else, has worked for fifty years.

OF COURSE, this isn't a good time of year to suggest that people go shoeless if they want to have good feet and shapely legs. But those are the things for a woman to do if she wants this type of beauty. At least, that is the opinion of Dr. Emmanuel Demeur of Oak Park, Ill., scientific chairman of the chiropodists convention which met recently in Chicago.

"If Mother Nature had intended human beings to walk on high heels, she would have seen that they grew on us naturally," Dr. Demeur believes. "High heeled shoes put the weight of the entire body on the toes, instead of on the ball of the foot. The toes were intended only to balance the foot and give it a leverage to push the body forward. "Pointed toes add insult to injury," he adds. "Bearing weight on the toes naturally spreads them wider than normal. When we compress them to a narrower than usual, we give them a still greater handicap in performing their enforced duty as a foundation for the body."

All of which will be scoffed at by a lot of women who believe that they cannot walk except in high heels.

Personally, I think there is a place for high heels. Few women look well dressed up in formal clothes if they do not wear high heels, although some can accomplish it with shaped heels. On the other hand, there are few things more ridiculous looking than high heels with an outdoor costume.

High heels are a matter of choice. Whether I think they are good taste or bad will have little effect. The opinion of the chiropodist won't have much effect, even though he promises greater beauty without them.

Almost every young woman goes through a period when she thinks she never can be well dressed without high heels. This is one thing that sends girls teetering across high school campuses on spike heels. Many of them outgrow this tendency after a few years. As a matter of fact, the tendency is getting away from high heels for everything except dress. It seems to me. A few years ago high heels were worn by almost every girl from the time she quit playing dolls. Now there are thousands of school girls, business women and others who choose box or military heels with their sports costumes.

Along with these thousands, there are others who cling to their high heels for everything from hill climbing to football games.

WATCH THE EYEBROWS

AND here is something else in which women—and men too—may be interested. It concerns telling the age of a woman and is not by that "look 'em in the mouth" method.

The way to do it is to look at their eyebrows!

Eyebrows change their position with age, according to Professor V. Suk a British scientist. With advancing age, they sink below the upper margin on the eye socket.

WHAT looks to me like a good waste of energy is being carried on by a group of people over in England. I'm referring to members of the National Mouse club who had an exhibition of mice recently in Birmingham.

What is more, these admirers of mice had their 400 pets displayed in elegant cages and talked about the "cunning little dears" in the show.

Of course, a display of affection is a good thing, I suppose, and one might as well have mice for a hobby as a lot of other things, but it looks like a terrible waste of energy and money. With all the good things in the world, imagine packing a cage of pet white mice around.

Dan Cupid Licks Tarzan And Troubles Follow Up

Johnny Weissmuller and Bobbe Arnt, above—as "Mr. and Mrs.", below

By Central Press

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Tarzan's in trouble!

Menacing the peace of mind of Johnny Weissmuller, one-time world champion swimmer and recent screen portrayer of the famed "ape man" of fiction, are not a horde of gibbering gorillas, a host of bloodthirsty blacks or a herd of chop-licking lions.

Nope. Tarzan, the mighty man of the jungles, who—on paper and on the screen—strangles lithanic snakes and kayoes murderous crocodiles, is having trouble with a wee little sprite, a puny-muscled cherub armed only with a bow and rose-scented arrows—Mr. Daniel J. Cupid, himself!

Parting of the Ways

Cupid—it seems—has departed the well-appointed home of the Weissmullers and left Johnny and Mrs. Johnny at odds. It is a situation which has developed into the preliminaries for a divorce.

Johnny and Cupid became pals several years ago when Johnny, then a bronzed king of aquatic sports, was introduced to a slim, petite musical comedy queen—Miss Bobbie Arnst.

Johnny and Bobbe fell in love with a bang. She admired him for his great feats in the swimming tanks, which made him a world champion in sport, and he admired her for the wit and beauty which made her a theatrical star.

They married. And they were still happy!

Then—Hollywood

In Hollywood Johnny became interested in the movies. But he owned a nose which failed to cost Ronald Colman, John Barrymore and the other screen boys any sleep. So Johnny placed his nasal organ into the tender care of a plastic surgeon. When the bandages were removed Johnny peeked into a mirror. Gone was the old bulg-tipped proboscis and in its place was a refined snout—or horn, to give it a scientific name—which would have done credit to a Grecian statue of old Adonis himself.

Bobbe applauded. So did the movie directors.

The newly enhandsomed Weissmuller was offered the role of Tarzan. He took it. And knocked the paying customers out of their seats.

Johnny's friends were still cheering over his success, however, when Dan Cupid up and packed his bags and beat it.

Farish States He Would Leave Work

HOUSTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—W. S. Farish, president of the Humble Oil and Refining company and chairman of the "share your work" program for this federal reserve district, today told members of the Houston Salesmanship club he would, if necessary, obtain a leave of absence from his company to carry on the program.

"America," he said, "is facing a crisis the like of which has never been faced by this country. Twelve million men, approximately, are without employment in this country, and America can not go on in this way."

He deplored the attitude of certain business and industrial concerns which, he said, had "ruthlessly discharged their employes for the sake of profits."

"These concerns," he added, "are existing purely for selfish reasons."

The Farish district includes Texas and parts of Louisiana and New Mexico.

YOU'LL NEVER KNOW WHAT "MATCHLESS, UNIFORM FLAVOR" MEANS UNTIL YOU USE HILLS BROS COFFEE

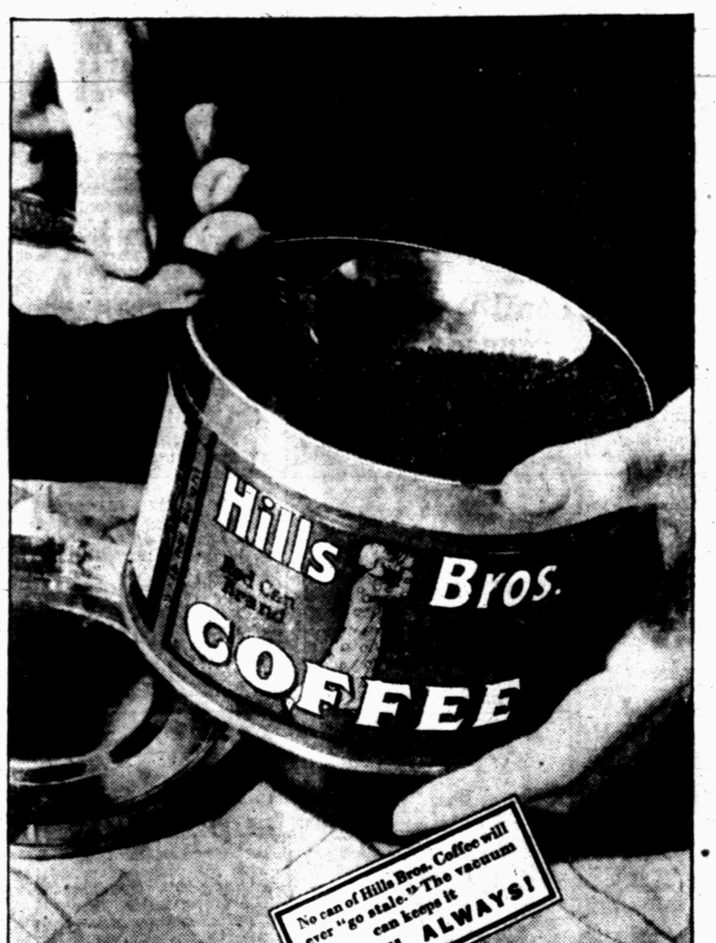

GROUND RIGHT TO TASTE RIGHT

Hills Bros. Coffee is correctly ground for best results by drip process or any other method.

Controlled roasting makes a flavor no other coffee has, and a flavor bulk-roasting can't equal

This patented Hills Bros. process produces the same fine flavor in every pound

Roasting "a little at a time"—instead of in bulk—is the reason

Although bulk-roasted coffees often have a delightful flavor, they are often undependable. Sometimes they disappoint your taste. Those "let-downs" in flavor are probably due to the roasting. For it is difficult to roast big batches, and always roast every berry alike. Yet if that isn't done, the flavor varies.

Instead of roasting in bulk, Hills Bros. use their patented Controlled Roasting process. The blend flows through the roasters in an even, continuous stream . . . a little at a time.

Continuous small quantities assure perfect roasting for every coffee-berry! The full charm of the flavor is developed in every pound. No variation!

Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum cans, and can't go stale. The vacuum process of packing coffee is the only method that fully preserves coffee freshness—the air is removed from the can and kept out. It was originated by Hills Bros. over thirty years ago. There is no magic about a vacuum can—it will not make poor coffee good, but it will keep good coffee fresh.

Order Hills Bros. Coffee today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

Two Fliers To Depart Friday

Deportation Charges Against Lancaster And Mrs. Jessie Keith-Miller Are Dropped; Case Is Closed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—The labor department today dismissed deportation warrants against Captain W. N. Lancaster and Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller with the understanding they would voluntarily leave the country next Friday.

Officials at the labor department said the case was closed so far as they were concerned and attorneys for the Australian flier and Mrs. Miller said they had booked passage for Friday.

Deportation warrants were sworn out against the two after the trial and acquittal of Captain Lancaster on charges of having killed Haden Clarke, a writer, at Miami.

Labor officials later investigated reports that the two had been parties to smuggling of aliens into the country from Cuba, but no action was taken. The labor department said this phase of the case was being dropped as well as the deportation action.

Changs Charged In Issuance Of Too Much Money

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Chang Tso-Lin and Chang Hsiao-Liang, father and son who ruled Manchuria for twenty years, are charged with being among the boss inflationists of all time in the Japanese white book, official publication on the Manchurian situation.

It says the Changs worked the printing presses overtime to issue paper money against no security and dominated the soy bean market by forcing farmers to accept the paper. Then, says the publication, the Changs sold the beans for foreign currency.

The white book contends that in 1928 the face value of paper money issued by the Changs had mounted to $1,300,000,000 and that it has increased considerably since. As a result, the Japanese say Manchurian paper dropped from a near par with their currency in 1917 to one-fiftieth the value of Japanese money in 1927, and is still falling.

The depreciated money is the chief grievance of Manchurians against the regime of the Chang family and the Nanking government made little effort to defend the Changs in the hearings before the Lytton commission. This group's report to the League of Nations discussed the deflation of currency resorted to so that the military costs might be met, as well the "official bean-buying operations" which "assumed monopolistic proportions," and commented on the extent to which officials controlled all sorts of private enterprise, using their power to "gather wealth for themselves and their favorites."

The Japanese white book says the viceroys of Manchuria not only bought soy beans, but also speculated in futures, cornering the market with great profit. It adds that their banks would deny credit, to merchants in the harvest season, thereby forcing the farmers to sell their products to friends of the family and government agents.

Cupola Argument Is Waxing Bitter

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Cupola controversy that has been stirring capital citizens for the last few weeks will go to the White House for settlement if all other means fail.

This is the controversy:

When plans were announced for the Taft junior high school here—to be the last word in such buildings—it was to have a nice, graceful cupola. But this was cut out by the engineer commissioner of the district to save $1,350.

Citizens waxed irate; a group met last night and formed a committee to wait on the commissioners of the District of Columbia and demand the cupola back again. They announced that unless they got it, they will go direct to President Hoover.

Matadors Bowl Kangaroos For 64-0 Triumph

Tech Opens Up Classy Offense To Startle Visitors And Go To Town In Big Way; Cawthon Uses All Available Men

BY COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche Sports Editor

Coach Pete Cawthon sent every uniformed man he had into the ball game last night, but the best the Texas Tech Matadors could do was to eke out a 64 to 0 victory over the Austin College Kangaroos from Sherman and the Texas Conference.

Opening a dazzling offense that kept the small crowd of less than 5,000 in an uproar and the visiting footballers in a quandary, the Matadors scored in every quarter, carrying, kicking and passing the ball to register 27 first downs to none for the Kangaroos.

Sensational at times in its offense and sturdy in its defense, the Matador machine, cogs of which were replaced at the slightest excuse, drove up and down the field with apparent ease. Masters from the first, when the "shock troops" went in to score three touchdowns in rapid order, through the fourth period, when the fourth and fifth stringers had things pretty much their own way, the Matadors never stopped.

Coach Cecil Grigg brought a fighting but inexperienced and utterly helpless crew to Lubbock to play against the team of his predecessor at Austin College.

Visiting Linemen Star

So numerous were the substitutions that it was impossible to pick an outstanding star in the Tech side, and the individual starring was left to the struggling Kangaroos. Connelly, left end; Messick, right tackle, and Amos Mullenix, heavy left tackle, were outstanding defensive stars for the Kangaroos. Mullenis, weighing well over 300 pounds, moved his large body in an appreciable pace to stop many Tech plays in his direction, and got through to tackle from behind once or twice.

Shelton, replacing the injured Cotton Franklin, regular Kangaroo quarterback and pace setter, showed ability, even with the odds heavily against him. His defensive work outshined his attacks. McConnel, halfback, and Vandergriff, starting fullback, let themselves be known.

Starting from their own 12-yard line where Quarterback Beauchamp caught the kickoff which opened the game, the Matadors marched steadily up the field. Moffett, calling signals from left half, and Ed McKeever doing most of the ball toting to touchdown, Moffett went over for the counter after several 10-yard spurts and then kicked goal for the extra point.

The locals failed to get going after the second kickoff and Nichols, starting fullback, kicked. The visitors could not gain and the Matadors drove from mid-field to the second counter. On the first play, McKeever tossed a pass to Moffett that netted 13 yards. McKeever picked up ten, two and five, and Nichols took the ball on a spin play to gallop the rest of the distance for the counter.

The third touchdown came as a result of a long pass, Moffett to Luper, an end. Luper caught the ball after a heave of 25 yards and raced for more for the goal line. Shortly before the period ended, Tech drew a 25-yard penalty for clipping.

The first string, with Lefty Sollis and Gwynn Dowell running at halfbacks, Adrian Clark at quarter and Harold Crites at full, went in early in the second period and scored three more touchdowns before Cawthon replaced them with third stringers. Crites returned a punt from mid-field to the Kangaroo 40-yard line. Sollis galloped for 26 yards on a straight-away play and then went over, 13 yards, for the touchdown.

Tech kicked off and the Kangaroos were unable to gain. Shelton kicked to the Tech 28. Dowell then caught the crowd to its feet with a 39-yard sprint for a touchdown through an open field.

Again the Kangaroos were unable to gain and the Matadors started another drive, stopped when Shumate intercepted a pass. The Kangaroos completed a pass then, Shelton to Elliott, tried again and Sollis intercepted the ball on his 33-yard line, carrying it back down the field in a scintillating run of 67 yards for a touchdown.

Shelton, whose punting was the only remarkable thing about the Austin College offense, kept the Matadors away during the rest of the half, Tech taking the ball on its own 20-yard line as the half ended.

A mixture of Matadors started the second half, with Aubrey Butts, D. McElroy and Marion Harris doing most of the backfield work. Carl Adams ran the team from quarterback. A drive, originating on Butts's 38-yard line, culminated in a touchdown. Butts and Harris took turns at carrying the oval. McAdams completed a pass to McElroy for a first down. Harris broke loose on the Kangaroo 25-yard line and ran for a touchdown.

McElroy, a sophomore who bids fair to taking somebody's place on the first team, tossed a pass to Jorge Cowan, end, for the next touchdown. It was good for a gain of 26 yards. Aubrey Butts kicked goal from placement for the extra point.

Something went wrong with the Matador offense for a time during the latter part of the third quarter after McElroy's 42-yard run to the Kangaroo 20-yard line where he was forced out of bounds, there was little punch. The Kangaroo line tightened, for one thing, and there was an apparent lack of interest, a sluggish attitude, what Coach Cawthon would term as "lousy", on the part of the Bullfighters.

A new team went in to start the last period and Demp Cannon, sophomore from Slaton, plunged over from the 2-yard line after he and Fuqua, another sophomore, had carried the ball from the 13-yard line.

Fuqua dashed off a 20-yard gain and Cannon tossed a lateral to Carnes, quarterback, for a brace of first downs, but four more attempts did not gain a first down and the ball went to Austin College. The visitors again were held for little or no gain, and Gaylor, a new halfback, went in to add life to the waning game. His first trial netted a seven-yard gain, and on the next play he tossed a long pass to McCommis, another newcomer, who dashed madly to the Kangaroo 14-yard line where he was forced out of bounds. McCommis tried the line twice for 7 yards and again for a first down on the Kangaroo 2-yard line. There the visiting forward wall held, forcing the Matadors backward. The work of Patereaux, substitute guard, was outstanding. He and Connelly, end, plowed through the line to snare the ball toters from behind. The ball went over for the final touchdown, finally, when Carnes completed a short pass to Leonard Curfman, the Electra flash. Carnes executed a fine drop kick for the extra point.

The Matadors started a drive from their own 2-yard line after the kickoff and were going strong on the Austin College 27, with Curfman and McKeever doing the sprints, when Curfman fumbled and Smith recovered for the Kangaroos. Tech drew a penalty and Elliott tried a pass. It was intercepted by Curfman, as well it might be, and returned to the visitors' 25-yard line. Curfman tried the line for 8 yards and Elliott intercepted McKeever's pass on the 11-yard line. Cox shifted from the line to the backfield for the Kangaroos, completed a short pass to McConnell as the game ended.

Race Expected To Be Closest In Many Years

T.C.U. Meets Arkansas And S. M. U. Mustangs Clash With Rice Owls; Brisk And Cool Weather In Prospect

(By The Associated Press)

Brisk, cool weather was in prospect for the opening of the Southwest conference football season Saturday, hailed by many observers as likely to be one of the closest in conference history.

The spotlight of interest centered on Fort Worth, where the Arkansas university Razorbacks were matched against the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs, and Dallas, where Rice institute Owls were pitted against the Southern Methodist university Mustangs.

The University of Texas Longhorns, smarting from a defeat recently administered by Centenary college of Shreveport, sought to retrieve their fortunes in a game with the University of Missouri at Columbia.

The Texas Aggies were at home to the boys from the Texas College of Arts and Industries. The Baylor Bears played Loyola university Friday night at New Orleans.

For the first time in several seasons, the Southern Methodist Ponies, champions of the conference in 1931, were possibly second choice against the Owls, largely as a result of their poor showing in pre-conference games.

While the Rice institute representatives went to Dallas with a record of victories over the Texas Arts and Industries and Louisiana, the Mustangs had behind them memories of a tie game with the North Texas State Teachers and a defeat by Texas Tech.

As he left Houston with a squad of 35, Coach Jack Meagher cautioned his men against over confidence, declaring there was "no such thing as an S. M. U. jinx." In Dallas, Coach Ray Morrison carefully groomed the Mustangs in a light workout.

Texas Christian university was a favorite to win over the Razorbacks, boasting as did a team of veterans to pit against an Arkansas aggregation made up largely of sophomores. There was little difference in weight, although the Horned Frogs had a slight edge.

Coach Fred Thomsen, after his arrival in Fort Worth with 27 players, said he realized the Razorbacks were up against a veteran club, but was certain his men would put up a fight.

Rice-Mustang Will Decide Owls' Fate

HOUSTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—The best team, prospectively, Rice institute has offered the Southwest conference in modern football history left, today for Dallas, there to meet Southern Methodist tomorrow in a game that may go far toward deciding whether the institute shall have a place in the sun at last.

Coach Jack Meagher took to Dallas a squad in excellent physical condition and a squad which had been steeped in a week's campaign of football "psychology." Meagher brought the team along cautiously, despite its impressive defeat of Louisiana State 10-8 here last Saturday, warning repeatedly against "over confidence." Then, almost at the departure for Dallas, he suddenly turned about to tell the players:

"There's no such thing as an S. M. U. jinx. As a matter of fact, that's scare talk that we're going to make them eat."

Sophomore Razorbacks Face Veteran Frogs

FORT WORTH, Oct. 7 (AP)—An experienced Texas Christian university football team will make its initial bid in the 1932 Southwest conference championship race against the sophomore Arkansas university Razorbacks, boasting a strong passing attack, here tomorrow afternoon.

Although Coach Fred Thomsen brought a young squad into Fort Worth today the workout in the afternoon indicated anything but an easy afternoon for the Frogs. Except in experience there is little to choose between the two elevens as the weight difference is small, the Frogs holding the slight edge. And it is likely that the Christians will have to call upon all of their experience to turn back the ambitious Porker players.

Simmons And St. Edwards Play To Scoreless Tie

ABILENE, Oct. 7. (AP)—Simmons University and St. Edward's University played a scoreless tie tonight in the opening game of the Texas conference race.

The Cowboys, co-champions of last year's race, outgained the Saints, leading them in first downs, 12 to 3. St. Edward's, however, held at its three yard line on the first of the Simmons threats, in the first quarter. Car Pee lost the second and last chance, in the closing period, by a fumble, a yard from the goal with no tackler in front of him.

Slaton High Tigers Win Over Plainview Bulldog Eleven, 13 To 0, Friday

Class B Team Shows Unexpected Power In Grid Victory

(Special) To The Avalanche)

SLATON, Oct. 7—A fighting band of Slaton High school Tigers revealed unexpected power here this afternoon in bowling over the Class A Plainview Bulldogs, 13 to 0.

Coach Paul Wright's Tiger charges, in Class B competition this year after withdrawing from Class A at the first of the season, scored both of their touchdowns in the second quarter. Gear, left halfback, scored first on a line play after a varied assortment of plays had carried the ball into scoring position. Anderson, right half, scored the second counter on an 11-yard pass from Johnson.

Only one time did Coach Frank Kimbro's Bulldogs threaten to score. That was in the third period when they advanced to the three-yard line before the Slaton defense stiffened and held them for downs. Each team made seven first downs.

Shirley starred for the visitors and Anderson was the outstanding Tiger player. Both made numerous sensational gains.

Slaton was penalized three times for roughing for a total of 65 yards, and Plainview once for 15 yards. Nine Slaton substitutions were made, while Plainview made 20.

Football Put In Spotlight

Unusual Early Season Interest Being Manifest Today In Grid Games; Ramblers Will Meet Haskell

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—With baseball relegated to the stove league for the winter, football takes undisputed possession of the sports stage tomorrow with a program featured by several games of unusual early season interest.

Notre Dame makes its first start of the year, Northwestern and Michigan, giants of the Big Ten, meet in a game which may decide the conference championship, the Georgia Bulldog attacks Tulane at New Orleans and universal attention focuses on the Yale bowl at New Haven, where Chicago meets Yale.

Stagg In Spotlight

First place in the heart of the football fan probably will go to the meeting of Blue and Maroon, as Amos Alonzo Stagg for the first time leads a team back to the school where he starred as a player almost half a century ago.

By Stagg's own admission the 1932 Chicago team is his best of recent years. Yale is intent on erasing the stigma of its 0-0 tie with little Bates last Saturday.

The eastern program also features such competition as Columbia-Princeton, New York university-Rutgers, Fordham-Bucknell and Dartmouth-Lafayette. Columbia, N. Y. U., Fordham and Dartmouth have been selected by the most observers as probable victors.

Purdue Favored

The Northwestern-Michigan game tops a Big Ten slate which sends eight of the ten conference teams into action against one another. Purdue-Minnesota share mid-west interest, with Purdue given a slight edge over Bernie Bierman's first Gopher team. Indiana-Ohio state and Iowa-Wisconsin complete the conference schedule with Ohio state and Wisconsin favored to win.

Notre Dame figures to romp over the light Haskell Indians. Hunk Anderson is reported to have a fine team in the making at South Bend.

Tulane Strong

Tulane again looks like the class of the Southern conference while Georgia, minus "Catfish" Smith and other stars of the 1931 team, appears weaker than usual. There should be a real battle at New Orleans, however, in the featured game of a light Southern schedule. Georgia Tech-Kentucky, Auburn-Duke and Florida-Sewanee are other conference engagements.

Nebraska and Iowa State, champion and runner-up respectively in the Big Six last year, top the schedule for that conference. Oklahoma plays Kansas, Missouri, 27-0 victim of Northwestern, looks to be in for more grief in meeting Texas at Columbia. The Tigers lost last year 31-0.

On the west coast, Stamford and Southern California meet only minor opponents in Santa Clara and Oregon State, although Santa Clara may give Warner's team a warm afternoon. California may get a drubbing from St. Mary's, the giant killer of the coast. Washington and Oregon meet at Seattle.

The two service schools, Army and Navy, take on minor opposition at home in Carleton college, of Northfield, Minn., and Washington and Lee.

McLarnin Beats Benny Leonard

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—A pale, blood-flecked, slightly baldish figure, the shadow of one of the greatest lightweights of all time, sagged helplessly into the arms of the referee tonight and Benny Leonard was at the end of the comeback trail—victim of the youthful, punching Jimmy McLarnin.

With only five seconds of the sixth round to go, Referee Arthur Donovan stopped the fight and awarded the verdict to McLarnin on a technical knockout. Leonard, with even his once superb defense no longer effective, was swaying groggily under blows to the head and body, obviously the target for a knockout blow.

Man Convicted Of Sending Bad Checks Gets Sentence

TYLER, Oct. 7 (AP)—Convicted of sending checks on banks in which he had no funds to mail order houses, Steve Harris of Beckville was given a three-year penitentiary sentence in federal court here today.

It was one of the heaviest sentences at this term of court. Previously convicted three times, receiving a five-dollar fine in 1930, Harris was released then by the late Federal Judge W. Lee Estes on representations to the court by relatives.

Mustangs From District 3 To Try To Gallop On Tech Field Against Lubbock Tonight; 7:30

Hopes For Local Victory Not Bright But Westerners Romp In Pleasing Fashion In Final Workout Yesterday

For their opponents in the first home game of the 1932 season, the Lubbock High school Westerners have chosen the Sweetwater Mustangs, champions of District 3 of the Texas Interscholastic league.

The game begins at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Matador Field.

Had the Westerner powers waited until this week to choose a foe for the opening game of the season, they might have hesitated before selecting the Sweetwater Mustangs. Last Friday's game at Abilene, in which the Mustangs defeated the Abilene High school Eagles, champions of the entire state, was enough to suggest something powerful over at Sweetwater.

It is unusual for a team to start its home season against opponents as potential as the Mustangs, but a hard game at the start may turn out to be the thing the Westerners need before entering the District 1 race.

Sheridan To Play

Coach Chapman last night had few hopes of a Lubbock victory tonight. The reinstatement of Ney Sheridan, four year man at Sweetwater and triple threat star, after a previous court has ruled him ineligible, did nothing to brighten the Westerner possibilities. With Sheridan out of the lineup, the Mustangs possess strength aplenty, but with the big halfback showing up the club is materially strengthened.

A large crowd is expected to jam the grandstand and bleachers at Matador Field tonight. Always a good high school town, the faithful is not apt to drop its interest now. Hopes were dim about this time last year, and Coaches Chapman and Huffman turned out a bi-district championship team.

Beat Snyder Last

In their first game this season, played at Snyder last Friday, the Westerners failed to leave an impression of great and unbeatable strength. They had trouble beating the Class B outfit, 13 to 6.

Changes in the lineup calculated to put power where power is needed has caused the club to look better in workouts this week.

Hutson At Full

Chapman plans to run big Truman Hutson, who was ineligible last year and therefore playing his first season with the regulars, at fullback against the Mustangs. Rufus Ryan probably will get the starting nod at quarterback, although Rayburn Hale is due for some work, Hale's passing ability, and passsnatching acts have warranted him a trial under fire.

Hugh Newton and Robert Vaught, regular guards, will be ready to go tonight. They were out with injuries and illness last week. Big Harold Gaines and Captain Louis Spear are slated to start at tackles, with Gaines switching to guard if necessary, Dalton Blagg and Robert Slone are due to start at ends, though Possum Blackwell and Stone will alternate. None of these players, with the exceptions of Blagg, Spear and Bill Davidson, the latter due to strat at halfback, has ever played with the regulars. Richard Godeke, or Tol Terrell will start at the other wing-back position.

Amarillo Badgers Win Over Indians

AMARILLO, Oct. 7. (AP) — The Amarillo college Badgers captured its 13th straight victory and 23rd in 24 games by defeating the Bacone Indian school eleven of Muskogee, Okla., 13 to 0, here this afternoon.

Crass, Amarillo fullback, plunged for 10 yards to score standing up for the first counter, early in the third period. The score came after Renfro, Bacone half, fumbled a punt on his 25-yard line, the ball rolling to the two before he recovered.

Weaver, substitute half, paved the way for the second counter during the last three minutes of the game when he slipped through the line for 37 yards to reach the Indian 25. A few moments later Van Noy quarter, tossed across the goal line to Gilbreath for another touchdown. Crass kicked goal.

The game ended as Craig, Badger end, raced 20 yards to the Indian 25 with an intercepted pass.

urst Of Mingled Cheers nd Hoots Sounded As First ational Convention Ends; Waters Is Leader

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 7. (AP)—With a final outburst of mingled cheers and hoots, the first national convention of the bonus expeditionary force came to a close last night in a cold, damp warehouse that served as the meeting hall.

Today, tattered delegations, representing more than a score of states, started in dilapidated automobiles, trucks or hitchhiked.

The delegates were in agreement on most of the major issues they discussed in the three-day convention, but there was evidence of factional strife up until the final gavel.

The convention elected national staff officers yesterday after hours of vigorous debate while a disgruntled group, refused admission while the ballot was being taken, stormed the doors of the hall and shouted challenges to the officers of the day.

National Commander Walter W. Waters was re-elected. The convention finally adopted a set of by-laws and a national policy which includes the following points: "Support of honest persons in both parties; support of congressional candidates favoring just veteran legislation; 100 per cent opposition to Herbert Hoover and opposition to any third party movement prior to November 9, 1932".

The organization's platform calls for the establishment of departments of the B. E. F. in every state with units in the larger towns and cities.

Death Of Court Reporter Likely To Cause Delay

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—The death of Clay White, official reporter for the 126th district court, may result in retrial of an important suit, that of the A. T. and S. F. railroad and others against the Texas railroad commission.

White died before he had transcribed his official notes taken in the case and none of the other court reporters could translate his shorthand markings because each reporter devises methods of his own supplemental to the regular shorthand systems.

Trial of the suit was lengthy and involved the testimony of many expert witnesses, some of them coming to Austin from Chicago. The case was taken under advisement by District Judge W. F. Robertson to allow the testimony to be transcribed and a written statement of facts prepared on which attorneys planned to make their arguments.

Unless the attorneys agree on a statement of facts it probably will be necessary to try the case over again, Judge Robertson stated. Attorneys have been requested to confer to ascertain if they could agree on a statement of facts.

Largest Flock Of Sheep Is Moving Through West Texas

JUNCTION, Oct. 7. (AP)—Perhaps the largest flock of sheep and goats ever moved down a highway in West Texas will arrive in Junction this week after more than 40 days on the road from a ranch near Rankin. The owners are Dick and John Alexander, who are moving the flock to the James river ranch in the Blue mountains southeast of Junction. The flock moved through Menard recently, traveling at the rate of about 7 miles a day. Many of the 13,000 sheep and 1,000 goats in the flock were lame.

"When I move another bunch, it won't be this way," Dick Alexander said.

Comment At Random

LAMESA, along with Pecos and Vernon, is to be congratulated upon securing a new federal building. Recent announcement from Washington is to the effect that a few more postoffices will be constructed and the three West Texas cities named above "got under the wire" just before it was too late.

* * *

If there is anyone in Lubbock or on the South Plains who is planning to vote in the race for the governorship of Kansas, vote for Dr. J. R. Brinkley, of Milford, Kansas, Del Rio, Texas, and Villa Acuna, Mexico.

Please do not misunderstand us.

We are not impressed with the goat gland specialist's abilities along the line of government any more than we are along the lines of goats and glands.

But subscribing to the theory that misery loves company and fearing that Mrs. Ferguson will be certified and elected in Texas, we urge Kansans to be good sports and string along with Oklahoma, Louisiana and the Lone Star state.

We feel that Kansas should play the part of the extremely intoxicated man who couldn't help his friend out of the gutter—so he just got down there with him!

Kansas can't get us out of the mess but it can get in one with us.

Not long ago it was chronicled in these columns that the picture of Orville Bullington, Republican candidate for Governor of Texas, was applauded when thrown on the screen at the Lindsey theater in connection with a news reel. It was also duly chronicled that the pictures of the Democratic candidates, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Ferguson, elicited titters from the crowd.

The same thing happened a few days later in Amarillo, where theater patrons booed the Fergusons and cheered Bullington. Whether that means anything, or not, from a state-wide angle is purely problematical but it does indicate that Northwest Texans who bolted the party in great numbers in 1928's Presidential race, may do the same thing this year in the Governor's contest.

FINANCING ROADS

That the gasoline tax is sound in principle and has aided materially in building up great highway systems will be generally admitted. It is argued, however, that the situation with respect to automobile ownership today has not been fully taken into consideration. When this tax was introduced, automobiles were still considered a luxury, available chiefly to the well-to-do, who did not miss the additional outlay for taxes and fees. But it is pointed out that, with an average of one motor vehicle to every 4.6 persons in the country, the question no longer concerns only a privileged class. And it is being asked whether automobile owners should continue to pay nearly a billion dollars a year in gasoline taxes and registration fees for what is no longer considered a luxury but a necessity.

But if highway systems are to be extended and widened and otherwise improved, the motorists must foot the bill. There is a growing opposition to bond issues for highway construction because of the heavy interest and carrying charges which such indebtedness involves. Texas has already remedied this situation.

Between these two pitfalls the logical course seems to be moderation in the assessment of gasoline taxes and automobile registration fees. Kept down they are not unpopular. Boosted inordinately may kill the goose that lays the golden egg. Legislative sessions next winter may decide the future course of a number of states.

NOW WE'RE TO EAT IT

While millions in other less favored lands beg for white bread or look upon it as food fit only for kings and millionaires, millers and bakers in the United States talk of teaching the American people to eat white bread again. It is discovered that the people have turned away from the "staff of life."

Half the population looks askance at a bread and potato diet because it has been told that these foods are fattening. And a large part of the other half is accepting only brown bread, or rye bread or whole-wheat bread.

If they can win the people back to the dietary habits of their fathers, the millers and bakers will end their own business troubles, provide a market for 130,000,000 bushels of the country's surplus wheat, furnish a place to spread that surplus butter and help the stock raisers and packers by increasing the consumption of meat sandwiches.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Cast thy bread upon the waters: for thou shalt find it after many days.—Ecclesiastes 11:1.

Repercussions Are Expected

(Charles P. Stewart, still on tour, considers political developments in New Mexico.)

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 7.—Senator Bronson Cutting's break with the Republican party organization in New Mexico and resignation from the G. O. P. national committee is an event likely to be followed by important repercussions, as diplomats say.

The young solon from Santa Fe is perhaps the most promising liberal in public life.

He is, in fact, of presidential caliber.

Progressivism in Washington has been rather at a loose end since the elder Senator Robert M. La Follette's death, and Senator Cutting for some time has been growing gradually into it.

He is, however, a somewhat shy individual.

If his clash with the old-line Republican leaders in his home state serves to overcome this bashfulness, it probably will hasten the development of his career.

Senator Bronson Cutting

DISPATCHES from Albuquerque mention that New Mexico regular Republicanism already—as a result of its clash with Senator Cutting, which it perhaps forced, with a view to getting him on record—has in mind a successar for his place in the national capital.

The senator will come up for reelection two years hence, and the stand-patters are said to contemplate running former Representative Albert Sims, who married Ruth Hanna McCormick, as a substitute for him.

Reports were current, at the time of the Sims-McCormick wedding, that the bride—it will be recalled that she herself has served in the house of representatives and made a hard fight for the Illinois senatorial nomination two years ago, but was beaten by the present Senator James Hamilton Lewis—even then had ambitions to maneuver the bridegroom into the upper house of congress. She denied this when the story was published. Nevertheless (though it may be mere coincidence), here is ex-Representative Sims being suggested today to supplant Senator Cutting.

HOWEVER, it remains to be seen how easy it will prove to be to supplant Senator Cutting.

He is nothing if not politically versatile.

Initially he was a Democrat. He has been a Bull Moose. He first was appointed and then elected to the senate as a Republican. For awhile he seemed moderately conservative. Apparently this simply was during the process of getting his bearings. By degrees he became more and more progressive.

In the last two years he has been as advanced as Senator Norris or Senator Brookhart, but in a fashion of his own.

THE SENATE progressives are, for the most part, a temperamental group.

Not all, but some of them, as President Hoover expressed it in his book on "American Individualism," "feel" rather than "think."

Senator Cutting distinctly is the intellectual type of radical—which perhaps is not too strong a term by which to describe him. In the matter of education he is one of public life's veritable pundits—and incidentally, among the richest men in congress.

He is slow in going into action—as witness his deliberation in venturing forth as a progressive—but when he does, he goes in with both bulk and terrific velocity.

He is as able a speaker as there is in Washington.

OPPOSED for another senate term, it is quite in the cards that he will undertake to get it for himself.

If he does, he is the last individual to quit until he does get it.

Which national ticket he favors this year has been a matter of uncertainty hitherto.

He assuredly, however, was no aid to the administration during the last congressional session. Albuquerque accounts suggest that the party split in which he is involved threatens to blast all Republican chances of carrying New Mexico in November, but it was hardly necessary for them to mention it: the fact is sufficiently obvious.

SUICIDES ON INCREASE

One hundred and twenty thousand lives snuffed out in 10 years. Not by disease or accident, but by suicide. And the problem is growing worse.

The national suicide rate is now about 20 per 100,000 of population. The highest rate was 21.5 in 1906; the lowest, 12.3, in 1920.

We are thus confronted with a national problem of no small magnitude, and it is no small thing to contemplate that 120,000 persons have voluntarily ended their existence during a decade.

The suicide problem is not one of preventing these tragically rash and insane acts after a financial crash and during periods of business depression and employment. When the suicide rates for a period of years are correlated to business failures, there is a fair consistency in the correlation. Human nature dares risk all in a gamble but lacks the courage to face adversity.

Eternal vigilance on the part of friends and relatives of those under mental distress, further progress in the study of the mind and a voluntary slowing up of modern life accompanied by less frenzied finance and "plunging" are about the limit of our powers in suicide prevention.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

SIXTY-FOUR YEARS AS A COMMUTER:

On August 1st, 1932, the hale and hearty Mr. Addison Day embarked on his 64th successive year as a commuter via the Lackawanna Railroad between Chatham, New Jersey, and New York City. He began commuting long before this form of endeavor became part of the daily life of the suburbanite. In those days he was obliged to make his daily trip by stage to the Oranges, where he boarded a mail train for his destination. The veteran commuter is 82 years old, and continues to travel five days a week, at which minimal rate he has made the trip 19,509 times, covering a distance of 936,000 miles, which is about four times the mean distance between the earth and the moon.

MONDAY: "WHERE SHIPS SAIL THROUGH A MAN'S LEGS."

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: THE CHRISTIAN IN THE FAMILY

Scripture Lesson: Luke 2:40-52; 10:38-42

Lesson for Sunday, Oct. 9, 1932

40 And the child grew, and waxed strong, filled with wisdom: and the grace of God was upon him.

41 And his parents went every year to Jerusalem at the feast of the passover.

42 And when he was twelve years old, they went up after the custom of the feast.

43 And when they had fulfilled the days, as they were returning, the boy Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and his parents knew it not.

44 But supposing him to be in the company, they went a day's journey; and they sought for him among their kinsfolk and acquaintances.

45 And it came to pass, after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both hearing them, and asking them questions.

47 And all that heard him were amazed at his understanding and his answers.

48 And when they saw him, they were astonished: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I sought thee sorrowing.

49 And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? knew ye not that I must be in my Father's house?

50 And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.

51 And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and he was subject unto them: and his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

52 And Jesus advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man. Luke 10:38. Now as they went on their way, he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house.

39 And she had a sister called Mary, who also sat at the Lord's feet, and heard his word.

40 But Martha was cumbered about much serving; and she came up to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister did leave me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.

41 But the Lord answered and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art anxious and troubled about many things:

42 But one thing is needful: for Mary hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

Golden Text: I will walk within my house with a perfect heart.—Ps. 101:2.

Time and Place: Christ in Jerusalem at the age of twelve, April A. D. 8. Christ visiting Mary and Martha in Bethany, December, A. D. 29.

Introduction

The individual's first and closest contacts are with his family. The home is manifestly the shelter and atmosphere of the family, which is the unit of social life. The influence of the home, accordingly, is simply incalculable; especially with the young. The church, the school, the playground, the place of work are all of less importance in this respect. It should be evident, then, why such large part of this quarter's study (the next three lessons) is devoted to the family and the home.

Our prime purpose in this lesson is to emphasize the worth of the Christian in the home and of how each one of us should help to make his home such that Jesus will be honored in it and such that he would always be a welcome guest. Some of us have a motto in the dining room which says that Christ is the head of this house, the unseen guest at every meal, the silent listener to every conversation. This lesson ought to help us make such a motto a joyous and blessed reality.

Jesus In The Nazareth Home, v. 40

"And the child grew." Every view of the person of Christ admits that his human-divine nature developed. That development took place at first in the Nazareth home. The character of Jesus tells us what sort of a home it was. The Son of God could not come otherwise than out of godly home. Mary must have been blessed among women for what she was as well as for what he was. We have both internal and external evidence as to the atmosphere of the simple, homely life of that Galilean family.

There were seven children, so plenty of calls for self-denial, that disciplines, edifies, but likewise plenty of opportunities for love and mutual helpfulness. Not poverty, but frugality, and industry. There was thorough instruction in that Old Testament which is a whole literature and whose mastery is a liberal education. Synagogue schools, that were soon to become common, probably did not exist in Jesus' boyhood.

Jesus At Twelve Years of Age, v. 42

The only incident out of the boyhood of Jesus which the Scriptures record is that in our lesson—the visit to Jerusalem when he was twelve years of age. He went with the family to attend the feast of the Passover. That holy pilgrimage was characteristic of the Nazareth family. It was preeminently religious. When the time rolled round for the national celebration of the deliverance from Egypt by the grace of Jehovah the carpenter's shop was closed, the household affairs laid by, and the little group joined their friends and relatives in the long journey, worshiping and praising God. Josephus tells us that many tens of thousands attended the great feast, among them thousands of family groups (for the Passover was celebrated by families), but none came with greater reverence and solemn thanksgiving than the family of Joseph and Mary.

Jesus Tarries in Jerusalem, v. 43

The time came for the happy pilgrims to start back to Nazareth. Joining other groups from Galilee, among them relatives and friends, they set out, the men walking and talking together, and likewise the women, while the children now journeyed with one group, and now with the other. Evening came, and the members of the various families came together for the night. Then it was that great distress fell upon the family of Joseph, for Jesus was nowhere to be found. They searched for him in vain. There was nothing to do but to return to Jerusalem which they did the next day. With what fears and sorrow, we may gather from the words of Mary when they finally found the boy in the Temple the day after their return to the city: "Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? Behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing." How many mothers have known her fear and distress! We see the motherhood—the spirit that compels to seek and to find the missing child, that never gives up until he is at home again.

Jesus, The Obedient Son, v. 51

We may be sure that it was not through wilful disobedience that Jesus did not leave Jerusalem with his family. There was no refusal to go. We have in this incident, rather, a testimony to his supreme interest in religion. So full of zeal was he for his Father's house that all human relationships became secondary. The words and spirit of Mary when he was at last found in the Temple indicate that up to that time he had been thoroughly trusted and had never been a disappointment. There was no rudeness, no perversity in his nature; hence the extreme surprise of his mother. His wonderful spirit is further revealed in the statement that "he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them." For him such obedience was the part of virtue; it ministered to his own manhood, and helped to make the home at Nazareth all that it should be.

Jesus In Bethany Home, Luke 10:38-42

The second story of our lesson shows our Lord as a guest in the home of his friends, Martha, Mary and Lazaus. After he began his ministry, at the age of thirty, he had no permanent home. On one occasion he said to a would-be-disciple, "The Son of Man hath not where to lay his head." But he loved the quiet and ministry of home life.

The doors of the Bethany home were wide open to the Saviour. Its members looked forward to his coming, and each of the sisters did her best to make him welcome. In the story of our lesson a most interesting and instructive situation develops. Martha's hospitality centered about the dinner table; Mary's about conversation. Martha was busy in the kitchen; Mary sat at the Saviour's feet listening to him. After awhile Martha was wearied by her work and angry with Mary for not helping her. He told Martha that all her wearying toil was unnecessary; a simple meal, just one thing to eat, would be enough. Recall his principle: "Man does not live by bread alone." To him food was secondary. As for Mary, she had chosen "that good part" . . . she had sensed the primary thing, the spiritual food, and it should not be taken away from her.

Many of us, like Martha, set material standards, not only for hospitality, but for all home conditions. Our Lord says there is something higher and better—feeding on the Bread of Life, gathering about the Saviour as the center of life.

William E. Gladstone

W. J. Bryan said of Wm. E. Gladstone, the great British prime minister: "Gladstone built upon the Bible, and he built so well that he towered above the other figures of his time. For twenty-five years Gladstone was the most potent individual power on this earth. People in other lands learned to know him. He rose among other men as some mighty mountain peak towers above the surrounding foothills. And what was his strength. It was that he built upon Bible truth, and while he was ready to die for that truth at any time, he lived for it until he came to die. That gave him his power."

Special Lesson

"It would be difficult to enumerate all that religion owes to the family. Its vitality depends directly upon the interchange between the two. A religion reduced to public ceremonial, with no echo about the hearth, disdainful of the family altar, a religion that fathers and mothers do not help to teach, cannot do otherwise than decrease in influence."—Charles Wagner.

Barnett Is To Be New Pastor

Former Houston Man To Come To Lubbock After December 1 To Assume Charge Of The Episcopal Pulpit

The ministry of St. Paul's On the Plains, Protestant Episcopal church here, will be assumed December 1 by Rev. Lyle S. Barnett of Houston, Rt. Rev. Dr. E. Cecil Seaman, bishop of the North Texas Protestant Episcopal missionary district, has announced.

Rev. Mr. Barnett will succeed Rev. Bradner J. Moore, sr., whose resignation became effective September 30. The new pastor was born in Waco, educated in the public schools of Texas, at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn., where he received an A. B. degree, and at Virginia Theological seminary, where he earned a bachelor of divinity degree. His ministry of four years has been at Lampasas, Belton, and Houston. His wife, Mrs. Laura Taylor Barnett, also is experienced in church and school work in Texas, having been active in the Episcopal young people's service league.

For October and November, Bishop Seaman has arranged a schedule of special preachers at St. Paul's church here, including Rev. W. H. Martin of Big Spring for next Sunday, and Rev. A. B. Hanson of Colorado, Tex., and Bishop F. B. Howden of New Mexico and southwest Texas for subsequent Sundays.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Martin will arrive Saturday and will be weekend guests of Professor and Mrs. Carl Svensen, 2320 Fifteenth street.

Walker Trial

was Mrs. Hilton.

Tells Of Incident

She testified to a purported visit to the hotel by a man she said was Mr. Hilton "when Mr. Brown and the lady were in his room" and said she refused to let the man go back to the room. She said he declared he would "stop it or have it stopped." Later, she said, the woman came out the front door and Brown left by the rear.

A register of the hotel was presented by Defense Attorney W. F. Schenck and Mrs. Harris identified names of the parties. She said Brown registered as "Will Brown" and the lady as "Eva Barthy."

On cross examination by the state, District Attorney Durwood Bradley fired questions at the witness in rapid-fire order, charging her with attempting to aid the defendant's case.

Had Two Husbands

She admitted she came to Lubbock from Hobbs, N. M., where she had operated an apartment house and that she "had had two husbands."

"And you've got a complaint against you now over in corporation court for running a house of prostitution, haven't you?", Mr. Bradley asked. The witness denied this allegation but admitted that such a complaint had been made against her but had been dismissed.

"But you are running a house of prostitution, aren't you?" Bradley snapped back at her.

"No. I'm running a hotel; I can't help it what people come up there and try to do," the witness replied.

Identifies Mrs. Hilton

Mrs. Hilton was then brought into the courtroom and Mrs. Harris said she was the woman who had registered at the hotel.

Mrs. Harris said G. A. Ross had spent one night in her hotel and she attempted to describe Ross to the jury.

"You had a husband when you married your second one, didn't you and weren't the officers over at Clovis, N. M. trying to charge you with bigamy?", Bradley inquired.

The witness said she had divorced her first husband before she married the second man and then added that she had a divorce suit filed against the second husband.

"How many girls in your hotel have been arrested for vagrancy?", Bradley asked the witness but the defense objected and he withdrew the interrogation.

Court Is Adjourned

Court adjourned until Saturday morning at this point.

Whether or not the defense would complete its case today was a matter of conjecture last night, attorneys indicating they would present still more testimony in favor of Walker's alibi. More than a score of witnesses for the defense had not been called.

Steve Countess, Idalou farmer, was the first witness Friday afternoon. He testified he saw Hugh Walker just west of the Broadway hotel at about 8:20 on the night of the slaying.

On cross examination, Countess said the reason he remembered the time was that he left a residence on Twenty-Fifth street just a few minutes earlier than that.

Phil Williams, Corpus Christi cotton buyer, testified he spent several months of each year in Lubbock and that he saw Hugh Walker at the Commercial hotel on the night of the slaying. He said he was playing dominoes and Walker was his partner.

He testified the game broke up when an ambulance siren was heard but that he didn't know what time it was.

Williams underwent severe cross examination by Mr. Bradley. He admitted he didn't know where Walker was at 9 o'clock that night.

After asking the witness a few more questions, Bradley said: "Turn around there and let the jury see your face."

"What were you doing here on May 30, the cotton season was over, wasn't it?", Bradley asked. The witness replied he had been buying some.

"And you'd been gambling and selling whisky, hadn't you?", was another state query.

"Well, I had gambled some, but I never sold any whisky," he replied.

"Show your hands to the jury," Bradley ordered. The witness displayed the palm of his hands to the jury, and then added an explanation:

"If you think that's some kind of preparation on my hands, it's not. That's a cotton poisoning. If I tried to make my living gambling, I'd make a poor living."

Mrs. Jack Kinkler next testified she had driven Jess Covington's car many times and was in it a few days before and after the slaying. She said it had black wheels and Silvertown tires on it.

On cross examination, she said she didn't know where Jess, Hugh, Barber John and Ross were on the night of the shooting. She said she had driven the car as fast as it would go to Abilene and it made only 57 miles an hour.

Others Are Heard

Four residents of Woodrow then appeared on the stand in order. They were: H. M. McEachern and his wife, Charles Gray and his son, Charles Gray, jr. Each testified T. B. Hilton came to the Woodrow teacherage where they were living, a few minutes after the shooting and asked for a gun.

Each witness testified Hilton said, "someone had robbed his place and killed Mr. Brown and possibly someone of his family." They also testified Hilton said he believed he could identify one of the men and gave slight descriptions of his clothes, heighth, etc.

On cross examination, each testified the Hiltons' reputation for truth and veracity were good.

Wayne Ashley, a tourist camp operator at 2334 Avenue H, testified he saw Jess Covington and two more men pass his place of business twice in the afternoon before the slaying. He said he saw them near the city light plant earlier in the day. He said a man in the back seat of the car wasn't Hugh Walker.

Occupation Is Unknown

On cross examination, Ashley said he was positive the car Covington was driving was a 1930 and not a 1932 model. When asked if he knew Walker's occupation in the ten years he had known him, he gave a negative reply.

John Berry was another of the alibi witnesses. He testified he was in a dominoe game with Walker that night at the Commercial hotel "to the best of my memory." He said the game was ending just as the siren of an ambulance going south was heard and declared, "it might have been possibly 9 o'clock, it seemed to the best of my memory."

On cross examination, Berry admitted upon rigid questioning by Special Prosecutor J. E. Vickers that Hugh Walker came in the lobby of the hotel severel minutes after the ambulance had been heard and said that "he understood that they'd got Leather Hat Brown." Later he admitted he was not positive Walker was in the dominoe game.

Durwood Bradley, district attorney, appeared on the stand for the state as the trial opened Friday morning and identified cartridges taken from two guns found in lakes south and west of Lubbock. He also testified to having split one of the bullets of a cartridge open and said it compared in similarity with a portion of a bullet found at the Hilton home. The shells and the bullets were exhibited to the jury.

Statements Produced

On cross examination, Defense Attorney Schenck demanded two statements made by the Hiltons prior to the first grand jury. Mr. Bradley produced the statements.

Dr. J. H. Stiles of the Lubbock Sanitarium staff was the next witness. He testified he examined Mr. Brown's body after it was brought back to town and that the wound in the chest caused the man's death.

Mrs. T. B. Hilton, who testified Thursday afternoon, was then recalled by the defense for cross examination.

Admits Keeping Money

She testified she had kept some money for Mr. Brown at various times but denied having had any in the past six months or more before his death.

Alleged relations between the witness and the slain man were again subject of questioning by the defense but Mrs. Hilton denied every question.

She testified that she made a statement to Mr. Bradley after the killing but that she didn't name any of the men in the killing.

Albert McCarty, an embalmer for Rix Funeral home, testified he drove an ambulance to the scene of the shooting, having been called "sometime between 9:15 and 9:30". He said they made the trip to Woodrow in nine minutes.

On cross examination, he said $2.56 was found on Mr. Brown's body when he was brought back to town.

State Rests Case

State rested with completion of his testimony.

Frank Robinson, a carpenter residing at 2018 Sixth street on May 30, his wife, Arthur Pierce, living on 33rd street, and Joe Chisum, an automobile mechanic living at 2016 Sixth street, all testified to seeing either Hugh Walker or Jess Covington at the Robinson home "shortly after 9:30" on the night Mr. Brown was killed.

Robinson said Covington and Walker came to his house to drink a bottle of home brew.

Mrs. Robinson said they were there "between 9:30 and 9:40".

Pierce testified he saw Covington there "around 9:45". On cross examination by Bradley, he admitted that he might have told the district attorney at an earlier date that it might have been "around 10 o'clock".

Saw Defendant

Chisum said he had just driven his car in his garage east of the Robinson home when he saw Walker, Covington and Robinson walk by the light shining from a window en route to the basement to get some beer.

He said the reason he knew it was shortly after 9:30 was that he looked at the clock on the Citizens National bank building and "it was exactly 9:30" when he left town for his home.

On cross examination, Chisum said he didn't know whether the clock kept correct time or not. He said if Frank Robinson said it was around 10 o'clock when Hugh and Jess were there then Robinson was mistaken.

Asked About Tires

J. M. Wagner, a tire salesman, followed Chisum. He was questioned regarding tread of tires and said he didn't know what kind of tires Covington had on his car that night.

Z. M. Marcy, Woodrow farmer, was the next witness. He said he phoned the sheriff soon after the killing. He also said he didn't hear the Hiltons tell whether they could identify any of the men or not.

Wilson Testifies

Gene Wilson, living three and one-half miles south of Lubbock, was the last witness of the morning. He testified he knew G. A. Ross and that his reputation was bad.

On cross examination, Wilson admitted he had been charged with violation of the prohibition law and that he was under a peace bond for fighting.

Texas Rabbits Growing Horns

PORT ISABEL, Oct. 7. (AP)—It once was said that everything in Texas had horns.

While this is no longer generally believed there was almost a revival of the belief when Dr. J. A. Hockaday killed a young cotton tail rabbit with what appeared to be a horn growing out of the top of its head.

Dr. Hockaway preserved the head of the rabbit. The "horn," a bony growth, projects five eights of an inch above the head."

NEWS BRIEFS

Students wanting to try out for the Sock and Buskin club at Texas Technological college may do so at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon in room 202 of the administration building, the club has announced. Sock and Buskin officers this year are: Ellis Mills, president; Charles Maedgen, vice president; Nancy Faver, secretary-treasurer and Calvin Hazlewood, sergeant-at-arms.

Theft of a tire from a truck Thursday night at 1918 Avenue M was reported by police, who said a flashlight and a blanket were stolen from a car at that address several days ago.

F. I. Brown, jr., about 13, of 2302 Nineteenth street, suffered a broken right arm Friday while playing with other children at school. He was received at Lubbock sanitarium about 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Ruby Clark, 15-year-old daughter of C. P. Clark, living four and a half miles south of Wolfforth, was found in a hotel here at 6:40 o'clock last night. The girl had been reported early Friday as having left home. She returned to Wolfforth with friends last night.

Joan Moore, 4-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Moore of Lorenzo, was resting at Lubbock sanitarium late Friday night, but the child's condition was said to be serious following removal of a bean from her right lung. The bean was removed late Thursday.

One airplane visited Municipal airport Friday and another left on a flight for Dallas. E. F. Ross, in a Travelair, refueled here on a flight from Tulsa, Okla., to Hobbs, N. M. Henry Taylor, with four passengers, hopped off for Dallas at 2:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. His passengers were Mrs. Taylor, their daughter, Dorothy June, and Mr. and Mrs. G. R. King, Mrs. Tayloy's parents.

Information about Lubbock Municipal airport is contained in the October issue of "Western Flying," a magazine devoted to aviation. The 640-acre field and the 120 by 86 foot hangar are praised.

Texas Politics

test has been decided. All other candidates have been certified to the county clerks, with the space for the Democratic nominee for governor left blank.

Shortly after it received the certified question from the court of civil appeals, the supreme court called litigants into conference. On its own motion it consolidated the appeal from Judge Robertson's decision with Mrs. Ferguson's mandamus action and announced it would enter one decision. At the suggestion of the supreme court, arguments were dispensed with on Sterling's appeal from the district court ruling. The points involved in the appeal were argued before the supreme court last week when the mandamus application was presented.

Decision To Be Speedy

In suggesting that no further arguments be made, Chief Justice C. M. Cureton made statements that many interpreted as an indication of a quick decision.

He stated that in view of the urgency of the matters and because of the summary election statutes, the court had concluded to consolidate the cases and to dispense with arguments if there was no objection from counsel. The court also asked that briefs be filed with the supreme court by noon today if counsel wanted them to be of value to the court in deciding the case.

The summary statutes referred to require the county clerks to post the names of the candidates 10 days before the ballots are printed and to have the printed ballots available for absentee voters 20 days before the election.

Sterling refused to comment on the turn in events.

Ferguson said he was "disappointed and discouraged over this situation," and feared that unless action was taken immediately the name of a Democratic nominee would not appear on the ballot. This condition would be "deplorable and regrettable," he said, charging it was an effort of "the Sterling crowd," to elect a Republican governor.

"I may be wrong, and I hope I am, but I do not look for much relief here," Ferguson said in advising his wife's supporters to make plans for a campaign to "write in" the name of Mrs. Ferguson should she be denied a place on the ballot.

Bogus Ring

Littlefield after the purported attempt to cash one of the bills there. He later was released, and his arrest early this morning or today is anticipated.

Whereabouts of Mrs. Massey last night were reported to be unknown.

The 1929 Chrysler coupe which she bought at Hub Motor Co., had been recovered in Ft. Sumner, N. M., local officers were informed Friday morning. The automobile had been abandoned.

Parents of the accused woman reside in Abernathy, it was said.

C. C. Combs was alleged by officers to have been connected with the passing of the first reported bogus note here. Two Lubbock young men, who were questioned Thursday night, charged the younger Combs with giving them the bill to cash at Western Union. Two men brought a bill to Western Union Friday night, and later succeeded in cashing it at the Santa Fe after a messenger had taken the bill to the station.

Four of the false bills, each torn into three pieces, were said to have been found at Spur near where Johnston was questioned when officers arrested him Wednesday.

None of the accused persons revealed how much was paid for the false money, or what portion of the full value of a $100 note was paid. One officer opined that "probably the bills were sold $1,000 in bills for $125 or a similar ratio."

Stephens is a former Ralls grocer, and Stephens and the elder Combs were partners at Ralls. Johnston was said to be a cousin of Bybee's wife.

The sextet under arrest yesterday was photographed and fingerprinted at the office of U. S. Deputy Marshall J. P. Edgar. Aiding in the arrests was W. B. Arthur, Dickens county sheriff.

Besides the notes reported in this section ten were reported to have been passed at Panhandle. Confirmation of this information was lacking.

Postoffice Gets One

Postmaster John E. Vaughn yesterday confirmed a report that a bogus bill had been accepted at the postoffice in a savings account.

The 33 bills said to have been found were located as follows:

Allegedly in Fox's possession, 15.
At Hub Motor Company, 3.
Torn up at Spur, 4.
At Ralls, Petersburg, Lorenzo, Littlefield, and Sudan, one each.
At the Western Union, Santa Fe, Kuykendall Chevrolet company, First National bank, Citizens National bank, and the postoffice one each.

A "reliable South Plains resident, who does not live in Lubbock, and who is not blamed in connection with the bill" was said to have passed the false money at the postoffice.

was nominated last night, in all probability will not be the organization's candidate next year, Smith's friends said.

Joseph V. McKee, who succeeded Walker when the latter resigned at the weight of ouster proceedings before Governor Roosevelt, announced he had declined the offer of various civic and independent political organizations to run him as an independent candidate for the office this fall.

Meantime, while the Republicans were searching for a likely candidate to nominate at their city convention Saturday night, national Democratic leaders were rejoicing over the turn of events.

Search Continued By Officers Here

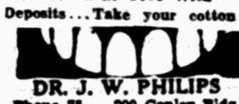

Police last night continued a search for three men purportedly implicated in a series of Lubbock residence burglaries last summer. One man, W. M. (Bill) Phillips, was held in Lubbock county jail last night charged in three complaints with receiving and concealing stolen property having a total value of $1,345.

Phillips, 28, arrested by police, made a statement in the county attorney's office admitting receiving and keeping the loot and of learning it was "hot," criminal label of stolen goods. He denied a part in the thefts, and a woman held in city jail was said by Phillips not to have had any connection with the cases.

Phillips was charged with theft of $1,000 worth of clothing, silverware, and musical instruments from H. A. Watson, 3003 Nineteenth street; $295 worth of property from S. E. Arnold of Thirty-First street; and a wrist watch, dresses, silverware, and jewelry from Luther Bynum, 1907 Twenty-Third street.

Loot from the Bynum home was valued by police at between $500 and $600.

Next President Faces Short Term

A prospect of less than four years in the White House faces the presidential candidate elected in November. The next incumbent may be forced to relinquish that high position 43 days short of the four-year term, due to the virtual certain adoption of the "lame duck" amendment to the constitution. Under this amendment, already ratified by many sates, the new inauguration date will be January 20 instead of March 4. No state has rejected the proposal. It requires 36 states to ratify an amendment to the constitution.

Organization Is Plan Of Thomas

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7 (AP)—Norman Thomas, socialist candidate for president, in an address prepared for delivery to the Commonwealth club today, said "our hope of peace is of little worth unless with it goes a positive program of world organization."

He declared capitalism had "definitely gone nationalist at the final stage of its epoch" and that it is "our task to change the capitalist-nationalist system, which is the breeder of war, while we seek to prevent particular wars."

"The very poverty of the world lessens resistance to war, heightens the strife for markets and creates almost a positive desire for large scale war as a sure means of inflating a sadly deflated domestic economy," he said. "So illogical from the standpoint of economic lines are natural boundaries that we despair of any sound peace on the conventional basis of merely preventing war by peace machinery or by rectifying boundaries."

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 7. (AP)—Cotton appeared to be marking time today on the eve of the government crop estimate due tomorrow morning. In comparatively quiet trading, prices advanced early on favorable cables and cold weather in the belt but later turned easier with continued weakness in stocks and grains, coupled with some liquidation in advance of the crop report. The close was net unchanged to four points down.

The market opened very steady and Liverpool cables came in 7 to 8 penny points better than due. Private cables said there was Bombay buying on the lifting of the India boycott and the market responded to firmness of Alexandria on reduction in acreage of the Egyptian crop for next season. Manchester cabled the feeling there was optimistic on expectation of an early improvement of business with India. First trades here showed gains of 10 points and December gained an additional point right after the start, trading at 7.09.

Prices soon turned easier on hedge selling, selling in advance of the bureau report and weakness in stocks and wheat and before noon. December had dropped to 6.98 and March to 7.14, down 8 to 11 points from the early highs and 1 point down to 2 up compared with yesterday's close.

Prices continued to ease off slowly all afternoon, making new lows in the late trading with December at 6.95 and March at 7.09 or 13 to 14 points down from the highs of the morning. There was a slight rally of 1 to 2 points at the end and December closed at 6.96 down 2 points at the end and December closed at 6.96 down 2 points net for the day and March closed at 7.11 down 1 point net.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 5 to 6 penny points down.

Port receipts 107,052, for week 314,041, for season 1,790,021, last season 1,794,415. Exports 30,744, for week 219,338, for season 1,339,515, last season 875,068. Port stock 3,724,165, last year 3,800,720. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 98,481, last year 139,737. Spot sales at southern markets 43,045, last year 77,471.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—An early advance on relatively steady Liverpool cables and reports of further frosts in the south was followed by reactions in cotton today under selling promoted by the action of the grain and stock markets.

December contracts after advancing to 7.09 at the start sold off to 6.98 and closed at 6.99 with the general market closing steady net unchanged to 3 points higher.

The opening was 9 to 11 points higher on trade buying and covering, but the market soon turned easier. March eased off to 7.11 during the afternoon when December and later deliveries sold 1 to 3 points net lower. Last prices were a shade up from the lowest on covering.

Minimum temperatures ranging down to the freezing point were reported at a number of stations in the belt, but the official forecast was for generally fair and warmer weather over the entire south which was thought likely to mean increased activity in picking and possibly some increase in hedging.

Liverpool cables said there had been buying in that market on reports of light hedging with a hardening basis and said Manchester was expecting an early improvement in business with India.

Stocks Veer Downward Friday; Break Decisive On Average Of Three Points

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—Stocks veered downward today, breaking decisively through the lows of not quite a month back for an average loss of slightly more than 3 points.

Depressed values for wheat were in sharp contrast to the forecasts heard a couple of weeks ago.

Prices firmed a little in the first hour but before noon had given up their rally. Late short covering reduced the exteme declines of 1 to 5 points from yesterday's last quotations, but reactions set in again just before the close, and the final tone was weak. Volume reached 2,290,890 shares.

Although professional "ins and outs" doubtless had their part in the day's transactions, action of the market was of a character to discourage weak holders, especially those who had bought around the September tops, and some liquidation from long accounts probably dribbled through the session. Foreign exchanges were strong, which made possible the assumption that foreign selling had also been a factor.

Farm implement and food equities were first to come under the spell of the prevailing mood, closely followed by rails, utilities and other industrials. U. S. Steel lost 3 points net, while the preferred was down 4 1-2, notwithstanding recent forecasts of a sizeable increase in unfilled tonnage. American Can, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Case, Harvester, Borden, Westinghouse, National Biscuit and a number of rails were down 2 to more than 3 net. Union Pacific dipped 4 3-4 and Lackawanna about as much. Most preferred stocks were again depressed.

Livestock

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7. (AP)—Cattle trade consisted chiefly of the usual Friday cleanup with no material price changes registered. Omaha scored 8.75 on a load of choice long yearlings but majority of steers offered at various makets were of quality to sell downward from 7.50. Supplies this week included a liberal run of short fed steers and with the dressed beef trade continuing sluggish further price declines of 25-75 were enforced. Even choice quality natives were tendered a material setback with 10.00 securing offerings in Chicago that were comparable to the 10.35 kind last week. Receipts at eleven markets for the week to date approximate 215,500, as compared with 220,727 last week and 245,892 the corresponding period a year ago.

Moderate activity developed in the hog market at steady to 15 higher rates. Chicago had a top of 4.00. Offerings of 46,500 were 15,000 short of last Friday and 36,000 under a year ago.

Fat lambs were on an unevenly steady to 25 higher basis, while other classes of sheep were little changed. A few sorted natives in Chicago reached 5.50 and 5.35 secured best range lambs.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Oct. 7. (AP)—Hogs 300 including 84 direct; truck hogs to small killers steady to 15c lower; no rail hogs offered practical truck top 3.60 paid for bulk better grades 185-250 lb. truck hogs, odd head at 3.65.

Cattle 600, calves 7.00; not enough cattle or calves on sale to test market; grass slaughter steers around and under $4.00; best fed yealings 6.00-7.50; practical limit on fat cows 3.00; good weighty slaughter calves 3.50 on packer account.

Sheep 700 including 400 through; all classes fully steady; medium grade fat lambs 4.00; few good lambs 4.25; fat yearlings 3.50.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Oct. 7. (AP)—Demand for wheat continued good on the Fort Worth cash grain market Friday. Bright milo was also wanted. Other offerings were slow sale.

Quotations: ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid, delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat No. 1 hard 54 1-2 to 56 1-2. Barley No. 2 nominally 32-33; No. 3 nominal 31-32. Sorghums No. 2 bright yellow milo per 100 pounds nominally 63-64; No. 2 kafir nominal 62-63.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn No. 2 mixed 38-39; No. 2 white 41-42; No. 2 yellow 40-41, all corn prices nominal.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats No. 2 red 22 1-2 to 23 1-2; No. 3 red 21-22.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Overturned by three successive days of severe stop-loss selling, wheat pitched downward today to 10 3-4 cents a bushel lower than a month ago.

Season bottom price records only 24 hours old were outdone both by wheat and rye and by corn as well. Plethoria of supplies and much larger primary receipts of wheat alike in Canada and the United States, with cheaper offerings of Argentine wheat abroad, left the market minus active buying support except such as came from profit taking on the part of operators who had sold higher up.

Wheat closed nervous, 1-2 to 7-8 under yesterday's finish, corn varying from 1-4 decline to 1-8 to 1-4 advance, oats unchanged to a shade higher, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

Tony Piet Refused Wedding License; But He'll Get It

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7 (AP)—Tony Piet, Pittsburgh Pirate second baseman, was refused a license to marry pretty Jannina Samoraj today.

It's nothing serious: Tony merely had forgotten to bring along Mother and Dad Maroraj or their written permission, and License Clerk Vincent Scarana told the ball player that since Jannina, a radio singer, is only 20, her parents' permission is necessary.

The couple intend to be married Wednesday.

Despite economic stringency, there was no case of death from hunger in the state of Wisconsin in 1931.

Marquette Wants Ten Grand To Play Jefferson Gridders

MILWAUKEE, Wis. Oct. 7 (AP)—Conrad Jennings, Marquette university athletic director, expressed doubt today that Marquette will play Jefferson University at Dallas, Tex., November 12.

"Jefferson suggested a game, but did not mention a guarantee," Jennings said. "We couldn't take less than $10,000, and I do not think we will be offered that much."

November 12 is an open date on the Marquette schedule.
